DAY OF BY BRINGS D PROGRESS

Pupils Enrolled In For the Summer Attending Six Days Each Week.

Sixty-five and ninety pupils enrolled in the summer school conducted in the high school building, under the direction of I. Spoor, principal of the school. A splendid corps of teachers is engaged. The school is in session on Saturday and on Sunday mornings, giving the students a chance to catch up, and also to improve their work during the summer months.

Many pupils lost out on their studies during the winter months because of illness, and other reasons, and this summer school offers them an opportunity to make up for their deficiencies.

Students are taking studies in the fall term and during the summer months in one or two subjects which they were weak in.

JOHN SUTTON TAKES BRIDE IN LUBBOCK
 Eastland will remember the pleasant Mr. B. Sutton family and their two delightful children, John and Alice, who left here about four years ago, in the interest of Mr. Sutton's business, and have been residents of Houston, Texas for three years.
 Since then Miss Alice Sutton has graduated from one college, and is attending a second in Kansas and John, who was a student at Rice, studying medicine, suddenly decided he would turn his attention to mechanical engineering, and would study the oil business from the ground up.

He has been located at Lubbock, in the interests of his work for several months. He was married to a young lady of that city, Miss O'Neal, on June 20th.
 Mr. and Mrs. Sutton attended the marriage, afterward visiting the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Fort Worth.
 Congratulations are extended young Sutton, in whom many Eastland friends are interested.

MISS MAURINE DAVENPORT PRESENTED IN RECITAL
 The piano recital by Miss Maurine Davenport, on Thursday night in the community clubhouse, drew a large audience. Miss Davenport was charming to gaze upon in her delicate pink frock of georgette. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Davenport, and is a most graceful and musically artist.
 The artistic program arranged by Grover C. Morris, who presented Miss Davenport, was carried out in perfection of execution, and sympathy that was perfect. The clubroom was tastefully adorned with tall baskets of flowers, and formed a brilliant background to the little pianist.

MRS. McCULLOUGH OPENS ART STUDIO
 Eastland is noted for her several outstanding women in musical circles, in versification, in newspaper work, clubwork, violin musicianship, voice culturists and artists.
 Among these we refer more especially to the artists in paints and water colors, as nowadays, the general term artist, is applied in several directions, wherever the work is outstanding and of unusual prominence.
 Eastland is fortunate in having Mrs. Marshall McCullough in her midst, as she is a woman of wide training, with the best of background in preparation for her chosen life work.
 Mrs. McCullough has been director of art in several colleges prior to her Eastland residence, but has not accepted pupils in private work, as she thought students wished to learn by painting pictures, a hobby which in truth is not art.
 She was director of art for six years at Breckhaven College, Mississippi, and held many public exhibitions. She finished in the Cincinnati Art Academy, and later had two years study in Paris, France. Here her morning and afternoon study hours were spent in the Julian Academy, the Colorazzi, and to a quick sketch at the Chumerie.
 She holds a teachers certificate of the Cincinnati Art Academy, certificates from private studios in Chicago, for leather craft, enamels with several noted artists, won an extra prize from the Ceramic Publishing Co. for best article of flower painting on China.
 She studied figure and portrait under Renard, and portrait painting with La Farge at the Julian Academy, and miniature painting with Debill Emet-Chardon in Paris, France.
 She was director of art and teacher of French language in several colleges, including the Oklahoma Presbyterian College, and Crescent College and Conservatory at State Teachers College.
 Her teachers have stated she has given the most perfect satisfaction and that she is a teacher of enthusiasm, up-to-date and progressive in methods, with work along the lines of originality.
 Mrs. McCullough thinks Eastland abounds in beautiful sketching scenery, and when she opens enough will apply for that work to make an out-door sketch class interesting. Her studio will fill a long felt want in Eastland, and it is indeed fortunate that trained teaching such as that of Mrs. McCullough, can be brought to our door.

VISITORS IN EASTLAND TAKING THE BATHS

Ray, Cisco; W. H. McNeely, Cisco; Mrs. L. M. Stephenson, Breckenridge; Mrs. S. A. Phillips, Graham; Lon Quinn and Mrs. Q. Desdemona; Mrs. C. E. Shields, Ranger; Mrs. O. H. Scott, Cheney; W. H. hour, with a minimum of heat, a specially delightful suggestion for hot days.

MARRIAGE OF POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE ANNOUNCED
 Mrs. Dell Cox announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Lorraine Cox, to Mr. Tom Harris, on Saturday afternoon, June 9th, in Fort Worth. The young couple kept the marriage a secret for a few days, and left Thursday for Galveston, in their car, for a honeymoon trip.
 Upon their return they will go to housekeeping. Both are popular young people. Friends had expected the marriage to occur on or about the 26th of June.
 The bride was accompanied by Miss Aline Williams, and the ceremony took place in the First Methodist church of Fort Worth, with the pastor, Rev. Hawk officiating.
 The bride was charming in a tan silk suit, with coat, hat and shoes en suite, and carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal flowers.

FISHING PARTY RETURNS FROM LLANO RIVER
 After many years spent in Texas, as a near pioneer, during which she visited many streams and lakes throughout this fair state, in company with fishing or tenting parties, it was left for Mrs. D. G. Hunt, to catch her first fish, last week, when out on a trip with friends, who camped beyond London, 175 miles from here, on the Llano River.
 The week's stay and the two crappie which Mrs. Hunt yanked out of the water, have so enthused her that she has ambitions equal to a feminine Isak Walton.
 Mrs. Hunt reported a number of parties camping along the River near town, and each from a different town.
 Other members of her party included, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wilson, Miss Nina Whitfield, and Mr. Dixon G. Hunt.

