President Asks For Extension Of Freeze Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent to Congress today legislation for the post-freeze anti-inflation efforts, calling for civil as well as criminal penalties, authority to control interest and dividends if needed and setting up a temporary emergency court of appeals to handle wage-price cases.

The President asked for a one-year extension to April 30, 1973 of the Economic Stabilization Act, which provides the power to act to regulate inflationary forces.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Charles Walker said the one-year time limit in no way indicates the length of time that the price-wage controls will remain in effect.

He said the controls will remain for as long as "it takes to break the back of inflationary expectations and to make meaningful progress to bring down the cost of living."

The proposed legislation calls

Congress Urged To Okay Health Insurance Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's Administration urged Congress today to approve its plan for a national system of government-regulated and aided private health insurance.

Rival plans, Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson told the House Ways and Means Committee, are either inadequate or hopelessly costly in money and manpower.

Aiming at enactment of some form of general health coverage by next year, the committee opened hearings on the whole range of proposals.

The Nixon plan is in two parts.

All private employers would be required to offer comprehensive basic health insurance coverage, tailored to federal standards, to employees and their dependents.

The employee would pay 35 percent of the premium for the first two and a half years, after that 25 percent.

The government would help pay for similar coverage for poor families, not included in the employer-employee plan. Those deemed able to do so would contribute part of the cost.

An estimated 3 million families, about 15 million persons, would be included.

In addition there would be an array of regulations intended to prevent unreasonable charges and reduce inefficiency on the part of insurance carriers and providers of health services.

One of the principal rivals to the Nixon plan is a labor-backed proposal for a fully federal system of general medical coverage, tax-supported.

Richardson said this would cost nearly $60 billion annually in new taxes and "is simply feasible."

He also found fault with other plans, including those backed by the American Medical Association and the Health Insurance Association of America, relying on tax credits or penalties to help finance medical care.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., opened the hearings with a remark that Americans are "increasingly resentful of trying to find the way through a maze of referring practitioners to find services for which a higher and higher part of the family budget must be used, and this without confidence that the care finally obtained is appropriate or of high quality."

Court Agrees To Rule On Pro Baseball Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to hear Curt Flood's suit against professional baseball and to rule on the sport's immunity from antitrust laws.

The former all-star centerfielder, now living somewhere in Europe, has claimed ever since the St. Louis Cardinals traded him in 1969 to the Philadelphia Phillies that baseball's contract violates both state and federal antitrust laws and is a form of slavery. His chief lawyer is former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg.

The court simply announced there was no comment on any of the issues.

The case will be heard sometime later this term.

Vice President Visits Village Of Ancestors

GARGALIANOI, Greece (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew came to the village of his ancestors today in an emotional homecoming that filled the narrow streets with welcoming townspeople.

He said he had learned that a man can go home again, "even to a home he has only heard of but never seen before."

The emotion of the moment could be read in Agnew's face as he stood before the people of Gargalianoi in the town's soccer stadium and paid tribute to his late father.

"If any individual is entitled to these honors I receive it is he," the vice president said. "He was one of you and he left these shores many years ago."

"It was on his knee that I learned of this town and of the principles of the early Hellenes... And I only wish that he could have returned with me today," Agnew said, his voice breaking for just an instant, "and yet I sense his presence here."

Agnew does not speak Greek. His remarks were translated sentence by sentence and the crowd applauded almost every line.

The vice president walked through a welcoming archway and drove to the village cemetery to place a flag-draped wreath at a family gravesite. He visited a white-walled orphanage that was a convent founded by his great aunt. Agnew gave bracelets to two young girls who lived there, and he patted them on their cheeks.

Teenage Cigarette Smokers In U.S. Increase Rapidly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reports a significant increase in teenage cigarette smokers at a time when the number of adults with the habit decreased sharply.

Compiling the latest figures, it estimates the number of smokers between 12 and 18 years of age at four million in January, 1970, up one million two years when the population increase for the group was less than a million.

The report makes no effort to explain the increase but analyzes the characteristics of teen-agers who have and have not become regular smokers and says:

"While there are many factors in the environment of a child that influence his taking up, or not taking up the smoking habit, the one that has by far the most influence is the smoking behavior of those around him."

U.S. Economy Enters Fading Month Of 1971

WASHINGTON (AP) — With faint signs of a turnaround showing, the nation's economy enters the fading months of 1971 still suffering with substantial slack, a new government report shows.

The Federal Reserve Board said Monday that industrial production advanced by 5 percent in September after dropping sharply in the two previous months.

At the same time, the pace of home building, one of the economy's strongest sectors, slackened after a strong August showing, the Commerce Department said.

Neither report excited administration economists. Although they welcomed a rise in industrial output, they said the strong production upsurge they seek has yet to take place.

President Nixon and his economic advisers have predicted the economy will put on a strong showing in the last three months of the year, leading the way to a "very good year," in 1972.

Industrial production rebounded in September primarily because of a recovery of output in the steel industry, the board said. But it added the steel industry is still slack ridden, with production of raw steel showing a decline in the first part of October.

Although the key industrial production index increased, it was still 6 percent below the high recorded in the middle of 1969. The index however, was 2 percent higher than last November's low point, when the 1970 recession was at its deepest level.

The administration is hoping Nixon's new economic moves, including restoration of the investment tax credit, will spur output of the nation's factories, mines and utilities.

The board said production of consumer goods and business equipment increased in September while defense output declined. Auto production remained at previous levels.

House Reinstates Liberal Program Of School Lunch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted without dissent to reinstate a more liberal school-lunch program, but not before the Agriculture Department, feeling presidential and congressional pressure, had done what the House sought to force.

The USDA announced just hours before the 354-0 vote Monday that it was rescinding the belt-tightening policies that prompted strong action in both houses.

The capitulation raised doubt whether congressional follow-through to resolve differing versions of House and Senate lunch measures was needed.

And the sequence of events on the issue left one senator declaring that his colleagues had gone crazy.

The House bill provides a minimum of 46 cents in federal reimbursement to the states for every lunch served to a child deemed eligible by the state.

The USDA policy change, the third since mid-August, tracked closely the aims of the House measure. In August the department announced that the school lunch reimbursements would be set at 35 cents per serving, down from the previous year's 46 cents.

Congress returned from recess expressing outrage at the action, and USDA on Oct. 6 announced it was moving the lunch reimbursement up to 46 cents.

At the same time the department restricted eligibility to its own standard: children of parents earning less than $3,940.

The action eliminated an estimated $1 million to 15 million children who had gotten free or reduced-priced lunches last year after Congress and the White House ordered schools to feed every needy child.

The department yielded Monday on a major point, allowing the states to set eligibility, as well as increasing the reimbursement per lunch to 46 cents. Some states' maximum income level for participation (See LUNCH, Page 2)

Average Loan Rate For Cotton Project Won't Be Changed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A proposal to seat the Chinese Communists as the representatives of mainland China and the Chinese Nationalists as the representatives of Taiwan was pending in the United Nations today as a suggested compromise to prevent the expulsion of the Nationalists.

Ambassador Jamil M. Baroudy of Saudi Arabia introduced the new proposal in the 131-nation General Assembly on Monday in the form of amendments to the Albanian resolution, which would replace the Nationalists with the Communists in the world body.

Baroudy said he would submit similar amendments to the rival U.S. resolution, which would seat both Chinas in the assembly and the Communists on the Security Council without reference to their conflicting claims to represent both the mainland and Taiwan.

Baroudy said he hoped to persuade the cosponsors of both resolutions—22 for the Albanian and 19 for the American—"to see how we may be able to devise a solution not only by dint of common sense but by fairness and justice to all the parties concerned." He said his formula was based on the right of self-determination.

Arabia's Envoy Offers Proposal On China Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin said Monday the acreage allotment and national average loan rate was set at 19.5 cents per pound. The preliminary set-aside payment rate of 15 cents per pound was announced, with a set-aside requirement of 20 percent of the farm base acreage allotment.

"The provisions of the 1972 upland cotton program follow those of 1971 by giving farmers the opportunity to make better overall use of their land in the interest of a balanced production of all crops," Hardin said.

"Cotton is moving toward an improved position as evidenced by several encouraging factors now being realized with this year's crop."

The national average loan rate of 19.5 cents per pound applies to Middling one-inch upland cotton. Schedules for loans for different qualities based on the Middling one-inch rate will be announced later, the department said.

DeSoto Mayor Picked To Succeed Dr. Baum

Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — Roy Orr, chosen by a nominating committee Monday as state Democratic party chairman, says he doesn't think the Texas stock scandal has hurt the party.

Orr's selection will be placed before the 62-member State Democratic Executive Committee in Dallas Wednesday for confirmation.

Dr. James Gill of Waxahachie, nominations committee chairman, said the SDEC must vote "yes" or "no" on Orr, with no nominations permitted from the floor.

Orr, 39, is mayor of DeSoto, brother of Rep. Fred Orr of that city, president of Red Oak State Bank and owner of an insurance agency. He has served on the SDEC since September 1968.

He said he planned to hold "area meetings" with precinct and county chairmen "to find out what our problems are and how to solve them."

What about the image problems resulting from the stock scandal? Orr was asked.

"The stock scandal hasn't touched the Democratic party. That would be like saying if somebody commits adultery you are going to condemn everybody. People understand it is not the Democratic party but some people who may have done the wrong thing," Orr said.

Orr was chosen to succeed Dr. Elmer Baum, who resigned Oct. 11 after being under fire January because of the $125,000 profit he shared with Gov. Preston Smith from National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock they bought with a loan from Sharpstown State Bank. Both denied any wrongdoing in connection with the transaction, which was investigated by the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Describing himself as "moderate to conservative" in his political philosophy, Orr said he had "equal rapport with both" Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Canada Tightens Security Around Kremlin Leader

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
OTTAWA (AP) — As Premier Alexei N. Kosygin embarked today on another round of diplomatic tourism, the prospect was that heckling and harassment would follow him across Canada and would rob much of the sheen from whatever Soviet policy had hoped to achieve from his trip.

Nobody was injured and nobody was more than momentarily upset by the attack Monday on the Soviet premier's person by an angry young Hungarian and by the demonstrations by minority groups which feel oppressed by the Russians.

