AT OPTIMIST MEET

International Officer Urges Total Involvement

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

Dr. J. E. Creed of Ft. Collins, international vice president of Optimist International committed the 3700 members in 109 Optimist Clubs in the North Texas District to "Mission Involvement" at a banquet Saturday night in the Optimist Club.

"It is my fondest hope that every club in the North Texas District achieve the international involvement award. The only requirement is participation in three community service projects or boys' work projects in their communities," Creed said.

Dr. Creed commended the Pampa Optimists for their athletic programs.

boys "I am amazed at the facilities you have here... a baseball field lighted no less... these tremendous clubhouse facilities. I figure you (Pampa Optimists) must perform an outstanding service to the youth and citizens of Pampa. There are few clubs in the district that are making the contribution you are making through your facilities here."

District Governor Charles Taylor of Waxahachie, as president of the two-day convention outlined goals for each of the clubs in his district.

"It is my hope to build one new club in each of the 14 zones in this district; to increase membership by 300; and have 100 per cent participation in the oratorical contest, Youth Texas project, and boys' work projects."

UF Nears Success

The 1970 Pampa United Fund Campaign edged closer to success today as drive chairman Hank Donohue announced a total of $85,200 turned in to date. "This brings the campaign to within $3,000 of the goal set last summer when the budget committee reviewed the requests of the various agencies involved," according to Donohue.

"We need to take a good look at our government to see why the freedom of speech is being denied the large majority of students. When those minority groups speak whatever they say is 'right' and whoever differs with them is wrong. The right to speak and be heard needs to be given back to the majority."

Pampa Boys Invited To Join Winning Team... Boy Scouts

Final details for the Pampa City-Wide Boy Scout Roundup Oct. 31, are now being completed. Roundup committee meeting on Thursday night at the Boy Scout Office, saw most of the details worked out.

Tri-City Group To File Protest On CRMWA Costs

City managers and city attorneys of Pampa, Borger and Amarillo are expected to meet within the next week to draft a letter to the City of Lubbock setting forth the tri-city position on a recent change in the method of computing operation and maintenance costs for Canadian River Municipal Water Authority cities.

The three cities are protesting a resolution backed by Lubbock and adopted by the CRMWA board. It became effective Oct. 1 and hiked operating and maintenance costs for Borger, Amarillo, Pampa and Plainview but reduced them for Lubbock and six other South Plains cities.

The change at stake amounts to a switch to a cost accounting system which charges out portions of operation and maintenance costs to individual cities.

City Overwhelmingly Oks Auditorium Issue

DR. SALVADOR ALLENDE
New Chilean President To Socialize Country

SANTIAGO (UPI) — The Chilean congress Saturday elected Dr. Salvador Allende, a textbook Marxist, president of the republic. He has promised to build a socialist state by nationalizing the nation's mines, basic industries, banks and foreign commerce.

freely chosen Marxist chief of state in the Western Hemisphere, at a time of great tension in this narrow nation stretching down South America's Pacific coast.

Martial law was proclaimed last Thursday when political terrorists shot and critically wounded the nation's army chief, Gen. Rene Schneider, in a bold assassination attempt on the streets of Santiago. Forty suspects have been arrested.

Allende, who is supported by Chile's Communist party and admired by the Soviet Union, will be inaugurated Nov. 3, succeeding President Eduardo Frei, a Christian Democrat.

Majority Cast Vote As Tribute To Brown

BY TEX DEWESE
News Staff Writer

Pampa's long-time dream of a civic auditorium came true shortly after 7 p.m. Saturday.

The announcement came at 7:10 p.m. when election judges turned in the final count to City Secretary Stanley M. Chittenden revealing that the $800,000 auditorium bond issue had carried 1,451 to 93.

Less than 100 persons voted against the issue with the vast majority of Pampans casting their ballots as a tribute to the memory of the late M. K. Brown whose philanthropic contribution will make the $81,200,000 project possible.

The turnout was unusually heavy for a one-issue decision which was expected to be received favorably even before the City Hall voting place opened at 7 a.m. Saturday.

An almost continuous line of electors passed through the voting place all day long. Of the 1,544 total vote, 1,444 ballots were cast by property owners and only 100 by non-property owners.

Demos To Rally Here Tuesday

Democrat incumbent Governor Preston Smith will be featured speaker in Pampa Tuesday for a Democratic Rally and Bar-B-Que in the Pampa Youth and Community Center.

Several state and local candidates are planning to attend the rally including James Denton, Democratic candidate for the State Supreme Court; Lan Bentsen, son of U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd Bentsen; Democratic State Senate candidate Max Sherman; state representative Dean Cobb; and state representative candidate Phil Cates.

Special entertainment will be provided by "Sing Out Pampa", a group of local young people who recently traveled the Panhandle with Lt. Governor Ben Barnes. Governor Smith will arrive in Pampa at approximately 6:45 p.m. and will go directly to the Rally which is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets for the Bar-B-Que can be obtained at Gray County Democratic Headquarters, 112 E. Foster or from any Gray County Democratic Club member. Tickets will be sold at the door Tuesday evening.

Advertising for construction bids is scheduled to start immediately after the bond sale with bids being received and opened around Dec. 20 to 28.

Miss America Comes Home

DENTON, Tex. (UPI)—Denton residents Saturday capped two days of observances honoring Phyllis George, Miss America 1971, during her official return to her hometown. A banquet ended her visit last Saturday.

Miss George wept openly once when County Judge Tom Todd presented her with a $5,000 grand piano, a gift from the response of the voters. It is a city.

The preliminary and tentative schedule as it appears now indicates the auditorium should be completed and ready for occupancy shortly after the first of the year in 1972.

When completed the structure will be dedicated as a memorial to the late M. K. Brown who died in 1966.

The city manager said full attention now will be directed to completing final plans and getting the auditorium under construction.

Political Kidnaping Suspect Released After Questioning

MONTREAL (UPI)—The first arrest in the political kidnaping and strangling of Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte turned out to be a case of mistaken identity Saturday and police released the suspect after 14 hours of questioning. Although his age and name were the same as the 19-year-old Bernard Lortie named with two other new suspects in nationwide warrants issued late Friday, the youth in custody convinced authorities he had no relation to the kidnap-slaying of Lortie and the abduction of British diplomat James R. Cross, 49. Lortie is a common French-Canadian name and there are several Bernard Lorties in the Montreal telephone book. This Bernard Lortie, a freshman at the University of Ottawa who worked for the Ontario provincial government last summer, called police after he heard from his mother Friday night that authorities were seeking a suspect of his age and name. Police questioned him in his room in an Ottawa rooming house, then brought him here for more questioning. Fourteen hours later he was released. Hundreds Arrested Although more than 300 persons have been imprisoned since Canada suspended many civil liberties in the aftermath of the two kidnapings by the terrorist Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ), none of the six publicly identified suspects has been found. Besides Bernard Lortie, the new warrants name as suspects Jacques Rose and Francis Simard, both 23 and laborers. The three were charged with conspiracy in the Oct. 10 kidnaping of Laporte but not with his murder or in Oct. 5 kidnaping of Cross, the senior trade commissioner to Canada. Jacques Rose is a brother of Paul Rose, 27, a teacher of maladjusted children, who was named along with Marc Carboneau, 37, a taxi driver, in a

PHS To Offer College Night

Pampa High School will sponsor its annual College Night at 7 p.m. Thursday at the PHS Library for all students and parents who have questions concerning admission to colleges, universities, Technical and Vocational Schools. Representatives from 11 colleges, 16 universities, four institutes and the Armed Forces divisions will present the program with assistants from high school counselors, John English, Wanda Cardwell and Geraldine Rampy, vocational counselor. Colleges planning to send representatives are Amarillo College, Austin College, Central Business College, Clarendon College, Dallas Fashion Merchandising College, Frank Phillips College, Howard Payne College, Lubbock Christian College, McMurry College, Panhandle State College, and Wayland Baptist College. Universities to be represented will be Baylor, Eastern New Mexico, Hardin-Simmons, North Texas State, Oklahoma City, Phillips, Southwestern, Texas A&M, Texas Christian, Texas Tech, Texas Woman's University, University of Oklahoma, University of Texas, West Texas State, Southern Methodist, and Trinity. Others represented will be Denver Automotive Institute Inc., James Connally Technical Institute, Northwest Texas Hospital, H. C. Lewis Technical Education Center, Oklahoma State Tech., Texas State Technical Institute, Amarillo, Elkins Institute, Dallas, and the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard.

Pampans Invited To 'Open School'

Tourists visiting the new Pampa High School facilities and the school district's two new elementary school cafeterias today will have a chance to see first-hand, "real up-town, first-class" facilities bought with a $900,000 school bond issue. Pampa Independent School District voters approved the bond issue in March, 1969. Since then, all but two of the 13 projects in Phase I have been finished and are ready for public inspection. The tour is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. today at PHS and at Horace Mann and Woodrow Wilson Elementary School Cafeterias. Tour guides will be school board members, school administrators, teachers, six PHS Student Council members and about 50 members of Pampa's Parent-Teacher-Association organizations. The six student guides will be Mark Turner, Lynn Gabelmann, Jill Donaldson, Don Orth, Gail Duncan and Shelly Cogdell, who will be available at the high school to direct visitors to the new facilities, the music hall, library, science unit, girls' gym, athletic building, and third-floor language classrooms. The athletic building is located on the corner of Decatur and Duncan, adjacent to the football stadium, and houses dressing rooms for Pampa athletic teams, visiting teams, coaches' offices, film room, conference room and indoor practice area. Costs of the completed projects for Phase I were: cafeterias, $145,000; athletic building, lights and track, $185,000; music building, $175,000; science-library complex, $170,000; science furniture, $30,000; girls' gym, $80,000; parking lots at Robert E. Lee Junior High School, Austin Elementary School, Pampa Junior High and Carver Center, and repairs on lots at Travis and Lamar Elementary Schools, $20,000; third floor PHS, $5,000 and Carver Center improvements, $5,000. Supt. Dr. James F. Malone said.

Those are the areas which are completed out of our $900,000 bond issue. We have about $100,000 bond money unencumbered at this point, and plans are to use $9,000 to remodel the PHS auditorium interior and old bathroom interior," Dr. Malone said.

The vocational wing of the district which was included in the bond issue cannot be completed until the district receives approval on its application for matching state funds to finance the project, he said.

When the vocational wing application funds are approved and the project is started, the new vocational wing would include a new building for auto mechanics, building trades, vocational welding, electrical motor repair, commercial sewing, automobile body repair and any other vocational courses which student needs demand," Dr. Malone said.

City Firemen Have Busy Friday

Pampa firemen had a busy Friday starting shortly after 4 p.m. when a call came in to extinguish a car fire at 1608 N. Hobart. Firemen reported light damage under the hood of a car belonging to Tom Hollis, 1906 Coffee. Shortly before 7 p.m., firemen answered a call to a house fire at 1808 Coffee, a storage building and shed were destroyed and there was damage to the back of the house belonging to Robert A. Mauldin. At 11:40 p.m., firemen went five miles west of Pampa on 22nd Street, where a heater in a wellhouse had caught the shed on fire resulting in heavy damage. A garage at 1017 Love Street, owned by F.C. Gee, was totally destroyed by fire shortly after 12:10 a.m., according to city firemen. Cause of the blaze is unknown, firemen said.

PHS To Offer College Night

Pampans Invited To 'Open School'

Tourists visiting the new Pampa High School facilities and the school district's two new elementary school cafeterias today will have a chance to see first-hand, "real up-town, first-class" facilities bought with a $900,000 school bond issue. Pampa Independent School District voters approved the bond issue in March, 1969. Since then, all but two of the 13 projects in Phase I have been finished and are ready for public inspection. The tour is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. today at PHS and at Horace Mann and Woodrow Wilson Elementary School Cafeterias. Tour guides will be school board members, school administrators, teachers, six PHS Student Council members and about 50 members of Pampa's Parent-Teacher-Association organizations. The six student guides will be Mark Turner, Lynn Gabelmann, Jill Donaldson, Don Orth, Gail Duncan and Shelly Cogdell, who will be available at the high school to direct visitors to the new facilities, the music hall, library, science unit, girls' gym, athletic building, and third-floor language classrooms. The athletic building is located on the corner of Decatur and Duncan, adjacent to the football stadium, and houses dressing rooms for Pampa athletic teams, visiting teams, coaches' offices, film room, conference room and indoor practice area. Costs of the completed projects for Phase I were: cafeterias, $145,000; athletic building, lights and track, $185,000; music building, $175,000; science-library complex, $170,000; science furniture, $30,000; girls' gym, $80,000; parking lots at Robert E. Lee Junior High School, Austin Elementary School, Pampa Junior High and Carver Center, and repairs on lots at Travis and Lamar Elementary Schools, $20,000; third floor PHS, $5,000 and Carver Center improvements, $5,000. Supt. Dr. James F. Malone said.

Those are the areas which are completed out of our $900,000 bond issue. We have about $100,000 bond money unencumbered at this point, and plans are to use $9,000 to remodel the PHS auditorium interior and old bathroom interior," Dr. Malone said.

The vocational wing of the district which was included in the bond issue cannot be completed until the district receives approval on its application for matching state funds to finance the project, he said.

When the vocational wing application funds are approved and the project is started, the new vocational wing would include a new building for auto mechanics, building trades, vocational welding, electrical motor repair, commercial sewing, automobile body repair and any other vocational courses which student needs demand," Dr. Malone said.

City Firemen Have Busy Friday

Pampa firemen had a busy Friday starting shortly after 4 p.m. when a call came in to extinguish a car fire at 1608 N. Hobart. WHAT a whirlwind week this has been if you are an Optimist... Opt-Mrs... Business or Professional

FIRST OFF... on Monday evening, when Ben Barnes helicoptered into Pampa and landed on the Coronado Inn parking lot... along with other Democrat candidates.

And from his daylong association with the "Sing Out Pampa" group, who had traveled by bus into 7 Panhandle cities, Barnes was so impressed with the group he extended an invitation, that will later be put into a legislative motion, the group come to Austin in January to sing for the senate.

Anyone who has not yet had the opportunity to hear this choral group is missing a musical experience. "Sing Out Pampa" was organized this summer by Fred Pape, who has since returned to studies at Eastern New Mexico University.

But Fred had done his job so well for the young singing group that since he returned to school they have performed excellently with interesting arrangements under student directors. And are much in demand for programs around town and in the area.

Monday, "Sing Out Pampa" started out bright and early OPTIMISTS rolled out the welcome mat for their fellow Optimists and Opt. Mrs. this weekend in the Coronado Inn, who are here for their first quarterly meeting of the year.

On Friday evening, as sort of a warm-up get-acquainted affair, the Pampa Optimists set up a "Pink Garter Saloon" in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn and invited "The Miami Stompers" in to play for dancing.

AND ON the same evening, Friday, Van Vanderberg chairman Business Women's Week for Business and Professional Women's Club was hostess for a Supper-ette in her home on Charles. The hostess greeted guests in an-at-home pants, set in a riot of colors ranging from bright yellows to subdued oranges.

