PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, MONDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 30, 1936

8 PAGES TODAY (PRICE FIVE CENTS)

LATEST ORDER IS TEMPORARY. STINE HOPES

TREASURY DEPARTMENT EXPECTED TO ISSUE MONEY SOON

Upwards of 100 persons were suspended today from WPA projects in Pampa and on the Berger road job under a general order sent out from district WPA offices in Amarillo. The suspensions were ordered because of a lack of federal funds.

Projects affected here include 97 assigned workers on the fairgrounds park, 44 women in the sewing room, nine workers on the county tax survey, and 54 assigned workers on the Berger road improvement.

City Manager C. L. Stine said today that according to information he had received from Amarillo it is believed the suspension is only temporary and that work will be resumed within two weeks on the fairgrounds.

Local supervisors on other projects said they had received no indication whether the suspensions are temporary or permanent.

The county will deprive approximately 190 eligible WPA workers from future assignments if federal funds are not supplied to continue the projects, it was stated.

The news was received here in face of a general meeting called at noon today to work out some means of coping with the city's relief problem this winter.

A new ruling last week was to the effect that funds must be issued from the treasury department before work can be continued and the December amount has not been received in this district, Stine said. In the past work continued after the monthly allotment had been exhausted and the amount expended was taken out of the following month's quota.

Mr. Meredith said he was sure work would start soon after the first of December.

Stables were being roofed and work on the dam was in progress when the layoff was ordered Friday.

WOMAN IS SERIOUSLY INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Forty stitches were required to close head wounds suffered by Mrs. R. W. Nelson following an automobile accident late Saturday night. Other head injuries may be more serious. Mr. Nelson was less seriously injured. Both are patients in Worley hospital.

The accident happened when the Nelson car crashed into a parked truck. Nelson said he held to the right side of the road in meeting a car and that he did not see the parked truck. He is an employee of the King Oil Company.

HEFTIEST U. S. COPPER REGISTERS 429 POUNDS

NEW EUROPEAN PACT IS FORMED

Queen of the Harvesters

One of the reasons why the Harvester football team played "above its head" in many games this year was undoubtedly the pep squad, and one of the pep squad leaders was Miss Pauline Gregory, shown above after she was crowned football queen on the gridiron at the half intermission in the Plainview game. In impressive ceremonies, Miss Gregory, escorted by Co-Captains Roy Lee Jones and Roy Showers, walked down a lane of pep squad girls who bowed to their knees as she passed, and a throne here she was crowned queen. Miss Gregory became football queen as the result of a popular election.

Biggest Honor Court Will Be Held Tonight

It probably is wrong to admit that Santa Claus travels by airplane. Take the Spanish children, for instance they have been getting surprise packages that way for months.

BING DEFENDS HIS CROONING

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30 (AP)—Bing Crosby's reputation as a bawdy crooner flourished today, based on a couple of blows outside a San Diego cafe which he denied were aimed at heckling sailors of the United States fleet.

I Heard . . .

Coach Bob Curry, up at the high school, telling basketball prospects who were called for practice this afternoon that the opening practice would be confined to "kicking goals". Bob apparently still had football on his mind.

BRITAIN AND BELGIUM AND FRANCE UNITE

APPEAL TO LEAGUE IS LIKELY TO EMBROIL SITUATION

PARIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—France strove today to forge a militant bloc of "democratic nations" to offset the alignment of Germany, Italy and Japan.

France, Great Britain and Belgium have formed what virtually amounts to a three power military accord, informed sources in Paris said today, interpreting the projected pact as signaling a new Western Europe alliance.

French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos will announce the approachement Friday, this source said, returning Britain's assurance of last week that the powers will come to each other's aid to resist unprovoked aggression.

Similar guarantees to those extended to Belgium by British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, authoritative sources said, will mark the French announcement, linking the three states.

As the nations of western Europe turned to one another, League of Nations circles expressed fears that Spain's appeal to the council against the Fascist central European powers of Germany and Italy would further embroil the international situation.

Russia, in the east, completed the sweep of development across the continent and disclaimed any need of foreign aid.

Climaxing heated attacks on Fascism, President Molotov of the Soviet council of commissars said Russia relies on "nobody but ourselves and our own strength."

The President's speech followed an announcement that Russia's strength in the air would soon reach

RURAL MAIL ROUTE IS ASKED IN A PETITION

A petition, signed by more than 75 persons, requesting that a rural mail route to the southwest from Pampa be authorized, was mailed to the postoffice department in Washington today by Postmaster C. H. Walker.

If granted, the service would cover a route of 40 miles and would take in camps along U. S. Highway 60 west of Pampa and also serve farmers in that community.

The map accompanying the petition showed that the proposed route would leave Pampa over U. S. Highway 60 to a point two miles east of Kingsmill. Then it would go south 7 miles, west 3 miles, north 7 miles, west another two miles, north the same distance and then turn back south three miles and south about a mile to angle into U. S. Highway 60 again.

This route would be available to residents at the Humble, Shell, Empire, Cabot, Panhandle Refining and other camps along the highway and to a well populated farming community.

Pa Pampa Visits Santa Claus' Great Toy Shop

Gifts For Children Completed by Workmen

By PA PAMPA
SANTA CLAUS LAND. Near the North Pole, Nov. 30—(Via Short Wave Pacific)—Well, Kiddies, I guess in my last message to you from up here in Santa Claus' Crystal Palace I was preparing to turn in for a good night's rest. A lot of things have happened since then.

After about nine hours of good sleep we got up and Mrs. Santa Claus had a piping hot breakfast. Santa Claus had a piping hot breakfast. Santa Claus had a piping hot breakfast.

Members of the pep squad and the annual staff will also conduct a ticket selling campaign. Interest in the game is equal to that of any played during the regular season and a record crowd is expected to see the battle.

ed like a world gone mad in a vast confusion of toys. The room, almost 200 feet square, that stretched before us seemed at first like one huge tangled web of toys. But after my eyes became adjusted to the sight, I gradually began to see that there really was some order in this huge toy laboratory.

Ten great long benches stretched up and down the room from north to south, with scores of workmen lined on either side busily tinkering with countless numbers and assortments of toys.

Down the center of each bench were shelves upon which more toys were set, and boxes of tools, saws, hammers, chisels and planes. Then there were small pots of paints, smeared over with all the colors of the rainbow. On the benches beside the workers were still more tools and vices, and such a scrambled array of toy parts that I wondered how any man ever could assemble them into usable playthings.

