No ticket correctly matched all six numbers drawn Saturday night for the twice-weekly Lotto Texas game, state lottery officials said.

The jackpot was worth $7 million.

The numbers drawn Saturday night from a field of 50 were: 1, 14, 19, 22, 31 and 40.

Wednesday night's drawing will be worth an estimated $10 million.

PLAINVIEW (AP) — A Texas Panhandle sports editor who showed up to report on a high school football game made some news for himself.

The Plainview Daily Herald's Kevin Lewis kicked two field goals Friday during a halftime contest and went home with a new pickup truck.

The shiny, dark blue Ford F-150 had sat temptingly during the first half of the Plainview-Pampa game just off the south end zone, Lewis wrote in the paper's Sunday editions.

Amy loses cancer battle Services Tuesday at FBC

By NANCY YOUNG, Managing Editor

Amy Newhouse, 16, was a fighter. The Pampa High student fought the disease of cancer since being diagnosed in January. She died Saturday just six days short of her 17th birthday.

After months of extensive treatments and medical care, Amy and her family were told in May she was cancer free. On July 9 she went to see her doctor for a routine check-up and learned the cancer had returned. Treatments were immediately begun and the endless rounds to medical care providers began again.

On Aug. 12 she was again admitted to the hospital. The following day doctors met with her and her family. They told them medicine had done all it could do for Amy.

Amy declined extensive treatments after the doctors explained her bone marrow was not producing enough cells for her blood due to the effects of the chemotherapy. The cancer was growing faster than the treatments were working, as the disease was spreading rapidly.

When given the choice in August of staying in the hospital or at home, the 16-year-old wanted to go home to be with her parents and sisters. She was given several medications including medicine for pain.

Each One Teach One Literacy course volunteers sought

"Two years ago I was on welfare, unable to drive, and couldn't even read a story to my kids — and it was all because I couldn't read. Being able to read lets me have bigger dreams. I can be somebody. I'm going all the way."

— Adult learner

By KAYLA PURSLEY For The News

If you can read this, read it to someone who can't.

The Pampa Area Literacy Council teaches adults who cannot read. Using the Laubach method of reading work books, one student and one volunteer work side by side reading and listening.

In 1930, while working in the Philippines, Frank C. Laubach originated a method of teaching adults to read and write in their own language. This method was tested and refined over the years as it was used to teach adults to read in many local languages. Laubach carried the slogan "Each One Teach One" into 100 nations.

The principles of the Laubach Literacy International reading program:

—Letters of the alphabet and the sounds they stand for are taught in a systematic manner.

—Learning is through association rather than through rote memory. Letters and sounds are introduced through keywords with picture association.

—Lessons move from the known to the unknown.

—Familiar vocabulary is used. The vocabulary is controlled, limiting the number of new words in each lesson.

—Repetition is used to strengthen the visual image.

—Meaningful content is used.

—There is something new in each lesson.

—Independence in learning is encouraged. The uniformity of each lesson makes it easy for learners to help themselves.

Suspects flee, officer sore, ok following fight

By JEFF WEST Staff Writer

A Pampa Police Officer is "sore but ok" after a fight early this morning.

Pampa Police Officer Corey Powell said his bullet-proof vest saved him from more serious injury during a battle with a man and a woman that police have not identified pending further investigation.

The incident began in the 1000 block of Neel shortly after midnight when Powell saw a woman talking to a man on a bicycle. The officer said. Powell noticed the bike had no red light on the rear of the bike and approached in his police cruiser to issue a ticket.

At that point Powell said the woman pointed to his car and the man started trying to ride away on the bicycle.

Powell jumped out of his vehicle and ordered the man to stop. When he didn't, Powell grabbed the man in an attempt to detain him. The man began struggling with Powell and Powell saw a vial that appeared to be full, possibly of some kind of narcotic.

"I don't know exactly what was in it but he didn't want it and he didn't want me to have it," Powell said.

Wrestling boosters seek sport's return to athletic program

By NANCY YOUNG, Managing Editor

Wrestling may return to the Pampa school district after a four-year absence.

Two local men, Brian Wall and Rick Urquhart, asked the board of trustees last week to consider bringing wrestling back into the PISD. Wall, who is active with the Lakedown Wrestling team in Pampa, said, "We're going to lose some students because they have no sport to go to after they turn 15."

He said when the boys turn 15 they can no longer compete in the wrestling club. He said the Lakedown Wrestling team had 28 youths involved last year and 19 wrestlers went to state. One local boy won a state championship in his division and nine placed in their divisions.

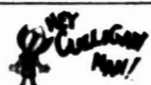

Wall said it will give boys something to look to. He said every team Pampa has played in football during the 1999 football season has wrestling in their high school and some have it in middle school. He said it is a UIL sanctioned sport.

Wall said wrestling helps students gain speed, quickness, strength, confidence and character. He also emphasized the sport is based on individual skills.

"Some boys are too short for basketball and some are too small for football. Wrestlers wrestle boys the same size," he said.

AMY

The family moved from Pampa to Amarillo in August to be nearer medical care providers for Amy. Her mother, Nancy Hull, had worked in a local law office and her step-father, Kevin Hull, is a paramedic. She had four sisters: Sara, Katy, Nicole and Abby.

Amy's religion was very important to her. She had planned to attend Christ for the Nation's College in Dallas to pursue active work in the missionary field. In Pampa she was active in Girls for Christ and in the drama team with the youth of Trinity Fellowship of Pampa.

She was also active in Teen Leadership, Business Professionals of America, Thespian Society, and manager of the Pampa High School Volley ball team.

"Amy was truly a special person and all of us were very fortunate to have been touched by her," said Starla Kindle, who was Amy's counselor at Pampa High. "She had the most wonderful outlook on life. She felt that whatever the task her Lord gave her she could handle it."

"Amy had the most upbeat personality. Her eyes had that special twinkle in them," said Kindle.

"She was wonderful."

Since Amy's diagnosis in January the students at Pampa High have pulled together in a unified effort, said Kindle. "It crossed all racial, religious and ethnic boundaries. I hope the unification continues. It has been very impressive."

Kindle said students wishing to attend the funeral at 10 a.m. Tuesday and/or the burial services at Clarendon Tuesday afternoon must send a note to the school. The students will be excused at 9:15 a.m. to attend the funeral at the First Baptist Church, and the absence will be excused, said Kindle.