Quartet tables were appointed with arrangements of yellow mums and loaded with yummy tidbits which had been concocted by these very busy business women.

TWC Chairmen Guest Speak At Kiwanis Club

An appeal to Gray County voters to vote Nov. 3 against repeal of the law prohibiting open saloons in Texas was made at Friday's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

Floyd Watson and Jack Pape, co-chairmen of Texans Who Care in the county, spoke to club members on the proposed amendment which would permit liquor by the drink in Texas.

Pape said voting for the amendment would be voting to increase consumption of alcohol, quadruple the number of liquor outlets and increase crime in the state.

"I grant the right of any individual to take a drink in his own home, if he wishes," Watson said, "but I am opposed to liquor by the drink."

"I believe Texas, Gray County and Pampa will be better off without open saloons. The time has arrived for us to speak out and quit being a member of the silent majority."

WT Songstress Making Dream Come True

Carol J. Mayo of Pampa, music instructor at East Texas State University, was selected Tuesday for the Metropolitan Opera auditions finals in New York.

"It's the singer's dream to make it this far," she said. Miss Mayo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mayo, 2242 Evergreen, is one of nine finalists selected from 21 entries from the United States, Canada and Australia. She will compete in the first place auditions on the stage at the Lincoln Center Nov. 1, singing the aria Voce de Donna from La Gioconda.

The mezzo-soprano studied voice abroad at the American Vocal Institute in Freiburg, Germany. She has performed as a guest artist with the Fort Worth Opera Association, and was named this year's most outstanding graduate student at the North Texas State University at Denton, where she is completing her doctoral degree.

Other honors the mezzo-soprano has accumulated include winning the Young Artist Series competition in 1969 in Schreveport, La., and the National Association of Teachers contest in Oklahoma City.

She is a graduate of Elk City High School in Elk City, Okla.

Former WD Resident Named To Post

Dr. John R. Bertrand, president of Berry College and former White Deer resident, has been named by President Nixon as one of two appointees to the Board of Visitors of the U.S. Naval Academy. Dr. Bertrand, with fellow appointee Joseph S. Sinclair of Providence, R.I., will succeed Guy Stillman and Edwin Harrison, who recently resigned, as members of the Board of Visitors, which is charged with the duties of inquiring into conditions at the academy.

The appointment adds an additional recognition of Dr. Bertrand to an already lengthy list, which includes his service as one of two U.S. educators who went to Libya in 1955 at the invitation of the Libyan government to advise on the establishment of the country's first higher educational institution. Dr. Bertrand also has received in the past special recognition from "Who's Who in America" and "Who's Who in Education," as well as from such groups as Alpha Chi, American Farmers and American Men of Science.

His professional background includes degrees of B.S. and M.S. from Texas Technological College and Ph.D. from Cornell University. He was dean of Basic Division at A. and M. of Texas and dean and director of the College of Agriculture before coming to Berry Schools, where he has been president since 1956.

Dr. Bertrand is married and has four children. He was graduated from White Deer High School in 1932 and is the brother of Mrs. Fay McLean, 1109 S. Hobart.

New County School Superintendent To Direct April 1st Spelling Bee

L. B. Penick, who will become county superintendent of schools on Jan. 1, 1971, has been named new county spelling bee director for Gray County.

The Gray County Bee will be held by April 1, 1971, and the winner will go to Amarillo on April 24, for the annual elimination contest where a new regional champion will be named.

The young boy or girl named in Amarillo will win an all-expense trip to Washington, D. C. June 7-11, where he'll represent the Golden Spread in the national competition.

In 1970, Nancy Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Palmer of Pampa, was the county champion and placed 1st out of 46 contestants. The champion was a student at the Robert E. Lee Junior High School, 8th grade. Nancy placed 18th out of 73 national contestants in Washington during the first week of June.

The 1971 Golden Spread Bee will be co-sponsored by West Texas State University and the Amarillo Globe-News. L. J. (Jack) Edmondson, director of public services at the university, will be coordinator for the Golden Spread event.

There will also be a secondary contest — the only one of its kind within the National Spelling Bee program — open to youngsters from the sixth and lower grades. These juniors will be guests of the Amarillo Globe-News at the Regional Bee on April 24, but will not spell unless they represent the senior division, also.

Tim Palmer (Nancy's brother) was the Junior Champion for 1970. The junior champion attended the St. Vincent's School, 6th grade.

The district winner, to be named in April, will go to Washington where he'll compete with district winners from all over the United States. The trip includes various sightseeing tours and entertainment.

Each county winner will receive a plaque in Amarillo and a gold pin; each county junior champion will be awarded a trophy and silver pin. Entry ribbons and winner ribbons will be given to all participants.

This year's contest marks the 23rd annual event, sponsored by the Globe-News Publishing Company, and will be the 44th national contest, sponsored by newspapers throughout the United States.

The new "1971 WORDS OF THE CHAMPIONS" (containing 500 new words) may be ordered from: Jim W. Walker, Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas, 79106. Price — 20 cents each.

Delivery is expected around mid-October. Youngsters eager to begin studying should place their orders at once.

What The Candidates Are Doing

By United Press International Texas political candidates cover the following campaign trails:

Republican Senate candidate George Bush has a noon airport rally in Abilene following a filming session in Dallas.

Democrat Senate hopeful Lloyd Bentsen will be in Houston, speak to a big barbecue in Sinton, then return to Houston to attend the Texas-Rice football game.

Gov. Preston Smith will attend the Texas Tech-SMU football game in Lubbock, and return to Austin on Sunday.

Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers will make a helicopter tour of Dallas shopping centers, then depart for his home in Wichita Falls.

Byron Fullerton, the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, takes his campaign to San Antonio for the day.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, the Democratic incumbent, will participate in a Rose Festival parade in Tyler this morning, then attend a luncheon in Houston.

WASHINGTON—Political gag writer Jim Atkins, announcing he is closing down his service which has provided gags to politicians from presidential candidates on down: "Nothing is funny anymore in politics."

Chilean Congress Meets Amid Great Security

SANTIAGO (UPI) — The Chilean congress met today amid extreme security measures under a state of martial law to elect Salvador Allende, a Marxist, president of this South American nation.

Troops and police closed off a 36-square-block area around the congress building as the secret vote began to make Allende the first freely elected Marxist chief of state in the Western Hemisphere.

The extreme security measures were ordered after an attempt was made earlier this week to assassinate Chile's army chief. He was shot and critically wounded.

Allende failed to receive a majority in the popular election last month, thus requiring a vote of congress acting as an electoral college. He watched the proceedings on television in the living room of his home with his wife Hortensia.

The 50 senators and 150 congressmen voted one by one in alphabetical order, depositing sealed ballots in an urn at the front of the ornate honors chamber of the congress.

Allende, 62, will be inaugurated Nov. 3.

British Doctor Offers No Challenge

LONDON (UPI)—Dr. John S. Allen said Friday night a paper he wrote for the scientific magazine Nature had been misinterpreted and that it is not a challenge to the Einstein theory that nothing travels faster than the speed of light.

"Neither matter nor energy travels faster than light (182,282 miles per second)," Allen said.

A paper he wrote with Oxford colleague Geoffrey Endean, which spoke of speeds of 372,000 miles per second, referred to "field patterns" in the magnetic field of the Crab Nebula, about 5,000 light years from the Earth, he said.

The fact that these patterns can move faster than light is a concept already well known in microwave engineering, Allen said. But it is not the same as saying matter can travel faster than light, he added.

Einstein's theory holds that the speed of light is the absolute limit of velocity.

The Allen-Endean report on the Crab Nebula said its core is a rotating collapsed star, or pulsar, about 10 miles in diameter that radiates 100 times more energy than the sun.

SWIM TEAM—The Dolphin Swim Team is meeting each week except Tues. at 6:00 to swim now in preparation for a "B" meet in Amarillo on Nov. 7. This will be some of our swimmers first competition, but will give them valuable experience. The Dolphins swim from 6-7 p.m. in their workouts and would invite anyone who is interested either male or female between the ages of 8-18 to join the club.

The parents division of the club met Monday night and elected officers for the year. Another meeting is planned for 7:00 p.m. Monday, Oct. 26 to finalize the entries into the "B" meet in Amarillo. Interested parents are urged to be present. Officers elected were Thurmond Brown, Pres.; Jackie Marljar, V-Pres.; Judy Cole, Sec.; Henry Gruver, Treas.; and Ernest Willis the publicity chairman.

JUDO CLASSES—The enrollment for the girls and boys judo classes have really picked up in the last week and we are having good attendance. We have just recently invited girls who are 12 or older to join the judo class. This is something that most girls should have a knowledge of. They never know when they might need to use the skills of judo. Boys are invited to join the club if they are 8 years of age or older. Fathers and mothers are also invited to join and participate along with the sons and daughters. This is not mandatory though.

Ours instructors for the club are Paul and Sam Moot. Paul has just returned from Japan and has been studying under some of their experts. To join the club you need only be or become a Center Member. A membership for 6 months costs only $5.00 or $8.00 for one year.

SWIM LESSONS—If you haven't enrolled your son or daughter in the swim classes, you should check the list below and do so at an early date. These are the only classes that will be taught this year. The 1971 schedule has not been finalized as yet.

Classes will meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting dates with the classes lasting one hour. We are closed on Tuesdays during school terms. All classes will be taught by Jackie Marljar, our resident W. S. I.

TEEN DANCES—An activity especially designed for the teen taste is our teen dance. These are held during the weekend when school activities do not conflict. We are changing our routine just a little bit now. We will continue to have the teen dance after the football or basketball games if the Harvesters play at home. If the Harvesters play away from home on Friday night, the teen dance will be on Saturday nights.

All dances are well me!

chaperoned by adults who are mostly parents that are interested in giving the young people a wholesome place for their recreation. We do not allow the participants to come and go at will, but must either stay inside or leave the dance and not be allowed back in. If you as a parent have not been asked to chaperone, why not give us a call and volunteer.

SAN FRANCISCO —Mayor Joseph Alioto after a time bomb blew up at a funeral for a policeman slain during an attempted bank robbery: "We're not going to turn this city into a police state. Texas Senate Race Termed "A Real Horse Race"

AUSTIN (UPI) — With just over a week before the Nov. 3 general election, the consensus of those who watch Texas elections is that the U. S. Senate campaign is a real horse race and that Gov. Preston S. Smith has a relatively safe margin over his Republican challenger.

The Senate race between Democrat Lloyd Bentsen Jr. and Republican George Bush is so close, most political observers feel, that even the weather on election day could make a difference in who wins.

Both candidates are conducting arduous last-minute campaigns, but Bush's is somewhat more leisurely and a bit more generalized than Bentsen's.

Bush appears to be deliberately low-keying his campaign, apparently on the theory that the smaller the vote, the better his chances are to win. Bentsen has accused the Republicans of using this as one of their major tactics in the race.

Charges 'Power Play'

Bentsen has been charging Bush with staging a "Republican power play" by bringing in President Nixon, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and other GOP big names to help capture control of the Senate.

Bush counters with a charge that he really is the man who is up against the power play of

By United Press International
Byron Fullerton, Republican for lieutenant governor, at a San Antonio press briefing:

"Public tolerance of the violence and destruction being wrought by anarchists has reached the breaking point. We who stand up for an orderly society are ready for the most stringent restraining measures to be taken against anarchists."

Democratic Senate candidate Lloyd Bentsen, referring to Vice President Spiro Agnew's visit to Texas:

"What this parade of high-ranking Republican arm-twisters is saying is quite simple. They are urging Texans to vote for the good of the Republican party."

Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers, regarding allegations that his election would jeopardize a teacher's salary program:

"On more than one occasion during his campaign, I have stated that we must set priorities in our state spending. Education has always topped the list of those priorities."

UNITED NATIONS —Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir told the 25th anniversary session of the U.N. General Assembly her nation was prepared to extend the three-month cease-fire in the Middle East, but repeated the Israeli position that no talks with the Arabs would be held until missiles allegedly moved into position on the Arab side of the border after the cease-fire deadline were removed.

Texas Democrats who got 14 votes to every one Republican vote in last May's primary elections.

Thus the campaign goes down to the wire—from Dumas, to Shamrock to Pampa to Dallas and to Conroe in airplane blitzes, and over the radio and television air waves.

The Republicans are quietly going about with huge door-to-door canvasses in their strongest areas such as Midland, Odessa, Dallas and Houston. In Midland alone, GOP workers have canvassed 10,000 homes in the past few days.

Different Situation
The same situation does not exist, however, in the governor's race. Republican challenger Paul Eggers, in the opinion of many political observers, is not coming through even as well as he did two years ago against Smith.

Even some Republicans in strong areas like Midland-Odessa and in the Panhandle admit that the Eggers campaign has not jelled like they had hoped. "Paul's campaign just isn't getting across," one Republican party worker in Midland told UPI.

The Smith campaign staff still believes the governor's cause was given a big boost when he was booted off the stage by a few militant students recently at the University of Houston.

Great Response Reported
"We just got a tremendous favorable response to that," said a Smith aide. The governor himself has been receiving his biggest applause when he refers to the incident.

Smith has charged that Eggers hired a Washington public relations man, Robert Goodman, "to handle his image-making, to glamorize him and hide his weaknesses."

"When the tall, deep-voiced Republican candidate comes on the tube after a few bars of his heroic theme song, how do we know whether he is 'revealing himself' or whether Mr. Goodman is doing it for him?" Smith asked a West Texas audience this week.

Eggers, too, appears to be low-keying his campaign. His major emphasis is that "Texas wants a governor it can be proud of," hinting that he feels some Texans are not exactly proud of Smith.

Oldest Business In World Having Somewhat Of Boom

By LEROY POPE
UPI Business Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—The most stable business in the world—and possibly the oldest—is having something of a boom. It's the bread making business, believed to be at least 5,000 years old. "Basically, bread making has changed remarkably little in all that time," says Bill Mead, new chairman of Campbell Taggart Associated Bakeries of Dallas, which has sales of about $300 million a year.

Of course bread today is a lot lighter and fluffier than our ancestors were ale to make it. It's also enriched with vitamins and minerals. But it's the same basic food that was baked in brick ovens in the ancient world.

High Energy Staple
"And make no mistake about it, bread still is the high energy food staple of the working classes even on the high living standard of the American people," said Mead.

distribution system of any commodity," he said. "What is raising the baking industry's volume and profit is convenience and snack bakery items. The demand for these is growing so fast that the number of retail bakery outlets is increasing dramatically."

Campbell Taggart is probably typical of the successful modern large baking firm. Actually it's a collection of 72 companies and has ventured outside of baking products into soft drinks and some other foods, but it sticks mainly to baked goods and refrigerated cakes and other dough products for housewife to bake in her own oven.

Big Share Of Market
"These refrigerated dough products—cakes, biscuits, pies, rolls and cookies—are certain to grab off a big share of the market presently held by dry mixes which sold about $440 million last year," Mead said. The housewife has to mix the dry mix products, adding milk, and then bake them. But the refrigerated dough products are ready to pop in the oven.

