Mother Says 'Kidnapped;' Report Says 'Left in Bar'

By RAY BAXTER
It was Sunday, March 19 and Pampa police officers on duty were sorting out the usual moral debris that clutters a Pampa Saturday--affray, domestic quarrels, drunkenness, exposure (indecent), malicious mischief, etc. in alphabetical order.

—Oh, yes...kidnaping. Kidnaping???

It was Sunday and Pampa police officers were sorting when a woman tearfully pleaded for them to get her nine-weeks-old baby back.

A man in a bar—where she was last night—with her baby—had him and would not give him back.

Those were the facts on the official report but then...the official report is a small piece of paper with half of it cold "fill-in-the-blanks" information. There is little room for the officer's activities and none at all for his feelings.

But, sometimes an incident outgrows that page and a second with more room is pressed into service. On that page was the rest of the life story to date of a nine-weeks-old child with little room for more than a hint of the wisdom or a breath of the feeling on the part of the officer who wrote it.

On a tip the baby was found in a trailer home in the care of two women. He looked dehydrated according to that official report but the women had taken him to a doctor and were following directions to the letter. They told him the baby's condition bears that out. If that nine-weeks-old child, without name throughout all this verbage, ever has a life story and this incident is a chapter, about all the credit one man's judgment—and emotions—will get is:

“Officer Morris, No. 6.”

White House Denies Charges On Delaying Criminal Probes

National Magazine Discloses Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Life magazine charges that the Nixon administration "has seriously tampered with justice in San Diego" in an effort to protect some of its most important friends there from criminal prosecutions. The administration denies the charge.

In an investigative report published Sunday, Life said it had learned that "the administration has in several instances taken steps to neutralize and frustrate its own law-enforcement officials" by delaying prosecutions, curtailing investigations and other means.

The article by Life associate editors Denny Walsh and Tom Flaherty also said that President Nixon personally chose San Diego for the site of the Republican national convention next August and that he considers it his "lucky city."

A White House spokesman denied Sunday night that Nixon had had a preference for the convention site. In an interview last July, however, White House communications director Herbert Klein said Nixon favored San Diego.

Life said its investigation, which began last July, disclosed that the administration intervened in three cases, involving C. Arnholt Smith, a long-time friend and financial ally of Nixon; Frank Curran, a former San Diego mayor, and John Alessio, a real estate investor and head of a legal bookmaking operation in Mexico.

The magazine said its probe showed that: —Harry Steward, U.S. attorney for Southern California, "squelched" an investigation of reports that illegal political contributions were being funneled through a company controlled by Smith. Steward had been appointed by Nixon on Smith's recommendation, Life said.

—When former Democratic Mayor Curran was indicted in 1970 for allegedly taking a bribe from a cab firm to help raise taxi fares, the administration refused to let a federal investigator testify for the prosecution.

—During a criminal investigation for tax evasion of Alessio, Smith went to Washington to plead Alessio's case with Nixon. Life said it learned from sources. It said that in an interview Smith denied talking to the President about Alessio.

Within days of Smith's alleged visit with the President, the administration called off its grand jury presentation and sat on the case until the statute of limitations nearly expired on a key portion.

Massacre Reported In Yemen

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Forty South Yemen opposition leaders were tricked by the Aden government into reconciliation talks last week and then murdered, the official Saudi Arabian news agency reported today.

It said the alleged massacre has increased tension between the Yemen and South Yemen to "warlike proportions."

Earlier reports said the two countries had closed their common border and put their armed forces on alert.

The agency said the victims belonged to the Front for the Liberation of Occupied South Yemen—FLOSY—headed by labor leader Abdulla Asnag and former Premier Abdul Kawi Mekkawi.

Leaders of the front went into exile in neighboring Yemen when Aden won independence from Britain in 1967 and became the People's Republic of South Yemen under the rival Marxist National Liberation Front party.

Asnag eventually became foreign minister of Yemen, while Mekkawi operated FLOSY's activities from headquarters in the twin Yemen capital of Tai'z, according to the agency.

Cool Front Invades Area

By Associated Press

A new cool front shoved into the northwest part of the Texas Panhandle and occasional showers spattered southern and central sections of the state as the spring season made its official bow today.

There were even a few severe thunderstorms and some hail during the night in the Del Rio area and near Amistad Dam on the Mexican border. Still more thundershowers with a few storms mixed in were expected to spread over Central Texas and portions of South and East Texas while the cooler air kept pushing deeper into the state.

STUDY SESSION—Water department officials were back in session at City Hall today for their second week of orientation on operational procedures at Pampa's new water treatment plant. Shown here is Bill White, instructor for the Texas A&M Engineering Extension Service, conducting the class which included officials from other towns, in the Palm Room of City Hall. The course will end Thursday.

Interstate Hwy System Costs Drivers More Than Expected

Car owners in Gray County are beginning to realize that Uncle Sam's 42,500-mile Interstate Highway System, now three-quarters finished, has become a more costly undertaking than expected.

They know it because they, along with the rest of the motoring public, are footing the bill through their purchases of gasoline, tires and other items.

At the present time, the Federal government is collecting some $490,000 a year from car operators in the local area. The bulk of it is derived from the four-cent tax levied on every gallon of gas.

Not included in this total are the auto-use gas taxes collected by the state.

The revenue is deposited in the Highway Trust Fund, which pays 90 per cent of the cost of construction. The other 10 per cent is borne by the states.

For the typical driver in Gray County, who covers 10,000 miles a year and gets 14 miles to the gallon, the annual cost is about $30, according to government figures. For those who travel more or less than this average, the cost varies proportionately.

Based upon the 16,340 cars in operation in the local area during 1970, it adds up to $490,000 a year.

The increasing cost is attributed to the expansion of the highway system from the original 41,000 miles to 42,500 miles and to the fact that the expected completion date is now 1978.

As a result of the changes, the ultimate expenditure will be about $75 billion, it is estimated. That is nearly double the figure set in 1956, when the project was started.

Because of the extended construction time, car owners in Gray County will be contributing an additional $2,941,000 before it is finished, six years hence.

There is special interest in the Highway Trust Fund at this time because of the demand by many civic groups that it be used, in part, to support some public needs that they consider more urgent.

They contend that there is a pressing need to refurbish other transportation facilities, such as railroads, airports and mass transit generally, and that some of the money should go in that direction.

President Meets With Narcotics Officials In NY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon flies to New York City today to focus attention on the battle against drug abuse. He plans to talk to law-enforcement officials, undercover operatives and customs agents.

During a three-hour visit, the President will sit in on a meeting of federal and state narcotics officials and local judges with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

And he'll inspect the first of nine regional centers of the Office of Drug Abuse Law Enforcement he created in January under the direction of Myles J. Ambrose, former U.S. commissioner of customs.

Israel Steps Up Buildup Of Its Navy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Israeli navy is building a force of big missile-firing boats in an apparent bid to overcome an Egyptian edge in the Red Sea, Pentagon sources report.

The move, raising the Mideast arms race another beat, would enable the Israeli navy to shield shipping bound for Elat, Israel's important southern port.

In the view of U.S. naval experts, the six boats under construction would put the Israelis in shape to challenge the Egyptian navy's Red Sea force, made up principally of two destroyers and three Soviet-built Komar-class missile boats.

At the moment, Israel has about a dozen lightly armed patrol craft in the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Although they maintain powerful naval forces in the Mediterranean, neither the United States nor Russia is in position to bring that major strength to bear in the Red Sea because the Suez Canal still is blocked.

Reds Launch Heavy Attacks Against Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnamese troops backed by tanks and heavy artillery have launched an all-out offensive against the base at Long Cheng, near the Plain of Jars, informed sources said today.

A North Vietnamese force estimated at the equivalent of two divisions routed Thai and Laotian defenders from all positions in the vicinity of Sam Thong, six miles northwest of Long Cheng, and seized control of a position on Skyline Ridge, overlooking the Long Cheng airstrip, the sources said.

"The situation is critical," one official source said. Other sources said Long Cheng is "all but lost."

The offensive, believed to involve virtually all North Vietnamese troops in the Plain of Jars area, began early Saturday morning with simultaneous attacks against Thai and Laotian positions.

Communist units were pounding Long Cheng with long-range 130mm artillery from the southern tip of the Plain of Jars, the sources said. Between 15 and 20 battalions are believed committed to the offensive.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said air strikes by American air force F4 Phantoms have "increased considerably" in support of Long Cheng's defenders and B52s are "probably" bombing enemy positions.

