With the election rumpus all quieted down, perhaps it will be a bit easier to get back to the knitting again. . . . One thing is certain, you won't have to listen to a lot of half-cracked election jokes.

Speaking of the election . . . There will be a reverberation at the next Tuesday luncheon of the Junior Jaycees. . . . Tommy Chesner will be collecting a bet from "Pop" Hodges. . . . Hodges will pay off by appearing at the meeting in only half a pair of pants. . . . This should be an attendance stimulator for next week's session.

A newspaper dispatch informs us that Landon will try to forget it all by going duck hunting. . . . After adding up the electoral votes, it would appear that the ducks have nothing to worry about.

The more we analyze Tuesday's vote, the more we are convinced that what really was happening was nothing more nor less than another Democratic primary. The Republicans, they say, already are figuring on the home-coming game for 1940.

Come to think of it, the odds against Alfie were pretty tough when you consider the had to drag around a bunch of party skeletons in addition to the handicap of chronic mike fright, aided and abetted by over-size jitters.

But, why talk politics when it's all over and on the shelf? . . . After all, the country really isn't going to pot, at all. . . . Just one more political remark—a story is breaking today in the Panhandle that will call for state-wide attention in 1938.

INVECTIVE HURLED
PARIS, Nov. 5 (AP)—A burst of invective between rightist and leftist deputies forced temporary suspension of today's initial session of the French chamber of deputies, a few minutes after it had been convened. Answering, Deputy Foutou-Duplessis cried: "We are not surrendering."

GOODRICH MAY MAKE RACE FOR STATE OFFICE
May Be Candidate For Attorney General

Although reverberations from the presidential election are just dying down, the stove-league political talk for the winter on "who will be who" in the race for state offices in 1938 already had cropped out today.

This development came when it was learned that Lewis Goodrich, of Shamrock, 31st district attorney, is seriously considering tossing his hat into the ring as a candidate for Attorney General of Texas.

When questioned today about the possibility of entering the race, Mr. Goodrich replied that he had no definite announcement to make at this time.

Mr. Goodrich on Jan. 1, 1937, will begin his third term as district attorney of the 31st judicial district.

COURT DOCKET HERE TO CLOSE ON FRIDAY

Judge W. R. Ewing of 31st judicial district court, today was preparing to close the docket Friday for the September term.

Three judgments were handed down by the court yesterday.

Mary E. Walberg, suing the Central Savings Bank and Trust Co., was given title to lot 4, block 4 in E. East in Pampa.

D. B. Hutchens was awarded a $150 judgment in his suit against the Central State Power and Light Corp. In his original suit, damages of $2,500 were sought as the result of an explosion of gas at the Hutchens home, 809 E. Kingsmill, in which his son, John Hutchens, was injured about the face. The judgment was reached on agreement of both parties to the lawsuit.

A judgment of $4,989.32 was awarded to Bert Shepherd in his action to collect from Frank H. Stockton on a promissory note.

Following the close of the court term, the district court will move from Gray county to Wheeler county where a short term opens next Monday.

The next term in Gray county is scheduled to open on Monday, Jan. 4, 1937.

ELECTORS TO MEET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Presidential electors meet December 14 to cast their votes for chief executive for the four year term beginning next January. Of course, there's no doubt how they will vote. With the exception of those in Maine and Vermont, who are bound to Governor Landon, all will cast their ballots for President Roosevelt's re-election.

President's Majority Soaring Toward 10 Millions

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—The New York American in a signed editorial by the publisher, William Randolph Hearst, commenting today on the presidential election, said, "the overwhelming majority of the popular vote for Mr. Roosevelt shows conclusively that the Roosevelt policies are what the people of this nation want."

"And if these policies are what they want, these policies are what they are entitled to have and will have," the editorial continued. "The cardinal principle of our American democracy is government by the majority. . . . Let all who constitute the minority accept the decision of the majority not grudgingly."

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Large buying orders poured into the stock market in early trading today, lifting many issues $1 to $5 a share in a continuation of the post-election advance.

The indictment was brought against Thomas Lee Compton, of Pampa, charged with an alleged statutory offense against an 11-year-old girl.

The jury recommended a $2,000 bond for the defendant.

Attaches of the sheriff's office stated that Compton had been arrested and was in the county jail today awaiting an examining trial.

In making its final report to the court, grand jurors stated that during the court term they were in session 10 full days and returned 18 indictments.

REBEL PLANES SHOT DOWN

POLICE ARREST 38 PICKETS IN PORT ROUNDUP

UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLY IS CHARGED AGAINST SAILORS

GALVESTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Police arrested 38 pickets today in a roundup of "rank and file" seamen who have struck in sympathy with the Pacific coast maritime walkout.

Officers filed charges of unlawful assembly against the group.

Officers said rebellious seamen, who called the strike in defiance of International Seamen's union heads, had been allowed only two pickets on each street and posted many more than that number of men.

They said pickets were halting longshoremen on their way to work, and attempting to persuade the laborers to join the strike.

Meanwhile loading and unloading of vessels continued despite the strike. The Lukes Bros. Ripley steamer Westmoreland loaded cargo with International Longshoremen's association men at pier 38 near where some of the arrests occurred. At Pier 16 the German steamer Simon von Utrecht was completing load and scheduled to sail today. No pickets were near the latter boat.

Chief of Police Tony Mesina said the men were rounded up on streets in the western waterfront section where they were congregating, causing "near riots and intimidating people."

The men were brought to the police station in groups of six and after being booked were placed in the county jail to await trial Friday morning.

Only two pickets are allowed on each street leading to the waterfront, Mesina said, and they must be peaceful.

"I'll break up these mobs or wear the jail out trying," he announced.

Striking maritime workers endeavored to extend the widespread ship blockade today.

In New York plans were made to expand a waterfront "sitdown" strike into a general walkout, with charges of violence and intended violence exchanges by a ship owner and the head of a seamen's group.

John M. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine Corp., charges that an "organized group of malcontents" had instituted a "rejection" of the seamen's defense committee, reported that ship owners had hired "mobsters" to break up picket lines. Curran said he would ask for volunteers to picket all docks.

