Industrial Pilot Program for Eastland County

County for the meeting and have asked Judge Bailey to invite some community leaders in each area of Eastland County to be present.

County residents will recall that Larry Milner was formerly manager of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and more recently a staff member of the Texas Industrial Commission.

In commenting on the recent developments concerning the recent severe drought Judge Bailey said "Since asking the drought relief aid, we have had some very much-needed moisture, the State Drought Relief Committee has approved our application for feed and Gov. Connally has graciously followed through with the pilot program for industrial development. I want to personally express my gratitude for the good rain and my sincere appreciation to President Johnson's emergency planning office, and Gov. John Connally and the State Drought Disaster Relief Committee at College Station. We who have faith in the future of Eastland County have a good deal to be thankful for and an abundance of faith in our future."

Five Chamber Directors Will Be Elected For Coming Year

A nominating committee of Pat Miller, Charles Freyschlag and A. D. Taylor has been appointed to nominate candidates for election to fill five positions on the Eastland Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

The terms of Frank Deaton, Charles Martin, Miller, Taylor Smith and Lewis Tiner expire Oct. 1.

President James Smith named the committee during the regular monthly meeting of the board Thursday.

Directors heard a report by Taylor on a survey made by a committee composed of Everett Plowman and Harry Jordan concerning the development of a camping site at one of the Eastland area lakes.

"We already have a good one," Taylor said, "at Ringling Lake where there are now some 20 tables ready to be used. There are no garbage cans or other conveniences, but the road, from Highway 6, some mile and half to the park, is all-weather and good."

He said that preliminary talk with city commissioners indicated that the city will help as possible to develop and exploit the park. Checks will be made to see what national and-or state help might be obtainable in developing the park.

Don Vieregger, chairman of the chamber's special events committee, reported that a membership breakfast will be held soon after the beginning of school at which time retail trade and other chamber business will be discussed by members.

Frank Deaton, who is heading the tourist of the month program, reported on that event, and stated that monthly tourists will be picked and honored. He expressed appreciation to the Eastland firms which have contributed to the

Patrolmen Intercept Stolen Auto

A Dallas-stolen automobile was recovered in Eastland late Thursday and the ex-convict who had taken the vehicle was being held in Eastland County jail on a multitude of charges.

First word of the stolen auto came to Highway Patrolman Jack Therwanger and Sgt. Roger Sosebee from Patrolman Les Strawn of Comanche, who had trailed the late-model Chevrolet from DeLeon to Gorman and learned by radio with Dallas that the vehicle was stolen.

The Comanche patrolman lost the auto and Eastland County law enforcement authorities set to work.

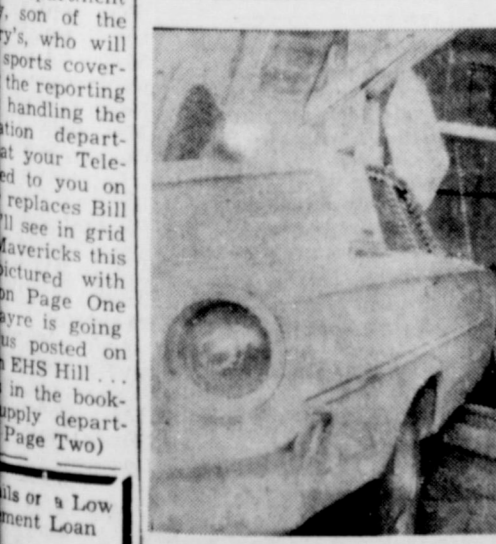

Sheriff Department officials went south on Highway 6, to assist, and the local highway patrolmen took the Lake Leon road.

The stolen vehicle was encountered about 12 miles out, Therwanger reported, and the arrest made. Dallas County authorities are to pick up the man here on car theft charges.

