Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — In April of last year, we suggested that Tennessee Ernie Ford broadcasting from San Francisco was like Marjorie Main dating Cary Grant. Thus far, Bartlett's book of "Familiar Quotations" has shown no inclination to include this observation, which was arrived at the day after the debut of Ford's daily daytime half-hour show on ABC-TV. Nevertheless, now, more than a year later, the pairing seems stranger than ever; but like many another West Coast marriage, it has lasted longer than expected, and even seems to be blossoming after a near-cancellation.

As has been well-publicized, the reason Ford broadcasts from San Francisco is that he moved into a home near there, away from Hollywood, hoping to avoid work and enjoy the look he had accumulated—but ABC wanted him so badly it agreed to let him do a few in utter convenience.

We looked in Thursday on Ernie, having heard that he actually transported himself to Lake Tahoe, in the Sierra Mountains near the Nevada-California border, there to originate his program this week. And sure enough, there he was, with his troupe, in front of a big audience at Harrah's Club. And sure enough, he wasn't working too hard, as usual.

Fat Jack Leonard once said that Frank Sinatra "is the only performer in the business who lays off while he's working." Make room for Ernie. He not only doesn't want to work hard, he doesn't. He just sits around on the ABC television network for a half hour a day, singing a little, talking a little, and he does it so easily that Perry Como seems nerve-racking in retrospect. Ernie has learned the secret, whatever it is—probably that he couldn't care less about ratings or executives or sponsors, and doesn't need any of them to live a comfortable life. And therefore, of course, he defeats them all.

A pro he is, and there is no question that, in capability, he is the master of daytime's informal television broadcasting: the way Arthur Godfrey is to that of radio. He is not aggressively and overbearingly folksy the way Art Linkletter is. If you like him, fine. If not, fine too. He won't lose any sleep. The commercials are just another target for his couldn't-care-less spoofing.

The Channel Swim: The July 22 debut of CBS-TV's summer "Vacation Playhouse" stars Ginger Rogers in a dual role as twin sisters involved romantically with a playboy; Charlie Ruggles is featured.

Vincent (Ben Casey) Edwards isn't so sure he wants to do the Thanksgiving Day musical special announced for him on NBC-TV; now there's talk that television's other top fictional medico, Richard (Dr. Kildare) Chamberlain, may be approached to take over.

NBC-TV's summer "Report From..." series, which will offer informal visits to some of the world's leading cities, bows in with a half-hour "Report From Tokyo" July 9, focusing on Japanese teen-agers and preparations for the 1964 Olympics. Trend of the times: A new Saturday children's series on NBC-TV in the fall, "Fireball X15," is a science-fiction show about a rocket ship, featuring animated puppets.

THE WIZARDS OF SPACE (12)

By Don Oakley and John Lane

Only the power of the atom will give men true mastery of space travel. The energy in one pound of uranium is equal to that in 10 million pounds of gasoline.

Working to harness this stupendous energy is the Space Nuclear Propulsion Office (SNPO), a joint organization of National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Atomic Energy Commission. Its headquarters are at Germantown, Md., with extensions at Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, Albuquerque, N.M. and at the Nuclear Rocket Development Station at Jackass Flats, Nev.

Nuclear rocket work was begun by the AEC in 1955. After eight years and $400 million, such a rocket is still years away.

Name of the program is Rover. This project includes the Kiwi series of flightless reactors (first panel), the Nerva engine and RIPT (Reactor-in-Flight-Test), the Nerva flight vehicle.

SNPO is also developing the SNAP reactors. Where the Kiwi reactor heats a light gas, such as hydrogen, and shoots it out the nozzle for propulsion, the Snap reactor generates electricity to run a small electric engine.

SNAP-8 will be flight tested in 1965, but the first 100-foot-high RIPT with a Nerva engine (second panel)—considered to be the first true nuclear space engine—may not be launched until 1968 or later.

At Edwards AFB in southern California

one of NASA's smaller installations—the Flight Research Center. This facility is responsible for the famed X-15 rocket research plane.

The X-15, an NASA-Air Force-Navy program, will continue. In the meantime, the Air Force plans to use modified F-104 Starfighters (third panel) to train astronauts. A rocket booster will shove the planes up to 140,000 feet, above most of the atmosphere.

Also at the Flight Research Center, Apollo astronauts will practice moon landings in an ungainly looking simulator (fourth panel). A jet engine will counteract five-sixths of the earth's gravity. The remaining sixth, equal to the moon's pull, will be handled by rockets.

WOOD PIPING

CHICAGO (UPI) — Wood water pipes, 153 years old, were recently dug up from under Washington, D.C.'s Pennsylvania Avenue by the construction crew of a utility company.

The National Lumber Manufacturers Association said the pipes were well-preserved, 15-inch diameter logs of 18 feet in length with a neatly bored hole through the core. The logs were joined with cast-iron nipples that formed watertight joints by the swelling action of the wood.

Southmost Ineligible For Support

Grains put into storage in the Southmost Granaries, Inc., at Houston Switch, Tex. will not be eligible for price support loan during the period this facility is suspended from the list of warehouse approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation, a Gray County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office announcement said today.

Suspension action was taken by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Commodity Office at Kansas City, Mo., because the warehouse has changed ownership.

Any change in the status of the facility will be announced, Evelyn Mason, county ASCS office manager said.

Kenny Hebert In Car Smash

Two persons suffered minor injuries in a head-on automobile collision in the 1000-block of Charles St. shortly after 7 p.m. yesterday.

Kenneth Hebert, 19-year-old high school athlete, 314 W. Francis St., was taken to Highland General Hospital where he was treated for head lacerations and released.

Mrs. Ima Sanders, 41, of 1306 Terrace, was taken to the hospital in a Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance for emergency treatment and also was released.

Hebert was driving south on Charles and Mrs. Sanders was going north. Damage to the two cars was estimated by police at $700.

Tires Stolen From Locked Car Trunks

Theft of two tires from the locked trunks of cars parked on the Triple A Motors lot, 311 W. Wilka, and the Doug Boyd Motor Co. lot, next door at 815 W. Wilka, was reported to police today.

Police said in both instances the spare tires were removed from the locked trunks without the lids of either car being pried open.

Total value of the stolen tires was placed at $65.

ement after admitting he had lied to the House of Commons in a personal statement in which he had denied having an affair with Miss Keeler.

