EASTLAND, TEXAS 76448: Today's CENTER for tomorrow's FUTURE!

Volume No. 104 Number 95

Thursday, November 29, 1973

Judy Baker &
Secretary Butz

Will the "Love, Luck, and Laughter" of a 13-year old Eastland Junior High School girl help sway U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz in his recent changes in peanut policies?

Judy Baker, wrote a letter to Secretary Butz in which she strongly objected to proposed administrative changes for the peanut program. The letter was routed to Herbert Lanier, director of tobacco and peanuts division, at the Department of Agriculture, where her unique salutation caught his attention.

He was so impressed with Judy's letter that he contacted her and said that he would like to address the student body of her junior high.

Harold Price, principal of Eastland Junior High School stated that Mr. Lanier will address the student body Tuesday, Dec. 4, at 1:00 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Accompanying the assistant secretary will be Mr. Ross Wilson of the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association. Wilson was uncertain of the exact itinerary of the visit, but stated Lanier would probably discuss the US Department of Agriculture's side of the problem.

Judy's letter was one of the 53 written by Steve Wilson's eighth grade class protesting the changes. In it she wrote:

"Dear Mr. Butz: Hi! I am a eight (sic) grade student from Eastland Junior High. My name is Judy Baker. I am writing because I just heard about your problem. I really don't understand your problem. I really don't understand it. but I sure hope you get it straightened out."

"I object to the administrative changes proposed for the peanut program. I strongly insist that attention be given to guide lines laid out by industry representatives and peanut raisers."

Steve Wilson, eighth grade teacher, said he assigned the letter writing project to his class after reading about the peanut problem to give his students first hand experience in participatory government. He thought that his students would receive the usual form letter and had no idea that the assignment would produce a personal phone call to one of his students from assistant secretary Lanier.

Homecoming

The annual homecoming of the LVN graduates of Cisco Junior College will be Dec. 3, 1973, at 7:00 p.m. in the Corral Room at Cisco.

21st Annual

County Pecan Show Opens 2-Day Stand Friday On South Side Of The Square

Pecan Bake Show Due Friday & Saturday

Pecans - the delicious nuts that are packed with more energy than any other natural food that has ever been discovered - will be on display in Eastland Friday and Saturday, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. The pecans will be displayed in both the natural state and in baked goods reports county Extension agents De Gordon and Janet Thomas. These items will also be sold to those whose appetites are stimulated by the display of goodies. The event will be the Twenty first Annual Eastland County Pecan Show sponsored by the Eastland Chamber of Commerce and the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association. The show will be held in the old Majestic cafe building, 102 West Commerce in Eastland.

James Wright, Chamber of Commerce Manager, says visitors will see some of the best quality pecans in Texas as well as prize pecan pies, cakes, candies, nut bread and cookies. A third feature will be a display of centerpieces using pecans in various forms.

Wright stated that parking meters will be sacked Friday and Saturday for the big event. He encourages everyone in the county and surrounding areas to come and see the P Pecan Show Friday and Saturday.

The Home Demonstration Club members will operate a concession where coffee and food will be sold.

Plaques will be given for the Champion In - Shell pecans, the Champion Shelling pecans, the Champion Native pecans and rosettes will be awarded to Reserve Champions. Ribbons will be awarded to the first, second and third place entries of each variety. In addition ribbons will be given for the largest pecans and the smallest pecans.

Dan Childress, president of the county pecan growers association, estimates that about 200 entries of top quality pecans representing over 40 different varieties will be on display. Each entry consists of at least 40 pecans. They must have been grown in 1973 by the person entering the pecans in the show. All entries of pecans must be entered by 10 a.m. Friday.

Judging for the pecan show will be done Friday afternoon by Dr. Earl Puls, Texas A&M University Extension Horticulturist and Mr. O.S. Gray, owner of Gray's Nursery in Arlington. Mr. Gray is one of the leading pecan experts in Texas. He has developed several varieties including the GraTex, GrayKing, GraZona and others.

Members of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce will help process pecan entries for the pecan show.

Step Beyond Is Jaycees Goal

BY MEL HERWECK
This year the Eastland Jaycees plan to go "one step beyond" in their activities with the Goodfellows.

Every Christmas before the Goodfellows have given baskets of food to the needy people of our community and have worked through the year in aiding the unfortunate.

The Jaycees have been Santa's helpers for the needy children, and each year Santa himself rides with the Jaycees as they deliver toys and food. This year Richard Trail is project chairman; so if you have good or repairable toys please leave them at the fire station.

The "one step beyond" part of the project is that this year the Jaycees are going into the clothing business.

