

G. O. P. AND DEMOS CLAIM VICTORY

Joe Mitchell Flees From Pampa In Armstrong Merchant's Car

TOLD OFFICER HE WAS GOING TO HUNT LOOT

DISARMING MANNER OF PRISONER FOOLS STEWART

TRIAL DUE WEDNESDAY

ALREADY UNDER PRISON TERMS TOTALING SEVEN YEARS

Joe Mitchell, sentenced here to 2 years in the state penitentiary for burglary, escaped from an Armstrong county deputy here Saturday, taking with him a black Chevrolet coupe belonging to a Claude merchant.

Mitchell was brought here because of his statement that property claimed in Armstrong county would be found at a house in South Pampa. The merchant, W. P. Pope, Deputy C. K. Stewart, and Mitchell arrived about noon yesterday. Mitchell's manner and conversation were disarming, and the prisoner was allowed a few liberties. Result: he absented himself and took the car along besides. He had mentioned that he had hidden certain silverware which he thought he could find. A search for him was immediately started. On Friday he was sentenced to a 5-year term at Claude for burglary, according to Armstrong county officers.

Mitchell was taken from a state prison farm to Claude by Deputy Stewart about two weeks ago. He was sentenced here at the March term of court, convicted of burglary under the S. W. Kretzmeier place. He was to have gone to trial here Wednesday on indictments charging burglaries of the Roy Ritter and Willard McAdams properties last April. A bench warrant for him had been placed in the hands of Sheriff Lon L. Blansett, who was to have gone to Claude for him, probably Tuesday.

If Mitchell is not caught, District Attorney John Sturgeon will probably place J. W. Hawkins, alias Doc Holly, on trial for robbery with firearms, and Arnold Chambless on trial for robbery, both indictments being based on the hijacking of the Dancker refinery. Other trials pending include those of George Johnson for transporting liquor, Lewis Pepper for perjury, and J. H. Deville for driving a car while intoxicated. Civil suits also will be tried during the week in 31st district court.

Candidates For Kiwanis Offices Are Announced

Officers of the Kiwanis club for next year will be elected soon from the following candidates: President, C. E. McGraw and Fred Cullum; vice-president, Max Mahaffey and Lee Waggoner; second vice-president, Jim Collins and Fred Thompson.

The directors will be elected from the following list: O. L. Doak, E. C. Will, Alex Schneider, W. H. Lang, Edwin Vicars, Lewis O. Cox, M. P. Downs, Tom Barnes, C. L. Stine, James Todd, Jr., F. A. Howard, and Rene Shinson.

Former office holders and charter members of the club made short talks about their work in Kiwanis Friday. Frank Hill, who was the second president of the club and a charter member, told of the organization of Kiwanis in Pampa. Judge Newton P. Willis, a former vice-president, told of the growth and activities of the club in this community. Other talks were made by T. F. Smalling, first district trustee, and Rhaeburn Thompson, first and only secretary of the Pampa club.

The program was arranged by Jim Collins. Edwin Vicars gave a report of the district convention held recently. The rapid growth and activities of the Pampa club was pointed out by the main speaker, according to Mr. Vicars. He was accompanied by Frank Hill.

TO SPEAK

Orville Bullington, above, republican gubernatorial candidate, will speak here tomorrow at 9:50 a. m. in the large district courtroom in behalf of his candidacy. His speech, part of his final drive for votes, will last 30 minutes.

RETURNS ARE TO BE SLOWER THAN CUSTOM Kentucky's Count Is To Be Delayed to Nov. 9.

Music will be very welcome when the election returns are arriving at the Pampa Daily NEWS party at the city auditorium Tuesday evening. Sid Merten's TEXANS, a new but very popular organization, will be presented on the stage.

The ASSOCIATED PRESS advises that long ballots will make counting slow this year. Quite a number of states, like Texas, have amendments added to the usual huge ballots for the general election. So don't be impatient if the returns arrive slowly from some states.

Consider also the antics of Father Time, and the slings of legislators. The polls will close in some of the eastern states before the voters on the Pacific coast finish lunch. And they'll still be voting out there after easterners have come to bed.

Flour Mill To Be Rebuilt in About 10 Days

The Pampa Milling company structure which was partly destroyed by fire a week ago will be rebuilt immediately, according to Henry Dunaway, one of the owners. Parts and machinery which were ruined in the blaze when the fuel tank in the engine house exploded, have been ordered. Mr. Dunaway said the mill would be ready for operation in about 10 days. He estimated the fire caused damage of about $5,000. Among the losses were 480 bushels of wheat and about a car-load of flour.

RANCHMAN IS BADLY INJURED

ED WRIGHT'S RECOVERY NOT VERY CERTAIN

BILL HUGHES CHARGED AFTER COLLISION AND FIGHT

HEAVY BLOW IS STRUCK

ARGUMENT ARISES ON TOPIC OF REPAIR PAYMENT

Bill Hughes, employe of an oil company, was charged with assault with intent to kill Ed Wright following an altercation which occurred about 9:30 o'clock last night as the result of an automobile collision on the Borger highway near the Red Barn dance hall.

Hughes was released on $1,000 bond, and the preliminary hearing was set for Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Wright, elderly Gray county ranchman, was struck in the right temple, witnesses said, by Hughes during an argument which began after the accident. Wright's face was mangled by the blow and at Pampa hospital, where he was taken in a Stephenson Mortuary ambulance, it was said that he probably has a skull fracture. He was semi-conscious last midnight.

Mrs. Hughes was slightly injured by the impact. Wright was coming to town and Hughes was leaving. Witnesses said Wright was demanding that Hughes pay for damages to Wright's car, which lost a wheel and was battered, and had threatened Hughes before the blow was struck.

Wright, longtime Gray county resident, has ranch and oil interests.

More Garments Will Be Issued To Needy Here

Approval of requisition for additional undergarments from the national Red Cross has been given, according to John I. Bradley, chairman of the local chapter.

The garments, expected to arrive in about 15 days, will include 18 dozen women's hose, 18 dozen men's hose, 9 dozen children's hose, 3 dozen infants' hose, 2 dozen women's union suits, 14 dozen men's union suits, 5 dozen children's union suits, 1 dozen infants' undershirts, 6 dozen men's trousers, 6 dozen men's overalls, 2 dozen men's jumpers, 2 dozen boys' overalls, 1 dozen play suits.

STRIKE SPREADS

BERLIN, Nov. 5. (AP)—Berlin's transportation tie-up threatened to spread to other parts of Germany tonight when workers of Wuppertal, near Cologne, considered a sympathy strike. They telegraphed Chancellor von Papen that if he did not rescind measures taken against their Berlin colleagues, they would extend the communications tie-up to western Germany.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS IS BIG—AND GROWING

Shown above is the personnel of the Pampa Business Men's Bible class, organized two years ago. Non-denominational, it is conducting a book-by-book study of the Bible. The enrollment is more than 100, attendance averaging 75. Officers are: President, P. O. Anderson; first vice-president Clyde Gold; second vice-president, Roy Sewell; chorister, Bob Rose; pianist, Miss Inez Barrett; teachers, Rev. C. E. Lancaster.

MAJOR SIMPSON IN WARNING OF CREAGER-MELLON PROXY IF BULLINGTON IS ELECTED

All Party Nominees Called on For Support

The democracy of Jefferson, Jackson and Wilson was brought down to date and a stirring demand for support of democratic nominees "from president to constable" was made by Major E. A. Simpson to an enthusiastic audience which nearly filled the district courtroom Friday.

Major Simpson, who supported Ross Sterling in the two primaries, compared politics to a game of baseball where there is only one bat. Ross Sterling, the speaker declared, is trying to "take the bat and go home" because he "struck out" before the people.

Major Simpson said he entered the primaries prepared to "play the game" and that he was keeping his word. Alluding to proxy government, he said he preferred Jim Ferguson to Orville Bullington's R. B. Creager, Herbert Hoover, and Andrew Mellon. It would be nonsense, he asserted, to believe Bullington's statement that no democrat would be unseated by his election.

The speaker charged that Governor Terling was so disgruntled that he had refused to set aside a national democratic day in Texas for a financial drive, even after Governor Albert Ritchie had added a plea to that of Chairman Farley.

Relief Fund Is Now Ready for West Texas Area

STAMFORD, Nov. 5. (AP)—Federal allotments for $369,000, from the R. F. C.'s relief and work relief fund, will be distributed this week to committees representing 101 West Texas counties and towns, it was announced today by the West Texas chamber of commerce.

Todd to Speak at Phillips Monday

The Rev. James Todd, Jr. has been selected to speak at the Phillips community hall south of here Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

His subject will be community welfare. The Phillips (Hopkins 2) community recently completed and dedicated a social center building. Educational gatherings are held twice monthly.

The fund is for relief during November and December. After the first of the year new applications will be made for the winter and early spring months.

The West Texas chamber, in letters to its directors and relief committee chairmen throughout its territory, announced a series of five regional conferences next week at which checks will be distributed and instructions given as to regulations covering handling of the funds and expenditures. The schedule of meetings is:

Wednesday, Nov. 9, at Wichita Falls, Thursday, Amarillo, Friday, Lubbock, Saturday at Amarillo, Midland and at 4 p. m. Abilene. The Wichita Falls, Amarillo and Lubbock conferences are for the forenoon.

The West Texas chamber's letter to directors and relief chairmen, announcing the regional meetings, was as follows:

"Acting in behalf of Governor Sterling and in accordance with his desires, we are calling upon all West Texas relief and work relief committees, and West Texas chamber of commerce directors, to meet at the places in accordance with the schedule.

All American Legion band members and others interested in the band have been requested to attend a business meeting at 8 p. m. Monday at the Legion hut. Re-organization will be discussed.

Mrs. Smith Wins First in Merten Pantry Display

Mrs. J. H. Smith of Merten yesterday was judged first in 4-H pantry achievement of Gray county, having scored 159 out of a possible 175 points.

Mrs. Sam McClellan of McLean and Mrs. M. N. Parker of the Bluebonnet club tied for second place and Mrs. Marvin Daugherty of the Priscilla club took third place. Judging, which was by Miss Bessie Roberts, county demonstration agent of home economics, was done according to the following phases: Filling of canning buckets, the attractiveness and utility of the pantry itself, the gift and menu suggestions, the week's supply shelves, the four seasonal groups of menus, equipment, posters, and story.

On Tuesday all persons wishing to view the pantries and the unusual luncheon at the E. A. Shackleton home will leave the court house at 9:30 o'clock. Lunch will be served in the Smith home, and those wishing to partake are asked to bring cup, spoon, and saucer. The crowd will go first to the Daugherty home, then to the homes of Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. Smith, Parker, and McClellan, disbanding at the McClellan home.

Farris Oden to Direct Annual Roll Call Drive

With a realization of the increased responsibilities of the American Red Cross in the last year and the knowledge that the organization is facing its busiest winter since World war days, local leaders are taking an unusually active part in the approaching membership campaign. According to Red Cross chapter officials here, the annual Roll Call will be conducted between Armistice day and Thanksgiving, November 11-21.

Farris Oden, who will direct the Roll Call this year issued a statement today, emphasizing the importance of the drive.

Victim of Kangaroo Court Finds No Justice

Justice is rare, even in kangaroo court, tearfully declared a "drunk" held in the county jail Friday night.

Arnold "Shorty" Chambless, confessed participant in the Dancker refinery robbery, was the judge of the "court." Shorty fined the new prisoner $5, doubling the customary $2.50. Saturday morning, for a minor infraction, claimed by the victim to have been expectation on the floor, another $5 fine was assessed. A $20 bill, held in the roof of the prisoner's mouth from 1 a. m. was disgorged when suspicions of the "judge" were aroused by the prisoner's refusal to breakfast, to sip coffee. His Honor yanked the victim's mouth open, discovered the bill, had a trusty "break" it.

And on top of that, this so-called justice was accompanied by rough handling. The victim, very sober yesterday, called it "hijacking, assault and battery," the jailer recovered half his fines, couldn't locate the other five-spot.

HARVESTERS LOSE BATTLE TO SOONERS

Five Pampa Boys Injured In 18 to 7 Fight in Oklahoma City.

By STAFF WRITER CAPITOL HILL STADIUM, OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 5.—Home-coming day at Capitol Hill high school was brought to a stirring climax here tonight in an interstate game with the Pampa Harvesters, which Capitol Hill won 18 to 7.

Score by periods: Pampa 0 7 0 0—7 Capitol Hill 0 0 12 6—18. Claude Sullins, Pampa halfback, was under a physician's care after the game. He seemed to have a slight concussion, and was delirious. Fullington and Walker suffered severe ankle injuries.