3RD PRIMARY TOMORROW

3 Demo Presidential Rivals Make Last-Minute Campaign

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is campaigning for a comeback in Illinois, while Eugene J. McCarthy and Sen. George McGovern seek votes in hopes of dealing a double blow to the Democratic presidential campaign of the demoted front-runner from Maine.

The three Democratic rivals campaigned across the state today in the windup of the third heat of the presidential primary season, with Muskie in need of big victories in a pair of contests.

He faces McCarthy Tuesday in a presidential preference vote which is not binding, and McGovern in a complex delegate selection contest which is.

The voters will be choosing 160 of Illinois' 170 delegates to the Democratic National Convention, by far the biggest crop of nominating votes at stake in early season primary contests.

At least half the delegates are expected to remain beyond the reach of either Muskie or McGovern. They will be elected from uncommitted slates controlled by the Democratic organization of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The presidential rivals are not backing the mayor in his Chicago domain. Neither entered delegates in five city congressional districts where 56 will be elected. One of the delegate candidates will be Daley himself.

McGovern is running 104 delegate candidates in 19 of the state's 24 congressional districts. Muskie's organization has endorsed 105 delegate candidates in 17 districts, although there are 161 Democrats on the ballot listed as committed to the Maine senator.

There is no preference primary on the Republican side, but GOP voters will be asked to endorse 48 Republican National Convention delegates. All are committed to President Nixon except for seven who are running uncommitted.

McCarthy has concentrated his $250,000 campaign, which features a big television advertising push, on the preferential contest. It is his first campaign of 1972, and if he can't make a substantial showing, it could be his last.

At a fund raising dinner Sunday at suburban Wood Dale, Muskie decried the increasing split in Democratic ranks. He warned that Democratic voters "do not have the luxury of voting their prejudices in March if they want a responsible choice of nominees in November." Muskie came to Illinois after a damaging, fourth-place finish in Florida last Tuesday, where he gained 9 per cent of the vote.

And the Gallup Poll reported Sunday that Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey now leads Muskie, 35 to 28 per cent, as the preference of Democrats for the 1972 nomination. The poll was taken between March 3 and March 5.

McGovern's campaign is in need of some political repairs, too, after a far-back finish in Florida, where the South Dakotan tagged only 6 per cent of the vote and trailed Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, the candidate he had most hoped to outpoll.

Lindsay was already at work on the crucial Wisconsin primary, beginning a three-day campaign swing.

In Decatur, Ill., McGovern said that as president he would seek to end loopholes he said are costing the government $28 billion a year in taxes.

Air Raids Over N. Viet Raise To 100 This Year

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes raised their total of attacks on North Vietnam this year to the 100 mark over the weekend.

The U.S. Command said the 100th attack on anti-aircraft defenses in the North was made Sunday night by a Navy A6 fighter-bomber that attacked a radar site about 35 miles north of the DMZ. The command said the radar was tracking U.S. bombers raiding the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos. Results of the strike were not known.

In two other raids Sunday, American fighter-bombers apparently knocked out an anti-aircraft artillery battery and a radar site in North Vietnam 42 and 47 miles north of the DMZ near the Laotian border, the U.S. Command said.

In the ground war to the south, South Vietnamese forces pressing an 11-day drive against enemy base camps in eastern Cambodia reported uncovering more large stockpiles of food and weapons 85 to 100 miles northwest of Saigon and 10 to 15 miles across the border. The Saigon command said the latest caches yielded nearly 250 tons of rice and salt and more than 1,000 weapons.

Communist ground forces struck back at strategic government military sites in the northern part of South Vietnam, blowing up more than 50,000 gallons of aviation fuel near the DMZ and killing six government troops in a raid on a navy headquarters on the central coast.

More than 50 other U.S. warplanes attacked North Vietnamese troops for 24 hours—from noon Saturday until noon Sunday—to make possible the successful helicopter rescue of three downed airmen from the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos.

Two hours after he and Capt. Stephen L. Boretzky bailed out of the spotter plane, 1st Lt. David Breskman, 24, of Villanova, Pa., encountered a North Vietnamese soldier dressed in a khaki uniform and armed with an AK45 rifle.

"I saw him coming," said Breskman, "and I just sat real still and watched him come."

"He kept coming closer and closer, and when he got where I couldn't miss, I fired. He was about 10 feet away. I fired four shots. He saw me after the first shot. It hit him in the abdomen. Then I missed on the next two shots. "The fourth shot was the fatal shot. He didn't fire at me."

Breskman and Boretzky, 29, of Bristol, Tenn., spent the night in the middle of several batteries of enemy anti-aircraft guns. Heavy fire drove the rescue helicopters off twice.

U.S. fighter-bombers orbited above dropping bombs within 300 feet of the downed airmen to keep the enemy troops away from them.

When a rescue helicopter finally pulled Breskman and Boretzky out at noon Sunday, enemy fire trailed it into the skies.

The A1 pilot who was shot down was rescued hours earlier. He was not identified.

Enemy groundfire brought down two American reconnaissance helicopters in South Vietnam's central highlands 25 miles southeast of Pleiku, wounding one crewman.

SPRING IS HERE—Today marks the first day of Spring which arrived on Leap Year seasonal schedule at 6:22 a.m. The debut was made with springlike temperatures and a sunny day. Shown here is just one of the many scenes on Pampa's 'Hk' and Bike trail as pedestrians took advantage of warm temperatures and moved outdoors Sunday and today. Yesterday's high in Pampa was 84, the low this morning, 52 and a high in the 70s was expected again this afternoon.

Poll Shows HH Ahead Of Muskie

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The latest Gallup poll shows Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota as the leading choice of Democratic voters for the party's presidential nomination.

The poll released on Sunday showed Humphrey with the backing of 35 per cent of the Democratic voters surveyed, while runner-up Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine received support from 28 per cent.

The figures do not take into consideration Alabama George C. Wallace, winner of the Democratic primary in Florida last week.

With Wallace in the field, Democratic voters surveyed from March 3 to March 5—prior to the primaries in New Hampshire and Florida—gave Humphrey 31 per cent, Muskie 23 and Wallace 15.

Wallace, not included—Mayor John V. Lindsay, 8 per cent; Sen. George S. McGovern, 7; Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, 5; Sen. Henry M. Jackson, 5; Rep. Shirley Chisholm, 3; Sen. Vance Hartke, 1; Mayor Sam Yorty, 1; no preference, 6.

Wallace included—Lindsay, 7; McGovern, 6; McCarthy, 5; Jackson, 3; Chisholm, 2; Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, 2; Hartke, 1; no preference, 5.

BOTTOMS DOWN—The driver of a Santa Fe van truck found himself in a little bit of a predicament this morning when the truck van decided to follow President Nixon's lead and head towards China. Unfortunately, it tried to take a more direct route. While waiting to be unloaded, one of its legs—used to support the van—sunk into the gravel and dirt in the parking lot at the Santa Fe depot. Workers seemed unworried about the situation and had already begun to set the van straight by mid-morning.

High Court To Take Up Suit Against Organized Baseball

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today took up Curt Flood's suit against organized baseball.

Former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, in arguments prepared for a one-hour hearing, contended that the contract that binds a player to one team directly violates antitrust laws.

Goldberg, representing the former St. Louis Cardinal centerfielder, urged the court to reverse a 1922 decision that exempted baseball from laws regulating interstate commerce. He said the ruling was an anachronism.

But Paul A. Porter, a Washington attorney, and Louis L. Hoynes Jr., a New York lawyer, cautioned that the reserve system is the cornerstone of baseball.

Without it, they said, the wealthiest teams in the largest cities would attract the best players, destroying baseball's competitive balance.

Backed by the players' union, Flood brought his damage suit against baseball after the Cardinals traded him to the Philadelphia Phillies in 1969. He wanted to be made a "free agent," at liberty to play for a team of his choosing.

At the very least, Goldberg said, baseball should give players the limited freedom of action provided in football, basketball, hockey and other sports.

In his brief Goldberg argued baseball "is big business" and ought to be treated as such.

"The Sherman Act has long prohibited businessmen from entering into concerted agreements to eliminate competition among themselves in the procurement of commodities essential to their businesses.

And businessmen are plainly prohibited by the act from utilizing concerted refusals to deal, or group boycotts.

