President Okay After Operation

Johnson Suffers Only A 'Mild Discomfort'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson underwent two hours and 15 minutes of major surgery today for removal of his gall bladder and a kidney stone. He came through the operation in good shape.

Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers reported that the Chief Executive experienced "mild discomfort," however, as he came out of the anesthetic about 8 a.m. CST, 45 minutes after the operation was completed.

Moyers told reporters at a 10:15 a.m. briefing at Bethesda Naval Hospital that Johnson was able to carry on a conversation by 9 a.m. The operation started at 5 a.m. and was over at 7:15 a.m.

After the surgery was complete, Johnson remained in the recovery room until about noon when he returned to his third floor suite.

A medical team headed by Dr. George A. Hallenbeck of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., removed the President's gall bladder which contained one stone and a kidney stone from the right ureter, the tube connecting his right kidney with the bladder.

Moyers earlier had described the operation as "a complete success." He quoted Dr. James Cain, Johnson's family physician, as saying "everything went... beautifully as expected."

Mrs. Johnson and Luci were at the hospital when the operation was performed. They were informed of the outcome immediately upon the conclusion of the surgery.

Moyers said the surgical procedures were routine. The 57-year-old Johnson, who suffered a heart attack in 1955, displayed no cardiac irregularity today.

There had been no advance word that the President was suffering from a kidney stone. He has a record of kidney stones, however, and the surgeons had stated they would explore other nearby organs.

Doctors said earlier it was possible the President might be able to get out of bed briefly late this afternoon and certainly by Saturday.

The President underwent treatment for removal of a kidney stone by manipulation in Washington (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz said today that although the nation's employment picture is the best in eight years, there is still room for improvement.

Wirtz, in an interview, said the reduction in unemployment below the 3 million mark for the first time since 1957 was "better but we're still short of the mark."

The Labor Department announced Thursday that unemployment fell by 283,000 in September to 2,875,000. This was the lowest monthly total since October, 1957.

The seasonally adjusted jobless rate—the most important single employment figure—edged down from 4.5 to 4.4 percent. Both the total and the rate were the lowest in eight years.

The targets in North Vietnam were in the vicinity of historic Dien Bien Phu in the northwest and Vinh on the coast, the U.S. spokesman said.

In raids Thursday and early today, more than 300 tons of bombs were dropped over the Communist North. The planes—F105 Thunderchiefs, B57 Canberras and F105 Starfighters—also strafed target areas with rockets and machinegun fire.

FIVE PER CENT WAGE HIKE ASKED

Union Threatens Strike At Cabot

A threatened strike of the Cabot Corp. hinged today on the outcome of continuing negotiations between the Oil, Atomic and Chemical Workers Union local of Pampa and Cabot officials.

The union, according to local spokesmen, already has notified Cabot a strike will be called unless a settlement in the new contract is reached.

The present contract is due to terminate in November. The union is asking for a five per cent wage increase and changes affecting vacation time.

Union spokesmen said Cabot has not agreed to the new contract proposals, but both the union and Cabot felt that a compromise would be reached before a strike is called.

Cabot offered the union a compromise which was presented to the OCAW membership last night. Spokesmen said the new compromise was not immediately accepted by the membership and more bargaining would be necessary before a settlement could be reached.

Some 180 workers for Cabot are members of the local OCAW. However, if the company is hit by a strike it would probably affect non-union workers also.

Cabot officials estimated that there are about 200 workers at both Cabot plants.

E. L. Green, Jr., Cabot general manager and D. W. Bond, company agent who has been negotiating with the union, both were out of the city and unavailable for statements today.

In other strike news concerning Texas:

Many locals of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers (OCAW) union negotiated into the early hours of today with Gulf Coast oil company officials, despite word of a nationwide settlement.

Other locals, including workers at Phillips Petroleum Co. installations in the Panhandle, reached settlements with oil companies after union headquarters at Denver said it had agreed to a general wage increase of 4.5 per cent provided no contract would be extended to a date later than Dec. 31, 1966.

One of the first Gulf Coast locals to reach agreement was in Port Arthur. Officials said an agreement with the Gulf and Texas Co., was reached about 10:30 p.m.

Gulf Oil Corp. began a shut down Thursday night of some of its refining units and refineries in Port Arthur and Cincinnati and Toledo, Ohio, the only Gulf operations organized by the OCAW. Texaco had about a dozen plants on the Gulf Coast, including those at Port Arthur.

Among groups still meeting were those at Shell Oil Co., which has 1,500 OCAW workers in the Houston area. Shell operations continued.

"We have heard about the Denver announcement," a spokesman at the Shell meeting said. "But our information is not complete. We are still meeting."

Negro Pupils Try To Board Buses Again

CRAWFORDVILLE, Fa. (UPI) — Negro pupils made three unsuccessful attempts today to board buses used to transport white children to schools in adjacent counties.

A force of 80 state troopers, double the usual complement of police, stymied the attempts by pulling some of the Negro youngsters off the road when they lay down and by grabbing others when they charged the line of officers.

It was the 11th consecutive day of racial demonstrations in Crawfordville.

Today's demonstrations took place just as the state troopers were changing shifts and the 40 policemen going off duty teamed up with 40 others replacing them to thwart the bus-boarding attempts.

There were no arrests and no violence. An escort of eight patrol cars moved through town and accompanied the buses out of Crawfordville to nearby Greene and Warren counties.

Taliaferro (Crawfordville) County closed its only white school in an effort to prevent integration. Most of the Negro pupils have boycotted their own segregated high school.

A federal tribunal is scheduled to begin a hearing Tuesday to decide whether the county should be ordered to reopen the white high school, or if Negro pupils also may be transported to predominantly white schools in adjacent counties.

Meanwhile, the head of the powerful National Education Association (NEA) reported he may call on his organization if necessary to help fight alleged discrimination in this racially tense town.

R. D. Batchelder, president of the NEA, said he would call on his group to help if Negroes are deprived of constitutional rights in the court suit Tuesday.

Soviet Moon Rocket Fails in Soft Landing

MOSCOW (UPI) — The official news agency Tass said today the Luna 7 moon probe had crashed into the moon instead of making a soft landing.

The Tass announcement issued more than 14 hours after the crash landing on the moon (4:08 p.m. CST Thursday) claimed that "considerable practical material for further work was accumulated in the course of the station's flight."

The Russians said that Luna 7, a ton and a half vehicle launched on Monday, had reached the moon's surface at 1:08:24 a.m. Moscow time in the area of the Ocean of Storms west of the Kepler Crater.

There was no explanation for the long delay in making an announcement of the fate of Luna 7.

The Luna 7 failure dashed Soviet hopes of leaping ahead of the United States in the race to put a man on the moon and grab back some of the headlines that have gone recently to U.S. space achievements.

But Western experts here said the difficulty and complexity of a soft landing made it a 100 to 1 shot that Luna 7 would touch down gently.

Although it was widely assumed that Luna 7 was attempting a gentle landing, the Russians gave no hint of this until today's announcement of failure.

The Tass disclosure confirmed a report from the Jodrell Bank radio telescope in England that Luna 7 had crashed.

The Tass announcement contained only nine lines and provided no details of just what part of the complex mechanism for a soft landing had gone wrong.

However, it was widely believed the failure was linked to the crucial retro-rocket fire which must gently the space station to a landing without damage to the instrument pack.

DOWNTOWN IMPROVEMENT — Workmen are busy here on the new sidewalk and curb being put in on the west side of Cuyler between Kingsmill and Foster. The new curb will allow cars to pull up to it without hitting the bumper. The east side had the same improvement last year. The north side of Foster is also having the work done on it and plans are laid to go down the south side of Kingsmill. Most of the work with big machinery is done during the night so that business with the stores will not be hampered.

Monks, Nuns May Start Wearing Modern Clothes

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Ecumenical Council voted overwhelmingly today to encourage monks and nuns to exchange their encumbering religious habits for more modern dress.

Some of the habits now worn date back to Medieval days. The vote was one of a set of six proposals to bring the religious orders into step with the 20th Century. They included reforms to get monks and nuns out of monasteries and cloisters into the streets where church prelates feel they can accomplish more good.

The reforms affect the lives of about two million priests, nuns and monks, including 200,000 in the United States.

