HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge came down hard on a caretaker who reportedly pocketed an aging veteran's military pension and disability checks without spending the money on the infirm man.
In a departure from sentencing guidelines, U.S. District Judge David Hittner said he wanted Peri B. Rideaux to get a tougher-than-normal punishment. He sentenced her Thursday to 18 months in federal prison for stealing from Willis Collier, an aging World War II veteran to whom she was assigned.
Hittner said she former U.S. post office clerk must also pay a fine of $600 and restitution of $7,846 plus interest, according to the Houston Chronicle.

In 1997, the U.S. Department of Veterans' Affairs appointed Rideaux to be Collier's fiduciary, enabling her to cash all of his government checks to care for him.

Officials later learned that Rideaux cashed at least eight of Collier's checks, totaling $7,846, without spending a penny on the 76-year-old mentally and physically disabled man.

One prosecutor said Rideaux, 50, continued to cash Collier's checks and spend the man's money for six months after his children removed him from her care.

Lightning strike kills boy, 9

(Pampa News photos by Dee Dee Laramore)
A child's wagon and fallen bicycle are mute testimony to the tragedy that killed a little boy when lightning struck a large tree blowing limbs away and stripping off bark.

Firefighters and bystanders, center, try to resuscitate a 9-year-old boy struck by lightning Thursday afternoon at 1441 N. Charles. The child's family members and neighbors react with grief and shock, as others move tree limbs.

"Most of all Tyler had a very caring heart, was loving and sensitive. He thought about others a lot, especially his little brothers. He had that big-brother-look-out-for-others attitude. This is so tragic."

A bolt of lightning split an elm tree at 1441 Charles Thursday and claimed the life of a 9-year-old boy playing nearby.

Marshall Tyler Johnson was pronounced dead at 2:56 p.m. at Pampa Regional Medical Center emergency room, according to Justice of the Peace Bob Muns. Judge Muns said the cause of death was determined to be electrocution by lightning. No autopsy was ordered.

Two City of Pampa Water Department employees, Ron Parnell and Steve Gordon, were working on a 1-1/2 inch water meter about a half a block away when the lightning struck, said Richard Morris, public works director.

When the city employees arrived on the scene they found the child covered by limbs from the tree, Morris said. Others were already starting cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) efforts when the city workers arrived, so they began moving the tree limbs, he said. They moved the tree limbs a second time so Rural Metro Ambulance could pull up in front of the residence, he added.

The city water workers said it had been raining, but the rain had stopped so they were finishing up their job when the lightning hit, Morris said.

"It was a freak deal," Morris said. "I was out at that time and there was a single big lightning strike about two or three blocks from (City Hall), then nothing else. It was just a freak thing."

Glen Preas, a Pampa Independent School District (ISD) employee, was working at Pampa High School across the street from the home when he heard the lightning crash, said Denver Bruner, facilities management director for Pampa ISD. Preas initiated CPR on the boy and continued resuscitation efforts until firefighters arrived, Bruner said.

Pampa firefighters and police were called to the tragic scene at 2:18 p.m. as thunderstorms and heavy rain again swept through the city.

Rain, storms should move out by evening

1-day total tops June average

By KATE B. DICKSON
Associate Publisher

Thunderstorms and rain were expected to last most of the day today before tapering off early this evening to make way for a sunny weekend, said Pampa weatherman Darrell Sehorn.

"There should be another sweep of showers and thunderstorms this afternoon that could last into the evening before sliding eastward," Sehorn said.

He cautioned that some of the storms could be intense "though probably not as intense as yesterday."

Sehorn spoke of Thursday afternoon's storm and the lightning death (see related story this page) and issued a warning that " ... lightning alone makes a storm severe."

Yesterday's storm did not have hail or tornadoes but was "very electrically charged by evidenced by the loud claps of thunder we heard," the meteorologist said.

At least one home in Panhandle was struck by lightning, according to police traffic heard on the Carson County radio frequency. There were no injuries there.

In the 24-hour period ending at 6 this morning, Sehorn said 3.39 inches of rain had fallen at the KGRO/KOMX radio station at 1701 N. Banks. The one-day rain total exceeded the normal average for June which is 3.33 inches.

"Doppler radar showed more than six inches of rain fell in parts of Gray County and the area," he said. "From here to Lefors and over to Miami was where the most rain fell."