However, the attack on Kosygin instead of Soviet domination of him by demonstrating Ukrainians and Jews managed to swing the spotlight away from Kosygin's phrases about peace in the world and concentrate it instead on Soviet domination of ethnic minorities in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. More demonstrations are promised on Kosygin's route across Canada.

Kosygin's obvious mission is to spread the word that the Soviet Union yearns for peace in the world and is seeking to achieve this through such devices as a European security conference and mutual American and Soviet reduction of forces in foreign countries.

Kosygin's trip just as obviously is part of a larger pattern of Soviet diplomacy. It has taken the Soviet premier to North Africa just in advance of the Canada trip. It has taken other top Soviet leaders to eastern Europe and Southeast Asia. It is a determined offensive with readily discernible goals.

It took only a few angry persons to divert the attention of the world away from what the Soviet leaders wanted it to see.

A young Hungarian jumped on the man who represents the power that subjugated his country's brief anti-Communist revolt 15 years ago this month. Jews protest that the Russians are persecuting their brethren. Ukrainian exiles demonstrate violently against Moscow's domination of their homeland. Czechoslovak exiles remind the world of the 1968 suppression of their reform movement.

As a result, the message the Soviet premier is trying to impart is buried under an avalanche of newspaper and television accounts of the more dramatic events, the sort of events both the Canadians and (See KOSYGIN, Page 2)

Canada Ousts U.S. Militant Jewish Leader

MONTREAL (AP) — Rabbi Meir Kahane, leader of the militant Jewish Defense League in the United States, was deported from Canada today. He and six other persons had come here to protest the treatment of Jews in the Soviet Union during the visit of Premier Alexei Kosygin.

Rabbi Kahane and his group were detained Monday night after landing at Montreal's airport.

An official of the Canadian immigration department said Kahane left aboard an Air Canada flight for New York at 7 a.m. The others remained in Canadian custody and were due to leave for the United States later in the day, the official said.

LBJ, Wife Appear To Differ About Their '64 Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson and his wife Lady Bird appear to differ about whether in the spring of 1964 she encouraged him to run for a full term.

In his memoirs, "The Vantage Point," the third installment of which was published today by The New York Times, Johnson said she urged him to run again and he published a memorandum from Mrs. Johnson which he said she gave him on May 14.

In her memoirs, "A White House Diary," Mrs. Johnson said that at that time she wrote out a suggested announcement for the President to make that he would not run for election.

Mrs. Johnson said she sent it to the President marked "personal, please" with nine pages of pros and cons attached.

The former first lady said she did not change her mind and urged the President to run until after the Republicans nominated Barry Goldwater at their summer convention in San Francisco.

Then, she said in her 1970 book, she sent to the President another letter saying that "to step out now would be wrong for your country."

Johnson said he received a note using those words from his wife on Aug. 25, 1964, the day after the Democratic convention opened in Atlantic City, N.J. He said it was in response to a request for comment on an assault on an officer and arrest of four including the person who made the initial call for help.

Officers found patrons in the lounge drinking, some intoxicated, after hours for such operation. When he asked them to go home, Officer J.R. Samples was physically assaulted by two men. When Samples radioed for help the men fled but one was apprehended a short distance from the scene.

The other surrendered early this morning. The wife of one of the assailants was arrested when she interfered with attempts to take her spouse in custody. She was the complainant who phoned about the lost purse.

In other police news the investigation of the break in at Gibson's Discount Center has disclosed loss of most of the coin collection. The office was also ransacked but nothing was found to be missing. The thieves left by the rear door which was barred from the inside but not locked.

Report On Stolen Purse Results In Arrest Of 4 Patrons At Bar

Pampa police response to a call from a patron of Jax Lounge, 323 W. Foster, about a stolen purse resulted in an assault on an officer and arrest of four including the person who made the initial call for help.

Officers found patrons in the lounge drinking, some intoxicated, after hours for such operation. When he asked them to go home, Officer J.R. Samples was physically assaulted by two men.

When Samples radioed for help the men fled but one was apprehended a short distance from the scene. The other surrendered early this morning. The wife of one of the assailants was arrested when she interfered with attempts to take her spouse in custody.

She was the complainant who phoned about the lost purse. In other police news the investigation of the break in at Gibson's Discount Center has disclosed loss of most of the coin collection.

The office was also ransacked but nothing was found to be missing. The thieves left by the rear door which was barred from the inside but not locked.

Due to the good response and additional material to be presented, the Public Information Seminars on Drug Abuse will be continued Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. in the West Auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church. These seminars are being sponsored by the Suicide Prevention-Crisis Information of Pampa and are open to the Public.

Herbert Denny, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 1657, of Pampa, has requested that members meet at Memo Gardens at 6 a.m. Monday to observe Veteran's Day. Danny stated two flat-bed trucks will be needed, as well as a bugler to play taps.

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Lt. Col. Anthony Herbert says he hopes to seek political ways to "clean up the Army from the outside."

Herbert, who accused two superior officers of covering up alleged atrocities committed by American soldiers in Vietnam, said in an interview Monday he probably will retire from the Army in February.

He said that since the war crimes charges he filed were "swept under the rug," he would "lay everything before the American people and let them decide for themselves."

Herbert said he might work through Congress, through the vote, even talk at universities in an effort to bring about military reform.

Kosygin's schedule today included another round of talks with Trudeau and other Canadian leaders; a luncheon at the post capitalist Rideau Club, given by Kosygin for Trudeau, a visit to a paper plant, a tourist's view of the Cateau Hills and a concert at the National Arts Center.

Jewish groups planned a big demonstration in the afternoon to protest the Kremlin's refusal to permit unrestricted immigration of Jews to Israel. East European emigrants and pro-Chinese groups planned a demonstration outside the Arts Center.

House Members Urged To Reject Mansfield Proposal On Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — House rejection of the Senate's six-month deadline on the Indochina war was so uncertain today that leaders were weighing the risk of even putting it to a vote.

Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said he would make no final decision until today, after results of a week of White House-GOP leadership lobbying had been counted.

"It's close enough to be serious," Ford said. A chief White House lobbyist predicted before the House action that Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's amendment for a U.S. pullout in six months if American prisoners are released would be rejected by a margin of 30 House votes.

Antiwar lobbyists led by Common Cause, showed less confidence before the show-down of winning 23 votes that could reverse last June's 219-176 House rejection of a nine-month war deadline.

"We could do it," said a Common Cause lobbyist. "It's going to be close but I'm not throwing in the towel." Half a dozen White House lobbyists joined Republican leaders Monday in urging House members to reject the six-month deadline. At least as many antiwar lobbyists pressed them to accept it.

House Members Urged To Reject Mansfield Proposal On Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a final effort, the White House invited some 60 House Democrats this morning for a briefing by Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

An Associated Press check Monday found nine sure and four possible new House votes switched in favor of the Mansfield amendment, short of the antiwar forces' 23-vote target.

Republicans had the power to prevent a vote on the war deadline because they got the one motion permitted on binding the House to any feature of the Senate-passed $21-billion weapons bill containing the deadline before it went to a House-Senate conference.

Ford told newsmen Monday the House already has approved one Mansfield war-halt amendment after the nine-month date was taken out, and said he might decide to turn the one House-binding motion over to some other feature of the $21-billion bill instead of Mansfield's new six-month amendment.

"Passage of another Mansfield war amendment," Ford said, "would tend to undercut the President's efforts in Moscow and Peking." That argument had several House members who have supported war deadlines in the past considering switches of their votes.

Lion Country Safari In Calif. New Tourism Attraction

LAGUNA Hills, Calif. (AP) — A pair of rhinos whet their horns together, then saunter in front of your car. An ostrich pokes its beak against your windshield. A hippo gives your fender a nudge and heads for the water.

These are the unprogrammed happenings that can be experienced at Lion Country Safari, a new and prosperous addition to the industry aimed at the leisure dollar.

Walt Disney started it 15 miles away at Disneyland. There the beasts are made of plastic but Harry Shuster is attracting tourists to his transplanted wild with real, live animals that actually roar, bite and occasionally scrape the paint on automobiles that pass through their lairs.

Lion Country Safari is the latest of the attractions that have made Orange County the most cleverly manufactured tourist mecca in the United States. The safari is the brainchild of Shuster, 36, a Latvian-born, reared in South Africa, lawyer with a perception for what will attract the public.

"I knew the wild life game preserves in Africa, and I realized how many tourists were coming to them, just to look at the animals. I then realized how few Americans could afford the trip. So I devised a plan by which I could transfer an African preserve, which normally occupies from 100 to 300 square miles, into one square mile in America."

His first such venture was in West Palm Beach, Fla., in 1957. He expected the $2-million enterprise to require three years to show a profit; he says it made the black within a year. Shuster was encouraged to attempt a more ambitious project—the $11.5 million Lion Country Safari.

"During our first year, which ended in June," Shuster re-

Ted Gikas Speaks On Visit To Greece At Altrusa Meeting

At the recent monthly luncheon of the Altrusa Club at the Coronado Inn, Ted Gikas gave the program on his recent tour of Greece.

Gikas was accompanied on his trip by his nephew, Grant Gikas. The two visited relatives in Greece, but the highlight of the trip was attending the christening of a second cousin in a 1600-year-old monastery in the mountains.

Most of the trip was made by foot as vehicles were prohibited because it was Holy Ground. Gikas showed some beautiful slides of the country, especially the city of Athens. As in most old cities today, Athens is building many high-rise apartments and modern buildings. To make room for these they are tearing down many of their beautiful old buildings, he stated.

Greece today is trying to provide employment for their young people to keep them from leaving their native land. There have been many changes in Greece since his last visit there 4 years ago, he explained.

GREEK RELICS — Ted Gikas is shown with a 17th Century icon and a 16th century icon, during his talk on Greece to the Pampa Altrusa Club. Each Greek family has an icon of a favorite saint, which they display in their homes, he explained. On the table, as a Flokati, a native rug.

The most ordinary business now, in fact, essentially, the old-fashioned or show-down where you find you must be definite and clear-spoken. Today's matters have an exciting special feeling toward children, may prefer an underdog or unpopular side in a conflict.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Now is the time to give all your credit for good intentions and ideas, and proceed with the finest you know yourself.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): In purely social personal matters everything goes well enough, according to what you are putting into the relationship. In work and material matters, everything is more complex and sensitive.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Many open questions between you and distant correspondents can be resolved by your direct, courteous and sense of diplomacy.