"There is little question but that organized baseball's reserve system falls squarely within these per se proscriptions."

Porter and Hoynes said Flood's complaint is fundamentally a labor-management dispute and any change should be worked out by the ballplayers' union and the club-owners.

"There is a blend of competition and partnership among the clubs in baseball which would be both unnecessary and improper in the normal business world."

A final decision by the justices is expected before the end of June.

Virginia Man Invents Device To Eliminate Car Pollutants

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Lewis M. D. Grainger's efforts to save his peach trees from frost have led to patents for a device designed to eliminate all harmful pollutants from the internal combustion engine.

Grainger, retired operator of an auto repair and rebuilding business, is no newcomer to the patent office. In 1935 he invented a steering yoke bearing that is still used today.

The new antipollution device, he said, can be adapted to vehicles now in use, can be mass produced at a cost of about $50 and would eliminate automobile pollutants 100 per cent.

Although no prototype has been constructed for the automobile, Grainger has used the system in oil burners that heat peach orchards around his home.

Smoke and pollutants from the heaters used to "fill the neighborhood" on cold spring days, he said, adding, "I could see I had to leave that type of heating. I knew I had to invent a clean type of oil burning system and I did it."

Grainger said he then adapted the device to the automobile engine. He said it allows the complete incineration of fuels used in the internal combustion engine so that no pollutants remain to be ejected into the atmosphere from them exhaust.

The device is self-contained, using only the automobile's fan and water pump.

Grainger said the device uses a fan system that pulls in additional air, which is drawn through a modified filter and is mixed with exhaust fumes.

The mixture of air and gasoline fumes is then fed into Grainger's "air injector combustion chamber" which uses heat of the engine, along with the air and fumes, to create a burning chamber where the revolving gases are subjected to temperatures around 2,500 degrees.

Movement of the mixture is slowed in the combustion chamber to allow total consumption of unused fuel and its pollutants.

Grainger said the system will last for the life of a car and will never need servicing. Copies of plans for the device have been furnished to the Environmental Protection Agency, to the largest U.S. and foreign car makers and to the offices of consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

Grainger now has patents pending on additional devices using the system that began with the peach tree heaters. Those patents are for devices that would make clean-burning jet engines and clean-burning home heating units. The system, he said, can also be applied to factory furnaces and burners.

U. S., Red Chinese Ambassadors Meet For Second Time

PARIS (AP) — The U.S. and Chinese ambassadors met today for the second time to study means of improving relations between their two countries.

Ambassador Huang Chen went to the U.S. Embassy to meet with Ambassador Arthur K. Watson. Their first meeting was last Monday at the Chinese Embassy.

Huang and Watson are discussing procedures to facilitate travel and trade between the United States and China, carrying out the agreement by President Nixon and Premier Chou En-lai in Peking last month to increase contacts between the Chinese and American peoples.

The meeting lasted a little more than an hour and a U.S. Embassy spokesman quoted Watson as saying: "We had a fine talk."

The American host showed Huang to the door, but neither spoke to waiting newsmen.

There was no indication whether the two would meet every Monday or when their next meeting would be held.

ACROSS TEXAS 38 Persons Lose Lives In Traffic And Violence

By Associated Press Pleasant weather lured Texans out of doors during the weekend and there was a noticeable increase in the number of fatal traffic accidents.

The toll from all violence mounted to 38 deaths, including 30 on streets and highways.

It was recorded on the heels of a report Saturday by the Texas Department of Public Safety that 564 persons have died in motor vehicles over the state since Jan. 1. The figure is nine greater than at this point last year.

One of the worst accidents was a head-on crash four miles east of Tyler on FM 2767 in which five Tyler residents perished Saturday night. They were James Mumphy, 23; Saundra Mumphy, 24; Gregory Mumphy, 3; Kenneth Mumphy, 1, and Willie Hammons, 54.

Officers reported a car they were pursuing at speeds topping 100 miles per hour rolled off U.S. 77 at a culvert just south of Waxahachie and three teen-agers in the vehicle were killed early Sunday. They listed the youths as Johnnie Edwards, 17, and Ira Lee Sargeant, 14, both of Waxahachie, and Lonnie Burleson, 17, of Fort Worth. City police said they had tried to stop the trio for questioning.

These were among other victims: Sammie Romero, 19, and Oscar Flores, 20, both members of a Lubbock dance band, were killed Sunday night when their van and a trailer loaded with musical instruments overturned one mile south of Hale Center on Interstate 27. Six others in the band were injured.

Charles C. Hart, 42, of Odessa was found beaten to death Sunday near a feed mill at Big Spring. He was last seen alive the day before. Police said a piece of pipe used to kill him lay near the body.

A one-car accident at Fredericksburg claimed the life Sunday of Pedro Salinas, 72, of Kerrville.

Raymond Brown, 24, of Bells was killed early Sunday when his car upset about 10 miles east of Sherman on U.S. 82.

A car backed over a 17-month-old girl and killed her Sunday on a church parking lot in Fort Worth. Officers identified her as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Marks of Fort Worth.

Jacqueline Hughes, 17, of Houston died Sunday of injuries suffered the day before when a car struck her as she was crossing a city street. Police held a man, 55.

Mrs. Hannah Robinson of Silsbee and Mrs. Bert Vanderberg of Haslam in Shelby County were killed Saturday night when a bottled gas tank exploded and burned the Vanderberg home. The blast also set off a fire in a service station next door.

Patrolman Bill Howry, assigned to the Texas Department of Public Safety office at Georgetown, was killed Saturday night when he was struck by a car near Interstate 35 in Georgetown. He was thrown 75 feet by the impact. The driver of the car was held.

James Holloway, 20, of McKinney, was killed in a one-car accident just east of West on a county road Saturday.

A head-on collision Saturday south of Whitney on FM 833 claimed the life of Lynn Monroe, 18, of Hillsboro.

Alice Ray Campbell, 37, of Georgetown, and Robert F. Poole, 22, of Longview died Saturday in a collision at the intersection of U.S. 79 and U.S. 81 in Round Rock.

Robert Wayne Johnson, 5, was fatally injured Saturday when he was struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle in Cleburne. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dale Johnson of Cleburne.

Sara Kay Metzger, 17, of Alpine was fatally injured Saturday when her bicycle was hit by a truck as she rode on an Alpine street. She died early Sunday.

Preston Jennings, 16, of New Boston was killed late Friday night when his car left a farm road in Bowie County and crashed into a tree.

Lynn Collins Drew, 48, an executive of a Fort Worth automobile dealership, was shot to death Friday night. A woman was taken into custody.

Dexter David, 5, died Saturday when fire swept his home in Nacogdoches. His father, Woodrow Dexter, and a brother, 6, suffered burns. His mother was treated for shock. Five other children escaped serious injury.

Mateo Soto, 47, of Houston was killed Saturday when the car he drove left the road and overturned on Texas 35 about 7 miles west of Palacios.

Jimmy Charles Whitus, 23, and his wife Barbara, 17, died Saturday when their car slammed into the rear of a stalled truck about three miles southeast of Alba, their hometown.

Juan de la Cruz, 20, of Houston was shot to death Saturday in what police called the climax to a family argument. He was hit twice in the chest. Officers took a man into custody.

L. T. Foster, 60, a switchman for the Texas & Pacific Railway at Big Spring, was killed Saturday when the caboose of a backing train struck him.

Elnia Marshall, 9, of Dallas was killed Saturday when she was struck by a car while riding a bicycle on a city street. Police arrested a man for investigation of speeding and driving while drunk.

Tracy D. Cary Heads Audition Center Here

Tracy D. Cary has been appointed new chairman of the National Guild of Piano Teacher's Pampa Audition Center. The announcement was made in Austin by Irl Allison, Jr., executive director of the Guild and son of the organization's founder, Dr. Irl Allison, Sr.

The Guild numbers in its membership over 77,000 teachers in the United States and annually conducts auditions for some 100,000 pianists in 675 audition centers throughout the country.

Cary, a long-time member of the National Guild and currently ending his third term as president of the Pampa Music Teacher's Association, was a member of the Ft. Worth Piano Teacher's Forum at the time that organization initiated (and today co-sponsors) the Van Cliburn International Piano Competition, whose $10,000 first prize is provided by the National Guild in addition to the $50,000 in other prizes awarded in the Guild Auditions.

