Congress To Face A Tough Session In Election Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 92nd Congress returns to the Capitol Tuesday for a politically charged session expected to bring major struggles over welfare reform, health care and revenue sharing.

President Nixon submitted major proposals in all three areas at the beginning of the Congress a year ago but no final action was taken on any of these during 1971.

The White House already has predicted passage of all three during 1972. Democratic leaders are pushing for action, too, but they expect to make many changes in the original Nixon measures.

In each case, the differences are so important and the likelihood of political infighting in a presidential election year so great, that it is hard to say whether any of the proposals will become law.

The President will be able to get in some licks for his program Thursday when he appears in the House chamber for his State of the Union address.

And a half dozen of the leading Democratic contenders for the right to oppose Nixon in November will be able to respond in speeches on the Senate floor.

Senate Democratic leaders are so impressed with the heavy workload in their branch that they plan to begin consideration of legislation on Wednesday, ignoring the tradition that Congress mark time until after the State of the Union.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told reporters Saturday the first bills coming before the Senate "are nothing but trouble. We're in for a tough session."

He said he will make a special effort to convince senators to agree to time limits on controversial bills but noted "we all place our own interests and our own feelings first most of the time."

The first Senate business will be a bill to give much stronger enforcement powers to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission in the field of job discrimination.

Although the spotlight is expected to be on domestic legislation in the 1972 session, there

Denmark's New Queen Proclaimed

COPENHAGEN (AP) — A pretty, blue-eyed blonde with a friendly smile was officially proclaimed Queen Margrethe of Denmark on Saturday.

King Frederik IX is dead. Long live Her Majesty Queen Margrethe II.

With these traditional words, thrice repeated, Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag proclaimed the new queen to a massed crowd from the balcony of parliament.

Queen Margrethe, in black, stood at his side. Her black veil was pinned away from her face and her blonde curls were whipped across her forehead by the cold wind.

It was a day that Margrethe always said she dreaded and she was near tears through the brief ceremony.

She was told as a school girl of 13 that the Danes had voted to make her heiress to the throne. She said then it would be a sad day when she succeeded because it would mean that the father she loved so dearly would be dead.

In a voice husky with emotion, she expressed her sorrow that "my beloved father, the king, is dead."

The love and thoughtfulness which was shown him by the Danish people was a cornerstone for his work and I hope it also will be a cornerstone for my work.

Her father always ended his speeches with the phrase: "God for Denmark."

Margrethe used a new ending: "God's help. The people's love. The strength of Denmark."

Krag thrice led three cheers from the crowd, estimated by police to number 50,000.

There was a renewed spontaneous roar when the queen's husband, French-born Prince Henrik, joined her on the balcony. He kissed her hand and turned with her to wave to the crowd.

Then they withdrew. That was all. There is no coronation ceremony in Denmark, the queen does not wear a crown and her husband has no constitutional role to play.

The queen and her prince drove slowly back to the palace through the picturesque streets of the old city in an open horse-drawn landau with only a small police escort. Cheering Danes pressed forward almost to the wheels of the carriage. At the palace the queen and prince appeared on the balcony with their two sons, Prince Frederik, 3, now the heir-apparent, and Prince Joachim, 2.

Efforts will be made to write a new antipoverty bill to replace the one killed by a Nixon veto in December.

U.S. Command In Viet Makes New Troop Cut

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command made another big troop cutback Saturday but froze the withdrawal of any tactical and rescue air squadrons because of new enemy missile threats on South Vietnam's northern frontier.

The move strengthened indications that the residual force President Nixon talks about as a lever to obtain release of American prisoners of war is shaping up as one of airpower, while he reduces ground forces.

The latest cutback of 2,380 troops reduced the number of combat maneuver battalions to 13 from a high of 112 less than three years ago. Nixon has ordered a cutback to 69,000 men by May 1 from the present total of 150,000.

The U.S. Command reported that North Vietnam had moved mobile missile launchers closer to South Vietnam's northern frontier than ever before in the war. This triggered two new aerial engagements with U.S. fighters Friday.

For the second time in less than 24 hours, an Air Force F106 radar interceptor patrolling the eastern flank detected one site on the northern edge of the demilitarized zone. It unleashed an air to ground missile at the position before it could fire. The command said the results were not known.

Earlier in the day, a fighter plane spotted a missile site three miles north of the buffer between North and South Vietnam and was believed to have destroyed it with a Shrike missile.

On the western flank of the DMZ, two missiles were fired at another F105 flying over Laos about 15 miles above South Vietnam's frontier. The pilot spotted the missiles in time and evaded them.

Four mobile missile launchers were detected last week near South Vietnam's borders, and two of them were reported destroyed by U.S. fighter-bombers.

U.S. planes operating from 7th Fleet carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin and from the Da Nang air base fly across the northern frontier of South Vietnam to get to their targets in Laos. North Vietnam apparently has shifted its tactics to harass these planes while they are enroute to bomb its Ho Chi Minh supply network in Laos.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said that Air Force strength in South Vietnam will be cut from its present 28,000 to 16,000 by May. Officials here said none of the four tactical strike squadrons nor the rescue and recovery group would be affected.

These sources said air transport squadrons, psychological warfare operations squadrons, and other noncombat units would be cut to reduce the Air Force strength to 16,000.

Three of the tactical squadrons remaining in South Vietnam are based at Da Nang. They are super sonic F4s. America's fastest fighters, needed for air defense. The fourth attack squadron is based at Bien Hoa north of Saigon. Flying subsonic A37 jets, the squadron supports Cambodian forces.

About 80 attack fighter planes remain in South Vietnam. The United States has nearly 300 more aboard 7th Fleet carriers and at bases in Thailand.

More than 40,000 U.S. Air Force and Navy men are based with the 7th Fleet and in Thailand, engaged in air operations over Indochina. They are not included in the U.S. troop strength figures in South Vietnam.

The latest reduction in U.S. troops came on a fifth successive day of a increased enemy attacks. The enemy, has launched 140 rocket, mortar, sapper and terror attacks.

Most of the attacks have been small, aimed at the government's militia forces which are charged with defending provincial and district capitals.

The district served by the office is a large and rather populace one and the duties of the office demand a busy schedule.

Hardin pointed to his record as prosecutor as his best recommendation for another term. He noted that he had achieved something more than a record of convictions. He felt he had handled each case on its individual merits and justice had been meted out in consideration of each individual as well as the letter of the law.

Deadline for filing for candidates is Feb. 7.

Lebanese Army On Full Alert

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Premier Saeb Salam of Lebanon said today his army has been ordered to go into action against any new Israeli attack.

The country's 15,000-man army was not called in when Israel raided three villages in south Lebanon earlier this week in retaliation for Palestinian guerrilla rocket strikes on Israeli border settlements.

The possibility of still active volcanoes on the moon provoked the most vigorous debates at the conference just concluded.

Local Girl On Probation Requests Board Hearing

A girl suspended from school for the remainder of the year has requested a hearing with her mother at the regular meeting of the Pampa school board Monday night.

The girl was involved in a stabbing incident with another student just prior to the Thanksgiving holidays and was suspended by the Junior High School principal to the extent of his jurisdiction. This meant the board must act at its next meeting following his action. The board voted to suspend her for the remainder of the school year.

Between the violent incident at school and the board's action, the girl had been ruled a delinquent child in Gray County Court and placed on probation.

The panel will hear her a report by High School Principal Cameron Marsh reviewing the results of a modification of the dress and hair code soon after the beginning of the school year. Acting on a student council request, the board authorized certain modifications on the basis of one semester trial then a review.

The board will be asked to act on the resignation of six members of the teaching staff, the shifting of two others and an extended sick leave for one teacher at this meeting.

Summer school schedule, textbook hearings and a number of routine items of make the agenda a full one.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. at the administration building, 321 W. Albert.

Pampa Receives $150,000 Grant For Water Plant

That $150,000 check as part payment on Pampa's $650,000 federal grant for the water treatment plant finally arrived.

Promised last Wednesday by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development in Dallas, the check arrived Thursday afternoon.

That enabled the city to pay the contractor $57,417 due on his contract and which was authorized by the city commission last Tuesday.

The check came after the city had sent two requisition forms and made several long distance calls trying to get the money.

Briscoe Says Texas Needs Leadership And Confidence

By TEX DEWEESSE

Restoration of confidence in state leadership and recognition of the close link between urban and agricultural areas of Texas should be the goal of all Texans, Dolph Briscoe, Democratic candidate for governor of Texas, told Pampa Kiwanians at their Friday luncheon in First United Methodist Church.

Briscoe, Uvalde rancher and banker, steered away from politics in his civic club address here.

He began by talking of Mexican-Americans and their role in the state.

Kiwanis has a history of great service throughout Texas, he said, and I particularly like the Kiwanis motto—We Build That's what we need in Texas—to build.

Briscoe paid tribute to the Texas Panhandle area, calling it No. 1 in oil and agricultural production in the state.

Specifically he pointed to the Pampa area and the Panhandle growing rapidly in the cattle-feeding industry, helping to make Texas No. 1 in the nation in that category.

He also had a word to say about today's youth and the need for the older generation to set an example for the younger Americans, thereby setting an example to encourage the youth of today to seek better government.

"We have an individual responsibility," Briscoe went on to say. "Each of us has an obligation of individual responsibility."

"The people can have the best kind of government they demand if they will accept that obligation."

President Nixon once said in a State of the Union message that "most Americans are fed up with government—but I believe that attitude is changing."

"At least it is a challenge to all of us to do our best to see that we have responsible government."

The Democratic candidate for governor said "what we do as individual Texans in the decade of the 70s will determine the kind of Texas we will have in the decade of the 80s."

Briscoe was introduced by Fred Thompson, in charge of the Friday program.

Mexican-Americans Get More Higher Positions

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mexican-Americans are getting more opportunities to move into high government positions under President Nixon than under any other previous administration, a presidential consultant said Friday.

Antonio Rodriguez of San Antonio, a consultant to the White House on presidential appointees, said in an interview that President Nixon is interested in Spanish-speaking people and "not just because this is an election year."

In Nixon's Administration, Rodriguez said, there are more than three times as many Spanish-speaking people in top positions as there were under any other administration.

Rodriguez was in Dallas for a one day "social visit" with Mexican-American Republican leaders.

He admitted that the president's appointments of Mexican-American are criticized as political moves to sway the Spanish-speaking population to the Republican side.

"But," he went on, "as long as we keep getting for the first time, positions of responsibility at policy-making level I do not care if the appointments are criticized as political maneuvers."

Rodriguez, who has been a presidential consultant for 2 1/2 years said that President Nixon only received eight per cent of the Mexican-American vote in the last election.

He did not win the presidency with the Mexican-American vote, he said. "So his interest in our people is real, and Mexican-Americans are beginning to notice that."

Basic Questions On Moon Remain Unanswered At Lunar Meet

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two and one-half years after the first Apollo lunar landing, scientists have put together a bare outline of the nature of the moon, but they have yet to fill in the details needed for a total picture.

Basic and vital questions about the moon remained unanswered at the end of the third annual lunar science conference here last week, and many believe those final answers may still be years away.

Cornerstone questions which are still puzzling scientists include these: Where did the moon come from and how was it formed? Precisely how old is it? Is there water on the moon? Does the moon have a core? Are there still live volcanoes on the moon?

Scientists, however, are in general agreement on these points: —There is no life on the moon. The mechanisms for evolving life halted long before forming even the basic chemical building blocks needed.

—The moon has a crust, and hence, at one point, the outer shell was molten.

—Quakes still rack the moon, but they are very, very small. The quakes are caused by tidal forces and not the stress of internal energy.

—Geologic evolution on the moon essentially stopped about three billion years ago. The earth, which is still experiencing the large quakes and volcanoes of evolution, is a million times more active than the moon.

—There are three basic types of rock on the moon, in contrast to the several hundred different types on earth. These rocks, which are unlike any on earth, are anorthosites, an aluminum-rich rock; a basalt; and a rock called krep.

Despite intense study by thousands of scientists from around the world, there is still no general agreement on the correct theory of the moon's origin. Each of the three theories—which are so old they are called "traditional"—are still considered likely candidates to be the correct answer.

The traditional theories, briefly, state: —The moon is a twin planet to the earth, formed from a collection of space debris as was the earth.

—The moon formed elsewhere in the solar system and became captured in earth orbit while wandering through space.

—The moon was at one time apart of the earth, but broke away to become a natural satellite.

Dr. Eugene Shoemaker of California Institute of Technology, who has seriously proposed a revised version of the earth break away theory for the moon, admits that "all of the three models (theories) are still alive. But they all also have problems."

"There is no consensus model yet," said Dr. D.W. Strangeway, a space agency geophysicist.

But that model is not far away. It may be only two to three years before we know the answers.

Most scientists believe the moon dates all the way back to the beginning of the solar system, about 4.6 billion years ago. But no rocks that age have been found and, as one scientist noted, "it will be only through chance that we ever do find one."

The oldest rocks found to date are about 3.9 to 4 billion years old. The oldest earth rocks are about 3.2 billion years old.

Older rocks are thought to exist on the moon's surface and scientists are hopeful that samples of these will be found during the remaining two Apollo missions.

After the first three Apollo landings, the science community gave up any hope of finding water on the moon. Chemistry of the samples returned indicated that the rocks hardened in the absence of water.

But a team of scientists at Rice University reported last week that an instrument left on the moon had detected water vapor. Dr. J.W. Freeman of Rice said he believed the water came from an ice blanket under the moon's surface. At the same time, a team at Cambridge University discovered in a moon rock a crystal of iron which had hardened in the presence of water.

Other data, however, such as seismic readings and additional chemical studies, still refute the suggestion of water on the moon.

"The question of water on the moon is still very much up in the air," said one scientist.

Most geophysicists believe there is no iron core in the moon, such as there is in the earth. But measurements of the moon's interior heat and the presence of a faint magnetism in the moon rocks suggest there may be a hot iron core at the moon's center.

The possibility of still active volcanoes on the moon provoked the most vigorous debates at the conference just concluded.

U.S. Agency Announces New Pest Control Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is undertaking a multimillion-dollar new pest-control program that backers say is aimed at sharply cutting the amount of DDT and other chemical pesticides used by farmers.

The Agriculture Department, the Environmental Protection Agency and the National Science Foundation will join in a broad new pest management action and expanded research program to help farmers control pests more economically and effectively. Secretary of Agriculture Earl B. Butz said Friday.

While announcing the new program, Butz told the National Press Club that society has gained much through the use of DDT and other chemicals but these "have their problems, and we're looking for biological means of control so we can control pesticides and not have the problem of residues."

This is an emotional issue and we want to approach it as intelligently as we can.

Butz said that without use of substantial amounts of such pest-killers, the nation would be unable to feed its people.

"Now we can go back to organic agriculture if we must, but before we do that somebody must decide which 50 million Americans we'll let starve. That's kind of a harsh statement I make, but that's the simple truth," he added.

The new program, to be aimed first at cotton because of the extensive use of chemical pesticides used to control such pests as the boll weevil, provides for a combination of chemical, biological and cultural pest control techniques as well as long range pest control research. Butz said Friday.

"This should enable farmers to reduce pesticide use starting this year," he said, and it will help "protect the environment from the effects of currently used pesticides as well as protecting farmers and the public from the possibly harmful effects of more toxic materials that might be used" as DDT substitutes.

On-the-farm pest control efforts which have been tested will be expanded this year, with allocation of $2.25 million to this phase, the Agriculture Department said. It added that $3.5 million will be provided for expanded research this year.

Hard Drug Sources Disclosed

By LOUIS UCHITELLE
Associated Press Writer
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A U.S. congressman says the bulk of hard drugs in the United States is smuggled in from Latin American and that Paraguay is the main jumping-off point.

The congressman, Rep. James R. Mann, D-S.C., and two other members of a congressional committee visited Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Panama last week to gather data on drug smuggling.

While in Buenos Aires, they met with American Embassy officials and U.S. narcotics agents.

The current opinion of U.S. customs is that more than 50 per cent of all hard drugs in the United States are smuggled into the country from Latin America, Mann said in an interview.

"We think that Paraguay is the leading Latin country in this traffic, and the main reception area for heroin from Europe en route to the United States," he said.

The Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs assigned two agents recently to Paraguay and two more to Argentina to help local police stem the flow of contraband drugs. The bureau also has offices in Venezuela, Panama and Mexico.

Couple Letting Child Watch Sex Movie Loses Custody Bid

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston couple who let their little girl watch sex movies in the lounge they operate lost their bid Friday to regain custody of the child.

Juvenile Court Judge Robert L. Lowry ruled that Adrienne Schlang, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Schlang, should remain in custody of the Harris County Child Welfare Department pending a final custody hearing.

Schlang, 38, a former aerospace worker, testified in Friday's hearing that he allowed his daughter to stay at the club where movies showing sexual intercourse are shown.

Citing studies he said were made by Scandinavian researchers, Schlang said he would rather have his daughter watch movies which show scene of affection than have her stay home at night.

Sen. Kennedy Will Oppose Shuttle Plan

BEVERLY, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says he will oppose the $515 billion federal space shuttle program as long as so many other concerns cry out for help.

He termed the program to build the space shuttle craft "a Nixon bailout for Southern California."

"We might get some money for our aerospace industry in Massachusetts," he said in a speech Friday to service clubs, "but I'm more concerned with help for Massachusetts education and health needs than the aerospace industry."

State Liberal Demos Blast Proposed Rules

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas liberals Democrats who claimed they couldn't take off during the week for a meeting on new rules for the state party had their own session Saturday.

They appeared to agree that the proposed rules, the first written guidelines ever produced for the Texas Democratic party, do not insure fair and square selection of delegates to the national convention.

W.V. Ballew Jr., a Houston lawyer who is on the state steering committee for presidential candidate George McGovern, urged the group to carry its protest to the national convention at Miami July 10 if it feels that the national delegation does not fairly represent the state.

Mrs. J.H. Means, a Negro from Austin, said for years liberal Democrats had won in black precincts of the city but had never been able to gain a place in the national delegation.

"We have had it," she said, adding that large numbers of black liberals might switch to the Republican Party because they were being ignored by the democratic party.

"One of the shortcomings (of the proposed rules) is that we don't get down to the nitty gritty of giving power to the people to pick who they want to represent them," said Billie Carr of Houston.

Mrs. Carr and Fort Worth lawyer Don Gladden, a former Texas House member who lost in the 1968 Democratic Primary for lieutenant governor to Ben Barnes, presided over the meeting at a downtown hotel.

Between 40 and 50 persons attended the session.

Gladden said they had been unable to attend the four-hour hearing Wednesday at which a special subcommittee

Coffee Scheduled To Plan Campaign

First steps in planning the 1972 membership campaign of the Pampa Community Concert Association will be taken at a Captains' Coffee at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the home of Richard Stowers, 2015 Charles St.

Stowers is drive chairman for the 1972 campaign. Mrs. Rex Rose is vice chairman for the general drive and Mrs. McHenry Lane will serve as area membership chairman.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah, association president, said Saturday the captains' meeting has been scheduled to organize volunteer workers for the campaign.

The week of March 5-11 will be set aside for current association members to renew for the coming season. A workers' tea will be held Sunday, March 5, in the home of Mrs. Rex Rose, 505 N. Gray St.

The general membership drive will be conducted during the week of March 13-18.

Season membership fees will be $10 for adults and $5 for students. The membership card entitles the bearer to admission at all four concerts.

Concert admission is by membership card only and there never are any box office tickets sales for individual concerts.

Because of the 1,500 seating capacity of the new auditorium, the concert association will be able to increase its membership list by about 400 this year.

Mrs. Marguerite Maddox, representative of Columbia Artists, will be in Pampa for the captains' coffee tomorrow. Mrs. Harrah said.

All concert performances for the 1972-73 concert season will be held in Pampa's new Brown Memorial Auditorium.

The next concert in the current concert season will be

King's Birthday Commemorated

Many mayors and governors issued proclamations to honor the Nobel Peace Prize winner, killed by a sniper in Memphis, Tenn., on April 4, 1968. He would have been 43 years old today.

In New York, his widow, Coretta, said she was working to have a national holiday established in his memory.

Thursday, Feb. 8, in the Pampa Junior High Auditorium. The attraction will be Ferrante and Teicher, the internationally famous piano duo.

Three concert numbers already booked for the 1972-73 season will include William Walker, Metropolitan Opera star, the spectacular dance production, "Fruita," with a company of 36 artists, and Freddie Martin and his Orchestra with the Big Band Cavalcade and singer Margaret Whiting. A fourth concert will be booked at the end of the membership campaign.

Pampa Jaycees Will Observe Jaycee Week

Pampa Jaycees will join with some 12,000 members throughout Texas in observance of Jaycee Week tomorrow through Saturday.

Gov. Preston Smith has signed an official proclamation for the special week in the proclamation. Smith expressed his gratitude for the contributions made by Jaycees in Texas.

Governor Smith said purpose of the week is to focus attention on young men and their contributions to their respective communities across the state.

"The total commitment of these young men, their leadership both in the Jaycee organization and their cities and the entire state serves as a lesson and example for us all," Smith said.

Rick Clayton of Abilene, president of the Texas Jaycees, said observance of the week will vary from chapter to chapter, "but we sincerely hope each community having a Jaycee Chapter will recognize the unselfish work of the young members of those local chapters."

Performer's Coat Reported Lost

Mrs. Les Hart, 1323 Mary Ellen, has reported one of the cast of Up With People, Miss Shelley Zukof, lost her coat in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium during her appearance in Pampa.

The navy-blue peacoat, with a red lining, big gold buttons and a belt, will have a nametag inside.

Anyone who may have taken the coat by mistake is asked to contact Mrs. Hart at 9-2753.

Pampa Rodeo Dates Changed To Aug. 2-5

Pampa's 1972 RCA Rodeo will be held Aug. 2-5. It was decided Friday afternoon at a meeting of the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association directors.

The dates were changed to the first week in August instead of the second week to coincide with other rodeos in Lawton, Okla., and Colorado Springs, Colo.

Holly Gray, association president, said this will enable cowboys and cowgirls to work all three rodeos.

The date change was made after conferring with Tommy Steiner, this year's producer,

100 Oil Wells Completed Last Week

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission reported Saturday that 100 oil wells and 16 gas wells were completed during the past week in Texas.

That raised the total oil well completions for the year to 175, compared with 233 a year ago, and gas well completions to 42, compared with 43 at this time in 1971.

The commission said 242 wells were plugged, including 62 dry holes.

'Barnes Special' Train To Leave Amarillo Feb. 22

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A "Ben Barnes Special" train will leave Amarillo Feb. 22 for the first major campaign tour of any statewide candidate of the 1972 political year. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes' headquarters said Saturday.

"Ben Barnes is going to take his campaign for governor right to the people," said state campaign manager Ralph Payne. "He has always had the campaign philosophy that the voters should meet and make up their own minds about their candidates."

Wayne said the special train will pick up special guests along the way and three days later it will end in Houston.

Governor Smith Proclaims 1972 'Shrinetennial Year' In Texas

DALLAS.—Governor Preston Smith this week caused Texas to become the first state to officially recognize the 100th anniversary of the Shrine of North America, as well as the 50th anniversary of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children. Gov. Smith proclaimed 1972 "Shrinetennial Year in Texas," and more specifically, designated July 17-21, 1972, as "Shrine Week in Texas." On these dates, the annual North American convention of the Shrine will be held in Dallas-Fort Worth where officials are preparing for a convention attendance of upwards of 100,000 Shriners and family members.

Governor Smith's proclamation, released here by L. D. (Red) Webster, general chairman for the year-long celebration, is as follows:

GREETINGS:
 The year 1972 is the centennial year of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, more familiarly known as the Shrine of North America, by virtue of the organization's founding in 1872.

The centennial year also will observe the 50th anniversary of the first of 22 Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, a group of highly proficient orthopedic hospitals, including three institutes specializing in the treatment of burns.

The operation without cost to the patient of these great institutions of mercy has contributed mightily to the welfare of afflicted children.

The shrine has given generously to the well-being of our people through its maintenance of a Crippled Children's Hospital in Houston, a Burns Institute in Galveston, and has provided entertainment to the general public by the presentation of numerous circuses, parades, competitions and pageantry.

The State of Texas has within its metes and bounds thirteen Shrine Temples — located in Amarillo, Austin, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, San Angelo, San Antonio, Tyler, Waco and Wichita Falls.

