MOORE about... EASTLAND by Virgil E. Moore

We have heard what sounded like a public address system booming in the front office Monday, and realized immediately that E. K. Henderson was back in town. E. K. was eager for news of the Lakeside Country Club golf tourney. He jotted down the date—June 28-29—saying he planned to return for the tourney if at all possible. The course just hasn't seemed the same since E. K. moved away. You could be putting on number 6 and hear Henderson laugh when his opponent made a bad shot way over on one.

Just lots of folks have told us that getting Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collins back in town is really a feather in this city's cap. Mr. and Mrs. Collins have purchased Modern Dry Cleaners. They will return in about a month to actively run the business. Both are natives of Eastland, and both sure seem like nice people.

Some reader dropped us a note the other day telling us why "things are so tough nowadays." He went on to point out that with a population of 160,000,000 million, the United States has 62,000,000 people over 60, 54,000,000 youngsters under 21, 21,000,000 people working for the government, 10,000,000 men and women in the services, 12,800,000 working for the states, 126,000 folks in hospitals, 62,000,000 bums and 11,998 people in jail. Addressing up his figures, he found that left only two people to do the work.

"Looks like you and I are carrying the load," he reasoned. Not to us it doesn't! He's too busy writing folks letters to work, and we're too busy reading 'em."

Judge Esco Walters, newest member of the Court of Civil Appeals here, seemed to be running over with humor Monday when he spoke to local Rotarians.

O. H. Dick was program chairman for the day, and the good Judge took the opportunity to take a few shots at the Telegram publisher. The Judge pointed out that Dick had suggested he throw in a few jokes about the Court of Civil Appeals. He said, however, that there is little humor to be had in the courtroom since lawyers come before the Court with serious things on their minds.

"In fact, about the funniest things I hear about the Court are the things I read in the newspaper," he joshed. The Judge said he did know of one case in Fort Worth where a Court of Appeals was hearing a case appealed from a lower court. The lawyer who had appealed the case, it seemed, was worried about the outcome, and in his anxiety, he pulled out a plug of tobacco and cut him off a chew. The Chief Justice of the Court saw what happened and asked the attorney if he could have a chew himself.

The lawyer, naturally, eagerly cut the good Judge a big hunk and felt somewhat better about his case. The two attorneys on the other side of the fence didn't like what they saw a bit, though.

About two weeks later the opinion was handed down in favor of the tobacco chewer. The two opposing attorneys, to say the least, were quite unhappy. One turned to the other and asked, "Do you suppose the Judge reversed our case just because Tom gave him a plug of tobacco?" "No," the other replied, "but that would have been a lot better reason than he gave in his opinion."

Don't forget to go out tonight to the first local Teenage League game and let the boys know you are for them. You'll see some top-notch action, believe us.

Gray Matter

By JOE GRAY
We've now got a new crop of high school graduates up on the hill. Eastland has graduated as fine a group of young people as ever received a diploma from any school.

This year's class is one of the finest ever to graduate from our favorite high school.

But graduations these days aren't like they used to be. Nowadays things are a little better financially than they were a few years ago. When Henry Van Geem Sr. took his diploma from E. H. S. in 1931 things were pretty rough in the business world.

I was up at Henry's house the other day looking over Little Henry's (Henry Van Geem, Jr.) spread of graduation gifts. He's got so many presents spread all over one table, one bed, some of them under the bed, and on a chair that he hasn't a place to sleep. For three days Little Henry has had to sleep standing or start using some of his presents.

Big Henry told the boy he couldn't use them until after he was formerly graduated, so the poor boy has been standing ever since. Standing up to sleep is quite an art; it takes practice to be able to do it.

Henry's presents, though, do make quite a display. Little Henry got a lot more graduation presents than his dad got. I know well what his father got because the two of us graduated together from the schoolhouse on the hill. Big Henry got the same thing I got. And I well remember what I got — a second helping of black-eyed peas with butter on the corn-bread.