Ward was arrested June 8 and has been held without bail since.

Check From Lord Astor
Christine testified that Ward, who is charged with living off the earnings of prostitutes, told her he handed the landlord of a flat, she occupied a check from Lord Astor.

Lord Astor is one of Britain's wealthiest men and owner of Cliveden, the estate where Christine met Profumo and where Ward had a cottage.

Miss Keeler said "there was no ulterior motive behind the check that was handed to the landlord."

The party girl testified she had intercourse with Profumo and Ivanov in Ward's flat. She said Profumo gave her presents as well as money.

"But she said, 'I did not ever consider myself a call girl or prostitute.'"

It was Ward who introduced Miss Keeler to both Profumo and Ivanov.

The court broke off Miss Keeler's testimony for a lunch hour.

Mysterious "Miss X"

Ward, a suave, 50-year-old society osteopath and artist, also was charged with procuring a mysterious "Miss X" and soliciting Miss Keeler to procure a "Miss R" for his own pleasure.

The small courtroom of Marylebone magistrate's court was jammed. Several hundred persons were turned away, still waiting in the rain for the doors to open. Only 21 were able to get seats in the section reserved for the public.

The handsome Ward, looking youthful and well groomed, sat thoughtfully in the defendant's chair in the 40-foot square room. He kept his eyes on the judge and did not glance up at the spectators jammed into the tiny gallery.

Ward had been held without bail since his arrest June 3 because police said he might leave the country or try to intimidate witnesses.

Scotland Yard ordered special precautions Thursday to protect at least three women expected to testify against Ward. A yard spokesman confirmed the order but declined to name the women.

Ward had admitted introducing Miss Keeler to former War Minister John Profumo. Profumo resigned in "disgrace" after admitting he had lied to parliament in denying illicit relations with Miss Keeler.

The disclosure that the party girl was having an affair with former Soviet naval attaché Eugene Ivanov at the same time led to investigation of a possible security breach.

History of Irish-American relations and his tributes to the long struggle for full freedom.

He said that although divided by considerable distance, the United States and Ireland "have been united by history" and "no people ever believed more deeply in the cause of Irish freedom than the people of the United States."

"And no nation contributed more to the building of the American dream than the Sons and Daughters of Ireland," he said.

The President, who was mobbed by more than 1,000 screaming teen-age girls Thursday night, decided to pass up an opportunity to kiss the Blarney Stone, a favorite tourist attraction five miles north of Cork.

Riding a crest of adulation heaped on him by relatives at the old Kennedy homestead Thursday, the President took a 75-minute helicopter trip to Cork to receive the freedom of the city in a city hall ceremony.

The theme of Kennedy's busy day, his second full day in Ireland, was independence and tribute to those who died in the Irish rebellion.

Host At Lunch

The visit to Cork, capital of County Cork along the Atlantic coast, was a prelude to a lunch given by Kennedy for President Eamon de Valera and Premier Sean Lemass and Kennedy's unprecedented address to the Dail (parliament).

The near-riot by teen-age girls last night climaxed Kennedy's dramatic and sentimental return to the land of his ancestors where he turned kissing cousin with Mrs. Mary Ryan, a second cousin once removed, who was his hostess at tea.

Moves Toward Crowd

As the smiling Kennedy moved away from his security guards toward the crowd, the girls broke through police lines and caused what authorities described as "near panic."

The teen-agers were the noisiest part of a crowd of 5,000 waiting for the President.

"We want Jack, we want Jack," the crowd shouted.

Police finally formed a flying wedge around Kennedy and moved him to his car. The President stood on the running board, smiled and waved. The tension cracked, and the crowd cheered and broke up as soon as Kennedy drove away.

NOSE BITER FINED

LONDON (UPI)—George Sandford, a window cleaner, was fined $14 Tuesday for biting the nose of Alfred Noworthy, who had pushed past him in a bus line.

KEEPS TRYING

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—The wife, daughter and son of Samuel Martinez are American citizens and live in San Francisco. But Martinez is Mexican.

Monday he was sentenced to 18 months in prison for illegally entering the United States for the 40th time. He will be deported again after serving the sentence.

Knits Shed Wrinkles

For travel or at-home wear, shape-retaining, cool cotton knits are good summer companions. Whether your destination is Paris or a country inn, you won't arrive wrinkled in this three-piece suit (left) with Chanel-like jacket and striped shirt. For summer entertaining at home, the comfortable shirt (left) is back, but with a difference. The waistline is flatteringly indented with subtle seams. Durene mercerized cotton yarn is used in these James Kenrob knits.

Gala Occasion Marks Allen Family Reunion

In commemoration of Fathers' Day, members and close friends of the Clarence Grant Allen family held a reunion in the 100F hall, 800 E. Foster on June 16. Special guest was Miss Edna King, former school teacher of the Allen family children in 1907-09.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Allen were married on July 30, 1892 in Stuttgart, Ark. and were the parents of eight children. Mr. Allen, being a man of adventure, liked to travel the country. He, with his family, traveled parts of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico in a covered wagon. At different periods of time, they made their home in Little Rock, Ark., Holdenville, Okla., Heford and settled in Bellview, N. M.

Later in June, 1916, they moved to Denton, Montana, in one of the first cars sold in that part of New Mexico. They made their last home in Denton. Mrs. Allen passed away in 1941 and Mr. Allen died in 1954.

The reunion is a family tradition carried on by the children of Clarence Grant Allen. The first was held in Denton in 1954; the second in Clovis, N. M. and the third in Wolf Creek, Mont. and the fourth in Pampa.

With the reunion held this year on June 16, all the fathers were guests in memoriam to Mr. Allen. For the occasion, a large sheet cake was made and decorated with yellow roses and the inscription "Happy Fathers' Day."

The day's activities began at 10 a. m. with registrations and recordings of all marriages, births and changes of address since the last reunion.

Each family brought a picnic basket with their favorite foods to be shared with others. The dining hall tables were set appointed with white cloths and bud vases. The serving table was arranged around a red roses centerpiece. Eual Allen gave the invocation.

Highlighting the afternoon session, Miss Edna King, former school teacher of the Allen family, was invited to visit with students she had taught 55 years ago in the Liberty Bell School in the territory of New Mexico before it became a state in the United States.