DRAGO RECITAL FRIDAY NIGHT
 Miss Wilda Drago presented her violin choir, and many students, in a most delightful, artistic program Friday night, when the down stairs assembly hall of the Methodist church was completely filled by an interesting and appreciative audience. Charming decorations obtained in immense bowls filled with long stemmed brilliant wild flowers, and a stage background constructed through use of several handsome paneled wooden screens, hung with gay embroidered, fringed silk drapes. At back of piano, a cluster of potted ferns, and a Spanish shawl threw on the instrument completed the effect.
 The program was well balanced with sufficient contrast to be intriguing and presented in full as

MRS. ALEX CLARKE ENTERTAINS FOR DAUGHTER
 A merry, delightful crowd of little boys and girls assembled Friday afternoon at the invitation of Mrs. Alex Clarke, for a real party on the lawn, celebrating the seventh birthday of the Clarke's only daughter, Winsome Edna Clarke.
 As the little guests entered they were regaled with iced fruit juices by Eleanor Ruth Ferguson, and Joan Johnson, assisted by Alma Williamson, and Lucy Beall Smith, who trotted industriously around the lawn bearing the fragrant beverage.
 The table on the piazza from which the punch was served, was adorned with roses and vines.
 Later ice cream cones in delicious plenty were distributed, and the lovely birthday cake, topped with seven lighted tapers, and all glistening and twinkling in the center of a lace laid table, set under the trees.
 Places for the little folks were indicated by ribbon streamers, arraying from the cake, each streamer having an attached souvenir. A grab bag furnished lots of fun, the depths disclosing parasols, purses and dolls, and other toys.
 A Victrola on the piazza added to the merriment, and some pretty musical selections were given by young Alex Clarke on the saxophone, with victrola accompaniment.

The scene was a lovely one, with the children in their light and gay dresses, the rose colored balloons and flitting forms making a picturesque tableau.

Texas Once Had A "Possibility" For President's Chair

FORT WORTH, June 22.—Recalling the time when Texas seriously offered the democratic party of the nation a candidate for President in the person of Sam Houston, the hero of San Jacinto, Dr. Joseph Martin Dawson of Baylor university writes a very timely article on "Sam Houston for President" in the July number of Bunker's Monthly of Fort Worth, which is just from the press.
 Dr. Dawson includes the text of a campaign song "Old Sam Houston," sung to the tune of "Oh, Subannah" and printed in the Redland Herald, of San Augustine, Texas, in its issue of Oct. 12, 1850. He tells how the proposal was favorably commented on by newspapers in other states.

convention assembled in Austin, Jan. 8, 1852," writes Dr. Dawson, "it carried in its platform as its fourth and concluding plank the following: 'That the democracy of Texas do present to the consideration of the great democratic party of the United States, General Sam Houston—the hero of San Jacinto—as a patriot, chief claim and statesman eminently worthy to be the standard bearer of the party in the approaching canvass for the presidency; and while we could hail his nomination with proud satisfaction, we pledge our warm and hearty support to the nominee of the democratic national convention.'"
 "There were cheers for old Sam," led by General Hatch. It was ordered that an address to the democracy of the nation should be prepared and widely circulated. A committee of nine, composed of Messrs. F. L. Hatch, F. H. Herriman, A. Sterne, A. M. Lewis, James W. Henderson, P. McCordova, A. J. Hamilton, George W. Hill and John D. McLeod, was appointed to attend to the address.
 "It appears that the movement reached a culmination in 1856. New Hampshire democrats urged him as 'The People's Candidate' on the ground of his opposition to the Nebraska bill and the Missouri compromise. The edition of a biography, 'The Life of Houston,' had been printed in 1846, and put forth as a campaign document."

 Dr. Dawson concludes as follows: "It was really the union sentiment which defeated him for the presidency, pronounced opposition to it started all his enemies, and stirred the ire of southern leaders who for a son called him a traitor." The convention of the "American Democracy" in Baltimore, Feb. 22, which nominated Millard Fillmore for the presidency, Houston received three votes. A fatal cause which cost the presidency, Houston never achieved the governorship as in 1859 on a union ticket if in 1861 he was dropped from the office on account of the fact he never gave up the union almost alone in his party. July 26, 1863, died of a heart."

"None that we can touch. Haven't you an account of your own?" "I'm going to find out what my balance is," she replied unpropitiously.

Mr. Gardiner went to the door with her and urged her to reconsider his decision to refuse financial assistance. "I'm no longer rich," she said. "Why should I live a lie? And borrowing enough money to keep me in luxury would be doing just that. There's only one honest thing I can do and that is to find work and earn my own living."

"Well, I think you are quixotic," he told her, impressed in spite of his worldly judgment. "But I hope you will have an early marriage if you still intend to marry your young artist."

Fighting Flood in Missouri

Battling with a flood that forced thousands to flee their homes in the St. Francis river valley in Missouri, workmen are shown at the top building a levee of sandbags in the effort to save wide areas from inundation. Thirty thousand sand bags were used at this point, west of Holcomb, Mo. Below, troops from one of the five national guard camps along the river are shown on patrol.

It did not surprise her to learn that her account was overdrawn. She had expected that as she had expected to lose her pearls, but there was no shock attached to this bit of news. Her emotions were chilled, insensitive. In the place where her heart had been there was alump that pulsed to but one thought. Niel.

Well, she had enough money to take a room in a second rate hotel. She hadn't kept her taxi waiting this time, so she walked. It was not far and she felt the exercise clearing her mind a little. On her way she bought a paper.

From the Ritz she telephoned to several hotels that were advertised in the paper and made a memorandum of their rates. By the time she had finished packing she had decided upon the one she would go to.

