GETTING READY—Gray County's unit of the American Cancer Society is getting ready for its annual house-to-house campaign for funds and to distribute educational material. Annual Cancer Crusade Will Kick Off Tuesday

The house-to-house drive of the annual April Cancer Crusade will be conducted in Pampa Tuesday, beginning in the late afternoon. Mrs. Bill Duncan is serving as chairman and Mrs. Glen Larsen as co-chairman of the Pampa drive.

Similar drives are being conducted in Lefors and McLean. The Lefors Art and Civic Club directs the drive in that city each year and the McLean Volunteer Firemen make the drive for the city of McLean. Mrs. William Taylor is serving as drive chairman for the rural areas of the county.

A Robert E. Lee eighth-grade science class assumed the project of stuffing the 600 residential worker's packets. They became so interested that they asked to have a part in the actual campaign. Under the leadership of their teacher, Mrs. Joe M. Daniel, Jr., these young people will canvas the apartment area west of Coronado Inn.

The Tru-Teens, another youth group, will serve as workers for an area. The Rebecca Lodge will again furnish workers for another large area of the city. Besides these groups there are hundreds of women who have assumed the task of visiting their neighbors with life-saving educational information. They will also accept contributions to continue the research, educational, and service program of the American Cancer Society. There will be a total of 600 workers at this task Tuesday.

Workers will be knocking on doors by 8 p.m. Each worker will turn the completed packet to their area captain as quickly as possible. These area captains are asked to bring the completed area packet to one of the 18 area chairmen as soon after 7:30 p.m. as possible.

The check-in location will be in the Chamber of Commerce office, Hughes Building. Serving at the headquarters will be Mmes. Duncan, Larsen, Kermit Lawson, Miss Harriet Henderson, Gray County Crusade chairman; Dr. William F. Walsh Jr., Gray County co-chairman; Dr. Victor Trammell, unit president; and a group of letters from the First National Bank.

"Goal for Gray County and the entire Texas Division is to reach 36 cents per capita throughout the state," Miss Henderson explained. "Some may question the need for funds following the announcement of an allotment from the federal government for cancer research. The amount designated by the government to be spent over a four-year period, when allocated, is equivalent to the amount being spent by both government and private agencies over 25 years ago on research! Each year since that time, research allotments have increased, due greatly to the foresight and prodding of the great army of citizen volunteers of the American Cancer Society. Therefore, this one fund as announced by the federal government cannot by itself cure cancer in four years. There are many hopeful research projects waiting for funds to continue in the search for a cure of some 500 varieties of the disease. Outstanding break-throughs have been made in many areas. Today 50 per cent of all cancer victims could be saved with the knowledge and treatment in the hands of the physicians. This is possible only if they see their doctors early. A stepped-up educational campaign is needed to get this message across.

"Each resident of Pampa and Gray County is a vital link in the chain to save the lives of friends and neighbors by the work and support of the American Cancer Society during this April Crusade," she added. "Anyone having a direct interest is invited to contact one of the members of the local unit about becoming an active participant on the unit board."

Apollo 16 Crew To Begin Moon Journey At Noon

Over Million To Watch Blast-Off Set For 11:54

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Workmen swarming over the Apollo 16 launch pad overcame nagging, late-hour problems Saturday and the green light remained on for today's launch of man's first expedition to the mountains of the moon.

As astronauts John W. Young, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II relaxed in their quarters, a warning light flashed three times in the command ship cabin. It indicated a high-pressure reading in a hydrogen tank.

Investigation revealed that false readings were coming from a signal device. It was disconnected and other alert systems will take over its job in the event of a real hydrogen pressure problem during the flight.

Other troubles involved a leaky fuel hose which was replaced and a high manifold pressure reading which was lowered when the temperature in the spacecraft was reduced. The problems were solved without a hitch in the countdown and it clicked on ahead of schedule for launch at 11:54 a.m.

The mission of Apollo 16, commanded by Young, is to seek proof that the moon was born in the fires of volcanic convulsions.

The 36-story Saturn 5 booster rocket will blast off before an estimated one million watchers expected to jam the area for the launch.

With this flight, Young, 41, a former Navy test pilot, will have run the gamut of space exploration. He flew twice in the Gemini earth orbital program and circled the moon in the Apollo 10 spaceship.

