Crowds Demonstrate Against Soviet Flag

PRAGUE (UPI)—Hundreds of angry workers, students and shoppers shouting "take it down! Take it down!" today forced the removal of Soviet flags from public buildings in an anti-Russian outburst marking the observance of the Bolshevik Revolution. The second anti-Russian outburst in two days—demonstrators burned flags in Bratislava Wednesday night—came soon after 500 pro-Russian demonstrators surrounded Communist Party First Secretary Alexander Dubcek and screamed in his face: "Long live the Soviet Union!" In one of the flag incidents today workers on a construction site barged their wrenches on sheets of corrugated steel until officials hurried out and re-

Nixon Expected to Send Representatives to Talks

S. Vietnam Regards Election 'Favorable'

By LOREN JENKINS

PARIS (UPI) — Diplomatic sources close to the Paris Vietnam Talks said today President-elect Richard M. Nixon is expected to send observers here to familiarize himself with the negotiations and assure an orderly changeover in January.

There still was no indication the South Vietnam government would drop its opposition to sitting down with the Viet Cong in Paris although diplomatic quarters said Saigon regards the Nixon election as a major point in favor of its policies.

Officially, the U.S. team named by President Johnson and headed by Ambassador W. Averell Harriman is continuing the negotiating and is expected to do so at least until the presidential inauguration. Nixon, meantime, wants his own team familiar with the proceedings.

There also was speculation Nixon might send emissaries to Saigon. He would be expected to be briefed in Washington on developments there. In the meantime it was believed Nixon would want to insert some of his own ideas into the talks.

There was much speculation among both the North Vietnamese delegations and the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) about Nixon's eventual formula and tactics for settling the war, and few diplomats now expected any real meaningful talks until after Nixon takes office Jan. 20.

It was recalled that during his campaign Nixon said Vietnam negotiations "must include as many as possible of the powers and interests involved" and as the South Vietnamese become stronger "American troops can and should be phased out."

Attention also centered on a Nixon statement when he was asked how the war in Vietnam could be brought to a conclusion and he used the Korean war as a precedent:

"We got in and had this messy war (Korea) on our hands. Eisenhower let word get out diplomatically to the Chinese and North Koreans that he would not tolerate this continual ground war of attrition, and within a matter of months they negotiated... as far as negotiations are concerned, (in Vietnam) we will be militarily strong and diplomatically strong."

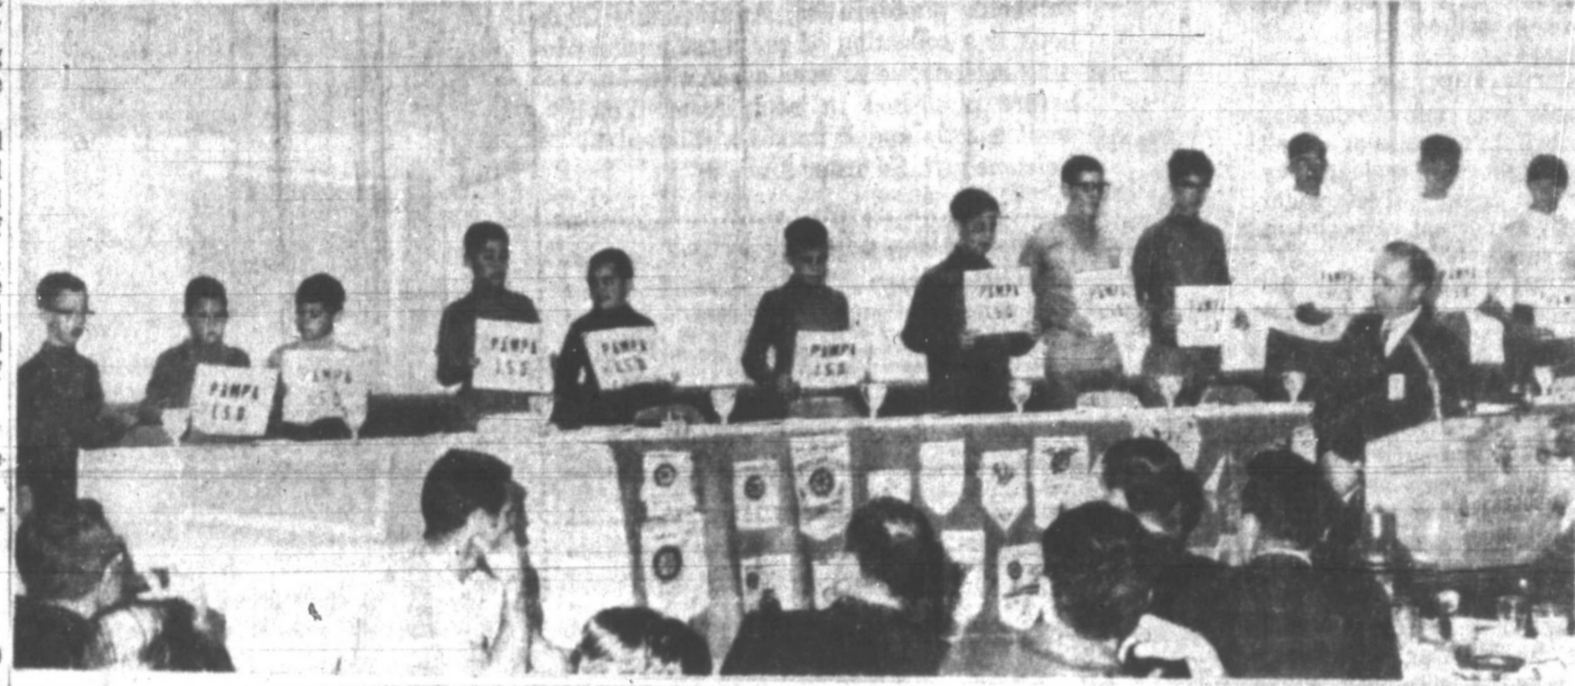

Although there was much uncertainty in Paris, diplomatic sources said the South Vietnamese may seek to delay any meaningful talks here until they determine if Nixon may be more agreeable to their ideas than Johnson.

The sources also said there was some personal concern among the diplomatic team headed by Harriman and Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance.

Although it spelled trouble for the negotiations Johnson sought to push along last week by halting the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

That action led to South Vietnam and the Viet Cong being invited into the six-month-old talks between the United States and North Vietnam. The Viet Cong sent a delegation to Paris. But Saigon announced it was boycotting the talks until it got guarantees the Viet Cong would be considered only part of the Hanoi delegation and not an independent party.

The Communists refused such guarantees, saying all four parties were independent. The United States tried to woo Saigon into coming, arguing it never recognized the Viet Cong (See NIXON, Page 3)

CROSS-SECTION OF PAMPA SCHOOLS—Twelve sons of Pampa Rotary Club members represented their grades in a special Rotary Club program at the Coronado Inn. School Superintendent Dr. James F. Malone, right, at the speaker's stand, presented the program on education in Pampa. As the boys introduced themselves, they turned their 'Pampa I.S.D.' cards to show their grade level and number of students in that grade.

HUGH BURDETTE

Nearly Wins Post He Had Not Been Seeking

Pampa City Commissioner Hugh Burdette came near to getting the surprise of his life in Tuesday's election. Burdette was not far from winning a district post he actually was not seeking on the Texas State School Board. He received 43,602 votes out of 103,595 cast in the 28-county 18th Educational District. The school board spot finally was won by Democrat Herbert O. Willborn of Amarillo. Willborn's total was 59,993. Burdette, who was re-elected Pampa City Commissioner from Ward 2 in last April's municipal election, had previously filed for the state post on the Republican ticket, and then apparently decided he would rather be a Pampa city commissioner. For all practical purposes he had withdrawn from the district school board race, but his name was not taken off the ballot. Friends said Burdette never made "a single move" toward seeking the school board post. In fact, his associates say he had almost forgotten about it until the returns started coming in and he was reported winning in several counties. It was not until late yesterday that Burdette learned he had received 43,602 votes and carried six of the 28 counties and ran close margins in nine others. He carried Gray, Briscoe, Hansford, Lipscomb, DeWitt and Roberts counties and received 41 per cent of the total vote. Burdette still was receiving congratulations today on not being elected. Most City Hall officials were pleased that he was not the winner. They first became concerned that "just might be elected" to the district post when Tuesday night returns showed he had received such a large vote in Gray County. Burdette (See BURDETTE, Page 3)

AT ROTARY MEETING

Dr. Malone Reviews Years Of Education

By WANDA MAE HUFF News Staff Writer Pampa Rotarians saw 12 years of Pampa education on display Wednesday when School Superintendent Dr. James F. Malone used 12 sons of Pampans to represent each grade in the school district. Before Dr. Malone's program on Pampa schools, Rotary Club members attended a luncheon in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room and announced the Junior Rotarian for November is Duncan McCarroll. McCarroll is president of the Episcopal Young Churchmen, member of the National Honor Society and Student Council, and co-captain of the Pampa High School football team. During the meeting, Dave Finkelstein was introduced and accepted as a new member. Boys participating in Dr. Malone's cross-section of Pampa schools program were Todd Clement, first grade; Guy Langham, second; Sidney Payne, third; Scott Smith, fourth; Randy Watson, fifth; Terry Neslage, seventh; Randy Blumer, eighth; Jim Thompson, ninth; Rocky Hills, 10th; Randy Reeve, 11th, and John Doucette, 12th. Stressing that "education is the most powerful force to help us achieve common goals of improved lives, personal freedom, personal dignity and a chance to prove our worth," Dr. Malone said the boys represent 5,742 young Americans in the Pampa Independent School District. Dr. Malone explained grades one, two and three are the "readiness years," grades four, five and six, the "exploratory years," grades seven, eight and nine, "perspective years," and 10, 11 and 12, "years of analysis." "Readiness years are a period of orientation to a new life outside the home. In the first grade a student is introduced to the school world. If he has learned to listen at home, his first year in this new environment will be easier for him," Dr. Malone said. The second grade stresses subjects explaining the neighborhood world, and the third grade the community world. In the first three years a child learns to read, learns fundamentals of arithmetic, manuscript and cursive writing, aesthetic art, music, poetry and literature.

His teachers and principal "study the child, his personality, his problems, real or imaginary, emotional or mental. They study his home background and begin his permanent school records," Dr. Malone said. The exploratory years stress the history of America, its geography, relationships of each section of the country to the

TO PRESIDENT-ELECT NIXON

Demo Leaders Pledge Limited Support

By FRANK ELEAZER WASHINGTON (UPI)—Leaders of the Democratic 91st Congress pledged qualified support to Republican President-elect Richard M. Nixon today. One of his key legislative proposals was already in trouble. "We don't intend to hinder him in any way," Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the Senate majority leader. "We'll be glad to cooperate with him when he is right, and when he is wrong we will oppose him in a constructive fashion." House Speaker John W. McCormack sent Nixon his congratulations "with assurances of cooperation in the best interest of our people and the national interest." McCormack told United Press International Democrats always support a Republican president "when in agreement with him." The statements fell short of commitment that would bridge party lines and left the way open for what most observers saw as an inevitable deterioration of relations between the White House and Congress. Dirksen Warning Meantime, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the Senate minority leader who will help direct Nixon forces in the new Congress, hoisted a go-slow sign against a principal Nixon project. Nixon outlined repeatedly during his election campaign a plan to give special tax breaks to business firms undertaking job training, housing and other rebuilding chores in the ghetto. Nixon plugged for a decentralization of government and proposed the tax credits as a substitute for the direct flow of federal funds into such programs as the Job Corps, which he said have not worked. "There are drawbacks to these (tax credits)," Dirksen said, despite his authorship of a GOP platform which included a tax credit plank. Nixon also has pledged to cut spending so the 10 per cent surtax imposed in June can be allowed to expire on schedule on July 1. Dirksen questioned whether this can be done. "The commitments have already been made," he said. "Nixon will be inheriting substantial deficit problems." In his victory statement Wednesday Nixon said his first priority task as president would be to try to bring the country together. Tough Job That also may be his toughest job. He was elected, a minority president, with 43 per cent of the vote. And he became the first president since 1876 to win his first term without carrying his party into control of Congress.

