Hazardous Waste Day on the horizon

By DAVID BOWSER
Staff Writer

City officials were busy recently putting the finishing touches on their plans for a Household Hazardous Waste program.

Still a month away, the city's annual hazardous waste disposal day is an annual event.

"We've done this for 11 or 12 years in a row," said Richard Morris, Pampa's public works director.

Scheduled from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Sept. 9 at the city's service center next to Hobart Street Park, Household Hazardous Waste Day provides homeowners with the opportunity to dispose of paint, pesticides, antifreeze, batteries and a limited number of tires, Morris said.

This year, he said, they will accept only automobile tires and the limit is eight.

"It's always funded by the city," he said of the project.

The city pays the first $10,000 in disposal fees. Celanese funds the rest, Morris said.

"In the past," he said, "that's amounted to $15,000 to $16,000."

Morris said the city contracts with Enviro Solve to take most of the hazardous waste.

He said the city takes batteries to a recycling center in Amarillo.

"Tire King of Plainview collects the tires," Morris said.

Morris said the city usually recycles paint. Much of the paint is made available to church groups.

"The city uses some of it," Morris said.

Community readying for annual poker run

By MARILYN POWERS
Staff Writer

The fifth annual "Lost in Lefors" poker run to benefit the Lefors Volunteer Fire Department and EMS service will be Aug. 26 in Lefors.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and continues until 2 p.m. The first bike out will be at 10 a.m., with the last bike out at noon. The last bike in will be at 3 p.m.

Entry fees for the poker run are $10 per hand. T-shirts will be given to the first 100 entrants. All entrants will be provided free drinks and sandwiches at lunch, and a chance to win door prizes. Players do not have to ride in the Poker Run to play a poker hand.

Awards will be presented at 6 p.m.

Craft and food vendors will have booths set up all day in the ball park.

The Rock Bottom Band will provide music all day and at a street dance which begins at 9 p.m. in front of the Lefors VFD station. There is no charge to attend the dance.

Bike games, a slow race and balloon toss will begin at 3 p.m. in front of City Hall. A bike show will be from 4 to 5 p.m.

A 2006 Harley-Davidson Streetglide motorcycle and a new Diamond C triple rail motorcycle trailer will each be given away. Tickets for chances to win the motorcycle are available for a $50 donation per ticket; trailer chances are $10 donation per ticket. Each giveaway is limited to 1,000 tickets.

The trailer drawing will be at 6:30 p.m., followed by the motorcycle drawing at 7 p.m.

Door prizes, raffles and a 50/50 event are scheduled for 6 p.m.

The Christian Motorcycle Association will conduct church services at 8 m. Sunday. Breakfast burritos will be served, and donations for the meal will be accepted.

There are currently 110 early entries for this year's poker run, said Lefors VFD Chief Archie Summers.

WOODY GUTHRIE

Organizers preparing next tribute

By MARILYN POWERS
Staff Writer

Pampa's Annual Tribute to Woody Guthrie will be Oct. 6 and 7 at the Woody Guthrie Folk Music Center, 320 S. Cuyler, and the Woody Guthrie Inn, 400 S. Cuyler.

A jam session for musicians will begin at 7 p.m. Oct. 6 at the railroad site across the street from the stage area, behind the Center. The session is open to players and listeners, and continues in "pickin' tents" all day Saturday.

A full day of events Oct. 7 begins at 10 a.m. when the Folk Music Center opens its doors to visitors.

Performances on the outdoor stage at the Inn begin at 11 a.m. and continue until 6 p.m. Musicians scheduled to participate include Tom Halliburton, Ken Wilson, Chuck Hartline, Michael Trimble, Herb Smith, Jerry and Jill Lister, Jimmy Flynn, Brad Mathis, and Darrel Hill.

Hot dogs and hamburgers will be catered by the Coney Island Cafe from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Beverages will be available throughout the day.

Musicians will tell the story of Guthrie's life from his years in Pampa to his arrival in New York City, 1936 to 1947, using Guthrie's own words and music, from 2 to 6 p.m. Loralee Cooley will be the reader, and performers will be Pat Stewart of St. Louis, Mo.; Frank Simpson of Madison, Wis.; Sarah Atherton of Amarillo; K.C. Mathey and C.T. Clothier, both of ► Hunter Lewis of the City of Pampa's Public Works Department installs a new school crossing sign near Wilson Elementary School on Browning Street recently. New signs and freshly-painted crosswalks are an indication that the new school year is about to begin. Pampa Independent School District's campuses begin classes on Tuesday.

City to meet

Pampa City Commission will consider a tax increase proposal and schedule public hearings at its next meeting slated at 4 p.m. Aug. 14 in the City Commission Chamber at Pampa City Hall.

City officials will consider setting the hearing at 4 p.m. Aug. 22. Commissioners will also look into vacating surface use of a portion of the alley in Block 2 of the Highland Park Addition.

A work session is planned to review the proposed 2006-07 budget.

On August 10, 2006, our beloved husband, father, father-in-law, PapPa and great-grandfather, Jerry Dee Edgar, passed from this life to eternal life with his Heavenly Father and Savior. He was 76.

He was born September 9, 1929, at Hayward, Oklahoma. He and Mary Lou Gowdy were married on August 12, 1952, in Elk City, Oklahoma. She preceded him in death on November 20, 1995.

Jerry and Daphna Shipley were married on September 6, 1997, and they made their home in Perry, Oklahoma.

He was in the oil and gas industry and owned and operated J.D. Edgar Pipe Inspection in Oklahoma City before retiring in 1992. He resided in Pampa, Texas, from 1961-1973.

Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. Monday, August 14, 2006, at the First Baptist Church in Perry. Rev. Buddy Hunt will officiate. Committal services will be at 2 p.m. Monday, August 14, 2006, at Chapel Hill Cemetery in Oklahoma City. Services will be under the direction of Brown-Dugger Funeral Home of Perry.

Edgar

A family visitation will be held from 6-8 p.m. Sunday, August 13, 2006, at Brown-Dugger Funeral Home.

Memorials may be made to Judith Karman Hospice in care of Brown-Dugger Funeral Home, 1010 N. 7th Street, Perry, OK 73077.

Survivors are his wife, Daphna Edgar; one son, Michael Edgar and his wife, Paulette, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; one daughter, Pamela Northcutt, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; five grandchildren, Matt

Edgar and his wife, Casie, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Angela Kreaps and her husband, Michael, of Edmond, Oklahoma, and Leslie Northcutt, Morgan Northcutt, and Ashley Northcutt, all of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; two great-grandchildren, Caleb Kreaps and Katelyn Kreaps, both of Edmond, Oklahoma; one brother and two sisters.

He was preceded in death by his parents; his first wife, Mary Lou Edgar; three brothers; and three sisters.

Condolences may be sent to the family using our online guest book at www.brown-duggerfuneralhome.com.

Jack G. Humphreys, 82

CLAUDE — Jack George Humphreys, 82, of Claude, formerly of Pampa, died Aug. 11, 2006. Graveside services were Saturday in Hillcrest Cemetery in McLean with Arvia Willingham, of the Church of Christ in Pampa, officiating. Arrangements were under the direction of Bailey-Ware Funeral Home of McLean.

Mr. Humphreys was born Oct. 18, 1923, at Chilcothe, to George and Beulah Humphreys. He moved from Shamrock to McLean in 1940.

Mr. Humphreys joined the Army in 1943 and spent 23 months overseas, completing his term in 1945.

In 1957, he moved to Shamrock and married Marcie Slaughter. He left Shamrock and moved to Pampa in 1959.

He was a tool dresser with Copan Oilfield Industries in Pampa for 22 years. He retired in 1988.

Survivors include four cousins, Dot Weatherly, Evelyn Mason, Wilma Mason, all of Pampa, and Carl Mason of New Braunfels.

The family requests memorials be to BSA Hospice in Amarillo.

Vernon R. Stuckey, 99

Vernon R. Stuckey, 99, of Pampa, Texas, died Aug. 9, 2006, at Kaufman, Texas. Graveside services will be at 10 a.m. Monday, Aug. 14, 2006, at Fairview Cemetery with Steve Porter, elder of the Primitive Baptist Church of Paducah, officiating.

Arrangements are under the direction of Carmichael-Whately Funeral Directors of Pampa.

Mr. Stuckey was born Feb. 12, 1907, to Fred and Nellie Stuckey in Arnett, Okla., which was Indian Territory at the time. He was the fifth of 10 children. He moved to Pampa in the 1930's and worked at the Schneider Hotel where he met Bonnie Patton.

They married on Sept. 14, 1940. She preceded him in death on Sept. 9, 1994, after 54 years of marriage.

Even though he was well above military age, he joined the U.S. Army Air Force in June of 1942.

He was an active member of the First United Methodist Church and the Men's Fellowship Class, and was a member of the VFW Post #1657.

Until the late 1970s, he worked as a barber in Pampa. After his retirement, he began mowing lawns until he turned 91. He often said that quitting the lawn mowing business was the biggest mistake he made.

Stuckey was preceded in death by a son, Gary Vernon Stuckey, on Sept. 17, 1941.

Survivors include one daughter, Pat Hall and husband Ron of Kaufman; one son, Schuyler Stuckey and wife Phyllis of Frisco; one brother, Bill Stuckey of Oregon City, Ore.; one sister-in-law, Virginia McDonald, formerly of Pampa; four grandchildren, Richard Hall and wife Tonya, Nicole Sutton and husband Andrew, Shawn Stuckey and wife Allison, and

WT: Centennial Class large

CANYON — It will be forever known as West Texas A&M University's centennial class, and early indications are that it will be a big one.

