34 Killed In Swamp Crash

WINTER SCENE — Streets were deserted for the most part all day Tuesday during the storm which dumped more than six inches of snow on Pampa and the Panhandle. The scene above is looking north on Somerville from the Daily News. The storm heralded in the winter season as the mercury dropped to a season low of seven degrees. Traffic here, while not normal, did not jam up seriously, although several minor accidents were reported yesterday and last night. (Daily News Photo)

Passengers Taken Off 'Unsafe' Jet

BOLIVIA, N.C. (UPI) — A National Air Lines plane carrying 34 persons on a vacation flight from New York to Miami crashed with explosive force in a swampy area early today and all aboard were killed.

The North Carolina highway patrol said there were no survivors. The passengers had planned a jet flight but last-minute technical difficulties forced them to transfer to the ill-fated DC-8B. The plane crashed in a light rain a few miles from where it was to cross the coastline on the overwater portion of its flight.

The jet had been taken out of service when a crack was noticed in its windshield shortly before the takeoff time. The 105 passengers were divided among two smaller planes.

The wreckage, strewn over 13 acres of the jungle-like Green Swamp area, was broken into three main pieces. Several of the 200-odd residents of Bolivia reported hearing an explosion. The wreckage did not burn.

The dead included 29 passengers, mostly from the New York metropolitan area, and five crew members.

State Highway Patrolman A. H. Clark said some of the bodies were still strapped in their seats. Some of the victims, he said, had donned Mae West life jackets. A couple of the jackets were inflated.

By mid-morning at least 15 bodies had been found. They were taken to a tent set up at the scene.

The victims who were thrown from the plane were buried in about six inches of mud, one observer said.

Wilmington Airport Manager John Westbrook said, "The strange thing about the crash is that we have been unable to find the engines from the plane. We have searched an area for about a mile around the crash and the engines just aren't to be found."

The plane fell on a farm owned by Richard Randolph, a Negro, who said he heard an explosion. Others said the wreckage was not burning when they reached it.

Randolph said he and his wife got up when they heard the explosion but went back to bed. He said his school-age son discovered the wreckage shortly after 4 a.m.

The FBI's disaster squad was dispatched to Bolivia today to assist in identification of a number of times when asked by the carriers involved.

The Civil Aeronautics Board assigned a four-man investigating team to visit the scene and examine the wreckage, headed by David L. Thompson.

Pilot of the plane was Capt. Dale Southard of Miami. Co-pilot was R. L. Hentzell and flight engineer was R. R. Halleckson, both also of Miami. The stewardesses were Valery Stewart of Levittown, N.Y., and Margu O'Leary of South Orange, N.J.

Lester R. Edwards, of Bolivia, said the plane, in three pieces, looked like it might have exploded. (Adv.) (See CRASH, Page 3)

Congress Opening Routine

No Business This Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 86th Congress, from whose ranks will come the next president of the United States, convened for its first session today to grapple with election-year problems and legislative business.

The opening day sessions of the House and Senate were largely routine and ceremonial. Formal business was planned for the following week.

Leaders of the top-heavy Democratic majority, frustrated last year by President Eisenhower's active use of the veto, postponed any maneuvering until after chief executive delivers his message to the Union message to a joint session Thursday.

The President reviewed a final draft of the message with his cabinet after joining administration and legislative leaders in prayer at a Church service.

Democratic Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.) and John F. Kennedy (Mass.) were announced as hard-running contenders for the party's presidential nomination. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) and Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.) have not announced formally but are contenders.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced a presidential nomination, President Eisenhower said.

Can't Kick An Old Habit

NEW YORK (UPI) — Playboy Tommy Manville is 45 but he hasn't been able to kick his old habit.

He and his 20-year-old fiancée, Christina Erdlen, will apply for a marriage license today.

"I'm afraid I'm headed for the altar again," said the silver-haired asbestos heir who has 10 marital misuses. "I shouldn't be afraid after all my experience, but one gets cautious."

Tommy has been so cautious that he's been a bachelor for almost two years. But he plans to end all that next Monday when he makes brunette Christine his bride.

Tommy, who is childless, says he hopes to start a family.

"I'd like to have 12, but I'm not Charlie Chaplin," he said.

Union Sewing Up Pacts With 'Small Steel'

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union moved today to sew up contracts with smaller steel companies on the basis of its agreement with the "big 11" producers.

Government officials said at least five small companies have advised President Eisenhower's fact-finding board they would not accept the big steel settlement. It was not immediately known if the companies merely were taking a bargaining position or would stick by their guns.

But union President David J. McDonald said he didn't expect any difficulty in applying the steel settlement to the smaller steel firms and iron ore companies.

Negotiations were to begin today here and in a number of other cities.

Other steel developments: —The union was expected to reveal today how much it believes the settlement is worth to the average steelworker. Steelworkers Counsel Arthur J. Goldberg planned to brief reporters on the terms.

Eisenhower was scheduled to get official notification of settlement when he received the report of his fact-finding board today. Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell, who helped arrange the agreement, was to deliver the report to the White House.

The five small steel companies balking at the big steel agreement were identified as Mottrop Steel Products Co., Coons Pacific Co., Pittsburgh Pacific Co., Boland and Cornelius, and Skubic Brothers Co.

All have offered settlements well below the 2½ year package agreed to by the big 11. The five companies represent only a tiny fraction of the nation's steel production.

Stuart Rothman, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), said if there is no settlement with the smaller firms, the NLRB would have to conduct a secret ballot among their employees on the companies' final offers.

U.S. Policy 'Unrealistic,' Taylor Says

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former chief of staff of the Army, believes that the present United States policy of massive retaliation with nuclear weapons is "unrealistic" and is endangering our national security.

He contends, however, that if the United States will quickly revise its military program it can overtake the Russians in two years.

The retired general's newly-published book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," is expected to have a controversial effect on the current session of Congress in matters relating to military policy and the budget.