Every time I think about that graduation feast my mouth waters. That was one of the finest feasts I've ever tasted. And at the time I was happy to get a second helping of black-eyes. There is no finer eating on the face of any plate than a second helping of black-eyes.

Little Henry, though, did better than his father did when the old man was at the same stage of life. Little Henry's got sport shirt, and dress shirts laid out like a department store. Actually, he's got more shirts than Carl Johnson has. That boy shouldn't need to buy another shirt now until about his sophomore or junior year in college. He's also got a lot of fine luggage to carry his shirts in.

That's how times have changed in the past few years. When Big Henry and I decided to go any place back in the days when we were fresh out of high school we didn't get some nice shirts in a piece of fine luggage and take (Continued On Page Five)

Eastland High 1958 Seniors Get Diplomas

'Important Goal' Is Reached, Reese Says

"Our needs always come from within," Mike Reese, valedictorian of the 1958 Eastland High School Senior Class, reminded his classmates last night at commencement service held in the High School auditorium. Reese's reminder came after he pointed out that, "We have reached an important goal in our life."

He said the time was here to make an "important decision." The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reese, Mike completed four years of school work with an average of 94.5. Miss Sidney Seale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Seale, was salutatorian with a 94.1 average.

Miss Seale admitted she had memorized a speech for the occasion, but words came from her heart too fast for the memorized part of her salutatorian address to be uttered.

"You all have a particular reason for being here," she told the overflow audience, "and we love you for it." Miss Seale asked parents and friends of the graduate to continue to give their "guidance and leadership."

High School Principal Charles Marshall announced that the Senior Class will leave the school a public address system for the auditorium and new rails for the steps leading to the auditorium.

Marshall presented perfect attendance certificates to a number of students, including one senior, Henry Van Geem Jr.

The Silver Thimble Award, presented annually by the Thursday Afternoon Club to the most outstanding Home Demonstration student, was awarded Ann Robertson.

Patsy Keith won the General Mills Betty Crocker award. The outstanding agricultural student of the year was Clinton Ray Humphreys.

Mike Lisenbeck received the Daughters of the American Revolution award for the outstanding record in American History.

Sidney Seale was recognized as the outstanding senior girl by the DAR.

Reese, as valedictorian, received his choice of a scholarship to any church related college or State college and Miss Seale received a scholarship to any church related college.

Other senior honor students besides Mike and Sidney—with averages of 90 or above, were Ronald Robertson, Terry Gattis, Sue Day, Anne Pittman, Johnny McMahon, Sarah Sims and Juan Jay Smith.

Also receiving their diplomas from Herbert T. Weaver were Christine Flourney, Sandra Lynn Cox, Mildred Day, Dot Massengale, Janice Jones, Mickey Lowrance, Ella Joy Walker, Victor Miller, Jerry Cate, Merrell Rainwater, Barbara N. Brock, Hampton Stamey, Geraldine Brinkley, Henry Van Geem Jr., Lanny Lee, Bill Norwood, Ladell May, Kenneth Watson, Freddie Tucker, Marian Louise Woods, Leo Murray, Linda Hallenbeck, David Carothers, Bobbie Love, Charles Thorsen, Patsy Keith, Martha Kay Connell and Saul Pullman.

Lake Leon Fish Reports Good

Fishing at Lake Leon picked up during the past week with some good catches, according to recent reports.

Glen Herring, Ranger, caught a four-pound channel cat on a trot line, according to a report from Frank and Earle's Lodge. Ernest Hood, of Olden, landed eight bass weighing between three and four pounds while casting with a "jitter-bug." Boone Yarbrough, of Ranger, caught three bass weighing four pounds each, with two (Continued on Page Five)

Crash Survivor In Hospital

David Eugene Alkire, the lone survivor of the fiery crash near Ranger Saturday morning, was sent to St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth later Saturday.

His condition was described as "fair" by the attending physician. His lower ribs were separated from his spine.

The Alkire family were on their way to California, with plans to visit Disneyland while on vacation. They lived in Haltom City.