Incoming freshmen this fall will comprise WTAMU's centennial class because they will be aiming for graduation during the 2010-2011 school year, when the University — founded in 1910 — turns 100 years old.

That it may be a large class is evidenced by large attendance this summer at WTAMU's New Student Conferences. The overnight orientation and preregistration sessions for incoming freshmen drew 892 students, a 20-percent increase from last summer, when 741 freshmen took part.

The average attendance for New Student Conferences over the past four years is 762.

"This summer's orientation attendance is the highest on record for decades," Dr. Troy Johnson, dean of enrollment management, said. "It is an excellent sign for our University. We've got quality people and superb programs here, and by the number of beginning freshmen who are already committed to attending the University this fall, I think people are very much aware of it."

Add the fact that anywhere from 100 to 150 incoming freshmen historically register late, and the University could very well see its first 1,000-plus crop of incoming freshman since 1993, when 1,013 enrolled.

Another sign that the flock of incoming freshmen might be larger than usual can be found at the University's Office of Residential Living, where room reservations and security deposits by first-time student residents are on the rise for the upcoming fall semester.

Fall classes begin Aug. 28. The last day to register for the fall semester is Aug. 31. For more information, contact the Office of Admissions, 806-651-2020 or 1-800-99-WTAMU.

Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Bill Murlin and Carl Allen, both of Portland, Ore.

An outdoor barbecue supper will be served beginning at 6 p.m. at the Inn. A fee will be charged for diners over age 10.

An outdoor concert will begin at 7 p.m., featuring Murlin and Allen, known as The Wanderers, who will sing Guthrie's Columbia River songs. Murlin, an employee of the Bonneville Power Administration in Oregon, discovered Guthrie's connection to the music. Murlin collected and edited a book on Guthrie's Columbia River songs, which Guthrie wrote in the 1940s along the Columbia River while the Grand Coulee Dam was being built.

Cachet envelopes in four designs, with Pampa's 1995 Woody Guthrie postal pictorial cancellation using the Grand Coulee Dam postage stamp, will be available for purchase.

Hospital blues: Weighing in a 2 a.m. . . .

Spending eight days in a hospital is a miserable experience.

First thing they do is find a vein where they can install a semi-permanent device that will allow fluids to be administered. Then they start dripping those fluids into your body from plastic bags.

There are other outlets in the tube with which they use to shoot syringes full of other stuff into the vein.

Depending on your condition, they have a tube that they stick in your nose and snake down your throat to your stomach. It acts as a conduit to pump fluids from the stomach area.

Now, that tube down your throat is one of the most unnatural things you might ever experience. You will have a permanent lump in your throat and swallowing is hard to do and painful. One doctor told me, "Think of that tube as your friend."

If you are slated for surgery, the only agony to endure is coming out of anesthesia. That and the lingering pain from the incision.

But wait, there is hope. You will have a button that says "morphine," and you click the button and drops of morphine flow through the tube with the other chemicals. If you keep clicking the button, you will soon be high enough to not care about the shots they give you in your abdomen.

Then one of the nurses will come in and ask, "When do you take your pills?"

"I don't take pills," I say. "Besides, I'm restricted from taking anything except ice chips."

"Well, why do they have these down for you?"

"Beats me, but I'm not taking anything."

Then you might ask one of the nurses if they can unhook the IV bottle so you can shower. One day the nurse in charge allowed it, but on subsequent days the head nurse did not, saying the IV stand had to go into the shower.

Then they take your vital signs, blood pressure, temperature and oxygen level, about 20 times a day.

Early in the morning, about 3:30 a.m., the technician comes in and draws blood. It's a wonder I had much left.

So you finally get to sleep about midnight after watching mind-numbing television, and someone wakes you up at 2 a.m.

"Wake up sir; I need to weigh you," a voice calls out.

You wonder if you heard her right.

Get on a scale at 2 a.m.? "Get up sir; we need to get your weight."

Yes, you heard right. What is it about 2 a.m. that differs from the other 23 hours in a day?

Won't I weigh about the same at 2 p.m. as I do at 2 a.m.?

That was one question that no one could answer for me.

Today in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Sunday, Aug. 13, the 225th day of 2006. There are 140 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On Aug. 13, 1961, Berlin was divided as East Germany sealed off the border between the city's eastern and western sectors in order to halt the flight of refugees.

On this date:

In 1521, Spanish conqueror Hernando Cortez captured present-day Mexico City from the Aztec Indians.

In 1624, French King Louis XIII named Cardinal Richelieu his first minister.

In 1704, the Battle of Blenheim was fought during the War of the Spanish Succession, resulting in a victory for English and Austrian forces over French and Bavarian soldiers.

In 1846, the American flag was raised for the first time in Los Angeles.

In 1910, Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing, died in London.

In 1932, Adolf Hitler rejected the post of vice chancellor of Germany, saying he was prepared to hold out "for all or nothing."

In 1934, the satirical comic strip "Li'l Abner," created by Al Capp, made its debut.

In 1946, author H.G. Wells died in London.

Assessing our ability to pay the piper

After reading about the school remodeling issue through several issues of the newspaper, I came up with a few additional questions.

I keep seeing references about building a new middle school at a "yet undisclosed location" with room to build a new high school also. I for one would be very interested to hear figures on how much land we are discussing, cost factors and most importantly, location, which most Realtors would point out is the most important factor in house sales.

If we are talking about replacement of the high school being a foregone conclusion, then why are we proposing to spend money on an old facility? If I am going to be forced to replace something, such as a car, then I will not throw good money after bad into the old.

I would think that $21.2 to $17.8 million projected to be spend on "fixing the high school" would go a long way to building a new one.

After it is all said and done, what happens to the "improved high school facility?"

I know that a tremendous amount of work has already gone into this project, but we all need to remember two very important facts.

First and most importantly, what are our real needs, and what can we actually afford. Secondly, remember that the architect's job is to do exactly as they have done for which they are being reimbursed, and if we float the bond issue and charge them with overseeing the project then they make more.

This is not a problem if we understand, do we really

Idle American: NCAA going in circles

During more than half of my 40-year sojourn in higher education, I "poked fun" at college presidents. During 17 of those years, though, I was one, and became a "pokee" rather than a "poker."

The role of the latter was more fun. Once back in the 80's, when such references could be made in jest, an opening line at a convention of some 150 higher education CEO's warranted chuckles: "If a bomb exploded at this meeting today, it would set education FORWARD 100 years..."

Often, as is the case with lepers, politicians and Mel Gibson, these presidents are misunderstood, facing improbable - if not impossible - tasks. It's little wonder that they are "fiddle tight" most of the time.

Faculty members loosened me often. "Do you know what New York City cab drivers and college presidents have in common and how they differ?" one asked. "Both groups spend lots of time going in circles, but cabbies finally reach where they intend to go..."

Maybe such a message would be appropriate for the board of the all-powerful National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The much maligned description for presidents governing the NCAA is deserved, along with several other heartburn-inducing adjectives. I cite specifically the decision last year which, in effect, decreed that member institutions with Indian face of Native Americans, except in those rare instances where hostility and abuse occur. In short, this cavalier decision presumes that the NCAA fathers (and mothers) are empowered to "undo" what well-intentioned college leaders determined to be appropriate mascots, in some cases a century or so ago ...

We are led to believe that such action was in response to uprisings of Indian groups opposing such mascots. Such smoke signals were few, weak and perhaps misinterpreted.

In truth, such a decree is a slap in the face of Native Americans, except in those rare instances where hostility and abuse occur. In short, this cavalier decision presumes that the NCAA fathers (and mothers) are empowered to "undo" what well-intentioned college leaders determined to be appropriate mascots, in some cases a

I have contacted numerous sports editors, TV personalities, institutional administrators, coaches and others for their take on this decision. They are all opposed to the ruling, with most respondents wondering what may be trotted out next in the ongoing parade of political correctness.

Like most Americans, I am a mongrel, that is, "part this and part that." I'm part Indian - Mom would have said, "just a smidgen" - but that part of me is offended by decrees that in effect diminishes a proud culture that arrived here first. ...

Texas Thoughts

By The Associated Press

A sample of editorial opinion around Texas:

■ Aug. 7

The Dallas Morning News on students and mathematics:

Away from headlines about Iraq, Israel and immigration, the Bush administration is betting the farm on another issue: ramping up America's scientific and technological IQ.

The plan contains several elements, the latest being the panel Education Secretary Margaret Spellings recently appointed to determine how schools can best teach math.

Former University of Texas president Larry Faulkner heads up the group. And its report will be as crucial as all the recent literature about how to best teach reading.

Southern Methodist University's engineering dean, Geoffrey Orsak, makes a living digging into math and science instruction, and, when he stopped by our offices last week, he offered ideas the Bush panel would do well to include.

First, make math and science relevant. Kids spend their days living in a world of computers and technology, Dr. Orsak says, but most of their science classes focus on the natural world. Schools need to get them into experiments that relate to their lives.

For example, get them designing and building cell phones. Students can do this, he says, and it shows them how engineering is not a geeky topic. It affects how they live.

Curriculum also matters. Not only does rigor count; years of math and science instruction should build upon one another. Abilities to master calculus start in elementary school, where children should acquire the skills that will allow them to progress into algebra, geometry and calculus.

You'd think this happens, but not always. Creating sequential pathways remains a big challenge. It's hard, for example, to expect students to succeed in a college-prep science class if they haven't had a good ninth-grade biology class.

Dr. Orsak calls this getting into the "natural food chain." And kids get it, he

Farm Credit District reports growth in the second quarter

AUSTIN — The Farm Credit Bank of Texas and its affiliated lending institutions today reported a $1 billion increase in gross loan volume for the first six months of 2006.

