Moore.. ABOUT Eastland

By VIRGIL E. MOORE

Jack Muirhead was closing a deal on a new Buick the other day with a gentleman from Bluefield, W. V. who happened to be driving through and saw a new model in Jack's window that he liked. "Now if you'll give me a couple of references that will be all," Muirhead said. "Well," replied the purchaser, "I suppose about the best reference I could give you would be Dwight D. Eisenhower."

"You mean the President?" Muirhead asked. "Yes sir," replied the man. It turned out that Jack's customer was retired Lt. Col. J. A. Hammond who served on Ike's staff during World War II. "Eisenhower is a very personal friend of mine," Hammond told Muirhead. "In fact I have no better friend." That was good enough for Jack.

Hope you didn't forget to attend the highway meeting that was held this afternoon. The meeting called by the Highway Department to give citizens of Eastland, Cisco and Ranger an opportunity to express their opinion on the re-routing of Highway 80 around the three cities. There has been considerable interest shown in the meeting. The Fort Worth Star Telegram, in fact, has asked for complete coverage on the meeting.

Let us again remind local citizens that the Fire Department here owns a practically new rescuator and is on call 24 hours a day. Local citizens clipped in to buy the rescuator and firemen are more than willing to go at all times. This is the time of year when drownings are common. If at anytime a person's breathing stops, we would suggest that one of your first telephone calls be 75.

Someone mailed us a little poem entitled "Ye Editorial Writer." We resent it, of course, but we will reprint it.

His Roget and Bartlett's at his side
Omniscience his trade,
He freely draws his book-lined shelf
The world his oyster, no clam himself.
"Nasser has gone too far!"
Franco is through,
"Governor take heed! Mayor here's what to do!"
"Nixon's stupidity! The President's mistake!"
"We trust the British people will awake."
He looks the powers in the eye each day,
Fearless and brave, a thousand miles away.
Judging alike the living and dead,
Unbending, unafraid, unswerving and unread!

And while dealing out with verse here's one we borrowed from Uncle Mat's monthly letter:

When you're feeling important,
When your ego's in bloom,
When you take it for granted,
You're the best in the room.
When you feel that your going,
Would leave and unfilled hole,
Follow this simple instruction,
And see how it humbles your soul.
Take a bucket and fill it with water,
Put your hand in it up to the wrist,
Pull it out and the hole that's remaining,
Is a measure of how you'll be missed.
You may splash all you please when you enter,
You can stir up the water galore,
But stop and you'll find in a minute,
That it looks quite the same as before.
The moral in this quaint example,
Is to do just the best that you can,
Be proud of yourself but remember,
There's no indispensable man.

Dope and Lewd Charges Faced By Cisco Man

A Cisco man is being held in Eastland County jail in lieu of $2000 bond on a charge of possession of narcotics.

District Attorney Joe Nuesse identified the man as Virgil Hart, a Cisco pharmacist, Hart alleged.

Hillbilly Stars To Be At DeLeon July 4th Picnic

The list of entertainers that will be on hand to entertain the throngs of people that usually attend the DeLeon Lions Club July 4th Picnic reads like a Who's Who in Grande Ole Opry.

According to word from the DeLeon Lions, the entertainers will include Johnny & Jack from the Grand Ole Opry show together with The Tennessee Mountain Boys and Kitty Wells; also Johnny Horton and his group from the Louisiana Hayride; the Foggy River Boys from the Ozark Jubilee; the Plainsmen Quartet from WFAA, Dallas; the Rangers Quartet from KRLL, Dallas; the Wills Family from Arlington; the Thompson Family from Oklahoma City; the Premier Quartet from Houston and also the popular girls' quartet, the Kingdom - heirs from Houston.

The picnic and entertainment is held at Hodges Park at DeLeon and begins at 10 a.m. July 4 and runs until 5 p.m.

Construction Of Lone Cedar Road Underway

Construction got under way this week on the new $94,494.74 section of road from Highway 80 west of Ranger to Lone Cedar Crossing.

A. L. Bucy of Brownwood has the contract, and work is supposed to be finished within 100 working days.

The first step to be taken this week as construction began was taken at Colony Creek, near the filtration plant, where the present bridge is to be eliminated and a brand new one built.