Repairs Completed At A&P After Accident

Work was to be completed at the A&P Grocery Store on the South side of the square after a runaway automobile leaped over the curb, crashed down a parking meter and smashed through the plate glass window on the west side of the store about 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Earnest Maples of Cisco was driving the car and had pulled up to the curb, parked and placed the gear of the still-running car in park. S. L. Cook, also of Cisco, and a passenger in the car, was climbing across the front seat to get out the drivers' side when he apparently disengaged the park gear into drive

FHA Projects Extend, and Improve Resources, County Tour Reveals

With "permanent agriculture" as a goal and increased farm and ranch output as incentives, a group of area, county and state Farm Home Administration officials and others toured several county farms Wednesday morning to view the results of FHA fund usage.

Two FHA financed homes and several acreages were toured by the group of approximately 20. E. E. McAlister, local manager of the Soil Conservation Service, addressed the officials briefly, presenting the theme of the tour, "Permanent Agriculture," and stating that at the present rate of progress, Eastland County farmers will continue to improve and modernize farming and ranching methods.

He stated that the only factor not adequately controlled in farming methods recently was rainfall. Inadequate moisture has stunted progress to a certain extent. On the other hand, he pointed out, FHA finances have enabled area agricultural workers to extend and improve means and resources to such an extent that farming is considered the occupation which has advanced the most in recent years.

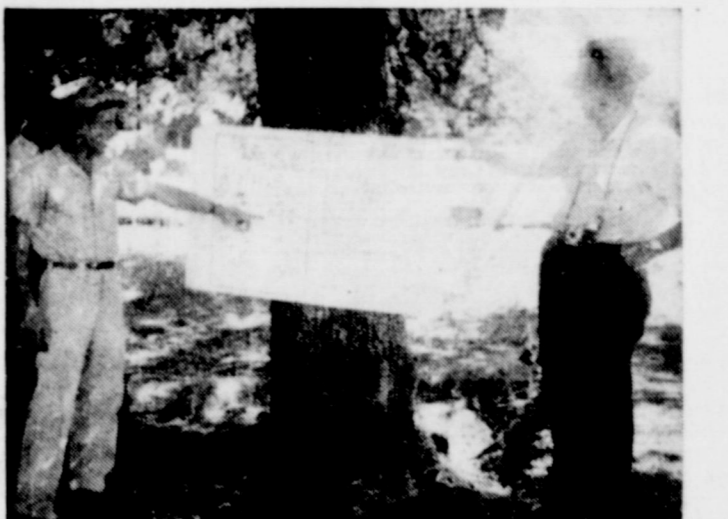

Pointed examples included four stops. A new home, constructed by Newton F. Bennett, after having obtained a Rural Housing Loan from the Farmers Home Administration in February, 1962, was toured. The dwelling is on Mr. Bennett's 43 acre farm tract.

The old Bennett house has been moved several hundred feet off the road to make room for the new home. Mr. Bennett is retired at the present.

Second stop was the James V. Fields farm. Mr. Fields obtained his first operating loan from the Farmers Home Administration Office at Eastland in 1949. He was renting 300 acres at the time, 170 acres of which was in cultivation.

Mr. Fields purchased the 325 acre farm that he now operates in 1955. This land was purchased with a Farm Ownership Loan through the Farmers Home Administration. An additional 123 acres was purchased through the Texas Veterans Land Board in September, 1959.

The FHA made Mr. Fields an additional Farm Ownership loan in 1963 to improve the farm purchased in 1955. Improvements to be made, included (1) the construction of a new brick home; (2) (Continued on Page 4)

James V. Field, Carbon farmer, and Heber T. Stewart, right, Temple, rural area development and farm management officer, point out highlights of the Fields farm land, illustrated and graphed on the poster board. Crop land, range land and pasture land are pictured in acreages drawn according to size as was planned with FHA finances for purchasing and improving. Mr. Fields hopes to increase his 23 head of ranch cattle to from 75-150 through FHA improvements.

springing 173 acres to Coastal Bermuda; (3) shaping and sodding eight acres of waterways to control the water flowing across the farm; (4) the construction of two earthen tanks for livestock water; (5) brush control on eight acres; (6) seeding 121 acres to native grasses; and (7) constructing three miles of net wire fencing.

