

CITY PLANNING WORK LAUNCHED

ODDS NOW FOUR TO ONE ON SMALL AT FORT WORTH

DETROIT IS STIRRED BY MURDER OF RADIO ANNOUNCER

The winning spirit wins ball games and builds cities. It takes CHAMPIONSHIP STUFF to make a showing in this age of stiff competition.

The Gulf Guns, Panhandle baseball champions, lived up to the reputation and performance of Pampa teams and won at Amarillo. This column hereby extends congratulations. Pampa needs champions, and it is gratifying to note that when one crop wanes another rises to take the place of those who pass on.

Winning is a Pampa tradition. Other cities of the plains expect Pampa representatives to do well, regardless of what the occasion is and what it demands. Pampa, and indeed all West Texas, can boast of leaders, winners, champions. May the Harvesters of 1930 think this over and get into condition for a hard season.

"Hold that line" is the battle cry that has gone out from the headquarters of Clint C. Small at Fort Worth. With many sections of Texas conceding Senator Small a good chance to be in the run-off of WEST TEXAS STANDS WITH HIM, it is imperative that his territory stand united in battle. Only such a unit over the Texas Technological college after years of failure will elect a governor. Vote for a man who lives in, believes in, and works for West Texas; no other candidate casts two whoppers about our problems, as time has proven often in the past.

We suppose Harry Lyman will feel quite upish with us now. Mr. Lyman is the man who suggested that if every farmer were to give one wagonload of wheat to the starving Chinese he would raise the price of the rest of his grain and benefit both himself and the Chinese. That is approximately what Senator Capper has suggested to Chairman Legge of the Farm Board. As the Pampans said when the idea was first advanced, there may be better solutions, but Mr. Legge has not yet discovered them.

Of interest to farmers: William F. Schilling, poultry and dairy member of the Federal Farm Board, will be in Plainview Friday Hale county, which has a dairy association of 1,200 members, may be made the nucleus of a Texas cooperative dairy marketing organization. It should be an interesting meeting.

Marketing of crude oil and petroleum products affords great difficulty to independent operators of Pampa and elsewhere. Curtailment of production—a logical step, ordinarily—is about the only remedy the so-called experts suggest. Curtailment is a fact, an accomplishment. Oklahoma has, for example, adopted a very drastic reduction in daily production.

But while curtailment is hurting American business, throttling the small operators, and resulting in no substantial saving to the consumers, what really is happening? Refineries are being built by major companies on small islands off the coast of Venezuela, and the refined products are being shipped into this country duty free. During the first six months of 1930, imports of gasoline increased 185 per cent as compared with the same period last year. Failure of the drive for a tariff on crude oil and refined products has encouraged major companies to abandon expansion programs in this country and to build huge refineries outside of it. And yet some people seem to think Senator Small and others like him are working for "special interests" when they try to get justice for home folks.

Crime Follows Vote To Recall Mayor Bowles

THREATS HAD BEEN FREQUENT

Governor Will Take Hand In Probe Of Killing

DETROIT, July 23—(AP)—Gerald E. "Jerry" Buckley, announcer for radio station WMBC, was shot and killed by three men in the lobby of the La Salle hotel at 1:50 a. m. today, two and a half hours after he had talked over the radio. Buckley had taken an active part in the campaign to recall Mayor Charles Bowles. His last announcement was a statement that the mayor had been recalled in yesterday's election. Buckley had been an opponent of the mayor.

Paul Buckley, former assistant prosecutor of Wayne county and brother of the slain man, said Gerald had been threatened because of his activities in favor of the recall.

"There is no doubt but Jerry's activities in the recall movement and the turn in the recall election was the sole reason for the shooting," he said. Paul said Gerald had told him he had been threatened by letter and by telephone.

Gerald Buckley was sitting in the lobby of the hotel when three men entered, approached him from behind and fired eleven bullets into his body at close range. Six bullets entered the back of his head, all within an area of four inches. He was shot in the neck arm, leg and foot.

Jack Klein, motion picture operator, was sitting in a chair beside Buckley. He said he ran when the shooting started. He could not describe the assassins. After killing Buckley, the three gunmen ran out of the hotel, entered a car and drove away.

W. Wright Gedde, secretary of the Michigan Broadcasting company which operates station WMBC said Buckley told him he had been threatened because of his activities for the recall. "They are out to get me," he said Buckley told him.

Buckley had been announcing over station WMBC for two years. He had aroused the underworld by his bitter attacks on gambling. These attacks were of considerable influence in bringing about the recall movement.

He was said to have been a witness of the slaying of George Collins and William Cannon, Chicago gangsters, who were shot at the side

GUNS NOW OFF TO TOURNEY IN DENVER

Loaded with determination and enthusiasm, the Pampa Guns, declared by Emmer Gober and Amarillo sports writers to be the greatest baseball team Pampa ever produced left this afternoon for Denver, where they will fight with the unconquerable Pampa spirit for highest honors in the Denver Post's tournament which begins tomorrow.

Because they won the Amarillo tournament in a game Monday afternoon with the Amarillo Tactless Texans, the Guns are rated by the Post as one of the favorite teams. The members of the club had been planning to compete in the tourney since they lost their first game to the Tacks, when they decided they would win the Amarillo tournament. But the only thing that prevented them from going was the almighty dollar. There didn't seem to be enough available "cart-wheels."

"This morning, "Diamond" Sam Fenberg whom the Guns yesterday unanimously elected the most valuable baseball fan in Pampa, also the 1930 model sportsman, and "Rusty" Cahill decided that the Guns should go to Denver, believing that Pampa would reap the benefits. At 9 o'clock, they took to the streets to raise enough money to defray expenses. By 11 o'clock, Sam and "Rusty" and several Guns had raised $600 and had assurance that they could raise $200 more this afternoon, aggregating an amount which will see the Guns through.