The voters Tuesday, while narrowly electing a Republican president, sent back a virtually undiminished majority of Democrats to the House and reduced a top heavy Democratic majority in the Senate by only five seats. The 91st congress is not expected to be especially eager to make Nixon look good. Its leaders will seek to build a party record on which Democrats can run in 1970 and 1972. Nixon said during the campaign that one of his early requests to Congress will be creation of a new "Hoover commission" to study government reorganization. He also made these specific proposals: a reduction of the voting age to 18; reform of the Electoral College, a need pointed up by the threat for some hours that he might have

AND THEN MAYBE NOT

HHH To Be Out of Office After 25 Years of Service

By STEVEN GERSTEL WAVERLY, Minn. (UPI)—After more than a quarter of a century as a major figure on the American political scene, Hubert Humphrey has come to the end of the road. Maybe. When Richard M. Nixon moves into the White House next January, Humphrey will leave public office for the first time since he became the crusading mayor of Minneapolis 25 turbulent years ago.

Under normal circumstances, Humphrey would retire to that special political limbo reserved for former aspirants to the White House who never made it. But the vice president, who can be stubborn politically as well as personally, may very well balk at becoming a revered elder statesman of the Democratic party. Possible Senate Bid Even as the very late returns kept trickling in, some of Humphrey's oldest and closest political allies were willing to speculate on the vice president's future and independently agreed that it was more than possible Humphrey would seek the Senate seat from Minnesota, or try for the governorship in 1970. The chances Humphrey would seek another presidential nomination appeared to be remote. The vice president himself has pointed out that four years from now he would be 61 and that his age would work against his getting the Democratic nomination.

Despite this, several factors could work in Humphrey's behalf if he decided to make one more run for the White House. Among Humphrey's advantages are that he has control of the party organization and that the people he has appointed and will name to the Democratic National Committee are his personal selections and the thousands who worked for his campaign could be expected to remain loyal to the vice president.

There is little question Humphrey's leadership will be challenged on several fronts within the next four years. The major challenges could well come from the Senate. Many observers feel Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the remaining brother of the Kennedy clan, may well decide to seek the presidency in 1972 and certainly could use his powers in the Senate to advance that cause. Similarly, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Humphrey's running mate in 1968, may very well strike out on his own after winning nationwide acclaim for his campaign this year.

Humphrey, nursing the disappointment of his defeat, has made little mention of what he plans to do in the years ahead. In his concession statement Tuesday, he said, "I intend to continue my dedication to public service, and to the building of a responsive and vital Democratic party."

World Reactions to Election Vary

By United Press International From Saigon to Moscow to Quito, governments and private citizens alike reacted today to Richard M. Nixon's presidential victory, expressing everything from delight to apathy to outright scorn. Prime minister Eisaku Sato of Japan said Nixon's election "will serve as a source of power, not only for Americans but for all democratic peace loving nations of the world." President Park Chung Hee of South Korea said the Nixon administration would bring "closer relations" between the two countries. Germans generally saw it as more of the "Eisenhower years" which they felt were friendly to their country. Communist China said it made no difference which candidate won because all three were "jackals of the same lair." Soviets Press Meeting The Soviet Union in effect offered to discuss with the new president the problem of nuclear disarmament. Moscow radio said it was not surprising Humphrey lost. The cost of living had risen, crime had increased, racial disorders had soared and there was "the shameful aggression in Vietnam" during the Democratic Party's eight years in power, Radio Moscow said. For some men in foreign streets there was doubt about what the new administration would bring. Some Europeans asked if the Republican administration would bring a return to isolationism for America. "Hungarians did not love Humphrey either," said a Budapest journalist. "But people are afraid this will mean a worse world situation." In Britain, the London Times said "whatever preferences outsiders may feel between Mr. Nixon and Mr. Humphrey, everyone must be glad American democracy has made a clear-cut choice. "The machine, for all its 18th century design, has worked again notwithstanding strains unprecedented in modern times." "So it is to President Nixon," said the London Daily Telegraph. "The man who had acquired the reputation of a loser had finally made it." Cold Air Invades Light Snow Falls Panhandle, Some

By United Press International Polar air swept into the Texas Panhandle today, bringing near or below freezing temperatures and light snow showers mixed with rain. Freeze warnings are in effect tonight for the Panhandle. A light freeze was forecast for extreme North Central Texas, and frost for Southwest Texas. Occasional snow fell in the Panhandle in an area stretching from Amarillo northward to near Dalhart. The light snow showers started around 3 a.m. and ended at 5:30, then began again shortly after 6 and were expected to last into the afternoon.

The Weather Bureau said there would be no accumulation. The snow was melting as it fell.

The Canadian cold front heralded the rapid approach of winter to Texas. Scattered frost was expected tonight over the Panhandle and in higher elevations of the Davis Mountains in Southwest Texas.

Elsewhere in the state, skies were cloudy, but were expected to be clear to partly cloudy as the cold front pushed to the Gulf Coast. Most of the state will be much colder tonight, but a warming trend will start Friday.

Dubcek, leaving a cemetery ceremony honoring the 51st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, marched through the crowd of middle-aged persons, grim and saying nothing.

It marked the first public show of opposition groups supporting the Kremlin and opposing the Czechoslovak party reform regime of this Russian-occupied nation.

One woman—most of the crowd were women—shouted angrily into the face of another reform leader, Premier Oldrich Cernik. "When will you straighten out your regime?" she yelled.

The incident dramatized a political tightrope Dubcek was walking. The hero of Czechoslovakians opposed to Soviet occupation, he nonetheless has tried to restrain such persons as the students who today wore black armbands of mourning because of the Soviet-sponsored celebration and as the students who ripped and burned Russian flags in the Slovak city of Bratislava Wednesday night.

Dubcek only Wednesday told a meeting in Prague castle his embattled regime simply had to learn to live with the Soviets. He said the invasion "created a new and serious reality in the country. It is on this that the present and future policy of the party must inevitably be based."

Teachers Attend Annual Meeting On Mathematics

Four Pampa math teachers are attending the annual state mathematics conference in Austin today through Saturday.

Delegates are John Plaster and Jake Spencer, Pampa High School teachers; Russell Mason, Lee Junior High School, and Carlard Vernon, Pampa Junior High School.

Teachers will study new methods of teaching the new math courses on both the secondary and elementary school levels.

Author to Speak At St. Matthews

A nationally known author and lecturer, Mrs. Gertrude Behanna will speak on "God Isn't Dead," at 8 p.m. Friday at St. Matthews Episcopal Church, 727 W. Browning.

Author of her autobiography, "The Late Liz," written under the pseudonym Elizabeth Burns, she was brought up in a "too rich" atmosphere.

Born to rich parents, reared in the Waldorf Astoria, she married the first man who asked her so she could get away from her father. Three marriages and many drinks and pills later, she tried to kill herself. When she failed again in this, she had a dramatic conversion.

Since that time 20 years ago, she has given away her money, and resolved that the rest of her life should be devoted to the telling of her story, that others might be inspired to seek God as the answer to their deepest needs.

The public is invited to hear her talk.

Nixon

But the sources said Saigon now was expected to sit tight to see if Nixon offers something more than Johnson to entice them here.

This would block any progress meanwhile. The United States was pledged to discuss no settlement with the Communists without South Vietnamese diplomats being present.

Greece, the native country of Spiro T. Agnew's parents, was enthusiastic and proud.

Pioneer Natural Gas Declares Dividend

The Board of Directors of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., at a meeting held yesterday in Amarillo, declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on outstanding common stock, payable next Dec. 4, to stockholders of record on Nov. 22 this year.

C. I. Wall, chairman of the board and president, told the board that net income for Pioneer Natural Gas Co., and subsidiaries for the first nine months of 1968 was $5,254,548 as compared to $5,968,887 for the same period of the prior year.

Current earnings amount to 73 cents per share on the 7,197,545 shares outstanding during this period. It compares with 83 cents per share for the first nine months of 1967 on the 7,175,103 shares outstanding during that period.

Police Release Accident Figures

Pampa Police Chief Jim Conner released traffic accident figures for Pampa for the month of October.

During October there were 38 traffic accidents and three persons were injured. In October, 1967 the city had 66 accidents with 14 persons injured.

For the first 10 months of 1968 there have been 557 traffic accidents in the city, one person has been killed and 108 injured.

For the same period a year ago, 521 accidents had occurred, two persons had been killed and 175 injured.