The land development is being carried out as a cooperative effort by Mr. Fields, the Soil Conservation Service and the FHA. The development work was planned according to recommendations of the SCS and is carried out with the cost-share assistance of the Great Plains Conservation Program. The development work is scheduled for completion in 1966. Total cost of improvements is $15,800. The Great Plains cost-share is $4,341.

He sprigged 181 acres of Coastal Bermuda in 1963-64, putting down 210 sprigs per acre. This planting has been fertilized with 100 pounds of 16-20-0 per acre applied April 30, 1964. It has received less than one inch of rain since it was sprigged, until recent rains.

Third stop of the tour was the farm of J. C. Caraway, Jr., who was operating a dairy in 1951 when he received his first housing loan from the Farmers Home Administration. He owned 95 acres and was leasing approximately 100 acres at that time. He currently owns 389 acres, of which 275 acres are in cultivation, and leases an additional 280 acres of pasture land. Mr. Caraway has a diversified farming operation at present, receiving income from peanuts, calves, hogs and mohair. Last year Mr. Caraway's operations were reorganized to make the most economical use of land, labor and capital. The 1963 operating loan was larger than usual in order to make the necessary reorganization. As a part of this reorganization, Mr. Caraway entered into a contract with the Great Plains Conservation Program that is administered by the Soil Conservation Service office at Eastland.

The total cost of the improvements to be made on the farm under this cost-share contract is $7,697. The GPCP will provide $3,054, and the FHA loaned Mr. Caraway the balance to pay for his cost-share of the contract.

Land improvements to be made include: (1) springing 178 acres to Coastal Bermuda grass; (2) controlling brush on 55 acres and reseeding to native grasses; (3) seeding 179 acres to Weeping Lovegrass; (4) controlling oak brush on 28 acres; (5) installing 85 feet of one inch plastic pipe for livestock water; (6) and constructing 3800 feet of net wire fencing. All improvements are to be completed in 1966.

The Coastal Bermuda sprigged on May 4-8, 1964, was put down at the rate of 176 sprigs per acre and fertilized with 100 16-20-0 per acre prior to sprigging.

In the early summer months only one inch of rain was received in a three month period following sprigging.

The three particular farms and acreages chosen for the tour were selected on the basis of the representative value of the work of FHA funds in this area, it was reported.

The Farmers Home Administration strives to best use each penny of allocated funds to the best advantage of the farmer, who in turn helps the county prosper when he is thriving, and the purpose of the tours was to show how FHA funds are being used for the progress and prosperity of permanent agriculture.

Persons who were included in the tour were Heber T. Stewart of Temple, rural areas development and farm management officer; Miss Courtney Cagle of San Angelo, office management assistant; Mrs. Alice Lawless of Eastland, FHA County office clerk; Elmer L. Foster, Eastland, FHA area supervisor; Homer P. Cole, Eastland, FHA County supervisor.

Darrell Cooper, Eastland, assistant county supervisor; Don Montgomery, Brownwood County Supervisor; Neil Eaves, Comanche County Supervisor; Oscar Schaefer, Cisco, FHA County Committeeman; E. E. McAlister, soil conservation service manager; Merritt Dunn, editor of the Carbon Messenger; Olen B. Rone, Gorman, FHA County Committeeman; Guy Lyerla, Eastland Committeeman; and Gene Baker, Gorman Progress editor; and Miss Karen Taylor, Eastland County Newspapers, Inc., reporter.

DAR CHAPTER ASKS COUNTY TO OBSERVE SPECIAL WEEK

The Charles Crawford Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution has urged citizens of Eastland County to participate in the observance of Constitution Week September 17-23, at which time the nation will observe the 175th anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution. The official proclamation of Constitution Week was made by President Johnson.

