Police And School Encourage Safety

Tomorrow, Monday, the 1980-81 school year gets underway in Muleshoe.

Around Muleshoe

Pat Black was among 31 students who enrolled in Multi-Culture Education at West Texas State University in Canyon.

The Muleshoe High School teacher attended the summer school session at WTSU.

Discussed were racism, sexism and various ethnic groups and how to handle prejudices.

Muleshoe City Police Chief Johnny Richards has issued reminders, along with the Muleshoe School System, that buses will be operating on city streets and highways.

They are urging motorists to be extra cautious and help keep all the young students healthy and safe.

As in the past, the Muleshoe City Police department will be closely working with the school to see that motorists are obeying the various laws concerning the busing of students.

For instance, it is a state law, all buses, when loaded, must stop at all railroad crossings. Motorists are warned to watch for the buses stopping in front of them, and avoid a possible rear end collision with a bus load of students.

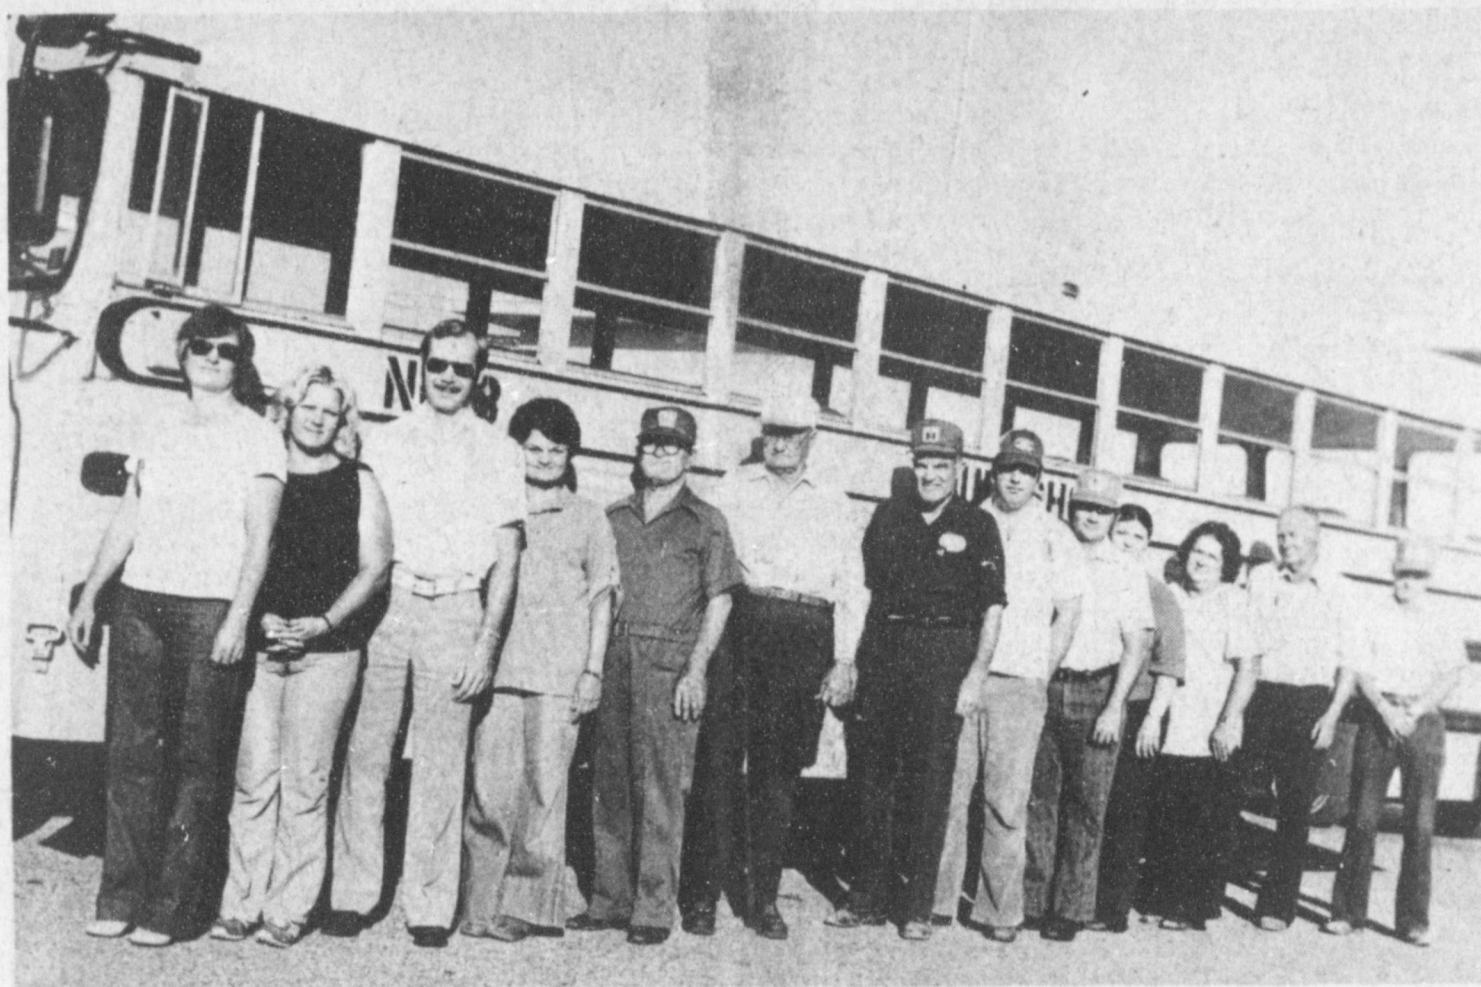

Red lights are always activated when the bus is stopped, picking up or discharging, their young passengers. Again, motorists are warned that according to state law, all traffic must stop and remain stopped. Page 6, Col. 3

New Business For Muleshoe Is Open Now

Recently, a new business was opened in Muleshoe. Irrigation Pump Service has opened on East Highway 84 in Muleshoe by Don Stewart.

Stewart, formerly with Campbell Irrigation, said he will be servicing all types of pumps.

As the new owner and manager of the business, Stewart said he will handle service and sales for all types of pumps.

SCHOOL SAFETY--Bus drivers for the Muleshoe Independent School System join the school and law enforcement officers urging for traffic safety with school starting tomorrow, Monday. Bus drivers from left include, Vera Calloway, Kay Van Leer, David Gray, Carolyn Willoughby, J.W. Holmes, Alton Epting, Elmer Smith, Jim Green, Dana Shunko, Milinda Floyd, Margie Howard, Marion Howard and Tommy Sullivan. Not pictured is driver, George Washington.

Funding Approved, Groundbreaking Set