Food Buying Guide

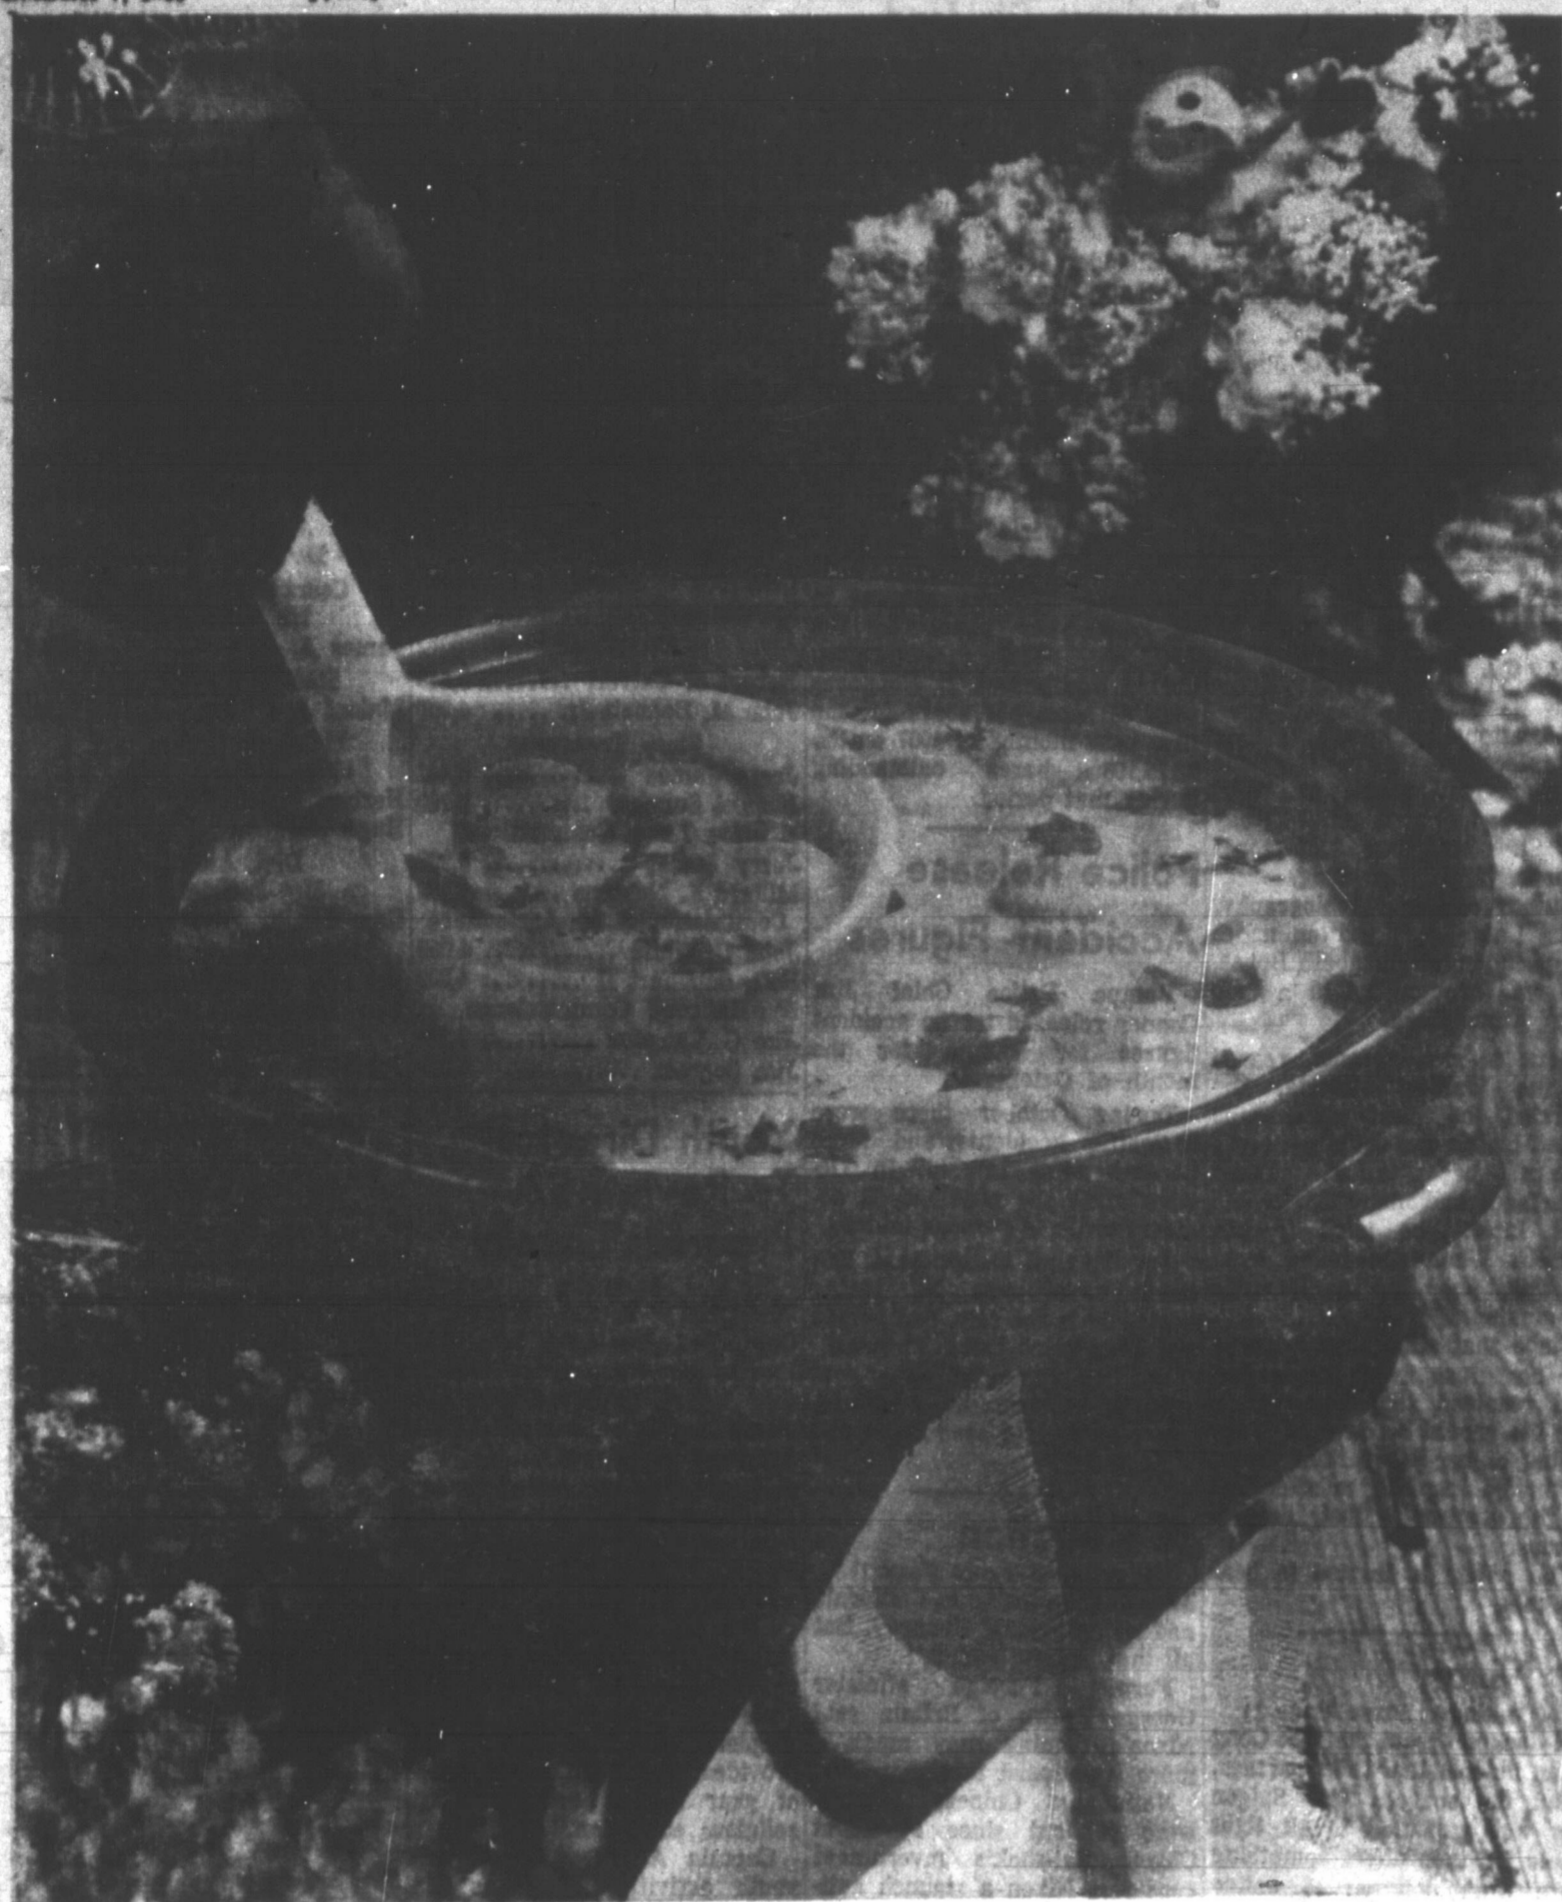

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that weekend shoppers will find excellent supplies of meat and poultry and good supplies of certain fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

Supplies of broiler-fryers, chickens and turkeys should be more than adequate to meet the selections of all shoppers. Beef roasts and steaks and ground beef continue in excellent supply.

Pork features include nearly all the pork items offered: bacon, Boston butts, chops, ham, roasts, smoked picnic, as well as sausage and spareribs in some areas.

Fish buys to watch for are fresh and frozen fish fillets and steaks, oysters, and canned salmon, according to the Department of the Interior.

Fresh vegetables in good supply in all areas are cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, onions, and potatoes. Apple and bananas are the most abundantly available fruits.

Autumn Suggests Oysters Cooked into Savory Soup

AUSTIN (Spl) — The brisk breezes of fall bring thoughts of fantastic football games, scenic strolls and savory soups. In fact, any time is the right time for nourishing, warming soup, and the soup of the season is Gulf Coast Oyster Stew. The Texas Parks and Wildlife home economist suggests this enticing recipe for a scrumptious tasting stew using Texas oysters.

1 pint oysters
4 tablespoons butter
1 quart milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon white pepper
Paprika. . . .

Early New Englanders brought the idea of oyster stew to America several centuries ago. In fact, one of the things that impressed the early settlers about the bounty of this land was the discovery of an abundance of large, rich, flavored oysters along the coast. Oysters fill the bill with tender, juicy goodness, and this Gulf Coast Oyster Stew is so colorful, easy to do, and ready in minutes.

Thrifty
A whole ham makes a delicious, thrifty dinner, but leftovers often need some pepping up. A hot mustard sauce helps. Separate 3 eggs and beat yolks. Blend 2 tablespoons of flour into 1/2 cup of sugar and beat into yolks. Add to mixture 1/2 cup of vinegar, 1 (1 3/4 ounce) can of beef broth, 1/2 cup of prepared mustard, and 1/4 cup of butter or margarine. Cook in double boiler until thickened. Makes about 3 cups.

Melt butter, add drained oysters; cook 3 minutes or until edges curl. Add milk, salt, pepper; bring almost to boiling point. Serve at once. Garnish with paprika. Serves 6.

Oysters, salty little gems from the Gulf, lend themselves to wonderful eating in a wide variety of recipes. The Texas home economist feels that one of the most popular ways to use the delicate tasty little

Combine Apricots With Pork Steaks

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor
Ever try pork steaks? An excellent buy and particularly easy to eat. We think the family will like this recipe.

- 4 pork arm or blade steaks, cut 1/2-inch thick
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 12 prunes
- 16 dried apricot halves
- Flour for gravy. . . .

Brown steaks in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Mix water, brown sugar, vinegar, cinnamon, allspice and cloves. Pour over steaks. Add prunes and apricots. Cover tightly and simmer 45 minutes to 1 hour or until done. Thicken liquid with flour for gravy, if desired. Four servings.

Serve Lemon-Lime Pie - An Angel's Dinner Dessert

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Many readers have requested that we repeat this recipe for Lemon-Lime Angel Pie because they have lost their copy. So here it is — a perfect lighter dessert for Thanksgiving dinner:

LEMON-LIME ANGEL PIE
To prepare meringue shell:
4 eggs
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
Dash salt
1 cup sugar. . . .
Separate eggs. (Reserve egg yolks for pie filling.) Beat egg whites with cream of tartar and salt until stiff. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Continue beating until mixture is glossy and sugar is completely dissolved. Spread meringue in a well-buttered 9-inch pie plate, building well up on sides. Bake in 275-degree oven 25 minutes. Increase heat to 300 degrees and bake about 25 minutes longer, or until meringue is lightly browned. Cool thoroughly on cooling rack.

To prepare filling:
4 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice

2 tablespoons fresh lime juice
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon grated lime rind
1 cup heavy cream. . . .
Beat egg yolks until thick in top of double boiler. Stir sugar, juices and rinds into egg yolks. Cook over simmering water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Cool thoroughly. Whip cream until stiff. Fold cream into lemon-lime mixture. Pour into meringue shell. Chill several hours, or overnight. Makes 1 9-inch pie.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who spends more than he earns? Sam is very extravagant, and says as long as he's the one who makes the money in the family he can spend it as he sees fit. (He doesn't save a dime.)

We're behind on our payments for things he's bought on time, and since Sam has insisted on handling the checkbook we are always overdrawn.

My husband's occupation? An accountant.