Longshoremen at San Pedro refused to unlash perishable cargoes from ships, and a coast referendum was being taken by the unions to decide whether to place

LEGION POST TO HELP DEDICATE MARKER SUNDAY

Will Assist in Flag Ceremonies at Unveiling

One of the liveliest American Legion meetings in years was held last night at the Legion hut. The Salvation Army lassies served the former doughboys coffee and doughnuts. Part of the program was a regulation Salvation Army war-time meeting. The Salvation Army under the command of Major Lambricht marched into the Legion hut in single file with drum beating and music playing.

Enthusiastic talks were given by Miss Thelma Colton and Major Lambricht's father of the Salvation Army. After the meeting a singing was led by Envoy M. A. Koehler and joined in by all members of the Legion Post.

It was decided to assist in the unveiling of the Indian battleground monument at the dedication ceremonies to be held Sunday. The Legion was asked to participate in the unveiling and to assist with the flag ceremonies by Ivy Duncan, chairman. This monument marks the site of the battle ground on which Lieutenant Frank Baldwin routed Chief Geronimo here at the charge of the wagon train.

Announcing plans for working with the schools Frank Culbertson outlined a plan for an Americanization program in the high school chapel at 10 a. m. Nov. 10. All Legionnaires who appear on this program and immediately prior to the war the official Legion cap. Plans for the celebration Armistice Day were completed.

FDR RECEIVES PACELLI

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt today received his luncheon hour today to receive the visiting Vatican dignitary, Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, papal secretary of state. Announcement of the meeting revived speculation that the high official of the Catholic church might sound a warning against the political activities of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit, but White House officials insisted it was purely a courtesy call.

DRASTIC PENAL CODE FOR GERMANY ORDERED

BERLIN, Nov. 5 (AP)—A drastic, sweeping penal code for Nazi Germany was disclosed to the press for the first time today by Minister of Justice Franz Guertner and other Nazi legal experts.

Notable features are:
1. The death penalty for murder and extortionary kidnaping.
2. Prison sentences for "publicly inciting the limitation of the number of offspring," cornering the market, making insulting remarks about Adolf Hitler.

3. Monetary fines or jail sentences for resurrecting the past of persons who have since proved worthy citizens, causing or ordering strikes or lockouts, and disclosing industrial secrets to foreign countries.

The new code is based on the Nazi principle that protection of the individual, is the paramount consideration in jurisprudence.

JURORS URGE OFFICERS TO BE DILIGENT

REPORT SUGGESTS CITY PLACES BE CLOSED BY AUTHORITIES

With recommendations that law enforcement officers use diligence to prohibit open gambling and that the commissioners' court cooperate with city authorities in ascertaining possibilities of a police radio system for Gray county, the September term grand jury wound up its business yesterday afternoon and submitted its final report to Judge W. R. Ewing in 31st judicial district court here.

The report, signed by Roger S. McConnell, foreman, stated that the jurors had found in their deliberations that for several months and immediately prior to the present term of the court, which opened on Sept. 21, that a number of places in Gray county had been conducted in a manner which constituted wide open gambling houses.

It was suggested in the grand jury report that costs of trials could be kept down by more diligent effort on the part of officers toward keeping them closed.

With reference to radio broadcasting systems for the county, the jurors said that an investigation revealed that the plan has been successful in detecting crime in other cities.

The complete report of the jurors, addressed to the court, follows:

"We have tried to follow your instructions in our deliberations and have found during the time we have been in session that for several months and immediately prior to the convening of this term of court that a number of places of amusement in this county have been conducted in a manner which consti-

NEW COLD WAVE WILL HIT PANHANDLE FRIDAY

A new cold wave menaced the Texas Panhandle today in the wake of the election day "norther" which brought freezing temperatures as far south as the Gulf coast.

Dr. J. L. Cline, meteorologist in charge of the Dallas weather bureau, said a mass of chilled air moving over the Midwest from Fridig Canada, would strike the Panhandle Friday. Temperature drops depended upon yet unascertained extent of the new wave, he said.

AGGIES TOLD TO 'THINK OUT AND THRU PROBLEM'

Jones Says No Way To Stop Depression Found

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 5 (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, told 4,000 Texas A. & M. college students today that the way to prevent business depression had not been found but that America was full of opportunities for youth.

The tall Houston, Texas, financier talked at ceremonies at which the college conferred upon him the honorary LL.D. degree, the second such degree given by the school in the 61 year of its history.

Jones, after expressing his appreciation to the college, directed most of his talk to the students, all young men. Discussing the business conditions of the last several years, during which he headed the government's giant lending organization, Jones said:

"We have been going through a very trying period these last few years. Many have been near distraction, but leadership came forth to show us the way. It always does. It is not the first time our people have been discouraged and distressed over economic conditions, nor will it be the last.

"Even our liberty may become endangered, but you, and men of your type will offer your lives if necessary to preserve our great republic, just as our forefathers offered theirs to win our independence. So be not afraid about your future. A. & M. college was opened immediately following the panic of 1873. The depression from which we are just emerging is probably the third since that one.

FASCISTS ARE ONLY 7 MILES FROM CAPITAL

MILITIAMEN RUSH TO MEET ONSLAUGHT OF TROOPS

MADRID, Nov. 5 (AP)—Heavy aerial and artillery bombardments shook the outskirts of Madrid today as Fascist insurgents started the "decisive battle" for possession of the Spanish capital.

Two insurgent fighting ships, which chased off a government bombing plane, were shot down during a spectacular sky battle over the eastern section of the city.

As the Fascist combat planes dove onto a squadron of government bombers, pilots in the Socialist ships opened fire and one of the insurgent craft burst into flames. A second insurgent ship caught fire a few seconds later.

For the third successive day the wall of air raid sirens in the capital was almost ceaseless. Punctuated by the steady crash of artillery bombardments in suburban district southwest of the city, the clamor sent residents scurrying to protection. Houses shook with the reverberating roar.

Madrid's anti-aircraft batteries withheld their fire during the engagement, which lasted just three minutes.

A few minutes later two giant insurgent combat planes were shot down today in a stirring "dog fight" directly over Madrid while thousands of militiamen streamed out of the city to push a counter-offensive from the capital's gates.