The ballots wound up section-by-section voting on a council decree aimed at renewing religious life. A final overall vote was set for Monday which will clear the decree for promulgation at the end of the month.

The 2,000 Council bishops acted on a document toward a "renewal of religious life." Although the document is short, its impact will be great.

In the United States, for instance, it will directly affect 22,000 priests and more than 12,000 religious brothers. It also will open new vistas in the lives and works of 180,000 American nuns.

The council delegates are approving reforms calling for an end to obsolete practices. One representative said nuns no longer should be treated as "little girls who have to have a companion holding them by the hand every time they leave the house."

Religious habits will be modified "in keeping toward the times," both for priests and nuns. Some women's orders already have adopted the new style of dress—in one instance designed by the House of Dior—but this marks the first time Franciscans, Dominicans and other orders of monks are being changed.

Two-thirds of the propositions modernizing religious orders were passed by the council by overwhelming margins in voting Wednesday and Thursday. With more than 2,000 ballots cast on each vote, the negative ballots never rose above 22.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police Sgt. William Hofaker was on routine cruiser patrol Thursday night near his home in Brooklyn. Suddenly, a car sped by just as a boy crossed the street.

"My God," Sgt. Hofaker shouted to his driver. "That kid got hit."

Advisory Groups Schedule Meets Monday, Tuesday

Two of Pampa's 11 Citizens' Advisory Committees will meet the first of next week to continue studies of city problems in need of solution.

They are the Highway Committee and the Streets and Thoroughfares Committee, headed respectively by Fred Thompson and Clinton Evans.

The Highway Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday and the Streets and Thoroughfares Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Both sessions will be held in City Hall.

The 11 committees were named several months ago by Mayor Jim Nation to study Pampa's major problems and report their findings to the City Commission.

The Water Committee was the first to complete its study and reported to the commission a month ago.

Members of the Highway Committee include Chairman Thompson, Dewey Marr, Gene Lewis, Joe Miller, Jack Vaughn, Paul Crouch, Crawford Atkinson, R. K. Parsley, Mack Hlatt, J. C. McWilliams and Jim O'Connor.

Street and Thoroughfare committees in addition to Chairman Evans are Joe Fischer, Leon Holmes, Dr. Joe Donaldson, Ray Duncan, Lou Troja, James Hill, C. P. Buckler, Jack Miller, James Morgan and O. P. Hunter.

The Monday and Tuesday night meetings also will be attended by City Manager Jim White and members of his City Hall staff.

Red Cross Has Unique Place in Nation's Welfare

By LIBBY SHOTWELL
RC Executive Secretary

The American National Red Cross occupies a unique place in the life and welfare of the people in our nation. In case of disaster, service to the military the Red Cross is always ready to help.

This year the American Red Cross assisted 10,000 families stricken by the Ohio River flood. During Betsy, 18,000 victims were cared for in shelters by 100 nurses on duty. Some 24,000 pints of milk alone were consumed each day in the shelters. Feeding, clothing and shelter for victims make up emergency work of the Red Cross in a disaster. Then comes the real work of putting these families back into their homes again. Clean-up kits of mops, buckets, brooms and household cleanser were given to 6,000 persons who were able to go back to their homes and begin the long job of cleaning up.

Workers in Red Cross are always proud of the way volunteers answer the call to work for people with a disaster strikes.

In our community, the Red Cross serves as a liaison between the home and the service-man. There is a Red Cross worker on duty at every military installation in the US and abroad, so we are always in contact with a Red Cross worker who is on call both day and night.

The local Red Cross operates with only one paid worker. Volunteers come into our office and help when it is convenient for them to work. First aid and water safety instructors work without pay and train many hundreds of persons in safety services each year. This year we trained over 1000 boys and girls in swimming and life saving in Pampa.

Our nursing program is one of the best. We have two classes in Mother and Baby Care each year for the community and several classes in Care of the Sick and Injured for school girls and also for the community. We have 30 Red Cross nurses in the city.

The Red Cross Board meets nine times a year where the business of the Red Cross is planned and carried out. Each board member is a volunteer and serves without pay. Our books are audited by an accredited bookkeeper, once each year and the report is sent to the national organization.

The National organization has furnished a blood derivative for two residents of Pampa in the past five years. This derivative is very expensive and is given to the families free of charge.

We are hoping that this year the community will work together to support our United Fund so that we can raise the money needed to carry on our work. Let us give as much as we can so that all of our agencies can do the work expected of them.

Lady Bird is First Class Politician and First Lady

By LYLE WILSON,
United Press International.
History is repeating itself, as usual, and the Democratic party is favored again with a gracious First lady, who also is a first class politician and a controversial public figure.

The past 50 years, nine first ladies three of whom became controversial in terms of national politics. These three were the second Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Johnson. Each achieved her own enemies, notably Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Roosevelt, both of whom inspired some of their fellow citizens to an unreasoning hatred. President Wilson's collapse and illness cast his wife into the pit of controversy. During the long months of Woodrow Wilson's illness the idea spread that decisions from the sick room and other exercise of power represented, in fact, the decisions and acts of Mrs. Wilson abetted by the President's faithful secretary, the late Joseph P. Tumulty. There was bitter partisan protest against what was suspected to be a usurpation of power and some of the principals in this dispute took their anger with them long years afterward to their graves.

Eleanor Roosevelt had in full measure the capacity to arouse the passions of anger and hatred. But in fuller measure she possessed the capacity to arouse respect and affection. What Eleanor Roosevelt and Lady Bird Johnson have most in common are a feeling for people, a liking for crowds and a sure instinct for political action. To a lesser degree Mrs. Johnson possesses some of Eleanor Roosevelt's capacity to arouse anger, respect and affection. Gracious ladies, both!

CHANGES IN SOUTHEAST ASIA—Recent developments have altered the political face and shaken the stability of strategic Southeast Asia. An uprising of officers and political figures jolted the rule of Indonesia's President Sukarno. The upheaval came shortly after the island city of Singapore left the Malaysian Federation. Sukarno's prime foe, Singapore is now an independent state and ties between other parts of the Federation, Malaya and northern Borneo, are strained.

Personalized Tags Dot Pampa Cars

Personalized license plates are beginning to catch on in Pampa. Bill Steger of the county tax assessor-collectors office said three of the plates have already been issued and more are expected when motorists begin buying their 1966 auto tags.

Steger said Rev. J. W. Duke, pastor of the First Christian Church, has a set of the plates which reads "PREACH."

Gene Imel's auto displays a set of plates bearing the name "IMEL" and George Hiaduk's auto plates spell the name "HIADUK."

The personalized license plate may be ordered for an additional fee of $10 per set.

Steger said that any combination of six numerals of letters not already applied for can make up the license plate.

Anyone desiring the personalized plates should contact the county tax assessor-collectors office in the Court House for an application.

Bicycle Stolen In Break-In

A bicycle, valued at $25, was reported missing yesterday following a break-in at Acme Mattress Co., 817 W. Foster.

D. D. Alfred, Longview, was fined $5 and costs in Gray County Court yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of swindling with worthless check.

Jessy D. Cain, Pampa, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of wife desertion and was placed under a $500 bond.

Fire Destroys Tire On City Dump Truck

A front tire on a city dump truck was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon when the truck's motor accidentally caught fire.

Firemen said the blaze started in the engine when the truck stalled and destroyed the front tire before fire units could arrive.

Vandals Wreck House

An undetermined amount of vandalism was reported inflicted to a house located at 1129 Sirocco.

Police said the report came from Quentin Williams, who is handling the sale of the vacant house.

DEAR ABBY...

Norman Has Small Alternative

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for only three months and already I have a problem. My wife thinks it's her "duty" to stay nights with her mother every time her father goes on an overnight business trip, which is about twice a week. Mother Bea is a registered nurse, so my wife picks her up at the hospital at 11 p.m. when she gets off duty, and the two of them drive cross-town to spend the night together at Mother Bea's. Meanwhile I sleep alone. So where does that leave me?

responsibilities. As a last resort, you could invite Mother Bea to sleep at your place, which is just a notch better than sleeping alone.

DEAR ABBY: We own a small, but nicely furnished motel, and you wouldn't believe what some people steal. Everything from ash trays to towels, bed linen, light bulbs, bath mats, pillows, shower curtains, window shades, not to mention pictures and furniture. (They have even unscrewed hardware and fixtures.)