Pastor Lonny Robbins of the Trinity Fellowship Church said the family will be receiving friends from 4-7 p.m. today at Trinity Fellowship Church, 1200 S. Sumner. He said the family has been very courageous and strong. "Their faith in the Lord has been their sustaining force at this time," said Robbins.

Numerous fundraisers were held by Pampa residents to help with medical expenses over the past few months. The family has asked that memorials be sent to the Baptist/St. Anthony's Pediatric Intensive Oncology Unit of Amarillo or the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Amarillo.

LITERACY

—Reading and writing is connected in each lesson to help reinforce skills.

—Lessons are planned for maximum self-help and minimum teacher help.

Becoming a tutor only requires a volunteer commitment of time. Prospective tutors attend an orientation session to learn more about literacy, as well as some tips on tutoring. Then they are matched with a prospective learner, taking into account mutual preferences (days, time, location, etc.) for a minimum two one-hour sessions each week. Tutoring is done at the literacy office, 108 N. Russell, or Lovett Library.

Anyone interested in sharing their time for tutoring or interested in learning to read are invited to come by the literacy office and get acquainted. Office hours are Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday from 1 to 4 p.m. and by appointment or call 665-2331.

Skydiving plane crash kills five

BRYAN, Texas (AP) — Federal investigators examining the wreckage of a skydiving plane that crashed and burned with five people aboard have found no problems with the flight controls.

Officials planned to continue interviewing witnesses today, along with a review of pilot and maintenance records on the 1958 Cessna 182, owned by the Ags Over Texas skydiving club. The plane carrying skydiving instructor Mark Woodings, 27, crashed after a dive from Coulter Field, just east of Bryan. Pilot James Robert Puryear, 22, of College Station; instructor Jonathan Wayne Warden, 25, of Bryan; student skydiver Sarah Rebecca Miller, 18, of San Antonio; and Woodings died at the crash site.

The plane's fifth occupant, 27-year-old Lela Futch of Franklin, was pulled from the wreckage. She died at St. Joseph Regional Health Center, a nearby hospital. She had planned to celebrate her birthday by making her first skydive.

Allison Roderick, the jumpmaster's girlfriend and employee, said Woodings was obsessed with safety. She watched the crash.

Poison ivy can strike repeatedly

HOUSTON — It's possible to have a number of outbreaks from just a single encounter with a poison ivy plant.

That's because the sap of the plant that causes the allergic reaction tends to get on shoes, clothes and gardening tools. If it's not washed off, it might prompt a miserable rash that can appear over and over again, said Dr. Rajani Katta, an assistant professor of dermatology at Baylor College of Medicine.

At least 70 percent of the U.S. population has an allergic reaction to even casual contact with the poison ivy plant. In order to keep the rash from appearing after contact, you must act quickly.

"If you can wash it off with water immediately after you're exposed, that's probably sufficient," Hatta said.

Don't pack away the sunscreen

HOUSTON — Sunscreens should not be packed away with the beach balls and picnic baskets at the end of summer.

"Use a sunscreen every day. It's not just for the beach," said Dr. John Wolf, chairman of the dermatology department at Baylor College of Medicine.

Sunscreens of SPF 15 or more should be used. For those planning to be in the sun for several hours or those especially sensitive to the sun, a SPF of 30 or more should be used, Wolf said.

"Most people don't realize the importance of protecting their skin. Studies show that 70 percent of sunlight damage occurs during those average, everyday activities," he said.

For infants, spitting up is part of life

HOUSTON — Parents often suspect it's the formula that causes their child to spit up a lot, but it's more likely a characteristic of normal development.

"The muscle that closes the feeding tube, or esophagus, is still developing in infants and may be somewhat weak. As a result, even a tiny burp can cause small amounts of stomach contents to come back up," said Dr. Carlos Lifshitz, an associate professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine and a scientist at the USDA/ARS Children's Nutrition Research Center.

If the infant is generally happy and gaining weight, parents should not be concerned. Infants who are vomiting, have diarrhea, respiratory problems, rashes, loss of appetite or weight loss should be seen by a physician.

"Nearly half of all healthy infants under 1 year of age spit up two or more times per day," said Lifshitz.

Diet changes can prevent heartburn

HOUSTON — The discomfort of heartburn can usually be prevented with a few simple diet and lifestyle changes.

Heartburn is caused by stomach contents that backflow or reflux. It can include a sour taste, burning and pressure.

"Foods that are acidic and direct irritants to the esophagus should be avoided," said Dr. Gulchin Ergun, medical director of the Reflux Center at Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital.

Orange, grapefruit and pineapple juices, foods that contain large amounts of vinegar, aspirin, alcohol, caffeine, tomato products and chocolates are all potential causes of heartburn.

In addition to watching your diet, don't lie down for two to three hours after eating to decrease the risk of heartburn, Ergun said.

Male infertility research focuses on genetics

HOUSTON — Future research on male infertility will likely focus on genetics, said Dr. Larry Lipshultz, a professor of urology at Baylor College of Medicine.

"In about 30 percent of men, the reason for infertility is unknown, but there's evidence to suggest that the cause might be genetic in many of these cases," he said.

If researchers are able to identify the genetic abnormality, it might ultimately enable them to develop gene therapy as a treatment for some types of infertility.

Lipshultz already routinely screens most patients who have severe infertility — fewer than 5 million sperm per millimeter of semen — for Y chromosome deletions.

Medications may help Restless Leg Syndrome

HOUSTON — A disorder that causes unpleasant crawling and aching sensations and an urge to move the legs, especially at night and with inactivity, may be helped by low doses of certain Parkinson's disease medications.

Dr. William Ondo, an assistant professor of neurology at Baylor College of Medicine, said, "People often think they are having leg or arm cramps, and this can lead to improper treatment."

Patients with Restless Leg Syndrome often have trouble sleeping and may experience involuntary and rhythmic leg movements in their sleep.

The Parkinson's medications, called dopamine agonists, stimulate the cells normally acted on by dopamine, the brain chemical necessary for normal movement.

"Symptom improvement is so consistent that it is clear that RLS somehow affects the patient's cells that use dopamine," he said.

Be on the lookout for signs of huffing

HOUSTON — Parents who suspect their child is "huffing" should intervene as soon as possible.

Huffing is a potentially deadly form of inhalant abuse in which intoxicating vapors or fumes are inhaled to get a quick "high." Everyday products like spray paint, cooking spray, air freshener and butane can be sprayed into cans and small plastic bags or onto clothing so the concentrated vapors can be huffed or inhaled. Chemicals found in spray cans of whipped cream can also be huffed.

