Bill Approved Seeking Crude Import Cuts

Senate Committee Votes 9 To 6 For Capper Proposal

Contest Impends Before Senate From Two Sources

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP)—The senate commerce committee today approved the Capper bill to restrict the importation of foreign oils, after a sharp division. The vote was 9 to 6.

Senator Johnson, republican, California, the chairman, prepared to put the measure immediately before the senate. He led the forces favoring the bill.

A contest impends in the senate, however, both against the bill and against the jurisdiction of the commerce committee to act on the legislation.

The measure, offered by Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, would apply an immediate limitation on importations of crude petroleum. This product would be limited to 16,000,000 barrels annually for the next three years, including this calendar year.

Importation of all-refined products including all by products and fuel oil would be prohibited for the three years.

The legislation was demanded by the independent oil producers of the mid-continent field, who told the committee they were in danger

HOME TOWN TALK

BY BEDDY

Big Spring naturally falls in the ranks of cities meriting large, new federal buildings such as the $165,000 structure announced Monday.

Further authorization is necessary. It was authorized by Secretary Mellon and submitted as an item in the additional $68,000,000 group for which appropriations must be made in the second supplementary public buildings bill, in a few weeks or in the regular session, opening in March—on or the other.

Construction of the federal building, of a structure planned by Texas Electric Service company and such items as first should stimulate the city considerably.

One of the best and most direct methods of obtaining local expenditure of U. S. funds is through such a building as the one just announced.

Another, and speedy, method of obtaining local expenditures and permanent benefit from U. S. funds is by using county road bonds to enable the county to receive 2-to-1 aid from the U. S. and state treasuries.

Edward county will vote again February 21, on a county bond issue of $900,000. Of that sum $200,000 will be used by the county on county roads in precinct.

The remaining $700,000 will be reached by a total of $1,000,000 in state and federal money—$700,000 each—to form enough to pave two important state-federal highways across the county. But, in addition to usual 2-for-1 aid Howard county has received unqualified promise it will be given credit of $125,000 to remunerate it for what it spent on the second rate topping placed on highway 1 and a little on No. 9 several years ago.

This is especially liberal because the people are being used in the topping all along. The people who have opposed the road bond issue because No. 1 was to be included, and who argued the sorry, bumpy, narrow jolting already on No. 1 should be used awhile longer now have no argument at all. The county is to be treated entirely right. The county will be highly unappreciative if it turns down this proposition.

If we turn down an opportunity such as this to have $2,500,000 spent within the county, we are going to brand ourselves as wishing to fall back into a medieval, out-of-date, dwindling class rather than wishing to go forward and improve general conditions.

We wish and argue and contend and pray for better conditions. Well, here's one chance for us to help make sure better conditions.

CLOWN OF SCREEN LEARNS THERE IS NOTHING LIKE A WRATHFUL WOMAN

BUSTER KEATON HAS SCRATCHES AND BRUISES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5 (AP)—Buster Keaton, clown of the screen, knew today, by scratches and bruises that there is nothing so wrathful as an angry woman.

The marks on his face, he said, were put there by the hands of Miss Kathleen Key, former film beauty, when he refused to help her out of financial straits. He said she beat him yesterday in his dressing room on a studio lot.

Miss Key simply said: "Call up Mr. Keaton and see what he has to say about it."

On the telephone Keaton said: "Yes, she completely wrecked my dressing room. She clawed me and scratched and tore my clothes."

Miss Key was overpowered by two studio policemen and taken to the Culver City studio, but was released without any charges being filed against her.

Keaton, who is married to Natalie Talmadge, sister of the famous Norma and Constance, had known Miss Key for many years and when she returned from Europe about a year ago she came to him to learn if she might be able to return to him.

"I told her she was getting too stout—she weighed 139 pounds—and that if she could get her weight down, she would become a

Prison Board Report Made

Net Cost $870,445.20; Reduction of Half Million

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—The annual report of the Texas prison board for the year ended December 31, was submitted to the legislature today.

Net cost of operation of the system for the year was $870,445.20, a reduction of more than a half million dollars from the 1929 figure of $1,442,625.99. W. A. Paddock, chairman of the board, reported.

A large portion of this difference is due to the large increase in the amount of cotton raised. The crop this year was 10,709 bales and sold for $725,564.99. In 1929, the crop was 2,945 bales and brought $297,000.40. Both these figures include the cottonseed sold.

"In addition to this reduction in the loss from operation a study of the figures submitted with this report will reveal a material saving in the several items of the administration of the system."

The number of escapes decreased from 302 in 1929 to 187, Paddock stated. "The number of escapes will always be larger than it should be as long as such large numbers of men are employed in the fields."

Paddock said the population of the system at the end of the year 1929 was the same as at the end of 1928. However, there are several hundred under conviction being held in county jails because there is no place in which to keep them," he added. "When the new unit is complete at Central farm, there will be some relief but not much more than the normal increase."

"During the quarter of a century in which the Terrell election laws have been in effect the voter has been deceived, not an affirmative vote, but a negative vote; all due to the fact that the candidates before him do not represent the type of man he conceives to be the proper material for public office and he votes for the lesser of several evils, as he sees them."

March 12 Is Date Of Druggists' Meet with Members Here

Date for the West Texas Druggists' Association convention here was announced Thursday as March 12 in a telephone message from President Eddie Smith of San Angelo to Shine Phillips.

Headquarters will be at the Settles hotel. Details of the program will be announced in a few days.

Suit of Depositors In Failed Guaranty Fund Banks Pushed

AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—Motion asking Judge J. D. Moore of 98th district court to appoint a master in chancery and official stenographers to take testimony in the suit of depositors in failed farmer guaranty fund banks for a share in $2,000,000 guaranty fund assets, was filed by Attorneys J. F. Hair and G. O. Crisp, on behalf of the depositors. The case is set for hearing February 16. If the motion is granted, it appeared a delay will follow to permit completion of the testimony before the case is taken up in its legal aspects by the court.

City Tax Payments Here Satisfactory

City tax payments are reported satisfactory by officials of the tax collector's office, with $38,923.66 having been collected up to this morning.

The tax rolls amount to $113,000, according to city officials.

"Then Miss Key came to see me again. She said she needed $4,000 to pay the debts she owed. I finally agreed to loan her $4,000—and $1,000 on top of that for her to buy a ticket to China, or any other place—just so the gossip would be stopped."

"She called yesterday for the $5,000. I had the check already prepared. She came to my dressing room. Cliff Edwards (Ukulele Ike) and Clarence Logan, a friend were with me. I offered her the check but she demanded $20,000 more. I resolved not to give her a cent and tore up the check."

"Then the fight started. She manhandled me something awful breaking all the windows in my dressing room in the struggle. Edwards and Logan left the scene but my negro boy, Willy, came to my rescue. He ran for the police and came back with the studio chief and another officer, who put her in an automobile and took her to the Culver City police station. She was still screaming as the car went out of the studio."

Nominations By Convention Plan Favored

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales today introduced a bill to substitute the convention-primary system of nominating candidates for state-wide offices for the present two-primary system.

