Klan Apart From Ordinary Reality

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Georgia congressman said today the Ku Klux Klan showed its true colors when it held a guerrilla warfare class while the rest of the nation was mourning the death of John F. Kennedy.

Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., said that evidence uncovered by investigators of the House Committee on Un-American Activities showed the Klan's "invisible empire" to be a realm "apart from both reality and sensibility."

He referred to testimony at the committee's hearing Tuesday that a Klan unit in Clayton County, Ga., sponsored a judo class in nearby McDonough, Ga., on Nov. 24, 1963, the day President Kennedy's body was moved to the Capitol to lie in state.

"The fact that these guerrilla maneuvers were held while the nation was still in a state of shock and mourning further confirms my conviction that the KKK is a realm apart from both reality and sensibility," Weltner said in an interview.

Weltner is a member of the House committee and was in the forefront of those demanding that it investigate the Klan. The committee's public hearing, now concentrating on Klan activities in Georgia, resumes today.

Committee investigators Tuesday produced a long list of guerrilla-style training activities conducted by the Clayton County "Klavern." Subject matter included bomb-making techniques, small arms marksmanship and various forms of hand-to-hand combat.

Pacifist Commits Suicide Beneath Pentagon Window

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A young pacifist protesting American involvement in Viet Nam put himself to the torch Tuesday, perishing in flames beneath the Pentagon office window of Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

Thronging of homeward-bound Defense Department workers were streaming from the building's main entrance at 5:30 p.m. EST when Norman R. Morrison, 31, of Baltimore, his infant daughter in his arms, calmly ignited his kerosene-soaked clothing.

An Army colonel, an Air Force sergeant and several other persons attempted to beat out the flames. But it was too late for Morrison. The infant, 1-year-old Emily Morrison, was unharmed.

"He was a mass of flames — a human torch," said one witness. "When I looked around, the flames were leaping about two feet above his head."

Morrison was dead on arrival at an Army dispensary at Ft. Myer, Va., a few blocks away from the Pentagon. A coroner said he had suffered second and third degree burns over 70 per cent of his body.

Several hours after Morrison's self-immolation his wife Ann issued a statement to (See SUICIDE, Page 3)

23 Americans Die In Sunday Fighting

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. military spokesmen reported today that 23 American fighting men were killed in action during the week which ended Sunday.

During the same period, 114 Americans were wounded in action and two others were officially listed as missing in action or captured.

Vietnamese government troops lost 363 killed, 773 wounded and 63 missing or captured during the week.

Communist Viet Cong casualties were reported as 1,264 killed and 133 captured.

Government losses have continued to decline steadily during the past four months, while Viet Cong casualties steadily climbed.

October was record month in numbers of Viet Cong prisoners taken, averaging 145 per week.

"schools" has been revealed in previous hearings, but Tuesday was the first time the Nov. 24 class was mentioned. It came up during questioning of Wesley G. Bailey, 38, Jonesboro, Ga., lawyer identified as "Klokard," or treasurer, of the Clayton County Klavern.

Bailey, according to committee investigator Philip Manuel, attended a number of the courses, including the Nov. 24 session, and was an advocate of "acts of violence" against Negroes as a means of enforcing segregation.

Sour Liberals Plan To Chart New State Party

AUSTIN (UPI) — A group of liberal Democrats and independents, unhappy over the prospect of a Senate race between Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and Sen. John Tower next year, plan to file a charter for a third Texas political party.

Named "the Liberal Party of Texas," the planned organization will be patterned after New York's liberal party which has nominated and endorsed candidates for the past 30 years.

Leaders of the group say they will file a charter with secretary of state Crawford Martin this week, probably on Friday.

State law requires that the charter be filed a full year ahead of the first general election in which the party intends to field candidates. In 1966 the general election falls on Nov. 8.

Nominate by Convention The organization will nominate by convention, a source said, and thus avoid the cost of a primary. Present plans call for the nomination of a Negro for U.S. senator, a white liberal for governor and possibly a Mexican-American for lieutenant governor.

Leading the undercover program, which has been discussed in Austin liberal circles since mid-summer, are a number of traditional liberal elements

Bombers Pound Believed Cong Stronghold

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force B-52 bombers, flying at high altitude in waves of three, today pounded a suspected Viet Cong stronghold north of Saigon on the fringe of the Communist area known as the "Iron Triangle."

The raid, 58th of the war, was the second in the past two days against a target believed to be the staging area for Viet Cong troops. It is criss-crossed with tunnels and bunkers.

Correspondents aboard observation planes reported that at least 10 structures were destroyed in the saturation bombing. One body was seen on the ground.

Far to the north of the "Iron Triangle" today, an estimated battalion of guerrillas overran a government outpost at An Nhon. Military spokesmen reported the Vietnamese defenders suffered "moderate casualties" and abandoned the garrison, leaving behind a "moderate" amount of weapons.

The attack at An Nhon, about 330 miles northeast of Saigon, began shortly before dawn. An Air Force pilot flying over the outpost in a light observation plane reported seeing several hundred Viet Cong, withdrawing. An air strike was ordered, but Communist casualties were not reported.

Elsewhere, U.S. Marines on search-and-destroy mission six miles south of Da Nang killed four guerrillas and wounded a fifth Tuesday. The operation, dubbed "Black snake," uncovered a 45-foot tunnel and 11 bunkers.

Leathernecks destroyed several guerrilla traps, including a number of Punki sticks — needle-sharp pieces of bamboo

State Voters Reject Five Constitutional Changes

County Ballot Same As Texas Returns

Gray County voters went along with voters over the state yesterday in rejecting five of the 10 proposed constitutional amendments.

Prompted by campaigns saying politicians keep closer to the people when they have to run more often, voters rejected proposals to make the terms of high state officials and lawmakers four years instead of two.

Voters also turned down, from a list of 10 state constitutional amendments, proposals for higher pay for the lieutenant governor and house speaker, a special tax exemption for Hermann Hospital in Houston and new life for the veterans' land program.

Approval went to amendments to finance college buildings, provide teachers' retirement funds, set up a college student loan fund and provide for compulsory retirement of judges.

The vote by amendments in Gray County: 1,871 for and 606 against; 2,587 for and 810 against; 3,817 for and 682 against; 4,423 for and 1068 against; 5,891 for and 620 against; 6,970 for and 612 against; 7,636 for and 874 against; 8,993 for and 536 against; 9,529 for and 979 against; 10,402 for and 1016 against.

Some 250 more persons turned out in Gray County than has been originally expected. Speculators estimated a turnout of about 1,200, while approximately 1,450 cast their ballots.

Gov. John Connally, who wanted the governor and seven other high state officials to get the longer terms, said "long-range best interest of Texas" was not served by the vote. But he said it is hard to take issue with the results "because I am delighted to have the opportunity to submit myself and my program to the people every two years."

Also in Austin, Roy Evans, secretary-treasurer of the Texas AFL-CIO, said voters' rejection of four-year terms was "a tremendous victory for the people who want to keep government close to the people." Organized labor led the campaign against the longer terms.

Evans said those who wanted the longer terms wanted "controlled government." Evans suggested the vote might prompt more people to run against Connally because his "pet proposal" was turned down.

Lindsay's Election Helps Salvage Some GOP Hopes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. John V. Lindsay gave the GOP its biggest lift since Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower returned from Paris by proving today that the Democrats could be turned out of city hall in New York.

This blow to the Democrats was offset in Tuesday's off-year elections only in part by the election of Democratic governors in New Jersey and Virginia.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes was re-elected in New Jersey by a landslide. Lt. Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr. was elected governor of Virginia by a comfortable plurality, apparently by less than a majority of the vote which was spread among four candidates.

Lindsay, 43-year-old congressman, defeated city controller Abraham D. Beame, 59, a product of New York's Democratic machine, William F. Buckley Jr., a Goldwater Republican and Conservative party candidate who ran to spoil Lindsay's chances, polled less than 15 per cent of the vote. Beame blamed Buckley for his defeat, claiming he siphoned off normally Democratic voters.