"This is a dangerous practice, because the chemicals can trigger irregular heart rhythms," said Dr. Nancy Neff, assistant professor of family and community medicine at Houston's Baylor College of Medicine.

Clues that your child might be huffing include and unusual breath odor or chemical odor on clothes; a drunken or dizzy appearance; slurred or disoriented speech; chronic runny nose and red eyes; mood changes (anxiety, excitability, irritability, or lethargy); and frequent sniffing of clothing.

If your child has these symptoms, he or she is at risk of a heart attack, so consult your primary-care doctor as soon as possible. If your child faints or loses consciousness, call 911. Perform CPR if the child has no pulse. Long term treatment usually requires enrollment in a 12 step drug abuse program.

Study: Moderate exercise cuts heart disease risk in women

By JANET McCONNAUGHEY
Associated Press Writer

Women can cut their risk of heart disease by more than a third with the right type of exercise — and it doesn't have to be a big, sweaty workout, researchers reported today.

Either three hours of brisk walking per week or half that time spent working up a sweat at jogging, aerobic dance or other vigorous exercise reduced the risk of heart disease 35 percent to 40 percent in a study of 72,488 women.

The study also suggests it's never too late to start: Women who were couch potatoes when the eight-year study began reduced their risk of heart trouble by about the same amount as those who were active from the start.

"For many people, recommendations to do strenuous exercise may have served as a barrier to becoming physically active. These results are encouraging," said Dr. JoAnn Manson, a professor at Harvard-affiliated Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston who oversaw the research, which was part of the long-running Nurses Health Study.

"In order to walk all you need is good pair of walking shoes. It's simple, convenient, safe and accessible. Almost anyone can do it."

The study was published in a recent New England Journal of Medicine.

Most studies of exercise and the heart have looked at men; this analysis of questionnaires from women ages 40 to 65 is the first large study to look at women and walking, according to the hospital.

Strolling won't do it, no matter how long you walk, Manson said. You have to stride out at 3 mph or more, or 20 minutes or less per mile.

But three hours of brisk walking and 1 1/2 hours of vigorous exercise use the same amount of energy, and that's the key. Walking briskly for five hours a week cut the risk of heart attacks 50 percent, Manson said.

Even one to 2.9 hours of brisk walking a week brought a 30 percent reduction in heart attacks and deaths from other coronary problems.

"We feel it's a very important study that once again points out the value of moderate amounts of physical activity in maintaining heart health," said Dr. Teri Manolio of the National Heart, Blood and Lung Institute, which paid for the study.

Dr. Gerald Fletcher, a spokesman for the American Heart Association, said the study backs up the association's call for regular exercise.

People seem to think that "exercise" means "go for it," Fletcher said. "Walking, particularly briskly, is just as good as a rough game of soccer or hiking mountains, or going to a health club and lifting weights."

Strolling won't do it, no matter how long you walk, Manson said. You have to stride out at 3 mph or more, or 20 minutes or less per mile.

Help Your Heart Recipes

This recipe is intended to be part of an overall healthful eating plan. Total fat intake should be less than 30 percent of your total calories for a day — not for each food or recipe.

Corn Bread Applesauce Muffins

Vegetable oil spray	Egg substitute equivalent to 1 egg, or 1 egg
1/2 cup all-purpose flour	2 tablespoons honey
1/4 cup coarse yellow cornmeal	2 tablespoons unsweetened applesauce
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup fat-free milk

Preheat oven to 425° F. Lightly spray 8 muffin cups with vegetable oil spray. Combine flour, cornmeal, baking powder, and salt in a large bowl, stirring well. Beat remaining ingredients in a small bowl. Make a well in cornmeal mixture. Pour milk mixture into well, stirring just until moistened. Fill muffin cups two-thirds full with batter. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes, or until a cake tester or toothpick inserted in center of muffins comes out clean. Serves 8.

Many diabetics drive when shouldn't

CHICAGO (AP) — Diabetics often decide to drive when their blood-sugar levels are so low that they could lose coordination and even black out, researchers suggested in a new study.

"That is not to mean that they should necessarily have their drivers' privileges taken away or restricted," said Dr. William Clarke of the University of Virginia Health Sciences Center at Charlottesville.

Instead, Clarke said, diabetics should be aware of the danger of relying on their ability to detect low blood sugar without measuring it.

Almost 45 percent of the time, the diabetics in the study said they would drive when they believed their blood sugar to be below 70 milligrams per tenth of a liter of blood.

Previous research among diabetics using driving simulators has shown that blood-sugar levels below 65 lead to loss of control — swerving, spinning and wandering off the road.

The participants all had type 1 diabetes, which affects about 1 million Americans. All type 1 diabetics must take insulin, often several times a day, to help them metabolize sugar into energy.

The findings were published in Journal of the American Medical Association.

Truth About Family Depression Can Set Younger Members Free

DEAR ABBY: Chills went through my body as I read the letter from "Torn in N.Y." asking if she should tell her children about their father's suicide. I quickly scanned to the bottom to see who had sent it. I was sure it was from someone I knew.

In 1978, my grandfather, with whom I was very close, committed suicide. I was only 4, and to ease the pain my parents told me he had "accidentally" killed himself. I never questioned their word.

One day in second grade, I was riding a bus to school. Another girl asked me if it was my grandfather who had killed himself. I adamantly denied it, but could think of little else the entire day.

When I returned home, my mother said we could talk about it when my dad got home from work. I'll never forget the looks on their faces when I asked if it was true. Yes, it was true, and it broke my heart. I cried for days, unable to understand why my grandfather would have killed himself.

I soon came to understand the depression from which he and many others in his family had suffered. He was not alone in committing suicide. His father, brother and sister had also taken their own lives. My father also battled with depression.

As I reached adolescence, I, too, became depressed. Talking with my family helped alleviate the pain I felt. I urge the mother of those preteens to tell the children the truth. The truth will set them free.

I wish my parents had told me

Abigail Van Buren

the truth in the beginning. But I am glad I found out when I was young. I pray daily for my extended family members, who also suffer from depression, to seek help and talk with their families about it. As my mother says, "A family is only as sick as its secrets."

KNOWING IN THE NORTHWEST

DEAR KNOWING: Thank you for sharing your firsthand experience. One of the problems with depression is that people often don't realize they have it, and therefore they don't seek help for it. It is not a "weakness." It can be a very serious health problem.