Two other Fascist pursuit planes, seemingly crippled in the aerial battle, fled back to their own lines.

The struggle in the sky began at 10:15 a. m., following a series of visits to the capital by insurgent squadrons.

Madrid's anti-aircraft batteries withheld their fire during the engagement, which lasted just three minutes.

A few minutes later two giant insurgent bombers, escorted by five pursuit planes, crossed the city toward Alcalá de Henares, to the northeast. The planes escaped withering bursts of anti-aircraft fire.

Whipped to a fever fighting pitch, new government troops hurried forward amid the roar of a fierce artillery bombardment between Socialist and Fascist guns only a few miles beyond the outskirts of the capital.

Excitement ran high as the city's inhabitants, awakened by the tramp of marching feet and the rattle of ammunition trucks, ran forth into the streets.

Mother, wives and sweethearts, some of them blinded by tears but showing a high courage, tripped along beside their marching men, handing them black milkless coffee and rolls as they went forward in an attempt to stem the Fascist avalanche.

As soon as the sun rose, the 8:30 am started withing and soon died. I say the Ceres which resembles a spineless castus blooms only once in a life-time. The bloom had creamy white petals, yellow stamens which open into a star. Some observers profess to see a cradle under the stars.

By NEA Service. Want to make a steak doddie? Then beat it. Even the toughest cuts respond to this treatment. A potato masher does the job thoroughly. If you are feeling vigorous, and at the same time eager to serve the family flavormore but inexpensive meats, start pounding two pounds flank steak with a wooden potato masher. Sprinkle it with flour, pound; then more flour and more pounding until you have mashed in as much flour as the steak will take. Do this to both sides. Next, season with salt and pepper and, for extra flavor, rub the poor thing with a clove of garlic.

Swiss Steak. Now for the cooking. Heat bacon drippings in an iron pan. Sear the steak on both sides until agreeably browned. Then turn in 2 1/2 cups tomatoes (No. 2 cans) and one No. 1 can lima beans. Use the lima bean juice, too. Cover lightly, then simmer in very moderate oven for 3 1/2 hours. Half an hour before removing from oven, add one tablespoon chopped parsley and one teaspoon lemon juice. That tender steak with its royal gravy is just the thing those mashed potatoes have been praying for.

Cris-Cross With Mustard. Another variation on "rough treatment for steaks" is the criss-cross mustard method. Use one inch thick round steak. Cut it into pieces large enough for individual servings. With a sharp knife, criss-cross on both sides, then press dry mustard and flour, half and half, into the cuts. Season with salt and pepper. Brown in bacon drippings, cover with boiling water or clear stock, and simmer in oven for 1 1/2 hours, turning the meat frequently. Add more water when needed. Twenty minutes before serving, dust lightly with flour and turn. The pungent meat and its mahogany brown sauce is another favorite for mashed potatoes.

MATANUSKA FARMERS HIT HARD BY STRIKE

PALMER, Alaska, Nov. 5 (AP)—It appeared today the maritime strike might force federal farm colonists in the Matanuska valley to go without turkey for Thanksgiving, and have to be satisfied with baked Alaska salmon, roast moose, wild fowl and cranberries.

One hundred fifty construction workers were laid off this week and only three staff houses will be completed; the colonists' grocery budget was cut 15 per cent and the hardware allowances were eliminated as the Rural Rehabilitation Corporation curtailed activities due to the shipping tieup.

Colonists are allowed to buy a specified amount of groceries from the government-operated store.

HOPKINS P-TA HAS EDUCATION WEEK PROGRAM

Plans Launched For Night Christmas Program

BY HELEN PARTRIDGE. HOPKINS, Nov. 5.—The P-T-A. held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon. Following the business meeting Mrs. Harwell, program chairman, presented a very interesting program. Miss Beckett gave a talk on National Education week, briefly outlining the week's program.

Mrs. Ripple talked on Intelligence which is one of the points on character building. Plans are to be made for a Christmas program to be held at night at which the men will be expected to attend.

The refreshment committee, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Sparks, Mrs. Simpson, and Miss Hamrick, served sandwiches and coffee to 28 P-T-A. members.

Personals. Mrs. Walter Parner was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital Wednesday afternoon. She is now at her home at the Hopkins No. 2 school.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Smith and son, Gene K., returned home last night from a two-week vacation in Ohio.

Mrs. Earl Diefendorf, injured in a fall Sept. 17, was able to return Tuesday to the Phillips PBX board where she is an operator.

Chapel Program

The chapel program given Wednesday by Miss Hamrick and her third grade pupils was based on "Good Citizenship, and "Care of Books." It was given in the form of two one-act plays. Wileda Partridge, third grade pupil led her class in two songs. Mrs. Peck, music teacher, led the group in singing.

Evening Program Is Planned for High School P-TA

As a more convenient meeting hour for fathers and many mothers of high school pupils, 7:30 p. m. was set for starting the High School Parent-Teacher association program this evening. It will be in city hall auditorium with the faculty in charge of the program.

Demonstrations will be given by an English and a social science class, and music by the Glee club and orchestra. Mrs. N. F. Maddux, president of the association, and Principal L. L. Some invite all parents of the students to attend.

The occasion is observance of American Education week.

SENSIBLE DIET FOR FAT FOLKS

A Fat Life is Often A Short One—Statistics Show

Too much fat puts too much work on any heart—the heart is apt to break down under the strain. Insurance companies constantly warn overweight folks to reduce but make sure you use a safe, sane method. The following has been proven ideal—

Cut down on fat meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets. Eat more fresh fruits and vegetables.

Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts first thing every morning in a glass of hot water for prompt elimination. Kruschen helps keep the system free from harmful excess wastes and poisons—gently sweeps them from both UPPER and LOWER bowel without purging or harsh cathartics—insures blissful daily bowel action.

A jar of Kruschen lasts for weeks and costs but a few cents. So start today and reduce—live longer—be healthier, happier, full of the joy of living.

Borger Is Determined To Beat Pampa Armistice Day

Dangerous Attack Is Being Perfected By Bulldogs

Bad medicine is being brewed behind closed gates at the Borger high school practice field, according to inside information received here. The bulldogs of Carl Moulden are determined to beat the Harvesters next Wednesday afternoon in a game to be played at Huber Stadium, which has been greatly improved since the last time the Harvesters met the Bulldogs.