Lindsay is the first Republican to be elected mayor of New York since Fiorello H. LaGuardia, another fusion candidate, won 24 years ago.

The New Jersey election was a personal triumph for Hughes, an upset victor in a close election four years ago. This time he defeated state Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr. by a margin of more than 400,000 votes.

Hughes' landslide also swept the Democrats into control of the state Legislature for the first time since 1913. This result left the GOP in control of both houses in only six state legislatures.

William J. Story, Virginia Conservative party candidate and John Birch Society member, trailed in third place and George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi party, came in last.

As expected, the Democrats retained control of the legislatures in Virginia and Kentucky, two of the four states with legislative elections Tuesday.

CUSTOMER IS KING Free Economy System Explained at Banquet

By TEX DEWEESSE The customer is king, "big business" is not a villain and "profit" is not a bad word in the American system of free enterprise, W. F. McCurdy, Sears, Roebuck & Co. executive from Chicago, told an audience of 450 persons at last night's annual membership banquet of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking in the capacity-filled Robert E. Lee Junior High School cafeteria, McCurdy also urged the "getting together of labor and management."

"You can't sink just half a boat," McCurdy said. "We all go down or all stay up together. We have to keep the ship afloat for the very good reason that we are all on it."

Touching on "big business," McCurdy said he hears it assailed from too many places.

"Have you ever heard of a little business that didn't want to grow bigger?" he said. "We have big business because big business can produce more for the enjoyment and the needs of more people."

McCurdy gave this definition of a capitalist: "He is an investor in the American system of free enterprise and there are millions of capitalists. Folks like you here tonight are the capitalists."

The Sears Roebuck official said "profit" was another important word in the businessman's creed.

"You cut out profit," he stated, "and you cut out the heart that circulates the blood in the veins of the American economy."

McCurdy also stressed importance of the customer in today's system of free enterprise.

"When the law of supply and demand is working," he said, "the real boss in our economic system is the customer."

Courtesy and catering to the needs of customers are two of the principal essentials to success of a business, McCurdy advised.

Last night's Chamber of Commerce banquet marked the 40th anniversary of its founding and

Dead Man Chosen City Police Chief

DUBLIN, Pa. (UPI) — A dead man was elected police chief here Tuesday.

Police Chief Eli M. Myers was re-elected by a vote of 571 to 463 over his Democratic opponent, J. Earle Yerkes.

Myers was killed by an automobile while directing traffic last Sunday night.

Indonesia Reds Suspended For Part in Coup

JAKARTA (UPI) — Fifty-seven Communist and leftist members of the Indonesian parliament have been suspended for involvement in the abortive coup of Oct. 1, the official Antara news agency said today.

Those suspended included the No. 2 and No. 3 men in the Indonesian Communist party (PKI) — M. H. Lukman and party theoretician Njoto. Other suspended Communists were Njono, Sudisman, Sudirman and Karel Supit, Antara said.

The leader of the PKI, D. N. Aidit, was not mentioned, apparently because he was a cabinet member without portfolio and not a member of parliament.

Aidit's whereabouts have been a mystery since the start of the coup attempt. The army has said the leaders of the coup intended to let Aidit take over the presidency had their bid for power succeeded and a string of planned assassinations taken place.

Radio Jakarta, without giving names, reported Tuesday night that 57 suspensions from parliament were ordered by house speaker Arudji Kartadinata "in the interests of vigilance and security."

Eastern Panhandle Cotton Harvest Reported Slow

A late planted crop and considerable acreage of replanted hail damaged cotton coupled the practice in recent years of the almost complete harvesting by machines has made the 1965 crop one of the slowest on record. While some defoliation has taken place, most farmers will wait on a killing frost before harvesting and it is hoped that it will be late. An early frost could damage considerably this crop in yield and quality. This is the summation of the Eastern Panhandle crop by the USDA's, Consumer and Marketing Service in Memphis, Texas.

Through Friday, Oct. 22, a seasonal total of 3100 samples were classified compared with 5,400 as of the same date last season, and nearly 46,000 in 1961. This reflects the delay in harvesting even though a good portion of the cotton is open according to K. E. Voelkel in charge of the Memphis Classing office.

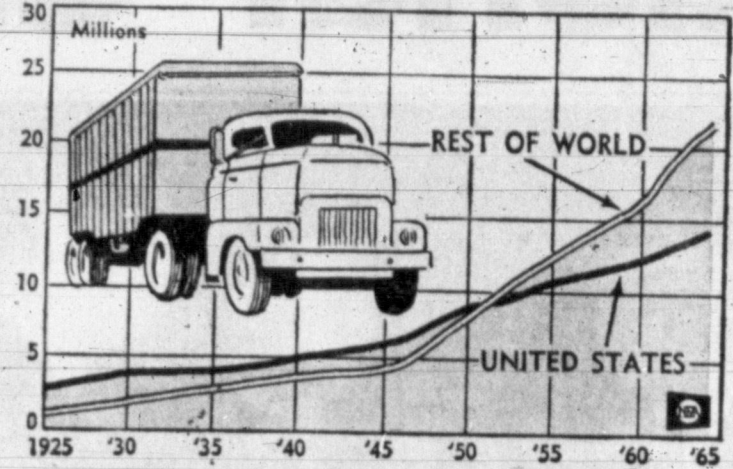

The quality of cotton classed to date was chiefly in the Light Spotted and Spotted categories, with 65 per cent. White grades made up 35 per cent of the ginning. In the White classification, Middling was the predominant grade with 23 percent. Middling Light Spotted with 37 per cent were the prevailing grades in the color group.

State National Guard Platoons Are Reorganized

AUSTIN (UPI)—National Guard platoons in Cleburne, Waxahachie and Brownsville are being reassigned temporarily from the 49th Infantry Division to the 56th Division, Maj. Thomas S. Bishop said today. Bishop, the Texas adjutant general, said the transfers were necessary to bring the 36th, which now forms the "Texas Brigade" up to full strength. The Waxahachie, Cleburne and Brownsville units will return to the 49th Division as soon as the 36th can train new platoons to replace them. Bishop said this will probably take six or seven months. The change means guardsmen in the three platoons will train 72 times a year instead of 48, Bishop said. They will continue to train in their hometowns. He said the Brownsville platoon will be attached to the Corpus Christi Battalion while the Cleburne and Waxahachie units will be attached to a battalion at Waco. Bishop also reported all rifle platoons in the 36th division are being reorganized into brigade form.

Surgical Gloves Found Not Sterile Will Be Seized by Administration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Food and Drug Administration announced today plans to seize 66,000 pairs of surgical gloves which it said were found not to be sterile. The manufacturer moved to recall 6,000 pairs of the contaminated lot that already had been distributed with a label saying the gloves were "radiation sterilized" and ready to use. The FDA said papers calling for seizure of the gloves made by B. F. Goodrich Surgical-Hospital Products, Akron, Ohio, were filed Monday in U.S. District Court at Camden, N.J. The FDA said the gloves were contaminated by microscopic mold. Most of the gloves, packaged by pairs, were said to be stored at the Goodrich installation at Riverside, N.J. The government charged in the seizure proceeding that the label on the packages—"sterile if package unopened and undamaged"—was false and misleading. In 1931, the League of Nations cited Japan for willful aggression in Manchuria.

Liberals

In some areas where both liberal and GOP strength is significant, liberal candidates may be fielded for local races, it was reported.

Only two signatures are needed on the charter to be filed with the state. Two college professors have agreed to sign the document.

The Texas AFL-CIO is strong for Wright's candidacy, but some labor officials say they could support the third-party movement, especially if Carr wins the right to run against Tower.

Russian Satellite Sets Space Station Trail

MOSCOW (UPI) — Another huge Russian satellite orbited earth today on what may be a trail-blazing mission for establishment of a permanent manned space station.

The unmanned shot, named Proton 2, weighed almost 27,000 pounds, tying its predecessor, Proton 1, for the orbital heavyweight record.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Proton 2 was launched Tuesday with "a powerful carrier rocket." The launch vehicle was believed similar to the "new booster" which orbited Proton 1 last July 16.