The game opened with the close play of two powerful lines necessitating a punting duel. In this, Revels of Capitol Hill had the edge, booting away 55-yard spirals with regularity. Kelley and Patton, alert Pampa ends, helped to even the statistics by recovering fumbles. Both Sullins and Turner, Harvester backs, tore off good gains near midfield, but there was no scoring threat in the first quarter. The field was soggy.

Pampa took the lead in the second quarter when Marbaugh passed 20 yards to Kelley on Capitol Hill.

Klines Will Give Sacred Recital at Church Here Today

A sacred recital by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Byrd Kline of Austin will be presented at the First Christian church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Builders class.

The service will consist of dramatic readings and unusual appeal, interspersed with sacred melodies on the piano, accordion, musical saw, and Hawaiian guitar, and vocal selections. Mr. Kline specializes in readings and Mrs. Kline in music, and both will appear in some musical numbers.

The couple filled a number of engagements here last spring. Because of their popularity, they were invited to return. They keep a careful record of each engagement, and

ROOSEVELT IN FINAL SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN

FARLEY CONCEDES NOT A SINGLE STATE TO REPUBLICANS

HOOVER ON TOUR HOME

PRESIDENT LASHES OUT AT DEMOCRATIC METHODS

By EDWARD J. DUFFY, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—Enraged between rival claims, appeals, promises, and warnings, the joy-wearied electorate tomorrow enjoys a day of political truce to weigh it all in deciding whether Hoover and Curtis or Roosevelt and Garner offer the best leadership.

By comparison with past tempestuous weeks, quiet will settle and reflection replace the campaign clamor. The citizenry must give itself over to the responsibility exercised every four years since the republic was founded.

That it intends to record its will on Tuesday with an emphasis surpassing any seen since the start of elections in 1779 has been indicated by the unexpected registration of nearly 47,000,000. On many sides are heard expressions of gladness that it soon will be put behind.

Over the coffee cups in the morning, the voters will be able to examine and discuss the climactic arguments which filled the week—concluding with tonight's speeches by Herbert Hoover in Minnesota and Franklin D. Roosevelt in New York. Only in the homes can there be any telling of the effect.

Monday will see the end of the campaign, with both principals and several prominent lieutenants addressing last-hour exhortations to the nation. If custom is followed, these talks will largely be restricted to "be sure to vote," but this year—judging from what has happened of late—the words "our way" may be tackled on emphatically.

Whatever is said, assertions of confidence doubtless will be plentiful at tonight. Democrats are predicting the record electoral count of 444 won by Mr. Hoover in 1928 will be shattered by their ticket. Republicans wave that aside, insisting that the history-making stamping trips by the president have generated an irresistible trend to him.

In figures, the democratic chairman, James A. Farley, said he looks for a popular majority exceeding 10,000,000 and did not concede a single state.

It takes 266 out of the 531 electoral votes to come out on top. The republican chairman, Everett Sanders, estimated tonight that "President Hoover will be re-elected by a minimum of 338 electoral votes."

Behind Progress
One of the most serious aspects of modern law is the disputable fact that the statutes are interwoven with business practices which affect commercial stability. Keeping the law abreast of the complex business progress of recent years appears a terrific task. The law is behind the march of business, and such efforts as are being made to govern business by law are confusing and highly costly.

No better example of the question is needed than that of handling the East Texas oil field. There is no legitimate legal excuse for the use of the National Guard in that field. The military rule would not be necessary were the law broad enough to protect landowners, royalty owners, and large and small producers equitably. In the absence of adequate civil law, martial law has been invoked. This practice is for emergency purposes, and is untenable as a permanent remedy. It is too subject to abuses and too much resembles a dictatorship.

Ultimately, government control of business must be either loosened or tightened to embrace socialism. The trend is toward more and more regulation. There will be a back-lash, with the chief aim the protection of fundamental rights without so much effect on competition. It is inevitable, of course, that the best play be derived by trial and error. The Texas supreme court is much perplexed, and quite excusably so, by the conflicting claims of prorationists and anti-prorationists, and all the hybrid arguments which are made in behalf of one or the other. The supreme court must consider not merely the oil industry, but what precedents would be set and what predicates laid for similar regulation of other industries.

Special sessions to make laws for particular industries are justifiable only when those industries are of huge size and importance, such as the oil business. And even then, two sessions in one biennium are too many. It is to be expected that the legislature, in its second oil session, will provide the right legal remedy and retire. Most of the members, unfortunately, do not know enough about the industry to pose as physicians for the ill.

The present conservation statutes were enacted in July of 1931. The error of the statute was in limiting the railroad commission to physical waste. The federal courts do enough limiting at best. The first emergency grew out of flush production in the pool, with oil dropping to as low as 5 cents a barrel and costing the state and landowners millions of dollars.

The East Texas goliath of the industry has been under martial law (Governor Sterling) since August of 1931. Only nominal control was exercised in recent months, although an increase in personnel was necessary this year because of oil thefts and avoidance of the payment of state taxes. The latest developments were precipitated by the federal court opinion holding present commission orders invalid. The decision pointed out deficiencies in the present statutes, with amendments likely to take the form of the legal arrangements upheld in the Oklahoma fields.

Fine Example

The Welfare Board campaign, organized and largely finished in a week, was easier to put over than many imagined. Hard work and the sacrifices of 40 workers made success possible.

The funds already pledged total $3,300. The goal of $3,500 will be reached when all the oil companies are contacted by mail to their head offices. It is a fine performance, illustrative of the fine spirit of the people of this community. To use the money to the good of the greatest number—that is the greater problem.

Neighborliness

When your mothers' mothers were young and active, the responsibility of neighbors was great and well-established. Eggs, recipes, home remedies were exchanged over the back fences. At hog killing time, the ribs, back bone, and liver were distributed to neighbors. There was a community of interest which led people to divide their blessings and share their joys and sorrows. "Setting up" with sick neighbors was not always wise, but no one lacked attention.

Today this responsibility as neighbors has declined in potency. The poor suffer in the midst of plenty. Only through organized welfare associations is abject suffering prevented. Either method is acceptable if it works. The main thing is to remember our responsibilities and to shoulder them by the methods most favored.

Civic Clubs

Members of civic clubs do good and benefit themselves at the same time. There are good clubs, mediocre clubs, and clubs which are merely mutual admiration societies. Pampa is fortunate in having three men's clubs which are exemplary in their activities, and a women's club B&PW which ranks with the best.

Julien Hyer of Fort Worth, past president of Lions International, expressed the meeting of civic club work to members in the following classic:

"Lionism to me has been a religion. It has been statesmanship without the tarnish of politics. It has been an army with its fascination and yet without the woe and destruction that follows an army. It has the grandeur of glory without its defeats and disappointments. It has pomp and splendor without vanity. It has education without its snobbishness and its air of superiority. It is

NEW YORK—The final passing of vaudeville from the Palace leaves no heaven for vaudevillians on this earth.

Maybe in time they will find reason to think of the new music hall in Rockefeller center as a sort of second heaven, but it can never be a second Palace.

For 19 years, to play the Palace was the dream of every tank town troupier. It was the crowning experience of a vaudevillian's life—sufficient compensation for all the heartbreaks of show business.

The Palace was opened March 24, 1913, by Martin Beck. He saw the house become a flourishing institution, then retired from vaudeville for 10 years.

Last spring feature pictures were wedged into the Palace program, but an interlude of variety was retained. Since then there have been occasional hints that the former policy of two "vaude" bills a day, with reserved seats, might be restored.

But finances, not sentiment, govern in the show world. The Palace, with living actors on the stage, has been running "in the red" too long—so say the generalists of big time vaudeville.

The heaviest blow to the Palace came when the huge Broadway movie houses, a couple of years ago, began offering incidental stage shows with more big "flesh" attractions than the smaller Palace seemed able to muster for its principal form of entertainment.

Big vaudeville names have been demanding $5,000, $8,000 and such figures for a week at the Palace. There are only 1,735 seats in the house, and the management says it couldn't meet the commenting bills of the theaters where popular prices prevailed.

The Rockefeller city music hall will accommodate 6,000 persons.

Bulls Die Promptly

Benito Collada, the Greenwich Village restaurateur, grew a bit restless awaiting the arrival of a prominent visitor from Spain. He plumped himself down at a table with some up-towners.

"It's always this way in Spain," he complained. "People late. Nothing happens on time over there except the bullfights. They start right on the dot, at 4 o'clock in Valencia, 4:30 in Madrid and 5 in Seville. The people are never late for the fights."

Collada was off on the subject of bullfights, and when he gets off there's no stopping him.

During the summer, when Collada was in Spain, he took his motion picture camera to the ring and filmed some fights. He'll screen the picture for you with practically no encouragement.

In a little while the expected visitor arrived. Collada went to greet him, and came back to tell the up-towners: "He says he was late because some people kept him at his hotel, talking about bullfights."

Statistics and Such

One of those end to end things: If all the wire used in the George Washington bridge were stretched out that way, it would wrap around the earth more than four times.

The Empire State building's mail chutes have brakes at the sixty-fifth and thirty-eighth floors, to keep the letters from reaching a burning heat in their downward plunge.

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—The decision of the supreme court upholding the validity of Mississippi's redistricting law was significant to Washington observers principally because of the bearing it will have on the future organization of the powerful ways and means committee of the house.

The present chairman, James W. Collier of Mississippi, was one of those vitally affected by the court's decision. Collier, a veteran of 24 years' service in the house, refused to participate in the state primary in which the congressional nominees were chosen on the ground that the redistricting act was unconstitutional.

According to the supreme court's decision he is now "out" as a democratic nominee. He was deprived of the chance of running at large, and his only chance of holding on to his seat was to file as an independent candidate, which he refused to do.

Doughton In Line

In Collier's failure to return to the house, the chances are that the next chairman of ways and means committee—one of the most influential jobs in the house—will come from way down the line.

Crisp of Georgia, the acting chairman during most of the present congress due to Collier's ill health, would certainly have gotten the post had he not been defeated a few weeks ago in his attempt to enter the senate. Now he is out, having accepted a job as a member of the tariff commission.

The next man to Crisp in rank is Rainey of Illinois. There's little likelihood of his becoming chairman, however. Already he is his party's floor leader and would hardly relinquish that job under any circumstances.

There remains then Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina, the tall, wide-shouldered representative who sprang into such prominence this past session as one of the leaders of the coalition that defeated the sales tax.

Helped Beat Tax Bill

Doughton, who has represented the eighth district of North Carolina for some 22 years in the house, was the only member of the ways and means committee who refused to sign the report recommending the sales tax to the house last session when such desperate attempts were being made to "balance the budget."

He not only refused to go along with his committee members, but with the fiery and irrepresible progressive republican, LaGuardia of New York, led the offensive that sent the bill down to defeat.

Calvin Coolidge denies he is to become president of New York University. Cal did pretty well, though, in his contacts with at least one big-time institution—the electoral college.

Lovely Adella Ryonne poses on a mirror-topped table, out go the lights, the flashlights of the concealed photographer boom, and Sam Pullin is discovered a few minutes later under the table—dead!

Enter District Attorney Brent and Gail McGurk, Mr. Marfield's popular newspaper-woman sleuth, to discover the culprit and solve the crime. This thriller of New York night life is the best of Mr. Marfield's "big-city" mysteries.

"A HALF-DAY'S RIDE"

Published by Macmillan Co.

In the first essay of "A Half Day's Ride," Padraic Colum tells of Charles Lever's hero, Algonon Sidney Potts, who, leaving the commonplace behind, rides out to view the world. Like Potts, Mr. Colum has visited his own "estates in Corsica."

His experiences range from the Paris Opera—men in uniform, ladies elegant—to an observation of marriages in the City Hall, Manhattan. He watches a Punch and Judy show with London children; listens to a Persian tell the legend of the fountains of Gog which are twenty-seven miles apart; considers the Angkor Wat, meditates on cakes sautrees for sale in the Luxembourg gardens, and shrove Tuesday pancakes.

"It is not always easy to make up a story," says the Merchant's Son in one of the essays, for it must be "destructive enough to please the Queen and jocular enough to make the King laugh." This book would entirely satisfy the Merchant's Son, as it will those who have enjoyed Mr. Colum's travel tales, poetry, drama, and legends.