In this immediate area the old road makes a slight "S" curve, and this curve is being straightened as the new bridge is being relocated. It appears that the old bridge will be used as a by-pass until the new one is built.

Also, work has started on building detours around all other bridges that are to be widened. From all appearances the detours will simply be built up by-passes that run down into the ditches and around the bridges.

Underground culverts have also been spotted all up and down the right-of-way of the new road and these will be used in ditches where dirt roads from various farms and farm houses intersect with the main road. Fences and "Road Construction" warning signs have been placed at both ends of the road.

Ice Cream Supper Is Planned By QB Club

Eastland Quarterback Club members voted Tuesday night to turn over a check for $150 to the Teen-age Baseball League here and to hold a giant ice cream supper next Tuesday.

The donation to the Teen-age League came after the League asked Q-backers to purchase balls for the three Eastland teams in the League. The club agreed it would most likely do the League

Many Dairymen At Brucellosis Meet In Ranger

About 60 dairymen from Eastland and surrounding counties attended the meeting in Ranger Tuesday night during which Dr. C. M. Patterson, veterinarian of the A&M College extension service, explained the Brucellosis Law that is to go into effect in about 14 months.

There are two plans under that law, Plan "A" and Plan "B", and all dairymen, everywhere, must sign up to follow at least one of them. The two plans are as follows:

Plan "A" provides for:
1. Test all breeding cattle on premises over six months of age except official vaccinates under 30 months of age.
2. Segregation of any animal showing a suspicious reaction to the blood test until the animal can be retested 30 days later.
3. Vaccination of all heifers to be retained as replacements between four and eight months of age.
4. Adding to the herd only animals that are official calfhood vaccinates or known to be free of brucellosis.
5. Disposal of all infected animals within 15 days of reaction to the blood test.

Leaving On Your Vacation? Don't Tip Off Thieves

Local law enforcement officers have urged citizens who are planning to leave on vacations to avoid leaving tattletale signs around their deserted homes which invite thieves to visit.

Between the peak vacation months of July and August this year it is estimated that some 1500 American homes will be burglarized every 24 hours. Those figures are given by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Local police recommend these pre-vacation steps to thief-proof deserted homes:
(1) Tell the postman about your temporary change in address and cancel milk and newspaper deliveries until you return home. A collection of unopened milk bottles, a stuffed mail box or a pile of newspapers on the front porch is an invitation to burglars who constantly watch for such signals.
(2) Notify police and tell them how long you will be away. The police will keep watch for any signs of unusual activity at your home.
(3) Inform a trustworthy neighbor of your plans and give him your vacation address.
(4) Do not leave cash or valuables in the house unless protected in an approved armored steel money safe. Otherwise place valuables in a bank.
(5) Securely lock all windows and doors. Don't just slam the door. Lock it with a key so the bolt provides added security.

Former Eastland Resident Buried In Rising Star

A former Eastland resident, Mrs. Ruth M. Edwards, 67, was buried Sunday in Rising Star following funeral services at the Church of Nazarene in Cisco.

Rev. D. D. Elliott, officiated at the service, and burial was under direction of Hamner Funeral Home.

Mrs. Edwards died Saturday at 1:30 p.m. following an illness of six months. She moved to Cisco from Eastland about 18 months ago.

Area Draws Two New Oil Traps During Week

Two new oil traps near here have been staked.

The No. 1 W. H. Croft is a wildcat trap being drilled by Harding Brothers of Dallas. The trap is located nine miles northeast of Eastland in Stephens County. Location is 200 feet from the south line and 1200 feet from the west line of Section 4, Block B, TRNO Survey. Proposed depth is 2200 feet to the Strawn sand with rotary.

W. E. and G. R. Tyler have staked the No. 7-A G. P. Brawner as a regular field trap three miles northeast of Rising Star in Eastland County. It will be a 1200 foot rotary trap. Location is 3560 feet from the south line and 150 feet from the east line of Section 25, ETRR Survey on a 240 acre lease.

Area Draws Two New Oil Traps During Week

The ice cream supper will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in city park. Quarterback Club President Wells Dalton urged members to have the meeting to create more interest in the club during summer months. "We almost have perfect attendance here tonight," Dalton declared. "We are only 225 members short of having all of the club's 234 members present."