Featuring a short punt formation, off which they run off tackle rushes, end runs and pass, the Bulldogs have a dangerous attack led by Allen and Conner. Allen is the main offensive threat and the boy the Harvesters will have to watch. They cannot overlook Conner, however. Conner is a midget, weighing about 135 pounds, who sweeps the ends and catches passes hunted by Allen.

The Bulldog line charges fast and sure, which is liable to bother the light Harvesters. There will not be much weight difference in the teams, but what advantage there is will go to Borger.

The ancient name for the river of Lydia in Asia Minor was Pactolus.

GORILLAS ARE DEFEATED BY PANTHER SUBS

CURRY'S BOYS SCORE 2 TOUCHDOWNS IN FOURTH

Over in Panhandle the rabid Panther football fans are fond of saying that Coach Pat Gerald's big cats could whip the Harvesters any day in the week. In an early season scrimmage the Harvesters smacked the Panthers by one touchdown. Even the most skeptical Panther supporter believes that the team is headed for and will not be stopped short of a regional title.

Yesterday, Coach Bob Curry took his Gorillas over to the Panthers' practice field for a game with Coach Gerald's second string, most of whom do some able substituting for the regulars. The Panthers scored their first touchdown in the first minute of the game after they blocked a punt back of the 20-yard line. They ran over another counter after a fumble in the second period for a total of 26 points. The Gorillas, like the Harvesters, looked better in losing than in winning. They passed for two touchdowns in the last quarter, failing to add the extra point for either score.

The Gorillas who were outweighed by the Panthers and who certainly were not the match of their foes in experience seemed to be drunk on lethargy until the second quarter when quarterback Denver Hubert seemed suddenly to realize that a pass or two wouldn't be a bad thing. Thereafter, he found it hard to call anything but passes. A long pass in the second quarter carried the ball to the ten-yard line. A line buck carried the ball to the two-yard line, and the time-keeper said it was the half.

The two Gorilla touchdowns were made in the fourth quarter. Jack Cunningham snagged a 46-yard pass and raced for a score. A few minutes later, Johnny Kidwell standing over the goal line caught a pass. The Gorillas advanced from the 40-yard line to the 6-yard line on passes, and every inch of the second touchdown march was made through the air. The final score was 25-12. The first-string Panhandle Panthers sat on the sidelines and watched the game which drew quite a few fans. The Panthers' average 100 pounds per man. The second string is smaller. The sparkling of the midnet, quarterback who carried the ball for most of the touchdowns and most of the gains. Considering the experience of the opposition and the fact that the Panhandle boys are the substitutes for a team that is rated tops among Panhandle Class B teams and also in a class with the Harvesters, Coach

Curry's Gorillas made a creditable showing. The Panthers, considering the bad breaks the Gorillas suffered, convinced no one but perhaps themselves, they had the superior team. The Gorillas whose performances this season have been temperamental should cut the Panther seconds down to their own size in any possible future game.

Destruction Turned Loose—to Save Lives

These mighty explosions, instead of demonstrating how many human beings can be killed at a single stroke, were designed to study means by which thousands of lives may be saved from the menace of coal dust blasts in mines. The experimental explosions were set off at Bruceton, Pa., by officials of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. This marked the 25th anniversary of the bureau's study of the hazard.

HOW TO WELD BIG MAJORITY IS CONSIDERED

REPUBLICANS HAVE 89 HOUSE, 17 SENATE SEATS

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—The decision of the nation's voters to place huge Democratic legions in congress brought to the fore today the problem of how to weld the most top-sided majority in history into an efficient, workable legislative machine.
Congress convenes at noon two months from today with at least 72 Democrats in the Senate chamber and 89 in the House. Republicans have clinched 17 Senate and 89 House seats.
That a big majority does not guarantee a smooth-working legislative body, congressional leaders are well aware on the basis of past performances. Factions and blocs are quick to take shape.
A number of Democratic spokesmen say they expect members of Congress to use their own initiative and judgment in the national law making, criticizing and opposing where they think such action merited. There will be almost surely

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Nov. 5 (AP)—Some members of the legislature obviously were disappointed because Gov. Allred did not call another session.
They claimed the governor had some of them say, a deliberate effort on the part of many legislators to insure against being called "rubber stamps."
Nevertheless, there are other Democrats who contend that the tremendous vote of confidence given President Roosevelt and the New Deal is likely to be interpreted by some legislators as a mandate to swing into line with unwavering support for the administration program.
A militant Republican minority generally is expected, since in spite of the Roosevelt landslide some 15,000,000 Americans voted for Alf M. Landon.
By ousting 24 Republicans and losing to 13, Democrats gained a net of nine House seats.
Including 4 holdovers and 25 elected Tuesday, the 72 Democrats assured for the Senate exceed by two the 70 of the last Congress, which was the previous all time high for any party. A majority is 49.
The 329 Democratic total in the House compares with the 321 mark of the last Congress and is 111 more than is needed for a majority.

implied that if a bill to raise new money for pensions and deliberalize the old age assistance was passed he would summon them again.
Allred maintained, however, he never had definitely committed himself and the need for 30 days more of law-making faded when additional taxes and deliberalization were enacted.
Not long before adjournment the House of Representatives presented Rep. Jap Lucas and Mrs. Lucas, newly-weds of Athens with a set of silverware.
Mrs. Lucas expressed appreciation briefly, but when Lucas started to say something Speaker Coke Stevenson ruled him out of order. "Anything you could say would be secondary evidence and therefore not in order," the speaker said amid laughter.
Gov. Allred said after the session he believed he had found a new way to hold local bills to minimum. Such measures sometimes create parliamentary jams and hamper passage of more important legislation.
"I didn't submit one," he said. "The legislature passed a few, however, and I will sign them. It wasn't such a bad system."
One member commented that local bills were not as unimportant as some might think.
"If a member takes care of the squirrel and rabbit hunting rights of his community," he said, "the rest doesn't matter so much."
Speaker Stevenson appointed five Representatives, Manley Head of Stephenville, Vernon Lemens of Rainbow, A. M. Aiken, Jr., of Paris, Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Morris Roberts of Pettus to inform the Senate the House was through with its labor and ready to adjourn.