Taylor urged the government to immediately put into effect four "quick fixes" to remedy the military situation. He called for: —Improved planning and training for limited war. —Reduction of the mobile intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM). —Better protection for the Strategic Air Command. —A limited fall-out shelter program.

Taylor contends it will take the free world too long to close the missile gap. He says we have spent too much time and too much money on weapons for massive retaliation and have neglected conventional weapons.

The fixed size of the defense budget, according to the general, has become "the prime cause" of the rivalry between the armed services which, he insists, "is undermining national confidence in our military programs."

Bitter Cold Chases Snow In Panhandle

United Press International

Bitter cold replaced falling snow in the Texas Panhandle today as North Texas dug out from its heaviest snowfall of the season.

A storm that swept through Tuesday left more than eight inches of snow on the ground in some areas.

Amarillo and Childress both reported eight-inch snowfalls and the bottom dropped out of thermometers in the Amarillo area before dawn. There the mercury plummeted to 4 below zero.

Dalhart had seven inches of snow and 2 above zero. Lubbock three inches of snow and 2 degrees, and Wichita Falls two inches and 26 degrees. Sherman also reported two inches of snow on the ground but its minimum temperature was not recorded.

More than 30 rural schools were closed in the Panhandle today and three parochial schools in Amarillo remained closed. Some rural schools that were open had no school bus service, and children couldn't get to school.

Snow fell Tuesday as far east as Bonham and Trenton and as far south as Dallas and Fort Worth, but the two to four inches predicted for the Dallas-Fort Worth area failed to materialize.

The storm, caused by warm, moist air off the Gulf of Mexico hitting frigid Canadian air sweeping southward, dropped heavy snow from New Mexico to Nashville, Tenn.

In many parts of North Texas the snow melted with rising temperatures Tuesday afternoon, then re-freeze overnight, coating streets and highways with a deadly glaze of ice. The Texas Department of Public Safety warned of "extremely dangerous" driving conditions throughout the snow area.

Most highways remained open to traffic because there was no wind to cause drifting.

At least two deaths were blamed on the snow. (See COLD, Page 3)

Pampa Trades Snow For Temperature Dip

More than six inches of snow blanketed Pampa yesterday and last night, driving temperatures down to a season low of seven degrees.

The fall caused schools in McLean to close at noon yesterday. Hopkins school was closed all day, and Pampa pupils went home at 2:30. Hopkins school is closed today as is McLean, where eight inches of snow fell, and the mercury dropped to 3 degrees last night.

The McLean-Clarendon conference basketball game was cancelled because of heavy snow on highways. Highways and streets in McLean were open today but are reported slick and dangerous. No accidents were reported.

In Pampa, 13 "fender bender" wrecks were reported and the highway patrol investigated three outside the city limits. Investigating highway patrolman Stan Schneider said only one injury resulted from the three collisions. A car driven by Paul Murphy, 312 N. Dwight, was struck from the rear by a truck driven by Charles Robert Scott, 1032 Twiford. Murphy was treated at Highland General Hospital for a cut over the eye and released.

Superlatives Flow For 'Mr. Speaker'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members of both political faiths dusted off some of their warmer superlatives for today's opening session. This is Spaker Sam Rayburn's 78th birthday, and the members don't get a chance to say all those nice things very often.

Rayburn's birthday, like Rayburn himself, has become pretty much of an institution around the capitol, coming as it does on or pretty close to the opening day of each session.

Except for four years embracing two Republican Congresses, Rayburn has been speaker since 1940, longer than most members of the House have been in Congress.

Although Rayburn is and always has been an unqualified and unrepentant Democrat, even the Republicans speak highly of him on his birthday, and sometimes even between birthdays.

This time President Eisenhower got into the act early, telegraphing the Texas last week, "I am proud to have been born in your congressional district."

If it comes from a hardware store, we have it. Lewis Hardware. (Adv.)

Hitchhiker Confesses Killing Man

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — A 20-year-old hitchhiker Tuesday night calmly admitted killing a man and kidnaping a 19-year-old University of California coed.

Levelyn McGee, 20, a native of Montgomery, Ala., confessed shooting Wade H. Strickland, 29, four times in the head Monday night and dumping his body along U.S. 60-70 near Wickenburg, Ariz., about 40 miles northwest of here.

McGee said he took $22 from Strickland, of Rialling Fork, Miss., as well as the dead man's clothes. He had $5 when arrested in a motel here and promptly turned it over to sheriff's deputies saying: "I guess I won't be needing this where I'm going, man."

McGee, who recently had been living with his mother, Mrs. Frances Stavakis, in her Riverside, Calif., home, also admitted kidnaping Barbara Katherine Hewson at gunpoint Dec. 30 and spending nearly a week with her in San Diego and El Centro, Calif., motels.

Miss Hewson returned to Riverside Tuesday and reported the incident to sheriff's deputies. She apparently suffered no serious injuries.

McGee said he was picked up by Strickland while hitchhiking in southern California and became angry for some unexplained reason. Strickland worked for the National Cotton Council.

Farm Income Takes Dip In Gray County

Gross farm income in Gray County dropped by $2½ million in 1959, County Agent Ralph Thomas announced today. Half and fall in cattle prices accounted for the largest share of the slump which brought income down from the 1958 total of $8 million.

Thomas said that wheat, grain sorghum and cotton yields were better than average, but wheat production was less than half the 1958 high. Although the grain sorghum crop was not as good as in 1957 and 1958, it was considerably better than the long-time average.

In the cattle market, area income dropped because of failure of last winter's wheat pastures to materialize and also because of a price dip.

Wheat gave farmers the most total income, with cattle a close second, grain sorghum third, and cotton fourth. Half damage hit cotton crops, Thomas said, cutting yields and lowering grades, but total production went up — to a total of nearly 1,200 bales. Improved lint cleaning machinery installed in the McLean gin in 1959 gave farmers better grades through superior processing.

Thomas said that increased use of hybrids have resulted in increased yields of grain sorghums. In 1955 there were only a few demonstration plots of hybrids. In the county, while an estimated 90 percent of the grain sorghum acreage was seeded to hybrids in 1959.

