Very few candidates for political office have any hesitancy in recommending themselves.

A shy modesty may be the better part of wisdom when a person is seeking recognition of his talents or accomplishments in the more refined sectors of our social infighting. But it has usually proved mighty poor strategy indeed when one is asking election to public office.

In that arena the benefits of culture have lagged to the spectacle of a Comanche warrior counting coup or some ancient Thracian chieftain banging spear to shield and boasting his prowess for the discouragement of his enemies and the heartening of his Myrmidons.

If a candidate can't believe in himself why should the voters?

As much as we may plead the Christian ethic or at least a decent sportsmanship, it is difficult to make them effective in an arena of combat where there are no referees until the final ballot box. In the field of politics a spade is a spade and its proper use is to bury ones opponent.

Nevertheless, quite a few years before the current generation gap was developed there arose in a northwest Texas county (whose name is withheld to protect the innocent and make others suspect) one courageous candidate who defied tradition. He announced for one of the key offices in the county hierarchy, and although there was no real issue involved he managed to create quite a sensation.

Ordinarily, he would have cited his own qualifications, defined an issue where none existed, and made out with his intended and reflection of his virtues to illuminate his opponent as a third-rate scoundrel.

But he did nothing of the sort. To the amazement of the professionals he came out with a statement in praise of the man he was running against. He played down his own qualifications, exalted those of the other candidate. With modest reference to his own virtues he cited those of his opponent, his work in the various community organizations, his lodge and his church.

In effect he actually apologized for running at all.

It was one of the most sportsmanlike instances of political chicanery that ever thwarted the instincts of serious practitioners of the political art. At least that was the reaction of experience. The boys in the "back room," peering through those legendary clouds of cigar smoke, assessed the heresy with the sensation of a Billy Bad Boy who had backed into cold steel at a prayer meeting.

In thunder had ever heard of being generous to one's opponent? It violated every precept and principle of the grand old game! It was a total frank sedition! Unless it was discredited it would reform the government and ruin the career of every politician who had arrived where he was simply by being honest in his own conceit and little else.

It was such a departure from the accepted mode of campaigning that the professionals had no answer for it. It outran all legitimate political experience. In an atmosphere of brotherly love and goodwill they were stymied.

Not so the voters.

They chose the opponent.

They figured that a man who couldn't pick a better candidate than his opposition didn't deserve to be elected.

$3,000 Still Lacking In Fund To Move Building

Moving the big steel building donated by the Lone Star Gas Company for use as an Eastland County Community Center was under way this week from the company's Pueblo plant northwest of Cisco to the Eastland County Stock Show grounds at Eastland.

It had been hoped to have the building in place for use during the livestock show, but bad weather interfered.

The work is being done by Trans Steel of Abilene. Funds for the relocation are being donated by cattlemen, the business and others in the county who are interested in the livestock industry and particularly in the work of the FFA chapters and 4-H clubs for whose use the building will be principally designed. It will also be available for other community programs and activities of a county and area-wide interest.

Some $3,000 of the slightly more than $2,000 contact prize remains to be raised, Sam Kimmell, one of those most active in the program, said Wednesday.

Mr. Kimmell and Henry Fry have been most active in raising funds in the Cisco area, although many other local cattlemen and business men are devoting time to the project.

Similar campaigns are being carried on at Eastland, Ranger, Gorman, Rising Star and other county communities. "This is a countywide project," said Mr. Kimmell. "It is not a strictly local one. It will contribute to the success of work with our youth in agricultural and community enterprises everywhere in the county and it reserves county-wide support. We need the remainder of the funds quickly because with good weather the work of relocating the building will be completed rapidly and we want to be in a position to pay the contractor as soon as his money is due."

Kimmell said the checks should be made to the "Eastland County Community Center" and sent or taken to the Eastland National Bank in care of Grover Hallmark, the treasurer of the sponsoring committee.

