Storm Damages US Destroyer

RHODES, Greece (UPI)—A Mediterranean storm today hurled thundering breakers at the U.S. destroyer Bache on the rocks and reported by the Navy to be "breaking up" off the Rhodes Yacht Club.

The captain and part of the 233-man crew remained aboard the 2,000-ton warship pumping frantically to keep back water rushing through the ruptured hull into the engine room and a rear compartment, Navy spokesmen said.

There was no report of casualties. The U.S. 6th Fleet headquarters in Naples ordered the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt to Rhodes, an island near the Turkish coast. Tugs also were dispatched.

Greek maritime officials said the storm began to abate today and the ship's situation appeared "less serious." Earlier the Voice of America radio station on Rhodes reported the Bache had been ripped from its anchorage by 16 foot waves and winds of 54 miles an hour.

A spokesman at 6th Fleet headquarters called the situation "serious" and said that messages indicated the ship was "breaking up on the rocks."

"Her after compartment and engine room are flooded and her main mast is broken," he said.

Reports conflicted on the number of crewmen who remained on board the ship, one of the smallest armed ocean-going vessels in use by the U.S. Navy.

The crewmen who reached shore either rowed in rubber life rafts or waded through shallow water, according to the Voice of America.

US, North Korea Exchange Words; No News on Ship

Meeting Lasts Only Less Than Half Hour

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI)—The United States and North Korea met briefly today at this Korean armistice line village and exchanged bitter accusations but never mentioned the seized U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

Charges of Korean truce violations filled the angry meeting, which lasted less than 30 minutes.

In Washington, the Defense Department disclosed today that one crewman of the Pueblo was killed and three wounded, one seriously. The Pentagon said it now knows the names of the casualties but they are being withheld until next of kin are notified.

Previously, the Pentagon had not indicated whether the crewmen had been wounded in resisting the seizure or injured in some other way, such as while destroying secret electronic weapons into the Demilitarized Zone.

The nuclear powered aircraft carrier Enterprise pulled out of troubled Korean waters, Pentagon sources said. The move was seen as an attempt to ease tension in negotiations.

It was the first nonsecret meeting at the truce site of Panmunjom since the negotiations opened last Friday.

The Communists immediately accused the United Nations command of sending armed intruders into their territory, firing into Communist positions and illegally introducing rocketless guns, mortars and automatic weapons into the Demilitarized Zone.

Communist Tanks Attack American Forces in Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—The first Communist tank attack of the war today overran a U.S. Army Special Forces camp near the North Vietnam border but pilots said the Green Berets were fighting on for survival in underground bunkers.

U.S. spokesmen said at least nine Soviet-built T34 tanks rumbled in from nearby Laos under cover of darkness and crashed through the Lang Vei camp's barbed wire defenses, with 800 North Vietnamese running alongside shooting flamethrowers.

The handful of Berets, their 300 to 400 mountain tribesmen "strikers" and 2,700 Laotian refugees—including 2,100 women and children—were hit by mortar and artillery. U.S. spokesmen said the Berets knocked out at least five of the 30-ton T34s and one of the burned out vehicles came to rest atop the camp's underground command post.

Seventeen hours after the tank invasion, allied officials declared the camp overrun. But at Da Nang, UPI correspondent Robert Kaylor said U.S. aerial observers reported Americans still inside the flattened camp and still fighting.

Lang Vei is almost six miles southwest of Khe Sanh, the U.S. Marine border fortress surrounded by up to 20,000 North Vietnamese poised to launch what American intelligence predicts will be the largest Communist offensive of the war. Lang Vei got a taste of it today.

The camp formed the southern eyes for the Marine bastion. It lay in a shallow valley two miles east of the Laos border. Refugees had flooded into camp after North Vietnamese troops, maneuvering around Khe Sanh, spilled over into Laos.

Allied spokesmen said there was no word on casualties from Lang Vei.

U.S. planes and artillery tried to help the Berets. They dropped bombs and flaming napalm on the attackers and pounded them from artillery sites already busy holding back the Reds from the door of Khe Sanh. At the ringed Marine fort, commanders reported taking a heavy Communist bombardment during the day.

At Da Nang, a Special Forces sergeant read the battle reports from Lang Vei and told Kaylor, (See TANKS, Page 3)

School Board To Hold Open Meet Tomorrow

By WANDA MAE HUFF

The Pampa school board will hold its first open meeting tomorrow since the Jan. 16 closed session when Dr. John Dameron was summarily dismissed as school superintendent on two-hour notice.

Details of that meeting have been kept secret since then, pending outcome of the superintendent's plea for a hearing before the state commissioner of education, or a settlement of differences.

The question most asked on the eve of tomorrow's meeting at 9:30 a.m. in Pampa Junior High School — will the minutes be made available? Speculation today was that they will not.

The second item on the agenda for Thursday's meeting is "approval of minutes of previous meetings."

The question of whether the board will approve minutes of the Jan. 16 session remained uncertain today.

Minutes of previous meetings are usually included in advance copies of the agenda, but minutes of the Jan. 16 session, when Dr. Dameron's job and salary were terminated, were not.

Minutes of the Jan. 11 open meeting of the board were included in the Thursday agenda released today. These are minutes of a meeting attended by news reporters.

Minutes of the trustees' Jan. 11 executive session, which was held after the Jan. 11 open meeting, were also included.

In that meeting, which was closed to the public, the board voted that "the discussion of the superintendent's contract be postponed until July, 1968, the anniversary date of the superintendent's contract."

In the Jan. 11 executive session, the board also accepted the resignation of C. E. Steel and appointed Jimmy Thompson to the vacancy.

Minutes of two or three closed door sessions held since then, at which reporters were not allowed to be present, were not included in the advance agenda.

Speculation today was that minutes of the Jan. 16 meeting will not be made public tomorrow, with the reason given that they are being withheld until the Dameron-School Board case is finally resolved.

Another question asked during the past week was whether a settlement was imminent between Dr. Dameron and the school board. School officials, board members and attorneys (See BOARD, Page 3)

Liquor Board Probe Called 'Smokescreen'

By United Press International

State Rep. Billy Williamson said Tuesday in Tyler the Texas Liquor Control Board's "crackdown" on private clubs was "an obvious attempt by Coke Stevenson Jr. to lay a smokescreen over the investigation of the LCB."

"Why else would Stevenson choose this time to start enforcing the law?" Williamson asked.

In Houston, LCB district supervisor Woody Mints said undercover agents were being used to find out whether private clubs were obeying the new guest card regulations of the LCB.

The LCB ruled Monday it was illegal for club employees to hand out the cards making visitors guests of the manager or employees.

Houston clubs which previously interpreted the guest card rule liberally said they felt business would be hurt by the order.

Williamson said Stevenson's actions were, in essence, saying to members of private clubs, "I don't really want to do this but this investigation thing is getting close, so you get out there, team, and get the pressure off."

"At the same time, proponents of liquor-by-the-drink could not be happier. The investigation and the recent decision to enforce the law are playing right into their hands," Williamson said in a prepared statement.

