On Trouble-Shooting Mission

Dag To Leave For Mid-East

By RALPH TEATNORTH
United Press Staff Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS (UP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld leaves tonight on a trouble shooting mission he hopes will ease the growing tension in the Middle East.

His visit will take him to Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Israel, and he is to decide in talks today with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi whether he will visit Egypt.

Hammarskjöld agreed to make the trip at the request of Jordan, which accused Israel of kidnapping a "Jordanian" farmer and of carrying out other border incidents.

These developments were reported from the Middle East as the secretary general moved into a last minute round of conferences.

Another flareup reported DAMASCUS: A Syrian military spokesman said Israeli troops opened fire on Syrian positions and a 30-minute exchange of automatic fire resulted. No casualties were reported. Israel complained to the U.N. against new Israeli "aggression" and called this "preparation for committing further anti-Syrian premeditated aggression."

JERUSALEM, Israel: An Israeli spokesman said six Syrian soldiers entered Israel near Eilat, attacked two workers and fled when the workers returned the fire. Another Israeli worker was reported wounded Thursday when he stepped on a mine near the Jordan border.

CAIRO: The semi-official Middle East News Agency reported that Egyptian army and air force units held combined desert maneuvers Thursday.

Burns Talks With Press
UNITED NATIONS: Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, head of the U.N. Emergency Force, told a news conference today the force would be strengthened if Israel obeyed a U.N. directive and permitted UNEF to station men on both sides of the Israel-Egyptian line.

Hammarskjöld was flying first to Beirut, Lebanon, arriving at 9:40 p.m. Saturday, Lebanon time (2:10 p.m. e.s.t.)

Cold Weather Returns To Pampa Area

Pampa High School graduates and exes were met with a traditional Pampa winter weather greeting today as they came back for the Annual Homecoming.

"With a cold front that moved in early this morning, came sleet, snow, an overcast sky and a strong northerly wind. Around 9:30 this morning, snow and sleet fell only to be blown away by the strong north wind which is preceding another low front.

Light snow pelted Amarillo today as a cold front moved rapidly across Texas.

Forecasters warned fishermen that the approaching cold front will raise dangerous winds on lakes in West and North Central Texas.

They predicted winds over 25 miles an hour on Lakes Belton, Benbrook, Garza, Little Elm, Grapevine, Lavon, San Angelo and Whitney and winds over 30 miles an hour on Lake Texoma. Wind warnings were ordered up on all the lakes.

The weather bureau at 8 a.m. said the front was along a line from Ardmore, Okla., to Mineral Wells and will continue moving rapidly across the state.

Cloudiness was reported along the coast but skies were clear over most of Texas.

The outlook is for partly cloudy, windy and cold weather to overpread all of the state during the next 24 to 36 hours.

The cold front was caused by a massive high pressure area in the Midwest, and the weather bureau indicated real winter weather was ahead.

Minimum temperatures this morning ranged from 31 at Presidio to 51 at Galveston and Corpus Christi.

Santa Claus will arrive in Pampa Tuesday, Dec. 3, in order to launch the annual Santa Day Parade which will begin at 3:30 p.m. He, along with "Aunt Jemima," seven bands, floats, etc., will form in a parade under the direction of Bill Leonard, parade marshal and Warrant Officer of the Local National Guard Unit, at the intersection of Craven and S. Cuyler.

All bands will form on E. Craven with business and commercial entries on W. Craven in order to prevent a mix-up in positions of the parade. All entries and bands should be at their positions by 3 p.m. according to Leonard.

Bands from Letors, White Deer, Shamrock and McLean will be on hand along with three bands from Pampa schools.

Invitations have been issued by the Merchants Activities Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce to all business and professional concerns to enter the parade activities. The only restrictions placed on entries are that they must in some way relate to Christmas and they must not portray a Santa Claus.

Prizes will be awarded to the three best floats.

Free show tickets will be given to all band members to attend shows Dec. 3 through Dec. 10, the only charge being a 10 cent service charge. Paul West, manager of the Pampa Theatres, is co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce in making this possible.

The parade will proceed up Cuyler, around the Junior High School, down Frost, going south, and west on Foster, and back south to Atchison where the parade will break up.

The Pampa Junior High band will "fall out" at the Court House to play a concert of Christmas music while candy-filled stockings will be handed out to children, under the direction of Ed Anderson.

Homecoming Scheduled At PHS Today

Pampa High School exes were to gather at the school today beginning at 3 p.m. for the Annual Homecoming of Pampa High School.

The registration will be held in the front entrance hall with graduates registering and "getting together" in designated rooms for class reunions and refreshments.

Those who have tickets for the buffet style dinner will meet in the cafeteria at 6 p.m. for the meal before retiring to the auditorium at 7:30 p.m. for a brief assembly which will be highlighted by the naming and crowning of a Homecoming Queen from graduates of PHS.

Election of officers for the coming year will be held by the Alumni Association also in this meeting.

At 8 p.m., ex-Harvester basketball stars will have a game in the Harvester Field House with graduates of old years against those of even years.

Following the basketball game, a dance will be held by the Alumni Association in the girls' gymnasium starting at 9 p.m. The Mellow Airs will provide the dance music.

Some 2,000 students are expected to attend all or part of the homecoming events, according to Student Council representatives and officers of the Alumni Association.

John Schofield has been in charge of the Alumni committee planning the event with Marilyn Fite acting as chairman of the Student Council representatives.

Three other persons, one man and two women, were killed in the accident, which occurred at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. They were Mrs. J. B. Gibson, 742 E. Campbell; Miss Ann Johnson of Lindsey, Okla., a sister of Mrs. Shumake; and Harold O. Donham of Elk City, Okla.

Four children, also in the car with the three women, were injured. Listed in critical condition this morning in Wheeler Hospital were Angela Kay Gibson, 5, and her half-brother, David, also 5.

Angela suffered a brain hemorrhage and was to have undergone an operation today for the injury.

Mrs. Gibson's body has been taken to Chickasha, Okla., for funeral services and the bodies of Mrs. Shumake and Miss Johnson have been taken to Lindsey, Okla., for funeral services.

Services for Mr. Donham will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the First Assembly of God Church with Rev. E. A. Gourd of Seminole, Okla., and Rev. J. E. Neely, pastor of the local church, officiating.

Mr. Donham had lived in Pampa for 13 years before moving to Elk City, Okla., in 1940. He was a truck driver for the Shell Oil Co. He was born in Kansas in January of 1905 and was an Air Force veteran of WWII.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Verna Lou Donham of Elk City, Okla.; one daughter, Mrs. R. F. MacDonald, 426 Wynne; one son, Harold Jr. of Amarillo; three sisters, Mrs. Goldie Burkhardt of San Bernardino, Calif., Mrs. E. M. Stotts and Mrs. Lucille Culbertson, both of Wichita, Kans.; one brother.

SEATO May Add Members

By RAMON VILLASANTA
United Press Staff Correspondent
BAGUIO CITY, Philippines (UP)—The Southeast Asian Treaty Organization (SEATO) may invite Nationalist China, Japan and Malaya to join the defense alliance, it was reported here today.