The Competition, is named for Van Cliburn, famed pianist, known round the world as winner of the First Tchaikowsky Competition in Moscow in 1958 for which the city of New York threw a ticker tape parade, the only one ever accorded a pianist, and who will perform here in Pampa on May 9.

The Pampa Audition center includes teachers and students from McLean, Shamrock, Wheeler, Canadian, Panhandle, Lefors, White Deer, Miami, Perryton, and Pampa. The academic division, the American College of Musicians, is the examining board for adjudication of Teachers; and students whose performances meet the Guild requirements become members of the National Fraternity of Student Musicians. Other divisions of the auditions are the International Piano Recording Competition and the Annual Guild Composition Contest for which additional certificates, pins, and cash prizes are awarded.

The Pampa contests will be conducted in May.

POLLY'S PROBLEM
DEAR POLLY—Decoupage seems to be the new decorating trick and sometimes gilt, gold and silver are seen pasted on entire walls. I would like to know how this is done or if it might be gold or silver wallpaper.—MRS. C. H.

DEAR POLLY—After struggling to help my husband carry a mattress up the stairs I decided that one of my biggest Pet Peeves is that the mattress manufacturers do not put handles on the ends

Everyone blames me; Was it my fault?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am being blamed for causing a scene at my mother in law's funeral. Here is what happened:

Before I married Kenny, he went with a girl named Polly. Ken's mother was crazy about Polly, and even after Ken married me, Polly kept up her close friendship with Kenny's mother just to bug me.

Well, Polly came into the church just before the funeral services started, all dressed up like for mourning. She spots Ken, runs to him, bursts into tears, and starts hugging his neck.

I said, "Please find a man of your own to cry on," and I gave her a little shove. She shoved me back real hard and knocked my hat off.

Then I lost my temper and hit her a good one. She hit me back and grabbed my arm and started to twist it. Then Ken and a few others tried to separate us. The pastor came running over, and somebody knocked his glasses off.

Polly ran out of the church in hysterics expecting somebody to run after her. Nobody did, so she never came back.

Now everybody is blaming me. Was this my fault? If Polly hadn't started hugging Ken's neck this never would have happened. MY NAME IS MUD IN ARKANSAS

DEAR MUD: Since you landed the first blow, I would say it was indeed your fault.

DEAR ABBY: For "North and South," the couple whose friends are unpleasant to each other at the bridge table:

My husband and I have had similarly unpleasant experiences with couples who are very compatible UNTIL they become bridge partners. We solved that problem by pretending that WE were tired of playing together as partners. We suggested that the men challenge the women. Or the other man and I play against the other woman and my husband. It worked! "ANOTHER NORTH AND SOUTH"

DEAR ANOTHER: Your suggestion makes sense. My mail indicates that the No. 1 cause of friction between married couples is JEALOUSY. No. II: Money. No. III: Cards!

DEAR ABBY: My son, a freshman in college, has a habit of putting off today what he can do at the last minute. He would never think of refining an original first draft, but at the last minute he asks me to type up his papers because I am faster, more accurate, and can correct his spelling and grammatical errors.

I helped him during high school but I've refused to help him in college thinking he would plan ahead better. But he hasn't.

My husband says, "All the college kids hire someone to do their final typing anyway, and the professors don't care as long as the copy is legible" so I should type up our son's work. What do you say? HOLDING FIRM

DEAR HOLDING: There is a vast difference between "typing up work" and correcting spelling and grammatical errors. And don't let Hubby and Junior con you into capitulating.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FROM THE OLD SCHOOL": Welcome to the club. Very few of us who had "old world" parents were told "the facts of life" by our mothers. All my mother told me, God bless her, was never to put bananas in the refrigerator.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

TUESDAY, MARCH 21

Your birthday today: Today is the vernal equinox. This year the sun changes from Pisces to Aries at 7:21 a. m. E. S. T. In other years the hour is different because our orbit is not an exact number of days long. The equinox point drifts backward slowly thru the centuries, so that different starfields come to be the setting for it, Aquarian Age replacing Piscean Age. This drift is a tool for measuring change in social order. Today's natives, both Pisceans and Arians, will achieve more than usual. They all are pioneers in specialties.

Aries [March 21-April 20]: Take nothing for granted this complex day. Everybody has a different story, and parties to celebrate astrological new year have special interest.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Check heavy equipment carefully; if others use it, stay out of their way. Where you can partake in responsibility for difficult horse, do so.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Promises are plentiful, the larger the prestige the less explicit their terms. Believe in your own prowess and proceed in earnest.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: The less you expect from people with authority, the better off you are. Be self-reliant. Take what you can get.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Details get snarled in endless discussions. Your patience will be remembered dimly, but will produce the ultimate result you want.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Tact is your main tool for prying apart tangles of this stressed day. People change sides abruptly. Don't assume everybody is in the same place.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Impulse pops up all around, may bring friction, needless confusion. Tact is a requisite if you are to deal well with an unfair question or demand.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: The familiar seems under control; the unknown provides doubt. Rely on the quality of your achievements, state your case with courage.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Whatever discrepancies exist come readily to view, evaluation. You at least can deal with the m and get things straight.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Colleagues, mate, any competitor you enjoy are showing their best and worst at the moment. Avoid hurting the feelings of acquaintances as you go.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Don't expect anyone to be helpful; double check work yourself to make it error-free. It's a great day for an independent spirit.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Deal with cherished relationships gently. Rational explanations aren't enough—go to non-verbal demonstration of true feelings. Postpone new work projects.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

Toni is an animated "question box." But such a child usually has a high I.Q., so don't quench his thirst for knowledge. Instead, use the "Pause and Praise" strategy outlined below, plus the "reversible Why." Thus, you help raise a child's I.Q.

CASE T-532: Toni B., aged 5, is an animated "question box."

"Dr. Crane," his weary mother began, "Toni keeps pestering us with so many questions, we often grow irritated."

"Although we know we should encourage him to think, it finally becomes tiresome."

"Yesterday, for example, he met a neighbor woman on the sidewalk in front of our house."

"He had a squirt gun and told her he was going to shoot water all over her."

"She replied that if he did, she'd take him over her knee and paddle him."

"He thought this over for a moment, then asked her if ever took a bath."

"When she assented, he inquired why she objected to his squirting water on her, if she liked to take baths."

"Over the radio we recently heard a tornado warning, so Toni wanted to know if God causes tornadoes."

"And how should we handle his constant questions?"

????MEAN HIGH I.Q.

A child's questions usually indicate high intelligence, coupled with surplus energy.

A sick person, whether adult or child, thus doesn't talk much.

Nor does he show great interest in his surroundings.

So a child who constantly shoots questions at the adults in his environment should be encouraged, not rebuffed.

Just adopt my "Pause and Praise" strategy, coupled with the "Reversible Why."

they walked with christ

by DAVID POLING

THE MOTHER-IN-LAW

Jesus had not been well received in His home district of Nazareth. The community was divided over His teaching and many infuriated over His claims to be sent by God. Yet in neighboring Capernaum He found an eager audience and many of His future disciples would come from this congregation. One was Peter, called Simon, big in the fishing business, influential and well-known. He had been fascinated by Jesus, His authority and His persuasion. Following services one Sabbath he asked the Master to come to his home and help his mother-in-law. She was in the grip of a high fever and needed immediate attention. Jesus healed her and she responded by getting up and serving the whole family.

Two things happened here: A sick woman is made well and Simon is further persuaded that Jesus is more than a bright scholar from Nazareth. Additional revelations will affect Simon and his decision to follow Christ but a dramatic start has begun. Jesus used healing, not as a trick or feat, but to demonstrate the love and majesty of God. Nothing less would convince Simon Peter.

by DAVID POLING

HIS NAME WAS LEGION

Violent and uncontrolled people suffering from mental disorders were frequently chained in Biblical times. When they became too dangerous to their families, they were often banished from the community and lived among the graveyards and tombs. One such maniac was called Legion—no fetters or chains could hold him and he was driven out of town to range wildly through the tombs of the countryside called Gerasene.

Here he encountered Jesus, and called Him by name. Some trace of sanity and some higher level of coherence helped him to recognize the famous prophet and healer. When asked his name, he replied "Legion" because like the Roman army of that classification there were so many (6,000) evil spirits within his being. In a spectacular demonstration of spiritual power, Jesus called out the evil forces and sent them into a herd of swine that went crashing over the hillside and drowned in a lake. Most of the citizens faulted Jesus for the loss of livestock, almost angry that Legion was now clothed and in his right mind, visiting with Christ.