Thornberry talks military pay, trade, health care with Lions

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

U.S. Congressman Mac Thornberry told the Pampa Lions that defense spending should be increased. He said the government has been giving military personnel less and asking them to do more.

Thornberry said Thursday the military should not have salaries low enough to quality personnel for food stamps.

On the China trade issue he said the United States is going to grant normal trade relations to China. A very controversial issue, he said it will open up agricultural trade. He said the embargo had hurt the agricultural people of the United States as they had not been able to export their products.

Thornberry said a bill to eliminate death or inheritance taxes will be introduced next week. He said it is wrong for land owners to be penalized with taxes because their families left them property. He went on to say that often people who have inherited land must sell part of the family property to pay the inheritance taxes.

Repairs set for Red School House

Repairs were expected to start this week to the Little Red School House north of Pampa.

The Little Red School House, a state historic site, was damaged last year when a man rammed it with road equipment taken from a nearby road construction crew on Texas Highway 70.

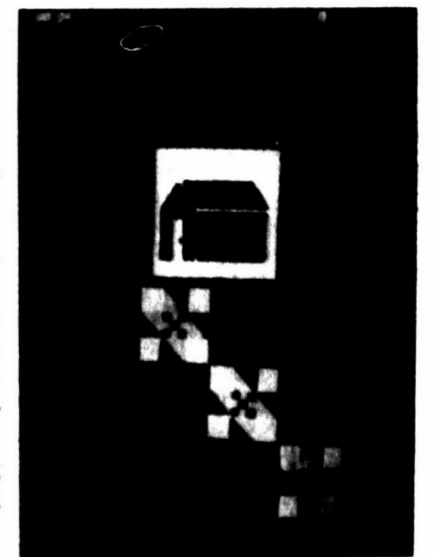

Debbie Davis, president of the Wayside Club which cares for the historical site, said a carpenter has been hired for the repairs. She said they should be complete by mid-to-late summer.

Davis said that a series of fund raisers have been held during the past year to raise money to repair the building.

A Pampa woman, Ardelle Sirman, is the winner of a quilt given away as part of fund raising activities to restore the Little Red School House north of Pampa. With the money from tickets sold for a drawing for the quilt, enough funds have been raised to move the Little Red School House back on its foundation and begin repairs.

Davis said money from donations, garage sales and the drawing for the quilt gives the Wayside Club enough money to start repairing the structure.

Quilt raffle raised funds.

Family members and neighbors stood outside and under the porch of the residence as heavy rain fell. They watched the rescue effort, calling out words of encouragement.

Tyler Johnson had just finished third grade at Austin Elementary School. His teacher, Roberta Hendricks, described him as "a real little jewel. He was a very diligent worker. He worked hard to take care of all of his assignments."

"Most of all he had a very caring heart, was loving and sensitive," she said. "He thought about others a lot, especially his little brothers. He had that big-brother-look-out-for-others attitude. This is so tragic," she said.

"He was a 100 percent normal little boy who laughed and enjoyed things. He was such a pleasure to have in my class," she added.

Graveside services are at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors.

He was born Dec. 25, 1991 at El Reno, Okla. He was a member of the Boys Club and played basketball and soccer. He was a member of the Grace Baptist Church.

THORNBERRY

He said approximately 240 in the house are co-sponsoring the measure. However, Thornberry said President Clinton has indicated he will veto the measure.

Other issues which will come before the House are health care, including the possibility of prescription drugs being covered under Medicare. He said the measure has a 50-50 chance of passing.

After the passage of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997, numerous health care providers have said they need more reimbursement from Medicare to stay in business. The legislation three years ago has been blamed with numerous medical businesses closing and hospitals having to make extreme cuts in their budgets.

He said this issue will be discussed during the legislative session.

Thornberry said President Clinton is in Russia this week to meet with the new president. He said Clinton may be discussing with him that there is no way to block incoming missiles to the United States from other countries.

The congressman said this issue is going to be a tough one, and there will be big debates.

"We have put restrictions on our ability to defend ourselves," said Thornberry. He did say Russia has a missile defense system that guards Moscow.

Lifting the 40-year trade embargo to Cuba is being pushed by the Farm Bureau and agricultural interests.

He said he thinks that one day it will be lifted. While he said trade is not a magic answer, the farmers and ranchers shouldn't be punished for lack of trade.