The Shrine's annual convention, more formally styled "1972 Imperial Council Session" will be held in Dallas-Fort Worth during the period July 17-21, 1972, thereby bringing to the State of Texas one of the biggest meetings of its kind in the world, and in so doing, providing Texas with the opportunity of hosting visitors from all states of the Union as well as Mexico and Canada.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of July 17-21, 1972, as SHRINE WEEK in Texas, and urge all citizens of our State to join with the members of this organization in the observance of Shrinetennial Year in Texas in 1972.

Webster said the original copy of Gov. Smith's proclamation would be displayed at the Shrine's new museum, currently under construction in San Francisco with a formal opening scheduled in March. Dedication of the museum is only one of numerous special events slated during the Shrinetennial Year which was officially opened by Imperial Potentate C. Victor Thornton, of Fort Worth, with the playing of the 47th East-West Shrine game in San Francisco on December 31, 1971. All told, officials say there will be more than 3500 scheduled events during the year into which will be woven the Shrinetennial theme. The convention will be one of the major events along with the celebration of the founding of the first temple, Mecca, in New York, and the first hospital at Shreveport, Louisiana.

AUSTIN, (AP)—A group of Texans with divergent political backgrounds announced Friday they would do their best to assure passage of a proposal next November which could lead to complete revision of the Texas Constitution.

Tom Vandergriff, spokesman for Citizens for Texas, said "this is a once in a century endeavor."

The Texas Constitution, adopted in 1876, has been amended 201 times, and Vandergriff said, "the torturous process of amendment is not only becoming more and more unmanageable but also a point of confusion and frustration for the voters."

He said Texas' 95-year-old constitution at times "deters responsive and responsible government in the 1970s and beyond." Vandergriff described the new organization's primary goal as passage next Nov. 7 of proposition no. 4. The proposed constitutional amendment would allow the legislature elected at the same November election to establish a constitutional revision commission when the Legislature meets in January.

Television And Radio

NEW YORK AP—CBS has replaced half of its canceled "Bearcats" with "Me and the Chimp." "Bearcats" was not a good show, but "Me and the Chimp" is out of place: It should be in the Saturday morning block of children's shows.

There has not been a situation comedy built around the antics of a trained chimpanzee since "The Hathaways" had a brief little go-around several seasons back.

This time, the chimp seems to be added to a standard situation comedy format. There is the usual cue, two darling children and a terrible tempered idiot of a husband-father. The family finds a monkey and gives it house room until its owner can be found. The chimp is named "Buttons" because it likes to push them and in the premiere program Thursday gales of laugh-track guffaws flooded out when Buttons turned on the blender, the toaster, the washing machine and even got to the adding machine when daddy was trying to balance his checking account.

It really is an abysmal juvenile show and the only excuse for it as a midseason replacement is that CBS must have some program when the overwhelmingly popular "Flip Wilson Show" is being broadcast on NBC.

Skyjacker Indicted

DALLAS AP—Billy Eugene Hurst Jr., 22, accused of hijacking a Braniff jetliner Wednesday, was indicted by a federal grand jury Friday and ordered held without bond by a federal judge.

Hurst, a native of Mesquite who has been living in Houston, is facing air piracy charges which could draw a death sentence upon conviction.

U. S. Atty. Eldon Mahon recommended no bond be granted him. Hurst is held in Dallas County jail.

The grand jury heard testimony from the crew of the aircraft, which was held hostage at Love Field for nearly seven hours.

Hurst will be defended by Marvin S. Sloman, a non-criminal lawyer.

A complaint signed by FBI agent Charles T. Brown alleges that Hurst did wrongfully and intentionally commit aircraft piracy by seizing and exercising control of the Braniff jet "by force and violence."

Ted Bessell, who played Marlo Thomas' fiancee in "That Girl," now plays a dentist-tooth jokes started in the first show and straight man for the man for the chimp, who has the best role in the series.

Another apparent sacrifice to Wilson's popularity seems to be the long-playing "My Three Sons," now moved into the half-hour following the monkey business.

All networks have been playing musical chairs with programs so it is hard to see which show is replacing each drop-out.

MARY HESS DWYER

NAT LUNSFORD

Appointee Seeks Term By Election

Mary Hess Dwyer is campaigning for her first elective term as Gray County Commissioner, precinct four.

Her first introduction to the affairs of the office was the election of her late husband to the post. At his death, County Judge Don Cain appointed the McLean woman to serve until the next general election.

Mary Dwyer's interest in the business of the county as a citizen has deepened during the months since she took office and she said she felt she had handled the responsibilities well and understood the work and the problems of the office better than someone new to the post so she is a candidate in her own right.

The winner in the race for this seat on the commissioners court will serve only two years, then must campaign for a regular four-year term.

Mrs. Dwyer said all the political language at election time about appreciation of votes and influence hold true, sincerely, but she wants one thing more from the voters: an honest appraisal of her record.

Lunsford Doubly Qualified

Nat Lunsford, Justice of the Peace, place 1, precinct 2, has tossed his hat in the ring for re-election—a hat created by knowledge and marked by the years of experience.

Recent action of the legislature regarding the office of peace justice will be felt generally in any race for such office. Lunsford said, "I am fortunate that I am doubly qualified according to the new statute. I just hope members of this community that is both home and work for me realize the importance of this and return me to the office."

Judge Lunsford was referring to the new measure of a qualified candidate for peace justice—Such a candidate must have at least eight years prior experience or have completed the 40 hours of training in the specified school of higher learning.

Lunsford has the years of experience in office and has completed the first half of the course required. He will finish the second 20 hours in February well ahead of election day.

The only other way a candidate can qualify is to be a certified attorney.

Lunsford has served two appointive terms and two elective terms as Justice of the Peace.

In addition he is an ordained minister. The rites were conferred upon him in 1934 by Central Baptist Church.

Nat Lunsford summed up his campaign simply: "I am running on my record."

Dr. Gilruth Will Assume New Position

SPACE CENTER, Houston AP—Dr. Robert Gilruth, an American pioneer in the development of manned spaceflight, is stepping down as director of the Manned Spacecraft Center and assuming a new created position.

Gilruth, 58, will become director of key personnel for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Christopher C. Kraft, deputy director of MSC, will succeed Gilruth as director. The changes are effective immediately.

He was named director of the Manned Spacecraft Center in 1961, a key management job in the drive to place men on the moon.

Fort Worth Doctor Faces Murder Probe

AUSTIN, Tex. AP 8 A Fort Worth doctor faces a murder investigation in the first reported death caused by a substitute drug for heroin.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith said Friday he would present a case against Dr. W. E. Raburn to the Travis County Grand Jury next Tuesday.

Municipal Judge Ronald D. Earle returned a verdict of homicide in the death of University of Texas student James Andrew Knox, 18, of Houston, who was found dead in his apartment Oct. 10.

Earlier said Raburn prescribed methadone for Knox without performing tests required of all public agencies to determine if Knox was a heroin addict.

"Andy Knox was not a heroin addict, the judge said. Raburn worked for the Carter Clinic, whose head, Dr. Peter Joseph Carter of Lake Worth, was exonerated by the State Board of Medical Examiners in August 1970 after a board investigator filed a complaint against him for allegedly prescribing methadone indiscriminately.

The board said Carter had given assurances "that he will so continue to take proper precautions necessary to protect the life and health of his patients, as well as the welfare of the public; in administering, prescribing and dispensing, the drug.

Carter said in Fort Worth that Knox had needle marks on his arms and that "we were convinced the boy was an addict.

New federal regulations governing the use of methadone forced Carter's clinic to close last month.

Jude Earle said the Journal of the American Medical Association last fall published an article in which three Denver doctors reported the first case of pulmonary edema resulting from an overdose of orally-ingested methadone. The patient recovered in that case, however.

Insofar as it is possible to determine, the death of James Andrew Knox is therefore the first ever reported resulting from pulmonary edema caused by an overdose of orally ingested methadone."

Earle said.

Huge Pipeline Project In U.S. Planned For 72

HOUSTON (AP)—A rather healthy pipeline construction program is planned for 1972 despite the natural gas industry's supply problems.

A survey indicates the 1972 projects include 6,068 miles of new gas transmission lines and 40,949 miles of new distribution lines. Actual 1971 construction included 5,482 miles of transmission and 38,683 miles of distribution facilities.

Results of the survey are included in an annual forecast and review made by Pipe Line Industry magazine.

The report states that, after a slow start, U.S. pipe line activity will accelerate to a rapid pace by mid-year.

Federal government response to the eco-political cost of natural gas shortages, now extending to new residential customers, will determine the extent of the construction increase," the report states.

A recent long range forecast by the American Gas Association indicates gas transmission and distribution pipe line mileages are expected to more than double in the next 25 years, from 848,274 miles in 1970 to 1,781,742 in 1995.

Distribution mains are expected to increase by 624,340 miles to 1,220,179, while transmission mileage is expected to increase by 308,742 miles to a total of 561,663 miles.

Pipe Line Industry's new report says gas utility expenditures are expected to exceed $8 billion between 1971 and 1974.

While transmission expenditures have recently accounted for the largest segment of new capital investment, distribution outlays will be greater the next four years," the report said.

The magazine also reports that Free World construction of all types of pipe line—gas, crude oil products and offshore—is entering an upswing that can be expected to continue through the decade. The upswing is to be paced by a record number of large diameter, long distance projects.

Excluding gas distribution lines, the magazine forecasts Free World construction projects this year will total 25,618, compared with last year's 22,683.

The 1972 Free World estimates include 1,116 miles of 42-inch pipe, compared to 847 miles last year. Also included are 218 miles of 48-inch pipe, compared to only 68 miles in 1971.

ANNOYING CALLS — telephone companies receive from time to time complaints about obscene or threatening calls from never-do-wells. In the following article, the local telephone company offers some tips on how to deal with such calls.

Telephone Company Provides Tips On How Deal With Annoying Calls

The phone rings. You answer and the caller's language is abusive, obscene, or threatening. What do you do?

"Hang up," says Gary Stevens, Pampa Manager for Southwestern Bell. "Use the phone on your own terms. Don't talk to anyone you don't want to, whether they're selling something, seeking information, playing a prank or mouthing obscenities. Don't give them an audience and they're not likely to call back."

Stevens said the phone company has other suggestions on how to fight annoying calls:

1. Make callers identify themselves. When someone asks, "Who is this?" don't tell them unless you recognize the voice or until he identifies himself.
2. Don't answer any questions from a strange voice that you wouldn't answer in a face-to-face meeting with a stranger on the street.
3. If a caller remains silent, hang up. Some abusive callers want to listen, just to see what you'll do.
4. Hang up at the first indication of an obscene or suggestive remark. The caller would like nothing better than for you to respond to his comments.

5. Hang up if you're not interested in a product or service being sold by telephone and the caller persists despite your disinterest.

When these techniques are unsuccessful in stopping annoying calls, call the telephone company business office or operator, Stevens said.

"And where a threat is involved," he continued, "such as a call threatening injury to person or property, kidnap or robbery, call the police and the telephone company immediately. There are laws against abusive calling, and we have methods of tracing these calls to their source."

The law makes it a misdemeanor to use profane, vulgar or indecent language, threats, harassment or enticement by use of the telephone. Conviction carries a fine from $100 to $1,000, one to twelve months in jail, or both.

Stevens said experience has shown that annoying calls come from almost anyone — not just from strangers, but sometimes from close acquaintances, neighbors or fellow workers.

But they don't come from that source often. Many come from a relatively small group of people — unsupervised youngsters, misguided or frustrated people and sometimes from the mentally ill. Hang up, and you've denied them what they want — an audience," he concluded.

C. H. HINTON SPE Lecture To Address Pampa Club

C. H. Hinton, president of Consulting Services, Inc., in Amarillo, Texas, and a lecturer of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME, will be the guest speaker at the monthly dinner meeting of the Panhandle Section of SPE.

The meeting is scheduled for Friday, January 21, 1972, at 9:30 p.m. at the Pampa Country Club in Pampa, Texas. Hinton's speech, entitled "The Impact of Misjudgment on the Pricing of Natural Gas," will trace the history of the problems of natural gas pricing from the first Texas Panhandle field in 1919, through the 20's and 30's, the Second World War, and the 60's to date.

Hinton will also discuss the relationship between price curtailment and the natural gas shortage now facing the United States, and will show how the consumer must face the reality of demanding less energy or paying a higher price for the energy he uses. Hinton has been active in the oil and gas industry for more than 40 years. During his career, Hinton has appeared as a witness before numerous state regulatory commissions, state and federal courts, the U. S. Tax Court, the U. S. Court of Claims, The Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Canadian Energy Board.

A graduate of the U. of Illinois, Hinton formed his own consulting firm after serving for several years as vice-president in charge of production, reserves and gathering properties for Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co.

In addition to being a lecturer for the Society of Petroleum Engineers, Hinton is active in the National Society of Professional Engineers, the American Petroleum Institute, the Independent Petroleum Association of America, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association and the International Oil Scouts Association.

Texas Announces Plans To Build Largest Shipyard In Gulf Coast

Harbin said the expanded installation will cover 114 acres with a 2,000-foot frontage on the Brownsville ship channel.

He added, "We hope to have the entire facility operational by the end of the year, at which time our work force will approximate 3,000 persons, most of whom will be welders."

Marathon's Gulf Marine Division, when completed, will have the total capability—concept, design, engineering and fabrication to manufacture and launch semi-submersible drilling platforms, work boats, container ships, tugs, drill ships, gas tankers, supply vessels and other sea-going ships.

Harbin said plans for Brownsville expansion were accelerated by a $200 million backlog of orders and letters of intent for mobile self-elevating and semi-submersible offshore drilling platforms for its Marathon LeTourneau Co. subsidiary.

A doctor who operates on himself has a fool for a patient.

It's an old saying, but it's never made more sense. There are some jobs in life that you just don't tackle by yourself. The preparation of your income tax should be one of them.

And that's where H & R Block is America's largest tax service with more than 6,000 conveniently located offices to serve you. Your H & R Block representative is specially trained and can provide information on legitimate income tax benefits and opportunities that the average man on the street doesn't even know exists.

For instance, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? Or, that if your income increased over the last few years, you may save tax dollars by "income averaging"? And even if you did, would you know how to go about "income averaging" to begin with? Probably not. And there's no reason why you should. After all, you're an amateur when it comes to doing income tax.

H & R Block's charges start at $5 and last year averaged under $12.50 for over 7 million returns we prepared. And, if we make any error in the preparation of your tax return that costs you any interest or penalty on additional taxes due, while we do not assume the liability for the additional taxes, we will pay that interest and penalty.

Our one time fee entitles you to year-round tax service and assistance.

Come to the company that more than 7 million Americans placed their confidence in last year. Come to the people who will fill out your next income tax return efficiently, quickly, confidentially. Come to H & R Block.

State's Only Scottish Restuarant

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS (AP) — A former miner from Fifeshire has rallied the Texas clans by opening the state's only Scottish restaurant and night spot.

The story of J. Scotty McGovern is the kind of Horatio Alger tale most Americans like. He didn't exactly start out from the traditional log cabin, but his parents' one-floor miner's cottage at Bowhill, near Kirkcaldy, was humble enough.

Scotty left school in Cowdenbeath at 15 to go down the pit as the family's eldest son after his father died following a coal mining accident. During the next five years, he broke an arm and a wrist, had six stitches in his head and was hauled by the heels from under a roof fall before he decided that mining wasn't really for him.

Drifting south to England, he worked as a laborer in the automobile factories at Coventry. Then a part-time evening job as bartender got him interested in the catering business. He's been at it ever since.

Now an ambitious 35, Scotty has secured the support of a group of young Texas businessmen who have invested in Tartan Inns Inc., of which he is president and holds 75 per cent of the stock.

His first venture is a $120,000 restaurant, with separate club and entertainment facilities, in a new office block just opened in the fashionable northern section of the city.

The decor is authentically Scottish from the red and green tartan carpet, specially woven here in Texas, to the oak plaques bearing clan crests and tartans around the paneled walls.

"By boosting Scotland and selling all the Scotch whisky I can, I'm doing my best to keep the people working back home," says Scotty. "I want to make this place a Scottish center."

The menu features smoked salmon from Scotland, Angus steaks, sausages ("as near to bangers as I can get them to make locally"), Edinburgh mixed grill, Aberdeen-red snapper, sliced Gaelic tomatoes, and steak pie, which Scotty describes as "a kind of Forfar breading."

Two items on the menu—"famous Scotch broth from the iron kettle" and Scotch trifle—are made according to recipes supplied by Scotty's mother, Mrs. Janet Moshelli, now remarried and living near Melbourne in Australia.

Haggis can be served but only on 24 hours' notice and at a charge of $28 for four persons.

"We want to give our American customers time to think about the ingredients," Scotty explains.

Dallas-born Judy, his wife, who acts as hostess and book-keeper, has another problem. "How do you explain in a nice way what haggis really is?" she asks.

The haggis Scotty serves—no one has asked for it yet—won't be quite like home. He'll use beef liver and beef with oatmeal instead of sheep intestines, liver and heart, and serve the whole thing up under a pie dish crust instead of sewn in a sheep's stomach.

Many Texans dropping in at the Tartan Inn have Scottish names and are in search of a clan and a tartan to sport at the golf club. Scotty obliges them. A well-thumbed copy of Robert Bain's Clans and Tartans of Scotland is kept behind the bar.

Scotty had years of wandering before he first hit Dallas eight years ago.

While barman at the Hotel Leofric in Coventry, he attended catering school. Then, like many ambitious young Scotsmen, he headed south for the lights of London.

There he worked in a Holburn pub, at the Connaught Rooms, the Colony Club in Berkeley Square, and Bailey's Hotel in Kensington, with time out for a couple of summer seasons at Jersey in the Channel Islands. In seven years he worked up from commis (bus boy) to waiter and captain, then maitre d'hotel.

He crossed the Atlantic to work in Toronto, then spent a winter at Harbor Inn, Miami Beach, where the tips were king-size and he really began to believe America was paved with gold.

Phillips Veteran Wins Award

Pampan C. O. Pryor put in his "two-cents worth" and came out $460 richer for it.

Pryor, instrument-man "A" in Phillips Petroleum's exploration and production department, placed two suggestions in the "hopper"—the company program for rewarding employees for constructive thinking beyond the scope of their regular duties.

He was awarded $210 for a suggestion recommending installation of equipment which would eliminate gasoline losses and $250 for his idea concerning repair of equipment before installation. Pryor, a Phillips employee 37 years, lives at 633 Sloan St. with his wife, Mary, daughters Lynne and Martha and a son, Frank.

Pentagon Reports 40 Arms Thefts In Five Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says 40 incidents involving arms, ammunition and explosives thefts occurred in a five-month span during shipments through the states last year.

The list, supplied to the House Commerce Committee and inserted in recently published records of a transportation subcommittee hearing, includes reports of missing machine guns, pilfered pistols and thousands of rounds of stolen or lost ammunition.

Cases range from one at East St. Louis, Ill., involving 74 grenade housing assemblies that vanished from a boxcar containing 150,000, to one at Concord, N.H., concerning a stick of 40 per cent gelatin dynamite stolen from a van.

Other samples from the list, covering Jan. 8 through May 27 last year:

—Wilmington, N.C., 2,000 rounds of 45-caliber ammunition marked for Bandar, Shahpur, Iran, were lost between Washington, D.C., and Wilmington.

—Anniston Army Depot, Ala., 37 containers received from Norfolk, Va., via a motor line, inventory disclosed 441 M14 rifles missing; seals on the containers were intact and boxes in the containers were banded.

—Bellwood, Ill., three 81mm mortar shells stolen from railroad car when shipped from Lexington, Ky., to Camp McCoy, Wis.

—Letterkenny Army Depot, Chambersburg, Pa., 5,000 rounds of 22-caliber ammunition stolen from rail car bound for West Point, N.Y.

Col. Aldrin To Retire From USAF

WASHINGTON AP—Col. Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr., second man to set foot on the moon, announced today he plans to retire from the air force this summer.

Aldrin said he is considering several scientific posts, but declined to give any details.

The former astronaut said his 10 years in the space program put him at a significant disadvantage with his fellow officers in terms of furthering his career when he returned from the space program to the Air Force last year.

Aldrin, who will be 42 next week, announced the decision to retire at a Pentagon news conference.

Since July, when he returned to active Air Force duty, he has headed the test pilot school at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

boys and girls. The Center has an activity just for you on Monday and Thursday nights. On these nights judo lessons are offered to boys and men 8 years of age or older and girls 12 years of age or older. This is a class in which you learn to defend yourself from would be attackers.

The instructor for the class is Paul Moot who holds a black belt rating. Each participant should be a Center member and will be required to pay a mat fee of 50 cents per month. To get full instructions about the class, come by the Center on either of these nights and talk to Mr. Moot.

SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM—The Center is interested in an organized recreation program for children of working mothers and fathers. This would really be a glorified child care program where the parents may leave their children for the day and they would then be supervised in an all day recreation program. They would get to swim, play in the gym, trampoline, play ping pong and other ball games under adult supervision. Children would bring a sack lunch and a dime for coke or milk.

In order for us to plan such a recreation program which incidently if it goes over big during the summer could be expanded to all year services, we need to know how many parents would be interested in such a program. This would eliminate a baby sitter for some parents. Children from 3 years of age and up would be accepted in this program. Cost would be around $2.00 a day. If you are interested, please call Mr. Smith at the Center and let him have your name.

WOMEN'S EXERCISE CLASS—The Center offers to the women a private exercise and swim class on Monday and Friday mornings. The exercise classes meet in the gym at 9:30 and the instructor leads in a recorded session. At 10:10 a.m. you are invited to an informal swim time until 11:30 a.m. No swim lessons are given.

There is a baby sitting service available for mothers who have children at home. The charge per child for the full 2 hours is only 50 cents or only 25 cents for the exercise class. To participate you need only be a Center member which is $8 per year.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE RESULTS—The sixth week of the basketball league ended with these results: Rotary Indep 105 Cock O Walk 64, Borger 60 CocapCola 30, Indep 87, Celanese 74, 1st National Bank 85, First Bapt. Church 62, League standings: Borger 6-0, 1st National Bank 6-0, Rotary Club Indep. 4-2, 1st Bapt. Church 3-3, Celanese 2-4, Pampa Indep. 2-4, Coca-Cola 1-5, Cock O Walk 0-6.

Swim Lessons—The Center offers a full course of Red Cross swim lessons during the year and parents should take advantage of these opportunities. Now more than ever before, children need to know how to swim. Lakes and ponds are all around us and you hear about drowning accidents every day. Lessons are so inexpensive at the Center that no child needs to go through life not knowing how to swim. Our classes during the school year are held after school is out in the evenings either from 4-5 or 5-6 p.m. Classes meet only on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting dates. This would make each class last 2 1/2 weeks. All classes are taught by our own water safety instructor, Ruth Carter. All classes are Red Cross lessons and are free to Center members. Pool fee of $4.00 will be charged non-members.

AEC Plans To Build $500 Million Plant

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Scientists around the world, excited and working together is seldom before, are rapidly learning to read and understand the complex record of primordial history locked into the dust and stone of the moon.

Lured onwardly promising insights into the very beginnings of the solar system, scientists of many disciplines and from 17 countries are making breathtaking leaps forward in their knowledge of the moon and how it formed.

"Nothing has ever turned on excited scientists like the space program has," said Dr. Brian J. Skinner of Yale University at the third annual Lunar Science Conference here last week. "There has never been such a successful international program of science as this."

Dr. Robin Brett, a space agency scientist, notes that only three years ago some were seriously worried that spacecraft would sink-out of sight in deep layers of dust on the moon or that lunar rocks would burst spontaneously into flames when they came in contact with oxygen.

But after four Apollo moon landings, the moon has become a familiar place and scientists are on the brink of solving puzzles that date back to the dawn of time.

The underlying attraction of the moon to scientists is that it contains a history of the first billion years of creation. The moon had a fiery birth about 4.6 billion years ago, experienced the bombardment of meteorites, was convulsed with volcanoes and then, about three billion years ago, became a quiet, almost dead body in space.

Those early processes have been obscured from the surface of our dynamic, evolving earth," says Brett. "It is a fortunate coincidence for us that the record in terrestrial rocks begins at about the time when the moon ceased activity. Therefore, by studying the earth and the moon as a complement we get a complete record back to the beginning of the solar system."

To unlock the secrets from that early time scientists must understand the structure of the moon—the age of its features, and the processes which formed them. Great progress in each of these areas was demonstrated in reports given at the Lunar Science Conference.

"We know a great deal more about the moon now than about comparable questions on earth, especially the early evolution," says Dr. Robert Phinney of Princeton University.

Most scientists now believe the moon was molten, at least in its outer shell, at the beginning. This molten rock then cooled to form a crust.

