Tanner Refutes Story Carried By Radio-TV

Charles R. Tanner, X-ray technician at Highland General Hospital, today refuted a statement attributed to him yesterday in a radio and television news report by the news director of a Pampa radio station.

The news report, voiced on Pampa radio and Amarillo television by radio report John McPherson implied that the Pampa News had published an inaccurate story that misled the public and as a result the newspaper was "under fire."

Both newscasts stated the "misconception" published by the newspaper and the charges of inaccuracy went unchallenged by a representative of the newspaper when they were made at the Monday night meeting of the Gray County Taxpayers Association in the county courtroom at the courthouse.

As a result of the radio and television reports, Tanner today released the following statement to The News:

"A radio and television news report yesterday morning and last night, stating that I said the Pampa newspaper published an inaccurate story leading the people to believe Gray County taxpayers had to pay a $98,000 deficit at Highland General Hospital, was incorrect and a misrepresentation of facts.

The quotes credited to me are totally in error. I did not say these and at no time did I say the newspaper was in error.

"Last year a story was carried using a figure of some $98,000 mentioned by County Judge Cain in a manner that left the impression this deficit was due to the hospital.

"Judge Cain has since clarified his meaning, noting that the hospital was then and is now in the black and self-supporting.

"This was further emphasized and printed correctly in The Pampa News in its story of the organization of our hospital employees group.

"Also at the meeting where I was misquoted Monday night, the judge again emphasized the separate and healthy-fiscal status of the hospital from other county financing.

"At no time was the newspaper mentioned, much less placed under fire."

While Tanner was not mentioned by name in the radio and television news report, he was the only person who questioned County Judge Don Cain about the particular incident in which Judge Cain had been quoted by the newspaper about hospital finances. Statements in the newspaper story were made by Judge Cain and simply reported by the newspaper as a matter of factual news coverage.

Flu Hits Austin Schools

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Schools at Smithville, 42 miles east of Austin, have been closed because of influenza and other respiratory infections. Supt. George Mabe said today.

Mabe told the Austin American-Statesman 25 to 30 per cent of the school body was absent because of illness.

Mabe said he hopes to resume classes Monday morning.

In Austin, Dr. John Sessums, director of the Austin-Travis County Health Department, said respiratory illness are "definitely on the upswing but it's really not anything unusual for the winter months."

Sessums said doctors in the county have reported about 300 cases of such ailments the last week of December and then in the first week of January total rose to 600 and last week the number was more than 1,000.

A Belton physician told the American-Statesman he saw 124 patients with flu and respiratory diseases.

A doctor in Elgin, 25 miles northeast of Austin, said he saw about 80 flu cases Monday.

Largest Warship Joining In Battle

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Navy Phantom jet shot down a swift MIG21 jet deep inside North Vietnam today, the U.S. Command said.

It was the third encounter between MIGs and U.S. jets in the past five days of intensified aerial warfare. In the two previous engagements, MIGs and U.S. jets fired missiles at each other but missed.

The MIGs have been trying to hamper American air blows at the Ho Chi Minh supply trail in Laos. U.S. air strikes are designed to check the flow of supplies believed intended for a new enemy offensive in South Vietnam.

Previously, the MIGs had tried to avoid American planes. As an example, the last MIG shot down was on May 28, 1970.

During today's engagement, at least three American planes were fired on by eight surface-to-air missiles and anti-aircraft guns, the U.S. Command reported.

The command had no word immediately if the planes were from the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise, which earlier in the day returned to its battle station in the Gulf of Tonkin.

One of the planes suffered minor damage but all U.S. aircraft returned safely to their carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin, the command said.

A command spokesman Maj Robert O'Brien, reported the action was triggered when eight Soviet-built SAM missiles plus anti-aircraft artillery were fired at an unarmed Navy RA5 reconnaissance jet and its fighter escort near Quan Lang airfield.

This is about 170 miles north of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam, and 155 miles south of Hanoi.

Two fighters returned the fire, and one of them, an A7 sustained minor damage, O'Brien said.

Four minutes later, a Navy F4 phantom engaged and shot down a MIG21 with air missiles.

SAIGON (AP) — The world's largest warship, the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise, returned to the Tonkin Gulf today and her 75 planes joined the massive U.S. air campaign against the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos.

President Nixon ordered the 86,000-ton carrier into the Indian Ocean last month for a show of strength in support of Pakistan during the India-Pakistan war. She sailed with a task force from the Tonkin Gulf Dec. 9, started back to Vietnam on Jan. 10 and en route stopped in the Philippines to give her crew shore leave.

The Enterprise joined the 75,000-ton carrier Constellation on Yankee Station off the Vietnamese coast, bringing the strike force there back to its normal strength of two carriers. A third carrier, the Coral Sea, left the gulf several days ago for an upkeep period in port that had been postponed while the Enterprise was away.

Jets from the Enterprise and the Constellation and from U.S. Air Force bases in Thailand and South Vietnam kept up heavy raids against the Ho Chi Minh trail. Informed sources said they made some 250 strikes today against the enemy supply routes.

U.S. B52 bombers also made more heavy strikes for the third day along the border in South Vietnam's central highlands, where an estimated 15,000 North Vietnamese troops are reported massing, possibly for an offensive during the Tet celebration next month and during President Nixon's visit to China.

The Stratofortresses also struck in the southern half of the demilitarized zone.

Despite the massive bombing campaign, the Cambodian command in Phnom Penh said two or three new regiments of North Vietnamese have moved down the Ho Chi Minh trail, raising the estimated number of enemy troops in Cambodia to between 65,000 and 70,000.

The Cambodian military spokesman Lt. Col Am Rong, said there has been a lull in fighting in Cambodia since Christmas; he speculated that the Communists are conserving their strength for battles in South Vietnam.

President To Address Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, facing a Democratic-controlled Congress in this election year, has invented a new State of the Union formula. Hit 'em with both barrels.

For the first time, Nixon has decided to report twice this year on his plans for dealing with the multiple and mounting problems of the 50 states.

First, he will make an in-person State of the Union address to a Senate-House session at 12:30 p.m. Thursday. The best administration guess is that he will talk about 30 minutes to Congress and a nationwide television-radio audience.

Second, he will place on each congressman's desk a written State of the Union message, far exceeding in volume anything he could attempt to read in person. White House sources say it will be a bulky document.

Using this one-two formula, Nixon hopes to capture the live TV-radio audience plus reruns on the widely watched evening TV news programs and, at the same time, leave plenty of fodder for reporters writing for newspapers and weekly magazines.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press secretary, said the chief executive "wanted to iron" the good bit of detail in the traditional January launching-pad message that could not be encompassed in a speech to Congress.

AWOL Indicted On 16 Counts For Bomb Role

CHICAGO (AP) — Ronald Kaufman, an AWOL Army private who authorities say may have fled the country, has been indicted on 16 counts connected with the placing of bombs in three Chicago banks.

The indictment returned Tuesday by a federal grand jury charged that on or about July 16, 1971, Kaufman carried explosive devices into the banks and put them in safety deposit boxes.

It also charged that Kaufman used the U.S. mails to send letters to news media representatives detailing what the devices were and where they could be found. The letters were mailed on Jan. 5 and 6.

The FBI has said fingerprints on the letters showed that Kaufman had handled them.

U.S. Atty. James R. Thompson, who announced the indictment in Chicago, said the FBI has completed investigations into similar bombs found at three banks in New York and three in San Francisco. No indictments have been returned in these cases.

House Postpones Action On U.S. Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House postponed final action on a $2.7-billion foreign aid bill today and a key leader said he does not want to act on President Nixon's foreign aid overhaul plan until after the November elections.

"We could have a new president then," said House Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., "and he might want something different."

The House had been scheduled to take final action today on the bill extending the present foreign aid program but Morgan's committee said it was put off until next Tuesday.

Morgan had indicated he was concerned about taking the vote this week because too many foreign aid supporters might be out of town. Only 308 of the 432 House members answered the new session's opening roll call Tuesday.

The House bill curbs U.S. aid to the Greek military junta and West Pakistan unless President Nixon asks resumption in writing. It also urges the President to cut America's United Nations contribution from 36 per cent to 25 per cent of the international organization's operating costs.

Morgan contends that if military and economic aid were considered separately the military-minded House—if not the Senate—would eventually scuttle the economic-development aid program.

Also, he has been among House leaders who oppose giving up control of American aid money to international organizations.

Council Exempts Price Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council today exempted small retail firms with annual sales of less than $100,000 from price controls and about 45 per cent of all rental units from rent controls.

Job Measure Faces Senate 'Stiff Fight'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate opponents promised a stiff fight—possibly a filibuster—today against a bill strengthening federal enforcement of fair-employment practices. The measure also extends protection to an additional 20 million employees.

Supporters expressed confidence, however, that they have the votes to pass the measure even if they first have to overcome a filibuster.

In the previous Congress a similar bill was passed by the Senate by a 47-24 vote but died in the House.

The situation is different now, because last September the House passed a bill of its own. It differs markedly from the measure before the Senate, but it could open the way for final action on a compromise.

With this in mind, foes of the legislation said they plan more determined resistance to Senate passage.

Ten Democratic Candidates Join March Florida Primary

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Florida Democrats will have 10 candidates to choose from when they go to the polls March 14 to name their preference for the party's presidential nomination.

The state candidates selection board kept Gov. George Wallace of Alabama on the ballot despite "grave reservations" expressed by the state party chairman, retained Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles against the candidate's wishes and rejected Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas.

State Democratic Chairman Jon Moyle said he assumed Wallace would participate "in good faith and not play games with Florida Democrats."

Despite his personal reservations, Moyle said, he assumed Wallace delegates would pledge not to oppose the nominee of the National Democratic Convention. The loyalty oath apparently would prevent Wallace from naming American Independent party regulars as Florida delegates to the national convention.

Yorty, who is campaigning in the New Hampshire primary, asked that his name be removed from the Florida ballot, but Democrats on the committee voted 2 to 1 that he is a presidential contender and therefore should be listed.