There was speculation that other rockets of the same type are being used by the Soviets in their current test program in the Pacific. Two separate programs are being carried out in the Soviets' Pacific test range.

The Russians are expected to use these powerful rockets, which they claim can develop more than 60 million horsepower, to launch multi-manned spaceships and space stations. In Washington, U.S. officials said the launch of a second

Pioneer Increases Quarterly Dividend

AMARILLO (Spl) — The board of directors of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., at a meeting here Tuesday, increased the regular quarterly dividend on the outstanding common stock to 17 cents per share up from 16 cents per share previously paid, a 6 per cent increase. The increased dividend is payable Dec. 2, to stockholders of record on Nov. 19 this year.

President C. I. Wall stated consolidated net income for the first nine months of 1965 amounted to $5,921,849, or 83 cents per share, compared to $6,504,087, or 91 cents per share for the first nine months of 1964, restated to reflect the two for one stock split in October, 1964.

The U.S. military command reported today that 23 Americans were killed in action against Communist forces last week. Another 144 U.S. servicemen were wounded in action and two others officially listed as missing or captured.

Vietnamese forces lost 363 killed, 773 wounded and 63 missing or captured.

But the allied forces gave much better than they got. Communist losses for the week were placed at 1,264 killed and 133 captured.

American air action against Communist targets in South Viet Nam was heavy during the 24 hours ending early today. In addition to the B52 raid, Air Force and Marine pilots flew 370 tactical sorties.

Walter Rogers Reports:

Congress Steps Back, Takes Look at Itself

(No. 1 in a Series)
In the session of Congress just concluded, a joint committee of House and Senate members spent many hours conducting hearings to review the organization of the United States Congress. The purpose of the study was to make a full and complete survey of the organization and operation of the Congress and to make recommendations for, in the words of the Resolution establishing the joint committee, "strengthening the Congress, simplifying its operations, improving its relationships with other branches of the United States Government, and enabling it better to meet its responsibilities under the Constitution." The committee's recommendations are to be prepared in coming weeks for submission early in the Session beginning in January.

The work is some of the most important being done in the 89th Congress because preserving Congress as an effective legislative body is absolutely essential to our system of Government. There has been a mounting feeling among many Members of both the House and Senate that certain procedures have become outdated and in need of remedy, that new, more efficient methods of work could be substituted without changing the basic nature of Congress. It is important, of course, that the fundamental precepts laid down in the Constitution not be affected by any misguided effort to "improve" Congress. The suggestions for reform offered by the many Senate and House members are too numerous to detail in the short space of this newsletter. Fifteen pages of an interim report issued by the Joint Committee on the Organization of Congress are required merely to summarize the variety of proposals offered. However, I would like to indicate the scope of these suggestions of "reform" that is under study.

Many of the proposals have to do with rearranging the Congressional workload so that more work can be accomplished with greater efficiency. One suggestion that will receive close attention on this point is scheduling a session so that the majority of the time early in the year is devoted to committee work and a majority of time later in the year is spent on "floor" work, in meetings of the full House and Senate. Now, the practice is generally for meetings to be devoted to committee work and afternoons to meetings in the Capitol of the two houses. Another proposal recognizing the year-round nature of Congress in these days of pressing domestic and foreign problems would write into law the annual basis on which Congress is to meet and would provide definite recess periods during the year, permitting Members to return to their home districts in those intervals.

Other procedures have been suggested to speed up the method of considering legislation when the House and Senate are meeting. Among these is the extremely controversial proposal to provide for electronic voting in the House of Representatives. Some twenty State legislatures permit "push-button" voting and there is no disputing the fact that it is a more rapid means of deciding issues than the present Congressional system under which clerks call out an alphabetical roll of members' names and the "yeas" and "nays" are voiced and recorded. However, the great weight of tradition is behind the roll call system in Congress and I predict many other streamlining procedures will be adopted ahead of any change in the present voting system.

In the exercise of Congressional supervision over Executive Branch operations (which Congress authorizes and funds), there are several interesting proposals aimed at providing better control. One would authorize a permanent subcommittee on legislative oversight in each standing committee, thus in effect establishing a Congressional "watchdog" over each agency. Another would provide for frequent briefings of Members of Congress by Department officials. Another calls for strong laws to assure congressional access to Executive Branch operations and activities. In next week's newsletter, I will discuss points related to this problem in somewhat greater detail.

Professor Says World Tensions Will Increase

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Dr. Eugene Boardman, history teacher at the University of Oklahoma, predicts world tensions will continue unless the United States and her Western allies initiate some changes in regard to policy with Communist China. Boardman urged the U.S. to develop trade and cultural relations with China to establish a better understanding between the two nations. Speaking Saturday night at Oklahoma City University under the sponsorship of the American Friends Service Committee, Boardman said that "a high per cent of China's budget will be spent for arms if relations with the U.S. do not improve."

And a great emphasis will continue to be placed on nuclear arms," he said. "This is going to cause tension."

Laredo Poorest City in Nation

By PRESTON McGraw
LAREDO, Tex. (UPI)—Laredo, a pleasant border city where many front yards have palm trees and two shades of bougainvillea, also has the reputation of being the poorest city in the United States.

Government experts think that real poverty begins when income drops below $3,000 a year for a family of about 3.2 persons. The average income in Laredo is $945 a year.

Since there are well-to-do and middle-class residents, a lot of people in Laredo have to live on less than $945 a year.

The climate is warm almost year round, taxes are low and by buying vegetables and meat in Mexico, where prices are lower, a poor family can live more comfortably in Laredo than in the Midwest.

Two Meals Daily
But even so, many families live in two rooms and Mexican-American families tend to be big eaters—only two meals a day of the commonest food and wear the shabbiest clothes.

Wages are low. The unemployment rate in Webb County, of which Laredo is the county seat, is the highest in Texas and compared with the highest rates over the rest of the Southwest.

In short, Laredo could well have been the place government economic experts had in mind when they wrote the anti-poverty program.

National Window

By LYLE WILSON
Barry Goldwater is prepared to go a long way with outstretched hand toward liberal Republicans including those who bolted in the 1964 campaign. But he is unable to accept John V. Lindsay of New York.

Some correspondence with Goldwater will illustrate his point of view. I wrote to him after Lindsay was nominated for mayor of New York by the Republican and Liberal parties. I cited to Goldwater a speech delivered by Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, R-Md., and placed in the June 17, 1965 Congressional Record. Among other statements, Morton said this:

"We are terribly undermanned and understaffed in Washington. We need, and I believe the national interest of the United States needs, more Republicans in Washington. I mean all Republicans, moderate, liberal and fusion. To fail to support any Republican, in any city, or state, for any office, is to give aid and comfort to a party that accepts such divergent leaders as Hubert Humphrey and Bull Connor, Walter Reuther and James Eastland, Averell Harriman and Adam Clayton Powell."

I asked Goldwater to comment on Lindsay and on Morton's speech. He replied in part:

"I don't believe I could go along with the Rogers Morton statement in toto, but because I have said substantially the same thing for many years, I would be wrong in taking up a position totally against him. For example, I have raised money for Javits, Keating, Case and Kuchel (four liberal Republican U.S. senators) because I felt, and still do, that Republican bodies in the Congress are important because you do not affect the course of government until you control committees."

"Now, however, when we get around to a man like Lindsay who proposes to run as a non-Republican, but still keeps enough of the party brand as to possibly ask favors should he win, I'm afraid I must take a walk."

"Last, suppose Lindsay wins in New York, will he then claim he is a Republican or will he continue to head a facet of the liberal establishment while doing damage to the Republican name? I can't conceive for the life of me how a man like this could ever receive consideration from a national committee."

All hands should note that Goldwater discriminates carefully between political disagreement and political heresy. He holds Lindsay to be a political heretic whereas he does not find himself fatally in disagreement with such liberal Republican figures as Senators Javits, Keating, Case and Kuchel.

