COACH'S BODY IS FOUND ON BLEAK BEACH

MYSTERY ATTACHED TO COLUMBIA MENTOR'S STRANGE DEATH

CHATHAM, Mass., Dec. 14 (AP)—The body of Richard J. "Young" Dick Glendon, Columbia crew coach, was found on the beach here today. He had been missing since he left his South Chatham home yesterday on a hunting trip.

The body was found by Patrolman Rollins of the Chatham police who was engaged, with approximately 100 other men, in the search for Glendon. It was nearly covered by snow, indicating that it had lain for several hours in the northeast storm that raged over eastern Massachusetts, and Cape Cod.

Police were unable to determine immediately whether Glendon died of drowning or perished from exposure.

An element of mystery was added to the disappearance of the crew coach when his father reported to police that he found a letter in his son's room. The contents of the letter were not disclosed but a policeman who was in the house at the time it was found said the elder Glendon hurried down the stairs from his son's room, exclaiming: "He's done it. We've got to keep looking now until we find him."

Police called upon the Chatham Boy Scout troop to aid in the search and gathered a posse in South Chatham. Search was made throughout the night.

M'GREW CHOSEN CHAIRMAN OF API CHAPTER

Turkey Dinner Served to 177 Oil Men Last Night

THE new chairman of the big Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute is C. E. (Dan) McGrew, superintendent of the pipeline department of the Magnolia Petroleum company and retiring president of the Kiwanis club. He succeeds John Moyer of Stanolind.

Also elected last evening were: First vice-chairman, Howard Neath of Humble; second vice-chairman, Jimmie Johnson, Berger, of Continental; secretary-treasurer, Neil Gaut of the producing department of the Texas company. Mr. Gaut was appointed to succeed Jack Davis of Humble.

Mr. Davis read the minutes and pointed out that all oil men were eligible to pay the $1 annual membership fee. He emphasized that the A. P. I. is not a "major company" organization.

The business session in the city hall was adjourned to the Schneider hotel dining room, where a turkey dinner was served to 177 men.

Mr. McGrew welcomed the Panhandle oil men, outlined the work of the year, which included many fine papers and open forum discussions. W. J. Smith, local attorney, as toastmaster called on George Briggs, Olin E. Hinkle, Lou Stogner of Amarillo, J. Taylor, Jack Davis, and others for short talks.

Humor predominated.

He then called on J. H. Sullivan of Wichita Falls to introduce the main speaker, John E. Kilgore, attorney of the same city. Mr. Kilgore made an enlightening talk on the meaning of NIRA in its relation to the oil industry. He declared that the new deal for oil is not temporary but is a program which will enable the industry to conquer its twin evils, over-production and over-taxation. He pointed out that the industry had already taken far-reaching steps in this direction before NIRA was conceived.

The group expressed its sympathy and esteem for J. L. McMahon of Wichita Falls, division manager of the Texas company, who was critically injured in an automobile accident Monday.

Chairman Moyer announced that a meeting of the Midcontinent chapter of A. P. I. would be held in Oklahoma City February 15-16. Plans for the coming year in the local chapter are being drawn, and will include bringing of many good speakers to the meetings.

TWINKLES

This department acknowledges with thanks the hundreds of letters from children who attended the "open house" given by the NEWS. We regret that space does not permit us to print every one of them. The friendship of the children is something we prize very highly. You see, we were a child once.

Yessir, we were a kid. And now that we, like a few thousand other Pampa guys, have grown up, we neglect to act our age and proceed to make football games as much our own as of the Harvesters.

If all the citizens of Lubbock are as football mad as Charlie Guy, Avalanche publisher and columnist, that city will be nothing short of a mad-house Saturday. Charlie has telephoned twice and we hear the chamber of commerce is all agog and a-flutter over the contest.

Lubbock's chamber is really pushing the game in a big way. It's full-time publicity agent, Garnet Reeves, is sending out stories to scores of papers. Garnet says the great and only Brownie Akers is assisting with arrangements.

Really, Lubbock high is getting a break. Texas Tech's hogging of grid interest is at an end. What's a mere college game compared with the school-boy race, anyway?

We feel downright sorry for those who will not go to Lubbock with us, but if you'll go down to La Nora theater Saturday afternoon you can get the play-by-play account by leased wire from the Lubbock press box, and you can see a good show too, all for the regular matinee price of 35 cents. Or you can call THE NEWS as usual for the score by quarters.

SALES OF TICKETS FOR THE PAMPA-SAN ANGELO GAME AND FOR THE

Mr. Smith also has reserved seat tickets, train tickets, and boxes. There are plenty of good seats on the 40-yard line. He also will take up the unsold tickets for students and teachers at the high school office. There will be no ticket sales on the special train, and those who wait until they arrive in Lubbock may have difficulty in getting tickets. San Angelo school officials, fearing a seat shortage, are advocating limiting of student tickets to 1,500, including South Plains pupils.

Business School In City Proposed Under New Plan

Preliminary work is being done by representatives of the Fleming Business college of Amarillo with the intention of opening an accredited business school in Pampa on or about January 2.

If the support now being solicited is sufficient, a school will be opened with a positive guarantee of five months operation and with the purpose of operating permanently if the project proves profitable. All money given by students, if it was stated by J. E. Alford, field manager, will be placed in escrow in the First National bank and held there until the school opens. The fund will be increased, as the school opens, to guarantee the 5-month term.

If, after 5 months, the school is discontinued here, students who have not finished will be entitled to go to the Fleming Business college in Amarillo to complete their courses without any additional tuition charges.

A definite location for the school will be announced soon. Discussions between the Fleming school officials and B. C. D. officials have been in progress for some time. Prospective students may obtain more information by telephoning the B. C. D.

Second Compromise Plan of Roosevelt Committee Is Accepted By Officials.

