

Ninety-First Congress Ends Longest Session Since '51

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The 91st Congress since the Korean War adjourned Saturday afternoon only hours short of the constitutional deadline. Retiring Speaker John W. McCormack called it a great Congress, but House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said it had done "only half of its job."

Shortly after 2 p.m. EST, Reps. Carl Albert, D-Okla., and John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., and Senate leaders Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., made traditional telephone calls to President Nixon, who was at Camp David, Md. The 92nd Congress will begin Jan. 21.

Scott noted that Nixon was the first President since Zachary Taylor to face a Congress controlled by the opposition party in the first two years of his term. "This was a mixed bag Congress which in its later days was featured by obstruction by the few of the many and by an unfortunate amount of quarreling between the Senate and the House," Scott said.

Ford, speaking elsewhere, said the Senate had become "little more than a debating society." The Senate was tied up during much of December by several filibusters. Mansfield said the Senate's chief achievement was reassertion of its "power in foreign policy." He said the big domestic achievements were its adoption of Nixon's and its own proposals dealing with crime, drugs and pornography.

The final barrier to adjournment fell when a resolution providing appropriations for the Transportation Department at $2.6 billion, including $210 million for the SST, through March 31, passed by voice vote. The SST's chief opponent, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., dropped his opposition to the appropriations bill. He received assurances from key senators of a separate vote on the 300-passenger, 1,800 mile-an-hour jet early in the 92nd Congress.

In the final hours of the session, Sen. John J. Williams, D-Del., and George Murphy, R-Calif., resigned to give their successors added seniority. Sworn in were Reps. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., and William V. Roth, D-Del. They will have seniority over all newly-elected senators not yet sworn in.

In the House, Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., retiring after 42 years in Congress and the last nine as speaker, listened to praise from his colleagues. A private New Year's Eve agreement cleared the way for adjournment before the Constitution declared that the 91st Congress expires at noon, Sunday.

In the offices of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Proxmire was given solemn assurances that there would be a separate vote on SST next year. "I will talk all day, all night, until noon Sunday, unless we have those assurances, now," Proxmire said.

"I have always thought the actions of men the best interpreters of their thoughts."

Kosygin Says Soviet Willing To Help Americans In Leaving Viet

MOSCOW (UPI)—In a review of foreign policy for the new year, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin Saturday pictured the Soviet Union as a would-be mediator in Indochina and a champion of disarmament. Kosygin was interviewed by the Asahi newspaper of Japan. The official Tass news agency saw to it that the rare Kosygin interview—his last with Moscow's press corps was May 4, 1970—got major treatment and distribution abroad.

but after all, what holds them there. "Nothing, I think, except the desire of some United States quarters to retain in South Vietnam the anti-popular puppet regime which fulfills the will of the United States and perpetuates South Vietnam as an American beachhead." "The road out of Vietnam is open for the American army," he said. "The Soviet Union is ready, on its part, to further facilitate the attainment of a political settlement in Indochina."

Limitation Talks (SALT) in Helsinki and reached beyond them. "We proceed from the premise that effective measures in the field of restraining the strategic arms race and limiting strategic arms would meet the vital interests not only of the Soviet and American peoples but also of the peoples of the whole world," he said. "The Soviet Union comes out for the implementation also of other measures directed at limiting the arms race, especially nuclear arms, directed at disarmament."

'Common Cause' Calls For Defeat Of Three House Committee Heads

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Common Cause, an organization headed by John W. Gardner, called Saturday for the defeat of three House committee chairmen during the Democratic caucus in January. It identified them as: Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., chairman of the House Rules Committee, "a man who has life or death power over most legislation and has used it to kill important consumer protection and equal employment legislation."

chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, who "promotes the interests of influential farmers and blocks legislation to feed hungry Americans." Common Cause also issued a map showing which states the House Appropriations Committee's subcommittee chairmen represent. Most of them come from the South.

Enemy Violates Tet Cease-Fire Forty-Six Times

SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops violated their own proclaimed three-day New Year cease-fire 46 times during the 24-hour standdown ordered by the allies, U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported today. Twenty-six Communists were reported killed in cease-fire clashes in South Vietnam and another 68 died in two battles in Cambodia where there was no truce.

The allied holiday cease-fire ended Friday night. The Communist truce ran until 1 a.m. Sunday (noon Saturday EST.) Although the number of what the allied spokesmen called "enemy-initiated" incidents was about half of the 81 violations over the Christmas truce, the number of Americans killed and wounded this time was higher.

27 ALREADY KILLED

Texas Leading Nation In New Year's Traffic Toll

By United Press International The Texas New Year's holiday traffic death toll rose sharply Saturday. Texas led the nation in highway deaths, and, with bad weather forecast for the remainder of the holiday period, the Department of Public Safety issued a special appeal for intelligent driving.

A United Press International count for the holiday period which began at 6 p.m. Thursday and ends Sunday midnight showed at least 27 persons had died in traffic. The DPS had originally predicted 35 traffic deaths over the holiday period, a figure which seemed certain to be topped.

The count rose alarmingly as a result of several multi-fatality accidents, and the slaughter on the highways spoiled an otherwise improved driving record in Texas for the past 12 months. The flurry of accidents occurred when driving conditions were at their best. Rain began to fall in parts of Texas Saturday, and with rain and snow forecast through the going-home period Sunday a tragic final figure was feared.

Highway Death Toll Climbs Steadily

By United Press International A rash of multiple-death traffic accidents pushed the New Year's holiday weekend death toll today ahead of estimates of 400 to 500 dead and 19,000 to 23,000 injured.

Texas and California were far ahead of other states in the traffic death count, Texas with 26, California with 24. New York and Illinois each counted 15.

The National Safety Council said late Friday that the toll was running ahead of its estimated casualty count for the 78-hour weekend. The holiday period began at 6 p.m. local time Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

A National Safety Council spokesman said the toll, boosted by a surge of multiple-death accidents on New Year's Day and possibly by snow storms that slicked highways, appeared likely to wind up "at the top end of the council's estimate."

In its pre-holiday estimate, the council figured that from 400 to 500 persons would die in traffic during the 78-hour holiday weekend.

Accident Occurs As Barrier Breaks Down In Scotland Stadium

GLASGOW, Scotland (UPI)—Spectators rushing to beat thousands to exits after a big soccer game Saturday tripped and tumbled a concrete stairway when a crowd control barrier collapsed. At least 66 persons were killed and hundreds injured, police said.

they were engulfed by hundreds of jubilant Rangers fans swarming down the stairs after the final whistle. "There was a mad rush for the exits at game's end. Then someone fell and someone fell atop him," a police sergeant said. "It snowballed until a barrier collapsed under their weight."

It was the worst soccer game disaster in British history. Many of the victims suffocated and others were trampled. Authorities said 66 persons were hospitalized and hundreds others treated for minor injuries.

Another witness said that when the barrier collapsed, "thousands of persons surged forward. All these in front were trampled. They didn't stand a chance." The victims, mostly men in their 20s and early 30s, were pushed by the pressure of hundreds of surging bodies down the steps.

The tragedy, at Glasgow's Ibrox Park, was the second to hit the soccer world over the New Year's holiday. On New Year's Eve a chartered plane carrying members of an Algerian soccer team to a match in Spain crashed into the Mediterranean. A search plane sighted wreckage of the plane Saturday and reported there was no indication the 31 aboard survived.

An overflow crowd of 80,000 watched Glasgow's local archrivals, the Rangers and Celtics, battle to a 1-1 tie after both teams scored in the last 90 seconds of Scotland's most famous annual match. Police said hundreds of Rangers fans were heading down stairs to the exits when their team behind 0-1 when they heard a huge roar for the tieing goal.

Nixon Signs Into Law $3.55 Billion Bill To Help States Fight Crime

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A stepped up three-year $3.55 billion program to help states and cities fight crime, particularly in urban areas, was signed into law Saturday by President Nixon.

The measure, the last of Nixon's major crime programs approved by Congress, is aimed at helping local police forces increase their effectiveness with both added personnel and better crime fighting equipment.

The new law, unlike previous legislation in this field, emphasizes help for urban high-crime areas. Congress heard testimony that a disproportionate amount of funds under a previous two-year-old program had gone to small towns rather than the big cities.

A further boost for big cities was provided in the law by requiring that states, starting in 1972, pay 25 per cent of any amount a city is obligated to put up as matching funds for federal grants. Federal matching shares in the costs of the programs are also boosted from the previous 60 per cent to 75 per cent.

MERCURY MAY DROP TO 20

Pampa Area Expected To Have Three Inches Of Snow Sunday

By United Press International The United States Weather Bureau in Amarillo issued a hazardous driving condition report for the Panhandle shortly before 6 p.m. Saturday. Icy streets preceded a predicted two-three inches of snow in the Pampa area. Temperatures fell to a low of 27 degrees Saturday. A low near 20 is expected to lay with a 70 percent chance of snow continuing through tonight.

A storm system that dumped as much as eight inches of snow on the eastern slopes of the Colorado Rockies bore down on Texas Saturday. Rain and possibly snow was expected to be falling on the northwestern half of the state by this morning.

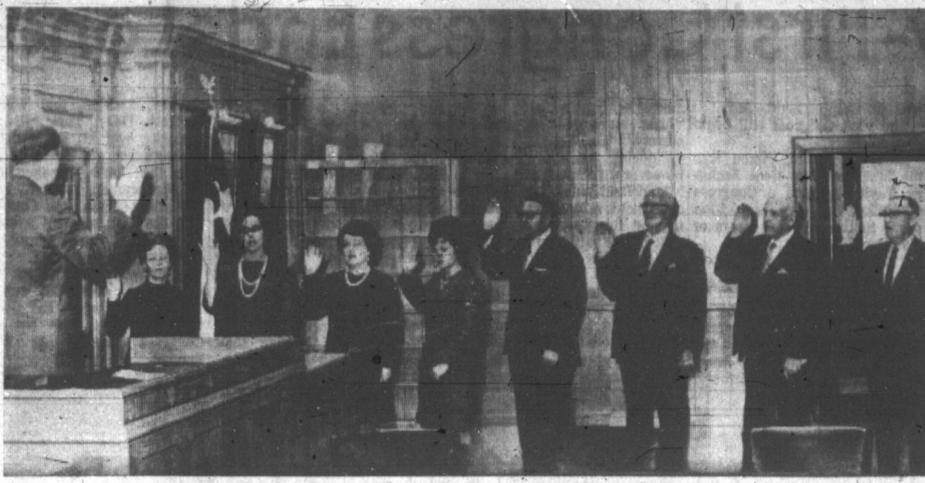

A heavy deck of clouds, a forecast of things to come, coated all but the southernmost sections of Texas Saturday afternoon as a weak Pacific cool front stood stationary across the state's midsection. High wind warnings were issued for the Panhandle and sections of the Guadalupe Mountains Saturday. The Weather Bureau said the low pressure system could produce 50 mile an hour winds during the night in West Texas.

Temperatures in the mid 20s were forecast for early Sunday in Northwest Texas. Rain was forecast for all of Texas by tonight, with a quick clearing expected. The northern Panhandle was warned of a 60 per cent of snow through Sunday afternoon. No accumulations of snow were forecast, however.

Presbyterians To Host Famous Music Group

The College of Emporia Chorale and Toppers will begin the group's annual tour tomorrow and will appear in concert at the First Presbyterian Church Sanctuary at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Rev. Martin Hager expressed great enthusiasm when the Chorale and twenty-voice ensemble was scheduled to appear in Pampa. The group each year tours the United States and was chosen to give the World Premiere of Frank Salisbury's "The Beatitudes," a jazz setting of the text for augmented stage band and choir. This event was presented with Clark Terry and Stan Kenton. This premiere was recorded in its entirety and is available on stereo. The College of Emporia was founded as a Presbyterian related school in 1832 and has a limited though exclusive music department. The 1971 tour will include a wide variety of music which was designed to interest all persons, and detour away from conventional programming. This creates a greater "wearability" for the performers which will travel over 3,000 miles and make 15 performances in as many nights. The Toppers is a group of 20 mixed voice ensemble dedicated to public relations work and devoted to light music. Gary Trainor, pianist for the group is a celebrated jazz artist. Tom Dunham is bassist for the group. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend this free concert by the pastor and membership of First Presbyterian Church.

County Officials Begin 'Wet' Year

The long drought was broken, at least for offices housed in the Court House, early Saturday. Leaking water on the third floor found its way into the Sheriff's office via the County Court Room, and continued into the east foyer of the building. Things were back in order late yesterday after plumbers shortened a long holiday week end to by-pass the leak and turn off water traveling through the faulty pipe. District office employees may be temporarily inconvenienced until more permanent repairs can be made on Monday, but Sheriff's officers report that they have put their waders back into storage.

ORIGIN STILL UNKNOWN

Damage Estimated At $190,000 In New Year's Eve Store Fire

Damage in the New Year's Eve fire that destroyed White's Auto Store was estimated Saturday at $190,000 but origin of the fire had not yet been determined. The five-hour fire, which started minutes after the store at 109 S. Cuyler closed at 6 p.m. Friday also caused extensive smoke damage to the Lindsey Furniture store which adjoins White's on the north with an 18-inch firewall between the two buildings. Insurance adjusters for White's Auto owners said Saturday they would continue the investigation Monday to examine store records, and inventory to determine the exact loss. Contents of White's and the three-story brick building were listed as a total loss, with about $70,000 estimated on the building and between $110,000 and $120,000 on the merchandise inventory. Owners of the building are expected Monday to investigate and decide where the store is to be relocated. The store, the sixth to be established in the company's chain of 500 appliance and sporting goods stores, was built at its present location about 35 years ago. The Pampa fire makes the third White's store in the Panhandle to be destroyed by fires in two years. Two were in Amarillo in 1968 and 1969. Fire Chief F. E. Dyer who said the White's fire was comparable to the $225,000 fire that destroyed Furr's Food in Pampa Aug. 5, 1969, reported Saturday. The White's Auto Store was definitely an explosion in the center of the building but we haven't discovered what caused it. "A witness told me he heard an explosion and saw some things blown out of the building," Dyer said. "The store was completely filled with smoke where we couldn't see anything within minutes after the explosion." Dyer explained the only possible thing that could have caused the fire in the center of the building was a natural gas leak, but said gas piping and connections which are accessible had been checked and no leaks were found. Firemen eliminated paint, thinners, aerosol cans and ammunition as a cause of the explosion because of the time factor, and because most of these were still intact after the fire. The tarpaper roof of Lindsey Furniture Store, owned by Charlie Whittington of Borger, was buckled by flames from White's, but the building did not catch on fire, according to Lige Lindsey, who rents the building. Interior of Lindsey's store was smoked, and cracked on the wall next to White's store. Both are connected by double fire walls, which firemen said helped prevent flames from breaking through. Lindsey removed money invoiced and store records from the safe during the fire, but after the fire was under control Friday night, all were returned. Insurance investigators Lindsey and Whittington will be in town Monday to complete estimates of damages, he said.

Oil Refinery Workers To Strike Today

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (UPI) — Union workers at the American Oil Refinery gave strike notice Saturday, and said picket lines would be established Sunday afternoon when the plant is safely shut down. The 1,200 members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers (OCAW) union became the second group in Texas to strike since their contract expired at midnight Thursday. About 5,000 workers at the Texaco refinery in Port Arthur struck one month after the contract expiration. OCAW officials in Denver are continuing negotiations with dozens of refineries across the country, most of which are still in operation despite the expired contract. The OCAW reached a contract settlement with the Gulf Oil Corp., which has 6,200 union employees, before the deadline. Ray Davidson, a union spokesman in Denver, said just because workers at both Texaco and American had struck "doesn't necessarily mean the strikes are spreading. Or at least not very fast. "We haven't heard of any others."

NEEDED HELP MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — James L. Klopp called the fire department and said he needed help clearing his bedroom of 800 gallons of water. When the baffled fire officials arrived on the scene, they found Klopp trying to mop up the water which overflowed while he was asleep on his new waterbed. As Klopp explained it to the firemen, he attached the water hose to the bed and then fell asleep on the filling mattress.

Minor Incidents Reported In City

Police activity reports for the New Year's weekend showed only a few minor incidents requiring police involvement. An activated burglar alarm New Year's Day proved to be a damaged north door window in Zale's. The alarm sounded at 10:14 a.m. Friday and the investigating officer reported that a rock had apparently been thrown through the upper portion of the glass causing an estimated $50 in damage. Employees of Malone's Pharmacy next door to the damaged store told the officer that they neither saw nor heard anything unusual at the time the alarm activated.

Cuba Begins 13th Year Under Castro

MIAMI (UPI) — Cuba began its 13th year under the Communist regime of Premier Fidel Castro today in an atmosphere of economic austerity and an air of mystery about Russian military activities. For the second year in a row, anniversary festivities were postponed while all efforts were directed toward bringing in the sugar crop vital to the ailing Cuban economy. Celebrations will take place after the sugar harvest is over.

Cold Weather May Have Sent Stork On Detour With '71 Baby

Mr. Stork seems to have detoured Pampa on his "First Baby of the Year" rounds. The fog and cold moved in on the heels of the New Year and may be contributing to his absence... or the old fellow may still be tied up in front of the tepee waiting for the football scores. At any rate, spokesman for the obstetrics ward at Highland General Hospital, Mrs. Mickey Black, R.N., reported late Saturday that no prospects were in sight for the winner of the "First Baby of the Year" award. The "First Baby Contest" rules designate a large collection of gifts for the winner and its mother. Pampa merchants have joined ranks to assure a warm welcome for 1971's first resident of Gray County. His last visit in Pampa assured Mr. and Mrs. David Woods, McLean, of an income tax reduction for 1971. Their son, weighing 7 lbs. 3 oz. arrived on Dec. 29. Since then neither "hide nor feather" of the long-legged bird has been seen. So with fog lights in operation and the spotlight on Highland General Hospital, the "baby watch" continued late last night.