Under its terms a state convention would be held to select two candidates for each office, including that of United States senator. Delegates to the convention would be selected in the July primary, to be moved up to the second Saturday in July. There would be one delegate for each 500 votes cast in the preceding August primary election.

The convention would be held the second Tuesday after the first primary with the second primary to be held the same time as at present, the fourth Saturday in August. In case any candidate received three-fourths of the vote of the convention, he would receive the nomination without a primary.

Since the convention would meet before the second primary and draw up the platform, the platform would have a real significance, Hopkins said.

"A very distinct dissatisfaction with our present primary election laws has developed in the public mind," the Gonzales senator stated. "Restoration of the old democratic convention system of nominating candidates—modified and properly safeguarded—would be welcomed by a large number of our people who feel that the time has arrived for a change."

"During the quarter of a century in which the Terrell election laws have been in effect the voter has been deceived, not an affirmative vote, but a negative vote; all due to the fact that the candidates before him do not represent the type of man he conceives to be the proper material for public office and he votes for the lesser of several evils, as he sees them."

John Ramsey, rural mail carrier, reported he met a truck going toward Logansport early this morning. It was being driven by a youth who wore a straw hat, Ramsey said. The truck, it is believed, did not reach Logansport but is thought to have gone toward Gonzales, La., or Tehama, Texas.

Surviving the deceased are two sons, Ambrose Kirby, of Logansport; E. K. Kirby, of Houston; Mrs. W. F. Willis, of Logansport, and Miss Eva May Kirby of Houston.

City Officials, Gas Men, Hold Midland Meet

Local Leaders in Both Sides of Controversy Are There

City Manager V. R. Smith's probe of allegedly high natural gas bills here for the period December 21 to January 21, inclusive, shifted to Midland today, where a conference between city officials of Midland and officials of the West Texas Gas Co., Midland distributors, is scheduled for this afternoon. Newspaper men were to report the meeting. Smith left early this afternoon to attend the meeting.

Midland city officials are conducting an inquiry similar to the one started here. The probe resulted from a flood of complaints filed with Midland officials.

Smith announced this morning that since yesterday's announcement that he was conducting an investigation of a number of complaints made by residents, he had received approximately 40 additional.

Gil Cotton, manager of the Empire Southern Service Co., had no statement early today regarding the complaints and the resulting investigation. He left for Midland this morning to attend the conference.

Smithman declared he had intended to conduct an investigation to ascertain the number of British

Texan's Head Is Split Open

Aged Storekeeper's Body Found In Louisiana By Son

LOGANSPORT, La., Feb. 5 (AP)—With his head split open by a blunt instrument wielded by a burglar who robbed his store, J. R. Kirby, 75, merchant of Logansport, Texas, miles north of here, was found in a dying condition early today by his son, Ambrose Kirby of Logansport.

The aged storekeeper died without having made a statement. Officers of Texas and Louisiana joined in a hunt for the murderer.

Kirby was found in his room, a shed affair, adjoining his store. Officers expressed belief that the burglar crept into the room and struck the fatal blow and then ransacked the store, taking an undetermined amount of cash and a large quantity of groceries, canned goods and clothing.

The loot was hauled away in Kirby's truck.

John Ramsey, rural mail carrier, reported he met a truck going toward Logansport early this morning. It was being driven by a youth who wore a straw hat, Ramsey said. The truck, it is believed, did not reach Logansport but is thought to have gone toward Gonzales, La., or Tehama, Texas.

Young Cadet Believed To Have Flown Off Course

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 5 (AP)—A squadron of 30 planes from the attack, bombardment, and observation sections at Kelly Field, San Antonio, took off here today in search of Cadet Earl Donnelly, missing since yesterday when the aviators left Fort Sill, Okla.

The army fliers divided into three groups, one heading for Lubbock, one for Clovis, N. M., and the third toward Seagraves and Midland.

Donnelly was due here at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. Lieutenant E. C. Kiel, in charge of the flight to which Donnelly was attached, said that the latter might have gone wide of his course because of a strong south wind yesterday.

Conductor Retires After 46 Years

ED WITHERSPOON

Forty-six and one-half years service with the Texas & Pacific railroad—all of them on divisions west of Fort Worth—came to a close Sunday for Conductor Ed Witherspoon.

The jovial trainman—68 years old but not looking it—was in charge of passenger train No. 2 leaving Big Spring at 9:10 a. m. on that day on his way to Fort Worth to end his run and terminate his active railroading days.

"Don't know how I'll like the change," he said. "Life will be a whole lot different; but I've served my time, and I'm beginning to feel like I need a rest."

Witherspoon was on train No. 3 Saturday afternoon. He came to Big Spring, returning on the east-bound.

"I saw most of this country when she was still wild," he said. "The towns out here were only flag stations." Witherspoon started work with the T. & P. when he was 22. For years he was a brakeman on the Fort Worth-Baird division. He has been on passengers between Fort Worth and Big Spring for 30 years.

"You know, Sunday is a big day for me," Witherspoon said. I started railroading on Sunday, got married on Sunday, ran my first train and my first passenger on Sundays, and now I'm leaving the game on Sunday."

The hands of his watch pointed to leaving time. Witherspoon shouted "Board!" just as he had done many times a day for 30 years. He waved a farewell as he swung to a car step—still busy until No. 2 got into Fort Worth.

Mrs. Koger of Lamesa Dies

Funeral Held There On Thursday Afternoon For Pioneer

(Special To The Herald) LAMESA, Feb. 5.—Mrs. C. C. Koger, resident of Lamesa for the last twenty-nine years, died here Wednesday morning at 8:40 o'clock following a short illness.

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at three o'clock with Rev. Eugene H. Surface, Presbyterian pastor, in charge.

Mrs. Koger was well known in West Texas, having come to this section in 1883, moving to Howard county in 1892. She married John T. Joyner there. Mr. Joyner died in 1912. In 1914 she married C. C. Koger and moved to Dawson county in same year.

Mrs. Koger was a charter member of the First Presbyterian church here and has been an active church worker since early girlhood. She is survived by husband, one son, Robert Curtis, 15; one sister, Mrs. Hardy Morgan, Lamesa, and one brother, Edwin Andrus of Crystal City.

Bill Seeking Death For Kidnaping Okd By Lower House

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—The house today passed a bill by Representative Petch of Fredericksburg making kidnaping a capital offense. The vote was 112 to 5.

The bill set the minimum sentence at five years in the penitentiary.

It would apply to kidnaping for robbery, ransom or extortion.

It was passed after an amendment by Representative Farmer to eliminate the death penalty was tabled, 90 to 23.

Venue would be given the county where the offense occurred, where the kidnaped person was held or any county through which the kidnaped person was taken.

The bill was made an emergency measure because of the inadequacy of Texas laws covering kidnaping, Petch's saying it would have a deterring effect on kidnapers.

Minimizing Of Weights Aim Before Senate

'Maximum on Many Highways Should Be 5,000 Pounds'

Should Soon Stop Use of Solid or Steel Tires Is Said

AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (AP)—Stating that great damage had been done to the highways of Texas in the past few months which might be attributed to too much weight now allowed vehicles under the laws, the state highway commission today made recommendations to the senate on the regulation of buses and trucks.