It is a formality always followed when a session ends. "You can tell the Senate that and also stay over there if you want to," Stevenson said. The representatives named were all Senators-elect. The Senate had a laugh when Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, president pro tempore, appointed a committee to inform

Gov. Allred that body also was ready to adjourn. "Please tell the governor," Sanderford said, "that we are about to adjourn, our deliberalizations having been concluded."

Deliberalization of the pension law, most staunchly advocated in the Senate, was the big bone of contention during the session. Get results with Classified Ads.

MONEY IS BUT A MEANS TO AN END—LIVING
The queerest stories that ever get in the newspapers are the ones which appear every now and then telling how some miser has died of starvation or malnutrition while hanging on to a hoard of cash that would have bought enough food for a regiment.

Typical of these is a case that recently came to light in New York.

An aging spinster died in a hospital after having gone without food for four weeks. The medical examiner listed her death as "suicide by starvation."

As far as could be learned, the poor old woman had been so obsessed by an unreasoning fear of destitution that she had been unwilling to spend any money on food. But she had $5279 in the bank when she died!

What agonies of fear, distrust, and anxiety preceded this climax of tragic folly we can only imagine. It must take tremendous pressure, long applied, to turn a mind upside down so that money becomes more valuable than the things it can buy—when those things it can buy are the price of life itself.

But the beginnings of a thing like that are easy enough to understand. You can see them all around you. Most of us have a hint of them in our own lives.

What is involved is simply a natural confusion about the primary object of living. Every man shares in it who is too busy at his bread-and-butter job to spare time for the fundamental joys of life.

Whenever we get so busy making a living that we have no time left for the living itself, we are on the same melancholy track that this deluded spinster followed—a long way behind her, perhaps, but still on the same track.

For life is more than a mere process of getting and spending. Its highest values are never found in the pay envelope or in the dividend coupon.

These things—the bits of cash we are able to win from a frequently stubborn world—are only means to an end. The end is the greater richness and fullness of living; the means are important only as they lead to it.

Everyone is perfectly well aware of this, of course; but how often, how tragically often, do we get mixed up about it! Who has not seen the busy citizen, ambitious, energetic, and eager to "get ahead," denying himself time with his family, time for those unremunerative moments of relaxation and meditation that help a man's spirit to expand, plugging along through youth and middle age—and then, suddenly, dying before he has had a chance to turn his achievements into happiness!

The world, as Wordsworth remarked, is too much with us. To make life mean what it should we have to withdraw from it now and then; we have to get our happiness as we go along.

If we put it off until some indefinite tomorrow when we may have time, we run the risk of doing as this New York woman did—starving with money in the bank.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—When you consider all the reams of publicity devoted to it and the fact that it commanded the support of some of America's most accomplished "rabble-rousters," you have to admit that the Union Party, under Congressman Bill Lemke, wound up as a first-rate fizzle.

The immediate effect will be further to whittle Father Coughlin, Doctor Townsend, and the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith down to statures more or less corresponding to the size of the vote their combined efforts managed to pile up for the Hon. Mr. Lemke.

The long run effect probably will be insurance that none of these gentlemen will assume any particular importance in the political struggles of the future.

Gradual decline of Lemke strength was in accordance with predictions which most of the cagier veteran politicians made when the congressman's candidacy was announced.

They were positive in the conviction that a third party couldn't get anywhere unless it had some central driving theme—that either Father Coughlin hammering away for government ownership of banks or Doctor Townsend vehemently preaching his old age pension plan, probably could get more presidential votes than a candidate not so well known who sought to take in their followers and those of the late Huey Long under one tent.

Lemke himself failed to "rouse 'em"—to use the terminology of the Reverend Gerald. It may be said now, in case it hasn't been revealed before, that Lemke's candidacy was part of a "grudge fight."

For years Lemke had faith in Franklin D. Roosevelt—faith that Roosevelt would not stand in the way of his pet Frazier-Lemke bill, a highly inflationary measure under which the federal government would have assumed farm mortgages.

After two years of patient effort, he forced his bill to a vote in the House and the administration's steamroller tactics in defeating it enraged him to the point that he thought any effort was worth it if he could beat Roosevelt for re-election.

The only appeal the Union Party conceivably could have had was to the discontented, "under-privileged" elements. Roosevelt made his appeal to such groups and it was too bad for Lemke.

Although it seemed definitely established that Lemke was drawing more heavily from those who had previously supported Roosevelt than from those who in 1932 voted for Hoover, there was much question—certainly in many areas—whether much of the vote he seemed destined to get at the high water mark of his campaign wouldn't have gone to Landon anyway, in case Lemke hadn't been running.

The slogan "A vote for Lemke is a vote for Landon" had some effect. So did "Don't waste your vote!" Other potential Lemke voters drifted away as it became evident that Landon could use any anti-Roosevelt votes anyone could give him; polls indicate that Landon was in most areas the one to profit from Lemke defections.

There's one serious defect in radio campaigning. When you don't like what the speaker's saying, it does no good to boo.

NOW THAT ELECTION IS OVER

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK.—One of those pretty but dumb chorus girls unfortunately escaped her obscurity last week and turned up at the Princeton-Navy game. Sitting next to her was Dayton Stoddard, who parses crime waves for the magazines.

Came a break in the second quarter and Navy had the ball on Princeton's 25-yard line. It looked like the ballers were about to score.

"Case for Mason," bawled the amplifiers as the replacement pranced out on the field.

"Say," screamed the pretty but unconscious belle, clutching Stoddard by the arm, "I understand these single-wing formations, but what is a CASE formation?"

Now, when pretty little girls mention football to Stoddard, he leaps to the runningboard of passing taxicabs, or ducks into subway stations.

The Americanization of our foreign quarters isn't going forward as rapidly as it should. Recently I became lost in that Italian colony near Washington Square and had to ask direction from six passersby before finding one who could speak English.

Sidney Kingsley employs the technique of a news reporter when he goes out after ideas for new plays. He is a lawyer by profession and a realist in theory although one cannot attend his dramas without putting him down as a sly sentimentalist.