Many firms and individuals gave $50 each; plenty of fans gave $25 and more gave $5 each. Mr. Fenberg and Mr. Cahill are completing the round of business houses this afternoon and they expect to raise the necessary amount before night. When the Guns learned that $600 had been raised they joyfully piled in their automobiles and set out for Denver.

"The response was wonderful," Mr. Fenberg said. "You can always depend on Pampans to back a Pampa athletic team to the limit. Gosh, it's good to live in this town."

With them, the Amarillo tournament. They met Phillips—the incomparable short-stop—and the author of most of the double plays which helped the Guns to win the last two games. Phillips was called to his home at St. Jo, Tex., yesterday by the death of his father.

However, Phillips will be succeeded by Skeet Gibson, the idol of Amarillo, who was voted as the most valuable man to his team. Two new Gun pitchers are Rossi of the Canadian River Gassers and Lefty Dillon of the Skellytown team who held the Guns to three hits in six innings. The ace of the new pitching staff will be Vic Fraser, now sojourning at his home in Texas because he won't report at the White Sox camp. Haddock will

"There is no question but that Clint will be in the run-off if West Texas stays in and pitches for him," telegraphed Mel B. Davis from the Small headquarters at Fort Worth this morning to the Pampa Daily News.

"The odds here are four to one that Clint will go into the run-off," Mr. Davis added.

The crescendo of political fervor in the Texas governorship race with seven candidates from a field of eleven still "out on the hustings," approached Wednesday a climax of personal remarks and campaign issues. All seemed struggling desperately to forge ahead before the deadline of Saturday's election.

G. H. CURTISS, AIR PIONEER, DIES TODAY

Operation Precedes End At Buffalo, New York

FLIER STARTED BICYCLE SHOP

Daring Drew Him To New Science Of Flight

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 23—(AP)—Glenn H. Curtiss, widely known aviation pioneer, died today in the general hospital here.

Mr. Curtiss was brought to the hospital several days ago from his home in Hammondsport, N. Y., to undergo an operation for appendicitis. The operation was said to have been successful and he was reported recovering rapidly.

Hospital authorities declined to furnish any details concerning the aviator's death, but said that a statement probably would be issued later in the day.

Glenn H. Curtiss nurtured the young science of aviation in the middle years of his development when fainter hearts had grown discouraged.

His native town of Hammondsport, in upstate New York, where he was born on May 21, 1878, is now called by the Chamber of Commerce "The Cradle of Aviation" because of what Curtiss and his associates did there.

At the age of 18 he started a bicycle shop, as did those other pioneers of American aviation—the Wright Brothers—and from that went into bicycle racing. He sought some means to make them go faster but there were no engines that would meet the demand so Curtiss decided to make one.

With a tomato can for a carburetor, he built his first motor bicycle in 1901. He continued to experiment with light weight motors and evolved his famous V-type motor, a departure in design reflected in the road and American aviation—of today.

In 1902 he won the New York state riders of two continents. In 1904 he set a speed record at Ormond Beach, Fla., of ten miles in 8 minutes and 54 seconds, and in 1906, over the same course, traveled faster than man ever had before, a mile in 26 and 2-4 seconds or at the rate of approximately 140 miles an hour. That record stood for years.

His fame spread and drew the attention of the late Major Thomas Scott Baldwin, builder and operator of balloons. In 1904 the two men met in Hammondsport and installed a Curtiss motor in Baldwin's balloon, the California Arrow. With this machine they made a circular flight at Oakland, California, in August 1904, first to fly that way.

From that time on the name of Curtiss has been as closely linked with airplane as horse with buggy, ship with sea.

Mrs. Curtiss came here with her husband and has been almost constantly at his bedside. As his condition began to improve she spent her nights at a downtown hotel. She was hastily summoned when the aviator became unconscious this morning but arrived after his death.

Hospital authorities stated death was due to pulmonary embolism, caused by a blood clot on one of the main arteries leading out of the heart.

Mrs. Maude Hall, Chatham, Ill., is visiting Dr. and Mrs. W. Purviance.

ROBBER STRIKES WOMAN, GRABS MONEY

After brutally beating Mrs. N. H. Simmons in the face with his fists, a robber hurled her to the earth and snatched approximately $75 in cash which she was carrying in her hands.

The savage and inhuman attack was perpetrated between 9:45 and 10 o'clock Monday night near the S. & S. Grocery just a few steps from the grocery where Mrs. Simmons works as cashier. Her son, G. C. Simmons is proprietor.

Mrs. Simmons suffered painful bruises on the face, mouth and body. Several teeth were knocked loose. Before flinging Mrs. Simmons in a near-by flower bed, the robber struck her a crushing blow at the side of the head, partially stunning her.

The bandit first ordered Mrs. Simmons to "give me that money." He repeated this three times. At first the elderly lady was so frightened that she could not speak then she screamed loudly and the robber struck her. The man did not get all of the money Mrs. Simmons was carrying as some of it fell out of her hand when he struck her. He fled before the woman recovered consciousness. She is confined to her room at present.

Both city and county officers are working on the case. The man was described as about five feet, 11 inches tall, and rather large. He wore a dark suit and dark hat.

School Bonds Are Carried by Large Majority

In another school election marked by the absence of interest, $25,000 to supplement the building fund was voted yesterday in the Pampa Independent school district.

The vote was 101 for the issue and 12 against it.

The additional bond issue was necessitated by the increased enrollment in the local schools, which jumped forward unexpectedly when the census was taken.