To Virginia, when she was being shown to a room there, it was a depressing revelation of the difference in hotels. To have come to this!

When the bellboy was gone she promptly locked the door. As she turned the key her ears were assailed by voices coming from a connecting room.

"What in hell! Gimme that money or I'll knock you silly!" (To Be Continued)

Second Place On Ticket Will Go To "Doubtful State"

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, June 23.—Texas now promises to be just the place where the democratic national convention will nominate Al Smith.

Prospects that the state may play an important part in selection of candidates and moulding the platform have dwindled as the Smith sentiment has swept the country. Even Texas leaders who did not favor Smith are now taking the position that as he is to be the candidate he should be sent into the race unhampered by a prohibition fight at Houston or a squabble over his running mate.

Governor Dan Moody, up to mid week, was still silent on his course of action. As chairman of the Texas delegation and the delegation's choice for member of the platform committee, he can insist on fighting for a strong dry plank. That has been long his ambition but it is possible that the Texas delegation may decide it is a bad policy. The party never has done it.

Though the delegation was so carefully picked at Beaumont that Smith leaders were considerably affronted, there are many more Smith enthusiasts on the delegation than Moody knew. Texas' other chance to have an important bearing on the convention is in the make-up of the ticket.

The brief boom of Jesse H. Jones' of Houston as a presidential candidate has already dwindled to mention as a vice presidential possibility. Governor Moody has at last silenced the persistent efforts to link his name with Smith on the ticket. It is expected here that the vice president will be picked from a doubtful state. That includes Kentucky where a near Texan, Maj. Gen.

Unconscious Since May 6

Though Miss Margaret Cobb of Clinton, Tenn., has been unconscious since May 6 when she was injured in an automobile accident, doctors believe she will recover. She is being fed through a tube. Shortly before the wreck she was chosen by Russell Patterson, New York artist, as one of the most beautiful girls in the University of Tennessee.

Henry T. Allen lives. He was commander of the 90th division made up of Texas and Oklahoma men.

Albert Baskin of Fort Worth, who was author of the Baskin-McGregor act that put closing hours on Texas saloons and otherwise regulated them, while here this week, expressed the belief that Jesse Jones is the strongest candidate for vice president and more likely to be named than Vic Donahy of Ohio or Thomas J. Walsh. Baskin is outspoken for Smith and declares Jones is just the candidate needed for a popular ticket. How Texas will vote on the first ballot is to be decided at a caucus Monday at the Rice Hotel.

Airplanes Rush Paris Styles Over English Channel

LONDON, June 22.—Gold coin and bullion worth $130,000,000 has passed through Croydon Aerodrome in the past three years on its way to or from the continent, according to a report published here recently.

Several special freight services have been instituted between London and Paris, Berlin and other continental cities. The consignments include, besides gold and silk goods, animals of all descriptions, pedigreed dogs, day-old chicks, a full-grown lion, a horse, and even pigs have been taken home to hunt for friends' homes, rooming houses or wagon yards, but Governor Moody, as chairman of the delegation, didn't propose to have them so scattered. It took a personal trip to Houston (and rumor has it some pointed talk) but now it is assured that the Texas delegates will not have to split up into more than two hotels.

So far as Governor Moody has been notified, all the Texas delegates expect to attend. Mrs. Clara Discoll Sevier, newly chosen national committee-woman from Texas, has recovered from an automobile accident, and will be able to attend the convention.

E. F. Threath left Thursday for Idorad, Ark., where he will spend a few weeks with his son, E. F. Threath. R. W. Threath accompanied him to Dallas.

ROAD MEETING TO BE HELD IN STEPHENVILLE

Plans For Paving or Hard Surfacing Gaps in Highway No. 10 To Be Discussed.

Special to the Telegram.

FORT WORTH, June 23.—Decision to meet in Stephenville on a date to be selected by the Chamber of Commerce and three further plans for either paving or hard surfacing gaps in Highway No. 10 was reached Wednesday by persons interested in the completion of the project.

Highway No. 10, which connects Sherman and Del Rio, when completed, will open up a rich new territory, ranchers at the meeting declared. N. H. Banister, who owns a sheep, and goat ranch in Rocksprings and is, in addition, traveling secretary of the Texas Warehouse Association, declared that the territory logically belonged to Fort Worth and that this city should be the outlet for its products.

J. W. Hutt, editor of the Rock Springs Record, who was elected chairman of the meeting, declared that Edwards county alone produced $3,000,000 worth of wool and mohair annually and that the combination of the wool industry in Texas with that of Idaho, made this country the outstanding wool production center of the world.

Representatives Named.

The meeting in Stephenville will be held for the purpose of deciding steps to be taken in the completion of the highway. After the meeting there the problem probably will be taken up with the State Highway Department.

Jewel P. Lightfoot, a member of the highway committee of the Association of Commerce and Ed McRae, superintendent of the Tourist Bureau, were appointed to represent Fort Worth.

At least two delegates from every county between Fort Worth and Brownwood will be asked to attend the meeting in Stephenville.

Milton Burks of Brownwood, who acted as secretary for the meeting Wednesday, on instructions from the chair named the following representatives:
Road Outlet Only.
Hood County, I. A. Riley and F. D. Stout; Dublin, Roland Larders, W. P. Halmark and Sam Harris; Bluffdale, J. F. Womack and "Bud" Yarbrough; Tolar, Frank Curl and I. P. Barrett; Cresson, W. O. Fidler and Chas. Lanham; Proctor, R. W. Gray and John Pinson; Comanche, Judge Luker H. Carpenter and C. F. Sinclair; Blanket, Walter Boland and Sim Lacy; Brownwood, F. S. Abney, Sam Cutbirth, E.