There were 14 of her former students present, which was a reunion in itself for the classes of 1907-09.

Miss King now lives at 1513 N. Williston in Pampa.

Her former students were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brummett of Pampa; Lee Brummett of Clovis, N. M.; Mrs. Bill Dickson of Coffee Creek, Mont.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allen of Bellview, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Allen of Bellview, N. M.; Lester Allen of Denton, Mont.; Robert Hollis of Pampa, Mrs. V. C. Moore, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Brummett, was taught several years later by Miss King in the second grade in Clovis, N. M.

The afternoon session began with a picture-taking session during which each family lined up and others of the clan took their pictures.

At 2:30 p. m. a Memorial Service was conducted in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Grant Allen. Eual Allen led the singing of several old songs such as "Rock of Ages" accompanied by Miss Nancy Holt. Mrs. Earl Allen read a poem, "Why I Go To Church"; Eual Allen sang "How Great Thou Art." Mrs. Lester Allen gave a devotion on Father and the 100 Psalms.

Following the service, a brief business meeting was held during which Mrs. Ralph Fullbright of Coffee Creek and Mrs. Earl Allen of Broadview, N. M. were asked to head the committee for the next reunion in 1966.

The Fathers' Day cake was served with Cokes and coffee following which everyone showed slides taken of their families and things of interest since the last reunion; which provided a way for members not present to be remembered also.

Remainder of the evening was spent visiting and "talking over old times in the Good Old Days."

There were seven of the eight children; nine of the 23 grandchildren; and 19 of the 44 great-grandchildren present for the reunion.

Reunion hosts were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brummett; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Moore; Mr. and Mrs. John Holt Jr., all of Pampa.

Sixty five persons registered from five different states: New Mexico, Montana, Texas, California and Oklahoma.

Attending from Pampa were Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Brummett; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brummett; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hollis; Miss Edna King; Mrs. James Allen, Linda, Patricia and Barbara Parvin; Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Moore, Linda, Jerry and Vicky Jo; Mr. and Mrs. John Holt Jr., Nancy and Barbara.

Dear Abby... Better Kind Lie Than Cruel Truth

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'm sick of all this talk about helping people to "come back." What about those of us who have always been okay? Who helps us? I was married to an alcoholic for 15 years and finally divorced him. Now another alcoholic is ruining my life. She came to work here three months ago. I was nice to her. She confided that she was an alcoholic and a member of A. A. I told the others in the office because I thought they had a right to know. You should see how they reacted! You'd think she was a saint or something. She started dating an important man in the office. (Divorced.) One day in the lounge a girl said to her, "You don't look like you've ever had a drink in your life." It was more than I could stand, so I told her the truth. I said, "You look hard and you've earned it." She ran out crying, and hasn't been to work since. Now no one in the office speaks to me. I was taught to be truthful, Abby. What has happened to the world, anyway? I'm for honesty. Am I wrong?

HONEST AND ALONE

DEAR HONEST: Your story suggests that you are harder than your friend looks. (How does that kind of "honesty" appeal to you?) Better a kind lie than a cruel truth. Or better still, an eloquent silence.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old boy with $1455.50 in the bank. I suppose you think that makes me rich. Well, as far as I'm concerned, I am poor. I got $1,000 from my grandfather for my Bar Mitzvah and the rest I got for birthdays, holidays and making the honor roll. It all goes right in the bank and I am not allowed to touch any of it. So what kind of a present is that? I would rather have a bird in the hand than two in the bush.

FOURTEEN AND BROKE

DEAR FOURTEEN: You may be 14, but you're far from broke. Don't compare a bird with a buck. A buck in the bank could be worth two in the hand. And it's not so apt to fly away.

Modern Marvels Can Destroy Smooth Operation For Kitchen Practicality

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

From a practical standpoint, few home projects call for greater awareness of fundamental house-keeping than planning a new or remodeled kitchen.

Let me illustrate with a story about a friend who invited me to see her newly remodeled kitchen.

The cooking center alone is breathtaking. There are two built-in ovens with every automatic device and a range to match.

When I had admired this dream setting, I asked how she liked the modern marvels.

"Why I never use them," she snapped, "you know I can't stand gadgets. I'm certainly not too feeble to turn on my own oven and figure how long to cook a roast."

If you have a more flexible attitude toward controls and improvements, you'll have fun exploring and comparing appliance features.

One range that caught my eye has high side panels on the range top to prevent spillovers. Control knobs are out of the reach of children. The range is ostily but bristling with new ideas and features.

Slide-out oven wall panels are

When you wear long white gloves to a formal dinner, remove them before you eat. Nothing looks sillier than a woman trying to handle a knife and fork with her gloves on.

New, free-standing range features Teflon-coated oven panels which slide out for quick cleaning, and a built-in, filtered venting system. Control knobs are out of reach of children. Twin ovens have many automatic control settings.

The Mature Parent First Pregnancy Not-An-Easy Time

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our son's wife is soon expecting her first child. Last night she said she had no intention of nursing it, was returning to her job two months after her confinement and was interviewing practical nurses to take care of the baby. My husband and I are very upset. Our son is well able to provide for his wife and child. What life lies ahead of this child with a mother who doesn't want him?

ANSWER: She doesn't know her baby. Now he's just a heaviness in her body and an idea in her head.

A first pregnancy is not an easy time. We seem to be doing all the giving and the baby all the taking. He shortens our breath, restricts our diet, overwhelms our waistline and forces us to lumber about in ugly clothes. If, as too often occurs, we are the daughters of a mother who has made us believe we are a disappointment to her, we may particularly resent the demands of our own unborn child. We will think of him as the same kind of Taker, who Never Gives as we have been told that we are. And we will express our resistance, to him by minimizing his importance, by speaking of him as the Interupter we will put in his place by refusing to nurse him—and continue the process of unwarded giving.

It is at this point that a person who is fond of us can sometimes help by saying, "Nursing babies is an equal exchange. In return for our relieving them of hunger, they relieve our breasts of the pressure of milk. This is the beginning of fair exchanges between us and them. Why don't you wait to decide? Why don't you wait until you meet this baby to decide?"

If you are not fond of your son's wife, she can dispense with your critical presence at this trying time of her life.

If it's noble of you to feel such concern for the welfare of your grandchild. But he isn't born yet, is he? His present needs are being well taken care of. Now there is certainly no real cause for worry about him.

