U.S. Rejects Red Peace Package

NON-INJURY ACCIDENT — Patrolman James Samples, back to camera, investigated an accident on N. Hobt involving a car driven by Robert Lindsey Curtis, 1034 N. Wells at 11:45 p.m. yesterday. Curtis escaped injury when his car careened off one curb, crossed the intersection and bounced off another curb, striking a fireplug and skidding to a halt after swinging around a complete circle. Curtis was cited for changing direction of travel unsafely.

Proposal Said Unacceptable In Present Form

PARIS (AP) — The United States said today that the Viet Cong proposal for total American withdrawal by the end of the year in exchange for release of all prisoners of war is unacceptable in its present form. But it said the Viet Cong's seven-point peace plan has "some new elements" and Washington and Saigon want to explore the plan further with the Communists.

Ambassador David K. E. Bruce proposed to the 120th session of the Paris peace talks their session next Thursday be a "restricted" one, "free from the glare of publicity and without the need to make public statements except to the degree we mutually agree upon."

Both Bruce and South Vietnamese Ambassador Pham Dang Lam said a week-long analysis of the peace package did not show changes in the basic Communist demands. But Bruce said that if the proposals mean Hanoi and the Viet Cong are ready for serious negotiations, this is welcome.

Bruce said the demands for withdrawal of all U.S. and other non-Vietnamese forces by the end of the year "are so sweeping and categorical in nature that we cannot possibly accept your arbitrary determination that they must be agreed to by us without any discussion or negotiation upon them."

Bruce said the Communist "offer to agree on the modalities of safe withdrawal and release of prisoners after a date for withdrawal has been named is unclear and may be merely a variation of your previous statement that the parties will engage at once in discussion on these questions, not necessarily committing you to the course of action implied this point, as well as others you have presented, requires clarification."

"On the prisoners of war issue itself," Bruce continued, "we note that you do not deal with the release of those prisoners captured by your forces or forces under your control in Laos and Cambodia. We continue to hold you responsible for the release of these men and for the provision of whatever information you have on all of our men captured and missing in action throughout Indochina."

Lam countered the Viet Cong plan with a call for immediate and unconditional release of all prisoners of war, establishment of a general cease-fire "and a timetable for the withdrawal of all the external forces," meaning North Vietnamese in South Vietnam as well as the Americans and other foreign troops fighting on Saigon's side.

The South Vietnamese delegate told the Viet Cong's Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh her peace plan was "faulty because of its ambiguity on what you would be prepared to do."

U.S. And Russia Seeking Results At Arms Talks

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Both Soviet and U.S. negotiators said they were seeking concrete results as they gathered in Helsinki for the start today of the fifth round of the strategic arms limitation talks.

Gerald Smith, chief negotiator for the United States, and Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Semenov, head of the Soviet delegation, met Wednesday evening on procedural matters in advance of the first full session at the Soviet Embassy.

Simultaneously on limiting the deployment of antiballistic missiles—ABMs—and measures to limit offensive nuclear weapons. Since the SALT negotiations started in November 1969, the Soviet Union has insisted that agreement be reached first on ABMs while the United States wanted simultaneous agreement on both offensive and defensive weapons. Now they have reached an understanding that "together with concluding an agreement to limit ABMs, they will agree on certain measures with re-

FOR PROTESTING WAR

First American Serviceman Goes Before Court-Martial In England

LAKENHEATH, England (AP) — The first American serviceman to be prosecuted in Britain for protesting the Vietnam war, Air Force Capt. Thomas Culver, goes before a court-martial today at this air base northeast of London.

Air Force sources expected the trial to last five or six days. Culver, a 32-year-old bachelor from Santa Barbara, Calif., was one of 168 U.S. servicemen who on May 31 delivered a petition to the American Embassy in London asking President Nixon to end U.S. military activity in Indochina.

Culver, a legal officer who served in Vietnam, was charged with violating Article 912 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice by taking part in a demonstration against the rules for U.S. servicemen aboard—and soliciting others to take part.

The maximum sentence is a dishonorable discharge and two years imprisonment. Culver had been scheduled for regular discharge last month, but this was delayed.

Culver and his lawyer, Capt. Frank Wesson, contend that the embassy protest was not a demonstration. The protesters held no mass rally but instead assembled in Hyde Park and went to the embassy in small groups. Culver claims that this constituted a personal protest, with the men expressing their private views.

Two American agents, reportedly Air Force intelligence officers, photographed the protesters with telephoto lenses. The films were classified secret, flown to the U.S. Air Base in Wiesbaden, West Germany, to be developed, and the pictures were flown back to Britain. Culver's court-martial was ordered by the 3rd Air Force headquarters after an inquiry at Lakenheath last month. Witnesses told the inquiry Culver had been seen outside the base handing out leaflets about the protest.

Court Challenge Adds Frustration In Nixon's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A court challenge to President Nixon's multibillion-dollar tax break for businesses has added new frustrations in his attempt to spur business spending, one of the economy's softest spots.

The tax break, in the form of liberalized depreciation rules, was attacked in a consumer-oriented suit filed in U.S. District Court here Wednesday.

Nixon disclosed the plan last Jan. 11 and assured businessmen at the time they could count on getting the faster tax write-offs, the heart of the regulations, retroactive to the first of the year.

But the suit could delay the break even further. It comes at a time when businessmen are projecting plans to spend only 2.7 per cent more on plant and equipment in 1971 than they did a year ago.

The administration wants to accelerate this low level of investment to speed up the economic recovery, concluding that liberalized depreciation rules will induce industry to spend more for modernization, thus creating more jobs.

The suit could delay or invalidate the tax break. But a assistant Treasury official, John S. Nolan, deputy assistant secretary for tax policy, said businessmen have no reason to hold back on their investment and spending plans because of the suit.

After public hearings, the Treasury formally adopted the new rules June 22. Basically, they permit industry to calculate the expected life of plants and machinery at 20 per cent below the current level. The effect would be to increase industry's income-tax deductions.

The loss to the Treasury over a 10-year period has been officially estimated at $39 billion. The suit said the regulations are unconstitutional because the Nixon administration bypassed Congress in adopting them.

Besides Ralph Nader and Common Cause, a nonpartisan lobby, others joining in the suit were the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, the United Automobile Workers, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., and Ramon L. Posel of Jenkintown, Pa., a real estate agent.

40 U.S. Choppers Carry Viets To Cambodia For New Drive

SAIGON (AP) — Forty U.S. helicopters landed 1,500 South Vietnamese troops in the Parrot's Beak section of eastern Cambodia today for a new pincher drive against North Vietnamese forces and bases.

The troops were put down in a light rain six to nine miles inside Cambodia. They met no opposition initially.

The operation is centered about 65 miles northwest of Saigon. The force hopes to link up at Svay Rieng, on the Phnom Penh-Saigon highway, with a second force of 1,500 South Vietnamese troops moving south from Kompong Trach.

Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of South Vietnamese forces in the 3rd Military Region, told Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen that the operation has four objectives:

—To trap a North Vietnamese sapper battalion of about 400 highly trained troops.
—To disrupt enemy communications.
—To find supply caches.
—To slow North Vietnamese infiltration into the southern half of South Vietnam, which Minh said has accelerated since the start of the rainy season in May. He gave no figures.

The Parrot's Beak extends about 15 miles on either side of the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway. The flat, marshy terrain is an old staging area for North Vietnamese-Viet Cong operations in the southern half of South Vietnam.

A U.S. Embassy source said Pakistani purchases of spare parts and ammunition amount to about $20 million annually and had been going on regularly since 1967, when the United States partially lifted a ban on sales of military equipment imposed during the 1965 war between India and Pakistan.

House Unit To Develop Legislation To Help Cities, Counties, Says Mills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee will develop legislation to help local governments, "but it would not look anything like President Nixon's revenue sharing," predicts Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark.

Mills discussed the outlook after the committee's first executive session on the $5-billion Nixon plan and congressional alternatives reportedly produced little beyond gloomy budget figures.

He indicated the eventual plan would be limited in time, would concentrate on the needs of cities and other local units, and would involve some congressional direction on use of funds made available.

He said it also might include authorization for the federal government to work out joint collection of federal and state income taxes. This could result in administrative savings for

Kissinger Holds Talks With Pakistani Leader

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — White House adviser Henry A. Kissinger came to Rawalpindi today for two days of talks with President Agha Mohammad Yahya Khan in an effort to reduce the tension between Pakistan and India resulting from civil strife in East Pakistan.

Kissinger flew here from New Delhi, where Indian leaders urged that the United States halt all military and economic aid to Pakistan as a way to end the civil strife and to insure the return of seven million Pakistani refugees now in India.

But Foreign Office sources in Rawalpindi reported that Washington has assured Pakistan it will not interfere with four or five more shipments of ammunition and military spare parts still due in Pakistan from the United States.

The sources said the Nixon administration has ruled it will not issue new licenses to Pakistan but will permit Pakistan to continue shipments of material purchased under existing licenses.

A U.S. Embassy source said Pakistani purchases of spare parts and ammunition amount to about $20 million annually and had been going on regularly since 1967, when the United States partially lifted a ban on sales of military equipment imposed during the 1965 war between India and Pakistan.

Arab Guerrillas, Israeli Forces Clash On 2 Fronts

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab guerrillas and Israeli forces clashed on two fronts today while police and troops searched Arab villages for terrorists who fired rockets into a town nine miles west of Tel Aviv, killing two persons and wounding 20 others.

A military spokesman said guerrillas fired bazookas from Syria at an Israeli force in the occupied Golan Heights. An Arab was killed and an Israeli soldier was wounded in the ensuing battle, he said.

Another Israeli patrol came under bazooka and light-arms fire near Zarit, on the Lebanese border. The spokesman said the Israelis replied with artillery fire but no casualties were reported.

Bar Association Shelves Resolution On U.S. Pullout

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Bar Association has shelved a resolution calling for the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam "as soon as physically and logistically possible."

By a 173-105 vote Wednesday, the assembly decided that taking a stand for withdrawal would embroil the 150,000-member ABA in "partisan political debate and action."

The resolution adopted instead said that all Americans hope "for a speedy conclusion to the war."

All Arab villages within 50 miles of the city were put under curfew, and a number of suspects were picked up.

Classical Fashions Arrive In Fall '71

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Sp) Fashion's love affair with the classic look makes Fall '71 a season of the traditional. Keeping pace is the collection created by Patrick Porter and Mario Forte which runs the gamut from costume life to the versatile little dress, but always with a very definite flavor of now dressing.

Costumes take on two dimensions, from the coat with dress partnerships to the dress sheltered under its own jacket with either offering the wearer the dual potential of wearing the costume as a whole or in separate parts.

In their approach to coat and dress duets, the design team covers all hours and all occasions, ranging from daytime outfits with coats of deliciously bulky tweeds and plaids over skimpy little double knit dresses and double knit and polyester knit partnerships to evening costumery interpreted in rich brocades, metallic shot fabric and subtle accessory prone silk and worsted combos. Particularly notable in the area of plaided and tweeded woools over solid dresses is a blanket plaid coat, its colors sharpened with threads of winter white.

Lightly fitted and belted bathrobe style, it is the cover-up for a neat slightly high-waisted dress in a winter white double knit.

Another coat, almost reefer-shaped, and with wide lapels to suggest the new broader shoulder, is in a rich tapestry patterned wool of deep winter blue with brown while an entire costume of coat and dress is interpreted in a truly classic tweed, whitened in combination with wine or brown.

Double knit coat costumes also have many fashion dimensions from the blazer coat, piped in contrast colored knittery, to the little girl shaping of a red-trimmed navy fitted beauty, sparked with a touch of gilt chain at the waistline. And in the polyester life, there are tri-dimensional patterns, plaids and autumn-oriented prints, all interspersed in a variety of silhouettes from the easy wrap to the body molded.

Dresses with jacketing also go the classic fashion route in the Porter-Forte collection. One outfit translates the sportswear blazer into an urban ensemble, via a brilliant red blazer jacket, bound in black and topping a black dress that, in its planned basic approach to dressing, has all the chic of '71.

Another, in a ribbed polyester knit, borrows certain Chanelisms such as the cardigan cut to its jacket, and its braid trim. And for those who like the dress that can go it alone after dark or under another coat, there is a bevy of 'nities, the dresses simply shaped and adaptable to the addition of a jewel or a scarf depending on the occasion, the covering jacket ranging from the shaped front-buttoner that hits the hip bone to the waist-length Eton, generally nipped in and given individuality through the use of unusual buttons or trim.

Not taking a back seat in the Rona collection either is the dress that stands on its own fashion feet. One nifty number in brilliant red wool, belted in shiny black leather, is a variation on the shirt dress approach with its shaped top and slightly flared hemline, while also with a shirt feeling is a braided bound plaid polyester knit, marked another at the natural waistline with a wide leather belt.

The two-piece look of separates, so important on the fashion scene, is also found in the Rona dress collection in many interpretations. Typical is the combination of plaid and plain, which shows up in a snug bodiced flared skirt dress, the top solid, the skirt patterned and the whole wrapped in a giant stole of the same plaid.

Another two-piece look is that of a jewel-necked dress whose skirt picks up the bodice color in its plaiding, wears a high-rising cummerbund-style waist-band that is buckled to the side.

DEAR ABBY: Why do people give money to reciprocate a kindness? It spoils everything.

Yesterday a friend gave me a check for $10 for a small kindness I showed her. (I picked up her mail and brought it to her at the hospital for three weeks; Abby, I was terribly hurt and didn't want to accept money for something which I did out of the kindness of my heart, so I tore up the check in front of her.

She looked as though I had struck her and tears came to her eyes. I wanted to die. Was I wrong?

HURTING

DEAR HURTING: Yes. To destroy something publicly shows contempt for it. You should have either returned the check or destroyed it privately. People give money to reciprocate a kindness because either they are unable to shop for a gift or they don't know what to buy.