He and Duke will be the 9th and 10th Americans to land on the moon.

Duke, the pilot of the lunar landing ship, and Mattingly, the command ship pilot, both 36, will be going into space for the first time. Both, however, were involved in the ill-fated Apollo 13 mission.

Duke was the backup lunar module pilot for that mission. But he came down suddenly with German measles after exposing Mattingly and other members of the prime crew.

Mattingly was found to have no immunity and he was replaced three days before the launch. He never caught the disease, and he acted as capsule communicator for the mission. An oxygen tank explosion crippled the command ship halfway to the moon and the crew limped home using the life support systems of the lunar lander.

If the Apollo 16 explorers find remains of ancient volcanoes on the plateau where they will land April 20, they'll prove the moon once had a hot, active interior like earth. Such knowledge would aid in understanding the cataclysm that occurred when the solar system was forming nearly five billion years ago.

MOON JOURNEY—Apollo 16 crew is ready to take off at 11:54 a.m. today for a two-week exploration on lunar surface. The trio will make man's first expedition to the mountains of the moon and to find remains of ancient volcanoes. They call their flight "a voyage to the moon's volcanic mountains."

Bombers Pounding Haiphong

SAIGON (AP)—Waves of U.S. bombers, including B52 Stratofortresses, struck the port of Haiphong in North Vietnam Sunday for the first time in the war. The U.S. Command announced.

The U.S. Command indicated the attacks were heavy and said they were launched in response to what it termed North Vietnam's "mass invasion" of the south across the demilitarized zone.

The command said the targets included logistical facilities such as fuel dumps, warehouses, truck parts and other activities which are supporting the invasion of South Vietnam by North Vietnamese forces.

Meanwhile U.S. Air Force planes began dropping food and ammunition to the defenders who regained most of An Loc on Friday only to be faced with an enemy tank early Saturday.

A Viet Cong broadcast claimed the city, 60 miles north of Saigon, had been "liberated" but U.S. officers disputed this, saying the situation at nightfall had stabilized in An Loc and that the defenders still held most of it.

In the far north, pressure mounted on Fire Base Bastogne, where the South Vietnamese defend the approaches to Hue, the old imperial capital. South Vietnamese units were unable to get through with reinforcements and supplies.

EQUALIZATION IS THE WORD

Here's How City Tax Board Determines Your Property Value For Tax Purposes

By TEX DEWEESE

The Pampa City Commission last Thursday named a three-man Tax Equalization Board to equalize property valuations for 1972 tax roll assessments.

Members of the board are James McCune, R.A. Baker and R.M. Samples.

The board will hold a public hearing about the middle of next month to hear any protests against recommended property valuation increases made by the City Tax Department.

How are tax values arrived at? What are the functions of the tax equalization board? Who makes the final decision on what values are placed on property for tax purposes? These are some of the questions taxpayers wonder about.

To get the answers we met with City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones.

First, the tax collector explained the meaning of equalization for taxation.

"A tax is equalized," Jones said, "when it bears a like burden of the expenses of government. This is accomplished when the value of each parcel of property, both real and personal, is equalized one with the other."

There are two recognized methods used by governmental units to equalize property values. They can either secure the assistance of an out-of-town appraisal firm or, the government unit may elect to conduct a continuous equalization program by using its own tax department personnel. In either case the board of equalization must review the values.

The first alternative, Jones stated, is very expensive. For that reason, the City of Pampa has conducted its own re-evaluation program for many years.

The answer to the next question the tax collector was asked revealed that because of this City Tax Department policy the City has been saved approximately an additional $100,000 expenditure to date.

Property valuations for tax purposes are recommended by the Tax Department after careful study and checks by the tax assessor and his deputies.

Not all property valuations are recommended for increases.

This year, for instance, there have been recommendations so far for approximately 450 increases in value and approximately 600 recommendations for decreases.

The Tax Department does not fix the valuations that are finally placed on the tax roll. That is the duty of the Tax Equalization Board.

The Tax Department's equalization recommendations on real estate values are arrived at through several steps.

These include: (1) the recognition of distressed areas in the taxing jurisdiction—areas that are generally decreasing in value due to any cause; (2) the recognition of buildings that are decreasing in value due to any cause, and (3) recognition of areas that command better selling prices, have good loan values and insurance is readily available.