Obituaries

ARRON McADAMS Funeral services for Arron Beatty McAdams, 68, of the Davis Hotel, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in Duenkel Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. H. DeWitt Seago, pastor of First United Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Mr. McAdams died at Highland General Hospital Thursday after a short illness. He was born April 23, 1902, in Molton, Ala., and was a retired construction employe. He moved here in 1955 from Spokane, Wash., where he was employed as a steel worker and electric welder. Survivors are two sons, Mac McAdams of Everett, Wash., and Arnon McAdams of Spokane, Wash.; one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Hammond of Mount Vernon; one sister, Mrs. Carrie Lygrisse of Lakeland, Fla.; one brother, Orville S. McAdams of Sacramento, Calif.

MRS. VERA KEY Funeral services for Mrs. Vera Anderson Key, 78, are pending with Carmichael-Whately Funeral Directors. A resident of 1002 E. Francis, Mrs. Key died Friday at Highland General Hospital. She was born Nov. 5, 1892, at Erath County, and was reared and attended school at Crowell. She was married to Walter D. Key in 1915, when they moved to Mobeetie. They lived there until his death in 1948. She moved here three years ago, and was a member of Central Baptist Church of Pampa. Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. Doris Hutchens of China Lake, Calif., one step son, Garland Key of Bakersfield, Calif., four brothers, E.L. Anderson and L.H. Anderson, both of Pampa, Ben Anderson of Borger, and Harvey Anderson of El Paso; four sisters, Mrs. Helen Lunsford and Miss Kate Anderson, both of Pampa; Mrs. Blanche Moran of Keene, N.H., and Mrs. R.M. Mitchell of Plainview, and three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. L.G. McCaw AMARILLO (Staff)—Funeral services for L.G. McCaw of Amarillo, 41, son of a former Pampa, was killed in a pickup crash on New Year's Eve in Amarillo. Funeral services were held Saturday in the Grace Baptist Church with burial in Memorial Park Cemetery directed by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home of Amarillo. Mr. McCaw, Amarillo's 14th traffic fatality of 1970, died in a fiery crash on the Dumas Expressway when the pickup truck he was driving crossed the center median into the northbound lane and struck a guard rail. The vehicle overturned in the northbound lane and burst into flames. Survivors are his widow, Lillian; three sons, L.G. Jr., Gary and Patrick Allen, a stepdaughter, Virgie Simon and step son, Vincent Simon, all of the home; his step mother, Mrs. Ruth McCaw of 721 Naida; step brother, Wayne Anderson, 611 S. Barnes; and step sister, Mrs. Betty Rizzotto, Enchitas, Calif. His father, L.G. McCaw Sr., a Pampa barber several years, died in 1938.

CUT YOUR OWN TAXES: 2

Many Not Required To File At All

By RAY DE CRANE Forget that old rule that you must file an income tax return once your total income reaches the $600 annual level. That rule, along with many others, was tossed aside by the Tax Reform Act of 1969. The new rules will mean that several hundred thousand who had to file tax returns in the past can let April 15 go by unnoticed this year. And for an estimated four million who paid taxes last year the new rules will free them of any tax obligation this year. Here are the rules for filing a 1970 return: If you are unmarried, under 65 years old and your income in 1970 was $1,700 or more. If 65 or older it is not necessary to file unless income is at least $2,300. For tax purposes, this classification includes all single persons, unmarried heads of household, a surviving widow or widower with a dependent child. If you are married, entitled to file jointly, are under 65 years and combined total income is $2,300 or more. Add another $600 to this if one of the spouses is 65 or older, and $1,200 if each is at least 65. A return is also required from anyone who has self-employment income of $400 or more. They may not owe an income tax, but they might owe Social Security tax on their self-employment income. Many retired, or older couples with modest incomes will be freed from the requirement of filing under the new rules. So, too, will be many students who worked after school or during summer vacation last year. (Of course if there was withholding tax from their 1970 earnings, they should file a return to claim their refund.) Students, and other part-time workers, might also keep in mind that there now is a way for them to avoid any withholding tax deductions from their earnings if they will not exceed a specified amount. To be freed of this obligation two circumstances are necessary: 1. You owed no income tax for 1970.

A TALE OF TWO FAMILIES—Dodie Smith; the story of two devoted sisters married to two devoted brothers who still enjoy each other's company after 25 years of marriage, and the unwelcome aunt who proves to be both a catalyst and a fairy godmother in reverse.

HOUSE OF THE CAT—Alexandra Roudybus; Paris is the setting for this novel of intrigue which features an unorthodox "club" and several unusual characters.

Donald MacKenzie; hired to find evidence of a wife's infidelity, a detective falls in love with her and then finds her dead, with himself as chief suspect.

THE HOOPOE—Christine Weston; a woman's life is marred by tragedy and disillusionment but has one great saving grace. The setting is India and eastern U.S.

CRIMSON RAMBLERS OF THE WORLD, FAREWELL—Jessamy West; short stories with a broad range of themes.

by an author who is a genius at capturing characters and emotional moods.

GUNS OVER THE BORDER—A.A. Baker; a Western with a setting of controversy between residents of the U.S. and Mexico.

RETURN OF THE STAR SHIPS—Jorge De Reyna; an unusually moving science fiction story of days to come.

HYDEN, Ky.—Charles Finley, owner of the coal mine in which 38 persons were killed in an explosion, citing the cause of the blast: "All these federal laws changed everything and that's what caused it."

SAN FRANCISCO—Inspector Edward Jelich, deputy Highway Patrol zone commander, explaining why it seems to be safer to drive the highways on holiday weekends than the rest of the year.

"People are more careful during the holidays. They know a lot of people are traveling and take more precautions."

Youth Center Wrapup

SWIM LESSONS—The new swim lesson schedule for January thru March has been finalized and appears below. Parents should check this list and sign up their children early for our classes are given on a first come first serve basis. Each class is limited to approximately 20 persons.

All classes listed will meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting dates with the classes lasting one hour. We are closed on Tuesday during school term. All classes will be taught by Mrs. Ruth Carter, our resident Red Cross water safety instructor. Enrollment into the classes is open to the general public. An enrollment fee is charged non-members in the amount of $4.00 for each child. Center members are included free.

MEMBERSHIPS—Our method of operation financial wise is through a membership plan. The Center is not tax supported in any way and must sustain its own operation by means of a charge for membership and use of the facilities. The cost for memberships though are so economical for those interested.

The Center offers two types of memberships for the public, the limited and unlimited. The limited membership is for those who like to play in the gym, swim or use the recreation hall, but does not want to use the health facilities. This membership is $5 for six months or $6 per year for an individual. For a family the cost is $12 for six months or $20 per year.

The unlimited membership gives you the same privileges as the limited, but in addition allows you full use of the new health facility. The facility has all the exercise equipment, 2 handball courts and a sauna room. The cost for an individual is $65 for six months or $118 per year. For a husband-wife combination the cost is only $80 for six months or $160.00 per year. We do have a payment plan for the six month memberships. Please call 665-4381 and have this explained to you.

TEEN DANCES—The most important activity we have at the Center is our teen dance program. This activity reaches more young people than any other. These dances are held on Friday or Saturday during the school year and at other special times. All dances are well chaperoned by adults. Many parents come out to help chaperone. All parents are invited to come out and get a first hand knowledge of what a teen-age get together looks like.

The dance schedule is booked according to the Harvesters athletic schedule. If the Harvesters play in town on Friday night, the dance will be after the game from 9-12 p.m. If they play out-of-town, the dance will be on Saturday night from 8-11 p.m. Bands already booked are Jan. 8 Midwest; Jan. 15 Felix; Jan. 23 Midwest and Jan. 30 Felix.

DOLPHIN SWIM CLUB—The Center has recently organized the Dolphin swim club for the purpose of entering into competitive swimming. The Dolphins meet each open day at 6:00 p.m. to workout and would invite any boy or girl 8 years of age or older to join the club.

The Dolphins swim coach is Everett Gray of Pampa and he would encourage anyone who knows how to swim to come and participate. The Dolphins will be entering about one swim meet each month during the school year and several during

Our Men In Service

Staff Sergeant John J. Engle, son of Mrs. Norma E. Engle of McLean, has received his second award of the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal.

Sergeant Engle earned the medal for meritorious service while serving with the office of information at 22nd Air Force headquarters, Travis AFB, Calif., from June 1968 to June 1970. During that period he supervised information activities supporting the 22nd, a major component of the Military Airlift Command.

The sergeant was presented the medal at Tinker AFB, Okla., during recent ceremonies in the USAF Home Town New Center where he supervises the proofing section of the editorial division.

Sergeant Engle's section supports the center's unique, world-wide mission of preparing and distributing personalized printed releases, radio tapes and television film clips to the hometown news-media of Air Force individuals.

It is the sergeant's second tour of duty with the center where he earned his first award of the Commendation Medal during 1965-1967.

The six-year service veteran also has the Bronze Star Medal, awarded him during a 12-month assignment as a combat news reporter with a tactical fighter unit at Phan Rang AB Vietnam.

A 1957 graduate of Enid (Okla.) High School, Sergeant Engle majored in speech at Enid's Phillips University and Oklahoma City University before enlisting in the Air Force in 1964.

He and his wife, Karen — daughter of Mrs. Ruth G. White of Rt. 1, Aline, Okla. — have a son, Jon David, 4.

SAN ANTONIO—Airman Edward L. Halpain Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Halpain Sr., 901 S. Eton, Perryton, Tex., has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., for training in the munitions and weapons maintenance field.

Airman Halpain is a 1970 graduate of Perryton High School.

Captain Harold L. Cooke, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Cooke of 429 Pitts, graduated from the Military Assistance Advisor School of the U.S. Army Institute for Military Assistance here at the JFK Center. The school is to prepare him for duty in the Republic of Vietnam.

The purpose of the school is to make the advisor aware of problem areas and how the advisor fits into the assistance program. The course will teach him the duties of an advisor and the importance of being an effective advisor.

Capt. Cooke was taught subjects such as Vietnamese culture, religions, language, history, geography and the political structure of the Republic of Vietnam. The advisor school also teaches the advisor skills required for survival.

Finally he will learn to teach the Vietnamese how to utilize U.S. assets in Vietnam after current U.S. troop withdrawals.

Army private Franklin A. Steadman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Steadman, Route 1, Pampa, recently completed an 11-week welding course at the U.S. Army ordnance center school, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

He received instruction in all phases of oxyacetylene, ARC and inert gas metal welding used in the repair of wheeled and tracked vehicles.

Pvt. Steadman entered the army in June 1970 and was last stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif.

The 21-year-old soldier, whose wife, Kathy, lives in Borger, is a 1966 Graduate of Pampa High School and attended West Texas State University at Canyon, Tex.

Navy Senior Chief Petty Officer Andrew J. Melton, of 719 N. Banks, is serving aboard the internal combustion repair ship U.S. Tuttle operating in the coastal and riverine areas of South Vietnam.

Tuttle was awarded the Battle Efficiency Gold "E" which symbolizes her fifth consecutive "E" award earned in competition among various Service Force ships in both the Pacific and Atlantic fleets.

The sergeant is a 1967 graduate of McLean High School. His wife, Linda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.S. Hill, Alanreed.

Master Sergeant Elmer L. Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Holloway of Stinnett, is a member of the Forbes AFB, Kan., field maintenance squadron that has been selected as the best in the worldwide military Airlift Command (MAC).

Sergeant Holloway is a maintenance scheduling technician with the 1st Field Maintenance Squadron that was chosen for the annual award.

The sergeant has served in the Republic of Korea and has completed a tour of duty in Vietnam.

U.S. Air Force Master Sergeant Edward L. Buehrer, nephew of Mrs. Mary Maple, Rosebud, Mo., is a member of the Forbes AFB, Kan., field maintenance squadron that has been selected as the best in the worldwide military Airlift Command (MAC).

Sergeant Buehrer is an aerospace ground equipment specialist with the 1st Field Maintenance Squadron that was chosen for the annual award.

The sergeant's wife, Jaquita, is the daughter of Mrs. Geneva Lisenbee, Lefors.

U.S. Air Force Sergeant Ricky D. Guill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Guill, McLean, has arrived for duty at McChord AFB, Wash.

Sergeant Guill, an aircraft control and warning radar repairman, is assigned to a unit of the Air Force Communications Service. He previously served with an Air Force support unit at Hofu, Iceland.

Income Tax Q And A

EDITOR'S NOTE— This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by the News as a public service to taxpayers.

Q—This was the first year I earned any money. How do I get my tax form's? Must I go to the IRS for them?

A—If you did not file a return for 1969, then you can pick up tax forms and instructions at any IRS office, bank or post office.

Tax forms are sent to every taxpayer who filed a return the previous year. Forms were mailed late in December and taxpayers should have them by the first week in January.

Q—Are the tax rates on 1970 income any lower than last year's?

A—Several changes will lower taxes for millions of people when they file their 1970 returns.

First, the income tax surcharged to 10 percent for 1970 compared to 10 percent in 1969. Second, the amount that may be claimed for each exemption is $625 on 1970 returns, up from $600 a year ago.

These two changes will reduce taxes on millions of 1970 returns.

In addition, an estimated six million taxpayers will not have to file a return, as they had been required to do in 1969. In this group are parttime workers, students and others with low income.

Single persons under 65 years of age will not have to file returns until their income reaches $1,700 ($2,300 if 65 or older). Returns previously had to be filed when income reached $600. Married persons from the same household entitled to file a joint return do not have to file until their income reaches $2,300 under new tax laws ($2,900 if one spouse is 65 or older, $3,500 if both are 65 or older).

But anyone who has a refund coming because taxes were withheld will have to file a return to obtain it.

TRADITION ESTABLISHED LONDON (UPI)—Mrs. Roy Jones gave birth Friday to her second successive New Year's day baby, a boy named Paul. Last Jan. 1, she gave birth to her first son, Stuart.

SOME RETREAT SANDRINGHAM, England (UPI) — Prince Philip and Prince Charles saw smoke from their weekend retreat Friday and went to investigate. The source was a fish and chips vendor stoking up for the day's trade.

Cautious Optimism Marks Oil Future

TULSA, Okla., — Although a spirit of optimism continues to mark the operations of many of the nation's independent oil and gas producers, concern about the future of the domestic petroleum industry is evident on two fronts, an annual sampling of opinion by the Independent Petroleum Association of America has disclosed.

First, small producers are voicing increasing alarm about inadequate well-head prices of crude oil and natural gas, at a time when operating costs have clamped them in an ever-increasing cost-price squeeze.

Second, independents say the incentive to pursue a greater tempo in drilling and exploration has been stymied by short-sighted policies of the Federal Government.

In the annual Outlook and Review section of the Independent Petroleum Monthly, official publication of IPAA, 22 producers from widely scattered regions of the oil country, tell how they fared during the past year and give their views of prospects for the coming year.

Jack E. Kadane of Dallas, an independent petroleum producer who was named Chief Roughneck of 1969 by Lone Star Steel Co., warns that the nation is faced with dwindling reserves of oil and gas. But "the increase in costs experienced by operators during the past several years for both labor and materials has been a deterrent to replenishing these reserves." A "real" increase in the price of crude oil is essential, Kadane said.

Gary M. Maguire, president of Maguire Oil Co., also of Dallas, said: "As I see it, 1971 will find the oil industry subject to every type of pressure from all sides of the political spectrum. Look for the energy crisis this country is facing to bring into focus the needs for fundamental changes in some of our government concepts. To be or not to be is the question facing many independent oil producers."

R. O. Garrett, president of Texas Gas Exploration Corp., Houston, warns that although independents are generally acknowledged as the important factor in U.S. exploration, "it is hard to find a period in our history when more stumbling blocks have impeded his program toward accomplishing this vital task. With a reasonable amount of encouragement, the independent producer with his know-how is geared for the necessary effort to help alleviate the nation's energy shortage."

Edwin Allday, also of Houston, warned: "The national interest is served by a healthy domestic petroleum industry. And yet evidence indicates that the industry has been, and still is, in a long period of declining profit. We must take stock of the situation and try to evaluate the possibilities for reversing this trend."

P. W. Pitzer, Jr., Breckenridge, Tex., said there are many areas in West Central Texas yet to be explored for oil and gas, "but a better economic and political climate must be established before the present decline in exploratory drilling and reserves can be reversed." O. Gossett, Jr., president of Gossett Oil Co., Longview, Tex., points out "that within the past decade federal policies and regulations have become the controlling factor affecting the petroleum industry."

ACTIVE DUTY

BOISE, Idaho (UPI) — John Baugh, a Boise folksinger and member of the Idaho National Guard, has to report for active duty Monday because he insists on keeping his curly locks and covering them with a wig for drills.

Spec. 5 Baugh, 26, who was originally scheduled for discharge Feb. 16 after five and a half years' service, said Friday he is seeking a court injunction to halt his induction. Under Idaho guard regulations, men failing to conform to regulations are marked AWOL for each drill which they attend with an unacceptable haircut. Five WOLs result in a call to active duty.

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A man hijacked a bus with 27 persons aboard from a Londonderry terminal Friday, drove it four miles and then fled after crashing it into a hedge. None of the passengers was hurt and the police began a search for the man who boarded the bus posing as the regular driver.

PAMPA, TEXAS Sunday, January 31, 1971 PAMPA DAILY NEWS 5

SUN OIL NEWS

HOUSTON — A five-company group headed by Sun Oil Company was successful bidder on nine tracts covering 45,341 acres in Tuesday's Federal sale of leases in the Western Louisiana offshore area and is actively engaged in planning the start of exploratory drilling as soon as possible.

In addition to Sun as operator, the group includes Aquitaine Oil Corporation of Houston, Clark Oil Producing Co. of Milwaukee, Anadarko Production Company of Port Worth and Northern Michigan Exploration Company of Jackson, Michigan.

Clark is a subsidiary of Clark Oil & Refining Corporation; Anadarko, a subsidiary of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company; and Northern Michigan, a subsidiary of Consumers Power Company.

The group, informally known as SCAAN, spent a total of $64,285,502.85 for the nine tracts. The tracts secured are: West Cameron area, 388 and 639;

East Cameron, 312, 338, 339, 348 and 349; Vermillion, 281 and 320.

