Keep Home Insured To Value, III Urges

Of all the resolutions you make this new year, the Insurance Information Institute (I.I.I.) urges you to keep this one: Carry enough insurance on your home to fully replace it if it is totally destroyed. Why?

"Most homeowners insurance policies have what is called the 'replacement cost provision,'" said L.A. Smith, Jr., resident vice president of Fireman's Fund Insurance Companies, Dallas, and chairman of the Insurance Information Institute's Committee of Texas. "This provision says that, when a home owner carries an amount of insurance equal to at least 80 per cent of the home's actual replacement cost, the policy will pay the total replacement cost of a full or partial loss."

"By 'replacement cost' I mean what it would cost to rebuild a damaged home with like kind and quality materials." The effect of the replacement clause can be shown by this example. Assume that a home that would cost $50,000 to build today is insured for $40,000 (80 per cent of its replacement value). If that home suffered a loss estimated at $20,000, the insurance would pay $20,000, less any deductible if applicable.

When a home is underinsured, however -- that is, when it is insured for less than 80 per cent of its replacement value -- the home owner must bear a large part of any loss himself.

For example, assume that a home that would cost $50,000 to replace is insured for only $20,000. Since the $20,000 is only half of the amount of insurance (40,000) needed to meet the requirements of the replacement cost provision, the insurance company could settle a $20,000 loss in either of two ways (whichever is larger): -- by paying the owner $10,000 (half of the $20,000 loss);

-- by paying the owner the actual cash value of repairing the damage, less depreciation. If the damaged parts had depreciated 40 percent, then the insurance company would pay 60 percent of the loss ($12,000).

In either of the above cases the home owner would be responsible for the rest of the loss himself.

One thing to remember: A policy never pays more than its limits. If a home that would take $50,000 to replace its totally destroyed, but it is insured for only $40,000, the insurance company can only pay up to the policy limits for the loss; that is, $40,000. The home owner would have to make up the rest of the loss himself.

Rising Costs Behind Increases in Home's Replacement Value

Prices increases in labor and materials have contributed to the rising costs of home construction. Since 1971 the cost of construction materials, such as plywood, paint, window glass and concrete ingredients, has increased from 31 to 85 percent. Between April, 1971, and October, 1977, the national average basic union hourly wage rate for building trade workers rose 53 percent.

The extent of increased construction costs is reflected in the price of housing. Nationally, the average price of new, single-family homes climbed from $35,500 in 1973 to $54,700 in July, 1977; and the median price jumped from $32,500 to $49,100 during the same period--increases of more than 50 percent in each category.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture December 15 announced additional details of the 1978 cotton program, moving farmers closer to the day when they'll have the information needed to make 1978 planting decisions, say officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

The announcement, from Deputy Assistant Secretary John White, said there would be no required acreage set-aside for cotton in 1978; set the 1978 National Program Acreage at 10,248,000 acres, and the National Reduction Percentage at 20 percent.

The 20 percent National Reduction Percentage is the amount by which farmers, if they choose on a voluntary basis, can reduce their 1977 cotton acreage in 1978 to assure that all acreage will be eligible for any target price payments that may be made. Those who do not reduce acreage in 1978 will have target price coverage on a percentage of planted acreage determined by an "allocation factor" yet to be determined. With no reduction in acreage these farmers would still have access to Commodity Credit Corporation loans and to disaster payments on all acres planted.

The 10,248,000-acre National Program Acreage is the acreage of cotton the Secretary of Agriculture estimates will be needed in 1978 to supply domestic and export demand and leave a reasonable carryover at the end of the marketing year. Late in the 1978 growing season the Secretary will estimate U.S. cotton acreage for harvest and that figure divided into the National Program Acreage will set the allocation factor for 1978.

Assuming, for example, that estimated 1978 acreage for harvest is 12 million, that figure divided into the National Program Acreage would result in an allocation factor of 85.4 percent. Farmers who did not reduce 1977 plantings would then have target price coverage on 85.4 percent of their 1978 planted acreage.