Membership Goal Of Club Is Almost Met

Eastland Quota Of Eighty Is Complete

Apparently the Lone Cedar Country Club dream will become more than just a dream. This morning, with Eastland leading the way, the goal of 250 members in the Land Company was almost reached. Only 21 more members are now needed.

Eastland, with a goal of 80 members, had oversubscribed its goal. Eighty-four members from this city have already signed on the dotted line. Gorman has also reached its goal of 20, and Rising Star and Strawn have both met their goals. Cisco lacked only nine members of having their goal of 40 while Ranger was

Dr. Whittington Tells Rotarians Of Lone Cedar

Dr. James Whittington of Eastland, spoke before the Ranger Rotary Club Wednesday and told members about the proposed Lone Cedar Country Club now forming, discussing especially the Land Company which must be fully organized before the Social Club can be formed.

Dr. Whittington stressed the fact that although the new Country Club would offer unmatched recreational facilities for its members and their guests, its greatest service would be for the progress of Eastland County as business leaders in all sections would have an opportunity to get together and discuss mutual problems and what to do about them.

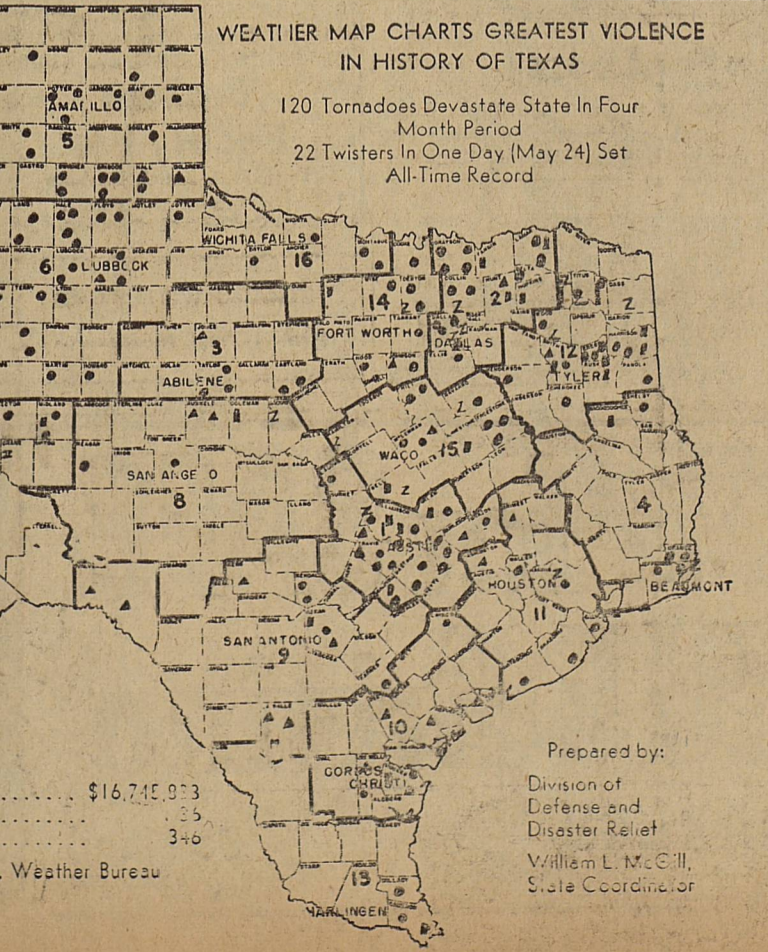

June 30 is the last day in which membership in the Land Company can be obtained, according to Dr. Whittington. He said only two towns were short on their quota of members, Ranger being short 16 and Cisco being short 12.

Eastland, Gorman and Rising Star are all over-subscribed, Dr. Whittington said.

New members added since the last list was published on last Sunday, June 23, include H. C. Westfall, Jim Baird, J. H. Caton, J. D. McElreath, E. E. Freyschlag and Judge Milburn Long, of Eastland; W. E. Tyler and C. C. Rutherford of Rising Star; Dorothy Hatcher of Gorman, and Paul Pettigo and R. J. Caraway of Strawn. Three new members from Cisco have been added including A. Z. Myrick, Joe Lee Moore and Jack Holly.