With both affection and satire, John Galsworthy describes the affects of the world's present writer in the surviving English aristocracy in his new novel, "Flowering Wilderness," which the Scribners will publish on Nov. 11. In it Mr. Galsworthy tells the love story of Dinny Cherrill, who considered the world well lost for love. Many of the characters first encountered in "Maid in Waiting" appear in this new novel.

Also on the same day the Scribners will publish the new Mark Sullivan volume of almost contemporary history, replete with 250 priceless illustrations and covering the years from 1909 to 1914—"Our Times 1909-1914." In it Mark Sullivan has depicted the America that was torn in two by the split between Taft and Roosevelt; that listened to Elbert Hubbard and "Billy" Sunday, saw Halley's comet, laughed at Mrs. Pankhurst, told Ford jokes and danced the "two-step," the "grizzly bear" and the "bunny hug." Here are the Americans who were so profusely "fused" when the Titanic sank; and who were also shocked when Jack Johnson defeated Jim Jeffries, when Upton Sinclair's "The Brass Check" and Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River Anthology" appeared; who went to see Lillian Russell, Hazel Dawn and Pearl White; who saw the rise of advertising, mass production and Taylorism; to whom cubism was a European folly and "Uncle Joe" Cannon a kind of cigar-smoking Abraham Lincoln.

"I have read eighty years of newspapers; and for some years, I have had to cover half a dozen newspapers of conflicting opinions," writes Carlton Beals to illustrate the enormity of the task he set himself; the writing of the first definitive biography of "Porfirio Diaz: Dictator of Mexico," which Lippincott will issue in November.

The sales of Carolyn Wells' Fleming Stone Mystery Stories will pass the half million mark any day now. "Fuller's Earth" is her latest, just published by Lippincott.

"THE WIFE OF ROSSETTI"

Published by Dutton and Co.

This book has been reviewed before, but because of its value along lines of anecdote, comment, impression, etc., this book has become quite popular. The author has recreated the atmosphere and daily life of the most notorious, if not most noted English painters of the mid-Victorian reign.

"THE WIFE OF ROSSETTI" is a mine of information about the group of painters who surrounded Rossetti. Miss Violet Hunt is uniquely qualified to write this book as she was born into the Rossetti circle. . . . She is soaked with her lic and, in the story of the fight in which Sitting Bull was killed, he has gathered from nearly a score of those who took part in it on both sides.

The Key to Leisure . . .

Some women always seem to have time for everything. Capable wives and mothers, who do their own housework and bring up their children, have leisure for many interests outside of their home. Other women wonder how they manage. The secret is simple.

Electric service—that's the key to leisure. Up stairs and down, electricity speeds up and takes the drudgery out of housework. Moreover, it does each task better than it could be done in any other way.

Best of all, the electrical way is the economical way. The cost of operating electrical appliances is low. Electrical appliances are now available at prices lower than ever before.

Blanton Quits Ferguson Rally Inirate Mood

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 5 (AP)—"And now ladies and gentlemen, it is my privilege to introduce the speaker of the evening, the Honorable Thomas L. Blanton, congressman from Abilene, Texas, who will address you."

Thus spoke Clyde Vinson, San Angelo Ferguson leader, who not only had presided as a "vote the ticket" meeting at the courthouse, but had addressed the meeting for about thirty minutes.

A titter went up through the audience. Mr. Vinson looked about for the fiery congressman from the Clear Forks of the Brazos only to find that he had vacated his seat in front of the jury box in the district court room.

Blanton had left the meeting in a huff five minutes before Vinson got through his introduction, which Blanton considered a bit too lengthy. Ferguson supporters in the audience had followed Blanton into the hall and begged him to stay and speak "just one minute."

But Blanton had his hat and overcoat on, his speech in his pocket and his mind made up. The meeting was over.

The rival election forecasts are about as varied and confusing as ever in 1932, but they do have one distinctive note.

The tenor of the democratic estimates is that democratic victory in the presidential campaign became a foregone conclusion long ago, while the republican outgivings take the general position that although the fight has been a hard one, the tide now has turned decisively toward the republican ticket.

Neither of these two schools of survey and prophecy follows the orthodox habits of previous years. The country has been accustomed to hear pre-election claims based on identical suppositions on both sides, and expressed in identical language. Almost without variation the burden of these claims has been: "We started strong, and since then have completely taken the country by storm."

Now neither party is saying exactly that. Both claim victory but in entirely different routes, and in entirely different words.

Thus up to the last, 1932 continues to write its own precedents.

How They View It

Jouett Spouse recently went so far as to say that the defeat of President Hoover was decided on by the American people more than a year ago; that nothing said or done since has changed the net situation so far as the net result is concerned.

Alfred E. Smith, six weeks before the election, declared there no longer was any doubt about the outcome. Governor Roosevelt, returning from his last extended campaign trip, told the workers in New York democratic headquarters that the mass of the voters had determined to turn to the democrats "many weeks ago."

On the republican side, Chairman Sanders and his lieutenants have been saying almost daily that conditions in the pivotal states were "improving." After the Maine election they did not conceal their conviction that strong medicine was needed if the republican cause was to win out, and they changed their whole method of campaign to that end.

By common consent, therefore, the debate over the outcome would seem to have simmered down to just this: Have the republicans been able, during the final weeks of the campaign, to reverse the forces which were operating against them during the preceding months?

Spectacular Campaign

It is not within the province of this writer to forecast the answer but it can be said at least that the situation has produced a far more spectacular campaign finish than anyone foresaw.

No one will deny that the republicans have tripped. Instead of making three campaign speeches, as he had planned, President Hoover has delivered scores. Instead of disregarding his democratic opponent as he did four years ago, he has indulged in direct quotation and answer. Win or lose, the republican windup will remain in future years one of the memorable features of the campaign.

Whether all this effort could possibly have any decisive effect depends on who is right about the underlying conditions of this campaign.

Which Theory Is Right

If the democratic theory is correct, and a preponderance of anti-Hoover sentiment became "frozen" long ago, then of course the final whirl of republican activity has come too late. If the republican theory is correct, and those voters who hold the balance of power merely have been hesitating, the story may be different.

The reader can judge for himself—and then see on the night of Nov. 8 how nearly right he was.

40 HORSES ENTERED

FORT WORTH, Nov. 5 (AP)—Approximately 40 thoroughbreds have been entered in the seven races to be staged during the one-day meet at Arlington Downs Saturday, the offices of W. T. Waggoner and Sons, owners of the race plant, reported.

There were eight entries for the "Frost Breeder's Futurity," the third running of which will feature Saturday's meet. The futurity carries a purse of $2,000 to be distributed between the first three finishers. The other six races have purses of $200 each.

Republican In Defense of Oil Men at Borger

By HARRY MONTGOMERY

Associated Press Staff Writer

BORGER, Nov. 5 (AP)—A campaign against "fear and intimidation" which he charged is being instilled in the minds of the citizens of West Texas "because of their refusal to support the Ferguson" was waged across the north Panhandle today by Orville Bullington, republican nominee for governor.

"Don't let them intimidate you and make you believe that you must vote for them or suffer the consequences by being discriminated against by your state government," Bullington said. "I'm going to be the next governor of Texas and you have nothing to fear."

Bullington's addresses today were made in a territory that was against the democratic nominee, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, in both primaries. He received assurances of friends and supporters at every stop that he would receive a majority vote in most Panhandle counties. As Bullington climbed into a truck to speak on Borger's main street, someone in the crowd shouted "hurrah for Ma," a cry frequently heard by Mrs. Ferguson's democratic opponents but so new to Bullington that it was a novelty.

"I'm fine, mister, how are you?" Bullington replied with a smile, then launched into one of the most spirited short addresses of his campaign without further interruption.

"I want to talk to you people about the oil situation," he began. "Jim Ferguson tried to tell the people of Dallas last night that I am an enemy of the independent operator. Most of you people probably know that my associates and I drilled the second well brought in in the Panhandle field. I still own my interest in it. All I have come from my operations as an independent operator, but I will not be able to hold on much longer if the Ferguson get into the governor's office."

"Ferguson would have you believe that I am trying to ruin myself. Wouldn't I be smart to ruin the independent man when I am one of them?"

Norris Assails Hoover's Record On Power Trust

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP)—Senator George W. Norris, Nebraska republican independent, renewed his attack on the "power trust" in an address here tonight in behalf of the presidential candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The veteran Nebraskan commented in a prepared address that he did not agree "100 per cent" with Roosevelt's position on the public utility question, but the democratic nominee "comes so much nearer to standing for the rights of the people against the monopolies" than President Hoover that there is no comparison.

He said Roosevelt's appointments as governor of New York indicated he would "approach this problem with a sympathetic idea; with sympathy for the toiling masses."

Senator Norris declared: "For four years we have had a man in the White House who has been friendly to the trust. The trust supported him from the first. They have circulated his speeches as part of their propaganda. They worked for his election four years ago and did everything they could, resorted to every fair and unfair means, and they are working for him now."

The senator declared that during the 1928 campaign, Mr. Hoover "violently made a promise he would favor retention of Muscle Shoals and its operation by the government."

"But, when such a bill reached the," the senator added, "he vetoed it."

The New Contract Code

ANALYZED BY AN EXPERT

Lieut. Alfred M. Gruenther. (EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of three articles on the new contract bridge rules by Lieut. Alfred M. Gruenther, U. S. A., to whom the nation's experts turn as referee of their important tournaments. He officiated at the Lenz-Culbertson match. Especially important to the player will be his analysis of penalties for infringement of the laws. He will compare in detail the new and old penalties, the reasons therefor, as well as the philosophy of the scoring change.)

LIEUT. ALFRED M. GRUENTHER

By Lieut. Alfred M. Gruenther, U. S. A.

(Written for the Associated Press)

The new International Contract Bridge Code which became effective in the United States, France and England Nov. 1 should be enthusiastically received. It is a definite step forward.

Penalties for infringement of the laws have, in general, been considerably ameliorated. Following is an analysis of new and old rules:

EXAMINING A QUITTED TRICK

NEW LAW—A trick may not be examined after it has "once been" quit, except to settle a dispute involving ownership of trick. Penalties for infringement of this law may call a lead when it is the turn of the offending side to lead.

OLD LAW—Any player could examine a trick until he or his partner had played to the next succeeding trick. There was no penalty for infringement of this law.

COMMENT—It always has been annoying to have a player look at a trick. There is no good reason why a player cannot remember cards as they are played.

THE REVOKES

NEW LAW—(a) A player "revokes" when he fails to follow suit when able to do so. However, revoke penalty is not assessed until "the revoke becomes established." The revoke is established as soon as the offer of his partner leads or plays to the next trick.

(b) Penalty for established revoke is two tricks for first revoke and one trick for each succeeding revoke. Tricks shall be transferred to the non-revoking side and scored as if that side had actually won the tricks in play.

(c) If no tricks are taken by revoking side after revoke has been committed there shall be no penalty.

OLD LAW—If a player holds a card of a suit led and fails to play it when playing to the twelfth trick, that error must be corrected as soon as it is discovered. In no case will the penalty for an established revoke be assessed.

OLD LAW—The penalty of two tricks for first revoke and 100 points for each succeeding revoke was prescribed under the 1926 code of laws. Furthermore, there was no consideration given to the question as to when revoke actually took place.

COMMENT—It always has been considered unfair to collect tricks on a revoke penalty when revoke could have no possible effect on the play. The term "renounce" (failure to follow suit when able to do so) has been abandoned. Now instead of a penalty for a "revoke" and another for a "renounce," there is one penalty for "an established revoke," and a different for a "revoke."

CORRECTED REVOKES

NEW LAW—If an opponent of Declarer revokes and his attention is called to the irregularity before revoke becomes established, Declarer is permitted:

- To treat the card played in error as an exposed card, or
- To require the offending player to play the highest or lowest card of the suit in which he failed to follow.

OLD LAW—Penalty under old law was the same. It was known as penalty for a renounce.

INSUFFICIENT BID

NEW LAW—If a player makes an insufficient bid and attention is directed to the error by either adversary or by partner, the bid must be made sufficient, though there is no requirement that it be made sufficient in the same suit. Thus, a player who makes an insufficient bid of two clubs over two spades may change his bid to three no trump if attention has been called to the insufficiency. The partner of the insufficient bidder is then barred from bidding when next it is his turn to declare. Thereafter the partner may reenter the auction.

OLD LAW—The old penalty barred the partner of the insufficient bidder from any further bidding on that deal.

COMMENT—The penalty imposed by the former law was to severe.

REVIEW OF THE BIDDING

NEW LAW—During auction any player may ask for review of bidding when it is his turn to declare. After auction is completed, and before first lead is made, any player may ask for complete review of bidding. After opening lead has been made any player may demand to know final bid and review of bidding may not be requested.