Although some ready-to-bake products have been on the market for years, sales have grown rather slowly because it took many years to solve all the delivery and distribution problems. A Louisville firm, Ballard & Ballard, pioneered the idea in the early 1930s and almost lost its shirt because of high spoilage rates.

"at nowadays, all retail stores have the necessary refrigerated display cases, and refrigerated trucks to deliver the products generally available."

'Diph' Spreads To Bexar County

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—The city's diphtheria epidemic has spread to the Bexar County jail, where inmate Benito Robles, 17, Friday became the 130th victim of the year.

Robles is confined in an isolated hospital cell and the wing where he was kept, including 22 prisoners in three cells, is under quarantine. The quarantined men will eat on paper plates from now on and use plastic utensils. The plates and utensils will be placed in sealed plastic bags for disposal.

"We anticipated this might happen, and tried to be ready for it," Chief Jailer Jesse Dobbs said.

Free vaccinations were offered to inmates in September, but more than half of them refused the shots.

Robles was arrested Oct. 8 and denied probation after pleading guilty to a stabbing.

Texas Servicemen Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department announced Friday the names of three Texas Army servicemen killed recently in action in Southeast Asia.

They were:
Capt. Robert E. Harper, husband of Mrs. Sharon O. Harper, care Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Sellen, 8726 Glen Lock St., Houston;

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Anyone who grew up being mesmerized by the fabulous word magicians in their heyday of radio sportscasting is probably hooked forever on the games men play.

The process got into the blood—an early catechism, a permanent litany. Twenty-five years later, you sit on the beach of a little Mexican village, a million miles from your childhood, and when the newsboy comes by with the English-language Mexico City paper, you grab it and look first to see how the Dodgers did.

The sportscasters, to me, are less important and less colorful now because there is television, and the ability to see the picture oneself eliminates the need for much of the imagery of the word magicians. Only on radio, with remarkable sportscasters like baseball's Vin Scully and basketball's Chick Hearn, does the craft still truly thrive, a reminder of the glory years and gifted gabbers.

Growing up, one expected—and really wanted—the embroidery of a Bill Stern, the drama of a Ted Husing, the matchlessly intelligent color of a Red Barber, for they were

By United Press International
What the Texas Candidates Say
Republican senatorial candidate Rep. George Bush, R-Tex., regarding President Nixon's planned campaign trip to Texas on behalf of Bush:

"I'm eager for Texans to look at the leadership of both parties and choose which one they want to be in control of the Senate."

Democrat senatorial candidate Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr.:

"A lot of people have asked us why Bush is on television so much more than I am. The answer is simple: Money."

Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers:

"We must set priorities and budget carefully the first year. We can use an economy commission to cut the vast administrative waste out of the (state) budget and make full utilization of federal funding sources such as block grants. With this approach we can hold the line on taxes and still provide the essential state services."

Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, Byron Fullerton, on changing the marijuana laws:

"Emphasis on lower penalties, such as (Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes recommends, tends to remove restraints and thus make use of marijuana more widespread and more socially acceptable."

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, on President Nixon's planned trip to Texas:

"I'm sorry he's coming here only for political purposes. I wish he had time to talk to those who have lost their jobs in the last 30 months, the absence of funds for the Trinity canal, the veto of the education appropriations and the withholding of highway funds."

the only picture we had unless you actually attended the game.

I remember being mesmerized for countless Saturdays by an announcer who did the University of Pennsylvania football games.

I never attended a Penn game. I never saw Philadelphia's Franklin Field, where the home contests took place. But to this day, because of the exciting radio accounts, I can almost hear the description of the backs going through their plays: Carmen Falcone, the blocking back in the old singling; Tony "Skip" Minisi, a deadly lefthanded passer. I could tell you the other backs too, and the center.

Radio sportscasting was thrilling then because of the individual effort required from each listener as well as from the announcer. It was rather like existentialist reporting. Nothing really existed in a precise way except as imagined by the listener from an embroidered account by the announcer. It was a sort of forerunner of the "new journalism."

Today, things are probably more accurate, what with television, instant replay, and science giving the liberal arts a bad time generally. And of the major sportscasters working regularly on the networks, I don't think there's much doubt that NBC-TV's Curt Gowdy is the best. He knows when not to talk on television, but when he speaks he usually has something to say, and he is authoritative and tough and nobody's patsy. There are times he reminds you of radio's oldtime sports dramatists.

I wonder what ever happened to Carmen Falcone and Tony Minisi.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—A guardedly optimistic interpretation of recent business and economic developments prevails in Wall Street, Spear and Staff Inc. says. With the market moving in a narrowly confined range, generally bound by Dow 750-780, the firm advises "a cautious approach to new purchases, placing orders under the market."

Some further consolidation of the market's sizable recovery from its May low can be expected, Standard & Poor's Corp. says, adding that such a development would tend to reinforce a prevailing uptrend. The market appears to be withstanding disappointing third quarter earnings very well, the firm adds.

Any weakness in the market and/or in individual issues with sound fundamental bases for growth should be used as a buying opportunity, Mesirow & Co. feels. Cash reserves should be reduced at this point to one-tenth from approximately one-fourth of investment assets, it adds.

As the result of a recent broad decline, the market has moved down into an oversold technical condition which makes it more likely to be responsive to any good news that might be forthcoming, E. F. Hutton & Co. says. One should not overlook the possibility, with elections just two weeks off, that "the administration might pull off a surprise vote getting and market stimulating development."

Your birthday falls: Your philosophy of life takes a more serious direction this coming year. The experience of others becomes more meaningful to you. Your efforts at self-improvement earn recognition. Change in tradition and routine openings for your talents. Social life takes a new direction as well, with more pleasure. Today's natives have durable enterprising tendencies, usually strong interests in mystical matters.
Aries (March 21-April 19): Do your share in local observances. Pleasant pastimes then should absorb your attention. Change in tradition and routine openings for your talents. Social life takes a new direction as well, with more pleasure. Today's natives have durable enterprising tendencies, usually strong interests in mystical matters.
Taurus (April 20-May 20): Young people make the Sunday memorable. Get snapshots, mementos quietly without fuss. Creative hobbies provide great satisfaction. The evening is for amiable fun.
Gemini (May 21-June 20): Romp through a vivacious, carefree day. Make all the rounds, renew old acquaintances. Entertain in the evening.
Cancer (June 21-July 21): Writing and study promise results, but there are so many social things that you may accomplish very little. Visit and personal surprises turn out well.
Leo (July 22-Aug. 22): Turn your mind away from serious business, give yourself a test with cheerful festivity. Mental and property improvements are of special attraction.
Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Speak up early, promise a set of interesting things to do and get started immediately. Keep on the move. There's much to discuss during the evening.
Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): An early start gives you the time for a graceful evening social. Review social contacts, return favors. Find or give a party in the evening.
Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Seek a change of scene, recreation. Distance is not so important. Review social contacts, return favors. Find or give a party in the evening.
Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your confidence and optimism are rewarded today. Bring your own friends along; seek new acquaintances. Fresh romantic interest is probable.
Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Pledge of other people of similar interests, compare notes, share materials.
Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): For once let well enough alone, leave everybody to his own convictions and just enjoy the sociality. You gain quite a lot.
Pisces (Feb. 19-March 21): Bring extra pleasure into the lives of those you care about. Almost any reasonable social group will thrive once it's brought together today.
MONDAY, OCT. 26, 1970
Your birthday Monday: Your diligence this year is the key to success and prosperity. Whatever you do in good faith leads to success. Review as much as you possibly can in order to build up working resources. There's much to be gained. Experiments should be limited to seeking better methods. Romantic interests also thrive now. Monday's natives accept commitments and beat them on freely, enjoy travel.
Aries (March 22-April 19): Get down to serious business early. Something new is added and slight changes are important in bringing good results. Count your blessings in the evening.
Taurus (April 20-May 20): You can use all the capital available to make a consistent, good-humored effort to inspire it. Imagination and intuition fairly sparkle and make the evening so interesting.
Gemini (May 21-June 20): Lay your quibbles aside and get busy. Comment on the evening being interesting answers many personal revelations. At the end of an active day, start an evening's social life.
Cancer (June 21-July 21): Consider the impact of your actions, take a little more time. Improve your work and enjoy life more thoroughly now. Creative ventures should have top priority.
Leo (July 22-Aug. 22): Money matters take a better, upward trend. Take your earnings, some aside for savings. Gather old friends for an evening's general conversation and planning.
Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Writing, teaching, new studies are favored. Push ahead, achieve changes and progress in personal projects, but avoid being aggressive with associates.
Sagittarius (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Confidential personal matters, have a better chance of successful negotiation Monday. Unannounced visits to your residence should be used quietly at once to gain a better situation.
Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Helpful friends bring exceptional opportunity within your reach. Leave some time and space for intense personal, romantic interests.
Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Keep calm, do not make peace with ignorant people who have great influence. Ask for everything within reason. Avoid needless public notice; finish your most important chores early.
Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Formal actions, religious and legal ceremonies, installations are favored. Plans announced have serious consequences. Demand precise figures and estimates.
Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): With a serious revision of arrangements, group decisions, investments turn out well. Attend the needs of older people. Entertain a small, select group in the evening.
Pisces (Feb. 19-March 21): Personal matters receive unexpected support, and more extensive opportunity. Don't neglect minor regular work -- the advantage should last.

Canadian Rolls On, Now 7-0

By STEVE BOHLANDER (News Staff)

The Canadian Wildcats rolled over the Gruber Grayhounds 32-6, Friday night in a hard show of offensive glory.

The Wildcats are undefeated in their district and are shooting their sites for that state championship. The game against Gruber started with a series of Canadian mistakes. In a 75 yard drive by the Grayhounds the Wildcats gave up 35 yards in penalties.

The Wildcats did manage to stop the Gruber penetration on their one yard line and with the Wildcats backed to the goal they plowed for a 9 yard drive sending Jim Martin across the goal line on a seven yard run. The extra point attempt was stopped by the Grayhounds.

The Grayhounds took possession of the ball after a twenty yard runback on their 35. A fumble by QB Jay Crawford was recovered by Randy Field giving the Wildcats good field position. Lynch marched the hot Canadian team into the end zone on an eleven yard keeper. Bill Lynch tried the extra point and missed.

Again the Grayhounds received a Wildcat kick and had to release their hold to the clawing cats. Another keeper by Lynch for ten yards gave the Wildcats their third score.

In the second half the Grayhounds had driven down to the Canadian 47 only to lose the ball to the Wildcats. The Wildcat quarterback missed his man on a roll out pass setting up an interception by Grayhound Terry Davis. Davis took full advantage of the opportunity and went in for the six point TD.

Canadian promptly came back to control the rest of the game with scores by Jim Martin on a 22 yard pass from Lynch. Martin went in for the extra points. The other score came when Lynch played a keeper from the four and a half yard line for the final TD of the game.

White Deer Slips Past Stratford

The White Deer Bucks hurting after losing four of their starters and three more team members managed to pull a 13-6 win from mighty Stratford.

The players White Deer is missing the most are Mike Trantham, an all-state tackle candidate, out for the season with a knee injury; Oddie Nickell, out for a week with a knee injury; Ricky Hoskins, out for the season with a broken shoulder; and Jerry Urbanczyk, with an injury to his right leg. It is not known if Urbanczyk will be in play for the rest of the season pending decisions by physicians.

According to Stratford coach Mires, "The team has played the best ball against White Deer than they have all season. I can't really mind being defeated by a strong team like the Bucks."

Some of the outstanding Bucks were David Guinn who scored the first touchdown on a long 46 yard run and Ronnie Samps, defensive-middle guard, who was in on 20 tackle assists with 9 individual stops. Another Buck who played an exceptional game was Pat Hudgins, defensive halfback with 14 tackles, two interceptions and a fumbled punt recovery on the Stratford two yard line.

Tim Tanner, the defensive linebacker for Stratford played an outstanding game against the White Deer team.

Thus far this season the Bucks have given up 27 points to their opponents for a 3.8

average and have allowed a total of 1,123 yards gained.

Yardage breakdown is 845 for 120.7-per game average rushing and 278 yards passing for a 39.7 yard average.

Miami Loses To Darrouzett

The Miami Warriors allowed ten turn-overs to the Darrouzett Longhorns and lost the ball game 26-12 last Friday night in Darrouzett.

The Longhorns picked off five Warrior passes and covered five Miami fumbles in the eight man grid tilt.

Miami's first score came on a 13 yard sweep around right end by right halfback John Ramsey. The extra point attempt was good.

Craig Bailey, Miami's quarterback, made the other Warrior touchdown on a 16 yard run. Again the extra point try failed. Miami had six first downs and Darrouzett had eight first downs.

Clay 'Relaxes' At The Movies

ATLANTA (UPI)—Cassius Clay was finished sparring for his 15-round fight with Jerry Quarry Monday night and was spending some of the last days of the film was a short one, watching movies.

The film was a short one, Quarry's seven-round loss to Joe Frazier last year. Clay sat forward and squinted at the action.

Frazier couldn't get away with that stuff against me," the 28-year-old Clay said. "He couldn't crowd me like he's crowding Quarry."

Workouts Over "No, no," moaned Clay's trainer, Angelo Dundee. "Watch Quarry this time and worry about Frazier later. If you don't pay attention to Quarry it won't make any difference whether or not Frazier can crowd you."

Both fighters completed their ring workouts this week, and only the waiting remains for their fight Monday night. Quarry, 25, a 5-2 underdog, completed his sparring on Thursday, and Clay, who is fighting for the first time since he was deposited as heavyweight champion 3½ years ago, finished up with three rounds on Friday.

A late stumbling block was overcome Friday when Quarry, who objected to having a black doctor working in his corner, was promised there will be four physicians at ringside—two white and two black.

However, the fighters still have trouble keeping their minds off Frazier, who became Clay's successor in a series of elimination bouts.

"The pressure has to be affecting Quarry," Clay said. "Another fight with Frazier means a whole lot to him. He says this fight with me is the most important one he's had in his life, and if he wins he'll get another shot at Frazier, the new tramp, er, I mean champ. I'm sorry, I meant to say champ."

To Quarry and Clay a fight with Frazier would answer all the doubts and questions, and it would also provide the biggest payday any of the fighters ever had. However, Quarry has already lost to Frazier, so some of the glitter is missing. Both Clay and Frazier are unbeaten as professionals.

Shamrock Rampages Past Quanah, 37-7

Shamrock remains undefeated in 2-AA action as the Fighting Irish overwhelmed the Quanah Indians 37-7 last Friday night in Shamrock.

Candy Dodgin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Dodgin, was crowned Band Sweetheart during the halftime activities. Miss Dodgin's attendants are Jeannie Connor and Becky Roberts.

The flavor of the game was set early by Irish running back Donald Rhodes.

Rhodes took the opening kickoff at the Shamrock one, started around left end, then cut back up the middle.

Rhodes used his blocks well in scoring a 99 yard touchdown. Charles Franks kicked the extra point and Shamrock led 7-0 with only 17 seconds gone in the game.

Ricky Gragg scored the next Irish tally.