Once a woman checked out with one of our bath towels over her arm and thinking she'd mistaken it for her own, I politely pointed out our name on it. She said she knew it was ours, but she thought she was doing us a "favor" by taking it because it was good advertising.

Abby, please tell folks that if they think the articles they steal are not missed, they are wrong. When a guest checks out we know exactly what goes with him. It's a disgrace!

MOTEL OWNER
DEAR OWNER: I agree. We may see the day when it's necessary to search the luggage and person of all guests who check out of hotels and motels. Insulting to those of integrity? Yes, but it may be preferable to having the rates raised higher and higher to cover the cost of replacing so many stolen articles.

DEAR ABBY: Why are left-handed people treated as though they were handicapped? Our biggest complaint seems to be against waitresses. When we move a cup of coffee from the right to the left side of the plate for our convenience, why does the waitress invariably return it to the right side when she hands it? (It is like having one's hands slapped.)

I carried a five-dollar bill in a special place in my wallet for three years, waiting to give it to the first waiter or waitress who recognized that I was a lefty and treated me accordingly. I finally found that waitress in a small coffee shop in San Francisco. She was startled and grateful when I gave it to her. She found it hard to believe it had taken me three years to find a waitress who was alert enough to make a left-handed person happy.

ELSIE THE LEFTY

Pampa High School Campus News

By VIRGINIA DEWITT

Everything is coming up music and makeup this week at Pampa High. With one down and two to go, A Cappella Choir is preparing for the final performances of "Pajama Game" tonight and tomorrow night. The cast is headed by Jo Ann Craig and Kenneth McWilliams. Starting in July, the choir has worked long hours leading up to dress rehearsals of three and four hours each night this week. Makeup for rehearsals and performances is supplied by drama students who are achieving remarkable results with grease paint.

Hugh Sanders, choir director, worked with the cast during the summer before school began. Speech teachers, Mrs. Don Myers and David Heath, have spent many hours on direction and stage work for the musical comedy production.

Everyone knows the plight of a student as he battles his homework. But what happens when the very teachers who make outside assignments are caught in their own trap? Four high school teachers are attending night school at West Texas State University this semester.

Working toward their master's degrees are Melvin Cardwell, typing teacher; Leslie Newsom, math teacher, and Mrs. Peggy Halbrun, English teacher. Elbert Albritton who teaches distributive education, is working on his administrative certificate.

"It's always good to keep abreast on the current events and up to date on the work in your field," said Mr. Cardwell.

The word "test" has a distinctive ring for most students. Next week students face the first accounting of the school year as they are confronted with six weeks examinations. Numerous Pampa High students, however, are thinking and preparing for the other tests they must cope with. College entrance tests pose the most immediate problem for seniors. Applications must be sent a month ahead of the testing date. The first American College Test will be given at Berger on Nov. 13.

Four seniors are semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test they took last spring. Richard Johnson, Dietta Hills and Betty Peck took the test here. Pat Carlson, who transferred to Pampa this year, also is a semi-finalist. She took the test at the school in Dallas she formerly attended.

Seven other seniors were recognized by Letters of Commendation for their performance on the test. Jane Hiatt, Gail Newlin, David Fain, Charles Hammons, Shelton Moore, Daryl Nentel and Mike Wise scored in the top two per cent of graduating seniors across the nation for 1966. This is the largest number from one class the school has ever had, according to Mrs. Ruby Capps, counselor.

National Honor Society, which started a tutoring service last year, will sponsor the service again this year. A committee headed by Sara Hahn is in charge of arrangements. Aubra Nooncaster, head of the English department, is sponsor.

The plan was instituted to help students who are having trouble in their schoolwork. If a student feels that he is stalled in a particular subject, he may receive help from an NHS member who has volunteered to tutor that course.

FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 8

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's full moon brings a chance for many new beginnings with the energy present in order to accomplish many interesting and ingenious conditions that can now be put to effect and made to work. But you have to adopt a co-operative attitude, plus a willingness to pioneer in new lines of activity.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Allies will be pretty much on you now to solve any enigmas connected with your joint projects. Do not disappoint them. Get all in order. Dine together in celebration tonight.

TALIES (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Some secret anding will give you the information you require in order to better your cultural and business interests. Get aboard, office beautiful. Be happier with and in your surroundings.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — Step out of that dull routine and into the exciting new world of activity all around you. New contacts can be very encouraging. Expansion of all of your interests quite easy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Partners gladly listen to your ideas and will join you in any practical matters that are worthwhile. Give an ear to their suggestions, too. Unite in harmony.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — The tasks before you can be very interesting if you make them so. Show energy, enthusiasm. Fellow workers will cooperate more if you use a certain amount of diplomacy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — If you are cheerful, you can have a wonderful time with congenial companions today and in p.m. You have very fine talents. Put them to work energetically.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Be fore getting out to public interests. Be sure to do what family desires of you. Get a more firm foundation beneath you. Then you start a definite upland.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Your basic security depends pretty much on those around you now, instead of those from a distance. Garner the information that has been difficult to get in the past. Now it comes quickly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You can increase income now, but this is best done by knowing exactly what you must do and say. Plan a better budget. Don't be so economical where vital necessities are concerned.

The Gifts of God

"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with who there is no variation, neither shadow cast by turning." Jas. 1:17.

God is the Great Source and Fountain of all that is good. He is the Father of lights. 1 Jno. 1:5. He created the starry hosts. Ps. 8:3. And He is the Author of all moral and spiritual illumination. All our blessings, temporal and spiritual, are derived from Him.

God's Perfect Gifts To Man:

1. He has given us a perfect Saviour, Jesus Christ our Lord.
 - a. He was perfect regarding his relationship to sin.
 - (1) His enemies sought diligently to discover sin in his life. Lk. 6:7. They dogged his every footstep, shadowed him on every turn, listened to every phrase that fell from his lips, sent out spies in an effort to entrap him, and find him in some infraction of law. They found no flaw in him. Jno. 8:46.
 - (2) He was tempted in all things, even as we are, yet without sin. Heb. 4:15.
 - b. He was perfect respecting the task he came into the world to perform — saving the lost. This was accomplished through self-surrender and the sacrifice of himself. "For it became him for whom are all things and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through suffering." Heb. 2:10; 5:8, 9.
 - (1) H. G. Emelov, an orthodox Jew said: "He is all that is unequalled in human history."
 - (2) William Lecky, the Irish historian said about Christ: "The three short years of the active life of Jesus have done more to soften and regenerate mankind than all the disquisitions of philosophers and all the exhortations of moralists." Truly, there has never been one to compare with him!
2. God has given us a perfect revelation of himself and his will to man — the Bible.
 - a. Its perfect lies in the facts that:
 - (1) That it supplies our every need. 2 Pet. 1:3, 4.
 - (2) It provides for our learning, patience and comfort. Rom. 15:4.
 - (3) It offers to us perfection, life and salvation. 2 Tim. 3:16, 17; Jno. 20:30, 31; Rom. 1:16.
 - (4) It is perfect also because it is God's complete, full and final revelation to man. Jno. 14:26; 16:13. God recognizes no ecumenical council, general synod or national convention as have the power to formulate creeds or reveal additional truth. His revelation is complete. Jude 3.
 - b. "Steadfast, serene, immovable the same
 Year after year —
 Burns on forever that quenchless flame,
 Shines on that inextinguishable light."
3. God has given us a perfect relationship — the Church. Its perfection is found:
 - a. In that it was purchased by the blood of Christ. Acts 20:28.
 - b. He is the Author and Founder of it. Matt. 16:18.
 - c. It is the place of safety and refuge. Eph. 5:23-27.
 - d. It is the fulness of God. Eph. 1:22, 23.
 - e. It is the kingdom of God and the place of deliverance. Col 1:13, 14.

Caprock Blanks Harvesters

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor

AMARILLO (Sp.) — Caprock made one big scoring play stand up Thursday night as they beat Pampa for the first time, 7-0, before a small crowd in Dick Bivins Stadium.

The Horns scored the first time they got their hands on the football and then defended when they had to run their season record to 3-1 and league mark to 2-1.