V. Gill and E. P. Kilgore.

The outlet of the sheep and goat country through which No. 10 Highway passes is solely by highway according to statements at Wednesday morning's meeting.

The highway not only will be of enormous benefit to the ranchers of the region, but will react favorably on the Fort Worth market, it was brought out by various speakers.

Fort Worth this year will handle more than 50,000 truck loads of livestock, it was pointed out by Lightfoot. He stated that six years ago a total of 16,000 loads of livestock were trucked into Fort Worth. Last year this number was 41,000 truck loads.

Kid Leon Expected To Worry Lowery In Wrestling Bout

Kid Leon, the Dallas middle-weight grappler who has been causing a lot of talk in local sport circles for the past few weeks is preparing for a real tough go when he clashes with Butch Lowery, San Antonio grappler next Tuesday night at the Elks club.

Leon's special holds are body slams with which he has beaten the larger percent of his opponents, and with which he hopes to beat Lowery Tuesday night.

Lowery specializes on body scissors holds, and headlocks to win and as he has looked up Leon's records and finds that Leon is weak on scissors holds, Lowery is planning to cut into Leon with leg scissors holds galore and pin Leon's shoulders to the mat with them, after wearing Leon down to where he can't move.

However, Leon has lots of the rough and tumble tactics that he relies upon to get him out of dangerous places and he hopes to conquer Lowery in this way if he finds his slams have no effect on the newcomer.

The promoter guarantees one of the best and most thrilling mat battles ever held in Eastland when these two stars clash. The match will be for the best two out of three falls to a finish, nothing barred but the strangle hold.

The other main attraction will be a two out of three fall match between Young Headrick, flying head scissors star and Cleto Duval, young San Angelo middle-weight star. This match is expected to set a fast pace and be chuck full of action.

MAGNOLIA NOW PRODUCES ANTI-KNOCK GASOLINE

The Magnolia Petroleum Company announces today the addition of a new motor fuel to be known as Magnolia Anti-Knock gasoline, to its list of products. According to E. P. Angus, General Sales Manager of the company, "It is the result of extensive research to produce a motor fuel which gives 'something extra' in addition to quiet power on the hills and in sand and mud."

"Anti-Knock," Mr. Angus said, "is a pure petroleum product. It takes out the knock without injury to any part of the motor or gas lines. We believe motorists will welcome this new gasoline, especially in cars that require high-compression fuels and others which are affected by excessive carbon."

"Anti-Knock" is available at Magnolia Stations and dealers throughout the Southwest," Mr. Angus added.

OWEN MOORE and NORMA SHEARER in 'THE ACTRESS'

FAKE ACCIDENT BECOMES REAL

Players in "The Actress" Thrown to Ground by Breaking of WHEELS

A fake accident which nearly turned into a real mishap spilled the entire theatrical company of Norma Shearer's "The Actress" helter-skelter into the dust of a country road near Pasadena during the filming of the production.

According to the script of the picture, which is now playing at the Connelley Theatre, Norma Shearer, Gwen Lee, Owen Moore, Lee Moran, Virginia Pearson, Roy D'Arcy and William Humphrey as the cast of the Wells theatrical company, were making a picnic trip in an 1880 model English trolley.

Everything was apparently going all right and the company was bracing themselves for the crash. Unfortunately, however, when one wheel broke the other did also; the whole rear end of the carriage hit the road and seven actors bit the dust.

Fortunately no one was seriously hurt, but Director Sidney Franklin was forced to allow thirty minutes for clothes and make-up repairs. As the camera caught the incident in full, the result is one of the many amusing sequences which makes "The Actress" one of the most entertaining pictures of the year.

VALERA SEEMS ATTRACTIVE TO BANK BANDITS

VALERA, June 22.—The bank in this prosperous little city in Coleman county seems to be the target of outlaws.

The first holdup which Marshall Ratliff is credited was the daylight robbery of the Valera bank. He was later captured, convicted, received executive clemency and then, disguised as Santa Claus, led the bandits into the bank at Cisco last December.

After the daylight holdup here, another effort—this time at night—was made to rob the bank. The night watchman was caught off guard, relieved of his pistol, taken out of town and tied to a tree. The robbers then broke into the bank and knocked the knob off the vault but could not get into the vault.

Judge R. N. Grisham of Eastland, candidate for congress, has been making an intensive canvass of this county and he spent several hours here. He viewed with much interest the bank that Ratliff robbed.

Grisham met Theo Griffis, capable and popular young cashier, who has charge of the bank. Griffis was in the bank two years ago when Marshall Ratliff and two others held up the institution.

Dr. R. F. Line, proprietor of the drug store here, attended the same college in Parker county that Judge Grisham attended, and the two had an enjoyable chat about mutual friends. The congressional aspirant was cordially received by Dr. R. E. Burrus, Dr. B. F. Pearce, school Commissioner Shannon and the citizenship in general.

Valera is one of the big voting boxes of the county and the prospects seem bright for it to go for Grisham.

Valera, in addition to being the center of a fine farming country, is enjoying great benefits from oil. The biggest well in the great Coleman county fields came in about three miles from Valera and, in another direction not far from the city, two big gassers and an oil well have opened up a new pool.

Talpa, an active town in the western part of the county, was visited by the Eastland man and he found several old-time friends and received many assurances of support. At Voss, he met Dr. J. B. Whitehead, who owns extensive business interests. Dr. Whitehead formerly lived in Rising Star, in Eastland county. In Leaday, Judge Grisham shook hands with numerous voters. It is the town that was struck by a tornado recently and smashed buildings were still in evidence.

Pennsylvania Has Its Own Form Of Circus Parade

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 20.—The Pennsylvania game commission is going into the circus business on a small scale—at least it will operate this summer a traveling menagerie, which will visit the majority of the important boroughs and cities of the state.