Acquisition of the tracts which are mostly in water depths of 200 to 300 feet culminated some two years of intensive studies by the group. SCAAN exposed a total of $201,740,714.95 on bids for 48 tracts. In addition to winning nine tracts, SCAAN was second high bidder on 11 others.

DALLAS — Cordero Mining Co. of Palo Alto, Calif., a wholly-owned Sun Oil Co. subsidiary, was the high bidder Dec. 10 for a 6,560-acre Federal coal lease along the Belle Fourche River, 20 miles southeast of Gillette in Campbell County, Wyoming.

The company offered $505.00 per acre at an oral bidding lease sale held by the Cheyenne office of the Bureau of Land Management.

Evaluation studies are being conducted to determine future development of the acreage acquired. The newly-leased land was obtained as part of Sun Oil's plan to acquire raw materials to meet its future energy needs. The company already has interests in coal leases in Wyoming.

Coal in the area is believed to be especially suited for conversion into liquid products.

Bureaucratic Changes Still Foster Human Consequences

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The other afternoon a woman (anxious and young, judging by her voice) called United Press International.

"Did Mr. Ruckelshaus say at his press conference who would head the EPA's (word deleted by UPI) office?"

William D. Ruckelshaus, the 38-year-old, $42,500-a-year head of the new Environmental Protection Agency, had indeed said this and a number of other things at his first general news conference.

But the man at UPI who was trying to get a story written about the conference was a bit grumpy.

"Who's calling?" he asked. "I'm calling from EPA," the timid voice replied.

Lively Curiosity
Luckily for her, the UPI man was (or so he says) a thoughtful, kindly, sympathetic person, acutely sensitive to other people's troubles, and also the possessor of a lively curiosity.

Instead of saying dammit if you're with EPA you ought to know what your boss said, he actually looked at his notes and supplied the requested information.

"Oh, good," the girl said. "Thank you, thank you. All of us in (word deleted by UPI) were so afraid it might be somebody new. We just don't know what's going on."

One of the most characteristic, dehumanizing words in our language is "personnel."

It means "a body of persons usually employed in some public service or in a factory, office, or organization."

Please be advised that, whatever Webster's may say, it also means a body of human beings troubled by all the problems and worries that plague all of us.

President Nixon created the Environmental Protection Agency which came into being Dec. 2. It brought under one tent 15 previously scattered federal units.

On the day it was born, the fledgling EPA took over from the consolidated units about 5,700 "personnel" and budgets totaling about $1.4 billion.

Organizational Chart

At his news conference, Ruckelshaus produced an organizational chart which made it all seem simple. There would be his office plus various directors, assistant administrators, and commissioners in headquarters, and 10 regional commissioners across the country.

One thing Ruckelshaus couldn't tell his questioners, his associates, all those 5,700 human beings, or even himself is where, physically, they will all wind up.

The District of Columbia already is crowded with overflowing federal buildings, while EPA have to settle for the suburbs?

The possibility raises anxious questions.

"Am I going to have to transplant my family? I just got the storm windows up and a cord of fireplace wood in."

"My daughter's getting married. I can't afford to move now."

"Already they're trying to push me out of the office I've been in so long. They tell me I don't belong here anymore. They tell me they need my space. And my telephone."

Productive Days Of Epitone Of Mass Production Near End

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 105-year Chicago Stockyards, once considered the epitome of American mass production efficiency, will close forever by Feb. 1.

The meat packing industry is scattering over the country. It is decentralizing by animals as well as geographically. Once it had enormously to slaughter pigs, cattle and sheep all in one multi-story plant. But today's efficiency systems call for cattle abattoirs in cow country, pig packing plants in the corn-belt and slaughtering sheep near the lands they raise on.

According to the American Meat Institute in Chicago, this evolution in the meat industry, which began about 10 years ago, has prevented consumer prices from going sky-high in spite of an increase in consumption of beef from 80.5 pounds per capita in 1958 to 107 pounds in 1969.

Biggest Jump
Prices of meat have gone up anyway because of money inflation and wage rises but the biggest jump took place back in World War II. Taking round-leaf as an example, the price jumped from 36.4 cents a pound in 1940 to 93.6 cents in 1950 and only 10 cents in the next 17 years. The recent inflation caused it to spurt to $1.32 in September before prices slipped about a penny.

In the days when most livestock was brought to Chicago, Omaha, St. Paul and Kansas City for slaughter, the packing houses bought the animals through commission merchants. The commissions and yardage fees, plus rising eight charges for live animals were a huge burden, particularly when there was too much livestock for demand.

To the industry this meant costs could go up precisely when large supplies would force prices down. The industry's only recourse was to slash the price to the farmers who used the cattle.

Before World War II, 75 per cent of all beef cattle in America went directly from farms to the big city stockyards. After the war, the feedlot industry developed and almost 80 per cent of all cattle now are fattened in huge lots often operated by big companies. The Comanche Cattle Division of Petro-Lewis Corp. of Denver, for example, feeds 80,000 head in lots at Guymon and Boise City, Okla., and Thermal, Calif.

New Stockyard
A new stockyard is being built near Joliet, Ill. to receive about 15,000 hogs and 12,000 head of cattle weekly from relatively nearby feeding lots to serve regional packers.

This is typical of what has happened in the industry. "Highly efficient one-story plants that pack only beef located on the high plains of Texas, for example, have cut costs and improved efficiency enormously," said a spokesman for the institute.

Another important trend in meat business is development of the integrated company that finds its own cattle, slaughters them, cuts the carcasses into prime parts and distributes them on a regional basis. Typical is Kansas Beef Industries, Inc. founded early this year, which has plants in Wichita and Philadelphia. The company collects cattle from Kansas and Colorado and operates its own 22,000-head feedlot near Wichita. It already is preparing to increase feedlot capacity to 55,000 head. The Philadelphia plant is not engaged in feeding or slaughtering but cuts up 400 beef carcasses a day and wholesales a wide variety of domestic and imported meats.

This concept of the regional and wholly or partly integrated meat business has seen the transfer of much of the country's meat business from the giants of yesteryear—Swift, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson & Morrell, to firms like South Chicago Packing Co., the Kansas Beef Industries, Iowa Beef Processors, Inc., of Dakota City, Neb., Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., of Rockport, Mo., and American Beef Packers, Inc. of Omaha.

All these firms were founded in the past 10 years.

Modern Plants

But the meat barons of Chicago also have seen the light and are opening modern one-story plants to do a regional business. Armour has a new beef slaughtering plant in Kentucky. Cudahy has opened plants in Denver, Wichita, Seattle, Phoenix, San Antonio and Atlanta.

However, the newcomers are moving even faster. Missouri Beef Packers soon will have a capacity of 41,000 head a week following completion of a new 10,000 head plant in the Dumas-Stratford area of Texas, the company's third abattoir in Texas. American Beef Packers has reached 28,000 head a week in three plants and also has a hog slaughtering plant at Harlan, Iowa, with a capacity of 24,000 swine weekly.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investors have more reason than usual to cheer as they ring in the new year and usher out the old. Argus Research Corp. commented it noted that just as practically everyone was surprised at the length of the recession and the severity of the stock market slump in 1970, the economy and the equity markets in 1971 are likely to perform considerably better than most people now expect.

Harris, Upham & Co. said that just as Congress appears deadlocked and unable to move, so the stock market has stalled, and apparently will require some time to marshal its forces. The firm said it expected a period of further consolidation with some price erosion or profit taking in the next week or two.

Lightheaded Tourists Tour Winter Resorts For 'Ten'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The people here who live off vacationers are praying for "lousy" northern weather and a healthy stock market to pick up a sagging tourist industry.

Nobody can come up with significant figures but hotel operators and tourism officials have a gut feeling that serious trouble is not far off. This was somewhat tempered Christmas week when hotel reservations picked up a bit.

An official in charge of luring tourists to this city said prospects look "very, very favorable." He admitted another stock market slide could change the picture.

Waitresses, bartenders and cab drivers worry more about the quality of the tourist than the quantity. They claim today's visitor isn't as free and easy with his tips.

"We call them fenners," said one hardened barmaid. "They come in with the Ten Commandments and $10 and leave with both intact."

Betting Down, Flying Up
Other indications that tourists have cut down on spending were the late arrival and early departure dates of Christmas visitors and a big drop in money bet at Tropical Park in Miami.

With all the sobering signs, there are indications things may improve.

Eastern Airlines, which jets more than half the tourists who fly into south Florida, said its passenger rate is up over last year. Florida's welcome stations for tourists also are booming. On Dec. 20, the all-time record was broken when 10,593 persons visited the stands for information and free orange juice.

"It looks very, very favorable on through January and into February," said Elliott Roosevelt, head of the Miami Beach Tourist Development Authority.

"The travel industry is strongly affected by the economy, and right now we're keeping fingers crossed."

"We believe we can get 5 to 6 per cent (of the 7 to 8 per cent lost last year) back if the market continues to climb and they have lousy weather up north," said Bill Matthews of Department.

Super Bowl A Boost

Hal Cohen, also a Miami Beach publicist, thinks the Bowl football game. "That's December tourism is down always a shot in the arm," said slightly. But he thinks January Cohen.

JEANE DIXON Your Horoscope

SUNDAY, JAN. 3, 1971

Your birthday today: Return to nature is the theme for your coming year: to see the simplest, most primitive course harmonize with the greater environment. Psychic talents manifest themselves; at time a sudden impulse leads you to abrupt acts which change your whole situation—usually for the better. Altogether, this should be a satisfying, happy year of constructive striving. Today's natives are rather quiet people until given high authority; then they reveal ability to visualize.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Do your share in your community's weekend customs. Inquire about friends and neighbors. Your home affairs use minor changes; plan what you want to do.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Pick up and go, taking with you a dependent or perhaps an old friend. On the way, conversation brings enlightenment on something that has puzzled you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your latest impulse should be the mainstay in today's doing. Friends may be invited or a community situation—don't take sides, unless you're sure you've heard both sides.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Put off contradictions; delicate negotiator a few days if you can. Sidestep serious business, large purchases. Let others come to you on your terms.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Younger people outshine you today; either be prepared to pick up the bill or be unavailable. Don't fret or cause discussion. A change of scene for the evening is helpful.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): A commitment you overheard relates to somebody else, not you—help to no conclusion. Keep busy, saying little heed to appeals for sympathy, or casual promises.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Community interests require your attention and energy. Make service. Make good showing. In any case, cultivate social connections, people you don't often see.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Something you had planned to do turns out to be unfeasible. There's still great deal to do, many places to go, so make another try before it's late.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This pleasant Sunday presents a clear and perhaps shocking insight into your nature and the thoughts of somebody involved with you. Act at once to settle matters.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your neighborhood offers much to do and see today. Bring your friends along; make new contacts; explore the possibilities. Find time for meditation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A surprise is in the morning's news, if you are free. For the evening it is your turn to offer something surprising. Set goals, and help make plans to fulfill them.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Wear your favorite outfit, do well whatever you are especially suited for. Let your tallest tales, all in high good humor. The evening is for social gatherings.

FOR MONDAY, JAN. 4, 1971

Your birthday coincides with a year of experience during this coming year will have a surprise element. Your approach to current phenomena should involve developing special skills shared by few others, and using your latent talents. Once you learn the difference between wishful thinking and genuine anticipation, you are free of petty hindrances. Mental natives combine idealistic vision with physical skills, are sometimes very imaginative.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Get routine out of the way early, so you are better able to cope with complications later in the day. If there is a choice, select outdoors to anything indoors.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Success now depends on your energy and tact to change conditions, progress in good starts, people, failure to meet promises or being out of sorts. Defer decision.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): People and events from the previous year are either ahead or behind schedule. Financial moves turn up unexplained effects, negative positions; wait a few days before replacing.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Think twice before accepting additional responsibilities. Let people drift away from you; make arrangements—there may break away later if you don't let them out gracefully now.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your interest is quite a range of activities falls. Routine is preferable, if you can stay in it. Evening brightens up with much to think about.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Conditions yield only to determined pressure; be sure that you are not misunderstood by associates. Encourage your friends to reconsider. Prayer swiftly brings results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Take a conservative course; avoid needless stress, don't let them stir you up. Things are better before the year; immediate view—patience. Thoughtful planning now later proves effective.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Dissatisfaction with your situation challenges you to do something constructive about it. Career opportunities are here; must be taken or passed up quickly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Review finances, but concentrate on getting on peacefully with those around you. Move before the year; understand them could be misinterpreted.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Monday is a time of preparation, trouble-shooting rather than direct action. Routine is preferable, if you can stay in it. Evening brightens up with much to think about.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): People believe what you want to believe. Tell a clear, simple story consistently. Don't be dismayed at finding some ideas slightly scuffed; go along with the changes.

Notre Dame Roars Past Texas

Mississippi's Manning Is Stunned By Sullivan

By DAVID MOFFIT
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Pat Sullivan, the nation's total offense leader, rolled up nearly 400 yards Saturday to outduel gallant but injured Archie Manning and lead the Auburn Tigers to a 35-28 Gator Bowl victory over the Ole Miss Rebels.

Sullivan jumped the favored Tigers into a 21-0 lead with a 37-yard run in the opening minute of the second period after he had thrown two first period touchdown passes. But Manning, playing with a cast on the arm he broke less than two months ago, had the Rebels in contention until they lost the ball on a fumble with barely 4 minutes left to play.

Sullivan completed 27 of 41 passes for 351 yards and turned in several timely runs while Manning hit on 19 of 28 for 180 yards and ran for 94 more.

24 To 11 Victory For Irish In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (UPI)—Notre Dame, snapping national champion Texas' 30-game win streak in the 35th Cotton Bowl game, was merely doing what the coaches had been preaching for a month—"get that sour taste out of your mouth."

There certainly was no sour taste in Irish mouths today in the wake of what Coach Ara Parseghian called "one of the biggest moments in Notre Dame history."

Cowboys To Meet 49ers On San Francisco Field

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The National Conference West Division champion San Francisco Forty Niners and the Eastern champion Dallas Cowboys meet today for the title that will send the winner to instant riches in Super Bowl.

The Forty Niners, who took the West with a 10-3-1 record that ended the Los Angeles Rams' reign, are anywhere from 3 1-2 to 4 1-2 point favorites over the Cowboys, who posted a 10-4-0 regular season record while winning the East.

The Dallas defense, called affectionately the "Doomsday Defense," hasn't allowed a touchdown in the last five games, all of which the Cowboys won. Besides beating Detroit last Saturday, the Cowboys won by such scores as 45-21 over Washington, 16-3 over Green Bay, 34-0 over Washington and 6-2 over Cleveland.

Fallen Dreams Live In Broken Bowl Games' Fact And Fiction

By JOE CANICELLI
UPI Sports Writer
New Year's Day, college football's annual extravaganza, saw a winning streak, a jinx and a bad reputation get wiped out and thus opened the floodgates to a sea of controversy.

Worster. Quarterback Joe Theismann passed 26 yards to Tom Gatewood for one touchdown and ran three and 15 yards for two more to lead the Irish offensive.

Jack Schultz' interception on the Ohio State 25 set up Plunkett's pass to Vataha.

Both Texas and Ohio State lost and the controversy may rage through until next season as to who should have been No. 1—Texas, Ohio State, Notre Dame or Nebraska.

Stanford, with Heismann trophy winner Jim Plunkett leading the way, handed Ohio State only its second loss in three years.

Nebraska finished as the highest-ranked undefeated team, ending at 11-0-1. Arizona State, the No. 8 team which walloped North Carolina in the Peach Bowl Wednesday night, finished 11-0 while No. 17 Toledo, an easy conqueror of William and Mary in the Tangerine Bowl, was 12-0.

Spotted Dog And Vols Are Sugar Bowl Winners Friday

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A small spotted dog and the Tennessee Volunteers, both lightning fast, combined to create what must have been the longest 13 minutes and four seconds in the history of the Air Force Academy.

Everyone wanted to know how Parseghian's team stopped the devastating wishbone-T attack with which Texas led the nation in scoring and rushing.

Tom Landry And Dick Nolan Hint About Some Surprises

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer
Tom Landry and Dick Nolan, respective coaches of the Dallas Cowboys and San Francisco Forty Niners, claimed Saturday they will stick to the things they do best in their big NFC title clash and hint there might be some surprises.

All week long, Landry said Craig Morton, his quarterback, had a sore arm and couldn't throw the ball Friday night at a news conference, though, he said Morton is just fine for the big game Sunday.

Cowboys Hold Workout
The Cowboys flew into San Francisco this morning and were to hold a light workout at Kezar Stadium, site of Sunday's game. Landry said it would be strictly for orientation purposes "so our players can get the feel of the field and the wind."

Nebraska's Devaney Thinks He Has Best Team In College Football And LSU's McClendon Agrees

MIAMI (UPI)—Nebraska's Bob Devaney thinks he has the best team in college football and LSU's Charlie McClendon agrees.

"You don't make mistakes and win against the number one team in the country," he said, opening quarter that sent the Cornhuskers off and running.

They finally drove 56 yards to set up a 36-yard field goal by Mack Lumpkin with 49 minutes left in the half.

Coach John Madden Brought The Oakland Raiders Into Baltimore Under Foul Weather And Security

BLATIMORE (UPI)—The Oakland Raiders have arrived here for the American Football Conference championship game, but nobody has seen them or talked to them—and probably nobody will until they take the field Sunday.

Friday with snowplows and shovels to clear a six-inch blanket of snow which fell New Year's Eve. Underneath the tarp there is practically no grass—just hard, frozen dirt.

"They were sticking with their own," said McCaffery of his fellow coaches. "I believe it was a clammy feeling that we are intruders among the AFL clubs."

Tommy Prothro Becomes New Head Coach For LA

By JOE ST. AMANT
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Tommy Prothro became head coach of the Los Angeles Rams Saturday under a long-term contract and said he expects to produce a winning football team quickly.

Prothro, a 50-year-old Southerner, leaves the head coaching job at UCLA where he spent six years and compiled a 41-18-3 record. His team played twice in the Rose Bowl, breaking even.