Brother Admits Slaying

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—The wheels of the law turned today—after 35 years—to grind out justice for Charles Kohr, 64-year old confessed slayer of his young brother in 1901.

Police Chief Thomas Lonie at Belleville, thumping through yellowed reports of the St. Clair county coroner's office, found records there as an "accidental drowning" the death of "Henry J. Kohr, 15."

Chief Lonie said he would ask today for a murder warrant against the trembling, gray-haired man in Chicago.

Said State's Attorney L. P. Zerwek of St. Clair county:

"In this state it takes more than a confession of murder to convict. We will have to prove the cause of death, or determine if it was by other than natural means."

Kohr walked into the Central Police station last Saturday night. He sought out Sgt. William Murphy.

"All these years my conscience has troubled me," said Kohr. "And now I want to tell it all. I killed my brother."

"Henry was 15 years old. He had gotten a job in a saloon in Belleville and I didn't want him to work in a saloon. One morning in April of 1901 I was on my way to work when I saw Henry scrubbing the floor of the saloon. We quarreled. Henry was large for his age and when he struck at me I was frightened. I picked up a stick and struck him on the head. He fell unconscious."

SIX CASES OF SCARLET FEVER HERE REPORTED

Six cases of scarlet fever have been reported and quarantine ordered, according to Dr. T. J. Worrell, assistant city health officer. No new cases of diphtheria have been reported, he said this morning.

Dr. Worrell also announced that taking of a blood test is not necessary under city ordinance for employees in cafes and butcher shops. The employee, however, must have a doctor's certificate.

People You Know

By ARCHER FILLINGIM
Two high school girls standing in the post office lobby, greeted another girl about their age. Until marriage interfered, apparently all three had been close friends. It was clear the three girls had not seen each other in several days. The third arrival kept trying to avert one side of her face. The eye on that side was black and blue.

"How did you get that black eye?" "One of our husbands gave it to you!"

"One of the girls teased. 'No, he didn't either. A door hit me. I can prove it.' 'Well, how are you and your husband getting along?' the other girl asked."

"We're separated. He's living on the other side of the oil field. . . . Oh, well, I might as well tell you. He gave me this black eye. But you ought to see him. I knocked out one of his teeth and cut his lip!"

Pa Pampa Visits Santa Claus' Great Toy Shop

Santa to feed the reindeer and good old Saint Nicholas suggested that we go with him to see what was taking place in his great toy workshop.

A Memorable Moment
He took us back into the ice palace, led us down long, glistening corridors again until we came to two great doors at the end of the hall. Then came the moment in my life which will live in my memories as long as I myself shall live.

After all the years from childhood when I, too, had heard and read and known of Santa Claus, now I was actually entering his great toy shop where are made all the toys that he delivers to good little boys and girls each Christmas Eve.

Santa swung open the doors of frosted ice through which light could penetrate, but not the sight of human beings. In fact, the outside walls around the entire first floor were of frosted ice, while the second and third floors and the high cone-shaped tower were flawlessly clear. Immediately I entered what seem-

ROOSEVELT IS ACCLAIMED IN BUENOS AIRES

GREAT THROG GREET PRESIDENT AS SHIP DOCKS

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt, acclaimed by hundreds of thousands, reached here early this afternoon for the opening tomorrow night of the 21-nation peace conference which grew out of his initiative.

The cruiser, Indianapolis, which carried the President on his 12-day trip from Charleston, S. C., docked amid the cheers of huge throngs on shore and the shrieks of whistles on hundreds of vessels in Buenos Aires harbor.

President Roosevelt disembarked at 1:58 p. m. He was greeted at the pier by President Justo, United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Argentine Foreign Minister Carlos Saavedra Lamas, Cardinal Santiago Copello and other notables.

Before Mr. Roosevelt left the Indianapolis, the cruiser's band played the Argentine anthem and then the "Star Spangled Banner" in which the Argentine navy band ashore joined.

The visiting United States president descended the gangplank holding the arm of James Roosevelt, who had re-boarded the vessel.

President Roosevelt got into a car at the foot of the gangplank after greeting President Justo, to whom he was introduced by United States Ambassador Alexander W. Weddell.

Then the two executives drove off together along the 50-block route to the United States embassy, Mr. Roosevelt's residence during his stay.

President Roosevelt is to make the opening address when the Inter-American peace parley, proposed by him last winter, get under way at 6 p. m. tomorrow.

PARENTS URGED KEEP CHILDREN HOME IF SICK

School Authorities Move to Check Disease

School health authorities today urged parents to keep sick children at home in order to prevent outbreak of a scarlet fever and diphtheria epidemic in Pampa.

Miss Llewellyn Shelby, school health nurse, today described what she termed can become an "appalling condition" unless every ounce of prevention is used to halt the spread of disease.

The school nurse said that up until noon Monday it was found necessary to send 30 children home from school because they had sore throats or showed some other sign of illness.

"These children either showed signs of illness or came from families where illness of such a nature exists that makes it inadvisable for

Roosevelts and Du Ponts Alike As To Traditions

(Two old and powerful American 'clans' alike in social prestige but far apart in political philosophy, will be joined with the marriage of Ethel du Pont and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.)

By SIGRID ARNE (By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON (AP) — Handsome, young Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., is seen helping the beautiful Ethel du Pont into a car. He squires her to a football game. He swings her around the floor at a college dance. And the gossip love it.

"What do you suppose their families think?" they buzz. They remember the warring of the du Pont clan on the New Deal. "Imagine a du Pont marrying a Roosevelt!"

So goes the refrain since Mr. and Mrs. Eugene du Pont announced the engagement of their daughter to the son and namesake of the President.

But the real surprise is not that a du Pont plans to marry a Roosevelt in June, but that the two clans never were united by marriage before. The two families have long, romantic histories, their paths have crossed before, and they have been powerful for generations.

It is even possible that before the French revolution the du Ponts knew the Delanos, who were known as the De La Noyes, and the du Ponts were active in Huguenot circles in France.

When Victor du Pont made an exploratory trip up the Hudson to Albany in 1787, the Roosevelts and Delanos were already well-known around New York.