The Austin-based bank and 21 financing cooperatives, collectively known as the Tenth Farm Credit District, make up the largest rural lending network serving Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico and Texas.

The district's net income for the quarter ended June 30, 2006, was $58.5 million, a 4.9 percent increase from the second quarter last year. Net income for the six months ended June 30, 2006, was $115.1 million, or 8.6 percent, above the first six months of 2005. Both net interest and noninterest income increased for the quarter.

Gross loan volume at mid-year was $11.2 billion, a 9.8 percent increase from the $10.2 billion reported at year-end 2005 and a 23.0 percent increase from the $9.1 billion at June 30, 2005. District credit quality remained strong, with 98.9 percent of gross loan volume rated acceptable at June 30, 2006, compared to 98.4 percent acceptable at year-end 2005.

"These strong financial results are good news, not just for the Farm Credit lending institutions throughout the Tenth District but also for our customers," said Larry Doyle, FCBT chief executive officer. "One of the highlights of the cooperative structure is that we can share financial success with our borrower-stockholders through annual patronage programs. Our goal is to continue our strong financial success for the benefit of our borrowers."

Combined assets of the district totaled $14.6 billion at mid-year. Members' equity in the cooperatively owned lending organizations totaled $2.0 billion.

The Tenth District is part of the nationwide Farm Credit System, established by Congress in 1916 to provide loans and financial services to agricultural producers, agribusinesses, and rural landowners and homeowners. Nationally, the Farm Credit System reported combined net income of $607 million and $1.161 billion for the three and six months ended June 30, 2006, as compared with combined net income of $519 million and $1.017 billion for the same periods last year.

Association. A native of Snyder, Texas, he was a football player, and later head coach, for the McMurry University Indians.

"When I arrived at McMurry, I was intrigued by the school's mascot," Teaff said. "A reservation was set up at homecoming, artifacts were all over the campus and there were many programs extolling our Indian heritage throughout the year. These emphases caused me to study the culture in depth, and help explain why I have Indian memorabilia in my home and office today," he added ...

Most affected schools are scrambling for new nicknames. One exception is Florida State. With lawyers, the Seminole Nation and common sense on their side, the FSU folks essentially told the NCAA to "butt out." They will remain Seminoles.

Likewise, Bradley University — as well as Illinois and Utah — have retained monikers of Braves, Fighting Illini and Utes, respectively. But for a dozen smaller schools with less clout, appeals have fallen on deaf ears. McMurry's final appeal was denied recently, as was the College of William and Mary. The latter wanted to retain its logo showing two Indian feathers ...

It would seem that the NCAA has bigger fish to fry, such as who's really in charge. One mountainous problem reduces the mascot controversy to comparative molehill status. The concern mentioned regularly, often in hushed tones, questions who's running the NCAA — the governing board or the almighty dollars of television.

Of course TV calls the shots. As recently as 20 years ago, its influence was comparatively minimal. For many decades, Wednesday nights and Sundays were viewed as "non-game times," respectful of times for worship. Now, church leaders might settle for a single hour held sacred on Sundays, perhaps even signing a non-compete clause ...

I did a double-take a few months ago when I learned that the 2006 NCAA football season will "kick off" with an afternoon game on Sept. 3. This is the initial nationally-televised intercollegiate game to open a season on a Sunday. Details of this first-ever such event caused a "quadruple-take." The game will pit Texas Christian University vs. Baylor University — in Waco. In the not-too-distant past, supporters of both schools would have marched on administration buildings to protest Sabbath Day games.

Indians may have much company on their Trail of Tears. In the meantime, lawyers' clocks are spinning and NCAA leaders' wagons are in a tight circle ...

says. They see that engineering can be cool.

That's the goal. By coming up with ways to make math relevant, the Bush panel can build up America's scientific base so we stay atop a world that spins on the brains of problem solvers and imaginative thinkers.

2006 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN CITY OF MCLEAN

This notice concerns 2006 property tax rates for City of McLean. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments are required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$81,921
Last year's debt taxes	$0
Last year's total taxes	$81,921
Last year's tax base	$13,015,105
Last year's total tax rate	0.629428/$100

This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$80,474
+ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$12,555,851
= This year's effective tax rate	0.640928/$100

(Maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearings.)

This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property and adjusting for any transferred function, tax increment financing, and/or enhanced indigent health care expenditures)	$80,474
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$12,555,851
= This year's effective operating rate	0.640928/$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	0.692202/$100
+ This year's debt rate	0.000000/$100
= This year's total rollback rate	0.692202/$100

Statement of Increase/Decrease

If City of McLean adopts a 2006 tax rate equal to the effective tax rate of 0.640928 per $100 of value, taxes would decrease compared to 2005 taxes by $1,268.

This notice contains summary of actual effective and rollback tax rates' calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at 205 North Russell, Pampa, Texas 79065.

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

The City of McLean will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in the preceding year by 6.10 percent (percentage by which proposed tax rate exceeds lower of rollback tax rate or effective tax calculated under Chapter 26, Tax Code). Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property and the tax rate that is adopted. The public hearing will be held on August 21, 2006 at 1:00 PM at McLean City Hall, 220 Main Street, McLean, Texas.

The second public hearing will be August 28, 2006 at 1:00 PM at McLean City Hall, 220 Main Street, McLean, Texas.

The members of the governing body voted on the proposal to consider the tax increase as follows:

FOR: Betty Taylor, Molly McDowell, George Shaw

AGAINST:

PRESENT and not voting: Bob Martin

ABSENT:

Comparison of Proposed Budget with Last Year's Budget

Maintenance & Operations	5.76% increase
Debt Service	0.00% increase
Total Expenditures	5.76% increase

Total Appraised Value and Total Taxable Value as calculated under section 26.04, Tax Code

	Preceding Tax Year	Current Tax Year
Total appraised value of all property	$16,542,964	$16,431,770
Total appraised value of new property	$16,510	$27,969
Total taxable value of all property	$13,430,318	$12,583,820
Total taxable value of new property	$16,510	$27,969

BONDED INDEBTEDNESS

Total amount of outstanding and unpaid bonded indebtedness $0.

TAX RATES

Adopted tax rate for the preceding tax year	0.629428
Proposed tax rate for the current tax year	0.680000
Difference in the proposed tax rate and the adopted tax rate for the preceding tax year	$0.050572
Percentage increase or decrease in the proposed tax rate and the adopted tax rate for the preceding tax year	8.03% increase

These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Comparison of Residence Homestead Values

Average appraised and taxable values on residence homesteads are compared from the preceding tax year and the current tax year.

	Preceding Tax Year	Current Tax Year
Average residence homestead appraised value	$17,327	$17,371
Homestead exemption amount for the taxing unit (excluding special exemptions for persons 65 years of age or older or disabled)	$15,000	$15,000
Average taxable value of a residence homestead (excluding special exemptions for persons 65 years of age or older or disabled)	$2,327	$2,371

Comparison of Residence Homestead Taxes

The taxes that would have been imposed in the preceding tax year on the residence homestead at the average appraised value (excluding special exemptions for persons 65 years of age or older or disabled) are estimated to be $14.65. The taxes that would be imposed in the current tax year on a residence homestead appraised at the average appraised value in the current tax year (excluding special exemptions for persons 65 years of age or older or disabled), if the proposed tax rate is adopted, are estimated to be $16.12. The difference between the amount of taxes on the average residence homestead in the current tax year, if the proposed tax rate is adopted, and the preceding tax year would be 3,649.00 of $1.47 in taxes.

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: Both times I was pregnant, my mother-in-law, "Lois," talked non-stop about how much she wanted a granddaughter -- even after my husband told her we were expecting a boy. My husband's younger brother's wife recently had a baby girl, and now Lois keeps gushing on and on about how "wonderful" it is to have a granddaughter. She says nothing about the joys of grandsons. Recently, when the family got together, I "did not feel up to going" to the reunion because I was worried Lois would give all her attention to her granddaughter and ignore my sons. As a result, neither my husband nor our children went to the reunion. I worry about my sons not knowing their grandparents. Any suggestions? -- WONDERING IN NEW MEXICO

DEAR WONDERING: You didn't mention whether your husband has any sisters. It's possible that Lois always longed for a daughter, and this granddaughter is the fulfillment of her dream. That said, instead of nursing a grudge, or avoiding family reunions because of what you are afraid "might" happen, it's time you and your mother-in-law sorted this out woman-to-woman. While it's possible for a grandparent to favor one child over another, it is wrong to demonstrate it. And if, in the future, she does that, you would be right in limiting her time with the boys. But please don't jump the gun.

DEAR ABBY: I'm 15 and need some advice. I have tons of friends, but whenever I am around them it seems like I can't be myself. I act like someone totally different from who I really am. I want to stop acting, but I'm scared they won't accept me for me. I have had a bad past with people. Let's just say that instead of being queen of the school, I was queen of the losers. So now I'm, like, popular, but it sucks because I feel so fake. I love my friends, so I'm hoping if I reveal myself they will accept it. I don't know what to do and would really like to know what you think. -- "FAKE" IN GARDEN GROVE, CALIF.

DEAR "FAKE": I say, go for it. But start slowly in revealing your true self, so your friends will have time to accept the "real" you. This may seem like a hard choice, but you are paying a high price for your popularity. The way I see it, if you are pretending to be someone you aren't, then your friends aren't really your friends -- they are only friends of the persona you have constructed. William Shakespeare said it best: "This above all, to thine own self be true, 'And it must follow, as the night the day, 'Thou can't not then be false to any man."