So, if you can feel no concern or sympathy for his mother—the child who is born—you'll do her

Dear Kathy

by Kathy Peterson

Dear Kathy: What can I do about a messy sister? She scatters her things, and never does things when she should. My sister is 11. What can I do? If I ask to do things like the dishes, my mother says "No" all the time, so that isn't the answer—Mary. Dear Mary: "Let's do it!" is more apt to get a good response than "YOU do it!" Eleven is usually a sociable age. Sharing makes work seem easy.

You can't make your sister do anything—that's your parents' job. Offering help might be just as effective. It's possible that your sister will find it so much more convenient to be neat that she will continue the habit on her own.

Since your mother doesn't give you jobs, you must be younger than your sister but you sound more grown up. Have you considered the idea that the messy gal in the family might have done you a favor? Her bad example is probably responsible for your "do it now" attitude, which will pay dividends for life!

Teen-agers: Please send your personal problems to Kathy Peterson in care of The Pampa News. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

a favor by keeping away from her, by protecting her against more experience of mothers who find her unsatisfactory.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

O. T. JOHNSON, PASTOR
WEST SIDE BAPTIST CHURCH

WHAT'S YOUR DESTINATION?

For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand (11 Tim. 4:6)
The Bible speaks and Christian thinks of death, not as an end, but as a departure. Here the Apostle Paul realized that he was as definitely going toward an eternal destination as on any of his missionary journeys he was headed toward some earthly city.

The word decease is also used (Luke 9:31), which means "exodus" or "Departure".

Consider then:

- I. THE ETERNAL DESTINATION.
 - A. Of Christians. — Heaven, a prepared place, (John 14:3) and if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again.
 - B. Of the believer. — Hell, also a prepared place, (Matt. 25:41) Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.
- II. THE PREPARATION NEEDED.
 - A. For the Christian.
 1. Repentance and faith, (Acts 20:21) repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.
 2. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. (John 3:18) He that believeth on him is not condemned.
 - B. For the Unbeliever. No preparation is needed. People drift into hell, they follow the crowd on the broad way; they are lost because they have not accepted Christ as Saviour, (John 3:18b) but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. (John 1:11-12) He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name.
- III. THE GAIN OR LOSS.
 - A. For the Christian gain (Phil. 1:21) For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.
 - B. For the unbeliever — loss (Luke 12:20) But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee.
- IV. THE TIME FOR GOING.
 - A. It is unknown to us, (James 4:14) Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.
 - B. It is a divine appointment. (Heb. 9:27) As it is appointed unto man once to die, and after this the judgement.
 - C. The uncertainty demands immediate decision. (Heb. 3:7-8)

Conclusion: As sure as there is a Heaven to gain, there is a hell to shun

Harness Track Has Synthetic Runway

WASHINGTON, Pa. (UPI) — Harness racing experts from throughout the world will be on hand tonight to study a synthetic runway at the opening of The Meadows, the first part-mutuel race track in western Pennsylvania.

Johnny Simpson, a driver, said after a recent tryout that the track surface amazed him. He is a three-time winner of the Little Brown Jug, which is the Kentucky Derby of harness racing.

"I liked the surface when I first rode on it in its experimental stage, and I like it even better on a full track," Simpson said.

The $15,000 Arden Downs Stake for three-year-old pacing colts is the highlight of the 10-card program tonight. Officials at The Meadows believe the winning time for the feature will be under two minutes because of the synthetic surface.

Simpson will drive Gene Hill, a colt which ran the mile in 2:03 3-5 last week.

Two trots and seven paces also are on the card.

Other entries in the feature race are George Sholly driving Delightful Time, Del Insko behind Meadow Hal, Lou Huber Jr. driving Diamond Sam, Bill Houghton guiding Max Hanover, Stanley Dancer with Majestic Hanover, Harold Warner behind Tarpot Doug, and Harold Beisinger driving Parking Time.

Diamond Sam, third choice in the betting for tonight's feature, has been clocked in 2:02 on a mile track.

The favorite, Majestic Hanover, won seven events in a row as a two-year-old last year before suffering an injury. He underwent surgery and will be making his first start of 1963. Oddsmakers rate him at 3-1 in the Arden Downs Stake.

AFL Starts Trading After Pledging Help

By MARTIN GLEASON
United Press International
BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The American Football League moved into the potential "trading" phase of its three-day summer meeting today after repeating a pledge to help revitalize the weakened New York Jets and Oakland Raiders.

Coaches and general managers met with Commissioner Joe Foss, and the possibility of several player trades loomed large. A league official said the fact "nobody was saying anything" indicated that numerous changes in personnel were in the works.

In May, the league initiated an equalization program aimed at building up the two cellar-dwelling clubs. A special draft proved disappointing and the second part of the equalization plan, giving New York and Oakland first choice of players released by the American, National and Canadian leagues—brought rumors of discontent within the AFL.

Thursday, following a 9½-hour non-stop meeting, Foss silenced those grumblings.

"There is no change in the original format drawn up at New York May 11 in which New York and Oakland will have 30 days to accept or reject castoffs from any professional league," Foss said.

Speaking for the owners, Foss said the future of the league is "terrific." The general feeling after three years of operation is one of solidarity, he said.

President Billy Sullivan Jr. of Boston agreed, claiming "the years of crisis are behind us."

8 FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1963 56TH YEAR

East-West Game Saturday Night

BUFFALO (UPI) — The East and West squads held final practice sessions today for the third annual all-America game Saturday night.

The two teams, made up of the cream of college football seniors in 1962, have been working on offensive strategy for the last ten days.

The match at Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium climaxes a rivalry between two coaches, Milt Bruhn and John McKay.

Bruhn, mentor of the University of Wisconsin, bid high for the Rose Bowl title last January against McKay's Trojans of the University of Southern California, but went down to a 42-37 defeat.

The heavier East squad, "hipped into shape by Bruhn, is the early favorite to break the tie between the two squads in earlier games.

In the first game, June 23, 1961, West defeated East 30-20, but the following year, East evened the score with a 13-5 win.

Ronnie Goodwin of Baylor is slated to start at one of the half-back positions for the West.

Lineman Lee Roy Jordan, a compact 210-pound bundle of muscle and a former University of Alabama star, will be captain of the East squad.