All three families have been prolific. All three have taken a warm interest in their communities. Each has a home about which the clan revolves. Both the Roosevelts and the du Ponts are Episcopallians; both have old churches in which ceremonies, marriages and deaths for generations, The du Ponts are now in their eighth generation on American soil, the Roosevelts in their tenth.

In the three clans have been all manner of professional men, politicians, merchants and sea-going men. But each family has a special aptitude which has engaged a majority of its men. The Delanos have been predominantly shippers, the Roosevelts merchants; the du Ponts have stayed close to their original gun-powder mills.

Among the Roosevelts and the du Ponts the interests of the first generation have persisted to the present. The Roosevelts still are taught to sail boats almost as soon as they can spell the name. The du Ponts grow up knowing that they will be expected to take their place in the great corporation which has developed from their ancestors' original black powder mills, which still stand on the Brandywine river near the homes of the clan.

The Roosevelts have sent two Presidents to Washington. The du Ponts have been represented by a senator, Coleman, elected in 1924, and a son-in-law, Rep. Colgate Darby, who was in the House from Virginia last session.

Both clans have been so large and self-sufficient that there has been much intermarrying. In the present generation of adults, the President is a distant cousin of his wife, and Irene du Pont, a distant cousin of the bride-to-be is married to his distant cousin Irene du Pont. Divorces have been almost unheard of until recently.

First of the three families to arrive on American soil was Philippe De La Noe, who landed at Plymouth in 1621 and when he was only 19.

The next patriarch to arrive was Claes Martenzen van Rosenvelt who landed at New York in 1649.

The first du Pont was Victor who came to New York in 1787. He soon was followed by his brother, Eleuthere Irene, who started the family's munitions business in 1802, and their father, Pierre Samuel, a well-known French political and social pamphleteer.

All three patriarchs came from families that had been powerful enough in Europe to be raised to nobility.

Since the family arrived on American soil the whole history of the nation has been written. And now they are to be united because a handsome lad from Harvard fell in love with a beautiful blonde miss from Wilmington.

CONVICTS LIKE RODEO SPORTS AT HUNTSVILLE

Broncs Stimulated With Spark Coil In Chutes

By F. D. ELDRID HUNTSVILLE (AP)—Ride 'em, convict— A bone-jarring ride on the lurching back of a frenzied bronco or wild-eyed steer is the Texas prisoner's idea of a thrill.

Pastimes like baseball and football are but mild diversions for Texas prison inmates, who risk life and limb annually in the contest they love best—the rodeo.

Probably nowhere else in the world has the typically western sport been performed within prison walls for the entertainment of convicts.

The most incorrigible prisoners stand out as the top-notch performers, carrying away most of the prizes. For the chance to compete, they eagerly sign away all right to sue the state in case they happen to be killed or injured.

Some of the star performers are allowed to come in from segregation farms, where they have been sent for desperate escape attempts or other reckless acts in defiance of prison rules.

For personal glory and a little cash in prizes they gleefully mount the worst bucking horses and steers the prison system can find.

Each Bronco Charged To make sure each "ride" will be as rough as possible, they stimulate the broncos with a high-voltage spark coil just before they lunge out of the chutes.

They don't draw the color line in these contests, Negro and white convicts being equally free to enter. Some 50 or 60 prisoners tried their luck in the rodeo given on successive Sundays this fall.

Gov. James V. Allred gets a big kick out of watching the wild west shows. He and prison officials encourage the rodeo as a worthwhile prison enterprise which has proven highly beneficial to morale of prisoners, as well as providing revenues to be used in purchasing athletic equipment, movies, library books and magazines.

Thousands of Spectators Each year since the start of the prison rodeo six years ago attendance has grown. Several thousand spectators, beside the inmates, turn out to watch the convict performers spend their pent-up energy fighting to stay with a bucking animal. Many were skilled riders long before they ran afoul of the law.

They have all the modern-rodeo stunts, like jumping trained steers and horses over automobiles, milking wild cows and roping goats. Bareback steer riding is regarded as the most thrilling event, closely followed by bronc riding and bulldogging.

C. J. S. Ellington, general manager of the prison system, permits hundreds of convicts to be transported from the 11 far-flung prison farms to the central prison at Huntsville to perform and watch the rodeo, a sort of reward for their co-operation.

Two Romping Girls Crossing Street—Then This

Homeward bound from school, Mildred Walsh and Catherine Redman ventured across the busy Philadelphia street. Their childish laughter was turned into screams of terror as a heavily laden truck hurled upon them, and terror turned to anguish. Screaming brakes heard the truck to a halt. This unusual picture shows the girl instant after the tragedy. A bystander already lifts Mildred's crumpled figure. The truck driver runs to aid Catherine, whose lifeless form can be seen under the juggernaut of death. Mildred was expected to live.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

Ever try a sweet potato pudding when the family appetite acted a little bored? Use either 2 large cans of sweets, or 10 medium cooked potatoes. It's a simple dish—but a rich invention.

Peel the boiled potatoes, or drain the canned ones. Then butter a baking dish liberally. Place a few slices of potato on the bottom, dust with brown sugar and dot prodigally with butter. Repeat these layers of sweet potatoes, brown sugar and lots of butter. To finish off with a royal gesture, stick the prongs of a fork down through the pudding making many little channels to the bottom. Over the top pour about 3 tablespoons rich milk or cream. It will seep down and down and add a smooth grace to your dish. Dot the top with butter and place in moderately hot oven. Cook for 1 hour.

The butter will melt and go places with that brown sugar and in the end you will have such a fluffy mass of hot sweetness that no southern fried chicken could equal.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Honey dew melon, oatmeal and bran, buttered toast, quince jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: French toast, broiled bacon, apple sauce, tea, milk.

DINNER: Iced grape cup, calves' liver and bacon, creamed potatoes, buttered carrots, mixed green salad, apple Brown Betty, hard sauce, coffee, milk.

cause waste and also offer cracks which invite decay. One decay spot can spoil the entire potato. It may show as a soft wet spot, or else the potato may be discolored, shriveled or have sunken spots. Those are signs of decay; so also are any dark greenish spots. Remember this little nutrition fact: sweet potatoes belong in the yellow-orange food class and as such are an excellent source of vitamin A and have a fair amount of iron. In baking a sweet potato allow less time for it to become soft than you would for a white baked potato. Scrub the skins until they shine and bake in moderately hot oven. They adore brown gravy.