HOUSTON, Dec. 14 (AP)—There will be no Southern Pacific railroad employees strike in Texas and Louisiana as a result of the current controversy.

This became certain today when officials of the railroad accepted the second compromise plan offered late yesterday by President Roosevelt's emergency fact finding board.

The "big four" brotherhoods accepted the compromise.

The decision ends more than a month of tenseness. After the employees had voted for a strike call and the disputed questions were submitted to a mediation board.

The second plan is:

- 1.—Both parties to continue negotiations in an effort to settle all 108 of the points at issue.
- 2.—Any cases from one to 97, inclusive, which are not thus settled are to be submitted to arbitration.
- 3.—Cases 100 to 104, inclusive, to be submitted to the Southwestern Train Service Board for adjustment for final decision. Any cases this board fails to settle are then to be submitted to arbitration.
- 4.—Cases 105 to 108, inclusive, the so-called disciplinary cases, are to be unconditionally reinstated, without prejudice, upon taking the usual physical examination and without claim to back pay.
- 5.—Cases 98 and 99 are to be heard by the president's board for its recommendations.

L. B. McDonald, general manager of the Southern Pacific, got up and said the railroad accepted this plan. At this point one of the Brotherhood chiefs, I. O. Enders, pointed out that labor, too, had principles which it was unwilling to sacrifice.

Judge W. H. Richards of Borger was here today.

Senior Play To Be 'Killing'

When Jobyna Steps Out Tonight, Audience Is Due To Laugh Through 3 Acts.

The occasion: The senior play "Jobyna Steps Out."

The place: The City Auditorium.

The time: 8 o'clock sharp tonight.

QUAINT, naive little Jobyna Loomis will step out to her first ball tonight, and as she tells her excited family afterwards—plenty happens. Innocent as she is, she believes everything that is told her, and by her very sincerely gets herself and others into first one jam after another. Her escapades are many and amusing; she gets the frat pin every girl in town would give her left ear for; she manages a date with the catch of the town for the biggest dance of the season at the country club; she swallows every line handed her—bat, hook, and all; she decides she might as well go to the dogs anyhow; she learns fast from the jazzy young collegians in her brothers' set—but she walks home from her first ball and starts her indignant family by declaring, "Well, I guess he's got sypplod to." When the cause of her disillusionment, the carefree, immaculate Nick Cromwell who until tonight had never been serious a moment in his whole life and had believed that no one could goad him into unnecessary action, comes in with a black eye received in a fist fight over Jobyna, things reach a climax.

Doctors make a record of each examination and then recommend treatment where necessary. Nutrition, skin, and general health are being particularly watched in the examinations. Two infectious cases were found yesterday and remedial steps taken.

The local chapter of the Red Cross is associated in the work.

30 CHILDREN ARE INJURED-- MORE MAY DIE

PHYSICIAN NEVER SAW 'SUCH HORRIBLE INJURIES'

CRESCENT CITY, Fla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Nine elementary school children were killed, another was reported to have died en route to a hospital, and at least 30 others were injured, many critically when a freight train crashed into a school bus six miles south of here this morning.

Several of the most seriously hurt were not expected to live.

The dead: William Smith, 12; Evelyn Smith, 9; and Frederick Smith, children of Mrs. Bennie Smith, a widow. Merle Smith, 16, member of the same family, was reported to have died while en route to a hospital.

Hazel McGrady, 13, and Eddie McGrady, 10, children of Drew McGrady, Nellie McGrady, of the same family, was reported seriously injured.

Elsie Bertha Gorton, 15.

D. R. Niles, an elderly man who drove the bus, was injured but a physician said his condition was not critical, although serious.

There was said to be a probability others of the injured would die. Most of the injured were taken to Palatka.

The tragedy occurred at Silver Pond Grove crossing, six miles south of here, just after the bus had picked up the last of the children on its route.

Niles had reached the end of his route which extends five miles south of here to Silver Pond Grove when the crash came. He had just driven from the main highway about 100 yards to the home of Rupert Teuton to pick up Teuton's two children.

Teuton had constructed a turning place so that it was not necessary for the school bus to cross the railroad tracks, it was said. But Niles crossed the track in a heavy morning fog.

Greatest confusion prevailed at news of the wreck. The dead and injured first were rushed here. The Rev. Walter B. Knight, pastor of the Baptist church, converted his residence into an emergency hospital, while the overflow of injured was taken to the offices of Dr. E. W. Ford, nearby.

Howell said the crash happened at 7:45 o'clock in a heavy fog. He said, however, that the highway was only about 75 feet from the railroad track and the visibility for that distance and further was good and the bus driver should have been able to see the approaching train.

Dr. E. M. Zeigler, owner of the Glendale Terrace hospital, where four of the injured were carried, said he had never seen such horrible injuries, and indicated the death list, already fixed at between nine and ten, probably would be much higher.

Louis Leach, proprietor of the Crescent City Motor company, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the wreck described it as "the most horrible scene imaginable."

"There were," Leach said, "at least six bodies strewn along the track. A quick survey of the scene revealed an arm here, a head there, or a foot or other portion of a child's badly mangled body elsewhere."

Innocent as she is, she believes everything that is told her, and by her very sincerely gets herself and others into first one jam after another. Her escapades are many and amusing; she gets the frat pin every girl in town would give her left ear for; she manages a date with the catch of the town for the biggest dance of the season at the country club; she swallows every line handed her—bat, hook, and all; she decides she might as well go to the dogs anyhow; she learns fast from the jazzy young collegians in her brothers' set—but she walks home from her first ball and starts her indignant family by declaring, "Well, I guess he's got sypplod to." WHERE IS OUR FAMED AMERICAN SPIRIT?

A man who listens attentively to the heat of some of the arguments for and against the recovery program hardly can help wondering, now and then, if anything has happened to the traditional American spirit of courage and determination.