Wayne Fulmer, project chairman, is gathering good used clothing for distribution to the unfortunate.

So if you have good clothing or toys please contact one of our chairmen, President Tom Holland, me, or for that matter, any Eastland Jaycee.

High at 2:00 p.m. Their present plans also include having lunch at the Gorman School Cafeteria following their performance there.

Mr. Peebles, director of the Singers, is also head of the Fine Arts Department of CJC and Minister of Music of the First Baptist Church of Eastland. He has been teaching at the Cisco college for the past five years.

Tidbits By HVO

AMONG TOPICS to be discussed Thursday noon when the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors meet at the Ramada Inn will be scheduling for Christmas lights. An abbreviated version is up, and is burning on a limited basis now, but there's some thought to reducing the lighting further...You'll notice as always that Eastlanders are ready to do their part: quite a few have turned off yard lights; one bachelor you know is waiting a little longer for his dirty clothes pile to get higher before tossing them into the washer; most people are in fact driving slower (Mr. G.A. White of Super Save says he made a visit trip to Fort Worth recently at the lower speed, and sure enough got back home with a quarter of a tank of gas); and all around you're aware that our people are turning off lights more, turning the heat down and wearing warmer clothes. We'll probably all be healthier for it...Best slogan we've seen: SAVE YOUR ENERGY -- YOU MAY NEED IT!

SALUTES TO Steve Wilson at Eastland Junior High School and his classes who did with personal letters what many have been trying to do in the important peanut crisis that faces this county: they got attention, and particularly Miss Judy Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Baker of Carbon, who'll be congratulated in person here Dec. 4 by a key Agriculture Dept. official...Apparently many of our people wrote in response to requests for letters here a month ago, but unlike Judy, most of us got form letter No. 750 - A. Judy's letter is getting results.

The executive told his secretary: "Answer this letter for me, but be careful not to lose my temper."

DEAR VIVIAN and Singing Friends:

Thank you, from the bottom of Eastland's heart (and that's big), for the wonderful, wonderful musical Tuesday night. It was a labor of love from our Black Americans, and netted in excess of $300 for the Centennial Memorial Library - and what a program it was. Many are paying $9 a ticket for S. Hurok concerts across the country, and getting a lot less in return.

Vivian, your Holy City was a worship experience, and the whole program was just a Christmas, birthday, July 4th, and everything else present to all of us tied up with a beautiful ribbon.

(P.S.: Would you believe that the very first time Vivian sang in public, she boomed out? Me neither, but that's what she tells us. It was a long time ago in grade school, but you might guess that she didn't let it phase her: she bounced right up and tried it again, and well you know the rest. Especially if you heard the program Tuesday. And if you didn't hear the program, you have our sympathy.)

AUSTIN -- The Christmas holiday season presents an ironic situation in the market place, according to Bill Schwartz, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's seafood marketing specialist.

It is a time when seafood is most abundant and, therefore, a real bargain. Yet, it is a time when few persons buy seafood. They opt for the more traditional turkey and poultry products.

"If Texas will be a little less traditional this year," said Schwartz, "they can get high quality protein at a very reasonable price by buying seafood products."

Schwartz says a combination of circumstances make fall a seafood buyer's market.

For one thing, shrimp move out of the bays, so many bay shrimpers turn to fishing to make ends meet.

Blue crabs, which foul nets and are a kingsize headache to commercial fishermen during warm months, become dormant with cool weather, so increased production of finfish results.

And there is an increased effort by the finfish industry to take advantage of schooling redfish and trout along the coast.

Trout, redfish, drum or any other fish caught in the bays are the best food bargains for the consumer during the fall.

Dear Boys & Girls:

It is the time of year for me to be coming to see you again. Mrs. Santa Claus and I have been very busy all year and now I am going to get out of my workshop to visit for a while before Christmas.

I will arrive in Eastland for my first visit on December 8th. I am coming in my airplane and I will land at the Eastland Municipal Airport at 2:00 o'clock. Someone will meet me at the Airport in a fire truck and bring me to town. If you wish, you can come to the Airport and see me land. I will stay in town until 4:00 o'clock. Mrs. Santa Claus is sending some candy for me to give all the good little boys and girls.

You might also like to write me a letter and I will take it back with me.

I will come back to Eastland again on Saturday, December 22nd. and will be on the square from 2:00 o'clock until 4:00 o'clock.

I must go now and feed my reindeer, so I will see you at the Airport December 8 at 2 o'clock.