Harvesters Edged, 62 To 59

JUMP HIGHER AND RUN FASTER—Is it the shoes or just skill on the player's part. Determine that for yourself, but the player is Rick McNeil (50) and he is up for the rebound in the Harvester-Wolverine bout. Lawton High took Pampa under by a tally of 62-59 to break the heart of high-hoped Pampanns. (staff photo)

Vengeance Gained For Earlier Loss

Harvester fans grim and down trodden went homeward after watching the Harvesters fight to their death as the Lawton Wolverines gained vengeance by a slim tally of 62-59.

The Harvesters did not go down without a fight, however. The score stayed neck and neck throughout the game.

At the end of the first quarter the score was Lawton 15, Pampa 14. The halftime score was Lawton 33, Pampa 31. The third period of play showed Lawton still in the lead with 49 points over Pampa's 47, and of course the game ended 62-59 favor of Lawton.

Fouls mounted high in this contest as Pampa's were: Mike Edgar with two, Marsh Gamblin with three, Richard Bunton with three, Don Cain, three, Gary Haynes, two and Bill Simon and Freddy Wilbon with one each.

Lawton's foul line-up was high also: Johnny Breathwit with two; Larry Underhill with three; Steve Davis, four; Jerry Kilgore, three; Kent Endsley with two and Rick McNeil and Jerry Wade with one each.

Breathwit was high point man of the contest with 31 points and Mike Edgar was behind him with 21.

The Harvesters reached their 59 points with Edgar's 21 tally added to Bill Simon's 10, Don Cain's eight, Gary Haynes' eight, Richard Bunton's six points, Marsh Gamblin's six and Freddy Wilbon scored none as he ailed of an obvious sprained ankle.

To aid Johnny Breathwit for the Wolverine 62 points was Larry Underhill with 13 points; Rick McNeil with nine points; Kent Endsley with six; Jerry Wade with two and Steve Davis with one point.

Harvester Cagers were not hurt statistic-wise as they still hold a 17-3 season over the Wolverine's 10-3 season.

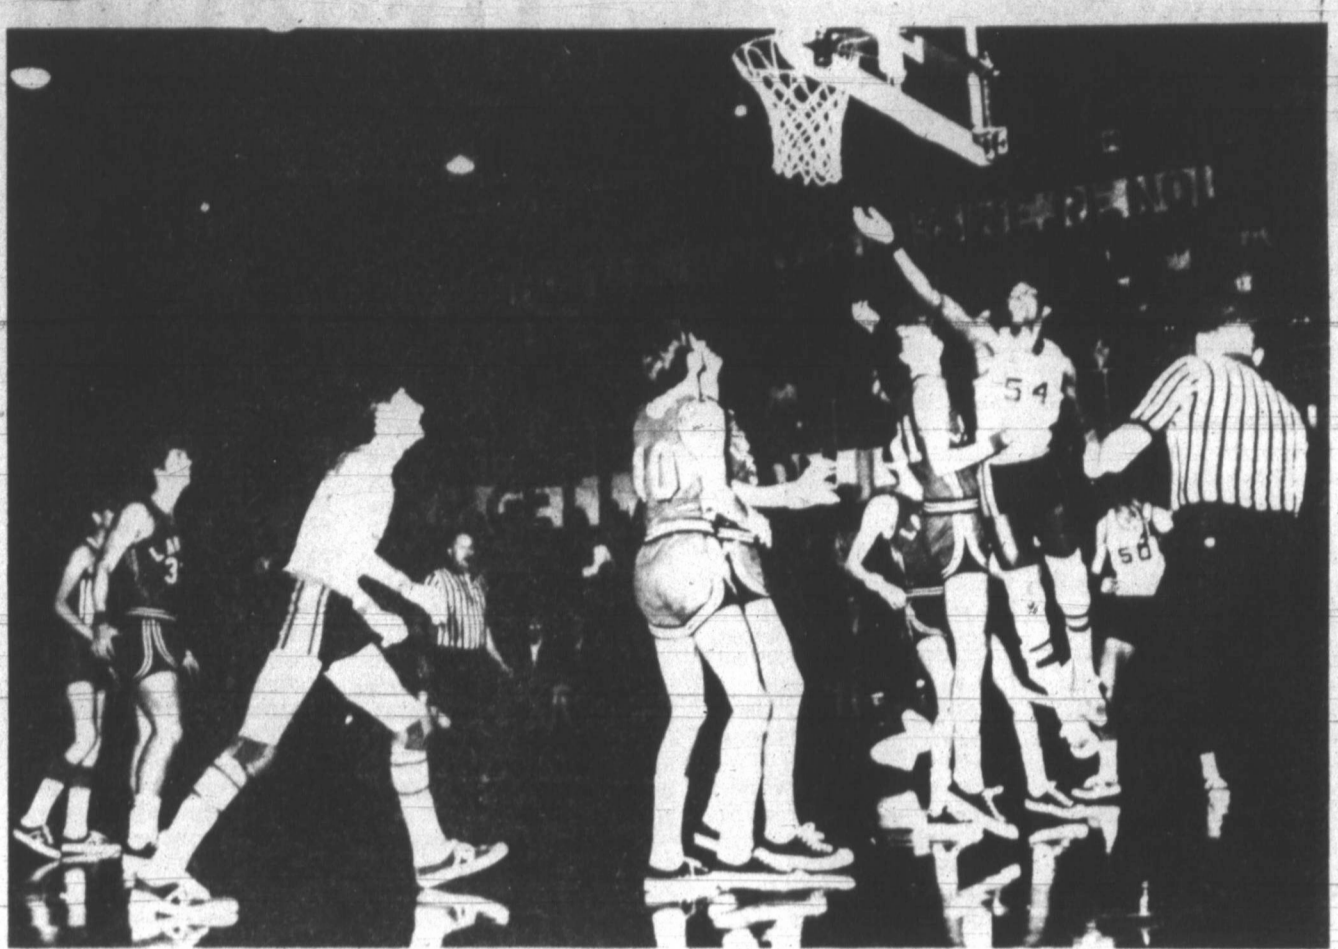

Emotions were hot on and off the court as fans practically lifted the roof with protests against calls made by the officials.

Contestants played hard and tempers were short as both coaches had to take boys from the court in several instances to let them cool.

Next on the Harvester's list is Monterey, and they will travel to Lubbock Tuesday hoping for another victory over the Plainsmen.

Monterey stooped to Pampa 63-45 on January 4 in Harvester fieldhouse and will probably be waiting in readiness for McPherson's and Pampa's pride.

After the Monterey bout Caprock will meet Pampa on Harvie ground in district competition.

DON'T LOOK NOW—but ramblin' Richard Bunton is scoring as Wolverines and Harvester teammates stand and watch. Even through the commendable efforts of Pampa, Lawton High came up on top with a tally of 62-59. Pampa is not fully down as this is just the next to the last pre-district game that the Harvies will play.

Super Frazier Fight Flops Before National Audience

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Joe Frazier knocked down Terry Daniels five times Saturday night and retained his world heavyweight championship when the fight was stopped in the fourth round with Daniels dropped over the lower strand of the ropes.

Referee Herman Dutrjeux stopped the fight at 1:47 of the fourth round.

Frazier, fighting for the first time since he outpointed Muhammad Ali last March 8, simply had too much power for Daniels, loser of three of his 10 fights last year.

The champion dropped Daniels for the fourth time at about the minute mark of the fourth round with a left hook high on the head, followed by a short right. Daniels got up at a nine count and Frazier moved in and drove him about the ring.

A barrage of punches dropped Daniels again and he almost fell through the ropes. The referee then stopped the fight.

There never really was any doubt to the outcome as the unbeaten Frazier, who the heaviest of his career at 215½ to 191½ for Daniels, put on tremendous pressure right from the opening bell.

Frazier dropped Daniels with a left hook in the first round and the count continued after the bell. The Dallas fighter, who needs six hours of credit for his college degree, got up at eight. The referee not hearing the bell, waved the fighters into action but ringsiders called his attention to the fact the round was over.

Daniels stayed on his feet through the second round and drew cheers from a crowd of about 9,000 at Rivergate Auditorium. The fight also was the first heavyweight title bout on home television since Ali knocked out Zora Folley March 22, 1967.

The 28-year-old Frazier put Daniels on the deck twice more in the third round, the first time with a right following a hook and the second time with a hook. Daniels got up at nine both times.

And The Crowd Yawned

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Traditionally there is no sports event in the world that generates the electricity of a heavyweight championship fight, but somebody blew the fuse Saturday night.

Joe Frazier's third defense of his title against obscure Terry Daniels in New Orleans Rivergate—on the eve of pro football's Super Bowl—was an artistic dud.

It was like a wake.

Where were all those dandies in full-length mink coats and sable hats? Where were the sexy dolls in purple hot pants? Where were the mob boys with their diamond-studded jills?

"They only come out for Muhammad Ali," one calloused fight fan commented.

This is a color story on the big fight. Color it gray.

The 9,000-seat auditorium, an arched concrete structure more accustomed to trade fairs and conventions, filled slowly and quietly.

A man in the second row in the gold seat section—$100 ringside—amused himself by thumbing the pages of Playboy.

It was mostly a football crowd, bored for the evening and perhaps weary of the fancy eateries while waiting for Sunday's matchup of the Miami Dolphins and Dallas Cowboys.

"There were more than 1,400 sports writers in town for the Super Bowl. Three-fourths of them chose to remain back at their hotel headquarters, sip beer and discuss Paul Warfield's chances of putting the move on Mel Renfro.

Western Union didn't put in any wires at ringside.

A well-dressed black man and his 11-year-old son took positions in the $50 seat section, a group of folding chairs with cushions level with the ring.

Frazier's wife stayed home to watch it on television, while Daniels' family was at ringside.

NBA Tournament Having Problems

By BERT ROSENTHAL, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association's One-On-One Tournament, scheduled to start Monday, has run into trouble. The pre-tournament, intra-club competition has triggered disputes, and a number of the league's top players will not participate.

At stake is $50,500 in prize money, including $15,000 for the champion. Yet, there has been disinterest among the players.

Among those who will play in Tuesday night's NBA All-Star game at Los Angeles but will not participate in the man against man tournament, include Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West of Los Angeles, Spencer Haywood of Seattle, John Havlicek and Dave Cowens of Boston, Elvin Hayes of Houston, Walt Frazier and Dave DeBusschere of New York, Wes Unseld and Archie Clark of Baltimore, Lou Hudson of Atlanta, Sidney Wicks of Portland and Tom Van Arsdale of Cincinnati.

The entrants—two from each of the 17 teams—include such unheralded performers as Garfield Smith of Boston, Eddie Miles of New York, Mike Newlin of Houston, Nate Williams of Cincinnati and Ron Knight of Portland.

Of course, there will be some mid-season All-Star selections competing in the nationally televised journey such as Connie Hawkins and Paul Silas of Phoenix, Cazzie Russell of Golden State, Jo Jo White of Boston, Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia, Jack Marin of Baltimore, Bob Kauffman of Buffalo, and John Johnson and Butch Beard of Cleveland.

Among the others who will participate are Pete Maravich of Atlanta, Len Wilkens of Seattle, Jerry Lucas of the Knicks and Jeff Mullins of Golden State.

But the absence of so many of the league's superstars may reduce some lustre from the eventual winner.

The tourney was scheduled to begin Jan. 9, but was postponed because some teams had not completed their intra-club competition. The first segment of the elimination tournament was rescheduled for national television showing between halves of Tuesday night's All-Star game. It will be taped Monday.

The draw for the 34 contestants will be announced Sunday during the televising of the Houston-New York game at the Houston Astrodome. The last four names picked in the blind draw will play an extra game, reducing the field to 32. The final of the tournament will be telecast during one of the league's championship games.

Petty Honored As Top Driver In America

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Richard Petty, the standout of stock car racing, was honored here Saturday night as the Martini and Rossi American driver of the year for 1971.

The 34-year-old ace from nearby Randleman was presented the Golden Eagles trophy and a check for $7,500 at a dinner attended by motorsports celebrities from across the country.

Petty, who won his third Grand National driving title and more than $300,000 in prize and championship money, beat out Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., by two points in the closest voting since the award was established in 1967.

The selection, made by a panel of auto sportswriters, resulted from four phases of voting during the year. Petty won two of the quarterly votes—the first one last spring and the final one in December—and failed to score in only one. He wound up with 21 points to 19 for Allison.

Petty won the final race of the season, a 500 miler at College Station, Tex., to assure himself of the award.

Third place in the yearly voting went to Al Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., the two-time Indianapolis winner and 1970 driver of the year, fourth to Peter Revson of Redondo Can-Am title, and fifth to Mark Donohue of Media, Pa. the Trans-Am titleholder.

Allison, Unser and Revson received checks for $1,000 each.

UCLA Defeats Bears

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bill Walton's 20 points and tight defense led the top-ranked UCLA Bruins to an easy 82-43 Pacific 8 Conference victory over California Saturday.

The 6-foot-11 sophomore center dominated the backboards, blocked shots and got scoring support from forwards—Keith Wilkes and Larry Farmer, who added 15 and 13 points. It was the 27th straight victory for the Bruins, who are 12-0 this season, and their fourth conference win.

Bill Duwe led California scorers with 11 points and John Coughran had 10. Ansley Truitt, the Bears' 6-9 center, got in early foul trouble guarding Walton and picked up his fifth foul early in the second half after scoring only two points.

The Bears kept the pace slow early in the game, waiting for good shots, but only Duwe could hit consistently. The Bruins had a 14-1 streak late in the first half, then held Cal to four points the first eight minutes of the second half to build a 59-27 lead.

Ticket Sales Slower Than Anticipated

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—With the Munich Summer Olympic Games seven months away, the puzzled organizers say they are confronted with "a mountain of unsold tickets and a mountain of unbooked beds."

Only 60 per cent of the 4.5 million tickets offered for sale world-wide have been sold, a spokesman for the organizers said Saturday.

"Although most of the final events have been sold out, many preliminary events may be contested in half-empty stadiums," the spokesman said. This includes nearly a million seats for preliminary soccer and handball matches in other West German cities.

Confirmed bookings have been made for only 30,000 of the 138,000 beds set aside for Olympic visitors in Bavarian hotels, inns and private homes, the spokesman said.

The West team has combined All-Star experience of 56 games, despite five first-year all-stars on the roster—Portland's 6-9 Sidney Wicks, 6-9 Haywood of Seattle, 6-7 Paul Silas of Phoenix, 6-5 Cazzie Russell of Golden State, all forwards, and 6-11 center Lanier.

Wicks is the lone rookie on the West squad and the East's only rookie is 6-3 guard Butch Beard of Cleveland. Besides Beard, the East's first-time all-stars are Cowens and 6-6 forward Jack Marin of Baltimore.

Ten year pros John Havlicek of Boston, a 6-5 forward, and Dave DeBusschere of New York, a 6-6 forward, are the East's most experienced performers. Havlicek, who also can play guard, is a seven-time all-star and DeBusschere has made it six times.

Johnny Miller Leads LA Open

By BOB GREEN, Associated Press Golf Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Young Johnny Miller vaulted past some of the game's greatest players Saturday firing a five-under par 67 for the thirdround lead in the $140,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

The skinny, blond 24-year old had a 54-hole total of 210, one stroke better than Jack Nicklaus and England's Tony Jacklin.

Nicklaus and Jacklin, co-leaders after 36 holes each shot a 71 in the near-perfect playing conditions on the Monterey Peninsula.

Lee Trevino was tied with them until he took a double bogey five on the 17th hole and finished with a 70 for 213.

Trevino was tied at that figure with 32-year-old Virginian Herb Hooper, seeking his first victory in four years on the tour, matched par 72.

Miller, who scored his first tour victory in the Southern Open and was a tough par on the first hole.

He birdied the ninth from 15 feet, then went in front alone when he punched a short iron to within five feet and sank the putt on the 11th.

Miller stroked a three iron to within three feet of the hole for his sixth birdie of the day on the 12th, but bogeyed the 13th when he missed the green. He then parred in.

"I feel I actually lost a couple of shots on the way in," he said. "I wasn't concerned about a 67. I just wanted to get as far in front as I could."

West Is Favored In NBA All-Star Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The West, with three perennial all-stars and Kareem Abdul Jabbar, takes an edge in experience and fire power over the East in Tuesday night's 22nd annual National Basketball Association All-Star game.

The game at the Forum, a 17,000-seat sellout, will be televised nationally by ABC with most of Southern California blacked out.

Abdul Jabbar, known as Lew Alcindor a year ago when the 7-foot-2 Milwaukee Bucks center sank a last-second basket for the West's 108-107 victory at San Diego, heads the 24 all-stars as the NBA's leading scorer, about 33 points per game at the midseason mark.

Jabbar's Milwaukee teammate, guard Oscar Robertson, and two Los Angeles Lakers, 71 center Wilt Chamberlain and 6-3 guard Jerry West have been selected for their 12th all-star appearances. Bob Cousy, the ex-Celtic now coaching at Cincinnati, holds the record at 13.

It was a nifty pass from West, the league's leader in assists, to Jabbar under the basket that led to the West's seventh triumph against 14 East victories, breaking a threegame triumph by the East.

West Coach Bill Sharman of the Lakers has seven of the NBA's top 10 scorers—Jabbar, Bob Love of Chicago, Gail Goodrich and West of Los Angeles, Jimmy Walker and Bob

Baseball Hall Of Fame Results To Be Released

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Koufax, former New York Yankee pitcher, is expected to gain election to baseball's Hall of Fame when voting results are announced Wednesday by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Koufax, 36, who retired prematurely because of an arthritic left elbow after the 1966 season, is eligible for the first time. The only players to be elected on their first try were Ted Williams, Bob Feller, Jackie Robinson and Stan Musial.

Candidates must be named on 75 per cent of the ballots filed by the Baseball Writers Association of America. Last year former New York Yankee slugger Yogi Berra received the most votes but failed to gain the necessary 75 per cent.

In addition to Koufax and Berra, other leading candidates include Early Wynn, a 200game winner, and slugger Ralph Kiner.

Koufax, who pitched four no-hitters during his career, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1963 and was chosen Cy Young Award winner as the majors' top pitcher in 1963, 1965 and 1966.

Razorback Lettermen

John Jenkins received honors as letterman under Razorback head coach Frank Broyles at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Jenkins was among 18 other sophomore gridsters that received letters from U.A. Fifty five football letter winners have been announced by Arkansas football coach Frank Broyles.

Included in the group were 13 seniors, 23 juniors and 19 sophomores.

Seniors receiving their third numeral were Steve Birdwell, Murfreesboro; Bill Carter, Little Rock; Russ Garber, Riverton; Kansas; David Hogue, Eudora; Ronnie Jones, North Little Rock; Mike Kelson, Houston, Texas; Tom Mabry, Conway; Bill McClard, Norman, Oklahoma; Bobby Nichols, Tulsa, Oklahoma; and Gus Rusher, Brinkley.

Jack Morris, Shawnee Mission, Kansas, received his second varsity "A" and Bill Lively, Palestine, Texas, and Keith French, Brinkley, were first-year honorees.

Juniors receiving their second numeral were Archie Bennett, Millington, Tennessee; Jim Benton, Amarillo, Texas; Scott Binnion, Bishop, Texas; Louis Campbell, Hamburg; Corky Cordell, Houston, Texas; Joe Ferguson, Shreveport, Louisiana; Mike Griffin, Malvern; Jim Hodge,

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two new breed quarterbacks—Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins and Roger Staubach of the Dallas Cowboys—will be battling in a play when Super Bowl VI is staged Sunday for pro football's biggest prizes.

The prizes—$15,000 and the sterling silver Vince Lombardi Trophy—will belong to every member of the winning team. But the spotlight in Super Bowls past has almost invariably circled the quarterbacks.

The stars of this show—to be nationally televised by CBS starting at 2:30 p.m. EST—figure to be Griese and Staubach, two young quarterbacks of the pass-if-you-can, but run-if-you-can't mold that seems to be denting the drop-back passer school of thinking.

But while Griese and Staubach are statistically alike as new breed quarterbacks who can run for yardage as well as gain it through the air they are different in their willingness to accept the label "scrambler."

"The term scrambler," Staubach said as he prepared for Sunday's clash, "takes away—using it means people will think of me as a runner rather than a thrower. I'd rather be known as a passer. I think I'm a sporadic runner."

Griese, on the other hand, doesn't find the label offensive.

"I don't care what they call me," he explained. "My philosophy is to set up and throw if I have time. But if the protection breaks down, rather than fall down, the quarterback who has the ability to run has an advantage. I'm a pocket passer. But running is an additional weapon."

Griese, a 6-foot-1, 190 pound product of Purdue now in his fifth season, was the No. 1 passer in the American Conference this year. He completed 55.1 per cent of his passes for 2,089 yards and 19 touchdowns with a 3.4 interception percentage.

Staubach is a 6-foot-3, 197-pound product of the Naval Academy who is only in his third pro season after four years of military service. Nevertheless, he was the No. 1 passer in the National Conference this year with a 59.7 completion percentage, 1,882 yards gained, 15 touchdowns and a 1.9 interception mark.

Staubach also gained 343 yards and scored twice while running with the ball 41 times while Griese picked up 82 yards in 26 carries, although he did not score.

But this Super Bowl has more than new breed quarterbacks. It also has two teams driven by emotional missions—the Cowboys to wipe out the last effects of a "can't-win-the-big-ones" tag and the Dolphins to help Coach Don Shula erase the memory of a Super Bowl III loss to the New York Jets when he was coaching Baltimore.

The Cowboys, who since 1966 have fallen either one or two victories short of winning either the National Football League championship or the Super Bowl, no longer worry about what the football world labels them. But they are aware.

"Up until last year we did have a kind of complex," Coach Tom Landry acknowledged. "But that changed when we won the National Conference championship. So we have shown no emotions in the playoffs this year—just a quiet determination."

"These guys feel like they've got to win the Super Bowl before they show emotion—that's the only place they haven't been."

The Cowboys were favored last year, but lost to Baltimore 16-13, the third straight victory by an AFC team for a 3-2 lead in the Super Bowl series.

"We remember it," said cornerback Mel Renfro, "and we don't want it to happen again. We know what it means."

What it means is a winter of derision from the fans—the same kind of derision Shula faced when his Colts were upset by the Jets in Super Bowl III.

"Don was criticized for the carnival atmosphere in camp before that game," Miami middle linebacker Nick Buoniconti pointed out. "He had a more protective attitude toward the players this time."

"Don's never forgotten the Super Bowl against the Jets," Shula is the miracle-worker who took the Dolphins, a 3-10-1 club in 1969, and in two seasons built them into a winner, the club having arrived here after a 27-24 sudden death overtime playoff victory over Kansas City and a 21-0 triumph over Baltimore in the AFC championship.

The major weapons offensively have been Griese; running backs Larry Csonka, a 1,000-yard ground gainer, and Jim Kiick; wide receiver Paul Warfield; and placekicker Garo Yepremian.

Warfield, who has been one of the centers of attraction ever since President Nixon suggested Shula have Griese throw him a down-and-in pass, caught 43 passes for 996 yards and an NFL-leading 11 touchdowns during the regular season.

The Miami defense, led by Buoniconti, has been somewhat overlooked by the general public during the season, but played as large a part in Miami's 10-3-1 regular season record as the offense.

The Dolphins' defensive unit ranked second to Baltimore in the AFC. The Cowboys' more glamorous unit—nicknamed the Dooomsday Defense—finished second in the NFC to Minnesota, but allowed less yardage per game than Miami, 247.7 to 261.5.

They also gained more yardage per game, 359.6 to 315.1, than Miami, as Staubach used Duane Thomas and Calvin Hill on the run and fired passes to Bob Hayes; Lance Alworth and his two tight ends, Bill Truax and Mike Ditka.

Thomas, the controversial running back who refuses to talk, was the club's leading ground gainer with 793 yards and 11 touchdowns. Hill, who suffered a ligament pull in the NFC championship game, gained 468 yards and scored eight times.

Hill came along slowly in early-week workouts but was expected to be available, although Landry has an adequate back-up in rugged Walt Garrison. But the key to the Cowboy's final 11-3 record, a 20-12 playoff victory over Minnesota and a 14-3 champion title game triumph over San Francisco was Staubach, who took over at mid-season and has steered the club to nine consecutive victories.

That string will be on the line Sunday as well as the Dolphin's shutout string of 82 minutes and 40 seconds running back into their fifth and sixth periods of their victory over Kansas City in pro football's longest game.

Sudden Death also will be in effect for Sunday's climax to the 1971 season. If the game is tied at the end of the regulation 60 minutes the game will continue in overtime with the winner the first team scoring by safety, field goal or touchdown.