Dr. Whittington said the membership goal was so nearly over the top he felt sure it would be reached before the deadline next Monday if everybody put forth an effort.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills Nab 12-Lb. Catfish

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mills of Ranger were visitors at the Times Wednesday morning to display a 12-pound yellow catfish they had caught earlier in the day, at Lake Leon. Mrs. Mills said she hung the fish on a regular cane pole and line but had to have some help from Mr. Mills in landing the whopper, which was quite a hunk of fish.

'Tender Years' Policy of Handling Juveniles Should Be Abolished

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover was talking common sense when he said, "We no longer can tolerate the 'tender years' policy in dealing with juveniles." The over-protecting of teenagers who commit serious crimes encourages them and others to commit other law violations.

The quotation from Hoover was given by George Burton, chief FBI agent in Houston, in a speech before members of the National Sheriffs' Ass., in Galveston. Burton quoted Hoover as saying also, with reference to juvenile delinquents, "We must stop protecting them, must print their names, fingerprint them and let their records be known."

Burton urged members of the association to make public the names of juvenile delinquents, except in first offenses or minor delinquencies.

The time has come when juvenile offenders should have their crimes publicized, the same as adults. If the youngster is old enough to commit a serious crime while knowing that he is doing wrong, then he should have his name printed. There is, of course, an age of severance in treating a juvenile as an adult. For example, if a child of 5 picks up a hatchet and kills another child or a parent, he cannot be held accountable legally. The child has not reached the age of reason.

Law can well follow the rule of many churches, making the dividing line of self-determined acts the age of reason.

Youngsters in their teens know the difference between right and wrong. When a 14-year-old robs, assaults or murders, he knows he is doing wrong if he has half-way normal intelligence. The fact that he is only 14 does not mitigate the seriousness of the crime.

When law enforcement agencies drop the "tender years" policy of dealing with juveniles who commit serious crimes, a deterrent to juvenile delinquency will be created.

'Tender Years' Policy of Handling Juveniles Should Be Abolished

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover was talking common sense when he said, "We no longer can tolerate the 'tender years' policy in dealing with juveniles." The over-protecting of teenagers who commit serious crimes encourages them and others to commit other law violations.

The quotation from Hoover was given by George Burton, chief FBI agent in Houston, in a speech before members of the National Sheriffs' Ass., in Galveston. Burton quoted Hoover as saying also, with reference to juvenile delinquents, "We must stop protecting them, must print their names, fingerprint them and let their records be known."

Burton urged members of the association to make public the names of juvenile delinquents, except in first offenses or minor delinquencies.

The time has come when juvenile offenders should have their crimes publicized, the same as adults. If the youngster is old enough to commit a serious crime while knowing that he is doing wrong, then he should have his name printed. There is, of course, an age of severance in treating a juvenile as an adult. For example, if a child of 5 picks up a hatchet and kills another child or a parent, he cannot be held accountable legally. The child has not reached the age of reason.

Law can well follow the rue of many churches, making the dividing line of self-determined acts the age of reason.

Youngsters in their teens know the difference between right and wrong. When a 14-year-old robs, assaults or murders, he knows he is doing wrong if he has half-way normal intelligence. The fact that he is only 14 does not mitigate the seriousness of the crime.

When law enforcement agencies drop the "tender years" policy of dealing with juveniles who commit serious crimes, a deterrent to juvenile delinquency will be created.

Mothers To Be Honored In Home Of Mrs. Lusk

A pink and blue shower honoring Mrs. Glen Hart and Mrs. Weldon Tankersley was given in the home of Mrs. Jack Lusk Tuesday evening. Ladies of the Church of Christ were co-hostesses.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Lusk. They registered in a hand designed baby book by Mrs. J. R. Bogus.

The many useful and lovely gifts were displayed in the bedrooms.

The table was laid in sparkling crystal and silver, on white cut work Irish linen cloth. The center piece was pink roses in crystal bowl, backed by a pleated fan shaped, pastel green net arrangement. Six white candles in a crystal candelabra lighted the table.

Pink punch and blue iced cake squares were served by Mrs. Otto Johnson and Mrs. Josie Nix assisted by other hostesses.

About forty guests registered and others sent gifts.