Indications are that the new and old buildings will be crowded to capacity during the next term.

A $200,000 bond issue was voted last spring, and the extensive building program is well under way.

CHICAGOAN IS WOUNDED

CHICAGO, July 23—(AP)—Even the presence of his wife at his side failed to save Joseph Martorana from a gun attack last night as he was driving his automobile on the northwest side. He was wounded by more than a dozen shotgun slugs. Mrs. Martorana was not hurt.

The total of the Stuckey bid was $25,613.88 and that of the only other bidder, Bill Hale of Childers, was $26,714.98.

TWO BANDITS ROB MAN LAST NIGHT

Two clever bandits, each armed with a pistol, held up, blindfolded and then robbed James R. Barrett of $40 at the A. W. Butler implement office at the Skipper apartment on West Foster avenue last night about 8:45 o'clock.

Mrs. Barrett had just left in a car for the business district when the robbery occurred. Barrett opened the door and flicked away a cigaret. At that moment the men entered. One said, "stick 'em up" and the other "blind fold him." Mr. Barrett never saw either of the two men. They obtained the money in a cash box.

Six weeks ago, four men held-up and robbed Mr. Skipp of $400 as he was entering his apartment about 9 o'clock on Saturday night. The bandits have not yet been apprehended.

Rooms at three local hotels were looted last night of jewelry, money and clothes valued at $100.

ENGAGE FIRM TO STUDY ALL LOCAL NEEDS

Montgomery, Ward Engineers Are Employed

REPORTS TO BE VERY COMPLETE

Work To Last Six Months Starting Soon

A civic project of wide scope and application was launched this morning when City Manager F. M. Gwin, acting on the authority of the city commission, signed a contract with Montgomery and Ward of Wichita Falls for a thorough city planning survey of Pampa.

The survey will start within two weeks and will last about six months. The cost will be $4,500.

The consulting engineers will be here, with surveying crew, for practically the entire time, and they will compile data and maps affecting the future growth of the city along every line. Their study will include parks and playgrounds, landscaping of all public grounds, plans for a municipal swimming pool, plans for handling and routing traffic, placing of all mains of public utility and municipal services, drainage, sewer system, zoning, building codes, lighting, airport, city beautification, and legal details of enforcing the ordinances to be adopted.

After the preliminary surveys are made, hearings will be held for the public, with the engineers explaining details. When the voluminous reports, maps and plans have been approved by the city commission, they will be bound in leather volumes and placed on file here.

Employment of the engineers was upon the recommendation of both the city planning commission and the city park board. Julian Montgomery made a number of trips here and exhibited similar survey plans drawn for other cities, including a late one for Brownwood. Members of the commissions declared the cost was very moderate, and considering the great amount to be done and the number of men that will be required to do it.

The city commission let to Stuckey Construction company a contract to widen the South Cuyler concrete paving and to pave the alley in block 23. The first block of widening will be to 60 feet, and the remainder of the four extra long blocks to about 44 feet. The widening, curb, and gutter will be of Vibrolithic concrete at $2.71 per square yard, the alley will be of plain 6-inch concrete at $2.45 per square yard.

The total of the Stuckey bid was $25,613.88 and that of the only other bidder, Bill Hale of Childers, was $26,714.98.

UNDER THE STERLING PLAN TAXES WILL BE REDUCED IN GRAY COUNTY

The taxpayers of Gray County, including the farmers, homeowners and business men are now assessed an average tax of approximately 10c on the $100.00 valuation to pay for the construction of State Highways, a tax that should be borne by the State.

UNDER THE STERLING TAX REDUCTION PLAN the State will assume this obligation and pay for it out of the gasoline tax.

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan will place the burden of paying for the state roads your county has built on the traffic, where it belongs.

The Sterling Plan will provide the state with adequate funds to build a connected state system of hard surfaced, all-weather highways and for paving the gaps over the state without county aid and without increasing the gasoline tax one penny.

R. S. STERLING, Houston, Candidate for Governor

The Sterling Tax Reduction Plan provides that no property tax shall ever be levied to carry out its purposes.

Vote for R. S. Sterling and LOWER TAXES

Explanatory Note.—The estimated reduction in the tax rate has been calculated in accordance with the best available information. The exact figure will depend upon varying conditions in each county.

He falls in love with Judith, telling her that he never loved Chummy, and never knew Chummy loved him. Then Chummy recovers his memory, and Steyne, feeling himself obligated by her years of suffering, asks he to marry her. She is radiantly happy. Judith, meanwhile, arouses the infatuation of the rich BRUCE GIDEON, financier, who offers to star her in a musical show. She refuses, encounters Steyne in the park, and suddenly discovers that she is deeply in love with him. Steyne urges her to marry him, but she refuses out of loyalty to Chummy. In a cafe she runs into BASTIEN DUMONT, a young artist who has long loved her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIII
Bastien was a little late. Judy sat down at her accustomed table, and ordered what she wanted. As she looked up into Dan's lean face, her smile faded.
"Why Dan, you look sad! What's the matter? And you aren't singing tonight?"
The lanky, clown-like figure had acquired dignity.
"It's bad news, miss," he said. "My old mother's dead. She died all alone in Italy—Como, that's where she lived; and I haven't the money to go and bring her body back to be buried beside my father. He lies in Calvary Cemetery."
"Oh, Dan!" said Judy softly, as she saw the mist gather in his keen eyes. "I understand why you're not singing tonight. I am so sorry! Couldn't we do something—all of us—so that you could go to Italy?" Dan shook his head.