Your friend wanted to reward you for your kindness. You wanted no reward. Unfortunately, you misunderstood each other.

DEAR ABBY: I need help. My husband is 91, and for the last two years Arnold has had no desire for sex, and I am only 73 and I still need a man.

Arnold is a jealous person and he follows me everywhere so there is no chance of even meeting anyone else. Is there something the doctor can give him to pep him up a little? If that is hopeless, maybe the doctor can give me something to quiet me down. It is no good this way.

YOUNG AT HEART

DEAR YOUNG: It might be easier to quiet your desire than to rekindle Arnold's. Ask your doctor.

DEAR ABBY: Please spell out the responsibilities of a daughter-in-law when she comes to visit with her two children who are both under three years old. The children are not accustomed to being in a playpen in their own home, but I have one here for them because I don't want them roaming through the house. Young mothers have been fed the idea that a playpen thwarts a child's ego and learning experiences. The youngsters are left to roam, tear magazines apart, climb on the tables, drag out the flatiron and topple the telephone.

Please tell us grandmothers how to avoid antagonizing the young mothers and yet preserve a semblance of order in our own homes.

WORKING GRANDMOTHER

DEAR GRANDMOTHER: Since your daughter-in-law is anti-playpen, make it plain that she will have to keep her eye on the children while she visits you. And if she doesn't do it, it's into the playpen for the roamers, like it or not!

DEAR ABBY: When a guy is asked to be best man at a wedding, and it is decided that all the men in the wedding party should wear identical rented dinner jackets, who pays for the rental on the jackets?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: The men who wear them.

VIENNA (AP)—Each day a two-and-a-half ton truck makes the rounds to yards of the city-owned public transportation system to gather things which passengers leave on busses and streetcars.

Besides such run-of-the-mill items as umbrellas, the lost and found department also listed dozens of dental plates and glasses. One person even forgot a wrapped-up washing machine.

FALL CLASSIC — Keeping pace with fashion's love of the classics for Fall '71 is this partnership of blazer coat and dress created by Patrick Porter. In wool double knit the coat is blazer-banded in contrast coloring and shaped to a gentle fit. Beneath it is a short sleeve dress, also in wool double knit that is lightly belted at a natural waistline. Available in camel-black and red-black.

POPULAR SUMMER STYLES

Two popular styles to add to your wardrobe... a sleeveless dress with a most attractive scarf-sash trim; a handsome pants-suit with long, full sleeves and small stand-up collar.

Young Original for suggestions on fabrics, colors and accessories.

B-150 with Photo-Guide is in Sizes 8 to 18 (bust 31 1/2-40). Size 10, 32 1/2 bust... dress, 1 1/2 yards of 54-inch plus 1 1/2 yards for trim; pants-suit... 3 3/4 yards.

Send $1.25 for this smart Young Original pattern designed for women who sew. Write Pampa Daily News, Box 438, Midtown Station, New York, N.Y. 10018. Print full name, address with zip code, pattern number and size.

DISCONNECT SPARKPLUG

Disconnect the power mower sparkplug wire before working on the machine. This simple precaution will prevent the mower from starting if you move the blade.

Prevent mowing accidents before you mow the lawn clear the area of all children and pets.

On hilly sections of your lawn, always mow steep slopes sideways with a walk behind mower to prevent the mower from sliding down over your feet.

Many Topping Mix Flavors Pizzas

Italian foods prove irresistible with the pungent spices and sauces. The secret to cooking Italian delicacies well is in the use of such herbs as oregano, rosemary and aromatic basil.

For example, crumble some oregano on grilled cheese or a hamburger-and-tomato sandwich or sprinkle ground oregano on an omelet or creamed eggs and you'll be surprised at the heightened flavor.

For pizza fans here is what some regions call pizza-around-the-world, meaning there is everything on it. It is a Pizza Capriccioso with a biscuit base.

PIZZA CAPRICCIOSO
2 pkgs. (8 oz. each) refrigerator biscuits
Olive Oil
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes, drained
½ c. sliced pitted ripe olives
6 cooked artichoke hearts, ½ lb. (4) cooked Italian sausages, sliced
1 can (2 oz.) or 10 flat anchovy fillets

1 can (2 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
1 jar (7 oz.) whole clams, drained
1 can (4 ¼ oz.) eggplant appetizer (caponata)
1 tsp. oregano leaves
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. black pepper
1 pkg. (4 oz.) mozzarella cheese, sliced

Knead both packages of biscuit dough together to form a ball. On a lightly floured board, roll dough ¼-inch thick. Fit into a 12-inch round pizza pie pan (or cookie sheet). Brush with olive oil. Chop tomatoes; spoon over pie shell. Arrange olives, artichokes, anchovies, mushrooms, clams and eggplant appetizer as desired. Combine 3 tablespoons olive oil with oregano, salt and black pepper; mix well. Sprinkle over all. Arrange cheese on top. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 25 to 30 minutes longer. Makes 6 portions.

CAROLYN'S COLLECTIONS

By CAROLYN ANDERSON
POT ROAST
3 Pounds Beef Pot Roast
2 Teaspoons Salt
¼ Teaspoon Black Pepper
3 Tablespoons Bacon Drippings
1 Large Onion
1 Clove Garlic
2 Tablespoons Flour
1 Cup Canned Tomatoes
1 Tablespoon Sugar
3 Drops Tabasco Sauce
½ Teaspoons Worcestershire Sauce

Salt and pepper the roast. Brown slowly in the bacon drippings in an iron skillet or dutch oven. Turn meat often until brown on all sides. Remove roast and all except 2 tablespoons of drippings. Add chopped garlic and onion; allow to cook until tender. Stir in flour and blend well. Add tomatoes and cook until slightly thickened. Add sugar, vinegar, Tabasco and Worcestershire sauce. Place the roast back in this gravy. Cook over low heat about 3 hours or until tender. About an hour before serving add peeled potatoes, carrots and onions. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and continue cooking until vegetables are done.

MEAT LOAF
1 Lb. Ground beef
½ Lb. Sausage
1 Egg - beaten
1 Cup BreadCrumbs (corn bread crumbs are best)
1 Finely-chopped Onion
¼ Teaspoon Salt
¼ Teaspoon Black Pepper
½ Can Tomato Sauce
Mix all ingredients together. Shape into a loaf and place in a shallow pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

SAUCE FOR MEAT LOAF
½ Can Tomato Sauce
2 Tablespoons Prepared Mustard
2 Tablespoons Brown Sugar
2 Tablespoons Vinegar
1 Cup Water
Blend well. Pour over meat loaf. Bake at 15 minute intervals.

LONDON (AP) — Transport Minister John Peyton told Parliament new measures planned to reduce road casualties include raising the minimum age for motorcyclists from 16 to 17 and making them wear crash helmets.

ROME (AP) — A commission of Parliament has voted to ban the traditional bridal dowry in a reform of Italian marriage and family laws. Parliament's final vote on the reform is expected by the end of 1971.