Depression can affect the entire body. The symptoms can include vague physical complaints, including a host of sleep and eating disturbances, coupled with loss of enjoyment in activities formerly pleasurable. It can affect the way people feel about themselves and the way they perceive everyday events. Persistent sadness, feelings of worthlessness, hopelessness and anxiety, and withdrawal from friends and activities may be signs of depression.

A depressive illness is not a passing "blue" mood. While it's normal to feel sad or moody once in a while, if this feeling lasts for more than two weeks, the problem could be depression.

The good news is that between 80 percent and 90 percent of people with depression can be successfully treated with counseling and/or medication. It is very important to talk with someone to determine if you have depression and where to seek help.

To learn more about depression, its signs and treatment, call your local mental health association or the National Mental Health Association: (800) 969-6642.

Children and teens who are experiencing depression should discuss it with their parents or school nurse.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19) ★★ ★★ Zero in on what you want. Your decision to commit secures your focus and enables you to brainstorm creatively. A child or loved one is full of ideas; together, you seem unstoppable. Unexpected developments toss the ball into your court. Move quickly. Tonight: Wherever the gang is.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) ★★ ★★ You're in the limelight, making strong choices. Others confirm how on target you are. You might have a strong gut feeling about what you need to do. Listen carefully to an associate who could be instrumental in an upcoming money decision. Tonight: Burning the midnight oil.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) ★★ ★★ Your mental acuity remains your strong suit; you can see beyond what others do. Creativity spins out and allows you to visualize many new possibilities. Another wants to seize the moment. Work with his timing. Don't stop or hesitate — keep on going. Tonight: Become a Web surfer.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) ★★ ★★ Review recent financial decisions. You might have additional ideas that could help build your security and status. An extra push pays off at work. Listen to your instincts with another. You pull the wild card with money! Be reasonable. Tonight: Spend quality time with a loved one.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) ★★ ★★ Realize what another is asking. Once you do, you will only be too happy to go along with his wishes. Plunge into work and get as much done as possible. Your creativity is in demand; you come up with one idea after another. Keep the lines of communication open. Tonight: Let another make the call.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) ★★ ★★ Be willing to talk about money and a change in image today. You know what works for you. You don't have to push so hard! Go with a new way of thinking. Innovation brings positive news that enables you to get more done in less time. Trust your instincts. Tonight: Get some exercise.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) ★★ ★★ Your ideas provide the key, or "missing link," today. Others appreciate your ideas and solutions. You find another way or a different approach. Take action; don't sit on your duff any longer. Others respond to your enthusiasm. Unexpected developments occur with children and flirtations. Tonight: Take a walk on the wild side.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) ★★ ★★ Getting away from domestic concerns might be important, but you won't be able to do that until you clear out problems and figure out where the snafu is. You might not be seeing what is going on with another family member. Don't delay a financial action. Tonight: Your home is your castle. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) ★★ ★★ Listen carefully to a friend, though you might want to take action immediately. A friend shares a lot of information, with an eye to your success. Work with the unpredictable, and you'll get way ahead. Keep asking questions; make calls. Tonight: You just keep going and going.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) ★★ ★★ You might be angry without even knowing it. Question actions and words before they are a "fait accompli." There might be a deeper motive than meets the eye. Bosses give you important information. Brainstorm, especially about money. Tonight: Indulge.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) ★★ ★★ You are goal-driven, a force to behold as you make calls and clear your desk. Yet you are still capable of the unpredictable. You are full of surprises to others, though you feel you are most logical. Sometimes it might be helpful to walk others through your thought processes. Tonight: It is your call.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) ★★ ★★ Take time before you take an unexpected action. You are motivated, wanting to get the job done. Your cheerful ways bring positive reinforcement and allow others to share with you on an intimate level. Do not avoid a discussion about money. Tonight: Curl up with a good book!

VOLLEYBALL

PAMPA — The Pampa Lady Harvesters open the District 3-4A volleyball season at 7 p. m. Tuesday against Amarillo Caprock in Amarillo.

Pampa finished the non-district season with a 6-13 record. Caprock was 3-13.

Pampa is coming off a 15-10, 16-14 setback to River Road on Saturday.

In other 3-4A opens Tuesday, Borger is at Palo Duro and Hereford goes to Dumas. Hereford had the best non-district record (15-7) of the 3-4A teams.

FOOTBALL

WHITE DEER — Sunray defeated White Deer 31-6 in high school football action Friday night.

The Bucks' touchdown came on a 4-yard run by Aaron McKean in the second quarter.

Chase Morton scored three touchdowns to lead Sunray.

BASEBALL

ST. LOUIS (AP) — In the home-run derby sequel, Larry Dierker's money would be on Mark McGwire.

After watching the St. Louis Cardinals slugger hit Nos. 57 and 58 Sunday in a 4-3 loss to Houston, the Astros manager said Sammy Sosa's three-homer lead was far from insurmountable because of McGwire's discipline at the plate.

"We have an easier time pitching to Sammy," Dierker said. "McGwire's not going to play your game and swing at those bad pitches, and that's one of the ways we get Sammy out."

Dierker said both players can hit the ball out in any direction if they get a strike.

"But if you throw the ball out of the strike zone, he won't swing, and the other guy will," Dierker said.

"That makes McGwire a tougher hitter. It must be fun to watch him all the time."

McGwire warmed up for Sosa and Wrigley Field with his ninth two-homer game of the season. He's three behind Sosa heading into a three-game series that starts tonight in Chicago.

The Cardinals are 21 games back in the NL Central, so manager Tony La Russa is extremely pumped up about the homer race.

"There's some popular talk out there that it's not nearly as exciting the second time around," La Russa said. "Last year was the first time, and everybody was going nuts, but there's a lot of attention to what these guys are doing, a lot of credit going to them, and it's definitely got luster."

Last season, McGwire broke Roger Maris' 37-year-old record of 61 on the way to a record 70. On Saturday, Sosa became the first player to hit 60 homers in consecutive seasons, and he hit No. 61 on Sunday.

"It's an awesome feat, what he did," McGwire said. "I'll congratulate him when I see him. I know what he's been going through. Having the year he's having with the way their team has been playing, it's not easy to come to the ballpark every day."

Jeff Bagwell hit a two-run homer in the seventh as Houston ended a three-game losing streak and increased its lead in the NL Central to 3 1/2 games over Cincinnati, which lost to Pittsburgh 8-5. The Astros begin a three-game series at Pittsburgh tonight.

"We've got to bust it every single night," Bagwell said.