The building, which is about 100 feet in length by some 40 feet in width will be used to accommodate stock show exhibits, and other county-related activities especially of youth.

City Manager Reports Here To Lions Club

It looks as though the City may reasonably expect more from the one-cent sales tax than had been originally guessed, City Manager Lewis Tiner informed members of the Eastland Lions Club at their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday at the White Elephant Restaurant.

The City recently got its first check from the sales tax which went into effect in Oct. last year, and the amount for the quarter was over $9,000. Tiner had budgeted some $20,000 for the year, and the city will probably get two payments during its present fiscal year, which ends Sept. 1. He cited the Texas Municipal League as instrumental in helping lobby for the Texas municipalities and in an informal straw vote, Tiner asked to see a show of hands from those who preferred a broader-based state sales tax (to include groceries) as opposed to a state income tax. Two persons voted in favor of the income tax.

Of course, Tiner injected, the city can certainly find a place for the added revenue, citing a comparison of payroll figures. The city paid salaries amounting to $63,000 for the year 1961-1962, as opposed to $120,000 for 1969-70, he said. Paying off the old indebtedness, he said, permitted the city to breathe a little easier.

Among the big items that hangs before the city is the purchase, probably sometime this summer, of equipment for a sanitary land fill program, which is budgeted at $20,000 and could run up to $35,000.

Big item for the city will be the re-vamping, or rebuilding of the old sewer plant, originally built in 1920, at a figure that could run up to $175,000, a third of which could be financed by federal grant. "That total price is down, Tiner said, "six years ago, it was running about $300,000."

President Jeff Glazner presided and three visiting Lions from Brownwood were introduced. Light Bulb Sale Chairman Bill Leslie announced team captains for the tentatively set April 14 bulb sale.

What if, the city couldn't or can't do anything about improving the old plant, one Lion asked. Tiner explained that the State Health Department and its Water Board would probably be understanding. "They've already proved that they're willing to go along with us, up to a point." However, the law provides in extreme cases, for fines up to $1,000 a day for violations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Green, Vicki and Timmy, of Midland spent the Easter week-end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Poe.

J. T. GREGORY, top, and MORRIS JONES are candidates for re-election to Eastland School Board. Election will be held from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday, April 4 in the Courthouse Mike Collins will be election judge.

Traffic Accidents Down For Quarter Morren Says

Eastland Police Chief Johnny Morren announced that traffic accidents for the first three months of year reflect a 55% decrease from the same period last year.

In January, February, and March of 1969, Eastland had 43 accidents with property damage estimated at $13,670. The same period in 1970 brought 2 accidents with property damage estimated at $9,130.

The decrease followed installation of radar in the local police car.

Morren said "We believe that Eastland citizens are becoming more safety-conscious."

Larry Leach, 22 Convicted of Forgery Charge

Larry Eugene Leach, 22, was tried in 91st District Court March 27 on charges of forgery. He received a three-year sentence on the charge District Attorney Emory Walton said.

Leach was found guilty of giving a forged $5.00 check to Super Save Grocery in Eastland January 6. Arrested in January, he was released on bond, while awaiting trial.

Pentecostal Set Spring Revival

The First United Pentecostal Church will hold its Spring Revival April 6 to April 20, with the Rev. Lowell Cessna of Midland as evangelist.

Services will begin at 7:30 each night. The Rev. L. L. Armstrong is pastor of the church.

The public is cordially invited to attend each service.

VFW Post To Elect

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Carl and Boyd Tanner, Post 3146 will have regular meeting and election of officers Thursday evening, beginning at 8 p.m., according to Post Commander Milton Nash. All members are urged to attend.

Carbon, Morton Valley Water Flows -- Further Development Anticipated

A milestone has been reached at Carbon and Morton Valley in Eastland County with the installation of a modern water system.

That's the consensus of opinions of officials and citizens who participated in public ceremonies Wednesday, officially dedicating the water systems here.