FOR REPRESENTED AS AGAINST THIRD TERM

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt represented today as standing firmly against seeking a third term.

George Creel, a former co-worker of Mr. Roosevelt in the Wilson administration, quoted the chief executive, in an article to be published in Collier's magazine, as saying: "On January 21, 1941, when a new President takes over, I will be in Hyde Park having the time of my life."

The publishers of the magazine described the article as authoritative. Creel, who headed the bureau of public information while Mr. Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy, wrote that "undoubtedly a major effort during the first part of the second term will be the consolidation of gains."

He listed the chief of these, "in the President's opinion," as the social security act, the tax on undistributed net income of corporations, soil conservation, the Tennessee Valley authority, the banking act and the securities and exchange act.

Order the 1937 Uncle Sam's Almanac NOW!

Every family in the United States needs an almanac practically every day in the year.

It naturally follows that if one needs an almanac at all, it should be a good one. It is a matter of regret that millions of shoddy and unreliable almanacs are given away as advertisements every year. Many others of a claptrap nature are sold at a cheap price.

Uncle Sam's Almanac, compiled by Frederic J. Haskin, is a private publication assembled mainly from governmental sources, and it is conceded to be the best publication of its kind, for a dime, that was ever issued in this country.

This will be particularly true of the 1937 edition which will be enlarged by sixteen pages.

Send in your name and address, with a dime, and your order will be listed for mailing as soon as the new edition comes off the press.

If you order now you will receive your copy just before the New Year

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Frejean of the Harvesters, Coach Bob Curry of the Gorillas and Coach Tom Herod of the Reapers will spend this week rounding out a team to face the Borger eleven which has been practicing for more than a week. The coaches will have 12 Harvester squadmen back. The rest of the squad will be selected from the best players on the Gorilla and Reaper teams.

Harvesters back for next season will include three ends, three guards, four backs, one tackle and one center. Five of the boys will be eligible for two seasons.

Opening practice this afternoon was scheduled to be one of straight hard football. The boys coming up from the Gorillas and Reapers know the Harvester system of play and will be able to step in and battle with their seniors from the first session.

The Harvester coaches saw the Reapers and Gorillas meet in a post season game last week and got an eye full of some mighty promising material. Their one hope is to develop a big, crashing fullback to give the Harvesters a power threat next year. This season's midget team had little power which allowed their opponents to concentrate on stopping the aerial attack and end runs.

Several other holes in the Pampa lineup will have to be filled and the fight is expected to be wide open. A line-backing center to replace Ivan Nobilit, who has already re-joined the all-state mention although not on a district championship club, will be one of the jobs before coaches and boys. The tackle position, a worry early in the season, will also be open. Only John Henry Nelson will return for that place.

Three guards, led by J. P. Mathews, will be available. Three ends also will be on hand. Four backs, all halves, will round out the returning lettermen. That will probably mean that Little J. W. Graham will be switched to the signal barking position to replace the spinning Woodridge.

How about a passer since Roy Showers will be gone, moan the fans. Well, it isn't so terribly bad. Little Graham throws a pretty wicked pass. Hubert of the Gorillas and Pete Dunaway and Jack Wear of the Reapers also know how to throw a pigskin.

All but those questions will be answered Saturday afternoon. An active ticket selling campaign will be conducted this week by pep squads and the annual staff, which will benefit from the game.

PASS INTERFERENCE RULE TO BE FOUGHT

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—The finish of football's fantastic campaigning for the season, from all indications, will be the signal for the fireworks to start over the forward-pass interference ruling.

With game or touchdown decisions in some 20 major meetings this season adding to the row started by last year's Army-Notre Dame tie, it seems hardly likely the affected coaches are going to sit back without taking a crack at the currently most-discussed ruling in the books.

When Navy trimmed the Army by a touchdown Saturday as a direct result of getting the ball on the West Pointers' three-yard line thru such an interference penalty, it probably was the "payoff" penalty which will lead to "high-pressure" for alteration of the ruling.

This year, in addition to the Army-Navy affair, Princeton was able to tie Dartmouth, Washington State beat out California and Michigan State managed to deadlock Boston college, through pass interference rulings.

The rule gives the offended team the ball on the enemy one-yard line if the interference is called in the end zone, or at the point of interference if it occurs elsewhere.

HUSKIES' ROSE BOWL CHOICE WILL BE KNOWN THIS WEEK

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—The college football world clears up a little unfinished business this week but finds its attention not a little distracted by wide-spread speculation over the identity of Washington's rival in Pasadena's New Year's Day Rose Bowl contest.

Louisiana State's brilliant 33-0 conquest of Tulane, giving the Tigers their second successive Southeastern conference championship, certainly did the Baton Rouge powerhouse no harm in Rose Bowl calculations.

Whether it was sufficiently decisive to counter-balance Washington's reported preference for Alabama's Crimson Tide probably will be known some time this week.

After last week's program, climaxed by Navy's sensational 7-0 victory over Army at Philadelphia before a crowd of 102,000 that set a new all-time record for the east, only the southwest conference title remains to be awarded.

Arkansas can capture the championship outright by beating Texas on Saturday. A tie will force the Razorbacks to share the title with Texas Christian's Horned Frogs who got no better than a scoreless draw with Southern Methodist, 1935 champion.

Otherwise, section championships have been decided as follows: East—Yale, Penn. Big Ten—Northwestern. Big Six—Nebraska. Pacific—Washington. Southern—Duke. Southeastern—Louisiana State. Rocky Mountain—Utah State.

Tom Rose Plays In Title Game

BOONVILLE, Mo., Nov. 30—Kemper's 14 to 0 victory over the Wentworth Red Dragons at Lexington yesterday clinched the Missouri Junior College Conference championship for the Yellowjackets an delcimated one of the most successful Kemper grid seasons in a number of years.

The Yellowjackets won seven of eight games, losing only to the Missouri Valley Vikings. Coach J. D. Skelton, Kemper mentor, has consistently used his entire squad in the contest this fall.

Among those who saw service for Kemper in the Thanksgiving game was Cadet Tom E. Rose Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom E. Rose, 505 North Gray st., Pampa, who plays left end for the Yellowjackets. Missouri Junior College Conference Standing:

Green Bay Packers Need One Win

CHICAGO, Nov. 30, (AP)—The Green Bay Packers, who dominated the National professional football league picture from 1929 through 1931, today needed just one more victory—in the East-West playoff—to win their fourth championship.

