He pointed out that his office will need to make an appraisal on the wheat before a farmer does anything to it, if he is to be eligible for a disaster payment. "An appraisal should not be requested until you have made up your mind to make other use of the land," advised Fuston.
The ASCS office has mailed letters to farmers in this area along with allotment notices. Allotments do not limit the number of acres one can plant. The allotment will be used only to determine the disaster or deficiency payments. The allotment notice will not have the 1976 cotton yield on them, it will be mailed to the farmers at a later date.
For allotment protection, farmers may plant - for harvest or grazing - any crop they wish. By reporting by August 1, the acreage of whatever crops they have, farmers can protect the history of their allotments and yields for the year.

For disaster payment purposes, Fuston explains, cotton acreage must be planted at least to the so-called cotton disaster allotment. Cotton can be substituted for the allotted acreage of wheat, corn, grain sorghum and barley. Any of the feed grain crops can be substituted for any other feed grain but not for cotton.

The County Committee has approved the transfer by lease of sale of cotton in and out of the county for this crop year 1976.
"If you are not going to plant your farm's cotton allotment acreage, we recommend that you release the acreage to the County Committee or transfer it to someone else," said Fuston. He suggested that if a farmer is going to plant more cotton than is allotted for his farm, he should request an increase in his allotment form reapportioned cotton acres.
Fuston also announced that his office would be closed Monday, February 16, in observance of George Washington's birthday.

The phase down which is expected to be completed in the next 12 months will leave only a small National Headquarters, and five Regional offices located at San Francisco, San Antonio, Chicago, Atlanta and Baltimore. The function of these offices will be to develop plans for restoring the System in event of a National emergency and to continue of Reserve and National Guard Officers who have mobilization assignments with the Selective Service System. ### Workshop On Employment

Helping people get jobs and keep jobs will be the focus of a workshop on Employment Opportunities for area local government and private employers, February 17-18, at Texas Tech University.
The workshop is conducted by the Division of Continuing Education and the Center for Public Service at Texas Tech, and is co-sponsored by the South Plains Association of Governments.
"The session will bring together persons from local governments and persons who have experience in developing new areas of employment opportunities and who can help employers keep the employees they have", said Dr. Paul Chalfant, Chairman of the Texas Tech Department of Sociology and Coordinator of the workshop. "Speakers for the meeting will discuss new industries for Texas, opportunities for older persons and methods for assisting employees to overcome problems which might hinder their ability to continue working."
Registration will be at 1:00 p.m., February 17, in the Continuing Education Building (X-15), at Texas Tech University. Sessions will begin at 1:30. Speakers include Millie Hathcock, Texas Department of Community Affairs on "An Overview of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA); Ann Brownlow, S.P.A.G., and William Powell, South Plains Community Action Program, Levelland, on "CETA in the South Plains Area."
Registration for second day sessions will begin at 9:00 a.m., February 18. Sessions start at 9:15. Speakers will be Ray Prewett, Texas Department of Community Affairs, on "Encouraging New Employment Opportunities Through Texas First"; John Keith, Green Thumb, Inc., Lubbock, on "The

Global Garbage Dumping

The stratosphere has become the new global garbage dump. And our lungs and lives are at stake.
The controversy is still raging about ozone depletion and the effect of chemicals used as propellants in spray cans. The debate specifically centers on the use of chlorofluorocarbons - compounds containing chlorine, fluorine, and carbon. These chemicals from spray cans can actually penetrate the protective layer of ozone, which is between 10 and 25 miles high.
Ozone is a bluish gas with a penetrating odor which is created by the breaking apart of oxygen molecules bombarded by ultraviolet light. This gas absorbs high-energy ultraviolet light from the sun and protects the earth from these rays.
Nitric oxide, formed when an atom of nitrogen and one of oxygen combine, is the dominant natural factor governing ozone levels. Oxides of nitrogen can be created by supersonic transport exhaust and by nitrates used in fertilizer. Dr. Michael B. McElroy of Harvard University believes these oxides are affecting the ozone level. Another threat, he says, is the amount of chlorine employed in chlorinating water supplies and by sewage and power plant operations. The amount, he says, is hundreds of times greater than the amount produced by spray cans.

Holland...

After his discharge, Jasper came to his father one day and said, "Dad, I think I am going to go back to high school." This he did and received his diploma. Still interested in furthering his education, he decided to attend college. He graduated from Texas Christian University with a B.A. degree in Geology in 1950. With a college diploma, he found there were no jobs just waiting for him, so he went back to school and received his Masters in Geology in 1954.
During the time he attended college, he and his wife picked up bottles and sold them, to help "make ends meet."
After he received his degree, Jasper was employed as an Engineering Geologist by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, and has been working for them up to the present time. He is presently Regional Geologist for 13 Western States and a certified Engineering Geologist in California.

