

MAGAZINE PREDICTS ANOTHER BOOM AHEAD FOR AMERICANS

Another boom lies ahead, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, and one way to get in on it is to invest in stocks that will share in the next big period of America's growth. In the lead article in the October issue of the publication, the editors say:

for their optimism, have consistently under-rated their own future. Benjamin Franklin thought it would take hundreds of years to settle the American continent. And only a few years ago economic forecasters thought it would take until 1960 to attain a goal of 60 million jobs and 155 million population. Today, 1960 is still six years away but instead of 155 million people in 1960 there are 162 million now. There will be many more than 60 million employed in 1960 because there are 62 million employed already.

"Two big batteries are being charged for the next economic spurt. They are the dynamic increase in population and the tremendous research program being operated by industry and government."

"The growth in population is full of potentialities for business. Families are not only growing, but over the past 15 years their buying power expressed in real income has increased tremendously. In a country where business is aggressively seeking new customers under a system of free enterprise, and constantly devising new products to sell, a population rise spells business activity."

"The other big prime mover that is storing up energy for the next boom is research. Industry and government together spend three or four billion dollars a year hunting for new products, new materials and new methods. Each new discovery opens up the possibility for more."

"New products, materials and methods plus more people with money — those are the ingredients that seem destined to make another boom." The article contains a thumbnail description of 26 sample companies that will be most likely to share in the next period of growth. And the advice to investors is this: "Select your stocks with such expert advice as you can get do not expect to make a killing in the next few months or even years; invest regularly through dollar cost averaging; think of your investment in long range terms."

What's The Score?
By Virgil Moore

We batted a pitiful .500 last week in the guessing department, to bring our dragging average for the year down even more. That makes our average for the year a mere .687, with 46 correct predictions out of 67 tries.

This week we are shooting for the one thousand mark in an effort to add a few percentage points to that .687 affair.

Three District 7-A games are on tap, and all are district affairs. Dublin will journey to Rising Star in quest of their first win, Cross Plains will be in Wylie, and Clyde will visit Eastland.

Although Rising Star has a record of four wins and one loss and Dublin hasn't won yet, we will stick with the Lions. The lone Rising Star loss was a 12-6 setback at the hands of strong Baird, and the Wildeats will be favored. We pick Dublin by a score of 20 to 12.

The Cross Plains Wylie game should be a snap. Cross Plains is undefeated while Wylie has only one game in five starts. We see Cross Plains winning 33-6.

The Eastland-Clyde game will probably mean the end to one of the two team's hopes for a District 7-A title. Clyde was rated high in pre-season polls, but has not done as well as expected. Eastland's 0-5 record is worse than the Bulldogs' two wins, three losses and one tie slate so far, and Clyde will be favored. We climb out on the limb this time, however, and pick Eastland to win 13-7. And that's despite the fact that Eastland will not be in good physical shape for the game.

In other area games, we pick Cisco to upend Ranger, Comanche to take DeLeon, Rochelle over Carbon, and Gorman to bump South Taylor.

In college games we like Tarleton State over let-down Ranger J.C., Arkansas to move past Mississippi, Baylor to bear the facts to A&M, S.M.U. over Kansas, and Texas Christian over Penn.

P.S. — If you are betting, it's best to pick 'em just the opposite.

Teach Children To Walk Safely And Stay Alive

Nearly all parents begin to feel a touch of misgivings as soon as their youngster begins to walk. A new worry, teaching their child to be safe in the streets, is upon them.

The November issue of Better Homes & Gardens Magazine tells how you can solve the problem of keeping your child out of the streets.

Children are great imitators and they watch how their parents cross busy streets. If the parent will cross at intersections with the light, the children will copy their practice at an early age. Teach them early to cross the streets. As soon as they are able to walk, they will be interested in seeking new adventure. And good safety rules impressed upon them at an early age are lasting.

water and plant life. Most towns and communities exist only because they are business centers for surrounding farms and ranches, the booklet explained.

"Everyone gains when soil, water and plant life are properly tended. As they are depleted, these communities become poor markets for the goods that are produced and the services that are sold," the pamphlet explained.