New Tascosa wheat, released in 1959 by the Texas Experiment Station, promises even more improvement in yield and quality. Thomas believes "These improved varieties of wheat developed by the experiment stations have played an important part in the improvement of Texas wheat quality."

Last fall, two hundred acres of this new wheat was seeded by members of the Gray County Certified Seed Association.

Message Getting Close Look By Aides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower takes a final look at his State of the Union message today with members of a cabinet looking over his shoulder.

Eisenhower, just back from a sabbatical holiday in Augusta, Ga., called the cabinet to the White House for a run-through of the message which will set the tone of his administration's legislative program for the new session of Congress.

The message has been a long time in preparation and has gone through more than a dozen preliminary drafts. Because of the steel strike and Eisenhower's recent 11-nation tour that took him into the critical areas of Asia and the Middle East, seldom has a State of the Union Message been revised so constantly.

Before settling down in the cabinet room to review the message, the Chief Executive had an early morning date at his church, the National Presbyterian for prayer and Communion services with other government leaders. This is an annual service held in connection with the convening of Congress.

At this stage, there was little prospect of a major overhaul in the State of the Union Message, although settlement of the steel strike required late reworking of sections dealing with the overall labor situation.

Eisenhower was expected to pay more than customary attention to foreign affairs in the message which he delivers in person to a joint session of the House and Senate Thursday. There will be particular emphasis on the requests for foreign aid, however, were not expected until a later special message.

To Be Installed

Five new directors will be installed at the annual meeting of the Pampa - Lefors United Fund organization at 4 p.m. Friday in city hall.

New officers will be elected from the 15-man directorship. The policy of the organization is to replace each year five members of the board.

Shady Ladies Protest GI Haircut Treatment

By SAMUEL KIM
United Press International

TONGDUCHON, Korea (UPI) — Two Korean prostitutes said today they would sue the U.S. Army for $20,000 because American soldiers shaved their heads when they were caught soliciting in a darkened Army quonset hut.

The prostitutes, Kim Soon Ae, 38, and Kim Chong Ja, 22, also named Capt. John McEnery, Cheyenne, Wyo., as the man who actually shaved their heads. McEnery is commander of the 7th Infantry Division Tank Company.

"This is the man who cut our hair with a hair clipper and an electric razor," said the elder as they stared at a picture of the six-foot, two-inch 1958 West Point graduate. "We are absolutely certain."

McEnery would make no comment because the shaving incident is still under investigation by the Army.

The Army announced earlier that the shaving had been done by First Sgt. Ora Curnette, 30, Chillicothe, Ohio, and Sgt. Harry K. Saunders, 27, Kansas City, Mo., under McEnery's orders.

Military sources said the company commander had offered his men a three-day pass to Seoul for every prostitute they arrested in the company area.

Lt. Col. Paul G. Showronek, battalion commander of Brownwood, Tex., denied this but said such an order would be a "good idea" to keep prostitutes away from the camp. The military has begun a campaign to lower venereal disease rate at Camp Beaver on the west central front.

The statement by the two prostitutes was the first indication that McEnery himself might have been involved in the incident.

Soon Ae said one of the soldiers who took them to the orderly room asked for a three-day pass and "he replied 'you should bring more prostitutes before you can get pass.'"

Freight Train Jumps Tracks

BELTON (UPI) — A Santa Fe freight train derailed near a depot here today and splintered a section gang sleeping car parked on a siding nearby.

Three men in the sleeping car were injured, but none was believed in serious condition.

They were Max Giles, of Cleburne, Tex., Elroy Discher of Somerville and James Williams of Brownwood. All three were signalmen.

A total of 25 rail cars derailed. Most of them carried wheat and cotton, but two were tank cars containing oil.

The cause of the accident was not immediately determined.

Mentally Ill Escapees Still Loose

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Police said today they were in a virtual "blind alley" in their hunt for five criminally insane prisoners who escaped from the state mental hospital's maximum security building.

The five-including one woman — fled the sprawling, campus-like institution in a stolen car early Tuesday after tying two women attendants with venetian blind cords.

They abandoned the car, owned engineering staff, at Huguenot by a member of the hospital's Varina, N.C., about 25 miles south of here and left their hospital uniforms behind. They were believed to have stolen another automobile which was reported seen in Aikman County, northwest of here.

Miss America's Mother Is Dead

NATCHEZ, Miss. (UPI) — Mrs. Herbert Mead, mother of Miss America Lynda Lee Mead, died at her home today. She was 48.

A funeral home said she died "suddenly" at 7:30 a.m. Cause of death was not immediately determined. The funeral home said: "Lynda Lee, Miss America of 1960, was in Chicago at the time her mother died."

Mrs. Mead was the former Maddalyn Hagen of New Orleans. She is also survived by her husband, Herbert and a son, Herbert Jr., 23. Mead is an auto dealer here.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete but the funeral home said she would be buried in New Orleans.

DeGaulle Plans Visit In April

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House today announced plans for a state visit by French President Charles de Gaulle to the United States beginning April 22.

De Gaulle originally had expected to visit Washington beginning April 19, but with the delay in the East-West summit meeting until mid-May, his visit can begin a few days later.

The French President will first visit Canada, then come to Washington where he will remain until April 25.

After leaving Washington, De Gaulle will spend one day in New York City and three additional days in other American cities, the exact itinerary to be announced later.

The White House said President Eisenhower was "particularly pleased" to play host to De Gaulle, with whom he has met twice in Europe in the past five months.

Many Americans will take a winter vacation this year in the tropics or our own south. For them and for the stay-at-homes who like to buy ahead for summer, designers have created fresh, new fashions. White corduroy pants are paired (left) with a pretty paisley print shirt in cocoa, coral and white. Pants are belted with a cord tie of the paisley fabric. Classic skirt and jacket (center) in white corduroy are embroidered with tiny red roosters, the Latin symbol of good fortune. This costume has red silk shirt. Shipboard separates (right) could also be worn at home. Coachman's skirt of pinwale corduroy is worn with long-sleeved, soft shirt of silky cotton. Corduroy is a fabric that takes beautifully to soap and water, of course.