Pampa is now 1-4 for the year and 1-2 in the 3-A conference. The Harvesters have now lost two in a row.

The game was as close as the statistics with Caprock out first-downing Pampa 12-10 and the Harvesters out-rushing the Horns, 126-113.

But Caprock capitalized in the passing department with quarterback Emitt Crawford hitting seven of 13 throws for 120 yards.

Pampa quarterback Roy Harper had his best night in the air connecting on five of nine tries. Harper's throws were good for 73 yards.

But the Horns made one of their passes count, the first one, a 65 yard scoring play from Crawford to halfback Dan Alston with 9:58 remaining in the first quarter.

Fullback Clarence Vaughn booted the conversion and the scoring was over for the night at 7-0.

Both teams threatened with Pampa stopping a Caprock drive on the Harvester 10 just as the half ended and in the fourth period holding off the Steers at the three.

But the Horns in turn were just as tough on defense.

Pampa drove to the Caprock 20 immediately following the touchdown but on a fourth down and long yardage Harper went back to throw, couldn't and the Horns took over.

The Harvesters tried to pull it out in a last ditch effort, taking over on their own 10 yard line with six minutes left in the fourth period.

Coach Eural Ramsey called on injured fullback Ted Heiskell and the senior came through time and time again with needed yardage but the drive bogged down at the Horns 12-yard line with 19 seconds left to play.

Twice during this drive Heiskell was sent in on fourth down situations, and both times he picked up badly needed yardage, gaining seven yards each time to give Pampa another chance.

For the night Heiskell churned for 38 yards in six carries.

Penalties kept the Harvesters from really ever going anywhere.

In their last drive Pampa picked up a five-yarder that set them back from the Horns 38 to the 43 on a third down and two other times five-yard penalties helped kill drives.

But the Harvesters got the only "break" in this defensive gem, recovering a Horn fumble, the only one of the night, on the Caprock 29-yard line two plays after the second half started.

But the Harvesters weren't ready and actually lost three yards in four plays.

After Caprock had scored Pampa took over on their own 24 yard line and moved to the Horns 19 where they picked up a five-yard penalty on second down.

In two downs the Harvesters could move no farther than the 20.

Wheeler Hosts Follett; Miami Plays Long Horns in Homecoming

Wheeler and White Deer put their four game winning streaks on the line tonight and Miami hosts Darrouzett in their annual homecoming.

Three conference games are scheduled in district 5-B with Wheeler's contest with Follett the feature attraction.

The Mustangs have won 16 straight games, and stand 4-0 this season while Follett is 3-1-1 and at the moment pose the chief threat to the Mustangs.

Miami is 2-1 and the Longhorns are 2-0-1. The Warriors have won against two B teams and lost to Vega.

The other conference affair finds unbeaten Groom (3-0-1) playing host to Booker (1-2). The Pirates have won three straight.

White Deer, looking just as good as they did in 1964, put their perfect 4-0 reading on the line against a good Claude team. Claude is 3-1-1 and might be able to give the Bucks a good game.

In other area action Lefors (0-3) hosts Vega in a non-league outing, winless Canadian (0-4) tries for their first win against Panhandle at home and McLean (2-2) hosts Gruver (2-2).

Both Wheeler and White Deer have shown a good combination of lots of offense and tight defensive play.

Both gave up touchdowns for only the second time this season last week.

Wheeler has the two top scorers in the area and White Deer has the third and fourth leading scorers.

Wheeler's Bobby Vanpool leads the area in scoring with 50 points and teammate Tom Smith is second with 40.

The Bucks Vernon Marlar is third with 36 points Randy Elliott has 30 to give both teams a high scoring offense.

Wheeler is scoring at a 39 point per game clip with 155 points in their four games. The Mustangs have given up 24 points and their defense shows an average of a touchdown a game.

White Deer is just as tough defensively and has averaged just over 40 points a game on offense.

Top 10 Facing Another Tough Saturday; Upsets Loom Again

By United Press International

Former teammates will become friendly enemies Saturday night when the traditional Army-Notre Dame gridiron series is renewed in New York for the first time in almost two decades.

Pacing up and down opposing sidelines at Shea Stadium will be Ara Parseghian and Paul Dietzel.

Whether past performances can be thrown out the window for the 1965 tussle is dubious.

The oddsmakers, whose sentimental side is almost non-existent, predict a one-sided contest with the visiting Irish favored by 19 points.

The two schools faced each other last in New York in 1946 when Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard locked horns with Notre Dame quarterback Johnny Lujack in a scoreless tie at Yankee Stadium.

Shea spectators can look for a rugged ground game as Notre Dame has not come up with a replacement of the likes of graduated Heisman Trophy winner John Huarte and Curt Cook cannot be rated in ex-cadet Rolle Stichweh's class yet.

The nation's top-ranked clubs shouldn't have any difficulty running unbeaten streaks to four.

Nebraska, on top of the heap for the first time in the school's history, is listed 17 points better than Wisconsin while second-ranked Texas is seen superior to Oklahoma by a similar margin.

Third-ranked Arkansas is eight over Baylor and coach Frank Broyles' greatest worry is that the Razorbacks will be looking forward to next week's encounter with Texas.

The game of the day may be at Ann Arbor, where 13th-rated Michigan is a 1½ point underdog to fourth-ranked Michigan State.

Elsewhere in games of more than ordinary interest, Duke is seven over Pittsburgh; Navy 16 over William and Mary; Maryland six over Wake Forest; Ohio State four over Illinois; and Penn State five over Boston College.

Ivy League action lists Yale three over Brown; Princeton four over Cornell; Harvard 17 over Columbia; and Dartmouth a whopping 21 points over Pennsylvania, in a clash of unbeaten.

DELVECCHIO OUT

DETROIT (UPI)—Alex Delvecchio, captain of the Detroit Red Wings, will miss tonight's game against Boston at London, Ont., because of a swollen face, attributed to an allergy.

The Detroit defenseman is undergoing allergy tests at the University of Michigan Hospital and is to be released Saturday or Sunday if the illness is not serious.

Pampa Ladies City Open to Start Saturday

A new champion will be crowned Sunday afternoon when the annual Women's City Open Golf queen is named.

The all-female affair will tee off Saturday and Sunday mornings, starting at 10 a.m. Trophies will be awarded low gross and low net in each of the four flights.

The feminine golfers will play 18 holes of medal play each day. Four flights are expected for the tournament.

Defending champion Shirley Austin has moved out of the city since the 1964 tournament and will not be eligible to compete.

CAREER ENDED

COVENTRY, England (UPI)—Former British middleweight champion Mick Leahy's boxing career has been ended by injuries he sustained in a car wreck 11 days ago.

In Texas after golf beer's the one... for good taste, good fun

After a hard-played 18 holes, it's good to settle down on a soft chair in the club house and add up the score with friends. What better time for the drink that scores with almost every golfer—cool, thirst-quenching beer? Yes, beer's great to relax with, great for refreshment, great for taste. So whatever your sport—boating or baseball—swimming or tennis—relax afterwards with the zestful taste of beer.

Shockers Mow Down Lubbock

ITS THIRD WIN IN A ROW

The Pampa Shockers rolled to their fourth victory in five outings Thursday, blanking Lubbock, 36-0 on the running of Gary Hyatt.

Hyatt scored three times to help the Shockers win their third game in a row.

Pampa built up a 16-0 half-time lead, scoring eight points in both the first and second quarters and busting the game wide open in the third quarter with three touchdowns.

The Shockers scored a safety in the first period when Noblett tackled a Lubbock runner in the end zone.

Ron Sanders scored Pampa's first touchdown a few minutes later when he caught a 20-yard pass from quarterback Steve Summers. The kick try for the conversion failed and the quarter ended with Pampa leading 8-0.

Hyatt scored his first touchdown in the second period, running in from 10 yards out. He ran in the conversion and at half-time Pampa led 16-0.

Hyatt got things started in the big third period when he rambled 21 yards. The kick try for the conversion failed.

Dickie Henley scored from seven-yards out the next time Pampa got the ball and Stan Mathis booted the extra point.

Hyatt wrapped up the scoring near the end of the period, going in from 10 yards out and Mathis booted the extra point to give the Shockers their 36-0 win.

The Shockers host Plainview next Thursday.