According to some arguments, the NRA and its allied measures are the law and the prophets, and we shall go down to chaos and confusion if we depart from them for an instant.

According to others, the NRA is a tragic mistake and all our cherished institutions are doomed unless we speedily renounce it and get back to something else.

There is a growing tendency, in other words, to see the whole recovery program in straight blacks and whites; a tendency to look on the mechanics of the efforts, instead of on the spirit back of it, as the all-important thing.

American were not that way in the past. For generations this country was famous throughout the world for a thing referred to as "the American spirit." Probably no two people meant precisely the same thing when they referred to this spirit; but in the main they meant that indomitable air of determination and optimism which made the nation ready to try anything once—the spirit which, if one program failed, had no hesitation in trying a second, a third, or a fourth until it hit on the winning combination.

That was the spirit that conquered a continent and erected a society which, for all its faults, remains one of the fine achievements of the race. And it's a little hard to see why it can't be invoked again today.

Suppose the NRA should prove a flop. Suppose the farm program fails; suppose the currency stabilization scheme won't work, or the public works scheme, or the other experiments now being made. What of it?

We have the determination to succeed. We have shown that our vast and heterogeneous people can achieve unity in a time of crisis. We have shown that our democratic system can provide swift and forceful action when it is needed. We have shown that we have the stomach to make drastic experiments.

Why must we assume that our salvation stands or falls on the success (or on the abandonment) of one particular plan? We have reaffirmed our common purpose, our strength, and our loyalty.

If the old spirit lives, we can be confident of ultimate victory—if not on one road, then on another.

Will Be Good "Jobyna Steps Out" is full of fun and excitement from the beginning to end. Every member of the cast has had considerable experience in acting and a performance above the expected. Ben Gull, director of dramatics in the high school, is in charge of the play, assisted by the class sponsors, Misses Fannie May and Louise Durrenberger, and B. G. Gordon. Eibert Gilliam is stage manager. Some interesting stage efforts have been worked out. Part of the play takes place in the attractive Loomis living room and the rest at a fashionable country club where the biggest dance of the season is in progress. The curtain will go up promptly at 8 o'clock. No seats have been reserved, and those who come early will get the best places. Before the curtain rises the high school orchestra will play. Between act numbers will include popular songs by a male quartet, tap dancing, and trombone novelties. Admission is 35c for adults and 20c for students. Proceeds will be used to pay transportation expenses of the senior class to Carlsbad Cavern.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Dec. 14. (AP)—Specialties pushed upward in a rather quiet market today while the majority of issues were content to follow a steady routine. Heaviness of rains was a retarding factor, although there was little selling pressure evident except in a few spots. The close was mildly irregular. Transfers approximated 1,550,000 shares.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 14. (AP)—The market ruled quiet all morning. Prices improved slightly on the activity in stocks, firmer grain and a slight advance in sterling. March recovered 5 points to 10.14 and May 4 points to 10.29, at these levels showing a point advance over yesterday's close. Near noon prices eased a point to even with the previous close.

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, Dec. 14. (AP)—Notable setbacks of grain markets took place late today following a moderate show of strength earlier. Weakness of corn became a decidated bearish factor, with considerable stop loss selling in evidence. Large receipts of corn at northwestern markets attracted attention, together with reports that farmers in Minnesota and South Dakota were reluctant about accepting the government loan policy as to corn. Wheat closed nervous, 1/4-1/2 under yesterday's finish, corn 3/4 off, oats 1/2 up to 1/4 up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12 cents.

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Paraguayan army was reported in dispatches from Asuncion, Paraguay, to have taken Fort Saavedra and swept on westward to bombard Fort Munoz—two of Bolivia's most important strongholds in the Chaco Boreo.

Paraguay reported Fort Munoz to be in flames.

The capture of Fort Saavedra was announced by the Paraguayan ministry of defense by a communique issued from Asuncion.

The communique said Saavedra was captured after the Bolivian garrison had set fire to its barracks.

Saavedra and Munoz are regarded by the Paraguayans as the most important Bolivian bases in the hotly contested Gran Chaco.

Meanwhile, governments of both countries prepared to consider a strenuous plea for armistice from the Pan-American conference at Montevideo.

The conference hoped for an answer within 48 hours to its formal request for an armistice while messages from presidents of various American nations poured in, bolstering the conference in its plea for peace.

Only the seventh division of the Bolivian army remained intact after further Paraguayan victories in the Chaco jungle area. Four regiments remained of the second division and part of the first. The rest of the army were prisoners of war on Paraguayan soil.

A high officer of the Paraguayan defense ministry at Asuncion stated that in the capture of Aliguata and Gonda fortresses the Paraguayans had taken 9,000 prisoners from the Bolivian ranks and 250 officers, with 3,000 additional prisoners in other operations.

He said there were known to be 1,700 Bolivian casualties in the fighting of the last two days.

TOKYO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Katsujir Debuschi, who recently resigned as ambassador to Washington, came back to Tokyo today and announced that he did not intend to return to the United States.

Immediately after his arrival, he motored to the foreign office for a conference with Foreign Minister Koki Hirota.

Debuschi said President Roosevelt's preoccupation with domestic problems had precluded Japanese-American discussions at Washington on naval affairs and a possible arbitration treaty.

"A man fighting his own fire," he said referring to Mr. Roosevelt, "has no time to worry about a neighbor's blaze."

A foreign office spokesman revealed the government's choice for ambassador to Washington has been narrowed to four men—all holding important posts in the Japanese foreign service.

Mad Desperado Is Captured In Cottager's Bed

DANNEMORA, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—An escaped inmate of the Dannemora state hospital for insane criminals, stumbling through a zero night after shooting a pursuer, sought refuge in a farm house early today and was captured there by state police.