"I'm afraid not, miss. It costs a heap of money to get to Italy."
"Was your mother Italian, Dan?"
"Yes, miss, but my father was a Londoner—born within sound of Bow Bells, as they say. They had an organ first, and then they did better, and got to be quite prosperous; but when my father caught a chill, and died of it, my mother took me to Italy. When I was 15 I came to America. There wasn't much of a living to be made in Italy, I was always saying she must come over and live with me when I could save a bit!"
"Oh, Dan, and she never came!"
"But there, miss, it's no good talking. And I haven't told any one else. What'll I bring you, miss?" he asked.

But Judy's appetite was gone. Her loving, impulsive heart was planning how she could possibly get the money to send Dan to Italy and bring him back with his mother's body.
When Bastien came in, eager, full of apologies, his ardent eyes devouring her with hopeless worship, she did not speak of Dan. It seemed so useless; and Dan had said that he had told nobody else.

Already Dan had struck up his mandolin in response to some careless demand, and his gay, light voice was trilling out: "Santa Lucia" in a way that would have made the heart of a Neapolitan ache with longing.
"I haven't seen you for ages, Judy," Bastien said.
"I have been busy," she answered.
"You've had no time for me, Judy." There was something akin to madness under the ardor of his splendid eyes. "That rich man has taken up all your time."

Dan here brought her food and coffee, and Bastien had to give his order.
"Bastien, have you any news?" Judy asked, when he had finished.
"I have, as it happens—the first bit of luck for years. I've sold 'The Dream of the Apache.'"

"Splendid!" She clapped her hands. "I always said it was a fine picture."
"What's the good?" he asked bit-terly. "What does it matter to me? I never see you now, Judy."

"But, Bastien, I have to work. I have to live."
"Need you see so much of that brute in order to live, Judy?"
"Oh, yes, you do! I mean the man you brought to the Lemon Grove, the man you have dinner and luncheon with in expensive restaurants."

"Bastien, I don't like your tone," she said frigidly.
"And I don't like your goings on, Judy. They are hateful. He's not a man you ought to go about with. 'Ve been hearing things—"
"You mean you've been spying on me!" she interrupted.
"Judy, don't look at me like that! He's a millionaire. You're a poor girl. He hasn't a good reputation. What can he want with you? Don't be angry. I'm a man, and I understand the world better, Judy."

He gazed at her in miserable appeal.
She could hardly think for rage. So Bastien, her best friend, was accusing her of philandering with Bruce Gideon because he was rich, of laying herself open to blame, of behaving like a girl who was no better than she should be!

She went white and rigid, and turned on him an annihilating stare.
"My meetings with Mr. Gideon are purely of a business nature," she said lily. "I am taking up dancing as a career, and he is advising me."
Thus did Judy burn her boats. She would not allow Bastien to discuss the matter further. Her mind was made up, she told him. She was tired of a model's life. It was such hard work, and one depended entirely on one's looks and one's health and the decency of one's employer. She was going to take up dancing. She didn't mind working hard, and there might be something in it. Mr. Gideon knew a lot about such things, and he was introducing her to a teacher.

That was all the information she vouchsafed. She ended by asking belligerently if Bastien wished to deny that she had talent for dancing.

Of course, Bastien was forced to admit that she could dance like an angel, and that no doubt, given a chance, she would make a tremendous success. It was plainly Bruce Gideon he could not get over; but Judy would hear no word against him. It was purely a business matter, she told Dumont. Gideon was very kind in giving her advice—that was all.

"A business matter!" exclaimed poor Bastien, with a groan. "Judy, are you deceiving yourself, or are you playing with me? Was it on business that he came to the Lemon Grove and sat there and watched you dancing, and behaved as if you were his property, and we were all a set of queer animals who had nothing to do with you at all?"
"How could Mr. Gideon know whether I could dance unless he saw me?" was the cool reply. "You are prejudiced, Bastien. Mr. Gideon was very nice to you all—quite a sport, I thought him that night, because he must have felt a bit out of it."

There was nothing more for Bastien to say. He could only grit his teeth and swear a violent oath that if a hair of Judy's bright head were harmed, that meddlesome millionaire should reckon with him.

For the rest of the evening Judy was a reformed character, as far as he was concerned. She was nicer to him than she had ever been before. She allowed him to take her to the Lemon Grove, she danced every dance with him, and she walked slowly home with him. At her door she finished his renewal of enslavement by holding his hand in both her little ones, looking up into his face with her great pansy eyes full of affection, and saying, with a catch in her husky voice: "Bastien, you are a good sort! You're the best friend of them all!" And she meant it.

Judy did not go into Chummy's room when she got home. It was almost the first time that she had gone to bed without ascertaining whether her friend was awake or asleep, and whether she could do anything for her. She was pretty late herself, so she was sure that Chummy was at home.

She had a small lamp in her room, which was burning, so she knew that Chummy had lit it. Without taking her things off, she sat down to think.

It was in anger that she had burned her boats; but the deed was done. A myriad thoughts flashed through her brain. She had a queer way of thinking in pictures so that she saw all her reasons flashed out as on a screen in her mind.
She saw her anger against Bastien—that was a very simple and complete picture. She saw herself on some vast stage, dancing on air, amid the plaudits of a multitude. She saw Bruce Gideon, the typical financier, delighted with his speculation, but quite oblivious to herself as a human being.

She saw Bastien on his knees before her, begging her forgiveness; but that, of course, she might have seen at any time.
Then she came to the more difficult thoughts—the more clouded pictures.

She saw herself hard at work, withdrawn from the orbit of Chummy and Alan Steyne. She saw her life as a straight gray thread, like the worsted with which one darns thick stockings. The lives of Alan and Chummy were a tangle of bright golden threads, and soon they began to weave themselves into a lovely fabric. It shone with a beautiful light, and Judy discerned in it at last a little home among the hills and a happiness before which she veiled her face.