CANCER (June 21-July 20): Don't go about throwing your weight around. You can't cope with psychological situations. Friendly tact gets you further.

LEO (July 21-Aug. 22): Believe that nothing of what you hear from people who make you feel upset or have something to gain or lose on current issues. They mean well enough but are apt to have clouded judgment.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): The thought and care you take of yourself today will pay off in the future. All the other things fall into line.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Knowing what you want is the first step in knowing what you should expect to find in life and more important.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Take advantage of every chance to expand your range and contacts in both career and social contacts. Take care not to confuse one with the other.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You can gain from a learning or reading. A sound evaluation of yourself. What you might not enjoy would inspire change.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Look for short, straight answers. Keep pushing until you get them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Creative impulses and romantic sparks pop unexpectedly. There's time for some of everything.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Prudence seems to be for the moment—children, young people attract appreciative temptations.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I were very much in love when we married 12 years ago. She was brought up in one religion and I in another, so in order to be "fair," we were married by a Justice of the Peace.

After our first baby came, she wanted it baptized (in her former faith) so I said, "Fine."

Then she decided she wanted to attend her former church again. I said, "All right. Just don't start nagging me to go with you." She promised she wouldn't, and she didn't.

Another baby. Another baptism. Pretty soon she started getting a ride to church and back with the man across the street who had the same kind of mixed marriage we had. (His wife didn't attend any church.)

Are you ahead of my story? You guessed it. My wife and this neighbor announced that they are "in love" and want to be free to marry each other.

If you can see the moral to this real-life soap opera, please put it in your column in capital letters!

STUPID
DEAR STUPID: I see the moral. It's "DON'T SELL RELIGION SHORT. IT ISN'T DEAD. IT'S ONLY SLEEPING."

DEAR ABBY: Some years ago I used to stop at the bar in my office building every evening after work and have a couple of drinks with the fellows before coming home. The drinks were a dollar each.

About four years ago my wife made this proposition to me: She would buy the whiskey by the case, and sell it to me by the drink for 85 cents if I came straight home.

This worked out fine, and she bought many nice things with the profit.

Now, starting September 1st, she has upped the price to $1 a shot because of higher costs.

The problem: With the 90-day freeze announced by President Nixon, isn't she liable to a $5,000 fine?

W.I.F.

DEAR W.I.F.: No she's not a licensed retailer (P.S. If your wife demands a tip, too, she's not any cheaper than the bar, which could defeat her original scheme.)

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Queen Elizabeth's visit to Turkey seems to have brought a temporary halt to political feuding among the country's leaders.

No Roach Kills Bugs

When the product is Johnson's No-Roach. Many people who are plagued by cockroaches go through quite a ritual every couple of weeks. First they take all the dishes, pots, pans, groceries, knick-knacks... everything that can be moved... off the kitchen shelves. Then they scrub everything down. Then they spray some foul smelling insecticide... leave the room for a couple of hours until the odor disappears. return, wash the dishes... and finally put everything away. If they'd used No-Roach in the first place, the whole operation would have taken about fifteen or twenty minutes.

You don't have to move anything to use No-Roach. You just brush it around dishes, into corners, along baseboards, across door and window sills (or squirt it on all these places with the special applicator you can get with No-Roach). That's it. No-Roach is odorless, so there's no need to leave the room for a few hours. And No-Roach is safe to use around children and pets. Most important, No-Roach is highly effective.

No-Roach dries to an invisible coating which begins working right away, and keeps on working... infecting not only the roaches that come in contact with it, but the other roaches, and even the eggs, that the infected roaches contact.

Get No-Roach with brush or squirt applicator... or both. Use it just once and you'll never be without it again.

Mrs. Holmes is featuring Romertopf cooking pots and Bing and Crondall plates for unique Yuletide gifts. The Romertopf pots are the sophisticated version of an ancient clay cooking method making head lines in newspaper food features and editorial columns throughout the country. The reason is a Romertopf pot cooks food in the natural juices retaining vitamins and minerals which would otherwise be cooked out. The rigid bottom drains fat from the cooked foods.

Another handy feature of the pot is that it can double as a beautiful serving dish.

Some other Christmas items are the cookie jars and canisters. These come in many of the animal shapes including owls, frogs, cats, and Snoopy of Peanuts. Also, they may be found in the shapes of vegetables and fruits in all colors.

Watch for the opening of the sporting goods department at Holmes Gift Shoppe. This new additional department will carry golf clubs, tennis racquets and all sporting accessories. "We handle anything in the line of gifts for the home."

People In The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard Nixon has confirmed that she will be going with the President on his trips to the Soviet Union and China.

"Oh, sure," she replied emphatically when asked if she plans to make the trip to Moscow in May. She accompanied her husband on his historic trip to the Soviet Union when he was vice president in 1959.

And she said she will join the President when he visits mainland China. The China trip is to be made before May.

LONDON (AP) — Field Marshal Montgomery figures he is needed more at his garden than at El Alamein.

Montgomery, 83, has decided not to attend the annual El Alamein reunion on Friday, according to a spokesman.

The nonsmoking nondrinking Montgomery led the forces that turned the tide against the Nazis in North Africa during World War II — and he would have been the kingpin had he attended the reunion.

When he is not indoors, Montgomery is tinkering around his gardens at his pleasant little estate in Hampshire.

Veep Stresses Mutual Alliance In His Talks With Greek Leaders

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

ATHENS (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is taking a hands-off attitude on the issue of when democracy should be restored to Greece, the nation of his forebears.

Agnew is stressing mutual security and alliance in his talks with leaders of the authoritarian regime. A spokesman said the vice president was adhering to the position he had already taken publicly, that "it is not up to us to impose on another government our attitudes" as to a schedule for the return of representative government.

The State Department has said a primary goal of the U.S. policy toward Greece is "the restoration of personal liberties and the re-establishment of democratic institutions," suspended when the government of Premier George Papadopoulos came to power by military coup in April 1967.

That issue has led in Congress to legislation now awaiting Senate action, which would ban U.S. military aid to Greece unless President Nixon determines overwhelming U.S. security interests require it. Agnew is opposed to that measure, and is seeking in Athens to underscore administration support for continued aid to help Greece meet its commitments to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In activities Sunday, Lt. Gen. George Zaitakis, the agent who acts in place of exiled King Constantine II, presented Agnew with the Grand Cross of the Order of George I, "for the distinguished service you have rendered to our country in the development of relations between our two countries."

Toasting Agnew at a luncheon, Zaitakis wished him success in office and "future success in the political field in your country." He said Agnew has a rare quality, "to speak in every occasion the language of truth."

Agnew had told newsmen traveling with him on his two-week mission abroad that he does not consider it "fair to say that this administration is hostile to the timetable that the government of Greece is on for reinstatement of representative rule."

No specific timetable has been announced by Athens.

Victor Gold, Agnew's spokesman, and Byron Stamatopoulos, undersecretary to Papadopoulos, said the Greek regime had not disclosed to the vice president any schedule for the return of representative rule.

Agnew said the fact that other governments "may not be as representative as ours" should not prevent cooperation when mutual interests are involved.

Agnew went to the tomb of Greece's unknown soldier before the building that housed the now-suspended Greek Parliament.

Crowds lined the sidewalks of Constitution Square, standing four to six deep, as Agnew placed there a wreath of laurel, draped in the U.S. and Greek colors.

Fresh Fighting Flares On Cambodia Border

By RICHARD BLYSTONE
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong units attacked two South Vietnamese positions northeast of Saigon Monday, and fresh fighting flared along the Cambodian frontier, northwest of the capital.

The attacks to the northeast were the fifth and sixth actions in six days in that 50-mile sector. Latest targets were a hamlet and a troop position near Xuan Loc, a provincial capital 40 miles from Saigon.

Moving under a predawn mortar barrage, the Viet Cong attacked a 100-man company of regional force militiamen six miles southwest of Xuan Loc. Nine militiamen were killed and eight wounded, and 10 attackers were killed, according to official reports.

In the other assault, the Viet Cong fired 30 mortar rounds into a hamlet four miles southeast of Xuan Loc, then attacked a militia platoon defending the hamlet. Field reports said one Viet Cong was killed and defenders' losses were three killed, one wounded.

The new outbreak in the Cambodia border region 60 to 90 miles northwest of Saigon flared after three days of relative calm in the fourth week of an enemy push.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said two companies of about 200 paratroopers, with artillery support, killed 29 enemy in sharp fighting near Thien Ngon on Route 22 in Tay Ninh Province. Government losses were put at seven dead, 20 wounded.

To the north, seven miles inside Cambodia, a South Vietnamese base near the rubber town of Krok was hit Sunday by nine rockets and two mortar rounds but casualties were termed light, with no fatalities.

The only American-manned outpost in the border region, Fire Base Pace, took eight mortar rounds Monday, without casualties, the U.S. Command reported.

U.S. B52 bombers dumped 360 tons of explosives only 1 1/2 miles south of Pace in four unusually concentrated strikes intended to take pressure off the beleaguered base.

Pace has been hit by shellings or sniper fire for 24 consecutive days, since North Vietnamese troops launched their border offensive.

Despite the latest surge in fighting, South Vietnamese military sources in Saigon said some of the Communist-led forces committed to the border campaign apparently have withdrawn. Estimates of enemy strength around Krok run from 1,600 to 2,000 men.

In the air war, an Air Force F105 detected a ground radar "lock-on" while escorting B52 bombing raids over Laos and darted 52 miles north of the DMZ to fire one missile at a radar site, the U.S. Command said. No results were available.

U.S. authorities announced that American troop strength in Vietnam had dropped to 206,000—the lowest since January 1966. This was a decrease of 4,000 from last week's announced total. The Dec. 1 target is 184,000 men—one-third the number in this country at the 1969 peak.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian high command announced that Viet Cong or North Vietnamese gunners sank a Cambodian landing craft which was part of a convoy of 15 vessels attempting to reach the besieged provincial capital of Kompong Thom, 80 miles northeast of Phnom Penh.

The spokesman said Highway 6 to Kompong Thom, which has been the object of a 20,000-man Khmer operation, still is not usable as a way to supply Kompong Thom.