According to Atomic Energy Commission chairman Lewis L. Strauss, electricity for the home "too cheap to meter" may be available within a generation, if atomic power development is pursued vigorously.

PROCLAMATION

For the past 100 years Texas has been indebted to a group of citizens who have dedicated themselves to the cause of youth—the teachers in our public schools. The responsibility of the teachers is an important one.

They must have adequate training in their fields of endeavor and they must have enthusiasm for their work. They must have a sincere and sympathetic interest in young people and in teaching.

Their influence is far-reaching, for they lay the foundations of tomorrow.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, in recognition of the splendid work of the public school teachers of Texas, do hereby designate October 17-23, 1954, as Teacher Appreciation Week and call upon the citizens of the State to show their appreciation of the teachers with appropriate observance.

Gov. Allan Shivers.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction
...with Trigger-Torque performance

You'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top . . . and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned . . . power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up . . . by power, if you like. There is a tachometer . . . and a clock with a sweep second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

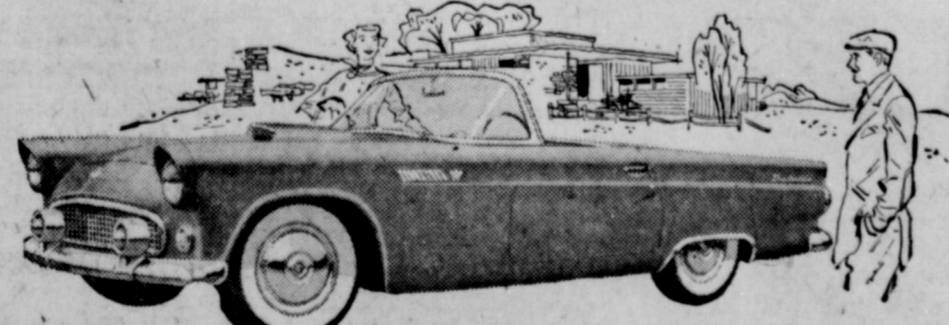

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response . . . fleet, liquid agility . . . backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.

But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering . . . the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.

Ranger Junior College Homecoming Tilt Set For Saturday Night, Oct. 23

Four of the five teams comprising the Pioneer Conference begin league warfare in earnest this Saturday with action slated in circuit competition. The Banner game matches the Ranger Junior College Rangers and the Tarleton State Plowboys in the Rangers homecoming tilt.

The Ranger-Tarleton State set to be interesting from several angles. The Rangers defeated 36-7 by San Angelo last Saturday must win this one to stay in contention for the loop crown this season. A victory for Tarleton State would indicate that the Plowboys must be ranked with San Angelo as one of the conference teams most likely to battle it out with the ASC Rebels for the championship this year.

Tarleton's Plowboys dropped a close 34-27 decision to the strong Hardin-Simmons Frosh last Saturday. In the other conference tilt ASC Rebels visit Kerville for a bout with Schreiner Institute's Mountaineers. The Rebel-Mountaineer contest will be the first conference game of the season for both ASC and Schreiner. The Rebs, winners of five straight non-loop tilts this season and now the only junior college club in Texas to remain undefeated and untied, will be favored over the Mountaineers. Schreiner, however, sounded a sharp warning to league rivals last Thursday by defeating the strong Southwest Texas State Reserve, 21-16, and is expected to be especially rugged on its home field. ASC unended Del Mar, previous victors over Schreiner, 25-20, last Saturday at Corpus Christi. It was the twelfth straight victory for the Rebs who are defending conference champions.

At the half-way mark in the Pioneer Conference campaign, the Rangers despite a 36-7 setback at the hands of San Angelo last Saturday, continue to be the league's leading offensive team with a total gain from scrimmage of 1,511 yards in five games. They are closely pressed by the undefeated and united ASC Rebels who have 1,486 yards offensively in five games. ## Same Story At Prison Rodeo: Bulls Prove Much Too Tough HUNTSVILLE — Convict cowboys opening the 23rd annual Prison Rodeo here October 3rd had better control of the wild broncs than in previous years, but in the wild bull riding contest it was the same old story.