Moyle insisted that Mills is not a candidate and therefore should not have his name on the primary list, although he often has been mentioned as a possible contender.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who signed an affidavit saying he is not a candidate, also had his name removed.

Those whose names were placed on the Democratic ballot are: Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, Sens. Vance Hartke of Indiana, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, Sens. George McGovern of South Dakota and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Wallace and Yorty.

On the Republican ballot are President Nixon and Reps. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio and Paul N. McCloskey Jr. of California.

Kennedy, who delivered a broad attack against Nixon administration policies Monday, was rebuked

Tuesday by three top Republicans.

Kennedy said tens of thousands of people will die in Indochina this year because "President Nixon will not allow the Saigon government to falter until he is secure at home for another term of office."

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the Massachusetts Democrat owed Nixon an apology for his "intemperate and immature statements."

Replying to a Kennedy remark that the Nixon administration doesn't trust the American people, House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said:

"Of all issues which the junior senator from Massachusetts might raise among the American people, the question of trust seems least likely to serve his interests." Kennedy is his state's senior senator.

Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, the Republican national chairman, called Kennedy's speech "the usual cacophony of mindless negativism" and his criticisms "simply untrue."

In other political developments Tuesday, Muskie told about 1,000 people at a Kenosha, Wis., political rally that Nixon's 1968 campaign slogan "Bring us together" was a promise whose implications I don't believe he fully understands.

Discarding his prepared text criticizing the President's economic policies, the Maine Democrat said administration policies have inspired division, mistrust and discrimination.

But McGovern said in New Hampshire the war will remain an issue regardless of Nixon's troop withdrawal program because the President "could have stopped the war in 1969."

Chairman Charles Briody of the People's Party, which currently is pushing Dr. Benjamin Spock for president,

Seized Vessels Refuse To Be Taken To Coast

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Two Soviet fishing vessels seized on charges of violating U.S. territorial waters are refusing to be taken to port and remain stalemated in the northern Bering Sea with a Coast Guard icebreaker.

The Lamut, a factory ship that abandoned an escape attempt as the Coast Guard was ready to shoot across its bow Tuesday, and the stern trawler Kolyvan have balked at going beyond St. Matthew Island, some 200 miles off the western coast of Alaska.

Armed boarding parties from the icebreaker Storiz are aboard the Russian vessels and both the skipper of one vessel and the fisheries director of the Soviet fleet are being held under arrest aboard the Storiz, Coast Guard officials said at Juneau.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the Storiz had been unable "to convey the subtleties of its conversations with the Russians."

The Coast Guard said it knew of no reason for the refusal of the Soviet ships to sail under escort to the U.S.

Naval Station at Adak in the Aleutians, 600 miles to the south.

The Storiz, an armed 230-foot craft with 77 crew members, is being aided by shifts of land-based patrol planes that continue surveillance over the scene the Coast Guard said, and a buoy tender was expected to join the Storiz by mid-day today.

The 363-foot Lamut, flagship of an 80-vessel Russian fishing fleet near the area, and the 278-foot Kolyvan were seized Monday night about 9½ miles off the coast of uninhabited St. Matthew Island, the Coast Guard said, and were charged with violating the U.S. 12-mile contiguous fishing zone.

Shortly after the seizure, the Lamut broke and ran through the ice-choked waters of the Bering Sea. It was maneuvered into the ice by the Storiz only after the U.S. ship warned it was ready to open fire. The Storiz had authorization from Washington to fire a warning shot across the bow and came "about as close as you can get," the Coast Guard said.

CHOIR SELECTEES—Three Pampa choir students were selected for the All-State Choir during district auditions in Lubbock. They will be among the 240 All-State Choir members to attend a clinic in Fort Worth Feb. 9-13. Chosen were left to right, John Fitzgerald, 17, and Steven Skoog, 16, both members of the Pampa High School choir; and Joe Phillips, 15, of the Robert E. Lee Junior High Choir.

Sen. Bentsen Urges U.S. Recognize Bangladesh

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., says the United States should recognize the new nation of Bangladesh now.

Bentsen, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, spoke to a Tuesday news conference called to review his 17-day trip to the Middle East.

Asked about the Pakistan-Indian war and the emergence of East Pakistan as Bangladesh, Bentsen said:

"It has been a grave mistake to have supported what was sort of a massacre of people—no, I withdraw that. In effect, we never should have supported a government that massacred numbers of people in Bangladesh."

Instead, Bentsen said, "We should have strongly protested what was taking place in Bangladesh."

As a result of the Nixon policy of condemning India and supporting Pakistan in its efforts to squelch East Pakistan's breakaway, Bentsen said, "We have lost the friendship of our largest democratic country in Asia."

At the least, Bentsen said, "we should have had a hands-off position in dealing with two nations that have been friendly to the United States."

Bentsen said U.S. recognition of Bangladesh should come at once and that this country should press for its entrance to the United Nations.

Bentsen returned Sunday from meeting with officials in Algeria and heads of state in Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Lebanon.

He said he will seek an appointment with Nixon to describe what he called an encouraging sign that both the Arabs and the Israelis would be open to a compromise if it were pushed by the United Nations.

"I was encouraged. I thought that neither side is as intransigent as it would appear on the surface," Bentsen said.

He said the United States should be trying to get U.N. negotiator Gunnar Jarring to put forth an equitable solution.

He said the U.S. policy is "obviously favorable to Israel" and he feels this is justified because "it is important that Israel survive as a free nation."

Bentsen said Israel, for security's sake, will want to retain control of the Golan Heights, passage to the Gulf of Aqaba and use of the Port of Elat "but beyond that are major concessions to be made."

The Arabs are requesting full return of the Sinai peninsula and obviously Israel is not going to agree to that—to return the control of the Gulf of Aqaba and of the SharmelSheik installations.

Hearing On Racial Issue In Military To Be Conducted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Ronald Dellums, D-Calif., will conduct a hearing in San Antonio Saturday on complaints of racial discrimination in the military.

The injury is an extension of a probe started in November by the congressional Black Caucus, consisting of the 13 black members of the House.

In November, 10 caucus members visited 10 Army, Air Force and Marine bases from coast to coast listening to charges of discrimination in job assignments, promotion and punishment through the military judicial system.

Dellums, a first term House member from Berkeley, Calif., and a former Marine, said the findings of the San Antonio hearing will be incorporated in the Black Caucus report of its total investigation, along with recommendations for administrative corrective action and any needed legislation.

He said the hearing, to be followed by an open forum, was arranged by the soldiers themselves.

State Railroad Commission Says It Will Delay Setting February Figures

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Railroad Commission said Tuesday it would delay setting an oil allowable factor for February because despite the lowest total of crude stocks in four years, major purchasers report their inventories are higher than their needs.

The commission said it would not set the February figure until after further study.

Several oil company representatives said their needs were higher than their nominations for February, that their nominations were long-delayed technical adjustments related to the commission's system of pegging the allowable factor on nominations.

Commission chairman Byron Tunnell said: "For the week ending Jan. 7, and I think this is particularly significant, Texas crude oil stocks were 94.2 million barrels, 1.6 million barrels lower than the week before, 3.8 million barrels below a month ago, and 14.5 million barrels lower than a year ago."

The 94.2 million barrels are the lowest they have been in the last four years. Despite this, the companies are listing that they are above their needs.

"The commission is going to delay setting a market factor until further study."

The January allowable factor was set at 67.5 per cent of potential, up 4.5 per cent from December's figure, which was half a percentage point above November's 62.5 per cent.

Before the December increase, there had been a seven-month slide in the factor.

Seven of the 14 major purchasers of Texas crude asked for more oil next month, two asked for less than and five said they wanted the same amount they wanted in January.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast a February demand of 3,530,000 barrels a day, down 10,000 barrels a day from the January demand.

The February nominations totaled 3,144,422 barrels a day, down 5,918 barrels a day from the original January nominations that were used to set the January factor at 67.5 per cent. But the January nominations were amended by Amoco Oil Co., which cut its bid by 80,000 barrels a day, making the February nominations 74,082 barrels a day higher than the amended January nominations.

Bob Hope Knows What GIs Enjoy

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Hope took over the NBC channels Monday night with the annual report on his Christmas tour entertaining American soldiers overseas.

It looked like a carbon copy of Hope Christmas shows a year ago and the year before that. It will be, as usual, one of the most popular television programs of the year. It is certainly one of the most unusual. The stars are the audience.

Over the score of years Hope and his troupe have flown around the world to bring cheer to American men, the comedian has learned what soldiers enjoy. He serves it plenty of pretty girls, lots of music and jokes, preferably about military life, the brass, the food and local customs and weather.

More a report of a trip than a formal TV entertainment, much of the time the screens were filled with shots of the audience, what many tuned in to see. The cameras panned around acres of men, frequently moving in for closeups of one or more of them enjoying the show and forgetting war for a few minutes.

Hope twirled his golf club, appeared in strange costumes and made a lot of funny cracks. Jim Nabors and Charlie Pride sang Jill St. John walked around the stage to wolf whistles. It was all very light-hearted and very familiar.

As usual, it was a rewarding, heart-tugging 90 minutes.

"S Wonderful," "S Wonderful," "S Wonderful," with which NBC kicked off the evening, was a delightful tribute to the music of George Gershwin and to the lyrics of his brother, Ira. Since the minutes were filled by Gershwin—played, sung and danced to—the program would have been almost as effective if listened to and not watched.

Film star Jack Lemmon was host, actor in some sketchy lead-ins to songs, solo pianist and Greek chorus—the busiest performer in the program.

Story Of Gamal Nasser, Dam And Revolution

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — Hippos wallow in it, papyrus thrives on it, men ride on it and their women do the family wash in it.

Men, from Winston Churchill to Gamal Abdel Nasser, have dreamed of taming it.