Lessen Calorie Intake For Long-Term Diet

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

The simple arithmetic of more pounds than you want is that you eat more calories than your body needs. But that shouldn't make calories a scare word.

To live, you must have food. Food means calories — but not necessarily more than you need. So if you want to lose fat, reorganize your eating habits. Cut down on calories but do not attempt to cut them out.

Not starvation, but a sound reorganization of your daily eating is the only common sense way to lose weight, to keep your health and to get fun out of life — three vital objectives for most people.

Now let's translate those objectives into market list terms. You must eat some food every day from EACH of these groupings of familiar foods:

- Meat, poultry, fish, cheese, milk.
- Fruits (including some citrus such as oranges and grapefruit, or tomato juice) and vegetables (including green, leafy or yellow ones).
- Cereals, potatoes, macaroni or rice, bread.
- Fats (butter, margarine, edible oils).

Does all this talk about eating things like meat and cereals puzzle you when you want to lose weight? Don't let it. Lasting weight control without health control is impossible. To a large degree, health control is impossible without sound nutrition and sound nutrition is impossible without calories.

Of course, good nutrition is effective weight control. Limitation of calories to the amount needed by your body to function. Limitation does not mean you have to eat foods you dislike. Within moderation, you can include some of almost every food like in your weight control. Yes, even such food as bread.

How many calories do you need? That is a decidedly personal question. If you are tall and large, you'll need more than a person who is short and thin. If you chop wood for a living, you'll need more than a bank clerk. If you are 65 years old, you need less than your 20-year-old grandson.

In other words, activity, body structure and age are factors determining how many calories you need to get down to a healthy weight. How can you estimate your desirable weight?

For women: depending on whether you have a slight, medium or large frame, allow from 100 to 120 pounds for the first five feet of height. Add to that total five pounds more for each extra inch. If you are under five feet, subtract five pounds for every half-inch over five feet.

For a man of average build allow 110 pounds for the first five feet of height, and five or one-half pounds for each inch of height. For example, for a man 5-foot, 8-inches, his estimated desirable weight is 154 pounds.

If a man has a large frame or big muscles (the football type) allow an extra 10 per cent. But remember that a large frame means large bone structure and muscle development, not heaviness spread caused by fat.

No matter how many pounds you need to lose, take them off slowly and steadily. A diet of 1500 calories a day for a woman or 1800 calories a day for a man is a safe average minimum, although a short woman with a small frame could get along on 1200 calories a day as a man of similar stature on 1500.

Cruise Clothes Are Pretty At Home Or Worn Abroad

By GAILLE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — This is the time of year when a winter wardrobe begins to look a trifle weary. Cruise clothes look good to a gal whether she's going south or not.

For the gal who has planned a winter vacation, it's just a matter of picking what she wants. And for the gal who's staying at home, there are fresh, new fashions to brighten her winter-at-home wardrobe now and to be worn next summer. (Many women prefer to shop for summer clothes from the resort collections.)

Corduroy has merit both for those heading south and the stay-at-homes. The long evening skirt fashion is good now at home and equally good abroad a cruise ship or in the tropics. Paired with a handsome silk shirt and worn with some dazzling jewelry, it offers a welcome change from slacks for at-home wear.

There's lots of whites, off-white and pale beige in resort fashions. The white coat, for instance, can go places in the daytime under sunny skies — then double as a wrap in the evening over a short dance dress.

Since resort fashions anticipate both spring and summer, you will see in them a subtle newness. The silhouette is soft, pretty and feminine. Top width, then, is in do-main sleeves or draped sleeves, is important.

There are tunic dresses; many slim dresses have an overskirt. Pretty pleated skirts, designed to flare out as the wearer moves, are seen throughout resort collections.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of two little boys, 3 and 4. I have another child on the way. My husband died six months ago when our tractor overturned on him.

Our pastor is begging me to marry him. He spends every spare minute trying to help me and the boys, and they love him very much. I am 27, and he is 33.

My problem is I admire and respect this man, but I don't love him with the exciting kind of love every woman dreams about. He says it doesn't matter that I don't love him that way and that I will learn to love him because he will make me happy.

I want my children to have a father and I know this man will make a good one. Is it possible to build a marriage on this foundation?

when I read the letter from the poor lady who said her husband refused to be seen walking on the street with her if she wore eyeglasses.

I have the same trouble with my wife. Only it is in reverse! My wife can't see a foot in front of her face without glasses. She has a small fortune invested in glasses and they are all in her drawer.

But do you think she will wear them? Nor on your life! When we go to a party I have to lead her around like a seeing eye dog so I can tell her who's coming and what is going on. Hair the time she doesn't know what's being said because she can't see their faces. Tell that man who refuses to be seen with his wife because she wears glasses that he's got holes in his head.

DEAR UNDECIDED: Run, do not walk to the nearest altar. Mutual admiration and respect are often a spurious foundation for marriage than "the exciting kind of love every woman dreams about."

DEAR ABBY: I had to laugh

RUTH MILLETT

I've often wondered why it is nearly impossible for a woman to let a ringing telephone go unanswered.

You're already late for an appointment, rushing to get out of the house and on your way and there it comes—the ringing of the telephone. You say to yourself, "I won't answer it. If it turns out to be Susie she'll talk for fifteen minutes before I can get a word in to say I'm in a hurry."

But with the second ring, the feminine conscience goes to work: "Suppose it isn't Susie or any other friend just wanting to chat? Suppose something has happened to some member of the family? The children are in school, they ought to be all right."

"But children do get sick at school! Or it might be Jim. If it's Jim calling this time of day it's something important—and he doesn't have time to keep calling back."

"Maybe it's a long distance call. It's so insistent—it must be. Anyone else would have given up by now. That's what it is—a long distance call, probably important, and here I am, not even going over to answer it."