The report stated that there were many highways which should not carry more than a maximum weight of 5,000 pounds. Other of the state's highways could easily carry 20,000 pounds.

It advocated passage of a law which would give the highway commission authority to classify highways under its jurisdiction and the amount of tonnage to be hauled over them.

The commission advocated a maximum height of 12 feet for trucks and buses.

The maximum length of combined vehicles should not be more than 45 feet, and the length of any single vehicle should not exceed thirty feet.

The report said the highway commission had advocated a maximum width of 84 inches for such vehicles. It recommended the maximum speed limit of a motor bus be fixed at 35 miles per hour and that of a truck at 20 to 30 miles per hour.

Penalty for violations of laws regulating size, weight, height and speed of commercial vehicles be increased.

The commission also recommended that "within a reasonable time the use of solid or steel tires on motor vehicles weighing more than 2,000 pounds be prohibited."

Ticket Sale To C-C Banquet Begins Well

Sale of tickets to the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, to be held the evening of February 10, in the Settles main dining room, was started with speed Thursday.

Manager Watson urged those wishing to attend to buy tickets at once, as but 250 plates can be accommodated. He repeated that a special welcome to women is extended.

Visitors will attend from towns as far west as Peecos, east to Abilene, south to San Angelo and north to Lubbock.

New Court District Bill Will Provide Only Special Judge

(Special To The Herald) AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—As being re-drafted in the house, the bill originally to split up Judge Fritz R. Smith's district and create a new court for Howard and adjoining counties, will simply provide for appointment of a special judge in the present 32nd district.

This judge as well as Judge Smith, will try cases. Cases in his court will be handled by the regular district attorney, when possible, and where the district attorney is engaged in the regular court, the cases will be prosecuted by the county attorney of the county in which the special judge is holding court.

Baseball season is just around the corner. The forerunner has arrived with the message. What we mean is that officials of the House of David baseball club are writing this department for a game here after April 15. New attractions are included. In the first place, the members of the House of David team have been preening their whiskers in a new way. The second attraction is Grover Cleveland Alexander, who has come down to the show boys. The third one is a portable light plant for night baseball. The officials will bring all three here. Won't some surviving member of the City League step up and assume responsibility for the conflict. As a matter of fact this department has taken it upon himself to write Mr. Doan—who nonchalantly remarks at the end of his letter that he has the distinction of being the only man to ever get the President of the U. S. to attend a spring game—that perhaps Big Spring would be interested. Not only would we enjoy seeing the game, but we'd like very much to see how to grow a beard. Not raise a beard, understand, but grow one.

The House of David club, incidentally, is training at Mineral Wells. The St. Paul club of the American Association, also returns there for their spring training this year.

Tonight at 7:30 p. m. the high school gymnasium will take on a little life after a lull of a few days. The red and white clad Cosden Refinery cagers will meet with the Steers. The Steers are favored to vanquish the invading gasoline makers. If they do, it will be the first defeat of the season for the Spike Henninger et al outfit.

Well, the Cisco coaching position has been filled. Slowly, but surely, if one cares to be trite and employ Horatio Alger's psychology, the Oil Belt coaching staffs are being assembled. Ted L. Jeffries, assistant coach at Corsicana for two years, takes over Weldon B. Chapman's brogans, and sticks his feet therein. Jeffries is a former Centenary gentleman. As far as this department knows, he is still a gentleman, although his no longer is with Centenary. He was fullback there in 1925, 1926 and 1927. He served as assistant coach at Centenary, and went from that position to the Corsicana post. That leaves the Ranger post on top of the undecided ladder. Nothing definite has emerged from the Eastland county stronghold. Curtis may remain; he may not; and the odds are in favor of the latter.

Our second venture in the realm of golf was rather disastrous. It will be a couple of days yet before we endeavor to entice Mr. Maurice E. Whiteside into a two-some. In the first place, we popped a club. What we mean is that in a fight between a tree limb and a masher, the limb won by a knockout. However, it could have been worse. The masher might have been our. As it was, neither the tree limb nor the masher belonged to this department. What care we for mashes? Only the ball belongs to us, and we never even hit it. But what will Mr. Henry Edwards think? What will he think the next time he starts to use his masher? It makes no difference.

Walter Hagen was in town last night, but so far as we have been able to ascertain, he is his co-hort. Kirkwood will not give an exhibition here. Hagen was due to leave here this morning. Santa, Hansen Chores On 1,600-Acre Farm Train Tossed From Ring

CHICAGO, Feb. 5 (AP)—Any plans for building Jose Santa, giant Portuguese heavyweight, into a Carnava-sized attraction are at a standstill today, pending the regular meeting of the Illinois State Athletic Commission next Tuesday.

Santa, six feet, six inches tall and weighing 239 pounds, and Knute Hansen, his opponent at the Chicago Stadium last night, were sent from the ring in the second round after Hansen had gone to the canvas four times, the last time apparently without having been hit. Referee Davey Miller refused to count him out, declaring the bout no contest. The purses of both fighters were ordered withheld by General John V. Clinkin, president of the National Boxing Commission and chairman of the Illinois commission.

General Clinkin said both men would be required to appear before the commission Tuesday and "show cause why both of them should not quit fighting."

The bout was the last of four ten-rounders on a card that attracted the smallest attendance in the history of the stadium. The count was 4,834 with gross receipts of $10,051.72. Larry Johnson, Chicago negro, making his first start as a heavyweight, knocked out Martin Gallagher of Washington, D. C. in the second round of the third ten rounder; Harry Ebbetts of Brooklyn, outpointed Willie Oster, Boston, middleweight, and Kid Francis, Italian bantamweight, outpointed George Nate of South Bend, Ind.

A "farm-trained" battler will attempt to wrest the world's heavyweight championship from Max Schmeling next June. Carrying Wood for "Ma" and ploughing on a 1,600-acre Georgia farm are two of the training chores of W. L. "Young" Stribling, American challenger.

FILLING BIG SHOES

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State nominates Jack Keller, a sophomore hurdler, to fill the vacant, point-scoring shoes of George Simpson, the sprinter, who ended his college career last summer.

Keller's high school career was even more promising than that of Simpson.

Keller, a slender, blond, handsome youth standing six feet three inches tall, is a Columbus boy, as was Simpson, Ohio's track team will be built around him, as it was around Simpson.

Not only is Keller expected to attack records in the high and low hurdles, but Coach Frank Castleman hopes to use him in the dashes of indoor meets.

When Simpson was graduated he held two national intercollegiate championships at 220 yards and one at 100 yards. He set the N. C. A. A. century record of 9.4 seconds, of which Frank Wykoff of Southern California is a co-holder. Simpson was not defeated on his home track in the three years of his college racing.

Keller broke all state high school hurdle records; won both high and low hurdles at the national interscholastic meet in Chicago in June, 1929.

On that occasion he equalled the record of 15.2 seconds for 120-yard hurdles and established a new mark of 24 seconds for the 220-yard low sticks.

Both of Keller's coaches, Dr. Castleman and Larry Snyder, were hurdlers, Castleman at Colgate and Snyder at Ohio.