Lindsay's political heresy is demonstrable. It became a fact when he sought and obtained the mayoral nomination of New York's Liberal Party. The Liberal Party is an honorable party. Its leaders are good intelligent citizens. But they and their party would move the United States directly and faster toward a government of centralized welfarism, a system of leave-it-to-big-daddy. Most Republicans and all conservatives are against that.

Liberal and Republican political principles will not mix. What Lindsay's principles may be is a question for him to answer. Lindsay, of course, is an honorable man. Perhaps he does not see that inevitable collision course between Republican Party and Liberal Party principles. If he does not see, then he is not merely honorable. He also is blind.

By United Press International
NEW YORK—Copper Range Co. boosted its price for primary copper by two cents to 38 cents per pound, becoming the first U.S. copper company to do so since the Chilean government late last month ordered a two-cent hike on copper produced there.

Other U.S. producers remained at 36 cents per pound, except for Anaconda Co. which is selling at a composite price based on its domestically mined metal and its higher-priced Chilean production brought here. There was no immediate White House comment regarding the Copper Range move.

The top increase for plant employees will be $4.50, compared to a top weekly increase of $3 per week for traffic employees. The minimum increase for both classifications is $2.

The agreement also included the upgrading of both plant and traffic departments at Boulder and Durango, Colo.; Albuquerque, Alamogordo, Clovis, Farmington, Gallup and Las Cruces, N.M.; Logan, Utah and Rock Springs, Wyo.

CULTURE PACT DANGER MOSCOW (UPI)—The United States officially told the Kremlin Tuesday that Moscow's refusal to live up to the Soviet-American cultural exchange agreement endangers the future of the pact.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman linked the Soviet refusal with the Viet Nam conflict and with Communist party Secretary Leonid Brezhnev's recent comment that Soviet-American relations "are obviously tending toward freezing."

ANTI-WORK ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Joe Mansfield of Boston, 24, a senior psychology student at the University of New Mexico, burned his Social Security card Tuesday to protest policies "which require one to work for a living."

Mansfield urged 150 other students who watched the burning to burn their Social Security cards, but they only jeered.

ERLANDER VISIT STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Sweden's Prime Minister Tage Erlander will fly to the United States Wednesday for a 10-day visit. The Foreign Ministry announced Monday. Erlander is expected to discuss international issues and American-Swedish relations during meetings with Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Mexican Leftist Magazine Praises Recent Attack on Army Outpost

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The leftist magazine "Politica" today praised the guerrillas killed in a Mexican army post in Chihuahua as "honorable men."

The magazine, which classified itself as leftist and socialistic and follows a rigidly anti-American editorial policy, said in a column by Jose Santos Valdes.

The leftist guerrillas attacked the army post at Ciudad Madera, a lumbering town in the mountains about 180 miles southwest of El Paso, Tex., at dawn Sept. 24. They killed six soldiers in a three-hour battle. The troops counterattacked and killed eight guerrillas, and the rest fled into the mountains.

The magazine said some reports called the guerrillas communists or Castroites.

"It should be made very clear that Prof. Arturo Garris (the leader of the Guerrillas, who was among those killed) repeatedly insisted that his fight was not against the federal government, but against the political regime which still governs the state of Chihuahua so badly," with Gen. Praxedes Giner Duran at its head," the magazine said.

Gen. Giner Duran is governor of Chihuahua.

Chihuahua authorities said at the time that the guerrillas would not have picked a federal army post as their target, the sixth attack by the gang and the second against the army.

SINGAPORE (UPI) — A seven-man American trade mission flew in Tuesday from Kuala Lumpur "to open channels for deeper and longer trade links" between Singapore and the United States.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Gov. James A. Rhodes proposed Tuesday that Ohio veterans of the war in Viet Nam, and possibly of the Dominican republic's civil war, be paid state bonuses.

LONDON (UPI) — Princess Margaret leaves Thursday for a 17-year-old wish for the Americas. She first wanted to go to America when she was 18 out her parents, the late King George VI and the present Queen Mother, were advised it would cause too much of a security problem.

The trip is the fulfillment of a 17-year-old wish for the Americas. She first wanted to go to America when she was 18 out her parents, the late King George VI and the present Queen Mother, were advised it would cause too much of a security problem.

The Snowdens, both 35, will fly out to San Francisco with a lady-in-waiting, a personal maid, an equerry and a valet. The princess is taking a selection of her dazzling jewels and a gorgeous new wardrobe, featuring her favorite yellows, creams and blues.

Their children, David Viscount Linley, 4 today, and Lady Sarah Armstrong-Jones, one and a half years old, are staying behind. The royal parents changed the departure date planned for them so that they would not miss the birthday.

Delegation leader Roy Goober, director of the trade division of the U.S. Department of Commerce, is primarily concerned with "long term objectives."

Rhodes said he asked the state auditor and attorney general to determine the legal questions and financial requirements involved, and whether a statewide vote would be needed.

Another leading member of the royal family is to follow soon in her footsteps. Her

When British Prime Minister Harold Wilson left Salisbury, Rhodesia, last week end he had gained the one thing he could have hoped for from his hurried trip from London — time.

Foreign Commentary

Not since the American colonies declared unilateral independence in 1776 had a British leader faced a similar situation.

And, indeed, in Salisbury's prosperous shops, on its shaded, pleasant streets and on its golf courses, the whites of Rhodia, outnumbered 18 to 1 by blacks, talked of Rhodesian independence almost as though it already were an accomplished fact.

In the closing, suspenseful days of October it appeared that both Wilson and Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith were locked in inflexible positions from which neither could retreat.

— Smith in his demands that the self-governing colony be given independence now under a constitution which guaranteed continuing rule by Rhodesia's 220,000 whites over its 4 million blacks.

— Wilson in his equally adamant stand that independence only could come with guarantees for eventual black majority rule.

Pioneer Tradition
For Smith, whose father had hacked his farm out of the African bush and others like him, for small businessmen and artisans who had emigrated from England to find a new and prosperous way of life south of the Sahara, it was unthinkable that all this now should be turned over to the mercies of a black government.

The alternative was UDI, a unilateral declaration of independence.

For the British, dedicated to a policy of black African independence and with far-flung commonwealth ties, UDI was equally unpalatable.

So intertwined were the issues in national sentiments, that retreat by either Wilson or Smith would mean the fall of a government.

The problems went beyond the borders of Rhodesia. Economically, Britain could halt the import of Rhodesian tobacco, the colony's greatest earner of foreign exchange. It could cut off Rhodesia's commonwealth preferences such as in the export of sugar, it could freeze Rhodesian assets in Britain and it could block Rhodesian access to the London money market.

Sanctions High Speed
Unfortunately, while such sanctions might hurt Rhodesia's white population, it would hurt the blacks even more and could extend across boundaries to Malawi, formerly the colony of Nyasaland, and to Zambia, formerly Northern Rhodesia.

More than 150,000 Malawis now work in Rhodesia, sending home around $1 million per month.

Zambia's rich copper industry depends upon Rhodesian electricity and upon transport on the Rhodesian-controlled railway.

In Salisbury, Wilson and Smith agreed that a royal commission would study possible constitutional changes.

Short of immediate power, no changes will satisfy militant black Africans. But Wilson has gained precious time.

Dear Abby....

Christmas Cards Need Your Return Address

DEAR ABBY: Every year I receive several Christmas cards from friends of long-standing with little notes written on the bottom saying, "Why don't you ever write to us and let us know something about you?" This is frustrating to say the least because, much as I'd like to, I can't! These people have moved from their last addresses, have left no forwarding addresses, and nowhere on their envelopes are their new addresses so, consequently the cards and letters are returned to me.

It takes only a moment to jot down one's address on the corner of the envelope. Please, Abby, won't you remind people to write their return addresses on their Christmas cards this year?

JUST MARY

DEAR JUST: Yes — but why only on Christmas cards? If you could see the mountain of mail (not to mention packages) that are "all addressed up" and no place to go because of insufficient or careless addressing, and no return address, you would weep.