Player, Dark Horses Lead Cleveland Open

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Gary Player, who always is in contention, and two dark horses, Bill Eggers and Bo Winger, led the field by a stroke going into the second round of the $110,000 Cleveland Open golf tournament today with Jack Nicklaus and favored Arnold Palmer trailing by two and five strokes, respectively.

The little South African, the red-haired Eggers and the 40-year-old Winger fired five-under par 66's—all of them wielding hot putters—in the first round Thursday to lead former PGA champion Lionel Hebert, Moon Mullins and Dave Hill by a shot.

The golf was as hot as the heat which seared the 6,618-yard Beechmont Country Club course as 42 players in the 150-man field broke par 35-36-71 and 77 equalled it.

Player felt he would have shot a 26 going out except for bogeying the ninth hole.

"I was putting the best I've ever putted and I really felt like I was going to have an exceptional round," he said. "But then I three-putted from 20 feet on the ninth hole and wound up paring the 10th when I should have had a birdie.

"That bogey on the ninth really upset me and I really never got going again."

Player had five birdies and two bogeys on the front nine for a 32 and two birdies on the back for a 34. The 36-year-old Eggers, using a 19-year-old brassie given to him when he was a boy, overcame the putting jitters which used to bother him as he carded a 33-33 while Winger, whose golfing luck has turned better after an African elephant safari last fall, had nines of 34 and 32.

Girls Softball

The Opt-Misses topped the Opteens, 19-16, the Optettes took a 5-5 win over the Optones, and Lefors squeezed out a 26-25 hair-raiser over the FF 9's in Opti-Mrs. Girls Softball play this week.

Winning pitcher for the Opti-Misses was Gail Powell, with Nita Herring taking the loss. Jerry Johnson and Debbie Bennett homered for the winners and Diane Parker for the Teens.

Glenda Howard won a pitching duel over Alice Martin of the Optones, with Angela Roush's home run margin of victory.

In the opening game of the 14-16-year-old girl softballers, visiting Lefors took the win, with Judy Gatlin the winning pitcher. Tillie Ann Cagle took the loss, in relief of Joy Clark.

The two teams meet again Monday night at 7:30 at Optimist Park. Any team wishing to join this league, or to play the FF 9's, is asked to call Mrs. W. A. Gipson at MO 4-8258.

Area Players On TT Honor II

LUBBOCK (Sp) — Coach J. T. King could field a Texas Tech football team next fall composed solely of players whose grades qualified them for National Honor Society membership in high school.

Heaviest loaded position — scholastically but not according to experience — is quarterback. Five potential signal callers, all sophomores or squaddens, no lettermen, made in the Honor Society. Among these are juniors Jim Ellis of Lubbock Monterey and Bob Black of Dallas Jesuit, sophomores Ben Elledge of Brownwood, Larry Anderson of Stinnett, and Donald Florence of Grapevine.

Rounding out the backfield on the academic team would be fullback Charles Graham of Longview Pine Tree or Dennis Tucker of Albany, and two of these three halfbacks, David Baugh (Sam's son) of Rotan, Bill Deacon of Grapevine, and Rocky Hill of Albany.

In the line would be ends Sam Cornelius of Spearman and Terry McWhorter of Perryton, tackles Dennis Watkins of McCamey and James Webb of Pampa, guards Bill Shaha of Dumas and Richard Willis of Fort Sumner, N. M., or Eugene Howard of Longview Pine Tree, and center C. C. Willis.

PAISLEY, Scotland (UPI) — Light heavyweight contender Eddie Cotton of Seattle, Wash., had high hopes today of getting an autumn shot at the 175-pound crown because of Thursday night's victory over British and Empire champion Chic Calderwood of Scotland.

Cotton, ranked second among contenders, earned the decision of referee Frank Wilson because of his stronger finish in the 10-rounder at the Paisley ice rink.

Boston Red Sox Protest Luplow's Super Catch

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
Cleveland outfielder Al Luplow was in the middle of baseball's latest controversy today and there's about as much hope of settling this one as there is of proving which came first, the chicken or the egg.

The only point everyone agrees on is that Luplow turned in the catch of the year Thursday when he flipped over a five-foot fence and landed in the Boston bullpen while snaring Dick Williams' 400-foot drive.

Up To Cronin
So American League president Joe Cronin, who will find Pesky's protest on his desk today, will have to rule whether Luplow caught the ball before or after he landed in the bullpen. Good luck, Joe!

Softball League

Two of the leading teams in the Industrial Softball League both received ruder upsets last night, the Miami Cowboys downing the Cabot Clowns, 5-3, and the Panhandle Packers edging the Pampa Stars, 3-2.
In a spine-tingling finish, David Fulton scored from third base on a wild throw in the bottom of the eighth inning to give the resurgent Packers their third straight win.
Charlie Vaughan shut out the Packers for three innings while his teammates picked up two runs off the starts of Raymond McKinney. The bottom of the fourth saw the Packers break the scoring ice as Jack Wood hit a home run into center field.
The score stayed at 2-1 until Arlen Kaiser doubled in the bottom of the seventh, stole third and scored the tying run as pinchhitter Doc Bates hit a sacrifice fly. McKinney struck out the side in the top of the eighth and then Fulton led off the bottom half with a single, took second on the throw, went to third on Tim Wood's grounder and scored on a wild throw.
McKinney struck out 18 and walked but one. Vaughan struck out nine and gave no walks. Jack Wood led the winners with a homer and single and Jimmy Enloe had two of Pampa's three hits.
Miami came up with two runs in the top of the seventh, held off a Cabot rally and took a first-place lead with Pampa on the win. Larry Rider rallied to the win, despite giving up 11 hits as he struck out two and walked three. Ray Howard was bombed for nine hits, struck out seven and walked none.
Ray tried to win his own cause with his hitting as well as pitching, but lack of fielding support was his downfall. He accounted for all three Cabot runs with two homers and a single. Jerry Wright backed him with three hits. Sam Harris had a bases-empty four-bagger for the Cowpokes. Denny Bowerman had two key hits and Robinson also got two hits for the winners.
Pampa 0011000-7
Panhandle 0001001-6

The Indians, who won the game, 6-4, called Luplow's fantastic seventh inning catch one of the greatest in baseball history.