Facts and figures for Sunday's Super Bowl game:

At stake—professional football championship and the Vince Lombardi Trophy.

Participants—American Conference champion Miami Dolphins and National Conference champion Dallas Cowboys.

Site—Tulane Stadium.

Seating capacity—81,023.

Starting time—2:30 p.m. EST.

Television and radio—nationally by CBS at 2:30 p.m. EST.

Players' shares—$15,000 to each member of winning team, $7,500 to each member of losing team.

Division of game net receipts—after deduction of taxes, expenses and players' shares, remainder will be distributed to the competing clubs and the player pension fund.

Power-Running Csonka Snares Dolphin Honors

YORK (NEA)—Larry Csonka, a powerful runner who can wear a tackle like a cape, has been named by his Miami teammates the NEA 1971 Third Down Trophy winner, symbolic of the most valuable player on his team.

Csonka heads up the list of Third Down Trophy winners among the 13 American Conference teams of the National Football League.

Csonka was the winner over such formidable teammates as quarterback Bob Griese and wide receiver Paul Warfield. Csonka rushed for over 1,000 yards and led the NFL in rushing average, with 54 yards per carry. It was good enough to help Miami win a division title. The Third Down Trophy, made by the Seamless Co. for Newspaper Enterprise Association, will be presented to the honored player in specially arranged ceremonies in their team cities.

The other MVPs are:

BALTIMORE—Ted Hendricks, linebacker, the longest, leanest, and perhaps, toughest linebacker in the game.

Warfield-Renfro Combo To Key Super Bowl VI

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The key to Super Bowl VI, Dallas Coach Tom Landry says, is the Paul Warfield-Mel Renfro matchup.

But the lock on the victory could easily be snapped shut by a foot—one belonging to either Mike Clark or Garo Yepremian.

The oddsmakers have installed the Cowboys as six-point favorites over the Miami Dolphins.

That's one touchdown—or, if you will, two field goals.

The Warfield-Renfro confrontation will, no doubt, be the one most looked forward to by the frenzied fans who will jam Tulane Stadium for the game, to be nationally televised by CBS with the kickoff coming at 2:30 p.m. EST.

Warfield, the Dolphins' swift, fluid and sure-handed wide receiver, will be flying down the left side of the field much of the afternoon.

And as he bursts from the scrimmage line, he'll find Renfro, the Cowboy's crafty veteran cornerback, waiting to knock down or intercept passes aimed in his direction.

But in this game, with two defensive powers gaining much of the attention, victory may well hinge on the three-point boot.

Yepremian, the Dolphins' field-goal specialist, has been in the spotlight since his 37-yarder that catapulted Miami to its 27-24 sudden-death playoff victory in double overtime against Kansas City.

He was limited to just three extra points in the American Conference championship, won 21-0 by the Dolphins over Baltimore.

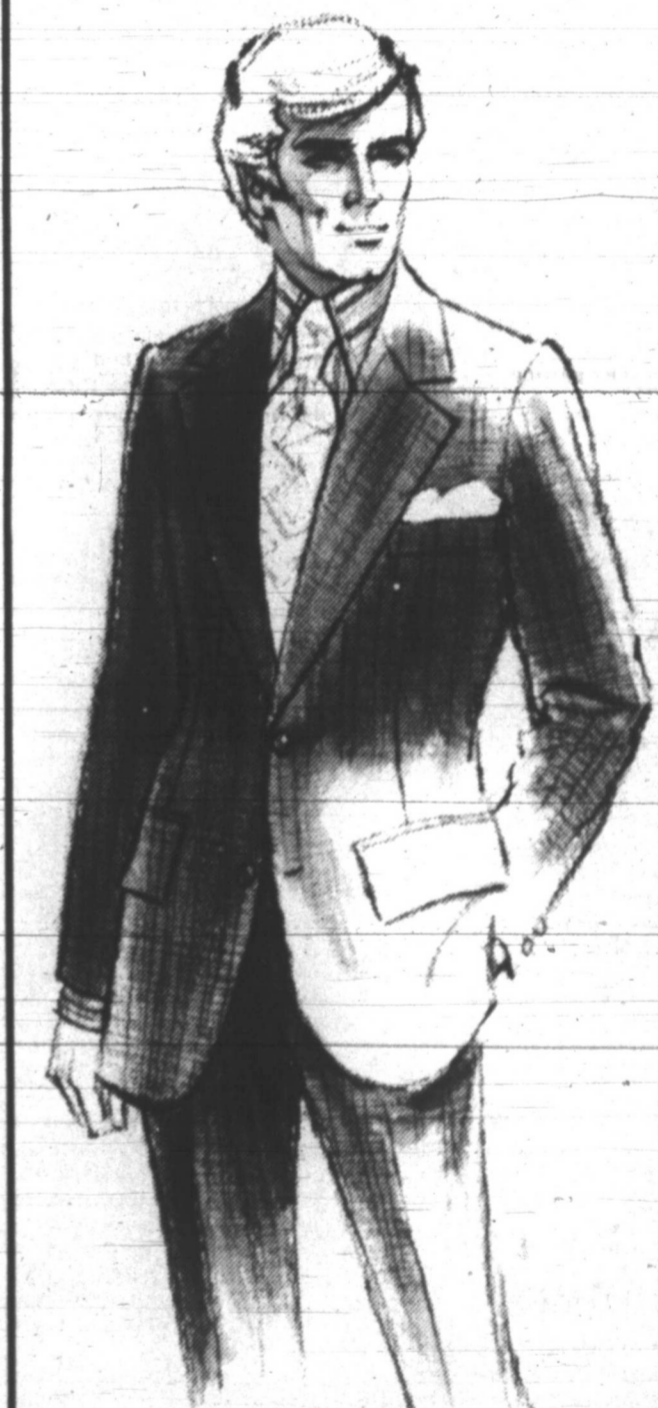

Clark has had an easy time in the playoffs. The Cowboys have won their postseason games with relative ease—20-12 against Minnesota and 14-3 in the National Conference championship with San Francisco.

But now the pressure is on him, particularly since he is considered a kicker with only middle-distance ability while Yepremian is credited with more long-range ability.

Clark says he operates exactly the opposite from the rest of the players when it comes to getting ready for a game. "They get all psyched up to a pitch that makes them perform better," he observes. "But psychologically, I try to drag myself down. If you go out on the field all hopped up about what you're going to try, and you're thinking 'what if... then you lose your concentration, your timing and you can forget the whole thing."

"Sometimes I feel kind of segregated, not playing with the rest of the team," he says. "And I'd really like to get into a game as a runner or receiver."

Griese Figures Both Teams Even

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Miami quarterback Bob Griese has Super Bowl VI figured. The Dolphins and the Cowboys are dead even.

"The way I see it," said Griese, "we've never won a Super Bowl... and, neither have they."

Sunday's pro football world championship game also will snap a one-game Super Bowl losing streak either for Coach Don Shula of the Dolphins or counterpart Tom Landry of the Cowboys.

Shula is 0-1 in the big one, a 16-7 loser to Joe Willie Namath and the New York Jets in 1969 when Don was still coach of the Baltimore Colts.

Landry is 0-1, last January's 16-13 heartsmasher against the Colts in Super Bowl V in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Landry is 0-1, last January's 16-13 heartsmasher against the Colts in Super Bowl V in Miami's Orange Bowl.

"I'm not greedy," smiled Shula, "all I want is a 1-1 coaching record in the Super Bowl."

Asked if he felt sorry for nonwinner Landry, Don said "not a bit. I've got my own problems."

The Dolphins polished their goal-line offense and defense plus the kicking game today, a third straight workout on the artificial surface of Tulane Stadium.

"We had exceptional practices Wednesday and Thursday," said Shula, "and then toned it down a bit Friday. We are much better organized than we were with the

Isaac Thomas Wants Glorious Instant TD

By DENNE H. FREEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — With dead seriousness, rookie Isaac Thomas said today on the eve of Super Bowl VI—My personal game plan is to take the opening kickoff for six."

Thomas' brash boast might be laughed off by most teams, but the Miami Dolphins are aware the Dallas Cowboy speedster is capable of such a feat in the blink of an eye.

The 23-year-old Bishop College product, a second-round Cowboy draft choice, ran back consecutive game-opening kickoffs for touchdowns of 89 and 101 yards against Los Angeles and the New York Jets, respectively, toward the end of the regular season.

Thomas, with 44 second speed in the 40 yards, also almost broke one against Minnesota in a National Conference playoff game. Since his double lightning shot against the Rams and Jets every team has tried to kick away from him.

"I know the word is out on me now," Thomas said. "I've heard some of the Dolphin players say it isn't going to happen against them."

Thomas said the kickoff returns "are the only chances I have for glory in this game and I just have to contribute something. The guys are counting on me."

He added: "Everytime I go out on the field now they yell at me. Bring us one back, bring us one back."

Thomas goes through a ritual before every kickoff. He has 255-pound defensive tackle Bill Gregory clobber him on the shoulder pads and slap his helmet.

"After I go through that I don't feel the tackle," Thomas said. "It helps to keep you from fumbling the ball if you get hit."

"You know it was almost spooky but I got a feeling when I trotted out on the field I was going to go all the way—I really didn't get that feeling before except in the Los Angeles and New York games."

Asked if this mystic feeling was creeping over him again, Thomas laughed and said: "I'll know just before the kickoff after my head gets through ringing from Gregory's pounding."

And if Dallas receivers the opening-kickoff, a national television audience and 80,000 fans in the Sugar Bowl should know in about 11 or 13 seconds if Thomas' personal game plan was on target.

Bond Playing For U.S. Navy

The United States Navy is using a Pampa youth as the center on one of their championship basketball teams. Johnny B. Bond, son of Mrs. Loyce Bond of Route 2 is currently a member of the varsity basketball team sponsored by the Commander-in-Chief, U.S. Atlantic Fleet headquartered in Norfolk, Va.

Bond is an Interior Communication Electrician Third Class in the Navy.

The Naval team the 6'6" center is playing for has gained a three win and one loss record thus far in a nine game season. At the end of the regular season there will be a Fifth Naval District Championship play-off beginning the second week of February.

North Texas Downs Drake

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Sasser scored the last seven points as North Texas held off Drake 55-54 in a Missouri Valley Conference basketball game here Saturday.

No points were scored in the final five minutes.

Double Dome For Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The City of Houston was first with a domed football stadium and now there apparently are plans to make the Bayou City the first to have two domed facilities.

Houston Oilers Owner Bud Adams said Friday night a feasibility study is under way to put a roof on Rice Stadium and expand it to 80,000 capacity.

The Houston Post quoted a source at New Orleans as saying the plan was being considered at a cost of $7 1/2 million.

Adams said the plan would be for Rice to enlist the Oilers, University of Houston, Texas Southern, Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl and the Super Bowl for the expanded facility.

Adams, whose Oilers play in the air-conditioned Astrodome, said if the plan was completed, he would have to consider moving.

"We're not seeking a new home, and are happy with playing the Dome," Adams said. "But it would be something that would have to be considered."

"I've been told that some people interested in this will be in touch with me concerning this in the very near future," Adams said.

Such an expansion also could help Houston to get the Super Bowl.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle has said a 55,000 stadium would be out of the picture as a Super Bowl site. The Astrodome has a capacity of 55,000.

Rice University President Dr. Norman Hackerman approved of the idea.

"It would be great if done," Hackerman said. "We couldn't afford to do it ourselves but if it could be done I would have no objections. I've heard some party talk about it, but this sounds more serious than anything I've heard."

Adams once talked of putting a roof over the Rice facility in 1966 prompting the suggestion the stadium name be changed to Uncle Bud's converted Rice.

Mel Pender Matches World Record Time

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Sprinter Mel Pender tied a world indoor record, but miler Kip Keino and high jumper Reynaldo Brown were accorded top honors at the National Invitational Indoor Track Meet.

After Pender was timed in 5.9 seconds in the 60-yard dash Friday night, Keino and Brown shared the outstanding performer award with strong crowd support.

Keino, the 32-year-old

Olympic champion from Kenya, was timed in 3:59.3 while cracking the four-minute barrier indoors for the first time in his illustrious career less than two days after a 19-hour plane flight from Africa.

The slender distance star, competing for the first time in three months, ran the last quarter in 56.4 seconds as the crowd of 11,125 in the University of Maryland's Cole Field House urged him on. He took the lead with five of the 11 laps remaining.

Those remaining in the arena at the end of the long meet, cheered lustily for Brown. The AAU champion cleared 7-4 in the high jump, the best ever indoors by an American and second only to the 7-4 1/2 by Russia's Valeriy Brumel. Brown, who competed in the 1968 Olympics at age 17, took advantage of a semester break at Cal Poly to switch from basketball to track for one week of training prior to the meet. Next Thursday, he returns to the court.

Pender tied the world mark he equaled in a heat last year—a record he shares with Bob Hayes and John Carlos.

In addition to the high jump and mile, meet records also were set in the pole vault by Tom Blair of Penn. 17-2 1/2, shot put, Al Feuerbach, Pacific Coast Club, 67-1, 600-yard run, Martin McGrady, Southern Cal. 1:09.2, and one-mile relay, Adelphi, 3:13.7.

Patulski Wins Top Honors

HOUSTON (AP) — Notre Dame's Walt Patulski, the 1971 Vince Lombardi winner, was given a shot at fullback his freshman season, but he made his biggest explosion at defensive end.

"We gave him a shot at fullback but by his sophomore year, our needs were at defensive end," said Notre Dame defensive line coach Joe Yanto. "We told him if he wanted to run with the ball all he had to do was take the ball away from the quarterback."

Patulski did enough of that to win All-American honors for the 1971 season and Friday night was presented with the 45-pound granite Lombardi trophy, symbolic of the nation's outstanding lineman.

The annual award is named in honor of the famed Green Bay and Washington head coach who died in 1970 of cancer. More than 750 persons attended the $100 per plate dinner with proceeds going to the American Cancer Society's research program.

Patulski, who dropped opposing quarterbacks 17 times for 129 yards in losses last season, could be the No. 1 draft choice in the NFL draft. Buffalo has the first pick and is in need of defensive linemen.

Pampa Fields Female Boxer In Competition

Pampa Boxing Club had nine boys competing in the Amarillo Invitational Golden Gloves Tournament Saturday after the semi-final rounds Friday. Twelve members of the Pampa club were entered in the competition Friday including Kurt Vess, 50 lb.; Jerry Finney, 60 lbs.; Buddy Wilhelm, 60 lbs.; Tammee Wilhelm, 65 lbs.; daughter of Bud Wilhelm, she is the only girl boxer in the state of Texas. Wade Archibald, 156 lbs.; Blayne Wilson at 100 lb.; Roy Rosalez at 80 lbs.; Tony Brown at 112 lbs.; Bob Hausen and Mike Cook at 135 lbs.; Mike Archibald at 125 lbs.; Ronnie Brown at 147 lbs.; Pete Laughlin, 165 lbs.; and in the open division two members of the club, Tommy Sargent at 115 lbs. and J. R. Marine at 165 lbs.

Women are not usually active participants (other than audience) in boxing. Tammee Wilhelm has the distinction of being the only girl boxer in the State of Texas. To help identify with her competition she has cut her hair to a shag look.

Little Tammee started boxing after watching her father's team work out and he noticed her instructing the smallest boxers in the club on how to throw punches.

The nine year old swinger has other hobbies besides boxing, she has piano, dancing and recently has competed in three beauty contests runner up in two of them.

She will be fighting for

TAMMEE WILHELM

Pampa in the Guyton Invitational Tournament. Her opponents think of her as an equal. Most of the boys according to Wilhelm, "They don't want to hit a girl until she hits them." What she's got is a good strong left jab and a mean look.

She says: "If she can't look them down she will have to keep her guard up. Saturday night she was scheduled to fight at the invitation of Golden Glove Tournament Director Bernie Weigand of Amarillo.

The crowd response is fantastic according to father-coach Wilhelm as everyone assumes she is the underdog and roots for her victory.

She will be fighting for a championship trophy next week in Guyton. If she wins, she will be the first girl I know of to have ever won a trophy for boxing in any competition.

Since Tammee's joining of the Pampa Boxing Club team another Women's Labber has been added to the ranks, Melanie Wilson, 11 year old daughter of Devonne Wilson, 2105 Lynn.

All girls and boys of all ages and sizes are invited to join the Pampa Boxing Club for the building up of their bodies and timing. The Club is a non-profit organization as all dues and fees charged go to the purchasing of equipment and upkeep.

SMU Hires Two New Faces For Football

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist has hired two former Texans to add to its football staff.

Athletic Director Hayden Fry, who also is football coach, said Friday that A. O. Phillips and Andy Everest will join the department.

Phillips, defensive coach for the pro San Diego Chargers for five years, will become defensive co-ordinator.

Everest, head coach at the University of California at Santa Barbara, will be the offensive line coach.

Phillips is a native of Orange and played at Lamar Junior College and Stephen F. Austin. He coached at Nederland, Spring Branch, Jacksonville and Amarillo high schools, was an assistant on Bear Bryant's staff when he was at A&M, and was defensive co-ordinator at the University of Houston.

Everest is a native of Wichita Falls and played high school ball in Odessa. He was a four-year letterman at what now is the University of Texas at El Paso. He coached at Monahan and Corpus Christi Miller, then followed one of his coaches, Jack Curtee, to Utah and Stanford as an assistant. He coached a junior college and then went to Santa Barbara which has cancelled football.

Fry also announced a realignment of his current staff and the resignation of two assistants.

Ray Utley, a defensive co-ordinator, will take charge of the offense. He was offensive backfield coach when the Mustangs had an 8-3 record in 1968, including a victory over Oklahoma in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

"Don Boyce, offensive line coach last fall, will become a defensive coach.

Bob McQueen, defensive line coach, and Joe Boring, who coached offensive backs, have resigned. McQueen is due to be named as head coach of a Central Texas high school. Boring plans to remain in coaching.

Woman's Skating Team Announced

By KAROL STRONGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Janet Lynn, Julie Holmes and Suna Murray were named to represent the United States in the Olympics following their 12-3 finish in the women's senior U.S. National Figure Skating Championship Friday night.

Miss Lynn of Rockford Ill. captured her fourth straight national title with a free skating performance only slightly marred when she skidded coming out of a double flip. Of the three, she is the only veteran of Olympics competition.

At the age of 14, the tiny blonde finished ninth in the 1968 Olympics at Grenoble, France. She was the youngest American ever to be named to both the Olympics and the U.S. World Figure Skating team.

"I'm approaching this Olympics as a stronger skater and a stronger person," Miss Holmes, a perennial second to Janet in the National competition, carried home a pre-Olympic gold medal from the warm-up last year to the games beginning in Sapporo, Japan, Feb. 3.

But the American trio this year will have to surpass the skills of Beatrix Schuba of Austria, the world champion and Karen Magnussen of Canada, the North American titlist.

Alternates for the U.S. team are the fourth and fifth finishers in the Nationals, Dorothy Hamill, 15, of Riverside, Conn., who finished fifth last year, and Jennie Walsh, 22, of Torrance, Calif., who failed to qualify for the 1971 Nationals.

North Carolina Whips Virginia

CHARLOTTE, Va. (AP) — Third-ranked North Carolina outscored previously unbeaten Virginia 19-4 over a seven-minute span late in the second half Saturday and shipped the Cavaliers 85-79 in a battle of Atlantic Coast Conference basketball powers.

Two free throws by Kim Hubbard gave the Tar Heels the lead for good at 61-60 with 9:21 left. The eighth-ranked Cavaliers got only two field goals in the next 6 1/2 minutes as North Carolina built a 13-point lead with 3:28 remaining.

Virginia, which had won 12 straight going into the game, twice cut the deficit to six-

1972 Seen To Be Second Best Year For Texas Industrial Development

AUSTIN, Tex.—Preliminary figures indicate 1971 will be the second best year for Texas industrial development in recent history despite a tight national economy.

Figures available for the first 11 months of 1971 show that 338 new industries were located in Texas, compared with 296 for the same period last year.

"We are very pleased with these 11-month figures," Chester Wine of Corpus Christi, chairman of the Texas Industrial Commission, said in revealing the year-end report. "This makes 1971 second only to the record-breaking 1969 total which earned the state the honors of being number one nationally in industrial growth."

Wine said that although the figures are very good on new plant locations, expansions of existing industries were down. The 11-month totals for expansions were 225, compared with 335 for the previous year.

Jim Harwell, executive director, of the commission credits a grass-roots development program coupled with Texas' natural attractiveness in making the state an industrial power.

"First, we concentrate on developing resourceful and progressive localities," he said. "Then an extensive advertising campaign concentrates on the state's ability to support nearly any type of industry."

Since 1960, the double-edged program has matured into a well-balanced system of international proportion, and in 1969 Texas became the national leader in industrial expansion, leading second-place California by a phenomenal 42 percent.

The state has since netted several important awards for its expansion efforts, including the coveted Presidential "E" award for export development.

The scope of the Commission stretches from revitalizing programs for small communities to a national advertising campaign, with a computerized site-location service and expanded rural and export development projects among the most recent innovations.

"These additions add both speed and versatility to our operations," Harwell said.

"With them we can present an expanded Texas industrial community to a truly international clientele."

Instasite, the Commission name for its computerized location program, provides a mammoth storehouse of industrial information which can be recalled within seconds for businessmen seeking a Texas site.

"Texas can provide excellent locations for virtually any type of industry," Harwell said. "Instasite selects a choice of suitable sites with lightning speed."

Initial bids on the system ran as high as $500,000, but Commission officials enlisted local chambers of commerce in compiling and arranging data and completed the project at a fraction of the estimate.

In addition to bringing industry to Texas, the commission has begun an extensive export development program to provide international markets for Texas products.

Since 1970, the commission and Mexican officials have been developing a program adding a new dimension to Texas international trade. This was culminated in October with the opening of an industrial development office in Mexico City.

"Of the $1.4 billion in American products Mexico buys annually, 95 percent are available from Texas," Harwell said. "New trade agreements will mean big international revenue for Texas manufacturers."

Commission officials have also contacted German and Japanese officials about trade agreements, and Harwell said both responded optimistically.

Another program could reverse population losses which have drained Texas rural areas for more than 30 years. Several of the declining counties have reversed their population trend during the last 10 years, and a commission team is trying to find out why.

"If we can discover what has begun to replenish population in these counties, perhaps we can restore the population levels of other rural areas," he said.

Joe M. Shelton Appointed To GMOTS

GMO TRAINEE — Joe M. Shelton, 38, of Pampa, has been appointed to the 27th Game Management Officer Training School by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Shelton is married to the former Miss Linda Stevens of Pampa. They have a child, Krista, 2.

N.Y. Banks Will Lower Prime Rates

NEW YORK (AP) — Two major New York banks announced Friday they were lowering their floating basic interest rates 1/4 percent to 4 1/4 percent, effective Monday, cutting the rates to an 11-year low.

First National City Bank, the nation's second-largest commercial bank, triggered the move and was followed by Irving Trust Co., 13th largest.

Both banks have floating basic rates subject to weekly review and similar to fixed prime rates used by most other commercial banks.

The cuts came amid speculation that banks using fixed prime rates would also soon cut their interest levels. The rates involved are those the banks charge their most creditworthy corporate customers.

Law On Pay Challenged At U. S. Court

HOUSTON (AP) — A state law forbidding regular salary payments to state workers holding elective office has been challenged in a federal court suit here.

Seven university employees asked U. S. District Court Judge John V. Singleton Thursday to restrain the state from cutting off their pay pending a hearing.

The plaintiffs are professors or employees of Texas A&M University, the University of Texas medical branch in Galveston and Lee College in Baytown.

They also hold or plan to seek nonpaying school board and city council positions.

A state appellate court ruled recently that the Texas Constitution bars elected office holders from receiving state salaries.

Precinct Four Post Sought By McCarty

Hershel McCarty, McLean, has announced his candidacy for the post of Gray County commissioner, Precinct 4. His hat in this particular ring makes this place on the commissioners' court a potentially tight race.

Following service in the U.S. Air Force, McCarty entered business at McLean. He feels 26 years of personal business success qualifies him to manage the affairs of Gray County.

"Public responsibility is no stranger to me," said McCarty in his announcement statement.

"I served eight years on the board of the McLean Independent School District. I feel I am qualified to conduct the business of Gray County. If elected, I will devote full time to the duties of the office."

JOE CLARK

Seventh Term Bid Made By Joe Clark

With 18 years of service to the people of Gray County behind him, Joe Clark, county commissioner, precinct 1, has announced his candidacy for a fourth four-year term.