Cong. Omar Burleson who was instrumental in helping the communities acquire the modern systems, was on hand to "turn the taps" and to congratulate so many local people who helped with the projects.

The Congressman made a day of it in Eastland County, starting with a speech for the student body at Eastland High School at 9 a.m., and then moving to Carbon's Plant Two Site for official photos of the system being turned on. (Actually customers have been using water for some time, but as Master of Ceremonies and Tour Director Mike Collins of Eastland, said, "We thought it fitting to make some special notice of the fact, so that we don't take the importance of this water too lightly.")

An informal public reception was held at the Carbon High School Cafeteria, with the Rev. Len Layne, pastor of the Methodist Church, giving the invocation. Mr. Collins introduced Mr. O. M. Boyle, Farmers Home Administration supervisor here, who assisted the water system with securing financing for the projects.

"The Carbon system comprises 15 miles of pipe cost $130,000 and is serving 116 customers," Mr. Boyle said.

Collins, a Carbon native, recalled that in the 1950's the City of Eastland bought water from Carbon during a drought situation. The new Carbon system is buying water from Eastland now.

Mr. Boyle cited Eastland Mayor Frank Deaton, City Manager Lewis Tiner and FFA

District Supervisor Elmer Foster of CoClemas as having been very helpful in putting the system together. The Carbon program was started in 1967.

Speaking informally, Cong. Burleson told the large group that "This is one of the finest things we've had a part in, in helping to make the rural living better." People are leaving the small towns and farms and moving to the cities and compounding the problems there.

Mr. Boyle reported that a Carbon resident had this to say of its water system: "For us, it's greater than landing on the moon."

Students, Congressman Dialogue on Key Topics

A concerned Congressman and a vitally-interested student body communed at Eastland High School Wednesday morning when Cong. Omar Burleson spoke.

Introduced by Supt. Wendell Siebert as a "progressive conservative," Mr. Burleson held the student's rapt attention as he touched on topics of interest to them and opened the floor for questions.

Lana Parks presided and called on Mike Arther of the invocation and Roger Berry lead the audience in the pledge to the flag.

Mr. Siebert recalled for the students in his introduction that it was Cong. Burleson who was responsible for getting Former Coach Doug Dallas to Eastland for a special pep rally last fall just before the Maverick Bi-District Bid. "That's just one of the many things that our congressman has done for us," Siebert said.

"There have been more advances during your lifetime," Cong. Burleson began, "than during the rest of history, and even though our nation is an infant in time, it's a leader because of our industrial development."

"What's ahead for you young people? Well, I'd guess the same type of decision that all generations have had to make. I prefer to call them choices, rather than problems."

The four dread horsemen have always been with us, and they always will be, I'd guess. There'll always be war, pestis, disease and poverty. It's how we cope with these that stands us apart."

"A generation gap? Not really, perhaps a breakdown in communications between. We need more understanding, of course, between the young and the not-so-young."

Happily reporting statistics, Mr. Burleson found cause for rejoicing in the millions who DIDN'T commit crimes last year, DIDN'T take dope last year, the millions who DIDN'T protest last year.

"You ask, 'What can I do?' By becoming interested in good things right here in Eastland, and taking a part in good causes."

Bob Phillips Named President of Local JCs

Bob Phillips was elected president of Eastland Jaycees Monday night. Other officers elected were Jerry Buchanan, internal vice-president; Larry Rollins, interclub director; Danny Hobbs, treasurer; and Bill McCormick, secretary.

An installation banquet will be held for the public later.

Richard Rossander was defeated in the presidential election, the only contested race.

LOOK WHO'S NEW
Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Dennis L. Tilly of Anderson Air Force Base, Guam, announce the birth of a son, Neil Christopher, March 27. The baby weighed seven pounds, seven and one-half ounces.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cogburn of Eastland and Mr. and Mrs. Burton Cain of Midland.
Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Grabowsky of Eastland and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Tilly, Sr. of DeLeon.