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a wonderful, intelligent man who is in his 50s. I am 42. We have been talking about marriage after dating only a few short months. The problem is his incessant phone calls, sometimes up to 20 or 30 a day. If I don't answer, he calls repeatedly until I do. Abby, I have told him repeatedly that I hate being called at work so many times, but he continues. Is he obsessive, or is it love like he says? -- BUGGED BEYOND BELIEF, ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILL.

DEAR BUGGED BEYOND BELIEF: What you have described is not love; it's insecurity. This "wonderful, intelligent man" is not only obsessive, but also so absorbed with his own needs that he has no concept of what yours are -- even after being told. The incessant phone calls at work and his premature marriage proposal are both warning signs that you could be involved with a potential abuser. I urge you to step back and look at him from a different perspective before making any commitments.

Fritch Fortress boat ramp reopens at Lake Meredith NRA

FRITCH — The Fritch Fortress boat ramp at Lake Meredith National Recreation Area is now open, officials have said. The newly-extended ramp will once again provide lake access as the lake levels continue to fall.

The Fritch Fortress ramp was closed temporarily so that it could be lengthened for the third time in the last seven months. With the completion of this segment, over 80 feet of concrete extension has been added since February.

Heavy equipment was used to clear silt, sand and mud from the area in and around the boat ramp. "I am so proud of our guys over in maintenance!" said Park Superintendent Karren Brown. "They have worked tirelessly during this drought to provide the kind of lake access that the public expects. I couldn't ask for a better crew!" Visitors are reminded that as lake levels continue to drop, hazardous conditions may exist in some areas of the lake. Boaters should obey all hazard buoys and be aware of sandbars, limbs and other submerged obstacles. For questions about lake access or lake conditions, contact park headquarters at 419 E. Broadway in Fritch or phone (806) 857-3151.

need the full package, and can we afford it.
 It is just like my house. There are lots of things I would like to see done to it, and I am sure "professionals" could possibly find more to bring it up to the best standards, but I don't have the money to pursue any dreams like this at the present time, so I don't.
 Just another food for thought from an older citizen. My dad moved us from Pampa in 1962. Oil was down, housing sales were terrible, and our economy was not too good at that time.
 In 1972, I moved back, and white oil was king with the resultant surge of the economy. The oil industry belied up within a few years, and our economy suffered again. Due to oil, our economy is doing better today, but if you look at the drilling it is moving towards Oklahoma which at least keeps us in the service factor.
 What I am trying to drive home is that our economy is still heavily dependent on the oil industry which changes like our winds. If we jump in with both feet on this bond issue, then are we factoring in our ability to pay for it both now and in the future, and are we building a lot more in facilities that we will be forced to maintain in the future regardless of enrollment? Just remember how many vacant elementary buildings that exist around town.
 Unless we can twist our economy with new ideas to add variety to our local economy, then we must consider our ability to pay the piper in the future. Just think how big a blow to our economy a loss of a major employer would cause. A final really bad twist to consider is state provided funding.
 Look at how long it took the "children" in Austin to come up with the existing plan, and definitely don't ever figure that this is not going to resurface in the next session of our version of Kiddy Land in Austin. Also don't forget the unfunded demands that the state and federal governments like to dump on local taxpayers.

 My biggest point is that there are still lots of issues to be addressed on this issue, and the public needs to be looking at the facts now so that intelligent choices may be made when the time arrives. We do not need emotions to rule but cold logic when we start making the final decisions.
 Thank you for your time. The school board also needs to make sure the public is fully informed as they move through the process, so the public is well-informed of all the facts concerning this major project.

Israel has chosen courage instead of capitulation

Recently, Mr. Charley Reese wrote an Op-Ed piece which was printed in The Pampa News. Within the article, Mr. Reese advocated apologist views towards an Islamic terrorist organization — Hezbollah.
 Since the early 1980's, this organization has been a sworn enemy of the state of Israel. In practicing their terrorist activities, they have been empowered by Syria and most recently, Iran.
 Recently, the president of Iran stated that the eradication of Israel is a worthy goal and a solution to Middle East problems.
 Israel is a sovereign nation which has aggressively chosen to defend itself in a war against terrorists. In choosing to engage the enemy, they have chosen courage over capitulation. In my opinion, all nations will eventually be faced with this decision. The actions of the state of Israel should be supported by those who love freedom.
 Apologists for terrorists often cite the United Nations as a solution to military crisis. Recently, the United Nations Security Council enacted a resolution (1559) which stated that Lebanon was responsible for disarming the terrorist organization, Hezbollah. Lebanon chose not to disarm Hezbollah. In short, they chose cowardice over courage. This decision has reaped great destruction for the Lebanese people.

 In the future, perhaps we will be forced to make the same decision. I truly hope that the American people will choose courage. During the birth of America, Thomas Paine stated that those who expect to enjoy the blessings of liberty must undergo the work of supporting it. Today, the nation of Israel reminds all of us that freedom is not free — it is paid for by the blood of those who love freedom.

 In closing, those who sleep with dogs should expect to have problems with fleas. Those who choose to give terrorists a blind eye ultimately support their actions. We must face the battle against terrorism with courage, persistence and resolve for that is exactly the manner in which our enemy will engage this battle.

Soccer Camp 2006

Back for another weeklong youth soccer camp, Adam Martin (far left) and Brian Reed (far right) direct their young charges on the fields of the Pampa Soccer Association Thursday morning. Martin and Reed, armed with a wealth of soccer knowledge and deep British accents, spent the morning working with some of the younger students, including those pictured above.

Reed and Martin spark added interest in 'futbol'

By MICHAEL J. STEVENS
Sports Editor

Okay, here we know it as 'soccer'. But spend some time with Adam Martin and Brian Reed, and they will refer to it as 'futbol', only to stop, smile and say, "Sorry, I mean soccer."

The kids, sounding as though they just got off a British Airways flight, spent the week conducting what has become an annual soccer camp in Pampa.

I caught up with them Thursday morning at the Pampa Soccer Association fields where they were working with some of their youngest students.

"These kids are some of the younger kids and they are doing very well, actually," said Martin. "They're having fun doing fun things," he added. "They don't realize they're learning."

The kids were playing a sort of 'Tag' game while working the ball up and down the field and, occasionally, into the goal. Martin called one such game, "Fox Tails."

In playing these games, the young futbol players may have been unaware they were actually learning the fundamentals of the game. Explained Martin, "They are working on how to put the ball in play, ball control and moving the ball into space."

For many of the kids Martin and Reed were working with Thursday morning, this will be a time they decide whether or not soccer is the sport for them. "We call it the Golden Years," said Martin. "You've got to make it fun for them. If you don't make it fun, they're gone."

The pair spent the week with students ranging in age from five to seniors at Pampa High School.

And they liked what they saw, both in skill and growing interest. "We have more kids here this year than we had last year," said Martin who wrapped up his sixth Pampa soccer camp.

And as you watch, it is easy to see this sport is serious business to both men.

Though gaining in popularity, soccer is not the dominant sport in America that it is almost anywhere else in the world. Why?

"Soccer is 'the' world game," noted Martin. "Still, we find it is low-key in America, though interest is on the increase."

"Your football and baseball take precedent over almost everything else, but this is the world game, soccer."

Martin agrees part of the problem is America is just too diverse when it comes to sports. We do, after all, have an awful lot to choose from. But there is something else Martin feels may be keeping us from embracing his sport at the same level it is around the world.

"There's not enough scoring, there's not enough goals scored in soccer," said Martin. He may have a point.

America, for the most part, is an impatient sports fan.

We like action and lots of it. We don't have the patience for down time or tactical maneuvering.

America may not be ready for a sport that can be decided by a score of 1-0 or even played to a 0-0 draw.

So what about baseball? It can be decided by a 1-0 score. But there are games within the game. Strategies and guesswork that draw the true baseball fan in.

Hockey? It moves a little faster. And who doesn't look forward to a round of frozen fisticuffs?

Soccer, some would argue, is truly a thinking man's game. It forces a player to make a decision in the blink of an eye. "It is so tactical, so technical," said Martin. "In American football, plays are sent in from the sideline. In soccer, you have to think for yourself. You have to make quick decisions on and off the ball."

Martin believes interest in soccer is on the rise. But he can't see it ever surpassing football, baseball or basketball. "Soccer will always be down around the fourth or fifth major sport in the country," he said.

Adam Martin leads a group of young men in a pregame cheer Thursday morning.

POYC FOOTBALL

Organizers remind all parents and players registrations for the upcoming Pampa Optimist Youth Football season are set for Aug. 16, 17 and 18 at the POYC building. Fees are $35 for flag football, $55 for padded football. Both are open to boys and girls in grades 3 through 6. For additional information, contact the Pampa Optimist Youth Club.

Former Harvester Stone sets record

By MICHAEL J. STEVENS
Sports Editor

Pampa High School graduate Cory Stone set a new course record at the Kenai Chrysler Golf Championship in Kenai, Alaska Aug. 5. Stone opened the event firing a 5-under-par 67 on the first day of the two day event.

The previous record was 69 set in 2005 by three time champion, Billy Bomar.

Stone suffered some tough spots on day two. He opened with a double bogey, had issues with his putter and pitching wedge and finished the final round with a 79. Still, Stone took second place with a total of 146, just one stroke behind now four-time winner Billy Bomar (145).

Stone, who has spent some time on the NGA Hooters Pro Golf Tour, lived in Pampa and worked at Celanese before relocating to Katy.

Kubiak expects much from Carr

HOUSTON (AP) — It was nearing the end of a particularly grueling practice when Houston Texans coach Gary Kubiak approached David Carr and began barking commands inches from his face.

Kubiak had just watched as a pass flew over the head of a receiver and glared when a couple more were batted down by defenders. The tongue-lashing came because the offense was looking sloppy, and it was Carr's duty to make it right.