The powerful Packers won their ninth straight game yesterday by downing the 1935 titleholders, Detroit, 26 to 17 before 22,000 specta-

Panhandle And Tullia Will Meet This Evening

Officials of Panhandle and Tullia high schools will meet in Amarillo tonight to agree on a time and place for a bi-district playoff between the football teams of the two schools, winners of their respective districts.

It was expected today that the game will be played in one of the participating towns instead of on a neutral field. Amarillo and Canyon, the two most eligible neutral places, would not support a Class B team after seeing such teams as the Amarillo Sandies and West Texas State Teachers Buffaloes in action, it was pointed out by school officials.

Panhandle romped through district 3B undefeated while Tullia took district 4B with a single reverse. Both teams have powerful offenses with defense led by giants, Tullia's big boy weighing about 270 pounds and Panhandle's husky tipping the scales at about 220 pounds.

Wheeler's Mustangs, winner of district 2B, and the Flomot Longhorns, district 1B winner, will also meet this week at a place yet to be decided. The two winners will meet for regional honors in a sudden-death game.

MOUNTED MEN SEARCH KING RANCH FOR PAIR

SAN PERILITA, Nov. 30 (AP)—Mounted men rode farther today into the trackless ranchlands of this section in search of zuther and John Blanton.

The farmers, father and son, disappeared on a hunting trip Nov. 18, and no trace of them has been found despite 10 days of intensive searching by citizens and officers, including three Texas Rangers.

Fifty searchers, pledged to continue the hunt until the bodies of the men are found, planned to ride into new territory. They rode over a large section of the Yuria ranch Saturday. Previously the search centered on the vast King ranch.

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF LIQUOR IS CHARGED

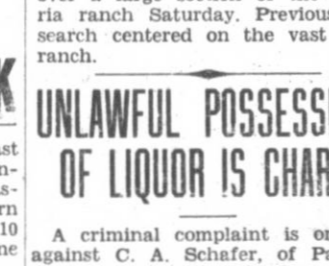

A criminal complaint is on file against C. A. Schaffer, of Pampa, charging him with unlawful possession of liquor.

Schaffer scheduled to appear in county court next Monday to answer to a citation filed against him by Meldon Leslie, agent of the Texas Liquor Control Board.

Leslie specifically accuses Schaffer of having in his possession 17 pints of whisky which did not carry the state liquor stamp.

Miss Loh Esel, China's "Joan of Arc" visited the United States recently to seek aid against Japan.

Centennial Brings Sales Record

The graph tells a financial story which makes the two girls and all Texas smile. It shows percentage gains in department store sales in Texas (and throughout the Eleventh Federal Reserve District) have run ahead of the nation since business began to feel the stimulus of the expenditures for the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. The black line represents the percentage gain in volume of sales throughout the Eleventh District and the dotted line the percentage gain throughout the Nation, both graphs being for the period October, 1935, through October, 1936. When the Texas World's Fair was opened in June, the Eleventh District pulled ahead not only of the nation as a whole but of every other district. It is still ahead of every other district.

ALL GUNS ARE NOW LEVELLED AT AMARILLO

SITE OF BATTLE WITH CHILDRESS TO BE DECIDED

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Nov. 30 (AP)—Only four 1935 district champions returned to the first round battle for the Texas Interscholastic League football title today.

Of the sixteen teams that play bi-district games this week, Amarillo, El Paso, Port Arthur and Corpus Christi were still in the running the week after Thanksgiving last season. Out of that quartet, however, was the state champion—Amarillo—at whom the guns of all the survivors are now leveled.

Amarillo bears strong promise of repeating as champion and equalling the record set by Waco of winning three titles in a row. However, Amarillo will have to wait another year at least to tie a second mark held by Paul Tyson's Tigers from the banks of the Brazos—take four state championships.

Sites and dates for seven of the eight bi-district games have been arranged. The place of the other has been set but the time not agreed upon.

Amarillo, champion of district one, plays Childress, title team of district two at Childress, but whether it will be Friday or Saturday was to be decided at a meeting at Amarillo today.

Ablene, champion of district three, plays El Paso high winner of district four, at El Paso Saturday.

Gainesville, district five winner, meets McKinney, district six champion, at Gainesville Friday.

North Dallas, district eight champion, plays North Side, district seven, at North Side Saturday.

Hillsboro, district eleven winner, plays Kerrville, district twelve title team, at San Antonio Friday.

Corpus Christi, champion of district fifteen, plays Edinburg, champion of district sixteen, at Corpus Christi Friday.

Of the 97 teams that started the class A race in September only four went through district campaigns without suffering a defeat or tie, Amarillo, North Side, Hillsboro and Kerrville.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—Everybody has been wondering where Larry MacPhail will bob up next season... reports have had him going to Brooklyn, St. Louis, and other spots... The real dope is that right now the former general manager of the Reds is trying to put an international league franchise in Jersey City to be used as a spearhead for a chain of minor league clubs with working agreement with the Giants... There may be a fight on this at Montreal next week... Newark (owned by the Yankees) is getting a protest ready, claiming it controls the territory since Jersey City is within the International League's ten-mile limit.

Notre Dame men here say Hunk Anderson is definitely through at North Carolina State... if Sammy Baugh is in there pitching, your agent will risk a few bob on Texas Christian to trim Santa Clara... faced with the old leave ho if his Huskies didn't have a successful season, Jimmy Pheasant rolled up his sleeves and finished in the Rose Bowl... it costs $3 per day to feed the Bengal tiger mascot of the Louisiana State football team... students dug up $750 to buy the Tiger.

Stub Allison, California coach, may not know it, but he's going to be offered a new five year contract with a fat raise... eastern schools are after Stub, who has been working for "depression wages," less than $10,000 per year.

Most southern coaches agree Louisiana State is easily the best team in Dixie... but it still looks like Alabama for the Rose Bowl because Washington will do the inviting, and Washington wants to get even for that licking Alabama handed it some years back... one or two eastern writers are campaigning to have Penn nominated.

EITHER LOUISIANA STATE OR ALABAMA WILL PLAY IN BOWL

SEATTLE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Seattle football fans were confident today Alabama or Louisiana State would be chosen to meet the University of Washington in the annual Rose Bowl football game.