As head coach of the Rams, Prothro replaced George Allen who was fired Thursday after a five-year tenure, during which his team won divisional titles but failed to get to the Superbowl.

Prothro would not say how much money he is getting from the Rams and would not specify the length of the contract, but he said "It is not a short term contract."

It was learned, however, that the contract is for five years. Prothro held a news conference and fielded a variety of questions on his reasons for leaving his solid job at UCLA to take on a post that has been subject to capricious whims of owner and president Daniel Reeves.

Questioned about the prospects of the team, Prothro said:

"If I thought this was a long range program for a winner I would not be interested. I'm too old for that. I want to have a good football team. I want to have good football players. If I thought it was not going to turn right away I would not be interested."

Prothro said he was motivated at least partly by the prestige of the professional job.

"All of us in athletics show our maturity by seeking prestige positions," he said. "When I was at Corvallis coaching Oregon State football college, football was certainly the biggest thing there."

"I think you gentlemen of the news media helped me make my decision. The media create public opinion and reflect public opinion. I've been back at UCLA for six years and now I've been convinced that pro football is bigger than college football."

Computerized Football Can Help Stomp Old Traditions

DALLAS (UPI)—In this day of computerized football, tradition sometimes gets stomped on. It took another terrible beating in the 35th Cotton Bowl game Friday.

For the players of Notre Dame—that holiest of college football institutions—there were game orations we are accustomed to seeing on the late movie when Pat O'Brien is imitating Knute Rockney.

There was no secret pact drawn up at any post-midnight convalesce.

"There wasn't any of that 'win one for the Gipper,' or anything like that," said Notre Dame linebacker Eric Patton after the Irish had defeated No.

1 Texas 24-11 to end the Longhorns' 30-game winning streak.

"We didn't have any meetings of the offense and defense, but you could feel the intensity. Every man felt it. It was strictly a case of individual preparation."

The emotional preparation for a football game has always been just as important as the mechanical preparation, and whatever method the Irish used to get ready for the Longhorns it was the right one.

"We started getting ready mentally on Thursday," said quarterback Joe Theismann. "It started in practice, and you could just feel it. But we didn't get too tight. Why, before the game in the locker room everybody was loose. I was just sitting here hitching sticks of gum into my shoe."

But Patton, a linebacker who was one of the keys in Notre Dame's specially devised defense to combat the Wishbone-T was not so sure about fits looseness-business.

"Theismann said we were loose before the game?" asked Patton. Then he shook his head.

"He's like that. I don't think he ever gets tense. But I'll tell you, we players weren't loose. There was too much riding on this game."

There was, indeed, a lot riding on the game. And the outcome of it, a victory which Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian called one of the greatest moments in the school's athletic history, propels the Irish into the 1971 season as an obvious national champion hopeful.

The one, big question mark for next year will be at quarterback—where Theismann gives way to Pat Steenberge.

Theismann, however, did not have any time to think about the immediate future of his alma mater. He left Dallas Sunday; his bride of three weeks in tow, for Honolulu to play in the Hula Bowl.

He left behind in Texas, a host of shattered dreams. The overwhelming sadness of the Texas locker room was clear evidence most of the players had forgotten what it was like to lose.

"We've been in the other-type of locker room," Texas coach Darrell Royal said. "Defeats are good for anyone occasionally. But I feel miserable. I don't recommend it."

'Sour Taste In Mouth' Removed By A Sweet Notre Dame Victory

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer
DALLAS (UPI)—Notre Dame, snapping national champion Texas' 30-game win streak in the 35th Cotton Bowl game, was merely doing what the coaches had been preaching for a month—"get that sour taste out of your mouth."

There certainly was no sour taste in Irish mouths Saturday in the wake of what Coach Ara Parseghian called "one of the biggest moments in Notre Dame history."

The 24-11 upset of No. 1-ranked Texas atoned for a lot of things that have happened to Notre Dame since the school broke 45 years of tradition and came to play Texas in the 34th Cotton Bowl a year ago, only to lose 21-17 in the final minutes.

"We were dejected after the loss of Southern Cal. in the final game of the regular season to drop Notre Dame to 9-1, but they made a tremendous comeback today," Parseghian said after the victory.

"We had a lot to prove to people and to ourselves," said Irish defensive tackle Greg Marx. "After the Southern Cal game, the coaches told us, 'get that sour taste out of your mouths; get that sour taste out of your mouth.'"

"After all, we lost to a team that was unranked by giving up 38 points, and barely beat another team that wasn't ranked too high—Georgia Tech."

Parseghian revealed after the game that a new defensive concept had been the key to the Texas victory, a man-for-man coverage in the backfield.

"We used an eight-man front, but we camouflaged this real well with different adjustments," Parseghian said. "We learned a lot a year ago from Texas about the Wishbone-T and there's no way you can cover it with the typical defense."

One Horse Open Sleigh Is Needed At The Horse Races

By United Press International
Snow may be fun when you're riding in a one-horse open sleigh, but not when you're trying to win a horse race.

The snowstorm which lashed the East Coast Friday forced a closing of Laurel in Maryland, Liberty-Bell in Philadelphia and Lincoln Downs in Rhode Island.

The snow had no effect in Sunny California or Florida, however.

At Santa Anita, Chilean-bred Cougar II (96:60), Bill Shoemaker aboard, captured the $34,000 San Gabriel Handicap with a 1 1/4-length victory over Suerte Al Cobre, an Argentine import.

Cougar II, providing Shoemaker with the 503rd stakes win of his career, was clocked in 1:52 3/5 for 1 1/4 miles on turf. Cougar II took down first-place money of $20,500 for owner Mary F. Jones.

Lion Sleeps breezed to another easy win at Tropical Park, his fourth straight, with a seven-length score over Finance Minister in the 22nd running of the $22,500 New Year's Handicap at six furlongs.

Bob Ussery guided Lion Sleeps ($3.20) to his 11th victory in 21 starts and his first since taking the Coral Gables Handicap last month.

The 5-year-old gelding, owned by Celestino di Libero, carried top weight of 125 pounds and was closed in 1:09 3/5 to carry off first money of $13,500.

West Wins By 4 In Shrine Classic

OAKLAND (UPI)—College sprint champion Mel Gray of Missouri ran the opening kickoff for a touchdown and scored another on a 45-yard pass Saturday in leading the favored West to a 17-13 victory in the 40th Shrine East-West football classic.

Dan Pastorini of Santa Clara threw the 45-yard pass to Gray and added a record 42-yard field goal in addition to kicking two extra points and won the Coffman Award as the game's outstanding offensive player.

Workhorse running back Mike Adamle of Northwestern scored on a one-yard run for the East's first touchdown. Jeff Wright of Minnesota tallied the other, scampering a record 94 yards to get ready for the Longhorns it was the right one.

"We started getting ready mentally on Thursday," said quarterback Joe Theismann. "It started in practice, and you could just feel it. But we didn't get too tight. Why, before the Texas, Nebraska Or Irish Who Is Really Number One?

The fight for number one seems to be a little confusing as Notre Dame, Nebraska and that once 30-straight win Texas all are laying claim to the coveted position.

Texas was downed by Notre Dame before the disbelieving eyes of thousands of Longhorn fans 24 to 11 in a pre-conceived replay of last year's New Year's Cotton Bowl game. Stanford dumped Ohio State 27 to 17 and LSU barely lost to a fired up Nebraska team in the fourth quarter.

Bo Hagan Retires With Longest Winning Streak After UT's Loss

DALLAS (UPI)—The defeat of the University of Texas by Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl Friday left the longest winning streak in the Southwest Conference in the hands of Bo Hagan. But Hagan won't be around next year to try to expand on it.

Hagan resigned his post as head football coach at Rice University well before the end of the season. But his club won its last three games over Texas A&M, TCU and Baylor, and that now stands as the longest current win streak in the league.

The second-longest winning streak in the conference is a healthy one-game affair, and that is also owned by a coach that will not be returning next season—TCU's Fred Taylor. TCU downed SMU in its final game of the year.

The other six conference clubs all lost their final games of the season.

Besides Texas' loss to Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl, Texas Tech closed out with a loss to Georgia Tech in the Sun Bowl, Arkansas lost its final game to Texas, Texas A&M also lost to Texas, Baylor fell to Rice

Soccer Fans Hurlled To The Ground When Barrier Falls

GLASGOW, Scotland (UPI)—Hundreds of fans were hurled to the frozen ground today when a section of a metal and concrete crowd barrier collapsed during Glasgow's most famous annual soccer match in Ibrox Park.

An official announcement said 66 persons were killed and another 66 were injured seriously enough to require hospitalization. Scores of others were treated at the field for minor injuries.

Spectators lean against the barriers while standing on terraces overlooking the playing field.

Stanford's Playboys Can 'Milkshake' Rumor

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—It has taken the Stanford football team 19 years to live down the reputation of playboys who trained on milkshakes and loafed in practice for the Rose Bowl.

The 1962 Stanford team which suffered a 40-7 defeat by Illinois gained the "milkshake" reputation after the Indians' last appearance in the Rose Bowl until the 1971 game.

Led by Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett, the Indians slashed their way to a 27-17 victory over an Ohio State team ranked second in the nation and undefeated during the regular season.

Plunkett climaxed his collegiate career as the nation's most honored college football player by lifting Stanford to a pair of fourth period touchdowns as the Indians came from behind to defeat the Big Ten champions.

In a hard-fought contest that saw the Buckeyes pile up huge chunks of yardage, Ohio State could generate only two first half touchdowns and a field goal in the third period.

The turning point came in the fourth period with Ohio State leading 17-13 and driving for another touchdown. On fourth and one on the 19-yard line, Buckeye fullback John Brockington was thrown for a yard lost.

Stanford determination and pride asserted itself. The Indians had met with members of the 1962 Stanford team were impressed with their statements that for 19 years they had been forced to live with the reputation of playboys who trained on milkshakes.

Plunkett, chosen the game's most valuable player, marched the Indians 80 yards after they held the Buckeyes on the 20. On that march, he completed five straight passes, the final one a 35-yard strike to Bobby Moore. Moore wrestled the ball away from Ohio State's All-America safety, Mike Sensibaugh, on the two.

Jackie Brown, who had scored Stanford's first down in the opening period, then outran the Buckeye defenders around end for the score that put the Indians ahead to stay.

Boling Of Tennessee Recommends Five-Year Contract For Battle

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—President Edward J. Boling of the University of Tennessee recommended a new five-year contract for 29-year-old Bill Battle Friday after the rookie coach led the Volunteers to a 34-13 Sugar Bowl victory over Air Force.

Battle, youngest major college football coach in the record in regular season play, nation, led the Vols to a 10-1 taking a team predicted to finish sixth in the Southeastern Conference and leading it to a No. 4 national ranking.

A spokesman said the new contract involved "a substantial increase in salary."

Boling's recommendation is subject to approval by the Tennessee Board of Trustees, but that approval is considered a formality.

National Football League Is Expected To Expand In 1971

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Saturday he expects the National Football League to add six more teams during the coming decade—bringing the league to 32 clubs.

"We're not even thinking about expansion now," Rozelle told a news conference on the eve of the National Football Conference championship game between San Francisco and Dallas.

"But it's a logical assumption that during this decade we're going to get to 32 teams. In the past decade, we went from 12 to 26," he said.

"However, I don't know when it will come. The clubs want to consolidate what they have now—and don't want to destroy the competitive balance."

Rozelle said several cities have, or will have, the population to support an expansion team. He listed Seattle first and said other possibilities are Phoenix, Portland, Tampa, Memphis, Birmingham, a regional team around Winston-Salem, Honolulu and Mexico City.

The commissioner also told newsmen he expects the league's competition committee to go "back to the old drawing board" and add a couple more criteria for selection of the fourth "wild-card" competitor for the conference playoffs.

"We damn near got burned and had to flip a coin this year," Rozelle said.

But he said even if two more criteria were added, a coin flip—and not a playoff game—would still be the ultimate tie-breaker.

"After all, the fourth club gets a semi-free pass anyway," Rozelle said. "They didn't win their division."

The commissioner also defended the television blackout of regular season and playoff games in the cities where they are played, saying weather for football is not ideal and that even ticket buyers have failed to show up on bad days when the game is televised locally.

"We don't want to be a studio show," he said.

Rozelle also said that a one-minute commercial spot for this year's Super Bowl had sold for up to $200,000; that 13 games would go telecast again next season on Monday nights; and that the ban on cigarette commercials wouldn't make a "major difference" to pro football because their portion of television time had been declining steadily in the past four or five years—from 25 percent of the spots to "considerably under 10 percent."

Loretta Prock, Jimmy D. Carden Exchange Vows In Pampa

MRS. JIMMY D. CARDEN
... nee Loretta Jean Prock

Loretta Jean Prock and Jimmy D. Carden exchanged marriage vows Saturday evening at 7:30 in a candlelight service in the Central Baptist Church. Dr. Bill Carden, cousin of the bridegroom, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

White candelabra flanked the altar where alabaster urns on white columns contained topographies of white mums and carnations. Palms, lemon leaves and white bows as pew markers completed the decorations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Prock, 2319 Mary Ellen. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon G. Carden of Fort Worth.

BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal, floor-length wedding gown of angel skin peau de soie over bridal taffeta designed with a high neckline and an A-line silhouette empire waist. Tiny covered buttons marked the deep pointed cuffs.

Inserts of Alencon lace heavily embroidered with seed pearls, enhanced the neckline, bodice, sleeves, and front of the gown. Her full chapel-length veil of imported illusion fell from a coil and was also edged with lace embroidered with seed pearls. The bride carried an illusion of the graduated topography design made of white orchids and stephanotis.

ATTENDANTS

Matron of honor was Mrs. Mike Stone of Dallas. Mrs. Allan Wise of Midland, Mrs. Bill Martin of Stillwater, Okla., both sisters of the bride, Miss Sharon Carden, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Ginny Richardson of Boston, Mass., and Miss Martha Ann Newton bridesmaids.

Each of the six bridesmaids wore identical floor-length gowns of cranberry silk velvet skirts and pink chiffon empire bodices with the full sheer sleeves accented with wide cuffs and velvet buttons. Their bouquets were topographies made of the pink and cranberry carnations and other greenery. For headpieces, they wore pink sheer bows in their hair with dark pink velvet streamers adorned with fresh flowers hanging from the bows.

Jimmy Moore of Pampa was best man. Dicky Carden, brother of the bridegroom, Carey Earl of Fort Worth, Steve Browning of Odessa, Cliff Tension of West Monroe, La., and Arnie Cayazos of Dallas were the groomsmen. Keith Morris of Bronte, seated the guests along with the groomsmen.

Dr. Hugh Sanders of Canyon, sang "Eternal Life" and "Bridge over Troubled Water" accompanied by Mrs. Hugh Sanders, who also played the traditional wedding selections.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Guests were registered by Miss Linda Campbell of San Antonio. The serving table was accented with a topography of the bride's colors and a three-tiered cake topped with love birds. Hot cranberry punch, served from a silver service, was attended to by Mrs. Nita Trinker of Abilene. The cake was served by Miss Rosalie Richards of Jefferson City, Mo. Mrs. Terry Frazier of Lubbock also served as hostess.

For the wedding trip to Red River, N.M., the bride traveled in a pink and plum plaid pantsuit. White boots and the white orchid lifted from the bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

The bride's mother wore a pink Lute Song polyester dress with dyed to match accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pale pink dress also with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Carden were hosts for the rehearsal dinner for all the wedding party in the Coronado Inn Friday.

The couple will be at home after the holidays in Waco where both are Senior students at Baylor University. The bride was a 1967 graduate of Pampa High School. The bridegroom graduated from Arlington Heights High School in Fort Worth in 1967.

About 60 out-of-town guests attended the wedding.

PRE-NUPRIAL EVENTS

A bridal shower was given at the Flame Room in the Pioneer Natural Gas Building by friends of the bride. A shower was also given in Fort Worth by friends of the bridegroom in the home of Mrs. Raymond Garwood. Mrs. Mike Stone gave a luncheon for the bride and bridesmaids Saturday in Pampa.

After the group played choruses of Christmas carols, Mrs. Corbell played "Mrs. Santa Clause" to the group, as gifts were exchanged among members. A gift was presented to Mrs. Corbell, who is sponsor of the sorority and also a gift to Mr. Corbell.

Refreshments were served from a table with red Christmas Cloth with white fringe and centered with an all white Nativity scene on a base of frosted white roses. Votive candles on either side of the centerpiece provided illumination for the setting.

As guests were served they were presented with white flocked candles decorated in keeping with the yuletide season.

Mrs. Warren Phillips was a guest, with the following members present: Mmes. Jim Hensley, Kenneth Graham, Ray White, W. H. Riley, John Vineyard, Don Biggers, Daniel Clemmer, Elsie Austin, Bob Patton, Gary Hollis, Gene Lewallen, Van Coe, Bert Yager, Lloyd Anderson and Joe Wilson.

MRS. CHARLES ONIS PRICE
... nee Sharon Lee Martin

Sharon Martin Weds Rev. Charles Price

Wedding vows of Sharon Lee Martin and the Rev. Charles Onis Price were pledged at 10 a.m. Saturday in Craig Chapel Church in Dallas. Dr. Charles P. Pitts, president of Dallas Baptist College and an uncle of the bride, officiated as the couple exchanged vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tracy Martin of Beaumont. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Onis Harrison Price of 1024 S. Banks.

Mrs. George Davenport III of Beaumont was the bride's matron of honor. Those in the houseparty were Julia Weller of Beaumont, Jennifer James of Brownwood and Elizabeth Stephens of Dallas.

Dean Allen of Odessa was best man. J. R. Hite of Fort Worth and Doug Altom of Pampa seated wedding guests. A wedding breakfast was held in the Dallas Athletic Club after the ceremony. The couple left on a wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado, and will make their home in Dallas.

The bride is an honor graduate and received her B.S. Degree from Lamar Tech in 1970. She was a member of Who's Who, Alpha Chi Omega Sorority, and Cap and Gown, and was named as Neches River Festival Princess in 1966.