Doctor: Bob Hope's vital signs good; in critical, stable condition

RANCHO MIRAGE, Calif. (AP) — Bob Hope had good vital signs and a hearty handshake this morning after a bout of gastrointestinal bleeding that hospitalized him in critical but stable condition, his doctor said.

"Overnight, he's been very stable. There have been no new events. His vital signs are good. He's strong," Dr. Gary Annunziata added during a news conference outside Eisenhower Regional Medical Center.

The 97-year-old entertainer did receive blood transfusions before the bleeding in his colon was stopped, but there was no surgery, Annunziata said.

All doctors can do now is observe and support, and 90 percent of people recover from this type of problem. "They just get better naturally," the doctor said.

The ailment is not unusual in elderly people and is not life-threatening, Annunziata added.

He declined to characterize Hope's spirits, saying he would leave that for his family if they choose. The entertainer's wife, Dolores, and daughter were with him.

"Both Mrs. Hope and daughter Linda are very optimistic and ask that everyone simply keep Bob in their prayers," hospital spokeswoman Lea Goodsell said.

Annunziata said Mrs. Hope hadn't left her husband's side. "I think we need a crowbar to get her away from him."

Hope was in the critical-care section, described as one step down from intensive care. He was expected to be transferred out of there in a day or so but remain hospitalized for a week because of his age.

Hope was hospitalized Thursday morning after he woke up with stomach pains. He had returned home to nearby Palm Springs on Tuesday after a trip east to open the Bob Hope Gallery of the Library of Congress. The comedian, who meticulously filed jokes he told over the years, donated them as part of a $3.5 million contribution to the exhibit.

The entertainer attended the opening in a wheelchair and didn't speak during the ceremonies.

He celebrated his 97th birthday Monday in Maryland, where he visited a friend and went fishing, spokesman Ward Grant said.

Master of the one-liner, Hope starred in vaudeville, radio, TV and film, most notably a string of "Road" movies with Bing Crosby. From World War II to the Gulf War, he took his show to military bases around the world to boost the morale of soldiers.

Woman's Interest in Teen Spells Trouble to His Mom

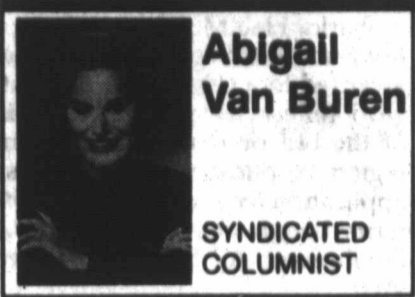

DEAR ABBY: What do you get when you mix a 23-year-old woman with a 16-year-old boy? Trouble, as far as I'm concerned!

For the past couple of months, my 16-year-old son, Eric, has been involved with a 23-year-old woman I'll call "Lois." Eric is only a sophomore in high school, and he should be dating girls his own age. He is a sweet, outgoing young man and is very popular with the girls.

I'm not surprised that he is flattered by the attention of an older woman, and I'm sure he acts very mature when he is around her, but my son is very much an adolescent at heart.

Lois comes to our house late at night when she thinks we are asleep, or she stops by when he gets home from school and his father and I are still at work. I don't think it has turned into a sexual relationship yet, but I know it is not purely platonic in nature.

I'm trying very hard to discourage this relationship, but Eric tells me they share the same hopes for the future, and he really likes being with her. Gag me! Lois has been a friend of the family for a long time, but she is no longer welcome in our home. However, that hasn't kept her away.

Abby, why would a 23-year-old woman be interested in a 16-year-old boy? Please advise me.

FURIOUS IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR FURIOUS: Lois could be socially or emotionally immature, which might explain her attraction to your son. But she has had time to gain far more worldly experience than he has, so regardless of how much he thinks they have in common, this could hardly be described as a relationship of equals.

Your next move should be a telephone call to your attorney about the advisability of a restraining order. Perhaps Lois' ardor could be cooled by explaining to her that, depending upon the circumstances, she could be subject to civil and criminal penalties if she continues to pursue your son.

To receive a collection of Abby's most memorable — and most frequently requested — poems and essays, send a business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby's "Keepers," P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included.)

Minister's musing ...

It is amazing to me that more volunteers do not wish to participate in meaningful ministry in our local jails, state and federal prisons and communities in the area of what we call "Restorative Justice Ministries."

There is a very well known passage of scripture in the Gospel of St. Matthew. The main part goes like this, "And the King will tell them, 'I assure you, when you did it to one of the least of these my brothers and sisters, you were doing it to me!'" (NLT Mat. 25:40).