"At this time, we are in the process of winding up a long, detailed paperwork, and if things happen right, we might sign contracts on the senior citizen housing complex next week," said Harmon Elliott at noon Friday.

He was speaking to the American Association of Retired Persons and was cautiously optimistic that groundbreaking and construction would be around September 1.

Also, according to Elliott, if a schedule can be maintained, the long-awaited housing will be ready for occupancy around June 1, 1981.

He told some of the background trying to acquire approval to construct the complex with government funding. Numerous setbacks would virtually stop construction when everything appeared to be ready, he outlined.

"In April, 1978, we first started trying to acquire land," Elliott told AARP members. "But, some years ago, the government took aerial pictures of all towns for something they call the flood plain or flood zone. They will expend no federal funds for loans in what they call a flood zone. Much of the land we found was in their flood zone, so they turned down one location after another."

"We found land outside the city we could use, but as there would be no police or fire protection, the sites were turned down."

He spoke of the efforts to locate land, and said they finally approved the purchase of J.K. Adams' 'alfalfa patch' on West Avenue K at the south side of Muleshoe.

The location was approved, and everything appeared to be ready to construct the requested 50 units for the initial complex, plus a community room and laundry facilities.

Then, because of a lack of funds, the government first cut the proposed structure to 16 units, and eliminated the community room. Then, after re-negotiating, four units were added back, and again a pre-application for funding was made. All this has finally been approved.

Elliott, who is chairman of the Muleshoe Housing Authority, said the government Cont. on Page 6, Col. 5

And Adult

Skating Slated

Skating is scheduled again tomorrow night, Monday, for adults and young adults (high school). When the skaters take to the floor at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum, they will be taking off up to 660 calories an hour.

A doctor who recently completed a study on skating said skating 10 miles per hour, which is not an inordinate amount, is equal to jogging nine and a half minute miles.