Pampa Junior High teams won only one of four games and two more were scheduled today.

Pampa Junior High ninth was the only winner, downing Dumas, 16-9.

Paul Anderson did all the touchdown running for Pampa and Phil Long ran both conversions.

Pampa trailed 9-0 at halftime but Anderson scored from five yards out in the third period and Long ran the conversion to cut the lead to 9-8.

Dumas had scored in the first period on a 20-yard field goal and in the second period on a 1-yard run.

But Anderson scored the winning touchdown in the fourth period from 45 yards out and Long ran in the conversion.

Pampa Junior High eighth grade fell behind 14-0 at halftime and lost 28-0 to Dumas eighth.

Dumas scored both first half touchdowns on pass interceptions and recovered a Pampa fumble in the third quarter for a score.

Lee ninth grade remained winless losing to Borger Austin, 29-0.

Borger scored twice in the first half and added their final tally in the fourth period.

Lee eighth lost to Austin also, 36-8 and trailed 32-0 at halftime.

The lone Lee touchdown came in the third quarter on a 30-yard pass from Ross Holman to John Jenkins.

Both Junior High seventh grade teams played this afternoon.

Longhorns, Arkansas Have Favorites Role

By United Press International

Pass the word to Oklahoma coach Gomer Jones: The Texas Longhorns, going into Saturday's grudge Texas-Oklahoma match with a long-tail-Texas margin of 19 points, aren't so cocky about their breakaway power.

The Longhorns worked on short yardage situations at the goal line Thursday in their last drill before departing for the Cotton Bowl today.

The mainstay of the Texas backfield, tailback Phil Harris, worked out again Thursday but was unable to cut sharply because of a knee injury he got against Illinois last week.

Texas Christian University, which goes to Lubbock Saturday to tangle with the Texas Tech Red Raiders, can fire its passes at a defense robbed of its highest-graded performer the first three games, Guy Griffis, who will be out for the season because of knee surgery Thursday.

But the Horned Frogs had better hope Griffis' replacement doesn't live up to his dad's reputation. Starting in deep safety and punt returns for Tech this week in place of Griffis is David Baugh, the son of one-time TCU all-American, Slingin' Sammy Baugh.

Coach J. T. King sent the Red Raiders through a light drill hitting all phases of the offense and defense Thursday, and halfbacks Donny Anderson and Mike Leinert — Tech's two most exciting runners — were being primed into safetyman condition to further beef up the position Griffis left.

"We most likely won't use either Donny or Leinert to return punts against TCU," King said Thursday, "but we want to have them ready for next week."

Texas A&M polished its offense and defense in a short but brisk no-contact drill in sweatclothes Thursday.

Coach Gene Stallings said the Aggies, who clash in College Station Saturday with the University of Houston, will be at full strength for the contest.

OU to Corral Texas Steers

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Fearless Prognosticator
Egad, dear readers, this week I have some surprising information to share with you. I will visit to our planetarium verities my astronomical calculations which indicate unusual activity in the magnitude and motions of the celestial bodies. These movements will exert an unusual influence on the opponents in Saturday's collegiate encounters.

We can expect many un-ung eleven to emulate the star cluster Pleiades which is rising in the east in Taurus, the bull! (Ed. Note: Sounds like a lot of bull to us, too, Major.) The Pleiades are a group of several hundred young stars which will smile encouragement on the young stalwarts of Army as they topple Notre Dame by a 20-18 count — hah-kaff!

But it's in the Southwest where the biggest eruption will occur. Winless Oklahoma will bounce back "sooner" than expected as the Sooners — heh-heh — throttle undefeated Texas, 20-14. And Baylor, exhibiting the speed of Halley's comet, will flash past mighty Arkansas — Ump-kump!

While your peerless prognosticator has correctly forecast Georgia's astonishing early season upsets of two of football's titans, Alabama and Michigan, I have some bad news for Georgia partisans this week. The Hoople System predicts a hard-won 22-20 triumph for Clemson over the Bulldogs — har-rumph!

Um, yes, friends, it was my pleasure to congratulate Dr. Izzy A. Bumgesser for his part in helping the Hoople System forecast the upsets of L.S.U. by Florida and Michigan by Georgia last Saturday. However, I did find it necessary to chide Izzy about the mathematics of his prediction of a 9-8 victory for West Virginia over Pittsburgh. The final score: West Virginia 63, Pittsburgh 48 — Tsk-Tsk! Dr. Bumgesser promised to be more careful in the future — hah-kaff!

Now go on with the forecast. Maryland 27, Wake Forest 11. Xavier 19, Cincinnati 8. Purdue 23, Iowa 12.

Marr, Palmer Pace U.S. in Ryder Cup Play

SOUTHPORT, England (UPI) — Americans Arnold Palmer and Dave Marr, who staged a sensational comeback on the first day of the 16th Ryder Cup competition, Friday prepared to tackle unbeaten Britons Peter Allis and Christy O'Connor in what many consider the crucial round.

The two countries were knotted 4-4 after the opening round matches and with the Americans rated strong favorites in Saturday's singles. Friday's two-ball foursomes were considered a must for the British.

Palmer and Marr astounded the gallery Thursday with a magnificent exhibition in the latter round by taking a six and five decision from Dave Thomas and George Will after losing by an identical score to the same pair in the early round.

The team of Tony Lema and Julius Boros provided the Yanks with half their victory total by downing Lionel Platts and Peter Butler one up and defeating Jimmy Hitchcock and Jimmy Martin five and four. The fourth point was gained by the Americans when Billy Casper and Gene Littler beat Bernard Hunt and Neil Coles two and one, in the early round.

Non-playing U. S. captain Byron Nelson announced one change for his team. Tommy Jacobs will replace Ken Venturi in the four ball foursomes. The Americans are playing with only nine men because of the withdrawal of Johnny Pott, who is sidelined by a ruptured muscle in his right side.

Texas, TCU, SMU Frosh Win

By United Press International
Freshman teams from Texas, Texas Christian and Southern Methodist won against other Southwest Conference first-year teams Thursday in their first action of the 1965 season.

Jerry Levias, the Negro from Beaumont who became the first of his race ever to sign a Southwest Conference football letter of intent, scored on a 39-yard pass with less than four minutes left in the game to push the SMU Colts past the Arkansas Shoats, 14-10.

It was the first loss in 13 games over a three-year period for the Arkansas freshmen.

The losers led at one time in all three games.

The Texas Shorthorns overcame a 7-6 deficit for a 28-7 victory behind the powerful running of Mike Perrin and Chris Gilbert.

The Texas Christian Frogs fell behind the Texas A&M Fish, 7-0, at the half but rallied for two touchdowns in each of the final two periods to win a 24-7 verdict.

Arkansas took an early 3-0 lead in its game with SMU via a 23-yard field goal by Bob White. Ronnie Scoggins bulled over from the three to put the Colts ahead 7-3 at the half before the Shoats' Mike McClen-don ran an intercepted pass 64 yards and a 10-7 third quarter lead. That set things up for quarterback Jimmy "Adams" pass to Levias.

Lvias, suffering from three cracked ribs, played only five downs.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Joe Orbillo, 188, Wilmington, Calif., outpointed Manuel Ramos, 192, Mexico City, (10).

BERLIN (UPI)—American Jefferson Davis will meet former West German heavyweight champion Albert Westphal in a bout at Duetschland Hall Oct. 29.

IN TROUBLE — Pampa's Lewis Meers (40) is in trouble in last night's 7-0 loss to Caprock. Meers gained five yards before he was brought down by a host of Caprock tacklers, including Robert McHugh, far left, Tom Maxwell (32) and Clarence Vaughn (44).

Series Moves Westward With Twins Leading 2-0

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers, their backs to the wall with their two best pitchers' beater, today hoped to start coming back against the Minnesota Twins when the World Series resumes here Saturday.

"We're accustomed to this business of being behind," observed Dodger Manager Walter Alton. "We've been behind this season before and always come back. There's no reason we can't do it again."

He pointed out further that the Dodgers were the first team ever to win a series, since it went to its present best four out of seven game format in 1922, after losing the first two games. They did it in the 1955 series against the Yankees.

"We will do it again," he predicted, confirming that his third game pitcher will be southpaw Claude Osteen, who never had been beaten by the Twins and defeated them five times while he still was with the Washington Senators.