That was her task—she saw it quite clearly—to get out of Chummy's life as much as she could. This new work would take up all her time. Chummy, left more or less alone, would soon drift away. She and Alan would marry, and they would live part of the time in Maine, and the rest of the time in all the wonderful places abroad where people went to paint.

Here Judy heaved a deep sigh. She so longed to travel—she who had never been anywhere but to

GOLF GUNS PROTESTING DIVISION OF TOURNAMENT PRIZES

AUDIT ASKED OF RECORDS BY CHAMPS

Claiming that the receipts had not been fairly distributed, the Pampa Golf Guns up to this morning had refused to accept a check for $936.34 which the Amarillo Globe-News offered the winners of the baseball tournament as first money. Keith Edelen, youthful manager of the Champion Guns, in refusing the check, contended that not all of the paid admissions were accounted for in the settlement. The Tacks got $561.79 as second money and the Memphis boys, $377.53 for third place.

Speaking for the Guns, Edelen demanded an audit of the receipts and disbursements. "In fairness to the winners and to all the teams which played in the tournament, the Globe-News should publish an audit, listing credits and expenses," Mr. Edelen stated. "Such a report of the tournament should show in exact figures just how many attended the games during the 12 days."

The Gun manager pointed out to the tournament manager that although the crowds this year were larger by far than last year's, the 1930 winners received even less than the 1929 winners, the Pampa Guns who drew a check for approximately $1,200 as first money. Unless the tournament manager audits the books, give exact amounts of receipts and expenses, also the number of paid admissions, the Guns will not accept the check, it was stated today.

"Dissatisfaction with the manner in which the money is distributed each year to the winners is gradually causing teams of the Panhandle to doubt that the tournament is conducted fairly," Edelen said. "If one will notice, very few of the teams compete a second time. Pampa is about the only exception. It is significant that Wellington or Lamasa were not represented in the tournament this year. For its own benefit, it would pay the Globe-News to publish an audit of the tournament books."

Clingman Meets Carnival Crew

Although Pampa's favorite wrestler, Otis Clingman is laying off for the summer, he still takes in the carnival wrestlers. Local fans may see him to-morrow night take on Lee Myers at the Tidwell carnival near the airport. Lee Myers wrestled in Amarillo this spring, tumbling Rob Roy all over the place.

Last night, "Baby Face" Clingman and Myers had a 10 minute set-to that was rough and fast. Neither won a fall but both were slightly mutilated. Otis as usual had the crowd with him.

The Pin-Mor promoter announced that it would be probably six weeks before wrestling will be resumed. "You just can't get these lump-sums to wrestle in hot weather," he said.

Armed Men In Search Of Negro

MARSHALL, July 23—(AP)—An armed posse combed the countryside around Greenwood, La., east of here today in search of two negroes who shot and killed C. J. Mason, 40, Greenwood merchant, and fled after robbing his wife.

The negroes shot Mason to death in his store when he refused to open his cash register for them. His wife, a witness to the slaying, was forced to give the negroes the contents of the register.

An armed posse was formed immediately and a search for the negroes began with the aid of police officers from Shreveport.

Sheriff T. R. Hugues of Caddo Parish at Shreveport said early today that from 500 to 640 men were engaged in the search.

"He said there was 'no telling what would happen if the negroes are caught,'" he said public excitement was aroused to such an extent that mob violence was feared.

CUBS DEFEAT SPORT CLAN AND MOVE UP

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Battered not at all by the fact that they are supposed to be playing "over their heads," the Waco Cubs continued their surprising drive last night within a half-game of the Texas league pinnacle.

By trimming the Shreveport Sports 14 to 11, in their series opener at Katy Park, the Prattmen ran their streak to nine victories in twelve starts and were hot on the heels of the Daltrist Spudders. No other has Del Pratt's collection of only one and youngsters climbed from fourth place to clear possession of second within a fortnight, but they have done a big part of it on the road.

Gene Rye, with a pair of home runs and a double, and Old Joe Munson, with two doubles, led a 12-11 attack on two Shreveport flingers last night. The first eight men in the Cub's lineup got at least two blows apiece, which is concentrated clotting. They scored four runs off Tiny Owens before he retired a single batter in the first inning. Pete Wendt, the ex-Aggie, did noble relief pitching for the Cublets, allowing only one hit from the second to the ninth, but he weakened in the last round and was saved by Becker after the Sports had scored four.

Continuing to cast a spell over the leaders, the San Antonio Indians captured their home-opener against Wichita Falls, 9 to 7. The tribesmen took a long lead when they battered Caldwell and Hillin for seven runs in the second inning, Leslie driving in three with a double. Every man in the San Antonio lineup hit safely. Ike Boone accounted for three of the loser's runs off Cy Smith when he homered in the third with two on.

Dallas and Houston went into a tie for fifth place when the Steers hammered out a 10 to 6 victory to help the Buffs' dedicate their $25,000 lighting system. A huge crowd attended the opening of the league's third nocturnal plant. The Steers pounded three Buff fingers for 17 hits, while "Spec" Meadows held the homelings well in hand until the seventh.

Denny Burns held his former mates, the Fort Worth Cats, to four hits as the Beaumont Exporters opened their stand against the northern clubs with a 7 to 1 victory. Three Pambur with a 7 to 1 rapped. Every Shipper except Holley getting at least one hit. Heinie Schuble, with a homer and single, led the assault.