He added that skating is a legitimate form of aerobic exercise, and along with the physical health benefits come psychological benefits as well.

For instance, he said anxiety was lowered, according to the study, and cited the good social aspects as being as beneficial as well as the physical aspect.

So, join the adult skating on Monday. Admission is only $1.

Scrimmage Shows Mules Have Power

Thursday afternoon and evening, the Muleshoe Mules started working out the 'bugs' in their offense and defense, as they took to the field against the Shallowater Mustangs in Shallowater.

Coach Mike Wartes said the team does not have good speed, but, in at least three runs, the Mules galloped down the field keeping ahead of the larger Mustangs.

Although both teams showed evidence of needing improvement, the Mules still performed well against the larger Mustangs. They showed work is needed in pass defense, and learning to knock their opponents down with harder hitting.

After allowing the Mustangs to score from the one, the Mules then tightened up on goaline defense, and from the 10, in several attempts, the Mustangs did not make it over the goaline again.

At the same time, the Mules managed to punch through the Mustang defensive players, and if the score were being kept, the Mules would have won the game.

Thursday night, the Mules will be scrimmaging the 'Big Red' team from Denver City. Formerly, in past years, the Denver City team was regular game opponent of the Muleshoe Mules. As the traditionally larger team takes to the field, the Mules are expected to show how they have up and down with red and black flags in front of the business on West Highway 84.

Robert Ruiz Jr. said all the field harvesters working for the family company went to work Thursday morning, picking cucumbers. However, after a strike group from Hereford arrived at the cucumber field east of Muleshoe, three of the 'crew chiefs' and their crews joined the strikers.

Abandoning the field strike, the protestors lined up in front of the gate at the entrance of Robert Ruiz and Sons Inc. on the west side of Muleshoe.

Following one incident where rocks were thrown at a truck entering the plant site, local law enforcement officers were called to the plant to maintain security for the workers still on the job.

Ruiz said William Beardall who identified himself as an attorney for the striking workers, listed

Class Of '55 Plans Reunion Next Weekend

The Muleshoe High School graduation class of 1955 will hold its 25th anniversary reunion on Sunday, August 31, at the Tri-County Savings and Loan meeting room, 304 Main Street.

All members of the clan, their spouses and families, are urged to attend the reunion from 1-5 p.m.

Also, any class member who has not completed questionnaire mailed out earlier this summer is urged to complete the form, and return it.

A brief history of class members is to be compiled. Gordon Wilson president of the 1955 class, urges all several demands of his plant.

Among the demands were better restroom facilities. Ruiz countered by proving that at least two portable restrooms are in all fields where field harvesters are working. He said the corporation was

'Meet The Mules' On Tuesday Night

Tuesday night will be the traditional 'kickoff' for football in Muleshoe. Mule Mania will be in full evidence and the football stands are expected to be full of Mule fans.

Now, these Mules fans are not necessarily boosting the well-known laboring four-legged animal, but will be cheering the two-legged black and white Muleshoe High School Mules.

Sponsored by the Muleshoe Athletic Boosters, parents will meet with Head football coach Mike Wartes in the cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. to discuss the program for this year immediately prior to the 7 p.m. Meet The Mules at the football field.

Mule Mania stickers will be on sale for $1.50 each, and the popular stickers are not expected to last long. The coaches will be introducing all of the high school players, and the Muleshoe High School Mighty 'M' Band will perform. Enthusiastic fans will get to see the players, and hear a little about what to expect from the team this year.

Following the festivities, homemade ice cream will be served persons attending the special night.

Also, the Muleshoe Athletic Boosters said their meetings begin on September 2 and will meet each Tuesday at the same time as the football games. For instance, for the first six weeks, the meetings will be spending in excess of $9,000 this year alone for the portable restroom facilities.

Beardall also allegedly told Ruiz the housing provided for the workers was not suitable. However, Ruiz

Hearing Set On Production Of New Fuels

With the increased interest in the production and utilization of fuel alcohol, the general public is invited to a hearing on a new federal program to assist in the production of alcohol and other biomass fuels, according to FmHA District Director Donald R. Perry.

The hearing will be held at the Holiday Inn on Avenue H in Lubbock on Friday August 29 and the all day hearing begins at 9:30 a.m. and the morning session will break at 11:30 a.m.