Gragg went five yards around left end and Lynn Ramsey ran the two-point play to make the score 15-0, Shamrock.

Franks then plunged for one yard and ran the conversion.

Irish left halfback Lewis Perkins intercepted a Quanah pass on the Shamrock three yard line to stop an Indian scoring threat.

Gragg bulled the ball out to the Irish seven.

Gragg then took the hand off and scrambled for 93 yards and another Shamrock touchdown.

Randy Tarbet ran for two points and Shamrock led at the half, 31-0.

Quanah scored in the third quarter.

Indian back Marvin Wells went over from the one and Ricard McDonald added two points to make the score, 31-8, in favor of the Irish. Shamrock's defense held in the third quarter on an Indian fourth and goal situation from the Irish one yard line.

Fighting Irish end Benny Garcia caught an 11 yard pass from reserve quarterback Randy Tarbet for the final Shamrock td. The try for two points was stopped, but the Irish came out on top, 37-7.

Ricky Gragg carried the ball for 173 yards on 11 hits to lead the Irish. Steve Copeland, Irish reserve fullback, got 67 yards in 12 carries. Offensively, Randy Tarbet did a fine job and Paul Brashears did a great job for the Fighting Irish on defense.

Penn State Hands Army Sixth Straight Defeat

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI)—Sophomore quarterback John Hufnagel ran for two touchdowns and guided the Penn State offense with efficiency Saturday as the Nittany Lions dumped Army 38-14 to send the Cadets reeling to a record-tying sixth straight defeat.

A homecoming crowd of 41,063 watched Hufnagel, a surprise starter, guide the Lions to their third win in six games. Not since 1940 has Army dropped six in a row.

Army's ground game was virtually nonexistent with Bernie Wall throwing 39 passes and completing 19 for 217 yards. Joe Albano was on the receiving end for 10 for 132 yards, his catches equalling an Army record.

Lefors Pirates Rampage Over Booker Kiowas 40-0

The Lefors Pirates romped over the Booker Kiowas, 40-0, last Friday night in a game played in Lefors.

Lefors got 354 yards rushing and 115 yards passing.

The Pirates' defense held Booker to 110 yards rushing and 49 yards passing.

Richard Harkoom started the Lefors scoring spree with a seven yard run in the first quarter.

Mike Robbins kicked the extra point.

Pirate quarterback David White passed to Ronnie Sims for the second Pirate score from 19 yards out.

Robbins' kick was good and Lefors led at the end of the first quarter, 14-0.

Hufnagel was a replacement for Mike Cooper but Cooper returned in the last period and in the final play of the game connected on an 18-yard touchdown pass to John Scaryzinski.

Penn State broke quickly to a 10-0 lead in the first period and left the field at halftime with a 24-3 margin.

Arden Jensen got Army's first points on the 42-yard field goal early in the second period but Penn State came right back with a 16-play drive with Fran Gantner bucking over from the two. State's third touchdown of the first half came with 32 seconds left when John Skorupnik intercepted a Wall pass on the 30 and swept in for the tally.

Owls Edge McLean, 14-12

The McLean Tigers staged a second half rally at Silvertown last Friday night but it wasn't quite good enough as the Owls came out on top, 14-12.

Silvertown scored in each of the first two quarters and McLean scored in each of the last two quarters in the 2-A conference game. The difference in the score can be accredited to defensive spurts by the Owls.

The Owls' defense stopped McLean quarterback Tommy Duniven on a two-point run following the initial Tiger touchdown in the third quarter. The Owls then broke up a two-point pass play that would have tied the game following the final McLean tally.

Silvertown's first touchdown was marked up by Bill Strange,

Robbins proved in the second quarter that he could run as well as he could kick.

Robbins plunged over from the one, then kicked the extra point.

Lefors led at the half, 21-0.

Robbins repeated on a one yard effort in the fourth quarter.

This time, though, the kick was no good.

Robbins then ran 52 yards on an end sweep for another Lefors' tally.

The pass for extra point was no good.

Lefors' final score came on another White pass, this time to Ken Prestidge from seven yards out.

Robbins kicked the last extra point.

McLean came storming back in the second half and Tiger quarterback Duniven put the offensive machine into action.

Duniven capped the drive with a scoring effort from the Silvertown three yard line.

McLean's final tally came in the fourth quarter on a three yard run by Ronnie Brown.

McLean is now 1-1 in district action while Silvertown stands at 2-0.

By HARLAN HYSMITH Staff Sports Writer

The weather was clear, the field was good, and the crowd was large at Dick Bivins Stadium last Friday night.

A large group of Pampa supporters were there to see the Harvesters pit their newly-found football brilliance against the ever powerful Tascosa Rebels.

Pampa lost to Tascosa 18-8.

Every Pampa fan who saw the game will remember the man wearing a Tascosa uniform with the number 49 on it. Bucky Sams, Tascosa's explosive tailback, rushed for an even 100 yards in 20 carries in the Rebel win.

Dale Ammons had 71 yards total offense for Pampa. The junior quarterback rushed for 45 yards in 13 hits and completed two of ten passes for 26 yards.

Johnny Clark, fullback, picked up 44 yards on 8 carries against the middle of the Tascosa defense. Richard McCampbell picked up 25 yards in three attempts.

Pampa's lone score came as a result of great individual effort by the Pampa defense in general and by right linebacker Alvin Ferguson in particular.

Pampa's offensive game was stymied all night by Tascosa's hard-charging defense. With less than ten minutes left in the game, Pampa faced a fourth and six on their own 36 yard line.

Dale Ammons kicked and the ball died on the Tascosa 7.

Tascosa wound up to go for yardage. Rebel quarterback David Webb sent Sams around the Tascosa left end. Sams was hit around the ankles and held. Ferguson hit Sams and took the ball out of Sams' arms.

Ferguson then turned up field and ran the ten yards for the Pampa score. Ammons tore around left end for the two-point conversion.

If Tascosa had a real weakness, it was that they couldn't make an extra point.

Tascosa's first touchdown was made by Marcus Simmers.

At the top of the second quarter, Tascosa found themselves on the Pampa 21, third and one. Tascosa's field general David Webb hit the right side of the Pampa line to the Pampa three yard line and a first and goal.

Simmers scored on the next play and Keith Irwin kicked the extra point. Irwin's kick was no good, but Tascosa led 6-0.

The first half ended with no more scoring by either side.

The Rebels' second td was set up by a Mark Burget pass interception. Tascosa was unable to move the ball, so they kicked.

The kick was good but Dale Ammons fumbled the ball and Rebel Larry Peavy fell on the ball to give Tascosa a first and goal on the Pampa eight. Tascosa was in good field position and had been given another chance to score.

The Pampa defense valiantly held on the first three downs to keep the Rebels out of the Pampa end zone.

With a fourth and goal from the one, Webb took the ball on a keeper play. Webb was hit behind the line of scrimmage, but with tremendous third and fourth effort, crossed the Pampa goal line. The two-point pass play was no good. The third quarter ended with Tascosa leading 12-0.

Tascosa was on the Pampa 16 with a second and 11 at the beginning of the fourth quarter. John Evans carried to the Pampa nine. Sams hit to fifth Pampa one yard line to bring up a first and goal.

Larry Peavy scored on the next play and Tascosa led 18-0 with 10:46 left in the game.

Pampa's score came next but the Harvesters were unable to keep their momentum going and Tascosa won, 18-8.

Alabama Takes Houston, 30-21

HOUSTON (UPI) — Richard Cienny kicked two second-half field goals to give Alabama a slim lead and Steve Higginbotham returned an intercepted pass 80 yards for an insurance touchdown with 1:51 left Saturday to give the underdog Crimson Tide a 30-21 victory over the University of Houston.

Cienny, a senior from Anthony, Kan., kicked field goals of 34 and 40 yards to turn a 21-17 Houston lead into a 23-21 margin for Alabama. He also had a 28-yard field goal in the first quarter.

The other Alabama scoring came on two second-quarter touchdowns—one by split end David Bailey on an 18-yard pass from halfback Johnny Musso and the other on a 36-yard burst by fullback Dave Brungard.

Elmo Wright, the all-American candidate at split end, scored twice for Houston on passes of 13 and 3 yards from Gary Mullins. Halfback Tommy Moziszek scored the other one on a one-yard plunge.

Wright, who caught nine passes for 112 yards, was in the open on the 15 when Higginbotham intercepted Mullins' underthrown pass along the sidelines and made his 80-yard dash. At that time, Houston had a fourth and five situation on the Alabama 35 and was trying desperately to get into field goal range.

Until the last quarter heroics by Higginbotham and Cienny, the 5-11, 195-pound Musso was easily the Alabama star. He set a school record by carrying 33 times, gaining 156 yards.

The junior tailback also caught five passes for 35 yards and completed the only pass he threw for a touchdown.

Moziszek was Houston's top runner with 100 yards in carries.

The Cougars, 3-2, led in total offense, 409 yards to 357, and in offense, 409 yards to 357, and in first downs, 21-19.

But, Alabama came up with the big plays, especially on the ground where they suddenly found a ground game that had been non-existent this year.

The Crimson Tide runners made 243 yards rushing and their passing game netted them only 114.

Quarterback Scott Hunter,

Ohio State Wins 48-29; Illinois Coach May Lose

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI)—Saturday Illinois lost a football game, a football coach, and maybe a football team.

Coach Jim Valek was notified before the Illini went on the field to play No. 1-rated Ohio State that he would be relieved of his job, by unanimous vote of the athletic board, as soon as the game ended.

He told his players before the game and he said, "They played inspired football."

They did indeed. Smarting over Valek's dismissal in the middle of a season which is now 2-4, the Illini ran at the touted Buckeyes from the start and held a well-deserved 20-14 halftime lead. But the Buckeyes' superior manpower finally paid off for five second half touchdowns and their fifth win without a loss, 48-29.

Then the Illini players pulled their second big surprise of the day. They went into a private huddle in their locker room and Co-Captains Kirk McMillin and Doug Dieken came out shortly with a statement. It read:

"If Coach Valek is not here Monday coaching the team, Illinois does not have a football team."

McMillin said later, when asked who he thought might be named from the Illini athletic staff to serve as interim who's he going to coach?"

Valek said he was "absolutely shocked." He asked to talk to the team after he received their vote of confidence. "I'm gratified," he said. "There's only one way I'll fight for the job, and that's if the players want me."

Valek said only one player, Dieken, knew before the game that he had been fired and he asked Valek to inform the team.

After the game Valek told the team, "I thank you for your vote of confidence. If that's what is happening, the next action is the university's."

Victorious coach Woody Hayes said the Illini were "red hot," and added, "If Valek has been fired, I should be fired, because he outcoached me. I am very bitter about this."

Rice Falls To Texas 45-21

By DARRELL MACK
UPI Sports Writer

HOUSTON (UPI)—Quarterback Eddie Phillips scored three touchdowns, and Steve Worster, having the best ground-gaining night of his career, scored a fourth to lead second-ranked Texas to a 45-21 victory over a fired-up Rice team Saturday night.

Phillips, running the option to perfection, scored on runs of five, seven and 10 yards, each time running off left tackle and scoring standing up.

Worster, whose best rushing record was 153 yards against Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl last year, gained 170 yards in 23 carries, before leaving with 23 minutes left in the game. He scored on a one-yard drive over center in the third period when Texas broke the game open with three touchdowns.

Reserve backs Paul Robichaux and Donnie Wigginton scored final quarter touchdowns. Robichaux on a seven-yard end run and Wigginton on a four-yard quarterback keeper. Happy Feller kicked a 33-yard field goal on Texas's first possession and added six extra points. Macon Hughes returned a kickoff 91 yards for Rice's first touchdown in the first quarter.

The Owls scored their other two in the fourth quarter when quarterback Philip Wood passed 14 yards to split end Bob Brown and linebacker Jerry Nacarrato returned a blocked punt 39 yards. Bill Latourette blocked a Gary Keithly punt to set up Nacarrato's return.

Hughes touchdown, coming on the kickoff after Feller's field goal, gave Rice a 7-3 lead which stood up through the first quarter despite the fact the Owls did not make a first down.

Phillips' first touchdown, a five-yarder to cap a 64 yard drive in the second quarter, gave Texas a 10-7 halftime lead and sent the Longhorns on their way to their 25th straight victory. They are 5-0 this year, 2-0 in the Southwest Conference.

Texas' big orange machine ran for 500 yards and added 62 yards passing to pick up 31 first downs. Rice made only 130 yards total offense, 52 rushing, and only 10 first downs.

Jim Bertelsen, Worster's running mate, made 100 yards on 17 carries as Phillips alternated pitching to them on the triple option, wearing down the smaller Rice team.

Hardway Suspended By Texas Tech Coach

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Tech starting halfback Danny Hardway, the first black varsity football player at the school, Saturday was suspended for at least one week by Coach Jim Carlen.

Hardway did not play in the game against Southern Methodist University, the school's homecoming game this year.

Carlen said Hardway was suspended from Saturday's game "for curfew violations." He did not elaborate.

N. Carolina Upset

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (UPI)—Fullback Larry Hopkins bulled over from the three-yard line with three seconds left in the game and Tracy Lounsbury booted the extra point to give scrappy Wake Forest a 14-12 upset over North Carolina.

Oregon In Upset Win Over Southern California, 10-7

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Oregon came from behind in the second half Saturday to upset Southern California 10-7 and all but knock the Trojans out of a chance for a fifth straight Rose Bowl appearance. The win kept the Webfoots' Pasadena hopes alive.

Halfback Bobby Moore, who packed the ball 38 times for 163 yards, crashed over from the one-yard line early in the fourth period for the winning touchdown.

It was the second Pacific defeat for Southern Cal. while Oregon is 4-1 in the conference. Both teams have lost to Stanford.

A heavy rain fell throughout the first half after which Southern Cal. led 7-0, and a few hundred of the 34,000 fans left the game. Oregon's touchdown was set up on a 50-yard bomb from quarterback Dan Fouts to end Bobby Newland to the Trojan eight-yard line on the second play of the final period. Moore carried six yards to the two and then went over.

The Trojans, 11th ranked nationally, lost four of six fumbles and did not complete a pass until the final period. Newland recovered two of the fumbles for Oregon.

Southern California marched 59 yards in 14 plays on the ground after the opening kickoff to go ahead 7-0.

Sophomore Sam Cunningham scored the touchdown from a yard out, and it appeared the Trojans were off and rolling. But it wasn't to be. Southern Cal. found itself fighting off Oregon threats. The Ducks marched to the 16, 20 and 21 in the first half, but couldn't score.

In the third period Oregon on a fourth-and-five situation went for the field goal and Ken Moody made it good from 22 yards out.

Two big plays for Oregon.

UPS AND DOWNS take Willis Reed (19) and Dave DeBusschere of the New York Knicks straight up for a rebound, while at another time and other place Southern Cal back Rod McNeill goes straight down in a nose dive.

West Texas Buffaloes Romp Over New Mexico State 37-7

CANYON, Tex. (UPI)—Mattias Garza, a 140-pound placekicker and Olan Thompson, a bruising 200-pound halfback, Saturday teamed for 24 points which led West Texas State University to a 37-7 victory over New Mexico State Saturday night.