Supply Problems Curtail Expansion Of Interstate Gas Pipeline Network

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Supply problems have sharply curtailed the expansion of interstate natural gas pipelines.

Capital funds are being diverted from expansion to searches for new supply sources for natural gas and nonconventional substitute fuels.

Reports on such trends figure prominently in annual reports being mailed to stockholders of several of the major interstate pipeline companies.

"No expansion of pipeline sales capacity was undertaken in 1971 and none is contemplated for the next few years," Richard L. O'Shields, president, and William C. Keefe, board chairman of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., reported.

"Expansion of our natural gas transmission activities depends on governmental approval of realistic service rates," reported N. W.

Freeman, chairman and president of Tenneco Inc.

Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. reported 1971-72 heating season supply curtailments as averaging about 91 million cubic feet a day.

"We have increased our expenditures for exploration, both onshore and offshore, and results during the past year have been favorable," reported B. D. Goodrich, chairman, and George F. Kirby, president.

Texas Eastern, the only firm supplying customers on both the East and West Coasts, advised its stockholders that supply problems for the Eastern system are expected to continue the next several heating seasons and that it probably the level of curtailments will have to be increased.

Panhandle Eastern stockholders have been advised that many transmission companies have been forced to acquire emergency supplies of gas at higher than area prices to offset the normal decline in deliverability from established sources. They also were advised that the need to maintain supply has prompted the industry to move ahead with several supplemental projects, all embodying costs substantially higher than conventional sources.

O'Shields and Keefe said Panhandle Eastern's capital expenditures are being devoted almost exclusively to the development of gas supply for its systems that extend from the Texas Panhandle and Texas Gulf Coast areas to the Midwest.

Tenneco serves customers in 25 states through systems that extend from Texas to the Midwest and to New England. The Tenneco annual report said its 1971 expansion added only 10 net miles to its 15,300 miles of pipeline and provided no increase in contract deliveries to any customer.

Freeman said Tenneco is investigating nonconventional fuels such as imported liquefied natural gas, synthetic gas and gas from coal and is exploring for oil and gas in promising areas throughout the world.

Goodrich and Kirby said that in addition to its own explorations for new supply sources Texas Eastern is making advance payments to oil and gas producers.

"The best discovery rate in the contiguous United States has been in offshore Louisiana, and advances in this area were made to selected producers drilling unexplored tracts in the Western Louisiana offshore sector, where prospects are very promising and several significant gas discoveries have been made," they reported.

"All of the advance payments grant us options to purchase any new gas discovered and developed through use of these funds."

Japan has a housing shortage estimated at "several million."

Questions And Answers On Nixon Proposals Dealing With Busing

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are some questions and answers concerning President Nixon's proposals for a freeze on new court busing orders and enactment of a new nationwide desegregation policy.

Q. How can Congress stop the courts from issuing busing orders?

A. The Constitution gives Congress the power, with a few exceptions, to fix the jurisdiction of the federal courts. The administration, relying mostly on this provision, says it is satisfied its proposal is constitutional. Some constitutional experts disagree, however, and the Supreme Court is likely to have the final say.

Q. What would happen to districts already under busing orders during a court freeze on busing?

A. Nothing. The moratorium would only prevent new orders from being issued between the date of enactment of the freeze and July 1, 1973, or until an alternative desegregation program was adopted, whichever came first.

Q. Would adoption of the new policy affect districts already under busing orders?

A. It depends on what the policy provides in the way of remedies to overcome desegregation. If a school district was under a court order that required stricter remedies than the new policy called for, the district would be able to petition the court for a new order reducing its remedies to those the new law required. The administration says the great bulk of existing court orders would not be affected by the policy it is recommending.

Q. What about districts where busing plans are being drawn and orders are likely to be issued before Congress has had a chance to enact the moratorium?

A. The Justice Department plans to intervene in such cases and ask the courts to stay their orders, taking judicial notice of the President's request for the moratorium. Intervention is planned immediately in Richmond and Denver.

Q. Will the administration's proposal for a new policy apply equally to northern and southern schools?

A. It is being presented as a single, national policy that would apply equally in all regions of the country. By eliminating busing as a means of desegregating schools, however, it would appear to have little impact on large northern cities where no other method is feasible.

Q. If you can't bus to achieve desegregation, what are you supposed to do?

A. A priority list of remedies would be established, with the court required to use them in order. The first calls for assigning students to neighborhood schools and they get progressively more sweeping, leading up to the use of educational parks to promote integration. Busing, under extreme circumstances, could still be used on a temporary basis if it was clear nothing else would work.

Q. Would that result in much desegregation?

A. It seems unlikely the present pace would be continued. The administration feels that to the extent further desegregation requires ever-longer bus rides it is damaging to the educational experience. It prefers to see more effort put into improving the schools in areas where large minorities and poor people live.

Q. What is being proposed to improve the schools?

A. The administration plans to concentrate nearly $2.5 billion on basic instructional programs for low-income pupils. It will require that school districts spend as much on their poorest schools as on their wealthier ones.

Q. Is $2.5 billion enough for such a job?

A. Probably not. That much is already being spent or budgeted for similar purposes and Congress will undoubtedly increase the amount if it enacts the program.

Q. What are the chances for enactment?

A. The moratorium appears to have a good chance, given the strong anti-busing mood now sweeping Congress. Adoption of a new policy during this election year will be more difficult.

NEW YORK (AP) — A special hearing was set by the U. S. Immigration Service Thursday to determine whether former Beatle John Lennon and his wife, Yoko Ono, should be deported. The Lennons' visas expired Feb. 29 and have not been renewed. If the Lennons are ordered to leave the country, an immigration spokesman said, it would be without penalty and would not affect their right to return to the United States.

He described hearings on expired visas as "quite common."

OTTAWA (AP) — A government spokesman says Chinese Ambassador Yao Kuang has invited Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau to visit Peking. The spokesman said Wednesday the invitation was extended Monday when Kuang paid a courtesy call to Foreign Secretary Mitchell Sharp. No date was mentioned for Trudeau's visit.

MICKEY MANTLE, COACH

Superstar's Retirement

(First of Two Related Articles.)

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (NEA)—Yesterday, all 18 years of it, roared by much too fast for Mickey Mantle.

From 1951 through 1968, he had been a celebrated baseball player for the New York Yankees. When he retired, it seemed he had lost his sense of direction: first base was removed from his life, and the foul line looked barren and limitless.

Mantle had tried some a "special spring training instructor" with the Yankees here. He doesn't seem much interested in working with young hitters, and is quick to take off for fishing or golf. His job in training camp consists mostly of hitting infield grounders, of being—tangible evidence for the "old glory days"—which is good for club morale and Florida public relations, and of experiencing again the comfortable, unforgettable joy of lacing on a pair of spikes.

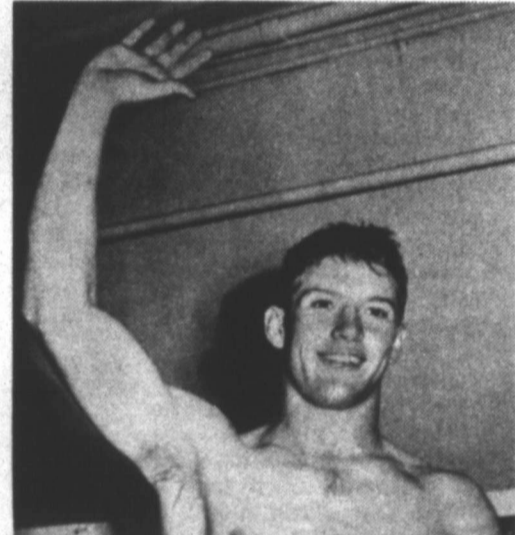

Mantle was sitting one morning recently on a stool before his locker, buttoning pinkie rings who convinced the young country tow-head to sign on the dotted line fast before all those millions in deals would evaporate. What evaporated were great chunks of his salary over the years.

Perhaps bad business deals hardened Mantle. Whatever, Mantle often was cold if not outright surly. Many sports reporters have experienced Mantle walking abruptly away from them in mid-question. And former teammate Jim Bouton wrote of Mantle slamming down bus windows almost on the hands of kids seeking his business ventures, as he had in earlier days. The results were similar. A men's clothing chain bearing his name flopped. A drive-in restaurant chain bearing his name flopped. An employment agency he formed with Joe Namath flopped.