At 2 p.m., the hearing will resume until 5, followed by a 7-9 p.m. evening session.

Alex P. Mecure, Assistant Agriculture Secretary, will preside at the hearing and he said interested persons may attend any or all of the hearings.

Persons wishing to speak at the hearing may contact Clinton Kennedy at the local FmHA office and designate their desire. Written testimony may also be presented in the same manner. Copies of the proposed regulations are available at the Farmers Home Administration office at the Federal Building, 1205 Texas, Lubbock.

Farmers Home Administration, a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, will carry out part of the energy security act of 1980. That part is Section Two of the bill designed to produce 920 million gallons of biomass fuel annually by the end of next year.

The proposed plan calls for Farmers Home Administration to provide direct loans on the farm production of biomass fuels of "alcohol, ethane, and met-thane" and provide guaranteed loans to medium scale commercial facilities.

Farmers Home Administration has been designated to help farmers and others to get into production of alcohol and other biomass fuels.

Priorities

Most people automatically think of cancer research when the name of the American Cancer Society is mentioned. The ACS also gives top priority to education about cancer, training of medical professionals, and services to cancer patients and their families. Support this good work. Give to the American Cancer Society during its annual educational and fund-raising Cancer Crusade.

The 1980 Annual Meeting of the Plains Ginners' Association has been set for Saturday, September 6, at the Lubbock Country Club beginning at 9:30 a.m., according to the organization's secretary, Roy Philpott of Lubbock.

Over 300 High Plains ginners and allied industry people are expected to attend.

Confirmed speakers for the affair as of this writing include Tony Price, Executive Vice President of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, Dallas, and Mack Bennett of Lubbock, director of the four area cotton classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland and Lamesa.

Wayne Crossland of Ralls, president, will give the annual report to the membership.

Also expected to address the meeting is either a member or staff man from the Cotton Board. The Cotton Board is the quasi-governmental board responsible for overseeing the financial affairs of Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company financed by U.S. cotton producers.

Bennett has been asked to discuss new data processing procedures that are being instituted and other cotton classing developments under consideration by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Price will address the universal problem of soaring power costs at gins and outline prospects for converting gin trash to electric power. Texas A&M University and the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Commission are conducting a project that uses gin trash in a fluidized bed incinerator to power an electric generator.

The statewide TCGA is exploring the possibility of gins using electricity from such a system during the ginning season and selling any excess back to its power company during the idle season.

Preceding the business meeting on Saturday will be the annual Plains Ginners' golf tournament, with players teeing off at the Lubbock Country Club from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. on Friday, September 5.

The noon luncheon will be sponsored by Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lamesa Cotton Oil, Levelland Vegetable Oil, Lubbock Cotton Gin, Paymaster Oil Mill, and Plains Cooperative Oil Mill. Speaker for the luncheon meeting is yet to be named, officials report.

Federal Disaster Programs Offer Drought Aid to Farmer, Rancher

AUSTIN—Various Federal programs are available to help farmers and ranchers whose operations have been crippled by the drought, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"The Texas Department of Agriculture has no responsibility in administering these programs, but many producers have been calling our offices wanting to know what aid is offered," Brown said.

He recommended that eligible persons check with the appropriate county or district office for details. "We want to provide a brief outline of the programs, but each one has its own regulations that must be followed."

The Emergency Livestock Feeding Program is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). Ranchers suffering at least a 40 per cent loss on normal feed production can file in any county where they own cattle and land affected by drought.

Payment is 50 per cent, up to two cent a pound of feedgrain equivalent. Each county has set a carrying capacity for various types of pastures and rangeland, and herd numbers must be considered.

A disaster declaration for the entire county is not necessary. During a drought, a county committee will determine the level below normal that ranges are showing. The concurrence of other agency officials and the district ASCS director is necessary. The report is then sent to the state committee for concurrence.

Any feed produced by an applicant or feed on hand counts against eligibility for assistance. All of a rancher's holdings in the U.S. are considered in computing eligibility. Receipts for purchased feed are necessary for emergency payments.

Two types of low-interest, long-term loans are available from Federal agencies. Farmers and ranchers not operating as businesses are eligible for loans under the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). They should contact the county FmHA director. Upon approval by the state office, and if funds are sufficient, loans can be processed without waiting for approval from Washington.