FED UP
DEAR FED UP: So what is new? The shoemaker's kids go barefoot, doctors neglect their own health, and lawyers get into legal jams. So why can't an accountant mishandle his own money? My advice to you is to take your books out of your husband's office before you wind up in the poor house.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old boy and I hate school. How do I get kicked out?

SICK OF SCHOOL
DEAR SICK: School-haters need advice on how to STAY IN school, not how to get kicked out. Stay with it. You'll recover, and I promise you, you will never regret it.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "HEARTSICK" the young wife who found some beads in the front seat of her husband's car.

Several years ago, I left my husband in a restaurant to curl up in the front seat of the car as it was very late and I was exhausted. It was pitch dark in the parking area.

I kicked off my shoes and curled up in the front seat of what turned out to be the same make and model car as ours. The next thing I knew, a strange man was shaking me awake, asking me what I was doing in his car? I was so frightened and mortified that I ran off without my shoes. I am still "heartsick" for that poor man who no doubt had to explain the presence of a pair of ladies' shoes in his car. Your advice—to give the husband a break even in the face of all that incriminating evidence—was excellent.

HEARTSICK NUMBER 11

"CONFIDENTIAL TO: 'Hungry For Love' on Franklin Avenue": You give me not a clue as to why you are "love-starved," but if you are like most women with the same complaint, may I give you a few?

What kind of reception does your man get when he comes home?

Most men drag their weary bodies home after a hard day of wrestling with bosses, customers, and competitive co-workers. No sooner do they get a foot in the door when the little woman hits them with junior's report card, or the news that Penelope needs a new dress for the prom.

During dinner, the old arguments are aired about Susie's make-up and David's hair. Also, the wash machine man was there today and said that to fix the machine would cost nearly as much as a new one, so how about it?

Then evening falls, and the bedroom is supposed to be transformed into the honeymoon suite at the Waldorf. Ha! He is tired, and she is tired of being told he's tired.

So, improve your timing, Lady. Greet your man at the door with a smile and a kiss. Shove the bills in the drawer, table those complaints, and tell the kids to keep quiet or you'll put a muzzle on 'em. If you want to be loved, set the emotional climate in your home.

Separates make smart knitting for the new season. Directions for the slimming, vertically patterned sweater and skirt are available for sizes 10 to 16.

Knitters Lead Separate Trend

By JUDY LOVE
Knitters following the current fashion trends know that separates add up to great good looks.

Skirts have made an important comeback for fall and winter and you have your pick of styles. Easy A-lines, pleats of all kinds and straight skirts all share fashion's favor. Pair them with sweaters for a sporty look and with shirts for casual town wear. To keep yourself truly in a with-it look, drape the shirt with chunky chain necklaces—up to three and four at a time. This year all that glitters is fashion gold.

The skirt featured today is one you'll want to knit and pair with any number of shirts, solid-color and prints, too. It's made in four easy-to-work panels with soft, flattering shaping. Knit it in sports yarn in any size from 10 to 16.

Knitting instructions for the skirt are available in a leaflet which also gives directions for making a turtle-neck pullover. The trim, tailored design has a vertical pattern that slims you into sleek shape. The pattern is featured on the front, back and down each sleeve, too, for fashion dash. The sweater can be knitted for sizes 10 to 16.

For your copy of knitting instructions for skirt and sweater, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, in care of Pampa Daily News, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to ask for leaflet S154, and enclose your name, address and zip code.

KNIT KNACKS

Putting the pieces together is as important to a professional look as knitting good, even stitches. The usual method of seaming knitted garments is backstitching. Use the yarn with which you've knitted the garment—unless directions specifically call for another yarn. First pin the pieces to be seamed with right sides facing. Remember not to pull the yarn too tightly as you sew.

For lengthwise seams you may wish to weave the pieces together. Start by placing the edges together on a flat surface with right sides up. Stitch vertically through one edge and then through the corresponding stitch on the other edge. Pull the yarn to bring the edges together.

Auxiliary Honors

Mrs. J. W. Gambill

D.M.F. Auxiliary of Cities Service Gas Co. met recently in the Community Hall, west of city, to honor Mrs. J. W. Gambill, whose husband is retiring from the company. Mrs. Gambill was presented a money tree.

Hostess for the covered dish dinner was Mrs. H. H. Kessinger, assisted by Mrs.

Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter Members Attend Program

Members of Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the home of Mrs. Harold Taylor.

Mrs. John Lyle, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Alfred Cross, a transferee from Missouri, was welcomed into the chapter.

It was decided the club would participate in the Jaycette Bazaar this year. Beta Sigma Phi Cookbooks have been ordered for members to sell.

A program entitled "As Men See Us" given by Mrs. Don Hufstader and Mrs. Gary Clark concluded the meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Carroll Russell and Mrs. Harold Taylor.

Dave Kerns, and Mrs. Ernest Mesneak.

Twenty-two members attended.

get acquainted offer!

This is our way of introducing KitchenAid food waste disposers to this area.

We believe you'll like your KitchenAid disposer so well that you'll tell your friends about it. It's built with the same kind of old-fashioned quality that has earned KitchenAid dishwashers their reputation for dependability.

That's why we'll deduct $25.00 from any KitchenAid disposer price when you buy it with any front-loading KitchenAid dishwasher. This offer is good from now until December 25, 1968.

And by installing both at the same time you'll save on installation cost, too.

KitchenAid disposers can handle the toughest food waste, from bones to stringy vegetables.

There are four models to choose from, batch feed or continuous feed. You'll get such features as automatic reversing action, heat-fused epoxy coating in the grind chamber, Teflon-S® coated drain chamber, capacitor start motors. Come in and let us show you what real time-savers these products can be.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, NOV. 8

Your birthday today: The coming year is good for projects in privacy but not for steady cooperation with partners. Extra time alone for meditation is essential. Today's natives tend toward physical extremes, tall or short, somewhat modified by other factors in the individual horoscope.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Without listening to others, you go blithely ahead as if all were certain. The more you know about others' views, the less likely you are to come to a mistaken decision. Listen!

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Be moderate and discreet. Shopping, purchases in general, are not fortunate. Leave no details of the workweek hanging to impair the weekend. Listen to music tonight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Everybody has his own theory about what ought to be done next. Ignore the emotional discussions. Review your situation tonight, in long-range terms. Select the most practical course, follow it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Correspondence is many-sided and of critical importance. Large organizations now seem difficult to deal with. Focus your attention on details and basic purposes.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You must be sure you stay within the bounds of acceptable demands insofar as friends are concerned today. Carping comments can only backfire (all day).

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your calm will later give you reasons to be thankful. Everything tests how steady and sound you are. Much caution in the use of machinery, autos, or appliances is essential. Machines cannot, but people can be coaxied.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Seek only short term, limited decisions in this unstable day; and pursue them with diligence. Great care with any formal commitment is urged.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You will be glad you kept your plans confidential — this is the only way to avoid interference from people who think they know better than you. Vigilance in handling cash is essential.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This is not a good day to marry, if you are contemplating it. Nor is any other sort of serious union favored. Your own schemes might be sidetracked in favor of those of an associate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Useful ideas are plentiful, but there is no chance to implement any of them yet. Money matters are tricky, not to be casually rearranged — especially not with strangers.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Romantic ventures run into frustrations, delays. Control your reactions so you don't spoil things. Begin a new search for (hidden) facts this evening.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Tact is essential today; use it! Compromise a bit on details, so that everybody gets most of what he wants. Review your plans again tonight; there is some new factor to consider.

Las Pampas DAR Members Attend State Workshop

Three members of Las Pampas Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mmes. Henry Merrick, Turner Kirby and A. D. Hills, recently attended the state DAR Division workshop for divisions one and two in Abilene.

Mrs. Merrick is chapter regent of the Pampa group. Members of the John Davis Chapter were hostesses, with their regent, Mrs. John M. Ferrigo, who introduced the state regent, Mrs. Buck Wynne Woolley, Dallas.

Mrs. Woolley presented state officers and chairmen who explained work of their offices and committees and discussed methods of completing the year's work.

Texas has 113 DAR Chapters and is divided into eight divisions. Four workshops are scheduled in west and south Texas.

White Deer 4-H Selects Officers

WHITE DEER (Spl)—The

4-H Community Club of White Deer elected as officers, President, Randy Warminski; Vice President, Don Phillips; Secretary-Treasurer, Terry Dittberner; Council Representative, Pam Ramming; and Reporter, Linda Hastings.

Mrs. Johnnie Mae Newman is project leader for beginner food and nutrition group. This group will meet each Thursday after school.

The program, "Conservation of Wild Life" was presented by John Field, county agent.

2 WSCS Groups Sponsor Services For 'Quiet Day'

Mrs. Kit Autry was chairman for the program, held recently in St. Paul's Methodist Church, when WSCS of St. Pauls and WSCS of Harrah Methodist met for Quiet Day services.

Mrs. Autry gave the program introduction and invocation. Mrs. F. N. Franklin, pianist, accompanied the group for the hymn, "Rise Up, O Men of God". Mrs. Dave Buckner gave the first meditation from Corinthians, 5th chapter.

Mrs. Malcolm McLelland spoke on where money goes, and described the Girls' school. Mrs. Jane Skinner spoke on "South East Asia." An offering was taken for St. Pauls and Harrah WSCS. Mrs. S. T. Holding gave the benediction.

Attending from Harrah WSCS were Mmes. Dave Buckner, Bea Helms, Pearl Moseley, W. A. Rucker Jr., Raymond Shannon and Jane Skinner.

From St. Pauls were Mmes. John Walton, Sid Parsley, Malcolm McLelland, Blanche Jordan, Max Browning, Art Heflin, Bill F. Brown, E. N. Franklin, S. T. Holding and Kit Autry.

Area Baptist RA's Work on 2 Manuals

WHITE DEER (Spl)—The Royal Ambassadors of First Baptist Church of White Deer met recently to work on the Red Page Manual and Purple Squire Manual.

Members attending were Albert and Charlie Dominguez, Eddie, Randy, and Tommy Hastings, Kent Mitchell, Robin Martin, Joe Freeman, John and Harris Osborne, Terry Timmons, Ronnie Belew and Billy Bob Terry.

Counselors are Mrs. Doris Freeman and Mrs. Betty Timmons.

Stork, Voting Face Woman

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — While the candidates were running races against each other for office Tuesday, Mrs. Lewis C. Moulton raced the stork.

During the balloting, Mrs. Moulton called her husband at one of the city's polling places.

Her husband rushed home and drove his wife to the nearest voting booth, imploring her not to take time to vote on each of the 50 amendments to the Louisiana constitution—just vote as quickly as possible so they could get to the hospital.

A few hours after casting her votes in the presidential and second congressional district races, Mrs. Moulton gave birth to her third child and her first baby boy.

QUEEN TOURS

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UPI)—Queen Mother Elizabeth made a farewell tour of the ocean liner Queen Elizabeth today before it becomes a floating hotel at Port Everglades, Fla. The vessel arrived Monday, completing its final transatlantic voyage as a passenger liner.

ONASSIS HONEYMOON

NIDRION, Greece (UPI)—Jacqueline and Aristotle Onassis will sail aboard their yacht Christina today for a 10-day to two-week honeymoon cruise in the Mediterranean, informed sources said.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — With the outcome of the presidential election so incredibly close, any campaign tactic might have been decisive. And many television observers were wondering today about the effect on voters of the Richard Nixon-Hubert Humphrey telethons last Monday night.

These two-hour broadcasts on national television, in prime time, were the finales of the candidates' campaigns, coming on election eve. And if video has much impact as everyone seems to think, then it is certainly possible that the telecasts—paid for by the Democratic and Republican parties—may have been a pivotal factor.