Jones explained that the City's equalization program has to be a continuous process if it is to be effective.

He said his department uses what is known as a "cycle" program. Several years ago the department began survey work at a given point in the city and proceeded to review all real estate in a clockwise fashion. Upon completion of one cycle another is started.

Jones pointed out that in 1970 the city's total valuation for tax purposes suffered a loss of 0.206 pct. for the first time since 1948. That was due to deleting real estate structures from the tax roll, the loss of several businesses and a reduction in real estate and business values.

Business equalization is a yearly process, Jones stated, due to the fluctuation of inventories and other taxable items, new businesses and business that have ceased operation.

Jones reiterated several times during the interview that any taxpayer who has a question concerning valuation placed on his property is urged to visit with the tax assessor prior to meeting with the Tax Equalization Board at its May public hearing. It might save time in meeting with the board.

He said one of the reasons the city's equalization program has worked so well is based on the almost 100 per cent complete cooperation of the people of Pampa during the past decade.

"We in the tax department are grateful for that cooperation," Jones said. "It makes the job a lot easier."

Jones pointed out that during 1970-71 surveys have been conducted in a major portion of the city. The values, whether decreased or increased, will be reflected on the 1972 Tax Roll.

He said that so far (the work is continuing) 2,527 units of real estate and 321 businesses have been reviewed. In 1,499 cases no change in valuation was recommended, 488 were recommended for increases and nearly 600 for decreases. These recommended changes will be presented to the Tax Equalization Board next month.

Again, the Board of Equalization, appointed by the City Commission, is a quasi-judicial body whose job is to hear evidence of value, compare values and finally set the equalized value.

The tax assessed value then is figured on the basis of the city tax rate of $1.72 for every $100 of assessed property valuation.

CAR WASH AND BAKE SALE—Members of the Pampa High School Concert Choir have their own unique ways of raising funds for trip to New Orleans and, possibly, to Lake Pontchartrain. At the left, Miss Clenna Hudgins, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo J. Hudgins, 2523 Aspen, is shown washing a car for $2.50; at the right, Vickie Woody, 16, daughter of Mrs. Ronae Woody, 308 N. Somerville and Ronda Brookshire, 933 S. Nelson, are shown busily occupied with selling baked goods to customers at the bustling intersection of North Somerville and Francis. During their tour May 4-5, choir members will give one performance in Dallas and three appearances in New Orleans. (Staff Photo by John Ebling)

Nixon And Trudeau Sign Antipollution Agreement

OTTAWA (AP) — President Nixon, concluding a 40-hour state visit to the snowy Canadian capital, signed an agreement Saturday with Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau signaling the start of a joint effort to clean up the Great Lakes.

The two leaders, who agreed Friday to move toward resumption of stalled U.S.-Canadian trade talks, hailed the antipollution pact as a symbol of the sometimes troubled but basically solid relationship between their countries.

Nixon left for Washington as about 50 anti-American demonstrators paraded outside Parliament, where the agreement was signed. They carried the banner of the nationalist Canadian Liberation Movement and chanted, "Nixon no! U.S. no!"

The demonstrators were far outnumbered by the hundreds of Royal Mounties and Ottawa police ringing Parliament Hill and the U.S. Embassy across the street—part of the tight security imposed for the Nixon visit. There were no incidents.

School Officials To Brief Parents On Kindergarten Enrollment Plans

An assembly of parents of prospective kindergarten children will be held at the Carver Educational Service Center, 321 W. Albert, on April 26 at 10 a.m.

The assembly, according to school officials, will serve to inform the school parents on the procedures employed in the enrollment of children for the kindergartens of Pampa.

Among the points to be covered during the assembly are eligibility of students for the kindergarten program, including the meaning of "handicapped" in state guidelines; possible location of the schools; teacher qualifications; program of instruction and benefits of kindergarten instruction.

During the next school year, which begins officially on Aug. 28, the age limits for kindergarten have been lowered.

All five-year-olds born on or before Sept. 1, 1966, and meeting state guideline requirements may enter kindergarten. The entry requirements and guidelines will be discussed during the assembly.

Presently, Pampa operates four kindergartens under the public schools system. Baker and Lamar elementary schools each has two.

School officials hope that through lowering the age limits, more children can be served by kindergarten instruction than ever before. As many as four additional kindergartens could possibly be established in different parts of the city.