Thus far the menagerie contains no lions or tigers; elephants or giraffes, but it does boast of practically all wild animals to be found in Pennsylvania.

The most ferocious of the animals are wildcats. There are three of these, together with four bears; four deer; raccoons, foxes, and a multitude of smaller animals, with which the forests of the state abound.

Members of the commission say that in their opinion there are few Pennsylvanians who realize what a large and varied supply of wild life abounds in this state—judged the greatest industrial commonwealth of the United States.

It is the intention of the commission, with its touring menagerie, which is billed under the more dignified terms of an exhibit to educate Pennsylvanians to the animal resources of their home. Nevertheless, the exhibit is appealing to the youth of the state as only a wild animal circus could appeal.

10,000 Rotarians At Minneapolis For Big Convention

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 18.—Ten thousand delegates from 2,900 communities in 44 countries gathered here today for the nineteenth annual Rotary International convention, which will continue until June 22.

Five days of discussion of the aims and objects of Rotary and the obligations of Rotary clubs in community work have been interspersed by the Minneapolis host committee with an elaborate program of typically American entertainment.

One of the features will be the presentation in pantomime of the story of Rotary and its spread around the world. A beautiful flower garden will form the setting for the performance, translated by actors and a group of 44 dancing girls representing the countries in which the club is organized.

The convention will be formally opened this evening with speeches of welcome by Gov. Theodore Christenson of Minnesota and Mayor George F. Leach of Minneapolis. Acknowledgment of their greetings will be made by Arthur H. Sapp, Huntington, Ind., the international president.

Tomorrow morning Sapp will deliver the address of welcome to Rotarians of five countries in which Rotary clubs have been organized in the last year. Dr. Wilhelm Cuno, former chancellor of the German republic, will be spokesman for these five countries in making their response. Germany is the last country in which a club was organized.

Representatives from Spanish and Portuguese speaking nations will assemble tomorrow morning to discuss situations in their own countries.

After nomination of international officers Wednesday morning, there will be a series of short addresses by men from Cuba, Belgium, Chile, Australia, New Zealand, and widely separated cities in the United States. The officers will be elected Thursday morning and at the same time in another session short talks will be made by delegates from Norway, Mexico, and Great Britain.

The formal president's ball Wednesday evening and a carnival celebration, in which water sports will be numerous, on Thursday evening will be the social features of the week.

ADVERTISING AGENCY NAME CHANGE MADE

The Southwestern Advertising Co., Dallas, Becomes Tracey-Locke-Dawson, Inc.

Special to the Telegram DALLAS, Texas, June 23.—The Southwestern Advertising Company of Dallas, a national advertising agency, today announced the changing of its name, effective July 1, to "Tracey-Locke-Dawson, Inc."

The change was made because of implied territorial limitations associated with the name "Southwestern," and because of the large number of concerns using the word "Southwestern" in the firm name, causing considerable confusion.

All assets and good will of the Southwestern Advertising Company will be transferred to the new corporation, which will continue to operate along the same lines and with the same policies, and with no changes in personnel.

The Southwestern Advertising Company was organized at Oklahoma City in 1915 by Shelley E. Tracey and Raymond P. Locke, both still active heads of the business. In 1918, Joe M. Dawson became associated with the concern, and came to Dallas in 1920 to take charge of the office here, which had been established in 1917. The headquarters office was moved to Dallas in 1923, this now being the only point at which an office is maintained.

While the agency serves the bulk of its accounts in Texas and Oklahoma, clients are being served at present which are located in Michigan, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia. A total of 28 clients are being served at present, and the agency maintains its original policy of accepting no new accounts until the organization is in position to render the type of individual service given all accounts, which has been responsible for its growth from a small service agency, to a national organization, with a volume of more than $1,000,000 of business annually. During a single month, the company made 1157 individual stage purchases from 280 publications, located in 27 states. The agency enjoys recognition from all American publications and publishers associations.

Henry Ford Comes Out As Advocate of Prohibition

Henry Ford, through his general secretary, E. G. Liebold, in a letter to Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers Record, writes as follows:

"I am enclosing herewith a leaflet which contains an expression from Mr. Ford on the subject of prohibition. In addition to this he has requested me to say that our men are very much better off since prohibition, as our records indicate that their attendance is more regular, their savings have increased, and property-owners have greatly advanced."

"With the law back of us, and with Government co-operation, we have no difficulty in enforcing prohibition among our own men and if all employers would take it upon themselves to do likewise, we are sure that the burdens of enforcement would be greatly lightened."

Mr. Liebold adds to this the following quotation from Mr. Ford: "Prohibition is a fine thing. I believe it will become world-wide. Alcohol destroys the brain cells and lowers a man's efficiency. I believe that industrial competition will force prohibition upon the whole world."

Survey of Dairying Industry Shows Possibilities In Eastland County

CISCO, June 22.—The most encouraging feature developed during the dairy survey now under way is the enthusiasm manifested by the farmers for a milk plant, or some other profitable marketing plan for dairy products," was the comment of J. E. Spencer, chairman of the committee directing the taking of the dairy cow census. "The enthusiasm of the farmers for a milk plant is manifest in the large number who have obligated themselves to increase their dairy herds just as soon as there is a market provided for their products."

"The territory covered by the enumerators last Friday and Tuesday reveals that there are 2,337 cows being milked in the territory covered; 1,545 heifers, and 1,310 dry cows, making a total of milk stock of 4,192 head that have been listed by the enumerators, that can be counted on to be available for a milk supply. Everyone realizes that it is a physical impossibility to list every cow in the districts, and it is possible, at a conservative estimate, that at least 1,000 additional cows might be added to this list to account for those not listed."