Ken Lewis, owner of the Top-of-the-Mark Club in Houston said, "I hope this change makes people mad enough to vote out the liquor laws in favor of local option elections."

Williamson said, "I do not agree with the contention that the solution is liquor by the drink, anymore than I would agree that we need a local option narcotics bill to solve narcotics enforcement, although I am sure those would produce needed revenue."

Legislators at Work On Johnson Proposals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress is already at work on a major portion of President Johnson's legislative proposals to "assure every American consumer a fair and honest exchange" for his money.

Of the six fields Johnson said needed legislative attention to safeguard consumer interests, four are already under scrutiny by congressional committees.

Chief among these is the auto insurance industry, which affects 100 million American motorists.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Commerce Committee, is opening hearings March 11 on his bill to authorize a department of transportation study of the industry.

The study would focus on the amount of protection insured motorists get for their money, the adequacy of accident compensation, arbitrary policy cancellations and discrimination against certain categories of drivers.

Johnson, in his consumer message to Congress Tuesday, asked for a similar study to point out ways to make the industry "fair, to make it simple and to make it efficient."

Kangaroo Court Executes Official In South Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI)—A Viet Cong kangaroo court set up in a Chinatown street today tried, convicted, and executed by gunshot a neighborhood official, residents said.

His crime: "Being a traitor to the people." The condemned man was a Phuung Truong, a sort of mayor of the block.

The Viet Cong "peoples court" had been set up near the Vien Hoa Dao pagoda in an alley just three blocks from the headquarters of the allies.

Police confirmed that several civilians had been killed in the area and one of them was a Phuung Truong.

The judge, jury and executioner then faded away in the flaming streets of Cholon—Saigon's Chinatown—where U.S. officials said the last intact Viet Cong battalion in the capital was pursued by Vietnamese rangers.

The rangers caught up with the guerrillas twice today. Two Viet Cong died in a hail of bullets west of the race track in Cholon. Later, south of the track, more guerrillas engaged the Vietnamese rangers and that battle was still raging.

A squad of Viet Cong, 12 to 15 men, slipped into a Cholon neighborhood and set an entire block on fire. In another section of Cholon a rice warehouse was set afire.

Viet Cong reportedly surrounded a power station in the suburbs west of Cholon. Reports said the station was holding out but food and fuel were running low.

Northeast of Saigon Vietnamese paratroopers fought a reinforced Viet Cong battalion that tried to outflank them night before last and slip into the city.

Wilson To Tell LBJ Kremlin Won't Help

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson will tell President Johnson that the Kremlin will not help bring Hanoi to the peace table, authoritative sources said today.

Wilson and his wife, Mary, were leaving today for Washington. The prime minister will visit Johnson at the White House Thursday for far-ranging policy talks.

Topmost in the discussions will be Wilson's detailed report to the President on his recent talks in Moscow with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

Wilson and the Kremlin's big three discussed the Vietnam conflict and the future of east-west relations.

The sources said the Soviets want Johnson to know that Moscow will not lift a finger to bring North Vietnam to a peace table. They said Moscow believes Washington and Hanoi are the chief parties in the war should take the first steps.

The sources said that once Washington and Hanoi have agreed to talks, Moscow is willing to "assist" in a settlement. The Soviet Union and Britain are cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference that ended the Indochina war and split Vietnam into North and South.

The sources said the Kremlin made it clear it backs Hanoi's peace terms, including the demand for America to withdraw its forces from Vietnam.

Wilson has a problem of his own concerning Vietnam. More than 90 members of Parliament who belong to his Labor party reminded him Tuesday that not the government's—is for Britain to disassociate itself from the United States on Vietnam.

Search for Radioactive Material Spreads East From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The search for a missing shipment of radioactive material stretched from California to Wisconsin today and physicians were told to be on the alert for patients with unusual skin burns.

The material, presumed stolen from a lead-lined cardboard container while being shipped by air from San Ramon, Calif., to Milwaukee, is potent enough to inflict unprotected persons with radium contamination.

Weighing only 36 milligrams and valued at $1,300, the radium-beryllium is used in research. It was shipped Monday via the Railway Express agency from the Radio Isotope Processing Co. at San Ramon to the Seaman's Nuclear Corp. at Milwaukee.

The Public Health Service in Washington said the material was contained in eight stainless steel cylinders about one half inch in diameter and three-eighths of an inch high, flat at each end.

It was found missing when the cardboard container was discovered open on arrival in Milwaukee. Neither the cylinders nor the lead "pigs" in which they were encased was found in the plans.

The radioactive material's absence brought the FBI into an eight-state search, resulted in warnings to the general public and placed physicians in San Francisco on alert.

Dr. Clifford Nelson of the National Center for Radiological Health for the Public Health Service in San Francisco, called the radium source "highly dangerous."

He said persons without proper shields endanger themselves by standing within 30 feet of the material. He said any persons coming in contact with the source would suffer radium contamination.

The Public Health Service said the shipment was transported on a truck and helicopter from San Ramon to San Francisco International Airport, then was flown to Milwaukee via Chicago on a United Airlines flight.

An FBI spokesman said he believed the material may have been removed from its padded package before leaving San Francisco.

Anyone having knowledge of the radioactive material's location was requested to contact the California Health Department at Berkeley.

CARR, SMITH SPEAK OUT

Law, Order Apparently Keynotes Of Texas Gubernatorial Race

By United Press International

Law and order appeared today to be the keynote of the 1968 Texas gubernatorial campaign with two Democratic candidates speaking on the subject soon after the door closed on further entries.

Wagoner Carr opened his campaign for the state's top post Tuesday night with a speech televised in Dallas, San Antonio, and Houston. Carr said "a return to law and order" was the "first and foremost" need of the state.

And Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said in Houston Tuesday the state had an effective plan for putting down riots in its cities. He said some of the other candidates had implied the state was without such a plan.

The primary election is May 4.

Other Democratic candidates include Don Yarborough of Houston, Secretary of State John Hill, Edward L. Whittenburg of Houston, Pat O'Daniel of Dallas, Dolph Briscoe Jr. of Uvalde, Eugene Locke of Dallas and Gordon McLendon of Dallas.

Two other Democratic hopefuls, Johnnie Mae Hackworth of Brenham and Alfonso (Al) Veloz of Houston have not paid the filing fee. The deadline for this is midnight Thursday.

Martin A. Wington of Austin, a leader of the "new left" movement, said he would try to get on the ballot as an independent candidate.

In his televised speech, Carr said, "If I am governor of this state and the likes of Stokely Carmichael, Rap Brown, or the Grand Cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan comes to Texas to preach sedition, murder, violence and to violate our laws, we are going to move swiftly against them."

Carr proposed better training and better wages for law enforcement personnel. He said he would work to update the criminal laws and to establish a state-operated police academy.

Smith said the Department of Public Safety and the Texas National Guard could move trained men into a community if the mayor asked for help in quelling a riot.

He said the DPS had worked out a riot control plan by observing the experiences of other states.