After striking out in the first, McGwire homered off a 1-2 fastball from Holt (5-13) in the fourth. He cleared the bullpen in left center on Holt's first pitch of the sixth, a hanging curve that traveled an estimated 423 feet and put the Cardinals ahead 3-2.

Falcons' Anderson hoping to dance in Dallas

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Jamal Anderson is itching to dance.

The co-creator of the "Dirty Bird" touchdown celebration has gone nine months without reaching the dance floor. He's hoping to finally hit the end zone Monday night when his Atlanta Falcons play the Dallas Cowboys.

Anderson isn't saying whether he'll revive the wing-flapping dance Atlanta rode to the Super Bowl or if he has something new planned.

"Man, can I get into the zone first?" he said, laughing. "When I get into the end zone I may do like Deion Sanders and drop down and pray that I'm finally back in there."

Anderson ran for 14 regular-season touchdowns and had two more through the air last year. He scored twice more in the playoffs, including a 5-yard run in the NFC championship game.

But Anderson was shut out in the Super Bowl and again in the opener last Sunday against Minnesota. The Vikings held him to 50 yards on 16 carries in a 17-14 Falcons loss.

The perfect opponent for Anderson to get out his dance shoes against may be the Cowboys.

Dallas allowed Washington's unheralded Stephen Davis to gain a career-high 109 yards and two touchdowns on 24 carries last Sunday. It wasn't enough, though, as the Cowboys rallied for a 41-35 overtime victory.

"I can't say that just because Stephen did good against them I think I will," Anderson said. "No disrespect to Stephen Davis as a running back, but they're going to be ready to play me."

"They know I'm coming to town and they're going to be fired up for the possibility of shutting me down. That's something that happens now on a weekly basis."

How much Dallas focuses on Anderson may depend on who is handing him the ball. Quarterback Chris Chandler is doubtful with an aching right hamstring; backup Tony Graziani has been lifted at half-time of his only two career starts.

While coaches usually say they're ready for whoever plays, Dallas' Chan Gailey admitted things will be different if Chandler is out.

"I don't think they'll change their overall package, but I think they'll rely a little bit more heavily on their running game," Gailey said. "I'm sure they'll have Jamal try to attack us and wear us down."

Davis wore down the Cowboys simply by running at them. Dallas defenders made technique mistakes that got them out of position, then had fundamental breakdowns like failing to finish tackles.

"We've got to make sure we're playing good technique, be where we're supposed to be and not miss tackles," Gailey said.

Whether Sanders plays also will be a game-time decision. The former Falcon is recovering from surgery on his left big toe in April and hasn't played since the Pro Bowl.

He says he wants to play cornerback and return punts when he comes back. With a bye week looming, it may make sense for him to skip another week to be stronger for the next game on Oct. 3.

"I'm closer, but still far," Sanders said Friday while feeling the soreness caused by a stiff workout Thursday. "It doesn't look good."

Should the Falcons drop to 0-2, they'll be living down to the expectations of people who said their Super Bowl run last year was a fluke.

"After last week, I can see why we haven't gotten any more respect," coach Dan Reeves said. "We've got to do the things we did last year for us to get back on track."

The Cowboys are trying to regain the aura they had during their run of three championships in four seasons. That streak ended three seasons ago, and Dallas has won just one playoff game since then.

"Do teams respect us the way they used to respect us? I don't know that," receiver Michael Irvin said. "If we win the Super Bowl, people should respect us again. Until then, they shouldn't, and I really can't blame them if they don't."

Running back Emmitt Smith said the attitude towards Dallas now is similar to when the team was starting its championship run.

"It's not like we've been successful for such a long time that we can't see ourselves being the underdog," Smith said.

Undefeated Lady Harvesters win 3rd cross country meet

DUMAS — The Pampa girls dominated the field at the Cow Patty Classic over the weekend.

The Lady Harvesters are now 3-0 in invitational meets after scoring 17 points to take first place at Dumas. Second place Borger was far back with 54 points while Plainview was third at 115.

Beth Lee (12:25), Rebecca Fatheree (12:29) and Samantha Hurst (12:31) finished 1-2-3 respectively for the Lady Harvesters. Other PHS girls who placed in the top eight were T'Andra Homes, fifth (13:14), Amanda White, sixth (13:19), Marci Hansen, seventh (13:27) and Anna Resendiz, eighth (13:47). Others who competed were Andrea Lee, 10th (13:57) and Vanessa Orr, 13th (14:08).

In the junior varsity division, Kimberly Porter was 30th (17:28). Pampa was seventh in the varsity boys division with 153 points.

Gonzolo Salazar was 13th (16:57) to lead the Harvesters. Others who competed were Javier Solis, 18th (17:23), Matthew Crow, 32nd (18:15), Chad Platt, 37th (18:39) and Dustin Johnson, 53rd (20:36).

Canyon won the boys' title with 33 points. Palo Duro was second (66) and Dumas third (104).

"The teams ran well on vary rough course," said Pampa head coach Mark Elms. "Saturday we go to a very tough meet at Amarillo. The competition will be stiff."

WHITE DEER — Perryton A boys and Wellington girls won the team titles at last weekend's Rattlesnake Rally.

Daniel Gomez of Sunray posted a 16:46 to win the individual title in the boys' division. Cole Barbee of Canadian was ninth at 17:41.

Maegan Cartrite of Sunray was first individually in the girls' division with a time of 12:28. Kyleigh Trimble of Fort Elliott was second at 12:36 and Kathy Lee of Canadian was third at 12:55.09. Lyndi Finsterwald of Wheeler placed fourth at 12:56.

Pampa gymnasts turn in outstanding marks at first competitive meet

BIG SPRING — Gymnastics of Pampa Level 4 team members recently competed in Big Spring at the first District 1 competition.

All five girls were competing in their first meet.

Lacie Thompson, who travels from Canadian to train with coach Kristi Fatheree, led the Level 4 gymnasts with an outstanding 34.2 all-around for a blue ribbon. Lacie received blue on all four events by scoring 9.15 on beam, 8.7 on bars, 8.35 on floor and 8.0 on vault.

Team Pampa gymnast Danielle Brown of Borger also had a great first meet by scoring a 33.35 for a blue ribbon in the all-around.

She also had a beautiful beam routine for a 9.2 and a blue and floor routine for a 9.0 and a blue. Danielle scored 8.15 on bars, blue, and 7.0 on vault, red.

Eight-year-old Kelby Doughty scored an outstanding 32.2 in all-around for a blue ribbon. She also earned blue for beam, 8.7, bars, 8.15, vault; 8.0 and red for floor, 7.35.