Without it most of Sudan and Egypt would be unpopulated. The Nile River—from the start of the White Nile in Uganda, and the Blue Nile in Ethiopia, to their merger in Sudan and on through Egypt—sustains life on its 4,000-mile course north to the sea.

Here its life-giving value is dramatically illustrated as one stands amid the high shade trees and brilliant red Christmas stars of the botanical garden, planted by Lord Kitchener, on an island in the Nile.

Through the lush foliage one sees the opposite bank, where hot, virtually lifeless sand dunes, rising from the river's edge mark the abrupt start of the western desert.

To walk 10 miles from the Nile in upper Egypt is to leave the green belt of carefully irrigated farm land, palm trees and life, and enter the merciless desert.

In 1896, the Egyptian Public Works Ministry began keeping records of the level of Lake Victoria, in central Africa near Jinja, Uganda, where the White Nile begins. A few years later, a British colonial secretary named Winston Churchill visited Jinja and said it would be a wonderful thing if "the immortal Nile were to begin its journey to the sea" by plunging through hydroelectric turbines.

They eventually were installed at Jinja and at the start of the Blue Nile in Ethiopia, but the greatest Nile electrical source, and the second biggest rockfill dam in the world, was formally opened only a year ago.

The high dam at Aswan, built by more than 30,000 men working around the clock at a cost of more than $1 billion, assured water and electrical power for Egypt's development.

The first anniversary of the opening was Saturday—birthday of President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who died in September 1970.

The story of Gamal with the High Dam... is the story of the revolution," observed engineer Mohamed Sidky Soliman, Egypt's then minister of electricity.

Like all tremendously expensive, awe inspiring projects, the dam has its critics. Egyptians note that much of the criticism comes from the West, which declined to finance the project and watched with chagrin when the Soviet Union provided interest-free loans of more than $250 million toward its construction and put more than 300 Soviet factories to work producing equipment for the dam and its huge turbines.

Behind the dam, a 300-mile-long lake reaches across the Sudanese border. In front, 650,000 acres of land, once flooded annually and able to produce only one crop, now are irrigated and produce two or three crops yearly. Ultimately, 12 million acres of other land are to be reclaimed by irrigation.

POLE TRAPS ILLEGAL. LONDON (AP) — The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds in Britain has launched a campaign against the illegal pole trap.

Traps are fixed to poles, which seem to offer birds an enticing perch. When the bird alights, steel jaws snap on its legs. Britain's birds of prey—particularly golden eagles, kestrels and owls—are common victims.

A spokesman said the society plans legal action against trap-setters and poisoners.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — "Moon Marigolds," an adaptation from Paul Zindel's Pulitzer prize-winning play, will be filmed next spring for 20th Century Fox.

Paul Newman will produce and also direct his wife, Joanne Woodward, in the starring role of a 40-year-old divorcee struggling to raise two teen-age daughters in a troubled world. Alvin Sargent has written the screenplay.

Don't nip last supper in the first course

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are building our dream house, after many years of planning.

It is practically finished, but here's the problem. Our contractor's wife, who's a friend of ours, fancies herself an artist. And she may be a good one, but I don't care for her kind of work.

The last time my husband and I went to look at our house, I noticed the beginning of what appeared to be a large mural covering a wall in our dining room.

I called this contractor's wife and told her that we had planned on papering the dining room, and she said, "Oh, no! You can't do that. I'm going to paint an abstract version of 'The Last Supper' as a housegift!"

Abby, I still want wallpaper. My husband says "You can't insult the woman. Let her finish it. You may like it."

I know I will not like "The Last Supper" on my dining room wall, but I don't know how to tell her without insulting her. What is your advice? INDIGNANT IN INDIANAPOLIS

DEAR INDIGNANT: Let her finish the mural. You can paper over it later. If you were to nip her last supper in the first course, she'd be insulted.

DEAR ABBY: As a father whose daughter may marry a conscientious objector I am concerned about the part of the wedding ceremony where I am supposed to "give away" the bride.

Symbolically, this indicates that she is passing from my protection to that of her husband's. However, as a conscientious objector, the young man has taken the position that he will not fight to protect his family, and therefore I do not feel that I can or should carry thru this part of the wedding ceremony. So what should be done? DOUBTFUL GEORGE

DEAR GEORGE: No problem. Ask the officiating clergyman to please omit that part of the service. With so many writing their own marriage services these days, you'll be in style.

[Just be sure you aren't making waves because you object to your daughter's marrying a conscientious objector.]

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago I started to crochet an afghan for my sister in law. [My husband's sister.] She knew I was making it for her and she saw me working on it several times.

In the meantime, my husband and I became divorced, and we have both remarried. I have finally finished the afghan, but now I wonder if I should give it to my former sister in law. I really wouldn't mind giving it to her as I feel I owe it to her since I did promise it to her, but I haven't seen her since my divorce [two years ago] and I wouldn't want to embarrass her with the gift.

Should I send her the afghan or not? She may have forgotten about it by this time. Thank you. WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Since you made it for her, promised it to her and feel that you "owe" it to her, give it to her.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Miss Sanders Marries John Wayne Cornwall

SKELLYTOWN (Special) - The Highland Baptist Church in Amarillo was the setting for the Saturday evening December wedding of Miss Elizabeth Pauline Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, Amarillo, and John Wayne Cornwall of Amarillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cornwall of Skellytown. Rev. Clyde Cain, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal gown of lace chiffon and slipper satin. The fitted lace bodice was styled with an empire waistline, a high neckline and long fitted lace sleeves with a double ruffle at the wrist. Her three-tiered waist-length veil of illusion fell from a lace head-piece. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley, centered with a pink cymbidium orchid with white satin ribbon streamers.

Attendants - Miss Darlene Medlin served as maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Miss Pat Reneau of Shamrock, Miss Vicky Steiert of Osceola, Mich., and Judy Orcutt. All four were dressed in identical formal gowns of chiffon over taffeta, fashioned with high necklines with a double ruffle around the neck. All four gowns were of different colors, including apricot, blue, pink and green, with matching headpieces.

Each bridal attendant carried a matching nosegay dyed to match her gown. Miss Tammy Johnson of Ralls, served as flower girl, and Bobby Thurgood served as ringbearer. Serving as candlelighters were Kenneth Sanders, brother of the bride, and Terry D. Cornwall, brother of the bridegroom.

She placed a sixpence in her shoe that was given to her by her father. Something borrowed was a diamond and pearl necklace belonging to the bride-groom's mother. Something blue was a blue garter. She wore also a bridegroom's garter.

Mothers - The mother of the bride wore a light turquoise, one-piece doubleknit dress with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a turquoise, two-piece silk shantung dress with long chiffon sleeves embroidered with crystal beads. Her accessories were silver. She wore a corsage of white carnations with pink rosebuds.

Reception - For the reception in the church parlor, the serving table was centered with a yellow and orange floral arrangement.

The three-tiered white wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was served from a table covered with a white lace floor-length cloth over yellow.

For the wedding trip to Mexico, the bride wore a three-piece dress of purple and white double-knit. Her corsage was a pink cymbidium orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 908 S. Kentucky, St. Amarillo.

Pioneer Woman Is Topic For Study Club Program

Twentieth Century Forum Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. J. R. Holloway. The program, "Pioneer Relics and Pioneer Women," was presented by Mrs. Larry Cross and Mrs. Rodney DeFever. As part of the program, each member showed or told of some antique of special significance to them.

"For many years the Panhandle was a man's world," stated Mrs. DeFever. "There were few women in this section for a long time, so the needs of women were not considered by the merchants. It was a glad day when piece goods, pins and needles appeared on the shelves."

She told the women that pioneer women were brave, sharing whatever their husbands had to undergo. She explained that many of them were unprepared for the demands of pioneer life.

coming from homes where servants did the work.

"Most of them lived in dugouts, making their homes as beautiful as they could," she told the women. "Without protest they lived in unlovely, uncomfortable surroundings. There was so much hard work in their everyday living that there was little time left for pleasure."

Mrs. DeFever pointed out that few women had a vehicle for their own use with which to visit a neighbor, adding that isolation was one of the greatest hardships for the pioneer woman. She said two factors for a woman's happiness was missing from pioneer life.

"One was woman-talk," she concluded, "and the other was the dainty and beautiful in dress and in household furnishings. Most of the women who came to this country in those years were women of culture and refinement, with a love of the beautiful."

For the second portion of the program, Mrs. Cross told of the life of her grandmother, Mary Margaret Webb Turner, illustrating her talk with pictures and heirlooms belonging to Mrs. Turner.

Mrs. Cross was dressed in clothes similar to those worn by the pioneer women of the Panhandle. Her special guest was her mother, Mrs. Dulcie Duke. Mrs. Turner's daughter.

Members present were Mmes. Holt Barber, William Cornman, Larry Cross, Rodney DeFever, J. R. Holloway, Mike Holmgren, David Holt, Homer Johnson, McHenry Lane, M. McDaniel, Aubrey Steele, Frank Stolfa, Jack Ward, John Warner and Floyd Weathersbee.

Lutheran League Has Meet

John Maxwell and Mrs. Carol Simmons were guest speakers at the January meeting of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League.

Maxwell spoke on the development and organization of Genesis House, a place where girls between the ages of 13 and 17 can find a home, love, and understanding. Mrs. Simmons presented a resume of what has been done at Genesis House, and what is still to be accomplished. They urged everyone present to become interested in Genesis House and become involved in giving of their time and talent.

Mrs. Hilmer Heinritz conducted the business session. Members were given the opportunity to attend a special Christian retreat for ladies to be held Jan. 21 and 22 at Ceta Glen Canyon.

Members present were Mmes. Charles Jones, Jerry Hildenbrand, A. M. Strobel, Billy Hammer, John Lyle Jr., Bruce Riehart, Tom Rodgers, Leon Richter, Lloyd Brummett, P. C. Kleamer, Joy Thomas, Melvin Clark, and Rev. M. G. Herring. Visitors were Mrs. Harnish, Bruce Riehart, and Lloyd Brummett.