The moment was a testament to their reciprocal relationship. Kubiak's confidence in Carr allowed him to keep his job and get another opportunity to prove himself. In exchange Carr has to live up to the expectations of a former No. 1 draft pick and lead this team's turnaround. "I know I'm on him a lot and after him a lot," Kubiak said. "But it's for a reason because I want him to be successful, and I'm here with him to do that."

"I expect a lot out of him, and he knows that. He will know that every day."

After last season's 2-14 finish, fans campaigned for the Texans to take hometown hero Vince Young, the former Texas quarterback, with the top pick in the draft, a move that could have left Carr without a job.

Kubiak felt otherwise and was one of the catalysts behind the team exercising an $8 million contract option in February that could keep Carr with the team at least three more years.

Junior cowgirl

Little Lexi Didway proudly poses with the saddle she won as the Reserve 5-and-under All-Around Cowgirl in Vernon Aug. 4-6. Didway, who will start kindergarten at Travis Elementary next week, competed in barrels, poles and goat ribbon events. The rodeo was sponsored by the Junior Rodeo Cowboys Association. Parents are Chris and Tammy Didway of Pampa.

Kurt Busch wins pole at The Glen; Biffle crashes

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — Kurt Busch and Kasey Kahne did what they had to do. Greg Biffle didn't, and now faces a difficult road ahead.

Busch won his second straight road course pole on Friday, wheeling his No. 2 Miller Lite Dodge through the 11-turn Watkins Glen International course at 122.966 mph to knock Kahne (121.845 mph) to second. It was the third pole of the season for Busch and sixth of his career, and it came only moments after Biffle crashed on his qualifying try, relegating him to the back of the 43-car field.

Ryan Newman qualified third (121.642 mph), just ahead of four-time Watkins Glen winner Jeff Gordon (121.432 mph). Series leader Jimmie Johnson and Robby Gordon, who won this race in 2003, will start on the third row. Kevin Harvick and defending race champion Tony Stewart will go seventh and eighth. Kyle Busch and rookie Denny Hamlin round out the top 10, and Dale Earnhardt Jr. will go 11th. "You've got to let it rip when you've got the chance," said Busch, who posted the fastest lap in the final practice before his left front tire went flat. "The crew gave me a car capable of sitting on the pole. Maybe it'll stick and maybe it won't."

It didn't stick for Biffle, and with track position so vital on road courses because there aren't many places to pass, his wobble could put a big dent in his chances to make the Chase for the Nextel Cup championship. The cutoff is in five races, and the top 10 in the standings - and any others within 400 points of the leader after the first 26 races - qualify for the 10-race Chase.

Johnson holds a 107-point lead over second-place Matt Kenseth, who qualified 30th, and third-place Jeff Burton is a whopping 375 points behind. Barring a meltdown by Johnson, only 10 drivers will make the Chase for the third straight year.

DeRosa goes 3-for-4 in Ranger rout

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Mark DeRosa figures he's just got the good fortune of batting behind so many quality hitters in the Texas Rangers lineup. Except they wouldn't be scoring as much without the utility player turned everyday right fielder.

DeRosa went 3-for-4 with his second six-RBI game this week, helping the Rangers take full advantage of Seattle's early erratic pitching and fielding in a 14-7 victory over the Mariners on Friday night.

"The credit has to go to the guys coming up ahead of me," DeRosa said. "It seems like I'm coming up every time with the bases loaded or two guys in scoring position. I'm trying not to really think about it. I just want to bear down and have good at-bats."

DeRosa had two-RBI hits in each of the first two innings, when the Rangers batted through their order both times and led 10-0. The No. 6 hitter in the order - behind five current or former All-Stars - DeRosa added a solo home run in the third to make it 12-1 and later had a sacrifice fly.

The six RBIs matched DeRosa's career high, set only two days earlier when he had a pair of three-run homers in a 14-0 victory at Oakland that started the Rangers three-game winning streak - after they had lost four in a row. He also had a five-RBI game last week against the Los Angeles Angels.

"I harken back to watching him last year, in the middle of the summer just working his butt off at four or five different positions, being ready for when we need him, and preparing for the opportunity that he's gotten," manager Buck Showalter said. "You love to see that rewarded with the type of year he's having."

DeRosa has started at six different defensive positions, but Friday was his 45th start in right field. Third in the AL batting race going into the game, he raised his average to .333. His 12 homers and 60 RBIs are already career highs.

Carlos Lee and Gary Matthews Jr. also homered for the Rangers. Matthews was 3-for-3, including a two-run single, with two walks.

The Rangers sent 11 batters up in the first inning and scored seven times with only two hits - helped by four walks and two errors. Gil Meche (9-7) then walked the first two batters in the second and was done for the night before DeRosa's two-run double.

"We'll take them any way we can get them," Showalter said. "We have that potential to put a lot of numbers on the boards. ... I'm as proud of the walks as anything, setting up some big innings."

Kip Wells, making only his second start for Texas since being traded from Pittsburgh, didn't even factor into the decision. The right-hander twisted his left foot on an awkward follow-through, and left with no outs in the fourth inning.

Wells, who skipped his scheduled start Monday because of shoulder stiffness, allowed five runs and eight hits. Showalter said Wells appeared OK but that the foot would be re-evaluated Saturday.

Wes Littleton (2-0), the third reliever for Texas, pitched two scoreless innings for the win.

Meche allowed nine runs - only four of them earned - and walked six in his shortest outing of the season. Only 24 of his 54 pitches were strikes. The right-hander is winless his last five starts, 0-3 with an 8.45 ERA in that span.

"It was a matter of not being able to find anything," Meche said. "I couldn't find my release point. I was thinking where's my hand, where's my arm. ... The focus should be to get the ball and throw it. You shouldn't have to be thinking about mechanics."

The Rangers had the bases loaded in the first after Meche walked three of the first four batters. Hank Blalock then reached on an RBI fielder's choice, and all runners were safe because of first baseman Ben Broussard's throwing error.

Shortstop Yuniesky Betancourt's throwing error on Rod Barajas' grounder, which would have ended the first, allowed two runs before Matthews' infield single off Broussard's glove drove in two more.

Lee led off the third with his second homer for Texas, the first at home. The two-time All-Star outfielder hit 28 homers in 102 games for Milwaukee before being traded two weeks ago.

Wells allowed hits to each of the bottom three hitters in the Seattle's lineup in the fourth before getting hurt on a pitch to Ichiro Suzuki, who reached on an error by second baseman Ian Kinsler.

Josh Rupe replaced Wells and allowed a three-run homer to Raul Ibanez, the third batter he faced, that got the Mariners within 12-7. That came an inning after Ibanez had an RBI single.

Pettitte, Astros double up Padres, 4-2

HOUSTON (AP) — Andy Pettitte threw a gem, hit a homer and quieted the pitching ace in the locker next to his.

Pettitte hit his first career homer and matched a season high with 10 strikeouts to lead the Houston Astros over the San Diego Padres 4-2 on Friday night.

Pettitte's homer off Chan Ho Park came two days after Roy Oswalt hit his first career homer in a 14-1 win over Pittsburgh.

"It was nice, for one reason," Pettitte said. "Now, we don't have to listen to him too much."

Oswalt retrieved his home-run ball from the fan who caught it, trading it for an autographed bat. He chided that he gave the fan one of Pettitte's bats because of how little they're used. The jokes can stop right there.

"That was a dagger to the heart," a smiling Pettitte said of Oswalt's homer, "but now it's not anymore."

After Pettitte homered in the fourth inning, Oswalt was the first Astro to greet Pettitte when he returned to the dugout.

Like Oswalt on Wednesday, the fans held their standing ovation until Pettitte acknowledged them with a wave. While Oswalt hit his with a comfortable lead, Pettitte's drive tied Friday's game at 2-2.

"Roy had a little more room to relax," Pettitte said. "The way the season's going and the way I've been throwing the ball, I had a lot more on my mind than a curtain call."

But Pettitte (11-12) was untouchable after a rocky third inning and Craig Biggio doubled and scored the go-ahead run on Park's wild pitch in the fifth to help the Astros win for the eighth time in 10 games. Lance Berkman added a solo homer off San Diego's Alan Embree.

Brad Lidge shut out the Padres in the ninth to earn his 26th save in 30 chances.

Park (7-7) lasted five innings in his first start since being treated for intestinal bleeding with blood transfusions last week. Park allowed three runs and eight hits. He struck out three and walked two.

"For the layoff and what he's gone through, he threw the ball well," said San Diego manager Bruce Bochy. "He had some bad luck. But overall, I thought he had good stuff."

For the second time in 10 days, Pettitte turned in one of his best outings of the season against the Padres, who've lost four in a row and 10 of their last 14.

Gray County Association for Retarded Citizens will stage its annual trail ride, weather permitting, on Sept. 9 at Reynolds Ranch north of Pampa. Should inclement weather occur on the ninth, the trail ride will be pushed up to Sept. 16. Registration will be $20 per rider. A current Coggins test and original papers are required to participate. Prizes will be awarded, and the association will cater and provide refreshments. Sign-up will begin at 8:30 a.m. the day of the ride. The ride will last from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. For more information, contact Gloria Swires at 665-2294 or Sherry Carlson at 669-7171 or 669-9672. Children under the age of 15 must be accompanied by an adult.

Local Angus breeder in report

M H P Angus in Pampa owns one bull listed in the 2006 Fall Sire Evaluation Report published by the American Angus AssociationSM in Saint Joseph, MO. Issued in both the spring and fall, the new report features the latest performance information available on 6,369 sires.