This is all being arranged by your Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

Eastland County Newspapers

Welcome New Employee

Eastland County Newspapers, Inc. has acquired the services of John C. May, a former Eastland County resident and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Ervin of Ranger.

According to publisher H.V. O'Brien, May's main duties will be to "beef up" local news coverage and expand news services. He will be feature editor for the four Eastland County Newspapers.

May is a recent graduate of the University of Utah at Salt Lake City, where he received a Bachelors of Science degree in Journalism.

He has had experience in the weekly and small community newspaper field while serving in the U.S. Army and while attending college in Utah. He was an information specialist with the 1st Armored Division and worked at the Armored Sentinel as a reporter.

He worked as an assistant editor for the Magna Times, Magna, Utah. The new Eastland County Newspaper employee attended Young Elementary School in Ranger and later Ranger Junior College in 1964 - 65, where he was co-editor of the school yearbook. He is looking forward to returning to the area where he started his newspaper career.

"I first became interested in newspapering when I toured the Ranger Times as an elementary school student", he recalled. "The Ranger Times was the first paper I contributed to, while I was a journalism student of Mamie Ruth Hamrick at Ranger Junior College."

For the past ten years May has been attending college and working in Salt Lake City. He continued his journalism career as a copyboy with the Salt Lake Tribune and worked his way up to campus correspondent and general reporter before joining the Army. During his three years he was stationed at Ft. Ben Harrison, Indiana; Nha Trang, Vietnam; and Ft. Hood, Texas. He then returned to the University of Utah to finish his degree. Why did May decide to become a journalist? "I guess I enjoy meeting and talking to different people and doing something a little different each day". And I guess I like to know what's happening 'round and about', and report about people, places, and events of interest to a community."

He chose to work in Eastland County and stay in the small community newspaper field for several reasons. "First I felt it was time to return to the country where I have my roots and grew up. I grew tired of large cities, crowded university campuses and cold weather. I felt the need to return and get to know this area and its people well again."

"I guess I chose the small community newspaper field because of the summer I worked at the Magna Times, located in a small mining town in Utah. There I did a little bit of everything, from photography to makeup of newspapers and wrote a little bit of everything, from sports to society news. I enjoyed meeting, talking to, and serving the citizens of that community. And I enjoyed writing about them -- their wants, their achievements and the honors they received. I enjoyed helping them fulfill their need for information about what's happening in their community (reporting people, places and events of interest) and fulfilling their need to be recognized for their achievements and feel part of their community. I hope I can soon do the same here."

A well prepared seedbed helped establish this excellent stand of grass. Shown here is Bill Harrison, rancher and Gary Bates, SCS, in Bill's coastal eight miles northwest of Eastland that was planted in the spring of this year.

Are You A Gambler When Planting Permanent Grasses?

Are you a gambler? Many stock farmers and ranchers are just that, when it comes to planting permanent grasses. When you seed an area, you are betting on it to make a stand. If everything is not done right before you plant, then the odds of success decrease. The weather presents some gamble in itself, without adding to it. You decrease the chances of success when you cheat on your seedbed. Those who prepare their seedbeds early help insure a successful seeding. Early plantings also help the odds.

Seedbeds for tame pastures such as coastal, weeping lovegrass or kleingrass should be just as good as if you were going to plant a row crop. When planting these grasses one needs a good firm seedbed.

Seedbeds prepared early will catch winter moisture and be firm at planting time. A light plowing just before seeding will control the competition with little or no loss of moisture.

If you intend to plant an area that needs deep plowing or removal of brush then you should consider doing it in the fall. Spring is the busy time of the year for dozer contractors and many farmers and ranchers. Your chances of getting a contractor in the fall or early winter are much better than in the late winter or spring. Also, the early seedbed will catch that winter moisture.

Usually the earlier plantings of grasses have the greater degree of success. January and February plantings of K.R. Bluestem, side - oats grama and like grasses have been most successful. Coastal sprigged in February and March gives good results. L. Kleingrass or weeping lovegrass should be seeded in March or early April for best results.

If you plan to sprig or plant grass in 1974, now is the time to get ready. Many farmers and ranchers in the Upper Leon Soil and Water Conservation District have already started preparing their 1974 seedbed. You can help insure a successful stand of grass or you can wait and gamble.

Added To Weather Station

Through the efforts of Congressman Omar Burleson, the Eastland station of the National Weather Station has been issued a Psychrometer, and a Psychrometric Calculator.

Local National Weather Service observer, F. James Dabney, said Monday that the equipment, not normally assigned to local weather stations of the type in Eastland, was obtained for the Eastland station by Burleson due to the importance of accurate relative humidity readings in the harvesting of peanut crops. Dabney said the instrument, along with the calculator, is used to figure dew point readings. Although dew point readings may not be too helpful in the harvesting of crops, it is a step that must be figured with the psychrometer prior to finding the correct relative humidity.