Some of the Red Sox went along with that, but to a man they insisted it was illegal because Luplow actually was outside the playing field at Fenway Park.

Makes Official Protest
"As far as I know, the rules say you've got to be on the playing field," said Red Sox manager Johnny Pesky, who officially protested the game, believing that Williams was entitled to a home run.

Two Boston runners were on base at the time and one of them, Lou Clinton scored from third base after the catch.

"Hell, a home run means three runs to us and it ties the game at 6-6," Pesky said.

Umpire Joe Paparella ruled Luplow's catch valid. He said he "saw Luplow catch the ball falling into the bullpen, I saw the play all the way. He disappeared behind the fence but came up almost instantly, carrying the ball. He couldn't have dropped it. He didn't have time."

Some of the Red Sox players in the bullpen at the time, including pitcher Oet Nichols and coach Al Lakeman, conceded Luplow never dropped the ball but argued with Pesky that the catch actually was made in the bullpen.

Youth Baseball

The Misfits mauled Duncan, 19-3, Rotary topped Hardon & Roth, 10-8, and Your Laundry edged B&B, 16-15, in Optimist Youth Baseball.
The Misfits took their eighth win without a loss as Stanley Kirby and Freddie Harper teamed up for a one-hitter. Don Gibson took the loss, with Joe Foster in relief.
Al Gomez was the big stick, with three hits, two of them homers and one a grand-slammer.
B&B evened their record at 4-4 as they took an early lead and held off a late-inning H&R rally; C. Snell took the win, walking seven and striking out nine. G. Dalton was the loser.
Aitchley led the winners with 3-for-3 at the plate. T. Hembree went 3-for-3, with a home run, for the losers, and L. Washington had two hits.
Trailing 15-4, the Laundryman came up with 12 runs in the bottom of the sixth inning for a one-run victory. Sammy Heasley started for the Laundry, with Rickey Harris relieving in the fourth and taking the win. Ebenkamp was the starter for the losers.

Anyway, the victory, credited to Cleveland starter Barry Latman, snapped a four-game Red Sox winning string. Mike De La Hoz produced the Tribe's winking margin with his third hit of the game, a two-run single off reliever Dick Radatz in the eighth. Rookie Wilbur Wood was the loser, however.

Jerry Kindall, Max Alvis and Gene Green hit homers for the Indians while Carl Zastrowski and Russ Nixon connected for the Red Sox.

In other AL action, the Chicago White Sox moved within eight percentage points of the first-place New York Yankees by beating them, 6-0, on Ray Herbert's sixth shutout of the season. Minnesota drubbed Detroit, 10-6, and Washington clipped Kansas City, 4-2, in the only other scheduled contest.

Only one game was played in the National League where Johnny Callison of the Philadelphia Phillies drove in four runs with a homer, triple, double and a single in a 13-4 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Handicuffs Yankees
Herbert limited the Yankees to five hits in out-pitching Jim Bouton for his eighth victory in 12 decisions.

Pampa Rebels In Key Games This Weekend

The Pampa Rebels will have a busy weekend, with the American Legion league-leading Rebs playing on the road tonight and tomorrow.

The Rebels play at Huber Field in Borger tonight in an exhibition game which will not count in District 18 standings, and will then meet the Tascosa Dusters tomorrow night at Amarillo AFB in the game that could well decide the district champion.

Jerry Garrison, with a 1-1 record on the season, will take the mound for Pampa at 8 tonight, with Ronnie Curlee tabbed as number one relief if needed. Big David Parkhurst, bellwether of the Borger staff, will be the probable starter for the hosts. Parkhurst has gotten the decision in all 108 Borger losses to date, with his last outing being an 8-6 loss to Carver.

Tomorrow night the Rebels, with a 4-1 district record, meet Tascosa, with a 3-1 mark. A win by the Rebs would make them 5-1 and give their only competitors, Amarillo and Tascosa, two losses each. A loss by Pampa would scramble the three-team race, with the possibility of a three-way tie for first place depending on the outcome of the Amarillo-Tascosa game.
Jim Arthur will be the man on the mound for the Rebels tomorrow night, with a 2-0 district record, leading the team in strikeouts. Blazin' Bobby Price, the big fireman who has not given up an earned run in three relief outings, will be in the bullpen if needed.
The Pampa Colts, winners of five straight Tri-State League games, were slated to try for their sixth win against three losses when the second place Liberal Bee Jays came to town tomorrow night.
Colt manager Tom Glover has reported that Liberal has asked for postponement of the game due to a schedule mixup, and the game will be replayed July 8. Meanwhile, Glover said that he will definitely try to schedule another game at Optimist Park Saturday night in its stead. Jerry Glover will be the Colts' starting pitcher.

By OSCAR FRALEY

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — There was a time when Bill Eggers, a handsomely haired pro out of Henderson, Nev., was putting so poorly that in desperation he even went to a psychiatrist.
Bill put in some couch time with the head-shrinker. The next time he played ended that.
"I had a six foot putt, flinched, and knocked it clear off the green," he recalled. "I figured no even a psychiatrist was going to help me."
But then a friend made a suggestion and that, plus a beat-up old brassie which was given to him 19 years ago when he was only 11 years old, is the reason why he's front and center with a five under par 66 in the chase for the $22,000 first prize in the Cleveland Open golf championship.
"I was desperate and a nervous wreck when I took that putter in hand," recalled the five foot, 11 inch 190-pounder who originally hails from Portland, Ore. "I tried every putter ever made, even using that pendulum type you stroke like a croquet mallet. But I always overcharged them, tightening up, or choking, or whatever you want to call it, and knocking the ball out of sight on the green."
Keep A Record
But then a friend suggested that Eggers keep a record of what he did on every putt and for nine months he "catalogued" every stroke he took in the greens, whether they were long, short, chopped, hooked or cut. And in May he had an emergency appendectomy which, he grins in his easy manner, "took out a pucker-muscle which must have been effecting my putting."
"Whatever it was, I think in essence the trouble with my putting was simply lack of confidence," he analyzes himself now. "I feel like I can knock it in the hole using instinct instead of drawing lines. I've got it now."
He had it as he shot a 33-33-66.

Steve Williams hurled one-hit ball for Kist, striking out seven and walking 10. Mingo Velasquez was the loser, striking out five, but being reached for 15 bases on balls.