Here the King is Jesus and He is talking about helping the hungry, the thirsty, the naked, homeless, those sick and those in prison. Isn't that interesting? Jesus emphasized different ministry activities here in this passage. One of which was visiting those in prison. I want to encourage you to call us out at the Jordan Unit (665-7070, ext. 245) and ask for Chaplain Schlewitz. Talk to me and let's get you involved visiting those in prison. God can change your life!

Oops, I let the cat out of the bag. I know, I know, you are saying, "Hey, we are supposed to help the inmate change his life!" Yeah, well a funny thing happens in all of this actually. The inmate does not change, we just don't change — we all change. It is a community thing, isn't it?

Ok, I see some puzzled faces. Let me share

By Dave Schlewitz

Chaplain of the Rufe Jordan Unit, TDCJ-ID

with you that crime is not an action against the State of Texas. When we look at it that way, the victim is taken out of the equation. Eventually the inmate (perpetrator of the crime) begins to feel like a victim. His family begins to feel victimized. And the real victims are totally forgotten by everyone. This is not reality. This is not restoration. This is not justice. This is just a mess.

No, crime is an action against first of all an individual, the family and then the community. The Shalom or peace of the community has been disrupted and needs to be restored. The relationship has been broken and needs healing and mending.

Healing comes through doing the opposite of what we want to do. We want to forget it, run from it and just not deal with it. One of the paradoxes of the Kingdom is that if we will deal with it, step into it, work with it through God's love we can experience healing — and the perpetrator, and the family, and the community.

For those who say they are not concerned and could care less about the perpetrator, I would say this is the Christian view. If you were a Christian, you might see this. It is right there in the middle of the Gospel. He hung from the Cross and exemplified it for us all, "Father forgive them." Through working with perpetrators and victims, we can bring the love of our great God to their (and our) lives. Restoration is completed and the Shalom or peace of God is come again to our lives and communities. It is amazing to see inmates transformed by God's love. Former bad guys turned into trophies of God's grace who return to the community to bless it, to be solid citizens.

My friends, God has heard the prayers of the Church in Pampa. He has heard your prayers as you have asked Him to help you get the gospel out to the world. He has heard you as you pleaded with Him to help you become involved and to use you. Yes, He heard you and brought a mission field to your back door. It's right outside your city. It is called the "Jordan Unit." Come to the vineyard of the Jordan Unit. I know you will not regret your labor of love given for others.

There's honor without calculus ...

Tomorrow my daughter graduates from high school. She will join the nearly 500 hundred other Amarillo High students as they receive diplomas which are intended to assure the tax-paying public that the young people can indeed read, write and figure.

I waxed nostalgic as my friends' children graduated from Pampa High School last weekend, but today sentiment has evaporated like a mist and I am just relieved Laurie's secondary career is over.

It is time for her to escape the artificial microcosm of high school and learn to live in a bigger world. It is time for her to be an adult, not an adolescent caught prolonged in parental dependence. I'm ready to check off this event with others of life's checklist which describe one's temporal progression -

From the Back Pew...

By Cheryl Berzanskis

marriage, birth of a child, death of one's parents, retirement of one's mortgage and one's first mailbox solicitation from AARP.

Seeing children through to high school graduation is just one of those milestones.

When my first son went through high school, everything was an adventure: choosing his classes, meeting his teachers, keeping up with his social life. When the second son entered high school, ditto, except he finished his last two years at a boarding high school where professional staff substituted for his dad and me.

When our daughter entered high school, the drill began similarly, but we were required to take by faith the premise that failure to study calculus was not a death sentence. Instead someone assured us that a concentration in foreign languages has its benefits. I think my husband and I are still in shock that a child of ours has graduated from high school without taking calculus.

Tomorrow afternoon our little clan will huddle together in the Civic Center to clap for Laurie as she strides across the stage to receive her diploma. It is time, calculus or not.

Baptist leader denounces House bill

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Two of the nation's largest Protestant churches have denounced the House vote for permanent, normalized trade status with China.

The Rev. Richard Land, a leader of the Southern Baptist Convention, said the bill would give the communist regime "a free hand to continue and increase its pattern of persecution of Christians and other people of faith."

The Rev. Thom White Wolf Fassett of the United Methodist Church also opposes permanent trade status, along with 18 of the denomination's bishops.