Viril Vaughn Dawson, 48, of Dallas, the truck driver who was killed in the crash, was on his way home from Odessa. He left Thursday night on his first job in two months.

V. G. Poingtlexter, brother-in-law to Mr. Alkire, with his wife and two children was driving about 200 feet ahead of the Alkires at the time of the accident. They were going to visit relatives at Compton, Calif., and other places on the West Coast.

When David is released from the Fort Worth hospital, he may find a home with Poingtlexter. The uncle said he hoped to be able to take him to his house.

Thrown out of the car, at the time of the collision, was Mrs. Alkire, who hit a guard post, David and Deborah. Dead in the flaming wreckage were Mr. Alkire, Darrell, (Continued On Page Five)

Telephone Report Expected In Next 30 to 90 Days

A report on the request for a tri-city telephone exchange for Eastland, Ranger and Cisco is expected in 30 to 60 days, W. H. McAnnally, district manager, said today.

McAnnally said he had received that word from his headquarters recently.

An effort is being made to have a phone hookup which would give the three towns local service between cities.

Through-out the convention program, emphasis will be given to the opportunities which Rotarians around the world have to work for the achievement of one of the principal goals of Rotary—the advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace.

Appeals Court Opinions Almost Always Correct

Ninety-seven percent of the opinions handed down by the Eleventh District Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland are upheld by the State Supreme Court, Judge Esco Walters, associate justice, told Eastland Rotarians Monday.

Judge Walters, newest member of the Court, was introduced by Judge Cecil Collins, also an associate justice. Program chairman for the day was O. H. Dick.

Judge Walters pointed out that the Appeals Court here is one of 11 such courts in the state. The Eleventh District is comprised of 23 counties, bordered on the north within one county of Oklahoma and on the west to within one county of New Mexico.

The function of the Court, the justice declared, is to review cases tried in lower courts in the 23 counties when they are appealed.

Judge Walters said the Court tries to pass cases according to the law of the land. He said when writing an opinion he feels as though the Supreme Court is always looking over his shoulder since "... a little later they are going to grade my paper."

Jack Whitten, Eastland, may show some of his White Rock-Cornish game cross capons at the Abilene show next spring if they develop properly. He had five of them castrated recently. He will be the first club boy in years to have some capons as a project, although the Eaves boys from Mangum, Kenneth and Donald, may also have some.

About 30 were present at the clubhouse for the first birthday celebration of the Nimrod 4-H Club Thursday night, May 29. The chocolate anniversary cake with the one candle was baked by Mrs. Cecil Bostick. Plenty of other good cakes and home made ice cream helped put the celebration over in good style.

"Alice" and "Teene" are Tamworth gilts belonging to Joe Herring, Eastland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Herring. The gilts are kept on the Herring farm in the Flatwoods Community. Joe's dog "wonder" is also kept on the farm. They wondered where it came from and so they named it "Wonder". Incidentally Joe's brother, Buster, was a club boy several years back.

Larry Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Campbell, Gorman, had the misfortune to lose his good duroc gilt the other day that he won in the Sears pig program. Negotiations have begun in an attempt to get a replacement. Larry much of the authority needed to carry out direction.

The proposition that something needs to be done is clear enough. The fact remains that this proposal is not going to appreciably reduce the cost of our military establishment. This will only be done when we finally decide that the next war will not be fought with rifles and bayonets, with huge aircraft carriers like sitting ducks, and all the frills now attached to every branch of the military.

ry we sure hope this works out. Rodger Woodall's turkeys were vaccinated for the fowl pox only last week. Roger won the 'poult'. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. 'Tuffy' Woodall, southeast of Gorman. Kaye Edmons, Ranger, member of the Hodges Oak Club was scheduled to also get his poult vaccinated sometime in the very near future.

The date for the annual six county 4-H Club Camp at Lake Cisco has been set for August 13 and 14 according to the County Agricultural Agents and assistants who met recently to plan the annual affair. The camp usually attracts around 175 boys.