Let 'er Rain—
... just what we need! But rains may bring destruction also like floods, washouts and automobile accidents. Speaking of auto accidents the latest 1956 statistics reveal that the human error (not the car) was responsible for 96.4 per cent of all fatalities—40,000 of them. Men were drivers in 89.7 per cent of the cases. Week-ends, lead by Saturdays, are the most dangerous, killing 56 per cent. Youthful drivers caused only 25 per cent of the accidents—all others 75 per cent—with the daydreamer listed as the No. 1 headache for department of safety officials.

PICNICS ARE FUN

From time immemorial picnics have had a special heart-warming significance for all of us... the very thought of a picnic stirs the gypsy in us all. Because picnics are fun.

ing of the romantic adventure of a picnic, let us stop and reflect on the romance that goes into the making of a paper napkin. The very trees in the clearings that are the mecca of so many happy, joyful picnickers may be the great-grandchildren of the trees that furnished the pulp that made the paper, that made the napkin we take for granted.

Trees and Paper
Think of the years it takes for a tree to grow to maturity—sturdy and tall—then, like all of us, it must be ready to take its rightful place in the confraternity of nature and yield its place to younger, more fruitful saplings—so that they, too, may grow to maturity and serve nature.

Man's ingenuity has harnessed the gifts of nature and perpetuated its beauty through painstaking experimentation and industry. From the majestic tree to the breath-taking loveliness of an artistic creation is a useful, practical complement to the breaking of bread in any surrounding. This is not so much a mystery as it is a tribute to the cooperation of man and nature in the highest form.

Can an industry so highly conceived in romance neglect its rightful place in the romantic scheme of things? Never! That is why all of the people who make it their lives to produce the very best—artists, converters, pulp mills and many others—have made paper products, and particularly paper napkins, worthy of the heritage that nature has bestowed upon them.

Napkins to Suit
Countless dedicated people have devoted their lives to making paper napkins in every conceivable size, color and pattern—gay, decorative designs to suit every occasion. So that, today, paper napkins are not only an integral part of the American Way of Life, but the envy of the rest of the world at large.

So, the next time the "Call of the open road" stirs in your heart think of the romance of the paper napkin (forget their usefulness and convenience—it's a foregone conclusion you'll pack plenty of them). And when you lean against that tree just pat it and say to yourself—"Thanks, pal, your Grandpa sure made a pretty paper napkin—picnics are FUN!"

Red Cross Explains What to Do When Child's Breathing Suddenly Stops

The 1957 version of a centuries-old method of artificial respiration has been adopted by the American Red Cross for reviving infants and small children whose breathing has stopped. A. W. Cantwell, national director of safety services, announced today.

The technique is known as mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Modern refinements for application to children, Mr. Cantwell explained, were developed through studies, financed by a Red Cross grant, at Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago under the direction of Dr. Archer S. Gordon.

The studies led to a recommendation to the Red Cross by the National Academy of Science-National Research Council that the method be adopted. The mouth-to-mouth technique was used in Biblical times to revive apparently suffocated persons.

When the Red Cross six years ago adopted the back pressure-arm lift method or artificial respiration, Mr. Cantwell recalled, a modification of this method was described for use on small children to lessen chance of injuries to the chest wall.

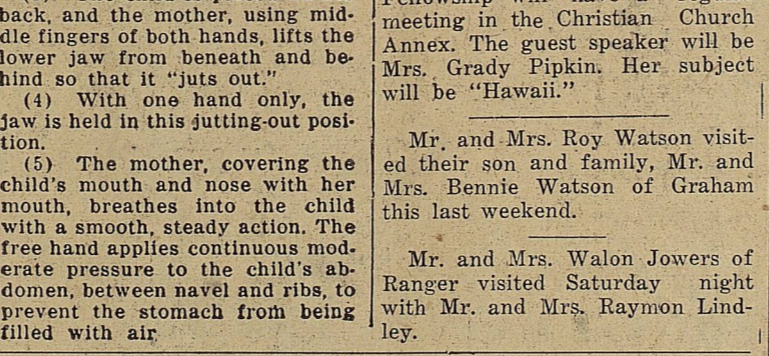

Since 1951, a search has been pursued by the Red Cross for an even safer method, resulting in adoption of the mouth-to-mouth process. One of its great advantages, Mr. Cantwell said, is that the rescuer can tell at any stage of the operation whether it is effective.