GOOD IN PINCH
CHICAGO (UPI) — Camilo Carreon of the Chicago White Sox hit .455 as a pinch hitter in 1962.

The game has been his life's work for he started working around a public course in Portland when he was 11, "taking tickets, selling candy and pop and hunting balls." He was a pro at 17 and now plays out of the Black Mountain Country Club in Henderson, which is near Las Vegas.
It was when he first started working at the Portland course as a youngster that the pro, Ted Longworth, gave him a brassie. It's beat and battered with the chrome long since worn off, but with a new grip on it Eggers uses it off the tee and hits them long and straight.
The putting, however, always was his big draw-back. But when he finished his brilliant round, fellow pro Dan Sikes of Jacksonville, Fla., walked up to him and said whimsically:
"You know, there used to be a guy on the tour who looked just like you and his name was Bill Eggers, too. Only thing was, that fellow couldn't putt."
The "new" Bill Eggers grinned appreciatively and walked away.

HOST GOLF TOURNEYS
NEW YORK (UPI) — Two tournament-tested golf courses will host the Walker Cup matches and the U.S. Amateur championship in September of 1965.
The Walker Cup will be contested over the Baltimore (Md.) Country Club's Five Farm Course Sept. 2-4. The Amateur is scheduled Sept. 13-18 at the Southern Hills Country Club, Tulsa, Okla., scene of Tommy Bolt's 1958 U.S. Open victory.

Chuck Favored In Quarterfinals

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., seeking to become the first American to win the Wimbledon men's crown since 1955, was favored to nail down a quarterfinal berth today when he met India's Jaidip Mukerjee. Frank Froehling, the only other Yank survivor in the men's singles, doesn't swing back into action until Saturday when he faces England's Roger Taylor.
Three of the five Americans remaining in the women's singles were scheduled to play today.
Donna Floyd Fales of Arlington, Va., was pitted against Mrs. Vera Sukova, the Czech housewife who lost to Karen Hantze-Susman of San Antonio in last year's final; Dorothy Head Knode, formerly of New York but now living in Tokyo, faced Mrs. J. W. Cawthorn of England, and Tory Ann Fretz of Harrisburg, Pa., met Jan Lehane of Australia in third round matches.
McKinley and Froehling both took advantage of sore-armed foes in reaching the round of 16 Thursday.
Fourth-ranked McKinley needed only 50 minutes to gain a 6-3, 6-2 victory over Arthur Ashe of Los Angeles, who suffered a recurrence of an arm injury and admitted he "felt like quitting but wouldn't."

The Panama Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

The Tax Collector

There is no doubt at all but that businessmen generally are the mainstay of the entire tax picture. Though businessmen often object with considerable vocal ability to the size of the tax they pay, the fact remains that businessmen not only produce virtually all the money that government collects, they also assist in collecting the major portion of all the dollars that flow into the treasury.

A small residue of tax dollars flows from savings in the federal coffers. This is not a large sum when compared to the total revenue produced in business and industry.

Also there are some taxes which businessmen do not collect but which Uncle Sam collects on his own.

Of the $94 billion in taxes which the federal government got hold of in fiscal 1962, approximately 84 per cent was collected by and from business, according to a recent study made by the Tax Foundation.

Roughly, the breakdown is as follows: (in billions)

- Corporation income tax: $20.5
- Old Age & Survivor's tax: 11.5
- Federal unemployment tax: .4
- Railroad retirement tax: .5
- Customs (estimated): 1.02
- Withholding tax from wages: 32.6
- Federal excise taxes: 12.5
- Total taxes collected from and by business: $79.2

No wonder the Internal Revenue Service has been happy to praise the businessman for his business-like cooperation with the department. Commissioner Caplin, in charge of the I. R. S., has recently been led to make the following observations:

"American business enterprise showed a grand total of business receipts of over $1 trillion, with net profits totaling $84 billion.

"Business payrolls," he said, "account for most of the $270 billion in wages and salaries which make up the bulk of the tax base independent of the big city trouble-spots.

Frequently, late, and most recently in a speech before a Washington meeting of the Federal Government Accountants' Association, Mr. Day has emphasized his reaction that an "appalling thing about these sharply critical editorials was the obvious lack, in so many of them, of an even rudimentary knowledge of how postal expenditures are financed."

In other words, if the basic communications system of the nation — on which the conduct of commerce and industry, of human affairs and even of Government itself depends — should fail to meet its historic responsibility at reasonable cost to the users, we must not complain!

The Postmaster General's attitude comes perilously close to the philosophy that the primary function of the people is to support the Government — including the Post Office Department — and the people should be happy for whatever left-handed service they might receive in return.

But Mr. Day's impatience with editorial criticism is the best indication that it is hitting the mark.

As far as we know, the Postmaster General is the only one who has suggested "clanking robots." And it is interesting that, having talked about mechanization for ten years, he now ridicules it.

As for the small town post offices, these are not the ones that are causing the headaches — of the PMG or the public. We think it is generally true that the smaller offices are rendering the same good service they always have — insofar as their own operations are on which 62 million individual income taxpayers compute their $42 billion tax." He also noted that "130,000 corporations paid $18 billion in dividends most of which found its way into the tax base. "Very little income received by individual taxpayers," said Mr. Caplin, "comes into their hands outside of payments made to them by the business community. Not to mention the great support American industry gives the tax administration by withholding on wages, by furnishing information, documents on interest and dividends, and by reporting and paying excise taxes."

What Mr. Caplin didn't say and, indeed, what many business men are probably a bit afraid of saying, is that a great deal of this taxation and accompanying "operation" is obtained by the government in an atmosphere of fright.

It isn't that businessmen favor all of the various things they are doing. Rather, it is that they are law-abiding citizens and they are doing their best to escape the wrath of an agency which demonstrates its effectiveness by putting Al Capone in jail for tax evasion even when law enforcement men were impotent."

So it turns out that no matter how far apart in reality the operation of the government is from the operation of the economy, business and industry have been bullied and coerced into smiling and "going along" with a program which is gradually destroying the very system which makes possible both our high standards of living and the existence of the government itself.

What is instructive is the obvious fact that without the "cooperation" of business and industry, never mind how the "cooperation" was obtained, the government would doubtless be much smaller and less overbearing than it is today.

"Business payrolls," he said, "account for most of the $270 billion in wages and salaries which make up the bulk of the tax base independent of the big city trouble-spots.

