

Moore.. ABOUT Eastland

Leon is dead but the memory of the man will live on in the hearts of "his boys" and his friends forever.

From Lampasas comes word from Jack and Lillian Hail. "The Hails were high and dry, no damage at all," they wrote.

And speaking of Lampasas, may we thank all you folks who brought clothing and other articles for folks down that way.

"I would like to order in advance any copies of the Telegram published during the Homecoming," writes Mrs. Joseph Lucas.

Mrs. M. B. Griffin also expressed herself about the reunion. "Rah for the homecoming she wrote on her renewal subscription form."

Speaking of flowers we can't help but again mention all the pretty roses around town. They tell us that the roses will probably bloom for a long time due to the large amount of moisture in the ground this year.

County Attorney Joe Nuesse told this writer Monday that County Treasurer Richard Cox must be mistaken about the County Commissioners Court not having any authority to lower pay of constables.

A little later Cox again insisted that a bill signed into law by Governor on April 25, 1957, which was passed by the 55th Legislature (SB 184), did prohibit cutting the pay of constables below the amount they drew the year before.

High School Tax Course Praised By Tax Officer

Tax education has become a very common high school subject along with the three R's, according to A. E. Fogle, Jr., administrative officer of the Abilene Internal Revenue office.

"Eastland should be proud of the fine Tax Education program being carried out at Eastland High School," Fogle said.

There are approximately 1,000 teachers in 782 schools teaching 36,000 high school students in the North Texas district of Internal Revenue Service who are participating in this program.

Turkey Meeting Here Wednesday

Mrs. Derry B. Fulks . . . weds Saturday

Sara Rose Ellis and Derry B. Fulks Marry in Abilene Rites

Miss Sara Rose Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ellis of Abilene, and niece of Mrs. W. S. Poe and Mrs. Francis Cooper, became the bride of Derry Boyce Fulks Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the chapel of the College Church of Christ in Abilene. Lavette Layfield, Abilene, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Arrangements of white gladioli flanked by candelabra holding lighted white tapers set the wedding scene. Pews marked with white satin bows and plumosa fern.

The bride groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Fulks of Abilene.

Don Jones, Abilene, soloist, sang "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an imported white lace dress over taffeta. The waltz length skirt was very full, tiers of lace worn over hoops. The strapless bodice was topped with a short fitted jacket with long sleeves pointed at the hands. She wore a wristlet of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid. A fingertip veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of lace edged in pearls. She wore a single strand of cultured pearls.

The brides cousin, Mrs. Roy Ray, was matron of honor. She wore a pink crystalene dress styled with a soft fold at the low cut neck which formed a bow in the back. Her wristlet was of feathered pink carnations.

Paul Fulks, brother of the bridegroom from Lubbock, was best man. Ushers were Henry Grant Bray of Austin, Bill King and Duncan Mann of Abilene. Jan Fulks, sister of the bride groom was candle lighter.

In the reception room at the church the brides table was laid with an imported cutwork cloth. The cake was beautifully decorated in the brides chosen colors, pink roses and garlands of pearls made of spun sugar. It was a three-tiered confection topped with a bride and groom. White stock and pink carnations in a silver compote, with white tapers, completed the decor.

Mrs. Gordon Cooper of Wichita Falls laded the pink punch. Mrs. George Hogan was at the brides book. Mrs. Carroll Dillingham, Mrs. Bruce Stringer, Mrs. Bill Eplen Chef of Austin and Miss Delores Hogan, completed the house party.

On their wedding trip the bride wore a navy silk linen suit with white accessories and white orchid.

Both are graduates of Abilene High School and attended Abilene Christian College. Fulks is employed at Oglesby Surveying Co. They will live at 1456 Paramore Avenue, Abilene.

Thursday Afternoon Club Members Install Officers, See TV Shows

Mrs. Frank Sparks, retiring president of the Thursday Afternoon Club, was hostess at a luncheon in her home for the closing meeting of the year Thursday.

Tables were arranged in the dining room and living room and a profusion of garden flowers decorated the rooms. Hostesses, Mmes. Milburn Long, Ben Hamner, Iral Inzer, Roy Townsend, R. E. Sikes, Harold White and W. S. Poe, served the delicious food brought by the members.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Frank Sayre and Mrs. M. A. Treadwell presented the program which was on impersonation of famous programs on television. Mrs. Treadwell, as Ralph Edwards, surprised Mrs. Frank Castleberry with the honor of "This Is Your Life." Mrs. Treadwell began with the early life of Mrs. Castleberry and enumerated many events and achievements of the honoree's life, illustrating many of them with pictures. Particularly impressive were the accomplishments of Mrs. Castleberry as a club woman, civic leader and member of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Sayre as John Daly presented a "What's My Line" program. She was ably assisted by panelists Emily Perkins, Ardis Manner, Lillian Horton and Helen Murrell. Some of the occupations which stupefied the panelists were pearl diver, zipper inspector, bull fighter and lei maker.

At the conclusion of the entertaining program the retiring president closed a very successful two years term of office by hearing reports of standing committee chairman. Mrs. Sparkes, in concluding remarks to the club, thanked the members for the excellent cooperation through her administration.

Mrs. James Horton, substituting for Mrs. Earl Conner, Sr., who is ill, installed new officers for 1957-58, telling each of the duties entrusted to her as follows: Mrs. Milburn Long, club house board; Mrs. Tom Wilson, library chairman; Mrs. Turner, Collier, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Davenport, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Sayre, recording secretary; Mrs. M. A. Treadwell, second vice president; Mrs. Robert G. Perkins, first vice president; and Mrs. Iral Inzer, president. Mrs. Sparkes then presented the gavel and the club house keys to Mrs. Inzer as insignia of her office.