But the Twins didn't let a little thing like Osteen's record bother them. They had hammered the Dodgers into submission in the first two games, beating the best one-two pitching punch in baseball, so they weren't going to let the Los Angeles No. 3 man bother them.

"When you beat (Don) Drysdale and (Sandy) Koufax, back to back, you've done a pretty fine job," said Sam Mele, the manager of the Twins.

"I figured we were good enough to beat them and we did, so Osteen doesn't frighten us," Mele named Camilo Pascual, a right handed curve ball specialist, to oppose Osteen in Saturday's third game, scheduled to start at 2 p.m., CST.

Alton said he was sure of one thing. "We'll have better weather than we had in Minnesota," he smiled. "And I hope we have better scoring."

For a time Thursday, it appeared that rain would wash out the second game of the series but it didn't and the Twins went on to beat Koufax, the king of pitchers, 5-1, after having clubbed Drysdale into submission, 8-2, in the first game on Wednesday.

Both the Twins and Dodgers left on special chartered planes for this West Coast baseball game Thursday shortly after the Twins made it two in a row.

They both scheduled workouts at Dodger Stadium today, the Dodgers at 11 a.m., (PDT), the Twins at 1 p.m.

Despite those two losses, the Dodgers were 13-10 favorites to win the third game, but the Twins were quoted as 3 to 1 choices to take the series. Only three times has a team lost the first two series games and come back to win. The Dodgers did it first in 1955 after dropping the first two to the Yankees. Then the Yankees came back the very next year to reverse the situation against the Dodgers. And in 1958 the Yankees did it again.

West Texas Hosts Trinity In Try for Fourth in Row

SAN ANTONIO — The Trinity Tigers face their toughest opponent of the season in Canyon Saturday night in the undefeated West Texas State Buffaloes.

The rough and rugged Buffs of Coach Joe Kerbel have shown a tough defense and potent offense in three victories so far this season, downing Ohio University 7-0, powerful Bowling Green 34-0 and always strong Arizona State, 22-14.

Trinity backfield coach Wilson Waites, who has observed West Texas from Memphis State until this season, said Monday that in his opinion this is the best Buffalo team in the last four years.

The Buffs' defense has been magnificent all year. In the first game they held Ohio University to a net rushing total of minus one-yard. And Bowling Green, always one of the stronger teams in the Midwest, netted only 60 rushing yards. Arizona State got 48 yards on the ground, but netted 149 in the air, which offers hope for the Tigers if Trinity quarterback Les Ohio can get the Tiger passing offense moving again.

Ohio didn't throw a single pass in the Kingsville rain and mud against A&I, and is looking for a dry field.

America Kept Beautiful

Long before it became a fad among certain residents of our Nation's capital, there were people throughout this land who appreciated and worked to preserve its beauty. Nonetheless, beautification faddists in Washington, D.C., seem to have convinced themselves that they, and they alone, can keep America beautiful, or at least must tell the rest of us how to do it. So the rush is on for Federal legislation concerning auto junkyards, billboards and other blights and alleged blemishes on our National landscape.

We don't think Federal legislation is either necessary or appropriate. It is being proved every day in communities throughout the country that responsible citizens together with state and local officials can do a magnificent job in these regards. In New Mexico, for example, the American Realty and Petroleum Corp. has issued a company pledge that its community development projects will "be so planned and constructed as to preserve the natural beauty of their surroundings." One of that company's developments near Albuquerque, Rio Rancho Estates, was the setting recently for an award ceremony wherein the governor of New Mexico, Jack Campbell, was awarded a Yale Achievement Award for "creative leadership." The governor credited local citizens and local builders as the real force in preserving the natural beauty and healthfulness of New Mexico's communities.

Federal laws or no Federal laws, local initiative and action is the only way our beautiful country will be kept that way. Expressions of interest and concern by Federal officials may sometimes be helpful in inspiring local action. But we've seen no evidence that residents of Washington, D. C. (either permanent or temporary) are better endowed than anyone else for defining beauty, or for advising others on how to achieve and maintain it. Beauty is, after all, mostly in the eye of the beholder — and we homelovers are eminently better qualified than some out-of-town expert or passerby to decide what looks good to us.

We are reminded that there is a section in the historic city of Baltimore, Md., long noted for the gleaming white steps in front of each and every door. Yet this shining splendor, so historians have indicated, was not because the powers-that-were in the City Hall had ordered it so; but simply because the builders were good architects and the residents were and are neat housekeepers.

Let's sweep our own doorsteps, and hope Federal beautifiers will do as well with theirs.

Why Can't We?

The 25 cent piece you have in your pocket contains about 23 cents worth of metal. The new sandwich coin will contain about 2 cents worth of metal. If Uncle Sam can make coins for 2 cents and "sell" them for 25 cents, why can't you or I? Oh, we're well aware that it's against the law for private citizens to do that, but people have been known to risk the consequences of law — breaking for a much smaller margin of profit. So we ask in all seriousness — what is to prevent anyone with a yen for easy money and a little knowledge of metallurgy and mechanics from stamping out his own "sandwich" money in such fashion that it would be virtually indistinguishable, except through laboratory analysis, from the silverless 25 cent coins now being made in U.S. mints?

Even supposing that a counterfeiter couldn't match the metal content of the official product closely enough that his sandwich coins would work in the vending machines, a lot of two-bit sales are still made across the counter where a casual glance is all the coin will receive. And lest anyone accuse us of putting bad ideas into people's heads, we'll just mention that we didn't suggest to any of the easy money crowd that they should go out and sell "Medicare Insurance" to old folks just after that law was passed. We suspect that those most likely to engage in such activity are way ahead of us on this idea, too — possibly just waiting for the day when Uncle Sam starts distributing his bargain basement quarters so that they can start peddling theirs.

It is not only the possibility of domestic counterfeiting which disturbs us with the advent of silverless quarters. Castro, as just one example, could finance a grand-scale operation here and elsewhere in the hemisphere by setting up a U.S. coin-making industry in Cuba, or having some of his cohorts do it within our own borders. The fact is that 25 cents for 2 cents is an open invitation to amateur and professional counterfeiters and the invitation will remain attractive unless or until the purchasing power of the coin diminishes to a point near the cost of its production. And we don't relish that prospect, either.

NCC and Right-to-Work

An official of the National Council of Churches appeared before the House Subcommittee on Labor to plead for repeal of the Right-to-Work provision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law.

He was Dr. J. Edward Carothers, and he implied that he spoke for an NCC membership "in the neighborhood of 40 million people."

It's astonishing — or would be if it weren't so common an occurrence — when those who profess to be God's representatives on earth so carefully observe the letter of the law against lying and break it — with eagerness — in spirit. The National Council of Churches' officials imply, when they are trying to force on others what they consider to be good, that they represent 40 million Protestants, including you probably. But whenever enough among those 40 million protest, the officials put on their fake faces of amazement and "low as how." Land sakes, folks we were speaking only for us board members, not the membership. And so it was at the House Subcommittee on Labor hearing, to consider pros and cons for repeal of Section 14 (b) of the T-H Act.

Questioned about the inference that he represented all those millions of Protestants, the Rev. Dr. Carothers admitted, No, the membership had not been polled on the issue; and that an NCC board decision was not tantamount to a membership decision.

And, yes, said the Rev. Dr. Carothers, inferentially appearing as a "disinterested party" in the fight for repeal — so sacred to union bossism — the National Council has received $100,000 from the labor unions. It's a lie, regardless of the wordage, whenever whatever speaking is done so in a deliberate attempt to mislead. At times it seems that the NCC has launched a civil disobedience campaign against the Ten Commandments.

Voluntary Support

We do not suggest eliminating welfare programs. We suggest or other voluntarily supported eliminating government welfare programs. Those who are truly programs. Let those individuals in need will be given help. But, who are truly interested in helping others give a lift to those in need, either individual, "living off the dole."

Within a year you'll be able to buy a "syllable analyzer" that will permit you to talk back to a TV announcer and get a response. It's a new gadget, invented by RCA electronic engineers, that will make your TV set respond to spoken wishes. Just tell the announcer to "shut up" and he'll shut off, or command the set to change channels and, presto, it will be done. The device takes spoken words apart and compresses them into electronic code. Another of its intended uses will do away with stenographers. It can be attached to a phonetic typewriter that takes direct dictation. What a boon that will be to columnists.