In Vientiane, the U.S. Embassy announced that a U.S. Air Force observation plane was shot down over northern Laos Monday and the American pilot killed. He was identified as an Air Force officer from the air attaché's office in Vientiane, but his name was withheld until relatives can be notified.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss Universe has packed her finery and moved to Puerto Rico. Jackie Gleason's television show with its invading shots of this tropical playground is just a fabled memory.

But Miami Beach officials refuse to be disheartened by the defections.

Nor are they worried by the rival attractions of Walt Disney World, some 200 miles north in the center of the state, which sponsors say is expected to attract some 10 million visitors during its first year.

"We are very optimistic," said Edwin Dean, executive director of the South Florida Hotel and Motel Association. "Bookings for the Christmas period at virtually all Beach hotels and motels are superior to last year's."

Jerry Sussman, executive director of the 620-room Carillon Hotel, also says bookings for the coming season "look very good indeed."

Sussman's hotel plans to run free bus trips once a week for guests so they can visit Disney World for a day.

"Most people won't want to stay longer than a day at Disney World," said Sussman. "I think Disney World will benefit Miami Beach, because it will bring lots of people to Florida who have never visited the state before. Before they leave they will want to see our city."

Hotelmen reported that bookings for the season which starts Dec. 15 began picking up after President Nixon's wage-price freeze announcement in August.

"That seemed to restore confidence somehow," said Sussman. "After that, bookings began flooding in."

Allen Robinson, executive director of the city's Tourist Development Authority, says advertising for the coming season will concentrate on Canada and Europe.

"We are going into the international market in a big way," he said. "We already have an office in London and are making arrangements with German travel agencies to bring package tours here."

Robinson denied reports that Miami Beach has been losing its appeal to tourists and said collections from a 2 per cent resort tax proved more money was being spent by visitors than ever before.

The Miss Universe Pageant may be a thing of the past for Miami Beach because of the Democratic National Convention scheduled here next July.

"That really should keep things rolling," said one official. "People at conventions spend money and this is what the game is all about."

Scientists To Meet In Washington To Work On Plan Against Cancer

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — President Nixon announced today the conversion of the one-time biological warfare research center at Ft. Detrick into a centerpiece of the government's crusade against cancer and said it illustrates how wide defense plants can be used to "meet pressing domestic challenges."

In his statement at ceremonies outside the white frame headquarters building at Ft. Detrick, the President also announced 40 prominent scientists will meet in Washington Oct. 25-29 "to develop a national plan to guide the conquest of cancer effort."

The center facility will be operated by the National Cancer Institute under contract with the private sector.

Ft. Detrick, an Army installation, was one of the largest facilities for germ warfare research until November 1969, when Nixon renounced the production in stockpiling of offensive biological weapons. Since then about two-thirds of the 1,700 civilian employees have been laid off.

Nixon said Ft. Detrick's nine major laboratory complexes, valued at $70 million, "constitute a major portion of this station's containment facilities for high-hazard micro-biological research."

In addition, he said, the scientists who have worked here "represent a pool of talent and dedication which should also be regarded as an important national asset."

Congress earlier this year granted Nixon's request for an extra $100 million to search for cancer cures.

The Senate has passed legislation to establish a cancer cure program whose director would report directly to the President. The House, however, has balked over such an arrangement, and has not completed action on the legislation.

Maryland's two Republican Senators, Charles Mathias and J. Glenn Beall, for two years have pushed for conversion of the Army installation on the outskirts of Frederick, Md., about 45 miles from Washington, to such civilian uses.

As Nixon helicoptered here from the White House, aides said some of the facilities will immediately be used for cancer research with others to be placed in operation over the next eight months. When in full operation the facilities will accommodate 600 personnel, the White House said.

Things That Make Life Worth Living

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

The quiet courage and loyalty of ordinary men and women leading ordinary lives. Listening to an older person whose reminiscences thrill instead of bore you. Coming upon a love letter written by your father to your mother when they were sweethearts. Getting a two-bit cigar from your boss on your birthday.

The sight of two people, hand in hand, walking across the top of a faraway hill, outlined by a dying sun—human life against the landscape. Overhearing your small son brag to a playmate that he has a father who knows everything and can do anything. Tagging an opposing player out at home plate to prevent a run that would tie the game.

A second cup of hot bean soup for lunch on a winter day. Seeing how far you can swim underwater while holding your breath as your hammering heart makes echoes in your head. Picking up the sofa pillow after a nap and finding $1.37 in change that leaked from your pocket. Going to a cocktail party and having nine people ask you for one of those seven kittens your cat gave birth to in the kitchen the week before.

Being told by your doctor that a little jogging wouldn't hurt you—and being told by your wife that she wouldn't dream of letting you risk your life doing such a foolish thing at your age.

The sound of an old dog snoring in his throat as he fights again the forgotten battles of his puppyhood. Putting on the third sweater a maiden aunt has knitted for you and discovering this one fits. Buying a second car that goes three months without even needing its hood lifted.

The taste of cornbread and white gravy made from fried chicken. Winning $30 at poker on Saturday night, placating your wife with $25 of it, and tossing the remaining $5 bill in the church collection plate Sunday morning—so who needs money, anyway? Lending on the green of a 415-yard hole with your second stroke—only three feet from the flag.

A midnight raid on a well-stocked refrigerator. Awakening at dawn to find that most of the troubles that kept you twisting and turning during the night don't even seem worth bothering about now.

Coming upon an old income tax record which shows that you're making twice as much dough as you did 15 years ago—and so what if the government is enjoying it more than you are?

The grateful kiss of a small girl whose woes you have helped by making her silent doll say "Mama" again. Going Halloweening with a group of kids and collecting $3.13 cents for UNICEF.

Walking alone in the autumn woodlands and sensing the eternal thrill of a higher power, which, for every color leaf that falls now, will put a new one in its place come next spring.

Offshore Oil Fire Out Of Control

NEW ORLEANS, La. (A) — Efforts to control a fire on an offshore oil-production platform, which has been burning out of control since Saturday are expected to take at least a month and a half, officials said Monday.

Meanwhile, the Coast Guard reported a two-mile oil slick floating near the platform, surrounded by about 18 miles of lesser pollution. No oil had reached shore, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The burning platform is 100 miles south of here.

Richard Darling, a production Co., operator of the platform manager for Amoco Production, told newsmen that the company planned to use the slow "relief well" technique to stop the fire.

While tanning longer than snuffing out the well, the technique allows the company to plug off the burning wells from beneath the sea and possibly prevent massive pollution.

At the center of the "relief well" theory is the idea that as long as the well burns, most escaping oil will be consumed in the fire, rather than spilling on the water.

Officials said that 2,700 barrels of oil and 32 million cubic feet of natural gas normally pass through the platform daily, and, if all five wells located on the platform are burning, this company is losing as much as $17,000 a day in lost production.

Asked why the platform caught fire, Darling said, "I can't honestly say why."

"An alarm went off at the same time the first of three explosions occurred, and that tells us the wells were shut in (stopped). Something certainly failed. What is it, I don't know," he said.

He said the wells all were equipped with safety valves required by federal regulations.

Darling said the platform, wells and equipment were valued at $5 million and that the company expected to spend as much as $10 million to put out the fire.

Dallas-Fort Worth Airport Will Offer Full Medical Service

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — When accidents happen, the new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport will be prepared for them.

When the giant air hub opens in 1973, a medical facility with full-time staff and ambulance service will open at the same time.

Jack Downey, deputy executive director of the airport board said the clinic will be geared to handle injuries and illnesses in addition to pre-employment physical exams for employees of the airport and possibly some airlines.

"Job injuries do happen and the clinic will be open 24 hours a day and seven days a week to handle them," said Downey.

Dr. Charles E. Cook, who has received a contract from the board to operate the facility, has visited medical facilities at other major airports.

Downey pointed out that over 300 hospital beds are available within a 10-minute ride from the airport and therefore the facility at the airport would not be pressed in case of a major disaster.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, Oct. 19, the 292nd day of 1971. There are 73 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1781, the Revolutionary War neared its end as British troops surrendered at Yorktown, Va.
On this date—

In 1935, the Second U.S. president, John Adams, was born in Braintree, Mass.
In 1812, French forces which had invaded Russia began a retreat.
In 1912, the Bulgarians began a siege of the Turkish city of Adrianople in the Balkan Wars.

In 1942, during World War II, American planes bombed Japanese troop and supply concentrations on Guadalcanal.
In 1944, Marlon Brando made his New York stage debut in a new Broadway hit, "I Remember Mama."
In 1960, the U.S. government put an embargo on shipment of all goods to Cuba, with the exception of foodstuffs and medicines.

Ten years ago: The United States said it would resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere unless a treaty banning tests was signed promptly.
Five years ago: President Lyndon B. Johnson was visiting New Zealand.

LBJ: State Dept's Ultimatum To Diem Is 'A Serious Blunder'

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson says in his memoirs that the late President John F. Kennedy's Vietnam policy in 1963 suffered from "an excess of wishful thinking on the part of some official observers."
Johnson also says he believed there had been "too much uncritical reliance on Vietnamese statistics and information" in assessing the strength and intentions of the North Vietnamese.

Excerpts from the book, "The Vantage Point: Perspectives of the Presidency, 1963-1969," are appearing in the New York Times. In Monday's installment, the former president also says a State Department ultimatum to South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem shortly before Kennedy's assassination was "a serious blunder."
Johnson said the message sent to Diem through Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, threatening to withdraw American support of the Saigon government unless Diem took immediate steps to change policy toward the Buddhists, "stimulated" preparations for Diem's overthrow.

John Kennedy's unfulfilled term to achieving the goals he had set."
That meant, Johnson said, "seeing things through in Vietnam."
"As I dug deeper into the Vietnam situation over the following weeks," the former president continued, "I became convinced that the problem was considerably more serious than earlier reports had indicated. I think we all felt we had been misled into overoptimism."
Johnson wrote that less than 30 days after he became president, he and his advisers received an appraisal by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, after a visit to Saigon, that "was gloomy indeed." McNamara predicted "neutralization at best and more likely a Communist-controlled state" if the trend was not reversed.

Johnson writes that the Joint Chiefs of Staff "favored taking immediate measures against the North," but that then and "later in the year" he and his key advisers rejected the joint chiefs' proposals.
The Canadian government is treating Kosygin's week-long visit as a most important diplomatic event, but its stirring little interest among the public in this spacious capital.