The target price for 1978 is 52 cents per pound. If the average price paid to all farmers for all cotton in the calendar year 1978 falls below that level, each farmer will be paid the difference.

PCG officials are stressing that the 52-cent target price does not guarantee that all farmers will get that price for their cotton.

"Most High Plains farmers," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "because of the U.S. average price feature can figure on a guarantee of from four cents to as much as eight cents below the target price, depending on the quality and market price of the crop they produce."

Miss Hollye Crenshaw, Gary Hooten Repeat Vows

United in marriage in candlelight ceremony Friday evening, January 6, were Miss Hollye Crenshaw and Gary Robert Hooten. The couple were married at 37 Street Church of Christ in Snyder with Pat Abbananto officiating the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Crenshaw of Snyder. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Hooten of Muleshoe.

The front of the church building was centered with a brass candelabra holding 15 tall burning tapers. Matching brass spirals holding 30 burning tapers complemented by two seven-branched candelabras completed the candlelight setting. Boxwood foliage decorated the candelabras. The center aisle was decorated with hurricane lamps and satin bows.

An acappella choir provided music as guests were being ushered into the building. They sang "Follow Me", "More"; and "If Ever I Would Leave You". Miss Susan Ferrell of Fort Worth sang "It Seems I Have Always Loved You". The mothers of the couple were ushered in while the acappella choir sang "The Wedding Song". As the wedding party entered, "Faithful and True" was sung. Miss Sharon Floyd of Snyder sang "You Are My World" and then the choir sang "One Hand, One Heart". As the bride and groom were leaving, "May The Lord Bless And Keep You" was sung.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose a Joella gown of formal length. It was of white crepe, edged in aleon lace and tiny seed pearls. The moulded bodice featured a heart-shaped neckline trimmed in aleon lace and white seed pearls. Long fitted sleeves sprinkled with aleon lace tapered over the hands. The natural waistline swept to back fullness, forming a chapel length train. The entire train was completely encircled in aleon lace. Her veiling was held by a matching mantilla and fell to full length. The headpiece was covered with aleon lace and tiny seed pearls; lace motifs were sprinkled throughout her veiling.

To complete her bridal ensemble was a bouquet of cascading white sweetheart roses sprinkled with baby's breath with verigated silk English ivy and white satin streamers. The bouquet was atop a white satin Bible belonging to Mrs. Milton Ham.

Carrying out tradition, for something old the bride wore one of her father's Marine Corps pins. For something new, she chose her wedding gown. For something borrowed, she carried the Bible belonging to Mrs. Ham. For something blue, the bride wore her mother's bridal garter. The bride also carried pennies minted in the years of the couple's birth.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Miss Kellye Crenshaw of Snyder, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Andra Crenshaw of Snyder, sister of the bride, Mrs. Kerry Wagon of Bryan, sister of the groom, and Miss Tomibeth Hunt of Snyder. They wore maroon valour princess style floor length dresses with elbow length matching capes trimmed in white fur. They carried white fur muffs.

Renae Jackson of Snyder served as flower girl. She wore a floor length maroon dress with white fur trim. She carried a white wicker basket with satin streamers. She strew maroon carnation petals as she walked down the aisle.

Robert Hooten of Muleshoe served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Lary Hooten of Muleshoe, brother of the groom, Rick Berry of Corpus Christi, cousin of the bride, and Aubrey Pitts of Hughes Springs. Ring bearer was Kevin Combost of Snyder. He carried a heart shaped pillow designed by Tomibeth Hunt.

Ushers were Marty Pate of Bryan, and Kerry Wagon of Bryan, brother-in-law of the groom.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo while the groomsmen, ushers, and ring bearer wore maroon tuxedos. Mr. Crenshaw wore a black tuxedo with a maroon shirt.