ANOTHER NEW TAX
TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Garage sales may be part of the free enterprise system but they aren't so free anymore.

Samuel A. Green Jr., state's attorney, has ordered police to halt backyard rummage sales if the owner cannot produce a $16 trader's license.

Green said he acted after small businessmen complained they were being hurt by an increasing number of private sales.

His: —Good afternoon. Gorgeous.

3—Available before dinner only in emergencies.

4—Bring me a drink— or ELSE!

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

There are always those evenings when the nearest we care to be to anyone is equal to about the distance between here and the Seychelles Islands.

It isn't that we don't love the other members of our family. It's just that, for one moment (or, possibly even an hour and a half) we'd like to be allowed to recover from the rigors of the day.

In the past, the only way a man could tell the mood of his wife was by tossing his hat in the door when he returned from work. If she threw it back at him, it was One of Those Days. The only way a woman could tell if her husband had been wounded during his foray into the Business Jungle was to cast a worried glance and judge for herself.

In this technological age, the least we can do is come up with something a bit more scientific and reliable. My own invention is called an Irritation Index. Ideally, there should be two in every home—one for the husband and one for the wife.

Placed in a strategic spot (so the proper attitude for the day can be checked before approaching each other) The Irritation Index should help us attain a more harmonious relationship with each other inside the home.

Each person knows his emotional levels—and, therefore, must make his own warning chart. Approximate levels of irritability might be:

Hers:

1—Your Coming Home is Happytime!

2—Warning! Wilted Woman Waiting

3—And don't ask what I've been doing all day!

4—I'm dressing to go out to dinner

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Eight out of every 10 pupils surveyed at suburban Oak Hills High School have voted not to change the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

The survey—by a faculty-student committee found that about the same percentage of pupils said they were dissatisfied with daily recitation of the pledge over the school's address system.

Some voted for weekly recitation on the public address system, others voted that the pledge be recited every morning in individual classrooms.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

THURSDAY, JAN. 20

Your birthday today. This year the Sun moves from Capricorn to Aquarius at 5:50 p. m. EST. Today's natives of both signs have before them a vigorous, no-holds-barred year of intellectual challenge, competition in career efforts, neighbors to keep an eye on.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Go back to your old system of successful methods, apply it with reason and caution to a baffling new question. Let others enjoy their leisure, use yours for study or prayer.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Old contacts should be attended with as much consideration as fresh ones. A novel way of supplying help and encouragement may occur to you.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Exacting standards are likely to pose a minor problem, unless you've already begun meeting higher standards on your own. Positive response to neighbors is almost essential.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Survey your home and work area; relegate any white elephants to your favorite charity.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Spend the day repairing or improving your public image. Select new clothing, coiffure, and the like, according to your budget or a little temporarily above average. Get a new look.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: So many thoughtless people are around now you must be wary of casual contacts.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Gently but definitely face your own limitations and needs of associates; plan or revise your working arrangements. Home life is better this evening.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Now comes a moment of verification—any skipped detail suddenly shows up. Older colleagues, relatives help in personal matters; younger ones get to your sympathy.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: A word provokes an answer and suddenly there's a squabble, if you let yourself into it. Not everybody approves of your choices.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Clear your home and work space of anything that doesn't belong there. Give yourself at least overnight and meditation before settling answers to a problem.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Line up accounts, review your prospects, ask a good question so you can know what to expect.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: See that you do not lend the strength and energy of your mind to spelling out details of unwanted possible events. Leave them vague if you must mention them at all.

New Auto Purchasers Will Get $8 Refund From State

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texans who obtain refunds of federal excise taxes they paid on cars bought between Aug. 16 and Dec. 10 also can collect an average of $8 from the state. That is the upshot of a legal opinion issued today by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin. More than $1 million in badly needed state revenue could be lost because of the refunds. The 4 per cent Texas motor vehicle sales tax is figured on the total amount paid for a car, including any federal excise or import taxes.

Congress repealed the 7 per cent excise tax on new passenger cars, effective Aug. 16, 1971. President Nixon signed the measure into law Dec. 10. The act provides refunds of taxes paid between the measure's effective date and the day Nixon signed it. Refunds also are available on the 10 per cent federal tax on light trucks purchased between Sept. 23 and Dec. 10.

Martin's opinion pointed out that the refunds must be paid only to car and truck owners who request them.

That portion of the Texas Motor Vehicle Sales and Use Tax paid on the Federal excise tax collected on retail sales of vehicles since the beginning of the retroactive effect of the Congressional Act, H.R. 10947, is subject to a valid claim for refund filed by purchasers of such vehicles with the State Comptroller, Martin said.

The Texas Automobile Dealers Association estimates about 50,000 cars per month are sold in the state, or almost 200,000 between Aug. 16 and Dec. 10. An average federal tax of $200 was paid on each car. TADA estimates the 4 per cent state tax on the $200 would be $8. If every Texan who bought a car during that period applies for a refund, this would amount to approximately $1.6 billion—a time when the state is "hard-pressed for revenue."

Kenneth Kimbro, chief clerk of the state comptroller's office, said instructions for claiming refunds would be issued in a few days.

'No Man Knows A Woman Until He Marries Her...

NEW YORK (AP) — As every husband comes to realize, no man knows a woman until he marries her.

Even then, as the slow years muller their way to eternity, he is never really certain he comprehends her nature fully. He is sure, however, of certain changes in her.

For example, when they first met she loved to go on long walks with him, and she'd half-trot at his side for miles without wearying. Today she couldn't even walk down the altar with him again without yelling for a taxi. During their courtship, she ransacked the cookbooks to find new recipes to try on him, and he'd put on an apron and help do the dishes. But it has been years now since he has done anything in the kitchen, and he complains that her cuisine specialty is "four-day hash."

"You tell me who you want for president," she said in earlier years, "and I'll vote for him. I don't know anything about politics." What happened?

Vice Presidents

The United States has been without a vice-president 16 times—eight times because of a president's death, seven times because of the death of the vice-president himself and once because John C. Calhoun resigned to take a Senate seat.

Coined Term

"Manifest Destiny" was a term coined by John L. O'Sullivan in a July, 1845, magazine article advocating expansion of the western frontier, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Don't Forget Social Security Benefits

Silence is often a virtue, but if you're applying for social security benefits, that's no time to conceal facts from the Social Security Administration. "It could cost you money," according to Howard Weatherly, Social Security branch manager in Pampa.

The law requires social security personnel to keep all information about individual social security records confidential. "We're only interested in seeing that you and members of your family get all social security benefits due you," Weatherly said. If a worker is eligible for social security benefits, his dependents are generally eligible, too. But sometimes an applicant is reluctant to mention a common-law wife, illegitimate children, or retarded children.

Withholding information could deprive these dependents of regular monthly checks from social security.

Social Security generally follows State law in determining if a common-law wife or husband or illegitimate children are eligible for monthly benefits.

"Dependents' benefits can be particularly important for a retarded child," Weatherly said. "If the condition began before age 18, a severely retarded son or daughter can get monthly checks as long as he or she is too disabled to work."

opened? Well, she thinks now that she knows everything about politics. Whoever her husband is for, she votes against—and insists on giving reasons.

He told her he didn't want any children for fear that having them might hurt her. She said that no, they must have two children—to be named Jack and Jill. She ended up having five children.

Marriage, she told him firmly before the ceremony, mustn't be the end of her career. She wanted to "be somebody" and make the most of her talents. Her talent, it turned out, was cheerleading. For the last 25 years she has been trying to pep talk him into working harder and making more money.

There was a time when she prided herself on washing her own tresses and making her own dresses. Now her annual bills for coiffure and clothes would pay for a paint job on the Statue of Liberty. But she still shows up for breakfast looking as if she had spent the

You May Be Ready For Tax Estimating

By RAY DE CRANE
You may not be finished with your tax chores for the year after completing your federal income tax return. How about an estimated return?

Such returns are due from high-salaried people whose withholding tax is insufficient to pay their total tax bill, from self-employed persons who have no withholding and from those taxpayers who, in addition to their regular income which is subject to withholding, have other sources of taxable income.

You should file an estimated tax return if your estimated tax (beyond your withholding tax credits, if any) is expected to be $40 or more and:

1. Your estimate estimated gross income for the year includes more than $200 not subject to withholding (this could be dividends, interest, capital gains); or
2. You are a head of a household or a surviving spouse expecting gross income of $10,000 or more; or
3. You are an unmarried person—not a head of household or a surviving spouse—expecting gross income of more than $5,000; or

4. A married person entitled to file a joint return and the combined income of both spouses is expected to be more than $10,000.

The purpose of estimated returns is to keep all taxpayers on a current pay-as-you-go basis throughout the year. A form 1040-ES is required for this purpose.

If you have wages or salary subject to withholding, there is a way to avoid filing an estimated tax return and still escape the penalties for underwithholding. Claim fewer exemptions than you are entitled to for withholding tax purposes. If you are married and have three dependent children you are entitled to five exemptions.

Or you may simply designate a fixed additional sum you wish your payroll department to withhold from your earnings.

Junior Varsity Squad Victorious

In Tuesday night action in Lubbock the Pampa High School Sophomores and Shockers kept the victory road open for city athletics as both teams returned with victorious efforts under their belts.

The Sophomores defeated Monterey 54 to 41. Pampa jumped to a first quarter seven to five lead and then dropped back to a four-point deficit at the half trailing 24 to 20.

Good coaching and a lot of effort by Randy Cain with 22 points for the evening the Soph's came back to capture a 41 to 33 advantage over the Lubbock school. Randy Warner had 10 points for the evening's work giving the Sophomore team a 54 to 41 win and a season record of 7 wins and 4 losses.

The Shockers following in the footsteps of the Sophomores kept the ball rolling to down Monterey 43 to 37. Damon DeWitt was the high point man for the Junior Varsity squad as he punched in 13 points and helped to control the boards.