Holland helped organize the Portland Section, AEG, and has been a member of AEG since 1964. He has served as Chairman of the Portland Section and Co-Chairman of the 1971 Annual Meeting held in Portland, Oregon. He has served as Regional Representative, two years as AEG Membership Chairman, as well as secretary and vice president.
At the present time, Holland is president of the Association of Engineering Geologists, over 27 countries. He was installed on November 6, 1975 at Lake Tahoe.

This honor fell on the heels of his participation at the White House Conference on Geology, and moves him into one of the 18 key posts in the American Geological Institute.
Jasper says he hopes his term of office will find local units of government being nudged into use of Engineering Geologists before structural problems occur. An article in the September issue of "Geotimes", authored by Holland and three others, emphasized the leadership role that Federal government can play in producing geologically sound land use planning.

Holland is a 25 year veteran as an Engineering Geologist.
He and his wife, Bessie, are Texas natives but have lived in Portland for 20 years. They have six children; four girls and two boys.

Hearing Set For Gas Regulation

DALLAS -- A public hearing will be held in Dallas February 17-18 to obtain a broad spectrum of viewpoints on the future of regulatory activity governing the petroleum industry, it was announced today by D.M. Fowler of Dallas, regional administrator for the Federal Energy Administration.

The public hearings are required by the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (EPCA) passed by Congress and signed by President Ford December 22, 1975, Fowler said.

Control Internal Parasites In Horses

Control of internal parasites is important for healthy, thrifty horses, says Spencer Tanksley, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Trichlofon is effective in removing the larvae of bot flies within the horse's body. Bot fly eggs remaining on the hair of the horse can be removed by sponging with warm water containing some insecticide. Foals born that may have developed round worms in the small intestine will benefit from treatment with piperazine and will be healthier and more vigorous.

The most damaging parasite of horses, the large strongyle or "blood worm," can be effectively attacked at the same time as other internal parasites are removed, adds Tanksley. A regular program of worming horses at 6-8 week intervals is necessary to control strongyles. A periodic worming program followed diligently during the winter months will help a great deal in cleaning up mares and reducing the number of strongyle eggs available to their foals when they are born in the spring.

Thiabendazole or a piperazine-carbendisulfide-phenothiazine combination are both effective in removing adult strongyles. Treat all horses on the premises at the same time to prevent cross infection of the worms. "Tubing," the process of introducing a tube into the stomach of the horse, is preferred for giving the required dose of worm medicine, explains Tanksley. Most large-animal veterinarians will have the drugs needed to do a satisfactory job of worming horses of various ages as well as the ability to administer the medicine without injury to the animal. A veterinarian will also be able to advise the horse owner about pasture management needed to control parasites as well as any other health problems with which the owner is concerned, adds Tanksley.

Library News

By Anne Camp

Storyhour was held Wednesday morning in the basement of the library for children from the Goodwill Center kindergarten, with 27 children and teachers attending. A valentine theme was observed with a treat at the end of the program. Anne Camp told the children the old folk tale of "The Sun and the Wind" and the filmstrip of Cinderella was shown.

Several groups of Cub Scouts have visited the library: Lucretia Kelly and Linda Vinson brought their troop, in January. This week Jeannie Bartley and her cub scout troop from Sudan visited the library. They were shown how to use the library, how to look for books in the card catalog; how to return a book if the library isn't open and how to check out a book.

They were shown a filmstrip in the basement and received a plastic bookbag to protect the books they got. Visitors are always welcome at the library, however we ask that they call a day or two before planning to come.

Circulation has been very good - records show that 52,547 books and other materials were checked out in 1975. This is the highest circulation the library has had. The library thought it had a good circulation in 1967 when there were 18,000 checked out. It has steadily increased to the present figure.

The library is happy to have Rheata White as Artist of the Month. Everyone is urged to come by and view several of her paintings in a variety of media. One unusual one is an enamel on copper.

Get in the spirit of the Bi-Centennial with reading from the special display of books on the American History. Several very well written children's books were donated this week with the following note:

"As a tribute to the forefathers of our great nation on this two-hundredth anniversary, I wish to donate to the children's department the following books:"

The Story of the Constitution, The Story of the Statue of Liberty, The Story of the Star Spangled Banner, The Story of Montecello, and The Story of the Alamo, given by Florence Bobo Huddleston, of Fort Worth.