Opening day crowds for the famous penitentiary show were smaller than any for the past ten years. Counting some 3,000 white-clad convict fans, attendance was estimated at 15,000 persons. Those spectators, who braved the 90-degree heat, were, however, highly pleased with the show and showed their approval with hearty applause throughout the two-hour long performance. The inmate riders proved their mettle in all horse riding events by riding 13 out of 20 bareback mounts and 8 of the 16 saddle broncs released from the chutes. The wild Brahman bulls, however, once more had their day with the convict cowhands and only 4 of the 18 riders managed to complete their eight-second rides.

Outside of the usual riding events, inmate Marion Frazier, both a contestant and clown for the show, came up with two performing dogs and a deer, caught wild in the Ramsey farm pastures and trained to jump a hurdle with a monkey on his back. All trained by Frazier in his spare time from his prison duties, these prison raised animals proved a crowd pleasing act. For a wind-up to the two-hour show, Bill Kennedy, inmate parachutist, made a delayed opening drop from a plane some 2,000 feet overhead and landed some two blocks north of Prison Stadium. This was Kennedy's 130th jump in a long career of exhibition jumping that began in 1939.

In addition to the convict riding events there were specialty acts by the nationally known Hendricks Family troupe that featured a pony act, roman jumping, lancing horses and a comedy mule act. Trick riders were the Lamb Sisters, Tad and Betty from Dallas, Tad Lucas, Fort Worth, and Ruby Tacker, Corsicana. A mounted square dance routine was furnished by the Gregg County Mounted Quadrille, Longview, who made their 129th public appearance at the show. Governor Allan Shivers, scheduled to open the show, was detained on the West Coast and missed the first Prison Rodeo Opening since taking the Governor's office. Prison Board chairman, French Robertson, Abilene, said the chief executive would attend one of the series of Sunday shows yet to come. Both prison officials and inmate performers are optimistic about attendance for the remaining dates of the show and predict

Stephenville Plans Celebration Of 100th Birthday October 27-31

STEPHENVILLE (Sp.) — Local citizens are showing all plans into high gear for Stephenville's greatest birthday party — an official five day celebration which will mark the town's 100th birthday anniversary. For the most part it will be turning the pages of history backward as the local citizenry pays tribute to the pioneers of yesterday, who gave Stephenville a spot on the map a hundred years ago. Centennial Chairman Clinton Cox has outlined a program for the five days, October 27-31, with the following highlights:

Oct. 27 — The Centennial will officially open with a parade of floats, bands, covered wagons, etc., at 9:30 a.m. WFAA Saturday Night Shindig — Early Birds — 7:30 p.m.

Oct. 28 — Another parade is being planned to start at 4:30 p.m. A historical pageant, "Stephenville in Review," will be presented at 7:30 p.m.

Oct. 29 — A school parade is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Stephenville High School will meet Cisco High School in a football game at Tarleton Stadium at 8:00 p.m. An old fiddlers contest and beard and costume judging will be held in the city recreation hall starting at 7:30 p.m. Bewley Chuck Wagon Gang will present a program also.

Oct. 30 — A band parade is slated for 10:00 a.m. Tarleton State College will play Schreiner Institute in a Tarleton Homecoming football game at Tarleton Stadium at 1:30 p.m. The final presentation of "Stephenville in Review" will be offered at 7:30 p.m. Dances, round and square, will start at 9:00 p.m.

Oct. 31 — Morning church services in all local churches. Old fashioned singing in the city recreation hall from 1:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. Dr. Robert E. Goodrich, Jr., of the Dallas First Methodist Church, will deliver a sermon at community church service. In addition to the above, a complete program of fair activities—judging, shows, exhibits, attractions, etc., will be offered at the fairgrounds.

Participants in the opening day parade will be judged in three classes — Most Beautiful, Most Fitting to 1854, and Most Unique. Cash awards of $15.00 for first, and $10.00 for second, will be given in each class.

Judges, on the final day, will select a float as being the "Most Outstanding of All Parades" and the winner will receive $25.00.

Tickets for the Stephenville in Review pageant, reserved and general admission, are now on sale and may be purchased from either the Parent-Teacher's Association or at the Chamber of Commerce Office. There is a limited number of reserve seats.