The Shockers were trailing at the end of the first period of play seven to four in the defensive battle and managed to pull two ahead at the half to lead 19 to 17. In the third period the gap grew wider as the Pampa crew led by 8, 28 to 20. Final on the game found Pampa winning with a six point, 43 to 37 margin.

The Shockers now have a nine win and seven loss season record. They will be playing their next game Friday night against the Caprock short-horns to open district competition. The Sophomores next game will be tomorrow night in Harvester Fieldhouse against Pampa Junior High School.

Two Point Margin Dumps East Hopes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Eastern All-Stars proved that speed and defense can offset height and strength. Almost in the final outcome though, it was Jerry West's 20-foot jump shot with one second left that provided the West team with its second consecutive National Basketball Association All-Star game victory, 112-110, Tuesday night.

West was named most valuable player of the 22nd annual contest, even though ballots for the honor had been collected in the press box with three minutes to play, when the game was very much in doubt. All agreed though, that West deserved the honor, and it was fitting that he should make the winning shot.

Even so, it was such a balanced game that writers had a hard time determining who would win the MVP award. At one point it looked like Boston's run-run guard Jo Jo White might earn the honor, then Detroit's Jimmy Walker drew praise, then Connie Hawkins of Phoenix, then Dave Cowens of the Celtics, then Walt Frazier of the New York Knicks and, with only seconds left, veteran Boston forward John Havlicek looked like possible selection.

But it was West, dubbed Mr. Clutch by local writers, who helped the West salvage a game it was picked to win handily. So powerful was the West team's front line that odds-makers had the East an 11-point underdog at game time.

Seven-foot-two Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Milwaukee's supercenter, started as did 6-8 Spencer Haywood of Phoenix, 6-8 Bob Love of Chicago and West and Gail Goodrich of the host Lakers. Cowens, at 6-foot-9, was the East's tallest player.

But the East used its speed and great quickness to upset the West's game early. Frazier stole numerous passes, reserve White was all over the place. Bill Cunningham of Philadelphia hit a number of outside jump shots and by halftime, the East was ahead by 10, 64-54. The West couldn't get the ball inside and was hurt by lack of speed.

Then Bill Sharman of the Lakers, coaching the West, went to a quicker lineup, sending in Walker, Hawkins and Oscar Robertson with 5:25 left in the third period. Minutes later, in came Wilt Chamberlain of the Lakers and Paul Silas of Phoenix and that combination lit a fire under the West.

Russell's outside shooting helped the West assume a 99-90 lead and then the 6-foot-2 West came off the bench to assure the triumph, eighth in 22 games for the western representative.

His steal of an errant pass and fast-break layup gave the West a nine-point edge.

New York's Dave DeBusschre started the East back with a jump shot, 105-98, then Cowens hit two free throws and Cunningham hit two more and it was 105-102 Robertson was able to hit only one of three free throws and then Havlicek began earning points for the MVP honor.

His 15-foot jump shot from the foul line brought the East to within two points but then West came through again, hitting a 17-footer for a four-point lead. And when Havlicek sank two more jump shots in succession, sandwiched around two Robertson free throws, it set up Cowens' 14-foot jumper with 11 seconds left.

Frazier and Havlicek wound up with 15 each and Cowens and Cunningham scored 14 apiece for the losers, who actually outbounded the taller West team 66-63.

Foster-Rondon Agree To Fight For World Light Heavyweight Title

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Knockout artists Vincente Rondon and Bob Foster have agreed to square off for the undisputed world light heavyweight boxing crown March 9 at Miami Beach Convention Hall.

Allied Sports Enterprises President Mel Ziegler announced Tuesday that the managers of the two fighters signed formal contracts for the scheduled 15-round bout.

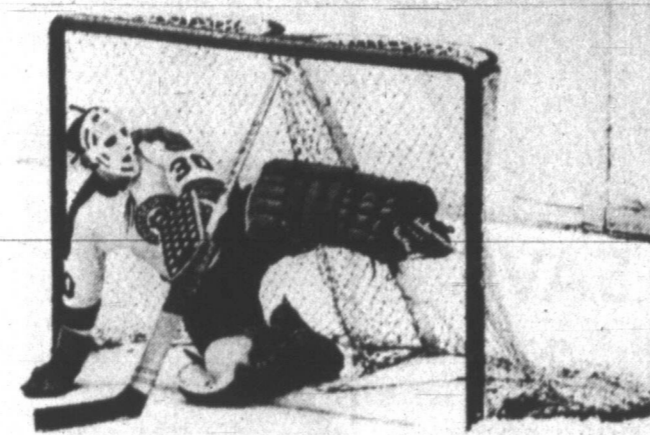

Foster is recognized as the light heavy champ by the World Boxing Council while Rondon holds the World Boxing Association version of the crown.

Rondon, a Venezuelan with a 37-5-1 record including 23 knockouts, won WBA recognition last Feb. 27 when he flattened Jimmy Dupree in the sixth round. The WBA earlier had taken its crown away from Foster because it claimed he failed to defend it against a worthy opponent late in 1970.

Foster, 44-5 with all losses to heavyweights, is in Albuquerque, N. M., already tuning up for the fight.

Ziegler, in his first major promotion, has guaranteed Foster and Rondon $50,000 each for the meeting with no contract stipulation involving percentage of the gate.

Trevino A Threat In Tuscon Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Lee Trevino, always a threat and particularly dangerous in this one, was a heavy favorite for the top prize in the richer and renamed $150,000 Dean Martin Tucson Open golf tournament.

Trevino, the 1972 PGA Player of the Year, usually plays some of his best golf on the 7,305 yard, par 72 Tucson National Golf Club course, site of the 72 hole chase that begins Thursday.

He won two years in a row here, then slipped to 12th last season.

"My mind just wasn't on it," he recalled. "I couldn't concentrate. I couldn't think."

His mother was gravely ill at the time and died later in the year.

Trevino, of course, went on to win six titles later in the season, including that fantastic sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open crowns that stamped him one of the game's top performers.

And he appears to be playing well this season, finishing third behind Jack Nicklaus and Johnny Miller in last week's Bing Crosby National Pro Am.

Entertainer Martin has added his name to this tournament for the first time this year and helped attract a large celebrity field for today's pro-am. Among them are Glen Campbell, Andy Williams, Pat Boone, Dick Martin, Forrest Tucker and astronaut Gene Cernan.

Duane Thomas Won't Be In 1972 Pro Bowl Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Running back Duane Thomas of the Dallas Cowboys and safety Jake Scott of Miami have been dropped from Pro Bowl rosters for Sunday's game, bowl officials say.

Thomas was replaced by Vic Washington of the San Francisco 49ers on the National Conference team after he failed to show for practice Tuesday, officials said.

Jerry Logan of the Baltimore Colts was named to replace Scott on the American Conference team after Scott was pulled out of the game with a broken hand suffered last Dec. 25.

Bowl officials said Thomas telephoned Cowboy Coach Tom Landry Tuesday complaining of a sore shoulder suffered in the Super Bowl game last Sunday.

Plainsmen Defeat Hustlin Harvesters

The defending district 3-AAAA champs did not show their stuff last night as they were snowed under by Lubbock Monterey with a mini-margin of 57-55.

The Harvester Plainsmen bout was won by Lubbock after one three-minute overtime.

At the half time the fighting Harvesters had a nine-point lead over the Plainsmen which was increased to a 13-point lead for the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter Pampa seemed to quit as they only shot six times and managed to get two through the hoop, compared with Monterey's 13 points gained.

The game was tied 55-55 and the teams proceeded to fight into a three-minute overtime play in which the Harvesters shot the ball only once. During the overtime the Plainsmen succeeded to kill time so that the one shot they had planned would count and Pampa would not have time to retaliate.

The points were scored as follows: Newton of Lubbock was around 25 feet out with about 10 seconds left on the clock. He attempted the shot only to find Gary Haynes there with a hand in his face deflecting the ball from the goal. The loose ball was recovered by Plainsman, Mite who went for the shot only a few feet from the goal. Harvester Don Cain blocked Mite's attempt and the ball was loose again. Monterey player Dan Irons found the ball in mid-air and tipped it through the net before a defense could be set up.

By the time all of this had happened, there were only two seconds left on the clock. Pampa brought the ball in after a time-out and Mike Edgar hurled the ball from mid-court in the last Pampa attempt at scoring before the buzzer sounded. It failed.

Despite the two-point loss, Pampa had three players in double figures.

Richard Hunton and Mike Edgar came up with 14 points each and Gary Haynes displayed 13.

Marsh Gambin and Don Cain followed the double-figure men. Gambin shot for eight points and Cain ended up with six. Cain captured his six at the free-throw line having a perfect average for the game of six for six.

Dan Irons and Grady Newton lead the scoring for Monterey. Newton, a 6'5" junior shot for 17 points only to be beaten by Grady Newton, a 6'5" senior, who had 21 points.

Pampa kept their average up throughout the game as at the end they still had their 50 per cent hitting record.

Pampa is now bound for district competition. The Harvesters will play host to the Caprock Longhorns Friday night.

Caprock is expected to be out for Pampa as most of the other teams will be since the home-town roundballers are the defending district champs. Caprock is no team to sneeze at, though they do not feature much height.

McPherson expects to have a dual advantage over the Longhorns. One is they will have them on home-court and the other rebounding and jumping will probably go to the taller Pampa cagers.

Colt Future Unclear After 3-Hour Meeting

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The governor of Maryland and the mayor of Baltimore met with owner Carroll Rosenbloom of the Baltimore Colts Tuesday and further talks are scheduled in the future.

But just how the political leaders figure in solving where the Colts will play home games after the 1972 season was not made clear after the initial three-hour closed session.

At a news conference following the meeting, Rosenbloom reiterated his strong objections to playing in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium after 1972 and revived plans to build his own arena.

He said he would object to spending public funds to improve the present stadium or for building a new one, and said he was not after free land.