Brittany Klein, another eight-year-old, scored 30.65 in the all-around for a red ribbon.

She received a blue for her beam routine, 8.3, and red for her floor, 7.85, and bars, 7.65. On vault, she scored a 6.85 for a white ribbon.

Also competing for first time for Team Pampa, Keisha Crowell earned a blue ribbon

On floor, her 7.35 received a red ribbon and she received white ribbons for vault, 6.3; bars, 6.4, and all-around 28.35.

Team Pampa's Level 4 gymnasts will compete in San Angelo on Saturday for the next District 1 qualifying meet.

Tigers roll past Silverton, 71-42

SILVERTON — Frankie Sparling had a six-touchdown performance as McLean rolled to a 71-42 victory over Silverton last Friday night.

Chris Hauck threw three touchdown passes, two going to Brent Montgomery. Ryan Fuller also caught a TD Pass.

Brad Sawyer has a rushing touchdown for the Tigers.

Sparling, who rushed for 180 yards, also had three conversion kicks. Montgomery made good on three conversion passes, two going to Fuller and the other one to Hauck.

Silverton's Nathan Francis threw six touchdown passes. Red Ivory had three TD receptions.

The Tigers held a 50-14 lead at halftime.

McLean had the edge in total yardage, 562 to 410 for Silverton. The Tigers' defense also forced four turnovers.

Texas outlasts Rice in ground battle

A recap of Saturday's Big 12 games: No. 22 Texas 18, Rice 13

AUSTIN (AP) — Hodges Mitchell rushed for 188 yards and Kris Stockton kicked four field goals as Texas struggled to beat winless Rice 18-13 Saturday night.

Texas (3-1), which averaged 42.3 points in its first three games, rolled up 455 yards on offense but struggled to find the end zone against the Owls (0-3), who scored their first two touchdowns of the season in a second-half rally.

Mitchell, who has split time at tailback with Victor Ike, recorded Texas' first 100-yard game this season. Mitchell is the first Texas running back other than Ricky Williams to rush for 100 yards since Priest Holmes ran for 120 in the 1996 Big 12 championship game against Nebraska. Mitchell also had five catches for 40 yards.

No. 5 Texas A&M 62, Tulsa 13

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Randy McCown accounted for three touchdowns, one running and two passing, including a school record 96-yarder to Chris Taylor, as No. 7 Texas A&M capitalized on six turnovers for a 62-13 victory over Tulsa Saturday night.

Texas A&M converted the turnovers into 34 points. McCown had a 20-yard touchdown pass to Roderrick Broughton and a 12-yard touchdown run in the second quarter when the Aggies pulled away to a 31-7 halftime lead.

The Aggies (2-0) debuted the first section of The Zone, a $32.9 million, 22,720-seat addition at the north end of Kyle Field, and stretched their home winning streak to 14 games. They are 50-4-1 in the 1990s and haven't lost there since a 13-10 loss to Texas Tech in 1996.

Oklahoma 41, Baylor 10
NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Josh Heupel set Oklahoma single-game records for completions, attempts, passing yards and total offense Saturday as the Sooners beat Baylor 41-10 in the Big 12 opener for both teams.

Baylor (0-3) had lost its opener to Boston College on a missed extra point in overtime, and last week saw UNLV return a fumble 99 yards for a touchdown on the game's final play, when all the Bears had to do was take a knee to preserve a victory.

Heupel was 37-of-54 for 420 yards and three touchdowns for Oklahoma (2-0). He had set school marks for completions (31) and touchdowns (5) and had tied the record for yards (341) in last week's 49-0 victory over Division I-AA Indiana State.

North Texas 21, Texas Tech 14
LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Ja'Quay Wilburn ran for 151 yards and Jason Attaway threw for a touchdown to lead North Texas to a 21-14 victory over Texas Tech on Saturday.

Attaway, who finished with 76 yards passing, connected with Broderick McGrew on a 46-yard TD pass with 4:38 left in the third quarter to put North Texas (1-2) up 21-7.

Before the catch, McGrew had only three receptions for 18 yards this season.

Yankees tie Indians for American League's best record at 90-59

By ADAM NAZIMOWITZ
Associated Press Writer

The Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees have alternated trips to the last four World Series. That pattern might end if the defending champion Yankees keep this up.

New York took three of four in Cleveland this weekend, blowing a 6-0 lead Sunday before coming back with four runs in the ninth for an 11-7 victory. The win left the teams tied for the league's best record at 90-59.

The Indians won the AL pennant in 1995 and again in '97, when they beat the Yankees in the first round of the playoffs. New York won it all in 1996 and '98, using an ALCS victory over Cleveland to springboard to its 24th championship.

While the Indians already clinched their fifth straight AL Central title, the Yankees maintained a three-game lead over Boston in the East with 13 games remaining.

"We went 5-2 on the trip after losing the first game and we had to," Yankees manager Joe Torre said. "After that win Tuesday night in Toronto (trailing 6-1 in the eighth), I have felt comfortable with this team. You can't ask for anything more than coming in here and winning three of four."

In other AL games, it was Boston 7, Detroit 3; Chicago 3, Toronto 2; Tampa Bay 15, Texas 2; Oakland 12, Kansas City 3; Seattle 2, Minnesota 1; and Baltimore 5, Anaheim 4.

New York built a 6-0 lead after four innings against rookie Jim Brower, making his first start, before the Indians began knocking around Yankees starter David Cone.

"It was frustrating, then rewarding, then frustrating," Indians manager Mike Hargrove said. "We came back against a great pitcher and a great ballclub, and to give it up the way we did was frustrating."

"There was no message to send. If I wanted to send them a message, I'll write Joe a letter. Once you get to the postseason, you throw it all out the window."

Allen Watson (4-1) got the win in relief and Mariano Rivera pitched the ninth. Rivera has not allowed a run in 21 appearances.

Joe Girardi's two-run single capped New York's four-run ninth and Bernie Williams and rookie D'Angelo Jimenez each went 4-for-5.

With the score tied 7-7, Williams opened the ninth with a double off Tom Martin (0-1). One out later, pinch-hitter Tino Martinez was intentionally walked before Jorge Posada slapped an RBI single to left off Paul Shuey.

Jimenez added an RBI double before Girardi singled in two more.

Jim Thome and Richie Sexson hit back-to-back homers in the fourth, and Manny Ramirez hit a 471-foot shot in the fifth for the Indians, giving them a 7-6 lead.