Garza kicked three field goals of 37, 35 and 49 yards, and added three points after touchdowns for his points. His three field goals tied a school record.

Thompson carried 16 times for 114 yards and two touchdowns. He scored on runs of six and four yards.

Ralph Thompson, one of the nation's leading scorers, added another touchdown on a 34-yard scoring pass for a total of 60 points on the year. Thompson rushed for 65 yards.

New Mexico State just barely got on the scoreboard. Quarterback Rhett Pullman hit tight end Phil Corley with a 16-yard scoring toss which came with only 41 seconds left in the game.

West Texas safety Raymond Brown stopped four New Mexico State drives with pass interceptions. He returned his final theft 55 yards for the last West Texas State touchdown.

New Mexico State piled up a respectable 370 yards in total offense, with 209 in the air, but could not score until the final minutes. They lost the ball seven times on five interceptions and two fumbles.

West Texas actually gained less yardage than New Mexico State, 335, but were able to mount the sustained scoring drives.

Oklahoma Loses To Kansas State

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Wingback Henry Hawthorne scored two touchdown passes of 28 and 38 yards from Kansas State's Lynn Dickey and fullback Mike Montgomery ran six yards for another Saturday as the Wildcats defeated Oklahoma 19-14.

Montgomery was credited with a fourth period touchdown, although he fumbled the ball and split end Rick Ferguson recovered in the end zone to make the score official.

Dickey completed 27 of 47 passes and increased his career touchdown pass total to 26, setting a Big Eight conference record.

K-State's winning touchdown was a 23-yard pass from Dickey to Hawthorne that climaxed a 30-yard drive in three plays with 3:04 left in the game.

Ole Miss Whips Vanderbilt 26-16

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Quarterback Archie Manning scored on a 10-yard dash to become Mississippi's all-time scoring champion Saturday night as he led the Rebels to a 26-16 Southeastern Conference victory over stubborn Vanderbilt.

Ole Miss, playing without Coach Johnny Vaught for the first time in 250 games, stayed mostly on the ground throughout the rain-soaked game and turned Vanderbilt mistakes into touchdowns. Vaught suffered a mild heart attack earlier in the week and Assistant Coach Frank "Bruiser" Kinard took over for him.

Manning's second quarter touchdown gave him 154 points for his career, eclipsing the mark of 151 set by Paige Cotren in 1954-56.

Randy Reed scored Ole Miss' first touchdown on a six-yard run and Bob Knight got the other on a one-yard slam. Jim Poole booted a 33-yard field goal and the Rebels wrapped up their scoring with a safety when quarterback Denny Painter was thrown in his end zone.

Down 17-7 in the final period, Vanderbilt fought back with a touchdown and a safety of its own. Painter hit end Jim Cunningham on a 23-yard pass for the TD and Ole Miss kicker Bill Young was trapped in the end zone for the safety.

Vandy's first touchdown came on a 50-yard pass from Steve Burger to end Karl Weiss in the second quarter.

It was the first time in 15 meetings that Vanderbilt had managed to score more than seven points against Ole Miss, ranked 13th in the nation this week.

McMurry Downs Sul Ross, 31-21

ALPINE, Tex. (UPI)—McMurry quarterback Roger Martin tossed four touchdown passes, three to wingback Matt Chalmers, as McMurry downed Sul Ross 31-21 Saturday night in a Lone Star Conference game.

Martin threw his other touchdown strike to split end Leonard Peters.

All three Sul Ross touchdowns were scored by fullback Willie Dickson, two on running plays and the third on a 14-yard pass from quarterback Ronnie Bell.

McMurry moved into a tie for third place in the conference with Sul Ross, and Southwest

Field Goals Good In N. Carolina Win

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Maryland sophomore Art Seymour rushed for 156 yards Saturday but fumbled at the North Carolina State one-foot line with only three minutes to play and Mike Charron's two field goals stood up for a 6-0 victory for the Wolfpack.

Missouri Wins 30-16

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)—Randy Chuck Roper, making the most of his first start at quarterback in five weeks, ran for one touchdown and passed for another in directing Missouri to a 30-16 Big Eight football victory over Colorado Saturday.

Purdue Downed 38-14

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI)—A relentless air-ground assault on Purdue's defenses by quarterback Maurice Daigneau and fullback Mike Adame accounted for 339 yards and four touchdowns and carried Northwestern to a 3-14 victory over the favored Boilermakers Saturday.

Georgia Tech Victor

ATLANTA (UPI)—Cornerback Rick Lewis broke open a scoreless, rain-soaked game early in the fourth period Saturday when he scored twice on defensive plays in a 27-second span to start Georgia Tech to a 20-6 victory over Tulane.

Baylor Triumphs A&M 29-24

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—Quarterback Southall, in his first starting assignment after knee surgery last winter, led Baylor University to a razzle-dazzle 29-24 homecoming victory over Texas A&M Saturday night.

Southall, younger brother of Baylor quarterback Terry Southall who holds the all-time Bear passing record, completed 14 of 28 passes for 211 yards, including one 21-yarder in the end zone to put Baylor ahead to stay.

The alert Baylor defense accounted for two Bear scores, with punter Ed Marsh intercepting an Aggie pass with time running out at the first half and racing 46 yards to score, and Don Huggins setting up another with a 74-yard punt return early in the fourth period.

Marsh killed off a threat by the Aggies with just over a minute left in the game when he intercepted a long bomb by Aggie quarterback Lex James on the Baylor seven. From there, the Bears ran out the clock.

Baylor's scoring included a 21-yard field goal by Mike Conradt, two and eight yards run by Matthew Williams, Southall's 21-yard pass to back Johnnie Gardner before he was taken out by a crushing attack when he fumbled to set up Baylor's first touchdown.

The Aggie quarterback came back in the middle of the third period after sub quarterback Joe Mae-King led the Aggies to a second quarter touchdown, passing the final three to end Homer May.

A&M back Brad Dusek scored from the one late in the final period to put the Aggies within five points, but Marsh's interception ended the last threat by the Aggies.

Southall, a junior from Brownwood, Tex., injured a knee late in the 1969 season and had it operated on last winter. He missed spring training and had seen only limited duty until Saturday night's impressive showing.

Colorado State Loses

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Quarterback Mike Sherwood scored one touchdown, passed for another and set up a third Saturday to lead West Virginia University to a 24-21 victory over stubborn Colorado football meeting between the schools.

LUS Defeats Auburn

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Louisiana State, led by a hard-charging defense, capitalized on Auburn mistakes in a heavy rain Saturday to upset the fifth-ranked and previously unbeaten Tigers 17-9.

Mich. St. Beats Iowa

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Fritz Seyferth, a "blocking" fullback starting only his third game, scored on touchdown bursts of 3, 4, 5 and 6 yards in succession Saturday to give the seventh-ranked and undefeated Michigan Wolverines an impressive 39-13 Big Ten victory over Minnesota.

Memphis St. Victor

DENTON, Tex. (UPI)—Memphis State took advantage of four North Texas State fumbles and got a pair of touchdowns from fullback Paul Gowen Saturday night to down the Eagles 28-7.

Kansas Defeats Iowa St. 24-10

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Jon Riggins scored the go-ahead and icing touchdowns, but it was linebacker Gary Davenport and a turnover-causing Jayhawk defense that led Kansas to a 24-10 Big Eight homecoming victory over Iowa State Saturday.

With the score tied 10-10 less than six minutes to the end, Davenport partially blocked a Reggie Shoemaker punt to give the Jayhawks possession at the ISU 15. From there, Riggins flew off a block by Steve Lawson and bullied his way 15 yards for the go-ahead tally.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL

Our newest LVN wearing a Red Cross LVN Pin on her uniform is Mrs. Ruby Bird who works at Worley Hospital. Ruby took her Standard First Aid Class and worked in the Welfare Index Store Room for Red Cross to earn her hours of service for Red Cross. Welcome to our organization, Ruby.

Mr. Gilbert Gribble Field Representative for Safety Services has been in the Red Cross office all week talking with First Aid Instructors and working with the Water Safety Instructors in our chapter. Mr. Gribble talked with the Safety Department at Northern Natural, Cabot and Celanese as well as Dr. James Malone, superintendent of schools. Red Cross is anxious for every boy and girl in the Junior High and High School age group to have a working knowledge of First Aid before they leave school. Many plans will be finalized during the coming year.

Thanks to all of you who have helped with the United Fund this year, both in collecting and in giving your part of our goal. Too late we have 92 per cent of the funds collected and with only 8 percent to go, I feel sure that Pampa will come through this year with flying colors. A big thanks to Hank Donohue and his board and those who planned so well.

Mr. J.D. Ray, Fireman and First Aid Instructor for our chapter taught a Junior First Aid Class with the following passing their tests: Ray Adamson, Tim Anderson, Danny Boyd, Darrell Floyd, Jerry Horton, Danny Kutchum, Garland McPherson, Wayland McPherson, and Dennis Wallin. The Scouts of America sponsored this Class.

We are happy to have Mrs. Ken Hicks as our newest hospital volunteer. Karen will work on the 4th Monday and the 5th Wednesday of each month on a tour of the Eastern and Northern States and on into Canada. We are glad that she had such a wonderful trip and are back with us to work in the hospitals again.

Consider these points when you vote on November 3rd

Sandra Sheffield

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Sheffield of McGehee, Ark., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sandra Sheffield, to Wilson Ryals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Ryals of White Deer. The double-ring ceremony will be held at 7 p.m. Nov. 27 in the Chickasaw Baptist Church of McGehee, Ark. Miss Sheffield is attending Cuchita Baptist University of Arkadelphia, Ark. Her fiance is a student at Arkansas A&M College, Monticello, Ark. After the wedding, the couple will live in Monticello, Ark.

Civic Culture Club Displays Creativity

Civic Culture Club members displayed their creativity in paintings, poems, hand-made articles, and hand-painted china for their program recently in Mrs. H. W. Water's home.

Mrs. Frank Grantham was mistress of ceremonies for the program. Mrs. A. D. Rife had made a clothes rack. Mrs. Carl Smith displayed kitchen towels and a hand-made plaque. Mrs. C. V. Forsman reported she is in the process of writing a book about her Indian name.

Mrs. Irvin Cole quoted one of her poems, "Ode To a House," which has been published in anthology, "Talent, Song-Writers and Poets" of 1947.

Mrs. Emmett Osborne explained the paintings in oils, pastels and water colors which she has in her home and said her recent paintings of two Texas bluebonnet scenes have been taken to Germany.

Mrs. A. D. Hills displayed several paintings she had done in oils, water color, pastels and charcoal. One was a water color of an old deserted house near Surray and another was an oilfield scene featuring an oil store at Bowers City, and a barn near Bowers City Road.

Others were a charcoal sketch of Mrs. Katie Vincent's home, two portraits on china, one of Elizabeth Taylor and one of Shirley Temple. In displaying her work Mrs. Hills explained the methods of china painting and the need for different firings. She recently attended the International China Painters' convention in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Leon Brown, weight recorder, reported the club lost 4 1/2 pounds for the week.

Mrs. Randall Schulz received the fruit basket with a loss of 1 1/4 pounds. Mrs. Omer White won the pig award.

Mrs. Fred Hutchens introduced Mrs. Mert Leigh to give a program on "Mind Control."

Those present were Mmes. Fred Hutchens, Bob Fick, Elmer Williams, Leon Brown, Tom Rodgers, Joe Sutton, Randall Schulz, Omer White, Roy Bogges, and Gene Hinds.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. E. L. Anderson, Irvin Cole, A. B. Cross, C. V. Forsman, Frank Grantham, A. D. Hills, John McKierney, Emmett Osborne, A. D. Rife, Carl Smith, Chester-Williams, H. W. Waters and two visitors Mrs. R. L. Norris of Richland, Wash., and Mrs. Glynn D. Harrell of Groom.

Members will meet again Oct. 27 in the home of Mrs. Chester Williams.

Your Highness You've Got To Be Joking

LONDON, England (UPI)—Margaret wore another mid-length dress Wednesday and it touched off another chorus of groans from British fashion arbiters.

"Oh, Margaret! Yet Again," headlined the Daily Mirror under a picture of Queen Elizabeth's sister at Heathrow Airport leaving for a trip to Yorkshire.

"Your royal highness, you've got to be joking," said the Sun's fashion writer.

Another fashion expert said the princess at 5-foot-11 is too short to look good in a midi. When she wore a midi last week, one fashion writer compared her appearance with that of Calamity Jane.

Baker PTA Plans Children's Play For 1970 Carnival

Baker Elementary School Parent Teacher Association has scheduled two performances of a shortened "Mary Poppins" musicale during its annual Halloween Carnival Monday night.

Mrs. Claudie Gallman, Baker School music director, will direct a cast of 43 children as they present the 25-minute show at 7 and 8 p.m. in the gym. Stage crew members are Oscar Amadore, lights manager, and Terry Green, Kenneth Nicholson and Oscar Amadore, stage managers.

Booths will be opened in the gym from 6 to 6:30 p.m. and 7:35 to 7:50 p.m. The Queen Booth will be open from 6-7:30 p.m. with the Queen coronation planned at 8:30 p.m.

PTA members will serve refreshments in the cafeteria from 6 to 9 p.m.

Catholic Women Schedule Diocesan Council Meeting

Members of St. Vincents' Altar Society and Guadalupana Society will host the 34th annual convention of the Amarillo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women in Pampa, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Convention chairmen are Mrs. Hubert Johnson, Altar Society president; the Rev. Wendelin Duenker, assistant pastor St. Vincents church; Mrs. Stan Kretzmier, luncheon chairman; Mrs. B.G. Ward, credentials; Mrs. Fred Neslage, hospitality; Mrs. V.G. Nelson, convention co-chairman; Mrs. Jerry Kotara, publicity; and Mrs. Lloyd Simpson, reservations.

All the women in the diocese may attend the convention which starts at 9 a.m. Tuesday with registration and a coffee hour. "Life - A Celebration," the theme of the convention, will be developed by the Rev. Alcuin Mikulanis O.F.M. of St. Francis Productions, Los Angeles Calif., in the keynote address in the opening session.

Mass will be celebrated at noon in St. Vincents Church. Following the luncheon at 1 p.m. workshops will be conducted by the Church Communities Commission and the International Affairs Commission chairmen.

Featured speaker at the banquet in the Coronado Inn Tuesday evening will be Steve Dauer; state vice-president of the Future Farmers of America.

Wednesday morning sessions will include workshops on Community Affairs and Family Affairs with the Rev. Michael Henegan discussing urban and rural housing and Jim Freeman, of the Department of Public Safety, presenting "Our Problem with the Drinking Driver." Bishop Lawrence DeFalco, Amarillo Diocese Bishop, will be celebrant at 12:15 Mass, and will be the speaker at the luncheon.

Afternoon sessions will include resolutions and workshop summaries, as well as the presentation of the Woman of the Year award and installation of officers.

