MOORE about... EASTLAND

by Virgil E. Moore

We've really enjoyed ourselves this week. We've leaned way back in our chair and handed out advice to parents of first graders just entering school.

You know how it is. These first grade parents are a nervous lot. Last year it took us two weeks to get back on schedule after Trippy entered school.

Monday morning we took Trip to school, then parked our car out front just to watch the show. You can tell the first grade mamas by the tears in their eyes as they file back out of the school.

The papas, of course, don't like to show their anxiety, but we noticed several of the dads circled the schoolhouse about a half dozen times after letting out their six-year-olds.

First graders learn a lot in that first nine months of school. They do not learn as much as first grade parents do, though.

It took Trippy just one week of school to discover that he actually was smarter than both his parents. He came home that first Friday telling us that there must have been a lot of things that have happened since we've been out of school, because there are a lot of things we don't seem to know.

The biggest lesson parents learn is that their child isn't a baby anymore. It's hard on a mother to find out that her first born can actually survive seven hours without seeing or hearing from mother or father.

And parents never realized before the true importance of cigar boxes. Let me urge all first grade parents to take care here, for picking out the correct type of cigar box may determine just how far your child will advance socially in the first grade.

All this advice, you understand, is from one who learned the facts the hard way. No one told us what to expect. No one warned us about using "don't" when we "do" or "doesn't" or be called down by the youngsters. These words of wisdom we pass your way should be worth the nickel you paid for this entire edition of the Telegram.

First grade parents always worry about their child eating in a cafeteria for the first time, too. Missing out on those home-cooked meals isn't as bad as you might think, however. If you have a typical youngster he will be telling you each evening what is wrong with your cooking. Comparing mama with the school cook doesn't help the home atmosphere, let us tell you first grade dads.

Gene Babb has Interesting Athletic Record

Gene Babb, new coach at Ranger College has an outstanding record in personal achievement.

Babb attended college at Austin College, where he majored in art. He made the Little All American football team while playing football there. In 1957 he was crowned Texas heavy weight Golden Gloves Champion.

Babb's two main interests in life other than his family, are painting and football.

50,000 Scouts Will Attend National Jamboree in 1960

Seventy-four Boy Scouts and Explorers under the leadership of six adult leaders from the eight-county Comanche Trail Council are eligible to attend the Fifth National Boy Scout Jamboree to be held near Colorado Springs, Colo., from July 22 to 28, 1960.

Living together will be Scouts from all walks of life, of all races and creeds. They will exchange skills, swap home-town products, and learn about the customs and traditions of many sections of the nation.

The Jamboree may be attended by every Boy Scout who will be 12 years old by January 1, 1960, and by all Explorers who will have at least three months tenure by next July 15.

Information and registration will be through Scoutmasters and Explorer Advisors of the unit with which the Scout or Explorer is registered.

Secret Meeting Held By City to Study Olden Hike

Eastland City Commissioners had a "Dallas-type" conference last night, studying their recent action in upping Olden water rates, but City Manager Jimmy Young said this morning that no action was taken.

The meeting was unannounced. Young said that the rate study would "probably come up again at our next regular meeting."

No representative of the press was present at the meeting. Commissioners recently upped Olden's water rates equal with those of other out-of-the-city rates.

Dallas commissioners have recently come under severe criticism for the same type secret meeting. Eastland commissioners held last night.

Johnny Grimes Is President Of Brotherhood

Johnny Grimes is newly elected president of the Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church. Grimes was elected at a covered dish supper meeting Tuesday.

Other new officers include Jimmy Johnston, membership vice-president; Harvey Kimbler, program vice-president; D. C. Fambrough, activities vice-president; Lee Graham, secretary; Herbert Ekert, treasurer; and R. B. Hall Jr., chorister.

Rev. A. L. Teaff Sr., pastor of the Moran First Baptist Church, was speaker at the meeting.

Smith named two new sponsors. They are Mrs. Joe Anderson, Junior Tri-Hi-Y and M. G. Cartwright, Junior Hi-Y.

A screening and budget committee has been named for this year's United Fund drive.

OLDEN SWEETHEART—Judy Brown, Olden High School senior, will represent Olden in the West Texas Fair's contest to name an official sweetheart for the fair.

Miss Brown is sweetheart of the Olden Future Farmers of America and has been basketball sweetheart at O.H.S. for two years.

Gray Matter

By JOE GRAY

Well, for some time we've been holding out in my neighborhood against the onslaught of television entertainment. There have been about six or seven families out this way that don't have the eyeball pullers and we've been getting along without the silvery screen in our front rooms.

But the dam of resistance to the new invention has been broken. Dr. Ferguson has purchased a television set, and he's installed it with one of the tallest home antennas I think I ever saw.