Clark, a resident of Lefors, has served three two-year terms and three four-year terms on the Gray County commissioners court.

"I figure in that time," Clark said, "that folks have found out what I can do, what I believe in and how I am to get along with. I also figure this fact got me re-elected before. That's the record I'm going to run on this time."

In addition to time county interests require of him, Clark is active in the community life of Lefors and has made his influence as a citizen and neighbor felt, too.

Crownover - Beesley Vows Are Repeated

Nuptial vows were exchanged at 4 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 8, in the First United Methodist Church of Knox City by Miss Jacqueline Crownover of Amarillo and Barney Beesley of Canyon.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. R. Kenneth Crownover of Knox City. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Beesley of Pampa.

Rev. B. J. Foster officiated for the double-ring service. Mrs. Melvin Lowrey, organist, played traditional wedding music, and Mrs. David Hewitt, and Miss Stacy Angle sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The church was decorated with candelabra, entwined with English ivy. Votive candles lined the chancel rails, which were entwined with English ivy.

THE BRIDE

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a gown of candlelight satin, styled with an empire bodice and portrait neckline. Her bishop sleeves were of silk organza banded with heirloom lace. Her long veil, bordered with lace, fell from a ivory lace coil trimmed with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Ginger Crownover, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an empire gown of gold crepe with matching headpiece. She carried a nosegay of carnations and lilies-of-the-valley.

Bridesmaids were Miss Rose Riesinger and Miss Karen Clonts of Knox City. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor and carried identical nosegays.

Richard Sechrist served as best man, and groomsmen were Jim Beesley and Rickey Beesley, brothers of the bridegroom. Donnie Michalik and Mike Riesinger were ushers.

RECEPTION

For the reception in the church's Fellowship Hall, the serving table was covered with a lace cloth over gold. Mrs. Herman Law and Mrs. Archie Hardin, sisters of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl and served the cake. Guests were registered by Miss Ann Hoge.

MRS. BARNEY BEESLEY

The couple will be at home at 1116 Carolina, Amarillo.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride was graduated from Knox City High School and attended West Texas

University Canyon. She is employed by a life insurance company in Amarillo.

PRE-NUPITAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial events included a gift tea in Knox City.

Officers Elected By Varietas Club

Varietas Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Clyde Ellis Tuesday, with Mrs. L. B. Penick, president, in charge.

Mrs. S. C. Evans reviewed "The Status of Women" from the "Club Woman" magazine. Mrs. R. W. Lane spoke on the purpose of the Golden Book which is maintained for Texas women of note. Varietas Study Club already has one name in the book, that of Mrs. Lee Harrah, a charter member of the club.

Officers elected for 1972-73 were Mrs. N. B. Ellis, president; Mrs. Clyde Ellis, vice-president; Mrs. W. H. Burden, secretary; Miss Anna Pierce, treasurer; Mrs. W. E. Abernathy, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Otis Nace, reporter. New officers will be installed in May.

The program topic for the afternoon was "Religion" and carried the sub-title, "He who runs from God in the morning will scarcely find Him the rest of the day." Mrs. W. H. Burden introduced the speakers.

Mrs. Ralph Thomas spoke on "Today's Vision—Spiritual Growth" and discussed the history of religion as related to present trends and changes. She told the story of "The Keeper of the Spring" by Peter Marshall and emphasized the statement of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, who said, "We cannot afford to lose the youth, either in numbers or in enthusiasm, from our churches."

Mrs. Thomas was joined by Mrs. L. B. Penick in a dramatization of "The Basque Shepherd" and "The Shepherd Psalm." Mrs. Penick presented the 23rd Psalm by sentences and Mrs. Thomas offered explanations of each section in the light of the Basque shepherds of Spain.

Mrs. W. H. Burden closed the program with quotations from "Guidposts" magazine.

Present at the meeting were Miss Anna Pierce; and Mrs. W. E. Abernathy, W. A. Bohol, W. H. Burden, F. A. Cary, Cecil Dalton, H. Price Dosier, Clyde Ellis, N. B. Ellis, S. C. Evans, J. E. Gibson, Lee Harrah, J. E. Kirchner, R. W. Lane, Otis Nace, L. B. Penick, Ralph Thomas, and Sherman White.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Farnsworth, 200 Tignor, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara Denise, to Alvin John Belflower of Amarillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vanice Belflower 1210 E. Frederic. The wedding is scheduled for Feb. 19, in the Central Baptist Church. The bride-elect is a 1970 graduate of Pampa High School and is employed by Furr's Cafeteria. The prospective bridegroom, a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School, is employed in Amarillo and is attending night school at TSTI.

Current Marketing Bargains

COLLEGE STATION — Make the most of your food dollar this week and follow these marketing tips suggests Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Look for beef bargains on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and beef liver. Poultry sections are featuring fryer chickens, with good buys on both whole and cut-up fryers and fryer parts.

Economical protein choices this week can also be found on eggs, cheese, split peas and dried beans. Eggs have been selling at bargain prices for many months and should continue at reasonable prices.

Vegetable choices designed to give the budget a break are hard shell squash, cabbage, turnips, dry onions, rutabagas and potatoes. Cauliflower, eggplant and broccoli are priced somewhat higher but offer variety. Sweet potatoes, now kiln-dried to increase shelf life, are tagged with higher prices than earlier in the season. Head lettuce prices are climbing and quality is down.

Fresh fruit markets are stocked with Texas grapefruit and oranges, apples, bananas, tangerines, tangelos and pears. Tangerines will be available until early March, with peak supplies occurring now. Look for deep yellow or orange color and bright luster as signs of fresh, mature, good-flavored tangerines. Pears are also available in good supply. A sweet treat low in calories, a single medium-sized pear will provide only about 70 calories.

Anniversary Observance Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Marvel Rake will be honored with a reception in observance of their golden wedding anniversary at their home, 600 N. Wells, from 2 until 6 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 23.

Neighbors and family friends are invited to attend.

Hosts will be the couple's daughter-in-law, Mrs. M. E. Rake of Hurst; and their grandchildren, Mrs. Donna Sue Armstrong of Irving, Oran L. Rake of Abilene, Marvel E. Rake of Lubbock, Mike Rake of Memphis, Tenn., and Doug Rake of Hurst.

Mr. and Mrs. Rake were married Jan. 25, 1922, in Osceola, Mo. They lived in Oklahoma until 1926, when they moved to Borger, then to Pampa in 1927. Mr. Rake is a retired cable tool driller.

Mr. and Mrs. Rake had two sons, Oran and Marvel (Buddy) Rake; and have six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Polly Jean Wagner Becomes Bride Of Harry St. John III

Polly Jean Wagner became the bride of Harry St. John, III in a candlelight wedding ceremony Saturday night, in the First United Methodist Church, Dr. Lloyd V. Hamilton officiated for the 7:30 p.m. service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Louis Wagner, 2343 Navajo Road. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry St. John, Jr. and Mrs. Jean St. John of Henderson.

THE BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight-silk faille gown. The A-line skirt fell from an Empire bodice with a Sabrina neckline. The bodice was designed in English net, applied with Alencon lace. The long sleeves were of English net, applied with Alencon lace, with a flounce cuff. The faille skirt was highlighted with flower spray appliques of Alencon lace. The full chapel train was sheered into the body of the gown at the Empire waistline.

A chapel-length mantilla veil of silk illusion, bordered in Alencon lace, fell from a small silk faille pillbox hat. The bride's bouquet was of white sweetheart roses and carnations.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Ronald Barron of Canyon was matron of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Larry Rowe of Fort Worth, Mrs. Raymond Wagner of Austin, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Darrell Parker of Fort Worth, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Marquita Horton of Dallas, Mrs. Terry Carter and Miss Catherine Hodge, both of Denton.

The attendants were dressed in floor-length, A-line, sapphire-blue velvet gowns, accented by portrait necklines and long fitted sleeves. They wore blue velvet chokers and carried nosegays of purple iris and yellow daffodils centered with yellow tapers.

Guy St. John was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Debrun Duncan of Austin and Raymond Wagner, of Austin brother of the bride, Darrell Parker of Fort Worth, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Kelly Hardage.

James Longbothan, and Kenneth Maynard, all of Dallas. Ushers were Larry Rowe of Fort Worth, Boyd Morrison of Denton, and Luke Grizzaffi of Dallas.

THE CEREMONY

Sam Begert read a prologue, written by the bride and bridegroom, before the ceremony.

Organist Tracy Cary played traditional wedding music while guests were seated. "Trumpet Voltaire in D Major" was played for the processional and "Psalm IX" for the recessional.

Mrs. Gary Shackelford of Lubbock sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The wedding ceremony was performed before a setting of tall spiral and tree candelabra, garlanded with salal foliage. The choir and communion rails were decorated with clusters of white tapers and greenery. The bridal aisle was lighted with tall tree candelabra, garlanded with smilax.

MOTHERS

The mother of the bride wore a pink, mauve-colored ensemble. The dress was of Alaskine styled with long heavy lace sleeves, with a matching jumper-coat. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a two-toned dress, fashioned with a white silk faille skirt, a wine-colored lace bodice, and long sleeves. Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was covered with a floor-length white satin cloth. The seven-tiered wedding cake was topped with white cherubs, encircled with delicate satin flowers and leaves. Each tier has scalloped edges and was decorated with blue net, lilies of the valley, and white pearlized swans. Silver floral candelabra centered the table. The bridegroom's table was covered with a blue satin, floor-length cloth and was accented by a single branch candle arrangement to match the coffee service.

Assisting in the house party were Miss Pam Sproule, Mrs. Kenneth Maynard, Mrs. James Longbotham, and Mrs. Kelly Hardage, all of Dallas. Mrs. Paul Geiser of Bridgeport, Miss Janet Woodbury of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Wyatt Lemons, Mrs. Joe Wells, Mrs. Bill Baten, Mrs. L. B. Robertson, Mrs. Ralph Esson, and Mrs. Bill Eads, all of Pampa.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a burgundy and navy double-knit pants ensemble. Her flowers were of the white roses from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return from their honeymoon trip to Colorado, the bride and the bridegroom will be at home at 6833 Beechnut, Apt. 219, Houston.

MRS. HARRY ASA ST. JOHN III
nee Polly Jean Wagner

AFFILIATIONS — The bride received a B.S. degree in elementary education in December from North Texas State University where she was a member of Angel Flight and Alpha Delta Pi Sorority.

The bridegroom received his BBA degree, with a major in personnel management, from North Texas State University where he was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is employed by ITE, Imperial Corporation in Houston.

PRE-NUPITAL EVENTS — Among the pre-nuptial courtesies given were a coffee by Mrs. Ben McKinney and a pantry party by Mrs. Darrell Parker in Fort Worth — tea hosted by Mrs. O. V. Mullins, Mrs. Langston Dennard, and Mrs. Harry A. St. John, Jr. in Henderson.

A miscellaneous shower was given in Pampa by Mrs. Joe Wells, Wyatt Lemons, Ralph Esson, Joe Fisher, Bill Baten, Joe Autry, G.M. Walls, Sr., J. E. Gunn, R. A. Keagy, and Bill Eads.

The rehearsal luncheon was held in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Martha Wagner, grandmother of the bride, Denver, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Gail Anderson, Miss Carolyn Anderson, all of Webb City, Mo., Mrs. R. C. Woodbury, Paul Woodbury, Miss Janet Woodbury, Bill Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Bill F. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Pruett, all of Fort Worth, Jay Dess, Jerry Laney, both of Dallas; Miss Patricia Austin of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Horton of Quanah; Mrs. Homer Biesemeyer of Planton, Fla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas, Miss Cathy Thomas, Paul and Tommy Thomas, all of El Paso.

Quotable Quotes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"I believe every artist should take more of a hand in contacting people and doing things with people. Relying only on managers and public relations people isn't right. We're all part of the world. We should be bringing music to kids any way that's in good taste. It has to be done because life without music is no life." — Pianist Hilde Somer.

"There is all around us a great desire for peace and a weariness of violence, but also a sense of helplessness and despair in the face of it." — Monica Patterson, chairwoman of the Women Together Organization, founded to try and establish communication between Protestant and Roman Catholic women in Northern Ireland.

"I handle them with care and always wear very thick gloves. You have to go about these things in a sensible way." — Doris Mager, who cares for sick bald eagles.

"They (movie-makers) had better start remembering that the purpose of entertainment is to entertain—not, like a giant PTA meeting, to enlighten." — Actress Sandy Duncan, in an interview.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bing Crosby will lead the Arthritis Foundation's 1971 fund-raising drives.

The announcement was made Wednesday night by Charles B. Harding, the foundation's board chairman. Crosby has been afflicted with a mild form of the disease that has responded to treatment.

Traditionally, when a boy kisses a girl under the mistletoe, he must pluck a berry from the bough and give it to her.

Ehmann-Githens Vows Exchanged In Miami

MIAMI (Special)—Katie Annette Ehmann of Miami and Robert Wayne Githens of Perryton pledged their marriage vows Saturday, Jan. 8, in a candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Miami. The Rev. Vernon Willard, pastor, performed the double-ring ceremony before a setting of two, fifteen-branched candelabra, entwined with greenery.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace G. Ehmann of Miami. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Githens of Perryton.

THE CEREMONY

Garvin Summers, cousin of the bride, of Pampa, lighted the candles. Mrs. Charles Clark, organist, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Susie Ehmann, sister of the bride, as she sang theme from "Love Story": "Where Do I Begin" and "For All We Know." She also accompanied Mrs. Bailey Dodson as she sang "True Love," "Twelfth of Never," as the bride pinned a flower on the bridegroom, and "The Lord's Prayer."

MRS. ROBERT WAYNE GITHENS
nee Katie Annette Ehmann

THE BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I" avowal, wore a gown designed and fashioned by her mother, of the traditional bridal pearl de soie with lace and pearls accenting the boat neckline and empire waistline. The full sleeves of polyester chalice ended with six-button cuffs, accented with the lace and pearls. The train of bridal satin and lace embroidered with pearls, attached to the empire waistline and swept to chapel length. Her two-tiered veil fell from a pill-box hat covered with the satin and trim of her gown. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and greenery, centered with a white orchid, with white streamers, over a white Bible. She also wore the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue. She presented her mother a red rose on entering, and one to the bridegroom's mother on leaving.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Susie Ehmann, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Cindy Kuehler of Morton, Miss Bryce Anne Thomas of Midland, and Miss Rebecca Ward of Midland. They wore identical, princess-styled,

Betty Canary

We all have major and minor crises in life. Most of us have both long-term and short-term goals. There are, for everyone, hills and valleys, peaks and low points. Actually, I have reached that place where I believe I'd be happy if only I knew where the scissors are.

It's strange that such a simple problem can create such chaos. Ask "Where are the scissors?" around here and it sets off a search equal in scope to Stanley looking for Livingston, Columbus' voyage into the unknown, and the Lew and Clark trek toward the Pacific.

By this time I have grown rather philosophical about the whole thing. How can nations hope for world peace if one family can't agree on the care and keeping of one pair of scissors?

In point of fact, we have two pairs of scissors. The kitchen shears are attached to the cupboard wall by a chain. The other pair floats mysteriously about the house, down into the laundry room, through the garage, up the back hall, across the bookshelves in the family room, then comes to rest periodically and temporarily in my office.

"Who has my scissors?" I ask brightly. And the answer is always Nobody.

Nobody is who trims the poodle's topknot. Nobody cuts out patterns for Barbie doll clothes and makes posters and trims fringe from Navajo rugs and clips swatches from the evergreen for nature projects at school.

Nobody is the somebody who cuts pictures from new magazines and saws hunks of rope to fasten backpacks for Scout hikes.

Nobody cuts paper dolls and sandpaper and boxtop coupons. Nobody cuts off blue jeans. Nobody ever takes the scissors from my desk drawer. And Nobody ever puts them back.

floor-length gowns of fuchsia peau de soie, styled with empire waistlines, with long full sleeves of crystalline. Each carried a single white mum.

Junior bridesmaids were Misses Jackie Fletcher and Debbie Summers, both cousins of the bride and both of Pampa. Julie Fletcher of Pampa, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. They were dressed like bridesmaids, except their dresses were styled with short puffed sleeves.

Darwynn Nail of Pampa, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Serving his brother as best man was Dale Githens of Perryton. Groomsman were Freddie Ehmann, of Miami, brother of the bride, Bill Skaggs of Pampa, Mike Choat of Haggerman, N. M. Serving as ushers were Carl Biggers and Donnie Biggers, both of Lubbock and Ronnie Rush of Pampa, all cousins of the bride.

MOTHERS

Mrs. Ehmann, mother of the bride, wore a street-length dress of hot pink knit, with bone accessories. Mrs. Githens, mother of the bridegroom, wore a street-length dress and royal blue knit, with bone accessories. Both wore pink cymbidium orchid corsages.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table, covered with a white lace cloth over pink, was centered with a crystal tiered pink candle arrangement. The three-tiered bridal cake, decorated with bells and pink roses was topped with two white doves.

Miss Sheri Seedig of Perryton presided at the crystal punch bowl while Mrs. Bill Skaggs of Pampa served the cake. The bridegroom's round table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a gold candle ring, holding pink tapers. Mrs. Bobby Lyde of Bethany, Okla., served the chocolate wedding-ring cake and Miss Wanda Blurton of Perryton presided at the gold coffee service. Mrs. Cecil Martin provided piano music for the reception.

Presiding at the guest register were Miss Gayla McClure of Miami and Mrs. Robert Paul of Pampa, cousin of the bride.

Those participating in the houseparty were Mmes. George Wells, Lawton Hoffer, Fredrick Gordon, S. L. Moore, J. D. Paris, and Misses Lynda and Janna Gordon, Vickie Martin, Janice and Angela Bean.

For a short wedding trip the bride was dressed in a fuchsia long-waisted dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Miami High School. She is a former Miss Miami and represented Miami in the Wheatheart of the Nation Contest in Perryton, and the Miss Irish Rose contest in Shamrock. She attended Texas Tech University for three semesters where she was majoring in secretarial administration. She is now enrolled in the Lubbock Commercial College to finish her secretarial degree.

The bridegroom, a 1968 graduate of Perryton High School, is a senior agriculture Economics major at Texas Tech University in high school, he participated in all FFA and 4-H activities. He is a member of the Texas Tech Rodeo Association and the Agriculture Economics Club.

PRE-NUPITAL EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Githens hosted the rehearsal dinner at Ferg's Cafe in Miami.

Pre-nuptial events included a shower in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church in Perryton, a linen shower by the bridesmaids at the Gamma Phi Beta Lodge in Lubbock, a miscellaneous shower in Miami in the home of Mrs. Gail Jackson, a bridesmaids luncheon in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Gas Co. in Pampa, with Mrs. Bill Skaggs, Mrs. Jerry Davis and Mrs. Bryant Nail as hostesses.

The couple will reside in Lubbock until after their graduation in December.

SUNDAY, JAN. 16

Your birthday today: A year of transition from one way of life to another lies before you. Daily choices lead imperceptively, a hairs-breadth at a time, into a whole other system of personal habits. Today's natives generally suffer an uneven temper which this year is under some testing.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Cut a definite line: no weekend work or shop talk this Sunday, but full attention to prayer.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Be happy if things are a bit on the dull side. Take the opportunity for some solitary reflections, reconsideration of goals.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: You can't be sure of details in today's agreements, so leave yourself plenty of leeway, excuses, or just don't promise anything yet.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Do your proper share of neighborhood rituals, then seek privacy and an extra rest. You can extend a favor late in the day.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Just muddling thru tends to stir confusion. Think what results you'd like; do only those things apt to bring desired conditions to reality.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Provide your own policy, your own channels now—everybody has all he can or will cope with before you put in a request.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: When you've done your best to make a good appearance in your community's weekend customs, give yourself a break. Cogitate, if the tumble of home and family conditions permit.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Mental and spiritual inspiration ought to be your goal this placid Sunday.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: In the midst of the amenities of Sunday you may notice someone is taking advantage of you. Draw your lines quietly, at once.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Compare notes—quite a number of people agree with your conclusions—for radically different reasons.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Exceptions exist in any system, and today's departures from the usual make more impact than things that do follow a routine course.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Nobody wants to go along without a little coaxing, or at least a definite entreaty. Do your bit to keep life smooth and pleasant.

Charges Against Eggs Could Be Dismissed

COLLEGE STATION — Does eating too many eggs really cause high cholesterol levels?

Several recent reports have cast serious doubt on this idea, said Dr. David B. Mellor, Extension poultry marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

"Cholesterol is a normal body compound produced in the liver and found in all body cells," Dr. Mellor said. "It's especially abundant in brain and nerve tissues. The normal person forms cholesterol constantly, with little effect from the diet."

"In fact, in Farmingham, Mass., a recent study involving heart disease and diet caused researchers to conclude that diet had no effect on the incidence of heart disease."

Another recent development indicates that sugar, not cholesterol may be involved in atherosclerosis—a form of heart disease, Mellor reported.

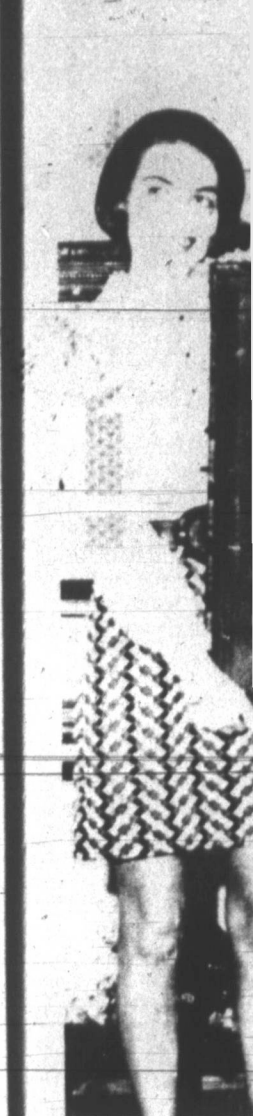

New York internist and diet specialist Dr. Robert C. Atkins stated recently that the volume of sugar and other carbohydrates in Americans' diets is doing the most heart damage.

The internist said that 63 per cent of his patients show a reduction in their cholesterol level, even though there's no attempt to limit their fat or egg intake.

"The real 'cause' of heart disease is not known," Dr. Mellor said. "Several factors besides diet play important roles. Certain populations are

Art Program Explained For Sorority Members

Xi Beta Chi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently at the Las Pampas Gallery. Following a brief business session, Mrs. Chuck Zlomke introduced Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson and Mrs. Robert Cotter who gave a report on the art program being carried out by the Junior Service League of Pampa.

This program is set up to give the fourth-grade pupils a glimpse into the world of art, they explained. The pupils are taken to the Fine Arts Gallery and introduced to the methods and end products of real artists, they said, adding that the students are also given an opportunity to try the different art mediums.

Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Cotter gave a sample lecture to the members present and held a brief question-and-answer period covering the paintings and sculpture on display at the gallery.

Refreshments followed the program. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. James Lee and Mrs. Dwaine Blakemore. Guests attending were Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Cotter, Mrs. Henry Gindorf and Mrs. Ann Hopkins.

Forum Club To Compete In Improvement Program

Mrs. McHenry Lane, president, Twentieth Century Forum Club, announced her club's entry in the 1970-72 Community Improvement Program, co-sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Sears, Roebuck and Co. The purpose of the program is to stimulate federated women's clubs to cooperate with other groups and individuals in analyzing and meeting community needs.

Over $100,000 in awards are being offered in the national program. Five state awards ranging from $50 to $300 and five honorable mentions will be presented to top winners at the 75th annual convention of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in April 1972 at Detroit. National awards ranging from $1,500 to $10,000 in each of two categories, metropolitan and non-metropolitan, will be presented at the GFWC 81st annual convention in Denver, Colorado, June 4-9, 1972. All award monies won must be used for further community improvement.

Federated clubs, members of the world's largest organization of women, constituting a force of 800,000 volunteers, work on projects in the areas of conservation and recreation, beautification, community development and rehabilitation, health, safety, education, human development and welfare, including youth and gerontological programs, the arts and international cooperation. MONDAY, JAN. 17
Your birthday today: Opens a relatively mild year of steady evolution. New activities appear to perpetuate old motifs. Emotional ties shouldn't be left to chance. Today's naives prefer peaceful patterns of living, often find odd ways of being sure of getting them.