So your conscience wins and you make a dash for the telephone. Then either one of two things happens:

It's Susie all right—and it's twenty minutes before you can find a chance to beg, "Look, I'm in a rush. Can I call you back later? I really do want to hear all about the party."

Or worse luck, just as you pick up the telephone it quits ringing. And you leave with the nagging thought that maybe someone needed you and you were right there all the time pretending not to be, and your conscience nags and nags.

So a woman with curiosity and a conscience might as well answer a telephone on the first ring and be done with it.

Southwesterners Plan Social Fete

Mrs. Dale Gibson was hostess to Southwesterners' Club in her home, 733 N. Nelson, on Monday night.

During a brief business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Scott Langford, plans were completed for a Valentine supper.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Langford was honored with a baby shower.

Assisting hostesses were Meses. Herman Topper and Charles Baid. Those present were Jess Hobbs, Bill Wilson, Kenneth Hamon, Melvin Jayroe, Brooks Hubbard, Bobby Gene Smith, Floyd Lassiter, Omer Bybee, Evert Revaed, Carl Lafflin, Norman Flaherty, Odie Calote, Robert Elliott and Travis Harp.

Guild Meets With Mrs. A. S. Jackson

CANADIAN (SpI) — Mrs. A. S. Jackson was hostess to the Wesleyan Service Guild in her home recently.

Mrs. Harry McEwen gave the devotional. The topic "Christmas Observance in Foreign Lands" was presented by Mrs. Jack Parsons.

Attending were coordinator, Mrs. James Price and members Meses. Erbin Crowell, Harry McEwen, Bill Zender, W. A. Kessie Jr., J. A. Ullom, Wilbur Killebrew, Jack Parsons, Vera Morehead, Celia Roe and the hostess.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem you have never heard of before. My husband, who is 36, steals money from our children. Money they have earned and money sent to them for birthdays and holidays. He knows the children are never forgotten on such occasions and because there are six of them, their relatives make a practice of sending them money instead of gifts.

My oldest son worked all summer (where my husband works steady) and the boss gave my husband the money to give to my son. My son never saw the money and was ashamed to tell the boss he never got it.

Is there some way I can make my husband return what he has stolen from the children without calling the police? I hate to make a fairbird-out of the children's father.

NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps you could induce him to return the money he has stolen from the children by threatening to call the police. Your husband is a heartless and unprincipled scoundrel and doesn't deserve the protection you are giving him. Don't waste your time appealing to his sense of decency. He apparently has none. All he can understand is the fear of punishment from the law.

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hopsacking, printed all over with bright carnations, makes a smart little jacket for summer wear.

BENEATH THESE WATERS—On Dec. 7, 1941, at Pearl Harbor, the battleship USS Arizona was sunk by a single Japanese bomb. Of the Arizona's 1,543 sailors and Marines, 1,102 still remain aboard. Now a memorial, shown in drawing above, is to be built above their common grave. A rectangular concrete facade will stretch 186 feet from the outboard side of the ship to nearby Ford Island, spanning the main deck house which is still above water. The memorial house a museum and a ceremonial bridge. The memorial will be completed in time for dedication on Dec. 7, 1960.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—There are indications a plenty that dividend actions in 1960 will again be predominantly on the favorable side, reports Standard & Poor's Corp. The big investment and advisory organization points out that 1,186 companies increased their payments last year and 238 resumed dividends, against only 610 and 178 in recession-ridden 1958. At the same time, the number of casualties dropped sharply, the statistical agency notes. "Only 90 corporations reduced payments against 436 in 1958, while the number of omissions fell to 217 from 302. Extras rose to 1,419 from 1,231."

Ahoy Spaceman!

Long ago the sky was sky-high, so high nobody cared. But no more. In 1965 Blackstone baked up old Roman law that sovereignty went up as ad coelum, or as high as the sky. By 1999 the First Hague Peace Conference ruled against discharging explosives from balloons, and today we have endless legal problems that reach beyond the moon. With airplanes, armed and unarmed overhead, modern Blackstones had to ask how high is up. Could a low air zone come within state control, and a high zone remain free like the seas? No, many thought, for gravity worked in and through both zones. Zone said no zone, fighter-planes for example, could drop; or things could fall on people below. So in World War I brave little Holland held fast for Blackstone: Nobody could fly over her land lawfully without her permission. In 1919 the Aerial Navigation Convention joined the Dutch in saying every power has full and sole sovereignty over the air space above its land. The 1923 Convention on International Civil Aviation still held to this view. This had to do with air, but what about outer space? With airplanes one could say their space ended up there when the "air" could no longer hold up a plane. Say, thirty miles up. Then Sputnik! Each day it circled the sovereignty of land and air. So the law of outer space comes up again. In 1956 the American Society of International Law debated whether Blackstone would hold for "air" which could not support vehicles, whether thirty or thousands of miles "up." No, they decided, the sky was only as high as the nations had in mind in 1919 and 1923. So we have more questions than answers, some with cold war dimensions: 1. How could one state shoot a rocket aloft without invading another's sovereignty on the way-up or down? 2. What if such things took pictures of military value below? What would that do to the state's sovereignty below? 3. What about the moon? Eager moon-vigilators plan, like Columbus, to land on the moon, and to stake out claims in their "sovereign's" name. Is the moon terra incognita or terra nullius, like the lands of the new world on the old maps? Do first comers get moon lands? Or must they "occupy" these lands after discovery? Already people have proposed that space craft be registered like sea-going vessels, and fly their country's flag, a drape their purposes—scientific, commercial, or military—when they blast off. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Forgery Suspect To Be Extradited

Extradition proceedings will be started today against Gerald Allen Thompson, currently in the State Penitentiary in Oregon. Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan said Thompson will be released from the Oregon prison within the next few days and a hold order has been placed against him. Jordan said Thompson is wanted here for forgery, as the result of a four-hour spree when he forged 10 checks totaling $772.80 two years ago.