Smith said he would favor a study to determine whether the state had adequate riot control laws.

for both sides have declined to answer either question, on the minutes or a possible settlement. During the Jan. 16 meeting, Dr. Damron asked for a hearing before the board on reasons for terminating his job, but the hearing was not granted.

According to a portion of Dr. Damron's contract, published in the Jan. 11 agenda, throughout the term of this contract the superintendent shall be subject to discharge for good and just cause, provided, however, that the board does not arbitrarily or capriciously call for his dismissal and that the superintendent shall have the right to service of written charges, notice of hearing, and a fair hearing before the board.

Dr. Damron has asked for reinstatement, appealed to the state commissioner of education for a hearing and to the National Education Association for aid in his case. No date has been set for a hearing before the commission. Reports have circulated the past week that a settlement of the case was being worked out by attorneys for both sides.

Water Importation Plan Explained at White Deer

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Daily News Staff Writer
A reconnaissance plan for the importation of water to West Texas and eastern New Mexico should be completed by 1972, Leon Hill, regional director of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation told a farmer-rancher meeting.

It would be the first concrete step toward realization of a multi-million dollar dream conceived by WATER (Water Association to Enrich Resources) Inc. only last year.

The reconnaissance study is being carried out by the Bureau of Reclamation under a $200,000 appropriation made by Congress. President Johnson has asked for $467,000 for further studies in his 1969 budget.

"The reconnaissance study will be to determine the feasibility of different routes for the water importation," Hill said.

Hill credited Rep. George Mahan, head of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives and a long-time advocate of water importation, for much of the success of the venture so far.

But he added that one of the biggest problems facing the vast water project is a "people problem."

"Just like the old days in the West, every time you look at another man's waterhole he begins to get a little worried."

Several sources have been considered, Hill said. They include the northwest part of the North American continent, the Columbia River Basin, the East Texas Basin, and the Mississippi River Basin. The Bureau now considers the Mississippi as the most logical source of supplemental water for importation to West Texas and New Mexico.

"It is the closest, has the most volume and there is less competition for it," Hill said. He added, however, that he was optimistic that "we can take water out of any one of these areas if we can convince the other fellow that we're not going to do any harm to his waterhole."

Hill emphasized that a joint report by the Bureau and the U.S. Corps of Engineers — "if we can join hands" — would yield considerable influence. Indications are now that the Corps of Engineers favor the Mississippi plan.

"I think we stand a good chance of getting water from the lower Mississippi if our reports dovetail," Hill said.

Railroad Strike In Second Day

By United Press International
A trainmen's strike which has hurt the movement of war supplies to Vietnam entered its second day today, silencing the Missouri Pacific and the Seaboard Coast Line railroads and gaining steam.

The strike by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen stilled the 12,000-MOPAC and left only a few freight trains of the SCL running. The SCL operates passenger trains in six southeastern states.

Florida's congressional delegation met to seek presidential action to end the strike, which threatened the shipment of citrus fruits and vegetables to the North.

A Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association spokesman said the strike could prove "disastrous."

BRT employees walked out first at MOPAC Tuesday in a dispute over the number of crewmen needed to man each train. MOPAC, which employs 23,500, said the strike, which crippled that line's movement of supplies to Vietnam, was over "the old featherbedding issue."

Water Importation Plan Explained at White Deer

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Daily News Staff Writer
A reconnaissance plan for the importation of water to West Texas and eastern New Mexico should be completed by 1972, Leon Hill, regional director of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation told a farmer-rancher meeting.

It would be the first concrete step toward realization of a multi-million dollar dream conceived by WATER (Water Association to Enrich Resources) Inc. only last year.

The reconnaissance study is being carried out by the Bureau of Reclamation under a $200,000 appropriation made by Congress. President Johnson has asked for $467,000 for further studies in his 1969 budget.

LBJ Expects Action Today On Tax Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has assured today from a key congressional tax-writer that he will get House action on two of his tax bills, but probably not on the one he wants most, the 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., scheduled a meeting of his House Ways & Means Committee to approve the President's proposal to continue the present 10 per cent telephone and 7 per cent auto excise taxes. Without action by April 1, these two levies would drop to 1 per cent and 2 per cent, respectively, under prior laws.

During hearings Tuesday on the administration's proposed travel tax, Mills promised House passage by Easter of some form of levy in this area. "I don't know just how we'll work it out, but we've got to do something," he said.

But at the same time he all but ruled out the 10 per cent income tax surcharge for the fourth time. In words as strong as he's ever used in discussing it, Mills told Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler:

"Any time you spend more than you ought to spend, you've got trouble. Balance of payments trouble and fiscal troubles—I don't see the answer to it in the tax bill."

The Arkansas Democrat, who yields near-absolute power over tax legislation, which must originate in the House, appealed once again for reduced government spending instead of higher income taxes.

Fowler argued that the "keystone" to the plan to fight the U.S. dollar drain was the surcharge, which he said was aimed at curbing inflation at home thus keeping the price of exported goods down.

rized zone. A U.S. spokesman said the Communist charges would be investigated but that similar charges in the past were false.

U.S. Army Col. John P. Lucas, U.N. command secretary, charged that before accepting a Communist proposal to recess the session, the meeting should have discussed the Communist raid on Seoul.

Lucas and his Communist counterpart, North Korean Army Col. Han Yu-Kyong, attended the meeting. South Korean sources said a South Korean representative was present at the meeting, called by the Communists.

Routine Accusation
The charges of illegally introducing prohibited weapons into South Korea is a routine Communist charge, the U.N. command said.

North Korea, still holding the 83-man crew of the Pueblo, broadcast more of what it said were confessions by crewmen, including a Marine sergeant from Claremont, Calif.

Obscene Phone Calls Reported

Mrs. A. L. Burkett of 1112 S. Dwight St. complained to Pampa police yesterday that she had received seven obscene telephone calls between 11 p. m. Sunday night and 1 a. m. Monday morning.

She also reported she received three more obscene calls yesterday afternoon.

The woman allegedly said that the caller's voice sounded like a Negro or Mexican-American woman.

troops battled another Viet Cong unit. The Screaming Eagles overran a Communist headquarters. The guerrillas attacked the rice warehouse with antitank rockets that plunged the building into flames. A government spokesman said about half the rice was destroyed before the fire was extinguished.

Most of the fighting was in Cholon. But Communist snipers with "very sophisticated equipment" scattered throughout Saigon kept civil government and commerce paralyzed, officials said.