She was Phi Kappa Phi, served as Texas Baptist Student Union president from 1969 to 1970, and will receive her Master's Degree from North Texas State University in May, 1971. The bridegroom received his B.A. Degree from Hardin-

Simmons University in 1968, and was a member of Tau Alpha Phi Fraternity and Who's Who. He was on the varsity basketball squad, served as student body president of Howard County Junior College, and was state president of Texas Junior College Student Government Association, 1966-66. He is currently minister of youth education at Gaston Avenue Baptist Church and is completing work for a masters in Divinity in Theology at Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

COUPLE SAYS VOWS

MRS. GENE CARLSON
... nee Connie Jean Barber

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barber, 2015 Duncan, announce the marriage of their daughter, Connie Jean Barber, to Gene Carlsson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Carlsson, 2211 Charles. The couple pledged marriage vows in a home wedding ceremony Dec. 26. The Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

Barbara Lynn Veale Pledges Vows With Frankie D. Allen

Barbara Lynn Veale was united in marriage with Frankie Dale Allen in an evening service in First Baptist Church Dec. 28. The Rev. Dan B. Cameron, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiated for the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wynn L. Veale of Houston and formerly of Pampa. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen of Amarillo.

Mrs. J. E. Gunn, organist, played traditional wedding selections as the couple exchanged rings. Garlands of gold spruce interspersed with red pine cones decorated the choir rail. Candelabra formed the background for the wedding ceremony.

BRIDE

The bride was given in marriage by her father with "her mother and I" avowal. She was dressed in a princess line front panel gown of white peau de soie outlined with applied lace and pearls that continued to encircle the self-forming train. Small covered buttons and a peau de soie bow that extended the length of the train provided the back interest of lace covered bodice.

The lace covered stand-up collar was encircled with pearls. Her fitted sheer lace sleeves were trimmed with lace scallops and pearls at the wrists.

The elbow-length veil of bridal illusion fell from a headpiece of net and lace petals accented with a pearl and a center tear drop. She carried a cascade of red and white carnations interspersed with holly and greenery.

The bride wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue and a penny is her shoe. These included her mother's good luck gold coin, a borrowed blue garter and an Aggie garter.

ATTENDANTS

Bridal attendants were Miss Gerry Jordan, Farmersville, as maid of honor; Janice Whitfield, Amarillo, and Kay Allen, both of Amarillo, as bridesmaid.

They were all dressed in red crepe floor-length skirts gathered onto fitted bodices with stand-up collars and long full sleeves. Waists of their dresses were accented with matching velvet cummerbunds. Their headpieces were red velvet flat Dior bows. They each carried red carnations on white velvet muffs. Candelighters were Laura Best and Becky Thompson, both of Pampa.

Terry Ashton, of Anaheim, Calif., assisted his cousin as best man. Groomsmen were Bob Matthews and Kirk Cunningham, both of Amarillo. Ricky Sharp of Amarillo and Douglas Thompson of Pampa seated wedding guests.

RECEPTION

Mrs. Gunn also played music for the reception in the church parlor. Table decorations were silver candelabra decorated with white carnations, holly and white candles.

Carolyn Cockrell and Ellen Price served the traditional three-tiered white wedding cake which was decorated with red roses and holly. Helen Upton and Jennifer Darling assisted at the punch service. Bonnie Jennings and Joyce Waters registered guests. Rice bags were distributed by Linda Thompson.

For the honeymoon trip to Galveston, the bride traveled in a royal blue wool costume with red and white accents, and red accessories. Her flowers were red and white carnations.

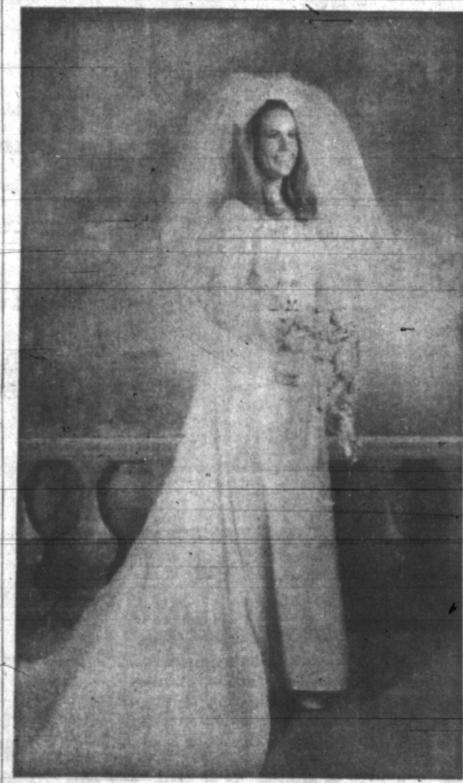

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Pampa High School and is a mid-year graduate of Texas Woman's University with a B.S. Degree in nursing. She was a member of Alpha Psi Omega and Sigma Theta Tau, National Honor Nursing Fraternity.

The bridegroom is a 1967 Amarillo High School graduate, and is a senior in Aerospace engineering at Texas A&M. He is a member of Sigma Gamma Tau, National Honor Aerospace Fraternity, and American Institute of Aerospace and Aeronautics.

PRE-NUPRIAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial courtesies were a shower in Pampa Nov. 28, one in Amarillo Dec. 5 and a personal shower in Dallas. Hostesses for the Pampa showers were Mmes. Ray Thompson, H. J. Johnson, D. L. Mackie and John Best. Amarillo hostesses were Mmes. Kate Lock, Mabel Ray and Cathy Calloway. Dallas hostesses were Mmes. Helen Upton, Jennifer Darling, Janice Whitfield, Gerry Jordan and Mrs. Priscilla Barnes.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. T. A. Reid of Gerber, Calif., Mrs. Bert Ashton of Fullerton, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. David Isham and Mrs. J. M. Thomas of Amarillo, Mrs. W. L. Veale Sr., of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Beckman of Baltimore, Md.

MRS. LARRY DEAN HUFF
... nee Earleen Sutton

Candlelight Service Unites Earleen Sutton, Larry D. Huff

Candlelight wedding vows were read for Earleen Sutton and Larry Dean Huff Saturday evening. Dr. V. Walters Browers officiated for the double-ring ceremony in Polk Street Methodist Church Chapel in Amarillo.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wayne Sutton of Lubbock. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Huff of Midland.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a formal gown of silk organza and A-line lace designed with a fitted empire bodice. The bodice was designed with a Victorian neckline and long sheer lace applied sleeves caught at the wrists by deep lace cuffs. The empire bodice was overlaid in lace and re-embroidered in seed pearls and crystals.

Her skirt fell unadorned in an A-line silhouette. The detachable train fell from a back raised waistline, cascaded to chapel length and ended in a scalloped lace edge.

She wore a matching candlelight Dior bow applied in lace and held in place by an elbow-length veil. She carried a cascade of gardenias and white sweetheart roses with tangerine accents and ivy greenery.

ATTENDANTS

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Bill Patterson, Cindy Huff and Mrs. Mark Spire. All were dressed in A-line floor-length crepe tangerine dresses designed with three-tiered puff sleeves of silk organza and daisy lace trim on sleeves. They carried nosegays of white carnations accented with tangerine baby's breath on a colonial lace background.

Steve Molberg of Pampa assisted as best man with Larry Pipkin of Waco and Dale Klezer of Hale Center as groomsmen. Clawson Pipkin of Midland and Sherman Smith of Canyon were ushers.

Wayne Pidner, organist, played the wedding march, bridal march, various love themes and religious themes and accompanied vocalists. Vocalist Jan Autry sang "Twelfth of Never" with Bill Patterson as vocalist for "What Is A Youth." Miss Autry and Patterson sang a duet of "Whither Thou Goest."

Church decorations for the ceremony were a center arrangement of white gladiolas and tangerine mums and two arched candelabras trimmed with greenery and accented with orange tapers. The centered prie dieu was a profile kneeling bench trimmed with greenery.

RECEPTION

During the reception in the church parlor several classical and romantic music themes were played as Mrs. Terry Cornette and Miss Carol Cut-birth and Miss Judy Jackman assisted at the punch and coffee service.

Mrs. Clawson Pipkin served the three-tiered white cake which was trimmed with orange roses and white bells. White gladiolas with orange mums accented the bouquet which was placed on a white net cloth.

Mrs. Don Tate registered guests with Cindy Jackson as another reception assistant.

After the wedding trip to Ruidosa, N.M., the couple will live in Canyon where the bride is a senior majoring in elementary education at West Texas State University. The bridegroom is a WTSS senior majoring in industrial business agriculture and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Pre-nuptial events included three showers, one in Pampa and Amarillo and one given by a sorority. A rehearsal dinner was held in Amarillo at noon Saturday.

Couple Says Vows In Baptist Church

Linda Darlene Rodgers and Richard Smith were best man as L.D. Pruitt performed groomsmen duties. Johnny Kenner and Red Reeves seated wedding guests. Brenda Sheffield, organist, played the "Twelfth of Never," a d "Always," and accompanied vocalist, Mary Price.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver A. Rodgers of 1209 Darby. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Reeves, south of Pampa.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride was dressed in a floor-length gown of white slipper satin with train. The center front panel was accented with white lace

Dear Abby

By August Van Burck

DEAR ABBY: I know you've heard of "Peeping Toms," but have you ever heard of a female Peeping Tom? If there is such a thing, my wife is one. She is obsessed with getting a look at a naked man.

IGNORANT IN IRELAND
DEAR IGNORANT: If the bride's family is extremely well-to-do, the bridesmaid's "outfits" are usually provided. But in most cases, the bridesmaids buy their own, and are pleased to do so.

DEAR ABBY: That letter from the daughter-in-law who wrote to tell you and the whole world how "cruel" the relatives were to her father-in-law on his 91st birthday was a real tear-jerker.

BAFFLED
DEAR BAFFLED: If this preoccupation with naked men is "sudden," maybe something is wrong with her. Such curiosity is considered normal in adolescent children, but at 37, she should have outgrown it. She's too young to be considered a dirty old lady. Don't laugh it off. Talk it out. She is obviously missing something.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter has been asked to be a bridesmaid at a friend's wedding. It is to be a fairly posh affair with flower girls, etc. To cut a long story short, it has been casually suggested by both the bride-to-be and her mother that the bridesmaids are to pay for their own outfits. Is this in order? It seems to me that anyone can have a big wedding if it is subsidized by their friends.

DEAR ABBY: I may be wrong, and will foot the bill for my daughter's outfit anyway, but I would like to

SLIMMER TOPS
Sponsors Party
SKELLYTOWN (Spl)—The Skellytown Slimmer TOPS Club met in the Library for a regular meeting and their annual Christmas party with the club's leader, Mrs. Margaret Simmons presiding.

Computer Helps Medics Prepare EEG Analysis

PALO ALTO, Calif. (UPI)—A new system which can produce diagnostic reports of electroencephalographic (EEG) tests has been developed by a Veteran's Administration Hospital neurologist.

Dr. Stephen Sherwood said a 35-pound minicomputer prepares the diagnostic report in less than two minutes and draws conclusions in tests for epilepsy, tumor location and other brain damage.

"At present a neurologist must spend 15 to 20 minutes dictating his analysis and conclusions of EEG recording charts, which themselves can measure 100 feet to half a mile in length," Dr. Sherwood said.

"After 10 to 15 patients per day, the neurologist tires and his judgment and accuracy can be dulled."

The neurologist or technician prepares a diagnostic report merely by typing a group of four letter mnemonics on a teletype keyboard. The computer processes the code words into a clinical report and draws diagnostic conclusion.

The new method's advantages include standardization of reporting; time saving in processing EEG's; use of a check list which obviates errors and omissions; automatic evaluation of the EEG.

Matchmaker Advocates Honesty In Marriage

By ALBERT E. KAFF
TOKYO (UPI)—Surely Genki Ishizaka, 73, qualifies as a super expert in marriages.

In 45 years as a professional matchmaker, he has arranged 3,000 weddings. He claims that only five of them ended in divorce.

Ishizaka says the secret of his success in matching brides and bridegrooms is total honesty.

"Marriage go-betweens usually praise the bride and groom in exaggerated fashion," the elderly man told the Asahi newspaper. "But I consider it a secret of success not to tell a lie about the couple."

"Boys can be poor at the time of marriage, but if they have good futures I consider that's all right."

Ishizaka started out as a traveling salesman of lacquer ware. Moving about Japan, he would be asked to find suitable mates for young men and women.

No Love Marriages
Love marriages were almost unheard of in Japan until after World War II. Even today, many marriages, particularly in rural areas, are arranged by go-betweens.

The Japanese hold two theories on marriages arranged by outsiders. First, if the match fails, the parents alone are not to blame. More important, Japanese believe that love will develop after the wedding.

In this spirit, families go to a matchmaker to seek suitable partners for their children. When a match tentatively is accepted by two families, a mial (first meeting) is arranged at which the young man and woman see each other but do not necessarily speak.

The mial, attended by family representatives, might be held in the matchmaker's house, in a restaurant, theater or other public place.

If the young man and woman are pleased with each other at the mial, yuino (engagement gifts) are exchanged. In old days, yuino might be rolls of cloth, fans or casks of sake (white rice wine).

Nowadays instead of gifts, the bridegroom can present cash to the bride's family, which then returns part of the money. The original sum in middle-class families might range from 10,000 yen ($27) up to 50,000 yen ($138), or even more.

Has Few Peers
Ishizaka has few peers in the business of matchmaking, which he has been doing since the age of 29. And he knows what young people want. "Usually a girl seeks mate with a good scholastic standing, while the boy looks for a pretty girl," he said.

From his home in Central Japan's mountainous Nagano prefecture, Ishizaka has traveled far on his missions of romance.

"Before the war, I went as far as Singapore, China and Formosa, and following the war even to New York to arrange marriages," he said. "In my hands I usually have the personal records and photographs of more than 300 young men and women looking for marriage."

"Of the men whose marriages I arranged, nearly 200 of them died on the war front. On the days marking their deaths I burn incense at my Buddhist altar."

the bride. Flower girls were Janie Beegle and Crystal Allen, cousins of the bride.

James Ryals of White, Deer, served his brother as best man. Michael Sheffield and James Sheffield, brothers of the bride, and Jerry Seamans, cousin of the groom, served as groomsmen. Ushers were Edwin Birch, Harry Don Seaman, Billy Glenn Seaman, cousins of the bridegroom.

Before her marriage, the bride was a student at Henderson State College of Arkadelphia, Ark. The bridegroom is a junior in Marine Biology at Arkansas A&M at Monticello, Ark. Following a short honeymoon, the bridegroom will continue his studies toward the Bachelor of Science Degree.

Area Club Sets Date For Coffee

SKELLYTOWN (Spl)—The Skelly Schafer Club met in the home of Mrs. John Anderson at the Schafer Camp with Mrs. Roy Paul Thurmond as co-hostess for their annual Christmas party and gift exchange from a lighted Christmas tree.

The club will sponsor a March of Dimes Coffee Jan. 15. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Raymond Shannon, 418 Red Deer St., Pampa.

Attending were Mes. Richard Mills, Bob Heaton, Everett Butler, Elmer Nichols, Ben Wesner, Louie Karlin; Charles Cross, Kenneth Elliott, Charley Dowlearn, Gary Gortmaker, hostesses Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Thurmond.

Couple Announces Marriage Plans

WHEELER (Spl)—Mr. and Mrs. William Terry, of Shamrock and former Wheeler residents, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Audrey Gay (Pete) to Bobby D. Calcote, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby J. Calcote of the Kelton Community. A June wedding is planned by the couple. Both Miss Terry and Mr. Calcote are students at Shamrock High School.

Creativity in styling is fostering new interest in women's watches. Shown here are two offerings from a 250,000 "Masterpiece Collection" from Buljov design studios in Switzerland. Both are cased in 18-carat gold. Numeral markers on the wrist timepiece are in black enamel.

Fashionable Time Adds Wrist Accent

NEW YORK (NEA)—The big news in women's timekeeping equipment this season is by no means confined to those big watches. There's a definite trend to smaller timepieces that are more flattering to feminine wrists.

The high-visibility dials that were popularized by the jumbo-sized watches are being retained, with a degree of subtlety, in the more conventional-sized models.

Haute couture is becoming an important part of the watch scene, too. Currently appearing in many smart jewelry shops and department stores is a collection of women's watch "originals" bearing the imposing name of Christian Dior along with that of Bulova on the dials.

Marc Bohan, top designer for the House of Dior, explains that he has always given more importance to fashion accessories than many other French designers. And to him watches are important accessories.

"Beauty and elegance are one and the same," he said. "If a woman wants to look chic and distinguished her entire outfit must be in harmony — from hat to shoes, gloves, bag, jewels and watch."

"Of course, a fashion watch cannot be replaced every month like a pair of gloves," he continued, "but an elegant woman must have a collection of watches for the various happenings of her day."

The Parisian designer's suggestion of multiple watch ownership is understandably meets with the approval of Michael Roman Bulova's vice-president has for many seasons advocated that women and men should own a watch wardrobe.

"The watch tag goes with office clothes is hardly appropriate with an evening costume," he said. "And surely the active woman will own a sports watch for golfing, boating, skiing or snorkeling."

Changes in watches in recent years have been subtle but definite, says Roman. Now there's more emphasis on case designs, dial treatment and styling of bracelets than before.

But a nationwide profile of new watch buyers disclosed that better than 89 per cent of purchasers named accuracy as the factor uppermost in their minds at the time of purchase. A guarantee from a reputable manufacturer and a dial that's easy to read were runner-up factors in the survey.

An amusing sidelight was the disclosure that fewer than 8 per cent of watch purchases are made on the basis of recommendations of friends or relatives.

Returning to the fashion theme, it should be noted that the trend on the part of women's fashion designers to create men's accessories is carrying over into the watch world. Two of the models in the new Dior collection are for men. These two, Roman says, are among the styles most popular with women. But he's not sure whether they're buying them to give to men or to wear themselves.