According to the spot overnight ratings in New York City, Nixon's program on NBC-TV finished only slightly ahead of Humphrey's show on ABC-TV. At first glance, with Nixon having been the national frontrunner and NBC-TV being a considerably larger network than ABC-TV, the closeness of the ratings between the candidates might have seemed a Humphrey triumph.

Ratings Encouraging
But shrewd Nixon associates should have been encouraged by the ratings. To begin with, the national size or influence of the competing networks can mean nothing in a one-city showdown. A local station can have the audience potential of a network outlet in a hometown competition.

Furthermore, polls had indicated that New York would go for Humphrey, which it did—yet Nixon still got the higher rating, however close the margin. In addition, Humphrey's program had a half-hour jump in time on Nixon's, and was loaded with film and television stars.

As for the national influence of the shows on the election it is highly possible that their effect was generally unrelated to what the coast-to-coast ratings report in terms of numerical viewer tune-in. What really matters in this particular case was not how many persons watched each program, but what they thought of what they saw.

It would be fascinating, for instance, if a pollster explored whether the big celebrity turnout on Humphrey's show helped him do better in the balloting than he might have otherwise—or whether it resulted in sympathy for Nixon, who went it mostly alone.

Sharp Contrast

There was no denying the sharp contrast of the two shows. Humphrey had his running mate, Edmund Muskie, on hand, and all those famous performers, and moved around quite a bit. Nixon simply sat in a chair and answered questions from ex-football Coach Eud Wilkinson. The chief celebrities were Nixon's daughters, who answered phones.

And there was little doubt that the Nixon planners—for whatever reasons—wanted the contrast with the Humphrey program, focusing on their man as a fellow who could carry off his broadcast with little apparent outside help.

There are those who may have mocked the absence of Nixon's running mate, Spiro Agnew. But it is sheer nonsense to suggest, as some have done, that Nixon could not have got many celebrities too. One wonders what the thinking was. Could it have been decided that the suburban and rural areas where Nixon's strength was formidable might have resented the heavy presence of show business swingers in the finale of a presidential race?

In any case, it is possible that Richard Nixon, who once probably lost a presidential election because of television, may have helped himself to this one by his strategic use of it.

Gibson Likes the Challenge

When the 1967-68 basketball season ended last February the Pampa Harvesters had stroled to a 26-5 record.

They had won the district title and advanced to the first round of bi-district play against Hurst-Bell.

They lost, 44-43 in overtime, and a few months later lost their basketball coach who had been here 10 years but decided to move on.

It has been so long since Pampa has had a losing basketball season that some folks will swear it was before the Civil War or least back in the depression years (the ones in the 30's that is).

So really, you could not blame Sterling Gibson if he were a hardhat this season when Pampa takes to the cage court. Gibson was named Pampa basketball coach earlier this year by athletic director Swede Lee.

The Henderson, Ky. high school graduate brought some very impressive credentials with him to the hot-bed part of the state as far as basketball is concerned.

After his high school years he played two seasons at Western Kentucky College, then helped his country fight a war.

When the battle was over Gibson came to Texas where he played on the courts for Texas Tech and helped coach the Tech freshmen.

He then went to the land of the Senorita's and served as an assistant coach and head coach at Portales, N. M., for the next 10 years.

The last six he was the head man and his teams ran up a 97-56 won-lost record.

Class AA is the highest class in New Mexico and Portales is a Class A school.

But Gibson got his chargers ready for conference play by meeting and beating AA schools.

You Don't Say ...

By RON CROSS

In his first year, one he doesn't like to remember, Portales struggled to a 6-15 mark but after that it was all smooth sailing.

The next year they were 19-8 and finished third in the state. The next year his cagers posted a 22-7 record and were 20-7 the next season and won the state title both years. The next two years records of 16-10 and 14-9 were posted. Gibson will find District 3-4A a little tougher than Class A in New Mexico and he knows it.

"This is quite a challenge and I knew it when I came here. In fact, that's why I came," the blond headed coach said.

Gibson knew exactly what he was stepping into. He knew that the former Pampa coach left a lot of friends and the wolves would be out should he stumble. He also knew that the 1968-69 edition of the Pampa basketball team would not have one starter back and only two lettermen would dot the lineup.

"I knew we'd be green and I'd have to start a rebuilding program but you talk to these boys a few minutes and their attitude, which is the best I've ever seen, begins to rub off on you," Gibson said.

The Harvesters lost some of the finest material that's ever graced a school in George Bailey, Bo Lang, Beau Bond, Johnny Carlos, Alvin Achord and Jimmy Cornutt.

Just how well they do this season will depend entirely on how the experienced players respond to Gibson's coaching.

Johnny Epperson, a 6-0 senior and Jim Hollis, a 6-2 senior, are the only two returning lettermen.

But Gibson figures that Ed

Moultrie, a 6-0 senior, Billy Thomas, Dan Carlton, Cliff Gage, Jim Gallman and a host of others can provide a lot of help.

Gibson is especially high on Moultrie who broke a leg last season and who, although he is not 100 per cent ready, could become the first Negro ever to start on a Harvester basketball team.

Moultrie, according to Gibson can jump higher than a kite and should provide a lot of scoring punch.

"Our kids have a lot of enthusiasm and we have speed and quickness. About our only disadvantages are experience and size," Gibson said.

Gallman is the tallest of the Harvesters at 6-4, then you dip down to Hollis and his 6-2 height and Billy Thomas, who at 6-1 will probably get a starting call.

The Harvesters will be small and inexperienced but they haven't given up yet.

Wings Slay Chicago

By United Press International
Detroit threw a curve at the Chicago Black Hawks Wednesday night but it still took a host of old-fashioned goals to straighten matters out.

General manager Sid Abel of the Red Wings complained that the curved sticks used by Chicago's Stan Mikita and Ken Wharram were illegal and they were confiscated by referee Vern Ruffey in the first period. The sticks were measured between periods and were found to conform to the rule which limits the allowable curve to 1 1/2 inches.

The Red Wings then went out and played hockey and wound up with a 5-5 triumph in the National Hockey League contest at Chicago. A rebound shot by Bruce MacGregor with less than six minutes remaining proved the decisive goal.

Gordie Howe and Nick Libett scored twice for the Red Wings and Eric Nesterenko had two goals for Chicago. Bobby Hull assisted on the first four Hawk goals.

The Boston Bruins climbed past idle Montreal into first place in the Eastern Division by routing the Philadelphia Flyers, 7-1. Tom Williams registered two goals for the Bruins, who won their fourth game in their last five starts.

Paul Henderson scored at 3:30 of the final period to enable Toronto to nip the Minnesota North Stars, 1-0. Leaf goalie Bruce Gamble stopped 27 shots for his first shutout of the campaign.

The St. Louis Blues remained in first place in the West by beating the Pittsburgh Penguins, 4-1. Camille Henry, Bill McCreary and Ab McDonald scored for the Blues.

Rookie Gerry Desjardins, playing in only his fifth NHL game, handed the New York Rangers their first shutout in 80 games as the Los Angeles Kings prevailed 2-0. Eddie Joyal and Ted Irvine scored for the Kings as New York dropped its first division in eight starts to an expansion club.

The Philadelphia Athletics beat the Kansas City A. C. 39-0 in the first night football game Nov. 21, 1920.

Wheeler Faces Clarendon

Wheeler coach Jake Cottrell wouldn't be the least bit unhappy if it rained in his town Friday.

His Mustangs play host to Clarendon in a District 2-A showdown battle that will either keep Wheeler in the running for the district crown or eliminate them completely.

"Cold weather wouldn't hurt either one of us but wet weather would probably hurt Clarendon more than it would us," Cottrell said.

"Clarendon is very fast and they like to pass a lot so wet weather would slow them down some."

Wheeler has lost just one district game in three outings, to McLean, but the Tigers and Clarendon are both unbeaten and stand 3-0 in league play.

Clarendon, who has given up just 18 points this season, 12 in league play, still has to play McLean.

So, a Wheeler victory and a Clarendon win over McLean next week, would put the district race in a three-way tie and the winner would probably be decided by a coin toss.

Cottrell allowed as how his boys haven't had any trouble "getting up" for Friday's game.

"I think that's been our trouble the last three or four weeks, we've been thinking about Clarendon," Cottrell said.

The first year Mustang coach said he didn't have anything special planned for Clarendon, that his Mustangs would just try to run a little and pass a little.

"Clarendon is not only tough defensively but they've got a pretty good offense too," the coach declared.

Clarendon has two of the best running backs in the Panhandle in fullback-tailback Steve Land and tailback Charles Lewis.

They've also got a good receiver in split end Jim Mooring.

While the Mustangs and Bronchos are having their fling another battle will be unfolding in Groom where the yearly war between Groom and Lefors will be held.

Groom has played one District 1-B tilt, against Texline, and won it, while Lefors has played two district foes and won one, last week against Texline.

Jack York's Pirates are young and inexperienced while Groom is the district favorite.

But as everyone knows when the two teams meet anything can, and usually does, happen.

McLean, meanwhile, will be

Hot Royals Win Fourth Straight Game

By United Press International
The Cincinnati Royals are so hot that National Basketball Association rivals no longer think of them as Oscar Robertson and four other guys.

Oscar is still getting his big batch of points as he always has done but the Royals have other heroes this season as they have moved into the Eastern Division lead with seven victories in nine games.

Robertson scored 31 points and John Tresvant, Tom Van Arsdale, Adrian Smith and Walt Wesley also scored in double figures Wednesday night when the Royals beat the Chicago Bulls 133-122 for their fourth straight victory. With all the gunners hitting at the same time, the Royals surged to 71-40 lead at halftime and never were seriously threatened the rest of the way.

Former Royals Flynn Robinson scored 27 points and Bob Boozer tallied 23 to pace the Bulls, who lost their fourth straight game.

The Baltimore Bullets whipped the Atlanta Hawks, 140-119, the Detroit Pistons downed the Seattle SuperSonics, 127-118, the Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Milwaukee Bucks, 128-115, and the San Francisco Warriors edged the New York Knickerbockers, 94-93, in other games.

The Bullets scored their seventh win in 10 games with a 49-point fourth period. Earl Monroe, the NBA's leading scorer, tallied 29 points and rookie Wes Unseld added 22 and 16 rebounds to lead the Bullets while Don Ohl had 27 for the Hawks.

Dave Bing scored 10 straight points in the fourth period and 16 of the Pistons' last 27 points as Detroit scored its fifth win in the last six games. The loss was the fourth in five games for the SuperSonics who were led by Rod Thorn's 21 points.

Elgin Baylor scored 33 points, Fred Crawford 24 and Wilt Chamberlain 23 to offset 30 points by Wayne Embry in the Lakers' triumph over the Bucks.

SWC Race Scrambled

By United Press International
Someday there will be football coach who admits that he's really thinking about a game weeks away, even though his team is playing the next Saturday.

Take Frank Broyles, coach at the University of Arkansas, for example. Broyles and his Razorbacks are in the thick of the four-way tie for the conference lead. Bit he has little to say about the race.