Registration for all or part of the convention events should be made with Mrs. Lloyd Simpson, 1344 Hamilton.

Father Mikulanis is associate producer of the Franciscan Communications Center, a catechetical film production studio in Los Angeles, Calif. He has produced six record albums, ranging from liturgical Sacred Music, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Before his California assignment, Father Mikulanis has been director of Christ the King Radio Hour in Chicago and professor at Mount St. Clare College in Iowa.

The convention is open to all women in the Amarillo diocese. All sessions except the banquet will be held in the St. Vincents school and church. Reservations for the convention should be made with Mrs. Lloyd Simpson, 1344 Hamilton.

'Think' Time Solves Lots Of Problems

A familiar plaque has disappeared from many walls, one word with a thoughtful message - THINK.

It became the victim of puns and cartoons. Some replaced it with a sign - WORK.

Too often it was ignored. Thinking takes time and who has idle time?

Look at some of the obstacles - the telephone rings, visitors walk in, correspondence piles up or social duties call.

Besides, it hurts to think at times. Too much thinking could produce an idea that calls for action. Today many are so busy they don't really have time to work, so why tempt fate by thinking?

It is an interesting exercise, but...

To have think time there must be planning. Plan for think time. Close the door - look at the ceiling, let the mind wander. Paint a wall, let the mind wander. Commuting, let the mind wander. Get away from it all, sit under a tree and let the mind wander.

Allegro Members Review Effects, History Of Color

Mrs. Robert Mack presented a program on color to members of the Twentieth Century Allegro recently at a meeting in Mrs. Tom Patton's home, 2511 Christine.

Mrs. Mack, tracing the history and effects of color on people's lives, said "Historically, color has evolved much the same way as most sciences. Colors used in various periods of human development depended upon their availability since materials of vegetable matter were used to produce the pigment. This point is a mixture of pigment with a vehicle which binds by oxidation and hardening to the painted surface."

She explained "the color wheel was produced by the German poet Goethe and said, "guidelines used by most interior designers relate closely to the rules nature seems to use, muted colors, mostly with full intensity colors only, in small amounts. Most good color themes employ only a few colors."

"Emotionally, color may affect us by the way it was used in our past, and psychologically, color can make us feel warm or cool, excited or calm," she said.

Those attending were Mmes. Gene Lunsford, Kenneth Giggy, Raymond Reid, Ronald Lawrence, Kay Fancher, D. W. Boddy, A. L. Hall, A. W. Bassett, Edward Maglaughlin, Bill Rice, Allan Wise, B. J. Yates and her mother, Mrs. Harry Smith who is visiting from England.

GETS EXCITED

BURNELY, Engr. (UPI)—When Colin Thornton, 8, gets excited while reading his favorite history books, he chews on anything close at hand. That is the explanation given by the youngster's father why Colin chewed through a lamp's electric cord. He has been hospitalized with burns about the face and hands.

the slot machines in Las Vegas, and a young teacher should appeal to them.

She looked up from under a wide-brim, opened the biggest jade green eyes to highlight a beautiful face and said, "A man can live without a woman, but I don't believe a woman can live without a man."

"A woman grows up thinking about security," she added. "I think she has to enjoy being soft."

But there was a smidgen of the tomboy in our Miss U.S.A. not too long ago.

"When I was a kid, I wanted to be a paper-boy," she said, "because the paper boys were always being sent to the football games."

"I can pass and kick, too," she admitted with pride. It wasn't her brother who taught her—she's an only child. And it wasn't dad, either.

"My mom taught me," she announced pertly. "She can kick the ball clear over the top of our house."

Debbie enjoys "mini" gambling on the slot machines. I don't like blackjack, though. Those $100 chips scare me."

This young beauty wanted to be first to study dentistry. She decided she would rather be an anesthetist because "you don't have regular hours," and she has another project she would like to attempt along with a regular job.

"I know Spanish," she said, "and I would like to do a TV program with puppets—like a continuing story each day for children, done in Spanish. Kids should learn languages young."

Family Happenings Strengthen Home

By AILEEN SNOODY
NEA Home Editor

Parents who make a special effort to observe traditional holidays with their children are wise. The event may be short and simple. The importance is for the youngsters to have pleasant memories of family get-togethers once away from home.

A woman with vast experience in program planning for years with the National Recreation Association recently compiled a book for happy happenings. Virginia Musselman calls it "Making Family Get-Togethers Click."

What better tradition to establish than to observe birthday anniversaries?

Here are some suggestions:
Reverse Birthday. The birthday celebrant buys or makes a simple gift for each member of the family on his own birthday. (This does not preclude his receiving gifts.)

Birthday Trees. Literally, birthday trees planted to celebrate the birthday of each child. They become a source of pride: "That's my tree. It was planted on my birthday, March 18, 1960."

So-o-o-Big. Somewhere in the home many families keep a visual record of the children's growth in height and weight, and make a family ceremony of marking this growth each year on each child's birthday. The markings will make a very interesting and dramatic ongoing record. One method is to tack or glue a tapeline on the door for each child, starting on the first birthday when he can stand erect alone. Dad very carefully marks his height with a thin crayon or ink line extending beyond the correct mark on the tape, writing the date on that line, and under it the child's weight.

Other families paint or crayon straight lines down the door, a different color for each child. The child's height is marked with a horizontal line extending from it on which his height in

Survey Describes Teens As Moderate

NEW YORK (UPI)—Moderate is the word that characterizes the teenagers of today, the leaders of tomorrow.

A wide-ranging new look at youth in the first year of the new decade, at the youth which achieves scholastically, debunks the image of all of them as pot smokers or sexually liberated radicals.

Instead, the teens come across as thoughtful, deeply concerned about the social and political crises of today, against violence, and much more moderate than a few would lead us to believe.

The study just out is called "the largest national survey of high school high achievers ever conducted." The survey was made during the summer.

"Achievers" Queried
More than 22,000 of the 16-18 year old set participated in the survey of attitudes and opinions of student leadership in 18,000 of the 23,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the nation.

It was made by the Merit Publishing Co., Northfield, Ill., which issues the annual "Who's Who among American High School Students." A student makes the list of recommendation of high school principals and counselors because of his or her leadership and achievement in academics, other school activities including athletics, and community service.

Merit sent questionnaires, which a student panel itself drew up, to 62,500 "achievers", or about 2.2 per cent of the nation's 2,750,000 high school juniors and seniors, almost all of whom will go on to college.

War Unpopular
The 22,000 answered questions ranging from drug use and abuse to the Vietnam War, national politics, minority group relations, sex and ecology. On the hotly debated issue of drug use and abuse, 10 per cent of the students said yes, they were using marijuana. 21 per cent said yes, they would use it.

But in the area of the harder line drugs, such as LSD, speed (amphetamines) and heroin, a mere 3 per cent approved of their use. The students were not asked whether they had tried, or were using, any of this drug group.

The students listed the ending of the Vietnam War as the U.S. government's number one priority. Eighty-five per cent felt that respect for the nation had suffered by our participation in Vietnam and a minority, 27 per cent, said the U.S. should be involved militarily in South Asia.

Other government priorities listed in order of their ranking were population and pollution problems, aid to poverty groups, and stabilizing the economy.

POLLY'S POINTERS Mover Offers Method To Transport Flowers

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Madge that when we moved from New Jersey to Florida I had 15 violets and other house plants to take along in the station wagon. My husband left space in back of our seat (the back seat folded down) to place the suitcases flat. We had a large, flat, oblong metal pan about two inches high on top of the suitcases in the center of this space so there would not be too much sun on the violets, which I put in the pan after watering them good. They stayed moist during two days of travel. When we stopped at a motel, I watered them for the remainder of the trip and they were fine. I also watered my other plants when we left and covered them with a newspaper as a protection against the hot sun coming through the windows. I wet them when we stopped, and never lost a plant.

—MRS. F.W.C.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — Would you, or any of your readers, know if it is possible to make a trundle bed out of bunk beds? If it is, I would appreciate having the directions.

DEAR POLLY — Lightly rub a brush-type hair roller over your window screens and see how it refreshes them as it picks up the lint and dust.

When the knob is lost off of a pot lid, put a sharp pointed screw through the hole in the lid, coming up from underneath, and twist it into a cork. This will make a good heatproof knob.

—FAY

DEAR POLLY — The following is for Madge, who wanted ideas on the best way to transport her plants, without damage, during a long-distance move. Through garden club experience, I have found that an ordinary cardboard box, inverted, works well. Just cut holes the size of the pots so the collar of a pot rests over a hole. Have holes far enough apart so plants do not hit each other. I have used this many times and with no tip-overs.

—MRS. R.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband drinks a lot. I don't know for sure if he is an alcoholic, but he gets drunk right after work every Friday and stays drunk all weekend.

We have two children and I don't know how much longer I can keep it from them. I send them to my sister's or to a friend for weekends and tell them Daddy is "sick." I keep telling one lie after another to cover up for him.

Please tell me how to handle this. My sister says I am making a mistake to try to fool the children, but I just can't tell them the truth or they'll lose all respect for their father.

Also, how do you force a person to go to an Alcoholics Anonymous meeting when he says he is not an alcoholic?

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You can't. But you can go to Alanon for spouses of alcoholics and learn to cope with an alcoholic mate. Your sister is right. Children cannot and should not be protected from the realities of life. Eventually they will learn the truth. By continuing to cover up for your husband, you are supporting him emotionally in his refusal to admit to himself that he has a serious drinking problem which he must face and do something about. The longer you lie for him, the longer he will lie to himself.

DEAR ABBY: How in the world does a mother get her daughter to stand up straight? I have a 15-year-old daughter who is considered a very pretty girl, but her posture is terrible. I remind her a hundred times a day to stand straight, but the next time I look at her she is stooped shouldered again. And she sits all hunched over with one leg curled under her.

She tells me maybe if I quit nagging her she will improve, but how can that happen if she slouches from habit already? I'm afraid if she doesn't correct her posture pretty soon she will look like a shriveled up old lady. And suggestions?

NAGGING MOTHER

DEAR NAGGING: Quit nagging. Obviously it hasn't helped when someone she is eager to impress (like a male type) remarks on her slovenly posture, she'll shape up as though she's never been corrected before.

DEAR ABBY: We have raised four healthy children. Now we have a grandson who is a year old and we have never been asked to baby-sit with him—not once! In fact, I have never even been allowed to change his diaper.

I am not a registered nurse, but I know how to take care of a baby. My daughter-in-law's mother is a nurse and she is asked to baby-sit all the time.

We don't even feel like grandparents.

HURT & HEARTBROKEN IN SPRINGFIELD

DEAR H and H: Perhaps your daughter-in-law doesn't know that you would like to baby-sit with your grandson. Why don't you tell her? If after that she still doesn't call on you, you may have reason to feel hurt.

Factors Vary To Create Beautiful, Liveable Homes

NEW YORK (UPI)—There are as many ways to make home appealing as there are women to tell how to accomplish the feat.

When the women are wealthy and in many cases famous their viewpoints can help every woman who ever longed for a house that has the sum total of all she desires in surroundings for herself and family.

To Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, mother of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, a home should look uncluttered. "Taste, color and knowledge" are the factors paramount in making a home beautiful, she says.

To actress Dina Merrill, part of making a home lovely is to "personalize it" with "things"—hobbies, photographs, your own flower arrangements and "lots of loving care."

Mrs. George Plimpton believes the necessities are "imagination, a strong color sense and a do-it-yourself ability."

To Mrs. Samuel C. Johnson, of Racine, Wis., wife of the president of the Johnson Wax Co., the beautiful home expresses "individual interests—hobbies, collections—and family possessions handed down from generation to generation."

Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, of New York, holds that flowers and tasteful art make or break a decorating scheme. Her townhouse in New York always is filled with fresh flowers and her collection of impressionist art is famed. "But I don't believe there should be more than two colors to a room," says Mrs. Lasker. "Color is so important. Even a pencil the wrong color can throw a room off."

Mrs. Lasker, whose role in health philanthropies is almost legendary, is chairman this year and next of the annual Burlington House Awards. The awards go to homes in several categories each year, with tries submitted by women's home furnishings editors of newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations. The newest homes cited for good taste and imaginative decorating will be announced at the semi-annual home furnishings show in Chicago in January.

All of the women agreeing to serve on the judges' panels are prominent socially, all active in community projects, most run more than one home. It was while they were screening entries, studying photographs of house interiors and exteriors, commenting on unusual ideas that UPI asked the women as they gathered at Burlington's New York headquarters to answer a questionnaire on factors paramount in making a home beautiful. Signing the questionnaire was optional.

STARTLING COWS

CLEVELAND, England (UPI)—Cows startled two foxhounds chasing a fox Thursday and caused chaos on a major highway. Authorities said the cows frightened the dogs who ran onto the roadway, causing motorists to swerve and brake to a halt. One dog was injured slightly when hit by a car. The fox got away.

Virginia J. Wiens

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Wiens, 1921 N. Wells, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Virginia J. Wiens, to Stephen Ray Dewey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenard I. Miss Wiens is a 1966 graduate of Pampa High School and a 1970 graduate of West Texas State University where she received a B.S. Degree. She teaches second grade at Stephen F. Austin Elementary School. Her fiance is a 1966 graduate of Borger High School, attended WTSU, and is serving aboard the U.S.S. Oriskany with the United States Navy Pacific Fleet. He is a past member of the cast of "Texas" and WTSU Chorale.

Conclave Sponsors KKI Initiation

An acceptance dinner and initiation of new members was held recently by the Alpha Iota Conclave of the Kappa Kappa Iota. Mrs. Sam Hanks and Mrs. John Best, hostesses, presented guests with name tags shaped as lamps of learning, a symbol of the sorority.

Kappa Kappa Iota colors of purple and gold were carried out in the center piece of gold, chrysanthemums flanked by purple candles.

Mrs. Bill Davis, president, assisted by Mmes. Joe Duncan, Gary Kastor, Jerry Peurifoy, and John Best initiated the new members, Mmes. Jay Boettner, Claude Givhan, Bilj Hite, David Robertson, R. V. Powell, and James Thompson.

Other members present were Miss Phyllis Gerdson, Mmes. Frank Anderson, Melvin Carlwell, Albert Drinovsky, Ernest Hawkins, John Rosenberg, Jack Williams, and Dennis Wyatt.

Holiday Glamour Comes In Crochet

By JUDY LOVE

Fashion is going to every length this season, but there's one look everybody agrees upon—the lovely, ladylike look of a long skirt for evening. Here's a real beauty that's easy to crochet in a simple treble stitch.

You can easily have this made to wear throughout the holidays. Start at the top edge, below the waistband, and work to easy pattern stitch until total length is 38 inches. The graceful long skirt has a self waistband, faced with grosgrain. If you wish, line the entire skirt, or simply wear a long petticoat. (They're easy to find these days.)

Wear this handsome hostess skirt with a sleek jersey blouse, a clinging sweater or a soft shirt. For a final fashion touch, add one of those good-looking wide belts in either soft suede or leather.