MICKEY MANTLE, the former superstar center fielder of the New York Yankees, returned to uniform this spring as a special hitting instructor at the Yankees' training camp, where he spent most of his time swatting fungoes. Mantle's playing career spanned 18 seasons, which included many such moments as the celebration of the Yanks' 1952 World Series win, below left, when the 20-year-old Mantle drove in two runs in the deciding game, and the game-winning home run he hit off Barney Schultz in the 1964 Series against St. Louis, below right.

Mantle even tried coaching first base for the Yankees in August, 1970. He stayed a few weeks before he became bored and returned home to Dallas.

This is his fourth year as the gray Yankee uniform top. One notices that middle-age has been carving lines into Mantle's boyish looks. He was asked what he will do after spring training.

"Go home and have a gall bladder removed," he said. And after that? "I dunno. Rest, play golf. Make some public appearances." He said he would like to manage, but has had no offers. He had hoped to catch on with the Texas Rangers, his new neighbors. "But nobody there asked if I wanted a job," he said evenly.

He still speaks with the twang he brought from Oklahoma to New York City in 1951, along with a $3.95 cardboard suitcase, wide blue eyes and an enormous baseball talent.

"Playing baseball is all I've ever known," said Mantle. "It makes me kind of bitter that it's all over. You look around and see other guys my age, other guys 40 years old, who are just starting to reach their peak in other jobs. And I'm finished."

Mantle thought for a moment, picked at a fingernail. "I wouldn't trade my baseball career. But I'll tell ya, I'd give anything right now to be a lawyer or something."

There is a rumor going around and Mantle has heard it. "Everybody thinks I'm broke or something," he said. "But hell, I paid more income tax last year than ever. I got a $125,000 house all paid for. I got a cabin on the lake. I own part of a cabin-building business. I get $1,500 and up for public appearances. And a lotta other stuff. I'm all right. I got enough."

Looking back now, past the home runs and the three Most Valuable Player trophies and the stirring cheers ("like the roar of some animal," he says), he remembers the quick-talking "agents" with the actual

Japan Sets Series

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The U.S. Baseball Federation has agreed with the Japanese Amateur Baseball Association to play a Collegiate World Series this July and in 1973 between Japan and the United States.

The first series will be held in Japan starting July 8, and the second series will be in America in 1973, each on a best-of-7 basis.

Jacklin Enjoys Golf Win

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—"I had a lot of things to prove to a lot of people—including Tony Jacklin."

Jacklin was discussing his playoff victory over Johnny Jacobs Sunday for the $25,000 first prize in the Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

"There was a lot on my shoulders," the handsome young Englishman said.

"Even though you've won two major championships, people forget in a hurry."

"So this one is extra nice. I'm very, very happy—very gratified."

Jacklin, winner of the 1969 British and the 1970 United States Open Championships, and suffered through a poor 1971 season before climaxing his comeback with a decision over Jacobs on the first extra hole at the Hidden Hills Country Club course.

Tony scored a par four while Jacobs, a former combat infantryman in Vietnam, made a bogey after pushing his drive deep into the woods and sitting a treetop with his second shot.

"I just choked," said Jacobs, who won only $181 last year before getting hit with a six month suspension that has just been lifted. He ran a foul of a Tournament Players Division regulation concerning financial responsibility.

Jacklin, who placed 102nd in the money list last year after winning $19,977 caught the front-running Jacobs with a birdie on the long par five 7th hole.

Football Changing Its Rules

HONOLULU (AP)—The National Football League's Competition Committee, having concluded deliberations on the island of Maui, was ready today to set before the assembled NFL owners suggestions for rules changes that might significantly alter the nature of the game.

The Competition Committee has been examining the balance between offense and defense—a balance that appears to have been tilted in favor of defensive forces—with an eye toward suggesting possible remedies for the situation.

It is a critical decision for the NFL ownership, which has witnessed during the last two years a dropoff in scoring of more than 100 touchdowns—a fact that some believe threatens the popularity of the sport.

Besides possible proposals aimed at aiding offenses, the owners also are likely to have placed before them two proposals on sudden death—one aimed at changing its nature and the other aimed at making it mandatory for all tie games.

Also on the agenda is selection of a site for Super Bowl VII next January, the ticklish subject of the Chicago All-Star game, several proposals to amend the constitution and various committee reports.

The rules, however, are the major item on the agenda—for there appears to be considerable concern about the nose-dive in scoring attributed to constantly improving defenses.

In the weeks prior to their private sessions, the Competition Committee composed of Paul Brown of Cincinnati, Tex Schramm of Dallas, Jim Finks of Minnesota and Al Davis of Oakland, tangled with a host of suggestions put forward for their consideration.

Among them were proposals for increasing the value of the touchdown, cutting down on field goals as a means of forcing teams to continue drives, pinning defensive linemen down rather than permitting continued movement, and a suggestion that the field be widened.

While all were of a technical nature, the purpose was singular—more scoring.

Harvie Teams Set For Action

The Pampa Harvesters will battle in two sports tomorrow. The baseball squad will be in Liberal, Kan., at 1 p.m. to challenge their club and the volleyball team will challenge Caprock in action here.

According to head diamond coach Deck Woldt, district competition is just around the corner for the baseball squad.

After the Liberal match-up tomorrow, the Harvesters will challenge Altus, Okla., in a triple header Friday and Saturday. Then on the next Tuesday Liberal will visit Pampa. District will then open on Friday against the Caprock Longhorns.

Liberal will more than have its hands full tomorrow with the seven-straight game winning Harvesters.

Pampa stands 7-2 in non-conference competition. The only losses came in the San Angelo Invitational at the beginning of the season.

Last Saturday coach Woldt scouted the Borger vs Altus, Okla., game and reported both teams to be strong as they split a double header.

Borger took the first game 11-5 and Altus slipped one run past the Bulldogs for the second game, 11-10.

The Harvesters will face both teams; Altus in non-district play and the hard hitting Bulldogs later in district.

The volleyball squad is starting the second round of district competition with a one loss record. District is tied up at this point for the first place category between Pampa, Caprock and Tascosa.

Caprock was the first team that the fem Harvies played in district and they were also the first team to hand them a defeat.

Caprock started practicing for 3-AAAA competition in November, as did most of the other Amarillo schools. Pampa had a slow start as workouts for them didn't start until the middle of January.

Last Thursday the fem volleyers brought defeat to Amarillo High at Amarillo by a two game margin of 15-10 and 15-7.

The Pampa B squad, which is undefeated, beat the Sandie B by a two-game spread of 18-16 and 15-8. Usually the volleyball matches are made up of best two out of three games, but since the Harvies took Amarillo High in both divisions the three games were not necessary.

The Harvester volleyball team has shocked the whole district with their young, inexperienced team by holding district within their first place reach.

NBA Roundup

By Associated Press

Routed? Whipped? Stomped? Thumped?

How do you describe the worst defeat in National Basketball Association history? That's what the Golden State Warriors are asking.

The Los Angeles Lakers had everything going Sunday night and routed (whipped, stomped, thumped) the Warriors 162-99. The Lakers had seven players in double figures to break the 62-point difference total set in 1960 by the old Syracuse Nationals against the New York Knicks.

"Just a perfect game," Lakers' Coach Bill Sharman said. "It's what we've been looking for all year—quick movement, great shooting, solid defense."

Nate Archibald scored 45 points in Cincinnati's 135-105 victory over Buffalo. The 6-foot guard from Texas-El Paso is the third highest scorer in the league, and previously had games this season of 46 points and twice 35 points.

The Royals had a nine-point advantage going into the fourth quarter but erupted for 47 points for their largest score of the season.

In other NBA games, Chicago beat Detroit 115-107. Philadelphia topped Seattle 115-100. Atlanta downed Cleveland 115-105. Baltimore defeated Boston 125-112.

Bob Love hit 33 points and Chet Walker 27 for Chicago, which needed a rally in the final 2 1/2 minutes to beat Detroit in a game tied 18 times.

Bill Bridges of Philadelphia controlled the backboard with a career-high 32 rebounds against Seattle. He scored 18 points and teammates Billy Cunningham and Hal Green hit 25 and 25, respectively. Lee Winfield scored 26 points for the Sonics.

Atlanta's victory assured the club of at least a tie for second place in the Central Division.

Mike Riordan scored 30 points for Baltimore while starting for regular Jack Martin.