Singer Found At Robbery Site

RIDGEFIELD PARK, N.J. (UPI)—Al Hibbler, nationally known blind singer and piano player, was free in $1,250 bail today following his arrest at the scene of an attempted burglary. Hibbler, 43, was arrested Tuesday as a material witness after police "found" him standing in a gasoline station that was the scene of an attempted break-in. Police sought two companions of Hibbler for questioning in connection with the case. Hibbler told police he had been in New York Monday night and two male friends offered to drive him home. During the trip to his Teaneck home the blind singer told police they stopped twice along the way. When they stopped a third time Hibbler said he heard glass breaking and insisted on getting out. He told police his companions then drove off and left him there.

Chimp's Friend To Get Hearing

MIAMI (UPI)—The troubles of Robert Tomarchin and his chimpanzee pal Mr. Moke resume today at an identity hearing. The 27-year-old animal trainer was indicted Tuesday in St. Louis for swiping Mr. Moke from the St. Louis Zoo last Dec. 21. The hearing late today before Peace Justice Francis Chittre will be to determine if Tomarchin is the man who sold Mr. Moke to the zoo last fall. Tomarchin, who was once shipwrecked for 40 days on a deserted island 125 miles from Pitcairn Island in the South Sea with only Mr. Moke for company, admitted he took the chimp from his cage in St. Louis because he thought the animal was lonely. ### CONGRESS (Continued From page 1)

Senate Republicans scheduled their opening party conference for this afternoon. Senate Democrats deferred their program—mapping meeting until after Eisenhower's presentation of his 1960 program. Presidential politics may overshadow legislative issues during the session. Some members forecast a relatively short session with the lawmakers adjourning before the political conventions open in July. Civil rights, school construction, minimum wage, social security, monetary matters, gas taxes and defense policy appeared to be the big issues for the presidential year session. The controversy over civil rights will blaze most fiercely in the Senate starting Feb. 15. But it may come up first in the House this month. Northern House Democrats announced they would press for a liberal legislative program including a civil rights measure, expanded minimum wage law, addition of medical care to social security benefits, new housing and farm programs, and federal grants for school construction, and economically depressed areas. But at least part of this program was sure to run into the opposition of Republicans—southern Democrats who hold the balance of power in the House. Congressional investigators will look into such matters as payola and other broadcast deceptions, scandals in the interstate highway construction program, lagging U.S. space efforts and the cost of drugs and medicines.

Doctors reported that the tumor was malignant. The operation was performed Tuesday at the National Institutes of Health. Doctors said Mrs. Thurmond withstood it well but later took a turn for the worse. The senator, who was at her bedside, said, "God never made a finer, nobler woman or a more devoted companion. I have never known any woman who was more unselfish or more dedicated to the public good. She truly lived a life of service to others."

The incumbent, Arlie Carpenter, held the post several years, but will not run again. Breining, a Gray County resident 30 years, is at this time unopposed in the coming Democratic primary.

Symington Not Jolted By Kennedy Coup

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's (D-Mass.) political coup in Ohio failed today to jolt Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) into any primary battles for the Democratic presidential nomination. A third major Democratic contender, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), said he would stay in the fight for his party's presidential nomination even if he lost the key Wisconsin primary in April. But he said he had no intention of losing there or elsewhere.

CRASH (Continued From Page 1)

Edward said he went back to bed because he couldn't be sure that a plane had crashed. He said he heard on a radio news broadcast that a National plane was overdue and telephoned his information to the Wilmington office of the airline about 6:30 a.m. Edward said a Negro man came to his home and told him he had seen the wreckage. Edwards went with the man to a field about a mile and a half west of Bolivia, where he found the scattered wreckage. "The pilot was still in the cockpit and bodies were still in the plane and scattered all over the field. I don't believe anybody was alive," he added. "The cockpit was in the edge of a wooded area and the rest of the plane was in the field. Both of the wings were folded and one was loose," he added, "and there was luggage scattered all around. The plane narrowly missed a house occupied by a Negro field worker, Richard Randolph, according to Edwards. The house was about 400 to 500 yards from the wreckage. The nearest highway is U.S. 17, about a mile and a half from the scene.

Scout Council Reorganization Late This Month

Plans for the organization of the new Indian Point Brush Council of the Girl Scouts of America, to be headquartered in Pampa City Hall, are scheduled for completion in late January, Miss Kay Howell, district director, said yesterday. The reorganization will increase the territory from the present 213 counties in the Top of Texas Council to 10, reaching in jurisdiction as far north as Ellis County, Okla. Mrs. John E. Holt, Jr., chairman of the structure committee, and Miss Howell returned Tuesday from Miami and Canadian where they were engaged in explaining details of the plan to workers in the towns and counties soon to be incorporated. The council will be formed into a non-profit corporation including the counties of Hutchinson, Armstrong, Roberts, Gray, Wheeler, Donley, Hemphill and Collingsworth; Carson County, with the exception of the City of Panhandle; City of Higgins in Lipscomb County, and the city of Memphis in Hall County, and Ellis County, Okla.

TV Dude To Play Bum On Coming Show

By VERNON SCOTT, UPI Hollywood Correspondent. HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Efrem Zimbalist Jr., that urbane intellectual of TV's private-eye set, will be seen this Sunday night playing a drunken bum scrounging around for a shot of red-eye in the Malemute saloon. The debonair detective, whose apparel makes Ivy Leaguers appear slovenly, will be wearing a segment of "The Alaskans." Despite his comelown as a fashion-plate, Zimbalist declares it is the best role he's played since coming to movietown. "It's an actor's dream," said the pipe-smoking Efrem. "To begin with, the part requires some acting effort, something more than just standing around looking pleasant. And there's a five-minute courtroom appeal to the jury that is absolutely tremendous."