BASKETS and BANKBOARDS

BY 'PHOG' ALLEN

This is the fifth of a series of basketball articles written by Forrest C. "Phog" Allen, director of athletics at the University of Kansas. In it Allen points out some of the similarities between the game and football which have arisen in recent years.

LAWRENCE, Kans., Feb. 3 (AP)—Knute Rockne, the Argonaut of American football, remarks in his characteristic jocular vein, "there are two games I don't like—basketball is both of them."

"This is another way of saying that there is too little of mimic warfare in the indoor game. The short, sport hasn't enough of contact and comb; of dumping the interference; of throwing a runner with a clean tackle; of gathering in a punt in proper style and of proper plays, the football coach's delight."

However, there are many coaches who contend that the sports are taking on a resemblance—that football has become "basketballized" and that basketball has become "footballized."

The triple threat man in football—one who can run, kick, and pass, has his counterparts on the basketball courts in the man who shoots, dribbles and passes. Bryant of Pittsburgh and Thompson of Montana were two great examples last season of the basketball triple threat man.

A basketball coach is employed by many gridiron mentors as an assistant to teach his gladiators the fundamentals of pivoting, passing and ball handling.

The pivoting in both games is identical. Passing in each has the same technique. Ball handling in basketball, however, is much more difficult, due, of course, to the restriction against running with the ball.

The clever passer in basketball generally proves himself a very useful man to have on a football field if he has a football make-up; that is, a well knit body.

The better passer, in both games, I have found, lever focus on any one man. Indeed, a lack of focus

Cosden Refinery Cagers Clash With Steer Loopers At Gymnasium Tonight

Big Spring's two crack basketball units will clash tonight at the high school gymnasium, when the Steers and the Cosden Refinery cagers meet at 7:30 p. m. The Steers did not have a contest lined up for this week, so the tilt between the two teams was arranged.

The clash will bring together a team that has not been defeated, and one that has suffered but two defeats this season.

WILLIE KAMM MAY MOVE ON TO CLEVELAND

CHICAGO, Feb. 5 (AP)—The name of Willie Kamm is still on the Chicago White Sox roster, but reports persist that it won't be there when the American league championship season opens.

Manager Donie Bush will be in Chicago tomorrow or Friday and it is expected he will go back to work on a proposed trade with Cleveland in which Kamm, who cost the Sox $100,000, would be exchanged for first baseman Lew Fonseca. The Sox' chances for obtaining Fonseca, however, appear to depend on whether the Indians talk Dick Morgan, who played first base last season when Fonseca was injured, into signing.

Bush was said to have been dissatisfied with Kamm's work last season, and has intimated that Chalmers Cissell, whose purchase price was $123,000, and who has not functioned up to standard either at second base or short stop, will be tried at third.

This Woman In 4 Weeks Lost 17 Pounds of Fat

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

Gentlemen: I started taking Kruschen's every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 236 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 229 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince anyone.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts contains four weeks' cost but 55c at Collins Bros. Drugs, Cunningham & Phillips or any drug store in America. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning. To help reduce swiftly cut out pastry and fatty meats and go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

The Kruschen way is the safe way to reduce—Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back.—Adv.

Dates of Local Conventions Set In Austin Conference At Executive Board Meet

Resolutions Adopted Regarding Teachers' Certificates and Higher Standards for Educational System

The dates for the sixth district convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Big Spring was set for April 15, 16 and 17, by the executive board yesterday in Austin.

The board members met at the Driskill Hotel for a short session to dispose of a three months' accumulation of business. Chairmen of standing committees made their reports.

Of outstanding interest were the reports of Dr. Annie Webb Blanton, chairman of the department of education, and of Mrs. Lee Joseph of Austin of the department of international relations.

Five recommendations made in the report of Dr. Blanton were adopted as the definite educational policy of the federation for the coming year.

1. A change in the law whereby the county superintendent shall be appointed by the county board of education, instead of being selected by popular election as at present.

2. Changes in the laws to strengthen the powers of the county board of education, authorizing that body to exercise fuller control over all school districts of fewer than 500 scholars, such districts being those which are by state law designated as rural; to employ for rural schools such a number of trained supervisors as the needs of the schools and their financial resources will justify; to purchase all school supplies for schools under their control; to exercise authority in organizing and carrying on through their specially trained employment supervisors planned to improve Texas rural schools according to modern standards.

3. That the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs favors the repeal of all of the present laws as to the certification of teachers and the vesting in the state board of education authority to make rules as to the issuance of teachers' certificates; that it recommends that the state board of education raise the requirements of teachers for rural schools, and that after due notice and time to meet such requirements, it provide that teachers, principals, supervisors, and superintendents of country schools, and county superintendents, shall have special training for work in rural schools.

That since a majority of the states of the union have now established retirement funds for teachers, and since justice to both teacher and child, and economy in administering the public schools, demand the establishment of such a fund for Texas, therefore the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs endorses the submission to the people of Texas, of an amendment to the state constitution which will authorize the state to participate in the establishment of a state-wide teachers' retirement fund for Texas.

That since the policy of extreme itemization in appropriations for state colleges results in lack of economy and in injustice, the policy of lump-sum appropriations for state colleges is favored. The board met for lunch in the Pan American room of the hotel where representatives of the federated clubs of Austin had prepared an attractive table decorated in valentine motif.

Four State Heads Present An interesting feature of the meeting was the presence of four presidents of the Texas Federation (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5)

CARDINAL BIRD A Cardinal bird on a cedar tree Tipped and tilted and whistled to me; Dipped the bough and darted his head. An ardent flame of glowing red; Perfect beyond my wondering word. The cedar tree and the cardinal bird. The gloss and depth of ever green. The fire of the red-bird's crimson sheen. Here was an altar to God's high name. And the bird was the sacred flame. He swung and poised and kindly stayed. Until my prayer of thanks was made. Then with a flutter of good-bye He burned his way into the sky. Leaving clear in my memory A cardinal bird and a cedar tree. —Charlotte B. Underwood.

Do You Remember? When First Shriner's Parade Disrupted the School System?

Mr. Dees was superintendent then and had Central Ward pretty well under control but the Senior Class was determined to have its fling before it separated.

Every senior but George Whittington, son of the T. and P. superintendent, failed to appear when the noon bell rang. They all were helping the Shriners parade.

Ona Reagan Parsons remembers the day well. She and George were in a race for the valedictoryship. All Ona thought she had to do, to get the most out of the afternoon was to stay on the west side of Main street where her father wouldn't see her. Mr. Dees' objections, she thought, wouldn't carry so much weight when not only the seniors, but almost the whole high school was taking French leave.

Mr. Dees, however, subtracted about thirty demerits from the department of the hooky-players. Since demerit entered the average to determine the year's standing, Ona lost that race.

State Officers Here To Meet With L.A.B.R.T

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the B. of R. T. will hold its regular session tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Settles Hotel.

Mrs. Mary Milton, of Denison, second vice-grand president of the L. A. of B. of R. T., will be present for the initiation of five candidates. Dinner will be served in the banquet hall by the Settles caterer. A charge of fifty cents a plate will be made to each member.