Sometime this week, possibly by Wednesday, E. Eckmann, Washington athletic director, will name the opponent for the Huskies in the Pasadena New Year's day battle.

He was on his way south today to confer with Stanford and tournament of roses officials before selecting the opposition. He will make the announcement in Los Angeles, he said.

Before he left yesterday with three assistants, Eckmann intimated the contenders had narrowed down to the two southeastern teams which have impressive records of no defeats and a tie each.

It is no secret that Washington would like best to get another crack at Minnesota, the highest ranking team in the country, but the "Big Ten" conference prohibits its post-season games.

In the opening game of the season here, Washington lost to Minnesota, 14 to 7, but scored twice as many first downs and gained more yardage than the Gophers.

Student sentiment seems to favor Alabama and the opportunity to rub out a 20 to 19 defeat the southerners tagged on Washington at a Rose Bowl engagement in 1926.

Murray, Pennsylvania, halfback William T. Ingram, 2nd, Navy; fullback John Handrahan, Dartmouth. Second team: ends: Barna, West Virginia, and Holland, Cornell; tackles: Mitsi, Pittsburgh and Keovorkian, Harvard; guards: Montgomery, Princeton, and Morrell, Navy; center: Haulze, Pennsylvania; quarterback: Sandbach, Princeton; halfbacks: Goldberg, Pittsburgh and Brumbaugh, Duquesne; fullback: Kurlish, Pennsylvania.

ALL-EASTERN FIRST ELEVEN IS SELECTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—Pittsburgh and Yale, representing separate competitive spheres in one of the most exciting seasons in the history of football's original battle ground, monopolized honors today in the all-eastern selections compiled by the Associated Press.

Three members of the Stalwart Pitt line, Bill Daddio at end, Captain Bill Glassford at guard, and Averell Daniell at tackle, occupied positions on the first team, with Tony Hatisi at tackle and Marshall Goldberg at halfback on the second eleven.

Yale, with Captain Larry Kelley at end and Clint Frank in the backfield, helped the "Ivy League" make the best showing among eastern all-stars in a decade. Princeton, Pennsylvania and Dartmouth each captured one place.

Comparatively little argument developed over the selection of the east's outstanding linemen, except in naming the No. 1 center, Captain Mike Basrak, key man in the Duquesne defense which stopped Pittsburgh and Marquette, got the call over two sturdy rivals, Alex Wojciechowski of Fordham and Jim Hauze of Pennsylvania.

Selection of Frank's running mates in the all-star backfield developed more dispute. The Eli star clearly won his place by a brilliant ball-carrying, passing, blocking, tackling and signal-call. As a running back his leading rival was Pittsburgh's sensational Marshall Goldberg but the latter lacked the all-around talents of Pennsylvania's Franny Murray or Navy's Bill Ingram, who got the call by thin margins over Goldberg and Boyd Brumbaugh, the ace of Duquesne's back field. Pound for pound, there were few backs more threatening in a broken field than army's Monk Meyer.

The all-eastern first team selections follow, showing position, player and college:

End Lawrence M. Kelley, Yale; tackle Averell Daniell, Pittsburgh; guard Nathaniel Pierce, Fordham; center Michael Basrak, Duquesne; guard William Glassford, Pittsburgh; tackle Charles Toll Jr., Princeton; end William Daddio, Pittsburgh; quarterback Clinton E. Frank, Yale; halfback Francis

THE WHOLE NEIGHBORHOOD LOOKS BETTER SINCE WE PAVED WITH CONCRETE

"I wish we had put concrete on our streets long ago. Aside from being the best to drive on, keeps itself clean, looks better, and has made our neighborhood more desirable. Property values are up."

That's not half the story. Your own experience tells you that concrete helps you to drive safely; that it effectively checks skidding; that its light-grey surface helps you see at night.

And concrete saves you money because it is moderate in first cost, low in upkeep and long lasting.

Right next to the bench of workers, other men were working on the building sets. I saw a model of the great bridge spanning San Francisco Bay from San Francisco through Yerba Buena Island on to Oakland, Calif.

And there was a model of unfinished Golden Gate bridge, which will be larger than the George Washington bridge, largest single span in the world, which stretches over the Hudson river from 77th street in New York City.

Other great engineering projects like them may be given to the world in the future because the children have allowed their fancies to roam while they were tinkering at home with toy building sets—and have followed those fancies through with study in later years. Santa Claus talked long to me on this point—and I think it's a pretty good one, too—don't you, boys and girls?

On great shelves lining the south and west walls of Santa's workshop were all sorts of finished toys, already marked and ready for shipping to Pampa and other towns throughout the world.

As I left the workshop with Santa Claus to go into his study to talk with him about the trip back to Pampa, I couldn't help but feel that here, where all these men toiled, not for a selfish purpose, but for love of their work, was a happier and better place than our world had ever known. Santa has promised to give us a detailed explanation of other toys he has in his warehouse, and I shall tell you about them later.

May Bring Giants Back

Meanwhile I want to discuss our return trip plans with Santa Claus and take up with him the matter of taking back to Pampa with us some of the residents of the Valley of Happy Giants, which is right near Santa's home here.

We went out there for a little while yesterday, and although these strange people are a bit skeptical about having strangers in their midst, I did get a glimpse of one of them.

Strange as it may seem—I they looked just like characters I had seen in the funny papers back in Pampa. Then, Santa Claus told me that I was right. He said that the artists who draw the comic page pictures back home got their ideas from the queer folk who inhabit the Valley of the Happy Giants. All of the people here are at least eight or ten feet tall.

I told Santa Claus that I would like to take about a dozen of them back to Pampa and have them march in the big Santa Day parade so that all the little boys and girls at home could see them. What do you think of that idea, Kiddies?

When we were passing near the Giants' Happy Valley I got a glimpse of Mickey Mouse, Happy Holloman, Ella Cinders, Mutt & Jeff, Barney Google and Andy Gump. There were a great many others, too, but they scampered back behind the walls before I could identify them.

I'll try and get Santa to bring them with us when we come back to Pampa. And, if we do, boys and girls, you're going to see some strange people.

Another episode of Pa Pampa's adventures in Santa Claus Land will appear in Tuesday's Pampa Daily NEWS. Don't miss it.

Santa at Work

them red, blue or green. Next they would hang them to dry on hooks against the wall.