Corn Chili Cake Changes Menu Face

True lovers rarely tire of fresh sweet corn-on-the-cob. For change of pace cut corn from the cob to use in a stew, soup or casserole. Left-over corn-on-the-cob makes a perfect ingredient for a casserole, too. Fresh Florida sweet corn is still on the market and soon corn will be available from other regions. Try it in an All-American dish that is thrifty and delicious — a Corny Chili Cake.

CORNY CHILI CAKE
4 ears fresh Florida corn
1 tbs. salad oil
½ c. chopped onion
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1 lb. lean ground beef
1 tbs. cornstarch
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 can (1 lb) tomatoes, broken up
1 tbs. chili powder
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. ground red pepper
1 pkg. (12 oz.) corn muffin mix

Remove husks and silks from corn. Cut kernels off cobs, makes about 3 cups, set aside. In a large skillet heat oil. Add onion and garlic, saute 5 minutes. Add meat and cook

5 to 10 minutes. Drain and mix with sauce.

Both sauce and vegetables may be prepared in advance and heated together with special seasoning; just before serving. CARROTS AND TURNIPS
1 cup diced cooked carrots
1 cup diced cooked turnips
½ tsp. nutmeg

1 c. Cream Sauce
Mix together carrots, turnips, nutmeg and Cream Sauce in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, about 3 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Makes 4 (½-cup) servings.

Fresh corn, beef and muffin mix make tasty Corny Chili Cake.

Gray County Home Demonstration Agent Offers Summer Campers Ideas For Planning Tasty Meals

County Home Demonstration Agent. Thinking about really roughing it camping out this Summer? You'll have to plan carefully for your food, reminds Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County home demonstration agent.

The large variety of canned and dehydrated foods now available help to make such meal planning a pleasure, she continues.

On a camping trip where there are no refrigeration facilities, limit your food supply and omit foods you won't need. Leftovers are a particular problem when camping, but reading labels and noting can and package sizes can eliminate this problem.

Don't spoil your vacation by trying to save bits of food without refrigeration and run the chance of getting food poisoning, Miss Wainscott reminds.

Before planning your meals, take a look at the canned food section at your grocery. You'll find many canned meats and canned combination meat dishes, such as roast beef, beef steaks, corned beef, ham (canned hams, two pounds and under, usually do not require refrigeration), meat balls, tuna fish, shrimp, salmon, chicken, Vienna sausages turkey or chicken fricassee, chili and spaghetti with tomato sauce.

Use a little imagination serving these canned foods, the agent suggests. Add grated Parmesan cheese to spaghetti, for example, or fluffy scrambled eggs to Vienna sausage for an energy-building breakfast. Instead of serving chili con carne plain, serve it over toasted cornbread squares. Make the cornbread from a package mix and have it for breakfast, then toast the leftover and pour chili over the cubes.

Corned beef hash can be served several ways. Brown it in a frying pan or place in a baking dish. Make hollows in the corned beef with a spoon and drop eggs into the nests. Cook until hash is heated and eggs are done.

Many of the chopped ham loaves can be sliced and served cold with salads or made into sandwiches. They can also be sliced and broiled or fried.

Use imagination with your sandwiches, too, Miss Wainscott adds. Add pickle relish to deviled ham spread, tongue or liver. Or combine meat spreads with hard cooked eggs and salad greens for a salad treat.

Chopped ham on a slice of bread covered with a slice of cheese is another easy sandwich to serve. Broil or heat until the cheese melts.

GSA Representatives Plan Amarillo Meet

AMARILLO — Representatives of the General Services Administration, the central buying agency of the Federal Government, will be in Amarillo Tuesday, July 13, to discuss with interested businessmen how they can sell their products and services to the Government. GSA spends over 2 billion dollars each year procuring from commercial sources a wide variety of numerous common-use items and services required by the various Federal agencies in their day-to-day operations.

GSA is the multibillion dollar business manager of the Federal Government. As such it is the Government's landlord; manager of properties, both real and personal; builder and operator of public buildings; buyer of needed products and services; seller of Government owned surplus real and personal properties; keeper of the nation's permanently valuable records; and operator of the Federal Telecommunications System and the Government's Interagency Motor Pool System.

Jay H. Bolton, GSA regional administrator, Region 7, Fort Worth, Texas, announced today that Robert T. By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, July 8, the 189th day of 1971. There are 176 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1853, an American expedition headed by Commodore Matthew Perry arrived at Yokohama to try to establish U.S. relations with Japan.

On this date: In 1835, the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia cracked as it was being rung during the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall. In 1896, William Jennings Bryan pleaded for his silver money policy in his famous "Cross of Gold" speech in Chicago.

In 1940, in World War II, the government of Norway moved to London after 62 days of fighting to try to repel Nazi invaders.

In 1944, American forces were victorious in the Pacific war battle of Saipan.

In 1950, Sen. Douglas MacArthur was named United Nations commander in Korea.

Ten years ago: Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev announced his nation's defense spending was being increased by nearly one-third because of a military buildup in the West.

Five years ago: Mechanics struck against five major U.S. airlines, knocking out 60 per cent of the nation's air travel service.

One year ago: President Nixon said he would ask Congress to empower Indian organizations to take over government-financed programs for their benefit.

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Evidence of lagging enthusiasm among ordinary Americans comes from various compass points today: Retail sales are off, consumers are "buying down" to lower priced goods, resorts are less than full. The savings rate remains higher than normal and the use of credit lower than average, suggesting a conservative if not wary view of economic prospects.

There is no doubt about the causes of reduced spending, which are listed in the government's "Survey of Current Business" as "growing concern over inflation, unemployment and the general state of the economy."

Such an explanation is understandable. But does it apply to the stock market too, or are small investors getting out of the market for other reasons?

For nearly a year now, odd-lot sales—meaning transactions of less than 100 shares—have been consistently higher than purchases. Week after week the selling has gone on, even when the market was rising.

The standard explanation has been that the little guys are selling shares to buy mutual funds. And the statistics seemed to verify this. Mutual fund purchases were way up.

Now that interpretation is suspect. At the time the small investor began selling in earnest, his redemptions of mutual fund shares also began to rise and threaten to overtake purchases.

In May it happened. For the first time in mutual fund history, sales exceeded purchases, and by $121.5 million. Investors cashed in $428.2 million of fund shares. They bought $306.7 million.

The industry was shocked, although it had an idea that a day of reckoning was approaching. The entire market, in fact, was shocked by the news and still is mulling over the meaning.

The question for stock market watchers to answer now is this: Are small investors turning conservative for the same reasons that they remain reluctant buyers of other goods and services? Or are other factors involved?

A survey might supply an instructive answer. For the time being, the suspicion exists that those "other factors" are there. The small investor is different today—better informed and more critical. He has listened to years of publicity and promotions about funds and stocks and he detects a wide gap between promise and payoff.