Mrs. Harbert Davenport of Brownsville, sister of Mrs. Castleberry, was a guest of the club. Members present were Mmes. Frank Castleberry, Cecil Collings, Turner Collier, Frank Crowell, Fred Davenport, Cyrus Frost Sr., Ben Hamner, C. W. Hoffman, James Horton, D. L. Houle, Iral Inzer, Hubert Jones, W. P. Leslie, Milburn Long, Frank Lovett, W. A. Martin, Arthur Murrell, B. W. Patterson, Joseph Perkins, Robert Perkins, Grady Pipkin, F. N. Sayre, R. E. Sikes, Roy Townsend, M. A. Treadwell, W. S. Poe and Harold White.

Any Way You Look At It—

... there seems to be no way of escaping the on-rushing tide of automobile collisions and other losses connected with moving vehicles. Statistics now available show a new record was topped for 1956, the highest in 20 years. Automobile losses are still climbing in 1957—all of which leads us to suggest that if you did not put full coverage insurance in your 1957 budget that you do so now.

Rambler Sets Economy Record

Winnipeg, Canada to Monterrey, Mexico—
33.93
MILES PER GALLON
by a 1957 Rambler 6 with Overdrive

MONTERREY, MEXICO—A new all-time border-to-border NASCAR economy record was set when a 1957 Rambler 6 with overdrive arrived here from Winnipeg, Canada, after only four stops for gasoline. Whizzing through three nations at 45 to 60 m.p.h. to maintain its average speed above 40, the Rambler traveled nearly 2,000 miles at a cost of only 1¢ a mile for regular grade fuel. This new triumph gave Rambler both the border-to-border and coast-to-coast economy records.

255 HP Rambler Rebel V-8 Stars in Mobilgas Economy Run
Most powerful low-priced car in the history of the Mobilgas Economy Run, the Rambler Rebel V-8 topped all V-8's in the low-priced class in actual miles per gallon—21.62 m.p.g. with automatic transmission. (The Rambler 6, holder of the all-time mileage record in this event, was barred by a change of rules.) Drive a Rambler. Get big car room and foreign car economy.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

AUSTIN — The Big Three in America today are reserpine, chlorpromazine, and meprobamate. They are tranquilizing drugs — so called "happy pills." And as more and more people take them for real or imagined tensions, they are fast becoming household words. Americans last year spent well over $150 million for various types. A single drug company reported the sale of 30 billion tablets during the first 10 months of 1956, and indicated that sales were expected to double in 1957. Scientific studies indicate that the drugs have great value in the treatment of some types of mental illness, but when healthy people, for no other reason than that they had a bad day at the office or that the children have been unusually noisy, begin eating them like popcorn, an insidious danger is in the making.

Like other valuable drugs, tranquilizers can be harmful physically and mentally. Medical researchers have reported that in some cases there is a tendency toward habit formation. In a few cases unpleasant side reactions have occurred. Some users have been depressed rather than calmed. Calm users have become excited. Some reactions have been severe enough to require hospitalization and extensive treatment. And only time can tell whether prolonged use will permanently damage the nervous system.

Last September, some 700 of the nation's foremost authorities on mental illness met to discuss tranquilizers and some of the problems their wide usage had raised. The conference concluded that the drugs do evidently relieve tensions in mentally disturbed persons, but for every research team reporting positive results, another reported failure in trying to duplicate these results.

Certain tranquilizers influence the release of a body chemical called serotonin — a hormone found most heavily concentrated in the brain. What the chemical does is not yet fully understood, but present belief is that it acts as a switch to turn moods on and off by sending impulses of good or bad feeling along the pathways of the central nervous system. Enough serotonin in the brain might actually be a factor in sanity. When the role of this hormone is fully known we may have the final answer as to how certain tranquilizers produce their effects.

More than a dozen tranquilizers are already on the market. Some are used very beneficially in hospitals; others by private physicians in their practice. All are potentially powerful medical tools. But it will take time — perhaps years — to test them thoroughly. Until that day comes, all of us

Chemical Controls Dallisgrass In Bermuda Lawns

COLLEGE STATION—Tribute to Dallisgrass in lawns and parks is ended, and homeowners may rise from their knees and stand like free men!

Rule by this bane of lawn-growers is ended, thanks to a chemical called disodium methyl arsonate. Recent research by Gene Bockholt, a graduate student in the Agronomy Department at Texas A&M shows how to end those unsightly clumps of Dallisgrass without damage to Bermudagrass.

Bockholt's tests show that disodium methyl arsonate gives kills of 90 to 99 percent in Dallisgrass; leaving Bermudagrass strong and healthy. However, he advises against its use on St. Augustine lawns, and cautions against getting it on flowers or shrubs.

Almost anyone who sells lawn supplies can provide disodium methyl arsonate, which is known under a variety of trade names. Here's how you use it:

Mix four to five ounces of the technical material with a wetting agent — such as a common household detergent — in two to four gallons of water, and apply in a fine mist spray from a hand or shoulder-pack sprayer. This amount will cover approximately 1,000 square feet—more actual Dallisgrass area than will be found in the average lawn. It should be applied during periods of lush growth — spring or early summer. After you apply the chemical, wait two to three days before watering your lawn.

would do well to remember that a certain amount of tension and anxiety is a part of normal life. Peace of mind and zestful living do not yet come in pills. It comes from facing our problems and working to solve them. In any event the so-called tranquilizers should only be taken under the direction of a physician.