Aries (March 21-April 19): Start your week in high good humor, determined to remain cheerful regardless.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Put in steady endeavor thru-out, then change your pace and scene altogether for an early rest.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Proceed tactfully but get quickly to the main issues, raise a good question; have the patience to await a considered answer, the firmness to reject a nasty one.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Your persuasive powers improve along with valid motivation. Find time for serious reflection.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): You can consolidate the basis of your vocational enterprises now. Ask for deserved increases, more space, better tools.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Ask for what you've earned and would like to have. Listen while you make your pitch; something you hear opens a secret to you.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Correct intuition comes naturally as you begin the week fresh. Feast your senses with good music, pursue a romantic attraction.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Competitive activity stirs you to efficiency. Put in a bid for your share of whatever is going on, get started with what you already have.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your companions show enterprise and imagination. People from distant places have information you can put to good use.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A bold front and lively mood gets you into the better spots today. Be willing to compete cheerfully.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Review your enterprises briefly; prepare to spend at least half of your available time trouble-shooting, persuading people to come along with established plans.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Long hoped-for conditions may come nearer realization by intensifying your efforts today.

Betty Canary

By Betty Canary

I've been concerned with the noisy life I lead and a recent Life magazine article held out encouragement. I couldn't take time to visit a Zen monastery or a Roman Catholic Retreat House but, at least, I could search for introspection and a little peace and quiet on my own home grounds.

The first part was easy. Eliminate noises in the home. I had inadvertently begun this exercise the day before by dropping my daughter's charm bracelet into the garbage disposal.

My husband leveled the refrigerator which not only stopped the vibrations but assured us no more dishes of cranberries and chocolate pudding sliding onto the kitchen floor with loud splats and splashes. I disconnected the door chimes, turned down the bells on the telephones. I considered pulling the plugs on washer and dryer but I knew I'd go mad without their reassuring slosh-ticks and whirring.

The second exercise was not easy. Keep total silence for one hour each day. I kept a diary of my intended one-week trial.

Monday: How delightful to read my favorite poet. How calm I am. How quiet it is! Why is it so quiet? Where is the puppy? How shall I explain his chewing up a lampshade to my husband? (Total time of silence this day—7 minutes.)

Tuesday: Peacefully I gaze out the dining room window at the snow and the little boy strolling through the yard. It is my neighbor's boy. He is naked! (T—3½ minutes.)

Wednesday: Unhooking the doorbell seemed a good idea. How does one stop people from pounding on the door? How does one stop little neighbor Donald from getting stuck while crawling through dog door? (8 min.)

Thursday: I'll ignore the Coast Guard foghorn I'll ignore the slamming of the garbage can. I'll go crazy if I don't call Penny and ask what she wore to the party last night. (20 minutes.)

Friday: Forgot children got out of school at noon. Donning earmuffs and taping their mouths not feasible. Give up entire project. (2 seconds.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A woman has been indicted by a federal grand jury on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon because her 80-pound German shepherd allegedly bit an FBI agent.

U.S. Atty. Robert Jones said Monday three agents visited the Summit County home of Anna Gracan, 48, last Nov. 12 to serve an arrest warrant on her husband John.

Jones said the woman called the dog, Smokey, and he bit one of the agents on the leg. Several stitches were required to close the wound, the government says.

Gracan was being sought on a charge of interstate transportation of stolen property in Des Moines, Iowa.

Include hometown pastor for wedding

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: A 22-year-old college senior wrote she and her fiancé had become fond of a minister they had come to know in their college town. They wanted him to preside at their marriage in the girl's home-town church after graduation. They rejected the idea of having more than one clergyman, saying it would be too much like a "circus." Your opinion was asked.

You replied: "Clergymen have shared ceremonies for any number of occasions, and have done so with dignity and taste. But it's your wedding, and you should have the right to do it your way."

It appears you are telling her to ignore the home-town pastor, and have another man come into his church to perform the service. Abby, this is not done. It is the etiquette of all churches to respect the resident pastor, and to at least offer him a small part of the service. Otherwise a pastor wouldn't be needed at all. Anarchy would reign.

If that is what you meant, then I think your answer is wrong.

W. R. BOLT: MINISTER CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TRENTON, NEB.

DEAR REVEREND BOLT: You are right. I stand corrected. I should have added, "If you want to be married in your hometown church, you should do the resident minister the courtesy of asking him to participate in the service. If this is not acceptable to you, have your college town minister perform the service wherever he can gracefully perform it."

DEAR ABBY: I am a 26-year-old woman, stand 5 feet 6 inches tall, weigh 132 pounds, and I have a 32-inch bust.

I read an ad in a magazine that said, "INCREASE YOUR BUSTLINE 4 INCHES IN ONLY EIGHT WEEKS!" It is supposed to be done with a special cream, massage, and exercise. That is all. They request $10 in cash or money order. What have I got to lose?

FLAT IN FLATBUSH

DEAR FLAT: Ten dollars. And maybe more, if the cream contains something harmful. Don't use anything on your body without your doctor's approval.

The only way you can add 4 inches to your bustline [apart from silicone implants] is to buy a padded bra. Size 36.

DEAR ABBY: My son, Bernie, lived at home until he married Arlene a few months ago. Bernie is a wonderful boy, but why he waited until he was 30 years old to marry a 21-year-old girl who can't do a thing I'll never know.

She's no cook, no housekeeper, and she sure can't iron. Every time I see Bernie in one of the shirts Arlene ironed, I could die. I never saw such a mess. The white ones aren't even white, and the collars have pleats in them.

I told Bernie I would be glad to tell Arlene I would do his shirts for her, but he said, "No, Mom, let her alone. She is trying."

Bernie is a salesman and his appearance is important. Should I ask Arlene myself? I think she would be glad to let me iron Bernie's shirts. She knows she can't iron.

MOM

DEAR MOM: No. Leave her alone, Mom. She's trying. In time, if the opportunity arises, offer to teach her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FEBRUARY BRIDE": A good marriage isn't a matter of luck. It's the result of a conscious and constant effort. It's giving and forgiving. Knowing when to talk and when to keep quiet. All marriages are beautiful. It's the living together afterwards that's difficult.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69790, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

How to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69790, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Reception Honors Pampans

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Kimbrell, 945 E. Gordon, were honored with a reception in their home Dec. 25, in observance of their golden wedding anniversary.

The couple was married Dec. 25, 1921, in Leslie, Ark. They were presented on their anniversary with a gold "ring of life," with a stone to represent each child, a gift of their six children.

Their children are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smithee of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hassler of Skellytown, Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Kimbrell of Pampa, Mrs. Evelyn Vanderpool of Golden, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimbrell of Houston, and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Ferris of Pampa.

Seventeen of their 21 grandchildren were present and eight great-grandchildren.

Sorority Presents Awards

"How To Use Your Credit" was the program presented at the recent meeting of the Kappa Alpha chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International, by Mrs. Denver Allen, credit manager for Falkenstein-Elder Clinic.

During the business session, led by Mrs. Ray Woodridge, president, ways the club could help Genesis House were discussed. Plans were made for a district meeting to be held in Pampa, Jan. 23.

Special awards were made for outstanding achievement in social service to the community and through national projects.

First Pearl awards were presented to Mmes. Jerry Thompson, Hunter Chisum and Fern Berry. The First Degree Pallas Athene award was given to Mrs. Glen McConnell, and the Second Degree Pallas Athene award went to Mrs. Joel Plunk and Mrs. Bob Rose.

PAISLEY PRINTS
Paisley printed dresses always seem to be in fashion. This year's print is the shirtcollar dress with a zippered front and broader shoulders for daytime. A high ruffled collar dress with billowing skirt is perfect for the evenings.

Mobeetie Club Completes Quilt

MOBEETIE (Special): The Mt. View Quilting Club met Tuesday in the Totty School house. Mrs. Juanita Smith and Mrs. Norma Lowe were co-hostesses. A quilt was finished for Beatrice Street, and a covered dish luncheon was held. Mrs. Eula Johnson was welcomed as a visitor.

Members attending were Mmes. Fannie Whitten, Mary Brewer, Lelia Roberts, Mable Dickey, Jane Seitz, Bulah Grimes, Beatrice Seitz, Myrtle Ford, Audrey Seitz, Juanita Smith, Norma Lowe, and Barbara Helton.

INDIO, Calif. (AP)—A series of light earthquakes rumbled through the Coachella Valley over a four-hour period Monday starting some residents but apparently causing no damage, authorities said.

Dr. Clarence Allen of the California Institute of Technology seismology laboratory in Pasadena said the earthquakes were centered near Thousand Palms, about 120 miles north of here and 120 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

Pampan's Article To Be Published

Miss Elizabeth Hurley, Pampa High School journalism teacher, has had an article accepted for publication in the magazine "Scholastic Editor and Graphics-Communication." Subject of the article is advertising in a school newspaper.

Named outstanding journalism teacher in Texas in 1964, Miss Hurley has had numerous articles printed in various magazines and won many awards.

Her most recent honor was to be selected to work on a team to plan and write a new journalism curriculum for the state of Texas during the summer of 1971.

In 1970, she received the Pioneer Award Medal for outstanding contribution to scholastic journalism by the National Scholastic Press Association.

In 1969 she received a medal of merit from the Journalism Editor's Association, and in the past, was given the Edith

MISS ELIZABETH HURLEY

Fox King award for outstanding service to high school journalism during Inter-League Press Conference in Austin. Another award was the Gold Key from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association of New York.

Three Topics Discussed By African Violet Society

Mrs. V. N. Osborn gave "Timely Tips on Violets" for the program of the Pampa African Violet Society Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Lee Moore, 915 Dincan.

One tip given by Mrs. Osborn was to use 1 teaspoon of an all-purpose household cleaner to 1 gallon of water to water plants to kill the tiny flies that hatch in the soil of house plants.

"To Bloom or Not To Bloom" was discussed by Mrs. Norman Walberg. Mrs. Walberg explained that a show plant must be carefully selected, re-potted to a larger container, using fresh soil, and disbudded after it begins to put on new leaves and buds.

She explained that the point of a lead pencil or some other blunt instrument may be used to remove the small buds, which is done by carefully flicking off the small buds. Eight to ten weeks before show time is the time to stop this process and let the plant come into bloom, she pointed out.

"What's Good About Insecticides" was the topic of Mrs. Evan Jones, who discussed the good and bad points of using commercial sprays and insecticides. She told, also, the benefits of organic gardening, which she said, will almost do away with the necessity of using insecticides.

Mrs. Lee Moore was program chairman. Mrs. Moore gave the opening prayer. Mrs. Holly Gray, president, led the business meeting and read two poems from the book, "Wings of Silver."

Next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 1, in the home of Mrs. Norman Walberg, 621 E. Kingsmill. It will be guest night.

Attending were Mes. Vernon Osborn, Holly Gray, Eva Jones, Norman Walberg, J.E. Carlson, Charles Gilsom and Lee Moore.

Altrusa Club Evaluates Projects And Programs

A six-months evaluation report on club projects, given by Mrs. Geneva Tidwell, Altrusa information chairman, highlighted the recent meeting of the Pampa Altrusa Club.

Mrs. Tidwell reported the club had two programs on vocational counseling, one on the new phase of public schools vocational education and one on counseling in business.

She pointed out the club has two awardees in a nursing vocational services program, financed by the Founder's Fund.

One program honored past presidents and the club's eight character members, she said. Other studies were made on water development and on suicide prevention and drug alert programs. She reported $100 was donated by the club to help with Pampa's drug alert projects.

On the Senior Center project, she told the women parties are held every Thursday, with attendance averaging 60 persons. She stated a radio program is presented each Saturday, two scholarships were awarded to high school girls and the club helped with donating of Christmas baskets for the needy.

Mrs. Tidwell stated that delegates were sent to both the International convention in San Francisco and the regional conference in Dallas.

Guests were Mrs. Madeline Hood, first FFVA awardee, and her daughter, Shannon, a 1971 scholarship awardee, who is attending Wayland Baptist College.

Assisting with the program, were Miss Celia Fowler and Mes. Jean Scott, Katherine Sullins, Mary McDaniel and Marian Stroup.

The amount of sunlight falling on the United States in two days provides enough energy to outlast all the nation's known remaining reserves of fossil fuel.

POMPONS and fringe produce the clown and bearded masks, left, while rick-rack and ribbon create the flirtatious gal at right.

Face Up To Winter!

By JOANNE SCHREIBER
Making faces is fun—and it's even more fun if the faces you make can keep you warm as well as wacky.

Making funny faces is easy, with colorful knitted face masks of Creslan acrylic fiber, sewing notions, such as yarn, ribbon and rick-rack, and a little imagination. You can caricature your own personality, or take off on a different kick with red hair, fringed eyelashes, a beard, a ponytail, a beguiling smile or a personable leer.

A young lady may fancy a mask with hair made of two rows of fringe set off with red pompons. Three more pompons make a red-clown nose. A band of braid outlines the chin. For a clean-shaven gentleman, there's a quick change in a mask with heavy eyebrows, mustache and goatee—all to match the knot. A plain mask looks feminine with stitched-on eyelashes, bright red rick-rack mouth,

beribboned pigtail. Fit-out the ski team with different masks; make funnyface masks for gifts or as the admission ticket to a funny-face winter party. Make faces—and add extra fun to all the winter sports!

TAP Plans Promotion Of Texas Food, Fiber

TAP has a one-two punch. TAP—Texas Agricultural Products program to acquaint the public with the value of Texas-produced food and fiber is entering 1972 with an expanded program, says Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

"During the first three years of TAP, we were emphasizing Texas products through a promotion program. We believe we have achieved good success with this part of TAP. Now, it is time to get down to the basic purpose of TAP—actual marketing," White said.

TAP personnel have been working up buyer and seller listings of all Texas commodities. With this, White explained, "we can get the buyer and seller of any Texas commodity—through a moment's notice. This is the hard-sell part of our TAP program, and we believe it will be as successful as our promotion phase." White said. As of now, agricultural investments return less than five per cent on the average. "You can get a better return on your money than that by putting it in a savings account, and you have none of the risks inherent in agriculture," White said.

The Marketing Division of TAP of the Texas Department of Agriculture headed by Ben Baisdon has come up with this TAP promotion schedule for 1972:

January and February: fresh fruits and vegetables. March and April: beef, honey, onions, Easter turkey. May and June: dairy, pork, eggs, watermelons, cantaloupe.

July and August: Summertime turkey. September and October: natural fibers, peanuts, forestry, honey.

November and December: rice, pecans, Christmas promotion. "Promotion still is a high priority item for our TAP program. It is the basic ingredient which will lead to increased sales of Texas food and fiber. We will continue to aggressively promote food and fiber," Baisdon said.

A highway was originally a road that stuck to high ground, well back from the shore rivers, streams, and lowlands.

Polly's Pointers

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with those people who park their cars at night with little thought of others as they obstruct driveways, etc. When one has to get up very early to drive a long distance to work and finds the driveway blocked, he must knock on doors and awaken others and try to locate the car owner. In case of an emergency, such as careless parking could be disastrous.

—A.L.B.
DEAR POLLY—Dorothy can easily remove her vinyl tiles by covering each tile with a cloth (I used a dish towel) and heating with a dry iron. Make sure the iron covers a corner of the tile, then use a knife to pry up the warm, softened tile. It took me only 30 minutes to do a 12-by-18-foot room. I thought I had learned this from your column.

—JOYCE
DEAR JOYCE—You doubtless did as we had this several years ago but, because of new readers, thought it might be well to repeat the question when Dorothy and others asked it.

—POLLY
DEAR POLLY—I want to tell Dorothy that Workmen from the store where I bought my linoleum covered the old one with plywood, nailed it down and then put new tiles over it. This made a beautiful strong, level floor.

Eclectic Look Urged In Home Decorating

COLLEGE STATION - Interior decorators probably groan with despair when a consumer decides to do her own decorating.

But that's what many buyers are doing today, according to Pat Bradshaw, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University.

"Doing your own decorating offers an opportunity to express your unique tastes and individuality," Miss Bradshaw said. "One of the newest and most popular decorating trends favors the eclectic, or mixed, approach." Rather than looking for pieces that match or date from the same historical period, the eclectic enthusiast simply chooses furniture pieces that she likes, regardless of style.

"Mixing furniture styles and accessories can be exciting and satisfying," Miss Bradshaw claimed. "You may mix natural materials with new, man-made products; combine wood-toned furniture with painted, colored finishes; and antiques with modern pieces. Well-designed pieces of any era blend well."

"Modern furniture takes on a special excitement when you add a Chippendale sofa for contrast," she said. "When you begin choosing home furnishings for an eclectic look, first decide what appeals to you and then collect it. Your own personal taste will unify the design elements. When you pick items you like, you'll find that they share certain similarities."

According to the specialist, collections should be placed with regard to their decorative value and shown in arrangements that agree with a room's design and mood.

"No room should look like a museum. Table cabinets and built-in or free-standing cabinets may shelve rarities and walls may display certain types of collector's items. But don't over-do by using too many accessories."

"Another way is to use repetition of certain elements," she said. "For example, use the same type of wood in different furniture pieces."

"If you do your job carefully, your furniture will blend well together and offer you a living environment that features your own personality."

Congratulations JAYCEES

NATIONAL JAYCEE WEEK ★ JANUARY 16 TO 22

Who Are The JAYCEES?

Who are the Jaycees? Who are the Jaycees? That's a legitimate question any Pampa may ask. Even though the Pampa Jaycees have been major newsmakers in the more than 40 years the Pampa chapter has been in existence, little has been done in that three decades to tell the man on the street about the working of the Jaycees.

How is it made up?
 What does the organization do?
 What are the goals?

To answer to the question, "Who are the Jaycees?" Jaycees are young men. They are between the ages of 21 and 35. They comprise many occupational groups—salesmen, dentists, draftsmen, auto-mechanics. The average Jaycee is 30 years of age, married, a veteran and parent. Mr. Average Jaycee is a college graduate, is a homeowner and gives five hours a week to aid his community.

Mr. Average Jaycee share in common, with his fellow Jaycees across the United States, the belief that "young men can change the world," and learn while doing it.

It is because of this belief that Jaycees have acquired the reputation of "young men of action."

Jaycees believe that hard work is the answer to the majority of a community problems, and that hard work should be guided by young men of ideas and vision.

The members of the thousands of Jaycee chapters across the nation comprise what one Jaycee president referred to as "the broadest base of stockholders in the future of the United States."

The Jaycees is the only organization devoted exclusively to the young man and his place in society.

All Jaycee organizations are set up with ingredients of organizational skills, public speaking, group motivations and civic consciousness, coupled with a chance for social contact and friendship with other young men and the chance to try new ideas and improve old ones.

The idea that the best way to build a better nation is to build better communities, in fact, has been so basic that Jaycees have been able to realize drastic changes in their communities through even the most elementary projects.

The conviction that youth should not be a handicap in participation in civic affairs was paramount even in the mind of Henry Giessenbier Jr., a St. Louis youth, in 1910, when he formed the Marculaneum Club, which was devoted to the improvement of dances of the day. The club, later, taking the name of the Federation of Dancing Clubs, soon found itself in the thick of civic affairs and members talking of matters far more reaching than better dancing. The group grew and in 1920 was expanded into the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycee movement reached major peaks in 1944, when Junior Chamber International, now comprising chapters in more than 100 nations, was formed in Mexico City, and in 1950, when the cornerstone for the national Jaycee headquarters was laid in Tulsa, Oklahoma and that oil city took the name "The young man's capital of the world."

Another major development was the adoption of "The Jaycee Creed," a simple statement of the purpose of a youth organization such as the Jaycees.

THE JAYCEE Creed

We Believe:
 That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;
 That the brotherhood of men transcends the sovereignty of nations;
 That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;
 That government should be of laws rather than men;
 That earth's great treasure lies in human personality;
 And that service to humanity is the best work of life.

The Pampa Jayceettes were chartered in March, 1962. Since that time the group has added the feminine touch to almost every J Jaycee project plus helping with many civic projects of their own.

The purpose of the organization is to assist the Jaycees in community service; to offer friendship and socialability among Jaycee wives and to enlighten others as to the need of voluntary service.

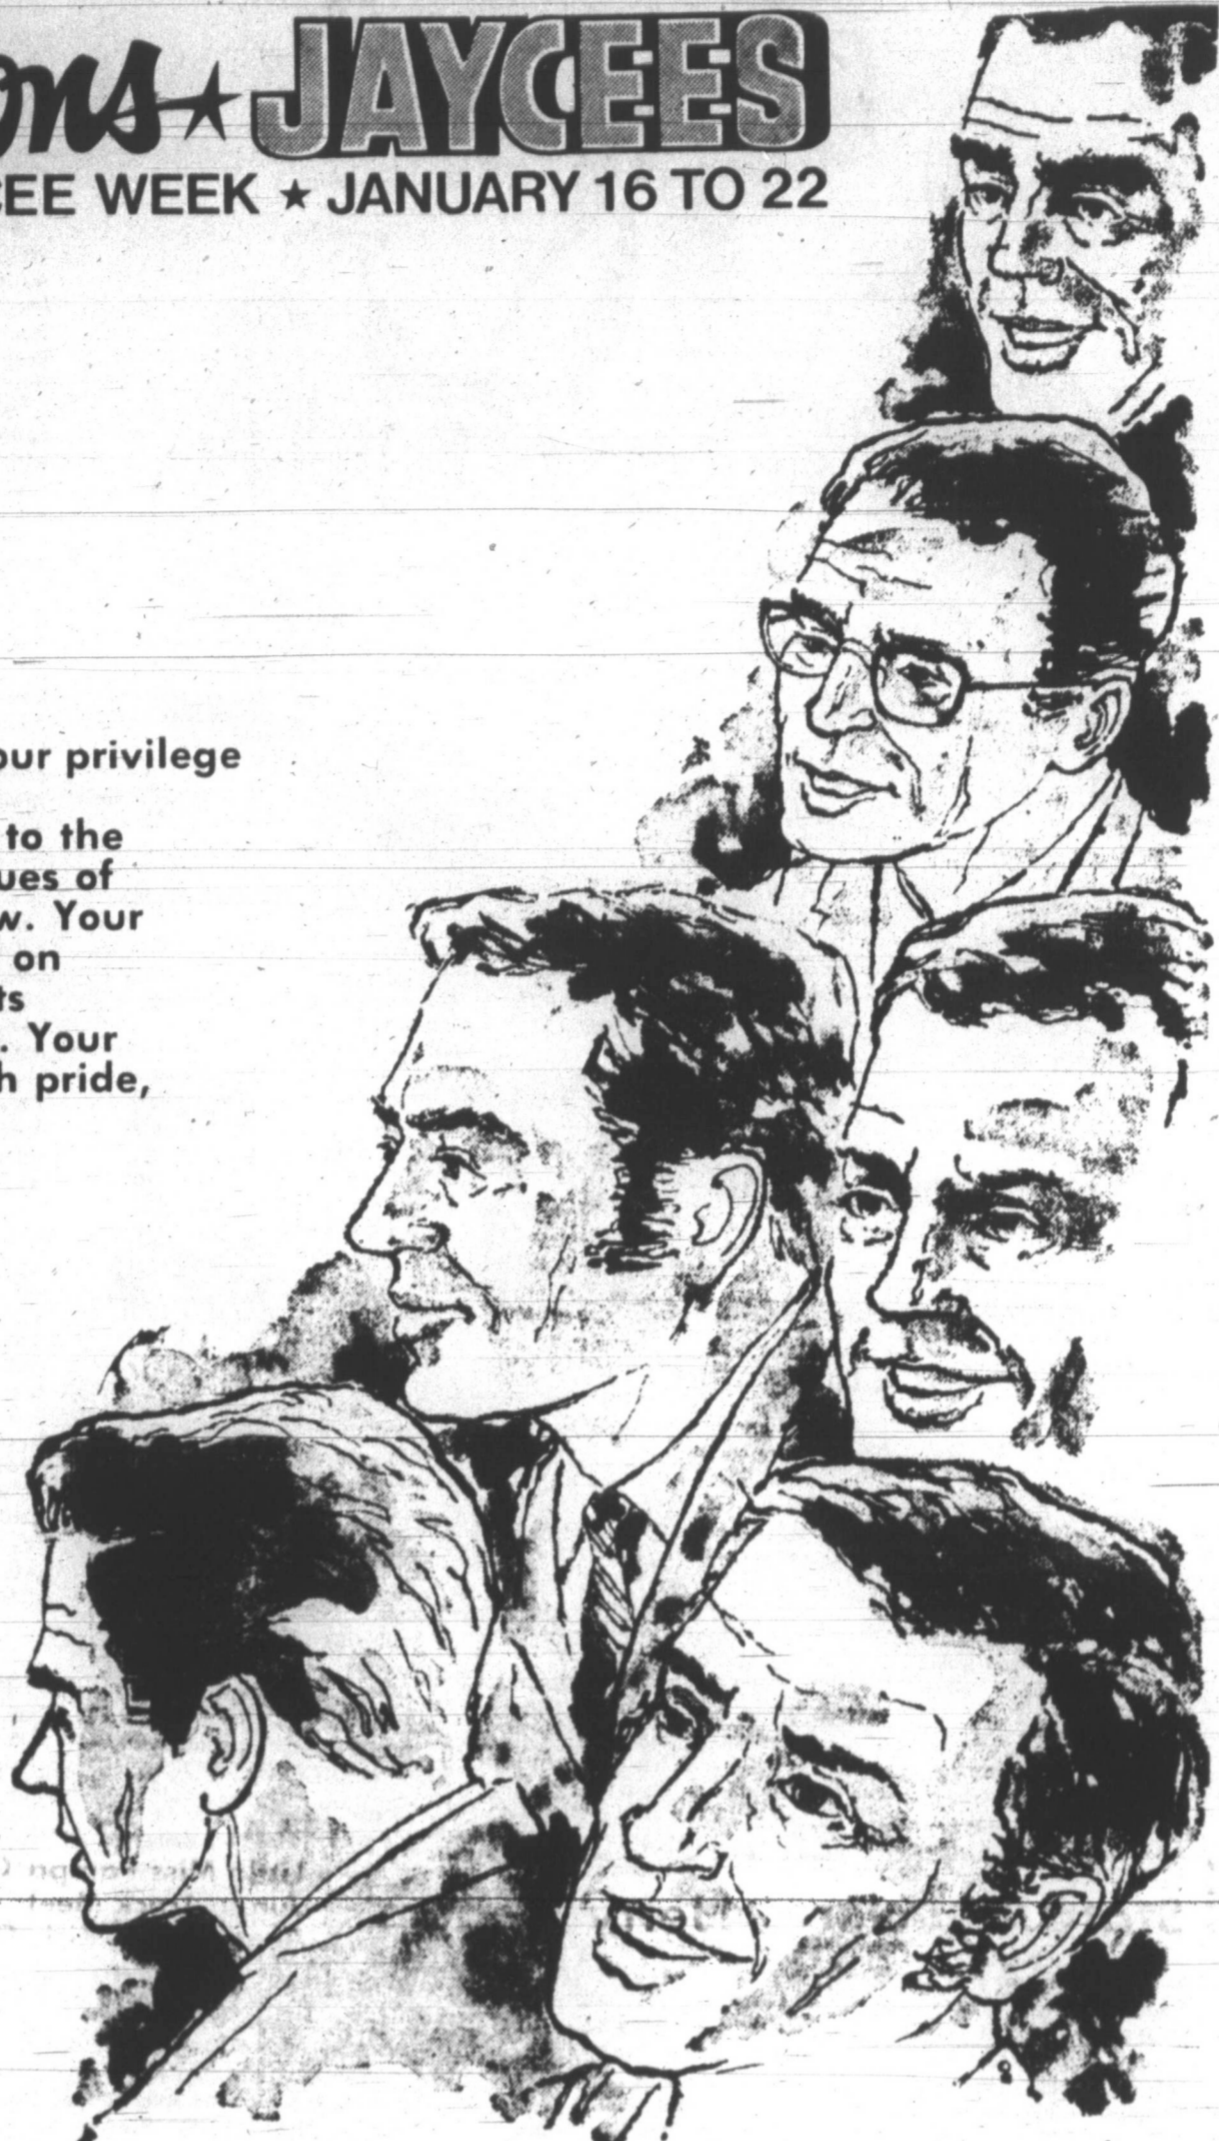

The Jaycee-Ettes meet in the South-western Public Service Reddy Room on the fourth Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. An invitation is always open to all Jaycee wives.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Case Of Possession