FRIDAY, JULY 9

YOUR BIRTHDAY FRIDAY: Those born near sunrise will feel poignant expressions within issues of marriage, partnership, competition. All will feel an impetus toward self-reliance, independent opinions, spontaneous action. Friday's natives usually are astute students of human nature.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Anything you do is noticed; in effect you are the playwright, create your own public image. A high opinion of yourself brings in a good picture.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Scattering energy is inevitable. New sparks arise from romantic contacts, relationships are tested in fast changing moods.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Within the little choices you make are the seeds of major changes of direction in the future. Lat intuition lead to the larger opportunity.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): The other fellow should have the benefit of the doubt — and you should also. If you feel your world is somewhat uneven, seek to improve your share in the situation.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Don't casually alternate those willing to help you. Settle any differences and disentangle yourself from unnecessarily complex arrangements.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Some of your pet theories are under test, at short notice. Be ready to pick up the pieces, reevaluate, rewrite.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Playing it safe means less return or leaving well enough alone. Seek technical advice where you are not expert.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Decide what you want to do, work out a fairly complete plan, then make sure everybody concerned knows his share of it quite well.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Emphatic, surging expressions of frustration, can get you into untenable or uncomfortable situations. Wait for the full story.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your concise approach to long-standing problems promises finally to trigger serious change. Choose carefully.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You enter a high tide of persuasive powers, salesmanship capabilities. Unload any white elephants you are sheltering.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Odd people intrigue you and find your comments provocative. Associates may not understand, may even come up with their own mythology of what happens.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — E. Arthur Kean describes himself as the slowest writer in television—and one who likes to sneak a little originality into his scripts.

Kean, a quiet, introspective man of 42, who lives in a rented ranch house in Zuma Beach, said, "I spend three weeks on a story. People tell me I should do it in three days."

"I'm writing for a living, not for the money. I guess I'd be writing anyway."

He turned out four scripts last year, two for "Hawaii Five-O" and two for "Storefront Lawyers," and that plus residuals gave him an income of $27,000.

Kean said, "People ask me how I can make a living on four scripts a year. I say just barely. I live fine on what I make. We have panic time a few times a year. It's really a matter of integrity."

I could double my output and double my income, but could I slight the people who watch?"

One of Kean's scripts last year for CBS' "Hawaii Five-O" was called "Over 50? Steal!" and starred Home Croney. He said, "I managed to sell them on the idea of having him escape from prison and start all over again."

The sequel is one of three "Hawaii Five-O" episodes he is doing for the fall season, plus one for the new CBS show "Cannon." In addition, he sold a movie script to Leonard Freeman, the executive producer of "Hawaii Five-O."

British Open Shared By Three In Opening Round

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Jack Nicklaus headed into the second round of the British Open golf championship today smiling ruefully but still speaking with confidence about his chances of picking up the ancient crown for the third time.

"If you can take bogey sixes on the last two holes and still be only two shots behind the leaders, then it can't be all bad," said Nicklaus, who won the title last year in a playoff against Doug Sanders.

"Frankly I don't want to discuss the greens. We all know what they're like. It's the golf course we came to play, so let's play it."

The greens at Royal Birkdale drew criticism earlier this week for being too wet and soft. By midday, footprints of in the early morning have dried, causing bumpy spots on the putting surface.

Nicklaus shot a 71 in Wednesday's first round over the 7,080-yard, par 35-37 layout and found himself two shots behind the man who beat him in the playoff for the U.S. Open at Merion in Ardmore, Pa.—Lee Trevino.

Nicklaus and Trevino were bracketed as 4-1 joint favorites for the title involving most of the top names in golf.

Trevino, Howie Johnson of Palm Desert, Calif., who is playing in his first British Open at the age of 46, Britain's Tony Jacklin, winner of the U.S. and British Opens two years ago, and Argentina's Vicente Fernandez shared the lead with four-under-par 69s.

Babe Ruth All-Stars Play Spoilers Tonight

The Babe Ruth All-Stars will be meeting the Spoilers tonight in Optimist Park at 8 p.m. All-Star coaches for the Babe Ruth hopefuls are Jim Tucker and Leon Peeler. Manager for the All-Stars, Bob Johnson, stated, "Out of the past few years we presently have one of the best teams ever. We have the ability to advance to the World Series if the boys' desire to win is strong enough. Tonight's game will be an insight as to how good the All-Star team can play. I only hope we have a good crowd turnout."

Manager Leon Holmes and Coach Don Knutson hope to be what their team's name implies, "The Spoilers".

Activities start tonight at 7:30 with the crowning of the Babe Ruth queen followed by introduction of the new royalty to the seven other teams in the league. A color television set, motorcycle and a sabre saw will be awarded to lucky ticket holders after the crowning ceremonies.

Trophies will be given to the top team in city Babe Ruth competition. Grant, and to their sponsor, Grant's Supply Co. Grant finished 13-1 for the season in local competition.

Pampa Rebels Down Spearman 5 To 3

The Pampa Rebels downed Spearman 5 to 3 last night to extend their American Legion record to 9 wins and two losses to tie Dumas for second place in District.

The Rebels were led in their attack on Spearman by Rick Harris, who struck out the side in the second, third and fourth innings and ended up striking out 15 batters while allowing only four hits.

Pampa brought in their five runs on six hits off of Spearman's Rand Schell and reliever Wilkerson. Dale Ammons was the man with the big stick in last night's game as he bounced the ball for two triples. Randy Stevens had a double for the home team.

Spearman's only extra base hits came from Rand Schell and Wilkerson with doubles.

The next action for the Rebels will be tomorrow night at 8 p.m. when they travel to Dumas in hopes of capturing second place behind the guidance of Jeff Hogan. Sunday the Legion team will meet Spearman on their territory for a 3 p.m. game. Mike Edgar is the probable starting pitcher against Spearman according to the coach Bud Hogan.

Cowan's Hit Brings Home Winning Run

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Billy Cowan doubled home the tie-breaking run as the California Angels scored twice in the eighth inning Wednesday night and beat Minnesota 3-1 in a game delayed for 83 minutes by rain.

Cowan's third hit of the game drove in Sandy Alomar with the go-ahead run. A single by Jim Soucier then scored Mickey Rivers, running for Cowan, with an insurance run.

Eddie Fisher pitched the final five innings for California, blanking the Twins on two hits.

Cowan also doubled and scored in the second inning and added a single.

The game was tied 1-1 after four innings when the rains hit. When the contest resumed, Jim Kaat, 6-8, went back to the mound for Minnesota but Fisher replaced Rick Clark for the Angels.

The Twins picked up their run in the fourth as Erant Aljave, hung up between third and home in a rundown, scored on catcher Gerry Moses' wild throw.

Baseball's Hall Of Fame Under Attack About Paige

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baseball Hall of Fame was hesitant at first about admitting Leroy "Satchel" Paige, the hesitation-pitch star of the Negro baseball leagues, into its regular section of Cooperstown, N.Y.

But an announcement Wednesday by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and Paul Kerry, president of the Hall of Fame, said that Paige and other black stars of the pre-1947 era would be given full membership in the main Hall of Fame rather than in a separate area.

Earlier this year, the Hall announced that a separate area of its museum would be set aside for players of the old Negro leagues. Paige was the first player so honored.