Directions call for 16 to 22 ounces of sports yarn, which means you can crochet this handsome party skirt for under $10. If you bought a hand-crocheted skirt in a boutique, it could cost as much as $100 or more. So put your talents to work, and be the loveliest hostess this holiday season.

previously because this avoid gathering and looking full. Add enough rows to achieve the length you want, still using the smaller needle even for the turning row, then change back to the regular-size needle called for in the instructions used in each part of the garment.

Extra Care Needed For Mother-To-Be

NEW YORK (NEA)—While pregnancy is the happy prelude to the biggest event in a woman's life, it can also be a dangerously careless weight-gaining nine months. Although this period can be awkward, you needn't feel ungainly or uncomfortable or that you're getting in your own way. This can be a healthy, happy and beautiful time for you if children especially want you to look your prettiest and well-groomed while you all play the waiting game. According to the chief of obstetrics at Roosevelt Hospital in New York City, the most important thing to watch is your weight for medical as well as cosmetic reasons. Watch your intake of starches and sugar and keep your weight gain down to between 15 and 20 pounds.

TO STAY BEAUTIFULLY WHOLESOME while you play the lady-in-waiting game continue to eat sensibly, exercise daily and continue proper care of your skin. Fresh fruit is far less dangerous than a piece of pie or candy and with the proper style maternity clothes you can camouflage the new shape you're in. For a while, anyway.

Between The Lines Of School Reports

By BETTY CANARY
By this time most schools have sent out their first progress reports of the year. Experience shows that what a teacher says and what she means often aren't the same. As a public service for those parents receiving reports for the first time, we offer the following translations:
"Masters assigned work and completes it independently," means: I wish this school still advanced kids like him into the next class.
"Is alert and shows interest in work," means: He'd get all "As" if he'd try to read instead of teaching everybody else how to tie shoes.
"Completes a minimum of assigned work," means: This kid spends more time in the washroom than I can believe!
"Demonstrates leadership to marked degree," means: Your son is the first student I've ever seen who always gets at the head at lunch time. He always gets the kickball at recess, too.
"Works well with some assistance from others," means: He was with two other kids when he dumped over the plaster-of-paris box.
"Works well without assistance," means: He was alone when he broke the paste jug.
"Works well under normal conditions and directions," means: He stopped when I told him he'd be sent home if he ever rolled the piano into the girls' playhouse again.
"Is learning to listen carefully," means: I told him, ONE MORE TIME in that supply closet and he goes to the principal's office.
"Does written work neatly and quietly," means: Now if only I can get him to stop belching like that when we're having Reading Group.

you make it so. However, it will take a little extra care. In most cases, during pregnancy your body is in good condition because of the special medical care you're getting. Nature helps by pouring out a plentiful supply of beauty-giving hormones. But, in addition, you must do your part by watching your weight, giving special consideration to your complexion, hair and make-up and by getting lots of rest. It should be obvious that at this particular time you need all the extra attention you can give yourself. Unfortunately, many women think that because they are out of shape they look unattractive anyway, so why bother? But your husband and Be discriminating about fattening foods but especially in the first three months. That's when you gain the quickest. That old chestnut about eating for two should no longer be taken seriously unless, of course, you desire to wind up as two of you after the birth of your baby. Your waist will be the first of your figure to go. But don't stop exercising. Ask your doctor for a mild exercise. You've got to remain physically active and walking is a good way to do it. When you rest after a brisk walk, be sure to get your feet up to prevent unsightly varicose veins.

WEARABLE AUTUMN OUTFIT

Vinyl Floors Catch Eyes Seeking Home Decoration

BS WP SUN 3-36 Vinyl Floors NEW YORK (NEA)—Manmade materials to dress up the floor have come a long way since the days of printed linoleum. What in the name of Andy Warhol, current campus agitators may ask, is linoleum? In the days of Bonnie and Clyde it was a floor covering made of burlap or canvas backing topped with a mixture of linseed oil with gums, cork dust or wood flour or both. And it covered thousands upon thousands of square feet in homes criss-crossing the United States. Linoleum is still a part of the floor coverings business and it has grown up along with many expensive and sophisticated techniques that utilize synthetics. Especially important now is the range of designs and colors worked in today's super-synthetic—vinyl. A designer who has won 60 AND GROWING LESS SABLES DOLONNE, France (UPI)—Edmond Durand, 60, said Thursday doctors have told him he is still growing despite his age. Durand, who is 7 foot 1 inch tall, said he began growing again at the age of 36 and physicians said he will probably continue growing until he dies.

awards for utilizing vinyl is particularly pleased with what he can do with texturing the material. According to Yale Forman, "Floors should simplify the problem of decorating around them. They should be basic, well-styled and to me this means—the materials have subtle colors and texture." Forman believes we live in "an eye appeal-oriented world. Nothing can be styled too well for today's style-conscious woman consumer." For this reason he offers comments on flooring for children's rooms, living rooms and foyers. Forman points out that, "A child's room takes good deal of below) takes a good deal of punishment and for this reason I would favor a moppable floor in bright colors. A random cliffstone pattern, for example, eases mother's cleaning job." Those who like the warmth of a wood floor in a library, living room or den setting might try Forman's tip to use a parquet in vinyl. Parquets come in many tones such as an oak or chestnut woodgrain or even a wood-planking with pegs. He recommends such a parquet for a sensible, easy-to-clean floor and likes to top it with an area rug that picks up an accent color. In his talking tour of the home via floor coverings, Forman stresses that many overlook one of the most important areas of the home when decorating. This is the foyer or entry hall. "A dramatic hall sets the whole feel of your home and apartment. It is, after all, the first area a visitor sees." Many people like special designs for the foyer but Forman is fond of a black and white vinyl tile pattern which he considers very basic but dramatic.

Old Timers' Awards For Tulsa Oil Show

Special award ceremonies to honor the pioneers of the oil and gas industry will be held at the International Petroleum Exposition, May 15-23, 1971 in Tulsa, Okla., according to W. J. Sherry, Old Timers Committee Chairman.

This will be the thirteenth time for such awards first offered in 1927 when John D. Rockefeller, Sr. furnished the medals.

The "Old Timers" committee of the International Petroleum Exposition has set the divisions in which "Grand Old Man" awards will be given. They are:

Crazy World Of Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The contest for control of the Senate involves more than just the management of the Nixon legislative program on one side of the Capitol. Control also carries the power to undertake or head off congressional investigations — which can be potent political weapons to damage the occupant of the White House.

In their drive to curbing domination of the Senate, Democrats are well aware that they may want to use this congressional power during the second half of President Nixon's term.

Putting an investigation together usually requires staff examination of tips alleging wrongdoing or mismanagement, an eager committee chairman and encouragement from his party leaders in the Senate.

The House, too, has grabbed public attention with investigations, but Senate committees usually have overshadowed their House counterparts. Senators generally are better known and better able to command national publicity.

Senate committees also have opened hearings to photographers and television news cameras whenever a majority of the committee so voted. The House finally adopted the same rule just before Congress adjourned this month.

Recent congressional investigations have not produced any spectacular shows. Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings on Vietnam were well publicized but were not the traditional investigation because they did not involve subpoenaed witnesses, sworn testimony or the threat of contempt citations to punish balking witnesses.

A House investigation with political repercussions led to the resignation in 1958 of Sherman Adams, then President Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief deputy in the White House. While denying that he had done anything wrong in accepting favors from Boston millionaire Bernard Goldfine who was in trouble with government agencies, Adams said he was quitting to avoid hurting the administration and Republicans running for office that year.

Republican pressure for Adams' resignation intensified after the defeat of Sen. Frederick G. Payne, who had accepted favors from the same Boston businessman, in Maine's last election two months ahead of those in other states. Payne lost to a relatively obscure Democrat, Edmund S. Muskie, now the front-running prospect for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

Another House investigation with political reverberations sent Alger Hiss, a former State Department official, to prison for perjury for denying participation in Communist activities.

This Week In Review

United Press International — Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte was found slain by his kidnapers in the back of a stolen car — beginning a week which brought political terrorism to Canada.

Almost 400 persons were summarily arrested and detained by the Quebec government acting under provision of the emergency War Measures Act, which allows arrests and detention for up to three weeks without charge during time of national crisis. By week's end, about 100 had been released.

The week dragged on with no further word from British diplomat James R. Cross, kidnaped by another cell of the Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ) on Oct. 5. The last communication was a handwritten note from Cross received Sunday — the day Laporte's body was found — indicating Cross feared for his life unless the manhunt for him was called off.

The FLQ continued to demand the release of 23 political prisoners, among other demands, and the Quebec government steadfastly held to its offer of free transportation to Cuba for the kidnapers, nothing more.

As the week closed, police, government officials and Canadians across the country grew more worried about the life of the British trade diplomat.

SANTIAGO—Chile declared a state of national emergency and its capital city was put under marshal law Thursday after Gen. Rene Schneider Chereau, commander in chief of the Chilean army, was seriously wounded by gunmen in an attempted political assassination just two days before the Chilean congress was to meet to confirm the election of Marxist Dr. Salvador Allende as the country's next president.

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. — Dr. Victor M. Ohta, millionaire eye surgeon, his wife, two sons and his secretary were bound, shot in the back and dumped in the sculptured pool behind Ohta's $300,000 hilltop home, which was set afire. Police were looking for several youths in connection with the mass murders. A 24-year old man was arrested Friday.

WASHINGTON — President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko conferred for more than two hours Thursday at the White House on such topics as the Middle East, Indochina and Berlin. Both later said the talks — the longest Nixon has had with any Soviet official since he took office 21 months ago — were positive, but details were not released.

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Results Of De-Population

There is some evidence of good in the currently touted de-population explosion. The much voiced phrase, of course, is "population explosion." But in the United States, at least, census projections do not indicate explosion of births, but a decline.

U.S. News & World Report says the prediction for a date of "no growth" will not happen until 2037, but already births have cut back from 4.3 million in 1957 to 3.6 million in 1969.

Families will have to adjust if the one-replace-one formula becomes anywhere near a reality. There will be smaller homes, new market patterns to supply the less numerous buyers, probably more demand for luxury and recreational items.

The food industry can trade about 65 per cent of the growth in markets in the last decade to population increases, only 35 per cent to changing tastes and new products," according to the U.S. News article. The industry will have to find ways to adjust.

One way to sample the future is to look at communities already experiencing de-population. The weekly magazine cited Iowa as a place to look. "The population in this State all but stopped rising in the last decade. The gain was only 1.2 per cent..." More than that, the state's governor, Robert Ray, boasts "that you can have a stable population, but still expand economically and culturally."

Here are some of the effects of the downward trend in Iowa: personal income has risen 86 per cent in 10 years; people in nursing and custodial homes have tripled; consolidation of local government operations is underway and voters have turned down bond issues for new libraries, municipal offices and swimming pools; more working in factories than in farming; a new trend for Iowa; the number of public school districts was cut, which state officials say has resulted in improved educational levels and less cost in teachers' salaries.

For whatever worth the de-population theory may have it is better for it to succeed or fail without government intervention. At this point, it is still an I'd-rather-do-it-myself program. Individual education and individual action is the way of freedom.

At The School Door

All the country's youngsters have had time to get settled down to routine school again and to be as comfortable with it as possible until next June.

The teachers also have their bearings and have established their principles and their patterns.

So have the parents, who have already been to a PTA meeting, or soon will go to one renewing association with teachers they know and meeting the ones they don't know.

It all seems like a bright way for the three groups to use and enjoy the autumn, and a cozy way to weather the winter before spring's bursting forth.

But there does sometimes seem to be an unpleasant, jarring note when parents and teachers get together with the subject of a youngster in between.

The poor parent, struggling to keep abreast and to understand, sometimes gets the feeling that he's not going to be able to make it.

"Oh, no," mom or pop is informed patiently. "It's not done that way any more."

Or, "You wouldn't believe how much things have changed since you and I were in school."

Or, "The children nowadays are different; they can't be treated the way they used to be."

First impression a hapless parent is likely to get is that he or she is being informed as tactfully as possible that the years are going by, too many of them having passed already.

Some believe that there is no progress and that is why people are leaving. On the other hand, a returned Iowan thought "the lack of congestion and crime and the relatively low taxes make this (Minilla, Iowa), a good place in which to live."

Perhaps the apparent de-population-caused decrease in crime is the happiest effect of all. "A stable population, with fewer youths, is credited with helping keep the peace in Iowa." Figures showed 1.7 murders per 100,000 people as against 6.8 per cent for the whole nation, which brings to mind an indelibly etched memory of a crime in a small midwestern town. A neighbor had been assaulted and left screaming in terror. When the police within a short time apprehended the criminal, they were congratulated for their effort, but replied that it was easy because "we know everyone in town and know just which ones might be suspected of such a crime."

A young woman student, a fire to convert every adult and those approaching adulthood to the one-replace-one view, expressed to us with strong feeling that she would "drop" any of her friends who had a third child, with all their educating and indoctrinating for a depopulated world, we hope that the young missionaries are looking beyond the shedding of possibly dragging responsibilities and are mindful of a varied economic and social adjustments which are bound to result.

Federal analysts, the article reported, have been weighing pros and cons and "are divided on what steps, if any, the government should take to help."

You remember the big stink that went up because the cigarette companies were puffing out commercials hot and heavy. The FCC insisted the broadcasters had to give equal time to anti-cigarette commercials under its "fairness doctrine."

Well, the FCC got their wish. Others were not satisfied with this though, so they passed a law to ban all tobacco advertising as of Jan. 2, 1971. Now that the ads are to disappear wouldn't you think that the "fairness doctrine" should apply and the anti-smoking ads be stopped too?

Not so, says the FCC. The broadcasters can now carry only one side of the issue. It's alright as long as it is the FCC's side. They don't have to be fair. Henry Geller who is counsel for the FCC says that the subject now is no longer "controversial" and he is sure that a licensee (broadcaster) can reach a judgment that he should present the antismoking side under a "public interest standard."

Geller says it won't put the broadcaster's license in jeopardy but that they could not bring an abrupt halt to antismoking announcements the same day the cig commercials ended. Why not?

Legally, that is as far as the media was required to go. But, you know, fair is fair, except with the FCC. Don't do as the law requires, do as they say. Heavy, heavy hangs over thy broadcasting head. Phooey!

So for the price of a normal bus ticket, passengers in Munich can now travel in taxis during certain hours of the night as far as the bus would otherwise have taken them. If the experiment proves that the system is practical, hired taxis will eventually be stationed at the terminals of all night streetcar and bus services. Should there be too many passengers for a single taxi, another one would be called by radio.

The city of Hamburg, which has similar problems, is considering issuing to holders of season bus tickets tokens that could be used for part payment of taxi fares.

H. L. Hunt Writes

COMMUNIST REPLY
The communist reaction to President Nixon's proposal for a cease fire in Indo-China held true to form. In a word, Moscow and Hanoi called it "fraud." The head of the North Vietnamese delegation in Paris, said Washington was calling for legalized "aggression."