Small Business Administration (SBA) loans are available to agricultural producers, even those who operate as a business. Interest rates are 5 per cent for marginal producers; 8.5 per cent for those in better financial position who can get financing elsewhere. Losses are based on a formula including normal yields and recovery. Farmers and ranchers should first apply to the FmHA for loans. SBA will end its loan service to agricultural producers this fall.

Farmers participating in Federal programs for cotton, wheat, sorghum, peanuts, soybeans, and other grains are eligible for disaster payments as prescribed by law. ASCS county officials are the first stop for filing applications.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Today tenants make up over half of the population of the State of Texas. Most of our Texas tenants are required to put down a security deposit on the apartment or house which they intend to lease before moving into the new residence. Unfortunately, many renters possess misconceptions concerning the purpose of the deposit and their rights regarding a security deposit refund.

A security deposit is not the price you pay for leasing a residence, rather it is a sum of money given to the landlord to protect him against damage you may purposely or accidentally cause to his property. If a tenant does not cause any damage to the leased property and fulfills his legal and contractual obligations, the landlord must return the tenant's security deposit.

Art. 5236e of the Texas Revised Civil Statutes sets out the legal rights and obligations of the landlord and tenant regarding security deposits. Before moving a tenant must take the following action:

—fulfill the lease agreement;

—return the key and cause no damage over "normal" wear and tear;

—give the landlord proper notice of termination in writing;

—give the landlord a forwarding address in writing; and —leave the leased premises clean.

A landlord is obligated to return your security deposit and/or give you a written itemized list of the deductions for repairs and cleaning within 30 days after the day you move out. If you have provided a forwarding address, and the landlord fails to send you a written list of deductions within the required time, he must return the entire deposit without deducting anything and cannot collect for damages.

If the landlord refuses to give you your deposit back, or if you do not agree with the amount or reasons for his deductions, you can sue for your deposit. If the landlord keeps the deposit in "bad faith," you can sue for $100 plus three times the amount of the deposit wrongfully withheld and attorneys fees. The best way to protect yourself is a check-in, check-out list, witnessed by someone not living on the property, or the landlord or manager. Let the manager or landlord know what damages there are to the property when you're ready to move out, and even take pictures if you want to have extra proof.

Shop At Home

Every resident of this community has a stake in its future, an obligation to join with others in making it a better place in which to live.

In this connection, dollars spent at home have a tendency to recirculate in the community, to be spent and enjoyed by other local citizens. Dollars sent out of the community seldom return.

Likewise, contributions to good causes, deserving unfortunates, charities, youth and educational programs, are best made here at home, where results can be seen and appreciated.

Civic pride and cooperation among citizens of this community can and will make this a better place to live in.

A blow with a word strikes deeper than a blow with a sword.

—Robert Burton.

CAR-SENSE
Ed Edmiston

With inflation at a high level and with new car prices higher, you could be wise to order your new car. The factory has a base car price sticker on the window and then to this is added the options on the car. If you order your new car you can choose the color, interior, tires, type hub caps, and even the size engine you want. When you pick your car as you want it, then order only the options you need, you could save as much as 10% on the purchase price of a well equipped car. Of course there are some disadvantages when you order. The most often complaint being you will be from 60 to 90 days getting it. So, if you are not in a big hurry, it might be to your advantage to order your next car—at least you have exactly what you want.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS

Baby powder can help keep your little one cool, dry and comfortable, but you should be careful how you apply it. Shake the powder into your hand first and then rub it on, rather than pouring it right on the baby. This will help keep it from getting into her little lungs.

New mothers and mothers-to-be can feel cool and comfortable — and pretty—in frilly, feminine nightgowns. The one on the left comes in mint, peach and rose. The one on the right has a field of flowers embroidered on the front. Each comes from Mothercare, retailing specialists for mothers-to-be, babies and children under five. The gowns feature concealed nursing openings and are of 100 percent nylon.

from diseases, says a health education specialist.

Immunizations are "tedious business" to many people, but they don't have to be -- especially if you know what's needed and keep updated records.