"The world cannot have one standard of human rights for apartheid South Africa and another for an authoritarian Chinese state merely because China is a bigger trading partner or a larger military threat," Fassett said at a Washington rally.

Baptist Press reported that Land, president of the denomination's Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission, was dismayed that the House rejected advice from the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom, recently established by Congress.

The panel's first report, on May 1, said China's performance on religious rights had worsened this past year and that it should not get permanent trade status until its record improved.

The bill sent to the Senate calls for a new panel to monitor China's human rights and trade practices.

Other religious critics included such conservative groups as the Family Research Council, Focus on the Family and Concerned Women for America.

AJC pulls Mandela award

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Jewish Committee indefinitely postponed plans to honor former South African President Nelson Mandela.

Kenneth Bandler, a committee spokesman, declined to discuss reasons for canceling the May 19 ceremony. He said the AJC hopes to reschedule it sometime in the future.

An aide to the Nobel Peace Prize winner told reporters that Mandela assumes his views on Iran were behind it. He had declared that an espionage spy trial of 13 Jews in Iran was "free and fair" and he opposed interference from other governments.

The Iranian Jews, including the chief rabbi of Shiraz, were charged with spying for Israel, but the AJC maintains they were arrested simply for practicing their faith.

"Despite assurances from diplomatic sources that they would receive a fair trial, the detainees have been denied legal representation of their own choice and are being tried by a closed Iranian revolutionary court," the committee said.

The defense rested its case for 10 of the defendants in Shiraz May 29.

A few more seminarians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of Roman Catholic seminarians in graduate-level training for the priesthood increased 4 percent this academic year, according to data compiled by the Center for Applied Research in the Apostolate (CARA) at Georgetown University.

The data from 46 schools showed 3,474 seminarians, compared with 3,344 for 1998-99. They are closely watched due to the increasing shortage of U.S. priests.

The high point for graduate enrollment was 8,159 in 1967-68.

Religious giving on the rise

HOCKEY

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Brett Hull scored two goals — the second with 4:16 to play — as the Dallas Stars evened the Stanley Cup finals at a game apiece with a 2-1 victory over the New Jersey Devils.

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Rangers hired Glen Sather as president and general manager. Sather spent 24 years with the Edmonton Oilers, winning five Stanley Cups — four as a coach — before resigning as Oilers' GM last month.

Sather replaces Neil Smith, who was fired along with coach John Muckler with four games left in the regular season — New York's third straight campaign without a postseason appearance.

TENNIS

PARIS (AP) — Seventh-seeded Nathalie Tauziat bowed out of her 17th French Open today, losing to American Chanda Rubin 6-4, 7-6 (3).

Another seeded Frenchwoman, No. 10 Sandrine Testud, was also eliminated in the third round. Asa Carlsson rallied to beat Testud 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

The upsets left 10 of the 16 seeded players in the women's draw, including two from France — Mary Pierce and Amelie Mauresmo. The sixth-seeded Pierce beat Virginie Razzano 6-4, 6-0.

The last Frenchwoman to win the French Open was Francoise Durr in 1967.

Top-seeded Martina Hingis lost only eight points in the second set and swept Tathiana Garbin 6-1, 6-0. Hingis, seeking her first title at Roland Garros, is the lone seeded player left in her quarter of the draw.

No. 10 Alex Corretja beat Richard Krajicek 4-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2. Unseeded Mark Philippoussis, a first-round winner against No. 2 Pete Sampras, beat Hicham Arazi 6-2, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

Twelve seeded players remained in the men's draw.

Andre Agassi, the top-seeded defending champion, was fined $10,000 for leaving without talking to reporters after his loss Thursday to Karol Kucera. Stefan Koubek, disqualified for throwing his racket in anger and accidentally hitting a ballboy, was fined $6,500.

Rubin reached the fourth round at Roland Garros for the third time.

Cowboys release Sanders

IRVING, Texas (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys early today released Deion Sanders, leaving the star cornerback and punt returner free to pursue a possible deal with the Washington Redskins and saving the Texas team millions of dollars.

If Sanders had not returned to free agent status, he would have received a guaranteed $23.5 million from the Cowboys over the next two years.

Dallas' decision was announced on the team's Web site.

"Deion was a great player for us," Cowboys owner Jerry Jones said in a prepared statement. "He was a major contributor in our Super Bowl team and he has been a major contributor to the success we've had in recent years. But because of salary-cap reasons, we just can't afford to keep him under his current contract."