on the storm. The Rev. Taft Holloway, an Amarillo Baptist minister, was killed when his station wagon skidded on a snow-slick street into the path of a Rock Island passenger train. Mrs. Gloria Moore, 29-year-old Fort Worth Negro, was killed when her car skidded on a rainy street and overturned, slamming upside-down into the wall of a veterinary clinic. Her body was thrown from the car and fell on a high-voltage line snapped by the car. It was not immediately known whether she died of injuries or electrocution. A light plane believed to have crashed with three men aboard in the Chinle Mountains of south-west Presidio county Monday was still missing today. Merla ranchers Wert Love and James Harrington left Marfa in a heavy overcast about 4 p.m. Monday to take a Mexican national to Presidio, 80 miles south, to see about passport papers for him. They never arrived. Panhandle skies began to clear today and the snow threat there seemed to be ended. Rain and snow were still in the forecast for North Central Texas and rain was expected over most of the state but West Texas. At last report, it was snowing in Fort Worth. A hard freeze was expected over most of North and West Texas again tonight. The Amarillo Weather Bureau said the high there this afternoon would be 29 degrees and the low tonight 8 degrees. Other minimum temperatures this morning included: El Paso 28, Alpine 24, Midland 25, Abilene 28, San Angelo and Presidio 31, Fort Worth and Texarkana 32, Dallas 34, Waco 36, Austin 38, Fort Arthur 41, San Antonio and Galveston 42, Victoria and Houston 43, Laredo 47, Corpus Christi 48 and Brownsville 49. Mrs. Gloria Moore, 29-year-old Fort Worth Negro, was killed when her car skidded on a rainy street and overturned, slamming upside-down into the wall of a veterinary clinic. Her body was thrown from the car and fell on a high-voltage line snapped by the car. It was not immediately known whether she died of injuries or electrocution. A light plane believed to have crashed with three men aboard in the Chinle Mountains of south-west Presidio county Monday was still missing today. Merla ranchers Wert Love and James Harrington left Marfa in a heavy overcast about 4 p.m. Monday to take a Mexican national to Presidio, 80 miles south, to see about passport papers for him. They never arrived. Panhandle skies began to clear today and the snow threat there seemed to be ended. Rain and snow were still in the forecast for North Central Texas and rain was expected over most of the state but West Texas. At last report, it was snowing in Fort Worth. A hard freeze was expected over most of North and West Texas again tonight. The Amarillo Weather Bureau said the high there this afternoon would be 29 degrees and the low tonight 8 degrees. Other minimum temperatures this morning included: El Paso 28, Alpine 24, Midland 25, Abilene 28, San Angelo and Presidio 31, Fort Worth and Texarkana 32, Dallas 34, Waco 36, Austin 38, Fort Arthur 41, San Antonio and Galveston 42, Victoria and Houston 43, Laredo 47, Corpus Christi 48 and Brownsville 49. Rainfall amounts in the past 24 hours were: Dallas 1.23 inch, Brownwood 1.00 inch, Texarkana .88, Fort Worth .86, Waco .79, Abilene .60, Wichita Falls .42, Port Arthur .39, Galveston .34, San Antonio and Amarillo .31, San Angelo .28, Austin .25, Houston .19, and 10 inch or less at Alpine, Presidio, Midland, Laredo, Corpus Christi and Victoria. El Paso and Brownsville were the only major weather stations not reporting any rainfall over 24 hours.

Blue Lustre Cleans Carpets Like Magic

The cleaning of wall to wall carpeting and fine upholstery has always been of major concern to neat homemakers everywhere.

In the days of the kerosene lamp and the back yard pump, housewives relied on the old fashioned carpet beater to literally attack carpet soil by trying to pound it out in clouds of dust.

Today, thanks to science and technical skill, many household chores have become simple tasks—and this is more than ever true with carpet and upholstery cleaning when Blue Lustre was developed.

Like so many other wonderful products on the market today, the magic of modern chemistry also created the efficient cleaning agent that has made Blue Lustre famous.

Blue Lustre, a very gentle and odorless liquid concentrate, was designed for the fine home cleaning of carpets and upholstery which produces professional results at great savings.

This marvelous concentrate is mixed with water, then agitated or stirred to create a billowy foam. This Blue Lustre foam is easily applied with a long handled brush or it can be used in any type of shampoo rug applicator. Housewives using Blue Lustre for the first time are always surprised at how quickly old forgotten colors seem to spring back to life, revealing again the true beauty of their floor covering.

Blue Lustre foam penetrates instantly to the carpet soil and its unique action holds the dirt particles in suspension for easy removal by vacuuming. Since only foam is used, there is no soaking or matting of the fabric and it is soon dry and ready for use again with nap left open and lofty. When vacuuming after the carpet is dry, all soil and cleaning agent is removed so there is no oily or gummy residue left in the carpet.

A wonderful advantage to the busy housewife who keeps Blue Lustre on hand is the convenience of quickly eliminating those soiled

In 1948 he became an authorized teacher of Christian Science.

Foreign News

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign Editor

About a half hour out of Munich, in rolling farm country which eventually gives way to the Alps, lies the pleasant little Bavarian town of Dachau.

Houses of yellow stucco nestle close together in the manner of German villages, and there is no hint of the horror that went on there 20 years ago. Some of the villagers claim that even at the time, they had no knowledge of the fact that thousands upon thousands of Jews were dying in the gas ovens of Dachau.

The gas chambers still stand as a horrible memento to Germans of the sins of Adolf Hitler, whose Nazi swastika emblem once more is appearing on synagogue walls, on Jewish shrines and on the homes of some of the 30,000 Jews remaining in West Germany.

Some six million Jews died at the hands of the Hitlerites before the Nazis finally were crushed by the World War II Allies in 1945, and today in West Germany there are laws to insure that never again can anti-semitism run rampant as it did under Hitler.

Anti-semitism is a subject from which most Germans recoil, for of all the excesses of Hitlerism, that left perhaps the greatest stain.

But there has remained a hard core of anti-semitism. German officials insist it does not represent by any means the majority feelings of West Germans, and is, in fact, probably no worse than in other nations which do not have a history of Nazism.

On a visit to West Germany last spring, this correspondent was told of anti-semitic incidents, and of the severity with which German Courts deal with such.

But, perhaps because of its recent history, there is a difference of opinion in German officialdom and among Jews themselves as to how these incidents should be treated.