A four-day SEATO conference on Communist subversion closed here on a note of optimism that the eight-nation defense alliance could smash Communist subversion or actual aggression in force in the treaty area.

It was learned that recommendations might be made to the member nations that Nationalist China, Japan and Malaya — and possibly the Republic of Korea — be invited to participate in the anti-Communist alliance.

The conference was backed by a declaration by U.S. Delegate Adm. Arthur Radford that the U.S. was ready to go to war if Soviet force against any nation with Russia committed aggression in force against any nation with which the U.S. had collective defense agreements.

The conference described Communist subversion through its intellectual, economic, psychological and cultural phases as more dangerous at the present time than open aggression in the classical sense.

Russians Say Sputniks Not Measuring Earth

By WHITMAN BASSOW
United Press Staff Correspondent
MOSCOW (UP)—The scientists in charge of Russia's Sputniks today dismissed speculation in the West that the first two earth satellites are making measurements of the earth as they crisscross its surface.

The Soviet experts said that instead their latest Sputnik is concentrating on the study of cosmic and solar radiation.

(Earth measurements from near space are considered an essential mission for Sputniks and a vital one. Long range missiles require such data for accurate aiming.)

Some details of the Sputniks' operations were disclosed in reply to a questionnaire submitted by United Press Oct. 26 on behalf of a group of astronomers in Cambridge, Mass.

Death Toll Climbs In Wheeler Wreck

The death toll in Wednesday's head-on collision two miles east of Wheeler on Highway 152 climbed today for the fourth year with the death of Mrs. Reba Shumake of Lindsey, Okla.

Three other persons, one man and two women, were killed in the accident, which occurred at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. They were Mrs. J. B. Gibson, 742 E. Campbell; Miss Ann Johnson of Lindsey, Okla., a sister of Mrs. Shumake; and Harold O. Donham of Elk City, Okla.

Firemen Repairing Toys For Santa

Members of the Pampa Fire Department began their duties as "Santa Claus helpers" today as they started work on rebuilding toys.

Each year the local firemen rebuild and repaint used toys so that children who would not otherwise receive toys at Christmas will obtain the enjoyment brought by receiving toys.

The firemen today asked local residents to bring used toys to the Central Fire Station. Several toys have been received but the firemen do not have enough at the present time to fill the needs in Pampa for Christmas, according to Paul Skidmore, captain.

Skidmore also stated that the firemen need small paint brushes, red and aluminum paint, sandpaper and masking tape. These items are needed in refinishing the metal of the Soviet IGY committee:

1. "Just what information is being telemetered down from the satellite, specifically (a) are you getting cosmic ray information; (b) are measurements of the earth being made; (c) are you measuring infra-red radiation; (d) are meteor impacts being recorded?"

Answer: "The first Sputnik only transmitted information on its internal perimeters. Temperature and pressure inside the container. The second Sputnik, in addition to this, recorded temperatures of the surface of the container, transmitted data on the intensity of shortwave radiation in various sectors of the solar spectrum (and) intensity of cosmic rays. This information was obtained by use of halogen meters."

On measuring infra-red radiation: "No."

On recording meteor impacts: "No answer."

Jaycees Set Ticket Campaign

A ticket drive for the Annual Pancake Supper sponsored by the Pampa Jaycees will begin at 7 p.m. Monday with Jaycee members soliciting all houses with porch lights left on. This will be the final big campaign for ticket sales by the club for this project.

The pancake supper will be held in the high school cafeteria on Tuesday, Dec. 3, beginning at 5:30 p.m. and continuing until there is a complete sellout of food, according to Kay Fancher, publicity chairman of the event.

"Aunt Jemima" and Santa Claus will be in the cafeteria to amuse the youngsters and grown-ups alike and to help eat the pancakes.

Local merchants and the Quaker Oats "Aunt Jemima" Company will furnish the necessary ingredients and trimmings for the supper, according to officials of the Jaycees.

Tickets are now on sale and can be obtained from any Jaycee member. Adults tickets at $1 each while children's tickets are 50 cents. Children under six will be admitted free of charge.

Woman Treks Miles To Fulfill Vow

ALVIN, Tex. (UP)—A 46-year-old Mexican mother, a devout Catholic, embarked on her third day today on a foot-weary trek to the Rio Grande Valley to fulfill a religious vow.

The woman, Mrs. Manuela R. Carreon, was bound on foot to the Mission de San Juan in South Texas to fulfill a promise she made both to her soul and the Virgin of San Juan.

She would walk from Galveston to San Juan, 387 miles away, if her son, Alfonso Carreon Jr., 27, was found innocent of a murder charge. He was freed in Judge William Stone's court at Galveston last Wednesday after trial for killing a man in a tavern brawl.

Mrs. Carreon, plump and gray streaking her hair, but a victim of a heart ailment, immediately started out on her long trek, carrying only a light jacket, a few cookies and 25 cents.

She spent Thanksgiving Day trudging along the highway to Alvin, where at 8 a.m. today her husband, a vegetable peddler of Texas City, caught up with her in his truck and they had breakfast.

Mrs. Carreon said she spent the night "sitting up" in a gas service station rest room rather than break her vow not to sleep in a bed during her pilgrimage.

Wednesday night she spent sleeping on the porch of a Negro home near Hitchcock after cutting a foot slightly when she stepped on a nail.

She said she had no turkey Thursday, adding, "My boy is free—that's enough turkey for me."

US Agents' Report Shocks Senators

WASHINGTON (UP)—U. S. secret agents believe Russia can fire a missile armed with an H-bomb from a submarine 500 miles at sea and all but wipe out a city like New York.

This evaluation of Russia's military might was one scrap of a top-secret report made to the Senate Military Preparedness Subcommittee Wednesday by the Central Intelligence Agency. The report shocked the seven senators who heard it.

One informant, who refused use of his name, said the CIA told the senators that Russia now has the capability of launching an intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) with an atomic or hydrogen warhead from a submarine. He set the effective range at 500 miles.

Another senator, who also heard the CIA report, said Russia has already put the IRBM into mass production "and apparently has them in quantity."

The Navy, it was reported, is sure that it can detect and cope with any large-scale Russian submarine movements which would forestall any major attack on the United States.

The report came after Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy gave the order to put both the Army Jupiter and the Air Force Thor IRBMs into full-scale production.

McElroy took the action under heavy pressure from congress and the swift Russian missile advancements, despite the fact that neither the Jupiter nor the Thor have been fully tested. He said, however, that tests so far have warranted the gamble.

The CIA report, made at a closed-door session to the Senate subcommittee by CIA Director Allen W. Dulles and his top aides, covered Russian power in missiles, submarines and strategic bombers.

The plan to journey to the country was taken as another sign of the President's continuing "excellent" progress from the attack Monday which caused a temporary speech difficulty. It also kept alive hopes that he still might be able to attend the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) "summit" meeting in Paris Dec. 16-18 to take the lead in rallying Western nations against Russia's space missile and scientific threat.

Decision Expected Later
Hagerty said Thursday the President's doctors "will decide later" on the Paris trip. He did not say when.