Every day, we like to pick up the paper, read the headlines and get our blood circulating.

The headline that really did it the other day was "Bandit Slain: Man Held for Unlisted Gun."

The story told how one Luis Aponte of New York City saw his brother being held by robbers, a knife to his throat, whereupon Aponte pulled a .38 caliber pistol and shot one of the three holdup men dead. The two Apontes then ran out of the store to notify police. The upshot was that Luis Aponte was arrested for possessing an illegal weapon, namely, the pistol with which he had defended his brother and prevented a robbery.

The pertinent facts, as given in the news account, are these:

1. A robbery was in process.
2. Police were unable to prevent the robbery.
3. An assault with a dangerous weapon was under way (knife held at throat).
4. Police had no chance to prevent the assault.
5. A private citizen prevented the robbery and stopped the assault, accomplishing what police were unable to accomplish.
6. Police then arrested the private citizen, not because he had committed a crime, but rather because he possessed the means by which crime was prevented.

This gets back to what we were saying the other day, namely, that if this particular writer were ever placed on a jury, the prosecutor would have to show more against the defendant than that he possessed something Legislators may legislate until they stack laws to the moon, but there is nothing they can enact that makes self-defense a crime. We would contend "brother defense" is equally proper. All nature cries out for self-preservation. If man, therefore, has the basic right to defend himself, it follows as surely as the daily tides that he has the right to possess the means to defend himself.

When any government ceases to safeguard such a right, it ceases to be a useful government.

In the case of Luis Aponte, the New York legislature and the New York City police no longer are his protector, but rather his oppressor. The statute against possession is the precise means by which this reversal was accomplished. In previous cases of unjust laws, juries have been able to undo the damage that legislators did. It will be interesting to know how the Luis Aponte case comes out, if it goes to trial.

The Children's Hour

Officials of the federal government probably figured to make some good publicity mileage out of the letter the Price Commission received from an elementary school paper, so they released the handprinted letter and an answer to the news media.

No doubt most people will accept it as "cute," and will be pleased with the kind and courteous manner Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson replied.

But it seems a rather tragic commentary on our times that young children would be used in a manner to help persuade the American public that the acceptance of government control over the economy is good and proper.

The letter was originally written to President Nixon. It stated: "Dear President Nixon, May we raise our school journal from two cents to three cents because we need some more dittos to make our magazine. And if we don't have the money we can't make the magazine. (signed) Rye Elementary School, New Castle, N. H."

The news report stated the letter was forwarded to the Price Commission.

In his reply, Grayson stated "Your request for a price increase appears to be cost-justified, therefore your request to raise the price of the school journal to 3 cents is approved, providing you hold the line during 1972."

"Also I would recommend you look into ways of reducing costs of production without reducing the quality of your publication. We grownups call that 'productivity.' In the long run it is the only way we can stop inflation."

Despite the fact that the release of the letter to the media smacks of propaganda, the advice Grayson gave the young editors was surprisingly sound, considering the source.

What They Steal Your Money For

Where does your tax money go? A large percentage of it goes to profiteers, chiselers, grafters, foreign enemies, politicians and people like Earl Warren who costs us $70,000 a year even in retirement.

Thirty-three and eight-tenths percent of our fantastic federal budget goes to the military and yet we don't win a war with a 5th rate military power. Even Egypt could whip the Viet Cong, but we won't. Another 26.5 percent of the federal tax grab goes to welfare, pensions and other "social programs." Next largest devourer of your tax money is interest on the federal debt. That's $19.7 billion a year—more than the entire amount of the federal debt when Franklin Roosevelt first lied his way into office.

Next comes Health Services with 7 percent, followed by Transportation and Postal Services with 4.8 percent each. Veterans benefits take 4.6 percent of the tax dollar while farm programs take 2.5 percent and rivers-harbors-parks 1.9 percent.

Yes, we spent a fabulous sum on the space programs, but it's only 1.4 percent of the total tax take.

What they call Education gets 2.7 percent. But lest we forget, the amount of money spent on education has no more connection with the literacy of the electorate than does the amount of money spent on the military determine the winning of the war.

One can become highly educated going to the library—free. No amount of money can educate where there is no will to learn. And no amount of money can win a war when there is no will to win.

It's not just the cost of the military that's out of hand. It's the cost of practically everything. Particularly anything employing union labor. Horrible example: The monstrosity called the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, originally estimated at a construction cost of $31 million, actually cost $61 million, much of which was illegally taken from you. And now the "souvenir hunters" are stealing everything reachable and movable from the Kennedy Memorial. I hope they steal it all.

I'm for a Constitutional Amendment to the effect that no public facility can be named after anybody until he's been dead 25 years.

"Liberal" Senator Margaret Chase Smith, observing the 20th anniversary of her famed anti-Joe McCarthy speech a while back, said that "extremists" threaten to turn our nation into a repressive society.

Well! That's what Joe McCarthy was saying 20 years ago when Senator Smith helped crucify him!

But "Liberals" like Senator Smith brainwashed a large segment of our people into believing that anti-Communists, not Communists, were the enemy. So the "Liberals" destroyed Joe McCarthy and smeared every other effective anti-Communist.

We are on the verge of Civil War. And the "Liberals," who brought us here, still oppose the anti-Communists, while building bridges of friendship to the Communists. They even blame the anti-Communists for our present precarious plight, pleading for "better understanding" with the Communists. Otherwise, "atomic holocaust," they direfully predict. They advocate surrender in Vietnam and everywhere.

These peacenik one-worlders remind me of the boy who murdered his mother and father and then threw himself on the mercy of the court because he was an orphan.

J. Edgar Hoover has announced to Congress that the F.B.I. will increase its surveillance of an opposition to Communist Chinese spying and revolution-inspiring activities in the United States. If Hoover doesn't watch out, President Kissinger will fire him.

To Dr. Billy Graham: You are reported to have said recently: "I think we have allowed patriotism to slip. We have allowed the word patriotism to get into the hands of some 'rightwingers.'" As far as I know, you have never criticized "leftwingers." In fact, you are on record as saying that it is not your business to go around the world criticizing Communists or any other system, or something as incredible as that.

Incidentally, what is "rightwinger?" If you know the score, you know that "right" and "left" are not really opposites but are the same. The "spectrum" is in reality not a plane but a circle. "Right" and "left" are blood brothers. They mean total government. They mean big government and little people.

The conservative patriots of our country, who have been smeared with the term "rightwingers," believe in little government and big people. And unlike the Communists, Socialists and Fascists, most of these conservative patriots are Christians.

Your Health

BY LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I've read tons of literature on coronary heart disease, but not much can be found about the surgery.

Last fall, my husband received two grafts on the left side of the heart from the saphenous vein in his leg. Recent tests show one graft is supplying a lot of blood, and he is doing very well. The other collapsed. He did not receive the mammary artery implant. Can you make any comments on the surgery?

Dear Reader—It is great that your husband is doing so well. Many patients have obtained relief from this operation. The principle is to cut out the clogged area in the artery to the heart and sew in a piece of the patient's vein as a replacement. There are variations of this, like slitting the artery and sewing a patch of vein on top of the split to enlarge the opening. This provides an immediate relief to the symptoms of obstructed blood flow.

Even improving the blood flow through one artery often helps, because the main arteries to the heart are all connected into a fine-branching network of arteries.

A similar problem has been observed in transplanted hearts. The arteries to the transplanted heart develop severe atherosclerosis in a short time. Apparently the rejection problem or allergic reaction to the new heart can also cause atherosclerosis. There are many ways atherosclerosis can be influenced—diet, exercise, heredity, tobacco, toxins and even the allergiclike immune reactions seen in transplant failures. Hopefully this problem will be minimized in vein transplants taken from the patient's own body, but the problem is not solved.

Numerous methods have been devised to try to increase the blood flow to the heart muscle. These have included attaching the open end of other arteries in the patient's body into the heart muscle. Each case is different. None of the procedures have been so outstandingly successful over a period of years to become the answer to the complex problem of coronary artery disease. That is why they haven't been used on a mass scale. The vein transplants seem to offer the best outlook of a series of different attempts. Its record is far superior to the popularized heart transplants.

Advice—your husband should continue to do everything he can to minimize atherosclerosis, that includes diet, avoiding cigarettes and sensible activity under his doctor's supervision.

(NEWS PAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.) Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence F. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWEESE
Editor of The News

THERE HAVE been quite a few inquiries about School House Kitty since she was introduced last Sunday by the City Hall and Court House Cats.

What is she going to do? Well, as we understand the setup, School House Kitty will keep an eye on the School Board just as the C.H. Cats keep tabs on the goings-on at the City Hall and Court House.

"Kit," as she prefers to be called, already has come up with some direct quotes that couldn't be used because this is a family newspaper.

They were allegedly used in comment by a school board member who let drop some disparaging remarks in connection with the recent resignation of Swede Lee, the head football coach who piloted the Pampa Harvesters to their first district championship in 20 years. Apparently the board member was happy to see him go.

THIS WEEK, School House Kitty comes up with additional undercover stuff that indicates Coach Lee was just as happy, if not happier, to get out from under. Kit says the head coach reportedly left some very understandable messages with some of the school folk before he bowed off stage.

One gets the impression from what Mr. Lee reportedly had to say, that those connected with the reasons behind his departure now are pretty well convinced he is one of those fellows who refuse to take it sitting down.

Any how, the report comes back to us from College Station that Texas A&M officials were more than elated when Lee decided to leave Pampa and join up with the Aggies. The whole story may come out some day.

THE POLITICAL pot finally has begun to simmer and may break out into a boil before the Feb. 7 deadline is reached for the filing of state and county candidates in the May primary election. A half dozen or so hopefuls already have tossed their hats into the Democratic races for nomination. Judging from the underground buzz and tips from the Court House Cat there will be quite a few more.

It's always good to see competition in political campaigns for public office. That way, voters at least get to make a choice when they go to the polls.

And if there's anything needed in politics, it's a chance to make a choice and not have to settle for just one candidate per office.

AND THAT'S a reminder that while state and county elections are coming up in May there will be a city election on April 4.

This year the municipal balloting will be for only two posts on the city commission in Wards 2 and 4.

The mayor and Wards 1 and 3 commissioners hold over for another year.

So, if you think you'd make a good city commissioner and live in Wards 2 or 4, you have until March 3 to file your candidacy. However, you won't get rich on the salary. The job pays $10 a meeting and the council meets twice a month.

THE AUDITORS' report on city operations during fiscal 1970-71 carried a statement indicating the water and sewer department had a profit of $422,465.

That caused a flurry of excitement in some quarters with the question arising as to why water rates should be increased when all that profit was in the municipal coffers.

Actually, when you get down to the nitty-gritty figures in the report, there was no profit. Every penny of the so-called profit was used up, starting off with $250,000 in transfers to the general fund for city operating expenses and followed by Canadian River Municipal Water Authority payments of $146,460 for CRMWA water purchased and $25,574 for CRMWA operating expenses during the year.

For anyone who is interested, the auditors' report showing how the so-called profit was used is available for perusal in the City Secretary's office at City Hall.

BACK TO politics again. If you think that congressional race between Republican Bob Price of Pampa and Democrat Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls isn't going to be a ding-hummer, you need to take another look at it.

Both have been campaigning all over the place in the newly-created 13th District for the past week or ten days.

In fact, they've been running so hard and fast they have been bumping into each other in the same towns.

According to reports, neither candidate has been attracting exceptionally large crowds. They met head-on in Paducah last week.

Purcell spoke to about 34 persons at a morning meeting in the Cottle County Court House and Price drew a score or so listeners at an afternoon meeting in the Veterans Memorial Bldg. there.

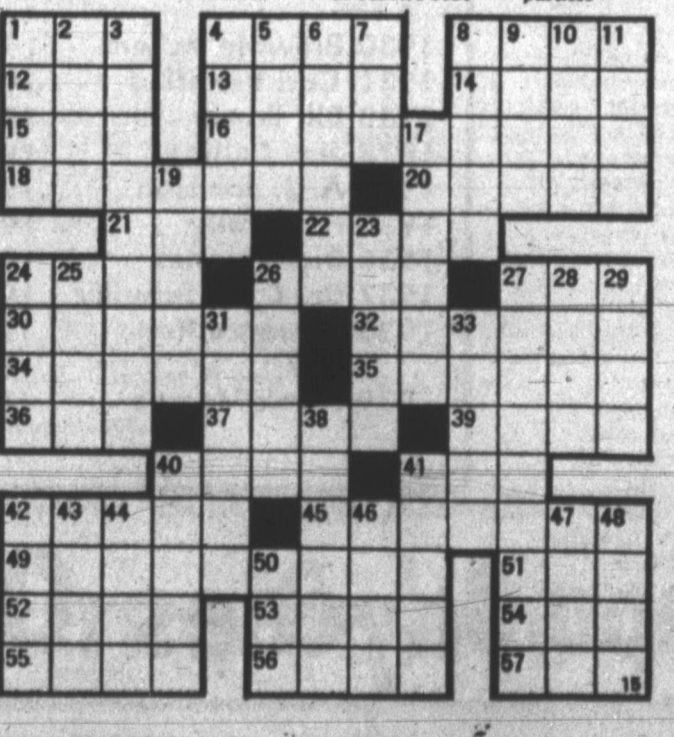

The Pampa congressman came to his hometown last Monday and addressed a Chamber of Commerce luncheon audience.

Purcell has already held one meeting in Pampa and is expected back soon.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

In 1904 a constitutional amendment was adopted authorizing the first development of water resources.

In 1913 the 33rd Legislature of Texas passed the first major recodification of irrigation laws and created the Texas Board of Water Engineers. A major function of the Board of Water Engineers was the appropriation of water. Stream water was regarded as the property of the State as a whole and as such was subject to appropriation. The water found underground was regarded as the property of the surface owner.

Throughout the history of the State, the courts have supported this contention. The surface owner is also the owner of the water beneath the land. All references to appropriation of water mean stream water.

There are many cases where the current surface owner is not the owner of the water beneath the land. It is possible that the current surface owner or a previous owner sold the rights to the water. There are many instances where cities have purchased the rights to the water without purchasing the surface.

When secondary recovery of oil began, a contest began over the use and the ownership of the underground water beneath the land under lease. During the past four years, this contention was carried through the lower courts and to the Texas Supreme Court twice. Each time the verdict has been rendered in favor of the surface owner unless he or a previous owner had sold the water, spelled out as such, for a stipulated amount.

Most people in their late fifties and sixties can remember when the human body and the clothes to cover it were kept clean by an object called a bar of soap. They even remember that the bar of soap was in most instances homemade. The soap was probably called lye soap. The soap used in those days helped to produce rugged individuals. There is a possibility that the ecologists and the environmentalists are directing us back to those good old days.

United States Senator William B. Spong, Jr. of Virginia is the chairman of an environmental subcommittee that has been studying the effects of modern detergents on our society. He is urging all of us to return to plain laundry soap.

He declares that laundry soap is safer than some detergent substitutes and is less of an environmental hazard than others. He states in a report released last week that:

"Soap is a safer product than all of the major currently marketed non-phosphates. While it is no safer than many of the phosphate products, it is superior environmentally. Soap is the preferred product in terms of safety and environmental considerations."

Spong based his recommendation on extensive hearings by his senate commerce subcommittee on the environment last fall after administration experts gave conflicting advice on whether housewives should use phosphate or non-phosphate detergents.

As for effectiveness in cleaning clothes, Spong said the evidence was either conflicting or unsatisfactory. "It appears that phosphate detergents are effective in both hard and soft water. The evidence regarding the effectiveness of non-phosphate detergents is conflicting. Soap is effective in hot, soft water. It may be effective in hot, hard water, but additional evidence on this point is needed," he said.

During the subcommittee's hearings, evidence was presented showing that misuse of non-phosphate detergents could cause severe skin irritation, eye damage and poisoning if swallowed.

Spong said non-phosphates ought not to be used unless there are no small children around or the detergent is always kept out of their reach. "The hazard to adults is minimal, he said, because harm results only from flagrant misuse."

Phosphates came under fire when it was discovered that they speed up a water pollution process called eutrophication. A heavy demand for the oxygen in the water leads to lakes becoming choked with vegetation and filled with sediment.

Fifth Of Cotton Crop Is Still In The Field

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The cotton harvest in the Plains was in high swing during last week and about 20 per cent of the crop remains in the field on the High Plains, John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service reports.

Hutchison said 50 per cent of the crop still awaits harvest in the Rolling Plains and several more weeks of favorable weather are needed to complete the harvest.

The grain sorghum harvest is virtually complete although a few scattered fields still remain in the Rolling Plains. Generally, the crop for the past season ranged from average to above average.

The drought which continued during the spring and summer of 1971 reduced yields in some areas of the state, but late summer rains boosted the crop in western areas, Hutchison said.

The recent freeze that covered much of the state damaged some small grains and vegetables, noted Hutchison. Small grains were especially vulnerable to the freezing temperatures as they were in lush and tender growth. Most of the freeze damage to vegetables was in the Winter Garden-San Antonio area.

Livestock across the state weathered the first major blow of the winter season in good fashion although supplemental feeding has increased. Calving and lambing are active.

District agricultural agents report the following conditions:

PANHANDLE: Recent snow yielded only minor moisture, noted Bill Grisham, Jr., of Amarillo. Overall, the soil moisture situation is still adequate. The cotton harvest is nearing the final stages. The cattle scabies quarantine imposed in December is slowing the movement of cattle. Some cattle suffered heavy shrinkage during the recent cold spell, he said.

South Plains: The cotton harvest was back in full swing during the week with some 15 to 20 per cent of the crop still in the fields, reported Billy C. Gunter, Lubbock. With continued open weather, the harvest should be completed in another week. Wheat continues to make good progress although the recent cold weather has slowed the growth. Some land preparation is underway.

Rolling Plains: The cotton harvest is still lagging with 10 to 15 per cent of the crop in, said James G. Simmons of Vernon. Yields range from average to below average. The grain sorghum and pecan harvests are in the final stages while the guar harvest has just begun with about 15 per cent of the crop in. Ranges continue in excellent shape and small grains are making good growth and providing good grazing.

North Central: Cool season grasses and legumes were making good growth until the recent freeze, noted Ted Martin of Denton. Small grain growth has also been slowed. Many fields and pastures are too wet for grazing. Cold weather caused considerable shrinkage of cattle, but livestock remain in good condition. Supplemental feeding is active.

Northeast: Moisture is surplus in some parts of the district, and recent rains have slowed the growth of small grains, according to RS Loftis of Overton. The recent freeze also slowed small grain growth. Grazing has been hampered by wet fields and pastures. Livestock are in good condition with calving beginning. Some cattle lost weight during the recent cold weather and supplemental feeding is in progress.

Far West: Supplemental feeding of livestock has picked up but livestock remain in good condition. However, ranges are getting dry, noted Ray Siegmund of Fort Stockton. Most of the crop harvest is complete and producers are busy preparing land for spring planting. Small grain growth has been slowed by cold weather but grazing continues.

West Central: Small grain growth was slowed by cold weather and rust is appearing in some oats, according to Allen Turner of San Angelo. But good grazing is still available. Scattered fields of cotton still await harvest.

CENTRAL: The recent cold weather severely nipped some oats, winter grasses and weeds, pointed out John Burleson, Stephenville. Wheat looks good and is providing good grazing. Livestock feeding picked up considerably during the cold weather. Lambing is in progress. Some livestock shows are in progress while others are slated for the coming weeks.

SOUTH CENTRAL: Small grains are recovering slowly from the recent cold snap, said Bryan Swaim of College Station. The freeze stopped the growth of Bermuda and Johnson-grass pastures and ruined some home vegetable gardens. Winter pastures are expected to recover slowly from the cold weather. Land preparation is underway for spring crops.

SOUTHWEST: Vegetable crops, citrus and small grains all suffered from recent freezing temperatures, said Dyle Moore of Uvalde. The full extent of the damage has not yet been assessed. Carrots, cabbage, broccoli and late planted vegetables were particularly damaged. Range conditions and livestock continue in good shape. Some land is being prepared for the spring planting season.

SOUTH: Most winter vegetables in the Lower Rio Grande Valley escaped the recent freeze.

By FOSTER WHALEY

Last Thursday I gave a program on the live beef cattle futures market at Follett to a group of interested cattle feeders and bankers at the request of Ray Burrus, county agent of Lipscomb. I have given several programs all over the Panhandle on the same topic. I have never really felt that I had shook a town up before, but I really did create a lot of commotion at Follett.

I made a date to meet Burrus at the First National Bank in Follett at 1:30 p.m. I arrived about forty-five minutes early. The bank is built as an almost perfect, round building. I backed the car in on the parking lot and left the motor running with the heater on and proceeded to take a quick after-lunch nap. As I was taking a short snooze, one of the lady tellers drove in the lot and saw the car running and a stranger in town. She quickly drove home, called the bank and alerted those inside of the pending bank robbery while I was snoozing. Soon after another lady teller arrived and, as she slammed the door of her car, she woke me up. I noticed she walked rather briskly to the bank. I decided to drive back down to the cafe where I had lunch and have a cup of coffee and then return to the bank later. By the time I returned, Ray Burrus had arrived and the first thing he asked was if I had been there before. I explained and he said they had all been shook up inside the bank waiting for the holdup.