"I'm not looking for anyone to give me anything," Rosenbloom said. "We held options on land before and we can get options again."

Gov. Marvin Mandel, who arranged the meeting, noted that Rosenbloom had been asked about a year ago to scrap his construction idea and continue playing in Memorial Stadium.

Mayor William Donald Schaefer, who attended the session along with Rosenbloom's son Steve, president of the Colts, said his chief concern was to keep the team within the city.

The elder Rosenbloom, asked about recent rumors, said "the Colts have never been for sale, and are not for sale now," and contended he had never said the team would be moved "outside our territorial rights."

Willsey Regains

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Ray Willsey has resigned as head football coach and acting athletic director at the University of California at Berkeley because, he says, he hasn't been named to the director's post.

Willsey, the Bears coach since 1964, has been acting director since last Sept. 15 when Paul Brechler retired, a week after the school was placed on indefinite probation by the NCAA.

The resignation came amidst published reports that Cal track coach Dave Maggard, 32, was to be named athletic director and wanted Mike White, a young Stanford assistant coach, to take the football job.

Rocket Is Now A Coach

HOUSTON (AP) — Eleven-year pro guard Johnny Egan has taken on added duties of assistant coach of the Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association.

In making the announcement, head coach Tex Winter said Egan would have "complete authority as an assistant coach."

"I'm delighted to have Johnny named my assistant," said Winter, in his first year as head coach of the New Houston franchise. "He will be an important factor at times in helping us win games."

"I'm sure our players will respect him for his ability and knowledge of the game and the fine man that he is."

Egan, a 1961 graduate of Providence, has played for seven pro teams including the Rockets. He is the most experienced player on the youthful Rocket team.

Voting Announced TONIGHT For Baseball Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitchers Sandy Koufax and Early Wynn, and sluggers Yogi Berra and Ralph Kiner were considered the most likely candidates to be elected into Baseball's Hall of Fame Wednesday when the voting by the Baseball Writers Association of America is announced.

A player must be named on at least 75 per cent of the ballots returned. More than 400 ballots were sent out.

Koufax, the fireballing left-hander, pitched 12 seasons for the Brooklyn and Los Angeles Dodgers and won 165 games and lost 87 before an arthritic arm forced him to retire from the game at the age of 30 in 1966. He now is eligible for the first time under the rule which says that a player must be retired for five seasons before

Olympic Briefs

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — Sex checks started Tuesday for women athletes taking part in the Feb. 3-13 Sapporo Winter Olympics.

Fourteen Japanese participants were the first to be checked out at the Olympic Village in this northern Japan city.

A new hotel will be opened in Sapporo this week to accommodate the VIP's attending the Winter Olympic Games.

Already fully reserved, it will house heads of national Olympic committees, leaders of athletic federations and other high ranking officials.

Hokkaido's major bank, which has opened an office in the Sapporo Olympic Village, issued a circular to its female employees telling "how to keep the wolves at bay." Among the words of advice:

—Don't loiter but go straight home after office hours.

—Refuse luncheon dates with foreigners and have lunch with fellow male employees.

—Don't forget to smile when you're working but be sure to keep your wits about you.

The sacred flame for the Sapporo Winter Olympic Games, which was split into two after it was flown to Tokyo Jan. 1 from Okinawa, was united Wednesday at 12:36 p.m. local time, in Amori,

Indians Furious About Misuse Of Tribal Name

ASSOCIATED PRESS

A week which started out as a great one for the Cowboys is rapidly turning into a bad one for the Indians.

The American Indian Center of Cleveland, Ohio, which is not a caricature, has filed a $9 million damage suit Tuesday against the Cleveland Indians baseball team for using a come Indian head as the club's symbol and said its next target may be the Atlanta Braves' Chief Noc-a-Homa.

Five other professional teams—the Kansas City Chiefs and Washington Redskins of the National Football League, the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League and the Buffalo Braves and Golden State Warriors of the National Basketball Association—and more than 30 colleges have some sort of Indian nickname.

The Chiefs' symbol is an arrowhead, although the team does have a mascot, Wapint, a 17-year-old spotted gelding which is ridden around the track of Kansas City's Municipal Stadium each time the Chiefs score The rider, Bob Johnson, is part Sioux.

"It is not our intent to rid-cle the Indian," said a team spokesman. "The symbol and the name Chiefs were chosen in a public contest and are appropriate for this area, which has a rich Indian heritage."

The Redskins' symbol, which is not a caricature, has been the team's emblem since 1937.

The Black Hawks wear a stoic and stern looking head of Chief Black Hawk on their jerseys, similar to the Indian head on the buffalo nickel.

The Buffalo Braves' emblem is the letter B with a protruding feather while the Warriors have nothing Indian in their emblem.

The $9 million suit, filed by Russell Means, a Sioux and the Indian center's executive director, asks for a temporary injunction prohibiting the Cleveland baseball team from using the Chief Wahoo symbol, which depicts a silly looking Indian with a wide, toothy grin and prominent nose.

"It's degrading, demeaning and racist," Means said. "It epitomizes the stereotyped image of the American Indian. It attacks the cultural heritage of the American Indian and destroys Indian pride."

Means said he thought some action would be taken against the Atlanta Braves within the next few months. The Braves symbol is a grinning Indian with a lone feather in his headband.

Means said he objected to Chief—Noc-a-Homa—who emerges from a teepee behind the outfield fence and does a war dance every time a Brave hits a home run.

"What if it was the Atlanta Germans and after every home run a German dressed in a military uniform began hitting a Jew on the head with a baseball bat?" Means asked. "Or what if it were the Cleveland Negroes and a black man came trotting out of a shanty in center field and did a soft shoe?"

"Well, the Indian is tired of this label that depicts him to the larger segment of American society as something to be laughed at and not to be taken seriously and therefore not due respect."

Means was surprised to learn that Noc-a-Homa is really an Indian—Levi Walker Jr., a 31-year-old half-Chippewa half-Ojibwa.

"It figures," Means said. "All the Chippewas used to do was hang around the tort any

St. Louis Squeaks Past Bradley, 64-59

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. Louis University had just squeaked past Bradley 64-59 in overtime, and Billikens Coach Bob Polk stood at mid-court holding a sterling silver tray with a huge "300" engraved in the center.

The award was presented Tuesday night by Ray Gerritzen, president of the Billiken Tipoff Club, and symbolized Polk's 300th career victory—a rare achievement for a college basketball coach.

The 55-year-old Polk, a native of Tell City, Ind., reached the coveted 300 figure in his 20th season of coaching. His first 13 years were at Vanderbill, where he compiled a 197-106 record. Then, he worked four years at Trinity, Tex., winning 69 games and losing only 28, before transferring to St. Louis in 1969.

The 300th victory, which boosted St. Louis' season record to 8-2 over all, 2-1 in the Missouri Valley Conference, was one of Polk's toughest.

The Billikens raced to a 29-19 lead in the first half, still led 55-51 with 6:21 remaining, but failed to score during the remainder of regulation time and were forced into overtime.

But they pulled away in the final minute and a half of the extra period. Jesse Leonard's foul shot broke a 57-57 tie. Carlos Martinez hit a field goal and Harry Rogers and Rich Stallworth each converted two free throws.

In another MVC game, Larry Finch's 28 points helped Memphis State beat Drake 81-70.

In the Big Ten Conference, Minnesota, ranked 17th nationally, dented Wisconsin 65-59 for its fourth league victory without a loss and its ninth in 12 games. The Gophers—Keith Young collected 27 points.

Northwestern snapped a seven-game losing streak, defeating Michigan State 76-69 in overtime with Mark Sibley leading the way with 32 points, six in the extra period.

Elsewhere, Vanderbilt connected on 16 straight field goal attempts in the second half and overwhelmed Cornell 101-

80. sophomore Billy Raynor fired in 35 points, including 15 consecutive free throws, as Dartmouth whipped Harvard 94-86. Tracy Trupka's 29 points and Walt Kobucinski's 27 helped Lafayette upset West Virginia 87-83, and John Falconi and John Pecorak each tallied 18 points, leading Davidson to a 75-57 victory over Virginia Military.

Also Duquesne behind Mike Barr's 20 points, ran its record to 10-1, whipping Steubenville 72-54. St. Joseph's Pa. won its 14th straight Middle Atlantic Conference University Division game over three seasons, trouncing Drexel 87-64. Al Skinner's 18 points paced Massachusetts to a 71-49 romp over Vermont, and Colorado State University beat Denver for the 10th consecutive time over five seasons, trouncing Drexel 87-64. ## ABA Roundup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Memphis Pros and New York Nets increased their third place leads in American Basketball Association play Tuesday night.

The Pros edged the Dallas Chaparrals 96-94 on Charlie Williams' layup with one second left and moved 1 1/2 games ahead of the Denver in the Western Division.

The Nets, led by Rick Barry and John Baum, pulled away from the Floridians in the final 15 minutes for a 123-102 triumph and took a one-game lead over the losers in the East.

The only other game saw the Indiana Pacers trounce the Pittsburgh Condors 130-116.

Williams' game winning shot gave him 39 points for the night. Donnie Freeman paced the Chaps with 28 Williams hit his big bucket after a Dallas inbound pass went into the backcourt with six seconds left.

Barry led the Nets against the Floridians with 32 points and Baum added 18, including 14 of the final 15 1/2 minutes. Barry's free throw with 4:31 remaining in the third period gave the Nets a 72-71 lead and Baum and Ollie Taylor helped build it to 84-77 entering the final quarter.

Mack Calvin paced the losers with 20 points.

The Pacers upped a six point halftime lead to 92-78 after three periods and turned back the Condors although Pittsburgh's George Thompson took scoring honors with 30 points. Indiana's balanced attack showed Freddie Lewis with 22 points, Bob Netolicky and George McGinnis with 20 and Rick Mount and Roger Brown with 18.

Mr. Hughes--So What?