Cone was tagged for six hits and seven runs in 4 2-3 innings and remained winless since Aug. 8, a span of seven starts.

New York won the season series 7-3.

Red Sox 7, Tigers 3

At Fenway Park, Boston kept pace with the Yankees as Nomar Garciaparra and Trot Nixon homered to complete a three-game sweep.

Tim Wakefield (6-10) allowed just four hits in 5 2-3 innings, but three were solo homers. He walked one and struck out three for only his second win in seven starts since May 28.

Detroit's fourth straight loss ended Dave Mlicki's (13-11) eight-game win streak, the Tigers' longest since Doyle Alexander in 1987.

Juan Encarnacion homered twice for the Tigers — the first multi-homer game of his career.

Garciaparra went 9-for-12 in the series, including homers in the last two games, to raise his league-leading batting average to .360.

White Sox 3, Blue Jays 2

At Toronto, Brian Simmons' three-run homer gave Chicago four straight wins and handed the Blue Jays their fifth straight loss.

Simmons, who hit a three-run homer in the second inning of Friday's 7-3 win, homered again in the second for a 3-0 lead.

Mike Sirotka (10-13) allowed two runs and four hits in seven innings. Roy Halladay (8-7) took the loss.

Devil Rays 15, Rangers 2

At Arlington, Texas, Fred McGriff, Bubba Trammell and Jose Guillen homered as Rangers starter John Burkett (7-8) and reliever Mike Morgan gave up 10 runs on nine hits in four innings.

McGriff reached the 30-homer mark for the eighth time, becoming the second player to hit 30 for four different teams, joining teammate Jose Canseco.

Trammell went 3-for-5 with four RBIs and Tony Graffanino had a pair of RBI doubles for the Devil Rays, who tied a club record for runs scored set earlier this season.

Rolando Arrojo (6-11) got the win.

Athletics 12, Royals 3

Jason Giambi and Miguel Tejada both homered and drove in three runs in Oakland.

A sparse crowd of 13,914 saw the A's remain 4 1/2 games behind Boston for the wild card.

Eric Chavez, in his first game back from the disabled list, drove in two runs to support Gil Heredia (13-7).

Sal Fasano and Mike Sweeney each homered for the Royals, who have lost five of six in Oakland. Reliever Chris Fussell (0-5) took the loss.

Twins 2, Mariners 1

At Seattle, LaTroy Hawkins became Minnesota's second double-digit winner as the Twins won on Cristian Guzman's sacrifice fly in the fifth.

Hawkins (10-13) allowed five hits in 7 2-3 innings, walked two and struck out five in beating Jamie Moyer (14-7), who pitched his fourth complete game.

Orioles 5, Angels 4

Pinch-hitter Derrick May's two-run homer in the eighth inning sent Baltimore to its 11th straight victory — the Orioles' longest such streak since winning 13 in a row in 1978.

Jeff Conine singled with two outs in the eighth off Lou Pote. Troy Percival (4-5) relieved and May lined his first pitch over the left-field wall.

Cal Ripken Jr. singled his first three times up and moved to 2,990 career hits. He has 14 games remaining to reach 3,000 this season.

starters.

Titans 27, Browns 9

Cleveland rookie Tim Couch had a rough time in his first NFL start, getting sacked seven times and going 12-of-24 for only 134 yards as the expansion Browns fell to 0-2.

Lions 23, Packers 15

At Pontiac, Mich., quarterback Charlie Batch threw two long TD passes and scored on a 1-yard run with 10:57 left as the Detroit Lions improved to 2-0 without retired star Barry Sanders. The Packers fell to 1-1.

Chiefs 26, Broncos 10

At Kansas City, the Denver Broncos fell to 0-2 in the post-John Elway era with a mistake-plagued loss to the Chiefs. Kansas City (1-1) converted points off a fumble by Terrell Davis and two turnovers by Elway's replacement, second-year QB Brian Griese.

Dolphins 19, Cardinals 16

At Miami, the Dolphins (2-0) intercepted Jake Plummer four times and kept the Arizona Cardinals out of the end zone. The Cardinals (1-1) took over at their own 33 with 1:14 left, but two penalties and a sack pushed them back to the 25, and Plummer was intercepted by Brock Marion with 15 seconds left.

Jaguars 22, Panthers 20

At Charlotte, Mark Brunel completed 12 of 18 passes for 147 yards in the second half and Lonnie Marts batted away a 2-point conversion pass with 31 seconds left to preserve the victory for Jacksonville (2-0). The Panthers are 0-2 for the third time in their five-year history.

Chargers 34, Bengals 7

At Cincinnati, Jim Harbaugh threaded a 29-yard touchdown pass between two defenders and Gerald Dixon returned a fumble 27 yards for a touchdown barely a minute later as San Diego (1-0) routed the Bengals (0-2).

Seahawks 14, Bears 13

At Chicago, Mike Holmgren continued his domination of the Bears as the Seattle Seahawks (1-1) rallied with two touchdowns in the second half. Holmgren, 12-2 against Chicago as coach of the Green Bay Packers, has won 11 straight against the Bears (1-1).

Bills 17, Jets 3

Doug Flutie passed for 160 yards, rushed for 69 and threw a crushing block that helped set up Buffalo's first touchdown. Antowain Smith carried 30 times for 113 yards as the Bills (1-1) beat a team that was missing six

At Philadelphia, Warren Sapp had 3 1/2 of Tampa Bay's nine sacks as the Buccaneers (1-1) spoiled Donovan McNabb's NFL debut. McNabb replaced starter Doug Pederson at the start of the second half and was sacked six times. He completed only 4 of 11 passes for 26 yards for the Eagles (0-2).

Redskins 50, Giants 21

At East Rutherford, N.J., Stephen Davis ran for touchdowns on Washington's first three possessions and Brad Johnson threw three TD passes as the Redskins (1-1) had their biggest offensive output in eight years. It was the most points scored against the Giants (1-1) since a 72-41 loss at Washington in 1966.

Raiders 22, Vikings 17

At Minneapolis, Russell Maryland picked off a pass and recovered a fumble as Oakland (1-1) upset the Vikings (1-1). Minnesota closed to 22-17 on Randall Cunningham's 28-yard TD pass to Jake Reed early in the fourth quarter and had another scoring chance after recovering a fumble with 3:40 left, but the Vikings failed to gain a first down.

Patriots 31, Colts 28

At Foxboro, Mass., Drew Bledsoe threw three of his four scoring passes in the second half, and Adam Vinatieri kicked a 26-yard field goal with 35 seconds left as New England (2-0) overcame a 21-point halftime deficit against the Colts (1-1).