At 7:30 the ladies will hold a social session for which a program has been prepared. Every member of the L. A. is asked to be present for the business session because the date of the Texas State meeting, to be held in Big Spring, will be settled at that time.

Members and families of the B. of R. T. are invited to reserve places for the dinner and to attend the social session.

Spring Flowers Decorate Tables Of Bridge Party

The Triangle Bridge Club held its regular monthly luncheon yesterday at the Settles Hotel. Mrs. W. B. Hardy was the hostess.

Valentines and spring janquills were the decorative motifs. Mrs. V. H. Flewellen made high score for visitors and Mrs. Hardy for club members.

Those present were Meses Monroe Johnson, Omar Filman, E. E. Fahrenkamj, Shine Phillips, V. H. Flewellen and Miss Jena Jordan.

MRS. HOWARD IN DALLAS Mrs. Max Howard is in Dallas visiting her mother.

Teachers of Seniors and Junior High Honored With Valentine Party Last Night

Miss Dorothy Jordan and Mrs. Walter Glenn Entertain at the Home of Former in Washington Place

Miss Dorothy Jordan and Mrs. Walter Glenn were co-hostesses last evening at the home of Miss Jordan, honoring the teachers of the Big Spring High School and Junior High.

The occasion was a Valentine party. Thirty-two teachers attended. The Valentine motif was carried out in tallies, place cards and prize-wrappings. The color scheme of the party was red.

Mrs. W. C. Blankenship and Mrs. J. A. Coffee were unable to attend. In their place came Mrs. Robert Parks and Miss Eleanor Antley.

Mrs. Vesta Stegner won high score and was presented with a lovely vanity. Miss Eleanor Antley won low, and received a bottle of perfume.

How Is Your HEALTH?

Signs of Progress
 The greatest enemy of mankind is ignorance. But a close second is that secrecy which covers with a blanket of silence many a theme of vital importance.

Such a blanket has been cast about social hygiene. For some reason, hard to fathom, the subject of social diseases has been tabooed
 and barred from free discussion.

One may only conjecture how much this silence has cost mankind in lives prematurely lost and in avoidable suffering.

Granted that the subject is unpleasant, still it embraces one of the major health problems of our social life. Silence will not solve it, nor will it dissolve and disappear
 of its own accord.

In this connection a constructive and progressive step has recently been taken by the Bellevue-York-Y memorial fund of New York City.

This demonstration has undertaken with the endorsement of the city health department, the full cooperation of the local medical profession a three months' educational campaign to acquaint the public with the basic facts on the venereal diseases.

In simple, but unembarrassed
 language, that the layman may understand, the pertinent facts on social diseases have been published and distributed far and wide.

The subjects are being discussed with the same clear-eyed objectivity as might be employed in dealing with tuberculosis, cancer or heart disease.

Without exaggeration, or undue moralization, the hazards of the diseases are described and the need for prompt and adequate treatment emphasized. The danger of transmitting them to others, including one's own children, is stressed.

This method of attack on two of the most serious diseases to which mankind is subject gives promise of excellent results.

Tomorrow—Mental Derangement

Hollywood Sights
Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD cost $5,000,
 says Archie Mayo, the director,
 to photograph a series of close-ups
 of John Barrymore in his role as Svengali, the close-up being camera studies of thought processes.

With "thought-photographs" on a high just think how fortunate was the producer who offered Professor Albert Einstein $200,000 to make a number of short subjects, and found his proposal rejected!

A number of Einstein stories naturally have cropped up in the wake of his various visits around town. One of doubtful authenticity, is told of a big movie star who rushed up to the great scientist with exclamations of joy at meeting him. She is supposed to have left in a huff when he showed no signs of knowing who she was.

NATURALLY!
 Another tale has an actress con-doling with the professor because he had not directed "An American Tragedy"—having him confused with the Russian Einstein of the films, who left Hollywood without making a picture.

The only star Einstein really asked to meet, however, was Charle Chaplain—and don't we all?

But to get back to Barrymore
 and Svengali:
 Anton Grot, art director who designed the sets for this talkie version of "Tribby," with Marian Marsh, has plunged headlong into a futuristic pattern which puts to shame the usual ultra-modernish
 now pervading screen decoration.

WEIRD
 Leaning walls and slanting ceilings, sweeping curves and errant arches, and rough-board floors that slant and roll, combine to accentuate the weirdness of the story.

But this futuristic scheme has a more practical value than its service as atmospheric background.
 Camera angles are easier to secure when square corners are absent, and in addition the dizzy layout enhances perspectives.

The sets represent Hollywood's closest approach to the extremely bizarre creations presented in the German film, "The Cabinet of Dr.
 Caligari," which is still being shown in art theaters over the country.

Needless to remark, however "Svengali" is not being made for any art theater's benefit. There's nothing experimental about the box-office value of "Tribby."

Masked Longing

BY HOWARD ROCKEY A ROMANCE OF RADIO

SYNOPSIS: Singing over the radio opens a new career for Aileen Gray, musical comedy star, after an accident disfigures her. She becomes a "mystery" singer, wearing a porcelain mask made by Dwight Channing, artist, and press agent by Jimmy Crane, who is in love with her. Arnold Kronberg, movie magnate, is shot by a masked woman while making advances to Vivienne, Aileen's sister. He recovers, finds Vivienne in Philadelphia, and threatens to prosecute her for the shooting unless she admits the masked woman was Aileen, while Kronberg suspects. Meanwhile Aileen receives a telegram signed "Adrasteia," hinting its sender may be the woman who shot Kronberg, and threatening to throw the blame on Aileen, who, of course, always wears a mask.

VIVIENNE ASKS FOR AID
ETAO ETAO ETAO ETAO
WHEN the broadcast of Emile Gluck et Cie. reached its triumphant finale, the dynamic little accompanist took both of Aileen's hands and kissed them with devoted fervor. Colonel Sherwood Gluck and Channing, together with the other guests, crowded about to tell Aileen how wonderful she had been.

On the outskirts of the group Jimmy watched her adoringly, but with varying reactions. He felt that Aileen was further removed from him than ever. He had begun to wonder whether Channing's interest in Aileen had not become morpersonal than when he had offered to help her at Jimmy's solicitation.

Aileen turned to him and, for just an instant, Jimmy almost imagined that she was going to burst him. But in a flash he grew conscious of an almost formal coldness.

Max Klein appeared and elbowed him aside. Instantly Jimmy pulled him by the coat-tails. "Listen, you nut!" he whispered. "If you say what you were going to you'll give the whole thing away."

"Not is right!" the producer admitted. "I'll fix it. Mammoelle! I don't know what kind of a contract you got with this feller Gluck but any time you say so I'll put on a show for you." He lowered his tone. "Say, you were great! I hear you outside. Every minute I was wishing you were still Miss Saint-Claus."

"Max!"
 "Aileen—Mademoiselle, I mean—"
 Klein grew red with embarrassment and did not know what to say.

"Don't!" She put her hand on his arm. "I understand—and thank you. I know how much you mean it. Max. I—I wish I still could be!"