OLD LAW—No review of bidding was permitted after last player had passed.

COMMENT—The vast majority of bridge players have always permitted review of bidding until opening lead was made.

(Tomorrow: Lieut. Gruenther will discuss remaining changes in penalties for infringement of the laws.)

Insull Appears Broken When He Stands in Court

ATHENS, Nov. 5 (AP)—Samuel Insull, a tired old man whose hands trembled, stood in the court of appeals today while a judge told him that he would have to remain under arrest pending extradition proceedings to take him back to America.

He is under indictment in Chicago for embezzlement and larceny in connection with the collapse of the Middle West Utilities company, part of the vast holdings which once were his.

For several weeks he has escaped return to the United States. He left France for Italy and Italy for Greece each time just ahead of an order for his arrest. For a while he was safe here, but this week an extradition treaty between Greece and the United States finally went into effect. He was arrested at his hotel yesterday.

The legal point in today's proceedings was to determine whether the new treaty is retroactive. The court held that it is, and the ruling means that the financier will be detained while the extradition proceedings continue.

Cristos Ladas, his Greek attorney, did what he could to effect his client's release. He contended that the treaty was not retroactive, that proof of the charges against Mr. Insull never had been submitted (that a warrant for his arrest was illegal and without such proof, and that furthermore he was ready to submit documentary evidence of his client's innocence.

All during the argument, Mr. Insull sat beside his lawyer, following the proceedings closely but not uttering a word of what was said. For it was all in Greek.

"The Cook county authorities do not consider it particularly important to collect evidence against Mr. Insull," said the attorney, "they only want his arrest before Nov. 3. They are running for office and that is election day."

He declared that Mr. Insull had missed none of the developments in his case, that he knew the extradition treaty had been ratified, that his arrest was imminent, that officers had left the United States to bring him back, but despite all this he made no effort to leave Greece.

The attorney general, who appeared for the state, objected vigorously to the defense counsel's "entirely unnecessary criticism of the American authorities." He ridiculed the implication that political motives actuated the proceedings against the defendant.

Government Trapper Has Fine Luck Snaring Destructive County Coyotes

McLEAN, Nov. 5.—Ten days of trapping has netted Tom Fowler, government trapper, 16 coyotes caught from five ranches on McClellan creek north of McLean.

Fowler was sent to Gray county from Colingsworth county by the U. S. biological survey temporarily, at the urgent request of Gray county farmers and ranchers who were having heavy losses of poultry, pending the action of the Gray county commissioners will take a petition citizens will bring before the court at the next regular session. The petition will ask the court to appropriate the sum of $40 per month to supplement the $60 per month of the government to keep the trapper in Gray county until the coyotes have been exterminated. The pelts taken by the trapper are turned over to the government to be sold.

Some of the $50 to $200 worth of poultry have been reported by ranchmen in the northern part of the county, as large as 90 pounds have been reported killed by coyotes. Conservative farmers have estimated the losses of poultry for the county to run into the thousands of dollars.

Contrary to the general belief, no poison baits are used by the trapper. Very few dogs are caught according to Mr. Fowler, and due to the fact that traps are attended daily, serious injury is rare for dogs that are caught. No dogs have yet been caught in Gray county. An interesting feature of the work is that fur-bearing animals usually are an early riser unable to sleep.

"Tapping him on the shoulder, the youth inquired, "Say, where are all the football players?"

To which "Catfish" Smith made the immortal reply, "Out on the coast, son, out on the coast."

YOUTH KILLED

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 5 (AP)—Ellis White, 22, died here today from injuries received when the car in which he and Robert Bruce were returning last night from a duck hunt collided head-on with a team pulling a cotton wagon. White's skull was crushed and his shoulder broken. Bruce, who was driving, received a broken arm. White was associated with his father, C. E. White, in the seed business here.

'FRIEND OF OIL MAN'

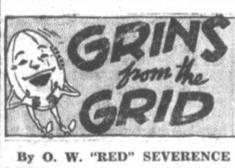

GLADEWATER, Nov. 5 (AP)—Speaking in the heart of the East Texas oil field, Orville Bullington, republican candidate for governor, told an audience on a business street today that he was a "sincere friend of the independent oilman."

In the first two games of the 1932 season Coach "Hunk" Anderson at Notre Dame employed 21 backfield men.

such as skunks, opossums, coons, etc., are turned loose when trapped.

If the work is continued in the county, the trapper will be under the supervision of some man who will direct him to places where there is the greatest need.

Having played John Aiden long enough in relating the favorite football stories of America's leading coaches, I've decided to end the series by "speaking for myself."

For keen humor and incomparable wit in time of deepest gloom my personal nomination for "All-Time Wise-Cracker" goes to Vernon "Catfish" Smith, 1922 All-America end of the Georgia Bulldogs.

The Georgia team, which opened the season brilliantly by trouncing Yale for the third straight year, now was returning from California after its disastrous game with the University of Southern California. Broken in body and spirit from the 60-0 drubbing, members of the team were sleeping soundly as their cross-continental train roared eastward during the early morning hours.

Passing through a tiny town, the train stopped for water and an enthusiastic football fan of fifteen boarded the car for a quick look at the thrice-conquerors of Yale.

Scurrying through the train, the youth was bitterly disappointed upon finding nothing but row upon row of green curtains.

Finally he spotted the observation car and spied a lone figure standing on the rear platform, evidently an early riser unable to sleep.

"Tapping him on the shoulder, the youth inquired, "Say, where are all the football players?"

To which "Catfish" Smith made the immortal reply, "Out on the coast, son, out on the coast."

HEAD OF MUSIC IN CLUB WORK STATES PLANS

TEXAS COMPOSER WILL BE FAVORED IN CONTEST

"To get acquainted with Texas artists by using their compositions on every program possible is one of the outstanding objectives of the division of music of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Music Clubs," according to Mrs. A. H. Doucette of Pampa, district chairman of music.

"In our choral contest to be held at Hereford in April during the district convention, we shall use a Texas composer. The committee has chosen 'How Do My Springtime' by David Gulon.

"The chorus is in three-parts composed of six or more-voices. It need not be federated as an organization, but it should be composed of women from clubs that are federated. Each chorus will sing two numbers. The contest number, which must be memorized, and a second selection, that of a Texas composer, to be selected by the contestants. The winning chorus will receive a silver loving cup to be kept for six months, the chorus getting second place will keep the cup for three months, and the hostess city will keep it the last three months. The following is the basis for decision of judges: Tone quality, interpretation, diction, general unity of ensemble, musical worth of composition.

"In the interest of getting acquainted with our Texas composers we hope to have a representative chorus from each city in the district. Those wishing to enter the contest may make applications to me."

Mrs. Doucette stated that Pampa, who has kept the silver loving cup for winning first place in the last district choral contest for six months, has sent the cup to Miami, winner of second place. Miami will keep it three months and send it to Canadian, where it will remain until the next district meeting.

Books Will Be Displayed Here November 10-25

One hundred five parents registered at the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association meeting Thursday afternoon, and a prize was given to Mrs. C. W. Stowell's room for having the largest number of mothers, 20, present.

The major project of this school year, which is to get an adequate supply of books for each room's library, was stressed during the program. Principal A. L. Patrick spoke briefly on the book program for the year, explaining the method to be used in selecting books from the large exhibit to be displayed Nov. 10-25.

A Parent-Teacher song was led by Mrs. Sam Irwin, after which Mrs. Stowell's room presented a puppet show, "Raggybug," by Mrs. Meskimen, Jr., told the story.

Jack Hessey played two piano solos, "Nearer My God to Thee and Golden Slippers.

Supt. R. B. Fisher, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fisher, sang "A Voice in the Old Village Choir."

Mrs. V. E. Fatheree conducted a beautiful ceremony celebrating the 23rd birthday of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. After giving a short history of the organization, four candles were lighted, one by Mrs. Fatheree for the state organization, one by Mrs. Stowell for Mrs. G. C. Malone, first president of the local unit, one by A. L. Patrick for the school, and one by Mrs. C. P. Buckler as present president of the association. A birthday cake was cut and served by Mesdames Louis Clark and Mrs. G. Myers, members of the hospital committee, and a birthday offering was taken.

Library Pay Shelf Proving Popular

Popularity of the pay shelf of latest novels is shown by the records of the Pampa public library.

Most of the books have been checked out all week. Often those who took a book at 5 cents a day returned it next day. In this way they read a $2.50 novel for the small sum of 5 cents.

The rental fees are kept in a separate account and used to buy additional books. When a rent book has paid for itself, it is placed on the 7-day free shelf. Only the current books which are high in price are placed on the rent shelf.

Many Cultural Activities Are Noted in Pampa

Many recent evidences of culture have been noted in Pampa, as are shown by numerous references on this page to literature, music, art, and education. On Monday will be another type of worthwhile enterprise will be presented—the suggestions which were presented before the Pampa Garden club recently on planting and caring for bulbs.

Where beauty is, happiness will surely dwell. Pampa is becoming a spot of beauty, achieved by work of talented individuals.

BAPTISTS HAVE FEAST FOR BIG GROUP FRIDAY

HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE YOUNG PEOPLE JOIN IN FESTIVITY

An early Thanksgiving dinner, served in the dining room of the First Baptist church with a Mayflower theme dominant in appropriate decorations, was enjoyed Friday evening by the young people's department of the church.

About 125 persons participated in the occasion, including the members of the six classes of the department. R. E. Gatlin, superintendent of the young people's division of the church, was the toastmaster. Turkey and "all the trimmings" were served.

As the young people gathered, Dr. C. H. Schulky, fellowship chairman, "mixed" the group in a genial manner. Miss Florence Bolar was in charge of decorations, Mrs. R. L. Edmondson of invitations, and Mrs. T. F. Morton of the program. Mrs. F. E. Leach, who arranged the menu, was out of the city.

The department's new orchestra played as the big group was seated. An early program number was a vocal duet, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning," by Miss Dorothy Dodd and Miss Doris Price, with only the candles burning. Mrs. R. E. Gatlin sang vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Morton. Miss Clotilde McCallister gave amusing readings. Dick and Jack Benton sang duets, with Jack playing the guitar accompaniment.

The Rev. Douglas Carver of White Deer, the principal speaker, gave a happy, eloquent address on "ships"—friendship, scholarship, partnership, discipleship. In his talk he quoted much poetry, all bearing on the theme that the church needs the best talent the young people can provide.

Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor, praised the teachers and officers of the department in a brief talk at the conclusion.

Significance of Public Schools' Music Discussed

Miss Loma Groom Thursday afternoon addressed about ninety-five members of Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association on the value of teaching music in the public schools.

"Education," said Miss Groom, "is achievement of a life of rich significance. A child today is taught to know, to do, to feel. Music accomplishes the last aim. It is healthful in that it teaches the child to stand and breathe correctly. It creates joy. It is instrumental in producing a good citizen and from it comes a first lesson in patriotism. It is valuable as a profession, teaches self control, is the best insurance against moral bankruptcy."

The program, led by Mrs. Roy Blasingame, was opened with four numbers by the glee club, and Mrs. T. F. Morton favored the group by reading "The Message."

A rising vote of thanks was given Mr. Myers for the coffee he furnished for the Halloween party.

A quilt was given by Mrs. Neal Cross and a blanket by Mrs. C. C. Matheny to be used in case of illness in the school.

The group decided to frame a picture of George Washington and to join other local groups in Red Cross sewing.

AN OLD-FASHIONED MODERN

Mrs. John N. Garner, wife of the vice-presidential nominee, believes a woman should help her husband along the path to success and she has followed out that policy. She is shown at left as she appeared soon after Mrs. Garner entered congress 30 years ago. At right she is shown as she appeared in 1905; below in 1910, and above she appears today.

UVALDE, Nov. 5. (AP)—Picture an old-fashioned woman doing strictly modern work, and there you have Mrs. John Nance Garner, wife of the vice-presidential nominee.

Mrs. Garner herself insists she is old-fashioned, but as aid to her husband she displays the modern woman's executive ability in office matters.

When the vice-president nominee held office in his younger days in Texas, Mrs. Garner became his secretary and she continues to assist him and handle his correspondence which has become voluminous the last year.

There was a time, however, when Mrs. Garner didn't think so much of John Nance Garner. But that was before they were married. Mrs. Garner, then Marietta Rheiner, lived down the river in New Valley county, Texas. She didn't know Garner personally, but she had heard a good deal about his propensity for card-playing as well as about his determination in getting things he wanted.

