Jaycees to Sponsor Holiday Rest Stop

"THE MORE YOU HEAR ABOUT SAFETY, THE LESS WE WILL HEAR ABOUT ACCIDENTS!"

Jaycees' Holiday Rest Stop program will be launched at 5 P. M. Friday, Sept. 3 and continue until midnight, September 7. The program is part of a nationwide effort to stem the rising tide of traffic accidents.

During the last three-day holiday weekend of the summer season, the Texas Jaycees will provide rest stops along highways throughout the State. Special signs have been designed to indicate the rest stops.

Travelers will be served free coffee, soft drinks and cookies or doughnuts at the rest stops. Road maps and information on traffic and weather conditions will be made available to motorists. Windshields and headlights will be cleaned and litter bags distributed.

GREEN FEES for non-members have been lowered from $3 to $2 for the Special Scramble set Saturday at Lone Cedar Country Club, Pro Eddy Brook reports.

O N A Sunday outing to Granbury to visit kin, two things were especially impressive: a buffet at the Nutt House where the vegetable is glorified and cooked the way you remember 'em from your youth. It's a very popular restaurant situated in the Old (1880) Nutt Hotel and is an attraction that draws people from near and far. It's not fancy: it's just plain good and clean. Other thing we noticed was that Lone Star Gas Co. is refurbishing the old street lights around the square there and will repaint the posts and put pretty gas light fixtures in them to make for a pretty glow. We're anxious to see it after it's completed, and wonder if

Juniors Elect

The Junior Class of Eastland High School elected class officers, Monday, August 27. The result of this election was as follows: president, Larry Barnes; vice-president, Larry Bolles; secretary, Lisa Germany; treasurer, Robin Alexander; reporter, Nancy Seaberry.

Fireboys elected were Gary Barnes, and Joe Herrera.

Local Lone Star Man James Zusspahn wouldn't mind looking at the unused ones around the Eastland square. There's possibility here, too.

Music Club Sets Bake Sale Friday, Sept. 3

The Eastland Music Study Club will sponsor a Bake Sale, Friday September 3, in the Safeway Store, 505 E. Main, beginning at 8:20 a.m.

The public is cordially invited to come, or call Mrs. J. F. Francis, 2002 W. Commerce St.

Absentee Balloting Underway For Sept. 21 Sewer Election

Absentee balloting for the Sept. 21 bond election for Eastland's new sewage system is underway at City Hall and will continue through Sept. 17.

The bond vote will be in the amount of $92,000 with the City to make application to the Federal government for a $106,700 grant to pay for the new system. Site for the new plant has not been definitely established, and will be

Kindergarten To Open October 4

Mrs. Fern Green, leader of the Green Kindergarten on 903 W. Plummer will enroll for their 17th year, Monday afternoon, October 4, from 4 to 6 p.m.

The older children will enroll first, and the parents of the younger children may wish to call 629-2460, after 7 p.m. October 4. No birth certificates for kindergarten are necessary.

Mrs. Green encourages each parent to consult their family doctor about shots for their children. She says, "He knows the law, and he knows what is best for your child. He has your child's records."

Mrs. Green also requests that the children wear play clothes, not fancy dress clothes. Supplies will be furnished.

The Kindergarten wishes not to disappoint any child or parent by being unable to enroll the child in school.

Mrs. Green says, "Call 629-2460 after October 1, to make sure your child's name is on the list." "Children going to public school in September, 1972 will be given preference if their names are on the list." "Also thanks to all mothers who took time to write me. Each letter was appreciated," she continued.

Mrs. Ferne Green was in the Eastland National Bank some time ago. Her grandson Charles "Howard" Chaney of Irving accompanied her. Howard is six years old. It seems almost everyone in the bank spoke to them. Howard turned to his grandmother and said, "My, but this is a friendly bank."

According to Mrs. Green, this just proves the point that children observant and appreciate thoughtfulness, and likely copy us adults.

Mrs. Green expresses herself in saying, "Working with Kindergarten tots, I learn much from them. They respond to love, kindness, and firmness. They are a joy to work with."

determined by the engineering firm of Yeats and Decker and will be announced.

Total cost for the new plant will be $198,700.

In a special called meeting

this week, the City Commission:

1. Passed on first reading, an ordinance declaring an emergency; 2. passed a resolution, calling the election;

and 3. entered into a formal agreement with the Great Southwestern Corp. to handle financing details of the bond program.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m.

to 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 21, and two election boxes will be maintained - one for voters who have property on the tax rolls and another for those who do not have property rendered for taxation.