Saigon's markets remained closed today. Even outside the downtown area few shops were open. Although the government insists it has enough rice to feed the people, the people are worried and prices soared.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROL R. LIGHTER

For Thursday, Feb. 8
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until mid-afternoon poor judgment is apt to be expressed by most everyone and is wise to doublecheck whatever you plan to do before putting in motion. However, the later afternoon and evening find you inventive and able to make some real progress toward your cherished and long-time ambitions.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You may find it difficult to do your work well during the day, but a.m. is fine for such. Then tell co-workers of your production profits. Be explicit.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Better be economical where pleasure is concerned and concentrate upon how to increase your present income. Make right arrangements for such. Be practical and sure to protect present holdings.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Keep yourself busy at home and avoid nagging on either side, and then you find that evening can be very enjoyable at home. Plan how to have more pleasure in the future with less to-do-about it. Be clever.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Show partners that you will carry through with some plan they have in mind which is of a practical nature, but which you have not appreciated before. Avoid bringing up mood points. Keep the harmony.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) Stop waiting the day and then your social life will be fine in p.m. Be certain you know what your aims really are. Then go after them in a most positive fashion.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Don't risk losing civic or big-wig support or reputation by doing something foolish today. Make sure that you improve credit. Get your bills paid as fast as you can and in full where possible.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Take more time to look into the worth of that new outlet and then act in a positive fashion in p.m. Handle that personal and challenging matter very wisely. Study it well first, then proceed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) This is a good day to get your bills paid and stop procrastinating about them. Then a partner will be better impressed. That misunderstanding you have with mate can be adjusted properly in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) During the day an associate can be somewhat forceful with you, but this is because more profits are necessary. Tonight you appreciate methods used. Don't argue and tonight you can have dinner together, happily.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although you aren't much in the mood to work, be patient and you find you might also do your best work in some time. Avoid arguing with a co-worker. Keep busy occupied and all is cinnamon and cream.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18) You are highly inspired about what to do to get ahead faster, but avoid the late afternoon before putting ideas to work. Avoid arguing with anyone during the day. Side-step sidly those accusations.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) Kin cannot cooperate with you very much during the day, but will gladly do so during the p.m. Rely on your own capabilities more. Evening can be very heartening and delightful as well. Be diplomatic.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
 ...she will be one of those very high-strung youngsters, so that it behooves you to give attention early to the right diet and have a harmonious atmosphere at home. The selling field is best in this chart, especially where New Era products ideas are concerned. There is the ability to think logically here.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am dating a gentleman who is quite well-to-do, but he has a thing about money. He's not really cheap or anything like that, but he always makes sure I know how much he spends on me.

For instance, he gave me a nice Christmas present, but afterwards he said, "You know, your gift cost me $75?" And if he takes me to dinner and a movie, he later says, "Would you believe that evening set me back $30?"

I enjoy this man's company, Abby, but his always bringing up money makes me feel uncomfortable. My father says he will make a good husband. My mother says he won't. What do you say?

DIANE
DEAR DIANE: I say that a man who makes you feel "uncomfortable" about money when he's courting you will make you feel miserable about money if you marry him. He may be long on dollars, but he sounds short on sense.

DEAR ABBY: I used to think that only unhappily married women became attracted to other men.

I love my husband very much and have a near-perfect marriage, but for a year now I have been fighting a terrible attraction for another man.

When I first realized how I felt about this man I was so upset with myself I could not sleep. I became extremely irritable and disgusted with myself. Then I told myself that it was only natural to find this man attractive, that he was just a friend and that is all I'd ever want him to be. So I avoided him as much as possible, but still tried to be friendly so no one would notice.

Just about the time I thought I had my thinking straightened out, my emotions flared up again, and I was back where I started from. I don't understand myself. I have no desire to ruin my marriage, but this is driving me crazy and I don't know what to do.

I need some suggestions as this battle with myself has been going on too long.

BEWILDERED
DEAR BEWILDERED: Keep talking to yourself, Sister. And tell yourself that this is the stuff of which broken marriages (and broken hearts) are made. Believe me, it is.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in business in another town, which is about a two-hour drive from here, so he comes home only on week-ends.

Everything was working out fine until about six months ago when he started bringing me "presents." You see, during the week my husband stays at a trailer court, which is located near the city dump, so every time he comes home he has the trunk of his car filled with junk he's picked up from the dump.

Last week he brought home some moldy shower curtains, hard paint brushes, some rusty nails, and old rags. And Abby, he puts all this stuff in our basement!

If I try to throw anything out there's a big fight. We live in a new home, and I want it to look nice. I never had a moth before, but now I am seeing spiders in my basement and even

Baylor Maintains Lead Over Texas

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—The Baylor Bears took command of the game Tuesday night in the second half and kept their Southwest Conference lead with a 74-58 victory over Texas.

The first half was a seesaw battle and Texas led 35-32 at the half.

The lead changed hands several times at the beginning of the second half until Tommy Bowman hit a jumper from 20 feet out and put the Bears into the lead for the rest of the game at 40-38.

Russell Kibbe led Baylor with 24 points and David Sibley added 17. Gary Overbeck was high man for Texas with 14, Larry Smith added 13 and Kurt Papp dropped in 12.

The win left the Bears 6-1 in the SWC and in first place. After Tuesday night's shuffle, Arkansas moved into the second place slot and Texas and TCU were tied for third.

Gonzales Wins

HOUSTON (UPI)—Welterweight Manny Gonzales jabbed and danced his way to a unanimous home town decision over Charles Shipes in a 10-round fight Tuesday night.

Gonzales, 149 1-4, stayed out of range of Shipes' powerful right hand and countered with stinging left jabs to upset the ninth-ranked welterweight from Oakland. Shipes weighed 147 1-2.

Referee Jimmy Webb scored it 96-93. Judge Ernie Taylor had it 96-95 and judge Earl Keel scored it 97-93. UPI scored it 99-94 for Shipes.

Shipes scored the fight's only knockdown, flooring Gonzales with a right to the chin early in the third round. Gonzales was up at the count of three but took the mandatory eight count.

The Houston welterweight finished the round with a flurry of left jabs which caused Shipes to show him respect for the first time in the fight.

Shipes banged away at Gonzales' body in the first two rounds as Gonzales ran and missed with his own lefts.

After the third round, Gonzales was sharper with his combinations and jabs and caused the tiring Shipes to miss more as the fight progressed.

Shipes drew the only blood of the fight in the ninth round when he cut Gonzales under the right eye.

Shockers Win Over Lubbock

Pampa's "B" team, the Shockers played one of the best games of the year for coaches Bill Brown and Terry Culley crushing Lubbock by 70-42.

The "C" team played across town against an older "B" team of Estacado and lost by 50-41.

Cliff Gage scored 11 to be high for Pampa.

In the Shockers game in Chapman Field House the Pampa boys took a 12-0 lead before Lubbock could get a bucket. In fact, they had trouble getting across mid-court.

The Junior Harvesters hustled like they never have and took a 39-10 lead at one time in the first half. Pampa stretched it to 30 at 54-24 in the second.

Jim Gallman had 24, Billy Thomas had 21 and Dan Carlton added 13 for Pampa.

The Shockers play again before the varsity game Friday night.

US Hockey Team Beaten by 4
GRENOBLE, France (UPI)—The United States' hockey team, beaten Tuesday by the powerful Czechs 5-1, faced strong Sweden today in the Winter Olympic Games and Coach Murray Williamson predicted victory.

"We were too high, too tight, against the Czechs," said Williamson, of Minneapolis. "They're not that good. I think we can beat them the next time we play."