"This report provides both Angus breeders and commercial cattle producers using Angus genetics with accurate, predictable selection tools for improving their herd," says Bill Bowman, American Angus Association director of performance programs. Expected Progeny Differences (EPDs) are generated from the performance database of the American Angus Association, which includes information submitted by more than 9,100 Angus breeders this past year through the Association's Beef Improvement Records (BIR) program.

EPDs are available for 17 traits and 5 $Value selection indexes. The $Values are designed to assist commercial producers in simplifying the genetic selection process.

Groups rallying together for river

CANADIAN — Thirty-two conservation groups and natural resource and wildlife agencies met recently in Canadian to discuss improving water quality, water quantity and wildlife habitat by removing invasive plants along the Canadian River in Texas and Oklahoma.

The meeting was hosted by the National Wild Turkey Federation, the Texas Prairie Rivers Region, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Estimates show the Canadian River alone has tens of thousands of acres in need of water and wildlife habitat improvement.

Riparian areas are prime habitat for both game and nongame species, including bald eagles, wild turkeys and many types of waterfowl. These areas also keep contaminants from reaching rivers, streams and lakes, prevent flood damage to nearby communities and croplands and reduce the need for maintenance to nearby drainage ditches and irrigation canals.

For more information about improving property with riparian habitat, landowners along the Canadian River in Texas should contact John Crowell with the North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development Council at (806) 669-0312.

geography is a flavor

FAMILY FEATURES EDITORIAL SYNDICATE

Between the tropics of Cancer and Capricorn, a "coffee belt" encircles the globe. Here, abundant sunshine, moderate rainfall and year-round warm temperatures nurture coffee trees. At harvest time, those trees are laden with bright red coffee cherries. Encased in a thin layer of fruit is a coffee bean — the seed of the coffee cherry.

Coffee is harvested primarily in three areas: Latin America, the Pacific region and Africa. The soil, climate, altitude and surrounding plants that a coffee tree is exposed to, as well as the method by which the bean is extracted from the fruit, all affect the flavor of the coffee. In the tasting room at Starbucks Coffee Company, coffee experts often experience and describe "the taste of the place."

To evaluate coffees, Starbucks tasters use a technique called "cupping." Small batches of coffee are roasted, ground and brewed without a filter. Each coffee's aroma, body, acidity and flavor are at a peak, and the tasters pick out nuances in each coffee's character and discuss them.

The tasters expect certain characteristics from each coffee, depending on their respective growing regions. Coffees from Latin America are generally light-to medium-bodied, with clean, lively flavors. Pacific coffees — such as those from Indonesia — are on the opposite end of the taste spectrum. They are typically full-bodied, smooth and earthy, with very low acidity and occasionally herbal flavor notes. Finally, coffees of East Africa and the Arabian Peninsula often combine the crisp, clean acidity found in Latin American coffees with intense floral aroma and enticing fruit or wine flavors.

The next time you pick up a bag of coffee, take a look at where it was grown. When you drink it, see if you too can recognize the taste of the place.

Tasting Terminology

Starbucks coffee tasters use a specific glossary of terms to describe coffees. The critical components of any coffee are as follows:

Aroma

The scent of a coffee is a very important component of its flavor. Much of our sense of taste is created through the nose and its olfactory glands, which add the thousands of subtleties that are tasted in food and drink every day.

Acidity

This term refers to the lively, palate-cleansing characteristic of all coffees grown at high elevation, which is experienced primarily on the sides of the tongue. Acidity is not the same as bitterness, but is rather a sensation reminiscent of fresh-squeezed juice.

Body

The tactile impression of brewed coffee in your mouth can be described as light, medium or full. Some coffees naturally have more body than others. The brewing method also affects the perception of body. Coffees made in a coffee press or an espresso machine seem fuller in body than those brewed by other methods.

Flavor

The most important tasting term describes the total impression of aroma, acidity and body. It can be used generally — "this coffee is flavorful" — or with specific attributes in mind — "this coffee has a chocolaty flavor."

Starbucks coffee tasters Anthony Carroll, Dub Hay and Andrew Linnemann experience the taste of the place by cupping coffee.

For more information on coffee, visit www.starbucks.com.

Bright red coffee cherries are ready to be hand-picked from the tree.

Caffè Diable

Great coffee with dramatic presentation
Serves 4

- 1/2 cup Starbucks Colombia coffee
- 2 1/2 cups cold, filtered water
- 8 sugar cubes
- 2 teaspoons orange extract
- 4 lemon peel twists
- 4 cinnamon sticks

Brew coffee according to appropriate proportions and brewing instructions. While brewing, drop 2 sugar cubes into each of four 10-ounce mugs. Saturate each set of sugar cubes with 1/2 teaspoon orange extract. Remove coffee pot from brewer and arrange mugs around it. Dim room lights and light sugar cubes. When the cubes are burning brightly, top with fresh, hot coffee. Garnish with lemon peels and cinnamon sticks.

Hot Coffee Cocoa

Coffee and chocolate blended together
Serves 6 to 8

- For the coffee:
- 1/2 cup ground Starbucks French Roast coffee
  - 4 cups water

- For the cocoa:
- 1 cup water
  - 1/3 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
  - 1/3 cup granulated sugar
  - Pinch of salt
  - 3 cups milk or half-and-half
  - 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract

1. To make coffee, brew measured amounts of coffee and water, using customary method. Keep coffee hot.
2. To make cocoa, in saucepan over medium heat, stir together water, cocoa powder, sugar and salt. Cook, whisking constantly, until mixture is smooth, then bring just to boil. Add milk and return to simmer. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla.
3. Combine hot coffee and hot cocoa. Serve in mugs or heat-resistant glasses.

Spiced Coffee

Elegant spices paired with heavy-bodied Sumatra coffee
Serves 8

- 2/3 cup ground Starbucks Sumatra coffee
- 4 cinnamon sticks, crushed or broken into small pieces
- 6 cups water
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cardamom
- 2/3 cup honey
- Half-and-half or milk

1. Mix together coffee and cinnamon sticks. Using coffee-cinnamon mixture and water, brew coffee by customary method.
2. Add cardamom and honey to hot coffee and stir until honey dissolves.
3. Serve warm. Pour about 2/3 cup coffee into each cup. Pass half-and-half or milk.

Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum planning back-to-school special for teachers

CANYON — It's time for educators to resume their important role in molding the minds of tomorrow's leaders. In honor of their commitment, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum is offering a "Back to School Special" for any one in the field of education. During the weekend of Aug. 19 and 20, educators will receive free admission to the museum with a valid identification of their affiliation.

For this occasion, the museum will offer a Back to School exhibit with photographs straight from the archives of school buildings, students and school teachers. Along with pictures of pupils lined up by height or sitting at desks in bare feet, school supplies from the history collection illustrate the difference in educational tools between then and now. The exhibit will continue through Oct. 15.

Cell phones: Good or bad at school?

(MS) — Cell phones today allow users to do a lot more than just make and take phone calls. Students can use their cell phones to take and send digital photos, text messages, and even short digital video clips. All of these uses have the potential to be a disturbance in school classrooms. As a result, some schools have instituted a ban on cell phones, or at least a mandatory "shut-off" of phones during classroom hours. Since some schools feel that cell phones are beneficial in emergency situations, but do not want them to be a distraction during lessons, the shut-off is a compromise for all involved.

STILLWATER, Okla. — Erin Winegeart, a 2004 graduate of Pampa High School, will be returning to Oklahoma State University as a freshman in Transition Student Academic Mentor (FIT SAM) for the 2006-07 school year.

Winegeart is a junior majoring in agricultural economics and accounting. She is one of six students selected to serve as a mentor to the 52 Freshmen in Transition in the OSU College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources.

F.I.T. is a living-learning community that focuses on leadership development and service learning. Fifty-two CASNR freshmen live in the same residence and enroll in common courses.

Students are encouraged to form study groups and social bonds that help ease the transition to college. Additionally, they learn about themselves, the campus and the community through their involvement in service projects and leadership workshops.

As a FIT mentor, Winegeart will help to serve as a built-in support system for the new freshmen by offering advice, confidentiality, and help with problems and issues, orientation to the campus and by serving as a friend and mentor.

At OSU, Winegeart is very active in Alpha Zeta, the honorary agricultural fraternity. She also participates in Iota Kappa and Hall Government.

Winegeart is the daughter of Micheal and Debbie Winegeart.

The United States Achievement Academy recently announced Libby Dyson of Pampa was named a United States National Award Winner in leadership.

The Academy bestows U S A A awards upon fewer than 10 percent of all American high school students.

All USAA award-winners will appear in the USAA Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners based upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors. Other criteria includes academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit and dependability. Dyson is a sophomore at Pampa High School, where she is active in volleyball and softball. She is the daughter of Jerry and Linda Dyson of Pampa and is the granddaughter of Mary and Onis Price of Pampa and Bill and Shirley Dyson and

2006 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN CITY OF PAMPA

This notice concerns 2006 property tax rates for City Of Pampa. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes on last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments are required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$2,058,774
Last year's debt taxes	$822,033
Last year's total taxes	$2,880,807
Last year's tax base	$414,504,604
Last year's total tax rate	0.695000/$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$2,783,493
+ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$436,213,213
= This year's effective tax rate	0.638103/$100
(Maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearings.)
This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property and adjusting for any transferred function, tax increment financing, and/or enhanced indigent health care expenditures)	$3,042,137
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$436,213,213
= This year's effective operating rate	0.697397/$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	0.753189/$100
+ This year's debt rate	0.197981/$100
= This year's total rollback rate	0.951170/$100
- Sales tax adjustment rate	0.236786/$100
= Rollback tax rate	1.714384/$100

Statement of Increase/Decrease

If City of Pampa adopts a 2006 tax rate equal to the effective tax rate of 0.638103 per $100 of value, taxes would decrease compared to 2005 taxes by $43,345.