Questions included an analysis of Supreme Court Justice Douglas: "I think he's a liberal, that leans to the left, and I think he should be removed from the bench."

Moving to Morton Valley, the delegation included county officials and others interested in participating in the ceremonies.

Gathered in front of the Baptist Church in Morton Valley, Cong. Burleson joined Morton Valley Water District President Roy Plumlee in actually opening a fire hydrant to "let the water run." But they didn't let it run long, because the wind was cold, and the participants all prized the precious water too much.

Inside the church, MC Collins called on Rev. Bernard to give the invocation and Mr. Boyle to report on the project.

"I came to Eastland county in December of 1966, and on Jan. 21, 1967, I first met with the Morton Valley Water Board, which had been at work since early 1966. There were 20 people present and you can see what they've done. We've got a lot of happy folks here with water."

These systems of two of some 600 in the state, Mr. Boyle said, as he introduced Mr. Foster, and reported that the Morton Valley system cost $769,000 and has about 28 miles of pipeline including a six-inch line from Ranger, and a 125-foot tower in Morton Valley and pump station in Ranger. The system is securing water from Ranger.

Introduced were Ranger Mayor Lee Cantrell who was instrumental in the project and Morton Valley Board Members Weldon Tankersley, Homer Perry, Bill Bourdeau, J. D. Johnson, Ed Ivy and Andy Beck.

Cong. Burleson said, "I'm proud to be a part of this dedication to help our people, and it's wonderful what water can do. It's fitting that we conserve water, one of God's most precious gifts."

Citing the importance of the rural community, he said that he is one of only 26 congressmen out of 435 in the House who have districts with 20 per cent or more of the economy from agriculture.

President Plumlee gave the response and recalled that he had moved "home" after 20 years military service, but found that one of the first things he had to do was help get water, and he was proud of the accomplishments of the Morton Valley System.

Attending from Ranger were Commissioner Bill Marslander, Bank President Glyn Gilliam and Dr. E. W. Mince of Ranger Junior College.

Most of the officials met for an informal meal at the White Elephant Restaurant at noon, and Cong. Burleson was to have visited Eastland Memorial Hospital, Aztec Mobile Home Manufacturing Co. and other county industries during the afternoon.

ANNUAL LIONS CLUB LIGHT BULB SALE TO BE HELD SOON!

Mayor Cunt Britain, who called on former Mayor John Guy, under whose term the project was begun. Mr. Guy said, "I'm thankful to the Good Lord for letting us accomplish this, and I hope to see Carbon grow as a result of it." Mr. Guy thanked all who had helped and cooperated in the project.

Mr. Britain introduced his commissioners, Collin Campbell, Jim Hogan, Floyd Woods, and School Supt. Jimmy Hughes really expressed the feeling in Carbon about water, when he said:

"When I came here, being a water pump fixer was a prerequisite to being superintendent. We're proud of this system, believe me."

"This is a living monument to you men who have worked so hard to see it come to pass," Hughes said, "and we thank Eastland for furnishing the water."

Moving to Morton Valley, the delegation included county officials and others interested in participating in the ceremonies.

Gathered in front of the Baptist Church in Morton Valley, Cong. Burleson joined Morton Valley Water District President Roy Plumlee in actually opening a fire hydrant to "let the water run." Mike Lewallen of Midland, grandson of Mrs. Gayle Hardin and nephew of Mrs. Linda Harris, is on a 12-day Easter vacation tour of England and Austria. Included on the tour will be a visit to the House of Parliament in London, the Windsor Castle, and the Schonbrunn Castle in Vienna. The 17-year-old junior at Lee High School is Midland.

His Land
... a sight and sound experience

Movie Of Holy Land To Be Seen At Rangers First Baptist Church

From a captive people to the vibrant nation of today, what is the miracle of modern Israel? "His Land," a one-hour film in Eastmancolor just released by World Wide Pictures has a lot to say about that very question.