"We're a fighting mad team and we're going to beat Sweden."

Sweden was the silver medalist in 1964 and runnerup to the Soviet Union in the world championships last year.

Five other hockey games were scheduled today. Favored Russia met East Germany, Norway faced France, Romania played Austria and Poland went against Japan.

In Tuesday's other action, the Soviet Union trounced Finland 8-0 and Canada topped West Germany 6-1.

Doug Volmar, a 22-year-old engineer from Minneapolis, spotted Czech goalie Vladimir Dzurila's shutout with a first period goal, tying the score at 1-1.

Jan Havel broke the deadlock at 2:01 of the second period, then the Czechs added another goal in the second period and two in the third against goalie Pat Rupp, of Minneapolis.

Hill Paces WT to Win
ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—West Texas State's Simmie Hill carried his team to a 93-78 non-conference victory over Abilene Christian Tuesday, pouring in 36 points.

Hill got West Texas going early in the second period after Abilene Christian returned from a 42-39 halftime lead.

John Ray Godfrey was high man for ACC with 19 points.

Abilene Christian is now 8-10 for the season and West Texas State is 5-8.

Harvesters Take Lubbock; Come Step Closer to Title

By CURTIS MONTGOMERY Sports Editor

Pampa again endured a stalling offense and won by 44-35, over Lubbock last night in Chapman Field House in Lubbock to take one more step in the direction of the championship.

Beau Bond surged into the spotlight as the high point man for Pampa for a change. The senior usually dominates the rebounding stats but he was high in slow-down—we don't want with 12 points.

With four minutes to go and the Harvesters still on top with an eight-point advantage by 39-31, the Westerners were still slowing it down with 15-20 passes before taking a shot. It looked like they didn't care if they got beat but that they didn't want to get beat badly.

George Bailey had 11 points and Jimmy Cornutt had nine for the Harvesters.

The big news of the evening, however, was the Caprock Longhorns victory over Monterey, 47-39. When that came over the radio last night on the Pampa team's bus, everyone went wild in celebration.

It was the Plainsmen's fifth loss of the season and put them in second place with Caprock at 4-2. Pampa has a 5-1 record.

Tascosa beat Plainview, 65-64, in Amarillo last night.

The Pampa cagers were tied twice in the early minutes of play but that didn't last long. Lang's layup with 3:45 to go in the first quarter put the Harvesters out in front for good at 6-4. Pampa carried a 23-14 edge into the second half and led 35-28 going into the last eight-minute period.

It evidently was difficult for Pampa coach Terry Culley to get his boys up for the game against a team which had not won a district game all season and only three all year. They didn't sparkle but showed championship spurs throughout the game.

Friday night is the final home game in Pampa in regular season play against Coronado.

Escalator Mishap Keeps UTEP Cager at Disadvantage

DALLAS (UPI)—An escalator mishap many years ago is keeping Phil Harris from being as good a basketball player as he has a burning desire to be.

But, the 6 foot, 10-inch center for the University of Texas at El Paso team has never quit trying. And, for that reason Coach Don Haskins' Miners are still in the running for another post-season tournament berth despite a lack of height and experience.

Haskins' team, which has an 11-4 record, boasts two sophomores and two seniors—and Harris, a junior.

The sophomores are good, but erratic. And, the seniors are excellent, but one of them is as short as Harris is tall. That would be 5-7 Willie Worsley.

The other senior is 6-5 Willie Cager, and the sophomores are 6-5 Mike Switzer and 6-foot Nat Archibald—all, like Harris and Worsley, recruited out of the New York City area.

The makeup of the team has brought on a substitute nickname of the "New York Texans."

But, back to Harris, himself. He has long arms to go with his long legs and he has huge feet and large hands. He happens to be saddled with the task of filling the inside strength of two departed big men from last season's 22-6 outfit.

And, the big problem brought on by that escalator mishap lies in the hands. Harris lost two fingers—one on each hand—when he got them caught in some moving stairs back home in New York as a child. A ring finger and a little finger are missing.

Harris is not self-conscious about the loss. In fact, he frequently jokes about it.

Italian Earns First Gold Medal; US' Fleming Takes Skating Lead

GRENOBLE, France (UPI)—Franco Nones of Italy won the first gold medal of the 10th Winter Olympic Games with a stunning upset in the 30-kilometer cross country ski race today and pretty Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo., gained a huge lead in women's figure skating.

United States' hopes of winning its first men's Alpine ski medal in Olympic history received a severe setback when Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., crashed during downhill practice and sprained his ankle. It was not known if he would be able to take part in Thursday's downhill.

The 24-year-old University of Colorado student had made a stirring comeback after breaking his leg in 1966 and was the leader of the U.S. team. He won the silver medal in the slalom in the 1964 Olympics at Innsbruck.

Italian First Medalist Nones, a 27-year-old border guard, said "I still didn't believe it myself when I was told that I had won." He registered the second fastest time in Olympic history for the 18.6 mile event with one hour, 35 minutes, 38.2 seconds.

It marked Italy's first medal ever in an Olympic Nordic event and was the first time that a gold medal in this sport went to a country outside Scandinavia or Russia.

Odd Martinsen of Norway was second in 1:36:38.9 and the bronze medal went to Finland's Eero Maentyranta, a double gold-medal winner in 1964, with a time of 1:36:55.3.

The U.S., as was expected, came nowhere close to winning and in fact did better than was anticipated as Mike Gallagher of Killington, Vt., placed 27th in 1:41:58.2 and Mike Elliott of Durango, Colo., was 29th in 1:42:22.6.

Americans Race Charles Kellogg of Cambridge, Mass., was 51st (1:50:03.7) and Jon Lufkin of Rumford, Maine, 55th (1:51:21.2).

Miss Fleming, graceful even in the dull school figures, left no doubt of her superiority as she soared to a 30.4 point lead over her nearest rival, Gabriele Seyfert of East Germany, at the completion of two figures.

The American girl, a 19-year-old sophomore at the University of Colorado, totaled 373.4 points to 343.0 for Miss Seyfert, a former European champion.

Beatrix Schuba of Austria, bronze medalist in the recent European championships, was third with 340.7 points, followed by 19-year-old Tina Noyes of Arlington, Mass. (332.5).

The compulsory figures, which count toward 60 per cent of the final score, will be completed Thursday and the free skating program will be staged Saturday.

Falls During Practice Kidd, the best skier on the U.S. team, fell during today's required non-stop downhill practice on the 2,890 meter run. He was evacuated from the slope by a toboggan and taken by ambulance to the Olympic village infirmary, two miles from Chamrousse.

Before Kidd was taken away, U.S. team coach Bob Beattie, a worried frown on his face, said "Bill has twisted his ankle, but we don't know how serious it is yet. It seems doubtful he will be able to race tomorrow."

Bears Snub Prophecy, Keep SWC Lead

By United Press International The Baylor Bears, despite dire predictions early in the basketball season, held firmly onto the lead in the Southwest Conference Tuesday night, while the other teams reshuffled their position.