The word "handicapped" has confused many parents, officials noted, into believing that only physically handicapped students might be eligible to attend. They also said many feel only children from "low income" families may attend.

Actually, many children will be eligible who come from neither category.

The exact wording of the guideline revolves around "educationally handicapped." The two words refer to any child whose learning system might have an observable defect that would hinder ordinary progress at the child's first grade in school.

During the assembly, parents will be made aware of just what constitutes a "defect" in a child's learning system and how kindergartens go about correcting the defects.

An announcement will also be made concerning a kindergarten enrollment clinic, to be held at 10 a.m. on May 1 in Carver Center. The clinic will be for the purpose of enrolling kindergarten students and informing parents of immunization procedures required by Pampa.

Mobeetie Club Sponsors Meet

MOBEETIE—The Mt. View Quilting Club of Mobeetie is sponsoring a candidate speaking session and a pie supper on April 21 at 7:30 p.m.

The supper will be held at the Old Totty School House, four miles west of Mobeetie. The pies will be auctioned off to raise funds to help preserve the school house.

The ladies invite all area candidates to attend and speak at the event.

Driver Charged On Drug Count

Burton Eugene Turner, 19, was charged with driving under the influence of drugs and lodged in jail Friday night, according to the police report, as the result of surveillance of known suspects in on the local narcotics scene.

Officer Brian Stafford noted the suspected pair while on routine patrol and watched for a time. The official account noted a man from a nearby house joining the two in the car, driving it away.

The vehicle was stopped after it proceeded some distance in an erratic manner and, according to the report, the driver admitted having used marijuana. He was charged and jailed.

Search Nets Leaves Pipe

A driver's license check Friday netted Pampa police officer Brian Stafford a collection of plant leaves suspected of being marijuana, a pipe and other paraphernalia usually identified with drug use, according to his report.

Stafford searched the young man's vehicle with his permission. The items were tagged and the plant leaves will be sent to the laboratory for identification.

The owner of the car was released following the incident pending further investigation of the incident. The official account of the incident noted the youth was on probation for burglary.

Deep Hole Rig Crew Gets Bonus

PERRYTON—At a noon luncheon at the Perryton Country Club Wednesday, bonus checks totalling $47,000 above wages went to employees of Baker & Taylor Rig number 5. This rig recently completed the deepest well drilled on a "turnkey" contract.

The well was spudded in July 12, 1971. Dec. 12—154 days later—a depth of 20,930 feet had been reached. Rig number 5 completed on the well for an additional 107 days or a total of 261 days.

Honored were J. R. Harris and E. R. McCoy, rig managers; Hayden Rush and Kenneth Dunn, drillers; Joe Brackeen, Frank Sims, Larence Streaten and Charles Croley, floormen; Benny Sneed, Ray Bellows and Larry Smith, derrickmen; C. C. Dollar and J. D. Wilson, motormen.

Hereford Youths Jailed for MIP

Two Hereford youths, 16 and 17, were taken to the Pampa police station Friday night after liquor was found in their vehicle, according to the official report.

The 17 year old was jailed as a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages and an attempt was made to contact the father of the younger boy.

The father eventually came to the Pampa police station and both youths were released to him after the older one made bond on the charge.

Baile Theft Charge Filed

A Pampa man was jailed on a charge of theft by bailee after he failed to post $3,000 bond set by Judge Nat Lunsford.

According to the official account of the incident another Pampa man feeling in no condition to drive asked a second to drive him around for a time. Then he asked to be taken to a Pampa residence where he spent the night.

Upon rising Friday morning, he could not find his vehicle and reported same. The unit was involved in a minor accident on North Cuyler with the driver of the night before as a passenger and a third man at the wheel.

The mother of the first youth and owner of the vehicle pressed charges against the subject driving at the time of the accident.

Houston Drug Raid

HOUSTON (AP)—More than 100 police staged narcotics raids in suburban Pasadena and Deer Park Saturday.

Arrested were 33 persons, 10 of them juveniles, on charges of either selling or using narcotics.

Nominal Fee Set For Use of Vat

Area cattlemen now have access to a dipping vat.

Soon after the cattle scabies quarantine was imposed on Gray and 33 other Panhandle counties, need was great for such a facility to comply with regulations and to follow procedures aimed at stopping the spread of the scab then wiping it out totally.