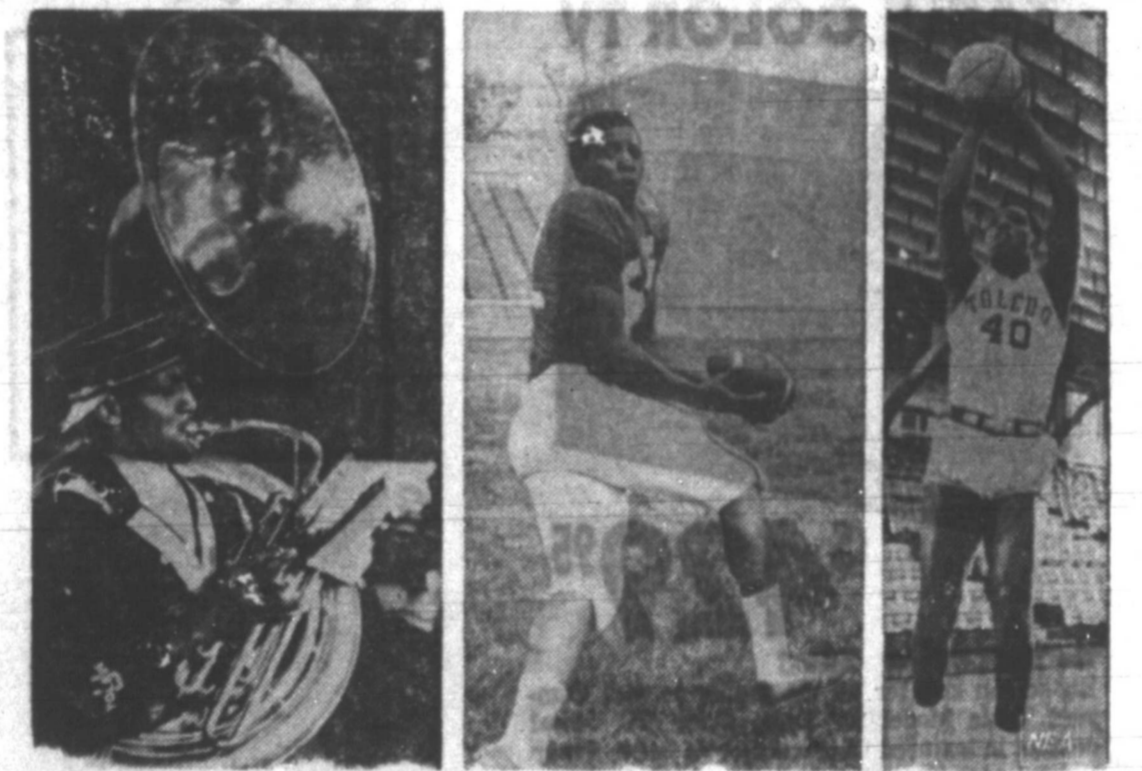

"... Because we are concentrating on playing Rice this Saturday," he says. "And, besides, I can't comment on that because Arkansas is in the race."

Broyles Won't Say
Likewise he was careful what he said about the other teams involved.

Broyles refused to speculate on the chances of Southern Methodist, the University of Texas and Texas Tech, all hanging fire in the conference, "because if I chose one, it would be like waving a red flag in front of the others."

Bill Montgomery was named to a back-of-the-week slot after the Arkansas-Texas A&M game, and that pleased Broyles.

"We were pleased that we won the game," he said, "and Bill played an important part in our winning."

HOLY TOLEDO, HE'S VERSATILE—University of Toledo's John Brisker started out as tuba player in marching band, then decided to try out for the football team. He made it, and now is starting offensive end. When football season ends, he'll return to the basketball team for which he averaged 14 points a game in two seasons.

Briscoe Basketballers Split Twinbill With Samnorwood

Briscoe's once-beaten boys basketball team rolled to a 63-60 victory over Samnorwood Tuesday to earn a split for the Broncos.

In the girls contest Samnorwood sank Briscoe, 59-40 despite a 36-point output by Phyllis Aderhalt.

Samnorwood rolled to a 24-10 first period lead and led by only nine, 32-23 at halftime but had upped the margin to 51-32 after three periods.

Bill Walker paced the Briscoe boys with 51 points and Ray Dwyer hit 18 for Samnorwood. Eriscoe led 22-16 after one period but had pulled away to a 48-26 halftime margin and had the game on ice at 63-43 after three periods.

Briscoe will not see action again until Nov. 15 when they play at Hedley. Eriscoe is 4-1 for the season.

Bauer's Kids Like to Eat

By DUSTON HARVEY

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Burly Hank Bauer has a stock answer ready these days for that first question.

"I've got four reasons," he says with a grin. "Three sons and a daughter—and they all eat real well."

The question, of course, is why anyone would return as manager of the Oakland Athletics after having once experienced owner Charles O. Finley's brand of employe relations.

The crewcut Marine combat veteran parted company with Finley with two games left in the 1962 season after managing the then Kansas City Athletics for a year and one-half. Bauer quit when the owner refused to tell him if he would be rehired for the next season.

Drill Sergeant Techniques

The one-time New York Yankee rightfielder, whose managerial techniques have often been compared to those of a Marine drill instructor, later piloted the Baltimore Orioles to the American League pennant and a World Series victory in 1966. He was fired by the Orioles midway through the 1968 season.

The volatile Finley, who has gone through eight managers in as many seasons as A's owner, rehired Bauer after bouncing Bob Kennedy, who piloted Oakland to the club's best record in two decades during his single season at the helm.

Finley, a Chicago insurance executive, has informed his new field boss—with an "I'm not trying to put any pressure on you, Hank" aside—that he expects the A's to win their division next year. Describing the 1962 episode as "a little stupid," Finley says Bauer's aggressiveness and determination should push the A's to the top.

The gravel-voiced Bauer, who offers no apologies, also predicts a first place finish in the A's six-team division of the American League. And he expects to win it with the same old Bauer methods.

"The main problem with managing is having to deal with 25 different ballplayers. I try to treat them all the same; the way I liked to be treated when I was playing. Everybody says I'm a tough Marine; I'm not. I only get tough when they goof up."

Moves From Outfield
Bauer, at the age of 46, is a heavy set six-footer who has added only a few pounds since Finley plucked him out of the Kansas City outfield midway through the 1961 season and installed him as manager.

He got that job in typical Finley fashion.

"I was 39 and figured I could still play 100 games for three or four more years," Bauer remembers. "Mr. Finley called me in and asked if I'd like to manage in the minors. I told him 'No, I spent too much time in minors as a player.' Mr. Finley asked me if I ever wanted to manage. I said yes and he hired me on the spot."

Another former Yankee, Joe Gordon, was fired to make room for Bauer.
The A's, who were eighth when Bauer took over in June, finished in a tie for ninth. They were in the same spot when he quit. At Baltimore, he rolled up a world championship, two third places and a tie for sixth before being fired.

California Bears Smell Rose Bowl

By United Press International
It's been 10 years since California last defeated Southern California on the football field, claimed a conference championship, compiled a winning record and visited the Rose Bowl.

Cal's last link with football respectability was in 1958 when the Golden Bears compiled a 7-3 record to win the Pacific Coast Conference championship, beat USC 14-12 and lost to Iowa in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day, 1959.

But the intervening years haven't been so kind to the Bears.

The California attempts to wipe out that decade of frustration Saturday when they collide with top-ranked USC in one of the top games on the collegiate football lists.

USC Unbeaten

USC, unbeaten in six starts, is favored by seven points but the Berkeley Bears will visit Los Angeles poised to spring an upset.

Cal, a surprising 5-1-1 this season, figures it has the defense to stop O. J. Simpson and the club exudes confidence from head coach Ray Wilsey down through the ranks of the sophomores on the squad.

"If we play our very best game, we can win," is the way Wilsey sums up his team's chances.

California carries impressive credentials into the game. The Bears rank third in the nation in total defense, yielding an average of 206 yards a game. They've given up an average 90 yards a game in rushing, which would indicate Simpson, who has averaged 174 yards per game, will find it rough going.

The Cal defense, which hasn't given up a touchdown in the last two games, is led by guard Ed White, a 250-pound senior. The Golden Bears have yielded only 39 points in seven games.

Second-ranked Ohio State, also shooting for a Rose Bowl berth, has a somewhat easier assignment. Coach Woody Hayes' Buckeyes meet winless Wisconsin and are favored by 20 points.

Third-ranked Kansas, enjoying its best start in 80 years, takes on Oklahoma and the Jayhawks are seven point favorites to successfully hurdle their next-to-last major obstacle in a bid for the Big Eight crown and a possible Orange Bowl berth. The Jayhawks close their season Nov. 23 against Missouri in the game expected to produce the champion.

Penn State is Pick

Penn State, also 6-0 and ranked fourth, is a 6½ point choice over Miami, (Fla.) while fifth-rated Tennessee is favored by three over Auburn in a key Southeastern Conference game to be played Saturday night at Birmingham, Ala.

The remaining members of the top 10 all are favorites. Purdue is a 13½ point choice over Minnesota. Michigan is rated 21 over Illinois, Missouri 22 over Iowa State, Texas 19 over Baylor and Georgia 7½ over Florida.

Yale, boasting the longest winning streak among the nation's major colleges (14), is favored to down Pennsylvania while Army is a two-touchdown favorite over Boston College in the Cadets' final home game of the season.

In other games Alabama plays Louisiana State at Birmingham, Texas, A&M faces Southern Methodist Utah is at Arizona State, Rice at Arkansas, Navy at Georgia Tech, Indiana at Michigan State, Pittsburgh at Notre Dame, UCLA at Oregon State and Harvard at Princeton.

Marksman Tumbles Pipers

By United Press International
Darel Carrier's Kentucky Colonels teammates call him "The Marksman," and he demonstrated in dramatic style Wednesday night how he earned the nickname.

Carrier scored 48 points, including seven three-point field goals, to lead the Colonels to a 131-112 American Basketball Association victory over the Minnesota Pipers. The victory was the fourth in five games for the Colonels and snapped the Pipers' five-game winning streak.

Connie Hawkins led Minnesota with 32 points while Randy Mahaffey aided Carrier with 28 for the Colonels.

The Denver Rockets defeated the Indiana Pacers, 109-107, the Miami Floridians beat the New Orleans Buccaneers, 123-109, and the Los Angeles Stars topped the Dallas Chaps, 123-117, in other ABA games.

Lonnie Wright scored 28 points for the Rockets but shared victory honors with seven-foot center Larry Bunce, who came off the bench in the last three minutes to make several key rebounds. Mel Daniels led the Pacers with 29 points and 16 rebounds. Les Hunter scored 33 points to lead the Floridians to their third straight victory and make their home debut at Miami a success before a crowd of 4,325. Austin Robbins and J. Jones scored 23 points each for the Bucs.

Ben Warley scored 40 points for the Stars, who took the lead on a 30-foot field goal at the third-period buzzer.

Hawaiian Favorite Billy Casper

HONOLULU (UPI)—Steady Billy Casper, bidding to win more tournament cash in one year than any man in the history of golf, today led a star-studded field into the first round of the $125,000 Hawaiian International Open.

Casper, winner of six PGA events and $203,769 in the money derby this year, was just about everybody's favorite to add the $25,000 top prize to his bankroll.

Quiet Billy came to the islands fresh from a triumph Sunday in the Lucky International Open at San Francisco and is just $8,000 short of the one-year earnings record set in 1967 by Jack Nicklaus.

The Hawaiian Open is played on the flat, 7,020-yard Waialae Country Club course which stretches along the scenic Kahala coast three miles from Waikiki.

Some pros complained that the greens left much to be desired. Unusually hot weather during the last six weeks left the putting surfaces bumpy and grainy.