These will indeed be a great addition to the history section, and the library appreciates her thoughtfulness very much.

District Style Show Set For April

At a recent meeting of the Women's Cotton Promotion Association advisory board, the time of the year for the "Sew it with Cotton" contest and style show for both County and District, has been changed from the fall time of the year, to the spring. This change was a request from several of the homemaking teachers in the district. It would be more convenient for the homemaking girls to enter in the spring rather than in the fall. The County "Sew it with Cotton" contest and style show this year will not be held. Only the District contest and style show will be held this year, but next year, they will have both County and District.

The District "Sew it with Cotton" contest will be held on May 1, 1976 at the Atkins Junior High School, 5401 Ave. U, in Lubbock. The judging is at 10:00 a.m. and style show at 3:00 p.m. There will be first, second, and third prizes in each of the 11 categories, of $100, $50, and $25.

Love always makes those eloquent that have it.
-Christopher Marlow.

As in the past, the contest is not limited to Cotton Club or Cotton Promotion Association members. Professional seamstresses MAY NOT ENTER. (Currently employed Home Economic Instructors, Home Extension Agents, etc.) Women who sew for the public ARE NOT considered professionals and may enter garments for themselves or make garments for others. The garment or garments for this contest will be entered directly into the District.

Entry blanks may be picked up at the local piece goods stores, and entries are to be mailed to Mrs. Cecil Jones. She is the Bailey-Lamb chapter president, or Mrs. R.B. Boyd, 7006 Orlando, of Lubbock, 79413. Entries must be in by April 15, 1976.

ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME

THIS SIGN... ON A NEW HOUSE MEANS 40% OR MORE SAVINGS ON HEATING & COOLING COSTS

It has been known for some time that methods existed to insure the building of ENERGY EFFICIENT HOMES. But, inexpensive energy in the past made it logical to ignore the extra investment such a home would require. Now with energy costs rising, it becomes more and more important to use effectively every bit of energy we consume. The TOTAL ELECTRIC ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME does this... and, it means, conservatively, a 40% reduction in heating and cooling costs.

You'll be hearing more about the ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME. If

Review New Years Resolutions Realistically

COLLEGE STATION -- The more realistic a person's New Year's resolutions are, the greater are his chances for a happy New Year. Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says.

"But when a person cannot set his life goals realistically and sets unattainable goals, he becomes distressed. It's normal for people to be anxious from time to time because of family worries, social stress or business difficulties.

"The situations that cause people to 'cop out' are those which are distressingly unattainable, in addition to the regular pitfalls and rewards of change and everyday living," she added.

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In reviewing your resolutions, she suggested asking yourself these questions.

"To me the little things of life . . . place highly in my heart . . . a silver star, a baby's smile . . . to me are priceless art . . . the flowers or a friendly word . . . mean very much to me . . . for though they may seem trivial . . . their worth is three times three . . . a bit of childish laughter or . . . or the tears that wet their eyes . . . do far exceed a hill of gold . . . as does a bright sunrise . . . I could proclaim a thousand things . . . that do not seem like much . . . and yet when they are gone from view . . . we miss their golden touch . . . for I believe real happiness . . . is not hard to be found . . . if we regard the trivial things we like to be around."

I hope you will like reading it as I have.

Plenty of ROOM!

Have you ever, when on a vacation, in the peak of the tourist season, looked and looked along the highway for a roadside park with an empty table so that your family could have a picnic lunch and rest? Then, of course, all might travel refreshed. How nice it is to come upon a park like this one, with the breeze blowing across the water.

Isn't it wonderful that there is always plenty of room at the House of God? There is always a church where you can receive spiritual food, and sweet rest of the soul. The church holds out its arms in welcome to all, inviting everyone to come and learn of God. Won't you attend this week?

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The Mules dropped two games on the road, the first to Perryton, 66 to 57 and the second to Dumas, 49 to 47. Coach Raymond Schroeder commented, "I was pleased with our plays except that we made some mental mistakes at times that hurt us. The hustle that the Mules have shown has been impressive to me. Our scoring in the Perryton game was more balanced than it normally is. Carey Sudduth had 18 points, Robert Shafer 14 points, Den Nurthcutt 10 points, Tommy St. Clair 7 points, Mark Washington 4 points, Mike Wisian 2 points, and Billy Vinson 2 points. The Mules play their final game against Canyon Friday. Canyon won the first half of the district, but with a good effort and some luck, we have a good chance at beating the Eagles.