Miss Gene Williams of Sweetwater presided over the registry table.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Crenshaw wore a formal length ice blue Silesta knit dress and a corsage of cybidium orchids. Mrs. Hooten wore a formal length dusty rose knit dress and a corsage of cybidium orchids.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Martha Ann

Women's Club. The bride's table was laid with a floor length cloth with a tulle overlay and silver appointments. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a nosegay of the bride's chosen colors of maroon and white. The centerpiece was two matching candelabra holding six tall white tapers and decorated with English ivy and nosegays of maroon and white carnations. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl. Serving the bride's cake was Miss Merilou Moore of San Angelo assisted by Mrs. Tommy Johnson of Weatherford, Oklahoma. Mrs. Wesley Key of Ira served the punch assisted by Rick Berry of Corpus Christi.

A maroon cloth covered the groom's table from which coffee and chocolate cake decorated with the seal of Texas A&M was served. Brass candleholders with maroon candles served as the centerpiece. Coffee was served from a brass coffee service. Serving the groom's cake was Miss Becki Kidd of Snyder, assisted by Miss Dru Crenshaw of Possum Kingdom. Miss Norma Duke of Snyder served the coffee.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colorado, the bride chose a gray qiana cloth dress trimmed in gray suede. She also wore a matching gray suede coat. Her corsage was a white gardenia and black accessories completed her outfit.

The couple will make their home in Muleshoe. Miss Crenshaw was a 1973 graduate of Snyder High School and a 1977 graduate of Texas A&M University. She will be employed by Williams, Adair, Faver, Suddeth, and Company, C.P.A.'s of Muleshoe. Hooten was a 1973 graduate of Muleshoe High School and a 1977 graduate of Texas A&M University. He will be engaged in farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooten, the grooms parents, were hosts to a rehearsal dinner Thursday evening at the Snyder Country Club for members of the wedding party.

A luncheon honoring the bride and her attendants was given Friday at noon by Mrs. Rex Miller and Mrs. Milton Ham at Mrs. Miller's residence.

Earlier Miss Crenshaw was honored with several parties, gift coffee in Snyder on November 5, followed by a December 17 gift shower in

Pork Producers Plan Increase In Farrowings

AUSTIN—Recent higher pork prices and cheaper feed costs are good news to Texas producers, who plan to respond by stepping up breeding activity in the coming six months, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has said.

According to figures just released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, farmers indicated they intend to farrow 102,000 sows by May of 1978, Brown stated. This is a four-per-cent increase over the same period last year, he added.

"The Texas Department of Agriculture's marketing division will continue to help stimulate consumer demand for Texas pork to avoid oversupply and price drops which some are predicting for later in the year," Brown said.

Washington Group Holding Payments

The Carter administration today was asked to release some $600 million in payments, due U.S. farmers on 1977 barley and grain sorghum, being held up by the White House. The request was made by Tony T. Dechant, President of National Farmers Union.

While the exact dollar amount of deficiency payments to grain sorghum producers is not known, Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman stated from Waco that "about $200 million of the estimated $600 million would come to Texas since we are the number one grain sorghum state in the nation."

"Grain sorghum producers should be receiving around $25 to 40 cents per bushel, depending on the final determination of the national average market price in February," said Naman. "Instead, the President's economic advisers are trying to slip out of the payments by saying that the target price should be based on grain sorghum's feed value relationship to corn. It was the intent of Congress and the Secretary to set a grain target based on cost of production and nothing else."

Secretary Bergland had intended to issue the payments in line with his commitment to the Congress at the time of the passage of the Farm Bill, but the payments had been recently held up for the review by Charles L. Schultze, Chairman of the President's Council on Economic Advisers, and other unnamed White House officials.

"It was clearly the intent of the Congress that the payments should be made in the manner proposed by Secretary Bergland," Dechant said. "To fail to do so now would be to break faith with farmers and to undermine their hopes that the 1977 Agricultural Act will be used to remedy their currently low prices and income."

"All the fine pronouncements by White House and USDA officials about how the 1977 Farm Law is going to be of benefit to farmers can hardly sound credible if the executive branch is going to withhold program payments authorized and directed by the Congress," he said.

