Fleet Nazi Raider vs. British Battle Cruiser

German pocket battleship Deutschland, above, reported seen near the Azores Islands, is one of three German war vessels too powerfully armed for fast cruisers to tackle, too fleet for battleships to overtake. Only the British battle cruiser Hood, below, and her two sister ships Renown and Repulse, are fast and powerful enough to attack the Deutschland, Admiral Scheer or Admiral Graf Spee.

ENBERG TELLS OF ACCIDENTS; THEIR CAUSES

Vernon Enberg, safety expert who is conducting classes in Eastland and Ranger, spoke before his class Thursday night at the Ranger High School on traffic safety.

Enberg pointed out that there are four requirements for safe driving, which he listed as follows:

- 1—We must want to be safe.
- 2—We must learn how to be safe.
- 3—We must practice safe habits.
- 4—We must check up on ourselves.

In speaking of the excuses offered for traffic accidents, Enberg said there were usually three, which he said were "I didn't see," "I didn't know" and "I didn't think," and gave as the three "E's" for same driving, Education, Engineering and Enforcement. He stated, however, that someone had added another, which was Example. The three factors in accidents and their ratio to accidents were given as road, 15 per cent, car, 10 per cent and driver 75 per cent.

Unsafe practices of driving were listed by the speaker as follows:

- 1—driving physically unfit (poor vision, drunk, defective hearing, sleepy, old age, too young, one leg or one arm and sick).
- 2—Failure to observe signs and signals (failure to stop for "stop" signs, failure to stop for railroad crossing and failure to stop for red lights).

He stated that these were only a few of the major causes for traffic accidents, and that he would take up others at a later meeting. Enberg gave some interesting figures on the percentage of accidents. He said that since 1927, when records were first kept, that accidents to private automobiles had increased 29 per cent, to trucks they had decreased 15 per cent and to buses 40 per cent, indicating to what extent education by the companies operating fleets of trucks and busses had eliminated accidents.

Heavy Firing Heard In Northern Areas Of Gernay Today

WINSCHOTEN, Holland, Nov. 10.—Heavy firing in the area between Emden and Ditzum in Germany was heard today at several points on the Dutch German frontier.

No details of the shooting were available. Observers said sounded like artillery fire, but experts said it was possible anti-aircraft guns were in action.

It was suggested that German batteries of Emden were fighting off British planes.

Royal Air Force Downs German Plane

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The air ministry announced today that Royal Air Force planes engaged two enemy planes off the East Coast of England this morning and forced one down, which later sank. The German crew was captured. The second plane escaped.

No Price Fixing In Oil Bill Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes today urged a congressional committee not to vest any price-fixing powers in the federal government in connection with oil conservation legislation.

"To do so likely would discredit the whole conservation theory," Ickes said.

Five Mine Cave-In Victims Are Found

RAWLINGS, Wyo., Nov. 10.—County officials brought the crushed bodies of five mine cave-in victims to Rawlings today as state mine inspector J. M. Sampson investigated the accident 29 miles southwest of here.

The men were buried under tons of rock and coal late yesterday as they worked in a shaft.

Family Cow Gores Its Owner To Death

BEAUMONT, Nov. 10.—Gored in the abdomen by the family milk cow, W. A. Mack, 47, laundry salesman, died in a hospital today. The state laboratory in Austin, after examining the animal for rabies, returned a negative report.

TURKEY PRICE FIXING BEING PROBED NOW

Allegations of price fixing in Texas' turkey industry were being investigated today.

Attorney General Gerald Mann announced an inquiry in the midst of the Thanksgiving turkey marketing season. He said complaints had been received about the uniformity of prices offered at turkey markets.

Mann said the department's investigation would include buying, selling and shipping of turkeys.

Meanwhile the state's million dollar turkey crop moved to market.

Brownwood reported yesterday was its largest market day when 5,000 birds were dressed. The price there rose from 12 to 14 cents.

At Houston the wholesale market was sluggish. Farmers were reported hesitant to sell because the quality of flocks was poor. The Houston price was 12 cents for young toms and 14 for hens.

Port Worth also had a smaller market and contributed the lower volume to farmers' failure to recognize that most northern and eastern states were observing Nov. 23 as Thanksgiving instead of Nov. 30. The price was boosted one cent yesterday, one dealer paying 14 cents and the others 13 cents.