QUITE RIPPING —AS IT WERE

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., July 23—(AP)—The gallery was on its feet—now cheering; now gasping—as Miss Josephine Dunham, Washington, and Miss Reba Kinson, Baltimore, battled in the West Virginia open tennis tournament here yesterday.

Miss Dunham drove the ball fiercely at Miss Kinson. Reba rapped to take the driving.

R-R-R! Something happened. Reba clutched frantically at her falling skirt. Play stopped and Miss Kinson hurriedly retired to the dressing room.

A few minutes later she reappeared, attired in a pair of men's "shorts" and the game went on.

J. L. Seiber of Miami was in Pampa Tuesday.

BROWNS HAVE LUCK SELDOM EXPERIENCED

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Two teams which got somewhere in the major league pennant race but which aren't doing it, are the St. Louis Browns and the Philadelphia Nationals. Both clubs are having unusual winning streaks for them, with three successive victories each. But such occasions are all too rare for them to make much progress toward the top. It has been over a month since either has won so many games in a succession and there have been only a few such occasions all season.

St. Louis made it a real triumph yesterday by downing the Washington Senators, 3 to 1, for a third straight win. Not only did the victory protect the Brown's record of having beaten the Senators oftener than they have lost to them, a thing no other club has done this year, but it put St. Louis in sixth place a few points ahead of Chicago.

Dick Coffman's pitching turned the trick, although the Browns were again out-hit, 7 to 9. He kept the Senator blows scattered and harmless. The Boston Red Sox pushed Chicago down behind the Browns by joining three hits with a Chicago error to score twice in the ninth inning to win the game, 4 to 3.

The feat of the Phillies in trouncing Pittsburgh, 11 to 5, for a third straight victory was somewhat overshadowed by the return of Brooklyn to first place in the National league standing. But the individual feats of Phil Collins could not be kept in the shade. Collins not only continued his effective pitching but he hit two successive home runs and added a single to bring in four Philly runs.

Brooklyn, with its pitching staff, tried Thurston as a starting moundman in its struggle to get back to the top. The American league cast-off held the St. Louis Cardinals to three hits to win a 1 to 0 decision. The Robins made only five hits off Hallahan and Lindsey but two of them and Frisch's error produced the only run.

The Robins received a lot of assistance from the New York Giants who sent Chicago's Cubs downward by winning the second game of a doubleheader 6 to 1, after the Cubs had won the first 5 to 4. Ethan Allen's homer with loaded bases brought most of the Giant runs in the second game, halted by rain after seven innings in which Bill Walker gave Chicago only six hits. The Cubs piled up 15 blows in their first game, eleven of them and four of their runs coming in the last three innings.

The Philadelphia Indians registered the day's big gain in the American league although they could not advance in the standing as did the Browns. Cleveland took both ends of a twin bill from the New York Yankees, 6 to 5 and 10 to 8. George Figgess failed to break the Indian jinx in the first game after Cleveland had almost tossed the game away by errors. He yielded two runs in the ninth inning and lost. New York made six misplays in the second contest but still it required Earl Averill's eighth inning homer, his second of the game, to give Cleveland the decision. The double victory left the Indians six games behind the Yanks.

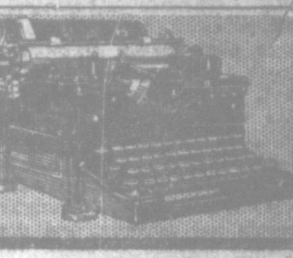

The Philadelphia Athletics lost an opportunity to gain on Washington's second place team when they dropped a 6 to 5 decision to the Detroit Tigers. Although he did not pitch, George Uhle won the game when he cracked out a pinch single in the eighth to drive in two runs.

PAST SUCCESS STORY NO. 7 LAWRENCE TIBBETT

The higher they come, the harder they fall... was Hollywood's greeting to Lawrence Tibbett. Then came "The Rogue Song" and Tibbett landed, in just one jump, among the half dozen leading stars of the screen. A quick triumph for Lawrence Tibbett! Not at all! Nature gave him that glorious voice.

That's why OLD GOLD makes no claims... of factory skill... or secret processes. For Nature alone deserves the credit. The sun, the rain, the fertile soil simply produced better tobacco. That's why OLD GOLDS thrill your taste. That's why OLD GOLDS give you throat-ease.

entrance of the La Salle hotel, July 3. Buckley was said to have seen the shooting from a window of the hotel. Station WMBC is located in the hotel and Buckley lived there. Buckley was 37 years old. He was married and had one child age four years. He was a graduate of St. Mary's College, St. Mary's, Kansas and Detroit College of Law. He practiced law here and was counsel for the Ford Motor company four years.

LANSING, Mich., July 23—(AP)—Oscar G. Olander, state commissioner of public safety, announced he had been instructed by Gov. Fred W. Green to go to Detroit to assist Detroit police in investigating the slaying of Gerald E. "Jerry" Buckley, radio announcer for station WMBC.

Olander said that the governor also had asked Colonel John S. Bersey, adjutant of the Michigan National Guard, to go to Detroit also, indicating that National Guardsmen might be sent to Detroit if the situation there warranted such action.

DETROIT, July 23—(AP)—Mayor Charles Bowles today was placed in the role of first mayor of a major American city to be called from office.

By a majority of 30,956 out of 310,770 votes cast he was called from the office he has held for six months in yesterday's special election after a bitter two-week campaign. The vote was: for recall, 120,863; against recall, 89,907.

As a result, Detroit is on the threshold of another municipal election, its third in little more than nine months. Mayor Bowles, who continues in office until his successor is elected and qualifies, automatically becomes a candidate for re-election. No other candidates have yet announced.