According to Mrs. Joe Clements of Cisco, regent, the Charles Crawford Chapter requests the teachers in the public schools and the citizens of the town and communities in this area to re-emphasize in every way possible the importance of the individual and the Constitution.

In making the request, Mrs. Clements said: "Constitution Week will afford us all an opportunity to study again this, the greatest of all documents, the Constitution of the United States, and to review the circumstances under which it was born. This American ideal is embodied in our nation's integrity and honor. It is in our homes where respect for the rights of others is taught by precept and example. It is a part and parcel of our Bill of Rights and the constitutional concepts which recognize that all men are free and equal, endowed by their creator with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Errant Auto Returned To Its Owner

An automobile was either stolen and recovered or misplaced and discovered in a brief span of minutes in downtown Eastland Thursday morning.

An elderly Cisco resident was shopping Western Auto about 10 a.m. after having parked his blue and white Chevrolet on West Commerce St. opposite the store. Finishing his business at the Auto store, he asked and was given direction to Kellar's Fix-It Shop on S. Seaman St.

He shortly returned to the Auto store and reported to Owner James L. Pittman that his auto which had been parked "right out here" had been stolen.

Sure enough it wasn't on Commerce St. anymore. So reports were sent out and Police Chief Ray Laney escorted the gentleman around the streets in the squad car to look for the missing auto.

As happens, a small crowd gathered to look at the spot where the car had been and speculate on the motives and techniques of auto thieves.

And the two found the misplaced vehicle in an alley near Modern Dry Cleaners on S. Seaman St.

The case is closed.

HOW TO MAKE LIGHT WORK IN THE KITCHEN

Properly planned lighting in the kitchen makes meal preparation easier, more pleasant and more efficient. It helps eliminate little annoyances like misread recipes... dishes (or vegetables) that have to be washed twice. For a well-lighted kitchen you need two kinds of lighting:

GENERAL LIGHTING

... to provide a pleasant level of over-all room illumination without glare or shadowy areas. As a suggestion for the average rectangular kitchen, a 12-inch enclosed ceiling fixture with a 150-watt bulb, or a shielded fluorescent fixture with two 40-watt tubes usually will provide adequate light.

LOCAL LIGHTING

... to eliminate working in your own shadow at the range or work counters. Use over the sink either incandescent or fluorescent lamps, shielded behind a facing board recessed into the ceiling. A shielded fluorescent wall bracket recommended over the range. Shielded fluorescent tubes under the cabinets will provide ample light on counter

A Texas Electric Lighting specialist will be glad to make specific recommendations for better light in your kitchen and elsewhere in your home.

validity of the signatures, the Commissioners Court must order an election not less than 20 nor more than 30 days following return of the signed petition.

Next meeting of the Commissioners Court is scheduled for Monday, Sept. 7.

One of the signers of the initial formal request for the petition was Eugene H. Baker, publisher of The Gorman Progress.

Shortly after news of the request had been published in an Abilene newspaper, rumors were rampant over the county that the Gorman weekly "would be seriously hurt" as a result of the publisher's action.

Publisher Baker told this newspaper, however, that "all the business we lost was a placard job for a local church and one subscriber to The Progress."

The newsman, a resident of Gorman since 1943 and formerly in the commercial printing business in Ranger, said, "We've received many compliments, from wets and dries alike, for taking a stand."

"But it's not the first time. This newspaper fought the county-wide plan for consolidation of our public schools. And only recently The Progress vigorously supported the proposal for a new city water supply."

"Citizens have a right to express their opinions. This is a free country. This election is simply an exercise of that right."

Baker said that many elderly residents of Gorman are signing the petition now in circulation. "No pressure is being used," the publisher added. "But they do know that a large portion of tax revenues derived from legal sale of alcoholic beverages goes into the old age assistance fund."

He charged there was "plenty of bootlegging" in the community and that all kinds of alcoholic beverages were available to minors via illegal sale.