The selection of the slender, popular right-hander was hailed, but the fact that he was going to be placed in a separate area drew large criticism. Paige, however, was not upset. "I don't feel segregated," he said.

Following the announcement of the rule change, he commented: "I guess they finally found out I was really worthy. I appreciate it to the highest."

Paige pointed out: "you're supposed to be in the majors 10 years to get in the Hall of Fame. I barnstormed with the top players in the American and National Leagues. I guess they're putting that together with five years in the majors. That would make it 25 or 30 years."

Paige will be officially inducted into the Hall of Fame Aug. 9. Others to be inducted that day will be outfielders Harry Hooper and Chick Hafey, infielders Davey Bancroft, Joe Kelley and Jake Beckley, pitcher Rube Marquard, and George Weiss, former general manager of the New York Yankees and Mets.

McDowell, who pitched in the All-Star Game for the National League while with Houston in 1967, was named to the AL squad for the second time. He has won 12 of 13 decisions for the Orioles this season.

McDowell was chosen for the sixth time despite an 8-7 record. Perry, a 24-game winner en route to the Cy Young Award in 1970, was picked for the third time. He has a 12-7 mark.

Lolich, 13-6; Palmer, 10-4; and Siebert, 12-4, were named for the second time. It will be the first appearance for both Messersmith, 7-8 and Pattin, 7-9.

With starters voted by fans, Baltimore is assured of four representatives in the midsummer classic.

Joining Cuellar and Palmer will be third baseman Brooks Robinson and outfielder Frank Robinson.

First baseman Boog Powell was voted to the team but had to withdraw because of a wrist injury Wednesday. Powell was replaced by Detroit's Norm Cash.

Eleven reserves will be named by Weaver to round out the 28 player squad. Each of the league's 12 teams must be represented by at least one player.

RUN, RUN, RUN

Cleveland's Leroy Kelly is the top rusher among pro football's active players. Kelly has run for 5,209 yards in 1,137 carries during his seven pro seasons. Minnesota's Bill Brown has racked up 5,192 yards in 1,455 carries in 10 seasons for second place. Gale Sayers of Chicago is third with 4,918 yards in six seasons, while Jim Nance of New England has 4,860 yards in six seasons for fourth place.

Athletics' Vida Blue Heads All-Star Pitchers

BOSTON (AP) — Vida Blue, the Oakland Athletics' brilliant young southpaw, heads a nine-man pitching staff named by Baltimore manager Earl Weaver today to the American League All-Star team.

Weaver picked two of his aces, Mike Cuellar and Jim Palmer, and one pitcher each from seven other clubs for the 42nd All-Star Game with the National League next Tuesday in Detroit.

Leading the American League for the second consecutive year as manager of the champion Orioles, Weaver again ignored relief specialists, naming nine regular starters.

His failure to pick a couple of top relievers was blamed by many observers last year for the American League's eighth loss in a row, 5-4 in 12 innings. Chosen with Blue, Cuellar and Palmer were Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers, Sam McDowell of the Cleveland Indians, Sonny Siebert of the Boston Red Sox, Jim Perry of the Minnesota Twins, Andy Messersmith of the California Angels and Marty Pattin of the Milwaukee Brewers.

McDowell, however, has been sidelined with arm difficulties, and there were indications that Cleveland Manager Alvin Dark would ask Weaver to replace him.

Blue, Cuellar, Lolich and McDowell are left-handers with a combined record of 50 victories and 17 losses this season in games through Tuesday.

Palmer, Siebert, Perry, Messersmith and Pattin are right handers with a 48-32 record. Earning All-Star honors in his first full season with Oakland, the 21-year-old Blue seems well on the way to the charmed 30-victory mark with a fabulous 17-3 record.

Cuellar, who pitched in the All-Star Game for the National League while with Houston in 1967, was named to the AL squad for the second time. He has won 12 of 13 decisions for the Orioles this season.

McDowell was chosen for the sixth time despite an 8-7 record. Perry, a 24-game winner en route to the Cy Young Award in 1970, was picked for the third time. He has a 12-7 mark.

Baseball's Reserve Clause Challenged By Curt Flood

WASHINGTON (AP) — Curt Flood, the controversial outfielder who sued baseball for $3.1 million, has asked the Supreme Court to invalidate the sport's reserve clause.

In a brief filed by his attorneys, Flood said organized baseball has violated the anti-trust laws with its reserve system, which binds a player to one club for life unless he is traded or sold.

"It needs no argument to demonstrate that organized baseball is now interstate commerce," said Flood's lawyers in argument against baseball's exemption from antitrust laws. They said the Supreme Court had ruled against other professional sports in that area.

"No reason exists why baseball should be treated differently," they said.

Flood was represented by Arthur J. Goldberg, former Supreme Court Justice and Ambassador to the United Nations, and Jay H. Topkis of New York City.

The 33-year-old Flood, now believed to be living in Spain, played baseball for 12 years with the St. Louis Cardinals and was considered one of the best outfielders in the business.

His suit against baseball came in 1970 when he refused to report to the Philadelphia Phillies after he was traded by the Cardinals. He sat out one year, living in Copenhagen, Denmark, but was lured out of retirement by Washington Senators owner Bob Short with a contract calling for $115,000. But on April 27, Flood unexpectedly left the Senators.

Flood's suit against baseball was dismissed by District Judge Irving Ben Cooper. That decision was affirmed by a three-judge U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

He alleged in those courts, as before the Supreme Court, that nationwide baseball agreements among clubs restrict players to contract negotiations with the first club that employs or "reserves" them or with assignee clubs—in other words, clubs to which they may be traded.

Insurance Industry Crisis

It is no longer a question of collecting small amounts from large numbers of people to pay for the losses of the few. It is, instead, a problem of collecting large amounts from many in order to pay the losses of many.

Such is the parlous state of the insurance industry in the United States today, as described by J. Carroll Bateman, president of the Insurance Information Institute.

Simply stated, insurance is designed to provide protection against the accidental or unexpected, infrequent occurrence, says Bateman. But when the infrequent becomes frequent, when the unexpected becomes the commonplace, the traditional concept of insurance just will not work.

When crime and civil disorder move in and gain control of a community or a neighborhood, insurance must eventually move out. After that, it is only a matter of time before law-abiding residents and businessmen must follow — "leaving another no-man's land to the spreading domain of the lawless."

The threat is not confined to the areas of crime and civil disorder, however.

"The insurance industry is caught in one of the most serious crises in its history," says DeForest W. Abel Jr., president of Automobile Mutual Insurance Company of America (AMICA).

People are becoming more and more conscious of the essential nature of insurance, he says. They are also becoming increasingly dissatisfied with its cost and availability. The industry is caught in a crossfire of a complex set of social revolutions.

"We are all familiar with the multiple issues of crime, pollution, racial strife, automobile slaughter, inflation and the like from even the most cursory reading of our daily newspapers. Our ability to preserve a stable and orderly society — a prerequisite to the

Shouting And Tumult Die

The 1972 Democratic National Convention will be short, sweet and to the point.