First, know what your children should be protected against, and then be sure to keep immunization records in a safe, organized file -- make photocopies before sending the record to school or to a child-care facility. Here's what children need to enter first grade or kindergarten: -- at least three doses of diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis -- (DPT) -- with one dose received after the fourth birthday. (-- or tetanus-diphtheria (TD) vaccines -- with one dose received after the fourth birthday) -- three doses of polio vaccine (one dose must be received after the fourth birthday) -- one dose of measles vaccine (must be received after the first birthday) -- one dose of mumps vaccine -- one dose of rubella vaccine.

Remember, all public school children in Texas must show a validated record of their immunizations upon entering school.

Last year, mumps immunization was required for first graders only, but each year the grade requirement will increase. Here's how that will work:

For the 1980-81 school year, all first and second graders must have mumps immunization.

For the 1981-82 year, all first, second and third graders must have mumps immunization.

This age progression in requirements for mumps immunization will continue through the next 11 years, so that, finally, mumps immunization will be required of all students grades one through 12. However remember, once a child age 15 months or over has received the mumps vaccine, he is thought to be immunized for life -- so just the one dose of mumps vaccine is required in most cases.

Also, measles immunization will eventually be required for all public students in Texas, grades one through 12. For the 1979-80 school year, measles immunization was required for children in grades one through six. This year, grade seven will be added to the requirement, and each year another grade will be added until the progressions reach grade 12.

Rubella immunization is required for students up to their twelfth birthday.

Because of measles outbreaks among junior and senior high school students recently, parents may want to ask their private physicians about immunizations for children beyond the official age requirements for this current school year -- especially measles immunization and, perhaps, mumps immunization. Measles can be a serious illness. It causes ear infection or pneumonia in nearly one of every 10 children who contract it.

Encephalitis -- inflammation of the brain -- results from measles in one child of every 1,000 who contract it. This can lead to convulsions, deafness, or mental retardation. Finally, measles is fatal to one child of every 10,000 who contract it. Mumps also can cause serious complications. Mumps causes a mild type of meningitis in about one of every 20 children who contract it. Meningitis is inflammation of the membranes which envelop the brain and spinal cord. Mumps also can cause encephalitis and deafness.

Even though rebella immunization is not required past the twelfth birthday, the Texas Department of Health recommends it for Non-pregnant students who haven't had the immunizations. If a pregnant woman contracts rubella, there is a high-percentage chance that her child will be born crippled, blind or with other defects, especially if the disease is contracted in the first trimester of pregnancy (the first three months)

MR. AND MRS. HENRY SCARBROUGH

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

My husband and I are taking the first vacation we have had in several years. We would like to go back to the city where we spent our honeymoon and stay at the same hotel. We had planned to see a few plays and visit other places and things in which we were interested but my mother-in-law came over last night and sprung a surprise on us. She thought we would be delighted to know that she had written a cousin who lived in this city that we were coming and the cousin had replied that she would be delighted to have us stay with her.

What can we do? I have never seen the cousin and her house is far out from the center of town. Both my husband and I feel that our holiday will be ruined if we accept the invitation and yet we do not want to hurt the cousins feelings or make my mother-in-law feel that she is a meddler. What can we do? Wife--Ga.

Answer:

You can write to the cousin and tell her how much you appreciate her kind invitation but that your plans had already been made for this trip and that she would have to give you a raincheck for a later visit--that you are looking forward to meeting her and that you will call her after you reach town. Arrange to have lunch or dinner with her one day--either as your guest or the two of you as hers after you arrive. Express appreciation to your mother-in-law for her thoughtfulness but follow your original plans.

Louisa,
Address: Louisa, Box 532, Orangeburg, S.C. 29115

Eliminating hunger... feeding the world... wiping out the malady of malnutrition. These are worthy and respected ambitions. To be obtained, causes and solutions need to be better defined. Most simply stated the problem is not lack of food. It is lack of money. Therefore, it is a common error to look to the farmers of this country to solve the world's hunger problems. If we want to eliminate the malnutrition around the world, if we want to feed the world... then everyone must share the cost. Not just the producers. Farmers and ranchers will be doing more than their share because they will be working harder, spending more money and taking greater risks. Discussions of possible solutions will be included in upcoming decisions on agricultural policies. Hopefully, those decisions will be fair to the men and women whose agrarian abilities have made it possible to even consider solving the problem.

is in possession of papers from the Texas Department of Health showing that the housing is completely adequate, and in compliance fully with health regulations.