The Cowboys now say Sanders, 32, will count $2.2 million against their salary cap this year and $3.2 million against the 2001 cap.

Besides Washington, Tampa Bay and Denver have also expressed interest in Sanders. But Jones said he was not ruling out trying to resign Sanders to a restructured contract.

"I think that's still a possibility," said Jones. "The door is still open for that to happen and I wouldn't necessarily rule that out."

But Sanders has indicated since the end of last season that he anticipated being a free agent and wants to play for a team that can win the Super Bowl. He was reportedly seeking a multiyear contract with a signing bonus of at least $8 million.

Washington Redskins owner Daniel Snyder, who has already signed several prominent free agents, has indicated that he would be willing to do whatever is necessary to sign Sanders.

In deciding not to exercise their option on the remaining four years of Sanders' contract, the Cowboys said the move was strictly for salary cap reasons.

And the Cowboys said that whatever team Sanders joins, he has already proven he can aid in a turnaround, since he helped both Dallas and the San Francisco 49ers win the Super Bowl in his first season with each team.

Sanders, who has been especially talkative when he's the subject, hasn't been talking publicly about what will happen.

"I'm not going to talk about football," Sanders told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, refusing to comment on "where I'm going or what I'm going to do."

The player's agent, Eugene Parker, did not return phone messages left by The Associated Press.

Jones and his Cowboys' staff, including new head coach Dave Campo, are in Las Vegas, where they are expected to stay until Saturday.

When Sanders arrived in Dallas at the start of the 1995 season, his five-year, $35 million contract was the richest in free-agent history. Jones said then that the deal was designed to get the league's best cornerback as well as a player that could return kicks and play offense.

Sanders last year signed a five-year, $51.5 million contract, $5.4 million of which is counting against the Dallas salary cap over the next two years even after the cut.

Now regaining his status as one of the NFL's top free agents, Sanders is more likely to get his market value because of his failed baseball comeback with Cincinnati this spring.

Players offer realignment plan

By JOSH DUBOW
AP Sports Writer

Now it's the players' turn to get involved in baseball's realignment debate.

With an owners' vote on realignment on hold, player representatives are circulating a union counterplan that will move the Houston Astros from the NL Central to the AL West. That would create two 15-team leagues.

The players' plan is much simpler than the main one being considered by owners. That proposal would have Tampa Bay and Arizona switching leagues, the elimination of the wild card in the NL, and a six-team AL Central to go along with six four-team divisions.

"When I reviewed it, I thought it was definitely a better plan," Tampa Bay representative Mike DiFelice said Thursday. "You at least have the leagues evenly split and have the wild card. I think the wild card is good for the fans. I think it's good for the teams."

But the players' plan does create one major problem. With an odd number of teams in each league, interleague games would need to be played most days of the season.

With two 15-team leagues, there would have to be at least one interleague game scheduled for every Friday, Saturday, Sunday; most Tuesdays and Wednesdays; and some Mondays and Thursdays.

The plan also does not address Texas' desire to leave the AL West, where the Rangers play all of their division road games in the Pacific time zone.

This plan would solve that only slightly — and by creating a rivalry with the Astros, it presumably would guarantee sellouts when the teams face each other.

Because Texas has been in the AL West and Houston in the NL Central, the teams have not met in interleague play.

But a top Astros official, speaking on the condition he not be identified, said the team had no desire to leave the National League. Astros owner Drayton McLane has said many times he is happy where the Astros are. McLane can veto any league switch.

Owners had been expected to meet in Detroit on June 13-14 to discuss realignment, but commissioner Bud Selig postponed that meeting. A meeting is expected to take place in late June or early July.

"Something has got to get done," Tampa Bay's Roberto Hernandez said. "We can't have one league with more teams than the other."

Under the plan most discussed, Arizona would move from the NL West to the AL West. The AL Central and Tampa Bay would move from the AL East to the National League, which would realign into four four-team divisions with no wild card.

"I think what they are talking about with a four-team division in the NL and the elimination of the wild card, won't go through," Boston player rep Tim Wakefield said.

The White Sox, Twins and Royals, who would be part of the six-team AL Central, have objected, saying it would be harder to reach the postseason. In addition, Arizona wants to stay in the NL.