The next election must be held within 30 days after the results of yesterday's balloting have been canvassed and certified. Five days are allowed for those formalities.

provide the right-handed pitching for the Guns. Tank Horton of the Tacks will do the catching.

The other Guns are Spec Roberts, Cox, Joe Marcum, Weathered, and George Sullivan—who will act as field manager, Morgan, Al Williamson, Johnny Munds, Hickey. At the head of the championship team will ride Keith Edelen, youthful and clever manager.

The tournament will last about 15 days and when the Guns return to Pampa they have games scheduled to be played here with two Texas league teams, one of which is Shreveport. Out of the rarest sights in baseball will be staged here Aug. 17, when the Guns will play the "Bloomers" girls baseball team of Wichita, Kans. This team wins plenty of games from semi-pro clubs.

A complete list of those who contributed to send the Guns to Denver will be published tomorrow. larity rule" applied in the selection of a governor, pointing out that he had been a state senator, a member of the house of representatives and lieutenant governor for six years in succession. Sterling spent yesterday in the Rio Grande valley, speaking at Raymondville, Harlingen and Edinburg and going at night to Corpus Christi for an address there. In his Corpus Christi speech, he denied charges he said other candidates had made that he owned oil or sulphur companies and said if he "had one-tenth of the money" they said he had, he would be satisfied. He defended his highway bonding plan, asserted he was a prohibitionist and declared he practiced what he preached. Ferguson flayed the proposed highway bond issue in an address at Corsicana for his wife's candidacy. He said if the bond issue carried, ultimately it would cost $800,000,000.

Invading Houston, home city of Ross Sterling, Senator Clint Small of Wellington declared his travels during the campaign had convinced him the people did not desire to vote upon a state highway bond amendment.

Mayfield championed the cause of the local dealer against chain stores of "foreign" ownership in an address at a watermelon feast at Ennis. He again assailed Sterling, charging he was spending money "lavishly" and predicting such a condition would "close the governor's office to all but the wealthy" if allowed to persist.

Jim Young of Kaufman (nayed Dallas, home city of Thomas B. Love, in an address at the state fair grounds, denouncing Love as "a carpet-bagger Democrat from Missouri" who would lead the Democratic party in Texas "into disintegration."

Mrs. L. C. Scott introduced Thomas B. Love at an old settlers' reunion at Sulphur Springs as "the next governor of Texas."

Love defended his prohibition record and his record during the war and asked the audience to beware of "false charges" on the eve of the election. He promised, if elected, to enforce laws against gambling. Paul Loven of San Antonio, a candidate hitherto more or less non-committal in the campaign, addressed a gathering in Alamo plaza at San Antonio, championing his platform for building roads with convict labor instead of with bonds, for building market plazas in every large agricultural center of Texas, and for increasing the pay of firemen and policemen from gasoline tax money.

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO THE SHERIFF OF ANY COUNTY, TEXAS, GREETING:—

You are hereby commanded that by making publication of this citation in some newspaper, published in Gray County Texas, once each week for four consecutive weeks, previous to the return day hereof, you summon E. S. Kellar, G. W. Groom, A. E. Hagan, M. D. Masten, J. C. Barnett, H. W. Bleam, L. E. Harrington, Bill Richardson, J. S. Belt, L. M. Reynolds, W. W. Edwards, trustee, W. W. Edwards, C. C. Beasley, J. T. McGehee, and I. S. Boyles, and the unknown heirs of each of said named parties, and their heirs or legal representatives, each of whose places of residence is unknown, and W. M. Blake, and O. M. Franklin, said suit being No. 2492 on the docket of said court.

The nature of plaintiffs' demand being as follows to-wit: The plaintiffs allege that on the 30th day of June, 1930, the plaintiffs were seized and possessed of the following described lands and premises, lying and being situated in Gray County Texas, described as follows:

The North half of the Northwest one-fourth and the West half of the Northeast one-fourth of section No. 99, Block B-2, Gray County Texas; and the Northeast one-fourth of Section 100, Block B-2, Gray County Texas; that on said day and date the defendants and each of them unlawfully entered into the possession of said premises, forcibly ejecting the plaintiffs therefrom and that the defendants and each of them unjustly withheld the title and possession thereof from the plaintiffs to the plaintiffs' damage; plaintiffs further allege that heretofore and on June 30th, 1926, certain of the plaintiffs named in the petition executed an oil and gas lease in favor of the defendants, E. S. Kellar and W. M. Blake, and that subsequent to the execution of said lease, the said defendants Kellar and Blake assigned, conveyed or contracted various interests on some portions of the acreage above described, covered by said lease, to the other defendants, the exact nature of the interests acquired being unknown to the plaintiffs, as well as the interest now claimed by said defendants, but that each of the defendants were bound by all of the terms of the original lease; that the original lease provided that if a well was not being drilled or oil or gas being produced on each one-fourth section on June 30, 1927, the lease should terminate unless certain sums of money should be paid to the lessor, or to his credit, in the Bank named in the lease to defer drilling operations, for a period of one year, and that thereafter in like manner drilling operations might be further deferred for like periods successively; that no well was drilled on the acreage above described, or on the quarter section within which same is located, and no oil or gas was produced therefrom, nor were the annual rentals above mentioned paid or tendered in the amounts, in the time, or in the manner provided at the first rental date, or any time thereafter; that by reason of such matters and facts, said oil and gas lease and the estate created thereby has terminated, ended and ceased to exist, not withstanding which the defendants and each of them are asserting some sort of claim of right, title, or interest in and to said lands, constituting a cloud upon plaintiffs' title. Plaintiffs pray for judgment for the lands, and for cancellation of said oil and gas lease, in so far as it covers the land above described, together with a cancellation of each and every assignment of the lease, and that it be adjudged terminated and ended; that all of the rights, and asserted rights of the defendants and each of them be divested from the defendants, and each of them, and vested in plaintiffs, and that cloud be removed from title, and for all other and further relief, legal and equitable, general and special, to which plaintiffs may be entitled.