The bond money will be used only for development for the sewer plant, and the indebtedness will in no way encumber taxes or other revenue, it was emphasized by commissioners.

Mayor James Reid expressed the feeling of the commission, and the town, when he said, "We really have no choice in whether we do this or not, it's just a matter of doing it the best way, and we believe we're taking the best route."

The bonds probably will be sold on a 15 year payback with the right to pay off after 10 years if possible. A separate set of books will be kept on the sewer plant, and funds will be specifically earmarked for the repayment and operation of the system.

Milton Underwood will be presiding judge and Mrs. Marcus O'Dell alternate presiding judge.

Under the presently proposed payoff, the bonds will be dated either Jan. 10, 1972 or July 1, 1972, and if Jan. 10, the principal payments will be due each Jan. 10 from 1973 through 1987. The interest coupons will be due on July 10, 1972 and each Jan. 10 and July 10, thereafter until paid.

It is understood that revenue from the system will retire the bonds.

The proposed payment program looks like this:

Coaches 'Tell It Like It Is' For Rotary, Lion Members

"The Eastland Mavericks are looking good, and the best way to get us in the spirit of things, is to experience a little pre-season action," expressed Grover Hallmark, at the Rotary 12:00 luncheon in the White Elephant, Monday, August 30, as introduction to the program.

Coach Shirley Frazier, presented to Rotarians, as a reel of scrimmage films of the Maverick's first scrimmage against Rotan, played Thursday evening, August 26.

According to Frazier, the scrimmage against Rotan was "very good." He stated, "We saw lots of things done well, that we had not known if we could do or not, but we also saw mistakes, that we will learn from."

Coach Frazier acknowledged the fact that Eastland is picked just about as high in the state as they possibly can be, without being picked number one. "The Mavericks are placed second in practically all the polls," Frazier stated.

The Maverick 1971 team is made of 16 seniors, 14 juniors, and 12 sophomores. An interesting point worth consideration is the fact that a large amount of the starters are juniors, which according to Coach Frazier, is a credit to the team.

Mavericks to Test Stephenville

The Eastland High School Mavericks will scrimmage Stephenville Thursday at 5:30 p.m. probably at the Tarleton State College Field.

Frazier explained briefly, how sickness has taken over all four captains, and a large number of the main players. This, of course, has caused a number of problems, yet the Mavericks continue to "look good."

Something especially encouraging, Frazier felt, was the outstanding development of the smaller boys, since the beginning of football work out this year. He said, "I guess they knew they had to work especially hard if they wanted to play."

Coach Frazier stated that he is "proud of the team." "They are fine boys, who take their football seriously, and work hard." Frazier continued to say that many of the boys are ambitious in their football future, and have goals of a football career.

Fund Started For Tucker

A fire broke out Saturday, Aug. 25, completely destroying the ranch-style home of the Tom Tuckers at the Bell Hurst Ranch, located east of Eastland on Hwy. 80.

All of the family's furniture, clothing, and personal possession was completely destroyed or ruined. Eastland citizens feel it is their responsibility to help provide for the family during their loss.

A Tom Tucker fund is now in effect. Donations to the fund are to be sent to P. O. Box 391, in care of James Reid.

Funeral Services Held Tuesday For T. C. Fambro

Truman Conner Fambro Sr. 75, died at 2:15 p.m. Monday at his home south of Strawn.

Funeral was at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in First Baptist Church of Strawn with the Rev. Jerry Speer, interim pastor, assisted by the Rev. Jessie Fambro of Necessity officiating.

Burial was in Wayland Cemetery under the direction of Edwards Funeral Home with Grandsons serving as pallbearers.

Born Dec. 21, 1895 in Wayland, Mr. Fambro married Chloe Sikes Nov. 12, 1916 in Wayland. He was a member of the Wayland Baptist Church and Eastland County Sheriff's Posse.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, T. C. Jr. and Skeet of Breckenridge and Luther of Dallas; one sister, Mrs. Jewell Carrey of Monahans; one brother, Tom Fambro of Odessa and nine grandchildren.

written and asked how much it would cost to have this run in the Eastland paper. After I had read their letter I immediately told them that there would be no cost. They looked very surprised and also very happy. They said that their car would be fixed sometime Monday and that they would be going straight to Oregon.

The following is the letter that they handed me.