Garner sought to be a judge. Miss Rheiner opposed the appointment, and worked diligently to stop it. Her efforts were in vain, however, because he was appointed.

When Mr. Garner went to congress, Mrs. Garner says she might have given up her secretarial work but she found herself so completely interwoven with her husband's political affairs that it was difficult to quit.

Mrs. Garner says she feels it is the wife's business to smooth out all difficulties in the pathway of her husband's march to success.

Mrs. Garner is a devout Christian. "Religion doesn't amount to anything," she says, "if it is not in every moment of everyday life."

"In this crisis, I think women have two outstanding duties—to be strong in faith and to accept the need for retrenchment, to do it gracefully and to make their homes and their husbands as happy and peaceful as possible. What else women can do is the problem of each individual."

The Garners have one son, Tully, and a granddaughter, Genevieve, who is credited with remarkable powers in "bossing" the vice-presidential nominee.

Violinist Will Move to This City

HEARD BY BIG CROWD FRIDAY EVENING HERE

MUSICAL SOIREE HELD IN MRS. BRUNOW'S APARTMENT

Pampa, the home of prominent musicians, will be still nearer its goal of being the recognized musical center of the Panhandle on or about Dec. 1 when Duncan Stewart, concert violinist, moves here from Lubbock.

It was partly through efforts of Mrs. May Foreman Carr, one of the foremost Texas pianists, that Mr. Stewart consented Friday night to move to Pampa. Mrs. Carr accompanied him Friday evening.

The violinist was in this city Friday evening for a concert at the First Methodist church under Treble Clef club auspices, and the house was filled to capacity with music lovers. Appreciation of the talent, which indeed was rare for an artist of 25 years, was shown by generous applause.

He Likes Pampans. Such musical appreciation was surprising even to the violinist himself, who declared, "I already know more Pampa people than I know in most other cities after many months of residence—and I like them."

Mr. Stewart has been the student of the foremost instructors of violin including Leopold Auer, the great teacher of Zimbalist, Heifitz, and Elman.

The future Pampa violinist will appear next month in Fort Worth and has a tentative engagement with the Minneapolis Symphony for the spring.

The Kansas City Star said of him: "He has an individual conception of color and contrast, broad style, dignified and unassuming stage bearing, heartwarming sincerity, ability to use his brain before an audience."

soiree Is Held. The apartment of Mrs. V. E. Von Brunow was the setting of the most beautiful musical soiree of this season Friday evening when Mr. Stewart and Mrs. Carr played number after number, including a repetition of the entire concert. At least 50 combinations were played.

Mrs. Brunow served refreshments during the evening to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schneider, Mrs. Henry Gerhard, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sills, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Wilson, Miss Eleanor Frey, Mrs. L. O. Wirsching, Mrs. May Foreman Carr, Malcolm Carr, and the guest artist.

PARENTS WILL AID PUPILS OF BAKER SCHOOL

Teachers Also Are to Contribute Each Month

Baker school parents and teachers are doing their part in providing food for needy children in the school.

During a Baker Parent-Teacher business meeting Thursday afternoon, every teacher in the school pledged to give $1 a month. Mrs. Oscar Dotson said she would give $2 per month, and Mrs. C. L. Kurtz, $2 per month. The following pledged to make monthly contributions of $1: Mesdames Claude Lard, C. E. Simmons, A. L. Jones, Henry T. Cox, Roy Holt, Hoyt Allen, and W. M. Moore. A friend also gave 50 cents. Principal J. A. Meek is business manager of the cafeteria this year.

The program, which was led by Mrs. A. I. Jones, included the following numbers: Song by the entire group; violin solo, Paul Jones; harmonica solo, Keeton Miller; violin solo, Russell Roof; piano solo, Barbara Kilgore; songs, by the First Baptist choir; piano solo, R. B. Fisher, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fisher; talk on books, Miss Siddons, high school librarian; dialogue on books, Mrs. Johnson's room.

The 23rd anniversary of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers was celebrated with a candle-lighting ceremony. Candles were lighted for the seven past presidents and for Mrs. A. I. Jones, program chairman. Mrs. Claude Lard, president, then lighted candles for Supt. R. B. Fisher, Principal J. A. Meek, and Mrs. Joe Smith. Mrs. Smith organized Baker Parent-Teacher association.

At the close of the meeting, cake and coffee were served by the losing side in a membership drive, Mrs. Douglas being chairman. There were 80 persons present.

LIBRARIES OF SCHOOLS WILL BE ENLARGED

GOOD BOOKS WILL BE ON DISPLAY AT SAM HOUSTON

Preliminary observance of American Education week (Nov. 7-13) and Book week (Nov. 13-19) has been indicative of the stress which will be placed on educational advancements of Pampans when the weeks actually arrive.

Fitting observance of the weeks has been urged by Principal R. B. Fisher, has been attempted by Parent-Teacher associations, has been outlined for schools by principals and teachers.

For Public Also. The public can no longer give "lack of opportunity" as excuse for illiteracy. The Pampa library is filled with excellent new books of fiction and non-fiction, loaned free for the asking. Good magazines may be had for a sum which is inconsequential. Choice volumes were never so inexpensive. The coming two weeks may, with infinite value, be observed by all.

Parent-Teacher associations of all the elementary schools held programs last Thursday in keeping with the week, and the promotion of good reading has been announced for a meeting of the Junior high school association next Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Hyde Speaks. The Rev. A. A. Hyde encouraged the reading of good books at a chapel meeting held Friday at Woodrow Wilson school, stated that during Book week the children of Sam Houston school gave a puppet show, and the Woodrow Wilson rhythm band entertained.

Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal of Woodrow Wilson school, stated that during Book week the children of her school would read extensively both in the school library and in the city library, and would give written reports at the close of the week. The reading will be supervised by the teachers.

Study Suggested. "The schools" and the nation's founders will be the theme of Education week. Day-by-day suggestions for the observance of the week are:

Monday—The homes of the pioneers.

Tuesday—The schools of the pioneers.

Wednesday—Two centuries of progress in new world schools.

Thursday—The schools and equality of opportunity.

Friday—The schools and American ideals.

Saturday—The schools and progressive living.

For Book Week. Books for Young America is the timely theme for Book week. This theme is to include not only books about America but also the newest type of books of information which give young people an understanding of the rapidly changing world in which they live. The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers as well as the National Congress joins with libraries, schools and other agencies in the celebration of this National Book week.

Child Welfare Magazine week, November 14-19, is observed so that more readers may profit from authoritative information on parent education and on parent-teacher technique contained in each issue of the official organ of the National Congress. Child Welfare published for service and not for profit. Texas has 472 subscribers to this magazine and it is earnestly hoped that more people in this state will avail themselves of the service of Child Welfare during this special week.

Hundred Twenty Four Present at Program Meeting

One hundred twenty-four persons attended a meeting of Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon. Miss Vida Cox's room had the largest representation of mothers, and as a reward will be given a trip of inspection, probably to the fire station.

B. Wanner; lay sermon for parents, teachers, pupils and community, Mrs. Neal Beavers and Miss Willena May; report of the summer round-up, Miss Ivan Mayfield.

FABRICS INSPIRED BY DESERT SANDS
PARIS (AP)—Deserts sands have inspired the design for some of the outstanding fabrics this fall.
A Parisian designer traveling in the Atlas Mountains recently was attracted by the formations of sand crystallized by the cold.
He sketched the star and flower patterns which resulted, brought them back to Paris and had patterned velvets and silks woven from the designs.

RENO GETS DIVORCE—FROM ITS FUNDS

Wealthy divorce-seekers, bidding their time luxuriously in Reno hotels while divorce mills grind out their decrees, may find a rude curb to their gaudy in the 13-day bank holiday declared throughout the state of Nevada by Lieut. Gov. Morley Griswold. Alice Joyce (left), the actress, and Ruth Elder (right), aviatrix, are two charming members of the divorce-colony in Reno where but one bank remained open as the holiday began. In Washington, Governor Fred B. Balzar (left center, above) sought President Hoover's aid in obtaining a $2,000,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to tide over the state's banks, in straits, he said, because of low livestock prices. Simultaneously, a reorganization of the 12 banking corporations controlled by the George Wingfield interests, was under way. Wingfield, (right center, above), who dominates Nevada banking and is said to have spent $15,000,000 of his own fortune trying to save his banks, is the owner of Reno's stylish Riverside hotel (center, below), rendezvous of millionaire divorce applicants, and home of one of the closed Wingfield banks.

Germany Will Vote on Hitler And Papen Today

BERLIN, Nov. 5. (AP)—With a veiled threat of violence from Adolf Hitler's Nazis, with a stern order for peace from the government, Germany's fifth major political campaign of the year came to an end tonight.
Since it began at the end of September at least a score of men have been killed in political riots and many others have been injured. Tomorrow the voters, selecting members of a new Reichstag, will make their choice once more more between Hitler and Chancellor Franz von Papen.
Four times this year the people have sustained the chancellor, each time by a smaller margin. He expects to win again. Hitler, looking back upon an election record of steadily growing strength hopes that when the votes are counted he will at last be in the driver's seat.
Hitler stands for uncompromising nationalism. He would repudiate the treaty of Versailles, all other foreign debts except commercial obligations, build the German fighting forces to a point beyond the limits now imposed upon them.

Smith Addresses Roosevelt Rally

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Nov. 5. (AP)—With a joint call for election of the democratic ticket, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith tonight formally closed the door of the democratic campaign of 1932.
Climaxing a wild, flag-waving series of demonstrations in a joint fashioned Tammany rally in the huge hunting-draped arena, the presidential candidate stood for the second time in as many days beside his predecessor of 1928 to appeal for cooperation of all groups of citizens to help bring America "to better days."
Smith said the republicans "after this long, black night of sorrow and sickness and stress and storm" are making "no account of their stewardship, but in the panic that they now find themselves in, facing complete collapse, they hand us a campaign of fear, of threat and of intimidation." "They can be steward no longer," he asserted.

SCOUT TRAINING COURSE TO START MONDAY—CLARENDON LAUNCHES SIMILAR ACTIVITY

The adult Scout leaders training course will be started here Monday evening to provide much-needed leadership for the growing program in Pampa.
The first lesson, which will stress program building, will be held at the city hall with T. A. Cox, scoutmaster of troop 21, and Executive C. A. Clark in charge. The class will meet once each week on a day to be decided. There will be five lessons. The men will study "what the boys want to do and what we want to do with the boys."
A similar course was started last night at Clarendon, where Scouting was reorganized with one troop already launched and two others in process of organization. S. L. Tidwell is scoutmaster of the troop and Lee Vaughn is assistant scoutmaster. R. E. Brennan, chairman of the Donley district, will automatically become a member of the Adobe Walls council. Dean W. A. Clark of Clarendon college will be chairman of training. Scouting in Clarendon has been somewhat inactive for three years.
The Adobe Walls council now has forty troops, with more than 50 boys enrolled. More than one hundred lads will be advanced in rank this month. The next court of honor here will be held November 28.

ARMY SHATTERS HARVARD--WORST LICKING IN 48 YEARS

Baylor End Almost Outplays Texas Team But Loses 19 to 0

CRIMSON GOES UNDER KNIFE IN 46-0 FEST

CADETS CAPTURE 35TH STRAIGHT GAME IN STADIUM

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 5. (AP)—The full fury of Army's mighty football force was hurled against Harvard today and the Cadets put on a methodical slaughter fest to overwhelm the Crimson, 46-0, its most humiliating setback since the dark gridiron ages of 1884.

A crowd of 40,000, largest of the season at the stadium, watched the merciless attack of the determined cadets, who were spurred on by two objectives, to uphold the 35-year old tradition that Harvard can't beat Army in the stadium and wipe out the last year's unexpected 14-13 reversal at West Point.

Harvard, minus its only competent center and with invalids in most of the key positions, was helpless from start to finish. The game became monotonous after Army kicked off, killed the Crimson attack before it was launched, downed a futile Harvard punt and then swept on to a touchdown.

Ten times during the one-sided struggle, Army made deep marches into Harvard territory. Three times the crimson managed to turn the Cadets back inside the five yard line but this resistance was as futile as trying to hold back the tide. The halted cadets rallied immediately, forced Harvard to punt from behind its goal, formed their lines again and charged with redoubled force.

The Cadets piled up 19 first downs, all in the first three periods, and rushed 366 yards. They completed eight of their 13 aerial attempts for 116 more yards. They were not credited with any first downs in the final period because as soon as they downed a punt deep in Harvard territory, one of their numerous star backs was off on a scoring dash.