Local prognosticators rated tall George Archer, young Dave Stockton and fast-rising Bob Murphy among Casper's top challengers in the 72-hole tournament, which will be nationally televised Saturday and Sunday by NBC via the Lani Bird satellite.

Other stars in the running included Arnold Palmer, who said he felt more rested than he has in months; Miller Barber, Doug Sanders, Bob Lunn, Chi Chi Rodriguez and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino.

Borger Eyes 11th Straight

Borger will be trying to uphold quite a record over Pampa Friday night when the Bulldogs invade Harvester Field for a north zone contest at 7:30 p.m.

The Bulldogs have won 10 straight games from the Harvesters and a victory Friday would see them even the series, that started in 1932 at 16 games each.

Two of the contests, in 1948 and 1940, ended in ties and games in 1937 and 1943 were not played.

Pampa won the first seven games played in the series, then came the tie, then the Harvesters won four of the next five.

The Harvesters biggest margin of victory was in 1950 when they rode to a 71-3 decision.

Since that time Pampa has won only three other times from Borger, the last time in 1957 when they claimed a 26-12 win.

But the Bulldogs began their winning streak the very next year and won by their winningest margin ever, 66-13.

Borger has blanked Pampa three times in the past 10 games and only four times have the Harvesters been able to score at least twice.

Pampa will not be in the best of physical condition with the absence of Scooty King.

King, the Harvester's leading ground gainer, will probably miss the Bulldog tussle with a badly bruised knee.

If so, and coach Swede Lee is pretty sure it will be so, fullback Hal Clabaugh will move to tailback and Bert Tollison, a 145 pound junior will play fullback for the Harvesters.

King, who had three straight good defensive games, will be replaced at linebacker by center Moss Hampton.

Lee said he expected the Harvesters to put the ball in the air quite a bit Friday night.

"Borger's big and very tough to run on," Lee said.

"They are more our size but still out weigh us and their defense has been very, very tough. If King is out it will affect our running game so I think we may have to put the ball in the air more than usual."

Gary Parrish, who had one of his worse nights at quarterback last week, will get the nod to start at that spot Friday.

The senior passer has completed 23 of 33 passes in four games, four for touchdowns to senior tight end Dan Carlton.

DAN CARLTON will be playing his next-to-last game for the Pampa Harvester football team Friday when they host Borger in a north zone game. Carlton is the leading passer with five touchdown passes.

Blazers Rip KC, 8-0

By United Press International
The Oklahoma City Blazers lured Kansas City into their home late Wednesday, then closed the trap 8-0, equaling a Blazer single game record.

In other Central Hockey League games, the Amarillo Wranglers dumped Tulsa 4-1 and the Fort Worth Wings staved off Houston for a 4-3 win.

The Apollo-Wings game was the thriller of the evening. Fort Worth built up a four goal lead during the game, and then saw that melt away when Houston spaced three goals in the last five minutes.

Paul Andrea, CHL scoring leader, proved too much for the Tulsa Oilers. Scoring two goals. The Oilers hindered themselves with two penalties in the final seven minutes while attempting a come-back surge.

The Blazers game was a gala event from the start, with the Oklahomans hitting four goals in the first period, and then adding that many more in the final stanza. The Blazers are unbeaten in six straight outings, although they have used three ties to maintain the mark.

The leagues idle tonight.

Peru Horse Loses Out

LAUREL, Md. (UPI)—Trastevere, the 3-year-old champion of Peru, will be missing from the starting gate Monday when Laurel Races Track stages its $150,000 Washington, D.C. International.

Trastevere was scratched Wednesday because of political difficulties in getting the horse out of the country. Owner Augusto Maggilo informed Laurel officials a political junta took over Peru two weeks ago, imposing numerous restrictions on the public for the time being.

Laurel president John D. Schapiro said this was the first time in the 17-year history of the race that it had lost a horse to a political revolution.

The scratching of Trastevere, who had won eight of nine starts in Peru this year, leaves a field of eight, headed by the English Derby winner, Sir Ivor, for the mile and one-half turf classic.

Ireland's top trainer, Vincent O'Brien, arrived Wednesday in time to supervise Sir Ivor's initial training at Laurel.

Petrone, the last of three French horses coming to Laurel for the International, also arrived Wednesday. The final International horse, the defending champion Fort Marcy, will arrive Thursday from New York's Belmont Park.

Pampa, Lee Ninth, Seventh Grades Close Out Season

Ninth and seventh grade teams from Lee and Pampa Junior High ended their seasons today and Pampa's Shockers were in Amarillo shooting for their second straight win.

Saturday night the Lee and Pampa close out their football campaign on Harvester Field.

Ninth grade teams from the two schools play a 7:30 game tonight and the seventh grades met at 4 p.m. with both games on Harvester Field.

The Shockers, now 1-7, played Tascosa's Junior Varsity in Amarillo at 4 p.m.

Saturday will be the second meeting between Lee and Pampa eighth grades and Pampa eighth won the first encounter, 22-6.

Lee eighth (2-4) lost its first two games, to Pampa and Perryton by identical, 22-6 scores, then was blanked by Borger Austin, 32-0.

But the Rebels rebounded to trip Dumas 12-6 and Borger Houston, 50-6 before falling last week to Perryton, 40-0.

Pampa eighth, now 4-3, started off with identical 22-6 wins over Lee and Shamrock, 22-6 and beat Houston later, 16-0.

The Reapers have lost to Dumas, 14-6, Perryton, 41-33 and Borger Austin, 26-14.

State University were also a Southland Conference mark.

"I knew I could kick the ball that far (60 yards), but I didn't know if I would have the accuracy," Butler said.

He claimed he knew he could do the job—mainly because he had kicked 62-yards in practice.

"He's the closest thing to a one-man football team I've ever seen," vows Ut Arlington athletic director Chena Gilstrap.

Butler Puts Toe Into Ball

By TIMMY GEDDIE
ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI)—When Skipper Butler kicked four field goals—one of them a whopping 60-yarder—earlier this year, his University of Texas at Arlington mates dug out the record books to see if the long kick was a collegiate record.

After all, the professional record is "only" 56 yards.

The check showed a 61-yard kick by Bill Shear of Corland (N.Y.) State against Hobart College in 1908, but brought to light the fact that Butler already held three national college division records for field goals and was rapidly closing on two more.

Butler's current marks are for most career field goals with 27, most career attempts with 67, and most attempts in a season with 24 last fall. With three games still to play this year, Butler has hit 11 out of 22 field goals and needs just one more good kick to tie the single season record of 12 held by Lee Mayo of Tennessee-Martin.

In addition, Butler's toe has accounted for 140 Rebels points and the national mark for kicking is 162 by Bill Swartz of College of Emporia in 1961-64.

That record may be out of reach this fall, but Butler is only a junior.

Butler's four field goals, Oct. 3 in a 41-30 win over East Texas your defense has done a good job when you hold a team at your 40-yard line. But with Butler in there that may cost you three points."

Business Major Butler, a business major, came to Ut Arlington on a part scholarship from Gladewater, a town of about 5,500. He won 13 letters in football, basketball, baseball and track at Gladewater and was a standout quarterback.

Rebel coach Burley Bearden took one look at Butler's kicking ability when he was a freshman and decided to make him a fulltime kicker, and Butler has not played a down of varsity football as anything but a kicker.

Planning Vs. Freedom

The socialist zealots who, either deliberately or unthinkingly, advocate governmental planning ignore or fail to realize a simple fact: To the extent that government bureaucracies impose plans...

And socialism, in addition to immoral, is a bust from a strictly practical point of view. Everytime a solution to a problem is sought on a basis of "expediency" rather than principle, it is like trying to reinflate a punctured tire without repairing the hole.

Most, if not all of them, completely overlook the basic principles of a free market economy. They aim, instead, at the imposition of controls that would hurt the very people, the consumers, they profess to want to help by crippling their right of free choice.

Typical of the "expedient" approach to consumer problems is the advocacy of a major consumer organization for more careful radio and television licensing on the theory that "the airwaves belong to the public, but have been captured

And The War Goes On

The joy attending President Johnson's decision to halt the bombing of North Vietnam should not be permitted to obscure one quite inescapable fact. It is not peace. It is not even a ceasefire.

Americans cannot forget that some of the bitterest fighting of the Korean War took place during the long and frustrating negotiations first at Kaesong and then Panmunjom.

Even now more than 15 years later true peace has not come in Korea. American soldiers maintain an uneasy truce there and frequently die in patrol ambushes.

History cannot be allowed to repeat in Vietnam. While no time limit has been placed on the bombing halt our government has made it as clear as it can to Hanoi that its duration depends solely upon the will toward peace displayed by North Vietnam and the progress toward peace made by negotiators in Paris.

The outdoor nylon carpeting is said to have all the bounce, reaction, roll and bite of bent grass and, according to the resident professional, puts better than any natural green.

Pull Up A Chair

By JOHN KEASLER

We Now Call Them Colds

Only through inspirational examples of raw courage and through the expenditure of billions of dollars has our Space Program brought a much-needed new prestige to the common cold.

If you will notice, the astronauts did not say it was some new-fangled "virus" that made them cranky. No! They hauled off and said, "We've got colds."

I am glad to see our space probes well grounded in Grass Roots Americana particularly inasmuch as the Apollo 7 feat has brought new respect and an air of command to me personally.

I've had a stubborn Vi-cold for three weeks. Before our valiant astronauts gave the cold a new image I got no sympathy. (I had been saying "virus.")

"Yeah," people would say, disinterestedly, "Well, there's a lot of that going around."

The cold-sufferers in Apollo 7 gave the final definitive proof that whether or not there is a lot of that going around has nothing to do with it, as their colds went around and around.

Some advertising and promotional practices, granted, are irritating and in poor taste. But this does not call for a police state. The consumer, who is no fool, has merely to flip the switch or turn the page to remove the irritation.

In reality, consumer protectionism of the variety that would ban functions of the free market are examples of the kind of ignorant or uncaring "expediency" which lead people down the road to dictatorship and slavery.

Not only do I get sympathy now, but people jump when I cough or snifle. "I won't be in today," I telephoned by employer. "I'm ill."

"Yeah?" he said. "If you're not in your shackles and rowing before I say hangover you can..." Spacing my words ominously, I said, "I happen to have — a cold!"

"A-a-cold?" he quavered. "Get the wax out of your ears, Booby!" I snarled. "I'm not programmed for a quiz show."

"Sorry, sorry," he chattered. "If there's anything I can—" "You can get off the phone, for one thing," I said. "Go play with your pencils. I'll run things on this end. Don't call me, I'll call you. And no television tonight."

Hanging up I studied splash-down procedure and within two hours, after splashing down a few, I was high over Australia. My wife treats me with new awe.

She said, "Would you open this jar of pickles and—" "DON'T SUBJECT ME TO THESE PRESSURES!" I snapped. "Who scheduled pickle opening? It's easy enough for you to stand there whining 'Open the pickles, open the pickles. I wish all I had on mind was opening a jar of pickles! Get out of my life!'"

"I'm sorry, Dear," she said. "I forgot you had a cold."

Mollified, I told her several funny jokes and held up a placard lettered, "Rowan & Martin, your winter replacements are ready."

But it's not easy sitting there trying to be jovial when you've got a cold and you're trying to concentrate on the fact your glass is frosted over.

I spent the afternoon rigid with self-discipline in order to conserve energy but there were times when my nerves almost snapped. At one point, when I dropped my cough drop in the bourbon, I thought my reflexes had gone. It's not easy remaining completely motionless day after day and the toll on your nervous system is terrific.