DEAR ABBY: Siegfried and I have been married for 16 years and all of a sudden he has become a problem. He gets very fresh with me, even in the presence of our children. Siegfried is 44 and I am 36. I have never referred his advances at the proper time and place, but he is getting ridiculous! When he is home he does not leave me alone a minute. He is always following me around, whispering intimate suggestions in my ear, putting his arms around me, and so on. I am not a cold woman, Abby, but when Siegfried acts this way in front of other people, I get very nervous and up set. What could be wrong with him? He never carried on this way before. I have heard that men go through a "change" at a certain age just like women do. Could that be it?

DEAR FRAU: There is a possibility that there is something physically wrong with Siegfried, and he should have a thorough check-up by a competent physician. If your husband is found to be physically fit, and only his judgment is out of focus, lecture him privately, and practice your footwork in public.

DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day, but that letter signed "Sniffy" hits an all-time high.

The very idea of that woman saying she can tell the minute she walks into a room if there are any dog owners present! I have owned dogs all my life, and they are as clean as I am! If anyone ever told me he could tell I was a dog owner by the way I smelled, that would be the end of our friendship.

I have worked for, with, and supervised people who have needed a deodorant far worse than any dog I've been near. In fact, I used to give a girl a ride to work, and had to drive with all the windows down in the middle of winter. I have never found it necessary to do this because I've had a dog in the car.

BURNED-UP IN ILLINOIS

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SIS-SIE" IN BOULDER: Yes, college girls are wearing their skirts shorter this winter. And if they get much shorter, the boys will be looking longer.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Preparing Your Garden For Winter

(This article was presented to the Top O' Texas Garden Club as a program by Mrs. Fauncine Mack.)

Winter injury is usually attributable to two factors: either to severe cold or to the loss of moisture from shoots and branches.

Extreme cold will cause the twigs, stems and roots to freeze, with a consequent breaking down of the cell tissues.

Excessive loss of moisture, which is quite as frequently a cause of winter-killing as is severe cold, is due largely to the effect of strong, drying winds during periods of brilliant winter sunshine.

Therefore, one of the most important preparations for winter in the case of all woody plants, and most particularly in the case of broadleaved evergreens, is to see that the soil is adequately supplied with moisture. If rainfall has been light during the autumn months, it will be necessary to see that the ground is thoroughly soaked before it freezes. Many trees and shrubs may be saved from winter injury if this precaution is taken.

During autumn clean-up, the simple business of removing the litter that has surely accumulated in some of the right places is more important than most ordinary sanitation procedures (spraying and taking leaves off lawns).

Under shrubs, for instance, the ordinary litter of the garden year will do no harm—may even remain to break down and nourish the plants, to protect shrub roots and to conserve moisture.

The danger, even with presumably clean vegetable litter in the autumn, is that many a malign insect may take shelter beneath, and many a harmful spore or bacterium may find a protected place in which to multiply, or rest, or both.

The following will give a few hints on some of the plants grown in our area:

Roses — "One of the first preparations for winter" should be to see that the soil is well supplied with moisture. It is a wise precaution to rake and destroy all fallen leaves and bits of twig in order to prevent them from harboring bacterial and fungus diseases. Soil may be brought into the beds and mounded up about the bushes to a height of from 10 to 12 inches. This will afford considerable protection about the crown and will also prevent the wood and buds of the lower portion of the stem from drying out. After the ground has frozen, a mulch of salt hay, straw, manure or some similar material may be spread over the beds. It is important that the mulch should not be applied until after the ground has frozen. (America's Garden Book)

Peonies — These are notoriously susceptible to a form of botrytis blight that prevents opening of flower buds. The spores of this infection spend the winter in and on dead peony stalks just above ground level. If you cut off all dead peony foliage just below ground level the risk of infecting new growth next spring will be considerably minimized. (From October issue of House and Garden)

Chrysanthemums — The purpose of preparing spent chrysanthemum clumps for winter is to preserve them safely so that you can make your own cuttings or divisions against next season's needs.

The reason for making new cuttings each spring is in part to have better plants with bigger blossoms and in part to fend off the blights that tend to carry over from one season to another on any kind of live clump or division—but not on cuttings rooted from new spring growth.

In most temperate climates, where most of the garden varieties are hardy enough to winter temperatures, protection from ice over the crowns and avoidance of water-logging is essential to good survival.

It is therefore recommended: (1) to cut back all dead stems to a couple of inches; (2) to renew all labels; (3) to hoe out shallow trenches between plants so that any natural slopes of the land will complete the drainage job; and (4) to drift a good but airy layer of salt marsh hay or straw mulch over the individual crowns.

On dead level ground you might do well to dig the clumps and reset them to about half their former depth, so water will drain away just the same. Mound the earth up over the roots to the former soil level. (From November issue of House and Garden)

Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

In 1954 a group of Pampa men, just plain, ordinary folk, decided it was time the youth of the city had a place to go to help keep them out of trouble and help develop their athletic abilities.

Club Founded

During that year, on March 25, to be exact, the Pampa Optimist Club was founded. The Optimist are still working and looking out for the youth of Pampa.

John Clark was the first president of the club but it was Joe Fortin and Buck Frances, a baseball player, and sports writer, who helped organize the club.

Frances has since moved from Pampa and Fortin, working the hours of the salesman, decided he couldn't devote enough time to his first love, the youth, and has dropped out of the club.

Baseball was the first step taken by the club members to give the Pampa youths something to do. And they couldn't have had better instructors than people like Fortin and Newt Secrest, a couple of former professional baseball players.

The little leaguers have grown by leaps and bounds in Pampa and there are now an American and National League teams with every boy in the city eligible to play, regardless of color, creed or religion.

The Optimist club home is now the site of two new projects started just this year by club members Paul Gobin and George Massey.

Weightlifting classes are being held every Thursday night and on Friday nights judo, takes the spotlight.

All Sports

The classes are open to the public, not just youths and anyone may join in.

Football and basketball teams have been formed by the Pampa Optimist and the football season, just over was the most successful, participation-wise, the club has ever had.

There are actually two Optimist clubs in the city, the Evening Optimist and the Sundown club, both meeting different nights of the week, both working together for the youth.

Then there are the Opti-Mrs. who certainly rate more words than this column has room to give them.

To touch on a few of the things these ladies do: Give a $300 college scholarship to a Pampa High School student; sponsor a girls softball program every summer and just a month ago the ladies raised money to help buy a hospital bed for young Tommy McDonald, injured in August in a car accident.

Tommy's dad, Bill, is a member of the Optimist and the club and the ladies went halves on the bed for Tommy's home.

The evening Optimist meet every Monday night at Jim's Steak House and at the present time have a membership drive underway.

If you have a hankering to help the youth of this city, like to manage a basketball, football or baseball team and like the comradeship of a group of men, such as belong to the Optimist, show up Monday night and join up.

They eat pretty good too.

LOS ANGELES (UP) — The Dodgers have been involved in all four of the National League's pennant playoffs, losing three and winning one.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A crowd of more than 100,000 attended the National Rifle Shooting Championships at Creedmoor, N.Y., in 1873.

Amarillo Ground Game to Test Harvester Defensive Line Friday

By RON CROSS
News Sports Editor
Amarillo will bring to Harvester Stadium Friday night one of the most potent ground games the Harvesters have faced this year.

In five league games the Sandies have rushed for 1137 ground yards and added 202 in the air for 1338 total yards, an average of 267 a game.

The Sandies are fourth in total offense only to Monterey, Palo Duro and Lubbock.

Put this offensive charge with the Sandies defensive powers and you have the No. 2 club in District 3-4A.

Amarillo has given up but 533 yards on the ground and 336 in the air.

Pampa stands dead last in total defense and next to last in total offense. The Harvesters have scored but three times in their last four games and have been blanked in two of the four.

This might lead one to think some changes are due offensively for the Harvesters, considering the fact Lubbock had little trouble, seemingly, moving them down 28-0 last week.

Pampa quarterback Roy Harper had by far his worst night of the year against the Westerners, having a pass intercepted on the goal line and fumbling the ball on an important fourth down play.