These enumerators have not completed their work, as only 27 of the 37 school precincts have been canvassed in the 15 mile radius of Cisco. This census is taken for the purpose of making a showing to the manufacturers to induce them to establish a milk plant in Cisco. The showing already made is most gratifying, as it was known in advance that very few farmers kept more cows than necessary to supply milk for their families, as there had been only a limited market for milk products in Cisco. Market conditions have improved recently by the establishment of the cream route.

"It is the plan of the committee to have another crew of enumerators in the field Tuesday when we will complete the canvass of the school districts in the 15 mile radius. We hope to have enough volunteers to complete the work early in the afternoon, and those who can go out Tuesday are requested to notify the chamber of commerce. As usual, breakfast will be served at 7:30 to those who volunteer for this service."

Following is the report of the enumerators who have been in the field, showing the number of cows milking, heifers, dry, and the number the farmers in each precinct would purchase provided a market will be created by the establishment of a milk plant:

Cottonwood—Milking, 29; dry, 27; heifers, 5; will buy, 17 cows.
Reagan—Milking, 38; dry, 29; heifers, 60; will buy, 61 cows.
Cook—Milking, 23; dry, 14; heifers, 25; will buy, 39 cows.

Doctor Protests Animal Torture

LONDON—A strong protest against poison gas experiments on animals during pease time was voiced by Dr. Walter Hadwen in the course of the British union council meeting of the British Union for the Abolition of Vivisection.

Dr. Hadwen characterized such practices as abominable and useless, because no one knew what kind of gases an enemy might use if war came, and "even then the effect on animals is quite different from the effect on human being."

Another speaker moved a resolution protesting against "the practice of the British Broadcasting Corporation submitting all talks on health to the Ministry of Health, which resulted in a policy of boycott and suppression." He pleaded that now the Prime Minister had said that the British Broadcasting company could broadcast controversial topics. Dr. Hadwen should be allowed to state the case for anti-vivisection, followed by a statement of the views of the other side.

The council is awaiting a reply from the British Broadcasting Corporation on this question. The meeting was interrupted by a number of medical students a score of whom had to be ejected by the police in order to enable the meeting to proceed.

waters. Now it is desolate. As Sodom and Gomorrah, so Capharnaum with the surrounding country was cursed by God and changed into a desert, because its inhabitants, notwithstanding all the miracles Jesus wrought there, remained in unbelief and sin. Christ said: "And thou, Capharnaum, shalt thou be exalted up to heaven? thou shalt go down even to hell; for if in Sodom had been wrought the miracles that have been wrought in thee, perhaps it had remained until this day." Matt. 2:23. This is the result of unbelief and sin. God departs from those who obstinately continue in unbelief and sin and punishes them temporally and eternally. Let us use the grace of God and listen to the Apostle, "Knowest thou not that the benignity of God leadeth thee to penance? But according to thy hardness and impenitent heart, thou treasurest up to thyself wrath, against the day of wrath, and revelation of the just judgment of God." Rom. 2:4, 5. REV. M. MOM'N POP

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR SUNDAY, JUNE TWENTY-FOURTH, REVIEW—"JESUS THE SAVIOR"

By H. W. WRYE Golden Texas: "Choose you this day whom ye will serve." (Josh. 24:15). The lessons of this quarter have covered the third year of our Lord's activities, embracing the periods of opposition and persecution contrasting the periods of obscurity and popularity observed in the first quarter. Jesus the suffering Messiah—"Who do men say that I am?" This momentous question was asked at the time of our Lord's great popularity. Various opinions prevailed among the people, but Peter said, "Thou art the Christ." Jesus predicted His death, and successful discipleship meant self-denial. The Resurrection Finding Christ's tomb empty created surprise among the women, but an angel encouraged them, and Jesus appeared to His disciples and commissioned them to preach the gospel in all the world. Transfiguration and Service—In the midst of the high mountains of Hermon, in the presence of Peter, James and John, Jesus was transfigured and Moses from the intermediate state, and Elijah from the eternal state, the three discussed the future atonement and Jehovah announced from a bright cloud overshadowing the convention "This is my beloved Son; hear ye him." Jesus and the Home—The divorce question was considered. Certainly no one sin is producing more unhappiness than the general disregard of God's law concerning marriage and divorce and His law regulating the home. The cost of Discipleship—The rich youth seeking eternal life was grieved at the conditions. He loved his money better than life in heaven, and refused the cost. The snare of riches, baited with promised ease is not only deceptive, but is destructive to faith in the great leader to heavenly wealth. Greatness Through Service—The dispute about greatness, doing things in Jesus' name, things that offend, drinking of Christ's cup, and the interpretation of greatness, were questions considered and cleared up in this lesson. Jesus Enters Jerusalem—The interesting incidents of this lesson eminently justified Jesus in saying "All authority is given unto me," because He was King of kings. Jesus Teaching in the Temple—The question of the tribute money, the resurrection, and the first commandment, was settled "And no man after that durst ask him any questions." The Wicked Husbandmen—The parable revealed the chief priests and Pharisees to be the wicked men who would crucify the Son of God. They were so offended that they sought to lay hold on Jesus at once, but was afraid of the multitude. Jesus Facine Betrayal and Death—Mary anoints Jesus. Judas contracts with the chief priest to betray the Lord. The Passover observed and the Lord's supper instituted, together with the Lord's agony and prayers in Gethsemane, are all outstanding events studied in this lesson. The Arrest and Trial—The arrest and the trial of Jesus, was the most illegal procedure in all history. Combine that with one of His disciples betraying Him and another denying Him, and we are assured. Nevertheless we are assured that innocence cannot be

Flower Gardens, Planted for Ornament And To Produce Blossoms for Picking

So often is the flower garden the chief decorative feature of the landscape that picking blossoms lavishly leaves it in a sorrowfully denuded state, yet half the joy of growing flowers would be gone were it not for being able to pick quantities of them as gifts to friends and to bring indoors the charm and freshness of the garden.