Steps in the mouth-to-mouth technique are as follows:

1. Clear the mouth of any foreign matter with the middle finger of one hand. With the same finger hold the tongue forward.
2. Now place the child in a face-down, head-down position and pat him firmly on the back with the free hand. This should help dislodge any foreign object in the air passage.
3. Place the child on his back and use the middle fingers of both hands to lift the lower jaw from beneath and behind so that it "juts out."
4. Hold the jaw in the position described in Step 3, using one hand only.
5. Place your mouth over the child's mouth and nose, making a relatively leakproof seal. Breathe into the child with a smooth steady action until you observe the chest rise. As you start this action, move the free hand to the child's abdomen, between the navel and the ribs, and apply continuous moderate pressure to prevent the stomach from becoming filled with air.
6. When the lungs have been inflated, remove your lips from the child's mouth and nose and allow the lungs to empty. Repeat this cycle keeping one hand beneath the jaw and the other hand pressing on the stomach at all times. Continue at a rate of about 20 cycles per minute. After every 20 cycles the operator should rest long enough to take one deep breath. If any time you feel resistance to your breathing into the child and the chest does not rise, repeat Step 2 then quickly resume mouth-to-mouth breathing.

The question often arises concerning the technique to use on adults when the chest cage is injured and compression of the chest would do further damage or when fractured upper extremities would eliminate the expansion phase of "push-pull" techniques. The mouth-to-mouth or mouth-to-nose technique may be used in these cases; however, the cycle should be slower than that used for children. Approximately 12 cycles per minute should be adequate. The lower jaw must be held in the "jutting out" position with both hands at all times.

WHAT TO DO WHEN BREATHING STOPS

These five figures illustrate, from top to bottom, the steps in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation now being taught in Red Cross First Aid courses.

(1) Mother, using middle finger of one hand, clears child's mouth of any foreign matter. With same finger, she holds the tongue forward.

(2) Mother places child in a face-down, head-down, position, and pats him firmly on the back with the free hand, to help dislodge any foreign object in the air passage.

(3) The child is placed on his back, and the mother, using middle fingers of both hands, lifts the lower jaw from beneath and behind so that it "juts out."

(4) With one hand only, the jaw is held in this jutting-out position.

(5) The mother, covering the child's mouth and nose with her mouth, breathes into the child with a smooth, steady action. The free hand applies continuous moderate pressure to the child's abdomen, between navel and ribs, to prevent the stomach from being filled with air.

PICNICS ARE FUN

From time immemorial picnics have had a special heart-warming significance for all of us. The very thought of a picnic stirs the gypsy in us all. Because picnics are fun.

Whether it be a boy and girl in love, wanting nothing but to be alone with each other and commune with the great outdoors; old-timers seeking the informality of a get-together in congenial surroundings; or a group of pre-school tots—the appeal of a picnic is universal.

Time was when great plans and preparations had to be made far in advance for such a gala event. In recent years, however, modern innovations in transportation, refrigeration and accessories have contributed greatly to the ease and convenience of that "spur of the moment" impulse to get into the country, or to the beach, for that rollicking, joyful release from the work-a-day world.

Choose Setting
But a picnic consists of more than just a hamper of food and a place to eat it. No matter how enchanting the location, it cannot help but be enhanced by an attractive setting. And what could enhance the surroundings better than gay, useful, practical paper napkins. Today, paper napkins are endorsed by experts on etiquette for even the most formal dinners. How much more useful—yes, necessary, these paper napkins are for informal entertaining and especially picnics.

We are prone to take things like "good old paper napkins" for granted. But while we are thinking of the romantic adventure of a picnic, let us stop and reflect on the romance that goes into the making of a paper napkin.

The very trees in the clearings that are the mecca of so many happy, joyful picnickers may be the great-grandchildren of the trees that furnished the pulp, that made the paper, that made the napkin we take for granted.

Trees and Paper
Think of the years it takes for a tree to grow to maturity—sturdy and tall—then, like all of us, it must be ready to take its rightful place in the continuity of nature and yield its place to younger, more fruitful saplings—so that they, too, may grow to maturity and serve nature.