But Harper moved his club well taking them on two long marches that the interception and fumble marred.

Too, fullback Ted Heiskell was used mostly as a decoy, carrying only six times, good for only 15 yards.

Little Joey Roden was again

Pampa's top ball carrier with 48 yards on nine carries.

Pampa's pass protection was better with Ramsey moving David Martindale to a linebacking spot and Harper to a cornerman.

Lubbock did have much success against the Pampans in the line, gaining 204 ground yards, the most Pampa has given up this year.

Amarillo is not overly big, with an average weight from end to end of only 170 pounds per man and the backfield weight smaller at 165 pounds per man.

But the Sandies do have one of the most dangerous runners in the conference in 170 pound fullback Mark Tiffany.

The senior has carried 72 times for 404 yards and a 5.6 average. His closest rival is halfback Mike Brewer, a 165-pounder with 404 yards on 60 carries and a 6.1 average.

It has been said it will be easier to get the Harvesters "up" for the Sandies than vice versa.

Such may have been the case in three of the past four years. Pampa won in 1961-62-63, and lost last year 14-0.

The Sandies haven't won in Pampa since 1957 when they walloped the Harvesters, 46-6.

Clay, Party Hit Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—The potentate of boxing, Muhammad Ali who doesn't answer to Cassius Clay, and his royal retinue were settled down today in their aptly named headquarters, the El Morocco.

A motel rather than a palace, the El Morocco is located directly across the highway from the garish Stardust Hotel. That's where Heavyweight Champion Clay will do his training for the Nov. 22 bout with challenger Floyd Patterson.

Business-like Manager Angelo Dundee arranged a program for Clay on his first day calling for the champion to take his roadwork early in the morning, take a look around this tourist center and then go into the ring at 1 p.m. for his first Las Vegas workout.

Patterson, who had taken Monday and Tuesday off, also prepared to resume his training later in the day at the Thunderbird Hotel, down the highway a few blocks.

Clay flew into Las Vegas Tuesday afternoon with his party of 14 persons after a stopover in Los Angeles where the champion in typical fashion told what he intended doing to Patterson when they get into the ring at the convention center later this month.

"I'm going to punish Patterson so completely he won't have any excuses," the champion said during the stopover on his flight from Miami, Fla. "I want to see him cut, bruised, his ribs caved in and then knocked out. I'm going to punish him for seven or eight rounds."

Clay was irritated over Patterson's attacks on his affiliation with the Black Muslims sect and the ex-champion's declaration that he intended winning to "bring the crown back to America." John Shabazz, Muslim minister in Los Angeles, and several followers met Clay in Los Angeles. "I don't know what he means," the champion said. "I'm an American. But he's a deaf, dumb and blind so-called Negro who needs a spanking."

"I plan to make him an example to the world. I'm going to punish him for the things he said about me in the magazines."

Clay, however, had kinder words for ex-champion Sonny Liston, whose title he lifted in Miami, declaring Liston was "the best fighter in the world besides me. He would knock out Patterson again if they met."

Pros Arrive For Hawaiian Open

HONOLULU (UPI) — Pros assembled for the $50,000 Hawaiian Open got their first taste of competition on toughened Waialae Country Club course today with the $5,000 Del Webb Pro-Am warmup.

Officials listed 56 pros and 168 amateurs in the foursome which went out today just after sunup.

It was difficult to find anyone willing to predict a winner in the four-day open, which begins Thursday.

Final Check

About 150 mainland and foreign pros were in the field, which was being checked a final time by PGA authorities Tuesday to determine if a couple of the golfers filed their applications too late to qualify.

Big money winners in the tourney included Billy Casper, Al Geiberger and Bruce Crampton.

Casper, third in overall winnings with $97,706 thus far, needs a fourth place or better in the tourney to push past the $100,000 plateau this year.

Geiberger is in 10th place with $57,779 and Crampton is in 11th place with $54,774.

White Deer Shoots For Ninth Straight

Unbeaten White Deer shoots for their ninth straight victory Friday night against Canadian, team that is win hungry.

The Wildcats are looking for their first victory after eight straight losses. Their hopes seem dim against a classy team like the Bucks.

Last Friday White Deer completely demolished Wellington's hopes for a 2-A district title by bombing the Skyrockets, 40-0.

The Bucks became the first team to score more than one touchdown against Wellington and only the second team to score against them.

White Deer has now scored five shutouts and boast a 3.2 average, having given up but 26 points.

Offensively the Bucks are the best in the Panhandle area with 295 total points, an average of 37 per game.

Canadian has scored but 24 points this season and have given up 232. The Wildcats have a 3.0 per game offensive average and a 29 point per game defensive mark.

McLean, winners of three of eight games and 1-2 in conference action, won their first league contest, 28-22 last week against Clarendon.

Friday night in what should be the Tigers meet Wellington an exciting contest. White Deer beat McLean 48-0 earlier in the season.

In district 5-B Groom is now in the top spot after spoiling Wheeler's perfect 7-0 record last week.

The Tigers journey to Lefors, a team known for pulling the big upset. The Pirates have won only one of seven games and fell 16-6 to Booker last week.

Wheeler will try to get back on the winning track when the Mustangs host Miami, having only a 3-0 season.

The Warriors are 2-4 for the season and 0-3 in league action.

Breedlove Vows to Break 600 Barrier

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (UPI)—Speed king Craig Breedlove vowed today to beat off the challenge of daring Art Arfons by pushing his jet-powered racer past the magic 600 mile per hour barrier.

Breedlove regained the elusive world land speed record Tuesday in two suspense-filled runs over western Utah's salt flats in which he averaged 555 miles per hour — 19 miles per hour better than Arfons' previous record of 536 M.P.H.

The 28-year-old Los Angeles speedster ended a series of frustrations and personal disappointments by recapturing the title he held on three previous occasions.

INDIANAPOLIS REPEATERS

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Only three drivers have scored consecutive victories in the gruelling Indianapolis "500" auto race. The repeaters were Wilbur Shaw in 1939-40, Mauri Rose, in 1947-48 and Bill Vukovich in 1953-54.

Origin of Spikes

NEW YORK (UPI)—William Curtis introduced the first spiked shoes ever used at a track meet in the United States during the first American indoor meet here in 1886.

Buffs Host Drake Bulldogs

CANYON — After winning its first five games, West Texas State will take a two-game losing streak into this Saturday's final home game of 1965 against Drake University of Des Moines, Iowa. The Bulldogs record is also 5-2.

Although the Buffs dropped a 27-12 decision to Memphis State in Memphis last weekend, the coaches felt the team played pretty well overall and was mostly just "outhorsed."

Drake, just as have the five previous opponents of the Panhandle team, has an outstanding quarterback in Ron Royer. For the past five weekends, the West Texas State defense has had to contend with John Goodman of Arizona State, Les Obie of Trinity, Jon Henderson of Colorado State University, Sal Olivias of New Mexico State and Billy Fletcher of Memphis State. Royer's record ranks with any of the aforementioned group and he may be just as hard to stop. He has amassed 1,038 yards in total offense in seven games, 199 of which has been gained on the ground. His passing record is 51 completions in 98 tries for 839 yards and seven touchdowns.

Buffalo quarterback Hank Washington hit 10 targets at Memphis to bring his season's total to 88, two more completions than former record-holder Jim "Corky" Dawson of Borger had in 1960. Both Buff ends, Ted Wheeler and Roy Armentrout, surpassed the record for catches in one season against the Tigers. Wheeler now has 25 receptions for 227 yards and Armentrout has 24 for 343. The record was set by Bill Cross in 1950. Cross still holds the yardage mark of 456 although Armentrout needs only 114 in the final three games to shatter that mark.

One big thing the Bulldogs will have going for them this weekend is momentum while the Buffs will need to build some. Drake has lost only to Iowa State, 21-0, and Western Kentucky, 28-21, this season. Since they won their last five games in 1964 that means the Bulldogs have won 10 of their last 12. They handled Abilene Christian with ease, 24-7, last weekend and as a matter of fact, all of their wins have been by at least 14 points.