Planning to have a separate garden devoted solely to cutting flowers solves the problem beautifully for those who have room at their disposal for long straight rows or compact beds of flowers suitable for picking. The happy condition exists with relatively few. The majority of gardeners seek a device whereby an added source of bloom is made possible without perennials, thus there is no danger of harm from root intrusion. Besides that in many permanent plantings a displeasing look of bareness exists about the feet of the plants, and the annuals, instead of detracting from the general decorative scheme, tend to blanket the soil and becomingly dress the knees of the tall-legged perennials, making the garden an altogether lovelier thing.

Indeed, such judicious arrangement can be planned that the primary object, that of getting flowers to cut, need not be suspected and as an impression connoting enhancement given instead.

Remember the Bulbs

The suggestion does not mean that the selection of varieties be confined to annuals. It is well to remember the bulbs, even though the annuals have more prolific blooming habits. Bulb blossoms there certainly should be for they are among the first to be set forth by the swelling life of a new spring. And they do look so jolly in low fat jugs when taken indoors!

There should be a sufficient number of varieties over the entire season to allow for diversified arrangement and effect, both in the garden and in vases—flowers—cool, dainty and restful; others joyous and exhilarating in their bold rich colorings. No one wants all her bouquets arranged in rigid upright positions; neither is a squatty bouquet always appropriate or appealing. Drooping, trailing flower clusters have their place and introduce a simple winsome charm that no stately dignified bouquet's chief charm is its fragrance, and if possible, flowers rich in perfume should be sought to plant for cutting.

In Vegetable Beds

The kitchen gardener knows that the vegetable lot, too, offers surprisingly satisfying possibilities for cut flowers. The effect of flower-bordered vegetable plots is charming. Many vegetable gardeners make a practice of intermingling flowers with the vegetables, while others prefer edges, screens and backgrounds.

By judicious alternation, many lovely flowers for cutting can be grown throughout the summer, in spots that would otherwise remain idle bits of waste during the summer and autumn seasons.

The method is to sow seeds of quick-growing annuals in hotbeds or specially prepared seedbeds that do not take up much space, and transplant the seedlings to the vegetable beds after the early crops have been harvested. Many of the early vegetables are short-seasoned and will be well out of the way by the time the young flower seedlings are ready to transplant.

Remember that many of the flowering shrubs give their value freely for cutting. The white billowy sprays of the spira, the forsythia's drifts of golden sunshine, make exceedingly graceful and delicate bouquets. Remember the shrubs whose flowers are inconspicuous but are rich in leaves and fruit wonderfully hued in fall and winter. The fascinating colors and picturesque forms are invaluable for late-season bouquets.

Presbyterian Church

A helpful service has been arranged at the Presbyterian church Sunday. The subject for the sermon will be "The World's Greatest Legacy." The choir will render the anthem "Jesus, Tender Shepherd" by Adams.

Follow the example of the chief executive of the nation in attending church. We may never be president but we can go to church. There are twenty-four hours each Sunday. For sleep 8, for church 2, for one's own disposal 14! Think it over and see whether you are treating yourself right, your community right, your church right, and your Lord right in not attending. President Coolidge attended church last Sunday, the first Sunday of his vacation. Nothing was said of a great choir, nor great music of any kind. The church was a small church and the sermon was by a blind preacher. You might find a good in Eastland, and the churches welcome you.

The Sunday School will convene at 9:45 a. m. with a class and a place, and a welcome for all who come. Mr. C. J. Sparks is superintendent of the main school. He intends of the marks is superlative. Always smiles when people come who are not accustomed to attend. Sunday ends the first quarter of the church year. The attendance thus far has been unusually good. Never mind the weather and keep its record good.—L. R. Hogan, Pastor.

Methodist Church

Rev. C. O. Shugart, presiding elder of the Methodist church, Cisco district, will occupy the pulpit in the Eastland Methodist church this morning at 11 o'clock.

The Rev. W. W. Richeson, DeLeon, will preach in the Methodist church Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

A joint quarterly conference will be held in the Methodist church next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

A basket picnic for all members of the church is announced for next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. It will be held in City Park.

MODERN PIED PIPER AND HIS CREW TO WORK

"The common brown rat breeds six to ten times a year and averages ten young to a litter. One pair of rats breeding uninterruptedly for a period of three years would produce 359,709,482 individuals. The per capita cost of the rats last year was $3.72, so every time you kill a rat you have earned that amount. They are carriers of many diseases, including the bubonic plague and infantile paralysis, and are responsible for more untimely deaths than all the combined wars of history."

Rats Are Repulsive

The very thought of rats contaminating food for human consumption is revolting when you consider the fact that he comes from his home in cess pools and sewers to feed on stores laid by for the human being," said Mr. Jorgenson. In explaining his process, he said that a high poison was not used, nor a poison which would in any way affect food, and that the treatment could be made in any establishment regardless of the line of business pursued.

"This is a worthy work, and should receive the serious consideration of every individual handling food products, especially, and by every property owner for sanitary reasons," said Jorgenson. "In addition, the monetary loss sustained by many is much more than they know. The biological survey of Washington estimates that it takes the combined wages of 200,000 trained workers to feed the rate annually."

Mr. Jorgenson and his crew expect to be in or around Eastland for several weeks, for they are likely to make their headquarters here while visiting other places within the county.