Man's ingenuity has harnessed the gifts of nature and perpetuated its beauty through painstaking experimentation and industry. From the majestic tree to the breath-taking loveliness of an artistic creation is a useful, practical complement to the breaking of bread in any surrounding. This is not so much a mystery as it is a tribute to the cooperation of man and nature in the highest form.

Can an industry so highly conceived in romance neglect its rightful place in the romantic scheme of things? Never! That is why all of the people who make it their lives to produce the very best—artists, converters, pulp mills and many others—have made paper products, and particularly paper napkins, worthy of the heritage that nature has bestowed upon them.

Napkins to Suit
Countless dedicated people have devoted their lives to making paper napkins in every conceivable size, color and pattern—gay, decorative designs to suit every occasion. So that, today, paper napkins are not only an integral part of the American Way of Life, but the envy of the rest of the world at large.

So, the next time the "Call of the open road" stirs in your heart think of the romance of the paper napkin (forget their usefulness and convenience—it's a foregone conclusion you'll pack plenty of them). And when you lean against that tree just pat it and say to yourself—"Thanks, pal, your Grandpa sure made a pretty paper napkin—picnics are FUN!"

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Gene Reynolds was the "boy chief of police" in Ranger during the oil boom.

a six-shooter. This individual proclaimed, "I'm the toughest blankety blank in this state."

When he entered the lobby of a big hotel in a Southern city, he was startled.

The man with the six-shooter looked around and saw Reynolds, who thought, "He's liable to decide this is a fine opportunity to get even."

For a long minute their eyes met and then the man with the gun turned around and said, "Ladies and gentleman, I'm not the toughest man in this state; I'm the next to the toughest and I can prove it by him; he's the toughest!"

One of the tragedies of my early boyhood was that I wanted a turtle-neck sweater but never got one.

Theodore Roosevelt did not want the vice presidential nomination. He referred to the office as a "sepulchre."

In horse back days in Arkansas, the standard greeting when a rider rode up to a farmhouse was "Light" (meaning "alight") "and look at your saddle."

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt gratitude to our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and the beautiful floral offering in the loss of our beloved one.

Your expressions of sympathy will always be treasured. The family of Sid Arther.

Gene Reynolds was the "boy a six-shooter. This individual proclaimed, "I'm the toughest blankety blank in this state." Reynolds recognized him as having been the worst of Ranger's "bad men". The last time they had met was in the Ranger police station when the gunman had been given hours to get out of town—and he had "got".

The man with the six-shooter looked around and saw Reynolds, who thought, "He's liable to decide this is a fine opportunity to get even." (No longer an officer, Reynolds did not carry a pistol).

For a long minute their eyes met and then the man with the gun turned around and said, "Ladies and gentleman, I'm not the toughest man in this state; I'm the next to the toughest and I can prove it by him; he's the toughest" and he indicated Reynolds. The latter smiled and said, "Now, Bob, you've made your point, so I suggest you put up your gun," which he did. "And then," Reynolds relates, "I took the first full breath I'd had since entering the lobby."

One of the tragedies of my early boyhood was that I wanted a turtle-neck sweater but never got one.

Theodore Roosevelt did not want the vice presidential nomination. He referred to the office as a "sepulchre."

MRS. O. G. LANIER, JR.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Halliday, O. G. Lanier, Jr.

Miss Virgie Dean Halliday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Halliday, of Ranger, became the bride of O. G. Lanier, Jr., of Midland, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Lanier, Sr., also of Ranger, at 4:00 p.m. Sunday, June 23, in the Ranger Church of Christ.

Mr. O. G. Lanier, Sr., father of the groom, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with greenery and baskets of white gladioli and white tapers.

Wedding music was provided by an acapello group from Abilene Christian College under the direction of Dr. Leonard Burford. Selections were "O Perfect Love," "Because," "Wedding March," "Father Hear the Prayer We Offer," and "Recessional."

The bridegroom was attended by his brother-in-law, Walter Pruitt, of Midland as best man. Ushers were Robert McKinney, Midland, Ronnie Carroll, Ranger, and Scotty Witt, Amarillo.