New rules ban all bands, banners and "spontaneous" floor demonstrations, shorten the interminable nominating and seconding speeches and virtually eliminate the phony and time-consuming candidacies of Favorite Sons. The order of states in roll calls will be decided by lot.

The changes reflect the growing public disenchantment and impatience with these quadrennial circuses, especially since television enabled the millions to see what really goes on inside the convention halls. All will now be orderly and businesslike, not only for the Democrats but for the Republicans, who will likely institute similar reforms.

As anyone connected with television knows, however, the public is notoriously fickle.

'Diplomatic' War Hanoi's Ace-in-Hole

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—"Because the war has gone on so long and our forces have been worn down, a number of our party members, cadre and combatants have become reluctant to make sacrifices. They fear protracted war. They lack determination."

So wrote the Communist acting commander of a major war zone just north of Saigon about the middle of last year. The situation is now worse. He went on:

"The food supply has improved. But the civilian proselyting task is ineffective. Motivation of the masses to contribute to the Revolution has brought few results..."

"The revolutionary forces have been worn down, particularly due to the loss of a number of key cadre at district and village levels and the slow recruitment of additional personnel."

This man's sentiments are typical of the thoughts found in North Vietnamese and Viet Cong documents captured over the past 12 months. They show growing discouragement with the military war in South Vietnam.

But there is another recurrent theme in these documents—an increasing conviction that Hanoi's propaganda war in the United States will make victory possible in the end.

One document is a most remarkable North Vietnamese order. Attached were these instructions: "This directive is classified Absolute Secret. It will be disseminated only down to the District Party Committee. It is not permitted to reproduce it or transport it..." The order was designed for hard core party officials, not for the public.

Though this document was signed a year and a half ago, its importance is that after running through the Communist failures, it outlines step-by-step how the "diplomatic" war in the United States will finally make possible a North Vietnamese military victory. Some from that outline follows: "The war... (is being) smoothly coordinated with our political and diplomatic struggles and the antiwar movements of the American (people). These movements (are becoming) increasingly effective, and have weakened the Vietnamization... policy of (President) Nixon..."

"On the diplomatic front, we... stepped up the U.S. and world people's movement, demanding that Nixon quickly withdraw troops from Vietnam and abandon the Thieu-Ky-Khiem (group)..."

"The movement has developed... strongly and widely... It has attracted many statesmen in the U.S. and in Western Europe. Therefore it has created an increasingly stronger pressure on Nixon..."

The order said U.S. troop withdrawals would continue and that if they slowed, the people "in our country, in the U.S. and in the world" will denounce U.S. policy and force an accelerated withdrawal.

The document then predicts that this quickened withdrawal will seriously weaken the South Vietnamese-U.S. position on the battlefield.

At this point then, the directive explains, it will be possible to inflict heavy losses on the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces.

Dad, Couldia Let Me Have $20?

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Marvin is puzzled by Houdini's secret. For Houdini practiced in his bath tub till he could hold his breath over 4 minutes! Most of you readers can hardly pass 40 seconds. But by the simple strategy below, you can probably attain 120 seconds after just one or two trials. This may save your life!

CASE R-504: Marvin G., aged 20, is a college swimmer.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I read that the former magician and escape artist, Houdini, could hold his breath for more than 4 minutes."

"How is that possible? I am lucky to be able to hold mine for just one minute!"

Houdini's Secret

There are 3 methods by which you can increase the length of time you can hold your breath. The first involves overloading your blood and excess oxygen by rapid deep breathing. You will soon feel the effect of this because you may grow faint or dizzy.

For rapid, deep breathing quickly changes the acid-alkaline balance of your blood. Maybe you have tried to blow on a fire that you were starting at a picnic and when you stood up, you were so dizzy you almost fell over.

That is due to the carbonic acid you just exhaled, thus leaving your blood temporarily more alkaline.

Second, with practice you can cultivate a meditative, sluggish outlook. That reduces your metabolic rate and thus makes you require less oxygen so you can hold your breath longer.

Houdini practiced for many months submerging in his bath tub to set that 4-minute record. And he said he learned to "vegetate" by control of his thinking, thereby permitting him to last longer on one lung full of air.

Third, there is an air cap in the stomach that may equal one good breath. So Houdini drew on that "spare tire," as it were, for additional oxygen.

Go through the following experiment and you will be able to hold your breath probably 2 minutes or better within a few trials:

1 Take one deep breath and hold it as long as possible, timing yourself by the second hand of your watch.

Suppose this is 40 seconds. Now take 12 deep breaths in rapid succession, but hold the 13th, and then time yourself to see how long it takes before you must get fresh air. It will now run maybe 75 seconds!

But Houdini's real secret was to tap that air cap in the stomach.

After resting till your pulse rate drops back to normal, again take 12 deep breaths and then hold the 13th. But when you begin to feel the first craving for fresh air, now pinch your nostrils shut and also keep your mouth tightly closed.

Then belch and swallow; belch and swallow; belch and swallow! For when you belch in this closed air system, some of the fresh air from the stomach will come up into your air passages and exchange with the used air from the lungs. You may find that you can reach 120 seconds (2 full minutes) with your first attempt, which is 3 times your earlier 40-second record.

Keep Houdini's strategy in mind, for you might get caught by a root under water and thus need that extra minute to free yourself and avoid drowning!

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of the Pampa News, Hopkins Bldg., Mellott, Indiana 47958, enclosing a long stamped addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

H. L. Hunt Writes

BY THE TRUCKLOAD

It was announced recently that Mack Trucks, Inc., has signed a preliminary agreement to help build the world's largest truck plant in the Soviet Union. The agreement should not receive the required U.S. government approval.

It seems that experience with "aid to the enemy" has not been an adequate teacher in this instance. How could memories be so short that we forget the incredible loss of lives in World War II after our trade with the pre-war Japanese militarists, or even closer to home, the continuing battle in Vietnam, sponsored by the Soviet Union, that kills our soldiers.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said in a recent magazine interview, "Before giving away the technology to construct trucks in the Soviet Union, and establishing plants for them, there should be some indication on the part of the Soviet Union that they're not going to continue sending the trucks to North Vietnam by sea and for use on the Ho Chi Minh trail."

The president of Mack Trucks said he was "a little concerned" that the talks between Mack and Soviet representatives would be "blown out of proportion." We need to be Patriots and concerned citizens can help show the communist tide by writing more than "a little concerned" about such an announcement.

Letters-to-the-editors opposing the Mack Truck project.

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb

Information Sparse
On Snuff, Pipe Use

Dear Dr. Lamb—This next school year I am to teach a segment on the effects of chewing tobacco and dipping snuff. There has been lots of information on the effects of smoking, but I have very little information on chewing and dipping. We have more youngsters in junior high schools using tobacco in these forms than in smoking. Will you please tell me where I might write for some information?