Dew point is that point at which moisture in the air begins to condense, Dabney said, and is important in determining the possibility of fog, frost, and rain.

Eastland County Agent DeMarquis Gordon said that the relative humidity is important in the harvesting of peanuts, and that peanut farmers depend on correct humidity readings to determine whether the time is "ripe" for the harvesting of their crop, and that most harvesting is done when the relative humidity is at 50 percent or lower.

Jaycees To Help On Alcoholism Education

BY MEL HERWECK
Local Threshold Chairman

The Jaycees hope to "plant the seed, spread some fertilizer, and wait". The Jaycees are not advocating a temperance movement. This is not the purpose of Alcoholism Education.

But it is the Jaycee approach of dealing squarely with the issue from a public information standpoint.

Jaycees across the country plan to work with all possible community resources available such as mental health centers, alcoholism information officers, regional councils on alcoholism. Alcoholics Anonymous, Texas Jaycee Chairman and Texas Alcoholism Program Office.

There is an Alcoholics Anonymous in Eastland that meets every Tuesday and Saturday at 8:00 p.m. in the Rebecca building.

"Threshold" is a U.S. Jaycee project and will be on national television, radio, newspapers, and billboards, so watch for progress.

Eddie Lee is Drug Abuse - Alcohol Control Chairman, Alabama Jaycees, Special Consultant Operation Threshold United States Jaycees and is employed as the Executive Director of the Northeast Alabama Regional Council on Alcoholism. Eddie joined the Jaycees in North Carolina in 1964 and has held several local offices, served on the State Board of Directors, and was a D.S.A. winner in 1968. He has had training in the field of Alcoholism at the University of Alabama, Alabama A&M, University of Georgia, University of Washington, the Georgian Clinic and is a recovering alcoholic. He says:

"For many years Jaycees were content to sponsor beauty contests, get out to vote campaigns, local fairs, Jaycee Week and built local Jaycee parks. However, in the past few years we have started directing our talents to some of the major "people problems" in this country.

"One of the real people problems in America is Alcoholism and abusive drinking. There are 10 million alcoholic persons in this country. Fifty percent of all traffic fatalities are attributed to abusive drinking. Twenty-one percent of the home accidents are caused by abusive drinking. Fifty percent of all arrests are Alcohol related. Thirty-three percent of all arrests are for public intoxication. Incarceration of the public inebriant costs the United States taxpayer over $100 million a year. What can you as a Jaycee do about all this? Plenty! Public awareness through education is the key to dealing with the problem.

"For years Alcoholism has been dealt with as a moral issue rather than an illness. Even today for the most part the general public is misinformed about alcoholism. Jaycees can help educate their communities through Teenage Awareness programs, Labor Management Seminars, Public Awareness through the media and intergroup training.

"Teenage Awareness: Recent surveys have indicated that among teenagers the drug of choice is by far alcohol. Go to your junior and senior high school and talk about responsible drinking and the effects of alcohol to the body.

Black American Music

Program Notes By Valeria Brunk

Hon. Doctor Of Music

The first black slaves were brought to the English Colonies in 1619, and hereafter the slave trade grew to thousands being brought in per year in the 1700's. The African slaves brought with them many characteristics of Ancient African Music, complex rhythms, frequent use of the pentatonic scale, and a combination of song with body movement.

They needed a strong belief in God in order to survive, and death was often a pleasure, thus developed many spirituals on the subject of heaven. The black people believed in reincarnation and that Jesus was maybe their Moses who led them back to Africa, and that Africa was heaven. The Religious Spiritual may be classified into three main groups, the Call and REsponse such as "Tell Me How Did You Feel", the long phrase melodic melody as found in "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen", and the syncopated, segmented melody "It's Me, It's Me, O Lord".

After the 1837 Nat Turner Revolt the Black - Americans were prohibited from church services so they determined to have their own church. Since they could not read the Bible the Deacon would read a line (call) and the congregation would repeat it after him (response). Now the Black - Americans have learned the Christian Religion from which the Jubilee Song developed. The Jubilee is a song which tells of a great character or event in the Bible.

Minstrel shows, white men impersonating black slaves in song and action, became very popular theatre entertainment. "Old Folks at Home" (Swanee River), composed in 1851 by Stephen Foster, was a Negro dialect song used in the Minstrels. It became so popular that all the people of America, both black and white, were singing it. It is now known that Foster never saw the Swanee River; he found the name on a map and the words fit his melody beautifully. "Old Black Joe", another "darkey" song, published in 1860, marks the end of the flow of beautiful melody and lyrics by Foster depicting the life and times of mid-nineteenth century America.