Early in the game, Harvard abandoned its running game and turned to the air, even when inside its 20. It tried 15 passes, completed five of them for a total of 56 yard, and had three intercepted, each one starting the Cadets off on a scoring drive. Harvard punted 12 times and the Army safety men ran them back for a total of 114 yards.

Leaders to Bowl On Tuesday Night

Games in the Commercial Bowling League Tuesday night will show the Schneider Hotel rolling the Thirty Footers and the County club meeting Cullum Motor. Cullum Motor will be fighting to come out of the cellar position, while the other three teams will decide which one will take undisputed hold on the top position.

The hotelmen and the long fellows are tied for top honors. Any one of the three can go to the head of the class.

Last Tuesday night the Schneider hotel team set a new season record for single games when it toppled 1,022 pins. Only one man rolled less than 200 pins.

Two news teams are scheduled to join the City Bowling league this week. They are the Faculty and the Standard. They are scheduled to roll the Phillips Petroleum company and Kiwanis No. 1 teams tomorrow night.

Fordham Gallops Over Gaels 14-0

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—Fordham's powerful football team showed all their early season promise today as they pushed their way to decisive 14-0 victory over undefeated St. Mary's of California in a thrilling battle before 40,000 spectators in the Polo Grounds.

Striking with stunning force, Fordham pushed over a goal line before the game was two minutes old, played an effective defense game throughout the next two periods and then overpowered the Gaels in the final quarter to score another touchdown and continually threaten the invaders' goal line.

The victory, a mild upset, was sweet revenge for the Rams, whose perfect two year record was marred by the same invaders in 1930, when the Gaels' came east to overwhelm a great Fordham team 20-12.

Stanford Bows to Washington 18-13

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 5. (AP)—In a thrill-a minute encounter of sensational runs and many intercepted passes, Washington's purple and gold garbed gridiron warriors smashed to a 18-13 victory today over Stanford's Indians.

With a demoralizing second half attack that swept everything before it, Coach Jimmy Phelan's huskies came from behind to take a lead that a great Stanford rally was unable to overcome. In the closing minutes of play the Indians also crossed the goal line of their opponents, but a last second threat failed when the huskies regained the ball on an intercepted pass and clung to it until the final gun.

BUCKS WHIP GROOM 26-12

White Deer Advances Faster on Ground Than Tigers Do in Air.

The White Deer Bucks trampled the Groom Tigers 26 to 12 Friday afternoon in White Deer making 16 first downs to seven by Groom. Williams and Sturgeon divided the scoring honors with two each. Black scored one of Groom's touchdowns, and passed to McDonald for the other.

The Bucks played a ground game, taking to the air only three times. Groom attempted 13 passes, completing six of them for nice gains. After the first few minutes the game developed into a battle between Wilson and Sturgeon of White Deer. Wilson made a 38-yard run to place the ball in scoring distance for Groom's first center. Sturgeon also made six of them for nice gains. After the first few minutes the game developed into a battle between Wilson and Sturgeon of White Deer. MUSTANGS AND FARMERS PLAY SCORELESS TIE

PONIES FIGHT STRANGE BATTLE IN OWN TERRITORY

DALLAS, Nov. 5. (AP)—E. O. (Muggins) Fowler of Fort Worth pitted his left foot against an almost perfectly clicking aerial game here today and the net result was the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college and Southern Methodist university played a scoreless tie.

The tie was the second for the cadets and left them ahead of S. M. U. in the Southwest conference standing, the Methodists having failed to win any of their championship starts.

Excepting for chances provided when pass receivers might have gotten away, S. M. U. had but one real opportunity to put over a touchdown. Eight yards from the Aggie pay dirt the S. M. U. offense folded up as has been its wont for the past three seasons in its home games.

The Aggies lost their golden opportunity when at the same distance from the goal line bucks and then an attempt at a field goal from placement by Clifford (Frenchy) Domingue went astray.

Outplaying the cadets by the margin of thirteen to three first downs, the Methodists strangely played nearly all the afternoon deep in their own territory. They were put there by the wonderful toe of Fowler, the sophomore back registered from Fort Worth, who, however, lost his football at Amarillo, where, in 1930, he was a golden Sandstorm star.

Every time the Methodists would advance into Aggie territory Fowler would drive them far back into their own part of the field by kicks, that, irrespective of wind direction, scored 60 and 65 yards.

Rice Wins Mud Melee 12 to 7 From Porkers

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark. Nov. 5. (AP)—Rice Institute rallied in powerful drive from its own 38-yard line in the last quarter to score the winning touchdown and win a 12-7 Southwest conference football game over a fighting University of Arkansas team on a soggy field this afternoon.

Arkansas jumped into the lead in the first quarter when Murphy passed from midfield 25 yards to La-Forge and then dropped back to make another heave of 25 yards to Gelsner who was standing on the Owl goal line. Gelsner converted the extra point from placement.

Taking the ball on Arkansas' 45-yard line in the second period, McAuley, Rice halfback, ripped off 35 yards and on the next play Bill Wallace hit the center of the Arkansas line for a touchdown. V. Driscoll failed to kick from placement the extra point.

Trailing by one point, the Rice backs continued to gain in midfield but did not reach scoring position again until the last period when V. Driscoll and Thrasher took turns carrying the ball. Thrasher finally went over right guard for the winning points. V. Driscoll again failed to convert.

Rice was easily superior throughout the game but a slippery ball and timely bursts of defensive play by Arkansas kept the scoring low. Fumbles proved costly to the Owls and twice they lost on an error after starting a drive on the Razorback goal.

Rice's powerful line held Arkansas to three first downs while the Rice backs made repeated gains, rolling up 19 first downs.

TODAY'S HARVESTER

boy who is making good on his first year of football is Roy Burges. He is 17 years old but a senior. He had no previous football experience before reporting at the opening of the season but showed such promise that he remained on the Harvester squad instead of going to the Gorillas. Roy works at guard. He weighs 160 pounds.

Have you got your reserve seat ticket for the Lubbock-Pampa game at Harvester park Friday afternoon? If you haven't you had better slip over to the courthouse and let Joe Smith sell you one because only the center of the west grandstand will be reserved. The Harvesters will start work for the important game to tomorrow afternoon. Lubbock has become a strong contender.

After Lubbock will come Quanah. The Indians are leading the lower half of this district. They should give the Harvesters one of the toughest battles of the year. They are scheduled to come here Nov. 19. No game has been scheduled for Thanksgiving, but coaches have not given up trying.

An Amarillo sportsman, a former all-Southwest conference end, and a referee known all over West Texas wrote to a Pampa man as follows: "... Pampa outplayed Amarillo in the ball game Saturday; in fact, after the ball game had progressed like it had, I was sorry to see the results as they were; for after all, if we are going to be good sports as we always dub ourselves, we can't help but want victory to go where it justly belongs, and in the ball game here Saturday it looked to me as though Pampa was certainly entitled to win. I just about got pitched out of my seat several times for hollering for them (the Harvesters) and bragging on them."

HUSKERS HUMBLE IOWA

IOWA CITY, Ind., Nov. 5. (AP)—A timekeeper's gun ended a desperate Iowa rally today as the Hawkeyes battled gamely to overcome an early Nebraska lead, only to fall short by a score of 14-13. The Hawkeyes opened up with a passing attack in the fourth period, to send Joe Laws across with one touchdown and then to have Veris Dickerson pick out a pass in the end zone for a second score.

MICHIGAN GOES ON

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 5. (AP)—Indiana's battling Hoosier eleven gave Michigan a scare today, but the Wolverines, led by Harry Newman's aerial attack, plunged thru to a 7-0 victory before 18,000 spectators.

PITT CRUSHES PENN 19-12 IN MARCH FOR NATIONAL CHAMP

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5. (AP)—In one of the most thrillingly savagely fought battles these old football rivals have ever waged, Pittsburgh's Panthers overcame Pennsylvania's stout-hearted resistance today and continued their march toward a national championship.

The final score was 19-12 as the scrappy Quakers, best for the first time this season, fell short of overhauling the Pitt powerhouse in an exciting finish.

A crowd of 70,000 spectators, aroused to so high a pitch that many booed the exchange of rough tactics on the gridiron, saw Pennsylvania make an sensational bid to pull the game out of the fire in the final period after the hard-running Panthers.

Taking a punt on his 43-yard stripe, this elusive Penn halfback romped 87 yards for a touchdown. Then with less than a minute to go, Penn recovered a free ball on Pitt's 14 yard line, where a punt had bounced off the Panther safety man's shin. With no time for a running attack, Kelleit gambled with a pass, but the ball grounded behind the end zone and the final whistle blew.

KANSAS GIVES RAMBLERS BIG SCORE IN TILT

NOTRE DAME SOUNDLY OUT-PLAYED FIRST QUARTER

LAWRENCE, Kans., Nov. 5. (AP)—Notre Dame's Ramblers found unexpected resistance in their sectional football game here today but won from the Jayhawkers of the University of Kansas 24 to 6.

The Kansas, who were rated as certain victims of the Ramblers' reaction to their defeat at Pittsburg last Saturday, surprisingly scored first with a baffling pass offense that produced a touchdown on a sustained drive less than four minutes after the game started and when Notre Dame had not had an offensive play at scrimmage.

The crowd of 17,816, which turned out to witness a gladiatorial slaughter with Kansas as the sacrifice, was transformed into a cheering hopeful horde when the Jayhawkers scored on their ninth play after receiving the initial kick-off.

Carnie Smith, recently transferred from quarterback to a halfback position to allow free expression of his varied talents, received the kick-off and pegged up to his 30-yard line.

The crowd was stunned when, on the next play, Ray Dunn tossed a long pass to Bernie Gridley, the Jayhawk fullback, who made a net gain of 32 yards against Notre Dame.

Two Jayhawk plays bogged down, but Smith, finding a pass, slipped around end for a first down.

The Notre Dame secondary was caught flat-footed when Smith's short pass cleared the defenders and was captured by Quarterback Elmer Schaack, who ran straight up the remaining ten yards for Kansas' touchdown.

Notre Dame retaliated immediately after receiving the kickoff and scored her first four touchdowns, three of them on long runs by Nick Lukats, Joe Shocks and George Melnikovich and the others on a short end sweep by Mike Koken.

Steve Banas started the first touchdown march, returning the kickoff to his 37-yard line. Lukats

PAMPA HAS PROMISING CROP OF YOUTHFUL GOLFERS COMING ON

If Pampa golfers are to win success in tournaments and matches with clubs in other cities, they are going to have to depend upon the youth of today, it appears. Pampa has at least eight coming golfers who will be watching. They are members of the Pampa high school golf team and are being coached by T. H. McDonald, former West Texas State Teachers college player.

Pampa golfers did not have much success in the Cap Rock league this year, largely because of lack of interest among the older players and the fact that they did not play enough to keep in practice to compete with players from smaller cities where golf is part of their business.

Several times members of the younger set were taken on trips, and they came through with flying colors, often defeating some of the best of the opposition. All of them started out as caddies and have never taken lessons.

Grover Austin, one of the best players on the high school team, was runner up for the city open championship last month in a tournament played over the Country club course. He was defeated by the veteran, Ben Farris. Austin is also one of the five hole-in-one club members in the city. He made his membership shot on hole 16 at the Country club May 21, 1932. He is only 17 years old but has been playing golf nearly three years. Grover's low score is a 71 or one stroke under par on 18 holes. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Austin. Grover has a 14-year-old brother who is also a member of the team.

L'FORS WINS TITLE GAME

Pirates Crush Canadian 13 To 0; Carter Breaks Shoulder.

The LeFors Pirates won the sectional class B title Friday afternoon with a 13 to 0 victory over the Canadian Wildcats. The game was marred by a serious accident when Carter, LeFors halfback, suffered a broken shoulder late in the game. He was brought to a local hospital.

The Pirates made 13 first downs to two for the Wildcats from Canadian. The game was more even than the score or the first downs indicate. The score was 13 to 0 in favor of LeFors until the last minute of play when Stewart broke loose to score. The lines were evenly matched but the LeFors backfield clicked with more precision than that of the Wildcats.

Stewart scored both the LeFors touchdowns after Carter, Echard and Bagwell had assisted him in carrying the ball down the field. The work of Berg at end was outstanding. Carter and Stewart did most of the ball toting. Stewart was particularly effective at toting the ball.

E. Miller, McPhearson and Hines were outstanding for Canadian both offensively and defensively. The Wildcats threatened several times but the LeFors line held while in danger territory.