Baylor increased its loop record to 6-1 behind the 24-point shooting of Russell Kibbe with a 74-58 defeat of the University of Texas Longhorns.

Arkansas moved into second place all by itself with a 61-56 victory over Texas Tech, and ran its conference record to 5-2.

And Texas Christian relied on Mickey McCarty's 23 points and took a 91-64 win from Southern Methodist to wind up tied for third in the conference with Texas.

Texas A&M fought to a tie for fifth place with Rice by visiting the Owls in Houston and beating them 75-65, much of the final margin coming on free throws by Elly Bob Barnett.

The SWC action Tuesday left Texas Tech, now 2-5, and SMU, now 1-6, at the bottom of the heap.

The Baylor-Texas game was close into the second half until Tommy Bowman hit a 20-foot jumper that put the Bears in front to stay at 40-38.

Gary Overbeck was high point man for the Longhorns with 14 points, Larry Smith added 13 and Kurt Papp dropped in 12.

Arkansas' victory over the Red Raiders was mainly one of standoff ball. The Hogs led as much as 10 points late in the game but Tech kept battling back. The Raiders closed the gap to 55-51 late in the game but were unable to manage the gap-closing points.

Jim Nelson of Tech led all scorers with 23 points but the Hogs held Vernon Paul to just four points during the night.

Barnett made eight free throws in the closing minutes in the Aggies' game with Rice to put it out of reach of the Owls.

Larry Miller paced the Owls with 28 points and Ronnie Peret hit 19 for A&M.

TCU jumped into an early lead during its meeting with SMU and never lost it during the evening, although the Ponies knotted the game four times.

McCarty led the Frogs and Lynn Phillips hit 20 points for SMU.

In other action, Trinity, ranked No. 5 in the latest UPI small college poll, drubbed Arkansas State 94-63 in a Southland Conference game in San Antonio.

The game strengthened the Tigers' hold on second place in the league behind Abilene Christian. Trinity is 3-1 in loop play and ACC is 3-0.

Larry Jeffries was the big gun for Trinity with 31 points and Mike Burk was high point man for Arkansas State with 18.

The Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI)—Somewhere or other along the line you must have seen the Olympic symbol.

You know, those five interlocking rings.

Linked together, those rings make a mighty smart looking emblem. They symbolize the five continents of the world bound in peace and friendship.

Pardon me while I fall over laughing.

The 10th winter Olympic Games opened in Grenoble, France yesterday and if this is their idea of peace and friendship then I'll take a small order of the kind of brotherhood the North and South Vietnamese dish out to each other every time they meet on a street corner.

The Olympic creed is another laugh provoker.

Baron Pierre de Coubertin, father of the modern Olympics, started out the creed this way: "The most important thing in the Olympic Games is not to win but to take part..."

Who Cares

It's a fine creed but who pays attention to it anymore? Hardly anybody. The idea isn't so much to take part in the Olympics nowadays as to cause such a political furor that everyone forgets what he came for in the first place.

The Soviet delegation took care of that little detail beautifully in Grenoble.

Yuri Machin, head of the Soviet's 92-man group, called a news conference there and the natural assumption was that the subject he would talk about would be sports.

Forget it.

Machin hardly mentioned the Olympics. Instead he went into a harangue in which he expressed "profound disgust" at American policy in Vietnam.

What this has to do with the price of beans in Boston or the outcome of the Giant slalom in Grenoble isn't immediately clear, but Machin indicates it'll come to you as you go along.

"War and peace are not just political questions," said the Soviets' man at Grenoble. "They are more important, especially in the world of sports, and continued discussion of war and peace will result in a real Olympic atmosphere."

You didn't know that, did you?

Neither did I.

To my knowledge, Comrade Machin did not accompany the Soviet Olympic delegation to Tokyo in 1964.

It may interest him to know, however, that U.S. and Soviet athletes were quartered side by side there and got along perfectly. They discussed athletic techniques together and swapped souvenir pins. Nobody discussed war and peace and it was "a real Olympic atmosphere."

How does Yuri Machin square that?

No matter. His diatribe wasn't the only discordant note in the Olympic overture at Grenoble.

Another Squabble

There was another squabble between the International Olympic Committee and the International Ski Federation over whether skiers could display the brand name of their ski manufacturer on their equipment.

All these auto racers who work the circuit from Monte Carlo to Indianapolis are staying up to see how that one comes out.

As if that isn't enough of a problem, the International Olympic Committee also is conducting a vote to determine whether South Africa will be permitted to participate in the Olympics at Mexico City in October.

"I haven't the faintest idea what the result will be," says Avery Brundage, President of the International Olympic Committee, "but either way, I am sure we will be crucified."

Oh yes, one more thing.

An international policing committee has been proposed to protect one of the Olympic Games' most cherished possessions from misuse through commercialism.

Wanna guess what that possession is?

You're right. It's the Olympic symbol. Those five interlocking rings.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The 'Vulture' Press

Detroit, as this is being written, is in the throes of its fourth newspaper strike since 1955. Repeated strikes in that city, according to an article in the Jan. 11 issue of the magazine, The Reporter, had "spawned a new industry — professional strike papers making handsome profits and locally called the Vulture Press."

The "handsome profits" apparently have not materialized, however. A recent issue of Editor & Publisher disclosed that the strike papers now have folded. It is justice of a sort, it seems to us, that the publishers of the newspapers said they found the contract requirements of the Teamsters Union to be "uneconomic."

The "Vulture" press establishment reminded us of tactics employed in Colorado Springs, Colo., 21 years ago by the International Typographical Union (ITU) when it instigated a strike against The Pampa News & its sister newspaper and started its own "vulture" press in competition with the established Gazette Telegraph.

The Reporter article, "Detroit's Press Profiteers" by William Serrin and Gene Golts, went on to explain that, "Among those cashing in are a few influential members of Teamsters Local 372 which shut down the afternoon Detroit News on Nov. 15 (1967) and caused the city's only other daily, the morning Free Press to... close too."

"Nearly three months before the strike was called," the article continued, "These Teamsters had been planning with a suburban publisher to bring out a strike daily, the Express."

After the union-called strike had shutdown the two established papers, the afternoon Detroit News and the morning Free Press, the Express, along with two other wildcat strike dailies, went into publication and, combined, achieved a daily circulation of about 455,000 whereas the two struck papers formerly had been selling 1,300,000 copies daily.

We cite this latest instance of union activity merely to point up how government-backed labor unions, headed up by unscrupulous labor bosses, can disrupt a community, wreck long established taxpaying businesses, and contribute to unemployment. In Detroit at the moment, some 4,000 newspaper employees are idled as a result of the union-instigated walkout and lockout.

Whereas the avowed primary purpose of the ITU, when it called the strike against the Colorado Springs Gazette Telegraph 21 years ago, was to destroy this newspaper if it could, the intent of the current strike in Detroit was apparently, not only to cripple the established papers but, in the process, to reap some lucrative dollar profits, too.

The pattern of interference, intimidation and threatened violence, however, is almost identical in both instances: First use the union itself and its misguided members to impede and disrupt; and, then, when "proper" conditions have been created, enter the buzzards and jackals to pick over the bones of what may be left.