TAYLOR TO ATTEND ANNUAL MUNICIPALITIES CONVENTION

Eastland City Manager A. E. Taylor will be among the record-breaking number of city officials due to converge on Fort Worth this week-end for the 42nd Annual Convention of the League of Texas Municipalities. The convention will be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Joining the main League for the three-day convalesce will be nine Affiliated Departmental Organizations composed of municipal department heads whose business programs have been nicely integrated with the overall Convention plan.

Advance information on subjects to be covered in business sessions, on featured speakers enlisted from as far away as New York and California and on entertainment events for delegates and wives brought an early influx of reservation requests which have kept local arrangements committees busy since late spring.

Numerous problems generated by the rapid growth of Texas cities will be analyzed by authorities in addresses and by practicing city officials in round-table sessions. Especially significant among topics to be discussed are governmental relationships, city planning, league problems, public utility regulation, traffic, personnel administration, public works, training for public employees, tax assessing and property valuations, finance, water, social security, and the place of cities and towns in Texas' system of government.

The League is composed of 572 member cities and towns, assuring full representation of all sections of the State at the Annual

You Can Drive Safely If You Follow The Rules

Too many automobile accidents today are caused by a lack of courtesy on the part of the driver... especially when driving on roads where there are a considerable amount of hills.

The November issue of Better Homes and Gardens Magazine lists four rules that can help you stay alive in your automobile when you are driving on hilly roads.

The first rule is don't speed when you are approaching a hill. You might get over the hill and find an onrushing car in your lane. Or there may be a stalled vehicle just over the rise.

The second rule is don't follow the car in front of you too closely when you are going over a hill. If the car ahead should suddenly stop, you are liable to crash into the rear of it.

Another rule is to be sure and keep on your side of the road. Give the potential road-hog who may be coming over from the other side plenty of room.

Rule number four says to carefully watch all traffic signs on hills. There are many hills that have sharp curves or dangerous intersections on the other side.

Gossett Says State Building Is Overcrowded

"Our State Capitol Building has been overcrowded and partitioned to the point of absurdity," Ed Gossett of Dallas, former congressman and chairman of the State Courts Housing Committee of the State Bar of Texas, told members of the Corpus Christi Kiwanis Club Wednesday.

Gossett spoke in behalf of Amendment Four which will be voted on November 2 and will transfer surplus money from the Confederate Pension Fund to a State Building fund to construct a State Court and State Office building. He said, "We will get more and better service from state officers and agencies when they have adequate and decent places in which to work."

Gossett emphasized that no additional taxes are necessary to build the buildings and that $250,000 would be saved each year by moving agencies now housed outside the capitol in rented space into a new state-owned office building.

"Amendment Number Four permits the Legislature to use the surplus of the Confederate Pension Fund to relieve the State building shortage. When this is done, the State Capitol can get rid of its partitions and lean-tos and can again become a structure in which all Texans take pride," he said.

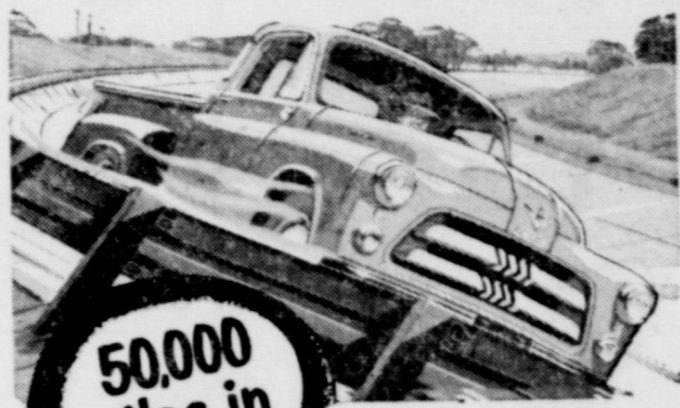

His address to the Corpus Christi civic club was one in a series being made around the state in support of Amendment Number Four and other amendments. He was in Amarillo last week at the United Daughters of the Confederacy convention where that group's endorsement of Amendment Number Four was repeated. It has also been endorsed by four former governors and seven former attorney generals.

Comic magazine publishers have banded together and appointed juvenile delinquency authority Charles F. Murphy, of New York City, as "czar" to enforce a new code of ethics banning horror and terror "comic."