Today's smile: A traffic court judge asked the defendant: "Do you admit that you went through a red light at an intersection?" The accused said: "Yes, Your Honor, I always hurry through intersections to get out of the way of reckless drivers."

Despite the rush to name everything and every place after President John F. Kennedy, it's a fact that George Washington is our most honored chief executive. In addition to having the nation's capital named after him, his name was also given to a State, 33 counties, 121 cities and towns, more than 1000 streets, also lakes, schools, mountains and at least one savings bank. Lincoln doesn't come close!

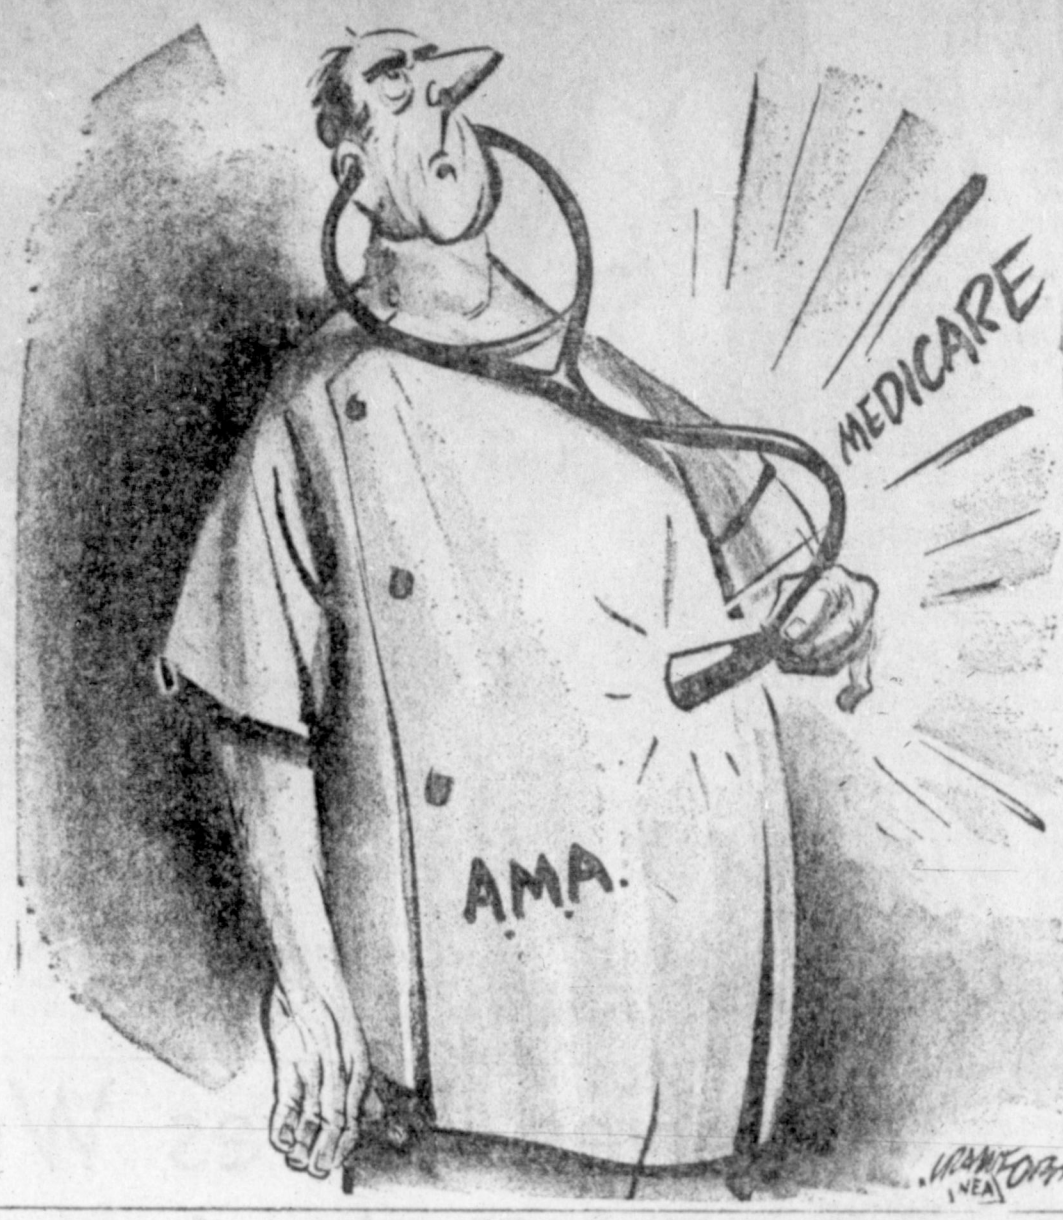

Thoughts while shaving: Most large department stores employ comparison shoppers who visit their competitors every day to note business activity in departments with advertised items in the day's newspapers and also to compare goods and prices. . . . Sending flowers by wire has proven such a good business gimmick for the florists they have now branched out and send fruit baskets by telegraph, too. A Denver, Colo., firm has already lined up 1200 U.S. and Canadian florists and expects to have the service in 2500 cities by Christmas. . . . They're getting married younger these days. A survey reveals the average American bride is 20 years old. . . . Next to government, the practice of law is the biggest business in the nation's capital. There's one lawyer for every 59 citizens in Washington, D.C. . . . Although the Olympic Games are supposed to draw the world's greatest athletes in all lines of sport, they don't have a baseball, basketball or football game on their agenda. And they are America's greatest sports. Come to think of it, they don't have golf or tennis either. . . . We've heard of gastronomic feasts, but we wonder if anyone ever topped Johann Ketzler, a German, who ate one whole roast ox in 42 days back in 1880. . . . Speaking of cockeyed things, we understand that when Elvis Presley gets a hair cut, his shorn hair is carefully saved and sold to his admirers for 25 cents per hair. His sideburns can be had for $5. . . . If the manager of the Beatles hears about that he'll give the four lads crew cuts and they'll become billionaires. . . . The Portland (Oregon) OREGON JOURNAL headlined a story: "Age Plays Important Role In Maturity." It certainly does. . . . I Country Editor speaking: "The hardest thing about making money last is making it first."

Genghis Khan and his hordes swept through Asia and Europe during the 13th century until they had conquered half the known world. The Mongol invaders, known as the Golden Horde, were well-disciplined, highly organized and well-trained. The Mongol army, almost all cavalry divisions, some having 10,000 horsemen, maneuvered on the battlefield using black and white flags as communication instead of oral or written orders.

'Sleeper' in $1.5 Billion Disaster Aid Bill for Schools May Help Schools Damaged by Riot Action

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Federal aid may be on tap for riot-struck cities to rebuild damaged public schools and pay teachers' salaries.

This possibility stems from a little-noticed provision in legislation passed by Congress to provide an estimated $1.5 billion annually in federal aid to school board or agency in an area suffering from disaster "as a result of any flood, drought, fire, hurricane, earthquake, storm or other catastrophe."

Key words are "fire" and "other catastrophe." "Fires can be set by Molotov cocktails, and 'other catastrophes' covers a lot of possibilities," declares one legislator.

Officials of the Office of Emergency Planning, which administers federal disaster aid, won't rule in advance whether civil riots will be considered catastrophes under terms of the legislation. Past riots in big cities, like the flare-up in the Watts section of Los Angeles in August, have not resulted in federal disaster aid.

But if public schools are damaged in a future city riot (they were not in Los Angeles), some officials at the Office of Emergency Planning feel federal aid would be offered.

Several Congressmen are convinced this is the case. Congressman William D. Ford, D-Mich., sponsor of the bill, concedes that civil strife following natural disasters could trigger federal aid to schools under his legislation.

"Looting and burning of schools might follow in the wake of a big storm, like a hurricane or tornado. If that happened and the area were designated a disaster area by the President, my bill probably would authorize aid to the schools," says Ford.

Philosophy behind Ford's bill is that disaster areas lose all or a large percentage of their taxable property, on which school financing largely depends. To keep public schools open while this tax base is being re-established over an extended period, federal aid would be made available to rebuild or repair school buildings and to pay operating expenses, including teachers' salaries, for periods up to five years.