Cards To Meet UCLA

By Associated Press

Denny Crum left an assistant's post at UCLA last year to become head basketball coach at Louisville. He returns to Los Angeles Thursday ... in style.

Crum's Cardinals, winners of the NCAA Midwest Regional, will play the Bruins, winners of the Far West, in an NCAA Tournament semifinal. Crum will be coaching against his boss of three years, John Wooden.

When Crum left UCLA, Wooden said, "I consider Denny a top head coaching prospect," but the Bruins' mentor said last week, "He's coaching Louisville and I'm coaching UCLA. We don't play Coach Crum, we play Louisville."

In the regional championship games Saturday, Louisville defeated Kansas State 72-65 in the Midwest, UCLA topped Long Beach State 73-57 in the West, North Carolina routed Penn in the East 73-59, and Florida State downed Kentucky 73-55 in the Mideast.

Florida State plays North Carolina in the other national semifinal at Los Angeles Thursday.

"I can't wait to get back to Los Angeles for the Nationals," Crum said after his team's victory.

Still, the Louisville coach, who helped UCLA to three of its five straight national titles with his recruiting prowess, isn't kidding himself about playing the Bruins.

safe boating for young skippers

11. Sail over Power

Boats under sail or propelled by oars are more difficult to maneuver than are powerboats. For this reason, they have the right of way over powerboats in most cases. If a motor boat is in difficulty, it has the right of way. In narrow or crowded channels, vessels over 65 feet long have right of way over small craft. If you do not have right of way, then you must keep out of the way. It is best to pass astern of the boat with the right of way.

SAIL HAS RIGHT-OF-WAY OVER POWER BOAT.

Dallas All Set To Be Feared

DALLAS (AP)—Conditioning has turned the Dallas Chaparrals from the laugh of the American Basketball Association into a team to be feared.

Coach Tom Nissalke's idea of family fun is to take his wife and their boys on a mile and half jog four days a week. He brought his ideas on conditioning from the Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association where he was an assistant coach the past two seasons.

The Bucks were one of the first pro basketball teams to set up a physical fitness testing program. And Nissalke himself graded among the top five of the players on such items as flexibility, strength, stamina and reactions.

Nissalke says he has played U. S. badminton singles champion Jim Poole "more than 400 times and never beaten him."

The Chaparrals entered the season with only guards Donnie Freeman and Steve Jones as name players. They had the worst defense in the league last year.

But since early January Dallas has turned it around and made the playoffs.

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP)—Tom Healon, the head trainer at Indiana University the last four years, has been named trainer of the New England Patriots.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Withdraw Confidence

We have arrived at the time when political office holders seem to believe they have a "rightful authority," because they have the legal power, to transport small children to points distant from their parents and so expose them to the hazards, harassments, fatigue and time-waste of busing.

The question is, what can parents do about it? The cry of the moment, of course, will be to vote them out of office. But we wonder whether that will be accomplished.

Many senators who voted in favor of busing, have a proved knack for getting elected. And it is a fact that the voters seldom carry a grudge for more than three weeks.

If the past is any indicator of the future, the busing controversy will run out of steam; nimble politics will have substituted other disputes to divert the people's minds away from their children's fate.

It has been often repeated, that people can vote themselves into slavery, but cannot vote themselves out. That seems to be precisely the case in the busing matter. However, because we cannot vote our way out of the politicians' grasp does not mean we are devoid of remedy. There are other ways, slow but effective.

Politicians get power because people put confidence in them. When people withdraw that confidence, the politicians are able to retain power for a time, but ultimately they must yield to the reality that they can do little without public confidence.

The only hopeful suggestion that we can make to those who resent the long arm of the Potomac dabbling in their neighborhood affairs is to cease putting confidence in politicians. If such a withdrawal of confidence were rigorously extended, parents would find that local and state politicians are no more reliable than those at farther distance. It will be found, in short, that federal politicians were able to coerce the children onto a bus because state politicians first compelled them into a classroom.

Thus one form of compulsion becomes a starstep for something more dreadful. Because parents put confidence in compulsory schooling, they reap compulsory busing. The sequence is as logical as the sowing of seed and the sprouting of plant life. The remedy is clear. Withdraw the confidence. Withdraw it all the way. The tyranny then must end.

Which Way Progress?

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics produces more than twice the sugar (11 million tons annually) than the U.S. does, but the Soviet worker must toil 45 minutes to earn a pound of it. The American worker must spend only three minutes to do the same.

A Soviet worker works four minutes to get a pound of potatoes. An American works two minutes.

The two countries produce the same tonnage of cotton approximately, yet it takes 11.4 hours of work in the Soviet to buy a man's cotton shirt as contrasted with 1.7 hours in the U.S.

The figures were compiled by the National Federation of Independent Business. The organization prepared a comparison chart. You can obtain a copy without charge by writing Dept. N.H., National Federation of Independent Business, 150 W. 20th Ave., San Mateo, Calif. 94403.

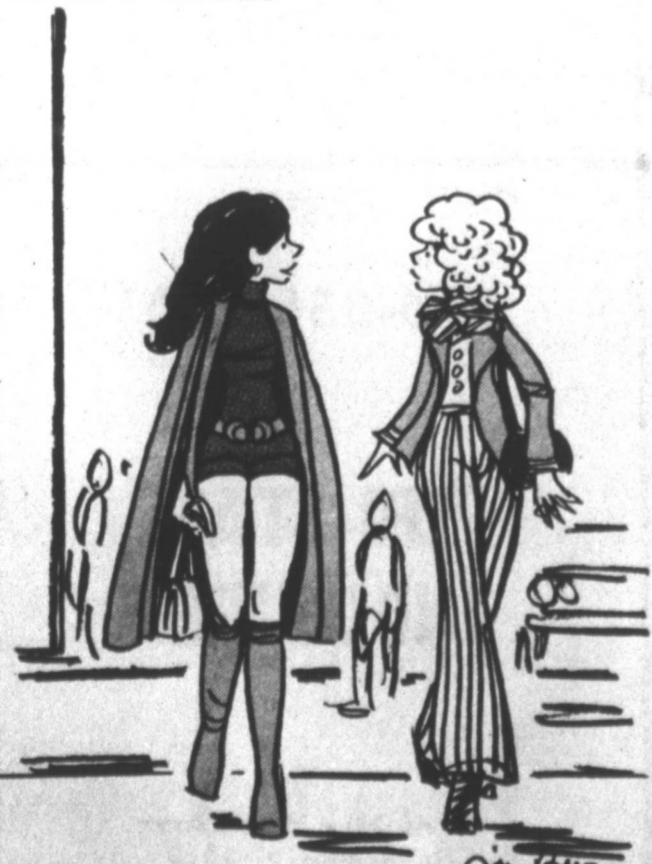

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Dust control measures were initiated during World War II for operational and health reasons. The World Almanac notes that reduction of dust was credited with quadrupling the life of airplane motors and helped prevent accidents caused by locked brakes and delicate instrument malfunctions.

Paul Harvey News Are The TV Newsmen Trying To 'Get' Nixon?

By PAUL HARVEY

Are the news writers or the big TV networks expected by their unions to "defeat Nixon?"

If the union to which many belong has its way.

Well, as a member of one of those unions, may I clarify that we are not all meanies.

The arrogant effrontery of Big Labor was never more flagrantly flaunted than when the leadership of the AFL-CIO announced that it's out to get Nixon, no matter who runs against him.

H.L. Hunt Writes

Richard Wilson, the distinguished Washington columnist who accompanied the U.S. diplomatic press crowd to China, has described dramatically in his syndicated column the use of acupuncture in surgery in a hospital affiliate of Peking Medical College.

Mr. Wilson, an astute observer, watched as a doctor administered acupuncture to a 28-year-old employee of Peking Airport and then surgeons removed the right lobe of the man's lung. The patient sipped tea and ate a tangerine during the surgery.

Dr. William Likash of the White House Medical Staff watched similar operations done as doctors used acupuncture—the injection of needles into the body—as an anesthesia. The needles are surgically clean and are not used for hyprodermic injection.

Dr. Likash told Mr. Wilson: "I am a believer." Mr. Wilson wrote in his column, "So am I a believer."

The devil must be given his dues. Based on the witness of the press and others, it can be said in fairness that the Chinese have something going and we ought to look into it. For all too long medical research in this country has been curtailed by government regulations and by the smug attitude of the medical profession itself.