That ought to get all the reception Jim Golden can get with his antenna on top of the Village Hotel. Jim gets stations in his hotel suit that people aren't supposed to get in this area.

I guess this is sort of going to put a short-lasting halt to the doctor's domino playing. But after the new of his television wears off I'll bet he'll be back to playing dominos in his sparetime.

A long time ago a family named Sewell lived in that same house. Their boy William had one of the first radios in Eastland and in those days a radio had to have an outside antenna to get any reception at all.

All District Teams See Weekend Action

This is the week, and the Eastland Mavericks face a tough one in their opener Friday night against Hamlin.

The Pied Pipers won a close contest last year over the Mavericks (that was the opener for both teams, too) and will likely be favored to repeat this year.

Other District 7-AA games Friday night will match Ballinger at Brady, Cisco at Dublin, Coleman at Anson and Ranger at Rotan. Winters will entertain Crane Saturday night.

Eastland scrimmaged Stephenville, a Class AAA team, Saturday afternoon. Both teams scored three touchdowns, with the Mavs getting two quick ones before Stephenville made a first down.

Hamlin reportedly has looked good in drills this year. The Hamlin newspapers rates the Pipers an improved ball club over 1958.

Two Eastland would-be starters underwent operations Monday in Austin. Although there is still some doubt as to the number of ducks and geese coming to Texas this year, a liberal hunting season has been authorized.

Sunday's 104 Is Year's Highest; Rain Totals .82

Sunday was the hottest day of the year in Eastland. The official reading here was 104 degrees, and unofficial readings as high as 108 degrees were reported.

The 104 degree reading, the Bureau station reported, was two degrees higher than the previous high for the year. That was June 20. Those two readings are the only ones to exceed 100 this year.

The hot weather was followed by welcomed rain, however. A total of .82 of an inch was reported in Eastland, with surrounding areas getting about the same. The rain was ushered in by an electrical storm and high winds late Sunday night.

Veteran Student Reminders For Fall Training

Three "money" reminders to the half-million veterans planning to train this fall under the Korean GI Bill were issued today by Edward P. Onstot, Manager, VA Regional Office, Dallas.

First, veteran students were reminded to take along enough money of their own to tide them over their first two months of GI training. It takes that long, under the law, for a veteran's first monthly GI allowance check to reach him.

Onstot's second reminder has to do with monthly certifications of classroom attendance. These should be signed by the veteran and a representative of his school, and sent to VA promptly after each month of training completed.

The third reminder is for veteran students who want to get part-time jobs after school. There's no limit on the amount of money GI students may earn outside of class. In fact, they need not even report outside earnings to VA.

The only "ceiling" applies to veterans training on-the-job. In their case, if earnings rise above a certain level, GI allowances will be reduced, Onstot said.

Funeral Services Set Wednesday For Fred Robbins

Fred Robbins, a resident of Flatwood community for 52 years, died Tuesday morning at 1:30 in the Eastland Memorial Hospital. His death followed a lengthy illness.

Mr. Robbins was born Feb. 24, 1888 in Georgia. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 in the Hamner Funeral Home Chapel.

He is survived by one brother, Guy Robbins, and two sisters, Annie and Nina Robbins, all of Flatwoods.

Mangum Baptist Church Plans Homecoming

Homecoming will be held this weekend at the Mangum Baptist Church.

Band Boosters Meet Tonight In Cafeteria

The first Band Booster meeting of the year will be held tonight at 7:30 in the High School cafeteria, James Wright, president, announced today.

Wright said the meeting is one of utmost importance and he urged all band parents and other interested persons to attend.

The Junior Livestock and Poultry shows during the 1959 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9-25, will offer a total of $24,487 in cash premiums and will feature a Beef Heifer show for the first time.

Some 2,000 Four-H club members and Future Farmers are expected to exhibit their milk fed steers, market steers, beef heifers, dairy heifers, sheep, fat lambs, pigs, turkeys and broilers.

The premium total is an increase of $3,429 over the $21,058 offered last year.

The Beef Heifer show will offer $4,200 in premiums. Judging will be held Oct. 21 in Angus, Brahma, Hereford, Santa Gertrudis and Shorthorn classes.

Traveling on the Highways-
... one has a chance to observe what's going on, here and there. It may be just a roadside collision or a modern farm home with every convenience. If within a city it may be the sight of a huge explosion that has wrecked a great building or a park with children playing everywhere. If one travels he cannot help but observe and back of these observations stands something that is strong and enduring which protects and preserves our way of life, for better living. That's Insurance.