Also, according to Beardall, they (the strikers) wanted increased wages. Again, Ruiz has paperwork showing that the lowest paid worker is making the minimum hourly wage of $3.10 per hour.

Ruiz explained the workers are paid according to 'pack-out' in the field. He objected that an additional price paid would be unreasonable as the drought and extreme heat this summer has hurt the quality of cucumbers harvested. "This is not the fault of the grower, and it is not the fault of the corporation," added Ruiz. "An act of God has cut the quality and there's not much we can do about it. We are having to just throw out approximately half of the harvest because it does not come up to the standards of vegetables shipped by our corporation.

"The farmer wants his vegetables out of the field, and we are paying to have them harvested. Even now, at times, money is having to come from our own pocket and we are losing money on the harvest this year. As the days and nights are cooler, the quality will go up. Also, pepper harvest is about to begin, and it looks like we will have a fairly good pepper harvest."

Ruiz said that many of the strikers have worked for his family for many years, and until the Hereford strikers came to Muleshoe, appeared to be content. "They know what to expect from the harvest before they come to Muleshoe from the Valley," he added. "We usually lend quite a bit of money, at no interest, before they come to Muleshoe, because they tell us their trucks have to be repaired, they have to buy new trucks, or they don't have the money to come out here. They have always wanted to come here with us, because they always make good money to take back home to the Valley."

He said that approximately half of his crews have continued to work, but are being threatened. Security has been added for the protection of the workers, continued the processing plant operator.

Ruiz said this was the first time Robert Ruiz and Sons Inc. have ever been picketed, and they not only operate a plant here, but also have other facilities in the Valley.

Another protest by the group was that following the death in Muleshoe recently of Antonio Lopez, the company refused to help the family.

"On the contrary," said Ruiz of the longtime, part-time employee "When Antonio Lopez died, his wife came to us, and she was crying. She said they had no insurance.

"I had her sit down in the office and make necessary telephone calls to the Valley. Also, I went to the hospital and funeral home to personally make arrangements for my longtime friend who had died.

"As Mrs. Lopez had no money, we talked to the workers in the plant to see if they wanted to help. They contributed more than $300. Then, I wrote a check for $1,500 to Mrs. Lopez to help with the funeral. Our workers were allowed to take his body back to Edinburg themselves. They took off work and drove the body down there to help save expenses for Mrs. Lopez.

"It really hurts. He was not a member of any of my family, but he had worked for us parttime for many years. He was a friend, and we helped his wife. Although we were not obligated to help, we helped with the funeral expenses because we wanted to."

Ruiz was still unsure as to the future of other long-time employees who were striking. They were still living in Ruiz' housing at the plant complex. The plant operator was unsure as to whether or not the striking employees would be rehired. "At this time," he said, "They have quit their jobs as far as we are concerned."

Thursday afternoon, and again on Friday, processing of the cucumbers as they arrived at the plant, was continuing uninterrupted.

The Bailey County Journal was contacted by telephone by Martin Salazar of Muleshoe, who asked that a Journal representative go out to the picket line to interview Jesus Moya.

This offer was declined due to rockthrowing and general unrest.

However, Salazar was instructed to invite Moya to come by the Journal office if he so desired.

Moya did not contact any representative of the Bailey County Journal, nor were any statements taken from Moya by any representative of the Bailey County Journal.

ment will not be administering the housing once it is completed. This will be done in its entirety by the Muleshoe Housing Authority. Other members include Jim Cox, Jesse Leal, Tim Campbell and Myron Pool III.

Funding will be through the Farmers Home Administration, with the construction being done on a loan to the Housing Authority.

Elliott thanked Mrs. Buck Creamer and Owen Jones, individually, for their work done to acquire the statistics and data to submit for the loan application to acquire the housing. He also said other persons had helped in the initial states.

"The thing that has been keeping us in the ball game," said Elliott, "was that 20 people could be moving into the reduced size complex. We made a request to keep the project alive, then as soon as we break ground for the initial, or Phase I, we will immediately make application for funding for the additional 30 units which were cut from the project."

"The Housing Complex will be something the city will be proud of."

Elliott was followed by Theresa Drewel of the Lubbock architect firm handling the planning. She explained the units, their layout, and design.