Hagerty said if Eisenhower does not go to Paris he will send Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his place. The NATO nations agreed Thursday to go ahead with the chiefs-of-state meeting in either case.

Hagerty said the President will conduct government business at Gettysburg "if there were matters that needed his attention."

Installation Of Decorations To Start Sunday

Installation of the Christmas street decorations will begin Sunday morning in Pampa with a kick-off breakfast in the Johnson's Cafe at 7 a.m. for decoration committee members of the Jaycees.

The decorations will be up by the day of the Santa Parade, Tuesday, it was announced by the Jaycees.

The decorations will be similar to the ones used last year with the exception of Santa Claus cutouts being used on intersection posts and cardboard placards of boy and girl carolers which will be fastened facing each way on the light posts.

The usual red bell encircled with a wreath of silver and green tinsel with the twisted streamers wound down the pole will be used.

The Nativity Scene in Central Park will be unveiled and lighted on Dec. 15 to complete the decorations of the Christmas season in Pampa.

King Of Morocco In Texas For A Three-Day Visit

DALLAS (UP)—An atmosphere of war pervaded the country of Morocco today as its ruler, King Mohammed V, flew to Dallas for a three-day visit in Texas.

A colonel of the Moroccan army was en route to Dallas to brief the 48-year-old ruler of 10 million subjects in North Africa.

Latest United Press reports from Rabat, Morocco quoted officials of that country as saying Spanish warplanes repeatedly bombed Moroccan territory around the tiny territory of Ifni.

There were no indications from Texas sponsors of the King's visit that it would be cut short.

The king will go by motor caravan to nearby Arlington, Tex., shortly after his 12:45 p.m. arrival and visit a General Motors assembly plant, return to Dallas and rest until a dinner on the Southern Methodist University campus.

The ruler will speak in French for 15 minutes tonight at SMU's McFarlin Auditorium. English translations will be distributed to the audience.

A private reception is scheduled tonight. Saturday, King Mohammed V flies to Kingsville, Tex. where he will visit the famed King Ranch, staying overnight and flying to the West Coast Sunday afternoon.

Gov. Price Daniel and Dallas Mayor Robert L. Thornton will greet the king upon his arrival at Love Field today. Full military honors will be given the king during his stay in Texas. Special details of police and federal agents will guard him.

After Committee Meeting, Tea Table Offers Gracious Relaxing Hospitality

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Rediscover the pleasant sociability of afternoon tea as a means of entertaining graciously, easily and inexpensively.

With the influx of holiday visitors anticipated, a tea party is a delightful way to introduce a stranger to your circle of friends. It's often simpler to arrange a tea than a luncheon or dinner party. When you entertain your club or committee, the friendly atmosphere which surrounds a prettily set tea table makes a relaxing conclusion to the meeting.

Although there are different ways to set a tea table, they have much in common. Namely, the table should be a pleasure to look at and arranged for smooth and convenient service. Tea should be hot and properly made and the food light and not highly seasoned.

Unless the party is quite large and formal, you, as the hostess, reside at the table and it's not necessary to offer other beverages in addition to tea.

To offer specified suggestions, I asked Ellen Lehman McCluskey, the noted interior designer, to set a tea table for us. Mrs. McCluskey, in addition to her busy career, leads an active social life and tea parties are regular events at her home. She has worked out her own formula which, she says, adapts as easily to four guests as to eight.

If as a bride you received a silver tea service, by all means polish it up and use it. But if not, don't hesitate to use other types of tableware: china, glass or earthenware are appropriate. Just make sure table linens and serving plates harmonize with the service.

For her setting, Mrs. McCluskey uses a small, round dining table. Although her cloth looks like an heirloom lace, it's a modern, quakerlike adaptation of an old hand-made design and is at home with traditional china and silver.

To allow for the deep overhang of the cloth to show off the pattern, she selects a 90-inch cloth for a 60-inch table. Adding contemporary interest to the setting is the undercloth. Undercloths can be made or bought in many colors: under a white lace cloth a navy blue undercloth makes a good background.

An undercloth can cover just the table top or be sized to fall to the hem of the lace, but in the latter case, you must make sure the undercloth doesn't show below the hem.

Tea party tables lend themselves to dramatic floral arrangements. You don't have to keep them low because the guests won't be seated at the table. In the case of our model table, red and white flowers were used in a tall arrangement placed on one side of the service.

At one end of the table is the tea tray. Usually this is most convenient if placed near the kitchen door. Plan the tray so that guests receive their filled cup at your left. On the tray go the teapot, a pot of boiling hot water, for those who prefer weak tea, sugar, creamer, a plate of lemon slices with fork, a waste bowl.

The tray is not covered by a cloth. Cups and saucers with teaspoons in place parallel to the handles are arranged within easy reach to the left and in front of the tray. Most authorities advise against stacking cups and saucers. If the party is large, additional cups and saucers are brought as needed from the kitchen or placed on a serving table to right of the hostess.

Opposite the tea tray, Mrs. McCluskey places a stack of tea plates. Next to those go medium size serving platters holding thin, small sandwiches and bite-size cakes. On most occasions, these accompaniments can be eaten with the fingers. That eliminates the need for forks.

As the guest circles the table, she picks up a plate first, then a tid-bit, then a napkin. Napkins are folded in triangles and placed one on top of the other.

Another way is to stack plates with a folded napkin between each plate so that the guest picks up both at the same time.

Last step is made where the hostess is seated. She asks how the guest likes her tea and pours her a cup. It's a good idea to provide some space where guests can place used plates and cups. This might be a cleared buffet, a serving table or small tables placed near chairs.

When You Neglect To Eat For Health, Bad Diet Sinks Your Beauty Ship

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

When you eat for good health, it follows that you're eating for beauty, too. You can't have sound teeth, lovely hair, sparkling eyes and smooth skin unless you're careful to include the essential foods in your diet each day. In addition, you should have foods that you can chew. This is for the good of muscles, teeth and gums.

If you skip breakfast or lean heavily toward the coffee break with sweet roll in the middle of the morning, you're being unfair to yourself. If you eat sweet deserts in place of fresh or cooked fruit, you're adding poundage and cheating yourself of clear skin. If you live on coffee and never touch a glass of milk, you're harming your nerves as well as your appearance.

If you refuse to eat salads, you're missing the fresh greens that you need. Or perhaps it's the salads you've encountered. The old standby of wilted lettuce and tomatoes with a dressing that seems to be chiefly composed of water is no substitute for a salad of fresh lettuce or chicory with a dressing of oil and vinegar, salt and pepper.

Sometimes it takes thinking to work out a diet that does the most for you. If you're in doubt, check with your doctor.

Women who are immaculate in appearance are always attractive, whether they're beauties or not. These are the women who have a fresh, feminine look because their hemlines are even, their heel lifts correct, their touches of white additional tea in a fresh pot. An attempt to add new leaves to the old ones is somewhat less than satisfactory.

at neck and wrist sparkling clean. Their lingerie is fresh, their stockings seams straight and their shoes polished.