Dear Reader—There is a lot less information on this problem simply because it is a lot harder to find as many snuff dippers or tobacco chewers than it is to find cigarette smokers. Your comments suggest it will soon be easier. We have the same problem with evaluating the effects of cigar and particularly pipe smoking. I would suggest that you write, U.S. Department of Health Services and Mental Health Administration, National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, Arlington, Va. 22203.

You can be certain that absorbing tobacco through the lungs, by smoke or dipping snuff or by absorption from the mouth all result in taking nicotine, which is a drug. The standard references to nicotine poisoning applies. A chronic tolerance can be developed with a form of habituation. In addition, some doctors have stated that swallowing tobacco juice may increase the incidence of cancer of the digestive tract or the bladder. It is possible that tobacco in excessive amounts may decrease sexual capacity. I can't think of anything good that it does, except support the tobacco industry, if that's good.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have heard reference made that sunflower seeds, fall in the drug category. Is this correct, and to what extent? What type of sunflower seeds? I eat a lot of salted sunflower seeds in the shell which I purchase at grocery stores. Also would breaking the shells be harmful to my teeth?

Dear Reader—There is nothing harmful in sunflower seeds except the calories and the amount of fat. Fat is the source of about 80 per cent of the calories in sunflower seeds. This is true of most nuts though, and the fat in sunflower seeds is mostly polyunsaturated fat whereas many nuts contain large amounts of saturated fat as well.

Breaking the hulls with your teeth will not hurt you. I wouldn't recommend this, however, for other nuts. Salted seeds and nuts should be avoided by those needing to restrict their salt intake for reasons of high blood pressure or heart trouble.

Noted Historian Says Viet Study 'Terribly Distorting'

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Not surprisingly, prize-winning historian James MacGregor Burns sees the New York Times' publication of major Vietnam war documents as providing important benefits for the American people and their chroniclers. But he also has some big reservations about the effect of this particular undertaking.

Said Burns in a telephone interview: "I'd rather have partial disclosure than none at all."

He considers it an unforgivable failure of government that the major materials of history are, by common practice, generally kept bottled up for a generation or more.

The State Department is only now releasing the full documentation of events which transpired in 1945-46. Mountains of priceless evidence contained in presidential papers from Harry Truman through Lyndon Johnson are still screened from all but very special viewing.

Burns thinks the State Department's 25-year embargo on release is absurdly long. There have been suggestions the limit ought to be no more than 10 years, just a bit beyond a sitting president's possible two terms. But Sen. Edmund Muskie is proposing that an independent board survey classified matter and turn much of it loose after two years.

Having made his point on the "historian's right to know," Burns contends, however, that the Times' use of the so-called Pentagon papers has an effect which is "terribly distorting and may do great injustice to some people."

For one thing, the 7,000-page war study is based wholly on the Pentagon's files. It does not draw upon former President Johnson's papers, nor upon the still-impounded State Department materials. Any of these found in the study are there by the accident of being in Pentagon files. That means the study's "inside history" of the Vietnam war is necessarily grossly incomplete.

For instance, it is estimated that in LBJ's newly christened library in Austin, there are some 3.1 million, separate classified documents. Inevitably, sizeable proportion must deal with the war. No historian and no journalist yet has had access to this gold mine.

Burns views as valid the complaint of some that a good part of the published documentation in the Pentagon papers represents not presidential decision, not settled policy, but contingency planning.

He makes another point heard in many quarters—that many memos, position papers and the like can only be understood in their full context. In the study, no principal in the Johnson administration could be interviewed. Was a paper ordered by a superior to present one side of a case? Was the writer giving his true views or playing a devil's advocate? Is the document the whole story or were there verbal exchanges (unrecorded) on the issue?

Arthur Schlesinger Jr., once said of his White House years that much present top-level history runs through telephone wires but no farther. Later recollections, put down in "oral histories," are often fuzzy.

The consequence of these limitations is distortion. Averell Harriman, foreign affairs aide to many presidents, says, for example, that the Pentagon study makes former Assistant Defense Secretary John McNaughton look like a "warlike fellow," but that, in fact, he was always dovish. Do the documents support Johnson's judgment that the then Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and then CIA head John McCone were the "most docile" of his advisers?

Burns, immensely happy at having some of the raw stuff of the war years on the open record, nevertheless is appalled at the reaction of some public figures which puts a "web of duplicity" label on that record. "I don't envy anyone trying to put these papers in sober perspective," says Burns. "On top of everything, I'm afraid the overreaction to publication means Vietnam will be lost to reason from any point of view."

The lifting of the curtain part way must be hailed. But a full, balanced view of Vietnam may now be more than half a century off.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Drug Disease Now Epidemic

By PAUL HARVEY

Two congressmen have returned to report 10 per cent to 15 per cent of our Vietnam troops are hooked on heroin. That's 30,000 to 45,000 soldiers who will bring home the habit—if they live.

Last year alone, 26 of those flag-draped coffins contained GIs who'd been killed by a needle.

But to all the other users: Don't give up. Rescue is on the way. An antidote for heroin did not come a day too soon. Last year in Chicago 277 died mainlining "M." Overdose reaction hepatitis contamination. Dead: 184 Philadelphians; 1,154 New Yorkers. And who knows how many others picked up a bullet while stealing to support a habit.

There's no other way when it costs $50 to $100 dollars a day. Already the drug disease is epidemic, has multiplied 10 times in San Francisco. And half of those who never came home from a bad trip were younger than 23 years old; several were not yet 15.

Chairman Harold Hughes of the Senate narcotics subcommittee anticipates the hideous prospect of heroin-hooked vets using vicious military skills they learned in Vietnam to upkeep their habits back here.

But out of Beth Israel Medical Center, Manhattan, comes help for the helpless. The lifesaver is a drug the Nazi used during the Big War as a substitute painkiller.

The drug, methadone, is itself addictive — but there's less pain, less craving and no danger.

New Breed Of Defector

This is a first: An East German watchdog recently "defected" across the border to West Germany, where he was granted asylum.

Police said the shepherd dog apparently broke out of a pen and crossed the mined and guarded "death strip" between

And enough to unhook the H-user can cost less than $1 a day.

Under methadone treatment, addicts are sufficiently stable to be able to hold steady jobs.

A survey of 81 patients who'd been on "H" — an average of 14 years each are now on methadone.

The number holding down jobs has doubled.

Their applications for welfare have declined.

Arrests of addicts under treatment are one-tenth what they were.

Such is the success of this therapy that within the past year 10,000 Americans have thus unhooked themselves from heroin.

Detroit has opened four public dispensaries for methadone.

Washington D.C.'s Black Mans' Development Center — federally funded — allows heroin addicts to withdraw on methadone.

At Columbia University, a pilot program has unhooked more than 2,000 New Yorkers.

San Francisco has given $120,000 to its Center for Special Problems — to work with methadone.

It's available, it's cheap, you can use it — and nobody knows it.

I asked Dr. Paul Cushman of Beth Israel, "Aren't you just getting users off one drug and onto another? What about long-range effects? Might not methadone users develop a tolerance, fall back?"

He said, "Let's toss toward the drowning man any lifesaver we can get our hands on. We'll have time later for deliberation. He has no time."