"Dedicated to all the people of Eastland who have gone out of their way to help us. We think you, the people of the extra ordinary town should know our story.

We came into this town, after our suitcases were stolen, broke, and with car trouble, looking for a car part no one had.

"We would like to personally thank Mr. Milton Fullen and son James of the Chevrolet motors, for going out of their way to help us. He offered to take a part off a new car, to replace our part, but none would fit. After checking all over for the part, they offered to send for one, and open the shop on Sunday to repair our car.

"We would also like to thank the police department, the drugstore, and the pool hall. We have toured the states, and we have found none others so hospitable, and friendly as here. Now we know what they mean by the song, "Deep in the Heart of Texas." "Eastland is the Heart!"

Coach Wade Luker, stated that the Wolverines will be ready to take on their 1 regular game opponent next week when they meet Mullin at Carbon. The Wolverines scrimmaged Star, the team that beat them last year at regional, and came out 1 point ahead of them in scrimmage. Coach Luker feels that the team has a great potential this year and is looking for a good season.

If you don't own a home, furniture, jewelry or a car, you can get along without the services of an insurance agent. But for the most of us, life is not that simple. Modern living has become so complex that the protection of property and personal liability is a major problem and we must be insured. New Law On Passing School Bus Explained

A new state law effective August 30 will no longer permit Texas motorists to stop and then pass a school bus which is loading or unloading children.

Sergeant Jerry Mathews of the Texas Highway Patrol office in Eastland said that the new law passed by the 62nd Legislature, applies in both cities and rural areas and requires motorists moving in both directions on the same roadway with a school bus to stop and maintain stopped as long as the flashing lights on the bus are in operation.

Under current law, which applies only in rural areas, drivers must stop for a stopped school bus, but may then proceed around it at a speed of no more than 10 miles per hour if safe to do so.

The new law will not require those vehicles on another roadway of a divided highway to stop, and stops are not required if the bus has stopped in a loading zone of a controlled access highway where pedestrians are not permitted to cross.

Mathews stated that provisions of the new law will be strictly enforced to afford protection to the school children of Texas.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

One man's most priceless possession is his eyes, and help in conserving this treasure is on its way, reports the Texas State Department of Health.

This help is in the form of a federally-imposed requirement for impact-resistant lenses on eyeglasses. Thousands of Texans already wear them.

Effective December 21, all glasses and sunglasses sold in the United States must have lenses of laminated glass, heat-tempered glass or plastic. This seems like a simple solution to some of the eye injury problems. But it took years of effort by accident prevention experts to attain this ruling by the Food and Drug Administration.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Comeuppance for Creditors

Mrs. Olson was home alone when two husky men came to her door. "We're from the appliance store," they announced, "and we are going to repossess your stove."

Despite her protests, they barged into the house, seized the stove, and carried it away—leaving soot stains all over the rug.

Understandably upset, Mrs. Olson determined to sue the store for damages. In court, the proprietor told the judge:

"Maybe my boys did get a little careless. I am willing to pay for cleaning her rug. But aside from that, she suffered no harm. After all, she was behind in her payments."

However, the judge held him liable not only for the rug but also for "punitive damages"—that is, extra damages imposed to teach him a lesson.

The law is taking an increasingly stern view of "rough stuff" by creditors in the repossession of merchandise. To discourage such tactics, most courts will award punitive damages to the debtor, over and above any actual harm done.

This is especially true when the reposessor resorts to personal violence. Thus, a court awarded punitive damages to a housewife after her sewing machine was repossessed at the point of a pistol.

In another case, a furniture dealer told a widow she could have extra time to pay for her purchases because she had to have an operation. But while she was in the hospital, he broke into her house and decamped with the furniture. Here, too, a court found ample grounds for awarding punitive damages.

Nevertheless, the law does not frown on the basic idea of repossession. By giving the creditor a simple and speedy remedy against the delinquent debtor, it can keep down the cost of credit for other consumers.

Repeatedly, courts have found nothing improper when a reposessor towed away a car parked in front of a debtor's house or even in his driveway. As one court pointed out, the seller is merely taking back — "without threats, or even stealth"—what is rightfully his.

Last year, reports the National Safety Council, there were 110,000 eye injuries in this country. It's obvious that only a fraction of this number came from broken lenses. Almost 11 percent of the injuries resulted from a permanent partial blindness, which means that one or both eyes were damaged permanently. More than seven out of 10 persons suffering eye injury went through a period of blindness — even if only temporary.