Nixon Plans To Boost Farm Crop Subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans to boost farm crop subsidies next year by as much as $1 billion in a new drive to curb production of corn and other livestock feed grains.
Most of the increase will be used to pay farmers for taking more cropland from production. Direct subsidy payments based on grain raised on remaining acres also will be boosted.
A record 1971 corn crop of 5.4 billion bushels, nearly a third more than last year, is the main cause. The huge crop has led to depressed grain prices and has helped dim hopes for a general improvement in farm income.

Now, the administration says, if feed planting next spring is not reduced sharply, the nation could be headed for a new era of grain surpluses and price difficulties.
The Agriculture Department was to introduce the new plan today, here and at briefings at Des Moines, Iowa, and Dallas, Tex., in "an unusual effort to give as much public exposure as possible.

Basically, the administration is asking farmers to take perhaps 40 million acres or more from feed production next year, including corn, sorghums and barley.
That goal is more than double the land idled under the 1971 feed-grain program, estimated to cost around $1.1 billion in federal payments.
Under the 1972 plan total payments are expected to be at least $1.5 billion and perhaps more than $2 billion, according to government sources.

This year farmers were required to idle or "set aside" 20 per cent of their crop acreage to qualify for feed-grain price-support loans and payments. However, there was no direct payment for the idled land.
In 1972 the requirement will be boosted to approximately 25 per cent of a farmer's feed-grain base acreage. In addition, farmers will be given a voluntary option of taking additional land from production for which they would receive subsidy payments.

The goal is to take between 40 and 45 per cent of the nation's feed-grain acreage from the 1972 grain output, nearly half of it in return for government rental payments.
As an additional sweetener to get farmers to enroll in the program next year, a "preliminary payment based on half a farm's normal corn (and other feed grains) production will be increased to about 40 cents per bushel, compared with 32 cents this year.

Soviet Premier Visiting Canada

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
OTTAWA (AP) — The North American phase of the current global Soviet diplomatic offensive opened Monday as Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met with Canada's top leaders against a backdrop of souring U.S. Canadian relations.
The Canadian government is treating Kosygin's week-long visit as a most important diplomatic event, but its stirring little interest among the public in this spacious capital.

Only a few hundred persons were on hand at his hotel to witness the well-advertised arrival of the Russian visitor.
The 62-year-old Soviet leader looked weary after his long trip from the Soviet Union. He smiled tiredly as the little crowd applauded, waved at them and hurried into the hotel.
Some in the crowd broke into the Israeli national anthem as a signal of protest against alleged mistreatment of Soviet Jews.

Highlights And Sidelights From The State Capitol

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—Organized labor leaders of Texas have set as political priorities for 1972 the defeat of President Nixon and support of former U.S. Senator Ralph Yarborough for office he seeks.

AFL-CIO State President Roy R. Evans announced the goals were adopted by his organization's executive board and the COPE administrative committee in a recent meeting here.

It is "quite possible," Evans said, the AFL-CIO will make no endorsements in next year's governor's race unless Yarborough is a candidate. He noted a two-thirds majority of delegate strength is necessary for endorsement in a COPE convention.

Gov. Ben Barnes and Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde are announced gubernatorial candidates.

Evans listed the lieutenant governor's race as the No. 3 priority of labor; the House

Speaker's race No. 4 and congressional, state Senate and House contests No. 5.

He unveiled a voter registration goal of $10 million by the 1972 general election.

In a September poll of AFL-CIO convention delegates, Evans reported 201 felt Yarborough should run for the U.S. Senate, while 120 preferred that he run for governor and 26 for neither office.

He said 298 labor delegates would prefer Yarborough to 32 for Barnes in a governor's race between the two while 294 would pick Yarborough to 47 for Briscoe.

The labor delegates liked Sen. Hubert Humphrey for president, giving him 313 straw votes to two for Alabama Gov. George Wallace and none for President Richard Nixon. A random poll of rank and file union members showed 87 for Humphrey to 51 for Wallace and 38 for Nixon. AFL-CIO convention delegates gave Yarborough 350 votes for senator to three for Sen. John Tower, and the former senator 316 to 13 over Democratic senatorial hopeful Harold (Barefoot) Sanders of Sanders of Dallas in the poll.

NEWSPAPER BOY HONORED—State newspapers honored the 1971 "Carrier of the Year" at the state capital Friday. Joseph Gamble, 15, Bridge City, who delivers the Ornage Leader, was named the first annual "Carrier of the Year" by the Texas Circulation Managers Association.

Gamble was taken on an official tour of the state capital, visited Gov. Preston Smith, Secretary of State Bob Bullock and other state officials.

Friday noon he was guest at a picnic given at the LBJ Park by Lady Bird Johnson for the outstanding highway beautification winners of the year.

The young newspaper boy was given an autographed book, "A White House Diary" by Mrs. Johnson.

He was a guest of the Texas Press Association for the day.

AG OPINIONS—Texas nepotism laws are applicable to regional planning commissions and their employees, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions Martin concluded:—

Tax due on natural gas production is calculated on the basis of the total proceeds of the sale of all component parts, less allowable transportation and processing costs. Tax is then borne ratably by various interested parties. The formula is spelled out in the opinion.

Texas Real Estate Commission must transmit half real estate broker and salesman renewal licenses fees to Texas A&M University for a new FEED LOT SHUT DOWN—Texas Water Quality Board ordered a cattle feeding operation near San Marcos shut down when it found a "constant threat of pollution" to underground water in the Edwards Aquifer is a major source of water for a large area of South Central Texas.

Attorneys for the feedlot, Hill Country Feeders, said the decision will be appealed to state district court.

COURTS SPEAK—The widow and mother of a Mexico air crash victim are entitled to collect $36,579 on his life inurance policy though he had requested it be discontinued five days before his death, the State Supreme Court held.

Court of Criminal Appeals held a 1967 U.S. Supreme Court decision guaranteeing defendants the right to subpoena accomplice witnesses to testify for them can be applied retroactively. The finding may provide a new way to freedom for prisoners convicted before 1967 and denied testimony of accomplices to the offense for which they were charged.

Criminal Appeals Court upheld a 1,000-year prison sentence for a repeat-offender convicted in Dallas of robbery by assault, but the Court suggested such sentences are "impossible" and should not be assessed.

Same Court credited a prisoner with time he did not serve behind bars when he was earlier released by mistake.

OYSTERING REOPENED—A large part of Lavaca Bay which was closed last year to oyster harvesting due to mercury contamination has reopened.

However, the State Department of Health said blue crab should not be taken for human consumption until further notice.

Excessive mercury densities are still found in some blue crab collected from the bay, the Health Department reported.

There has been a steady reduction in mercury densities found in oysters (which can cleanse themselves as the quality of their environment improves), according to the Department. Maps showing approved oyster areas and those still closed are available from the Health Department division of marine resources 1100 W. 49th St., Austin.

SCHOOL FOOD PROGRAM

CURBED—A free breakfast program for school children is insufficient funding, a Texas Education Agency report says.

TEA has been unable to add schools to the breakfast program this year due to lack of money. About 115 schools have had to be turned down. Schools participating last year increased from 298 in September to 474 in May. Schools receive 15 cents per breakfast or the cost of each meal, whichever is less, through U.S. Department of Agriculture allocations.

APPOINTMENTS—Governor Smith appointed Charles R. Jaynes of Waco and E.W. Robinson of Amarillo to the Texas Air Control Board. He reappointed Dr. Willie Lee Ulrich of Lubbock.

Governor named these members of the new Commission on Physical Fitness:

Stanley Eurnham of Austin, Dr. Kenneth H. Cooper of Dallas, Delbert M. Cox of Refugio, Jay Texas of Dallas, Leon G. English of Pecos, view, Boyce Gatewood of Cleburne, Rollin A. Siniger of Denton, Mrs. Alan Beah of Houston, Irma J. Caton of Denton, Charles H. Moser of Abilene, Dr. Rhea H. Williams of Austin, John D. Hall of El Paso, Dr. Martin O. Juel of San Marcos and Alfred Eugene Coleman of Lubbock.

Smith reappointed Dr. William Thomas Arnold of Houston to the Gulf Coast Waste Disposal Authority.

DRAFT CALL SET—The Texas draft call for the rest of 1971 is 588 men, State Selective Service Director Col. Melvin N. Glantz announced.

None will be ordered for induction in October, 363 in November and 195 in December. All are from extended first priority groups.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Bill is the ideal type of editor, for he realizes you must please the customer if you wish to succeed. That was an axiom of journalism back in the days when most cities had 2 rival daily papers. But even now, in this age of single paper towns, the TV and Radio are active competitors for advertising.

CASE: R-500: Bill J., aged 23, is a Journalism Graduate.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "my dad has a small daily in the West. And he has invited me to become its Managing Editor. 'Naturally, I want to do a good job and zoom its circulation.' In your recent address to our Journalism Class, you said a newspaper should be compared to a department store.

"How would that apply to the small daily I shall be editing?"

Newspapers as well as stores thus have a number of popular departments.

Smart merchants give more space to those counters that ring up the most business at the cash registers.

And the owners of such stores don't stock just those items which they personally like.

Instead, they try to find out what the customer prefers and then sell it to him.

Even if the owner should dislike a certain brand of perfume, if it rings up the most sales at the cash register, he will stock it in large quantity.

For the store owner is trying to SELL, not BUY!

Applied to newspapers, the same basic rule holds, for the aim of smart editors is to help their Circulation Managers SELL more papers.

Yet unwittingly many editors tend to select features and even comics which they themselves enjoy but which may be less popular with readers than other features which they discard.

Last year a prominent newspaper in Illinois changed hands.

A young editor took charge and notified Frank Kromm, head of Hopkins Syndicate, that this "Worry Clinic" column was being dropped, though it had been an ace feature of that daily for many years.

"How come you wish to drop the Crane feature?" Mr. Kromm inquired by telephone.

"According to our tally, it pulls over 200 letters every month, and isn't that a record for your newspaper?"

"Oh, yes," replied the editor, "I'll admit it is the heaviest mail puller of anything in our paper."

"Then why drop your most popular column?" Mr. Kromm asked, in surprise.

"Well, I just don't like it," the young editor answered.

To which Mr. Kromm expressed double surprise.