The tension has been mounting. Is Howard Hughes alive or dead? Did he or did he not authorize an autobiography? Will he or will he not make a public appearance? It is all at least as exciting and nearly as significant as the current crisis among Joanne, Tony and Sam on "Search for Tomorrow."

With all the talk about the mystery surrounding the ultimately nongregarious billionaire, nobody seems to be examining the biggest mystery of all: why everybody is so concerned about Hughes in the first place. There are, after all, those of us who have managed to muddle through the last 15 years even though Hughes has been in hiding and we may be excused for wondering why anyone cares if-where-how he is.

If Hughes appeared on the Tonight Show or deigned to let Time interview him, it would not really solve any ecological problems, end the war or remedy our economic problems.

Yet we find journalists representing most of the nation's largest and most powerful news-gathering organizations solemnly sitting around listening to a disembodied voice purported to be that of Hughes as if they were being connected on a direct line to God.

There are a lot of other people other than Howard Hughes who want to avoid publicity, and most of them have better reasons. There are the people who are involved in organized crime, for instance. There are plenty of government officials who are even more hung up on secrecy than Hughes. There are businessmen and labor organizations insisting that they have a particular right of being exempted from wage and price restrictions that apply to everyone else.

It is one thing to climb a mountain because it's there. It is another thing entirely to build the mountain yourself and then climb it because it is there.

'Give' Steering Wheel?

The lifesaving value of the automobile safety belts has pretty well been established. Now researchers at the University of North Carolina have inquired into the effectiveness of energy-absorbing steering wheel columns in accidents, both by themselves and in conjunction with the wearing of lap belts.

The columns, commonly but inaccurately called "collapsible," have been installed by all U.S. automakers since 1967, except Ford, which began putting them on 1968 models. They are required by federal law on all cars.

The Highway Research Center at Chapel Hill, N.C., has found that energy-absorbing steering columns and lap belts together can reduce the frequency of serious injury to drivers in crashes by about 52 per cent, reports the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

The columns were found to be most effective at medium speeds—about 30 to 49 miles an hour—and less effective at higher or lower speeds.

It is estimated that some 300,000 drivers died before their time by being impaled on steering columns before Detroit switched to the energy-absorbing devices.

Space Spy Gets Dope

NASA may launch a NARC one of these days. In spelled-out English, National Aeronautics and Space Administration may get into the narcotics detection business by means of a spy satellite. "Narc" is slang for a narcotics agent.

Scientists believe it should be possible to detect a field of opium poppies as small as 10 acres from an orbiting earth resources satellite, says Aviation Week & Space Technology magazine.

Spotting marijuana would be a little trickier, however. Unlike poppies, which require direct sunlight and are cultivated in large fields, marijuana can be raised anywhere and is frequently mixed with harmless plants.

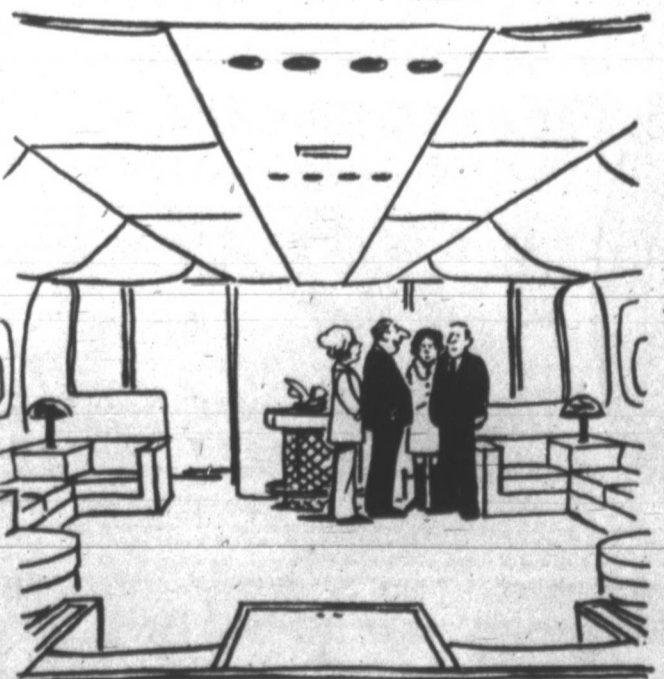

To ferret it out, two-legged "narcs" will still be needed.

BRUCE BIOSSAT The True Stature Of '72 Candidates

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Sen. George McGovern's advocates say he is strong on the issues and tough enough to be president.

Appraisers say Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington is attractive to conservative Democrats, Republicans and independents.

Mayor John Lindsay is said by both his supporters and some politicians and observers to have an edge in glamor over potential 1972 presidential rivals. This is the main basis for the judgment that he might have a chance for the Democratic nomination.

Observations about the other candidates could also be tossed in here. But the point to make is that most of them aren't reliable indicators. In some instances they reflect gross lack of information.

Take Jackson as an example. An Illinois poll taken by the Chicago Sun-Times in late October showed he had a very thin hold on the state's GOP voters, only a modest appeal to independents, less support among Democrats than most of his rivals.

Jackson's managers will argue that his problem is not being known, that his backing will broaden as he becomes better recognized. But that is not the same as contending

H.L. Hunts Writes

Predictions are commonplace as a new year gets under way. The pollsters and politicians project and give us clues as to what is going to happen in our affairs of government and economics, but not much is said about one of the most critical fields of all—law enforcement. What the officers of the law will do is fairly easy to forecast. They will keep right on risking their lives in protecting the rest of us. But what we as citizens will do for these servants of the public is not so certain.

We can support our policemen and sheriffs' men through "public acknowledgement of their good work. We can report crimes and suspicious persons. We can give our public servants good equipment. What it all amounts to is Law-Aid, a program to back the police and sheriffs' departments of the nation.

"False arrest" and "brutality" will constitute the propaganda attack of those who want anarchy. They must not be allowed to get away with it. Nor should federal encroachment through the guise of grants and funds from Washington be allowed to weaken local enforcement machinery. There are always strings attached. Those cities that accept them are risking eventual federal control. That price is prohibitive.

that he already has the kind of support specified. The truth is the evidence is not yet there.

Then again, McGovern. The crucial matter is not what his dedicated advocates think of him, but how the voters in general see him.

Everybody knows that McGovern has spent a year in hard campaigning without gaining much in the national polls. The question is why? The only proper answer is that nobody really knows. But it is plain that he is not perceived as the strong presidential figure his warmest backers say he is.

The stuff about Lindsay's glamor (charisma is the favorite word for it these days) may be real enough. Yet there seems to be little evidence as to how voters fit the glamor thing into their total image of Lindsay. Is his charisma overriding or do voters think he has disqualifying handicaps? Answers to this and other questions are needed to gauge Lindsay's real chances.

The point I wish to make is that the 1972 presidential campaign is being waged and talked about against a backdrop of considerable ignorance.

It doesn't have to be that way. There exist today highly sophisticated techniques of polling and poll analysis. They permit politicians, their strategists, scholars and observers to learn far more than ever about what voters are thinking.

The important aspect of polling in the 1970s is not the head-to-head comparisons among candidates. It is the painstaking search for voter attitudes toward the whole range of a candidate's attributes.

In 1969, such broad-based checking turned up evidence that New York City voters regarded Mayor Lindsay as arrogant. The mayor's managers worked on him to alter that impression.

In early 1967, the then Gov. George Romney of Michigan was seen by voters in New Hampshire, key primary state, as having leadership qualities fitting him for the presidency. By late that year, those voters had reversed themselves and decided he did not have those traits. His fumbling on the issue of the Vietnam war, capped off by his famous "brainwash" statement, had destroyed his image.

This kind of information is vital to sound political judgments. Candidates can't hope to make the most of their strong points and correct their weak ones if they don't know how the voters truly see them.

The amazing thing in 1971 is how little of this sophisticated information-gathering is going on. Very active candidates like Jackson and McGovern are dealing from ignorance. It doesn't make sense.

Question Box

QUESTION: "What has Nixon done for organized labor?" Someone challenged me. 1. What should President Nixon do for organized labor? 2. How is organized labor faring compared with others in the U. S. A.? Do they get fair share?

ANSWER: Unfortunately, the United States government has become one which answers more to pressure groups and lobbies than to the individuals. Organized labor is one of many pressure groups clamoring for special privilege from the government. The union bosses have become so used to having all presidents bowing and scraping before them that they regard anyone who does not do so as "an enemy of labor."

In our opinion, President Nixon should do nothing FOR any of the citizens, including members of labor unions, other than to get out of their way and not interfere with any peaceable productive activities. However, the U.S. government, through the Wagner and other labor relations acts has granted labor unions special privileges, such as the power to force unwilling individuals into membership, a form of involuntary servitude. It also has exempted unions from antitrust laws and other acts in restraint of trade.

2. Organized labor is faring little better than the rest of the people of the nation in these times of what economist Harry Schultz has called "stagflation," which is stagnation, coupled with inflation. True, members of some unions have been able to get increases in pay far in excess of any increase in production, and they may have gained some temporary advantage over their fellow workers. However, the resulting higher prices have contributed to the stagnation of the economy, as they have eliminated some of their own jobs. They also have been victims of the same inflation, which has hurt all others. The politicians have been unwilling to face up to the problems and have continued inflationary spending to try to cover up their failing and the union bosses' failing to face up to economic reality. We do not know how to determine what is a "fair share," economically, other than to allow prices and labor charges to seek their own level. The union bosses do not want this to happen because they would soon be out of their jobs. That is why George Meany, et al, say they want prices and investment income held down, but want no restrictions on wage increases.

For a long time the polls have claimed that the majority of the American people have been for getting out of Vietnam now. The catch is that the pollsters with

STRAIGHT TALK

TOM ANDERSON

Educated Jails

More and more the "conservative" Chief Justice appointed by the "conservative" Richard Nixon sounds more and more like his name should be Earl Warren Burger instead of Warren Earl Burger. The Supreme Court potentate suggested recently that inmates be given voice in prison policies and an opportunity to "learn their way" to freedom.