Steelers 23, Ravens 20

At Baltimore, Will Blackwell returned a kickoff 37 yards to midfield to set up Kris Brown's 36-yard field goal as time expired. The Steelers (2-0) drove for the winning score after the Ravens (0-2) tied it on Stoney Case's first NFL touchdown pass, a 19-yarder to Qadry Ismail with 1:22 left.

49ers 28, Saints 21

Steve Young threw two TD passes to Terrell Owens, including the tying score with 2:03 left, and Lance Schulters won it with a 64-yard interception return with 1:31 remaining at San Francisco. It was San Francisco's seventh straight win over New Orleans (1-1).

Archeologists conducting survey at Meredith burn site

FRITCH — Archeologists contracted through Sul Ross State University in Alpine recently arrived at Lake Meredith National Recreation Area to begin a survey of 752 acres of park land. They are identifying significant features and sites within the area of a prescribed burn that will take place in October, weather permitting. Principal Investigator and Crew Chief Andy Cloud from Sul Ross and a team of three archeological technicians will work in the park for approximately seven days. The team will walk 15 meters apart through the entire 752 acres, performing a visual survey to record archeological finds.

The National Park Service is funding the contract through the national fire management program. Archeologist Cloud said he's pleased to let people in the panhandle know about Sul Ross State University and perhaps recruit students through his work here. Lake Meredith resource management staff will guide and assist the survey.

WRESTLING

Rick Urquhart, local wrestling coach, said when he first came to Pampa he took his son to Borger to wrestle for their team for three years. He said the Borger coaches helped him put the local program together.

He said Caprock and Tascosa high schools in Amarillo also have girls wrestling teams. Urquhart said girls wrestling has become very popular.

Pampa ISD Superintendent Dawson Orr said one reason the wrestling program was discontinued after the coach left a few years ago was there was no 'feeder program' for young students in Pampa to learn the basics before they entered high school. He said the local students were unable to compete very successfully on the high school level if they didn't have a program before they entered high school.

Orr suggested Wall and Urquhart meet with Athletic Director Dennis Cavalier and PHS principal John Kendall to discuss getting wrestling into the school.

FIGHT

While the two men were struggling Powell said the woman came up and started kicking the officer in the ribcage. Powell believes he would have been more seriously hurt if he hadn't been wearing his vest.

Powell said the man then tossed the vial to the woman and in attempt to get the suspected drugs, Powell said he reached trying to grab the vial from the woman. The man then tackled Powell and attempted to grab the officer's pistol.

After rolling away from his assailant, Powell drew his weapon. The man got up and started to run away as the woman tossed the vial to him. Powell said the man attempted to scale a chain-link fence catching both feet and falling on the concrete.

Powell caught up with the man and the struggle continued. Powell warned the man to stop or he would have to use deadly force, the officer said. At that, the man then broke away and started running.

Still out of breath from the struggle and being kicked, Powell said he had to catch his breath and waited for backup to arrive.

"It seemed like it was a long time before my backup arrived, but it was probably only a few minutes," Powell said.

Powell and the other officers, along with two deputies from the Gray County Sheriff's Department scoured the area for the pair but could not locate them. Police say the are continuing to investigate.

Spotlight on Pampa

by

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce

Chamber profile ...

Hi-Plains Hypnosis/Counseling Institute, previously known as Lane Counseling and Consulting, is a local practice owned and operated by Dr. Jerry Lane.

Dr. Lane has a Doctorate in counseling Psychology and is a registered certified Hypno-therapist, certified prevention specialist, certified parenting specialist, certified cognitive behavioral therapist, licensed chemical dependency counselor, licensed clinical pastoral counselor, licensed Christian counselor and an ordained pastor. In addition, he is pursuing a doctorate in Hypnotherapy from the University Southern California.

The Lane family includes Jerry's wife Mary Lou, a school teacher at Travis Elementary School, and two children, daughter Tamara and son Jeffrey. The Lanes have resided in Pampa for 20 years.

Dr. Lane counsels individuals addicted to drugs and alcohol as well as those in abusive and codependent relationships. In addition, Hypnotherapy techniques are utilized to help clients overcome a wide variety of problems which include insomnia, smoking, chronic pain, migraine headaches, stress and obesity. According to Dr. Lane, one's health can be greatly enhanced by the use of Hypnotherapy. Hi-Plains Hypnosis/Counseling Institute offers assistance to individuals desiring improvement in memory, concentration, study habits, confidence, creativity and professional skills.

Hi-Plains Hypnosis/Counseling Institute has been a member of the Greater Pampa Area Chamber of Commerce for 2 1/2 years and was a member for 10 years as Lane Counseling and Consulting.

Dear Readers,

It is well into September and that means that the Greater Pampa Area Chamber of Commerce Country Fair is just around the corner - Saturday, October 16th to be exact. This will be my first Country Fair and I am really looking forward to it.

This year's Country Fair promises to be a spectacular event. Chairman elect, Paulette Kirksey, and her staff as well as the Chamber staff and volunteers have been hard at work for almost two months. "Stars Over Pampa - A Hollywood Night Country Style" is our theme. The stars are the citizens of our community. Pictures have been taken of many people in town and these will be on display during the Fair.

The evening will be much like the premier of a Hollywood movie including a red carpet roll out, the Board of Directors arriving by limousine (donated for Country Fair use) to flashing cameras and autograph seekers as well as hand prints of many of our stars imprinted in cement. The Top Ten Stars of Pampa as voted on by the public, will be announced and all who received votes will be recognized.

In keeping with tradition, there will be live auction and a silent auction with hundreds of fabulous items donated by local businesses and individuals to be bid on. Bingo, a favorite of many, will be back again this year. In addition, a wonderful full course meal will be served.

The band "Insufficient Funds" will perform continuously from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m. midnight playing a wide variety of music to dance to. To top it off, five drawings for cash prizes will be held: first drawing $500, second drawing $1,000, third drawing $1,500, fourth drawing $2,000, fifth drawing $5,000. General admission and drawing tickets can be purchased at the Chamber office or from any of our many ticket sales volunteers.

Everyone is invited to help us celebrate "Stars Over Pampa — A Hollywood Night Country Style" on Saturday, October 16th at the M.K. Brown Auditorium in Pampa. We look forward to having a great time with our members as well as our many other friends from Pampa and the surrounding area. We look forward to seeing you there.

Sincerely,

Clay Rice