In spite of her assured success, Aileen felt uneasy. Half dreading the country.

Heals Pimples
In 7 Days or Less

Here is a wonderful antiseptic oil now dispensed by pharmacists at trifling cost, that will do more to wards helping you get rid of unhealthy spots and skin troubles than anything you've ever used.

Not only does this great healing antiseptic oil promote rapid and healthy healing, abscesses and ulcers
 that are discharging are almost immediately relieved and cleanly healed.

You can obtain Moore's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. It is safe to use, and failure in any of the oil-mented notes above is next to impossible. Any druggist can supply you at any time—an 85-cent bottle lasts 2 weeks.—Adv.

try to say any more. Phone wires have been tapped. You go home and get some sleep. I'll get the car and drive down. You go to the shop as usual. I'll be there in the morning as soon as you arrive.

There was a silence as he listened, then he softly said good-night.
 "Well!" asked Klein, who already had some idea of the conversion.

"It was Vivienne," Channing explained for Jimmy's benefit.
 As soon as Kronberg had disappeared on his way to the railroad terminal, Vivienne had hurried to the nearest pay-station. She had not wanted to frighten Aileen, and had purposely refrained from phoning to her hotel. She had also foregone the switchboard of the broadcast studio. As a result she had been calling Channing's number for an hour. While she talked she had kept her eye on the glass door of the booth, but no one in the drugstore appeared to be paying the slightest heed to her being there. Kronberg might have been bluffing.

"That's about all," Channing concluded, relating what she had said.
 "No wonder the poor child's uneasy.
 It won't do to let her face it alone,
 but just what should we do?"
 "You're going to bring Viv back with you?" Jimmy asked. If her coming meant complications it would be better if Aileen spent the holidays alone.

"That depends on what I find,"
 Channing, too, seemed in doubt.
 "Apparently Kronberg is on his way, so he'll be here to-morrow.
 Max can you check up on him
 without his knowing it?"

"Sure," said Klein. "I would get that job. As one of these detectives, I'm the headache in your drink. Here for weeks I've been thinking how wise I am and how I see. You're crazy. Just the same I'll look after Kronberg, and Jimmy can hang around Aileen. Maybe there's no need of that, but it won't do any harm. You go on to Philadelphia and leave the rest to us."

Vivienne returned to Mrs. Perkins shortly before one o'clock.
 The apartment was dark, but the landlady's door was ajar when Vivienne passed. No sound came from the woman's bed, which meant that she was listening. Vivienne went by briskly, and shut herself in at once.

Several times on her way from the drug store from which she had phoned to Channing she had paused to glance behind her. Unlike New York City, the city streets were practically deserted, and she was almost certain that she was not followed. In spite of Kronberg's threat of surveillance, that fear was no doubt unfounded. Yet she was sure he would learn of her whereabouts wherever she might go.

To keep on with this shadow over her—threatening Aileen as well—would be too impossible. That was why she had phoned to Channing in her desperation. Vivienne wondered if he knew—or cared—what that had cost her pride. Waiting there in the phone-booth—battling with herself—Vivienne had alternated by trying in vain to reach him and telling herself that she wouldn't. In the stuffy compartment everything seemed to conspire to make her look scatterbrained. Nor was that the worst of it!

First, there had been that story
 in Tattle Tales. Channing hadn't hesitated to say what he thought of that. Then the day in his studio when he had plainly told her that the trouble was what people must naturally think of her. And he had not even wanted—what she might have given.

As though that was not bad enough, her folly had led her to Kronberg. What she had done in a fit of pique had left him but one construction to place upon her conduct. In each of these misadventures she had deliberately cheapened herself. Now, if Kronberg proposed to talk, what little reputation she had would be torn to shreds.

Oh, she had been a fool. She reproached herself with increasing bitterness. Once again she must at humble pie and depend upon Channing's advice. There was just one consolation, and in spite of her depression, Vivienne welcomed that. However greatly Dwight might resent her having involved him in this mess, she was confident he would help her. If only for his own sake, he would be forced to do so. A man like Channing would do all he could to avoid the slightest scandal in connection with his affairs. That meant he must stand by her—and by Aileen too. But this comfort did not make her pie

 any more palatable.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsion of cod liver oil. It is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities
 as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.
 Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CREOMULSION
FOR THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Preferential Ballot

DOUBTLESS many flaws could be picked in the bill introduced in the house by Representative W.
 M. Harman of Waco, providing for a preferential primary in order to abolish the second or run-off primary.

The Harman bill would make it mandatory for the voter to mark his ballot showing first and second choices. If not so marked, the ballot would be thrown out. In event a candidate received a majority of the first choice votes cast, the winner would be determined by adding the first and second choices.

The bill is hampered and ham-strung by a provision requiring the voter, upon paying his poll tax, to indicate his party affiliation thereon. If he makes no designation, the tax collector would be required to mark him as an independent. He could change his party affiliation at any time within thirty days before election, by visiting the tax collector and getting a certificate to that effect. This, as can readily be seen, is a stab at party bolting.

Ex-Governor Moody is known to favor the short ballot—that is, marking only a few important offices, such as governor and attorney general, elective and the others appointive. That would require a constitutional amendment, or several of them. The Harman plan would involve no such change.

In theory the preferential ballot is much to be preferred to the cumbersome, expensive and not always satisfactory present system of a second primary. If the Harman bill could be freed of the party affiliation clause, and confined strictly to the requirement relating to a first and second choice, it might prove workable and a real contribution to Texas political machiner, evolution.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Respect

San Angelo Standard:
FOLKS WHO ARE given to evaluating things by the dollar sign will have new respect for the dairy industry in figures recently released by the New York Trust Company. It finds that three billion dollars, about a fourth of the total annual income of the American farmer
 for all farm products, is derived from the sale of dairy products.

The south, which is given to cotton, will be interested in the comparison. The dairy products value is about two and a half times the annual value of the cotton crop.
 Ranchers will take note when it is divulged that dairy income is about two and a half times that of the beef and veal crop. And wheat, now center of much discussion, registers
 only a third of the dairy products value throughout the land.

Dairying needs the benefits evidence. It is not confined to one section as are some of the other crops. It produces sure revenue, and when used as an adjunct to other farming operations goes far toward insuring a good living even when the "news may be in" dot-drums. The cow, replacing herself and providing the best of food for the human race, ought to be an adjunct to all farming operations.
 The world should learn to proclaim her as the greatest individual relief agency in the realm of agriculture.

(Time Is Central Standard)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP)—Approximately 155 American broadcast stations will carry the address of Pope Pius XI, planned for February 12th.

Arrangements are now being made to include every unit of the two chains, National and Columbia, in the broadcast program from Vatican City which will inaugurate H. V. J. the short wave station there.

The NBC network will comprise 74 stations in addition to three New York transmitters not regularly a part of this chain. They are WOR, WNYC and WCDA. The CBS hook-up will number 78. Besides the broadcast stations a number of short wave stations are expected to join in the transmission.

Definite decision to move Major Bowes Family program from Sunday night to Friday has been made. The change of this WEAF feature goes into effect March 6, the time to be 6 to 7 p. m., and giving the family an hour instead of a half hour. This move is preliminary to increasing the Maurice Chevalier Sunday night broadcast from a half hour to an hour, starting March 8.