All children in the disaster area — both public and private — would be aided. Private school teachers and pupils would be accommodated in public facilities still intact, or rented or leased during the emergency period.

During House debate of the aid measure, Representative H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, tried to determine the applicability of its funds.

"Let me ask the $64 question," Gross shot at general education subcommittee chairman, Carl Perkins D-Ky. "Can any of the funds which would be made available under the terms of this bill be used to rebuild schools in that Watts area of Los Angeles. . . . Or is

Straight Talk

Some critics may think I'm anti-Johnson. I'm for Johnson, as our 51st state, out in space somewhere.

I am also for the new bill in the House of Representative's hopper to offer a proper memorial to Lyndon B. Johnson by putting his likeness on the new silver quarter. The bill's proponent, Congressman Batin (Mont.), stated that it is not right to continue George Washington's image on a practically worthless coin and that Johnson, the man who invented the consensus coin, richly deserves the honor. Our new coins have been called sandwich coins. They will contain thin slices of copper, nickel and rubber between two slices of cornbread. No doubt about it, Johnson has put money in our pockets — no wicket money which thuds instead of jingles.

Although we're in a war for survival as a free people under God, more people get government checks for not working than at any time in history. That's because our government is so huge, so socialistic, so crooked, so immoral, and so influenced by minority pressure groups.

The real reason for federal aid is that the national administrators reduce the people by giving them "other people's money." Thus does Caesar-Bird drive us to the poorhouse in a borrowed Rolls Royce.

Bureaucrats, like girdle manufacturers, live off the fat of the land. But the 50 million Americans who get regular government checks are cutting through the fat to the lean, on to the bone. And the bone is beginning to look like a butcher's block as we raise the debt limit again, "temporarily."

Since the right to acquire, own and dispose of private property is rooted not only in our Constitution but in our religion, if we are to join our one-world brothers and brother-eaters in a classless cooperative and peaceful world society, the "Liberals" claim that we must renounce our "out-of-date" religious, moral and economic concepts.

I would like to propose this amendment to the "voting rights" bill: Any citizen 21 years or over who passes a literacy test (equivalent to a sixth grade education) may vote if he does not receive a regular check from government — federal, state or local. What a great society that would be!

The Great Society's blueprint for paradise is designed to destroy the local and state authorities in the fact that the 48 states, not in Washington. Even if the Great Society were desirable, which it isn't, it would not be accomplished without the destruction of state and local governments, the Constitution and individual freedom.

In 1951 the Great Churchill remarked: "The basic strength of America, in my judgment, lies in the fact that the 48 states, acting through their own legislative bodies, can to a very considerable degree determine

Cannel At Bay By Ward Cannel

Who Cares About Cash? NEW YORK (NEA) — We had lunch the other day with a friend who insisted on picking up the whole tab, explaining away his generosity with a summary of late trading on the stock exchange. And we must admit that his wallet did seem dangerously overstuffed.

In fact, it contained somewhat more than $250. We know that, because his pocket was picked during the few minutes after he had paid the bill and before the waiter brought his change. And, needless to say, he was rather annoyed.

"I don't care about the cash," he snarled at the restaurant manager. "But that wallet had all my credentials, licenses and credit cards. . . ."

Now, we have no intention of building a whole climate out of this one bleak noon. But the fact is, this is not an isolated instance. We have heard many reports about similarly burgled victims. And it is always the same.

For some reason we do not understand, they never care about the cash. The only thing that distresses them is the loss of their credentials.

We keep hoping to hear those sentiments reported the other way around just for once, and would even settle for a compromise — a victim, say, who is heartbroken over the loss of his water buffalo billfold.

However, the event, simply does not work that way. It is always the cash nobody cares about.

There may be some perfectly logical explanation for this condition. But as yet none has come to mind, and we do not mind saying that the entire matter is extremely disquieting.

For one thing, capitalism is in enough trouble around the world without a domestic disdain of folding money to muddy the picture.

And for another, as regular readers know, it is hard enough nowadays to find out what people are interested in. But to suspect that they do not care about cash — well, there is absolutely no telling what other staples they will not care about next.

Just to cite a few examples: A person who does not care about cash cannot tell if he is getting his money's worth of enjoyment from television.

A person who does not care about cash cannot tell if his daughter has made a good marriage.

A person who does not care about cash cannot tell if his career is progressing properly. Or whether his house is worth owning. Or his car worth repairing. Or a play worth seeing. Or a painting worth buying. Or children worth educating.

We are also inclined to think that a person who does not care about cash cannot tell the difference between profit and loss. Or between taxation and extortion. Or representative government and any other sales organization.

That, of course, may be overstating the case. All we know for sure is that a bird in one hand is no longer worth two in the bush. Currency is not as interesting as it once was, and something had better be done to make it more exciting.

Hunt for Truth BY H. L. HUNT

"CENTER" AND "AVERAGE" The whereabouts of "center" in public affairs and national policy is less certain than it has been since the beginning of the expression "right and left of center." During the trend toward communism and other crime, the average may not be safe enough for the nation to endure, but it would be good to ascertain what is "average."

Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) ratings may be acceptable to the greatest number in arriving at the "average" philosophy of members of Congress. In the 13 Southern states, including Oklahoma and Kentucky but not Missouri, the average ADA rating for Democrats is Senators 28 and Congressmen (Members of the House of Representatives), 56; Republicans in these states, Senators 10 and Congressmen 6.

In Pennsylvania and East, including West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and New England, the rating for Democrats is Senators 84 and Congressmen 38; Republicans in these states, Senators 46; Congressmen 38.

Democrats in all 26 other states have an average rating of Senators 70, Congressmen 84, Republican Senators in all 26 other states 20; Congressmen 10. The complete average of members in the nation is Democrats 73; Republicans 19. The average for all members combined is 56. ADA ratings for the 94 new members are not available but are estimates comparing their voting record with colleagues.

To enable the electorate to evaluate the present trend Democratic nominees should have an ADA rating or philosophy of 66 or higher; Republicans 21 or less. Members or non-members whose philosophy falls between these extremes can properly stand for nomination for either of whichever major party they choose.

FINDLAY, Ohio (UPI)—Oil companies must be ready to diversify, just as manufacturing and commercial firms have done, if they are to keep pace with the expanding economy, according to Marathon World, publication of Marathon Oil Company.

The publication predicted that the nation's oil companies within the next 50 years will be transformed into firms that will devote most of their energies to searching for and processing many of earth's useful raw materials beyond just oil and natural gas.

In 1870, Gen. Robert E. Lee, the Confederate hero, died in Lexington, Va.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—R. Sargent Shriver said the government's anti-poverty program, which he heads, will not work without local support.

"Unless you're on the job locally," Shriver told the Illinois Labor Convention, "some of the money will be wasted."

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Alana Ladd, the daughter of the late actor, Alan Ladd, and Michael Jackson, a radio personality, took out a license to wed.

Miss Ladd, 22, and Jackson, 31, plan to marry Oct. 16.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jay F. Gershtoff of Phillips, Appel & Walden says that although some further consolidation or a minor reaction may be necessary before a broad advance can ensue, it would seem the upward course of the market will prevail.

Gershtoff says many individual stocks should continue to outpace the averages and consideration of these issues should be the prime objective of traders and investors alike.

L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. says that if demand for equities is to continue strong, as he thinks it will, sooner or later there should be more interest in conventional stocks. Hooper says that when this happens, the Dow-Jones industrial will look more dynamic than they now do.

Bache & Co. says some hesitation around the former highs in the popular averages would not be surprising, particularly in view of the uncertainty created by President Johnson's upcoming operation.

OPEN TALKS
BONN (UPI)—German and Israeli diplomats have opened talks on economic aid from Germany to Israel, official sources reported today.

The talks are preliminary to formal negotiations which are to be delayed until after the Israeli parliamentary elections early next month.

MAY CLOSE BASES
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is studying the possibility of closing or reducing still more U.S. military installations, despite the 340,000-man Viet Nam buildup now in progress.

Administration officials said Thursday that McNamara's study was one aspect of the process of determining what additional military money requests must be made of Congress next year because of the Viet Nam conflict.