Roosevelt Works On Shipping Plan For U. S. Vessels

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—President Roosevelt said today that he is working on a program to ease the economic impact of the neutrality act on the U. S. Merchant Marine.

He again defeated the legality of the proposed transfer of American vessels to Panamanian Registry, but he intimated strongly that the transfer likely will be held up while he seeks to work out other methods to meet the U. S. shipping crisis.

Bulldogs To Play Cisco For Bottom Of Season Lineup

Ranger's Bulldogs and Cisco's Lobos, both still waiting for their first conference victory of the season, will meet in Cisco at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Armistice Day, in what will more than likely be a battle to determine which of the two teams ends up in the conference cellar.

It will be Rangers' last conference game of the season, and the next to last for Cisco, but the Lobos will have only to play Breckenridge Buckaroos to stay in the conference.

With no victories, three defeats and one tie to their credit, the Bulldogs go into the game Saturday slightly behind the Lobos, who have won none, lost two and tied one, but still have a game to play.

After the Cisco game the Bulldogs get a week off from competition and then take on the Eastland Mavericks at Ranger on the following week-end. The Eastland game is scheduled for Nov. 24.

River Pollution Is Basis Of Suit

AUSTIN, Nov. 10.—Attorney General Gerald Mann announced he will file suit in Dallas district court today against 49 oil companies for pollution of the Neches river system.

Connally Urges Two Large U. S. Navies

DALLAS, Nov. 10.—U. S. Senator Tom Connally wants the United States to build the two largest navies in the world, one to dominate the Atlantic and one the Pacific.

"That would be the best guarantee this nation would have for peace," Connally said. "Such navies would cost, and cost heavily, but war, itself, would cost infinitely more."

More Production Allowed For War

AUSTIN, Nov. 10.—An order of the Texas Railroad Commission today allowed more oil production in Gulf Coast fields for manufacture of aviation gasoline and diesel fuel for export to France and Great Britain.

LITTLE POWERS STILL CENTER OF ACTIVITIES

Finland's negotiations with Russia over demands for basis in Finland broke down today. The Netherlands speeded preparations to defend its neutrality with fire and water, if necessary. Belgium remained alert.

The situation in these countries demanded attention, while the western front awaited real action.

The Finnish foreign office announced that its negotiations in Moscow had not been able to agree with the Soviets. Officials indicated that affairs between the two countries are more precarious than at any time since the Soviet announced its demand for military bases in Finland.

The situation in Holland and Belgium was cloudy. It has been apparent for a week the two countries were increasingly worried. German pressure to resist the blockade, the peace appeal of their rulers and presence of large number of German troops near the Dutch border all were indistinct.

There was no confirmation of a German threat of invasion. London and Paris repeated rumors of such an invasion, but Berlin charged the Allies were inspiring the reports.

There was no doubt about the Netherlands increasing military preparations. All furloughs in the armies were cancelled. Armies of workmen rushed fortifications and preparations were made to open the dikes and flood the country, if necessary.

There was a shooting incident on the frontier yesterday. One Dutchman was killed and his body dragged into the German territory. One report said all participants were civilians, but others said German customs officers were involved.

Planes flew over Belgium and one was reported shot down. If the attempted assassination of Adolf Hitler is the signal for a wholesale attack on the Allies there was still no indication of it.

Eastland Plays Rising Star To A Scoreless Tie

The Eastland Mavericks and Rising Star Wildcats played to a scoreless tie Thursday in a non-conference game at Rising Star.

The game was played mostly in the rain. Constant showers in the first half resulted in numerous fumbles. The rain slackened in the second half, enabling the offenses to open up.

Rising Star drove inside the Eastland 10-yard stripe once, and in the fourth quarter, the Mavericks threatened twice from inside the 20.

Light rains fell over most of Texas last night and today and weather observers predicted cold weather for most of the state tonight.

Freezing temperatures were expected in the northern half of West Texas tonight. Locally heavy frosts were forecast for East Texas.

The rain brought relief from one of the worst fall droughts in Texas history. Weather forecaster H. L. Cline at Dallas doubted if the rain was heavy enough to be of lasting benefits. Reports indicate light rains covered most of the state, however.

The report included Dallas .34, and raining; Big Spring .07, Amarillo .01, Tyler, raining, and Waco light showers.

Technicalities Are Scored By Judge In Hearing Plea

AUSTIN, Tex.—Judge George Christian of the State Court of Criminal Appeals believes technicalities can be carried too far. He put his foot down firmly when the attorney for a defendant with a long murder sentence objected to the conviction because the word "the" appeared in the indictment where it was not called for.