They may have small wardrobes or inexpensive clothes, but somehow you're not conscious of the fact. You are aware that they possess great self-respect and a kind of innate elegance that sets them apart. This, in itself, is a form of beauty.

The place in which you eat your daily lunch is very nearly as important as what you eat. If you've the habit of landing on a stool at a crowded counter each noon, you're in danger of damaging both health and good looks. Meals should be eaten in comparative quiet and in a leisurely fashion. There's nothing quiet or leisurely in the counter habit which automatically carries with it poor nutrition.

If you want to shop or do errands on your lunch hour, fix your own lunch at home and bring it to the office. Most offices have some quiet spot in which a working girl can eat her lunch. Include one hot dish or beverage. Then do your errands on the remaining time.

A kitchen headache for many housewives is the insect. Most common kitchen pests are cockroaches or water bugs, ants and insects in stored food. To kill roaches spray or dust with a 5 per cent chlordane dust, a 2 per cent chlordane spray or a one-half per cent dieldrin spray.

Minor duties around the home that call for arduous knots or prying up thumbtacks may damage your hands and fingernails. Don't use finger to do these tasks. It leads to split nails and rough skin around them.

Pampa Garden Unit Entertains Guests

The Pampa Garden Club held its Guest Day meeting recently in the Lovett Memorial Library. Thirty five members and twelve guests were present.

The president, Mrs. Loyce Caldwell, called the meeting to order and the members introduced the guests.

An interesting program on dried arrangements was presented by Mmes. Tom Price, Fred Hart and Martin Stubbe.

Mrs. Stubbe showed many beautiful dried arrangements and plaques, using dried seeds, foliage or flowers. Some of the materials were used in the natural state while others were painted, dipped or sprayed. "Dried arrangements last indefinitely while fresh flowers wither in a few days," she said.

The December meeting of the Garden Club will be a Christmas Corgage workshop which will be held at 9:30 a.m. Dec. 9 in the home of Mrs. Loyce Caldwell.

Guests present were Mmes. W. G. Waggoner, Dewey Palmitier, L. L. Combs, Byron Hilburn, A. C. Cox, A. C. Houchin, W. E. Campaigne, Harry Gordon, Mattie Fountain, W. C. Moseley, W. A. Breining, C. E. Axelson.

Roaches are stubborn creatures. Dust or spray under sinks, on and behind baseboards, kitchen shelves, water and drain pipes and holes and cracks in the flooring. Do this for two or three weeks or until you see no more roaches.

It's the little things that make a woman face the fact that she is getting middle-aged.

Starting to put on eye make-up and having to quit because it's one close job she can't do wearing glasses.

Dancing with a handsome man to a dreamy piece of music and having him talk the whole time about how expensive it is to have a son in college.

Turning down dress after dress shown her by a saleswoman with the mental note, "Too young for me."

Chaufering a chattering bunch of teen-agers somewhere and having them address not a single remark to her from the time they say "Hello" to the time they politely say, "Thank you for the ride."

Deciding ruefully to start buying size 14 instead of starting all the time in order to wear size 12.

Seeing an actress she remembers as a glamorous movie star of her youth playing the role of a middle-aged wife in a TV drama.

Having a saleswoman try to sell her a hat by telling her how "youthful" it makes her look.

Coming across an old photograph of herself and noticing with a pang how little the woman she is resembles the girl she was.

Facing a birthday without a bit of happy anticipation.

Thinking in the midst of a big, gay party that it all seems kind of silly. And, besides, her feet hurt.

The feeling of being "middle-aged" comes in just such little ways as these.

One Act Play Given At Home Progress

The Home Progress Club in Miami met in the home of Mrs. Annie Keehn recently. Mrs. Eunice Holland, president, opened the meeting and conducted a short business session.

The feature of the afternoon was presented by Mrs. Theo Jenkins in the form of a one-act play, "How The Story Goes." It depicted how life is partly lived today; how a misunderstanding can grow in dimensions until it almost seems to end in tragedy.

The costumed cast included Mmes. Clyde Hodges, Spurgeon Moore, Howard Mulkey, W. L. Lard, David Stribling, Theo Jenkins, and Windom D. Allen.

Names were drawn for the Christmas gift exchange to be held at the Christmas party.

During the social hour, the hostess served delightful refreshments.

CULLIGAN soft water SERVICE
the mark of modern living

Soft Water IS A "MUST" FOR DISH WASHERS

MO 5-5729

CULLIGAN the greatest name in soft water

"I'll never forget the telephone call that changed me from a Miss to a Mrs."

Does any single telephone call stand out in your memory? Mrs. Richard Meyer remembers one vividly. She calls it the turning point of her life . . .

An interview with Mrs. Richard Meyer by telephone news reporter Don Davis

Mrs. RICHARD (RUTH) MEYER had no idea the course of her life was about to be changed when the telephone rang that August night two years ago.

A college student named Dick Meyer, whom Ruth had met the night before, was on the phone asking for a date. "Luckily," Ruth says, smiling, "I had nothing else to do but wash my hair, so I said 'yes.'"

That night marked the beginning of the romance climaxed by Ruth and Dick's wedding a few months ago.

After that first date, the two young people saw a lot of each other. When Dick couldn't make it over to Ruth's—he'd call "just to talk."

As a matter of fact, the telephone in Ruth's house was so busy her dad arranged for a second main line. "Daddy wanted to use the phone now and then, too!" Ruth says laughing.

LONG DISTANCE ROMANCE

After graduating from college, Dick entered the Army. That's when their romance came into full bloom, according to Ruth. "When Dick couldn't make it home on week ends, he'd telephone. Those calls made our separation a lot easier."

Then came the most exciting night of all. Dick, who had been visiting relatives in a distant city, decided to drive back to see Ruth even though it was snowing very hard. Ruth knew he was coming and was "a little nervous" knowing the hazardous driving conditions. Finally her telephone rang. It was Dick. He had arrived safely in town, and he'd be right over.

Later that evening he proposed.

There's a little bit of every romance in this happy story. And it serves as a reminder of the important part the telephone plays in our daily lives.

Perhaps you've had a telephone call, or calls, you'll never forget. If so, and you'd care to tell me about it, just drop a line to me, Don Davis, here at the telephone company. We'd be happy to hear about it.

Amarillo And Pampa Clubs In Joint Meet

US Satellite To Signal Earth With Radio Messages

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP) — The United States' baby satellite, to be launched into space sometime next month, will signal the earth with batteries powered by the sun through tiny portholes in the satellite shell, it was announced Thursday.

The Glenn L. Martin Co. made public a description of the four-pound test satellite which will be fired inside the nose cone of a 72-foot Vanguard rocket. The two part cone will open like a clam shell and drop away some time before the 6.4-inch diameter satellite is hurled into its orbit. Flexible crossbars which will support the satellite will be ejected also after the third stage of the rocket is fired.

Scientist May Be Able To Predict Sputnik I's Death

By UNITED PRESS
A scientist at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., today planned a series of computations which may enable him to predict the death of Sputnik I's rocket to the hour.

Dr. Charles A. Whitney said Thursday night that present calculations indicate the rocket will enter the earth's atmosphere probably on Sunday.