Wesley Alger, 43-year-old trusty at the hospital, knocked at the door of Charles Ferber's cottage at Rand Hill before dawn asking shelter from 20-below zero weather. Ferber, his brother and their 90-year-old mother, after a hasty consultation, let him in, not knowing that farmers for miles around had sat up all night guarding their homes with guns and rifles.

At daybreak a group of state police, having lost Alger's foot prints on a highway, also stopped at the cottage to get warm.

"There's another fellow here," Ferber said. "He was so cold we put him to bed."

The troopers opened the door to Alger's room, and found him huddled in bed with the same shotgun that had wounded a member of the searching party a few hours earlier. Before he could get out of bed, Alger was captured. The capture ended a night of terror for the entire countryside.

Sportsmanship Discussed By Two Students

A brand of sportsmanship involving both athletes and students which has won for Pampa high school an excellent reputation was discussed before Pampa Lions today by Miss Josephine Lane and Bill Dunaway, students.

Miss Lane talked on sportsmanship for all the students, both in winning and losing. Dunaway, Harvester halfback, declared that unsportsmanlike conduct is a sign of weakness on the part of both a coach and a team.

Vocal duets were sung by Miss Erdine Benton and Miss Marjorie Erice, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lane. The program was in charge of L. L. Sone.

A committee was appointed by President Clyde Fatheree to assist in working out plans for a Christmas tree for children of the unemployed. This group includes Judge Ivy E. Duncan, chairman; John Mullen, Jet Brumley, C. E. Hutchins, George Briggs, E. L. King, Jim Bourland, J. V. McArthur, Charlie Thut, Ray Lawrence, L. L. McCollm, and J. L. Lester.

"For Tire or Battery Service Phone Us and Count the Minutes"

Forbidden Valley

—BY WILLIAM BYRON MOWERY

SYNOPSIS: Leaving for a time the trail of Igor Karakhan, international crook whom he is trailing into the land of the fierce Kioshoer Indians in Northwestern Canada, Curt Tennyson flies back to Vancouver for information about a couple he has met in the wilderness. They are Sonya and Ralph Nichols, bound on a mission they will not discuss. Curt finds that Sonya, in whom he is much interested, is really the daughter of Prince Stepan Volkov, Russian emigre. A Russian friend of her family is describing the escape of the Volkovs from the Red Terror.

CHAPTER 28
NEW LEADS

"I met the Volkovs again in Mongolian Uрга half a year later," Fedor Plekhanov went on. "They had won through. As my son and I had, Prince Stepan welded us into a band for self-defense and got us through to Peking, and there we scattered to the four winds."

No wonder, Curt mused, that Sonya had turned on him with such violence when he mildly praised the Leninis that evening in the prison house. And no wonder she seldom smiled.

"Gradually swinging Plekhanov away from the emigre story, he led the old Russian to talk about the phase of his life Plekhanov was not so well acquainted. They had gone a different road from his, and he saw them rarely. But he did know the lumber company that the men were connected with, the name of the school where Sonya taught, the family where she had been as governess, and the address of the Volkov band."

Curt decided that with those good leads it would be easy to run across to Victoria and get the information he wanted. Thanking their host, he and Baldwin went down to the car.

"Well, did you get what you were after, Curt?"

"It was worth while. I've got a good grasp of her background; but nothing that he said gives me any idea of what she's doing in the Liliars."

Baldwin turned on the switch key, snapped it off again, toyed with the strap of his swagger stick.

"Curt, I've been thinking of Sonya Volkov a lot this evening and I have a theory about this question. Maybe it's occurred to you. Did you ever wonder whether Karakhan might be at the bottom of this trip of hers?"

"Karakhan—how's that?"

"See here. It's a pretty safe bet that those two were acquainted. Karakhan must have known her; he made it his business to know all the lunch and met his wife and his three vivacious daughters. In an hour's talk with the girls Curt turned her private life inside out, learning a great mass of details about her work and friends and interests. But nothing that they said gave him any clue to her trip north.

As a last hope he taxed out to the Volkov home. The house was locked, the shades drawn, a dozen old newspapers on the front porch. As he expected, no one answered his ring.

A neighbor woman, seeing him looking around, volunteered some information about the Volkovs. And through her Curt learned that Mr. Nichols frequently had called at that place. The woman told of another man also, whom she had seen on many occasions, a tall good looking Russian of thirty-eight or forty. He came from some near-by city, likely Vancouver, the woman said, but she had not seen him since last fall. Yes, he had been a very frequent visitor for a month or more.

The description of this unknown caller sounded to Curt remarkably like a description of Igor Karakhan.

At four o'clock he met Baldwin on the pier. To his question Baldwin shook his head. "Didn't flush a bally thing. What luck did you have?"

"None. I found out everything about her except the one thing I wanted to know."

He said nothing about his talk with the woman and Sonya's caller last fall.

Curt returns, tomorrow, to Sonya, and danger.

Christmas Class Party at Miami Is Week's Event

MIAMI, Dec. 14.—Mrs. B. F. Talley graciously entertained the T. E. L. Sunday school class of the First Baptist church with a Christmas social at her home Tuesday afternoon.

The lovely rooms were decked in colorful Yuletide array, representing this festive season, and the members of the class gave the evening, old story of the first Christmas.

The story was read by Mrs. W. R. Locke and pantomimed by various members of the class, directed by Mrs. S. W. Corbin. The various scenes were perfectly depicted and the lighting arrangements made it so realistic that guests felt they were living at the time of the real event.

Delectable refreshments were then served to Mesdames B. P. Penn of Strawberry, Ark., Everette Hodges, C. B. Locke, Jr., E. A. Hopkins, A. L. Muncy, Dan Rees, Joe E. Boyd, J. W. Philpott of Amarillo and Miss Lucille Saxon, special guests. Mesdames C. T. Locke, N. B. Moon and E. F. Ritchey, associate members; Mesdames Will Locke, C. M. Coffee, J. G. Ramsay, Euel Webster, Dim Harris, George Graham, Earl Certain, Dutch Talley, Lloyd Althart, Ollie Danlven, A. O. B. Kidd, S. W. Corbin, Mertie Enright and Mrs. Talley, regular members.