While it appeared for awhile that there would be some lucrative pickings for the union people who sought to take advantage of the unions' strike, that bubble now has burst. It is to be hoped that they may have learned a couple of lessons from their experience:

1. That it takes more than just getting into business to make a profit, and 2. that union people will force uneconomic terms on even their friends.

Thieves Raise Prices

Anyone who reads a recent picture story in Life magazine about shoplifting must come to the inevitable conclusion that this is one of the most brazen varieties of petty criminality in which a person can indulge. Moreover, shoplifting has become big business. Some of the facts about shoplifting, the people who do it and techniques used, which Life explores by word and picture, are startling.

It is estimated that 1 out of 60 persons enter the average store for the purpose of stealing not purchasing goods. Shoplifters are usually housewives and teen-agers. In 1966, they walked off with over $2 billion worth of merchandise — double the amount of 7 years ago, and during the 1967 Christmas season, it was estimated that thefts would amount to some $600 million. In a distribution system that operates on the high volume, low profit margin principle, the loss from shoplifting is serious and can be disastrous.

ous. A retailer often must ring up $30 in sales to break even after a $1 theft. One chain store concern was forced to file for bankruptcy a short time ago when pilferage reached a reported 10 per cent of sales.

Equally as reprehensible as shoplifting is pilferage by store employees. The intricate and devious processes by which employees of stores must their employers are masterpieces of dishonest avarice. Retailers are fighting back against shoplifting and pilferage in the only ways they can. Beyond resorting to every known protective measure, their only recourse is to increase prices.

Thus, consumers must pay for the pranks of thieves who, in the vast majority of instances get off scott free even when they are caught red-handed. Yes, shoplifting has become big business in our "permissive" society, and every honest consumer helps to bear the costs.

Industry Accepts Challenge

Training and employment programs enabling individuals to prepare themselves for jobs and a productive life are being carried on by many companies throughout the nation.

There are many examples of this trend. An investor-owned electric company is providing a program of training to help high school and college students find employment and complete their education. One of the world's greatest retail chain stores is operating an "involvement" program to help prepare those who attend its classes for jobs in operating enterprise. The chairman of a major oil company has said the important question today is not can we eliminate poverty, but rather how should the task be carried out. Just giving a fixed number of dollars to the unemployed does not develop minds and abilities, and self-respect. He believes that it is the obligation of business and industry to be involved in training programs designed to give individuals meaningful jobs.

These are merely examples of what business and industry are doing throughout the nation to improve the ability of thousands of persons through practical training to qualify themselves for work in productive enterprise. Thus is industry trying to lift people out of the rut of poverty and charity, and off the backs of the taxpayers, and make them self-respecting members of society instead of recipients of government doles.

Question Box

We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not insure anyone.

QUESTION: Dr. Rothbard, in Pine Tree Features, pointed out that dollar devaluation is inevitable.

My wife and I have planned for our future retirement so that we won't be forced into the usual but humiliating (to us) practice of accepting other people's (tax) money for survival. What hedge do you suggest to protect our purchasing power when the devaluation comes? Please discuss mutual funds, insurance, saving accounts, buying more property now, hoarding silver coins, moving to some other state, possession or country, and especially any means you feel can be implemented before election day.

Is it possible that the only answer is to continue at one's occupation so as to avoid the fixed income status? — L.S.

ANSWER: In times like these, it is difficult to determine what is the best course of action for an individual to protect himself. We are not qualified to advise others on investments.

Highly qualified persons can be found who will recommend nearly all of the types of investment or courses of action mentioned by Mr. Shuck. Some will contend that real estate and precious metals will hold their value better than other properties. Others say investment in mining stocks are the best hedge. Some will advise diversification.

Dollar devaluation has been going on for a long time in the process of inflation, and formal action to devalue by increasing the price of gold will not necessarily result in immediate increase in the inflationary trends. Inflation by expansion of money and credit at a faster pace than increases in production is the danger to be truly feared. Whether the politicians will take action to check that trend is questionable.

It is possible that the only answer is to attempt to continue at ones occupation in order to avoid being on a fixed income and have the joy of accomplishment.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Vaccine Booster Shots
Valuable Flu Control

Q—Why do some doctors insist on a second shot of flu vaccine two to eight weeks after the first one and others say one is enough?

A—All persons receiving influenza vaccine for the first time or several years after the last vaccination should get a second injection. Those who have been vaccinated every year since 1963 need only a single booster injection, preferably in the late fall. The vaccine should not be given to anyone who is allergic to eggs.

Q—Is there any way to get rid of the scars caused by acne?

A—Some skin specialists use a wire brush that rotates at high speed to remove these scars. This process is called dermabrasion or surgical planing.

Q—I have heard that eating yeast can clear up acne. How does this work? How much yeast should I take?

A—Although yeast and various other vitamin-rich preparations have been used in the treatment of acne, there is no evidence that they do any good.

Q—I am 45 and have acne on my face. Vitamin A helps a little but doesn't cure it. What do you advise?

A—Although in most persons adolescent acne clears up before the 20th birthday, in some it persists in adult life. There is no simple cure for this. Skin specialists report good results in some victims with a combination of antibiotics and female hormones.

Q—I never use bleaches or dyes on my hair but my scalp breaks out with painful pimples. How can I get rid of them?

A—This is acne necrotica which is not related to teenage acne vulgaris. Some victims are helped by rubbing white ammoniated mercury ointment (10 per cent) into the scalp three or four times a week before retiring and washing it out thoroughly in the morning.

Q—My doctor says I have acne rosacea. What is the best treatment for it?

A—The cause of this disease is not known but it is aggravated by emotional upsets and exposure to heat, cold and wind. If local applications and avoidance of aggravating factors do not help you, electrolysis of the involved area by a skin specialist may be beneficial.

President Plans Strategy to Concentrate on Emergencies And Skip Most Conventional Campaigning

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's strategy from now until the November election—both for the war in Vietnam and politics at home—will be to emphasize his role as commander-in-chief.

In private talks with Democratic congressional leaders, the President has revealed that he will seek a number of new emergency "war powers" to cope with present and expected foreign and domestic crises. Also, he will spend most of his time—including the coming presidential campaign—in Washington.

His campaigning for reelection, the President is saying, will be conducted by nationwide TV and radio from the White House and through his many messages to Congress.

Electioneering outside of the nation's capital will be limited to a series of whirlwind, two-day jet campaign excursions, each covering several states, and under tight security arrangements.

According to the President's own assessment to the legislators, events are leading toward a period of national emergency, in fact, if not in law, with respect to what he terms "the war against Communist expansion in Asia," and "the battle to control unrest and keep the economy stable at home."

White House aides say the President will move toward the political center and thus seem to stand forth as a President of all the people in coping with these emergencies.

Principal reason for this right turn is so the President can win strong support for his new war emergency and inflation control measures from a substantial number of Republicans in Congress and around the country.