"His Land" takes you the length and breadth of Israel in the company of Cliff Barrows and a young recording star, Cliff Richard, who sings six new Ralph Carmichael songs. Bibles in hand, they relate today's headline-making events to the prophecies of Scripture.

Here is the Holy Land in a color motion picture as different as it is dramatic, and timely. "His Land" will be shown on April 11, 1970 at the

Dorcas Class Meets Recently In Baze Home

The Dorcas Sunday School Class of the First Baptist met Thursday in the home of Mrs. R. O. Baze, with Mrs. Don Estes conducting the business meeting.

Mrs. M. A. Treadwell, Jr. presented an outstanding Easter devotional, "The Life of Christ."

The class will not have an April meeting in the home of a member. Plans for the April meeting will be announced in class.

Mrs. Baze served congealed salad, open-faced sandwiches, pickles, olives, cold drinks and coffee.

Present were Meses. Fern Green, W. H. Hailey, James Zuspahn, Eugene Green, Alceene Gibson, Clyde Manning, H. W. Sims, Johnson Smith, Treadwell, J. C. Poe, Estes, and Baze, and Miss Flo Barber.

Green Kindergarten Closes Term With Series Special Events

Jody Finley Honored On 6th Birthday

March 15 Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Finley honored their son, Jody, on his sixth birthday with an Hawaiian Punch Party at Green Kindergarten. Dainty cup cakes, "happy birthday" napkins and individual flavors of Easter eggs holding candy and toys were given to the children. The group sang "Happy Birthday" and Jody blew out his candle.

The children made large clocks with 8 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. for their lesson on going to bed by eight o'clock, so they will be up and ready for a good nourishing breakfast and first grade at public school next September.

Parents are asked to order children's weekly reader for summer months now.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Glazner and their son, David, honored the children with St. Patrick's Day party and a first day of spring party. Each day, they served delicious homemade chocolate chip cookies and punch in yellow cups. The napkins matched the cups. (The next day, Eastland received about six inches of snow, to the delight of the tots.)

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Murrell delivered a large box of lovely bright cards to the kindergarten and the children spent one morning making things to their own delight. We appreciate all the thoughtful people who have done so many things to help us teachers, to develop talent in these tots.

Mrs. Thura Taylor, a kindergarten neighbor, treated the children to chocolate chip cookies. Jackie Meek and Mr. and Mrs. J. Meek served homemade cookies.

Most of the children can give the 23rd Psalms from memory.

 Mrs. Robert (Betty) Green of Carlsbad, New Mexico, Kindergarten, gave the children an Easter party with attractive Easter favors for each child, and chocolate Easter eggs were hidden about the kindergarten for the children to find.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith and their son, James, had the last day of school party. What excitement! The huge tray held homemade egg-shaped cakes which were beautifully decorated. James passed the lovely Easter napkins he brought, then the dainty cakes and an Easter present for each child.

A program was presented with silent prayer and "The Little Candles."
 Diplomas were presented to these pupils who will enter public school in September: Rusty Freeman, Diane Johnson, James Wayne Smith, Tom Hoffmann, Ken Wilcoxson, Tim Garner, Julie Elizabeth Reid, Bobby Skinner, Bobby O'Brien Frazier, Darryn Scott Willoughby, Rodney Dale Simmons, Richard Kevin Johnson, Sheryl Jean Harbin, Floyd Ray Moore, Jackie D. Meek, Jody J. a y Finley, Lonnie Dwayne Shirley, Laurie Michelle Underwood, David Lynn Glazner, Melinda Kay Walton, Jennifer Lee Stevens, Joan Dell Moore, Ernest Timothy Garner, and Kenneth Bry Wilcoxson.

Other pupils present were Jimmy Dean Cate, Amy O'Brien, and Kim High.

The kindergarten will enroll October 5 and start October 5. Parents are asked to pre-register with Mrs. Fern Green now.