"SAY, WHO'S RUNNING THIS THING?"—U.S. Army Photographer PFC Dale Cotton knew that German Shepherds were plenty smart but when he saw "Sergeant Rex" apparently operating this huge tounadozer at Fort Belvoir, Va., he investigated. Sergeant Rex was just along for the ride on the remote-controlled equipment being demonstrated by SP4 Merritt D. Shippe (at extreme left) to M/Sgt. Howard A. Sager, Rex' master. Under test at Belvoir, the earth-moving machine can be controlled from a helicopter, from a moving vehicle or from a fixed position up to 10 miles away.

Clothes do not make the girl, but they do have a decided effect on the impression a girl makes. It's not a matter of money. An attractive wardrobe is within reach of every girl who is willing to spend some time and thought in careful planning.

Many girls are busy making plans for back-to-school wardrobes. Sometimes it becomes a matter of trying to keep up with the Jones girl, unless the girl has some guide for taking stock of her own needs, and takes pride in developing her own plans.

Get a copy of "Wardrobe Planning", a leaflet written by the extension clothing specialists, at your County home demonstration agents office. It has clever sketches and easy to follow directions for planning a complete wardrobe.

Color Trends For Fall
Vivid color effects give way to subtleties this fall. "Muted" is the word often used in writing and talking of colors. Quiet, gentle, grayed, subtle, rich, deep and beautiful are other adjectives used to picture colors we'll be seeing in fabrics and ready-to-wear.

Yellow and brown are doing much influencing. A golden amber added to beige, for example, gives a warm vicuna. A faint touch of it in blue gives us the flattering teal. In greens, it makes soft moss and lichen green, in reds it creates paprika. Muted gold, represented by Mustard Gold, camel, vicuna, and the nut tones are strong with yellow brown influence. Sungold, or sparkling gold, will be important for accents and for evening wear.

Graying makes the new colors smoky — taupe brown, heather green, misty gray. The grays are important in their own right and are seen in everything from medium or men's wear gray to oxford and on to almost black charcoal.

Reds are influenced by yellow or blue; in the first category, we have paprika and brick; in the second, burgundy, plum, cranberry, mountain berry and candy apple. Some bright reds will be seen, such as red hot, scarlet, and fire engine.

Greens are more muted than they were last year. There are new subtle versions of olive and forest green and loden; such greens are used in plaids and prints. Deep blue greens are destined for dress wear. Parrot and emerald greens will make sharp accents for trims and accessories.

Blue with a green cast, teal, is very much in the picture. Sapphire, clear, sharp electric blue and inky blues will have a selected spot in junior appeal. Purplish versions are high fashion, especially for dress wear.

It's going to be a great time for black, particularly combined with the burnished browns and golds. These will be for formal wear especially.

LOOKING AHEAD
(Legally Speaking)

You can tell a lot about people by the way they regard time.

Do they put stock mostly in the past — their record; the present — their direct joy in work or play; or the future — their plans.

Why not use all three dimensions of time? Past experience to guide, the present for zest, and the future to realize dreams.

Lawyers report a sharp shift in the way people regard time and the law: Of old they thought of law in terms of past facts like failures to meet legal duties, misdeeds, etc. — facts useful chiefly in lawsuits.

You still have to think of the record, since you may have to go to trial some time. So keep good records of your affairs. But more and more people now also think of the law in the future tense — in terms of built-in safeguards for plans which they want to go through without legal hitches.

Our heavy income and death taxes have made people plan ahead legally, rather than wait for the ax to fall.

Any time you buy or sell a home or a business or make an investment you have choices of how you may do it—some wise, some not, in view of your circumstances. Should you insist on an abstract or accept or offer instead a title insurance policy? (Your lawyer has a definite part to play in either event.)

Should you do business as a sole proprietor, a partnership, or corporation? Do your contracts set out ways of meeting unexpected events? How best may you serve your estate (and also carry out your wishes)—by a will or a trust, or by direct gifts?

While all of these things point forward, the past in the form of court records can serve you by showing where trouble may come from.

As more and more people know the symptoms of legal trouble—where to look for legal hitches in plans before big trouble starts, there will be fewer law suits and better human relations.

And where does trouble sometimes start? Most often where you lack a clear grasp of your relationship, your rights and duties, and your own and the other fellow's resources—in transactions involving large personal or financial stakes.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

makes the difference

... at home study time

You'll be giving your child real help with his homework when you see that he has proper light at his study table. For best light from a table lamp, use a 150-watt bulb. The lamp should be properly shaded to conceal the light source from the eyes and should be tall enough to spread light evenly over the work area. A diffusing bowl is recommended to soften the light and prevent glare. If the lamp has no diffusing bowl, use a 150-watt white indirect bulb. It has its own built-in diffuser. See your dealer for the bulbs you need soon.