He refused to specify a time but added that a more extensive study will possibly aid him in predicting the death-plunge to the hour.

The head of the observatory, Dr. Fred Whipple, said he believed the rocket's end will come "between 65 degrees south and 65 degrees north, probably in the northern hemisphere."

The satellite itself was expected to remain in its orbit another month while Sputnik II, containing the body of Laika, the Russian dog, may survive several months.

Another New Mexico state champion slated for the evening is Fernando Gillegras, at 160 pounds, who will meet Charles Snyder, one of the Panhandle's top fighters. Representing a third top title, Johnny Chaves ranks as the Great Lakes All-Air Force champion. Chavez is slated to meet Borger's Skooter Darden in the 135-pound bracket.

Fans will also see other top ringmen as the following boys are all scheduled for action against the New Mexico boxers:

Charles Coffee	126

Bear Bryant May Resign Aggie Post

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UP)—Texas A&M Coach Paul Bryant, with a 9-7 upset defeat by Texas in the oldest Thanksgiving game rivalry in the South-west fresh in his mind, said Thursday he might consider taking a job at his alma mater Alabama.

"There is one reason and one reason only I would consider the move to Alabama," Bryant said. "That is the fact they think they need somebody, and some of them think I could help them."

"It's my school and if I was convinced I could help them, I would consider it," he added.

Bryant's name has been high on the list of prospects for the coaching post at Alabama for weeks. Until yesterday all Bryant could say on the matter was "I have recommended a coach to them, and it wasn't Bear Bryant."

"I don't like to think that I have been considering it (the change)," he said. "I like to think I've been trying to get my team ready to play Texas."

Harvester Basketball Open '57 Season Tomorrow First Home Game Set For Dec. 6, With Elk City

The Pampa Harvesters launch forth a season of regional championship defense tomorrow night as they travel to Childress to battle the Bobcats in a nonconference warmer slated for 8:30.

The kick-off tilt with Childress will mark the beginning of a fourteen game schedule before the first District 3-AAAA encounter, against the Amarillo Sandies in Pampa, Jan. 7.

A second road trip, with Phillips Dec. 3, is on tap before the Harvesters open up for the home town fans on Dec. 6, against Elk City, Okla.

Of last year's team, only Bill Brown and Ray Stephenson are returning lettermen, with Brown ranking as the lone previous starter. Both are seniors this year.

Head Coach Clifton McNeely has a fairly young team, however, with Darryl Ammons and Larry Cruise being the only other final-year men on the 12 man squad.

A wealth of talent may be moving up from the Shockers this year as three of the lengthiest men on the roster join the Harvesters for the first time.

Mack Layne, at 6'5", tops the rest of his team members, is a junior at 180 pounds.

Following Layne are Coyle Winborn and Bobby Gindorf, both at 6'3", and both juniors.

In gaining the state playoffs last season, the Harvesters won 28 and lost two, with one defeat coming from Borger, 63-62, during the regular season and the second coming in the state finals from Port Arthur, 67-51.

The Shockers, with Coach Terry Culley at the helm, have games scheduled with all Harvester tilts except the Lawton tournament and the Big Springs series. The Shockers lost their opener to Claude Tuesday night, 41-37, in a game with the Mustangs' "A" team.

Mitchell Goes To Jayhawk Coaching Post

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP)—Jack Mitchell, a youthful Kansas native whose 1957 Thanksgiving produced a dream come true, today wanted the coaching job he wanted most less than 10 years after his Oklahoma graduation.

The fast-rising Mitchell was named early Thursday to replace Charles V. (Chuck) Mather at the Kansas Jayhawk football helm. Mitchell, who broke a new 10-year contract at Arkansas to come here, was signed for five years at the same $15,000 annually he had earned at Fayetteville, Ark.

Mather, who made $11,000 annually, resigned with five assistants Oct. 30 after a midnight meeting in which the group decided "we cannot solve the Kansas football problem." Subsequently, the team responded with four straight victories to earn the Big Eight runnerup berth to Oklahoma. Overall, Kansas was 5-4-1 and Mather's record for four years was 11-26-2.

Mitchell, whose Razorbacks completed a 5-4 season last week, said "Kansas offers the only coaching position which would lure me from Arkansas. My wife, Jeanne, said I was born in Kansas, raised in Kansas and plan to live out our lives there. I feel very fortunate to have the opportunity to follow coaching in my native state."

The 32-year-old 1946-47-48 Oklahoma quarterback great said he would bring five assistants to Kansas including George Bernhardt, Dixie White, Bill Pace, Steve White and Gene Corroto. Only veteran Wayne Replogle will remain from Mather's staff.

Bears Prepare For Owl Tilt

By UNITED PRESS
The Baylor Bears held their last home field workout of the football season Thursday morning and then enjoyed a turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

But the Bears and other Southwest Conference teams tuned in the Texas-Texas A&M game on television to see the Longhorns upset the favored Aggies 9-7.

The Bears planned to leave Waco by chartered plane at 11:15 a.m. today and arrive in Houston at noon in time for a brief workout in Rice Stadium. The Bears go against the league-leading Rice Owls in a game which will determine the conference title Saturday.

Rice has a 4-1 conference record and Texas has a 4-1-1 record.

The TCU Horned Frogs held their final long practice of the season behind locked gates getting ready for their contest with Southern Methodist University.

Coach Abe Martin said he had his frogs polishing both offense and defense, with punting and protection for the kicker thrown in, during the hour and a half session.

Football Coaches Assn. List All-American Team

By BOB DODOR
United Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP)—The South and Midwest, each with three players, dominated the 1957 All-American football team selected Friday by the American Football Coaches Assn.

The coaches chose as the finest players at their positions this season:

ENDS—Jim Phillips, Auburn and Dick Wallen, UCLA.

TACKLES—Lou Michaels, Kentucky and Bob Reitsnyder, Navy.

GUARDS—Aurelius Thomas, Ohio State and Jack Simpson, Mississippi.

CENTER—Dan Currie, Michigan State.

QUARTERBACK—King Hill, Rice.

HALFBACKS—John Crow, Texas A&M, and Clendon Thomas, Oklahoma.

FULLBACK—Walt Kowalczyk, Michigan State.

511 Coaches Vote
Ballots were cast by 511 members of the association, including the 35 outstanding coaches who make up the United Press football rating board. The grid tutors based their picks on what they saw for themselves on the playing fields, on scouting reports, and on reviews of movies of key games played through Saturday, Nov. 23.

Currie, whose hard tackling and brilliant blocking have spearheaded Michigan State's drive to the No. 2 spot among the nation's teams, was their choice as the outstanding individual player of the season.

The team picked by the coaches is the 68th All-American in the tradition originated by Walter Camp in 1889. The team was popularized for more than half a century by Collier's magazine and, since that magazine suspended publication last December, has been sponsored by General Mills, Inc., as a public service to assure the continuation of the Camp tradition.

The United Press was selected as the sole distributing agent of the coaches' team.