Mrs. Talley presented two large Christmas packages of bonbons to Mrs. Will Locke and Mrs. Clyde Coffee, teacher and president of the class respectively, for their faithful service rendered the class.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in your bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resistant substitute. 25c at drug stores.

Parra Funeral Is Held at Church

Funeral services for Joe Parra, who died suddenly in a local rooming house early this week, were conducted in the Holy Souls church this morning by the Rev. Joseph Wondery. Burial followed in Fairview cemetery in charge of the Stephenson Mortuary. Mr. Parra died following a brief illness. He had no relatives that could be located.

A robber, firing three shots at his intended victim, hit a button of a cash register in Seattle, Wash., Seventy-four miles of pear trees and 31 miles of peach trees are being cultivated in a single orchard in northern Italy.

In the introduction by Halford E. Lucecock of the Yale Divinity School, this state-ENDORSEMENT appears: FROM YALE "Mr. Foote brings to the service of his themes a fine gift of portraiture. He turns the ear into an eye, Movement, color, drama all crowd the pages of this book and give vividness and life to the ideas. The addresses retain in type a lively vivacity, memorable picturing and a fine glow of sincerity. These vigorous chapters well deserve a wide audience of young people and all interested in youth."

The chapters are Hit That Line, What Are You Worth? The Possible "You", Who Is GETTING NEXT Your Pilot? How to Be Great, There Go the Ships, The Road to Somewhere, and Fundamentals of Success. These are, essentially, religious in theme, yet thoroughly practical, and without the preachments buried in platitudes. Rev. Foote is an ex-football player, an ex-college debater, who knows the value of example and figure of speech, or parables and parallels. He is, therefore, an author who is not likely to offend the touchy sensibilities of youth. You get next to life in his pages, yet never far from the higher art of Christian living.

Rev. Foote is a hard-hitter. He has no patience with the in-and-outers, the fumb-ers, the quitters, the hypocrites in life. Sports are to him, part of life which cannot clanging of train bells and the puffing of a switch engine here last night as he recited the civil ceremony which united in marriage Betty Compson of the films and Irving Weinberg, her manager. The imperative whistle of a locomotive added emphasis to the last words of Justice J. L. Gober and a few minutes later the train was bearing the couple on a continuation of their journey to Hollywood from the east.

Betty Compson Weds Manager In Train Stop

The ceremony was performed on the observation platform during a 25 minute train stop. The couple had made arrangements for the wedding by telegraph. A. J. Davis of Vaughn, N. M., former Santa Fe officer in Pampa, arrived here last night to spend a day of two with friends. He is returning from a vacation in East Texas.

CANTATA TOMORROW WILL BE FIRST CHRISTMAS MUSIC EVENT

ANNUAL CLUB PROGRAM TO BE AT CHURCH

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO HEAR CANTATA SONG

FIRST of the musical events of Christmas this year will be the annual cantata of the Treble Clef club, to be presented at 8 p. m. Friday at the Christian church.

The public is invited to hear this group of musicians sing "In Bethlehem," by Kautz. Assembly singing of the familiar carol, "Little Town of Bethlehem," a vocal solo by Mrs. A. N. Dilley, a piano number by Miss Madeline Tarpley, and a violin trio by Misses Dorothy Meers, Willie Reece Taylor, and Eleanor Frey, will precede the cantata.

Mrs. Dilley is director of the production. Mrs. Walter Stein and Miss Lorene McClintock will play the piano accompaniment.

Solo parts in the cantata will be sung by Mrs. Harry Lyman, Mrs. A. W. Mann, Mrs. Clifford Jones, Miss Doris Price, and Miss Dorothy Dodd. Mrs. Lamar Jones, Mrs. Sam Irwin, and Miss Jimma Searcy form a trio to sing one number.

The full chorus sings two selections, and smaller choruses take up other parts.

Pupils Write Of Their Visits to News Open House

Students of Woodrow Wilson school wrote their impressions of the Pampa Daily News plant after their visit during the open house last week. The following summary of the trip was made by Eleanor Ruth Gillham:

"Last Wednesday our room received an invitation to the News office. We were first taken to the circulation room. Mr. Nunn explained to us how it was managed. I was surprised to learn that there were more than 5000 subscribers to the paper.

"Mr. Nunn told us that all these subscribers didn't pay for ink and paper used in printing the papers. We were introduced to Mr. Johnson, manager of distributing the papers to people in Pampa and various towns.

"I was wondering how the papers were printed, when Mr. Nunn opened a large book and revealed the mystery. He said that when anyone wanted to put an advertisement into the paper, he turned to this book and found a picture to illustrate it. He explained how the print was made.

"Next we were taken into the editorial room, and Mr. Hinkle told how it was worked. He introduced us to Miss Vinson, society editor, and Mr. Fullingim, who writes local news in Pampa.

"He then explained the work be-

City, County Units Seek Standard in Contest

A certificate showing that Baker Parent-Teacher association attained a rating of superior in the year 1932-33 has been received by Mrs. Claud Lard, past president. The association was the only one in the eighth district to attain this honor.

In the year 1931-32, Baker association achieved standard rating. Mrs. Roy Holt, president this year, hopes to hold the group to the superior rating.

Most of the city and county associations are working to become standard associations. The city council, composed of eight units, has challenged the county council in a contest for the largest number of standard units by the close of the year.

Another certificate, for completion of the summer health round-up, has been received by Mrs. Holt for Baker association. "The round-up aims to send into the school a first grade as free from remediable defects as possible.

The roundup committee at Baker included Mrs. C. E. Simmons and Mrs. C. L. Kurtz.

ing done in a glass office where there was a typewriter printing by itself. He explained that this magic machine was run by a man in Dallas, who writes foreign and distant news of our country.