First Baptist Pastor To Be Honored Sunday

The First Baptist Church will honor the pastor, the Rev. Haston Brewer, and his family on their ninth anniversary in Eastland at a reception in the church fellowship hall following evening worship services Sunday, April 5.

Everyone is invited to attend the reception.

Miss Treadwell Is 1 Of 6 To Represent H-SU

Martha Treadwell of Eastland, one of six Hardin-Simmons University students who have been appointed Student Representatives and awarded a $100 per semester scholarship, according to Dr. Elwin L. Skiles, president.

The students were chosen by a Steering Committee composed of representatives of the H-SU Student Congress and the administrative staff. They will assist in student recruitment, solicitation of support, in public appearances, as hosts and hostesses for campus visitors, and on other special assignments, according to Byron Bryant, assistant to the president in university relations.

Miss Treadwell is majoring in English and biology. She is serving as a member of the Student Congress as corresponding secretary, and Tri Phi social club and holds membership in Alpha Chi (the collegiate honorary society), Beta Beta Beta (biology society), and is listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Rebekah Group Meets In Home Of Mrs. Collins

The Rebekah Group of the First Christian Church met Monday, March 23, in the home of Mrs. Jennylin Collins, with Mrs. Lela Sallee presiding.

Mrs. Mable White led the opening prayer. Gene Williams sang "How Great Thou Art", accompanied by Mrs. Christian Beskow, organist. The group sang "Jesus, Keep Me Near The Cross."

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Beskow gave the devotional titled "Before Easter".

The lesson, "Religion of Persia", was presented by Gene Williams.

Refreshments were served. Present were Meses. Thelma Verner, Lela Malone, Mable White, Christine Beskow, Mae Edna Gattis, Mae Woods, Grace Derryberry, Opal Clifton, Lera Sallee, Edna Oakley, Ressie Crumer, and Jennylin Collins; and Gene Williams.

IT HAS BEEN

By Vada Arnold

Away back in the 1850's their were Stage coach stations dotted across West Texas in areas where population was sparse and conveniences were unheard of. Stage coach stations were far apart, always located at a watering place and where there was an abundance of grass for the horses. Stage drivers fed their teams but they needed lots of grass too.

Settlers lived lonely, dangerous lives far removed from their nearest neighbors. The only transportation they had were ox-drawn wagons and horses for back riding. Wagons drawn by oxen traveled slowly—about two miles an hour was the average gait of a team of oxen.

Mail usually came about twice a month, brought in from a distant post office by men on horseback. Houses were built of logs cut from the forest.

Fences were few. Only small horse and cow pastures were fenced with rails split from timber from native woods or made of rocks from the hillsides.

Cattle were fat from grazing on lush pastures but there was no market for them. There were no meat markets—anybody could eat beef from herds of cattle any time he wanted it.

Texas cattle were finally driven to market in St. Louis, Mo. and Dodge City, Kansas. In later years Sherman, Texas became a cattle market.

Corn mush and corn pone made from home ground meal, rabbit and squirrel, berries and greens from the woods along with wild turkey on special occasions gave our forefathers a well balanced diet.

Women carded wool and cotton, spun thread on a spinning wheel, knitted stockings, and made cloth to clothe their families. Indians made life miserable for frontiersmen who came westward seeking new homes and opportunities to make a better life.

Shortly after the white men set foot on the North American Continent, Indians resented the encroachment on their land.

Sadly enough in many cases all Indians were adjudged savage and mean. From this attitude came hostility toward all white settlers, when in reality there were red men who were willing and wanted to be friendly.

Many bloody battles were fought and many outrages committed against the whites, including women and children. Scalping and mutilation caused disgust and hatred for all Indians by the whites.

During the early history of Comanche and Brown Counties raiding Apaches and Comanches roamed the country side, killing entire families, and groups of working men. Stealing horses, burning the crude homes of settlers and inflicting modes of cruelty upon the whites.