Mrs. Edna Carroll, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Patsy Halliday, sister of the bride, and J. A. Lightfoot, Odessa. The Matron of Honor and the Bridesmaids wore waltz length gowns of blue lace over blue taffeta, fashioned with a blue satin cummerbund. The Matron of Honor carried a crescent bouquet of blue chiffon daisies and the bridesmaids carried nosegays of blue chiffon daisies encircled in nylon tulle.

The flower girl, Christine Stott, carried a white basket filled with white flower petals. She wore a blue taffeta dress with a bouffant skirt. Her hair was held back with a band of blue daisies.

The ring bearer, Mark Branam, carried a white satin pillow decorated with orange blossoms and two tiny love birds.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin and alencon lace fashioned with a bateau neckline, embroidered with seed pearls. The full skirt extended into a chapel train. The lace sleeves were tapered to a point at the wrist and buttoned with tiny satin buttons.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a satin Juliet cap outlined in seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet consisted of a white lace covered Bible topped with gardenias, white satin streamers, and Stephanotis.

The bride carried out the tradition of "something old, something new". For something old, she wore an antique pearl necklace; for something borrowed, she carried a lace covered Bible which was also carried by Mrs. W. J. Graham of Aberdeen, Md. For the traditional blue, a wedding garter was worn. Her wedding gown and veil were the "new", and she wore a lucky coin in her shoe.

Mrs. Halliday wore a Champagne lace sheath dress fashioned with champagne satin cummerbund, and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Lanier, Sr., wore a pink lace dress embroidered with tiny rhinestones on the bodice, and a corsage of white gardenias.

Reception Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, at 1201 Desdemona Blvd. Guests were received by Mrs. Halliday, Mrs. E. K. Webb, grandmother of the bride, Mrs. O. G. Lanier, Sr., the bride and groom, and the bride's attendants. Guests were registered in a white leather musical bride's book. Mrs. Walter Pruitt, sister of the groom, presided at the registry table.

The bride's table was laid with an imported white linen cloth. The centerpiece consisted of white chiffon daisies arranged in a silver epergne, flanked by blue tapers in low silver candelabra. Guests were served wedding cake, fruit punch, and mixed nuts from crystal and silver service.

Floral arrangements throughout the house carried out the blue and white theme.

When the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Grand Canyon, Arizona, and Utah, Mrs. Lanier wore a Navy blue suit with navy and white accessories. After July 7, the couple will make their home at 701 Michigan, Midland, Texas.

Mrs. Lanier graduated from Barstow High School, and received her B. A. Degree from Texas Christian University. She taught school in Odessa during the past year.

The bridegroom graduated from Ranger High School and received his degree from Abilene Christian College, and did graduate work at the University of Texas. While serving in the U. S. Army he received his diploma from the U. S. Army Finance School. He is employed with Great Western Drilling Co., in Midland.

Among the out-of-town guests were those mentioned and Mrs. Joel Halliday and Mrs. E. K. Webb, Eldorado, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCanness, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Stott, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bray, Mrs. Louise Wood, Mrs. Bruce Wolford, all of Fort Worth; Mrs. Geneviva Walston, Altus, Okla.; Mrs. Beadie Adams, Snyder, Okla.; Miss Enoia Harlin, Haskell; Mr. John Woolrad, Alvarado; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Reece, Abilene; and Mr. and Mrs. Allen D. Dabney, Eastland.

Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Lanier, Sr., entertained in their home, Saturday evening with a rehearsal dinner, honoring members of the Halliday, Lanier wedding party.

The buffet dinner, consisting of a salad plate, was served from a table appointed with handpainted china and silver and centered with an arrangement of majestic daisies with satin streamers featuring the wedding couples names and the wedding date.

Those attending were: Miss Dean Halliday, bride-elect; Gilbert Lanier, bridegroom elect; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Halliday, Patsy Halli-

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a satin julet cap outlined in seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet consisted of a white lace covered Bible topped with gardenias, white centerpiece consisted of white chiffon daisies arranged in a silver epergne, flanked by blue tapers in low silver candelabra. Guests were served wedding cake, fruit punch, and mixed nuts from crystal and silver service.

Mrs. Lanier graduated from Barstow High School, and received her B. A. Degree from Texas Christian University. She taught school in Odessa during the past year.