After the Emancipation Proclamation, 1863, Richard Allen started the Black Episcopal Church, and Black Colleges and Schools were begun in church basements.

From this point in American History the Black - American Music is fused into the national music of America through Vaudeville to Broadway, from Funeral Songs and Chants to Jazz and Improvisation, from Black Work Songs to Melancholy Blues. Classical blues became Rhythm and Blues in the 1940's and 50's.

The Sacred Gospel Song is a composed religious song which tells the congregation of the singer's experiences and desires, and in turn tells God. The gospel song cannot be sung straight and depends on the singer's ability to worry the note and create a living soulful experience.

Finally, Gospel + Blues equals Rock. Black music has retained its racial character and has become the most prolific and powerful music on the modern American musical scene.

Mrs. Flo Clark had these piano students playing at Eastland Manor Saturday, Nov. 17, at 2:30 p.m.: Roy Don Grisham, Becky Thompson, Brenda and Billy Wayne Adams, and Debra and Casey Meazell.

D.B. Cozart, an agent in the American National Insurance Company's Eastland district office at 200 Ammerman, marks his 20th anniversary with the company Nov. 30.

Seminars: The Alcoholic costs the Industrial Community $15 billion each year. By and large, industry has ignored the problem. Through these seminars hopefully they will take a realistic approach to the problem and initiate employee assistance programs.

"Public Awareness Through the Media: Use the local media to present the facts. Have special programs dealing with the problem. Publicize what is being done and what needs to be done.

"Inter - Group Training: Find out about Alcoholism yourself. The best place to do that is from alcoholism professionals working in your community."

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

There was a European monarch who worried his court by walking incognito among his people. When he was asked not to do this for his own safety, he answered, "I can not rule my people unless I know how they live."

We have a God who knows the life we live because He lived it too. On the first Christmas morning God became man. He lived a real flesh and blood life, no different from our own.

Jesus went through everything we must go through. By personal experience He knows the sufferings, sorrows and struggles of life. And He came through that ordeal unstained by any blemish or blunder.

The best person to guide you on a journey is one who has traveled the road before you. The best person to help you through a trial is one who has come through it triumphantly. Jesus can help you because He knows it all. He went through our experiences.

This is the true meaning of Christmas. Because Jesus knows our life He can give us sympathy, mercy and power. He brought God to us. Now we can go to God through Him and find grace to help in our times of need.

BAKKER FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

The desired funeral director should be called without delay, by the next of kin, immediately after death occurs. He can begin to relieve the family of the many details and arrangements which crowd in upon them at this difficult time.

As the doctor's presence is helpful in time of illness, so too is the funeral director's presence reassuring and helpful in this hour of grief.

Respectfully,

Dale C. Bakker

Basketball Underway

The Eastland Maverick basketball schedule got into full swing this week with games against Baird and Breckenridge.

Tonight the Maverick varsity will play in the first annual Buckaroo Invitational at Breckenridge, facing Sweetwater at 6:30 p.m. If they advance with a win over Sweetwater, the Mavericks will either play Albany or Breckenridge Friday at the same time. The Championship game will be played Saturday night at 8:30. The consolation winner will be decided at 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Eastland as a visiting team will wear white.

The Eastland High School girls basketball team, the Maveettes will also play this weekend in a tournament in Stephenville. Monday against Baird the varsity suffered a 61 - 26 loss, while the B team narrowly got beat 54 - 45. High point man for the varsity was Marshall with seven, closely followed by Boles and Orasco with five and Morren with four. The first period was close, 12 - 12, but the Maverick defense broke down in the second period and Baird pulled away scoring 20 points to the Mavericks 7 and leading from then on. Also the many turnovers by the Mavericks contributed to their loss.

High point man for the B team was D. Johnson with 16 points. J. Johnson and Haun scored 8 each with Baker and Wilson scoring 4 each. They outscored their opponents in the second and fourth quarters by 11 points but gave away 21 points in the first and third periods.

At Breckenridge Tuesday night the Eastland offense couldn't get untracked and were outscored by The Buckaroo's 81 - 32. They will have to raise their field goal shooting from a low 28 1/2 percent to win. Breckenridge scored 25 points to the Mavericks' 3 to jump away to an early lead and run away with the ball game.

High point man for the A team was Boles with nine closely followed by Robertson with eight. Daniel scored five;