LeFors will play the winner of the Carson county group for bi-district honors.

STEERS HELD SCORELESS IN LAST PERIODS

ONE-MAN TEAM FIGHTS HILLIARD AND KOY TO A FINISH

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. WACO, Nov. 5. (AP)—The elusive Bohn Hilliard and Eric thunder-bolting Ernest Koy ripped through the Baylor university line and secondary today to give the University of Texas a 19 to 0 victory but they were not the individual stars of the game.

That honor belonged to the cleverized Frank James, Baylor wing and the best punter in the conference, who took the Green and Gold of Baylor and as a "one-man team" carried it as far into the realm of stardom as possible. He gave the Longhorns an exhibition of end playing and punting that they will not forget for some time.

It was the Longhorns' third straight conference victory and put them even with the Texas Christian university Frogs in games won for the conference leadership. Baylor's mistakes aided the Texans to score touchdowns, but never was there a doubt about the superior team. It simply was too much Texas against a Baylor team that offered little on ground plays and nothing of value through the air.

The Longhorns accomplished practically all they tried on the field to do except; one thing—circle Frank James' end, and block his long punts. James made it a triple victory for himself by smothering Ernest Koy, Bohn Hilliard and other Texas backs for several losses.

OLE MISS WHIPPED

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 5. (AP)—Led by Fug Lund's sparkling runs and Jack Mason's line smashing, Minnesota scored in every period today to whip Mississippi, 26 to 0, in an intersectional gridiron tussle. Manders bucked over in the first, second and fourth periods for Gopher touchdowns. Lund ran around end for the other in the third.

Steve Banas started the first touchdown march, returning the kickoff to his 37-yard line. Lukats

STEERS—

Coach Clyde Littlefield used many of his reserves in the third chapter but finished with his regulars. The Texans' husky running attack shredded the good old Baylor line after Hilliard had ridden the Bears' confidence in the first period when he caught one of James' punts on Texas' 35-yard line and returned it 65 yards for a touchdown. Pearce had a fine chance to nail Hilliard but never dived for him. Hilliard saw his opening and cut across the field for a touchdown. Blanton booted goal from placement. Hilliard's stampeede removed some of the Bears' determination and in the second period the Longhorns scored two touchdowns. The first when Baylor fumbled on the 20-yard line and "Cheese" Cook recovered for Texas.

On the first down Ernest Koy and his 200 pounds of driving power went through the Baylor line for a touchdown. Hilliard missed the placement kick. The third and final touchdown saw Hilliard make the score possible when he punted to Baylor's 2-yard line. James' punt was returned to his 15-yard line. Texas plunged three times and on the fourth down Hilliard carried it over. Blanton missed goal. Through the fine defensive work of James the Longhorns were held scores in the final two periods.

Missouri Conquers Oklahoma 14 to 6

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 5 (AP)—A hungry Missouri Tiger won its first victory of the season here today by clawing its way through the Oklahoma line. The final score was 14 to 6. Desperate passing attempts on the part of the Sooners failed as Missouri drove thru the Oklahomans for touchdowns in the first and third quarters. The Sooners crossed the goal in the final period.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5 (AP)—(U. S. C. A.)—Cattle trade during the week under review was marked by further price declines on most killing classes. Beef steers and yearlings opened the week 25-50 lower, but after Tuesday receipts were comparatively light and at some places the market was marked by a moderate recovery. Eastern dressed beef was sluggish with prices materially lower. Chicago had a top of 9.10 on finished heavy steers and scored 8.35 on choice yearlings. At most livestock centers relatively few head were marketed. The rank and file of short fed calves ranged downward from 6.00. Stockers and feeders are steady to 25 lower for the week, most of the decline on steers in feeder flesh. There was a fairly liberal movement of well-bred calves and stock calves. Aggregate receipts at eleven markets for the week totaled around 196,000, as compared with 212,367 last week and 225,354 the corresponding period a year ago.

After selling on a weak to lower price basis the first three days of the week, hog prices reacted and finished the week steady to 25 lower as compared with a week ago. St. Louis had a closing top of 3.60 on choice light weight averages 180 lbs. and down. Receipts totaling around 300,000 were 65,000 less than last week and 181,000 short of a year ago.

Moderate activity developed in the sheep market with fat lambs registering upturns of 25-50 and other killing classes holding fully steady. Feeding lambs ruled steady to strong. The week's supply approximated 386,700 against 397,325 last week and 493,073 a year ago.

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, Nov. 5 (AP)—Disturbed by a downward slide of Canadian exchange rates to the lowest point since August, Chicago grain markets today receded from a promising new advance.

An additional unsettling influence was an apparent halt in export demand for Canadian wheat. Serving, however, as a stimulating offset was the fact that corn clearances from the United States totaled 1,750,000 bushels in the last week, the largest clearances this season.

Wheat closed irregular at 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher as compared with yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 1/4 advance, oats 1/4 to 1/2 up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25 cents.

Unexpected setbacks in Liverpool wheat quotations gave a lull to Chicago traders at the outset, and led temporarily to a material fall of prices here, the action of the Liverpool market being in total disregard of yesterday's upturns on this side of the Atlantic. Nevertheless, in a renewal of active buying here for eastern account soon brought about vigorous rallies that hoisted Chicago prices to well above yesterday's finish and to more than a cent a bushel up from today's low point. The rise was assisted by jumps in wheat prices at Winnipeg, but the seeming strength of the Canadian market quickly lost effect here.

Corn prices mounted to a new high for the week, and there were strong intimations of good-sized new export business. Oats followed corn.

Provisions reflected scantiness of Chicago stocks of lard. Closing Indemnities—Wheat: Dec. 43-43 1/2, 44-44 1/2; May 48-48 1/2, 49-49 1/2; July 49 1/2-50, 50-50; Corn: Dec. 25, 25-25; 29, 29-30; July 31-31 1/2.

STOCKS ARE DULL NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Security markets ended a dull week today with commodity and security prices steady to firm.

In shares, the definite advance of the previous session was subject to interruptions, but on balance final quotations were higher. Bonds displayed so little energy that trends were difficult to appraise. Cotton advanced more than a dollar a bale, presumably on announcement of the Lancashire textile strike had been settled.

Net changes of leading stocks were almost exclusively fractional. Tobacco and alcohol looked best, for there were a few gains of a point or so in those groups as against very minor improvements by such stalwarts as American Telephone, U. S. Steel, American Can, Du Pont, Sears Roebuck, National Biscuit, North American and several railroads. However, New York Central and Union Pacific firmed a point and Norfolk & Western got back into the century club with a rise of 5/8 on a few sales. Standard Oil of New Jersey, Peoples Gas and several preferred stocks did better than average. Transactions amounted to only 465,010 shares.

COTTON ADVANCES NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5 (AP)—Cotton advanced sharply more than $1 a bale in today's brisk short session under the influence of a good trade and speculative demand, favorable cables, news that the Lancashire mills' strike had been settled, and active short covering. The trend was steadily upward with only minor receded off 18, Kansas held the Ramblers momentarily but Lukats smashed the line and reeled 45 yards to the goal behind the deadly Notre Dame blocking that evening left the Jayhawks badly mauled and unable to resist the knife-like thrusts that gave the invaders a safe lead only in the final half. Lukats failed to convert.

KANSAS—

All through the first quarter the faint but growing partisan hope that Kansas might beat Notre Dame appeared to be possible of realization until a new Rambler back-field combination entered the contest at the start of the second period, when the score was tied at 6. They were the wispy quarterback, Chuck Jaschwich, Melnikoff, Koken and Sheeketski and they spelled disaster to Kansas although they did not immediately make touchdowns in profusion.

Suddenly out of the scramble sprinted Sheketsk. It was one of those occasions when the Ramblers play for when every man does his duty. Sheketsk weaved among his blockers and crossed the goal line untouched at the end of a 60-yard dash.

TEACHERS TIE

CANYON, Nov. 5 (AP)—The West Texas Teachers' College Buffaloes and the Sul Ross Teachers' College Lobos of Alpine fought to a 7 to 7 tie today in the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association championship race. The Lobos scored in the first period and the Buffaloes came back in the third to tie count when Burk, quarterback, passed to Williams, fullback, for 30 yards and the catcher ran 14 yards for the marker. Teague, left guard, converted.

ILLINI FALTERS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 5 (AP)—In a battle of passes, Wisconsin came from behind to defeat Illinois 20-12, in a homecoming game here today. The Illini took an unexpected 12-count lead in the first half, but the Badgers recovered sufficiently before the half ended to gain a two-point lead. Late in the fourth period Wisconsin pushed over a touchdown on line drives after an Illinois pass had been intercepted near midfield.

WINS FIRST GAME

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 5 (AP)—Ohio State registered its first victory of the season in conference competition today by conquering Northwestern 20-6 before 26,000 spectators in Dwyche stadium.

California Is First to Score On Mighty Troy

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP)—Southern California defeated California 27-7 today, but the Bears from Berkeley did something no other football team has been able to do this season. They scored on the mighty Trojans, a 35-yard forward pass from Henry Schalbach to Dave Mead deep in the end zone of the fourth period registering the first mark of the year against the strong Southern California defense.

Twice before the Bears had secured certain tie score and twice they had been stopped cold inside the Trojan's 5-yard line as a crowd of 75,000 wondered if the Red Shirts could keep it up. They could at close quarters, but not at long range. The Trojans were off to an early start six-point lead with a first period touchdown and thereafter were never headed.

KANSAS NAILS IOWA

MANHATTAN, Kans., Nov. 5 (AP)—After being held to six points in the first half the Kansas State attack exploded for three touchdowns in the third period and one in the fourth to submerge Iowa State 31 to 0 in their sixteenth game here today. It was the worst defeat ever given the Cyclones by the Wildcats. After an opening exchange of punts in the first period Russell cut through the Iowa State right tackle, reversed his field, and ran 38 yards to a touchdown.

PASSES BEAT TECH

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Bob McNamara, the most violent Violet of them all, drove back his trusty right arm twice today, whipped a pair of beautiful passes to Jack MacDonald, and New York University conquered the visiting Georgia Bulldogs, 13 to 7, in a thrilling tussle.

ROOSEVELT--

Roosevelt closed his campaign tonight with a call to all classes of citizens to rally behind the democratic party to help bring America to better days.

In a speech delivered at the customary Tammany rally with which New York democrats usually close their campaign, the democratic presidential candidate said that the doctrine of present day democracy had already been outlined in the series of speeches that he had taken to virtually all sections of the country since he started his campaign with a flying trip to Chicago in June.

"Tonight we set the seal upon that program," he said. "After Tuesday we go forward to the great task of its accomplishment and, we trust, to its fulfillment."

Hoover protests. AUDITORIUM, ST. PAUL, Nov. 5. (AP)—Stretching his campaign drive into Minnesota, President Hoover tonight asserted the democratic party was seeking to "play upon discontent," and was resorting to "the oldest trick in politics by stimulating a protest vote."

Arrangements are being made for a charity football game between the University of Oklahoma and Southern Methodist on December 10 with organized charities throughout Oklahoma assisting in the ticket

But Clive, darling, I've already deserved all I've got. I'm no saint. Remember the way I treated you. Dicky isn't altogether to blame. I'd have mucked the life of anyone whom I'd married.

"That propaganda sounds familiar. Your husband visited me the other evening. Amazing, wasn't it? I kicked him out and came to you because I guessed you were weakening."

"Old chivalrous!" She smiled tenderly. "If I don't take him back, what becomes of me?"

"You start afresh." "Aren't you lowered her head, glancing up at him through her lashes. "It's encouraging of you to say so. What kind of a fresh start is possible? If my record were condensed for reference purposes, it would read something like this:

TYLER CROWD HAILS 'JIM'

Ferguson 'Pours It On' in Gigantic Rally at East Texas Capital.

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL Associated Press Staff Writer TYLER, Nov. 5. (AP)—Before cheering thousands on the Smith county courthouse grounds, James E. Ferguson this afternoon brought his wife's campaign for the governorship of Texas to a close with an appeal for a great outpouring of democrats at the polls next Tuesday.

Expressing supreme confidence that Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson would be elected by a majority of not less than 500,000 votes over Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, republican candidate, Ferguson reviewed in detail the issues which he said would lead the people of Texas to give his wife a great vote of confidence.

He also expressed confidence that Franklin D. Roosevelt would be elected president, criticized President Hoover as the "most incompetent man who ever held high office in this country," and ridiculed Bullington as one who had not told the truth about the democrats and had "swindled" his own "crowd."