"Do you realize," Mr. Kromm added, "that the Crane column sends 2,500 helpful booklets and Rating Scales into your circulation area each year to prevent divorce, delinquency, the parent child gap, etc.?"

"Since that is almost 7 per cent of your total circulation figure, what other column is doing as much to help promote Mental Health and thus aid your Circulation Manager in motivating subscribers to buy your paper?"

But the editor was personally hostile to this column, maybe because his wife was a Maggie in their home and ruled him as a Jiggs.

But regardless of an editor's personal likes or dislikes if a wholesome feature pleases the consumers, that's the acid test!

In teaching "Sales and Advertising Psychology" at the university, I always stressed the importance of the customer's viewpoint.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pampa Daily News, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Price Introduces Farm Legislation On Bracero Plan

Saying it is possible the only means to save the family farm and ranch in the southwest, Congressman Bob Price of Pampa has introduced legislation to reinstate the bracero program.

The House Agriculture Committee member said his bill will renew the law which was in effect from 1951 to 1963 to allow Mexican Nationals to work in the United States.

"Wages are typically low because farmers and ranchers do not make enough money themselves to pay industrial wages to laborers," Price noted. "However, the amount they can pay means a great deal, to the Mexicans who make much less for the same kind of work in their country."

The Congressman said the present welfare and unemployment compensation system also has contributed to the farm labor shortages. In some cases individuals receive more money from these two items than by working in agriculture.

"Looking back, the bracero program had substantial appeal for those involved. It provided U.S. farmers and ranchers with a steady, dependable supply of labor at costs they could afford. Mexicans who participated liked it because it enabled them to make more money than they could earn in Mexico," Price said.

Longhorns Ranked 'S'?

By Associated Press
Coll FB Poll

There was no change among the first five teams in this week's Associated Press college football poll, but the explosive Oklahoma Sooners made a huge run at Nebraska's defending national champions.

The Cornhuskers received 35 first-place votes and 1,046 points—down five votes and 10 points from last week—from a panel of 55 sports writers and broadcasters across the country following their sixth consecutive triumph, a 55-0 sandbagging of Kansas.

Oklahoma, which received eight top votes and 886 points a week ago, punted Colorado 45-17, dropped the Buffaloes from place ballots and 1,008 points, which beat North Carolina 16-0.

Michigan remained in third for its second consecutive shut-out with one No. 1 vote and out, climbed from seventh to 337 points by trouncing Illinois sixth. Penn State's impressive 35-6 but the Wolverines' point 31-0 jolting of Syracuse lifted total fell from 880. Fourth-rank the Nittany Lions from ninth to Alabama whipped Tennessee seventh while Georgia, a 24-0 32-15 and went from 668 points winner over Vanderbilt, stayed to 765. Auburn, rated fifth, in eighth place.

Turned back stubborn Georgia Texas, a 31-7 loser to A-Tech 31-14 but lost ground from Kansas, also dropped out of the 620 points to 585.

Top Ten, with the Razorbacks Colorado's loss to Oklahoma and Stanford, which beat South-

California 33-18, moving back in.

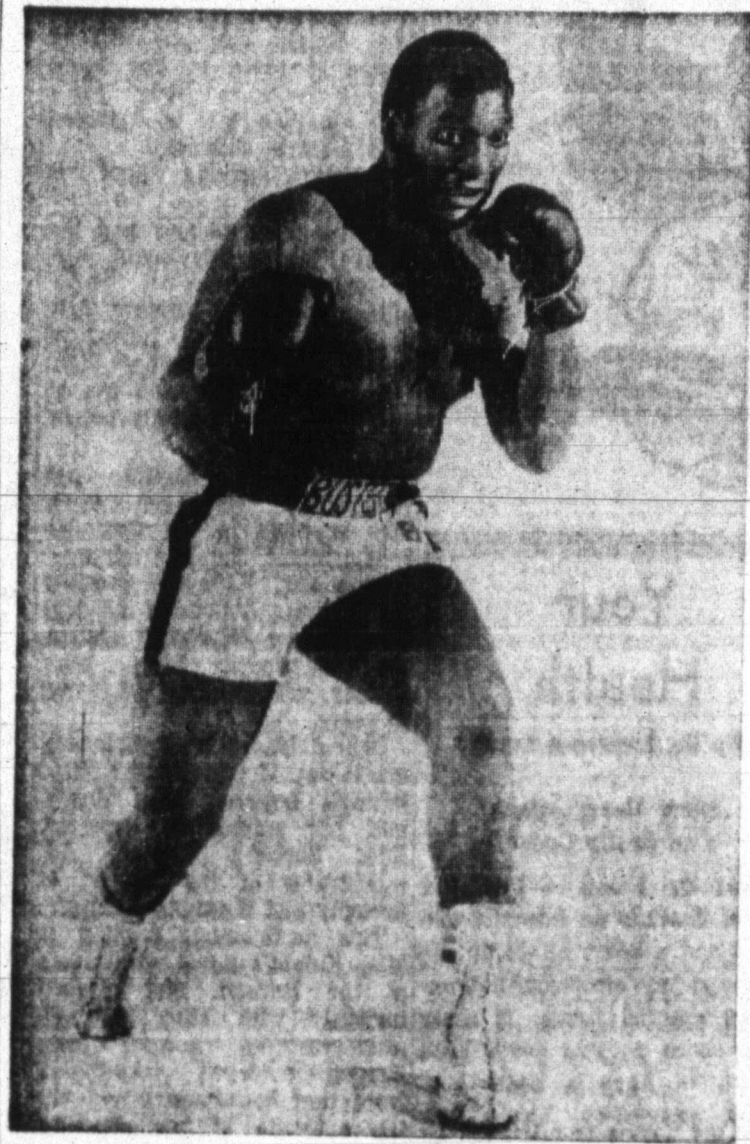

Behind No. 11 Colorado in the Second Ten came Ohio State; Louisiana State, a 14th-place tie between Arizona State and Toledo, Texas, Purdue, Tennessee, Duke and Air Force.

Last week's Second Ten consisted, in order of Arizona State, LSU, Ohio State, Tennessee, Stanford, Arkansas, Toledo, Washington, Florida State and Purdue.

Washington's 23-21 loss to Oregon and Florida State's 17-15 upset by Florida cost the losers their positions among the Top Twenty. Duke and Air Force took over.

CHALLENGER — Buster Mathis, a 250-pound block buster, will fight Muhammad Ali in a 12 round bout on Wednesday, Nov. 17 in the Astrodome. Mathis, who twice beat Joe Frasier as an amateur including the 1964 Olympic trials, has lost only two fights in his career. At 27, Mathis has won 29 fights, 20 by knockouts. The semi-final match will pit heavyweights George Chuvalo and Houston's Cleveland Williams.

Dave Bing's Eye Will Heal After Needed Surgery

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Dave Bing's afternoons are relaxed now as he heals from eye surgery performed to prevent him from going blind in his right eye.

There are numerous soap operas on the television in his room at the University of Michigan Hospital but that's not the kind of activity an All-Pro National Basketball Association guard is interested in.

The Detroit Pistons' star was in a light mood Monday considering that Friday an operation was needed to repair a detached retina, an injury suffered Oct. 5 in an exhibition game.

"It may be months before know what Mr. Bing's residual vision will be in the eye," said Dr. Morton S. Cox, University of Michigan eye surgeon. "Even though the reattachment was successful, some irreversible tissue damage occurs on injury."

But doctors said the reattached retina is "intact and stabilized."

His right eye was partially closed and very red.

Bing played in Detroit's opener Oct. 12, a victory against New York, and scored 24 points on seven field goals and 10 of 13 extra points.

"I couldn't see the rim from outside an 18-foot radius and that's why I tried to drive a lot," he said. "That's why I had trouble with my free throws, too."

When the eye continued to bother him he saw a specialist in Detroit, who advised him to have surgery.

"Physically, I feel fine," the 6-foot-3, 180-pounder said. "It is the psychological condition which is the biggest thing I have to overcome."

The 27-year-old former Syracuse University star said fellow guard Jimmy Walker will have to take up the scoring slack in his absence and center Bob Lanier should be fed the ball more.

"Personally, I'd say I'd like to get back in a month," Bing declared. "But doctors said it would be six to eight weeks before I could do anything strenuous again."

Murtaugh Has Big Decision About Health

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Danny Murtaugh, manager of the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates, says only the question of health will affect a decision as to whether or not he'll return as manager next year.

Murtaugh, looking pale and tired after Sunday's final game, said his decision will be made in the "next month or so," and that it will be made with his family's help.

The 54-year-old Murtaugh led the Bucs to the championship in 1960 and then resigned four years later because of a heart ailment. But he returned in 1967 for one year, left again because of a second heart attack, and then came back in 1970 to lead the Pirates to a division title.

"We'll have a family meeting and discuss it," he said. "My daughter and two sons and their spouses will sit down with my wife and me and vote on it. Of course my vote will be the deciding vote," he said.

"Even if I don't return," he said, "I won't say it will be permanent, like I did the last two times."

Jim Dooley Leaving Wife To Move In With Douglass

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Jim Dooley of the Chicago Bears hasn't told his wife yet, but he's moving in with quarterback Bobby Douglass.

"He's my last quarterback and he's going to do the job," said Dooley Monday night. "I guarantee it. In fact, I'm forsaking my family and I'm moving in with him Thursday night."

"We're going to eat, live and sleep football. We'll have films and meetings with Ken Nix and Coach Perry Moss," added Dooley. "I want him to think like I think."

Dooley must go with Douglass because Nix suffered a wrist injury in Sunday's game at Detroit. Jack Concanon, who started the season as the No. 1 quarterback, recently underwent knee surgery and is out for the season.

"My wife?" said Dooley. "I haven't told her about it yet, but she'll understand. The Bears come first with her, too."

"This is the first week we've been out of first place and we intend to make a race of it. Douglass is going to be ready."

It's Where You Have The Football, Not How Long

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: To paraphrase an old cliché, it's not how long you have the football, it's where you wind up with it.

William & Mary got off a whopping 100 plays Saturday against Virginia Tech—39 rushing for 234 yards, 28 of 41 passes for 309—but lost the game 41-30.

The Indians had run 52 plays by halftime, the same number Tech had for the entire game.

Tech gained 375 yards and used five fumble recoveries to win.