SPRING FRESH—Orange walls and carpeting create the perfect backdrop for Desley-Edson's quilted cotton bedspread splashed with spring flowers. Matching draperies at the window and a covering for a small round table continue the theme. Making the most of limited space, the corner of the recessed bed area takes a handsome bamboo unit. Luxurious comfort for reading is provided by a well-proportioned chair covered in deep green velvet.

Fiesta Improves Workers' Health

STOCKTON, Calif., (UPI)—There's a fiesta — complete with music — for migrant farm workers and their families when they go for a health checkup in San Joaquin County.

The program was conceived by the San Joaquin Medical Society to attract people who will not go too far out of their way to seek preventive medical care.

The program, funded by the California Regional Medical Programs, is intended to bring the benefits of medical care to poor urban families and migrant farm workers in the country and to combat health ignorance by involving people in active participation.

Officials say one of the most serious deficiencies in the present health system is absence of a sense of participation or control of their fate by patients seeking health care.

The ultimate goal of the health checkup is to screen 3,000 persons annually for the next three years to bring them into the local health care system.

A trial run was held in August when checkups were given to two labor camps near Stockton. Accompanied by the sounds of Mariachi bands, refreshments, and food, the checkups attracted large crowds.

Patients received tests for lung function, blood pressure, visual acuity, heart function, x-ray and blood and urine. Women got routine "pap" tests for detection of cervical cancer.

The tests cost about $34 per patient. The fee is covered by a grant from the Division of Regional Medical Programs of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Skellytown Unit Has Luncheon

SKELLYTOWN (Spl)—As the Skellytown Home Makers Club met in the home of Mrs. Bob Heaton on North Main St. for their annual Christmas party and luncheon, invocation was given by Mrs. Ethel Hunt. Christmas motif carried out in the table decorations. Secret pal names were revealed and new names were drawn for 1971. Members read traditions of other lands as their program. Mrs. Helen Burditt won the house game.

Sharon Lee Tucker Pledges Vows With Gary L. Jarrard

Sharon Lee Tucker was united in marriage with Gary Lynn Jarrard in an afternoon wedding ceremony in Miller Chapel of Baylor University in Waco. The Rev. Owen H. Kersha, associate pastor of First Baptist Church of Waco, officiated for the Dec. 19 ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bruce Tucker of Waco. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman T. Jarrard of 2124 N. Christy.

BRIDE

The bride wore a floor-length gown of ivory taffeta with a bodice accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace and beaded with sequins and pearls. The A-line skirt was appliqued with lace and attached to a chapel-length train.

Her shoulder-length veil of ivory silk illusion was held with petals of sequins and pearls. The bride wore a diamond pendant, a gift of the bridegroom and carried out other traditions by wearing a blue garter, a penny in her shoe and carrying a lace handkerchief belonging to her aunt.

ATTENDANTS

Eula B. Moore of Waco, an aunt of the bride, was her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Kay Jarrard, a sister of the bridegroom, Penny Peach of Bosqueville, and Marlene Franklin of Baton Rouge, La.

Attendants' dresses were each fashioned with an ecru lace bodice, long sleeves, and accented with tiny green satin buttons and green satin ribbons at the empire waistline. Their dark green velvet skirts extended to the floor. They wore shoulder-length dark green net veils held with satin petals and carried one long-stemmed yellow rose, tied with dark green velvet ribbon.

Jimmy Moore of Pampa was best man. Groomsman were Bill Moore of Dalhart, George Snell of Pampa, and Greg Suttle of Oklahoma City, Okla., a cousin of the bridegroom.

Joey Duncan of Hamlin, the bride's cousin, Stan Knight of Waco and Dennis Scott of Pampa were ushers.

Flower girl was Miss Bruce McDonald of Waco with Jeff Suttle of Oklahoma City as ring bearer. Jean Kettler of Houston was organist and accompanied

Mrs. Sherilyn Johnston of Jefferson as she sang wedding selections.

RECEPTION

Hosts for the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Tucker, parents of the bride. Houseparty guests were Miss in the Dawson Hall at Baylor. Hostesses for the 20 guests were Penny Peach and Mrs. Bocca Sue Moore. Special guests were the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles B. Tucker, and her aunt and honor attendant, Eula B.

MRS. GARY LYNN JARRARD
... nee Sharon Lee Tucker

Patty Suttle, the bridegroom's cousin, Miss Vicky Hall and Miss Kay Patton.

The reception table was covered with white satin and net and tied with white satin bows. The three-tiered white cake was trimmed with green leaves and yellow roses. The centerpiece of candelabras was accented with yellow roses and Christmas greenery.

For the wedding and reception, the bride's mother wore a champagne satin coat and dress ensemble trimmed with beads at the high neckline and albat pockets. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a yellow silk shantung coat and dress ensemble and wore an orchid corsage.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS
Pre-nuptial courtesies included a linen shower Nov. 5 Moore, of Waco.

Hostesses for a miscellaneous shower in the First Baptist Church of Pampa Nov. 21 were Mmes. Bill Chafin, Blake Laramore, Doyle Beckham, D.B. Heller, Rue Hestand, B.M. McMullan and Harry Allen. About 50 guests attended. A china and crystal shower was given Dec. 1 by the bride's aunt, Eula B. Moore in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Tucker.

Honored guests at the Dec. 1 shower were mothers of the couple and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. E.M. Moore of Waco. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jarrard hosted a rehearsal dinner Dec. 18 in Waco.

Market Expert Warns Shoppers To Study Labels

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — "Food shoppers and processors speak a different language," says University of California agricultural market expert Maria Ferree.

"For food processors, certain ordinary words have legal restrictive meanings.

"Take orange juice and orange drinks, for example. The popular dry and frozen drinks have orange flavor and color and they are sweet.

"But the drinks may contain little or no natural orange juice. So 'orange' does lose something in the translation from juice to drink."

Miss Ferree said that the phrase "vine-ripened," when applied to tomatoes, means the tomatoes remained on the vine only until the green color was just beginning to turn pink.

"That's certainly different from 'homemakers' understanding of 'vine-ripened' — meaning left on the vine until fully ripe.

"Food shoppers often conclude that ice milk has fewer calories than ice cream. Milk does have less butterfat than cream, but to make an acceptable product, ice milk manufacturers add extra milk solids and sugar.

"Measure for measure, ice milk contains only a few less calories than ice cream.

"Food shoppers often assume that non-dairy cream substitutes, whipped toppings and sour cream toppings are much lower in calories than their dairy counterparts.

"In most cases, the substitutes are not significantly lower in calories than the products they are designed to replace unless the label states so clearly.

"The information needed to make wise food purchases is usually on the food labels. If not, ask questions."

"The greatest hindrance to the progress of this country is that there are so many people looking around for some system that will give them more than they deserve." —Columns

Columnist Reveals Impossible Dream

By BETTY CANARY

impossible things and that's championship stuff.) After years of experimentation I am ready to reveal exactly what The Impossible Dream is. It's two women carrying on an uninterrupted telephone conversation.

Naturally, there are times always been as glibly when such a polite explanation the queen in "Alice in Wonderland" who said she the time you hear a loud crash could sometimes believe six in the background, followed by impossible things before break-a sharp crack in your ear when fast. (I once believed seven the telephone receiver is thrown

Adults Increase Use Of Wine

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—American adults downed an average of 88 three-ounce glasses of wine last year.

They have a long way to go to catch up with the French, but the total is growing — 117 glasses by 1980 is the predicted.

Annual American wine consumption will approach 400 million gallons in a decade, a 60 per cent increase over 1970, say economists for the Bank of America.

And there's a trend toward more expensive wines, those priced above $1.25 a fifth.

"A rapid and persistent shift from the stronger or sweeter types, such as dessert wine, France and Italy, where average annual adult consumption of wine is about 40 gallons, has occurred," the bank said in a report.

"Wines with less than 14 per cent alcohol have posted a fourfold increase in consumption in the past 15 years."

California wine producers have found their home state is their best market.

"With almost 10 per cent of the nation's adults, California consumes more than 22 per cent of the wines entering distribution channels in the U.S.," the bank said.

"On an adult per capita basis, California's average wine intake is 4.7 gallons a year, well above twice the national average."

But it's still a long way from France and Italy, where average annual adult consumption of wine is about 40 gallons, has occurred," the bank said in a report.

The truth is that a child is never seriously injured during one of these episodes. Research will show that children do NOT fall down stairs, get bitten by large dogs or break their arms in bathroom accidents while their mothers are engaging in a friendly telephone talk.

Whae children really do place chairs bicycles and large stacks of boxes in strategic places for the sole purpose of knocking them over when their mothers are having a telephone talk.

I don't mean to imply that screams and crashes are the only methods of interrupting a mother's conversation. Many times complete silence is employed. After five minutes of absolute silence any mother in her right senses will say, "Hold the phone—I haven't heard a thing from those kids and..."

It goes without saying that she will discover them innocently playing in their own rooms.

However, this won't happen if she is foolish enough to wait out 10 minutes of silence. In 10 minutes they will be weaving her antique garnet necklace through a lampshade, emptying all the bath oil in order to mix it with the hand lotion and tearing labels off canned goods so she won't know her creamed corn from her crushed pineapple.

In the interest of sanity and safety within the home I suggest we install telephone booths instead of wall phones in every kitchen. No, no, no We don't put mother inside the booth! The children are put into the booth. Mother is outside—leaning against the door.

Jeane Dixon's Annual World-Wide Predictions For 1971

Diff

By JEANE DIXON

VI see 1971 as the "Year of Sight." By this I mean that many of the problems facing both America and the world will move toward solutions that some of us will begin to understand, approve and unite to accomplish!

Many people are asking questions about the fruitless war by American soldiers into the prisoner-of-war camp at Son Tay. Apparently my previous "arnings of a weak link in America's security chain—of command has fallen on deaf ears, so I must repeat that information about U.S. military operations will continue to be passed on to the opposing forces by highly placed officials in two (v) agencies in Washington. These officials passed the security check and had been cleared" for handling top secret information. There is no doubt, from the vibrations I get, that the camp at Son Tay was deserted hastily as the result of a tipoff from these civilian officials, just as the Soviets also were alerted to the Cambodian incursion. The reason the commandos came out of the camp was not safe, I see, was simply because the timing for the mission had not been set exactly, and it was left until the last minute to decide the course.

THE PRESIDENT

In 1971 President Nixon will make at least five changes in the White House staff. (The person responsible for security leaks in the Nixon administration has left public office to return to civilian pursuits.) He will also make two cabinet changes.

The President will begin the year with a still largely disunited people, a hostile Congress, and a drifting foreign policy. But I feel there is no man or woman living who can unite the people unless the people work at being united... and from the vibrations I pick up, I feel some people are going to continue to work at being disunited, not united—to their own and the country's detriment.

Assassination attempts against President Nixon were thwarted by U.S. security forces, as will be other assassination attempts.

THE ECONOMY

A slow steady growth toward a new prosperous era, spanning the last quarter of this century, will begin this year. Unemployment will recede and interest rates will be eased. By 1975 big changes in the American form of democratic government will be imminent. I see that the country's economic base is firm for the time being.

Over three years ago I tried to warn big industry concerning sabotage to their installations. The initial destructive efforts will be against the vulnerable oil storage tanks and oil refineries; next in line will be power facilities and power lines, then steel and heavy machinery manufacturing installations, including defense industries. This sabotage can be stopped with increased security by industry and the application of more stringent laws.

I see coming out of a foreign country an imported car, not too expensive, gasoline propelled, which will meet all of the 1975 anti-pollution requirements of this country—and will make its debut here in America in 1971.

PEOPLE

HOWARD HUGHES, America's "Mystery Man" is in for some bad times this coming year. I saw a black cloud in the shape of a treacherous hand hanging ominously over Howard Hughes—and it was sizeable and seemed to encompass his person, his complete financial structure, even his very life. Such a foreboding symbol of evil made me shudder in my meditation, for it is indeed a menace—casting its shadow before! Even as I watched the cloud seemed to zero in like an enemy missile on target, entirely enveloping Hughes—smothering, choking him. Coming out of my meditation on him, my mind reeling, all I could think of was: help, help pray for Howard Hughes.

A great deal of money has been siphoned off from Hughes, and I get that a rather plump man is probably the one taking the greatest advantage of him. At this writing, this man seems to still be around. Thus, in April Hughes will be taken advantage of again by this same man and, unless he makes some changes and surrounds himself with people dedicated to his interests, he will have many lawsuits and great financial losses.

I feel he will be presented with forged documents of some kind which will cause him a great deal of trouble, loss of money, and could bring to light some disloyal friends. However, 1971 will be a favorable time for his business.

No need to say his health is very, very precarious, and he must be careful of overdoing.

MARIA CALLAS, renowned opera star, because of her genius (and she is a genius) will be called upon this year by a government to preside over some kind of an important musical event.

March and April of this year will be very favorable for her career, but then she is going to get involved in a lawsuit—the result of energetically exercising her artistic options!

I get that the separation from her mother is so abysmal that there will never be really close understanding between them. Happily, however, 1971 is going to be a magnificent year for the magnificent Maria.

DUSTIN HOFFMAN will acquire greater fame and more success as a performer in 1971, but it is my suggestion that he take care of his financial affairs very carefully because I see that late in the 70's there is going to be a set-back for him. In the meantime he will experience great success, and he will live in show business history as one of the great actors.

JOHNNY CASH shows a vibrant and dynamic personality in my channel for him... but also a complex one. For one thing I get that he is going to "mysteriously disappear" sometime during the next few months; after much speculation he will reappear, and the "adventure" will end well.

However, Cash needs a great deal of inner strength and physical stamina as well as patience and understanding. I see that 1971 will be a year for some spectacular Johnny Cash performances, including one very important engagement.

But I also get vibrations that 1971 will not be happy where his marriage is concerned. The custody of a child stands out as one of the major considerations the latter part of the year.

In '72 his popularity will rise to new heights provided he eats nutritiously, and lives sensibly.

KOREA AND VIETNAM

I am picking up more thoughts of war and bloodshed. I see an evil force brewing in North Korea. A great danger looms; it will concentrate all its evil on us this coming Spring. Only the Korean formula evolved by the late President Dwight Eisenhower can prevent this danger coming with all its terror and death!

I see no drastic change in Vietnam for 1971. Just more war and bloodshed, because the Soviets are determined to keep us engaged in Asia until at least 1975.

Early in 1971, the danger will begin to grow with the Soviet announcement of support for the Chinese anti-American front. This "united front" will establish a union of Communists in North Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, North Korea and China. But the plan of the U.S.S.R. will not be successful because America will keep her defenses strong.

I see no new South Vietnamese leaders emerging in 1971, but do see a favorable symbol over Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky. Because of Ky, many lives of American boys will be saved.

As I see the prisoner-of-war problem, if we expose to the world the Soviet-devised plan of using American POW's as an instrument of war—in a strong, all-encompassing campaign by the United States government and the news media—the pressure of world opinion will be directed to Moscow, not Hanoi. When this is done, I see our prisoners exchanged within 90 to 120 days from the inception of this kind of program.

TOPICS OF INTEREST

MEDICINE. A new science will develop, based on findings which will come from our explorations in outer space. Radio-astronomy, and what I call "radio-astronomy," will open up new scientific worlds. The secrets of the forces from the radio-galaxies and quasars will prove a boon to mankind. The application of this cosmic power to human cells will bring medical cures for heart disease, the cancer, and relief from some mental illnesses. Even the common cold will be practically defeated once science begins to unravel these secrets of cosmic power.

I see future medical science developing along the line of induced electro-chemical reactions (in place of pills and medicines) which will bring about the desired cures. These electro-chemical reactions will bring about a harmony of our cells, making diseased cells healthy again; even deterioration from age will be somewhat arrested. 1971 will bring a giant step forward in this new science.

NAVY 1971 will also see the beginning of the modernization of the U.S. Navy. More progress will be made in the year 1971, and the next four years, than has been made for the past 30 years.

HIJACKINGS. Airplane hijackings will not be as frequent as in the past, but they will still occur. Kidnappings, with all their attendant ugly trappings, will continue as a weapon of political terror in 1971.

THE MIDEAST. I see war in the Middle East. I see Soviet agitation of the Palestinian guerrillas... more Syrian incursions into Jordan... a loss of power by King Hussein... more U.S. aid requested for Jordan.

The U.S.S.R. is determined to deny us oil from the Middle East. America will forestall this plan and stop some of the bloodshed in the Middle East if she completes "TAPS" (The Alaskan Pipeline System) as soon as possible. This would force a change in Soviet planning for war and disension in the Middle East.

The Palestinian guerrillas will disappear once Soviet aid is withdrawn. The recent Syrian coup, will mean more trouble for King Hussein. Anwar Sadat will not last. The peace talks for 1971 will not be productive.

I see no separate country for the Palestinians.

EAST-WEST. The SALT talks will be continued, but with a new U.S. team. We will not participate in any European security talks, nor will we be a party in negotiating for the reopening of the Suez Canal.

LATIN AMERICA. The Democrats had their Cuba... the Republicans now have their Chile. I have felt, and still feel, that Fidel Castro has been out of power for a few years in Cuba. Moscow is the full power behind the Cuban leadership.

I feel Salvador Allende's power in Chile will not be of long duration. His rule will not last much longer after 1971. The people of Chile will make an about-face, but it will take them years to get out from under.

The submarine and missile bases now in existence in Cuba will not spread to Chile in the foreseeable future. I feel the danger in Chile at this time is political, not military.

INDIANS. I see that American Indians as well as some other minority races will make rapid strides from now on in achieving their rightful inheritances, and will become strong Americans who will show their interest in national politics and in our economy.

WOMEN'S LIB. I see some advancement for the women's liberation movement in the year 1971. In some areas women will achieve equality, but they will remain a minority in the business world... also in politics and religion. At the same time, I see that women are going to take a greater interest in their homes and children... and make a greater effort to bring about spiritual understanding in their families and communities.

CHANGES. Congress will make some drastic changes by the years 1976 and 1977—unprecedented changes—and will someday look back at the years of 1970 and 1971 and say that through lack of foresight they were certainly tripped up.