Schedule B: 2006 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid from Property Taxes	Interest to be Paid from Property Taxes	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
1997 Certificate of Obligation	$130,000	$6,500	$600	$137,100
2001 General Obligation	$270,000	$70,450	$600	$341,050
2001 Certificate of Obligation	$103,925	$18,270	$600	$122,795
1999 Certificate of Obligation	$100,000	$117,119	$600	$217,719
2005 Certificate of Obligation	$0	$61,104	$600	$61,704
Total Required for 2006 Debt Service				$880,368
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A				$0
- Amount (if any) paid from other resources				$0
- Excess collections last year				$0
= Total to be paid from taxes in 2006				$880,368
+ Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only 100.00% of its taxes in 2006				$0
= Total Debt Levy				$880,368

Schedule C - Expected Revenue from Additional Sales Tax

In calculating its effective and rollback tax rates, the unit estimated that it will receive $1,052,917 in additional sales and use tax revenues.

This notice contains summary of actual effective and rollback tax rates' calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at 205 North Russell, Pampa, Texas 79065.

Pampa ISD Implements New Online Event Calendar

Do you know where your kids are supposed to be next Thursday at 7:00? Did you ever forget it was school picture day for your children? If those questions apply to you, then Pampa ISD's new dynamic online event calendar may be the answer you're looking for.

In an effort to help bridge the home-school connection, Pampa ISD has recently implemented a new online calendar system to help improve communication with parents, students, and the community at large. The district calendar may be accessed on the district's web site, www.pampaisd.net, from the "Parent Information" section. Both students and parents are able to see events from all campuses at the same time or select specific categories in which they have an interest. Users may also go to each individual campus calendar to view only those events pertaining to that campus. The calendar has a very intuitive interface allowing the viewer to see color coded events by campus and/or sports categories.

Although each event shows typical information such as the name of the event, its location, start and end times, etc, the power of this calendar goes even further. An event, or multiple events, may be selected by marking an adjacent checkbox. After the selection is made, the user can then click on a button at the top of the calendar which will allow that event to be added to their personal computer calendar. As if that were not help enough, there are selections at the top of the calendar which will also send an e-mail reminder or a text message to the user's cell phone as an event draws near.

Pampa ISD invites you to go to its web site often to check on events that may be of interest and explore the power of this exciting new technology.

- 1. Research Route to School: Parents and kids together need to map out what route to take to school, and any alternate routes. In addition to feeling comfortable with the busy streets, etc., it's very important that parents know who lives along the child's path. Megan's Law requires that any person jailed for a sexual offense and then released be "registered" in the neighborhood where they live. This is public record and parents should utilize it by visiting the police station and researching the route to school.
- 2. Encourage Responsibility: Yes, adults in cars should always be on the lookout for kids in the street, especially in a school zone, but we all know this often doesn't happen. Kids should not expect cars to look out for them; they need to take responsibility and protect themselves. Don't allow your child to walk to school wearing headphones or playing a Gameboy because this will make him oblivious to his surroundings.
- 3. Watch Child Reach Safety: If you drive your child to school, don't take off the moment she steps out of the car. Make sure she gets inside, or at least to the front lawn/sidewalk where she's with other students and teachers. Don't feel pressure to pull away just because cars are piling up behind you - this is important. Many kids disappear between Mom's car and the school. Also, the congestion of many cars and buses can be dangerous.
- 4. Advocate for Safety Changes: Parents often don't realize how much power they have to change things within a school. If you think your child's bus should have a crossing gate, or your school needs a call-back system (the administration calls if your child does not arrive at school), then gather other parents together and complain. Don't wait for these changes to be instituted as the result of a tragedy. Administrations are very open to listening and responding to parents. They don't want to be blamed for an accident, and they know that they're funded by the parents' tax dollars.

Finding the right car for your teen

(NAPSA) — Okay, you're thinking of buying a car for your driving-age teenager, and with the price of new cars climbing you've decided on getting one that's pre-owned.

These tips will help steer you towards a used car that fits the bill without breaking your budget.

- The first step is to determine how the car will be used by the teen. If it's for commuting or trips to college and back, then gas mileage and comfort may be your biggest considerations. With gas prices high, fuel economy is an important consideration.

- Make a list of some vehicle safety features you're looking for. For example, are you interested in anti-lock brake systems and integrated seat belt systems?

- Before you start shopping, set a budget for how much you want to spend. Research a few models that meet your criteria and price range. The Web sites kbb.com and Edmunds.com offer pricing information and comprehensive advice on buying a used car.

- Obviously, finding a safe and reliable vehicle for your teen is top priority. The Carfax Safety and Reliability Report allows you to view the auto industry's leading used-car safety ratings, reliability scores and reviews in one step. The information compiled in these reports can also give some good general advice.

- Now you're ready to start visiting dealers. For any vehicle you consider, ask detailed questions about the vehicle's performance and history, and request maintenance and inspection records. Also, get a Carfax Vehicle History Report (most dealers will provide reports for free; you just have to ask) or get one yourself at www.carfax.com.

- Always test-drive prospective cars on city streets and highways. This will give you a chance to thoroughly examine the car. Have your teenager drive it if you can. Make sure everything on the car works properly—brakes, gauges, lights, windows and locks. Also have a mechanic you trust check it out.

- In addition to that, you should take a look to make sure the body parts line up, the paint matches, doors open and close easily and the tires show even wear.

- Get a copy of "Finding The Best Used Car," available from the Federal Consumer Information Center in Pueblo, Colorado (www.pueblo.gsa.gov).

By doing your homework, you will be able to negotiate a good price for a reliable car. For more tips and information, visit www.carfax.com.

Gymnastics provides another fitness option for kids

(NAPSA) — Studies show that today's youngsters are a very inactive generation, and that inactivity and poor dietary habits have contributed to their lack of fitness. Statistics indicate that one in three kids is overweight or at risk of becoming overweight today, a percentage that has more than tripled in the last 30 years.

To help get kids off the couch and into better shape this summer, USA Gymnastics and Tyson Foods have joined forces to create a fitness initiative designed to encourage physical fitness through fun activities that emphasize four fundamentals of fitness: cardiovascular exercise, strength training, flexibility and nutrition.

To underscore this initiative's importance, USA Gymnastics has expanded its annual National Gymnastics Day from focusing just on gymnastics to "A Celebration of Fitness." Gym clubs and their members across the country use National Gymnastics Day in August as a way to give back to their communities by raising funds for the Children's Miracle Network. The Tyson Fitness Challenge is the main vehicle for raising funds. Participants may gather pledges for specified activities that range from the traditional cartwheels and backflips to fitness-related skills or elements.

Each of the four fitness fundamentals in the Tyson Fitness Challenge helps kids get physically fit through participation in fun activities geared toward their level and age.

- Cardiovascular conditioning, which is important for the heart and lungs

- Strength training, which builds strong, healthy muscles

- Flexibility exercises, which help muscles move through a normal range of motion

- Nutrition, because a well-balanced diet is an important key to any fitness effort. Protein, like that found in Tyson chicken, beef and pork products, is an important part of any well-balanced diet because it delivers the necessary nutrition for strength and endurance.

In addition to focusing on four fundamentals of fitness, each participant will learn how to set fitness goals (e.g., being able to do five more sit-ups, three more push-ups, etc.) that may be achieved through the Tyson Fitness Challenge and continued as a part of his/her weekly routine.

The Tyson Fitness Challenge is geared toward youngsters who are inactive, but kids at all levels of fitness can benefit from the strength and energy that comes from a good diet and exercise.

"The basics of gymnastics are a solid foundation for building fitness at any level," said Bela Karolyi, the legendary gymnastics coach who is a longtime proponent of the importance of fitness. "I have always stressed that flexibility, strength and cardiovascular exercise are important components to being fit or a good athlete, along with eating a well-balanced diet. The Tyson Fitness Challenge is designed to help young people learn how to exercise properly and eat right."

Whooping cough on the rise: Keep yourself and your family healthy

(NAPSA) — Whooping cough has been popping up in communities across the country and it's affecting people of all ages. If you haven't heard about this serious infection yet, chances are you will. But protection against whooping cough is readily available for you and your family.

That is why popular film and TV actor Cheryl Hines has teamed up with the National Foundation for Infectious Diseases' (NFID) Wipe Out the Whoop campaign. Together, they are encouraging all moms to make an appointment for themselves and their families to get the whooping cough booster vaccine.

"Work keeps me very busy, but family is my number one priority," says Hines. "It's important to take your baby to the doctor, but parents need to take care of themselves as well. Since whooping cough is such a problem, moms need to take the lead in getting family members vaccinated so the infection stays out of their homes and away from their babies." Hines is a series regular on HBO's "Curb Your Enthusiasm" and has appeared in numerous movies, most recently "RV" with Robin Williams.

Whooping cough, medically known as pertussis, can be tricky. At first it may appear like a common cold or bronchitis. But the infection can develop into uncontrollable coughing fits that may lead to difficulty breathing and sleeping and even fractured ribs. It takes months to recover and you could miss school or work. Even worse, whooping cough is very contagious, so other family members could get sick as well.

The childhood whooping cough vaccine eventually wears off, leaving adolescents and adults at risk for catching whooping cough and spreading it to others. That is why it is so important to get a booster vaccine to protect against whooping cough.

A mom infected with whooping cough can give the infection to her baby, who may be too young to be completely protected by childhood vaccines. Babies also tend to suffer from more serious complications, resulting in hospitalization and sometimes death.