Stars even series with Devils at 1-1

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — After getting blown out in the opening game of the Stanley Cup finals, the Dallas Stars stopped worrying about the New Jersey Devils and concentrated on themselves.

"We are going to have to play Dallas Stars hockey," coach Ken Hitchcock said Thursday night after the Stars evened the best-of-seven finals with a 2-1 victory. "That means we are going to have to pound the puck and get after people. That's the way we are going to have to win."

The Stars didn't do that in Game 1, dropping a 7-3 decision in a game in which they let the Devils speed dominate.

Game 2 was a much different story. The Stars got back to their tight checking, clutch-and-grab game, got two goals from Brett Hull and a 27-save performance from an unmedicated Ed Belfour. Hull, who scored the Cup winner for the Stars last year against Buffalo, got the game-winner by batting a fluttering shot out of the air past goalie Martin Brodeur with 4:16 to play.

Until then, Belfour kept the Stars in the game, stopping at least a half-dozen good scoring chances, including three by Randy McKay in the last two periods.

Wrestling camp scheduled

AMARILLO — Joe Seay, '96 U.S. Olympic Wrestling Coach and recognized as one of the top coaches of his sport in the country, will headline the Bad Boy Commuter Wrestling Camp, scheduled for June 9-11 at Willow Vista Middle School, 7600 Pavillard.

Seay is the only U.S. coach to have had wrestlers capture gold medals in the Olympic Games, World Championships, Pan American Games, Goodwill Games and World Cup. He is the only coach in NCAA history to win team titles in Division One and Division Two, winning a combined nine at Oklahoma State and Cal State-Bakersfield.

Seay was inducted into the Wrestling Hall of Fame in 1998.

Space is still available for the clinic. Cost is $120, which includes a $50 deposit. Fee also includes a T-shirt and poster. Sessions are from 6 to 9 p.m. on June 9, 9 a.m. to noon on June 10, and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. on June 11.

Other coaches will also help with the clinic.

To register or for more information, contact Rowdy Lundergreen at (806) 381-8367 or Seay at (580) 336-2943.

Saddle winner

Taylen Gregory of Pampa (right) is awarded her first saddle by Linda McDonnell, a director of the Panhandle Barrel Racing Association in Hereford. Taylen was the year-long winner in barrels and poles in the 9-12 age group. Taylen will be in action at a junior rodeo Saturday at the Top Of Texas Rodeo Arena. Starting time is 10 a.m.

UNDER ADVERSE CONDITIONS
While a sunny day is often preferred, prospective buyers stand to learn more about sellers' homes on rainy days. A good downpour will reveal much about the condition of the roof and gutters, as well as provide an indication as to whether water pools or floods on the lot. On the inside of the house, it pays to carefully inspect the basement on a rainy day. A rainy day also presents the best opportunity to observe a sump pump in action, if there is one. A hot day is good for seeing how well the air conditioning system functions, while a cold day presents a good test of the heating system. See how the house performs under adverse conditions.

Actor Patrick Swayze crash lands plane, walks away

PRESCOTT VALLEY, Ariz. (AP) — Actor Patrick Swayze escaped an emergency landing near this town north of Phoenix without injury although the small plane he was flying was damaged, Federal Aviation Administration officials said.

FAA spokesman John Clabes said Swayze was forced to make the landing Thursday while flying a 1978 twin-engine Cessna 414A from Van Nuys, Calif., to Las Vegas, N.M., where he has a home.

The FAA monitors who control the airspace lost sight of him on radar at 13,000 feet around 11 a.m. and couldn't contact him by radio.

Sgt. P.J. Janik, a spokesman for the Prescott Valley police, said a witness who saw the plane make the emergency landing called police. As it landed, the plane sheared off a four-foot section of its right wing after hitting a light pole, then went down along an empty paved road in an unfinished subdivision under construction in this town 90 miles north of Phoenix.

Janik said witnesses reported seeing the man flag down a passing motorist for a ride.

Swayze's spokeswoman Annett Wolf in Los Angeles confirmed Swayze had made an emergency landing and that he was not seriously hurt but declined further comment.

It was not immediately clear what forced Swayze to make an emergency landing, but FAA officials had been told the plane may have had a pressurization problem.

MSNBC reported that Swayze said he had a pressurization problem after hearing a noise he thought was an engine blowing.

Swayze, 47, has starred in several movies, including Ghost, a hit with Demi Moore, and Dirty Dancing, the 1987 movie that helped him launch his career.