THE COMING NEWS — In addition to asking for billions in extra funds to meet the Vietnam and Korean crises, the President's most significant emergency request to Congress will be for authority to involuntarily extend military enlistments.

Under present law, the President can take the action only if Congress is not in session or a war has been declared by both houses. The request will be designed to meet the growing needs of the three military services.

Since Congress readily provided such authority in the Berlin and Cuban crises, the President believes his request will be approved, although it is expected to spark a big congressional debate on the unresolved Pueblo seizure.

Significantly, the administration members on the commission who approved the report included Attorney General Ramsey Clark, Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler, and Director Price Daniel, Office of Emergency Planning—all of whom have in the past yielded down the seriousness of last summer's riots.

Other war emergency measures under consideration for submission to Congress at this session are even more controversial.

Most important of these will deal with "credit controls," and significant changes in the draft.

The question on "credit controls" is not whether, but when. Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler wants the President to delay this request until Congress acts on the administration's long stalled 10 per cent surtax.

The President's Council of Economic Advisors has recommended immediate action on legislation patterned after the Korean emergency of 1950. Under the council's prodding the President set up his cabinet committee to fight inflation, which is expected to recommend swift action.

The White House—along with some notable educators is working on changes in the draft so a percentage of college students, now deferred until graduation, can be called each month while still in school.

The controversial proposal, which is expected to touch off a lively debate on and off campus, will be submitted to Congress in the spring by the President.

Other emergency legislation, now being drafted in the White House, includes a proposal for special presidential powers to handle rioters in Washington, D.C., and in other areas if local officials are unable to cope with the situation.

POWER AND POLITICS — A number of events are presently pushing—and encouraging—the President in the development of this strategy and his request for more emergency powers.

By paradox these include the President's lower than normal ratings in the opinion polls, which argued for dramatic action on his part, and the gloomy reports coming to him both from his foreign policy and his domestic advisors.

For instance, the seriousness of the present internal domestic crisis as viewed inside the administration is highlighted by the report the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations recently sent to the White House.

The explosive document warned that the failure of government to prevent rioting, despair, and threatened anarchy in the nation's large cities has brought the federal system to the brink of its greatest crisis since the Civil War.

Already, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., has relayed the President's request—including the suggestion that Congress return between the conventions—to members of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee.

With Some Reservation By Linus Woody

CMC RECD HO FROM RSM ON F-111-E. That there is Pentagon talk for "Clark M. Clifford is getting a hangover from Robt. S. McNamara on them F-111-B Airplanes."

Them F-B's are no good. They cost 10 million dollars a plane to build — three times what they was supposed to. So far they have dribbled 700 million down the taxpayer sink.

Now the Navy wants to scuttle the whole shebang. The Navy had a chance to scuttle another ship two weeks ago but they flubbed it.

When old Robt. S. started this project he said it would save the taxpayers a billion dollars. You know whenever the gov't starts off like that there has to be a bug in it. But the F-B's has got more bugs than a flop-house blanket.

The F-B's weighs 23,000 more pounds than it should, can't make tight turns at high speeds, is subject to stalls, falls short by 36 minutes on loiter time in combat zones, and has a ceiling 11,000 ft. lower than specified.

year-headed—the Office of Emergency Planning, is chairman of the commission. He is a close friend of President Johnson as is Senator Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, another member. Others on the commission include governors, congressmen, mayors, and elected state and county officials.

The commission's grim warning to the President is summed up in these words:

"The manners of meeting these challenges will largely determine the fate of the American political system. It will determine if we can maintain a form of government marked by partnership and wholesome competition among national, state and local levels, or if, instead—in the face of the threatened anarchy—we must sacrifice political diversity as the price of the authoritative action required for the nation's survival."

LONG HOT YEARS — To accommodate the new Johnson strategy the Democratic congressional leaders are being asked to plan their legislative programs to keep Congress in session until the November election—except for recesses for the Republican and Democratic nominating conventions in August.

Already, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., has relayed the President's request—including the suggestion that Congress return between the conventions—to members of the Senate Democratic Policy Committee.

While not overjoyed with the prospects of a protracted session, most of the Democratic senators on the committee agreed that the President's strategy was the only way he could effectively meet the growing number of crises and still campaign.

As one Democratic senator put it, "We all just as well stay in the nation's capital until the election, for that's where the action is going to be."

GLOBAL VIEW

Pueblo: Soviet Twists U.S. Tail to Embarrass Mao

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.

(NEA)—When the 18 Communist parties meet next month in Hungary to launch an ideological campaign against Red China, the Soviet leaders will be able to point to the Pueblo incident as a major victory for their revolutionary strategy.

This is also how Mao Tse-tung sees the seizure of the American vessel and its crew. It explains why Peking's press and radio have been so lukewarm in their reaction to North Korea's action.

The Chinese waited six days before they issued an official statement condemning United States "intrusion into territorial waters for espionage activities." But even then they pointedly refrained from offering or promising any military aid to North Korea.

This was emphasized by Communist Czechoslovakia which backs the Russians in their conflict with China. When the Chinese finally mentioned the Pueblo "their reaction was interesting because it was extremely reserved," said Radio Prague. The Russians, it is clear, stand most to gain from the Pueblo incident. They have met with considerable opposition from Yugoslavia, Romania and western Communist parties in their efforts to convoke a conference to excommunicate Red China and reassert their supremacy in the world Communist movement.

But in the view of some diplomats, North Korea's action tipped the scales in Moscow's favor "It was a serious blow to American prestige," one East European diplomat said.

The Kremlin leaders have shown that under their nuclear protection even a little Communist nation can twist America's tail with impunity.

President Johnson, in his efforts to liberate the Pueblo and its crew, had to employ all diplomatic channels. He also appealed to Russia, but there be no illusions about Moscow's role in the tragic episode.

To have asked Russia to act as a mediator in the dispute between the United States and North Korea was like asking the Mafia to serve as a friend of the court.

There is no doubt that North Korea is one Asian Communist country that is completely subservient to Russia. Premier Kim Il-Sung was trained in Moscow and was an officer in the Red Army. He is, in fact, a Soviet citizen.

Not only that, the Navy can't use them on carriers because the landing gear is misplaced, the nose is too long and the wings too short.

Of course, back in 1963 they tried to tell old Robert S. he was making a blunder. Naturally, he wouldn't listen. So what we have got going for us now is a real, honest-to-goodness U.S. government Edsel.

General Motors Veteran Named New President of Ford

DEARBORN, Mich. (UPI)—Semon E. "Bunky" Knudsen, who resigned just last week as a vice president of General Motors Corp., today was elected president of the Ford Motor Co. The switch was believed one of the most unusual in the history of auto industry management. As part of the move, former Ford President Arjay Miller was moved up into a newly created job, vice chairman of the board. Knudsen, whose career at GM began in 1939, was for years head of GM's Chevrolet Division. He was one of four candidates in the running for the GM presidency last year, but lost out to Edward Cole. In announcing his resignation as executive vice president at GM last week, Knudsen said he was leaving to "pursue personal interests."