As evidence, there are "Men in White" and "Dead End," both grim studies of life, yet each warmly inclined with romantic sentiment.

Then there is that furniture shop in 39th street which features lamps, beds, and tables that disappear. Every item in the shop is of the "push a button and it drops out of sight" variety. There ought to be a thought here somewhere—specially for those who want to get rid of bothersome relatives.

The evolution of a phoney on Broadway is something like this: If he is well known and in good standing the Harlequin tag him for a "flamboyant."

Or if he is merely a visiting fireman who has his fun and pays his way he is a good customer.

But if he is a phoney who dunks the check, he is known as a cuff-stemmer. (Note: cuff-stemmers in this city rarely enjoy good health for very long. They have a way of winding up unconscious in back alleys or in the emergency wards of hospitals. It's very mystifying.)

The Wrong Murderer

Chapter 15
There was another brief pause. Elsa had been growing restless during this process of questions and answers. It seemed to her to be a flagrant injustice that Mahony should be standing there so very much alive, and with such an unworried air, when he had just killed her uncle.

"What are you waiting for?" she demanded wildly. "You know he did it! Why don't you take him to prison?"

Her vindictiveness stung Mahony again. "Miss Little," he said very earnestly, "I swear on my honor that I did not kill your uncle. Won't you try to believe me?"

It was unlike Mahony to speak in that fashion. He was not the kind of man who went about swearing things on his honor. But he wished desperately to convince Elsa that he was innocent.

He did not convince her. His outburst only seemed to her to be evidence of his consummate hypocrisy.

"Honor!" she exclaimed scornfully. "What does a creature like you know of honor? Do you think I don't realize that all the things you told the Inspector about your movements last night were lies? I know it was your voice I heard in the study last night when my uncle was killed. I know you were there and that you fled him."

"I tell you I didn't kill him," said Mahony vehemently.

"There was nothing he could do. He shrugged his shoulders slightly. What was the good of going on arguing?"

Lawson turned aside and busied himself lighting a cigarette. He had savored this last bit of by-play with all the enjoyment of a connoisseur of the theater enjoying a well-acted scene from an amusing play.

The Inspector was frowning slightly. As yet he had not quite made up his mind what he was going to do. He rather thought that he was going to detain Mahony on suspicion.

Elsa made a little gesture with her hand indicating Mahony.

"That man did it," she answered stonily. "He came in here late last night and stabbed my uncle in the back."

"I don't believe it," said Ruth instantly. "He couldn't have done it. He was with me nearly all last night."

"Murdered!" Ruth was horrified.

"How . . . how dreadful, Elsa . . . I'm terribly sorry to hear it. Is there anything I can do? Have they taken him to the county jail?"

Elsa made a little gesture with her hand indicating Mahony.

SLINGIN' SAM SAVES FLINGER FOR SATURDAY

AGGIES IMPRESSIVE AS THEY PRACTICE FOR MUSTANGS

(By The Associated Press)
Texas Christian's homecoming game with the University of Texas Saturday will be an offensive battle if the Christians' practice sessions are a true criterion.

Reserves, using Texas plays, made long gains against the varsity and the first stringers picked up yardage easily when they turned on their offense. Coach Dutch Meyer kept Sam Baugh on the sidelines yesterday, taking no chances on the passing ace being injured in scrimmage. Secret drills were the order of the day for the Texas Longhorns as they worked on a defense for Baugh's tosses. Coach Jack Chevigny sent the three-defeated Steers through strenuous workouts.

The Texas Aggies clicked impressively in scrimmage as they tightened their defense and polished their offensive for Saturday's clash with the Southern Methodist Mustangs. Both offense and defense came in for a share of attention at Dallas where the Mustangs stepped through a brisk workout under the exacting eyes of Coach Matty Bell.

Arkansas' air-minded Razorbacks rehearsed tactics against Rice formations, hoping to add a victory to the homecoming cause Saturday. Coach Jimmy Kitts, pleased with a dwindling injury list, drilled the Rice Owls against Parker plays and brushed up on new offensive tricks. At Baylor, Coach Morley Jennings experimented with the Bruin backfield, seeking to develop the most effective combination for Saturday's game with Oklahoma City university.

CAPACITY OF BUFFALO STADIUM TO BE HIKED

CANYON, Nov. 5.—The capacity of Buffalo Stadium at West Texas State Teachers college will be increased this week by the completion of new bleachers which will accommodate 1000 people.

An electric score board and clock is being erected at the north end of the field and will be completed in time for use at the game next Saturday between West Texas Buffalo and New Mexico Normal University of Las Vegas.

DON'T WANT DIZZY.
CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—Every member of the Chicago Cubs is still considered trading material, but not Dizzy Dean of the St. Louis Cardinals. Owner Phil K. Wrigley says he isn't interested in the mighty righthander and won't be unless someone can convince him that Dizzy would help the Cubs enough to offset the price the Cardinals would demand in players.

The Last Roundup Before the Great Feast Day

Blissfully unaware that the fatal date is nearing, this noble flock of turkeys is intent on only one thing—the rice feeding grounds which they're wending their way toward for their final fattening—the last roundup on a ranch near Salt Lake City. This flock is part of the thousands being prepared for the Thanksgiving market by northwest turkey growers, who supply a large percentage of the feast day birds.

SAMMY BAUGH AND BOB FINLEY MENTIONED FOR ALL-AMERICA

BY ALAN GOULD.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—This week's all-American roundup gives a pretty fair idea of the difficulties this season in selecting, by any known yardstick, the outstanding four backs roaming the collegiate premises.

With no holocausts from last year's generally approved combination of Riley Smith, Bobby Wilson, Bobby Grayson and Jay Berwanger, the field has been wide open from the start. Latest reports make it wider than ever, with performances in the decisive November games due to settle the country-wide argument over the prowess of current backfield aces.

For the fourth straight week familiar names are on the list of standouts. They include Sam Francis, Nebraska's versatile fullback; Northwestern's Don Heap, a conspicuous figure in his team's great triumph over Minnesota last Saturday; Ace Parker, Duke's triple threat; Byron Haines, the University of Washington's great running and passing back; Cecil Isbell, Purdue's all-around star; Bob Finley, Southern Methodist fullback and No. 1 heavy duty player in the Southwest; and Ray (Buzz) Butvid, the key man in Marquette's unbeaten march.