"Whooping cough can be a serious infection, regardless of age," explains infectious disease specialist and NFID Medical Director Susan J. Rehm, M.D. "But babies are at greatest risk, so caregivers—moms, dads, grandparents—should make prevention a priority."

The whooping cough booster vaccine is called Tdap (tetanus-diphtheria-acellular pertussis). It also protects against tetanus and diphtheria, two other infectious diseases for which boosting is needed over time. Tdap is a new vaccine, so call your doctor before your next appointment to make sure it is in stock.

Make an appointment with your doctor to get the whooping cough booster vaccine, or visit www.nfid.org/whoop for more information.

2006 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN GRAY COUNTY GENERAL

This notice concerns 2006 property tax rates for Gray County General. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before tax payers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last Year's Tax Rate:	General Fund	Farm To Market/ Flood Control Fund
Last year's operating taxes	$5,137,649	$479,453
Last year's debt taxes	$121,365	$0
Last year's total taxes	$5,259,014	$479,453
Last year's tax base	$1,174,539,867	$1,164,427,444
Last year's total tax rate	0.447751/$100	0.041175/$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$5,185,134	$472,659
+ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$1,369,661,585	$1,359,907,695
= This year's effective tax rate for each fund	0.378570/$100	0.034756/$100
Total effective tax rate	0.41336/$100
(Maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearings)
This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property and adjusting for any transferred function, tax increment financing, state criminal justice mandate, and/or enhanced indigent health care expenditures)	$5,065,473	$472,659
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$1,369,661,585	$1,359,907,695
= This year's effective operating rate	0.369834/$100	0.034756/$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	0.399421/$100	0.037536/$100
+ This year's debt rate	0.008666/$100	0.000000/$100
= This year's rollback rate for each fund	0.408087/$100	0.037536/$100
This year's total rollback rate	0.445623/$100

Statement of Increase/Decrease
If Gray County General adopts a 2006 tax rate equal to the effective tax rate of $0.413326 per $100 of value, taxes would decrease compared to 2005 taxes by $8.981.

Schedule A: General Fund - Unencumbered Fund Balances
The following estimated balances will be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
Maintenance & Operations	$1,473,307
Interest and Sinking	$6,190

Schedule B: General Fund - 2006 Debt Service
The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid from Property Taxes	Interest to be Paid from Property Taxes	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
2001 Certificates of Obligation (Feb. 2007)	$60,000	$31,889	$0	$91,889
2001 Certificates of Obligation (Aug. 2007)	$0	$30,089	$0	$30,089
Total Required for 2006 Debt Service				$121,979
- Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A				$0
- Amount (if any) paid from other resources				$0
- Excess collections last year				$1,769
= Total to be paid from taxes in 2006				$120,210
+ Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only 100.00% of its taxes in 2006				$0
= Total Debt Levy				$120,210

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rates' calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at 205 North Russell, Room 100, Pampa, Texas 79065.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, Aug. 13, 2006:
You have a lot of energy this year that easily could be displaced. Spending might be a prime outlet for your frustration. Recognize the problems you could cause yourself. Work on detachment and solutions, and naturally head in your own direction. Education and/or travel could figure strongly into your year. If you are married, your in-laws add excitement and/or problems to your life. Develop compassion and understanding. If you are single, a relationship will open you up to more innovative thinking. You just might meet that special person in 2007. ARIES often offers original or different thinking.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have:
5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
★★★★ An unexpected incident starts your day. You also might receive strange news. Tap into a resource or ask a creative friend for help. Once you gain a perspective, life and the Ram regain their resilience. Tonight: You make the call. Others will respond.
This Week: Rev into high gear. Your ability to manifest peaks.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
★★★ Sometimes events or problems seem to swirl out of control. Today is no exception. Don't make a financial decision if you can avoid it. You could overspend. Choose not to risk. Lie back and give yourself time. Tonight: Get as much sleep as you can.
This Week: You peak Monday and Tuesday. Get out and do as much as you can.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
★★★★ Events could suddenly blow out of control. If you listen to others and know what your expectations are, you can quickly straighten out a hassle. A parent, boss or authority figure is out of kilter. Tonight: Get together with your friends.

This Week: Play it cool until Wednesday, then watch out, world!
CANCER (June 21-July 22)
★★★ You might not believe what could be dumped into your lap. You might change plans and do something totally different. Take charge; you will meet a responsibility. Rearrange plans. Tonight: Swap news with a friend.
This Week: Monday and Tuesday, tap into your effectiveness.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
★★★★ When the unexpected occurs, especially financially, don't get plugged in. Pull back and gain a perspective. Your decisions change later on. Refuse to go on automatic. Time is your ally. Relax at the movies. Tonight: Listen to music.
This Week: All eyes turn to you — for good reason.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★★ You will need a partner to pitch in. You might face losing this person if you don't extend your understanding. Sometimes you are combative and critical. Cool your jets and work with a situation, not against it. Tonight: Say yes to a request or favor.
This Week: Get as much information as possible, then act.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
★★★ You might be unnerved by a situation or how you are feeling. Handle your anger appropriately, otherwise it will take a physical toll on you. Ask for support, and you'll get just that. Don't worry about others' responses. Tonight: Happy as long as you are with people.
This Week: Work closely with others. Tap into your higher mind.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
★★★★ Information comes forward. Friends and/or a child could be prone to uproar. You cannot control anyone, much less this person. Stay cool and even. Be more nurturing with those in your life. Tonight: Make a list of what you must do.
This Week: Others claim their power. Let them. Everyone needs to see the direct results of their actions.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

★★★★ When you hit a problem or feel pulled between two choices, step back. Remember, there is always a solution. Reframe a situation or work on different ways of looking at a hassle. Solutions will follow. Use your creativity. Tonight: Naughty and nice.
This Week: Accomplishment and networking are your themes.
SAGITTARIUS (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
★★★★ Plans could change radically. You could be taking off at the last minute. Your perspective changes because of what you hear and see today. Remember, your comfort needs to be primary. Take care of yourself and close loved ones. Tonight: Add a little more vulnerability to a conversation.
This Week: Creativity comes forward. It plugs any hole in the dam of life.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
★★★★ You might over-talk a situation in order to find a solution. Your finances could play a substantial role in your plans and what happens. Instead of reacting, look around and see how others are dealing with the pressure. Visit with a pal or neighbor. Tonight: Return calls and e-mail.
This week: Take a few days off. Think about working from home.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
★★★★ Someone might be creating an uproar, but you are also feeding the situation. Learn to pull back and not get plugged in. Blaming will not help. Think positively about another's offer. Take off and get away from a problem. Tonight: Order in.
This Week: Return calls. Expect to be busy, busy, busy. No wonder you collapse by Thursday.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, Aug. 14, 2006:
Manifest your solid, direct style, and you will make inroads. Others respond to your leadership, though responsibility could cramp your style. Your style might need to take a back seat when leading. Some of you could actually decide to head in a new direction or do something totally different. The outside world perceives you differently and sometimes puts you in a box. As a result, you will keep your personal life separate from your professional dealings. If you are single, you will meet people easily. 2007 holds a dynamic relationship for you. Get to know each other well before plunging in. If you are attached, including your sweetie in your professional or outdoor life is important. So is making plenty of private time for this sweetie. TAURUS pushes your buttons.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have:
5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
★★★ Money does make a difference. Your decisions need to focus on communication and effectiveness. You might have to cut your budget in order to purchase something new or to make a change financially. Be more aware of others' spending. Tonight: Scan your budget.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
★★★★ You might want to rethink a situation more carefully. How you deal with someone and what goes on could change radically if you let it. Think in terms of positive changes and new experiences. Easily, you could be overwhelmed by so much information and news. Tonight: Live it up.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
★★★ You might not like what you hear, but it would be wise to absorb information and simply not react. What you hear could radically change shortly. Lighten up about the possibilities. Your instincts need to come out. Tonight: Take some personal time.
CANCER (June 21-July 22)
★★★★ Emphasize your long-term goals and don't get caught up in the immediate situation — you will be much happier. What comes out could open up another perspective. Curb your spending, if possible. Tonight: Where your friends are.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
★★★★ You have energy and charisma, but those who are in charge could be touchy and difficult. Deal only with what you must, but go in a new direction. Not every path is paved with flak. You simply need to find the right road. Tonight: A force to be dealt with.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★★ You might be more out of sorts than you realize. Understand what makes someone tick, and you're halfway there. Take time to step back and look at the complete situation. Tonight: Easy does it.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
★★★★ Friends might be pushing you in one direction, whereas a serious relationship will provoke another response. Think in terms of gains and growth. Deal with people individually, honoring your priorities. Tonight: Easy does it.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
★★★★ Others certainly raise the roof and cause you to step back. Being out of the chaos is the best place to be. You don't want to get caught up in the present undercurrents. Let others run the show. Happily head in the direction you want.

Tonight: Say yes.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
★★★★ Your perspective and information don't click with another's actions. Become more observant, and know that something is out of kilter. Focus on your routine, though do schedule an outing to the theater or a concert. Tonight: Get some exercise.
CANCER (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
★★★★ Your creativity could be needed when dealing with a child and loved one. Contradiction surrounds people or plans. Step back and decide how you can do it all. Carefully listen to what someone is sharing. You'll gain insight. Tonight: Do you really care that it's Monday?
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
★★★★ Pressure builds from others. How you decide to deal with it depends on their demands. You can decide that everyone is unreasonable. You say what is necessary to let others understand what your limits are. Tonight: Happy at home.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
★★★★ You talk up a storm. You might get better results if you pull back, understand and listen. The whole story hasn't revealed itself yet. Think about moving in a new direction. Don't let energy become diffuse. Tonight: Hang out.