Denying that Mrs. Ferguson had won the nomination unfairly, he declared there was no basis to charges that thousands of illegal votes had been cast for her in the democratic primaries and asserted that Gov. R. S. Sterling, defeated by Mrs. Ferguson in the primaries, had failed to back up those charges.

While Sterling, Bullington and others who have opposed her, Ferguson said, have talked much of "honesty in office," and of the democratic pledge, the highway department has employed thousands of workers "for four or five days" in an effort to bring about the defeat for Mrs. Ferguson.

Mrs. Ferguson did not attend the rally, having left for Austin after the talk in Dallas last night to cast her ballot and await the returns. Ferguson, bringing greetings from the democratic gubernatorial nominee, said she, too, had no fear of the election's outcome.

Sam R. Greer, banker of Tyler, presided. John Easterwood of Henderson county made a short talk and called on Tyler newspaperman, who supported Gov. Sterling in the primary, introduced Ferguson.

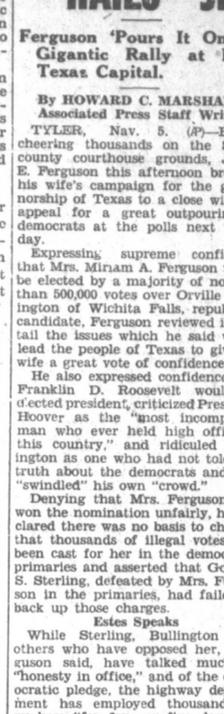

"I made no apologies for casting my ballot for Ross Sterling in the primary," Estes said "but you won, Gov. Ferguson and I, for one, believe you won fairly, and I'm for you now."

There was prolonged applause as Ferguson began his address and expressed hope that all bitterness of the primary campaigns had been wiped out and persons who had disagreed with him would harbor no ill will.

Ferguson reiterated that President Hoover was out of sympathy with the masses of the American people because he had "lived 25 years among foreign people." He said Hoover had failed as a business man and that of 75 businesses he had sponsored before he had become president, "not one was a success, not one paid a dividend."

BETTY RETURNS

Texas Keyed up In Hectic Race For Governor

(By The Associated Press) A torchlight parade in Comanche charges and counter charges and rival claims of assured victory kept Texas keyed up to a pitch of expectation tonight as partisans of Orville Bullington, republican, and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democrat, made a last stand in perhaps the most hectic struggle over the governorship between the two parties in the last fifty years.

Several hundred horsemen marched tonight at Comanche in the first torchlight political parade held in that county in forty years. The demonstration was the climax of an all-day rally supporting the entire democratic ticket. C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls was the principal speaker for the candidacy of Mrs. Ferguson.

Bullington, who rode 500 miles last night from Terrell, in east central Texas, to wind up his campaign in the Texas Panhandle, spoke Saturday night in Amarillo and at Borger in the afternoon.

Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson closed his wife's campaign in the afternoon with an address at Tyler, while she remained in Austin at her home, "supremely confident of victory."

Former Governor Dan Moody, bitter political foe of the Ferguson, announced at Austin during the day that he would not vote for Mrs. Ferguson, saying he did not "suppose any citizen of Texas could for one minute imagine that I would cast a vote or do anything else that would help to place James E. Ferguson in charge of the government of my state."

At Dallas, Cato Sells, state chairman of the League of Anti-Ferguson democrats, predicted that Bullington would be elected by a majority of at least 50,000 votes.

At rallies at many towns in the state, sponsored by the democratic state executive committee on behalf of Mrs. Ferguson's candidacy, speakers urged voters to "vote the ticket straight."

Support of the community's support to the Red Cross during the enrollment period. The statement follows: "This year the economic emergency lends special importance to the annual Roll Call, or membership campaign of the American Red Cross."

"The Red Cross is the recognized relief agency throughout the nation. It is chartered by Congress, headed by the president of the United States, and accorded the cooperation of the federal government. In the unemployment crisis it has borne a great relief responsibility. It has been the authorized medium for distribution of wheat and cotton to those in need of flour and clothing. Its volunteers have been unstinting in devotion to the task of collecting and distributing supplies, and in production of finished goods from materials. Hundreds of thousands of gardens have been planted from Red Cross seed. In 2,200 communities Red Cross chapters have participated in unemployment relief work."

"To unemployment have been added 95 disasters calling for Red Cross assistance in the period of one year. Drought in the northwest, tornadoes in the southeast, floods in the central south and a variety of other catastrophes have entailed mighty burdens on the organization."

"Our debt of gratitude is great. Our present and prospective dependence is impressive. Everyone who is able to take out membership, as a good citizen and a patriot, should do so."

Cramer-Laurence Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Laurence are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Claudine Laurence, to Ben H. Cramer of St. Joseph, Mo., the ceremony having been read Sept. 18.

The bride is a senior in Pampa high school this year. She was born and reared in this city and has many friends here.

Mr. Cramer is a St. Joseph graduate and is employed in the Hirsch Brothers Drygoods company of that city, where the couple will reside.

field, watered before the game to Hill's 5-yard line. Ledrick and Pool stabbed at the line for 3 yards, then Sullins knifed through for a touchdown. Pool place-kicked for the extra point. Score: Pampa 7, Capitol Hill 0.

The contest developed great defensive play by the Pampa line with Green and Schmidt going great. Revel's punting continued to trouble the Harvesters and Lamb, Capitol Hill halfback, proved an effective ground gainer.

Two Injured. Capitol Hill's Indians started a drive in the third quarter, but it stopped when Pulling intercepted a pass on his own 20-yard line. A few minutes later, Walcott of Capitol Hill passed 25 yards to Pampa's 9-yard line. Three plunges sent Stoner, substitute Oklahoma back, across for a touchdown. Walker and Sullins were injured, Sullins rather badly, in the crushing drives. Capitol Hill's try for extra point failed. Before the third quarter ended, Kelley's punt was partially blocked, then the Sooners marched up the field 50 yards and Walcott, quarterback for Capitol Hill, plunged over. The try for point failed. Score: Capitol Hill 12, Pampa 7.

Second String Goes In. The Indians passed their way to the Pampa 11-yard line, from where Walcott took the ball over in the last quarter. The try for point again failed. Five Harvesters were on the bench with injuries, and the second string was on the field at the end. The Sooners were far the hardest chargers the Harvesters had met this year. They amassed 13 first downs to 9 for Pampa.

Sullins, Pool, Pulling, Green, and Kelley played especially well for Pampa.

The Capitol Hill eleven, leaders in the Mid-State high school conference, started one of the best lines in the state and a capably backfield, retained from last year. The Oklahoma boys also remembered last year's 26-0 defeat at Pampa.

The contest was played under newly installed floodlights after the two elevens had seen Missouri rip the Oklahoma university line at Norman to win 14 to 6. Coach Jim Lookbaugh desired the hard Pampa game to temper his charges for their state championship quest. Classes high, also formidable, is the last opponent of Capitol Hill, which meantime will play Guthrie and Shawnee in the Mid-State conference.

Legislature Is Wrangling Over Market Demand

AUSTIN, Nov. 5. (AP)—Opponents of a proposed law giving the state authority to consider market demand in regulating the production of oil to prevent waste mingled their views with ideas of proponents today before Texas legislative committees.

C. V. Terrell, chairman, and Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas Railroad commission, recommended liberalization of the present statute so all phases of waste and "all other factors" could be considered in drawing proration orders.

Joe E. Danciger, independent operator, told the house committee on oil, gas and mining that proration was a scheme of the major companies to monopolize the industry.

"Let them get the output as low as they want it, and then see how much you will be obliged to pay for your gasoline," Danciger said.

Many legislators believed that the legislature, assembled in extraordinary session by Governor R. S. Sterling, after a three-judge federal court voided proration orders of the railroad commission applied to the East Texas field, would settle the fate of a proposed "market demand" bill early next week.

An attempt was made in the house committee to dispense with further testimony and take an immediate vote on reporting the bill. A motion to determine if the committee was ready to vote lost when the committee tied at seven each.

A motion to report the bill favorably was withdrawn when one of the proponents of the bill left the room and the hearing was recessed to Monday morning.

Representative E. H. Lasseter of Henderson opposed the motion for an immediate vote, stating he had been informed that attorneys in the suit, decided by the three-judge federal court, had conferred with Federal Judge Randolph Bryant and

Hunger Marchers Evacuate London In Merry Mood

LONDON, Nov. 5. (AP)—Disillusioned but good-humored, Britain's little army of 2,000 "hunger marchers" evacuated London today, in regular railway coaches with banners flying and the crowd cheering and singing.

They had failed to attain an increase in the dole or any change in the means test but their fighting at the very doors of parliament forced an airing of the unemployment situation in the house of commons. The three-day unemployment debate in the house, led by the veteran George Lansbury, will be resumed Monday.

Most Londoners felt today that the trouble of the past ten days had been caused by avowed communist leaders aided by members of the London underworld. This feeling was caused by a letter introduced at the trial of Sidney Job Elias, chairman of the national unemployment workers' movement, which tended to show that Moseow had interested itself in unemployment agitation. It was alleged in court that the letter had been written in Moscow by Elias last September and addressed to W. A. L. Hannington at the very doors of parliament on London, and Lewellyn, another "hunger marcher" leader.

It had been agreed that an order could be written by the commission under the existing law that would start the test prescribed by the court and not change the present allowable.

A PATH TO PARADISE

DAWSON by Coningsby

SYNOPSIS: Olive orders Dicky out of his New York apartment when Dicky asks Olive to persuade Santa to take him back. Olive has not seen Santa since before she sued Dicky for divorce in Chicago. But try as he will he cannot deny his love for her. He has even offered his employer by refusing to go to Europe on business while Santa's divorce remains unsettled. Santa writes Olive, persecuted by Dicky's presence, in Chicago.

Chapter 16 SANTA GETS HELP SANTA was brushing her hair before the mirror preparatory to climbing into bed, when a peremptory knock sounded. Another of Dicky's persecutions, she conjectured, in the shape of a pleading letter.

How much longer would she be able to hold out against him? The only reason he didn't intrude in person was that she'd left strict orders at the desk. For weeks she'd been afraid to stir out since she never knew when or where he would waylay her.

Throwing a wrap about her shoulders, she opened the door a few inches. A bell-boy thrust a telegram at her. She slit the envelope with trembling fingers.

"No answer."

"Married again. I adore it."

"Safe from prying eyes, she re-read the message: 'Arrive Chicago tomorrow. Clive.'"

Turning out the lights, she nestled into bed and wept—wept from joy. She'd been so proud since her disaster. She'd punted her father and mother off into the distance. She'd been positively aggressive in her assertions that her divorce was her own business. She was modern and required neither pity nor help.

Heavens, was there any girl at this moment who required help more desperately? She'd reached the limit of her endurance—wasn't certain of the rightness of anything she was doing. But now Clive was coming. Dear Clive who had always told her the truth.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

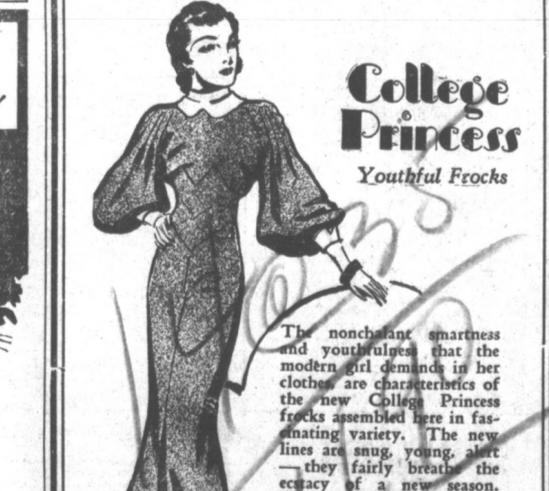

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT FORTY THOUSAND WHITE-TAILED DEER ARE KILLED ANNUALLY WITHIN 300 MILES OF NEW YORK CITY!

ALUMINUM, WHICH NOW SELLS FOR LESS THAN 25 CENTS A POUND, WAS WORTH 25 DOLLARS A POUND IN THE YEAR 1884, WHEN THE ALUMINUM CAP WAS PLACED ON THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT

THE WHITE-TAILED DEER is the one deer that seems to have been able to adapt itself to civilization. In regions where other wild life has given way before the destructiveness of man, the white-tail not only remains, but is steadily increasing. It is a creature of the woods and knows all the tricks of eluding a foe. America owes much to the eastern white-tail, for it was this game animal that saved many early settlers from starvation in the days of pioneering.