One Man On Each Job

After they had assembled the metal framework for a wagon, they would pass it on to the second bench, where men worked only with wood. One worker would finish planing strips of spruce or pine, or oak, smooth them with sandpaper then screw them onto the top of the framework.

Next he would take a pot of clear varnish from the shelf above him, coat the wooden part and then hang the finished wagon against a far wall to dry.

On farther down the room was a bench on which I could see nothing but dolls and doll parts. One group of these elfish-like men was busy making plaster or paper molds of dolls' heads, arms, legs and trunks. Another group was assembling the parts, fastening joints with steel pins and strands of silver wire.

Then the assembled doll would be given to another group which glued on wigs made from hair imported from all over the world. Finally the dolls would be given to the last group, which designed all the clothes and sewed them around the dolls' bodies.

Toys For Building

On beyond the doll bench we came across a work bench on which men were constructing nothing but wooden buildings, toys, sets from which children can construct most anything that their imaginations can picture and their small hands put together.

"Building toys will be our specialty this winter," Santa Claus said, as I paused at the bench to watch a workman complete the model of a rambling farmhouse. "We feel that children should learn to create things with their own hands instead of always using toys and other objects that other people have created for them.

"We feel that children should learn, should know the thrill of having done something themselves. We want our world of children to become a world of doers, of creators—not a world of helpless persons who must depend upon others to do everything for them."

I told Santa Claus that I thought that was a splendid idea, and I

France, worried by an international situation aggravated by the left-rightist civil war in Spain, faced an internal problem, brought about by the same conflict, that may result in the fall of Premier Leon Blum's cabinet.

Continued communist attacks against the government brought a crisis within the ruling popular front over support for the Madrid government. Blum has insisted on neutrality.

Meanwhile in the country about Madrid, where the world struggle between fascism and socialism-communism is being waged in miniature on the field of battle, a full developed in the military situation.

Fascist bombers looted their deadly loads in two raids over the environs of the city but failed to attack the heart of the capital.

This failure, government sources said, linked with slight advances of their militia, indicated a breaking in the Fascist attack on Madrid.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Pivotal issues took a backseat in today's stock market and permitted a number of specialists to do the driving.

Trends were highly indefinite at the close. The leaders began to drop shortly thereafter and, near the fourth hour, there was little come-back to the market. Trading, however, was notably restricted.

BRIEFS

HOUSTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Criticism from Oklahoma and Kansas of the Texas Railroad Commission's action in raising Texas' December oil allowance above the Bureau of Mines figures reverberated along several fronts today.

The Houston Post quoted Col. Ernest O. Thompson of the commission as saying in a long distance telephone interview that Texas is a sovereign state and takes dictation from no one.

"I read from the press that someone is trying to make it appear the Interstate Compact Commission is bound by the Bureau of Mines figures," the Post quoted him as saying. "Such is not the case. The oil states compact is a waste-prevention treaty.

"Texas has led the nation in waste prevention. We have well capable of producing 30,000 barrels limited to match this restraint."

The Post said operators wholeheartedly supported the action of the commission in boosting the allowable above 95,000 barrels over November's figure and 56,000 barrels over the bureau's figures.

The action of the Texas commission caused Reford Bond, chairman of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission, to delay the issuance of Oklahoma's allowable order for December. Members of the Oklahoma Commission indicated they favored raising their allowable in view of the action taken in Austin.

POSSILLE TO WED, BUT SHE'LL STICK TO OPERA

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Romance like a page from a story book has come to lead beautiful Rosa Possille to the altar but not away from grand opera.

Soon—just how soon she cannot say yet—she will wed tall and handsome Carl A. Jackson, the beautiful she found in quiet and cultured Baltimore. But her singing will go on.

That much they made clear as Miss Possille entertained her husband-to-be yesterday at the Green Spring Valley mansion where she is staying. Jackson is the eldest son of Mayor Howard W. Jackson.

WAR TRADE LAST YEAR TOTALS $43,000,000

GENEVA, Nov. 30 (AP)—The total known trade in arms and war materials during 1935 amounted to $43,000,000, the League of Nations announced today.

The League said it would be rash to accept the figure as covering world-wide trading in armaments. Exports from the United States were declared to have shown a considerable decrease.

The figures include only arms and materials manufactured for war purposes, excluding sporting arms and ammunition.

DEFENDED BY THOMPSON

HOUSTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Criticism from Oklahoma and Kansas of the Texas Railroad Commission's action in raising Texas' December oil allowance above the Bureau of Mines figures reverberated along several fronts today.

The Houston Post quoted Col. Ernest O. Thompson of the commission as saying in a long distance telephone interview that Texas is a sovereign state and takes dictation from no one.

"I read from the press that someone is trying to make it appear the Interstate Compact Commission is bound by the Bureau of Mines figures," the Post quoted him as saying. "Such is not the case. The oil states compact is a waste-prevention treaty.

"Texas has led the nation in waste prevention. We have well capable of producing 30,000 barrels limited to match this restraint."

The Post said operators wholeheartedly supported the action of the commission in boosting the allowable above 95,000 barrels over November's figure and 56,000 barrels over the bureau's figures.

The action of the Texas commission caused Reford Bond, chairman of the Oklahoma Corporation Commission, to delay the issuance of Oklahoma's allowable order for December. Members of the Oklahoma Commission indicated they favored raising their allowable in view of the action taken in Austin.

HOOSIER FARM YOUTHS COP MEAT CROWN AGAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 30 (AP)—Hoosier farm youths retained their crowns today as the best meat animal raisers among the nation's 1,000,000 4-H club members.

William Bainbridge, 17-year old Greensburg, Ind., high school senior, was named champion in the national 4-H meat animal contest. The sixth consecutive year a Hoosier has won.

Bainbridge received a $300 cash college scholarship award and a trip to the 15th annual club congress, now in session at the International Livestock Exposition. He also sold animals used in his club projects for $7,127 and won $206 in premiums at county and state fairs.

J. D. Jordan, 15, of Mason, Texas, became the first youth from his state to win a scholarship in the seven years of the contest by placing second. During his work with livestock he won $1,116.88 in prizes and realized $5,420.00 from sales.

WAR TRADE LAST YEAR TOTALS $43,000,000

GENEVA, Nov. 30 (AP)—The total known trade in arms and war materials during 1935 amounted to $43,000,000, the League of Nations announced today.