The voting was supervised by a committee of eight noted coaches; George (Lefty) James, Cornell; Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma; Duffy Daugherty, Michigan State; Bob Sanders, UCLA; Jess Neely, Rice; Andy Gustafson, Miami (Fla.); and Ray Lot, Illinois.

The team this year is composed of three players each from the Midwest and South, two from the Southwest, and one each from the East, Far West, and Midland.

Honorable mention was given by the coaches to:

Ends—Jim Gibbons, Iowa; Fred Dugan, Dayton; Les Walters, Penn State; Sam Williams, Michigan State.

Tackles—Alex Karras, Iowa; Charlie Krueger, Texas A&M; Gene Hickerson, Mississippi; Tom Topping, Duke; Ben Preston, Auburn.

Guards—Al Ecuyer, Notre Dame; Bill Johnson, Tennessee; John Wooten, Colorado; George Deiderich, Vanderbilt.

Centers—Don Stephenson, Georgia Tech; Charley Breuckman, man, Pittsburgh; Bob Harrison, Oklahoma.

Quarterbacks—Dan Nolan, Lehigh; Bobby Cox, Minnesota; Lee Grosscup, Utah; Tom Greene, Holy Cross.

Halfbacks—Jim Pace, Michigan; Bob Muigado, Arizona (Tempe) State; Jim Shanley, Oregon; Bob Anderson, Army; Leonard Lyles, Louisville; Dick Christy, North Carolina State.

Fullbacks—Nick Pietrosante, Notre Dame; Jim Jones, Washington; Harold McElhaney, Duke; Billy Atkins, Auburn.

Coaches' Views On Aggie, Texas Tilt

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UP)—Texas Aggie Coach Bear Bryant pretty well summed up the Aggie football season today when he said he hated to see his team lose the Southwest Conference championship by three points.

Bryant is a hard loser and he obviously was disappointed after Texas beat the Aggies 9-7 Thursday, knocking them out of any chance at the championship or the Cotton Bowl berth Jan. 1.

A&M, after winning eight straight, fell flat on its face the last two games, losing to Rice 7-6 and Texas 9-7. It was a stroke of irony that the Aggies, whose extra-point accuracy won two games for them in the last two seasons, should lose because of the toe.

King Hill's extra point beat them at Houston and Bobby Lackey's 28-yard field goal did it Thursday.

Aggies Drop to 5
The Aggies were No. 1 in the nation in the United Press poll before losing to Rice and they were No. 5 this week.

Bryant said after the game he thought his team "was better today than they've been all year" but to the crowd of 42,000 and a midwestern television audience this did not appear to be the same team that had turned opponents' mistakes into scores in the past.

"We had our chances to win the ball game in the fourth quarter," Bryant said. "We had two chances. I don't think we threw enough but I'm just criticizing myself."

Bryant credited Texas quarterback Walter Fondren's 62-yard quick-kick in the first period with putting the Cadets in a hole from which "we never recovered in the first half."

Deadly Quick-Kick
That quick-kick rolled dead on the Aggie 4. A poor Aggie punt followed and the Longhorns marched 33 yards to score with Lackey plunging over from the 1.

The Longhorns, who appeared to have more spirit than the Aggies all the way, increased their lead to 9-0 in the third period on Lackey's field goal.

All-America John Crow scored the Aggies' touchdown on a one-yard plunge early in the fourth period. A pass from quarterback

Hoopie Rounds Out Season Of "Perfect" Grid Predictions

Egad! Here we are at the end of another wonderful season of forecasting football results — and your humble correspondent winding it all up in a blaze of glory with a perfect card — har-rumph!

One of the great upsets of the season I have saved for the last — Oklahoma State to nose out Oklahoma, 14-13.

Well, with final admonition to be sure and watch Colgate give Brown the bird, may I leave you for the time being. Watch for my early return, however, with the complete list of Bowl games and scores.

White Deer In Second Round Playoff

The White Deer Bucks sought today to take another step toward the state class "A" football championship as they met the Ralls Jackrabbits in Buffalo Stadium at 1 p.m.

Coach Otis Holiday's gridders emerged two weeks ago as champions of district 1-A, and rolled by the Lefors Pirates of 2-A last Friday for the bi-district title and a berth in today's regional playoff game.

The Jackrabbits wound up district 4-A with a victory over Crosytion, 7-0, and crushed Friona, 11-12, in the first round of the playoff.

Both teams went into the contest with one loss on their record against nine wins. Ralls suffered its defeat from Lockney, 13-0, while the Bucks fell in midseason to Friona, 35-19.

The game today was slated to be one of the offense opposing defense, with the Jackrabbits taking the latter role. White Deer has scored 338 points in comparison to 42 for Ralls while the Bucks have allowed 174 points to be scored against them in comparison to only 1 for the Rabbits.

ON THE BEACH

Swimming and sailing with Moira, Dwight Towers told her of the cruise made to the east coast of the United States by the USS SWORDFISH, sister ship of the nuclear sub he commanded. "There was nobody else there?" asked Moira. "No," replied Dwight. "Very radioactive, too."

Based on the Best-Selling Novel by Nevil Shute

Moira listened as Dwight described the SWORDFISH's visit to New London, Conn., its home port. "Most of the crew lived there, or in the general area. Like I did," he explained. "They had a religious service in the ship. It must have been very painful."

POSSIBLE SOLUTION
WASHINGTON (UP)—House Republican leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) has proposed the federal government foot the bill for scientific training of five top-ranking students each year in each of the country's 435 Congressional Districts. Martin said the 2,178 students, selected competitively, would be sent to accredited scientific universities and research institutions. He said he would introduce legislation to this effect in January.

Kim Novak Not 'Brightest' Star But She's In Demand

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—When Kim Novak is described as one of Movietown's "brightest" stars the reference is not necessarily to her acting ability or her IQ.
Despite her Greek goddess face and roller-coaster curves, Kim is characterized as "the great stone face" whose performances run from deadpan to lethargy.
More than one of her leading men have complained that making-screen love to the blonde glamour girl is akin to romancing a totem pole.
But Kim says defensively, and with beguiling understatement, that she doesn't hold with over-acting.
"I believe the audience should have something more to do than just sit and watch," Kim said between takes of her new movie. "I let them do some of the acting for me."
How this attitude sits with Alfred Hitchcock, who is putting the Novak gal through her paces in "Vertigo," isn't known. Kim, however, says rumors of a feud between the rotund director and herself are not true.
Her dressing room was littered with clothes, makeup, a record player, her script and the usual feminine beauty aids. Only two books were in evidence, "The Psychology of Insanity" and "Principles of Abnormal Psychology."

"For my role in the picture," Kim explained. "I have to pretend to be insane."
You Have It Or Not
"I don't know whether I've improved as an actress since I started out. In acting, either you have it or you don't begin with."
"Sure, you can improve technically, but that isn't acting itself. I never had any background for dramatics, and it was a big thing just learning the mechanics. I'm still learning to read lines, how to look for marks on the floor, and to say 'I love you' to a light bulb while the camera's rolling."
Kim, wearing a brown wig for her role, stood in front of a three-way mirror tugging at her skin-tight sweater and skirt to prevent them from clinging too snugly.
"Actually," she smiled, "my acting depends on my director. I always do exactly what my director wants."
Though she may never win an Oscar, Kim is in demand. Columbia Studios recently came to terms when Kim went on strike for more money. Now the studio is buying her a $95,000 home in Bel-Air.
She needs an Oscar like she needs a new skirt and sweater.