Both state and federal leaders brought pressure to bear on counties to construct such vats. Gray county was in much the same boat as many others throughout the quarantine area in that funds for construction had not been budgeted and no surplus was available for the contingency. Members of the commissioners court, fully aware of the scope of the problem, had to reject the project.

Rex McAnelly of Moody Farms made some quick calculations that included potential needs of area cattlemen with those of the firm and construction was soon underway.

The finished product can handle, readily, all cattle scheduled for dipping. The charge for public use of the vat is 50 cents per head. Gray County Agent Foster Whaley noted this was just half that being charged at surrounding points in the quarantine area.

Shell Extends Toll-Free Telephone Service

HOUSTON (AP) — A major oil company is spending several hundred thousand dollars a year protecting consumers from unsympathetic computers.

"But it's worth a lot more when it proves to people we don't regard them as just numbers on a credit card," says Frank H. Staub, Shell Oil Co. marketing vice president.

After experiments in the San Francisco and New York areas, Shell has extended nationwide a toll-free long distance telephone service that now is averaging about 2,000 calls a day.

Around the clock, seven days a week, credit customers can ask questions about billing statements or report lost or stolen credit cards.

Shell believes it is the first nationwide system for billing questions and reports it has been so successful consideration is being given to extending the use of "Actionline" for calls seeking, for example, information on dealer recruitment or on new products.

Staub describes Actionline as a way to give more personal attention to customers in the computer age.

"It's another step in meeting the rising expectations of consumers," he said.

Staub says nearly 85 per cent of the calls received at Shell's Tulsa, Okla., credit card center are handled within four minutes and to the customer's satisfaction.

"This not only helps keep customers happy, but it takes pressure off our field offices and makes our whole question-answering system more efficient," he says.

The center has 700 employees but Actionline's operations involve 32 WATS (Wide Area Telephone Service) lines, six telephone operators, and 250 customer service representatives who answer calls as part of their jobs in handling credit accounts.

Calls pertaining to lost or stolen credit cards are referred to the security section and customers have no liability for unauthorized purchases on such cards from the time Shell is notified.

Oil marketers have been known to joke about—and also fear—contrary computers which insist on sending to customers of good standing statements calling for prompt payment of an account that has a zero balance.

At Actionline, the first job of the service representative is to determine if a question can be handled in five minutes. If not, the customer is promised a prompt return call or a letter.

On most calls about an account, however, the representative can use computer supplied information or, if this is not sufficient, can punch a desk top computer input device that gives a computerized "voice" report with the information needed.

"We think our Actionline system and our friendly voices are helping to keep customers' tempers cool and our relations with them warm," says W. Harold Cothorn, Shell's consumer relations manager. When the nationwide system began last August, Actionline was swamped with 50,000 calls, many from customers just wanting to test the system or just to chat.

The calls now average about 2,000 on weekdays, 150 on week nights and 600 over a weekend. Night and weekend calls are taped for action the next work day.

Cothorn is working on a solution to one problem, busy signals caused by the peaking of calls.

Monday is the busiest day of the week and week day peaks build up between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. CST.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says when he and Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., visit China April 16, they will "stress a firm commitment of the United States to the Nixon doctrine which seeks to avoid further confrontations in Asia."

Scott, a student of Chinese history, visited China in 1947 shortly before the Communists took control of the government.

Girl In Fair Condition After Kidney Transplant

DALLAS (AP) — A Longview girl, whose kidney transplant from her mother was financed through $30,000 in contributions raised in her home town, was reported officially to be in "fair" condition at Parkland Hospital today. Her mother was also doing well.

After being delayed several times, surgery took place Wednesday on Debbie Anderson, 16, a high school senior. Her mother is Mrs. Beryl Anderson.

Doctors took the unusual step of removing the girl's own damaged kidneys and performing the transplant from her mother in a single operation. Surgery was carried out by a transplant team of seven doctors and lasted six hours, a hospital spokesman said.

Dr. Allen Hull reported the girl was doing fine after the transplant. She is likely to be kept under observation at the hospital for about three weeks before being allowed to return home.

Debbie has required treatment three times weekly for the past eight weeks on a machine which duplicates the functioning of a normal kidney. Each treatment cost $210.

"Providing the new kidney works, she will not require further treatment on the machine," Dr. Hull said.