One thing of interest will be the emergency call system. All units will be equipped with the system, low on the wall in the bathroom and bedroom. It can be activated by pulling a cord, or by pushing the buzzer. This activates a piercing sound outside, and will also activate a flashing red light over the door where the emergency occurs. At the same time, it will automatically unlock the front door to allow easy access to the apartment.

In the quest of success, just remember there is no substitute for character or service.

All the sidewalks and entrances will have ramps instead of steps to make walking easier, and two of the units will be set up to accommodate persons in wheelchairs.

All living areas will be carpeted, with tile in the kitchen and bath. They will all be equipped with storm windows and doors, and will be of brick veneer.

In Phase I will be 16 one bedroom apartments and four two bedroom apartments. Adequate storage both inside and outside the apartments will be provided. They will have plumbing for washer and hook-up for dryers. However, for persons not owning washers and dryers, a laundry room, with two washers and one dryer will be provided in the community room.

The yards and maintenance will be provided by the Housing Authority although garden and flowerbed space will be allotted to the residents. The refrigerators and ranges furnished with the apartments will be GE products.

Color schemes will be beige, rust, green or brown. Shades will be provided for windows. Adequate parking will be provided for both residents and visitors.

Rent will be based on total income of the residents. For instance, it will be adjusted, and 25 percent of the persons income will be charged. This will include all utilities, except telephone. Persons of low income, such as Social Security, will have subsidized rent.

Post office facilities will be available right at the complex and postal service will deliver to the individual apartments.

Various uses of the community building were outlined, such as church services; birthday parties; social gatherings; singings; meetings and to play games.

To many of the senior citizens, it will be finally -- a dream come true!

ped, until the flashing red lights are turned off.

Drivers are urged to watch for students around the schools and designated bus stops and school bus crossings.

Also, persons picking up or leaving children at schools are asked to please stop somewhere other than in the areas designated for buses to stop. These areas where children are loaded or discharged are assigned to provide maximum safety for the students.

Blind corners, especially prior to harvest in the country, prove to be another driving hazard. Drivers are asked to be sure to drive more carefully when approaching a blind corner, and thus help keep the students safer.

Chief Richards has emphasized that 'hotrodding' around the schools will not be tolerated by his officers, and warned that such driving will be closely monitored by city officers.

Also, the chief reminded that STOP signs mean just that! Drivers are not to just slow down and then go into the intersection without coming to a full, complete stop.

Another warning is issued for students. Littering is unnecessary, said the chief, as garbage containers are provided. He said such incidents as throwing down candy wrappers, drink cups, hamburger and sandwich wrappers, school papers and other debris will make the student subject to fines.

"Students are grown young men and women," commented the chief. "We have a pretty school here and there is no point in abusing it. We have adequate garbage containers to hold the litter and trash usually discarded by the students."

'Horn Band Cuts Practice For Monday

Summer band at the Lazbuddie High School will not be conducted at the school tomorrow, Monday. Practice sessions will resume on Tuesday, August 26, and again on Thursday, August 28, both days at 5 p.m.

The band director said it is very important for all members to attend the sessions, because uniforms will be issued during this time.

Students who cannot attend the practice may pick up their uniforms after school begins on September 2.

The band director commented, "It is important that all band students in grades 7-12, who are in football, come to these practices. The main reason for having the 5 p.m. time is so the football players who are in band may come to the sessions."

"All high school band students who know of others in the band who have not received letters concerning early practice times are urged to contact these students and make sure they attend the practice sessions."

MEN WORKING

This is the sign that should be lifted high in our beloved country -- "Men Working." Men working with all they have and are, for a country that must show the world how to live in brotherhood and love and peace under God.

Let us resolve to dedicate anew our lives and our talents to our country and our God when we attend church

MEN AND EQUIPMENT WORKING

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The British are coming

COLLEGE STATION - A blistering Texas summer may be a bane for the natives, but it is touring thousands of British tourists to bask in the Lone Star sunshine.
Dr. John Crompton, a Texas A&M tourism expert, says the attributes the British like about Texas are: sunny climate, hot summers, wealthy people, open hospitality and smiling easy-going people.
Also ranked highly are major attractions, varied landscape and safe towns and cities.

SOME WILL STAY
The Immigration and Naturalization Service said that it would permit some Iranian students enrolled in American colleges and universities to extend their stay in the United States.