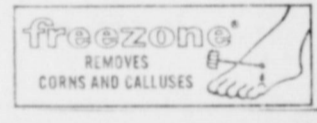

While the impact-resistant lenses won't provide total protection from breaking, they will be a big step in the right direction. The FDA regulation will provide greater protection in tougher lenses. But they cannot be considered as providing an unbreakable shield against eye injury. The new regulation covers prescription and non-prescription glasses. If there is some reason why these impact-resistant lenses won't fulfill the visual requirements of a particular patient, regular lenses can be obtained.

The performance standard for impact-resistant lenses is based on American National Standards Institute specifications. Essentially, the standard requires that a given lens, be capable of withstanding an impact test in which a 3/8-inch steel ball weighing approximately .56 of a pound is dropped from a height of 50 inches.

Industry has long used the "shatterproof" goggles or glasses. It realized that tragedies resulting from lenses which have shattered and blinding slivers upon impact were needless and preventable.

One of the largest beneficiaries of the new regulation will be the average wearer of glasses—the athletic youngster, the outdoorsman, the handyman and do-it-yourselfer, the housewife and office worker. They run into situations every day which test the safety of their glasses and sunglasses. The new lenses will provide a better barrier against injuries to the eyes, says the Health Department.

Scouts Lend Muscle to Glass Drive

Six million Boy Scouts are lending their collective muscle to the glass container industry's bottle recycling effort.

It's part of the Scouts' "SOAR" ("Save Our American Resources") program, which included a massive nationwide litter-cleanup on Scouting Keep America Beautiful Day in June.

"SOAR" activities for the summer of 1971 include bottle reclamation drives at the local level in cooperation with glass container manufacturers. Scouts of a community collect used bottles and jars and deliver them to a glass container plant for recycling. The plant pays cash on the barrelhead to the participating troop for as many bottles as the Scouts bring in.

In a typical community drive, one or more Scout troops will set up a collection center where townspeople can leave used glass containers. The Scouts usually request that the bottles be reasonably clean, separated according to color and free of metal caps or rings. They accept glass containers of all shapes and sizes.

The project, organized with the assistance of the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, is known as "Glass Call." GCMCI has distributed thousands of Glass Call kits to Boy Scout units across the country, showing them how to improve the environment, conserve natural resources and earn money for troop activities at the same time, by organizing a "Great Bottle Roundup."

Six Flags To Begin Weekend Operation

Six Flags over Texas begins its fall schedule this weekend following one of the theme park's most successful summer seasons.

Vice President and General Manager Robert W. Freeman said more than 1,625,000 persons have visited the big family entertainment complex as far this year. And, he added, "These figures were reached despite fifteen days of rain which hit in July and August during the peak of our tourist season."

Freeman said the opening of the company's new Six Flags Over Mid-America near St. Louis in June has cut into the Texas park's tourist business from such states as Missouri, Kansas, and Illinois. "However," he continued, "we have consistently found ourselves exceeding attendance projections."

After Sunday, August 29, six flags over Texas will be open only on Saturdays and Sundays through November 28, when the Park's tenth anniversary season ends. The exception is Labor Day, Monday, September 6, when the Park will be in full operation.

R. C. A. Rodeo To Be Held Sept. 2, 3, 4

The Erath County Livestock Association will be sponsoring their annual R. C. A. Rodeo September 2, 3, 4 in Stephenville, Texas. The stock producer is Tommy Steiner of Austin, Texas. Performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. The Parade will be September 2 at 5 p.m. Miss Ford Country will be present at both the Parade and Rodeo. There will be dance nights featuring Mark Scott and the Country Kings.

Ben Barnes' Bride Speaks of Eastland In Austin Newspaper

By CAROLYN BENGSTON
Women's Editor

Nancy Barnes had no trouble getting used to her new name.

The morning after she and the lieutenant governor returned from their San Francisco honeymoon, she introduced herself 800 times to young people in the rotunda of the Capitol. "You don't slip after 800 times," she said.

Every day since, she's met hundreds more people traveling all over the state. Everyone wanted Ben Barnes to speak or to appear before the wedding, but since his marriage four weeks ago, he's even more in demand and they want his bride to come, too.

"Friends ask me when we're going to start campaigning," Nancy smiled, "and I don't know what to say. There are only 24 hours in the day, and it seems to me we're filling them right now. The way I see it, Ben has a rather full schedule."