Actually, the reaction we got from the deceitful world of communism is the fraudulent element of the entire equation of war-peace in Southeast Asia. This nation has made a legitimate proposal for stopping hostilities and freeing all prisoners of war as a prelude to meaningful negotiations to restore peace in troubled Indo-China. Since we abandoned our efforts to win a decisive military victory, national policy could only dictate one solution and that is a negotiated settlement.

But President Nixon may find, as President Johnson did, that the communists are enigmatic and cold blooded in international deals. Their determined efforts at world domination dictate such a policy. They recognize strength. That's about all.

If nothing, decisive comes from the proposal, it may, at least, bring to our side neutral opinion around the world. It is doubtful that the ultra-liberal element in this country will place any credence in the administration's bid, but apparently there are many in that camp who would be satisfied with nothing short of a peace dictated by Hanoi.

It has become obvious that force of arms will not prevail in the war-plagued areas of Southeast Asia. Common sense dictates that all parties concerned join in a concerted peace effort. It isn't too late for the communists to modify their stand.

Henry Geller who is counsel for the FCC says that the subject now is no longer "controversial" and he is sure that a licensee (broadcaster) can reach a judgment that he should present the antismoking side under a "public interest standard."

Geller says it won't put the broadcaster's license in jeopardy but that they could not bring an abrupt halt to antismoking announcements the same day the cig commercials ended. Why not?

Legally, that is as far as the media was required to go. But, you know, fair is fair, except with the FCC. Don't do as the law requires, do as they say. Heavy, heavy hangs over thy broadcasting head. Phooey!

So for the price of a normal bus ticket, passengers in Munich can now travel in taxis during certain hours of the night as far as the bus would otherwise have taken them. If the experiment proves that the system is practical, hired taxis will eventually be stationed at the terminals of all night streetcar and bus services. Should there be too many passengers for a single taxi, another one would be called by radio.

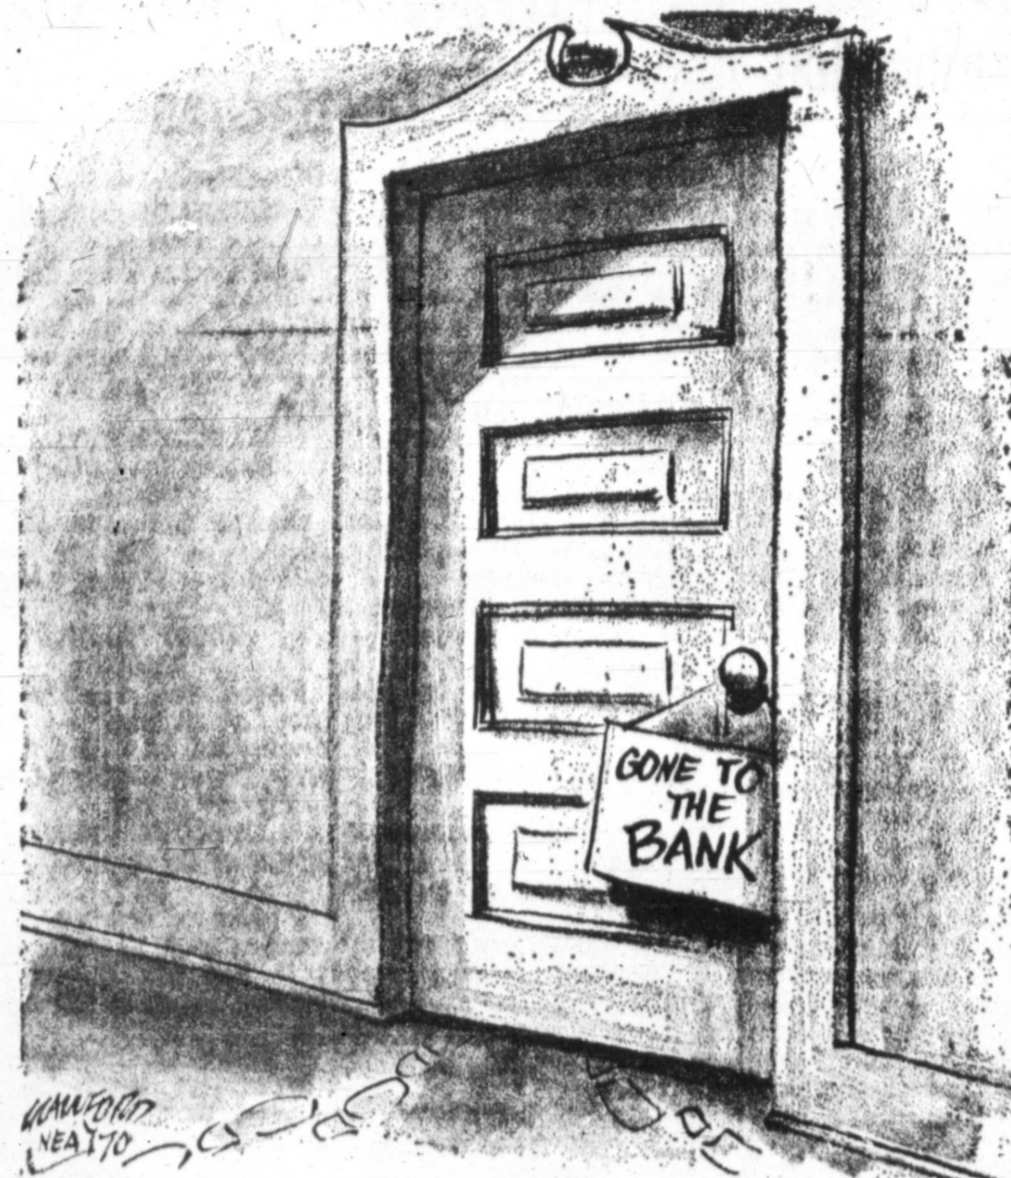

The city of Hamburg, which has similar problems, is considering issuing to holders of season bus tickets tokens that could be used for part payment of taxi fares.

ONLY SEVEN more shopping days before that Nov. 3 election. Right now you can get predictions and guesses on who's going to win over whom from just about any self-appointed political observer. Personally, prognosticating in the political area is not exactly one of our many talents. We quit that way back there after losing a pile by taking Tom Dewey over Harry Truman.

The only encouraging thing about that was the fact that Dewey "won" the election in the Eastern papers in early morning of the day after the election. We had the pleasure of "winning" along with him until the late, late returns came in from the West Coast later that morning.

That probably was one of the biggest letdowns for a lot of people, especially Republicans, in American political history.

GETTING BACK on the local track, the politicians have been coming and going in the Panhandle and all over Texas for the last couple of weeks and there is expected to be no letup in this final week of the campaign. Eggers, Barnes, Bush, Bentsen, Abraham, Sherman and many candidates for lesser spots have been scamping around the Panhandle fast and furiously for the past couple of weeks. Most of them have been in Pampa.

Coming to town Tuesday will be Gov. Preston Smith in person. Smith will be invading Republican territory in the hope of putting down some of that talk about the split in his own party that is likely to cause many Democrats to do the switcheroo to Paul Eggers, his Republican opponent.

There are those who say if that happens on a large scale it might hurt Ben Barnes and Lloyd Bentsen because of what is sometimes called a "coat-tail" vote. Now, if you want our opinion on whether it's going to happen, forget it. Taking our word on the outcome of a political race would be like betting on the Dallas Cowboys to beat the Minnesota Vikings on a Sunday afternoon in October. The odds would be 50 to 13 against you.

NOW THAT the civic auditorium bond issue is out of the way and the light has switched to green on selling the bonds and starting construction, there are some complaints about preliminary plans for the auditorium stage.

There are those who say that a stage 56 feet wide and 36 feet deep is not adequate to handle large ballet and dance companies, vocal choruses and symphony orchestras without crowding.

Reports were that a stage of that size would compare with the stage in the Amarillo Civic Auditorium which is 56 feet wide and 40 feet deep.

Now, the word comes that Amarillo made a mistake and Pampa should not make the same one.

In addition, there is also complaint that preliminary plans do not call for dressing rooms large enough to handle big attractions.

Smoke Cigarettes

And Suffer

Dear Doctor—I've heard that isometric exercises are good for you. What are isometric exercises? Are they good for the heart?

Dear Reader—Isometric exercises are those that involve tensing a muscle without moving it. As an example, hold out your arm and tense all the muscles in the arm and hand, making the arm and hand rigid. This form of tensing is an isometric exercise. The opposing muscles work or contract against each other. If the muscle moves, like in running, push-ups or any exercise causing lengthening or shortening of the muscle, it is NOT isometric. Isometric exercises firm up the muscles and increase their strength. It is doubtful that they help the heart and circulation in the way walking, jogging or active exercises do.

Cigarettes are high on the list of our "civilized" habits associated with poor health. Cigarette consumption in the United States increased parallel to the rise in heart and vascular disease. Fatty deposits in the arteries and cigarettes were both rare before 1900. Only 4 billion cigarettes were manufactured in 1900 while the current level is 580 billion annually, or 145 times as many.

Cigarette smoking is a fairly recently acquired habit. Cigars, pipes, chewing tobacco and snuff used to be the major form of tobacco consumption.

You may associate cigarette smoking with lung cancer. But that is just the tip of the iceberg. They are implicated in a host of other diseases. The U. S. Department of Public Health points out that there are a million more people with chronic lung disease than there would be if everyone had the same rate observed in non-smokers.

If you are a heavy smoker your chances of dropping dead or having a heart attack are increased about three times over the likelihood in non-smokers.

There is a relationship between peptic ulcers and cigarette smoking. There are over a million more people with peptic ulcers each year than would occur at rates observed in non-smokers. The more cigarettes you smoke the greater likelihood you will have a peptic ulcer. Even if you escape an actual ulcer you may develop a lot of trouble with your stomach that is akin to the difficulties associated with ulcers.

If you want to live a short life, cigarettes will help. A 25-year-old man who smokes two packs a day, on the average, will live eight years less than a comparable non-smoker. The more cigarettes you smoke the greater your likelihood of an early death.

Cigarette smoking has decreased in both American men and women. Over 70 per cent of all men used to smoke. Now only 51 per cent smoke. Women cigarette smokers have decreased from 40 per cent to 34 per cent.

Election Polls—How To Tell Reliability

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON—With political campaigning at its peak and congressional elections less than two weeks away, the season of the pollsters is fully upon us.

Now each political claim is buttressed by at least one poll. More often than not, at this stage of the game, new polls are being compared with old polls, and the results are being examined for new portents.

Some of the "polls" are simply straw votes — a collection of views gathered at random—and sometimes they have a history of reliability. Some of the polls are meticulously conducted, in a carefully selected voter sample, to minimize the chance of error.

In this final phase of an election campaign it is often true that the race itself — the candidates, the positions expressed by the candidates and the neighborhoods in which they are appearing have already been determined, to a large degree, by polling.

For example, it has been rather widely reported that Arthur J. Goldberg, the former Supreme Court justice, would not have been nominated as the Democratic candidate for governor of New York, if an early poll last winter had not shown him running well ahead of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller at that time.

At its climax, the season of the pollster can be pretty confusing. Here are some tests which can be applied to published polls and to candidate claims of political polling successes. The questions were recently circulated by Opinion Research Corp., one of the old polling organizations:

—Who was polled? Did they represent all eligible adults, or just those who plan to vote? Just Democrats? Just Democrats' voters in key areas?

—It is particularly important," says Opinion Research, "to know just who was interviewed when comparing the results of two or more polls. What may appear at first to be differences in the strength of a candidate may only reflect the fact that different kinds of people were interviewed."

—How many people were interviewed? All polls have some error due to sampling. That error can be reduced by a largenumbers of interviews, but large numbers do not guarantee accurate results.

The five per cent error (plus or minus) which pollsters estimate in interviewing 500 carefully selected individuals is reduced by only one percentage point, to four per cent, by doubling the number of selected interviews to 1,000.

—When did the polling take place? Occasionally an interval of a few weeks between polling and publishing can make data with respect to opinions about a candidate obsolete.

—How were the people selected for polling? The professional pollsters say the people polled should be selected in accordance with a probability sampling so that the sample polled will reflect the mathematical probability of the total electorate involved.

Opinion Research says, "Any method of selection that allows the interviewer to choose who will or will not be interviewed could bias the results. Polls quoted in the news media do not always cite the sampling method used, yet this is critical in evaluating the poll."

—How was the polling conducted? Telephone polls exclude people who do not have telephones. Questionnaires submitted by mail may not be returned, and the sampling method will then be impaired.

—How were questions worked? Opinion Research says this is another important factor when results of two or more polls are compared. Small differences can cause significant changes in polling results. For example, if a candidate is identified as a Republican or Democrat in one poll and not in another, different results are to be expected.

—Examine the question wording carefully," says OKINION research, "to see that it contains no emotionally charged words, and does not in any way lead the respondent toward a particular answer."

—Were special statistical techniques employed? For example, how was the undecided vote handled? Was it recorded as such, split evenly among the candidates, weighted in accordance with those who expressed a preference?

Opinion Research says it is also good to know who conducted a poll and cautions that data released without such a source should be "viewed with suspicion."

"Be alert," says the polling organization, "to the difference between an objective presentation of poll findings and the particular interpretation that may be placed on the findings by those who release them."

Student Campaign Impact

By PAUL HARVEY
Two million students ringing doorbells for political candidates could decide some races.

The newest Harris Survey indicates their impact may be significant.

How significant? Last May a survey of students showed 53 per cent wanted time out from school for political campaigning. This month, 63 per cent.

May they irritate more voters than they will persuade? Among older voters, 38 per cent say they will welcome a visit by the young campaigners; 54 per cent doubt that they will be influenced by such a visit.

Nonetheless, persuasive students could decide some close races. In a normal off-year election there are fewer than 50,000 volunteer workers; this election there will be that additional two million.

There is a question about the tax-exempt status of schools which allow time off for campaigning, but many are willing to gamble with that possibility in the interests of encouraging this involvement.

In which direction will these young people lead? Pollster Louis Harris affirms that young people, generally favor change. Many have expressed themselves in favor of accelerating social evolution, accelerating withdrawal from Vietnam, accelerating — change.

sweeping renunciation of campus demonstrations and demonstrators has quite properly been narrowed to specific targets.

Similarly, student campaigners, seeking to influence the electorate, are dressing conservatively, avoiding a braisive rhetoric, keeping campuses comparatively cool.

The idealism, characteristic of youth, is manifest in their concern for preservation of our environment. If they did not have this election-year outlet for some of that righteous wrath, I fear they would by now be picketing or bombing some of our more flagrant and in-different pollsters.

I was realizing the other day that I, at 50, have lived through one-fourth of my country's history.

Yet however young our Republic appears to be, it has been a model of stability. It has endured longer than any other government ever has.

It has endured largely, I believe, because of the built-in safety-valve which allows us to blow off superfluous steam — relieve internal pressures — every couple of years. And I welcome the participation of younger Americans in the elective process.

Whether you and I and they are on the same wave length on all issues is less important than the fact that we shaped our country to suit ourselves; now it's their turn.

They are discovering, as Sir Winston Churchill did, that "Democracy is the world's worst form of government — except all those other forms that have been tried from time to time."