Texas Pacific Acquires Assets Of Oil Company

FORT WORTH — A contract for acquisition by Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company of Rowan Oil Company's assets in exchange for 275,400 shares of Texas Pacific stock was announced here today by H. B. Fuqua, T P board chairman and president. Both companies are Fort Worth based.

Directors of Texas Pacific had voted approval of the exchange on May 16, and Rowan stockholders approved it today.

The agreement covers all of Rowan Oil Company's oil and gas properties in Louisiana, Texas and New Mexico. These properties include interests in approximately 15,000 acres held by production and the Rowan Company's interest in 142 producing oil wells and 21 gas wells. Included also are approximately 41,000 undeveloped leasehold acres, some portions of which appear to hold considerable exploratory promise.

Daily average oil production of the Rowan company in 1957 was 1,360 barrels. Gas-well gas and associated gas production averaged 8,991 MCF daily.

Under the exchange, T P also acquires the Rowan company's liquid assets, including accounts receivable, equipment, cash, securities, and inventories valued at approximately $2,500,000.

Fuqua stated that the terms of the transaction were highly satisfactory to both companies.

"This acquisition will substantially increase our oil and gas reserves in areas where we wanted new production," he said. "We will add to our organization the Rowan employees who operate these properties, which is an added asset to our company. We estimate that T P's investment in these properties can be paid out within four years, with a reduction of only about one-third of their present value."

Arch H. Rowan, chairman of the board of the Rowan company, and his brother, C. L. Rowan, founded the Rowan oil interests in 1923. He is regarded as one of the industry's pioneer figures, is a member of the National Petroleum Council, and a director of numerous oil organizations.

Rowan also expressed satisfaction with the T P trade.

"This is more of an investment than a trade, for us," he said. "We had received offers from other companies. We chose to deal with Texas Pacific because we know of sound, conservative management. We don't feel that we are the company and its long history selling to T P — we feel that we are buying in with them."

At current market quotations, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company stock involved in the exchange is worth approximately $9,639,000.

Fuqua said the agreement was based on careful appraisal and engineering studies of the asset value of both companies. From these studies, a ratio of the relative value of both companies was derived as a basis for the transaction, he said.

off. We put all of our things in our other shirt and made a sort of bag of that shirt, threw it over our shoulder and took off. If we could highway a ride from a passer-by, so much the good. But if none of them would give us a ride we hot-footed it over the road.

Hitch-hiking was the chief form of transportation for a young fellow in those days and when one hitch-hiked one didn't want to be incumbered with a lot of fine and fancy luggage.

Our Class's financial plight was even reflected in all of the picture displays put up over town during the homecoming here last summer. All of the classes had a lot of snapshots made during their school years on display, that is, except the depression classes. We could buy a good roll of film in three days for 30c that would operate well in a box camera, if one had a box camera, but we could also eat lunch in the high school cafeteria for a couple of days for the same 30c. Most of us had rather eat a meal than spend the same money on a roll of film, and as we couldn't do both we didn't take any pictures.

With us it was rather important that we put first things first and second things second, thus we spent precious little money for such filmflams as film for picture taking.

Times were so hard then that the teachers weren't paid by the month; they were paid in direct proportion to the rate of school-tax collections. Sometimes if a teacher got really hungry the schoolboard would let him have a little "script" to be cashed at a discount for a few groceries.

Times got so hard there for a while that we had to put a typewriter out of commission in the typing department until some kind soul found the money to buy a ribbon.

While Henry and I got only a second helping of blackeyes the lads and lassies these days get 21-jeweled watches to tell the time by and 8-cyclinder automobiles to spend the time in.

It's Almost Unbelievable—
... but statisticians tell us that we Americans go more places in our cars and trucks nowadays than ever before, with an increase of 30 million vehicles since 1948. Every extra mile is a hazard and the chance for another accident. In 1957, insurance companies lost 279 million dollars on automobile insurance underwriting. Since the driving public determines the insurance rates it must pay, higher rates are inevitable. Better revise your budget now to include the high cost of driving in modern '58.