The publisher said he understood a survey had been made and liquor and beer purchases of Gorman citizens at Ranger totaled about $300 a day—or $1,800 a week.

This expenditure for alcoholic beverages, he added, excludes additional sums spent with bootleggers allegedly operating in Gorman.

Baker said he also signed the formal petition, now in circulation, calling for the future election to legalize sale of alcoholic beverages in Gorman.

With the College Set As New Term Nears

By SHARON SAYRE
With summer coming to a close many of Eastland's college students are preparing to return to campus life. As I have talked with a few, I have learned that they all have had a common interest in visiting work, and school.

One of the busy students is Susan Johnston. Susan has been taking a sophomore English course at Cisco Junior College and working in the local hospital. She is project and social chairman of Decca sorority. She attended Texas Wesleyan and is now a Junior student at the University of Texas where she is majoring in Pre-Med.

Carol MacMoy's summer activities were somewhat limited as the result of being kicked by a horse. She has recently put away her crutches and is very much relieved to be on her own two feet again. Carol is majoring in elementary education and minoring in biology at Texas Christian University. She will graduate next summer.

Sherry Miller has been working at the bank this summer and taking an English I course at C.J.C. She is majoring in secondary education at the University of Texas. Carrying on in the Miller tradition, Sherry is also active in choral organizations there. She must like U.T., because she says she is eager to get back to school.

Mike Perry has been visiting friends and relatives a great deal this summer. Mike, a junior at North Texas State University, is majoring in insurance. He is another student who likes school, because he is always telling his friends that North Texas is the school they should attend.

Kay Poe is attending school now at Hardin-Simmons University and will also attend the next semester. She graduated this spring from C.J.C. and is majoring in elementary education.

Jo Ann Morren is now a counselor at Camp Grady Spruce at Possum Kingdom. She has taken a course in government at C.J.C. this summer. She plans to enter North Texas and is majoring in speech and minoring in history.

Tommy Beck has been working for the Highway Department and taking a government course at C.J.C. Tommy will return to the University of Texas this fall for his sophomore year where he is majoring in mechanical engineering. He thinks his school is the greatest and says to "tell everybody to go to T.U."

Larry Armstrong has been working at the Ranch and Farm Office this summer and also painted the attractive house numbers that are seen on

IF WE HAD NO TEACHERS

- Our children could not learn to read or write . . . they could not benefit from history . . . the experience of mankind through centuries.
- Our children would not enjoy the great literature of the world's writers . . . the music of the composers . . . the art forms created by its artists.
- Our children would live in a world of ignorance and misunderstanding. The people of the world would exist in intellectual darkness . . . a darkness shrouding the present . . . prevent a brighter tomorrow.
- Our children would not enjoy the thousands of scientific and medical discoveries that have brought civilization to its highest point.
- In the years since the beginning of time . . . he has accomplished through the basic of knowledge provided by others . . . the teachers of the past and present.

DRIVE-IN GROCERY — Extensive damage was done but miraculously no one was injured when this automobile climbed a curb, clipped a parking meter and plunged into the front of the A&P Grocery on the south side of the square in Eastland Wednesday night at 5 p. m. Earnest Maples had just got out of the auto, and his companion, S. L. Coos, both of Cisco, was getting out on the driver's side when his foot apparently struck the accelerator and zoomed the auto into the building, through the plate glass window and came to rest, half in and half out of the downtown store. There was a great number of people in the store at the time. Store Manager Harold Hendricks, Cisco, said that an estimate of damages hasn't been completed, but it is expected to be extensive. It's Almost Unbelievable -

... but statisticians tell us that we have more places in our cars and trucks now than ever before, with an increase of 30 million since 1954. Every extra mile is a hazardous chance for another accident. So far it has to be the Big Daddy of them all! Since public determines the insurance rates, higher rates are inevitable. Better be your budget now to include the high cost in modern '64.