"We were taken to the press room. Here we saw the men cut pieces of metal. On these pieces of metal were printed different articles and ads. The metal was laid one after another until all the news for the papers was made on metal plates.

"The process was continued until there was one complete plate for each page. We were also told that this metal was remelted and used over and over.

"We enjoyed our visit to the open house of the Pampa Daily News and feel like we learned many new things."

Other pupils from fifth grades whose papers told interesting things about their visit were Betty Jean Tieman, Betty Sue Rice, Daisie Ann Ivey, Jean Lively, Pauline Hogue, Norma Dickinson, and Helen Chandler.

Costumes Arrive For Solo Dances In Holiday Revue

Children at the Vincent School of Dancing are excited today over a shipment of costume materials received for the solo dancers in the annual holiday charity revue to be presented at the city auditorium Dec. 20.

Many of the solo costumes are beautiful and different from the average recital costumes. Dresses to be worn in the feature of the program, the snowflake ballet, are of white net and white tulle representing falling snow.

Smaller children are to be costumed as Mickey and Minnie Mouse. Babies are to be dressed as fairies in one group dance, and some of the older students' costumes are of jeweled cloth and spangle. The Gypsy queen ballet will be bright and original costumes to represent Gypsies.

Tickets for the revue will be on sale the last of this week. Identifying of the master of ceremonies will also be announced Friday.

Admission for adults will be 25 cents, and children will be admitted for a toy or 10 cents. The toys will be distributed to underprivileged children of the city on Christmas by the fire department under direction of Chief Clyde Gold. Each year the firemen distribute toys and Miss Vincent is working with them this Christmas.

All pupils in class two, of which Pattie Smoot is sponsor, are expected for their lesson and rehearsal Thursday. Professional classes will rehearse Friday, Miss Vincent announced.

Students registered at the Alaskan School of mines for the winter mining course ranged in ages from 18 to 65 years.

SENATOR REED AND KIDNAPING VICTIM MARRY

NOTED INDEPENDENT IS 29 YEARS OLDER THAN BRIDE

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 14 (AP)—James A. Reed, who served Missouri in the United States senate for 18 years, and his bride, the former Mrs. Nell Q. Donnelly, were on a honeymoon as secretive about their plans as they were before their marriage last night.

The wedding of the silver-haired veteran of politics and Mrs. Donnelly, a wealthy garment manufacturer, was a surprise to the 20 guests who had assembled at the bride's apartment for a duck and onion dinner. Not until after the dinner, when Federal Judge John C. Hollock, who officiated, asked the guests to stand and he had entered into a discussion of marriage did the guests realize they were attending a wedding.

For many years Mrs. Donnelly had been a friend and political supporter of the independent democrat. Friends also recalled the statement he had made while Mrs. Donnelly was held for ransom by kidnapers two years ago.

"It is a single hair of Mrs. Donnelly's head is harmed," he said. "I'll devote the rest of my life to tracking down her kidnapers and sending them to the gallows."

After 34 hours in the hands of the kidnapers she was released unharmed, and without payment of ransom. Her kidnapers are in prison.

Although the bride and groom announced they would not disclose their destination for a short honeymoon, it was learned they had taken a train for Chicago.

The marriage was the second for both. The first Mrs. Reed, the former Laura Olmstead, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, died October 12, 1932. Diverse last year ended Mrs. Donnelly's marriage to Paul Donnelly. Reed is 72 years old and his bride 43.

HOW SPECIAL DELIVERY SENDS PACKAGES ON WAY EXPLAINED

How special handling of Christmas packages will expedite delivery and prevent possible losses is explained by Postmaster D. E. Cecil.

Mr. Cecil said a Special-Delivery stamp will assure delivery on Christmas Day. If mailed at the proper time, Special-Delivery service means the most expeditious handling and transportation of parcels practicable as well as the immediate delivery at office of address. It is obtained by affixing a Special-Delivery stamp of the proper denomination, or its equivalent in ordinary stamps, in addition to the regular postage. When ordinary stamps are used, the words "Special Delivery" must be written or printed on the envelope or wrapped immediately below but never on the stamps. It is urged that all mailers desiring immediate delivery of any matter mailed by them affix Special-Delivery stamps thereto. Special delivery is for speed and not for safety.

'YOU THIEF,' FOOTBALL TEAM SPELLS OUT FOR A REFEREE

Jefferson Mustangs Were Barely Beaten 14-6 By Temple Wildcats.

By BILL PARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The innovation in Texas high school football of replacing numerals on jerseys with letters of the alphabet, has provided grid fans following the Thomas Jefferson team of San Antonio with new openings for choice stories.

Spectators have seen some peculiar "line-ups" on the team this season, the team members sometimes inadvertently forming words when bunched together on the field. The Jefferson regular line spells "M U S T A N G"—the "monicker" of the eleven.

One of the prize yarns came out of a recent game after Jefferson had been penalized 15 yards after a drive that carried them to the opposition goal line. The rather downcast group of Mustangs, trailing along behind the official as he briskly stepped off the yardage, "ganged up" and "spelled" the words—"M U S T A N G"—the football. Temple high's team formerly regarded by many as potential state champions, gasped for breath after they had nosed out the Mustangs, 14-6, in a recent game. Jefferson outplayed the wildcats all the way.

ANOTHER "MEANEST THIEF" MIDDLETOWN, N. Y.—A stranger entered the Seventh Day Adventist church where the Rev. Walter R. Andrews was alone working on some week-day duties.

Apparently embarrassed, he told the pastor he was out of a job and wanted to do some work for a meal.

"Just sit down and wait until I come back. I think I can find something for you," the Reverend Mr. Andrews said.

A few minutes later he returned and the stranger was gone. So were the minister's hat, overcoat, and keys.