The indictment began: "In the name and by the authority of the State of Texas." The lawyer contended the proper form is: "In the name and by authority of the State of Texas."

He also objected because the indictment used the term "grand jurors" instead of "grand jury."

Crew Of A British Vessel Is Missing

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Four officers and 23 men are missing from the Northern Rover, 600-ton naval vessel, the admiralty announced today. The ship, long overdue at its base, was presumed to have been lost.

County Officers Discuss Assuming Road Bond Funds

FORT WORTH, Nov. 10.—County officials discussed here today the new road bond assumption bill, which will return to counties, beginning in 1940, surplus money from the bond fund accumulated by one-fourth of the state gasoline tax.

State comptroller George Shepard, urged county officials to file claims with the state as early as possible.

L. A. Wods, state school superintendent, told the county judges and commissioners association that some school districts were discriminating against negro and Latin-American pupils.

"In some instances," he said, "counties allow schools for these races to continue but four or five months a year to save taxes, while American schools get a full nine months."

Col. F. C. Harrington, federal works director, told the county officials last night that work relief must continue even if U. S. business improves.

Injunction Denied By District Court On Oil Proration

AUSTIN, Nov. 10.—An injunction asked by Humble Oil and Refining company against enforcement of the present East Texas oil proration order has been denied, the Texas Railroad Commission was notified today by a Houston federal court.

The present proration formula was adopted for October's oil order after the old proration system had been held invalid.

Chairman Lon Smith of the Railroad Commission hailed the decision as a great victory for the commission's oil policy.

"It leaves proration on a firm basis," Smith said.

Removal Of Sign Damages Advertiser

AUSTIN, Tex.—A slowing down in the removal of bill boards along Texas highways is expected to result from a recent decision of the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

The suit arose when a 60 acre tract was sold. The new purchaser removed a large "tire sign" for which lease rights had been obtained from the previous owner. The court sustained a damage judgment. The ruling means that the leases cannot be cancelled by change of ownership of the property.

Democracy Becomes Part of School Curriculum

The school system in this country has gone a long way since the days of the raw-boned, fossilized schoolmaster who ruled with a stern countenance of a hickory stick.

For most normal small fry, school will never be quite as much fun as sandlot baseball or hop-scotch. But education in the lower grades is a lot easier to take these days than it was 30 or 40 years ago.

To find out how far democracy in education has gone, the Educational Policies Committee of the American Education Association is conducting a survey among public schools in the United States.

There was a time, not very long ago, when the schools' total contribution toward building patriotic citizens was to teach youngsters the American's creed, the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the Pledge to the Flag.

It has been only with the introduction of streamlined educational systems that children were given a shot at this thing called democracy. They were permitted to organize clubs, elect their own officers, frame their own rules of conduct.

The Education Association's committee, after it has completed its research, will select a few representative schools and will experiment with even more progressive ideas in the matter of student democracy.

These youngsters, unlike their forbears, are going to grow up with the idea that democracy means more than just casting a vote for president every four years.

Flag-waving isn't enough, and reciting the American's Creed doesn't necessarily make a good citizen. But getting democracy mixed in with readin', writin', and 'rithmetic will probably show results in the future management of this country.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Beaten in their fight to retain the arms embargo, isolationist senators are looking ahead to the next session of Congress and are planning to make a determined drive for a stringent war profits taxation bill.

As a matter of fact, they would like to see this bill taken up at once. But the administration has the votes to get the Senate adjourned, and the matter will have to wait until the next session in January.

This bill is the one which was drawn up as a result of the work of the famous Nye munitions committee. It is probably the most startling taxation bill ever seriously considered in Congress.

In its upper brackets it is frankly confiscatory with rates running as high as 98 per cent on top incomes; indeed, as it stands now the bill's tax schedule would—when state income taxes are added in—exact in taxes from a wealthy man more than his entire year's income.

The significant point about the bill is that when it was introduced last March by Senator Bone of Washington, it bore the names of 50 senators as sponsors—enough to get the bill passed, if all of the sponsors stay in line.

THE administration claims a safe majority for embargo repeal in the riotous, but one fight there is not over. Joe Martin, minority leader, suggests that probably no one really knows just what the House line-up is, since not more than about 100 members have been in Washington since the opening day of the special session.