Only in their opening loss to Iowa State have the Bulldogs been held to less than 17 points. Their average output is 20.7 compared to 18 for WTSU. Reports from Des Moines say the victory over Abilene Christian was "the Bulldogs best game of the year. Fullback Ray Brown (437 yards rushing) and end Manley Sarnowsky (29 catches; 51 points) complement Royer very effectively and will certainly be a stiff challenge to the "Unfriendly Society, the WTSU defensive unit which was pushed about a bit in the recent defeats.

Another gloomy note in Canyon is the fact that the Buffs lost two members of the Society to injury. Safety Steve Haterius suffered a dislocated shoulder and guard Marc Allen, who won the MVP award for his work against New Mexico State, received a broken bone. Both are probably out for the season.

Looking for a Legislative Lull

Now that one of the most active congressional sessions in concluded, people are wondering what the 89th Congress will do for an encore when its second session gets under way next year.

There would seem to be very little left to do. The Great Society has been launched on a tide of laws whose ripples will be felt for decades.

The presidential proposals which Congress turned down can be counted on the fingers of one hand — such as repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law, raising the minimum wage, home rule for the District of Columbia.

The answer given by most observers is that Congress will do very little major lawmaking in 1966, although President Johnson says he will put a "Must" label on about 23 bills in another Great Society package.

Compared to the energetic first session, however, even this will amount to more or less tidying up of legislative odds and ends and correction of shortcomings and inefficiencies in some of the Great Society programs. The overall impression will be of sober, moderate Democratic leadership which deserves approbation at the polls come November.

The real question in 1966 will be whether it will get it.

The people have given a president a majority of his own party in the legislative branch before, although seldom so decisively as they did in 1964.

Traditionally, however, they have taken away or reduced that majority in nonpresidential election years.

If President Johnson can convince the voters to break that pattern in 1966, and give him another top-heavy Democratic Congress for 1967 and 1968, it will be an accomplishment fully as impressive as the uses to which he has put the present Congress.

Needed: A Good Set of Brakes

"We've done enough TO the American people." So said Senator John J. Williams (R-Del.) in the closing hours of the first session of the 89th Congress as he urged his fellow-lawmakers to call it a night and go home.

The Senator's choice of prepositions is interesting. He didn't say "FOR the American people." His use of the word "to" sounds ominous.

Regardless of the merits of the legislation enacted, the fact remains that during the 42-week session the Congress voted to spend $119 billion of the taxpayers' money. Judged strictly from a dollars-and-cents viewpoint, it would indeed seem that the Congress had "done enough to the American people" for one year, at least in the field of social welfare.

Whether the Congress did much FOR the people remains to be seen. The Administration set lofty goals and we do not question the goals.

The real question is: Can a governmental welfare program continue to expand without limit and yet not endanger the incentive nature of our society?

Federal, state and local expenditures for social welfare were under $6 billion in 1945; for the year ending last June 30 they were $47 billion. Where is the stopping point? How much can the American people pay for?

We would be inclined to agree with the newsletter of a New York bank which states that while "welfare in today's complex society needs a powerful engine, it also needs a good set of brakes."

Are You Cultured?

Have you ever attended a professional theatrical performance? A real live professional opera? Or, a professional dance presentation? If you haven't, then you are officially uncultured. The National Arts Council says so. And we suppose it must be true because the National Arts Council conducted a survey which shows, according to them, that out of 771 American cities with 25,000 or more residents, only 131 had a chance to hear a professional symphony orchestra, only 157 a professional theatrical performance, only 84 a professional opera, and only 117 had the chance to see, in person, a professional dance presentation. Thank goodness, Pampa is among the cities that do not suffer from a complete lack of culture.

The purpose of the survey was to show the need for $17,910,000 tax dollars which will be used by the newly-established National Arts and Humanities Foundation can start culturing all us poor boobies who've missed out on such things. And Chairman Stevens of the Arts Council assured the House Appropriations Subcommittee that part of the money provided to the new National Arts Foundation would be used for "sponsorship of tours of performing arts organizations into cities and towns which have seldom had such opportunities." Pampa doesn't need that kind of federal tax aid.

We're doing very well with Community Concert Association productions, financed privately by local membership.

We suppose it depends on just how much money they get how far and wide and thick or thin this new national bureaucracy will be able to spread its culture. It may be that some are just doomed to remain government-sponsored uncultured.

But we noticed just the other day that there are still rows of cultured books that we have never found time to read. And it won't take an appropriation of $17 million to get us to read them when we have the time.

Kennedy Speeches Serving As "Trial-Balloons" Aimed at Shaping Foreign Policy by Public Opinion

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Senator Robert Kennedy is playing an intriguing role in shaping U. S. foreign policy.

He is launching "trial balloons" for foreign policy makers in the Johnson administration to test congressional and public reaction on controversial disarmament and political movements now under secret study.

The dual purpose of Kennedy's speeches and statements, carefully prepared with help from the State Department and U.S. Arms Control Agency, is to influence President Johnson's decisions, and to develop a wide consensus for proposed shifts in policy.

If the policy changes advocated by Kennedy win wide approval, the plan calls for President Johnson's advisers to immediately press to make these proposals official U. S. policy.

Should a "trial balloon" encounter pronounced opposition, the strategy is to delay efforts to get President Johnson's approval until the criticism can be stilled or the policy altered to gain the backing of Congress and the public.

The first Kennedy foreign policy foray was his October 13 pronouncement that Red China be asked to participate in the Geneva disarmament talks in January, in line with new "political action on a grand scale" to achieve an international agreement to halt the proliferation of nuclear weapons.

If the Chinese Communists accept, the New York Democratic Senator argued, the Geneva talks "will be more meaningful."

HOW IT WORKS—Original source of Kennedy's startling proposal is highly significant.

It was drafted in the office of Disarmament Director William C. Foster and was "leaked" to the one-time Attorney General with the knowledge and approval of Foster and Secretary of State Rusk.

While the speech was not cleared with President Johnson, Kennedy showed a copy of it on October 11 to McGeorge Bundy, special foreign policy adviser to the President. According to administration insiders, Bundy approved it but said nothing about it to the President, who at the time was in the Naval Hospital in nearby Bethesda, Md.

The "Peking invitation" is the core of a controversial "stick and carrot" China policy now being shaped within the Johnson administration in connection with diplomatic efforts to end the war in Viet Nam.

The proposed new China policy entails the "use of U. S. force and — or economic aid and negotiations" to curb Peiping's aggressive aims in Southeast Asia.

The over-all "grand design" envisions bringing Red China into the United Nations within two years, clearing the way for that by bringing Peiping into the negotiations to curb the spread of nuclear weapons and

Around the World

By ROBERT MORRIS
Naples, Rome and Geneva

Here in Naples, it is not easy to focus on the whirls of the great struggle of the Twentieth Century. This richly endowed city diverts one by the majesty of her charms, ancient and dusty though they be. Its Greek origin, its gently sloping contours, its precarious lodgment at the foothills of once convulsive Vesuvius and the delightful Southern anchor of its sweeping port, lovely Capri, overwhelm any thoughts of the world struggle. The ruins of Pompeii, lying in the overlapping shadows of the city and the death-dealing volcano, preserve as a grisly testament to the degradations of two thousand years ago, to link ancient and modern moral decay.

But, in eternal Rome, to the north, the lineaments of the colossal encounter become clear. Here one can see, if he lets his eyes prevail, the massive effort mounted in Moscow to neutralize the enduring force of the Catholic Church. Today that effort appears to be succeeding. Many, particularly from the United States, who only a few years ago were in the vanguard of the resistance, are now unaccountably silent and submissive. The "pill" and "the bomb", symbols of sociological and diplomatic ascendancy over the spiritual, are enervating heretofore impregnable spirits.

Yet the forces at the top in Rome are vocal and strong against this trend. Winds from the West, ironically, are in the vanguard of the neutralizing forces. This is particularly true of sectors of the Catholic press, and of the public relations manipulators who consider it their behodlen duty to divert the clear and cogent warnings of high authority and thereby accelerate the neutralization.