Favorite Sons Destined To Harass Kennedy Campaign

WASHINGTON WINDOW BY LYLE C. WILSON United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Favorite sons and, especially, Missouri's Sen. Stuart Symington, are likely to haunt and to harass Sen. John F. Kennedy's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Kennedy's weekend announcement of his candidacy will invigorate the considerable activity within the Democratic Party to kill him off. His announcement formalized his position as front runner among a half dozen more or less legitimate seekers of the nomination.

A front-runner has the advantage of course of being in front. The disadvantage is that all other aspirants, plus those who for one reason or another also oppose the candidacy of the man in front, tend to gang up on the leader to pull him down.

Pull Kennedy down, the others must, or their own hopes are hollow. Kennedy is well aware of this. As long ago as last summer, he was complaining in public that favorite son candidacies in various states and abandonment of presidential primaries in others were stifling the people's voice in the choice of a Democratic nominee.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California is one favorite son who has put up against Kennedy. He is finding something less than a welcome in Maryland's presidential primary. The governors of Michigan and New Jersey prefer to control their state's delegations themselves. There are others.

All of this is harmful to Kennedy's candidacy. Specifically, all of this cuts into Kennedy's potential strength. The political pros are saying with much confidence that if Kennedy is unable to make it on an early ballot next July in Los Angeles, he will not make it at all, and that the Democratic nomination will go either to Adlai E. Stevenson or to Symington.

The pros could be wrong and perhaps they are. But it is not only in Washington that predictions and bets are being made that the Democrats, finally, will choose between Stevenson and Symington. The Symington boom, as of now, probably is the stronger of the two, largely because Stevenson insists he wants to sit this one out. He is solid with the left wing of the party, well liked by labor and, as a border state man, the mere mention of his name does not infuriate the South. Also said of Symington is that he has not offended anybody or any bloc of voters.

Kennedy is on pretty good terms with organized labor and his name certainly does not infuriate the South. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt occasionally has challenged his fitness for the presidency and she would not comment on his announcement that he would run.

Now that he formally has announced his intentions, Kennedy's job is, somehow, to unstuff what his regards as the people's voice.

It prospered until his religion became known and then a boycott finally bankrupted him. The case was not one that could be taken to the courts, and the acquaintance who told the story was grateful that it could not be. "It just starts something else," he said.

But there are others who believe action of the courts should be even more severe. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's regime has been accused of turning its back on rising anti-semitism, but rejects the charge. The regime feels itself caught between two fires. If it outlaws neo-Nazi or nationalist parties, it drives them underground. If it curbs freedom of speech, it is accused of being anti-democratic.

Your Tax Primer

(Tenth of 12 Chapters) By RICHARD A. MULLENS Written for NEA Service

Chapter Ten

The old saying, "two can live as cheaply as one," has received cynical treatment from many a husband harassed by mounting household bills.

The income tax return for many a husband harassed by mounting household bills.

Take Mr. X's situation. He's a $50,000 a year bachelor who pops the marriage question to his fiancée in December and hints for a Jan. 1 wedding date.

Although she has no income, the girl (like most girls) is smart. She knows that if they get married on Dec. 31, they can file a joint income tax return for the year, whereas if they wait until Jan. 1, he will have to report $50,000 on a separate return.

A little figuring shows that a joint return will save them more than $6,000 in taxes for the year. Needless to say, they were happily married on Dec. 31.

You might think from the above story that couples with year-end wedding plans should always get married before Jan. 1 so they can file a joint return and save taxes.

Unfortunately, like so many areas of tax law, you can't take much for granted. If you do, you may end up like Mr. Y.

Mr. Y is a $10,000 a year bachelor and a friend of Mr. X. Knowing how well Mr. X made out, he decides to impress his gal with the idea of getting married on Dec. 31 and taking a honeymoon on the tax he thinks will be saved by filing a joint return.

His girl (like most girls) is smart. She knows that since she is also making $10,000 a year and since they don't have enough deductions to itemize, that they not only would not save any money by filing a joint return but that it would cost them about $300 in additional taxes to get married before Jan. 1.

How come? The standard deduction for married couples cannot exceed $1,000 on a joint return or $500 on separate returns. Unmarried persons, however, can claim up to a $1,000 standard deduction. By postponing the marriage until Jan. 1, each could use the full $1,000 standard for the previous year.

For taxpayers who are already married, it will almost always be advisable to file a joint return. This is particularly true if one spouse has little or no income. However, if both are working and earning approximately the same salaries, the tax should be computed both ways to make sure the cheaper method is used.

For example, suppose John Q. Public earns $2,495 and his wife earns $2,470. If they compute their tax by using the Tax Table (which they must use unless they itemize deductions) and have no other ex-

He said the girl had stayed with Sparks' two young children New Year's Eve. Sparks took her home. The body was found about a mile past the girl's home. She was buried Monday in a rural cemetery. Nichols admitted tests were made to determine if the girl had been raped, but he refused to make results of the tests public.

While many steel industry executives offered assurances of no immediate increase in the price of steel it was widely expected today that prices would be jacked up once the full impact of the new contract is felt.

Monday night U.S. Steel chairman Roger M. Blough termed the new peace pact inflationary and said the cost of the wage would be "well over $1 billion."

The steel strike slowed the rise in consumer installment credit in November, but not enough to prevent volume from hitting a new record of $38,723,000,000, the Federal Reserve Board reported. This type of credit rose by $4,076,000,000 or 13% million less than the month before.

The Treasury's short-term borrowing costs increased again after a week's decline. Its latest issue of 26-week bills topped the 4.98% mark for a new high—up from 4.94 per cent last week. This week's issue of 13-week bills was sold on a 4.602 per cent basis—just short of the record 4.670 per cent reached Dec. 21.

Spring carpet prices will remain stable despite rising wool costs, according to Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Co. But the steel settlement makes higher carpet prices likely for fall. Carpet industry sales in 1960 should top 1959 by "at least 5 per cent."