I want to "Thank You"--- the people of Pampa—for your consideration and support in the recent city election.

BEEF CATTLE SEMINAR
On April 20 starting at 9 a.m. at the Villa Inn, Amarillo, a one-day conference on problems that plague the High Plains cattle feeding industry will be spotlighted.

A long list of recognized authorities have been secured to talk on a list of timely topics.

We have extra programs and plan to attend this meeting. Why not give me a call and we will go down together.

WHEAT PASTURE
About two months ago everyone you ran into started talking about how dry it was getting. A month ago everyone thought we must have rain within two weeks or our wheat crop would be gone. Now here it is the middle of April and the wheat still has an excellent chance if we can get moisture in the near future. The wheat sent down roots all the way to caliche and is now wringing out that moisture that was supplied so abundantly last fall and early winter.

Much of our wheat is showing severe stress, but three inches of rain well spaced that falls just right will turn up one of the best wheat crops you have seen in years. I've never seen better wheat for grazing since any January 1. This rank growth coupled with occasional freezes, interrupted with Indian summers created a condition in wheat that caused a most severe death loss from blight. Losses have been extremely light and cattle have done exceptionally well the last week to ten days.

CATTLE PRICES
A lot of people have challenged me to stick my neck out on cattle prices for this fall. I have some thoughts on this subject. We are in a rapidly changing situation at the present. I am a great deal more optimistic now than I was earlier.

Recently we had buyers of finished cattle all the way from Canada, Mid-West, and Southeastern States in the Panhandle of Texas. This tells us something. All our feedlots are current. Cattle are being placed on a more orderly basis nationwide. This erases big high and bad lows from the market. This tends to stabilize the market. The general economic picture is looking better. A lot of people on Welfare use their stamps for beef. There is a trend to liberalize school lunch programs. All this means more demand for beef. Where is this beef coming from?

Being a Government employee myself, I would not be critical of Government cattle count figures. Yet, there is a whole lot of evidence to indicate we might have these cattle overcounted.

Talk to an Eastern order buyer and get their opinions about cow-calf numbers. Many of them buy in 50 cattle sales. The one's I've talked to indicate few cattle are coming into the sales.

Since the big grocery chains ran their ads trying to make the livestock producer the villain for higher meat prices, a lot of controversy has been kicked up. No doubt we can credit them with most of the price break. It appears they got a bear by the tail. My personal opinion is that we might as well have a full-fledged hearing since all the stink it was interesting to see the chains take such a fast retreat by lowering prices ten cents a pound after the spotlight had been turned on them. I don't believe they anticipated this.

What I'd like to see is what actual profit they make out of a thousand-pound steer in the three weeks and compare it to the producers profit for the two years it takes him to produce the thousand-pound steer. It would also be interesting to see how much labor income is in the steer during the three weeks period it takes the beef to reach the housewife's table.

10-YEAR BAN ENDS
CAIRO (AP) — Some 12,000 persons who lost their political rights will be allowed to vote again, the government announced, saying a 10-year ban imposed on them expired last January.

'RECYCLING' WATER — Irrigation tailwater recovery pits such as this are being utilized more and more by irrigation farmers in the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District according to Jim Roach, SCS. A properly designed recovery pit can increase irrigation system efficiency 20 per cent. Cost-share assistance is available through REAP or the Great Plains Conservation Program. (photo - USDA SCS)

Price Hits Embargo

In a letter to Secretary of Commerce Peter Peterson, Congressman Bob Price this week criticized a proposal under consideration to place an embargo on the exportation of beef hides from the United States.

Calling the proposed move "short-sighted and totally unjustifiable," Price emphasized that the embargo would have a detrimental effect upon the cattle raising industry. "We all remember a few short years ago when the same cries for an embargo were heard from shoe manufacturers who threatened a rise in shoe prices without it." Price noted, "The embargo was granted, and shoe prices went up just the same."

"If the price of shoes is pinching the shoe manufacturing companies of America, that is certainly not the fault of American beef hide producers—farmers and ranchers have subsidized everyone else's high standard of living for long enough."