Billions Spent Annually On Unproven "Cures"

An estimated $2 billion will be spent this year by Americans searching for painless "miracle cures" for cancer, according to the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

The real tragedy behind that figure is not so much the money but the countless number of lives that will be lost to cancer because properly administered treatments were set aside when they were most urgently needed.

Cancer -- found at an early stage and properly treated -- stands a good chance of being controlled. This is evident by the fact that some 222,000 Americans were saved from cancer last year alone. With improved screening and early detection, that number will undoubtedly increase this year. Every delay in treatment rapidly diminishes the cancer patient's chances for controlling the disease.

Because cancer is a powerful disease that requires powerful treatments, the cancer patient is easy prey for the quack who offers a simple, painless solution for a "cure."

Just the word "cancer" frightens many people into a sense of hopelessness. Many people when told they have cancer feel they are doomed -- falsely believing that all cancers are incurable. Others fear surgery, radiation therapy and treatment with strong drugs that have proven effective against the cancerous cell. Enter the quack.

In general the more educated a person is about cancer, the less vulnerable he is to cancer quackery. Unproven methods of cancer management include a wide range of devices, methods and reasonings. In the past quacks have been known to use anything from cobwebs dipped in arsenic to empty boxes with colored lights to useless drugs.

While quacks are difficult to spot, the American Cancer Society lists the following traits which quacks tend to share:

- Quacks tend to be isolated from established medical facilities and associations.
- They do not use regular channels of communication for scientific reporting, relying instead on publication in the free press and lay journals.
- They often offer a "secret cure" many times bearing their own name.
- They often claim persecution by the medical profession -- refuse consultation with qualified physicians -- maintain scanty records or none at all.
- They rely on testimonials of people they have supposedly "cured." Often these patients also have undergone conventional cancer therapy which accounts for control of their disease. Many of these patients do not have biopsy proof of cancer and, in fact, probably never had the disease.

For Rent

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now. But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time. Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump... other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.

Meeting Set For Amarillo

An innovative method for applying herbicides directly into irrigation systems used in agricultural crop production is the subject of a full-day meeting in Amarillo on February 24. Growers, chemical dealers, equipment manufacturers, and extension irrigators will be attending the meeting at the Amarillo Hilton Inn.

Sponsored by Stauffer Chemical Company, the meeting is called an "Herbigation Seminar" and will feature talks by expert irrigation engineers and weed specialists who have worked closely with developing the new herbigation technology.

Chief among these will be Paul Fischbach, irrigation engineer from University of Nebraska, who has specialized in herbigation for many years in the midwest; and Eugene Heikes, weed specialist from Colorado

State University. Heikes has developed several years of weed control efficiency data based on his own field trials and grower on-farm results.

Representatives from Stauffer Chemical Company will discuss the company's line of herbicides that have been developed and federally registered for this type of application.

Emphasis of the meeting will be to discuss how herbigation techniques can be adopted to southwestern crop production practices, especially in corn. Equipment, setting up and calibration, economics, and weed control efficiency, will be reported on.

Growers and others attending the meeting will have an opportunity to question the speakers about herbigation and how it relates to their agricultural interests.

Further information about the meeting can be obtained by contacting Stauffer Chemical Company in Houston at 713/688-9311.

Reagan Committee Meets 15th

Robert L. Monaghan, Chairman of the Ronald Reagan for President Delegate Selection Committee of Congressional District No. 19 announced today that the committee will meet on February 15, 1976, at 2:00 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce Directors' Room, located in Brownfield, Texas on the Lubbock to Odessa Highway in Brownfield. The purpose of the meeting is to choose four delegate nominees to represent Governor Reagan on the ballot in the May 1, 1975, Texas Republican Primary.

The Presidential Primary in Texas was approved by the last session of the Texas Legislature. Often referred to as the "Bentsen bill", it provides that these committees will select the delegate nominees to appear on the ballot in the respective party primaries, pledged to either a certain candidate or an uncommitted slate.

"Governor Reagan's qualifying petitions were signed by approximately 8,000 Texas voters, being over ten times the required number. His strong showing", Mr. Monaghan said, "is due to his forthright stand in favor of reducing the size of the bureaucracy that now absorbs more intrusive, coercive, meddlesome and less effective."

"His candidacy will be good for the Party and the nation", concluded Mr. Monaghan, "and I believe his excellent record as Governor of California proves he has the leadership qualities that Americans would like to see in their President."

"The public is invited to attend, and participate in this important part of our nation's electoral process", said Mr.

African churchmen urge greater fight against racism.

Monaghan, "and we feel that Governor Reagan's strong grass root support will enable him to win the Texas Primary handily."