HEREIN FAIL NOT but have you then and there before said Court, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

WITNESS: Charlie Thut, Clerk of the 31st District Court, Gray County Texas. GIVEN under my hand and seal of said Court, in the town of Pampa, Gray County Texas, on this 15th day of July 1930. 23-30-5-13 CHARLIE THUT

Why pay for "POWER" if most of it is "horsepower"

Is a steep, muddy grade a detour sign to your car? Is power just a promise in the gasoline you use? Switch to Phillips 66 and note the smooth flow of power released by a touch of the throttle. See how alert your car is on get-away—how flashy on pickup. Check your mileage—and credit yourself with economy. The secret of the sterling performance of Phillips 66 is controlled volatility. Every gallon scientifically fitted to seasonal and climatic conditions. A winter gas in winter. A spring gas in spring. A summer gas in summer. A fall gas in fall. ### Largest Crowd of Meeting Hears Upshaw Preach

"The largest crowd and the best night service of the meeting," said Rev. D. H. Truhitte, concerning the Tuesday night service at the high school auditorium.

"Congressman Upshaw was at his best," said Rev. Truhitte, "for he spoke like one inspired on the singleness of purpose of the Christian Life. The words seemed to blaze as they left his mouth and the impression was profound."

This tribute by Pastor Truhitte was indorsed by the large number who crowded around the speaker, to shake hands with him and thank him for his soul stirring message. "This one thing I do," was the text and the speaker showed in striking language and from historical references how life men who have made history in the world have said, "This one thing I do" as they have gone forward with conquering purpose.

"If this has been true concerning earthly things how much more is it true of spiritual things," said the speaker. "We have only one life to live, and since sin is so terrible and righteousness is so beautiful surely we ought to make God first. We ought to say in our own soul, 'Whatever others do, whatever the past has held, whatever the future may hold, this one thing I do. I will make God and His cause come first.'"

The Rev. Tom Brabham, pastor of the Methodist church offered the closing prayer. Rev. Brabham will preach at the services tomorrow morning.

Moore, Glorified Busher, Comes Back at St. Paul

ST. PAUL (AP)—Wiley Moore had one season under the sun and now it looks like he is to have another.

The gangling Oklahman, who early this season was thought due for a return to the sod, proved up with the Saints here as the sensation of the American association.

His work so interested the Brooklyn Robins, battling for one National league pennant, that negotiations were opened to carry "Old Cy" back under the big top.

Moore, the "glorified busher," shuffled on the national baseball scene entirely without advance notice.

Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, had found him apparently winding up his career pitching minor league ball at Greenville, S. C.

But Barrow saw possibilities in a queer "sinker" and Moore went to the Yankees. At the time, Moore was past 30, an age when most league pitchers have passed the peak.

In the 1927 season, "Old Cy" shuffled to the box in 50 games for the Yankees, and that "sinker" was instrumental in winning the pennant for the club.

But the next year, Moore's stuff failed, and he was a failure all season. He couldn't get started in 1929 and finally the Yankees sent him to St. Paul.

Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, had found him apparently winding up his career pitching minor league ball at Greenville, S. C.

But Barrow saw possibilities in a queer "sinker" and Moore went to the Yankees. At the time, Moore was past 30, an age when most league pitchers have passed the peak.

In the 1927 season, "Old Cy" shuffled to the box in 50 games for the Yankees, and that "sinker" was instrumental in winning the pennant for the club.

But the next year, Moore's stuff failed, and he was a failure all season. He couldn't get started in 1929 and finally the Yankees sent him to St. Paul.

TO THE VOTERS OF GRAY COUNTY

As a home boy, worked in Gray County, who reared his way through college, who has studied and practiced every kind of office work, from a one-man office to one with 1,200 employees, from office clerk to accountant, including filing systems, bookkeeping systems, and practically every kind of machine used in an office, who has trained hundreds of office clerks, stenographers and accounts, I ask your earnest consideration for Tax Collector in the Democratic primary next Saturday.

Our tax valuation was three and one half million dollars in 1925. Today it is approximately thirty million dollars. The duties of the Tax Collector's office have increased accordingly. And beginning January 1, 1931, the office will be operated under the schedule for counties of more than ten thousand population instead of the old schedule.

This office demands a man who is honest and dependable; that is capable and competent to do the work efficiently, and one that will do it. Upon my past record I ask that you vote for me on July 26th.

I have tried to see every voter but have missed many of you, still I want every citizen to know that I will appreciate your vote. I want the office, I need it and when elected I will give the best service I can according to my training and ability.

Sincerely yours,
WALTER D. HARDIN.

MOORE, GLORIFIED BUSER, COMES BACK AT ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL (AP)—Wiley Moore had one season under the sun and now it looks like he is to have another.

The gangling Oklahman, who early this season was thought due for a return to the sod, proved up with the Saints here as the sensation of the American association.

His work so interested the Brooklyn Robins, battling for one National league pennant, that negotiations were opened to carry "Old Cy" back under the big top.

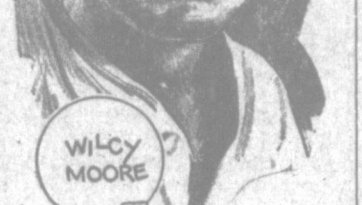

Moore, the "glorified busher," shuffled on the national baseball scene entirely without advance notice.