Moving on the Geneva, one can see how the underlying formula being applied there works against the West. The reasonable man who represents us keep conceding. Our adversaries remain unyielding, so that all concessions are ours.

Yet back in the United States we read that the demonstrators against our Viet Nam policy are inflaming public opinion. A spirit of impatience is once again rising. People who have not appeared on the resistance scene for years are now speaking out. This is now it can all change once more.

For that reason it is hoped that this is for real and not, as has been reported, a concentrated effort, sparked from on high, to cause the "left-wing" student organizations to divert their energies from foreign policy and canalize them into support for the more radical corollaries of domestic reform.

Just as they were becoming very anxious, they got the reply: "Raised hell and arriving Thursday."

QUESTION: "Can an intelligent, rational man be insulted?"

ANSWER: It has often been said that one of the tests of character is whether you can be insulted or flattered. It is not so difficult to get you a lot of judgment to know whether a man is attempting to flatter you because there are myriad ways of flattering.

The reason an intelligent, rational man can't be insulted is that if he is intelligent and sincere, he will be honest and rational and won't be a pretender. If he is in error then he is under great obligation to the man who points out his errors.

If a rational man now is accused of advocating initiating force but is not now doing so because he now sees that it is a double standard of morality, then he simply regards the accuser as being mistaken.

So there is nothing to be insulted about.

On the other hand if he is a pretender and a bluffer and a flatterer and someone points out an error, the only defense he has is to appear to be insulted, as if he were the final authority on everything and everything was settled because he said so. Of course, this kind of a man has stopped learning. He is satisfied with his wisdom and therefore he can be insulted because he thinks he knows everything or all that is needed to be known and if anyone crosses him, he becomes insulted and indignant that anyone would even question him.

On the other hand, as stated above, the man who is trying to learn is under great obligation to the man who points out his contradictions, his inconsistencies. Then he has a chance to correct his errors and to learn and to keep growing.

Yes it seems that a rational, intelligent man can not be insulted.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Spies, After Trade Secrets, Boom Private Police Work

By SAM CAMPBELL
Business Editor

George R. Wackenhut of Palm Springs, Calif., has been in business only 11 years, but today he has 4,500 employees in 26 states and his sales for 1965 will reach $18 million. How did he do it?

For one thing, Wackenhut picked a growing market: the prevention of business espionage. By sales of anti-espionage service, the Wackenhut Corp. is second only to Burns Detective Agency and the Pinkertons.

Business espionage has risen drastically in recent years, Wackenhut told 300 business executives gathered at an annual management conference of the Merchants & Manufacturers Association.

Thievery of Ideas
The thievery of ideas and trade secrets, he said, comes from three sources — foreign intelligence, competitors, and individuals with a spite. The chemical and pharmaceutical industries are choice targets together with aeronautical companies and oil companies. Within a given firm, the research and development section is most subject to theft of proprietary information.

Wackenhut cited an instance of pharmaceutical theft where a professor with two PhDs after his name assigned his students to write term papers on work they were doing. He gave better grades for more information which he peddled to competitors. When the college caught up with him and fired him for his over-enthusiasm, the double doctor started a chemical magazine, hiring selective research and development men as technical writers.

He was detected again and indicted, but fled the country. The resourceful professor, however, ultimately recovered his self-confidence and filed suit against the company for stealing HIS ideas.

$3 Billion A Year
According to the Wall Street Journal, commercial loss due to espionage comes to $3 billion annually. The porcupine by foreign intelligence is something in addition. Wackenhut turns these cases over to the FBI.

Scientists, engineers, and technical personnel, Wackenhut said, are not the types who submit unquestioningly to security procedures, so the job of plant security with them is as much salesmanship as anything else. His firm offers training classes for the several levels of employees.

Some thefts are committed by outside thieves. These gain access by posing as a customer, as a buyer of the business, as teachers on tour, as newspapermen. In some cases the outside man cultivates the friendship of inside personnel who help the thief unwittingly.

Law Not Clear
Wackenhut says the law is not clear on who owns an idea. The statutes at present are not designed to penalize intangible thefts, but only tangible data. Bills have been introduced into two sessions of Congress to include trade secrets among proprietary items.

Du Pont, he said, appears to be making a successful recovery by civil suit against a company that hired away two employees to work on a product very similar to the product they had been working on at Du Pont.

Wackenhut put in 3 1/2 years with the FBI, quit to enter private investigation, quickly broadened to the security field, adding fire-fighting and consultation. He just can't see any ceiling to this field, even picked up a couple of guys trying to infiltrate his own business.

Needless to say the plant-security business requires a very careful check of its own personnel.

Fraternity Charges LBJ Tried For Excess Authority

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Johnson administration tried to change the language in a public records bill to give "almost unlimited authority (to) the president to establish broader secrecy practices," the Sigma Delta Chi Freedom of Information Committee said Monday.

The watch dog committee of the national professional journalistic society said in its annual report that the administration changes "would have warped the whole impact of the legislation from 'open government legislation' to 'closed government legislation'."

"It would have given cabinet officers the widest discretion and would have put the burden on the press to prove information should be made available rather than forcing officials to prove why it could be withheld," the committee said.

The committee also criticized the Post Office Department's long refusal to publish the names of young men hired as summertime employees. The secrecy issue arose after several newspapers revealed that the Post Office Department was distributing thousands of jobs as congressional patronage.

NIGERIAN VIOLENCE

IBADAN, Nigeria (UPI) — Police Friday reported renewed outbreaks of violence in Western Nigeria, including looting and arson. They said six persons were arrested in Abeokuta for pouring gasoline on a police station in an attempt to set it afire.

SHIPS COLLIDE

HANSWEERT, Holland (UPI) — The 900-ton German motor vessel Sloman Malaga collided with the Dutch river tanker Bituma 4 in the western mouth of the river Scheldt Saturday, officials said. Dage was not extensive and there were no reports of casualties.

Television in Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Rudolf Nureyev appeared on ABC-TV's Jimmy Durante weekend special, following in the great Hollywood cultural tradition which reached its zenith when Jose Iturbi played piano in a Jane Powell movie.

The name of the one-hour Saturday special was "Jimmy Durante Meets the Lively Arts," and if you ask me, Durante gave a better performance than Nureyev, including dancing.

I know you're not supposed to compare such performers, but I don't know why not if you're judging the end pleasure of the entertainment. I don't know much ballet, but I can certainly tell when I'm being bored and disappointed by a great artist who has been far more exciting on other television occasions.

Culture Shy

Needless to say, however, the studio audience — which, by the way, most American audiences, showed its terror of "culture" by being ashamed to do anything but applaud it — gave Nureyev a big hand. With culture now flooding the land as indiscriminately as master's degrees, it might be well to keep in mind the fine old Chinese tradition of noise-making and forthright vocal displeasure during dull and pretentious theatrical productions.

The Durante hour had method, if not much skill, in its format. For the truth is that the wonderful Jimmy's genial, mocking attitude toward culture is really very close to the way that most Americans feel about it, and most comfortable with it. Like most network officials, they really don't know whether something is good or not — which, of course, is why the edict of the ratings is such a convenient decision-maker for television to have.

There is, of course, nothing much better than just Jimmy and a piano. But he also got in a few other good moments Saturday — his duet with opera star Roberta Peters, in the tradition of his duets with Helen Trauberg; and, following Nureyev, his ballet takeoff, in kilts and with a cigar.

The general idea was for an artist to perform straight — as Miss Peters did brilliantly — and for Durante than to join in. Robert Vaughn, of "The Man From U.N.C.L.E.," did a soliloquy — from "Hamlet," which will survive anyway (the audience again was terrified into — applauding). And there was an insipid spoof of pop art.

INSTALLMENT CREDIT — Surveys this year by the National Consumer Finance Assn. show that 49 per cent of all American families use some installment credit.

In 1940, President Franklin Roosevelt, the only president Roosevelt was re-elected to the ever chosen for a third term.