One thing is certain: the administration neglected its spadework in the House during the first weeks of the fight, concentrating all its efforts on the Senate, and woke up just recently to the fact that it faced an uphill fight in the other chamber.

Meanwhile the isolationists were active on the House side. An informal group of about a score of pro-embargo congressmen took pains to keep in contact with each state delegation and to perform missionary work whenever possible. This group insists that retention of the embargo is no worse than a 50-50 bet right now.

SENATOR NYE, one of the isolationist leaders, is frankly pessimistic about the country's prospects with the embargo repealed. "First we'll see that big swarm of airplanes sent overseas," he says. "Then there will be other goods, plus a steadily increasing pressure for relaxation of our restrictions on loans."

"As these shipments increase, there will be more and more submarine warfare—which, I believe, will come closer and closer to our shores. "I wish I could believe that the administration is right in thinking that repeal will discourage Hitler and make him lay down his arms and cry for peace. But somehow I don't see it that way."

Tariff Reduction Would Force Texas Mines To Close

By United Press

EL PASO, Texas.—Shutting down smelters and curtailment of employment in southwest mining circles should the United States abandon or reduce present tariffs on Chilean copper is foreseen in a brief prepared by the Chamber of Commerce.

The brief will be filed with the committee for reciprocal information in Washington as part of the Chamber of Commerce's opposition to a proposed United States-Chile reciprocal trade treaty. The organization also seeks to enlist the aid of business concerns and congressmen representing the southwest in opposing the trade agreement.

"The trade agreement will have drastic effects on the southwest," Capt. E. H. Simons, Chamber of Commerce manager, said in announcing compilation of the brief. "An agreement with Chile would mean automatically an agreement with all other nations with whom we have a 'favored nation' treaty, and that includes every country except Germany."

He said the brief will show the loss of revenue from allied copper industries if the southwest's smelters and mines close. It also will point out that shutting down of the copper industry would leave the United States with no stocks for fighting purposes in the event of war. The plants would have to be rehabilitated after a closing, he said.

Capt. Simons was active in the 1932 fight against lifting of the copper tariff. Opposition then resulted in imposition of the present four-cent duty on foreign copper.

Army Is Offering Many Advantages For Youths Of U. S.

WASHINGTON.—Never before has the regular army had so much to offer young America. In all branches of the service, from the Infantry to the Air Corp, the enlisted personnel have the opportu-ties to learn one of 216 trades.

There is no better way for high school and college men to enter aviation than by enlistment in the Regular Army Air Corp. Men with this education may also enlist in the Signal Corp, a branch never before open for enlistments. They have the opportunities to go to Service Schools teaching radio, television, clerking, telephone operating and maintenance, and other trades too numerous to mention.

In the other branches of the army men are assured of an opportunity for advancement. Each man is given an equal chance to make good. A young man under 23 years of age, if he is mentally, morally and physically qualified, has a chance to go to West Point, the greatest military school in the world. Upon graduation, and if he so desires, he would become a lieutenant in the Regular Army.

JUSTIFIES SACRIFICES OF 1918, BUT OPPOSES U. S. AID THIS TIME

One of the four bodies from which that of the Unknown Soldier was picked, as it was carried into Chalons-Sur-Marne city hall.

On Armistice Day, 1921, the body was lowered into its grave at Arlington National cemetery. The tomb built above bears the words, "... An American Soldier known but to God."

WOUNDED IN ACTION

SERG T YOUNGER, now partly bald and, he admits, too heavy to get into his old uniform in comfort, enlisted in the United States army in February, 1917, when he was 18.

In France, he suffered shell concussion when a projectile struck a building, killing all the occupants but him. Again he was machine-gunned. He went over the top five times.

After the war he re-enlisted and was sent to Germany with the Army of Occupation.

"But when we got to Chalons-Sur-Marne the officer in charge asked our war records and decided I had the best one. So he chose me."

"The next morning, Oct. 24, 1921, I chose the unknown soldier."

"I MUST HAVE KNOWN HIM" "SOMETHING seemed to tell me to stop every time I walked by it and say 'Pick that one'! I feel I must have known him. Then I went outside and told the officers I had chosen."

 Mrs. W. S. Poe will entertain Saturday with a morning coffee from 9 until 11 in her home honoring Mrs. Elvin G. Boice of Houston, the former Miss Doris Lawrence before her marriage November 5 in Waco.