Television Getting Tough With Cold-Shoulder Actors

By VERNON SCOTT
United Press Hollywood Writer
HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Television is getting tough with movie stars who scoff at the new medium, as evidenced this week when Richard Egan was threatened with boycott for attacking TV ad agencies.
Because Egan criticized the electronic medium during a recent four-week tour, the actor's agents have been notified by the Madison Avenue boys that there is a move afoot to blacklist him from future TV casting.
"I couldn't care less," the husky actor replied.
"I'm not afraid of them," he grinned. "They may kick movies around, but they'll never knock us out of the box."
"Big studios like M-G-M are reticent to making commercials for TV—the industry that has almost put pictures out of business. Hollywood's attitude seems to be, 'let's not offend our enemy.'"
"Look at what TV's done to people like Jackie Gleason and Sid Caesar. They didn't lose their ability. The smart boys on Madison Avenue said they weren't selling product, so off they went."

The Pampa Daily News

One of Texas' Five Most Consistent Newspapers
We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Progress Of An Idea

If one has a reasonably sound memory and is interested in the progress made by an idea, there is a currently available illustration which could serve as an object lesson.

At least a decade ago, this newspaper, together with a few other independent and, albeit, tiny voices, suggested that one of the things wrong with government schools was this business of conformity.

We held to that view for many a year without more than a fractional response. Not long ago, however, indications came that the idea, not necessarily cribbed from our scribbles, was beginning to develop legs.

Several years ago, Dr. Arthur Bestor became concerned over this very thing and proceeded to publish several titles which delivered telling blows against conformity.

The movement against conformity now sprouted wings as well as legs. A number of well known magazines took up the cry, including the Reader's Digest, Colliers, The Ladies Home Journal and others.

The new conformity seems to have become, at least in intellectual circles, to object to conformity.

So now the argument has come full circle. Only recently, one Herrick Roth, a state senator from Denver, Colo., executive secretary of the Colorado Federation of Teachers and vice president of the American Federation of Teachers, than whom there is no one more conforming, told a Milwaukee audience that a "mass of innocuous courses have infiltrated our schools of education."

"We should be concerned," urged Roth, "over proneness to grind out patternized rather than creative teachers, and we should be encouraging the person who will become a creative master of his craft."

We are not among Mr. Roth's more enthusiastic admirers. However, we must applaud him in this instance, since he has now swung far around to the right to inveigh against the very conformity which his several positions support.

And since it is now popular to be opposed to conformity, but insofar as preparing teachers and students is concerned, may we quietly dip in another oar?

If the current suggestions are made in conscience and with sincerity, here is a thought to stuff with the other. How can our nation's schools ever lose their conformity so long as they are simply an extension of the power of government; are paid for by taxation to which conformity is compelled; and have their curriculum determined by state committees, overshadowed by the National Education Association? Isn't this the very matrix of conformity?

While we could feel flattered that so many are now approving of the stand we took ten years ago, we would have a greater sense of elation if we could hope that the actions of the bureaucrats of our governments schools, would now begin to match their recent words. Surely it must be self-evident that conformity will be the inevitable result when violence and aggression mark our educational pattern and mar it evermore in the same old way.

If we really wish to encourage individuality, let us begin by encouraging the independent and private school. And our encouragement, at the outset, could take the form of urging these schools to abandon state approved accreditation, thus permitting individual standards, individual excellence, individual initiative, plus full responsibility individually placed.

If this is neglected, all we will have is the same old melody hummed to a new set of words.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. Hollis
Walter Reuther's Vagaries

I want to continue to comment on Walter Reuther's speech before a group of AFL-CIO members. He invariably uses the word "labor" when in reality he is referring to union labor.

He talks about the corporations making scandalous profits, but he doesn't define what he means by scandalous profits.

It seems to him that there is some arbitrary limit to profits made under a free-unhindered market economy. Of course there can be scandalous profits when the government gives any group a monopoly that reduces competition.

If there is no special privilege, profits are constantly made fair. And they are being made fair because if any corporation tries to make more profit than can be made in other lines of work, it is inviting capital to compete with it.

There are, of course, scandalous profits and wages when the government grants the wage earners or the employers a monopoly privilege. If there were no profits, there would be no jobs.

Reuther contends that we are having high prices due to big profits and not due to arbitrarily fixed wages. But as explained above, profits cannot be too high under a free market.

Would Walter Reuther, or any other believer in strikes and coercion, contend for one minute that if a group of workers got control of furnishing water and they had all other workers so intimidated that they were afraid of being killed or ruined economically if they competed in supplying water, that the price of water would not go up? It most certainly would. Just as the price of everything else has to go up when labor unions increase their wages above what other workers are able to get for the same skill and production.

Of course, high wages of union labor are not the only costs that increase prices. The millions and millions of workers on the government payroll enter into higher prices because of increased taxes to make these payrolls. And these millions on the government payroll that are producing no wealth but are consumers bidding against productive workers for what is produced, run prices up and increase the cost of living.

Reuther is constantly blaming unemployment and low wages on lack of "purchasing power." He seems to think "purchasing power" is something that comes out of the air or is manufactured by union labor or by the politicians.

Total purchasing power is increased by greater total production of what people are willing to pay for, and greater total production is increased by a natural division of labor, without arbitrary restriction in this division of labor, as is the aim of strikes instigated by union labor and by voters trying to get protection from goods produced in foreign markets.

Individual purchasing power comes from an individual producing what some other producer wants and is willing to exchange his production to get. And the more each individual produces of what is wanted, the more ability to purchase he has.

Walter Reuther professes to know how the standard of living can be increased. Yet he has advocated the very things that prevent billions of dollars worth of wealth from being created. In other words, he has consumed in his lifetime infinitely more than he has produced. He does not produce a nickel's worth of wealth by being at the head of the labor unions.

Reuther seems to think some sectors of society know what wages and prices should be. Those people who have had considerable experience in producing wealth so they are willing to answer questions without evasion or contradicting themselves, well know that we can have no true value, no justice, no ethical standards as long as some individual workers are discriminated against in having the right to help establish values by making jobs interchangeable.

Yet Reuther seems to think the man of vision, the man who has sacrificed and saved and put his money into tools shouldn't have the right to hire the best man he can get and pay him what is necessary to get him without the consent of ill-informed men like Walter Reuther.

Brownell May Stage A Lively Anti-Nixon Drive

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Washington Republican circles have been stirred by reports that former Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., opposes Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the Party's 1960 candidate, and that he will re-enter politics to block selection of the Californian. It amounts to a spectacular political stunt.

But the Brownell scheme would endanger the Party's prospects in the equally important state of New York. Former National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who is regarded as a "Nixon" man, has indicated that he entertains ambitions for the 1958 gubernatorial nomination. Another mentioned as a possibility is Oswald Heck, Speaker of the Assembly at Albany.