It may seem a little incongruous to associate the image of a U.S. Air Force career officer with that of a writer of first-class humorous novels, but such is the case of Lt. Colonel William C. Anderson, whose delightful story of "Penelope" is just as refreshing as a frosty-mint julep on a hot summer day. The Colonel has woven his whimsical story about "Penelope" into a novel of humor, romance and suspense. Based on the research now being conducted with dolphins by the Air Force in space communications, "Penelope" deals with a downing astronaut, a Russian submarine and the romantic life of her mentor. Published by Crown, it is just reaching the book stores.

Quite popular with railroad buffs are the Iron Horse Rambles, operated by several railroads during the summer to scenic spots. These Sunday excursions usually make the trip over freight and branch lines and the trains are pulled by large, old-time steam locomotives. As a result many youngsters are afforded their first opportunity of seeing the Iron Horse of yesterday.

The President's military advisers, including Admiral Robert Anderson, slated to become Ambassador to Portugal in August, unavailingly urged him to accept Salazar's invitation to further the prospects of working out a compromise.

They argued that the Azores bases are vitally needed for (1) the Polar submarines, and (2) increasing our "limited war" capabilities in Africa and the Middle East.

But State Department authorities, led by Secretary Rusk, opposed the Portugal visit on the ground it would complicate relations with the African nations that are seeking Portugal's ouster from Angola and Mozambique.

They contended these are no grounds for a compromise, and therefore no purpose would be served by a Kennedy-Salazar meeting at this time.

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's by-passing of Portugal during his European junket could turn out to be even more costly than the failure of his backstage efforts to arrange a visit to France.

Well, doesn't the Panama Daily News know that the U.S.A. has the largest stockpile of nuclear bombs in the world; the best bomber fleets in the world to deliver them; Atlas missiles pointed toward Russia with nuclear war heads; Polar submarines prowling the world's oceans, and a huge American army in Europe.

I guess that's an aid and comfort to the Communist conspiracy. Maybe the American taxpayers are being taken along the road to financial ruin, I don't know. But the billions in defense are providing pay checks for millions of American workers and profits for American corporations.

Surely the U.S. is smart enough to keep diplomatic recognition with the Communist Nations in order that our intelligence and espionage agents can work efficiently.

For gosh sakes, can't the Panama Daily News editorial page ever say something good for the U.S.A.?

Edson in Washington Odds Are Against Fact On Nuclear Test Ban

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—No high official in Washington is kidding himself that the forthcoming American-British-Russian talks on a nuclear test ban will result in agreement and a treaty. Some administration sources put Undersecretary of State Averil Harriman's chances of success in Moscow at no better than 1 in 20.

This is perhaps the best answer to congressional and other critics who think that the conference announced in President Kennedy's June 10 speech on a new strategy for peace is an ambush and a waste of time. The rationalization for it is that any president would want to be sure that he had done everything he could to avoid a world-wide nuclear disaster. If the talks prove fruitless as expected, Russia gets the blame.

What could follow would be of considerable advantage to the United States in one way, of considerable damage to both the Communist and the free worlds in another.

Another demonstration by the Russians that they do not want a test ban should make all the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance countries realize exactly what they are up against. It should unite them if they have not been united before.

Russian rejection of a test ban should also make it easier to bring into being the NATO Multilateral Force — MLF — of submarines and surface ships armed with Polar missiles.

The bad part of such a development is that it might bring on an all-out arms race between East and West. The MLF alone would cost the U.S. an estimated $15 billion. It would mean $100 billion in U.S. defense budgets within a few years. The question is whether or not a test ban would be preferable.

If a test ban agreement should come through as a long shot, there is no intention that the United States would relax on what is now believed to be its vast nuclear superiority. Plans for future testing would go right ahead. Development of antimissile missiles and anti-antimissile missiles would go ahead.

Then if the Russians broke the test ban treaty, the United States would be prepared to resume testing immediately. It would not be forced to lose six months' as it did before when Khrushchev broke the Eisenhower moratorium on bomb testing.

In spite of U.S. nuclear weapons superiority — which is not to be confused with a missile gap in delivery systems — there is no assurance that American scientists would be first to develop new superweapons that come after the H-bomb.

In the potential for proliferation of nuclear weapons development in the next 10 to 20 years by Red China, France, Germany, Italy, Sweden, India, Japan or others that have the know-how, some obscure scientist may make the breakthrough. This is a development the United States must be prepared to match.

The key issue on test ban negotiations now is inspection of unidentified explosions. Chairman Khrushchev doesn't want any foreign inspectors in Russia, maintaining that they would all be spies.

He doesn't need any inspectors in the United States, for in the wide-open United States society the Russians need only about $5 per cent espionage to learn what they want to know.

While the United States has a world-wide nuclear test detection system, which the Russians do not have, the U.S. needs inspection of unidentified explosions. Khrushchev apparently has been led to believe that the United States will ultimately sign a test ban treaty without inspection. But the often-repeated report from the Russians that the former American disarmament negotiator, Ambassador Arthur Dean, had ever said that inspections are not important is officially denied.

Anyway, the difference between three inspections a year, which Russia might settle for, and the seven which the United States insists on as a minimum is considered important. What's wanted is a reserve of two or three inspections for safety.

LOST OR DISCARDED

SOUTHEND, England (UPI)—Officials of the local lost and found office are wondering what to do with the item found on a street Monday. It was a white-tied, one-tier wedding cake.

TO RENT TERMINAL

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The Maryland Port Authority has agreed to rent for $1 a year for 40 years, with option to buy, a marine terminal from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

SKEPTICAL OVERSEER—Cracking a big whip over her two older brothers, Julie Arms of Sudbury, Mass., engineers the chalking of a hopscotch court. It's not often that a sister can boss her big brothers around. But Julie has agreed to let Mike and Paul play if they do the job right.

New Plant Opens

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI)—Hercules Powder Co. said Monday its new polypropylene film plant at Covington, Va., is in operation.

The plant makes pro-fax film by a new process developed by Hercules for the food industry in several thicknesses and widths up to 72 inches.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Judge Eugene Bourse listened carefully while the defendant explained he had two choices: Hit a dog or a parked car. Hans R. Lorsch chose the car. The judge explained that the court also had two choices. Lorsch was fined.