Irene Williams and Dan Overand Were Married Nov. 4
 Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Williams announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss M. Irene Williams, to Dan Overand, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Overand of Kanger, which took place in Baytown, November 4th. Rev. E. Raymond Couch, pastor, performed the ceremony in the parlor of the First Baptist Church in Baytown.

The bride was dressed in an attractive crepe ensemble of Royal blue with black accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations and Cape Jasmine. Mrs. Overand is a graduate of Eastland High School and for the past several years has been employed as secretary to Retail Merchants in Eastland.

Mr. Overand attended the Ran-

New Voting Board For House Secured

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—The Texas House of Representatives will have a new voting board and may have new rules at its next regular session. A committee has arranged for the new voting board upon which the votes of the 150 members are recorded by members pushing buttons on their desks.

Another committee will meet in November to study a simplification of the rules. Whether the changes can be put into effect for the early part of the sessions is doubtful.

Customarily, rules of former sessions are adopted as temporary rules, and the permanent rules are adopted many weeks after the session is under way.

Difficulties always are encountered in trying to formulate rules that will have as much power in the house membership as possible without delaying progress of the work.

Chief complaints of present rules has been the power given committees and inability to keep debate within reasonable bounds.

• "Winter blasts used to raise the bumps on my skin... so that I looked and felt like a polka-dot tie. But now, when the geese fly south, I say good-bye to Summer underwear, and switch to comfortable Hanes middleweight winter sets."

HANES WINTER SETS give you protection when you go outdoors. And you don't feel bundled-up and overheated indoors. They also provide the gentle, athletic support of the HANESKNOT Crotch-Guard with its convenient, buttonless vent. Choose one of these popular WINTER SET styles. See your HANES Dealer today. P. H. ## Methods Outlined For Conducting of Business Census

Preliminary plans through which Eastland and its trade territory can be assured a full and complete report of its population, farm and business resources in the 1940 Decennial Census were announced today by Secretary H. J. Tanner of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

Tanner said he is acting in response to a letter from Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins, urging that civic leaders of Eastland organize to make the various censuses to be taken in 1940 the most complete and accurate picture of the community's human and economic resources ever compiled.

Tanner said he will select a General Citizen's Committee embracing all of the principal civic interests in the Community—commercial, educational, labor, religious, publicity—and that this committee will appoint subcommittees to stress specific census activities.

This is the first time for many years that all of the censuses—business, manufactures, population, agriculture, housing, mines and quarries, drainage and irrigation—will be taken in a single year.

They will not all be taken at the same time. The censuses of business, manufacturing and mines and quarries will start early in January, some three months ahead of the counts of population, agriculture and housing, which begin April 1, according to law.

Tanner said that the General Citizen's Committee will be organized soon, and will be asked to appoint subcommittees on Business and Manufactures and on public utility, which will start at once supplying information to business interests concerning the nature of questions to be asked them and the significance of these questions to the nation's business as a whole.

Football Filberts To Have Inning At Wrong Guessing

By United Press

EL PASO, TEX.—For the football filbert afflicted with "pick-itis" but who always turns up Monday morning with more losers than winners, an El Paso newspaper has reserved the normal order of things with a "boob contest."

Instead of offering a cash prize to the picker of week-end football game winners, the paper offers a printed certificate of membership in its "Boob Club" and $69.99 to the dopest who can tell in advance which 20 teams will lose in the week-end's selected slate of 20 games.

No Preaching At Church On Sunday

No preaching services will be held at the First Methodist church of Eastland next Sunday, it was announced today by officials. Regular Sunday school classes, however, will be held as usual.

Rev. P. W. Walker, pastor, is attending the Central Texas conference at Fort Worth. The Eastland church officially closes its conference year Sunday night.

Post Office Due To Close On Saturday

The Eastland post office will be closed Saturday because of Armistice Day, it was announced today by Postmaster Frank A. Jones.

Postmaster Jones also stated that the office will close Thursday, Nov. 23, for the observance of Thanksgiving as set by the president. Eastland, generally, is to observe Nov. 30 as Thanksgiving.

Kenny's Condition Is Declared Good

A card received Friday by Mrs. F. M. Kenny of Eastland stated that her husband, Eastland businessman, was recovering satisfactorily after an operation at a hospital in Dallas.

This has been a banner week for the lost and found bureau, what with the Bremen mystery finally solved and reports sifting through that the League of Nations is turning up again.

A Three Days' Cough is Your Danger Signal

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.