AVIATION DAY AUSTIN, Dec. 14 (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today proclaimed next Sunday "national aviation day in Texas" in honor of Orville and Wilbur Wright and in commemoration of their historic flight 30 years ago.

AGGIE GAGERS WILL AVERAGE ABOUT 6 FEET

TALL CENTER TO LEAD INEXPERIENCED YOUNGSTERS

BY BILL PARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Coach John Reed's Texas Aggies finished third in last year's Southwest conference basketball race. If they finish as well this season they can consider it a successful campaign. The green material that will form the foundation of this year's quintet must start fast and gain speed as it goes along to make a commendable showing.

The A. & M. lineup will be filled with comparatively inexperienced youngsters who are to discover that playing under conference fire is a far cry from stardom in high school competition.

Of the Aggie regulars of 1933, only Captain Joe Merka, center, remains. On his experienced shoulders will rest the burden of keeping the youngsters cool and going at top speed once conference competition starts.

Other varsity lettermen returning include Ellis Stansel, forward, and Griffith Breazeale, center. Both were reserve players last year.

Merka and his 6 feet, 3 inches will tower at center beyond any doubt. Merka looped 28 field goals and 22 free shots in conference games last season for a total of 78 points. He promises to be an improvement this year in scoring and floor work.

Stansel looms as a first ranking choice for one of the forward positions. He is rated as a sharp shooter who may come through even better than Reid expects. Earl Shepherd, who has been two years on the varsity squad, probably will get the other forward post. Shepherd is 6 feet in height. After watching conference games from the bench for so long he should be ripe for a real shot at a regular starting position.

Lindsey Lawless, a sophomore, and Monte Carmichael, another candidate up from the freshman

FORMING CHARACTER SHOULD BE CHIEF AIM OF FOOTBALL, SAYS OLD-TIME END AT YALE

Winning or Losing Does Not Matter But Wanting To Win Is Important.

By EDWARD J. NEIL.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Dec. 14 (AP)—A somewhat different picture of an old Yale Blue looking over the perplexing football situation at New Haven is presented by Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, an end of over two decades ago, bracketed in the memory of veterans with Yale's immortals, Frank Hinkley and Tom Shevlin.

"Winning or losing games doesn't mean anything," he said as he sat at his desk, president of Madison Square Garden. "Five years after any season what will it matter who won any game anybody played on any certain date?"

"But all their lives the things they should learn from playing football, the things that proper squad, probably will be first choices for the two guard positions. Both are over the 6-foot, 1-inch mark. Coach Reid has 20 basketballers to select from, and if any of the probable regulars fail to come through he will have Johnny Davis, Bill Harris, Tommy Hutto, Herbert Noelke, Lawrence Shepherd, and Max Tohline as forwards to draw from. For extra material in the defensive corps he has John Gregory, Ray Murray, Percy Shands, Bill Sodd, Don Varnell, Carlton White, and Taylor Wilkins. His reserve centers are none, unless he sees fit to use Tohline and Breazeale at the pivot position when Merka is out of the lineup.

Reid realizes he has a difficult basketball road ahead of him. He is looking forward to an evenly matched pennant chase and does not believe the championship will be determined until the final games. "It should be similar to the conference football race," he said. "With every team having a fighting chance for the championship."

The Aggies, who do not look like a third place team on the advance dope sheet, will open their conference race against the Rice Owls at Houston on January 10.

coaching and handling can instill in the character of boys of college age, will matter a very great deal. "One of the reasons football is a great game is because it teaches discipline. You can't be a good football player any other method than hard work and self control. A good coach develops those tremendously important things in the boys he handles. They profit by it all their lives.

"Strangely enough, but understandable enough, an unsuccessful coach is always the most popular coach with his players. He has been unsuccessful because he has been lenient with them, has not taken them to task for their mistakes. He hasn't taken the harder road, teaching discipline."

"The second thing they must learn is to fight for an objective, and if they fail, to come back the next year fighting harder. That's a trait to develop in college, in football, that means something after graduation. When Yale football players today say they play for fun and not to win, they're giggling around. They have no objective. They'll regret that they learned to do anything that way.

"A lot of years ago at Yale they gave me a jersey. 'Here's your blue jersey,' they said. 'It means a great deal. At Yale we've got a book of football that goes far back. There are brilliant pages in it, and we thumb them all over all our lives. There are pages in there that are not so good. We hurry over them. Here is a fresh page in that book and it's yours, to write in brilliantly, or poorly."

"When I went out there to play they said:

"That's Bud Hinkley's end. Play it the way he'd want it played."

"Left guard was the guard Pudge Heffelfinger played, and Gordon Brown. It was a tradition handed down from a famous line. When you were finally named to play a position like that, it was the first great trust imposed in you all your life. Living up to that trust built something you find only in men. "When I go down to Yale now and see a boy playing left end, he's playing Hinkley's end, my end. It's difficult to understand, hard to ex-

BOBCATS DUE TO PROVE MOST DANGEROUS OPPOSITION SINCE SANDIE GAME

ANGELO TEAM AT CREST OF VICTORY WAVE

PAMPANS DON'T LOOK SO GOOD IN LAST SCRIMMAGE

Pampa's Harvesters yesterday went through their last scrimmage before going to Lubbock to play in the high school quarter finals. The boys came through the long, stiff workout without injuries. Captain Jess Patton, Miles Marbaugh, Bill Donaway, and Roscoe Pinnell were kept on the sidelines.

The boys looked good in spots and ragged in others and Coach Odus Mitchell almost decided on another scrimmage this afternoon, but changed his mind. The team will leave for Lubbock by car tomorrow morning and will have a light workout on Tech field tomorrow afternoon. The game will be called at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

All the cripples are expected to be ready for action Saturday. Dunaway is the only one that may not be able to play. Patton has an old knee in jury lock, but it is responding to treatment. Marbaugh's leg is doing well and the coach did not want to hurt it by using the long lefthander in scrimmage. Pinnell's ankle is responding to treatment but his cut lip and eye are still painful. Dunaway's back is not improving by treatment and coaches are worried about him.