Behind Nixon — Indeed, although Eisenhower's characteristic caution prevents him from giving political signals so far in advance, the impression grows that the full weight of the Administration's influence will be thrown behind Nixon in the 1960 race. He has become the Presidential spokesman on major national and international problems.

Civil Rights Controversy — Nixon and Brownell, it is recalled, had serious differences in the Civil Rights controversy. The Attorney General Brownell framed a measure that would have authorized the employment of the full Federal power, including the military, to enforce all laws against alleged racial discrimination. He also opposed jury trials. He became anathema to the South and its men in Capitol Hill.

Intraparty Differences — Nixon and Brownell, it is recalled, had serious differences in the Civil Rights controversy. The Attorney General Brownell framed a measure that would have authorized the employment of the full Federal power, including the military, to enforce all laws against alleged racial discrimination.

KEEP CHRISTMAS

From "Science Of Mind"

"Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background and your duties in the middle distance; and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellow men are just as real as you are, and to try and look behind their faces and their hearts, hungry for joy, to admit that probably the only good reason for your existence is not life, but what you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against verse, and look around for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness — are you willing to do these things even for a day?"

"SLAVE LABOR" ACT, IS IT?

(New York Daily News)

It's disclosed by National Labor Relations Board Chairman Boyd Leedom that in the last year 42 per cent of all unfair labor practices cases processed by the NLRB were brought by individual workers, and 41 per cent by unions. Further, 46 per cent of the charges against unions and 37 per cent of those against employers came from individual workers.

Mr. Leedom comments that the individual worker is becoming increasingly aware of the fact that the Taft-Hartley act can protect him in many ways, both from his union bosses and from his employer.

Which gives you yet another insight into the real reason why so many labor chiefs continually do cry that Taft-Hartley is "slave labor" legislation. No wonder they hate it. It can and does keep them from making complete slaves of their followers.

The Greatest Popularity Shift In US History

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

BOSTON — When I blew a gasket in New Orleans a few weeks ago and flew to the Lahey Clinic for the standard indignities, it was just about to deal with the greatest shift of population within our country in all our history. The Negro is moving northward, into misery lured by a few hundred hateful fat-cats in a small mid-town patch of New York propaganda bureaus. A great migration of white young people, most of them couples with small children and many of them educated, are going into the new industrial South and Southwest. Most of those Negroes never will go back South. This immigration is for keeps. It may turn out well for descendants of the emigres long hence.

Now we will begin to see the real quality of the political fakery who enticed masses of bewildered rural strangers into a North which had neither the social disposition nor practical accommodations to receive them. The Negro population of some rural Mississippi counties has fallen 30 per cent since 1950. And the New York State Commission against Discrimination has announced that the "non-white" population of greater New York increased by 320,221 or 41.3 per cent since 1950. The white population dropped 416,707, or 5.9 per cent. In the suburbs also the increase of Negro population exceeded the increase of white population.

Southern "industry," including a colossal, hundred-mile strip of petroleum and chemical works lining the Mississippi River from Baton Rouge to New Orleans, is draining down into the South a great migration of superior young Yankees. Vast and awesome though it is, this gigantic development is only the biggest, not the only one, in Dixie and the West. New Orleans is holding her Negro population. They share with the local white people a peculiar attachment to this interesting homeland and they are important in the operation of a seaport looking onto Latin America second only to New York and much more efficient.

The old Dixie ostracism of the Yankee, derived from persecution long after the Civil War, at last has been saved. Yankees who served in Southern camps in the Second War have married Southern girls and rebel men served with Yanks under all conditions. Personal relations have obliterated the discrimination which we who ventured South in 1916 and down through the second Klan were angrily aware of.

Mason Walsh, the managing editor of the Dallas Times Herald, said Dallas was gaining 35,000 inhabitants a year. A little of this increase represents births over deaths and many immigrants to Dallas are displaced farmers attracted by the aircraft and associated industries in which Walter Reuther is quietly expanding his empire, untroubled by journalistic foresight. Many national firms have opened regional branch offices in Dallas and Fort Worth and sent down Yankees with their families. The rural migrants into the Dallas-Fort Worth zone are not reliably counted, but more white people than Negroes are getting "industrial" jobs. So, many of the Negroes keep going to St. Louis, Chicago and Detroit.

Odessa, Texas, a small city, gains 10,000 immigrants a year, most of them Northern whites. This shift of Negro population will be a sad and painful experience to most of the migrants. Their grandchildren may have a better time. Be it said, though, that Southern people are not rejoicing. The hatred there is not racial but a proud, indignant white man's fury against New York's monopolistic power over publications, movies and radio-TV. There never before was such a power anywhere in the world. A Congressional investigation is not a fantastic idea. Southern editors are not all fools and fraternal backslappers when they go to the editorial conventions.

The North has no fitting quarters for the influx and the bulk of the rural Negro migrants are greenhorns bound to be bled and led into evil ways by members of their own race. The Rev. Joseph Winthrop Holley, D.D., a rather saintly old Negro educator, president of Albany State College in Georgia, has been imploring Negroes to stick to their old homeland.

"No other section offers all the opportunities available to the Negro in the South," he wrote. "Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles and New York have concentrations of misery, of squalid living and frustration. The fact that so many mothers work all day breaks up the solidarity of the home, leaving boys and girls at the mercy of demoralizing influences of the streets."

The Negro migrants find saloons everywhere, not just carefully spotted in familiar home streets. Respectable families are overwhelmed by bad actors in custom-built New York slums, "relief" is becoming a way of life. Many Negro fans who were counted on to support the New York Giants right in their own midst, with Willie Mays their hero, spent their money in bars and caught the ball-games free on TV. That is one reason why the Giants pulled out.

It is an age of bewildering change.

Munich, Germany Has A 'Different' Character

By HENRY McLEMORE

MUNICH — In 800 years Munich has developed a character that is as different from other German cities as it is from the character of Seattle, Philadelphia, or Lima, Peru.

The Muenchner is a curious combination of the old and the new. Whereas the rest of Germany welcomes modernization and excitedly lives with it, the Muenchner insists that it blend with Bavaria's particular flavor and Bavaria's flavor represents a set of inflexible rules governing behavior from morning till night.

When a man asks you for a match, you don't just hand him the package of matches, wait until he has lighted up and returns the pack. Ach! Nein! You do the lighting — which is quite a trick in the rain that seems to fall all the time — wait for the usual Danke Schon, the bowing and tipping of the hat. Simply to offer the package would be an insult.

The Muenchner is not excessively polite, though; just well-mannered enough. The women, knowing this, have their own conspiracy on street cars. As they near their destination they pick out another woman, tug violently on her dress and make sure she gets the seat before any male usurper can get his body into it. Gallantry has nothing to do with the fact that women occupy most of the seats on Munich trolleys.

Tippling is no problem for the tourist here. The normal service charge of 10 per cent, plus what few pennings are given back in change, is more than acceptable. Often, if you give more, the waiter will shout it's too much and that you shouldn't do it again.

Seems she'll never be promoted.