Two Massacres that made outstanding history took place in Brown County. The Williams and Jackson families were brutally slain.

In the late fall of 1858 Moses Jackson, his wife and an 18-year-old daughter and four younger children were on their way to a timber cutting, (an all day of work and fun). The Albert Jay and Charles Kirkpatrick families were in the party. On the way the Jackson family was ambushed by a band of Indians. A few days afterward two of their children were found dead in the wagon.

Their throats had been cut from ear to ear. Jacksons body lay about one hundred yards away, nearby Mrs. Jackson and the older daughter, lay scalped and badly beaten about the heads and faces. Two of the children were taken captive by the band, to be recovered later by a posse of well-armed neighbors and friends. The bodies of the Jackson family were buried where they were found. Mrs. Jackson and the older daughter in one grave and Mr. Jackson and two small children in another.

In the Williams murder, Mrs. Williams and her nine-year-old daughter and six-months old baby were killed. Bill Williams, the husband and father, and an older son left home early that morning to cut timber for a new house, after they left home, Mrs. Williams was surprised by an Indian raid, she was shot through and through by arrows and scalped, the nine-year-old girl was found hanging from a tree limb, dead with marks of violence all over her body. The baby's head had been smashed in and the tiny body had been badly burned.

Indians were not only the work of mischief in the early history of this country. Bands of masked white men rode through the country at night, cutting fences, falsely accusing law-abiding farmers and hanging them in the woods. These outlaws called themselves "The Mob." At times four to six innocent men would be hung in one night, to be discovered later, their bodies almost unrecognizable, for having been eaten by birds and wild animals. Many of these atrocities were attri-

LEVI'S Headquarters for Eastland County

Added To ASCS Program

Meredith, County Director, Eastland CS, said, "The ASCS committee is generally for administering ASCS programs approved for the county. County committee members elected for the period beginning Oct. 1, 1969, are: Robert G. Lyerla, chairman;

Charles E. Little, vice-chairman; and Coda A. McDaniel, member."

Meredith reported that 498 farms had ACP practices completed during 1969, with 45 new participants recorded during the year. Total cost-share for these conservation practices on the farms and ranches was $67,649.

This is a break-down on the soil and water conservation practices completed: establishing permanent grasses, 119 farms; improvement of established cover, four farms, brush control, 42; livestock dams and reservoirs, 47; construction of cross fences in pastures, five; construction of sod waterways, three; construction of terraces, one; construction of diversion terraces, three; winter cover crops, 365; cross fencing permanent cover from other cropland, five.

The county had 38868.5 acres peanut allotment on 861 peanut farms. Average yield per acre was 1277 pounds or 43 bushels. Cotton allotment was 3154 acres on 130 farms. Wheat allotment was 4097 acres with 237 farms.

Lone Star Names Hulcy, Hall To Executive Posts

Dallas—Louis B. Hulcy of Dallas has been elected senior vice president, operations for Lone Star Gas Company and its subsidiary companies, L. T. Potter, chairman, announced today.

Potter said that Neal Hall, former director of marketing for Nipak, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary, was elected to succeed Hulcy as vice president, General division of distribution.

Both elections are effective immediately, Potter said.

Hulcy joined Lone Star in 1939 following graduation from Texas A&I University. He served in a variety of gas distribution posts and was named district manager at Arlington, Texas, in 1947. In 1950 he was named field engineer and in July 1956 became general division chief engineer. He was serving as divisional general superintendent when he was elected Vice President, General Division of Distribution in 1962.

Hall, a graduate of the University of Texas, joined the company as an advertising copywriter in 1948. He supervised company advertising from 1954 to 1956 and was named Director, Publicity and Advertising in 1960. In January 1968 he was named director of marketing for Nipak Inc. He is a member of the National Fertilizer Institute and formerly served as acting promotional manager of the American Gas Association.