You probably know that President Nixon called Eddie Robinson on Saturday when the veteran Grambling coach became the seventh coach in college football history to notch 200 victories.

But what you probably don't know is that Eddie Robinson made a call, too. He phoned Joe Aillet, who compiled a 151-86-8 record at predominantly white Louisiana Tech—five miles from predominantly black Grambling—from 1940-66.

Aillet, that's pronounced I-A, is seriously ill and Robinson just wanted "to tell him I knew he's been up around 200 also if he hadn't retired when he did."

Oklahoma's supersonic Sooners aren't doing much for the school's alumni association, and climbed into a first-place with Oakland, 4-1, in the West Division. Pittsburgh, 2-3, fell two games behind Cleveland, 4-1, in the Central Division.

Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll said at first he had no comment on Smith's blunder, then reluctantly added:

"I've seen it happen to veterans. He threw the ball before he was across. The college goal posts are 10 yards back. Maybe he was thinking..." Noll's voice faded away.

Noll thought two plays proved the big difference. Both were passes from Dawson, who complained all week of having a sore arm, to Taylor and covered 82 and 51 yards.

Neither of the bombs scored touchdowns but both set the Chiefs in motion deep in Pittsburgh territory. Dawson flipped the 51-yarder to Taylor at the 27. On the next play, Dawson threw a strike to Taylor in the end zone, erasing the last of Pittsburgh's 9-0 lead rolled up on field goals of 32, 40 and 35 yards by Roy Gerela.

Funny Thing Happened To Dave Smith On Way To TD

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP) — A funny thing happened to young Dave Smith on his way into the end zone Monday night.

Smith, a sophomore receiver for the Pittsburgh Steelers, had taken a pass from Terry Bradshaw on a 50-yard play. He was all alone.

As he neared the goal, he suddenly exploded jubilantly and heaved the ball into the air like football players do in celebration of success.

The trouble was Smith hadn't reached the final stride. The ball squirted through the end zone.

It was only a touchback. The score at the time was 31-9 in favor of the Kansas City Chiefs, who had wiped out a 9-0 lead with Len Dawson's spectacular passing to Ods Taylor and a couple of assists from the defense during a four-touchdown avalanche in the second quarter.

The Chiefs went on to a 38-16 victory over the Steelers in their nationally televised game

Upsets Thin Out Contest Winners

Only eight contestants survived the upsets and unpredictable results of the games on last week's Football Contest sponsored by the News and fifteen local business firms.

Even the eight finalists missed two games each. The Cowboy disaster at New Orleans tripped almost every contestant.

The Harvester's 21-19 victory over Caprock decided the three winners again this week.

Joe Don Long, 2409 Rosewood, Pampa, was the best picker with a score of Pampa 24-Caprock 20. Long was declared first place winner.

Second place went to Randy Watson, 2320 Aspe. Watson saw Pampa winning by 21-13 over Caprock.

D.R. McMinn, 528 Hazel, won third place. McMinn picked Pampa to win 27-20.

Others who missed only two games were: Gary Newcomb; Don Knutson; Durant Brock; Lonnie Loter; and Roy Ray, all of Pampa.

Elsewhere in today's issue of the News is the contest page for this week's contest.

Circle the winners and get your entry into the News office before 5 p.m. Friday.

Williams Named Manager Of The Year By AP Poll

RIVIERA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dick Williams wasn't exactly the Boston Strangler, but he used everything short of the guillotine to goad the Red Sox into winning the 1967 pennant.

"I had to be tough," Williams said. "My job was to break up Boston's baseball country club. You don't do that by being nice."

Two years later, Williams himself died by the sword. The Red Sox fired him before the American League championship flag had time to fade atop the Fenway Park flagpole.

Boston finished fourth in 1968 and third in 1969.

"Montreal hired me as a coach," he said, "but I was waiting and hoping for another shot as a big league manager. When Oakland took me, I worried that my Boston reputation might proceed me to the A's training camp."

It didn't. Dick and the Oaklanders hit it off splendidly.

The A's hustled to a 101-61 record to run away with the AL's Western Division crown. For that performance, Williams was named Monday American League manager of the year in an Associated Press poll.

"I knew the voting went in before the playoffs," Williams said at his home here, "so I thought I had a chance. I won the honor at Boston in 1967. I'm quite pleased."

Oakland was routed by Baltimore in the playoffs, but Orioles skipper Earl Weaver ran a distant third in the balloting. Despite many successes, Weaver has never won the award.

Williams polled 107 votes. Kansas City's Bob Lemon was the runnerup with 66 and Weaver received only 59.

"I know Earl has to be up-

From The Fans View-Point

By STEVE BOHLANDER

Team of the week award goes to the Pampa Harvesters by the News' Sports Staff after they handed the Caprock Longhorns their first defeat of the season with a 21 to 19 edge.

It seems another of Pampa's sophomores has senior legs and running ability as "Swede" Lee keeps bringing in more and more as the season progresses.

First it was Jodie Johnson, then Steve Mathis and now Chuck Reeves is capturing the eyes of the fans.

This is good for the Harvesters record but what about the rest of the team that didn't make the actual scores.

Not putting down Reeves or Mathis' performance but shouldn't the fans be looking a little harder towards the team these super sophs are coming from.

Shock of a lifetime! Yes, a whole new phase of Harvester football is being played every Thursday by the Shockers. This junior varsity squad is the training ground for our high school gladiators.

Fan attendance thus far has left a lot to be desired.

Let's keep in mind that a winning team comes from just that—a winning TEAM. Let's support the whole program and back the fighting Harvesters.

The Suicide Problem

There is one suicide in America every 26 minutes, an average of between twenty-two and twenty-five thousand annually. Dr. E.S. Sheidman, an authority on suicide, believes these figures, if added to the unreported and misreported suicides, could be doubled or even tripled.

Suicide is among the ten leading causes of adult death in America. It is the third highest cause of death among college or university students.

Richard Gipe, writing on suicide for The Plain Truth August, 1971 presents a profile sketch of a suicide from characteristics which most often are prevalent in suicides. He affirms that such vices as alcoholism, sexual vices, drug abuse and gambling characterize suicides. Mental weakness, lack of emotional control, lack of self-discipline and of strong character make people more prone to commit suicide.

Dr. Michael Peck, staff member of the Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Center, states that the Center never has to deal with anyone who has a satisfying marital relationship.

Dr. Paul Popenoe, President of the American Institute of Family Relations, believes that many cannot come to grips with problems because they are kept in a state of over-dependence even into their college years. After leaving home and college, they discover that they do not know how to make crucial decisions.

People who have never learned to make decisions often become trapped in a helpless, hopeless mentality, apparently unable to change their course from failure to success, no matter what they do. A lifelong string of failures contributes to this tendency.

Richard Gipe states that people who are suffering neuroses and mental stress, and those who ultimately commit suicide, are too preoccupied with themselves. They are self-conscious, self-seeking, or fearful that the self will fail in some way. Moral health makes for mental health.

Marijuana Is Serious

How serious should parents be about their children's taking marijuana? Herman W. Land, writing in Today's Health (August) believes that parents should indeed be concerned. There are real dangers.

Marijuana smoking loosens inner restraints or inhibitions. The user is highly susceptible. Youngsters can be led to do things for a lark which are either dangerous or criminal.

It can bring emotional conflicts to the surface. A child with a tendency toward psychosis can be pushed over the edge. There are many cases on record where marijuana smoking has preceded attempts at suicide or has directly preceded the commission of murder.

It is often the first step to the use of harder drugs. The majority of heroin users started with marijuana.

It affects the ability to respond correctly to danger. It temporarily causes the mind to function poorly, depending on how much is smoked. Hands lose their steadiness; the sense of time is altered. Things seem to last longer.

It can lead to a withdrawal from the world. A child learns to "tune out" reality when things become uncomfortable. He treats to a more comfortable dream world to escape the demands of his real situation.

Continued use creates genuine psychological dependence. It becomes an emotional crutch.

Land believes that parents with the most success in curbing the use of marijuana among their children are those who have explained the dangers and laid down the law. Whether or not the youngster accepts what his parents have explained about it or not, he is forbidden to use it again. The threat of punishment is not so effective as the authoritative attitude of parents who put their foot down and are stern. This is what children expect, according to Land. It is also what a mature society expects of parents.

Now, Which Gasoline

Now that the government has backed out in the case of phosphate detergents, will it do the same with leaded gasoline?

Evidence is accumulating that had as lead may be (we really don't know), in some respects non-leaded or low-leaded gasolines may be worse, especially in their smog-producing capabilities.

Despite hustle and ballyhoo by both the petroleum and automotive industries and the blessings of environmentalists, motorists have not rushed out to buy the stuff, and not just because of the higher price. They are worried by claims that nonleaded fuels can cause damage to engines not specifically built to run on them.

But as one oil company executive, quoted in a recent issue of Business Week, said: "The rush to no-lead—low-lead gas has been a lesson in mass hysteria and panic marketing."

Just like no-phosphate—low-phosphate detergents?

Mao Defines His Aims In Nixon Visit

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — To answer the question as to what Peking wants out of President Nixon's forthcoming visit, we need only note what Mao Tse-tung's government is telling the Chinese people.

Briefly summarizing material from China received via sources in Hong Kong, it is:

Intelligent countries don't let themselves get surrounded by enemies. They pick the most dangerous opponent, then make alliances with the rest to defeat that one. After that danger is past, there is time to deal with others.

In 1940, Japan was the major danger. To defeat Japan, China's Communists worked with the United States and with other capitalist countries. Domestically, Mao worked even with the anti-Japanese big landlords and other "reactionary" groups.

Today, the situation is different. The Soviet Union is the principal enemy.

Wisdom, therefore, calls for temporary alliances with the United States, possibly Japan and other capitalist countries.

The idea is to exploit the differing interests of the various hostile forces to one's own advantage, to decide which enemy at any given moment is the major one and then to unite all possible forces to isolate and defeat it.

This information has appeared in the Red Flag and other official publications, the writers using the name of Mao liberally. Given the press control in mainland China, it would be impossible for such ideas to appear so openly if they did not have official approval.

It is not necessary to assume this is Peking's sole purpose in wanting closer relations with the United States and other Western countries, nor that it should be an argument against the Nixon visit.

One starts with the assumption Peking is looking out for its own interests, not ours, that these highly skilled negotiators will be extremely difficult to handle.