HOTEL GARAGE AND FILLING STATION OPENS

The New Hotel Garage and Filling Station, at the intersection of West Main and Mulberry streets and adjoining the Texas Hotel on the north, is open for business.

This garage and filling station was built and will be operated by J. M. Bailey, owner of the Texas Hotel. It is one of the nicest filling stations in the city and the garage is well equipped. Large facilities for storing cars are provided as well as a workshop for repairing cars. Gulf, Magnolia and Cities Service gas and oils will be sold at this station.

L. N. Collins will have active charge of the filling station and storage department, which will be open day and night. Sam Stoker, experienced automobile mechanic, will be in charge of the repair department which he has under lease.

Airplane Crashes Carrying Four U. S. Marines To Death

By United Press.

FILE, Va., June 23.—A marine corps monoplane, en route to Nicaragua, nosed into a field here today, killing four men including Major Lutz and seriously injuring a fifth occupant.

Major Lutz and Lieut. H. C. Busby were killed instantly. Machinists' Mate Reed Ernest Old died two hours later without regaining consciousness. The fourth member, Corp. D. K. Chesney, was taken—seriously injured—to a nearby farmhouse, where he died. Nicholas, the fifth occupant, was seriously hurt but will live.

The plane, which left Washington a little more than an hour before, was trying to make a landing in the field, witnesses said. It dove from a low altitude and was badly smashed.

Planetary System Model Is Gift To City of Chicago

CHICAGO.—A planetarium or model of the planetary system in motion, housed in a building of its own, is assured to Chicago's new lake front park by the gift of $500,000 from Max Adler, a business man and philanthropist of this city.

The apparatus which is designed to bring a conception of the motion of the heavenly bodies has been ordered from Carl Zeiss of Jena, Germany, perfecter of the instrument.

It will be the first of the kind in the United States, said Geo. Donoghue, superintendent of the South Park Board. The building is planned for completion in the fall of 1929, the date promised for delivery of the apparatus.

A "made" island recently completed has been chosen as the site by the South Park commission. Just opposite the Field Museum and diagonally across from the new Shedd Aquarium, the Adler planetarium will be a part of a group of educational buildings. Its architecture will follow the monumental lines of the other structures.

with absolute loyalty."

Reed's announcement was made in a conference with newspaper men in which he declined to answer questions. He said his personal views about the existing political situation had already been expressed in some 50 speeches over the country.

In these speeches Reed stressed the desire for party harmony and urged democrats to emphasize the important issues upon which they were in disagreement so they might concentrate upon the issues, upon which they are in accord. He had also attacked corruption in government.

HOUSTON, June 23.—Famous Demo leaders of the past will be represented by w. man members of their families at the convention here.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. T. K. Marshall and Mrs. Ruth Ryan Owens, of Florida, daughter of Whoyning, Jennings Bryan, will attend the convention session.

U. S. CENSUS GIVES TEXAS' TAX FIGURES

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The department of commerce announces a summary of the financial statistics of the State of Texas for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1927. The per capita figures for 1927 are based on an estimated population of 5,369,000.

Expenditures:

The payments for operation and maintenance of the general departments of Texas amounted to $56,648,830, or $10.55 per capita. This includes $22,465,370, appropriations for education to the minor civil divisions of the state. In 1926 the comparative per capita for operation and maintenance of general departments was $9.98 and in 1917, $4.59. The interest on debt in 1927 amounted to $202,425; and outlays for permanent improvements, $13,923,107. The total payments, therefore, for operation and maintenance of general departments and public service enterprises, for interest and outlays were $70,774,362.

The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

Of the governmental costs reported above, $19,764,148 was for highways, $8,255,390 being for maintenance and $11,508,758 for construction.

Revenues:

The total revenue receipts were $78,687,485 or $14.66 per capita. This was $21,836,230 more than the total payments of the year, exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, and $7,913,123 more than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. This excess of revenue receipts is reflected in reduction of debt, and in purchase of investments and increased cash balances, not shown in this summary. Property and special taxes represented 33.6 percent of the total revenue for 1927, 40.6 percent for 1926, and 56.6 percent for 1917. The increase in the amount of property and special taxes collected was 112.4 per cent from 1917 to 1926, but there was a decrease of 9.7 percent from 1926 to 1927. The per capita property and special taxes were $4.92 in 1927, $5.54 in 1926 and $3.10 in 1917.

Earnings of general departments, or compensation for services rendered by state officials, represented 5.0 percent of the total revenue for 1927, 5.0 percent for 1926 and 16.7 percent for 1917.

Business and nonbusiness licenses constituted 41.2 percent of the total revenue for 1927, 34.3 percent for 1926 and 12.5 percent for 1917.

Receipts from business licenses consist chiefly of taxes exacted from insurance and other incorporated companies, of occupation taxes, and of sales tax on gasoline, while those from nonbusiness licenses comprise chiefly taxes on motor vehicles and amounts paid for hunting and fishing privileges. The sales tax on gasoline amounted to $9,950,543 in 1927 and $5,320,820 in 1926, an increase of 87.0 percent, which was due to an increase of two cents per gallon in the tax rate, effective March 17, 1927.

Indebtedness: The total funded or fixed debt outstanding August 31, 1927, was $4,364,488.

Assessed valuations and tax levties: The assessed valuation of property in Texas subject to ad valorem taxation was $3,995,050,651; the amount of state taxes levied was $26,163,839; and the per capita levy, $4.87. In 1926 the per capita levy was $4.52 and in 1917, $3.86.

Lightning struck a pig pen belonging to a tenant of the H. L. Gibson farm, on the north side of Eastland lake, Friday night, killed two of the hogs and injured a third so badly that it will die.

The pen was built under a clump of trees and covered with tin.