The League said it would be rash to accept the figure as covering world-wide trading in armaments. Exports from the United States were declared to have shown a considerable decrease.

The figures include only arms and materials manufactured for war purposes, excluding sporting arms and ammunition.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT KILLED IN COLLISION

ABILENE, Nov. 30, (AP)—Heavy fog blanketing this area was believed responsible for an automobile collision on highway 4-30 in which two Hardin-Simmons university students were fatally injured at 11:30 Sunday night and five other persons were hurt.

Internal injuries caused the death at 3 a. m. of Robert A. Marshall, Jr., 19, a sophomore from Coshoma. The second victim, Wanda Day, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Day of Anson, succumbed at 4:25 a. m. Miss Day, a freshman, died of internal injuries and shock.

In the hospital for treatment of abrasions, severe lacerations and shock, were three other students, Lenz Lollar, freshman from Anson; G. A. Mahler, Jr., sophomore from Claude, and his sister, Cora Beryl Mahler, a freshman. With Fred Smith, a friend from Claude, the five students were enroute to Anson in the Mahler car which Smith was to take back to Claude today. Smith and A. D. Fyall, of Coleman, driver of the second car, were released after emergency treatment for cuts and bruises.

A mid-afternoon accident here came near costing the lives of two children, Thomas Harrison Duncan, Jr., 7, and his four-year-old sister, Doris Lee Duncan, when a clothes line wire they had pitched across an electrical service wire back of the home garage struck an uninsulated portion of the wire. They were thrown to the wet ground unconscious, later being revived with artificial respiration.

AUSTIN, Nov. 30, (AP)—The old rumor that Gov. Allred would resign to accept a Federal job has bobbed up again in slightly different form.

At various times he was reported contemplating quitting the governorship to accept a Federal judgeship, running for Congress, and seeking the seat in the United States senate held by Senator Tom Connally of Marlin.

Some suggested his ambitions reached as high as the Presidency, while others said he contemplated nothing more sensational at the end of his second term than turning over the key of office to his successor and practicing law in Austin.

The latest report is that the next Congress may create a roving judgeship for Texas, in addition to the established Federal tribunals in the state, and Allred given the position.

Lieut. Gov. Walter F. Woodul, who long has hinted he would run for attorney general two years hence, would succeed Allred, and then, instead of seeking the attorney general's office, would run for governor.

A brief visit of Vice-President John N. Garner to Allred in Austin gave some impetus to the discussion, or at least a peg on which to hang the story. Some enterprising person deduced the vice-president talked over the matter of being Federal judge with the governor.

Allred said immediately after the meeting they talked merely of odds and ends of "no importance," and a little later said flatly he had not discussed the subject of resignation for a Federal position "with anyone" and all stories written on it were "pure speculation."

Anyone familiar with political deals, however, would know the governor could not discuss publicly at this time such a matter even if there had been serious conversations about it.

One friend made this comment: "His work really will be over when the regular session of the next legislature adjourns. What is there ahead for him? Any young lawyer would think twice before accepting down an opportunity to be a Federal judge. The job pays $10,000 a year for life."

On the other hand, a person long familiar with political trading pointed out the creation of the new judgeship was a long way off and expressed the opinion that even if it finally came into existence "Allred never would get it."

The truth probably is the governor doesn't know what he will do in the next year or two and will listen amiably to anything that promises honorable reward in position and money. Such has been the situation of every governor who approached the end of his term of office.

He wouldn't mind being Federal judge and he wouldn't object to resigning to get the job, but he won't give up the present $12,000 a year position, with his many honors, until the bill creating the judgeship has been passed and any banana peels in his path to it removed.

A person probably more vitally interested in the year was Attorney General William McCraw, expected by nearly everyone to be an outstanding candidate for governor to succeed Allred.

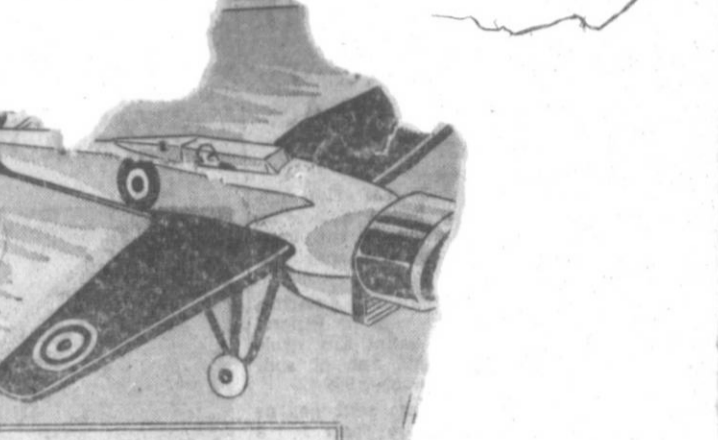

Should Allred step out before expiration of his term and Woodul become governor and then run for the office in his own right, McCraw would have cause for a headache. So might Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission, also talked of as a probable gubernatorial candidate.

BEATEN PATH INDIANAPOLIS—Firemen began to think for a while they might as well establish headquarters at the home of J. A. Starck.

At 8:30 a. m. yesterday they made a run to the Starck home and extinguished a small roof fire. At 9:02 they had to go back and put out another fire and at 9:30 Starck called them back to extinguish a third blaze.

Sparks caused all three fires.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Secretary Roper said today that reports to the Congress from all sections "clearly show that people are buying this Christmas more expensive types of gifts than for any season since 1929."

In the first comment from an administration source on recent heavy dividend declarations, Roper said "the unprecedented distribution of corporation funds through bonuses and extra dividends is a most stimulating factor" in the Christmas buying surge.

"Progress reports" on Christmas business, the secretary said, support previous predictions that department store sales this season "will be at least 15 per cent greater than in 1928 and will closely approach the volume attained in the 1929 season."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP)—Secretary Roper said today that reports to the Congress from all sections "clearly show that people are buying this Christmas more expensive types of gifts than for any season since 1929."

In the first comment from an administration source on recent heavy dividend declarations, Roper said "the unprecedented distribution of corporation funds through bonuses and extra dividends is a most stimulating factor" in the Christmas buying surge.

"Progress reports" on Christmas business, the secretary said, support previous predictions that department store sales this season "will be at least 15 per cent greater than in 1928 and will closely approach the volume attained in the 1929 season."