One assumes further that differences are so great that whittling away at them will take an inordinate amount of time, and we could fail in the attempt.

With all this, it is necessary to seize this opportunity, but with both eyes open.

If for no other reason, the Peking talks are essential as a channel of communication, bettering our day-to-day knowledge of what is happening in China.

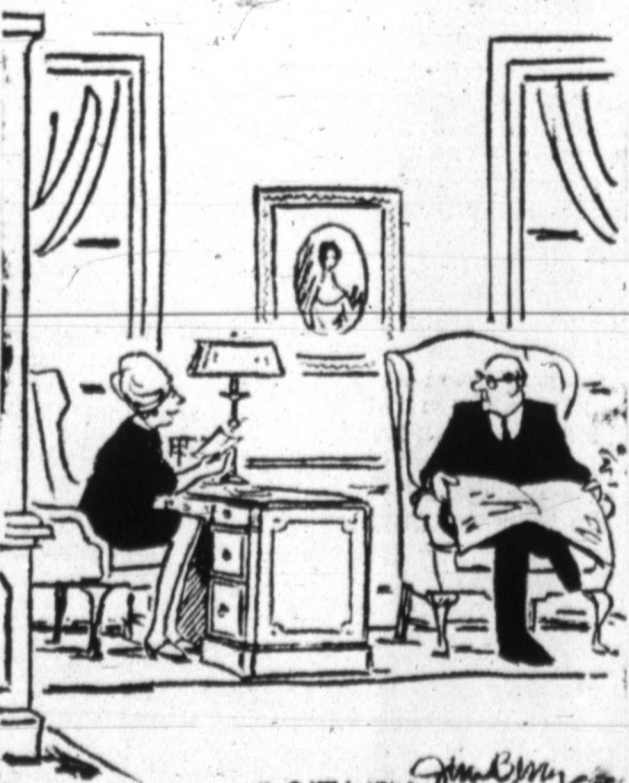

And there is certainly no reason for not exploring possible advantages for the United States and world peace—provided our negotiating is hardheaded and unemotionally logical.

Central Economic Truth Ignored Time And Again

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Politicians and professors can't create wealth. Only the businessman, the entrepreneur—the organizer of an economic venture, create new wealth. For some reason, this central economic truth has been ignored time and again in the Southern states during the last four decades. The pioneering role of investors and managers has been downgraded and the projects of the politicians and professors have received enormous favorable attention.

The notion that an alliance of officeholders and the academy can uplift the South is still with us. Early in October, some 70 politicians and professors from Southern states met at Durham, N.C., to form something called the Southern Growth Policies Board. Terry Sanford, a former New Frontier-style governor of North Carolina and now president of Duke University, was prime mover of the organizational meeting. "The New York Times" reports, however, that the idea of the board "really originated within the leadership of the L.Q.C. Lamar Society, an organization of about 700 liberals and progressives in the South." Five foundations reportedly will provide a grant of $400,000 for two years of operation.

According to its organizers, the board will deal with the problems of rapid change in a "post-racial" period of growth expansion. Mr. Sanford suggested that the board could provide the quality of guidance that would allow the South to construct an example of intelligent growth for the rest of the country. The organizers will try to sell the concept of the board to the legislators of the 17 states involved.

On the basis of past experience with groups of this sort, it is not unreasonable to take a dim view of the board's future. In the mid-1930's, Dr. Howard Odum and his associates at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill promoted a similar Southwide organization. The organization lost public confidence because it became more interested in transforming the values of Southerners than it was in advancing economic opportunities. Time and again, organizations of this sort, aiming at uplift of the region, have allied themselves with liberal elements of the national scene and adversely affected the economic development and social well-being of the Southern states.

Interstate compacts can be useful. The Southern states have utilized them effectively in several areas, including higher education. But the truly effective groups of this character have eschewed politics or opinion shaping. It is likely that the newly organized Southern Growth Policies Board would be deeply involved in attempting to influence public opinion.

Gov. Jimmy Carter, of Georgia, who attended the meeting in Durham, expressed doubts about the organization, saying: "What bothers me is this proliferation of regional and interstate groups and the possible reduction of their individual impacts."

Such skepticism is in order. It is hard to see how the board, the brainchild of the liberal L.Q.C. Lamar Society, can make a contribution to the well-being of the Southern States. These states, in order to enjoy continuing economic growth, need more fiscal conservatism, better supervision of their voter rolls to maintain and improve the quality of the electorate, stronger policies against monopoly unionism which retards economic growth, a firm commitment to the meeting of energy requirements, and a generally more favorable climate for investors who create jobs. Given the orientation of the L.Q.C. Lamar organization, it is unlikely that such policies would be favored by the Southern Growth Policies Board.

The organizers of the board say that they want the South to avoid the mistakes made in the Northern states. But the mistakes made in those states are in the area of excessive permissiveness on social issues, undue toleration of union power, a failure to act against lawless elements, and catering to welfare elements in the population. There's nothing in Mr. Sanford's background to suggest that he will recommend the hard-line policies that the South and every other region of the country need in order to achieve economic growth and a higher quality of life. Thus if the Southern Growth Policies Board wants to persuade the public that it intends to play a constructive role, it will have to spell off in detail its plans and policies. At the moment, the public isn't likely to give the board a vote of confidence.

Silent Heart Attack Can Really Occur

Dear Dr. Lamb — During a recent checkup an internist told me I had a heart attack in the past and my electrocardiogram shows scarred tissue. It came as a shock as I've never been known to have a heart condition previously. Could this possibly be brought on by being diagnosed as ASHD—old M.I. Could you please explain this in your column and is it very serious?

Dear Reader — Yes, you can have a heart attack and never know it. We call these "silent heart attacks" and they are usually found with an electrocardiogram during a routine examination, or are noted on a post-mortem examination.

Not all of these are truly without symptoms or silent, but because such mild symptoms that the condition is not suspected. I have seen several apparently healthy men who have had this occur and then they remembered an episode of mild indigestion they had ignored. We had problems of this sort with the Air Force flying population. Others had no story of any illness what-ever.

Some people normally have electrocardiograms that look like those caused by heart attacks. This is why I hate to diagnose a heart attack if the person has not had any trouble and other-wise appears normal. The best way to be sure a heart attack has occurred is to have an old record available for comparison. Since we had yearly records for the Air Force flying population we were able to spot changes and also knew what a man's record looked like normally. Sometimes we could spot heart trouble sooner because a change had occurred from the earlier record. This is one reason I recommend that every adult should have an electrocardiogram and it should be part of the permanent medical records for later study and comparison.

Silent heart attacks are caused by the same thing as those that cause symptoms. This includes smoking. A heavy smoker — man or woman — will increase his likelihood of having a heart attack as much as three times the risk he might have if he didn't smoke. Stopping smoking almost immediately removes the increased risk — so it is never too late to quit.

M.I. means old myocardial infarction, the medical term for damage (infarction) to the heart muscle (myocardium), and ASHD is an abbreviation for arteriosclerotic heart disease, the common type of heart disease caused by fatty deposits (atherosclerosis) in the arteries leading to the heart.

I am amazed that there are not more silent heart attacks since the heart itself is nearly devoid of nerves for pain. The pain from a heart attack is really referred pain to other areas of the body, like the arm, shoulder or chest.

The Wrangle at Passport Corral

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 — An budget a detailed account of Miss Frances Knight, her immediate superior, Miss Watson.

She is under stern warning to mind her behavior—or else! William Macomber, Deputy Undersecretary of State for Administration, has admonished Miss Knight that she will be ousted if there is any more trouble "with or from" her—presumably by forced retirement or dismissal.

What happens next is anyone's guess. Miss Knight, 66 and past the usual Federal retirement age, is suffering from a throat ailment requiring surgery. Also she has a lengthy record of heated rows with other State Department officials in the 15 years she has forcefully bossed the Passport Office.

But Miss Knight has tenaciously weathered other dire reproofs in the four Administrations she has served—Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon. Appointed in 1955 by the late Secretary Dulles, she succeeded Miss Ruth Shipley, who held the job some 30 years.

Behind Macomber's menacing crackdown is a protracted bitter wrangle between Miss Knight and her immediate superior, Miss Barbara Watson, Administrator of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs. This acrimonious feuding is Miss Knight's latest with chiefs of the Bureau. She clashed furiously with Miss Watson's predecessor—a man. Miss Knight emerged triumphant from that backstage brawl but the outcome of her vendetta with Miss Watson seems headed for a different ending—on the basis of Macomber's censorious warning.

Apparently, the powerful FSO (foreign service officer) establishment, which really rules the State Department, has become fed up with Miss Knight and is bent on replacing her.

Friends and Foes In the past, Miss Knight had some potent friends in Congress—foremost a young Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.), chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

But time has thinned those ranks, while her Congressional critics have increased. High among them is Rep. John Rooney (D-N.Y.), tough chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee with jurisdiction over the State Department budget.

The veteran legislator makes no bones of his disapproval. When he was unable to get a copy of the Passport Office's budget summary, he curtly sent word to Miss Knight, "If we don't get that information forthwith, she doesn't get any money. It's as plain and simple as that. She can rant and rave with others, but not with this committee."

The information was immediately forthcoming. Also to the discomfiture of State Department brass, Rooney put into the record of the Department's criminality in the streets.

It's understandable, therefore, why Mayor Lindsay has so little to say about New York City affairs—particularly the desperate and sinister problem of law and order.

In that regard, he is no different than the other ultra-liberal and dovish Democratic Presidential aspirants: "They spout interminably and impossibly about almost everything under the sun of a "cosmic" nature, but never about the increasingly deadly and somber national affliction of soaring violence and criminality in the streets.

Robberies and muggings totaled 7,219 in August, over 6,412 in August 1970. Burglaries and other thefts up to 25,311 from 24,385 last year. Rape slightly decreased from 208 to 186. But crimes against person and property soared to 47,638 as against 43,289 in August 1970.

It's understandable, therefore, why Mayor Lindsay has so little to say about New York City affairs—particularly the desperate and sinister problem of law and order.

In that regard, he is no different than the other ultra-liberal and dovish Democratic Presidential aspirants: "They spout interminably and impossibly about almost everything under the sun of a "cosmic" nature, but never about the increasingly deadly and somber national affliction of soaring violence and criminality in the streets.