Dechant noted that last September when the Farm Bill was signed he had characterized it as a "weak bill," if supports were to be at the rock-bottom minimums in the legislation.

He observed, however, that there is broad authority to support farm commodities as high as 90 to 100 percent parity "if there is a will to do so."

"But, if these barley and grain sorghum target payments are impounded, it will appear to be a shocking indication that the administration is not willing even to observe the intent of the law, much less to use discretionary authorities to help revive the farming economy," Dechant stated.

Dechant will be the keynote speaker at a banquet Saturday night, January 21, in Austin, ending the two day Texas Farmers Union annual convention slated for the capital city.

Water Meet Dedicated

The 11th Annual Membership Meeting of Water, Inc., will be dedicated to Congressman George Mahon for his dedicated and outstanding service to the High Plains area, the state and the nation.

The retiring Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, will be honored during ceremonies Feb. 11 at the Quality Inn here. Vernon Congressman Jack Hightower will participate in the ceremonies.

Water, Inc., Executive Director Duncan Ellison said, "As Mr. Mahon concludes his final term of office, we believe he should be recognized for his outstanding Congressional record during the past 44 years. Few people in Washington today have received the bipartisan respect that Mr. Mahon has maintained during his distinguished Congressional career. His peers and constituents recognize him as a true statesman."

"The meeting dedication is simply a gesture of our appreciation to Mr. Mahon," Ellison continued, "not only for his support of water resource development for the entire High Plains region, but also for his untiring efforts in all areas to truly represent his district, his state and his nation with honor and dignity."

More than 200 people are expected to attend the Water,

Inc., session and participate in the recognition of Congressman Mahon. Dedication ceremonies will be conducted during the luncheon meet and will be preceded by a morning session when several speakers will address the area's water situation.

Up on orbits

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — One would have to go to Leningrad, U.S.S.R., to find a center similar to the Center for Orbital Mechanics at The University of Texas.

Orbital mechanics is concerned with the study of motion of natural and artificial bodies such as planets, stars, meteors and satellites.

UT's center is busy with research on satellite tracking to try to find out what happens to an orbiting body over a long period of time. One practical application of such research is the prediction of when a man-made satellite would return to earth.

Films for rent

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — If you have a yen to see a 1925-vintage movie of "The Lost World" with Wallace Beery or films of Longhorn football games dating back to 1937, The University of Texas Film Library is at your service.

About 2,500 films are maintained by the Film Library, which has been in operation for 62 years.

built to save

The key to saving is INSIDE . . .

... THE WALLS AND CEILINGS

The outside walls of the ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME meet standards according to three options. The first option uses 6 inch studs with 6 inch batt-type (R-19) insulation. Option two has 4 inch studs and 3 inch insulation (R-11) with 3/4 inch styrofoam sheathing. The third option uses R-15 minimum insulation with any other method. All options include a vapor barrier of 6 mil. polyethylene or foil-backed sheetrock. Sill insulation or sill caulking between the bottom plate and the floor also is required. The ceiling is insulated with R-30.

... THE DOORS AND WINDOWS

Outside doors and all windows on the ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME are weather stripped and caulked. In addition, double pane glass or storm windows and insulated core or storm doors are vital contributors to the dollar-wise built to save ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME. A recommendation is made that maximum glass area comprise 8% or less of floor space.

... THE FLOORS

The very foundation of the ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME — the floor — is an important factor in saving energy and money. Slab floors contain vermiculite in the cavity between bricks and slab up to the top of the floor. An alternate is a layer of rigid urethane or styrofoam (minimum of 3/4 inch thickness) from top of floor along the outside edge of the slab down to the brick ledge. Wood floors (pier and beam) must be insulated with R-13.

When you're planning to buy or build a new home, you start by taking a really good look inside. Because the key to comfort and saving is INSIDE . . . INSIDE the walls, in the doors and windows, under the floor and in the ceiling. So peek INSIDE the ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME — really INSIDE. You can see that it's BUILT TO SAVE — Energy and Money.