Chinese doctors have told their newly-acquired American friends that they do now know why acupuncture works. But it is high time that physicians worldwide look into their technique of relieving pain and eliminating the dangers of anesthesia through the use of acupuncture.

Question Box

QUESTION: Mike Mansfield, majority leader in the U.S. Senate, recently said that if some senators were in private industry they would be fired "for absenteeism and for not producing." Why can't we fire our senators and representatives when they fail to do their jobs?

ANSWER: The only way we know for persons to fire members of Congress is in the election booth. And that appears to be rather futile.

Mr. Mansfield is speaking of the large number of senators who were absent during the debate over a proposal to stiffen the federal "equal employment law." A number of senators were engaged in campaigning in the presidential primaries now under way. Others were absent while on jaunts around the world.

Apparently people do not consider presence in Washington important or they would not have elected these men.

It does seem that when members of Congress are paid $42,500 a year, plus expenses, they should be present to do the jobs for which they are elected. However, some people believe that the American tax payer would be better off to pay the members of Congress to stay away from Washington so they cannot vote any more taxes or any more restrictive legislation.

We fear, however, that the executive and judicial branches of government would find ways of "legislating" to spend money just as they found ways to make rules and edicts in other matters.

There's hardly a satisfactory way to discipline representatives in the House and Senate, short of a tax revolt. And most Americans are not sufficiently angry to take such a drastic step, because it would mean a great personal sacrifice.

Help enlighten us, as well as yourself and others by sending THE NEWS short questions of not more than 40 words, signed or unsigned, on economic and government functions that will harm no one and benefit everyone.

Quick Quiz

Q—Which U.S. president was elected by one electoral vote?
A—Rutherford B. Hayes, Republican, in 1876. He had 185 electoral votes to 184 for Samuel J. Tilden, Democrat.

Q—How far do the northern fur seals migrate?
A—Every year these seals travel about 5,000 miles—farther than any other mammal.

Q—Which is the only Republican presidential and vice-presidential team to have been elected twice?
A—Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard Nixon.

Q—In forestry, what is a "pure stand"?
A—A forest in which at least 80 per cent of the trees are the same kind.

STRAIGHT TALK

TOM ANDERSON

Huge Treason Trade In Offing

Is treason obsolete? The Nixon Administration is quietly laying the groundwork for a vast expansion of trade between the United States and the Soviet Union. Led by Deputy Minister of Foreign Trade Aleksei N. Manzhulo, a top group of Soviet economic officials crisscrossed the United States in January, meeting with Commerce Department aides and executives from more than twenty major U.S. corporations.

This trip—largely ignored by the press—followed by a month the visit of Soviet Agriculture Minister Vladimir V. Matskevitch and preceded by only two weeks a delegation from the Soviet Merchant Marine Ministry. A top aide of Leonid I. Brezhnev, George S. Pavlov, has also been on an unpublished mission to study American data processing. Also Soviet Foreign Trade Minister Nikolai S. Patolichev is scheduled to come later this year.

The U.S. last year exported $140 million worth of goods to the USSR, largely chemicals, machinery and raw materials. We imported less than $60 million of precious metals and furs. Now the Soviets are talking about selling to the U.S. annually $800 million to $1 billion worth of natural gas.

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Harold Scott, according to "Forbes" magazine, said this about Soviet intentions: "They were very specific. They identified products that the Soviets would like to buy and projects in which they are interested in joint ventures with Americans. They unveiled plans for another truck plant in addition to the Kama River one, and said they would like American companies to take a leading role in it. They want chemicals and petrochemicals."

They told us of another gas field in Siberia that could serve our West Coast. They brought up the Udokan copper project again. They talked petroleum, too. They are interested in offshore exploration off the Kurile Islands.

At two dinners in Washington hosted by Scott, according to "Human Events," the Russians met with top executives from such companies as General Motors, Cummins Engine, International Nickel, Engelhard Minerals & Chemicals, Borg-Warner, American Express, Cargill and International Telephone.

At a luncheon at the First National City Bank in New York, they met executives of Dow Chemical, Alcoa, Combustion Engineering and General Electric. At a dinner in Houston, the Soviets talked natural gas with Tenneco, Texas Eastern and El Paso Natural Gas.

"At the moment," reports "Forbes," "the White House is playing it coy. An indication of the White House's attitude could come in the spring. There is a bill resting in the Senate Finance Committee that would enable the U.S. to grant most-favored-nation status to any country that as a non-market economy—for which read the Soviet Union and its satellites or, for that matter, China. The bill could move out of committee and toward passage if the White House decided to get solidly behind it."

On to the "Summit!" And surrender.

Treason doth never prosper.

What's the reason?

For if it prosper, None dare call it treason.

We Planned It That Way?

Nixon claims next year's deficit will be $25.5 billion, but he knows it will be well above that. (At least $40 billion.)

The Administration will pump whatever money is necessary into the economy between now and election. And after that, the crash? And with the crash, the revolution? All according to plan?

Since Woodrow (One-World) Wilson became President, our national debt has risen from $1 billion to $435 billion. When President Hoover left office the debt was less than the interest on the debt is now.

Federal spending has doubled in seven years. That alone is reason enough to impeach all who are responsible, from Nixon on up. The federal deficit for the fiscal year ending in June is estimated at $38.8 billion, the largest ever except during World War II, to make the world safe for Communism.

An official of the Colorado Game, Fish and Parks Department blames a drop in the fur market for a big increase in the skunk population of western Colorado. He said skunk pelts sold for $3.50 or $4 a few years ago, but now bring only $1.

As a matter of fact, I have noticed a tremendous increase in skunks, nationally.

And I Quote

Do not spill thy soul in running hither and yon, grieving over the mistakes and the vices of others. The one person whom it is most necessary to reform is yourself.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson Philosopher

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Winter began on Dec. 22, 1971, at 7:24 a.m., EST, and ends on March 20, 1972, at 7:22 a.m. The World Almanac notes that Jean Meeus, a Belgian astronomer, points out that this is 89 days, 23 hours, 58 minutes or four minutes shorter than last winter. He attributes this variation to changes in the orbit of the earth caused by the presence of other celestial bodies.

Rules of the Game:

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper - also at the public library - also a Bingo card and/or copies of The Pampa Daily News containing the Bingo numbers may be obtained by mailing your request to this newspaper (please print your name and address clearly.). You may play as many cards as you wish - they are free. Get additional cards - one at a time - each day of the week - from the merchants listed below (ADULTS ONLY).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS on a card must be matched to win.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn strictly at random at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads - or elsewhere in the paper. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will appear someplace in the sponsoring merchants' ads - and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and members of their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes. Newspaper Bingo is a program copy-righted and registered by Marketing-Research Associates, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

THIS WEEK'S NUMBERS STARTED

Pampa Daily News

Completely Blackout Your Entire Red
Newspaper Bingo
Cards

Here's How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please), pick up your Free Bingo Cards from the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. You may, however, make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY-THE BETTER YOUR CHANCES ARE TO WIN.

HOW TO PLAY: Check the ads in EACH DAY'S issue of The Pampa Daily News. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally, numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol may be found elsewhere in the paper. Check the classified ad section for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS WITH THE TOTAL OF THE NUMBERS PUBLISHED IN ALL THE ISSUES OF The Pampa Daily News EACH WEEK-YOU HAVE A "BINGO"-AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!!

AT LEAST $50.00 WEEKLY! Winners will share a weekly prizes of $50.00 (in "Bingo Bucks"- they spend the same as cash with any of the sponsoring merchants listed below). If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50.00. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50.00 equally. If there are no winners any week, the $50.00 weekly prize will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE PAPER: A new game will start each Sunday and be completed the following Friday. Be sure to check each day's issue of The Pampa Daily News because some of the numbers may appear in each day's issue. All numbers needed to complete each week's game will have appeared by each Friday's issue. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published for each week's game. A new color of Bingo cards will be available each week at the sponsoring merchants' stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced each week on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, on which ALL 24 NUMBERS have been matched with the total of the numbers published during the week in The Pampa Daily News print your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card, on the back of your card and mail to: The Pampa Daily News, P. O. Box 2198 PAMPA, Texas 79065 (the envelope containing your card must be received by 5:00 PM Monday of the following week)-or bring your card to the office of this newspaper at 403 W. Atchison Pampa Texas by 5:00 PM Monday of the following week.