WALL STREET. In the stock market, I see strong utilities, gas and oil, steel, Corporate bonds will begin to realize that their personal losses in the stock market did not affect their industries.

DISORDERS. Student and young university faculty disorders will be lessened, and the permissiveness of the 60's which the communists exploited will begin to respond to organized prohibitive forces. There will not be many, but they will be among the outstanding talents.

JAMES BUCKLEY, the new senator from New York, will be a good senator who will make his mark. His main opposition will come from highly-placed politicians in his own state... and their hostility will keep him from many useful accomplishments for the time being.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, his erudite brother, will continue along his present course for a short while, but soon I see a change in his writing approach. Gradually departing from their present intellectual density, his writings will take on an understandable clarity, giving him new public popularity and literary recognition.

MARTH A MITCHELL, naturally bubbly and gregarious, will continue to speak out. Her utterances will receive space in the press for some time, for "out of the mouths of political babes comes wisdom."

ELLIOTT L. RICHARDSON, the new secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, will discover that liberal tendencies are not enough to control the cumbersome sprawling agency which he now heads. I feel that 1971 will find him trying to overhaul and streamline it, as I see many beneficial changes coming to the department.

WALTER J. HICKEL, former secretary of the Interior, has just experienced a blessing in disguise! His vibrations are positive... and where there are positive vibrations progress always follows! Hickel will return to Alaska, but will not be so doing step out of the national scene. I see that somehow Hickel will be involved in helping the United States solve its fuel problems, and bring a quicker solution to the Middle East cauldron. He will return to Washington in an official capacity.

EDMUND S. MUSKIE, the Democratic senator from Maine, will get a tremendous boost for his career on his birthday this year... and another one next Fall! In September there will be much glory for him, wonderful publicity. However, I also feel that some very unfavorable report about him will be circulated early in November. I do not get at this time that Muskie will win his party's presidential nomination in 1972, nor that he will not win it. I hope to get more positive vibrations later.

Like many brilliant statesmen Muskie has an array of talents; indeed, had he chosen medicine as his profession I get that he would have earned many honors in medical science.

HENRY M. JACKSON, the Democratic senator from Washington State, has a penetrating, spiritually intuitive mind, and he will earn immortal fame because of some important role he plays in the defense of the country.

In the latter part of May there will be much talk about him as the possible presidential nominee for the Democratic Party. However in mid-June, he is going to have a little bit of a bad time. Too, I get that in the early part of October a very interesting decision will be made, involving Senators Jackson, Muskie and Edward M. Kennedy.

THE HONORABLE JOHN LINDSAY, good-looking, "boyish" Mayor of New York City, displays nothing "boyish" about his political talent or acumen.

He will have to call upon them many times in the coming year, for I see that he will be plagued again by sanitation strikes... an almost scandal over housing, with racial overtones prevalent... a bigger-than-ever hue and cry "to do something" about the drug and narcotic situation in New York City!

While he is certainly going to have his difficulties with youth groups making the drug scene all year, the matter will be especially in the public spotlight in January and November. He will have confrontations of one sort or another with parents and students over school matters in the Spring and Summer months.

But I get vibrations indicating that Mayor Lindsay has great patience, is an excellent organizer, and will remain popular through thick and thin with most residents.

I do not see him making any great change in his political life in the coming year. But I do get that later on, about the beginning of the next decade, he will make a drastic change in his personal life which, I feel, means he is going to become deeply spiritual.

both psychological and authoritative.

DISASTER. About the latter part of August this year the world will have a catastrophe on a scale similar to those in Peru and Pakistan. I cannot pinpoint its location as yet.

MORE PEOPLE

I see and feel that people are becoming more concerned with their individual well-being within the community than with the behavioral impropriety of others which do not touch their personal lives. This is a very good omen.

JOHN V. TUNNEY, senator-elect from California, has that magic quality charisma! His detailed knowledge of history will prove useful and he will present many new workable theories in the Senate. The latter part of August will bring good results from some research he has done.

He will be highly successful in public office and will one day be an ambassador. However, one warning... he must be very careful when traveling and must never take unnecessary risks!

PIERRE TRUDEAU will gain strength and stature in his own country by using a firm hand when necessary... and Canada will prosper and unite under his leadership.

FRENCH PRESIDENT GEORGES POMPIDOU will not be in office as long as he would like to be... in fact, I get that he will be president only a short time. The haunting shadow of Charles de Gaulle will long linger over France and the international scene.

MAYOR KENNETH GIBSON of Newark, N.J., has storm clouds threatening of engulf him. The "storm" will be avoided through, if he makes some drastic changes in the people around him, and utilizes his natural vision and good judgment. There are some around him whose intentions are for self-gain—not gain for the people of Newark or for Mayor Gibson.

ANGELA DAVIS, the Black Panther sympathizer and Communist charged with complicity in murder, will not have a happy year. Brilliant as she is, Miss Davis saw the good in communism but not the evil. She will end up paying the price for faulty judgment. Eventually she will realize that communism cannot win out in this country in the long run; meantime it will cause plenty of damage.

RAMSEY CLARK, former United States Attorney General, will pass from the national scene, except for a few speeches now and then before ultraliberal audiences. The label "jelly-fish" will stick to him.

JOHNNY BENCH, super-star catcher of the Cincinnati Reds, will make a terrific comeback after a temporary let-down during the 1971 season.

TERRY BRADSHAW will blossom into one of the all-time professional greats as a quarterback for the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1971.

JANE FONDA is headed for tragedy. This need not happen, however, as it is not destiny, but a "man-made" situation. If, on the other hand, Miss Fonda will use her divinely-granted talents for the benefit of others on a constructive instead of a misguided basis, she will have an outstanding future.

ROCK SINGERS Although I will not name them here, I see some top rock singers meeting tragedy during the coming year because of dope and drugs. There will not be many, but

Color Parties Fun For Feast Season

By BETTY CANARY

At this time of year most of us are opening our homes to friends and acquaintances. It is a season of feasts and festivities with invitations going out right and left. For the public good, the better understanding of our fellow men, the following search is offered. We hope it will prove helpful in accepting our neighbors and their foibles.

Remember the ancient ad- vention: "Judge not." Of course, if you want to cover up everything with plastic wrap before a party, that's another thing entirely.

Human beings fall roughly into three schools of action when it comes to furniture. Some must simply be labeled "Care-Nots." They are carefree and aloof from such problems as white rings on mahogany tables. They put their feet upon anything within reach, including the portrait of your grandfather. This is the reason why many people hang pictures above eye-level and may explain why the obsolescent have become fashionable. It is almost impossible to rest the feet upon a Care-Not, all of whom have wacky feet and the acrobatic ability of a housefly.

Others among us are furniture worshippers. This type is constantly concerned with the state of the dining room curtains and compulsively straighten out the contents of closets. Fanatics in this group have been observed wearing small bottles of lemon wax suspended from silver chains around their necks. In their own homes they light votive candles before sofas and give last rites to any ash tray which has been so unfortunate as to have had a cigarette stubbed out in it.

The furniture worshiper is to be handled with kid gloves—preferably white ones. Living with one is nerve-racking and sanitary but at least never necessitates screaming at him. "Look, Ralph, do you HAVE to mix paint in the living room?"

Phi Epsilon Beta Members Sponsor December Social

Members and pledges of Phi Epsilon Beta of Beta Sigma Phi met for their December meeting and Christmas party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Giddeon.

Mrs. Dennis Wyatt, president, presided over the program and introduced the guest, Edna Landon, of Girtstown.

Mrs. Mike Clark, corresponding secretary, read letters from the international office. Committee reports from the ways and means chairman and the courtesy chairman were given.

Mrs. Harold Taylor accompanied on the guitar members and pledges in Christmas carols.

Hostesses Mmes. Sammy Giddeon, Richard Dorman, Johnny Hoke, and Carroll Russell served refreshments from a holly decorated table.

Those attending were Mmes. Mike Clark, Richard Dorman, Eddie Edwards, Larry Flippo, Sammy Giddeon, Johnny Hoke, Bob Lowrance, Carroll Russell, Robert Schauff, Harold Taylor, Wilbur Walls, and Dennis Wyatt.

Pledges attending were Mmes. Tommy Jochetz, James McNamara, Mike Sanders, Ronnie Thrasher, Miss Judith Kitto and Virginia Wiens.

Beauty Break

by Carol Bennett

NEW YORK (ED)—If there's one thing I love about fall, it's the familiar sound of the school bus collecting my brood—it means that I finally have the time to do the complete renovation job on my skin. I start with a Gienochy Cream Wash—a gentle, cream-soap that contains self-emulsifying agents and is non-drying. After the scrubbing, I use Gienochy's Balancing Lotion to completely cleanse and "normalize" my skin. It really makes me feel like I have a completely new layer of skin.

Off-season vacations are becoming more popular, and I try to sneak away for a few days during the fall-kind of a vacation after my vacation. Since it's usually a short trip, I solve my cosmetic problem by taking along "Secret of the Sea's Travel Kit"—complete with Cleanser, Freshener, Moisturizer, Body Lotion, and even a Mask and Eye Cream. It's compact and extremely easy to pack.

I must admit, the new long-gilette face that goes with the longer lengths has me confused. I but, I do understand the pale, maternal face is the THING. To pale down my long-gilette face, I use Dorothy Gray's Sheer Velvet Liquid Foundation in a shade one tone lighter than my normal coloring. You could say that I'm putting my long-gilette face together, one-step-at-a-time, and hopefully I'll be complete by the holiday season.

I'm usually not a blusher and skirt person, but who can resist the new soft and ultra feminine blouses combined with long wool skirts. It's such a fragile and sophisticated look that even my husband likes it. And, I've found the perfect perfume to match the look—it's Opere de Chine. Enchanting light and floral, it lends that extra distinctive air that makes the total look so right.

1971 Wheat Program Will Be Different From '70 Program

By EVELYN MASON
Wheat producers who choose to take part in the 1971 Voluntary Wheat Program will have considerably more freedom in planning their farm operations than they've had in the past.

Under the 1971 wheat program, which was authorized by the Agricultural Act of 1970, wheat growers will receive allotments based on a national domestic wheat allotment of 19.7 million acres. However, 1971 farm wheat allotments will be used only to determine acres to be set aside on each farm and the amount of payment, a producer may receive under the wheat program. Unlike previous years, the allotments will not determine the amount of wheat to be grown on a farm.

In fact, wheat producers are no longer required to plant wheat in order to qualify for program benefits. The wheat allotment does not restrict a producer to a set number of acres of wheat, nor does it indicate to him what crop or crops he must or should plant.

The general outline of the new program has already been announced and full information on all provisions are expected before March 1, when program sign-up begins.

Every effort will be made to see that all farmers are fully informed about the new farm program. Farmers will receive newsletters and other material will be mailed to producers; and additional press releases will be issued.

A summary provides the following information of the 1971 Voluntary Wheat program:
Sign-up period will be March

1 through April 9 at County ASCS offices, with the program open to all producers with farms having wheat allotments. A producer may sign up one or more farms in which he has an interest and not sign up others, as he chooses.

When a producer signs up, he agrees to set aside an acreage to be put in conserving uses. He also agrees to maintain his farm's conserving base. The set-aside percentage will be between 60 and 75 per cent of the domestic wheat allotment. The actual set-aside percentage, to be announced before sign-up begins, will not exceed 75 per cent.

By participating in the program, a producer becomes eligible for price-support loans on his entire production and domestic marketing certificates on the projected production of the farm domestic allotment acreage. (Marketing certificates are a form of price-support payment for wheat producers.)

While it is not necessary for a grower to plant wheat in order to earn a payment, if he fails to plant at least 90 per cent of his domestic allotment to wheat or an authorized substitute, he may have his 1972 allotment reduced as much as 20 per cent. If no wheat is planted for three consecutive years, the entire allotment can be lost.

Payments to producers participating in the 1971 wheat program will guarantee they receive 100 per cent of parity on the production of their full domestic allotment. Face value of the certificate will be the difference between 100 per cent of parity on July 1, 1971, and the national average wheat price received by farmers during the first five months of the marketing year.

Preliminary payments to farmers will be made as soon as practicable after July 1, balance of the payment if any will be made after December 1, 1971. If the estimated preliminary payment is found to be too high, no refund by producers will be required.

Price-support loans will be available to program participants at $1.25 a bushel, national average.

Substitution will be allowed for wheat and feed grains. That is, acreage above a farm's wheat allotment which is planted to corn or grain sorghum will be considered planted to wheat for wheat allotment history purposes. A producer with a wheat allotment and a feed grain base can plant his entire eligible cropland acreage to wheat or feed grains without loss of history, and will receive both wheat certificates and feed grain payments. He must meet the set-aside requirements for both programs and must maintain his farm's conserving base, as well as sign up for both programs.

Other provisions of the 1971 Voluntary Wheat Program relate to set-aside on summer fallow farms, use of set-aside acres, land eligible for set-aside, types of conserving uses, payment limitations of $5,000 a person, and various regulations on program participation.

These provisions will be publicized through newsletters, letters to farmers, as well as through additional news releases to the press when they are all announced.

1971 Farm Programs Given For Corn, Sorghums, Quota Crops

The Secretary of Agriculture has announced some of the 1971 crop farm program decisions. The control under these programs will be the total farms conserving base. In other words, the producer may be free to plant as much of a given commodity as he chooses, but if he complies with the program there is a limit on total acres available for planting.

Acreage allotments and marketing quotas will be a part of the 1971 program for the following commodities: rice, peanuts and tobacco, extra long staple cotton and sugarcane (referred to as quota crops).

There will be a personal $55,000 payment limitation applied to wheat, feed grains and cotton producers. The term payment is defined in the law to include price-support, set-aside, diversion and public acres payments and marketing certificates. The limitation does not include loans and purchases made by CCC.

The Secretary has announced a national average support price loan level for the 1971 crop of soybeans at $2.25 a bushel based on grade No. 1 with a moisture content of 12.8 — 13.0 per cent. This is the same level of support that was effective for the 1970 crop.

Producers can place their soybeans in the loan program as they have in past years stored either on the farm or in warehouses or they may choose to sell their beans to the Commodity Credit Corporation.

In 1971, participants in the set-aside program will be guaranteed a national average of $1.55 a bushel on the production from half their corn base, and $1.24 a bushel ($2.21 a hundredweight) on half their sorghum base. This compares with total support in 1970 of $1.35 a bushel for corn, and $1.20 a bushel ($2.14 a hundredweight) for sorghum.

Set-aside payments for diverting the specified percentage of the base will be equal to the difference between the national average price received by farmers during the first five months of the marketing year (Oct. corn $1.34 bu. and $2.04 per cwt grain sorghum; Nov. corn $1.29 per bu. and $2.02 per cwt grain sorghum; farm prices for Dec., Jan. and Feb. are not known) and the guarantee of $1.55 per bu. for corn and $2.21 per cwt for grain sorghum. These figures reveal a set-aside payment rate of approximately 3 cents per bushel for corn and 18 cents per cwt for grain sorghum.

The method of calculating set-aside payments for a farm will be like that of the 1970 program: half of the feed grain base times the farm yield times the payment of 32 cents per bushel for corn and 52 cents per cwt for grain sorghum (preliminary payment rates). Unlike the 1970 program—when participants were paid on the actual acreage of feed grain planted up to 50 per cent of the farm base—participants in the set-aside program will receive the full payment regardless of what they plant on their acreage.

Preliminary payments to participants will be made as soon as practicable after July 1, 1971. Regardless of the size the total payment turns out to be, the participant will not be required to refund any of the preliminary payment.

The 1971 loan rate for corn will be $1.05 per bushel for No. 2 which is equivalent to $1.05 a bushel for corn of average quality, the same level as in 1970.

The 1971 loan levels for the other grains (1970 rates in parentheses) are as follows: grain sorghum, $1.73 per hundredweight ($1.61); barley, $1 cents per bushel ($0.83); oats, $4 ($0.63) cents per bushel; and rye, $9 ($1.02) cents per bu.

The Agricultural Act of 1971 makes provisions for the shifting of base, from farms which do not plant feed grain to those which do. The law provides that farms which plant less than 45 per cent of their feed grain base in 1971 will have their 1972 base reduced for the amount of the underplanting, up to 20 per cent of the base. If no feed grain or authorized substitute crops are planted for three consecutive years, the entire base is removed from the farm. All base lost by farms will be placed in a national pool for reallocation to other farms.

Another feature of the set-aside program is that established summer fallow wheat farms which devote at least 55 per cent of their cropland to that use will not be required to set aside any additional acreage in order to qualify for program benefits.

As in 1970, producers may graze set-aside acres except during the five principal months of the normal growing season, and set-aside acreage must be protected against erosion, weeds, insect damage and rodents. In 1971, sweet sorghums may be planted on the set-aside acreage and grazed, except during the five months of the growing season.

Producers who wish to qualify for program benefits must sign up to participate between March 1 and April 9, 1971. A producer may participate in the wheat program on any farm or all farms in which he has an interest, as he wishes.

Executive Secretary ARC
We have received the first letter from our servicemen in Vietnam for their Christmas bags sent by the Red Cross. This young man was from Portola Valley, Calif., and he thanked us for the many items in his bag. He said that he would always remember the American Red Cross for thinking of the boys so far from home on Christmas. John Morskeac is serving with the Marine Corps in Vietnam during the holidays.

There were 85 baskets given out through the Welfare Index this Christmas. We are so grateful that so many people went through the Welfare Index there would not be so many duplications. All of the names were given out through the Index this year after they had been cleared with the County Welfare.

We have so many cases that come to our chapter for Emergency Leave verifications with families telling us that the boy does not have a serial number. All service personnel have a serial number and that number is the only one given out to any one in the service. Although the serviceman may not use the service number in writing letters home, our office needs to know what the serial number of the serviceman is so that we can rush requests to the military for their approval. Won't you help us by keeping all of the serial numbers written down of the servicemen in your family. This will help us a great deal.

Adult Education Course Sign-Up Set For Jan. 13

COLLEGE STATION — A Texas A&M University graduate level course on adult education principles is being offered for the spring semester at the Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland.