We went to the meeting and the banker attended and said I really shook 'em all up. Well this is one way to do it!

BLACK'S DISEASE

We talked to a lot of farmers and ranchers that revaccinated their herd last week as a result of the article we had last week. It will take several days to gain immunity after the cattle have been vaccinated. Losses continued heavy the past week. Some of this was from true wheat pasture bloat but, we feel much of it was from Novi according to what several veterinarians have said.

CATTLE PRICES

They are now setting at an all-time high. There are numerous reasons.

(1) We are still feeling the effects of the 1970-71 drought. Cattle moved into feedlots at lighter weights and were marketed at lighter weight. This created an orderly flow of cattle into the feedlots at well-staggered weights.

(2) Cattle that moved to the cornbelt in large numbers in the late summer and fall did not go into the feedlots in large numbers. They were used to salvage corn fields and surplus pastures and other fields.

(3) Demand for beef was never better. The food stamp program is being used for luxury cuts of beef — not so much for staple food items. Last Thursday the February trading month went up well over thirty-six dollars — the highest ever recorded on any trading month. Everyone is gaining more confidence as some slaughter houses close because there isn't any fat cattle ready. Dressed beef made a sharp rise last week. Feedlot cattle will make a sharp rise this week.

(4) The bad weather has stalled cattle over a wide area of the feedlots.

(5) Death loss has been the heaviest on all cattle in the Southern High Plains in over two decades.

All this adds up to cattle prices in orbit. How long it will last no one knows. Most observers feel there will be a moderate drop from March to May in the Panhandle.

HOUSTON (AP) — Peter Nicholas Lazaros says if he never hears of Houston again "it will be too soon."

Lazaros said he and two other men were ordered to leave Houston Wednesday after Houston police labeled them "Eastern hoodlums" and charged them with vagrancy.

Lazaros, 38, of Bloomfield, Mich., was arrested along with Glenn Lee Archer, 50, of Charlotte, Mich., and Tim Ashley, 46, of Guthrie, Okla.

"They are eastern hoodlums down here to make a fast buck," said Lt. Joe Singleton, who guides the Houston police department's criminal intelligence division. "I told him we got enough of our own hoods around here and we don't need to import them from Detroit."

All three men listed their occupations as real estate.

Lazaros said he was no vagrant. He said his suit cost him $1,200 and he had $50.00 on him.

4-H CLUB NEWS

The youth sub-committee of the program building committee met Monday, at the Agricultural Annex Building.

Additional Millions To Reap

Congressman Bob Price has received word that the Office of Management and Budget has approved an additional $55 million for the 1972 Rural Environmental Assistance Program.

Congressman Price commented, "I am pleased that the Administration has responded to the needs of farmers and ranchers throughout the country by making available the full amount of funds appropriated for this important program."

Price pointed out that he supported the appropriation of the full $195.5 million for the REAP program when it was considered in the House.

The decision to release the funds was made in response to growing indications from across the country that farmers are willing to match, or exceed, the additional investment in soil and water conservation and pollution prevention and abatement practices. Under REAP the Federal Government shares, generally on a 50-50 basis, the cost of such practices in the effort to solve rural environmental problems for the primary benefit of the total rural community and the public.

REAP is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service through its farmer-elected committees. The Soil Conservation Service, Forest Service, and Extension Service provide technical and educational assistance.

The youth sub-committee was chaired by Donald Hinton. Mrs. V. C. Webb was secretary for the meeting.

The program started with Jimmie Lou Wainwright, home demonstration agent, giving background information on the PROGRAM BUILDING PROCESS. Richard Guggisberg, asst. county agricultural agent, gave information on county statistics and Patricia Henderson, asst. county home demonstration agent, gave the results of the 4-H questionnaire sent out in November.

Projects were discussed for the '72-'73 year. The Committee voted to push the following 11 projects out of 20 presented: beef, clothing, swine, food nutrition, leadership, with public speaking combined; dog care; horse; rifle; veterinary science; wildlife; and child care.

Problems facing 4-H in Gray County were then discussed in groups of four. These main problems were pulled out to work on: lack of parent interest; poor programs; projects, lack of good leaders; long, boring meetings; and Saturday night meetings.

These solutions were discussed: get parents to participate in programs, advertise 4-H, get same speaker for each club every single month, Jr. and Sr. project groups, and have a number of ideas for club members to choose from for monthly meetings.

Those that attended the meeting were: Dr. Kenneth Royse, Don Morrison, Ted Atwood, Doris Carlton, Cindy Youngblood, Mrs. V. C. Webb, Mrs. Dora Dougal, Mrs. Bib Skaggs, Mrs. John Spearman, Melinda Spearman, Don Hinton, and Mrs. Barbara Winegart.

"THE RESERVE"

"The Reserve" — to some it means a standby military unit or perhaps the Federal Reserve Board.

To us, "reserve" means the supply of electricity we have left after you, industry, business and public authorities have used all the electricity you want. We've never had a blackout in the area we serve by reason of not having enough left. We've always made sure that there would be plenty for your use . . . an adequate reserve.

And, that's why we're projecting an investment of $144 million over the next five years. To be certain there will be an adequate reserve left after you use what you want. To be certain new industry coming into our area will have the electric power it needs to operate and so make jobs — jobs that contribute to economic well being for our customers.

North Vietnam Seen Stiffening Attitude Towards POW Issue

By HENRY M. ARONSON
For The Associated Press

In late November 1971 my wife and I were invited to North Vietnam. The invitation followed from my request to study the administration of civilian and military justice in the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, submitted to the DRVN Embassy in Vientiane, Laos. The visit coincided with our departure from Saigon where I had spent the past 13 months representing servicemen before U.S. military courts.

The day before we were to enter Hanoi, Nguyen Van Thanh, first secretary of the DRVN Embassy in Laos, casually mentioned that my planned study of the justice system in his country "was not possible at this time." No reasons were given. Thanh informed us that we were invited "because we were persons who are against the war."

The change in focus was bitterly disappointing. Foreigners have had little to no hard information available to them relating to justice as practiced within the DRVN. The information which is available—translated newspapers, newly enacted laws relating to crime and the protection of property, and recent speeches of DRVN leaders—strongly suggests that North Vietnam is confronted with increasing problems of morale and discipline within its armed forces and destruction and stealing of property among its civilian population.

I had hoped to compare the approaches of the North Vietnamese to those of Americans in dealing with remarkably similar types of problems. I could make no such comparisons.

Inasmuch as I was not permitted to observe one court, or meet with one judge, practicing attorney, law professor or student while in Hanoi, I can only conclude the obvious—the North Vietnamese presently wish to keep the workings of their justice system a private matter.

This was the first of a number of requests for hard information which was denied us—requests which ranged over a number of subjects including cooperative and private farm output figures, an opportunity to inquire into the status of minority groups within the DRVN, the condition of American POWs, evidence of recent American bombing damage, and an opportunity to meet with rank-and-file soldiers.

In fairness it should be noted that Hungarian and Russian guests confided similar complaints to us—the North Vietnamese apparently are politically impartial in denying information to Communists and non-Communists alike.

Yet, in an ironic way, our visit was extremely informative in terms of what we could not learn, particularly in the area of American POWs and certain North Vietnamese assessments of the antiwar movement in the United States. Specifically, I was given substantial reason to doubt the completeness of the POW list issued by the North Vietnamese, was convinced that no visitors will be permitted to see the pilots, that there will be no further token releases of POWs, and that the North Vietnamese may seriously overestimate the power, influence and momentum of the antiwar movement both in the United States and within the U.S. armed forces in Vietnam.

Our hosts were members and staff of the Vietnam Committee for Solidarity with the American People—CSAP. They were at all times hospitable, solicitous of our needs, and unobtrusively present when desired or needed but otherwise considerate of our desire to take time to ourselves. We were to develop very warm feelings for the group.

The committee is three years old. Tran Trong Quet, the ranking member we met and the man responsible for overseeing our visit, explained the two major responsibilities of his group.

The first is to educate the North Vietnamese people about America in general and specifically about the differences between "U.S. imperialists" and "American friends"—between the Westmorelands and the Spocks.

I had one experience which suggests that the committee has been remarkably successful in carrying out this function. I was stopped by a highly excited policeman while taking a photograph in downtown Hanoi. A large crowd quickly formed.

A woman passing by translated the officers first question: "What is your nationality?" With some hesitation and greater fear I responded meekly, "American." The crowd reacted in no way but to be obvious amused at the policeman's developing excitement and our inability to communicate with each another.

The second major responsibility was described as one of "introducing our people, struggles and tasks to the American people." Regarding this function Quat noted, "We have not done much to introduce American people to our people—just the antiwar movement."

In cooperation with certain American antiwar groups, the committee screens and distributes all mail between POWs and their families.

Discussion of prisoner mail led into a far ranging discussion about POWs.

The Nixon administration has repeatedly inferred that the war would continue as long as U.S. pilots remained in captivity in North Vietnam.

If the North Vietnamese did not realize the enormous negotiating value of the pilots in the past, the Nixon administration's emphasis of the POW issue has undoubtedly brought home to the North Vietnamese the realization that the detained pilots may be their most valuable asset in their negotiations with the United States.

For this reason I avoided detailed discussions of terms of release. That the North Vietnamese would continue to detain the prisoners until the war ended seemed a foregone conclusion.

The treatment of the POWs is quite a different matter. The Nixon administration has strongly inferred that the North Vietnamese are not providing the detained pilots with sufficient shelter, food, clothing and medical care.

To determine the validity of these allegations, I made a straightforward request to visit the pilots and see for myself the conditions of their detention. My interest was limited to determining whether the pilots were receiving necessities comparable to those received by the average North Vietnamese. No one could reasonably expect the POWs to be afforded basic essentials not available to citizens of the country in which they are detained.

I assured the committee that I would willingly submit to any precautions it deemed necessary to maintain the secrecy of the location of the POW camps. I also told the committee that I thought the visit stood to potentially benefit the North Vietnamese and antiwar groups within the United States.

If the POWs were in fact well cared for, it would cast doubt upon, and perhaps put to an end to, one of the principle justifications claimed by the Nixon administration for prolonging the war.

Timing was also stressed. A report on the POWs one week before Christmas could only serve to heighten the impact of the visit on the American people.

I was not permitted to visit the Hanoi Hilton or any other places of detention.

The day before we left Hanoi, Quat informed us that the request had been discussed in detail "with our authorities."

The reasons given for the rejection are important insofar as they tend to indicate a possible failure on the part of U.S. government to anticipate North Vietnamese reactions.

The Son Tay raid provides a graphic example. The well-publicized raid, staged in November 1970, involved an attempt by U.S. commandos to extricate prisoners thought to be held in the Son Tay camp located 23 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The fact that the camp was empty and no prisoners rescued is not relevant to understanding the Vietnamese reaction. To the contrary, the raid has definitely influenced the North Vietnamese approach to prisoner visitations—even by persons deemed to be American "friends."

Quat informed me that one visit was permitted after the raid—at Christmas time 1970—but since that time the United States had declared they will continue rescue operations. We understand Nixon's policy as follows: We must open the door for prisoner visits. If we open the door, he will immediately attack. So how can we open the door again?

Nixon not only organized raids which he calls "rescue operations" but he uses them only as a pretext to bomb the country. We regret we have no other way. We know Nixon will use the prisoner issue to excite public opinion in America.

Nixon tries to divert public opinion from the war issue but we have no way to cope with this action because the thing we realize most is security of the country and also the pilots.

After talking with the Vietnamese I concluded that the major accomplishment of the Son Tay raid, U.S. domestic politics aside, was to further jeopardize the safety of the POWs.

Yet, the alternative scenario, averted only because the camp was empty, is more frightening. Had the camp not been abandoned, a loss of life would have been certain. Could the loss of even one American POW's life be justified in the release of others? And what of the prisoners left behind in the event some had been rescued? Could it not be anticipated, at a minimum, that their internment would involve increased security and lessened freedom?

The risks the Nixon administration is willing to take under the guise of "concern" for the pilots are staggering.

Beyond visits, Quat volunteered that the practice of leasing a few prisoners, as was done twice in 1968 and once in 1969, has ended. Each involved the release of three prisoners to representatives of American antiwar groups.

Statements released by the first two groups regarding the conditions of their imprisonment, in Quat's words, "caused no problem."

Not so for the third group. Quat noted that "these prisoners, when released, told the truth about being well treated while in Hanoi. On the way home they told the same. Back in America they still told the truth. But after a certain time they have told the contrary."

Navy Lt. Robert Frishman, a member of the third group, was quoted in a Dec. 6, 1970, AP news release as stating: "The actual physical thing isn't so bad. I was struck with rocks and had knives jabbed at me and I was slapped around and tied up with ropes on my bad arm."

These statements were characterized as lies and found to be highly insulting by the North Vietnamese. I doubt they will again release prisoners, who they now see as a vehicle for lies and insults, until their conditions for releasing all prisoners are met—namely the ending of the war.

Quat offered a second reason for not releasing additional pilots until the war is over: "When they are in their country they have again joined the Army to fight again."

Let he be misunderstood, Quat summarized: "In short, the argumentation of Nixon is as follows: We have to release the prisoners but once released Nixon uses them to fight again. Nixon wants us to open the doors of the prisons for visitors but he uses prisoners as a pretext to bomb."

This discussion took place Dec. 17. The next day the United States began five days of intensive bombing. The renewed bombing, whatever its other objectives, undoubtedly stiffened the resolve of the North Vietnamese.

In the absence of an abrupt change in policy, I think it folly to expect prisoner visits or releases until agreement is reached on the larger issues—total U.S. withdrawal and cessation of hostilities in Southeast Asia.

The most sensitive issue we discussed concerned the identity of POWs within North Vietnam.

On Nov. 23, 1970, the Ministry of National Defense of the DRVN released a list which it claims contains the names of all U.S. pilots captured or recovered dead in North Vietnam through Nov. 15, 1970. The United States has taken the position that this list containing 368 names is incomplete.

Documents on display in Hanoi at the "Commission for Investigation of the U.S. Imperialists' War Crimes in Vietnam" tend to support the U.S. position and to cast doubt on the completeness of the list published by the North Vietnamese.

The commission publicizes American acts of aggression committed against the Vietnamese people. Among the U.S. bombs, photographs of damage and related materials displayed by the commission is an exhibit of materials taken from American pilots who have been shot down over the North—a parachute, a two-way radio, survival cards identifying edible vegetation, a $20 bill, and a layout of 10 photographs under the heading, "Some of the U.S. pilots captured in North Vietnam."

Each photograph carried a caption which was identical in form—a typical caption read: Lt. Earl Gardner Lewis, Jr., U.S. Navy. Born in Pennsylvania, No. 683095. Captured by Ha Bac's militia men on October 4, 1967.

Also displayed were one service identification and three Geneva Convention cards bearing the names of the pilots to whom issued. Our guide did not object to our taking photographs and writing down the names on the displayed cards.

These names were to become critically important in considering the completeness of the North Vietnamese list. I was later to learn that two of those names were not on that list.

During our final meeting with the committee on Dec. 17, Quat handed me a copy of the prisoner list. During a break I scanned the list for the names under the 10 photographs and on the four cards. Those of Lt. Claude D. Wilson and Lt. James Thomas Ruffin—the former appearing on the ID card and the latter on one of the Geneva Convention cards—were not on the list.

When the meeting reconvened I asked Quat if the list accounted for all persons recovered by the North Vietnamese. He answered "Yes."

I repeated my question, specifying all persons—dead, injured and alive.

Quat again answered with an emphatic "Yes."

I then told Quat of the ID card of Lt. Wilson and the Geneva Convention card of Lt. J.G. Ruffin and asked why their names were not on the list.

Quat registered surprise. His answer was broken: "No information, the list of dead. We only have names of those we are sure they are dead. When we shoot at a plane sometimes we have the body and no identification and sometime identification and no body and often the body is quite deformed."

Considering the gravity of the matter I found the answer to be inadequate.

I could push no further. Quat was not to be budged on the question of the completeness of the list. The one possibility which occurred to me at the time was that the two pilots had been rescued but their cards had been left behind.

On returning to Vientiane I spoke with an official at the U.S. Embassy and asked him if it had any information on either Ruffin or Wilson.

I was informed that Wilson was listed as KIA—Killed in Action. The official explained that all downed pilots are deemed MIA—Missing in Action—unless the government has additional information which tends to confirm that the downed pilot is in fact dead. The United States apparently had such information on Wilson, although I was not informed what that information was.

Ruffin is listed as MIA. The embassy official informed me that his copilot, also listed as MIA, was Larry Howard Spencer. Prisoner No. 308 on the list published by the North Vietnamese is Larry Howard Spencer.

I do not know whether Lt. Wilson or Lt. J.G. Ruffin are dead or prisoners. I find it hard to believe that the North Vietnamese do not know.

Why would the North Vietnamese purposefully keep the name of a detained pilot off the list? No persuasive tactical reasons come to mind, and notions of "inhumanity" cannot be given serious consideration in evaluating the response of the victims towards the perpetrators of the most vicious, sustained policy of bombing known to man.

The only possibility that occurs to me, and I find it far fetched, is that by keeping names off the list, the North Vietnamese hope to gain the active and outspoken support of unlisted pilots' families for the immediate and complete withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam—the Vietnamese stated precondition for the return of POWs.

Distance from the spacecraft camera to the Mars moon was 3,540 kilometers (3,441 miles). The profusion of craters suggests that Mars' innermost moon is very old and possesses considerable structural strength.

MARTIAN MOUNTAIN—This crater near Nodus Gordii (the Gordian Knot) is 70 miles in diameter. The crater and its immediate surroundings are high ground, emerging island-like from a sea of wind-blown dust. ## Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH.D., M.D.

Bill and Tom are doubly fascinating to us physicians. If you have anybody with cancer in your family, by all means mail them this Case Record. And if you have access to the sea, better consider the "Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals." I'd use a glass per day if I were a terminal cancer victim!

Case S-572: Bill and Tom are elderly brothers, aged 65 and 63 respectively.

Dr. Crane, their grieving sister informed me they have both been diagnosed as having lung cancer.

And it has spread in both cases to their liver, so the physicians told us they couldn't survive more than 3 months.

When the doctors gave me their prognosis, they asked if I wished my brothers be informed of their impending death sentence.

Well, I thought they ought to know, but maybe I made a mistake.

Bill took a competitive attitude and said he wouldn't die in the 3 months the medics had allotted to him.

But Tom, the younger brother, reposed so much belief in the doctors that he immediately gave up.

And he went downhill so fast that he was dead in just 2 weeks.

But Bill is still alive and walking around, though his 3-month life-span has now reached 6 months.

How can you psychologists explain Bill's case?

MIND VS. BODY
When Tom gave up he lost his zest for food.

And he called for sleeping pills to offset his insomnia.

Besides, his adrenal glands didn't get into gear, as did those of his competitive brother.

So his system lacked the stimulating effect of the extra adrenaline that Bill indirectly poured into his own blood stream by his fighting spirit.

Bill thus ate more food than his dying younger brother.

For Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, exponent of the horse blood anti-cancer serum called Carcalon, says all body cells possess Carcalon.

As they wear out via exercise, they release their Carcalon into the blood or lymphatic vessels.

Besides, the power of the mind may add other therapeutic aids.

For I previously reported to you the experiment on white rats where two groups apparently were fed fatal doses of poison.

Yet only 20 percent of one group died in contrast to 80 percent of the second group.

The explanation? Those in that 20 percent group were cared for by attendants who liked animals and who stroked the rats or petted them.

The other group had attendants who disliked rats and showed no affection for them.

So 4 times as many died of the same supposedly fatal doses of poison in the group with the disinterested or even hostile caretakers!

Affection, as revealed by the laying on of gentle hands and TLC (Tender Loving Care) furnish a great boon to physicians.

For love bolsters hope and both of these point your thinking forward into the tomorrows.

They are thus extrovertive in contrast to fear, which causes an involution and withdrawal from life.

If cancer is due to lack of some water-soluble chemical elements, then it is also possible that sea water could prevent or even slow down the ravages of such inoperable cancer as that of brain or liver.

So send for my booklet "The Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

People like Bill have nothing to lose thereby!

Our Men In Military

WILSON HATCHER

Navy Petty Officer Second Class Wilson Hatcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Hatcher of 1816 Coffee, is in the Western Pacific aboard the destroyer USS Leonard F. Mason, homeported at San Diego.

He is a 1967 graduate of Pampa High School.

MARKA PARKER

Marine Pvt. Mark A. Parker, son of Mrs. Mary E. Parker of Wheeler, graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego.

He is a 1971 graduate of Wheeler High School.

JIMMY P. HAYES

Chief Warrant Officer Jimmy P. Hayes, son of Mrs. Jack P. Hayes of Port Arthur, received the Meritorious Service Medal during his retirement ceremony at Ft. Carson, Colo.

Hayes, a veteran of more than 30 years military service, was cited for his outstanding performance while assigned to a detachment of the 16th Weather Squadron at Ft. Carson.

He served during World War II and the Korean War.

The 1939 Stephen F. Austin High School graduate received his BA degree in history from the University of Maryland in 1963. His wife, Dorothy, is the daughter of Mrs. Carson Watt, 625 N. Sumner.

ROBERT D. WEAVER

U.S. Air Force Captain Robert D. Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Weaver of McLean, has graduated from the Air University's Squadron Officer School at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Captain Weaver was specially selected for the 14-week professional officer course in recognition of his potential as a leader in the aerospace force.

He is assigned at England AFB, La., as an F-100 Super Sabre fighter bomber pilot.

New Books In Library

'Miscellaneous' Line

By RAY DE CRANE

Unfortunately, many taxpayers quickly pass over the "Miscellaneous" deduction category on their tax return.

This is a tragic oversight. There is a treasure house of deductions here. Consider them carefully. Here are some possibilities for you to consider.

Child care or invalid care

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL

The Red Cross board met Tuesday at 7 a.m. with 18 members and five guests present.

The guests were the boys and girls who completed their 50 mile swim. Mrs. Gerald Marlar gave the following pins and patches to wear on their swim suits: Krista Marlar, Tamara Glascock, Brenda Hoskins, Ted Brown, and Richard Steger.

Reports were given by the standing chairmen and plans for a standard first aid class were made to begin Tuesday evening at the Red Cross office. Persons interested in taking Standard First Aid should come to the Red Cross office at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Shotwell spoke to the group on the International Red Cross. She said, "We are all familiar with many Red Cross International programs such as the ditty bag program, the write Hanu program and the POW program of taking food packages to the prisoners but we do not realize the scope of our work with other countries when disaster strikes or when families are separated by war. The Foreign Locator Service tries to unite these families."

Mrs. Don George, chapter chairman for Gray County and Libby Shotwell went to the Service to Military Families and Veterans meeting at Amarillo, Wednesday, at the Amarillo Chapter house with Jack Hopkins in charge. Hopkins is the Red Cross field director at Waco at the Regional VA Center. He stated that the Red Cross was in veteran work in 1919 and has been in it ever since. He stated that veterans should know to come to the red cross with their problems and we have a group of four on our staff working for us every day. He spoke of the difference in compensation and pension and told us of the rapid changes in VA benefits each year, changes for the good of the veteran in most cases.

He told us of hospital care in VA hospitals, domiciliary care in VA homes for the aged and for veterans who needed a place to live, of out-patient treatment and dental work and how to receive prosthetic appliance and aid for the blind.

The afternoon session was on educational benefits for the veteran and on vocational rehabilitation.

Four Chapters were represented at the meeting: Gray, Hutchinson, Deaf Smith, and Potter. Veterans recently discharged from the service of their country, should come to us for help with VA benefits.

Mrs. Johnny Sybert, RN and school nurse for Lefors schools will begin a home nursing class at the school Monday morning. Mrs. Sybert teaches home nursing and mother and baby care classes for the school each year.

More letters have been received from our ditty bags program by our Board Members. One from Sgt. M. L. Wagner in charge of 28th General Support Group wrote:

"On behalf of my men in the 28th Support Group, I would like to thank the good people in Pampa, Texas, who have worked to make this a happy Christmas for us so far away from home." Another letter was read from a Pfc., written to Mrs. Flynt, another from Lt. William D. Carter thanking the Red Cross for helping to make Christmas happier for the men in Vietnam.

Thanks to all of you who gave to the United Fund so we could do this important program.