Coach Argus Fox and fans who have been San Angelo play talk about the huge Bobcat line, the crashing power of Curly Hays, big fullback, and the speed of little Herbie Reid, quarterback. While weight figures released by San Angelo show the two teams nearly even, fans report the Bobcat team to be much heavier than the Harvesters.

Captain Codgell of the Abilene Eagles told Pampa friends that the San Angelo line was the biggest he had encountered during the season, and that it was almost impossible to get through it for gains. He admitted that in a football uniform Reid could outdistance him, but that the two were evenly matched on the cinder path. Coach Fox believes Reid even faster than Brookshire, Abilene mite.

Every man in the San Angelo backfield will outweigh the Harvester starting secondary. Captain Reid at quarterback tips the scales at 186 pounds. Tucker and Wagon, two halfbacks, weigh 145 and 159 pounds, respectively. Big Curly Hays, fullback, is listed at 175 pounds, but looks nearer 200. However, the San Angelo weight will be at center, where Pete Castello, San Angelo's bid for all-state center, is located. Castello weighs at least 190 pounds.

Officials for the game will be Rickenstein of Fort Worth, referee; Payne of Abilene, umpire; Cranfill of Abilene, headlinesman; Chapman

Gorillas Will Play McLean In LeFors Tourney

The Pampa Gorilla basketball team will play McLean in the second game of the LeFors invitation tournament in LeFors at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Harvesters will play the Miami Squaws at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Their next games will not be until Saturday.

Fifteen teams had entered the tournament yesterday, and although entries had closed, it was thought likely that two or three more teams would enter to even the brackets. Finals in both boys' and girls' divisions will be Saturday night.

Statues will be awarded winners and runners-up in each division. The prizes are among the best given in invitation meets in this section. Close play is expected.

T. H. McDonald and Ben Gull will be in charge of the Harvesters, and E. N. Denard and Harry Kelley will coach the Gorillas. The teams have been practicing less than two weeks and have played only two exhibition games.

Domino Tourney For State To Be Held at Lufkin

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Crowd in close, spectators, and let enthusiasm for your favorite run wild. The drama of the double six or who has the double blank is under way. The battle for supremacy with domino blocks takes the spotlight.

The rusty coal and wood stoves in general merchandise stores at villages and crossroads are deserted and the cracker barrels no longer stimulate mental arithmetic while a player figures up how much two fives, a tray, and a six total. Yep, the favorite stoves, cracker barrels, and whittled soap boxes are forlorn these days. The various town domino dignitaries have gone into the big-time. They have pulled stakes and gone on location at Lufkin where scores of communities have sent representatives to participate in the first known state domino championship games—where the double six will be the conversation of the day and not who will coach the University of Texas.

Serious? Yes, indeed! Jack McDermott, secretary of the Lufkin chamber of commerce, is sponsoring the state championship. McDermott of Lubbock, field judge.

REPEAL HITS CITY DUMP

POMONA, Calif.—With the repeal of prohibition the caretaker of Pomona's city dump has found it necessary to ask for an allowance of $30 monthly.

It seems that about 35 Pomona bootleggers have purchased thousands of whisky bottles from the caretaker in the last few years.

Came repeal and with it went the caretaker's source of revenue. He told the city council that every bootlegger in the city had been forced out of business. The council voted him the allowance.

'GOOSE' GOSLIN IS TRADED TO DETROIT CLUB

CHICAGO, Dec. 14 (AP)—Major league club owners drew off by themselves today for their joint meeting, while the traders gathered around to get in their last licks.

Foremost on the program of the joint meeting was the discussion of a standard baseball, and it was expected that both leagues would be committed to the use of a similar sphere by the time the meeting ended. Five of the six National league managers present yesterday took the initiative in the movement, recommending that a livelier ball be adopted.

The prospect was that the National league magnates would agree

Man Well-Known in Skellytown Dies Suddenly

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 14 (AP)—A candid story of how he turned "brute" to rehabilitate his reputation as a wrestler, was unfolded before a circuit court jury by "Rough House" Nelson in a $35,000 damage suit resumed here today.

Nelson was a witness for Tom Packs, veteran St. Louis sports promoter and defendant in the suit brought by Harry Sharpe, referee, who claims he was injured by infuriated wrestling fans after a bout in February, 1930.

It was nearly 10 years ago, "Rough House" related, that he reluctantly decided he was finished as a straight wrestler.

"I was no gentle wrestler," he said, "but I decided I would have to change my tactics and become a brute. The promoters liked my new style because these methods drew bigger crowds."

Asked if he wasn't known as the "bad boy" of the wrestling game,

PIONEER BANKER DIES

COLEMAN, Dec. 14 (AP)—Burgess Weaver, 55, pioneer West Texas banker, died at his home in Santa Anna today. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Mrs. A. C. Davis of LeFors visited in Pampa last night.

Mrs. Joe Doby of LeFors spent the morning shopping in Pampa.

Nelson replied, "I guess so. I am an expert hair puller and eye-gouger." "And the more you could get the fans to holler and swear at you the better?" asked Robert Kratky, attorney for the plaintiff.

"Yes, sir," replied Nelson.

"Your opponent had all the sympathy of the audience?" Kratky asked.

"I suppose they did," replied the wrestler. "I know I never got any. But I could get more matches and make more money. Even though the fans were infuriated they would pay to come and see me and they liked it."

"How about throwing your opponent out of the ring?" asked the attorney.

"That's a good idea," the witness responded calmly. "Usually that cripples them and you don't have to bother about them any more that night."

"Rough House" modestly refused to "claim the honor" of founding the "new school of wrestling."