The Barneses had spent just two days in Austin since their marriage before coming home briefly last week. "This gave me a chance to unpack and repack, at least," Nancy said, "and to write a few more thank-you notes."

"But I'm caught up with the notes. I've written them on planes and in hotel rooms, and besides all those for the wedding gifts, people are so nice to us I want to write them, too, after being in each town. I don't dare fall behind."

Nancy Sayers Barnes is accustomed to a busy life. "I'm not doing any more now than I ever have..."

Nancy graduated from the University of Texas with a degree in government and married her late husband, Scott Sayers, while he was still in law school. He was working for the then lieutenant governor, Ben Ramsey.

Later he became a state representative and then, when John Connally decided to run for governor, he and Nancy plunged into that campaign and after the election he became the governor's administrative aide. He died in 1968, and Connally appointed Nancy to head the Texas Employment Commission—the first woman to become chairman of a large state agency.

Consequently, Nancy is well-acquainted not only with political life, but also with many of the state's politicians. She already knows many of the people she is meeting now. "There are a lot of new faces, but a lot of old ones too," she said.

She's known the lieutenant governor for years and actively campaigned for him in his first statewide race. Her campaigning was limited during his second race, for by then she was head of TEC and "I fell under the Hatch Act," which prevents a federally funded agency employe from taking political sides.

This next campaign, or rather, the current campaign, is for the Governor's Mansion. Asked if she'd enjoy being First Lady, Nancy replied, "I suppose anybody would enjoy it. But there is a lot of responsibility that goes with it, which many people don't realize. I know about some of those responsibilities because I spent so much time with Nellie Connally when she was there."

Nancy expects that she'll be the one to visit many of the small towns before the election, and she doesn't mind a bit.

"I like towns with a courthouse in the center, with people sitting out on the lawns whittling," she said. "We had a wonderful time in Eastland the other day. I got to see the horned frog that was buried in the cornerstone and came out alive 32 years later."

Among the dozens of events the Barneses have been to in the last four weeks are the Lee Trevino Day in El Paso, a building dedication in Paris, a VFW convention, the Peanut Festival, the Blackeyed Pea Festival and the Peach and Melon Festival.

"The Blackeyed Pea Festival was lots of fun," she said. "They had blackeyed pea cakes and hors d'oeuvres of blackeyed peas. We had to leave before they named the winner, but I think it was a woman from India who'd fixed curried blackeyed peas."

She hasn't looked ahead any further than that. "I just check the schedule when it's time to go." She knows, however, that the schedule is full: "The five days we were on our honeymoon were the only free days on Ben's calendar for a year."

This week's schedule is also full, starting with this weekend in San Antonio where the Barneses will appear at Roy Barrera's charity event.

Then we go to Corpus Christi, where Ben is going to speak to the Texas State Teachers Association. Being an ex-teacher, I'll definitely be going on this one," Nancy said. "Then to the Valley, for a barbecue in Alice. Then, I hope, back to Austin to change clothes before we go on to Denton and Dallas."

Nancy looks forward to

She also treasures an antique Chinese bowl. "When the budget permits, I'd like to fill it with silk flowers and use it in the dining room," she said. "And an ivory piece arrived yesterday that means so much to us, because we know that the people who sent it spent a lot of time looking for it on their vacation."

Another wedding present, painted by Ada McElhenney, hangs in a small room that Nancy has turned into her "office." The painting is a modernistic white arrow on a sandy background (Ada gave it to the KLRN auction, but her husband bought it back, and they gave it to the Barneses).

"Ada said it reminded her of Ben, like a polished arrow going up," Nancy said.

Also there is a new portrait of her husband that she is studying. She has had some training in art, and the artist sent it to her to see what changes she'd like done. She isn't planning any.

"This office seemed like a good idea," Nancy said. "The room wasn't being used, and I thought it would be a good place to write my notes and sort through the souvenirs. But Ben likes to come in and use the phone, and the children like to sit on the couch..."

Nancy has two sons, Brian, 15, who lives in the Capitol apartment, and Scott, 19, who'll live on the UT campus. The lieutenant governor's son Gregg, 13, and daughter Amy, 9, are frequent visitors.

Nancy isn't planning any redecoration of the apartment, though she is eager to hang some of her favorite paintings.

"And I want a little more casual atmosphere. A friend told me the other day, 'I would have come by to see you, but I had on sandals.' I don't know how you informalize a place like this, but I'd like to try."