Try these on your radio tonight. "Daddy and Rollo," sketch act. WABC and stations at 6:45.

Eddie Cantor, comedian, as guest of Rudy Vallee's orchestra, from Miami, Fla., over WEAF and chain at 7.

The first nighter production, "He Played Her Part," WJZ group at 7. John McCormack, Irish tenor, singing in orchestra melodies via the WJZ hookup at 8:30.

Melody Moments, with Eugene Ormandy, conductor, as violin soloist, WEAF network at 8:30.

Opening of the weekly radio roundups on WABC and chain at 9.

Opposition To Proration Seen

DALLAS, Feb. 5 (AP)—The Dallas Times-Herald today said organized opposition to immediate proration agreements in the newly opened East Texas oil fields was expected to develop at a committee meeting of 25 business men and oil developers representing half a dozen counties at Longview tomorrow.

This committee recently was appointed to study oil proration after objections were raised to the efforts of the Texas oil proration committee, headed by R. R. Penn, to have the state railroad commission enforce immediate proration in the Rusk and Gregg county fields.

The Times Herald quotes Carl Estes, Tyler publisher, chairman of the committee of 25 and a leader among those opposing proration, as saying: "Every community in the field is being organized to resist the proration movement, and we're going to fight them to a finish proration at this time would not only check development in the field but would prevent the farmers, land owners and royalty holders from sharing in the newly discovered wealth."

Lubbock city officials also will attend the Midland Meeting. Smithman made no announcement as to whether the investigation will be taken up by the city commission. At the present time he is conducting the probe himself.

Cy Leland May Leave University

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5 (AP)—Cy Leland, T.C.U. football and track star and one of the fastest dash men in the country, may enter Stanford University within the next few days to complete his college work, it was learned today. Leland has long contemplated doing graduate work at one of the west coast schools and the failure of Richard "Red" Oliver to pass enough work to be eligible for the T.C.U. track squad this spring has caused him to make inquiries about entering Stanford.

Word that Oliver had failed to pass the required work was confirmed at the university. There is a possibility, however, that Oliver may be eligible for football next fall if he passes enough work in the spring semester.

21 Proposed Amendments Introduced

Five Deal Directly With Highway Financing Plans

By THE POLITICAL ANALYST. Twenty-one proposed constitutional amendments have been laid before the legislature to be decided whether they will be submitted to a vote of the people.

Five deal directly with highway financing and the gasoline tax. These include the two by Sen. Walter F. Woodul for the state highway bond issue and permission for the state to refund to counties money spent in building state highways, including payment of outstanding bond issues.

Others are: One to divert one-fourth all occupation taxes to highways; one to grant to schools part of the gasoline tax revenues, and another by Mr. Young of Wallington for the state to assume the county bond issues but without insurance of state bonds.

Other proposed constitutional amendments, each resolution to cause an election for its decision, if submitted, include:

By Sen. Hornaby of Travis county, to call a constitutional convention.

To allow retired army and naval officers and personnel to hold public office. This offered in both houses.

By Sen. Woodul, to permit combining city-county governments of Harris, Bexar, Dallas, and Tarrant counties.

By Sen. Hornaby, to combine offices of county tax collector and assessor.

By Sen. Holbrook, to abolish office of county treasurer.

By Sen. Woodul, to create nine-member supreme court.

Three others by Sen. Woodul, to raise salary of the governor to $12,000 a year; that of the attorney general to $10,000 and those of land commissioner, treasurer and comptroller to $7500.

By Sen. Puri, to allow the state to fix salaries of all other officials except those of the state.

By Rep. Donnell, to provide for equalizing taxes.

By Mr. Terrell of Cherokee, to provide for direct tax for schools.

By Mr. Bryant, to exempt $2000 homesteads from property taxes.

By Mr. Young, to let district courts appoint notaries public.

By Mr. Bedford, to allow border cities to vote sea wall bonds.

By Mr. Holder, authorizing state bonds to be contributed to teacher pension fund.

At present, notaries public are appointed by the same procedure with which the elective state offices would be filled for temporary terms, and just like such officials as the secretary of state and adjutant general are named. The notary must be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate. There is no record any notary ever appointed; but the system involves lot of work and confusion and seemingly needless effort.

When the legislature is not in session, no matter what the local need, a notary public cannot be commissioned, since there is no provision for commissioning one in this duty until he has been confirmed by the senate.

The Petch bill to modify state Dean liquor law penalties to conform to the less stringent federal Volstead act, is the second measure toward this end, each offered by its author to strengthen rather than to weaken state enforcement.

The late Sen. I. D. Fairchild introduced the legislature to cut down the prison term of those convicted of violating most of the provisions of the liquor law from a minimum of two years to one year. He insisted juries were refusing to inflict two-year penalties for violations that if the accused were lucky enough to get the charge filed in federal court would draw possibly fines or jail sentences of one to three months, without branding the accused as a felon for life.

There will be decided opposition to reducing the state penalties. Some sincerely believe the stronger the penalty the greater the discouragement of violations. Some do not believe failure to convict in all cases should prevent stiff penalties for those who are convicted.

Violating the liquor law and the game laws are two types of criminality against which the state and the federal government compete for prosecution with dual enforcement machinery.

PALM PLEA. PAMPA, Texas, Feb. 5 (AP)—District Attorney Raymond Allred today filed charges of robbery with firearms against Roy McVea and Roy Stenstrom in connection with the robbery yesterday of the Alameda State Bank. A hearing for the men was to be held later.

Officers last night found the money taken in the robbery. It was hidden under a house.

R. D. Simms of Stanton and Mr. Pount of Willsboro were here on business Wednesday pertaining to their oil holdings in East Texas.

Location Of State Asylum In West Aim

Woman House Member Introduces Bill, Party Pledge

BY RAYMOND BROOKS. AUSTIN, Feb. 5—Location and construction of a West Texas state insane hospital was proposed in a bill offered in the house by Representative Helen B. Moore, Galveston, chairman of the committee on eleemosynary institutions.

The hospital is a democratic platform pledge and the increase of insane hospital facilities is supported by Governor Ross S. Sterling.

Mrs. Moore's bill authorizes the hospital to be located anywhere in "Central West Texas," and gives the board of control three votes and the governor one vote each, a majority to decide the location.

The bill, as offered, fixes a maximum of 3,000 patients; but Mrs. Moore said she will comply with the best information of psychiatrists, and cut this limit to 2500.

The area in which the hospital may be located ranges roughly from Austin to Waco westward to Big Spring and southward below San Angelo and Kerrville.

East Texas Crude Proration Topic

LONGVIEW, Texas, Feb. 5 (AP)—Representatives of the East Texas committee of 25, the Texas central proration committee and a committee named by a general meeting of East Texas oil men in Dallas recently were here today to discuss the controverted question of establishing proration in the new East Texas oil fields.

At a preliminary meeting last night, lease and royalty owners and citizens of the oil field about Longview adopted resolutions declaring they were "unfavorably opposed to proration of any kind in this field now." The resolutions were forwarded to the state railroad commission.