Ed Goddard of Washington State and Sammy Baugh of Texas Christian, out with injuries the previous week, returned to action with spotlight achievements. Baugh tossed three touchdown passes as Texas Christian walloped Baylor 28 to 0 in one of the Southwest's biggest upsets.

The fact they were on the losing side failed to diminish the prowess of the three fair "sheep-herders" guiding them—their final fattening—the last roundup on a ranch near Salt Lake City. This flock is part of the thousands being prepared for the Thanksgiving market by northwest turkey growers, who supply a large percentage of the feast day birds.

From a purely defensive and blocking standpoint, the No. 1 honors of this week's roundup go to Fred Vanzo, 215-pound backer-upper of the Northwestern team.

Pittsburgh's Marshall Goldberg, most-talked-about performer of the week before, was bottled up by Fordham's magnificent defensive line. Meantime, more-or-less newcomers in the all-star roundup include: Dwight Sloan, Arkansas; Joe Gray, Oregon State; Tom Vickers, Rice; Jim Coffis, Stanford; Nevin McCormick, Notre Dame; Bill Mattis, Tulane; Joe Riley, Alabama; Red Harp, Tennessee; Ken Ryan, Utah State; Jim Barlow, Santa Clara; Kelly Moan, West Virginia; White Jaeger, Colgate; Mac Folger, Clemson; Bob Stuart, Harvard, and Milton Popovich, Montana.

The race among the ends also is being hotly contested. Repeaters include Larry Kelley of Yale, Gaynell Tinsley of Louisiana State, Merle Wendt of Ohio State, and Les Macdonald of Nebraska. Other ends singled out include Jim Benton, Arkansas.

Pennsylvania's Jim Hauze continues to enjoy high rating among eastern centers, with Alex Wojciechowski of Louisiana State, Merle Wendt of Ohio State, and Les Macdonald and Charley Strague of Texas Christian and Charley Strague of Southern Methodist, have impressed southwest observers.

Northwestern's captain, Steve Reid, joins the list of outstanding guards, along with Cliff Kuhn of Illinois. Repeaters include Rivers Morrell, Navy, and Joe Routt, Texas A. & M.

The tackle situation is marked by a loss of prestige for Minnesota's Ed Widseth, guilty of tactics that cost the Gophers a fatal penalty in last Saturday's game. Meantime, Fordham's Ed Franco and Ohio State's Charley Hamrick turned in French evidence of their ability.

ORCHID FOR FARLEY
NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—Among James A. Farley's highly prized trophies of Tuesday's election, the democratic national chairman said today, was a telegram from a mid-western farmer, reading: "Boy, when you elect a president, you don't mess around."

SALES TAX ON FOOD BEATEN IN OHIO VOTE

FOUR STATES ADOPT SOCIAL SECURITY PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—Constitutional amendments authorizing them to take part in the federal social security program had been ratified today by Kansas, Florida, Louisiana and Colorado, although old age pension plans were headed for defeat in three other states. Eleven other states had passed upon 26 of the proposed amendments, while a host of constitutional changes were left in doubt elsewhere by incomplete tabulations.

Voters in Nevada, Washington and Oregon apparently had rejected initiative and referendum proposals for old age benefits. South Carolina returns showed indecisive results on a similar amendment.

Liquor questions were settled by ballot in four states, while a wide range of tax measures were approved or rejected by voters in all corners of the country.

Oklahoma clung to its prohibition statutes, although North Dakota decided to permit the sale of liquor for the first time since statehood.

$1,000, and a rise in income levies to 10 per cent were approved in North Carolina.

Michigan piled up an overwhelming lead against proposals for exempting foodstuffs from a 3 per cent sales tax and replacing property levies with income tax.

Ohio, however, eliminated sales taxes on food purchases for home consumption. California voters threw out measures for taxing chain stores and abolishing personal income taxes. Minnesota defeated a plan for removing state real estate levies.

Missouri, Nebraska and other states voted on proposals of local interest, dealing in most cases with the reorganization of state governments.

In Texas a proposal for placing sales in the hands of the state was trailing far behind, and California decisively defeated a local option scheme.

Amendments authorizing an increase in the public debt, tax exemption for homes worth less than rest election eve foreshadowed revenge to be levied on critics by what he called "the Farley Dictatorship."

Smith, former organizer of Share-Our-Wealth clubs for the late Huey Long, received a suspended sentence of 10 or 10 days earlier today. He was convicted of disturbing the peace, reviling police and using obscene language. Four companions arrested with him were similarly sentenced.

"This arrest and incarceration is just a forerunner of the reprisals which we may expect all over America as the Farley dictatorship seeks revenge on those who have been critical of its regime," he said.

SHAMROCK-WHEELER CLASSIC TOPS FOOTBALL GAMES

MCLEAN WILL PLAY LEFORS FRIDAY NIGHT

PANHANDLE PANTHERS TO PLAY GROOM IN AFTERNOON

Several choice Class B football games will be available for Panhandle football fans on Friday, there being no Class A battles scheduled for the week-end.

To pick out the best game of the lot would be impossible. All teams will meet conference foes with league standings at stake in several instances.

Two undefeated elevens will clash in what might be the deciding game in District 3 when Wheeler's Mustangs, led by fullback Ford, invade the home of the Shamrock Irishmen Friday night. The Mustangs may enter the game with two regulars on the sidelines with injuries.

At the same time, the LeFors Pirates will be at home to their old gridiron rivals, the McLean Tigers. A Tiger win over Mobeette last week, while McLean dropped to zero where hope for a victory.

Lakeview will invade Mobeette in another conference game. Both teams have been defeated and are Wheeler, was good news to the Pirates a bitter battle is expected.

Clarendon, after an upset of Lakeview last week, will invade Memphis for a conference meeting. Both have outside chances to get back in the race.

Wellington, the other team in the district, will draw a bye.

In District 2, White Deer will go to Claude for the feature battle of the day in that section. White Deer is undefeated in conference play while Claude has dropped to Panhandle.