The course — Agricultural Education 610, Principles of Adult Education—will be taught by Dr. James E. Christiansen of the A&M Agricultural Education Department. It will have three semester hours of residence credit.

Main objective of the offering is to show how adult education programs can be set up under a variety of conditions and situations.

Christiansen said the course should be of interest to high school and college teachers, Extension Service personnel, company training directors, church school leaders and other persons dealing with teaching or organizing adult education programs.

He said Agricultural Education 610 can be used as a course in the block of 12 semester hours allotted to "Resource Areas" in the programs for secondary supervisor and vocational agriculture as approved at Texas A&M.

Prerequisites are a bachelor's degree and admission to the A&M Graduate College before completion of final registration. The course will have 12 late afternoon and evening sessions of four 50-minute periods each.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
Governor Preston Smith, with shocking suddenness tore into most of the state agencies and Commissioners during the last half of December 1970. The Governor in angry tones tore into the Parks and Wildlife Board over the attempt by the Board to acquire Mustang Island on the Gulf Coast of Texas. He went so far as to ask the two members of the Board, who had been appointed by the previous Governor, to resign. The Parks and Wildlife Board had asked for federal matching funds without the Governor's permission. The legislation setting up the state funds to assist in acquiring state parks had also carried a provision requiring the signature of the Governor before state money is put up to match federal grants.

The Texas Water Development Board and Water Rights Commission were the next state commissioner to be jumped. Since the defeat of the Board issue in August of 1969 the two commissioners had been busy re-working the old Texas Water Plan with the active assistance of several legislators. In his broadside at the activities of the two commissions Governor Smith has made it abundantly clear that the Water Development Board must justify what it is doing in the way of planning. His view, as interpreted by Vernon McGee, Smith's director of coordination, is that he feels the Board should put its emphasis on "thinking and acting — not just planning."

The Governor feels, McGee went on, that we've had 10 years of planning, trying to develop the Texas Water Plan, and now "we need to put the emphasis on action... to take concrete steps." He suggested that with 50 or so projects proposed by the plan by 2020,

Good Guys vs. Bad Guys

A slogan frequently heard from youthful idealists goes something like this:

"If you're not contributing to the solution, then you're part of the problem."

Like the best slogans, this is an all-purpose one, applicable to everything from crime in the streets to smog in the skies. It renders simple that which is complex, turns into stark black and white that which is a confusing mixture of grays and neatly separates the Good Guys from the Bad Guys.

The nagging fact is, however, that "before a problem can be solved, it must be understood."

The quoted words are from a speech by Henry Ford II at the recent annual convention of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society.

They will never appear as a slogan on any banner, for as Ford told his audience, we Americans have a great tendency to jump from symptoms to cures, to believe that when things go wrong or when hard social problems present themselves, all that is needed is to catch and punish the "Bad Guy."

Unfortunately, one of the troubles with this moralistic approach to problems, an approach used as much by politicians and journalists as by everyone else, is that it doesn't lend itself to rational solutions. If something is identified as a sin — automobile air pollution, for example — then obviously it should be stopped 100 per cent right now is impossible, the Bad Guy approach is no help in deciding what is best.

"If you have to compromise with sin," said Ford, "you might as well compromise on a nice round number like 90 per cent on some nice round date like January 1, 1975 . . . After all, if air pollution is a moral issue, not a practical one, then there's no need to consider what's necessary, what's practical, how soon it's possible or how the benefits compare with the cost. One arbitrary

'Conservative' Governors

Someone said Republicans are "conservative" and want to restore the nation's economy by reducing inflation. That's what quite a few people have contended.

Recently the Republican governors met at Sun Valley, Idaho. And the big news out of that confab was that the "conservative" Republican governors want the bankrupt national government to shell out $10 billion of its revenue each year to the states.

Their resolution said that "nothing less than a federal revenue sharing program of at least $10 billion annually starting July 1, 1971, can save this situation."

"This situation" is "an impending collapse of confidence in the state and local government, particularly in urban areas" because those agencies "can no longer raise the money necessary to provide adequately for essential services to their people."

And Rogers C.B. Morton, President Nixon's nominee for interior secretary, was sympathetic. He said it was necessary that revenue sharing was one program which must pass.

Well, we are somewhat sympathetic to the plight of the state and local political officials, who have tried to do all things to all men and who have been led to believe that there was an unlimited supply of money in Washington. But they are seeking something that is not there.

As we have said many times, the national government is broke. If it were a business establishment, it would have to declare bankruptcy. The admitted national debt is approaching $400 billion, and currently something like $20 billion a year is required just to pay the interest on the indebtedness.

Those "conservative" Republican governors should look at the books of the national government. And they should look at their own spending. In case they have not realized it, times are rough, and individuals and business firms are having to reduce spending in order to stay solvent. It is going to do no good whatever for the states to continue spending at the rate the politicians think is desirable, and to ask the national government to finance their activities through higher taxes and inflation, the worst tax of all.

There just isn't any revenue to share.

Instead of the moralistic attitude that tells us to go catch and punish the Bad Guy, we need a moral attitude that gives us, all a deep sense of responsibility for the consequences of our own actions.

But, as he added, before the people of America can be expected to achieve this new sense of responsibility, their leaders in all in all fields of endeavor must set the example.

Of course, the infant new year wears only a sash or didie; it'll take him the 365 days ahead to get up the scratch for one long night-gown.

Civilized friendships; don't just love them under.

If you can recall when one colored the margarine with a little capsule of yellow goop and it was purchased, you have a remarkable memory for your age.

Giving till it hurts takes scarcely any give these days.

Father Time carries that scythe in hopes he'll yet get around to reaping the wild oats he sowed as the new year began.

Why are some of 'em called "evil" servants?

Show us a firm with six or more partners, and we'll bet their bill for letterheads is out of this world.

EXPENDABLE PERSONS?

Many thoughtful citizens are becoming disturbed by what seems to be a lack of respect for human life within some departments of our government. The Defense Department ruling permitting abortion virtually on demand in military hospitals is one example. Another is the recent disclosure that a report prepared for and approved by the Atomic Energy Commission recommends that in event of nuclear war, certain groups of people would be expendable.

The report, entitled "The Post-Attack Population of the United States" and prepared by the Rand Corporation, declared that after a nuclear war, our country "would be better off without" "people with little or no productive potential, old people, chronic invalids and the insane. . . the manager of post-attack society would most likely resolve their problems . . . by failing to make any special provision for the special needs of the elderly, the insane and the chronically ill."

This report flies in the face of all our most rightly cherished traditions and values. We in the United States have justifiably prided ourselves on the care we have given those in our society who could not care for themselves. The philosophy that under "stress" no special aid should be given to those who are helpless recalls Nazi and Communist regimes, not the United States of America.

The officials responsible for commissioning and accepting this report should immediately repudiate it. Our government should devote its time and resources to improving our deteriorating defenses so as to deter a nuclear attack, rather than deciding which groups of people would be expendable should such an attack occur.

What this country needs is a good self-destruct shopping cart. Store managers can smile at the nice long straight lines of goods, the numerous check-out counters, the soothing belch of the squeak-boxes. Little do they know that the nemesis to shopping is not in the store — its outside.

Oh, it's very nice if you get to the store first. The parking lot is spiffy, there are plenty of places to park, and you can ease the old bus into a space with no trouble. But wait 'till noon! Going down the aisles of autos, you spot a parking space, race up to it, and there, behold! In the space sits the shopping carts. You roll along some more, see another spot, but it too has shopping carts there which have beat you to it.

Finally, you can realize you must park there or not at all. So you roll in as far as you can go, which leaves you wide open for somebody to take off your rear end. Sometimes I have the Blouse & Skirt get out and line the carts up on one side of the car, but I hate to do this as she always demands a tip.

And have you noticed how the parking lots all run down hill, away from the store? Even if some considerate soul takes the cart back to the sidewalk, it won't stay there. There ain't nothing more frightening than to see a runaway cart coming at you full speed down the grade.

It seems to me that if they can't invent a self-destruct shopping cart, the planning engineers could at least grade the hill the other way.

Then all the runaway carts would end up inside the store where they belong.

A genius is a fellow who can concoct a plausible excuse for not coming to work Monday because of a New Year's hangover contracted the previous Thursday evening.

WELL, IT'S been two days now since you made those New Year's resolutions. How many of them have been kept? There's a fellow we know who resolves every New Year's Day to quit smoking cigarettes. He makes the resolve on Jan. 1 and breaks it around Jan. 3 or 4. He says he looks forward every year to Jan. 1 when he can start all over again.

INCOME TAX time is here again and there have been a lot of changes brought about by the Tax Reform Act of 1969.

One of the changes has to do with the low income tax tables for 1970 which take into account the low income allowance which no longer has to be figured.

For 1970, the maximum low income allowance is $1100. The effect of this $1100 allowance and the new $625 personal exemption on a single person with no dependents is to eliminate liability for tax until income reaches $1725 (or $2350 for a single person 65 or over).

The tax tables reflect whichever is larger for each income bracket—the low income allowance or the standard deduction. The tables cover income up to $10,000. Until this year they covered income under $5000.

Of course, taxpayers with incomes of $10,000 or more or who expect to itemize their deductions will continue to compute their own tax instead of using the tables.

Due to the many changes in figuring income tax under the Tax Reform Act, The Pampa News is publishing a series of articles which will explain them. The first in the series appears in another part of today's paper.

IF YOU are the owner of a motor vehicle of any kind, watch your mail box for an important letter within the next few days.

It is your registration renewal application. This is the second year of operation for the new, easy computerized registration devised by the State Highway Department.

They tell us in the Gray County tax office where licenses are issued that last year the system greatly reduced bothersome waits and long lines which had always plagued vehicle owners in years past. And, they say, prospects are the system will work even better this year.

Under the new set-up, you will not have to present last year's registration receipt or certificate of title. The renewal application that should be showing up in the mail soon will be all that is needed.

County tax assessor-collector Jack Back reminds us that license registration begins Feb. 1 and will continue until April 1.

Just so you won't think it's another piece of waste basket material, your renewal application will arrive in a slender envelope marked, "Important—This is your license plate renewal application."

Healthy Living Patterns Help Control Cholesterol

Dear Dr. Lamb—Several weeks ago I had some tests, recommended because I am an "aspiring doctor" 46 years old. My doctor said my cholesterol was all right but my "blood fat" was too high. He prescribed some medicine and said I'd have to take it the rest of my life. He said my blood fat might be just as important as my cholesterol and suggested that I write you about it. Naturally, I am interested, and I'd also like to know how to lower my blood fat without taking medicine the rest of my life.

Dear Reader—There are a number of different "blood fat" measurements. Your doctor is probably talking about "triglycerides." This is the term used for the three fat particles joined chemically to be transported in the blood. The tri-fat particle is tied to varying amounts of cholesterol. Some tests are only for cholesterol and others measure these and other fat products.

It is true that triglycerides are important. They are also more difficult to measure than cholesterol. All of these tests, including cholesterol vary on different examinations and one test alone does not tell the whole story. Under stress, the level may be up and the next day it may be down. Repeated determination are needed to really know how much trouble a person has, if any.

Medical students taking a final exam have had very high cholesterol levels at exam time. There are different methods, too, which cause different values.

Now what to do about it? I don't blame you for not wanting to take medicine the rest of your life. Sometimes medicine is indicated but very often you can do as much or more for yourself with a good diet and exercise program. The goal is to eliminate, in so far as possible, any excess fat stores. Both the diet and exercise program should be gradual and persistent. Persistent means every day. I have had great success in keeping blood fats and cholesterol levels within normal limits in people who have really followed such program.

Many people are not successful in such programs because they lose five or 10 pounds of fat when they need to lose 30 or more.

I can't stress too strongly the necessity for a good preventive program for an "aspiring executive" in your age group. One-half of the people with heart attacks die before they reach a special heart unit for treatment and many others are disabled. Clearly, the sensible program is to prevent such a disaster by proper living habits. That means no cigarettes, a proper diet and exercise program combined with other sensible living patterns.

I prefer to have people adjust their living patterns first and then see if medicine is really needed.

"We're on the job. You'll be hearing from us. Happy 1971. (Signed) The Cats."

Gov't Official Spends $1 Million LESS!

John Goldsmith

Robert Allen

WASHINGTON — It's almost unheard of, but it actually happened — a government official spent considerably less than the amount allocated for his project.

This unknown miracle-worker is Howard Chernoff, commissioner general of the American pavilion at Expo '70 in Japan.

Through tight economy and high-powered skill and efficiency, the former newspaper and radio-TV executive turned back to the Treasury Department $1,207,000 — more than 10 per cent of the money authorized for the U.S. exhibition at the Osaka Fair.

Congress voted $10,107,000. Chernoff held down expenditures to $8,900,000.

His achievement was so remarkable that it prompted an exceptional letter of acclaim from Director Frank Shakespeare of the U.S. Information Agency. Writing Rep. John Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of this budget, Shakespeare said:

"The American pavilion, under the outstanding management of Howard Chernoff, was a financial as well as a visual success. The entire project — design, construction, operation and closing — will have been accomplished at a cost of $8.9 million, or $1.2 million less than Congress allowed for the project. Furthermore, we will use more than the minimum amount of blocked yen specified in our appropriation — (which means a saving of still more dollars)."

In warmly hailing Chernoff's extraordinary performance, Shakespeare disclosed authorities are still undecided how to officially commend him: "Howard Chernoff did a tremendous job as Commissioner General," Shakespeare wrote. "His service to the country deserves proper recognition, and we are exploring possibilities to ensure that he gets it."

Chernoff is not a career bureaucrat. He was special assistant to the then head of USA in the Johnson Administration when given the assignment of setting up and running the American pavilion. Because of his brilliant work, he was kept on by the Nixon Administration.

HOW HE DID IT — Three incidents graphically illustrate why Chernoff was such a resounding success, as follows: The first is the preemptory manner in which he put an emphatic end to using U.S. hostesses at the Fair in a way he deemed wholly unacceptable. Chernoff's crackdown is tersely and forcefully summed up in a staff memorandum, stating:

"We have not and will not honor such ridiculous and rude invitations."

"First, we do not want our Nisei guides discriminated against. All of our guides were selected on the basis of ability, and we will not permit anyone to change the rules of the game. Second, if they are truly interested in us, then they should want to talk with some of our young men. If not, so not, but we are not running a road show edition of a Geisha house and we do not plan to supply our cafe and intelligent girl guides to amuse Japanese men."

The second incident occurred when Dr. Gustav Heinemann, president of West Germany, visited Expo '70 and made a tour of the U.S. pavilion. Chernoff welcomed him with full protocol and then started to escort him through the exhibit. Without waiting or listening to Chernoff Heinemann began rushing through the place.

Firmly grabbing him by the arm, Chernoff said, "Mr. President, do you want to see the U.S. pavilion or are you in a hurry to get to the nearest exit? If you are, you won't need me and I can go back to my work. If you would like to see something about my country, then relax and let me show it to you properly. But you make the decision!"

The head of the West German 1972.

government blinked, his mouth dropped open and for a few stunned moments he stood looking in startled astonishment at Chernoff. Accompanying German and Japanese officials were equally aghast. Finally Heinemann collected himself, smiled weakly and apologized. In fact, he apologized several times, saying he would like very much indeed to go through the American exhibit.

And he did — as Chernoff took his time and showed him through it thoroughly.

The third incident tells a lot not only about Chernoff but the State Department — and its penchant for mealy-mouthed pussyfooting.

Shortly after the Fair opened, representatives of the Japanese music industry notified him they wanted royalties on the Japanese music being piped through the U.S. pavilion.

Chernoff's answer was a prompt and emphatic no.

He explained he had decided to use Japanese music as a gesture of friendship and goodwill to the host country. But if the music owners wanted payment for that, he would immediately shift to American music — which he personally preferred.

The heads of the other foreign exhibitions, hearing of Chernoff's firm stand, held a meeting and unanimously elected him to represent them in dealing with the Japanese music owners. Chernoff was strongly urged to hold fast and make no concessions.

He did — with resounding success. Faced with the united front and Chernoff's unyielding rejection, the Japanese music owners, after a week of thinking it over, backed down and completely withdrew their demand for royalties.

It was a signal triumph for the U.S. — and Chernoff personally. But there was one ironic touch in the midst of the congratulations from his delighted staff and the exhibitors, he got a message from the State Department, which he had notified of his action, directing him to pay the demanded royalties.

Chernoff didn't! With a derisive sport, he ignored the communication, telling his secretary to file it with useless and unnecessary papers.

JAPANESE FAN TAN — Ichiro Kawasaki, commentator in the English-language Mainichi Daily News, published in Tokyo and Osaka, is disturbed about the growing rise of nationalistic fervor in Japan. As an illustrative instance he cited the following: "An indignant reader wrote to a Japanese vernacular daily saying that the name Japan Airlines should forthwith be changed to Nippon Airlines, since Nippon is a proper noun which the Japanese should be proud of, and the peoples of other lands should take cognizance of this fact." He also noted as significant that "more households are hoisting the rising sun flag on national holidays."

Russia in negotiating an agreement with Japan for wood chips for the manufacture of paper in Japan demanded a $45 million low interest loan with which to buy machinery to process the chips, and another $5 million the Russians held they needed to import consumer goods from Japan. These exceptional Soviet demands are in striking contrast to a similar transaction between Australia and Japan. Australia sought no loans or any other "bonuses." It was a straight trade deal in which Australia agreed to ship wood chips to Japan to be made into paper — and that was all.

SOCIAL NOTES — Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, lively and active 86-year-old daughter of President "Teddy" Roosevelt and widow of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, O., is a yoga enthusiast. Says Mrs. Longworth, "I think yoga is marvelous" — and demonstrating, neatly and decorously folds one leg up to her waist. . . . Other yoga fans are Mrs. Birch Bayh, wife of Indiana's Democratic senator who is busily seeking the 1972 presidential nomination, and Mrs. Eugene McCarthy, estranged wife of the outgoing Minnesota senator who ran futilely in 1968 and is broadly hinting he may run again in 1972.