The Gregg county lease and royalty owners and citizens association was formed for the purpose of protecting the new East Texas field against what was termed "the attempt of big companies to get control of the new field without paying for it."

W. C. Hurst was elected president; F. K. Lathrop, vice president; W. R. Nicholson, secretary.

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Feb. 5 (AP)—Slightly heavier offerings met a fair demand on the Fort Worth cash grain market today. Heavy receipts of wheat from country shippers were reported going into storage for the farm board agencies.

No. 1 hard wheat was probably worth 77 1-2-500, the latter being the farm board figure here, basis delivered T. C. P., freight paid. Estimated receipts: Wheat, 41 cars; corn, 18; oats, 1; barley, 1, and sorghums, 11 cars.

Quotations on coarse grains as follows, basis carloads delivered T. C. P., freight paid: Corn: No. 2 mixed corn 72 1-2-1; No. 2 white 74 1-2-75 1-2; No. 2 yellow 74 1-2.

Oats: No. 2 red oats 43 1-2 to 44 1-2. Barley: No. 2 barley 59-60. Sorghums: No. 2 milo per hundred pounds 122-124; No. 2 kafir 120-122.

PINCHOT TAKES GOVERNOR'S POST

Gifford Pinchot, whose previous term as governor of Pennsylvania ended in 1927, returned to the state house amid picturesque inaugural ceremonies. He is shown (right) with the retiring chief executive, John S. Fisher, in an open victoria of ancient vintage when they drove from the executive mansion to the capitol in Harrisburg.

When the legislature is not in session, no matter what the local need, a notary public cannot be commissioned, since there is no provision for commissioning one in this duty until he has been confirmed by the senate.

DIVOR SAILS DOWN FAIRWAY, BALL GLIDES OVER TEE BOX, GOLFER BREAKS A GOOD LEG

HOT SPRINGS, Ar., Feb. 5 (AP)—Steward Turner broke a leg hitting a golf ball yesterday. Turner addressed his ball on number seven tee at the country club, swung mightily and found himself on the ground with a broken leg.

In astonishment he watched the ball trickle over the edge of the tee and a divot sail out over the fairway. Turner was trying to figure out the shot at a hospital today.

Non-Contested Suits Heard Here By Special Judge

With E. F. Duncan acting as special judge, non-contested cases were being disposed of in district court today. Judge Fritz R. Smith, who is confined to his hotel room with illness, will not be able to return to the bench before Monday.

Duncan was named special judge by members of the Howard County Bar Association at a meeting held Wednesday.

The petit jury was dismissed for the week. Only non-contested divorce suits and other non-contested litigation will be heard by Duncan the rest of this week.

It is thought that Judge Smith will be able to resume his duties Monday morning, when criminal week opens.

The grand jury which was impaneled Tuesday morning, was still in session today. No indictments had been returned at noon today although a number were expected this afternoon.

Among suits disposed of since court opened Monday morning were: Olive Walker vs. E. F. Walker, divorce, granted.

Eather Miller vs. Charles W. Miller, divorce, granted. P. W. Truitt vs. Grace M. Truitt, divorce, granted. Euta Plum vs. John Plum, divorce, granted. Dorothy Oaxner, removal of disabilities as minor.

Thornton Of Shakespearean Cast Success

Becomes 'Dramatic Find' At Alma Mater On Coast

William Thornton, the distinguished actor, who heads the repertoire company of the Shakespeare Guild, which will appear here next Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday afternoon, started his theatrical career during his student days at Leland Stanford university. He became a "dramatic find" at the alma mater of President Hoover when he created a campus competition in Benoit's "Milestones." As Polonius in "Hamlet" and in the "Agamemnon" of Aeschylus he again brought his extraordinary talent to public attention which resulted in his final choice of the stage as a career.

Following graduation, he appeared as guest star with many of the leading theater groups in principal California cities which prefaced his appearance in "Hamlet" in Los Angeles with his own company. This exceptionally successful engagement was followed by a year in New York with Walter Hampden and led to his engagement by the Shakespeare Guild to head its repertoire company.

Mr. Thornton's interpretations and characterizations are distinctly individualistic and invite an interesting comparison with other noted stars in similar roles. His plays to be presented by the Guild in high school auditorium are "Hamlet" Tuesday night, "The Merchant of Venice" Wednesday afternoon, and "Romeo and Juliet" Wednesday night. Tickets may be purchased at Cunningham and Phillips' No. 1, and Collins' Petroleum Pharmacy. The high school department of English sponsors the sale.

Sugar—2 lbs.
Unrefined cane syrup or sorghum molasses—1 1/2 qts.

If a choice must be made between fully satisfying the appetite with a one-sided diet (such as meal, salt pork, and molasses or sugar) and using a somewhat smaller amount of well-balanced food, including right proportions of milk, vegetables, and lean meats, the latter choice is wise. It will maintain health. The market orders are stated somewhat flexibly to permit some choice within the various food groups for adjustment to family dietary habits or special needs, and to enable families to purchase the food materials available and cheapest at different seasons in each community, if they desire to obtain adequate diets at minimum cost.

Minimum
In dietaries such as those suggested in this circular, in which the quantities of milk, vegetables and fruits, and lean meats are close to the minimum, it is important for the sake of iron that about one-third of the cereal should be a whole-wheat bread or flour or one of the dark (less highly refined) wheat cereals should be used about once a day. Wheat can be used whole or can be ground at home for flour or breakfast cereal.

For each child under 2 years of age 7 quarts of fresh whole milk should be provided weekly, and for each other child at least 5 quarts of fresh whole milk or equivalent amounts in canned or dry milk. If skim milk is used instead of whole, 1 to 2 ounces of cod-liver oil should be added weekly to the diet. Not less than 1 to 2 quarts of milk should be provided each week for each adult.

Cheap Fat
Lard is usually the cheapest form of fat and may be used as the chief form if cod-liver oil and dry skim milk are added to diet.

Butter and certain butter substitutes carry fat soluble vitamins which are not found in lard.

Vegetables and Fruits
This class of foods is particularly important for minerals and vitamins, and should be used as freely as the home supply will permit. Every member of the family should have potatoes at least 4 or 5 times weekly, tomatoes, at least two or three times, raw cabbage or other vegetables of green or yellow color at least twice weekly.

Try to serve lean meat, liver, fish, or eggs 3 or 4 times weekly. Lean meat refers to any meat other than salt pork, bacon, or fatback. At least 3-4 to 1 pound of lean meat (muscle) free from bone and vis-ble fat should be provided weekly for each adult. If the egg supply is limited, serve the children first. Eggs are important for mineral and vitamin values, as well as for protein. The present price of eggs makes them a cheap source of protein.

Between one-third and one-half of the proteins in these dietaries are the so-called efficient proteins from animal sources. At least this much is desirable in families with growing children.

Sugar
Pure sugar provides only energy to the body. During the refining process all the minerals are removed. To replace 2 pounds of the sugar allowance with a quart of unrefined cane molasses increases greatly the iron content of the food supply, and is highly recommended in all these very limited dietaries.