Claude, however, beat Groom, a team which gave the Bucks their stiffest conference opposition of the year. The game will be an afternoon affair.

Panhandle's undefeated and favored Panthers will entertain the Groom Tigers in game changed to the afternoon. The Panther weight advantage and experience is expected to overcome the light but fast Groom eleven.

Up at Miami, the Canadian Wildcats will attempt to scratch out a win over the Miami Warriors in an afternoon affair. A nip-and-tuck battle is predicted.

Ned Irish, director of basketball booking for Madison Square Garden, offered the University of Arkansas Porkers games at Philadelphia January 23 and in the Garden January 27, but the Razorbacks were forced to refuse . . . mid-term examinations will keep the squad at home . . . the Southwest conference champions of 1935-36 have been invited to play the first annual Sugar Bowl game.

Matty Bell, Southern Methodist coach, has forecast a Saturday victory for Texas Christian over Texas—but added "it won't be easy."

Coach Curtis Parker at Centenary, who has looked at some good ones this season, says Jim Neill, Texas Tech's great triple-threat, is "the biggest, fastest, finest all-around back I've seen this year. He is certainly all-America material."

Sophomore Dick Todd at A. and M. has carried the ball on an average of 17.3 times in each of the six games played and has picked up 3.2 yards per try . . . Southern Methodist, with 94 points to date, had an amazing total of 196 at this stage last season.

The unchecked rush of the East Texas Teacher's college could fold up at Commerce Friday night when the veteran North Texas Teachers meet Texas' only undefeated, untied college team . . . Johnny Stovall, the North Texans' scrambling little ball carrier, is back in the game again.

There's talk of a post-season game between Texas Tech and the winner of the Southwest conference . . . Little likelihood of an actual booking, however . . . Two former Texas Tech stars are doing all right for themselves in professional football, Gaines Davis with the New York Giants and Mule Dowell with Chicago's Cardinals.

The Texas A. and I. sports writer intended to say: "Stevens and Neves for Westmoreland played a creditable game in the line." Instead, it appeared in the South Texan: "Stevens and Neves for Westmoreland played a card table game in the line."

Texas Christian vows it will never, never play another night football game . . . that is, as long as Coach Dutch Meyer has a say—so . . . Sammie Baugh and Oston Harrison, Christian teammates, have played together seven years . . . three in Temple schools and four at T. C. U. . . and they have roomed together the past four years.

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—The Arkansas Razorbacks not only are the passingest football outfit, but probably rank as the number one "up-again, down-again" team in the country. Each time they've won this season, they've lost their next time out. The coaches are beginning to think the players get "too cocky" after every win, and promptly get it knocked out of them.

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Between injuries and illness to his gridmen, Coach Gar Davidson is thinking of calling out the regular army to help the Academy finish its football schedule. Nine of the Army regulars are laid up, either hurt or sick. Monk Meyer, the backfield mainstay, has influenza.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5 — With a little cooperation from Kansas and Kansas State, Nebraska can clinch the Big Six football championship next Saturday.

All the Jayhawks and Wildcats have to do is lose. A job not at all difficult for Kansas, which plays Nebraska. Kansas State plays Oklahoma in a game in which anything can happen.

NEW YORK, November 5 (AP)—While they're cheering Jim Farley for calling 46 of 48 states for Roosevelt, don't overlook another neat bit of long distance picking. The sports editor of the Yankton (S. D.) Press and Dakotan, wrote in his paper on November 11, 1935: "The only team to beat Bernie Bierman's Gophers during this epoch will be Northwestern's Wildcats, who probably will beat them next year." Nice going, mister, and we hope you cleaned up.

WICHITA FALLS AND CHILDRESS TOP SCHEDULE

HILLSBORO - CLEBURNE IS WATCHED BY FANS

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF.
DALLAS, Nov. 5 (AP)—Two games stand out this week in a Texas interscholastic league football schedule that gives a majority of the leaders a welcome rest before traditional Armistice day battles.

The clash of North Side and Polytechnic in an engagement generally regarded as the deciding point in the battle for the championship of the Fort Worth district headlines the schedule of less than 40 games.

This contest, set for Saturday night, brings together undefeated teams in conference play and matches one of the state's eight unbeaten, untied elevens against probably its strongest competition of the season. North Side will be battling not only for district leadership but to remain in the select class with unscathed record.

The other feature is expected to virtually decide the championship of district two, matching Childress, leading the race with two victories and no defeats, with Wichita Falls, which has two wins and one tie.

Of great importance in district 11 is the Waco-Cleburne contest and the title of district 16 may hinge on the clash of Edinburg with Harlingen.

Cleburne is undefeated in conference play the same as Hillsboro. Waco gave Hillsboro a mighty battle. Unless the Yellow Jackets can turn back the Tigers the championship during this epoch will be Northwestern's Wildcats, who probably will beat them next year.

ship will be virtually conceded to the Hillsboro team.

Edinburg is unbeaten in district 16. Harlingen and McAllen are tied for second place. McAllen defeated Harlingen last week. Edinburg already holds a victory over McAllen.

Three of the state's unbeaten, untied teams are idle this week. Amarillo, North Dallas and Kerrville resting up before the final drive. Of the others North Side meets Poly, Dallas Tech engages Corsicana, Hillsboro plays Bryan, Edinburg clashes with Harlingen and Corpus Christi tackles Laredo.

In district 14 something of a dilemma is fast approaching. Here Beaumont has refused to play Fort Arthur because the latter has a 12-grade eligibility for athletic stars a year later than at other institutions. Indications are that Beaumont and Fort Arthur will finish the conference campaign undefeated. Thus the question arises as to what disposition would be made.

Athletic Director Roy B. Henderson of the Interscholastic league says the matter is entirely out of his jurisdiction and entirely in the hands of the district executive committee which must certify a district champion by November 28.

Henderson states that the only rule applying is: "The district committee shall arrange a round robin schedule," and that the case in district 14 is without precedent.

This week's schedule by districts follows:

- 1. No games scheduled.
- 2. Friday: Childress at Wichita Falls (district), Olney at Graham (district).
- 3. Friday: Ranger at Sweetwater (district).