Someone long ago observed that Washington is the only insane asylum in the country which is run by the inmates. And now inmate Burger proposes inmate influence in prison policies. As for "learning their way to freedom," perhaps His Honor has failed to observe that there is little connection between education and honesty. Some of the greatest criminals are the best educated. You have to be educated to be able to commit many crimes.

We have become a nation in which a high percentage of the people worship at the fount of education. Education, they think is the answer to all problems. But it's not. Take Senator J. William Fulbright, if you can. No man ever dipped deeper into the fountain of knowledge and came up drier than the Arkansas Egghead.

No criminal should ever learn his way to freedom—unless he learned the Bible and became a Born Again Christian. But perhaps it is not a federal crime to teach Christianity in our prisons.

As far as I know, Burger has not denied that he said: "...the percentage of illiteracy among inmates is staggering. Figures on literacy alone are enough to make one wish that every sentence imposed could include a provision that would grant release when the prisoner had learned to read and write, to do simple arithmetic and then develop some basic skill that is palatable in the market place of the outside world..."

It is hard to believe that any person who would make the above statement could be allowed to run free. On the Burger basis, Leopold and Loeb, Winnie Ruth Judd, Jessie James, John Dillinger, Al Capone, Benedict Arnold, Alger Hiss, Billy Sol Estes, Bobby Baker, and thousands of other culprits—all highly educated—should never have been convicted. And Charles Manson and his fellow satanic demons should all be released to offer their talents in the market place. Manson could have a fabulous career in Hollywood. Or in politics. Where could one find more educated criminals than in politics?

For a long time the polls have claimed that the majority of the American people have been for getting out of Vietnam now. The catch is that the pollsters with customary diabolical cunning invariably loaded the questions. The choice they gave was continuing our no-win efforts in Vietnam, stepping up our efforts, or getting out.

The people were not given the only logical choice which could explain our ever going into Vietnam in the first place: to win. We could have won ten years ago, and any month since, with virtually no casualties, by bombing the Ho Chi Minh Trail and the Haiphong Harbor. Of course, we might have sunk a few British ships, and our Russian "friends" might have been upset. We haven't won in Vietnam because we didn't want to. We prefer to help the enemy.

I, too, am for getting out completely, if the only other alternative is the treason our leaders have been perpetrating against our country.

Claiming that a majority is against the war in Vietnam, given the choices of stalemate versus getting out, is like saying that if a man stands with his left foot on a hot stove and his right foot in a bucket of ice water, he is, on the average, comfortable.

Money: A pill which doesn't make one happy but can quiet the nerves

Rocking chair: Symbol of the New Frontier: motion without progress

30-years-old: Too young to be a grandfather and too old to be trusted

Dishonesty: The bust policy
Coexistence: Like the bone with the dog, the rope with the neck

Dieting: When you get fed up with not being fed up

Welfare Rolls: Your dough
Anatomy: What everybody has but it looks better on a girl

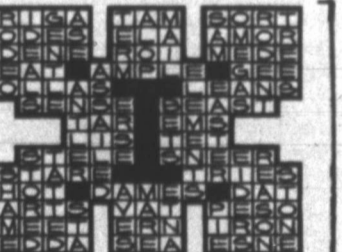

Edonomist: One who can explain tomorrow why what he predicted yesterday didn't happen today

Racist: An epithet Liberals use to describe almost all whites who are honest about their feelings on what cynic John F. Kennedy euphemistically called "The Mix."

Italy Facing Political Crisis

ROME (AP) — A political crisis that promised to be long and bitter ended in Italy Saturday as Premier Emilio Colombo resigned.

The crisis stemmed directly from a split between Christian Democrats and Marxist Socialists during marathon voting in December to elect a new Italian president.

Deputies of the two parties, partners in Colombo's 17-month-old government, traded insults on the floor of parliament before a Christian Democrat moderate, Giovanni Leone, emerged as president on the 23rd ballot.

The presidential voting saw the Socialists swing back to their old alliance with the Communists. Afterward, Communists and Socialists charged that Leone had won because of Neo-Fascist support. The Socialists blasted Leone as "a candidate of the center-right."

Ugo La Malfa, Republican party leader, provided the excuse for the government crisis by withdrawing his party from the coalition. The Republicans demanded that the government take more forceful steps to bolster Italy's sagging economy and stem rising unemployment.

The controversial divorce issue further complicated the picture. The Supreme Court is expected to rule soon that a referendum on Italy's year-old divorce law is constitutional.

The proposed referendum resulted from a petition by more than a million Roman Catholics. No party, however, appeared to want the divorce.

Jet Plane Crashes

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — An executive jet plane crashed today on a farm about six miles northeast of here. Authorities said there were fatalities but did not know how many.

The crash occurred on the R.E. Crawitz farm during a heavy fog, authorities said. The aircraft was in the flight pattern to land at the Victoria airport.

Mrs. Crawitz said the plane hit a power line, burst into flames and then disintegrated.

Tumble Dolls

The first tumble doll was an image of Buddha, a Chinese god. Such dolls were weighted at the bottom for the Chinese believed Buddha could not fall. Push this doll over and it bobs up again. The Chinese name for it means "stuck, not falling."

Brownsville, Tex. (AP)

Wayne D. Harbin, president and chairman of Marathon Manufacturing Co., announced Friday plans for what he called "one of the largest and most modern commercial shipyards on the Gulf Coast."

Estimated to represent $18 million in investment, the project will be an expansion of Marathon's Gulf Marine Division facility which is still under construction at Brownsville.

Issue to face a popular test. Leftist and Catholic politicians fear a referendum would split the country along religious lines.

Worry Clinic

By - GEORGE W. CRANE,
PH. D., M. D.

Peter had high blood pressure. So his physician put him on a diet low in saturated fats, such as egg yolk, meat fat, etc. Instead, he used vegetable oils and other unsaturated fats. But note his shock to learn about the California experiment!

CASE S-575: Peter B., aged 38, is confused.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "my blood pressure had been rather high for my physician said it was 165-90. "He thought I had too much cholesterol in my blood so he put me on a diet of unsaturated fats.

"Thus, I had to omit eggs because of the cholesterol in their yolks.

"And I couldn't nibble at the suet on the steak or take other saturated fats.

"Instead, I used vegetable oils and other unsaturated fats.

"Well, now I understand that a recent medical report showed more heart attacks among those on the unsaturated fatty diet.

"And even more cancer, too.

"So what am I to believe?"

MEDICAL THEORIES
Experiments on animals often suggest possible remedies that might help human patients.

So physicians often test such theories on human beings.

California recently concluded an 8-year experiment on 846 men regarding saturated vs. unsaturated fat diets.

Probably to the surprise of the researchers, it was found that those who freely ate meat, eggs and other saturated fats found in the normal American diet, thus fared much better than those on the experimental diet of unsaturated fats.

At the end of the 8-year test, there were 178 deaths among those who ate saturated fats and 174 deaths of those on the experimental diet of unsaturated fats.

But at autopsy, it was found that deaths from heart attacks and strokes were more numerous among the experimental group on the unsaturated fat diet.

The ratio was only 48 deaths among those who ate eggs and meat fats as against 70 who studiously refrained from such and tried to stick to unsaturated fats.

And the cancer deaths were only 17 among the saturated fat eaters in contrast to 31 in the group who stuck to unsaturated fats.

Like many other apparently valid theories, this one didn't work out in actual practice.

Yet the experiment was very worthwhile and was conducted as scientifically as possible under modern conditions.

A majority of people who suffer heart attacks (at least 70 per cent) have high cholesterol levels.

But maybe the two are not causally related at all.

(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mellot, Indiana, 47958, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

McMurry College Fund Campaign Exceeds Goal

McMurry College's Matching Fund Campaign to help build a new Physical Education Center has gone well over the $500,000 goal, according to chairman Morgan Jones, Jr., of Abilene.

"I am very grateful for the fine job done by Rev. Ted J. Dotts of Pampa and Jim Waterfield of Canadian and the people of the Pampa District who along with hundreds of workers throughout the Northwest Texas and New Mexico Conferences helped us to raise this money," said Jones. "It is a real pleasure to work with these people."

Jones, who is a vice chairman of the McMurry Board of Trustees and longtime civic and business leader of Abilene, said the total amount paid or pledged to the campaign was $511,165.78 as of Thursday morning. Nearly $12,000 more will be added to this amount from active pledges made to the Golden Anniversary Fund in 1968, Jones said. The Golden Anniversary Fund pledges will be transferred to the Matching Fund Campaign, he said.

Bids on the new physical education complex are to be received in February, McMurry officials said Thursday.

McMurry's proposed new Physical Education Center will be financed by oil income assigned to the college by a West Texas family and coming in at a rate of just over $100,000 a year and by funds from the Matching Fund Campaign. The new P. E. Center will cost more than a million dollars.

The Matching Fund Campaign kickoff meetings began September 12, marking the beginning of general solicitation.

He said he found the works in Hong Kong. Kostelanetz, here to conduct the San Diego Symphony, said the Chinese music will have its debut in May, with him conducting the New York Philharmonic.

Driesbach, 55, explained he was caught between refusal of the Metropolitan Park Commission to allow him to move it—and U.S. Corps of Engineers' orders to move it.

Nixon Asked To Set Date For Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bella S. Abzug, D-N.Y., urged Congress today to censure President Nixon for not setting a date for withdrawal of American forces from Indochina.

She said in a statement prepared for a news conference the President "has proceeded to flout both the intent and the language" of a 1971 law declaring it to be the policy of the United States that such a date be set.

The language was included in the Military Procurement Act signed by Nixon last November. The President said at the time he did not consider the language binding.

Mrs. Abzug said the President has "escalated the mass bombing of North Vietnam, choosing to do so while Congress was in recess, and now he is continuing the massive bombing of Laos and Cambodia. He has not negotiated in good faith in Paris."