"Gee," said one of the kids, coming in from school. "Daddy hasn't moved. Is he o.k.?" "Yeah," said one of the teenagers. "I held a mirror in front of his face."

"I'll tell the jokes here!" I shouted, snapping bolt supine. "Don't irritate me! I've got a cold!"

"What's a cold?" asked one of the smaller kids. "That's what Daddy and the astronauts have," my wife said. "Weightless bourbon?" asked a neighbor, coming in.

"Get off the air," I snarled to the world, and turned over to try to get some rest. My neighbor, usually a sardonic sort, was so impressed that I had a cold that he didn't even bring my saw back.

You Have Visitors from the White House, Mr. President!

A Look at the Book

By DR. BOB JONES

There is no tragedy like the tragedy of a missed opportunity. The world is filled with people who are failures because they failed to take advantage of an opportunity.

There are men who had a chance to get an education but who failed to avail themselves of it and who, therefore, have never been able to realize their full possibilities since their talents undeveloped. There are others who failed to grasp opportunities suddenly thrust upon them whereby they might have secured fortune and prominence. Shakespeare had this to say about opportunities:

There is a tide in the affairs of men, Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; Omitted, all the voyage of their life is bound in shallows and in miseries.

Some men are more fortunate than others. They neglect the first opportunity, and they are given another. To some men opportunity after opportunity is offered, and none are taken advantage of.

Saddest of all neglected opportunities is the opportunity of salvation. God gives a man an opportunity to prepare for eternity, and he neglects it. Sometimes in His divine mercy innumerable opportunities are offered, but there comes a time when the last opportunity slips by and soul goes into eternity unprepared and without hope.

When asked to trust Christ as their Savior some say, "Not today; another time." They squander this opportunity and impose on God for another. The Word of God says, "Behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation" (II Corinthians 6:2). There is now an opportunity. Tomorrow there may not be one. Life is uncertain, and God's opportunities are fleet of wing. The wise man seizes the present opportunities.

The bodies of some of the men who lost their lives in the attack of the Japanese upon Pearl Harbor were recovered from the sunken vessels. One of the Red Cross nurses helping to prepare the bodies for burial came upon the corpse of her own brother. In his hand was clasped his New Testament. In the back was printed, "I accept the Lord Jesus as my own personal Saviour," and in the blank provided underneath, the young man had signed his name. The nurse took the Testament; and underneath his name she wrote her own, signifying that she had accepted her dead brother's Christ, thankful that he had seized his opportunity to prepare for eternity and determined not to miss hers.

I think I have found the solution to the muggings and purse snatchings in this country. We ought to recruit a bunch of little old ladies from London.

Over in London a feller set out to snatch a handbag on a dark street. He chose a little old lady. He grabbed her handbag which contained 84 cents and a pension book and ran.

Little Old Lady, 71 year old Helen Cathcart, chased him and hooked his legs with her walking stick. "He wasn't in good training," she said.

She laid about him with her walkin' stick, she busted his spectacles, in fact, she turned him every way but loose. If it hadn't been that a taxi driver came along and rescued him, Little Old Lady might be bouncing him around on the pavement yet.

When the thief was brought to court nine hours later he was still shaking like a hairless dog in a meat case. His face was covered with cuts and bruises and his nose was busted.

The magistrate took pity on him and said he had already been punished enough and let him off with a warning. Yesir, if we could import a bunch of little old ladies like Helen with their walking sticks we might clean up on the purse snatchers for good.

A woman called the power company office and complained that her bill was too high. The company checked the meter and wiring, had reported nothing was wrong.

A couple of days later the woman called to apologize, saying she had found the trouble. "I found a socket without a light bulb in it, and the electricity must have leaked out of there," she explained.

The American Way

By D.R. SEGAL

It seems to be pretty well agreed that the principal issue with politicians today is "law and order." Me, I have mixed feelings about law and order. When you join the two words with an ampersand, it gets to be a political commodity. It doesn't really mean behaving yourself; it's more a slogan than anything else, rather vapid and mindless.

Whose law and whose order are we talking about? I am not in favor of a lot of laws—most of them, maybe—and I don't get a tingle when somebody says I have to be for a law just because a group of politicians, responding to Lord-knows-what pressure group, have put it into the books. As for order—well, who has had more "order" in their history than the Germans, and it didn't seem to buy them much besides two losing wars.

There were some people once in a city called Boston who didn't think much of a law taxing tea, or a law respecting personal property either, and they dumped a whole load of it into a harbor of this city. And their ancestors 200 years later celebrate this breach of the peace and offense against private property as an act of patriotism and moral uplift.

Some law and order! Glad we don't have anything in common with them guys.

Of course, we like to make the point that the anti-law and order element of 1776 was striking a blow for freedom although it did not seem that way to great Britain. I can remember when Fidel Castro was a good guy, too, and not really against law and order; but when he turned out to be rotten to the core, we said, well, that one was nothing but a damned revolutionary.

(Whoops! Scratch that. We're getting back to 1776 again.) Imprecision is the trouble with this law and order kick. It's a poor way to describe what we really mean. When we get to the point where we revere authority, simply because it is, and obey laws only because they've been passed, then we have become robots. "Order" is subject to some qualification, too, and if it is not based on intelligent and moral precepts it is criminal to adhere to it.

The vandalism, arson, looting and violence of all sorts which are attendant on almost all political activities today are not a revolt against law and order. The violent ones want law and order, but they want to make the laws and enforce the order. They are tired of being promised miracles; they are angry that the present establishment (law and order) has not made them rich and beautiful and warm and cuddly, and so they want to take over and make their own establishment to do the miracle. It is unrealistic not to understand this. The ones who want "law and order" the most ardently are those with plans for radical political action, for only by the proliferation of law and the enforcement of order can the vast and glorious dreams of the utopians be fitted upon the nation.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Mass Media: The Great Enemy In America, TV is the third parent in many homes and the first parent in some. Television is a prime cause of crime, declining morals, mental and physical softness, and the spread of Communism in America. TV constantly teaches such things as how to make a molotov cocktail, how to break "bad laws" and get by with it, and how to wear your brains in your bikini. As far as I can discover, TV never teaches children honesty, patriotism, religion, honor and respect for parents, responsibility, the dignity of work, morality or any of the eternal verities upon which our nation and civilization was built.

During the Battle of Chicago, NBC was caught red-handed "bugging" the hotel room where the Democratic Platform Committee conducted its closed deliberations. The TV networks refused to give Mayor Daley an hour to tell the truth to the American people. The networks prefer to give the time to some Hollywood Communist. As all informed Americans now know the Chicago insurrection didn't "just happen." It was planned that way, in meticulous detail, by Communists, anarchists, and Democrats, long before the Democrat convention.

Some newsmen themselves deliberately taunted Chicago police, trying to get "action" for the TV cameras. It is interesting to note that no newsmen or cameramen from any conservative newspaper were manhandled or arrested by police.

Mayor Daley has pointed out that no TV network showed the confrontation when the Deputy Police Superintendent told the insurgents they could march if they marched on the sidewalk. Mayor Daley claimed, correctly, that no network would show any pictures of the hippies and yuppies sitting in the streets of Michigan Avenue, blocking traffic; that no network showed how policemen were hit with pieces of concrete with a nail through the center and with bags of human excrement. Also, nobody showed pictures of the 51 policemen injured during the week, some having been hit in the face with rubber balls stuck with long nails. The predominantly leftist press and networks never stated what the provocation was but only showed police manhandling the "innocent" young protesters. If Mayor Daley had ever actively engaged in anti-Communism, he would have known which side most of the mass media would be on.

But there are some great patriotic newspapers in this country. Awhile back, in New York City, a policeman was on duty at a peace rally in Town Hall. Speaker after speaker denounced and ridiculed the U.S. and finally the policeman could stand it no longer. He walked out on the stage and sang "God Bless America" to the accompaniment of boos and catcalls. Afterward he was given an examination by a Police Department psychiatrist. Imagine anybody nutty enough to do a thing like that! But the psychiatrist gave him a clean bill of health.

When the Amvets gave their annual Americanism award, they chose this man, Detective John L. Heslin, the New York policeman who had the courage to stand up for his country against the mob.

But the Police Department ordered Heslin not to accept the award. And then a great newspaper got into the act: The New York Daily News printed the whole story and the Police Department was deluged with demands from irate and patriotic citizens that Heslin be allowed to receive the award. And now Detective Heslin, American First Class, holds the Amvet Americanism Award, along with his three previous citations for outstanding bravery.

God bless America—and Detective Heslin and The Daily News!

The Doctor Says:

Contacts Will Overcome Child's Extreme Shyness A mother writes that her daughter, 6, is extremely shy. Her teacher says she will not take part in any school activities or play with the other children. Her behavior at home is perfectly normal. This is not an uncommon problem in children who have not had much contact with children of the same age. Pushing them into large group activities will only aggravate the trouble. This mother should invite one or two of her daughter's new acquaintances into her home two or three times a week. At first she should stay with them and keep the party going.

As her daughter comes to accept new friends, she should gradually increase the number and withdraw so that they can be on their own. The child should not be scolded or teased about her shyness but, as she comes out of her shell, her mother should start in a quiet way to present the advantages of joining a Brownie group when she becomes old enough.

Q—My daughter has a nervous habit of picking at her upper lip until it bleeds. How can I get her to stop? A—She will have to do the stopping for herself. She may need the help of a child psychiatrist to find out why she does this. In addition to spilling her looks, there is the danger of infection.

Q—My child has molluscum contagiosum. What causes it? Is it serious? What treatment do you recommend? A—This skin disease is caused by a virus. It is not very contagious, but the victim may spread it from the part of his body to another. It is not serious. The usual treatment is to incise each papule, squeeze out the contents using aseptic precautions so as not to spread the infection and apply trichloroacetic acid or silver nitrate to the cavity. If the disease is extensive, your doctor may also want to give your child a sulfa drug.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
Sealed bids will be received by the clerk of the Board of Education of Independent School District No. 197 of Roberts County, Oklahoma, Texas, hereinafter referred to as the Owner, at the School Building, Miami, Texas, until 5:00 P.M. Nov. 21, 1968, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. Bids received will be for the construction of the additions and alterations to buildings for the Independent School District, Miami, Texas.

Copies of the plans and specifications are on file in the public inspection at the following places:
1. Superintendent's office, School Building, Miami, Texas.
2. F. W. Dodge Company, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.
3. Southwest Construction News, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Contract documents for the work may be obtained from the architect, a deposit of $5.00 (Fifty Dollars) payable to the Architect will be required for each complete set of plans and specifications. Plan deposits will be refunded when the work is returned in good condition not later than 10 days after opening of the bids.
The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any formalities.
Proposals must be made on the form enclosed within the specifications. Proposals must be signed by the person or persons authorized by the bidding firm. No oral, telegraphic, or telephone proposals will be considered.
All bids shall be in strict conformity with Plans, Specifications and Instructions to Bidders, and shall be accompanied by a check for 5% of the amount bid with the assurance to the Owners that the Bidding Company will furnish 100% Performance Bond if bidder is successful. Only Bidding Companies currently registered on the U.S. Treasury Department's approved list of surety firms for federal works will be accepted, and bond will be forfeited as assessed and liquidated damages in case the bidder fails, neglects or refuses to comply with the terms of the bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid after opening date.

Bidders' bulletins will be issued by the Architect to clarify plans and specifications if necessary, and only if such information is called to the Architect's attention not later than three days after the bid opening date. Such bulletins will become a part of the contract documents.