4-H CLUB NEWS

By Asst. Agents Richard Guggisberg and Patricia Henderson
DISTRICT HORSE JUDGING
Tryouts for the Horse Judging team were held at Perryton, Friday, April 7. Those qualifying for the Sr. team were Janet Smith, Patsy Kelley, Joe Richardson, and Jody Freeman. Russell Seely will be the alternate to the team. The Jr. Team will consist of Kelly Freeman, Sue Smith, Thad Greene, and Jim Richardson. These two teams will compete April 29 at Canyon, Texas in the District Contest.

Senior Bread-Cereal Division, and Kelly received a red ribbon in the Jr. Meat Division. These four girls did an outstanding job and we are extremely proud of them! A special thanks goes to Pampa Hardware Company for the use of some of their table appointments for the girl's table exhibits.

COUNTY ELIMINATIONS
County Eliminations Contest will be held Monday, April 17 at 6 p.m. in the Auditorium of the Agricultural Annex. So far, entries include Jr. Safety, and Electricity demonstrations, Jr. Share-the-Fun, Sr. Clothing, Home Improvement, and Natural Resource demonstrations. We want to encourage all 4-H'ers to attend the contest whether or not you are entering a demonstration.

This will give you an opportunity to see what a demonstration consists of so that you may work on one for next year. Hope to see each of you there.

TRIPPLE STAR PICNIC
The Triple Star 4-H Club will have a picnic Wednesday, April 19 at 4 p.m. Each 4-H'er will bring his own sack lunch and we will meet at the Scout Building and then go on to a park. We hope all Triple Star members can attend.

4-H OPPORTUNITY APPLICATIONS
Applications for State Leadership Lab. and 4-H Scholarships should be in our office by Thursday, April 27. If any of you plan to apply for these, please be sure we have your application by this date.

A NERVOY THIEF
SILVER SPRINGS, Md. (AP) — William Henderson found his stolen car at a service station after a letter mailed to his Washington home told him where it was.

The letter was signed, "Your friendly neighborhood car thief. Get a new car for me." Henderson, 68, told police he had to pay the service station $25 for work on the car's distributor and battery.

Panhandle Water

By Felix W. Ryals
Harry Burrell, executive director of the Texas Board of Water Development, in a recent news release gave his views on solving water problems that involved rivers that crossed several state lines.

"It is not practical," he reasoned, "for states acting independently to plan water use and control. We are," he stated, "deep in a time and place when we must accept the fact that water development must be planned on regional and interstate basis."

This statement makes a lot of sense when we realize that rivers do indeed cross many state lines and affect whole regions of divergent economies and physical geography.

The Water Development Board, under the guidance of Burrell, has set a course of action since the defeat of the bond issue that is designed to protect the existing irrigated agricultural based economy. These plans include the Upper and Lower Rio Grande Valleys, the rice growing areas along the Gulf, the Winter Garden District and our own Panhandle-High Plains of West Texas. He feels that these projects can be taken care of from the State's own water resources with the exception of the High Plains.

During the summer of 1969, we here on the High Plains-Panhandle area took it for granted that there was no cause to worry. Most of us felt that we had convinced the other areas of the State of our need for water and of their economic dependence upon us. When August 5 arrived, many went fishing instead of going to the polls. The heavy negative vote in the Houston and Harris County area defeated the bond issue by six thousand votes. On August 9, 1969, I received a call from a business-man-irrigator farmer who lives in Amarillo. He and his wife and their daughter and son-in-law had just returned from their fishing trip.

Those four votes along with 5,996 others who either went fishing or didn't bother to go vote may have cost all of us more than they realized in "footprints on the sands (dry dewatered sands) of time."

Hugh Yantis, executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board, issued a statement last week reminding the cities of Texas that the federal government through Public Law 92-240 had made available $87,890,500 in federal grant money for construction or upgrading their sewage and water plants. The money can be used to pay for up to 55 percent of the eligible cost of treatment facilities construction projects when matched with 25 percent state loans. This leaves the local city or political entity with only 20 percent to raise.

Yantis believes that upgrading municipal sewage treatment systems will do more than any other one thing to help solve our water pollution problems in Texas. He stated that many of our cities and towns already have taken advantage of the state matching grant program and the federal program, and that applications are being received each day. He praised those Texas municipalities showing interest in preventing pollution by improving their facilities to more properly serve their people and to protect the waters of the State.

Irrigation farmers have entered the big pumping season with the winter wheat at the stage where moisture is needed to push it toward maturity. This is also the beginning of the season when a lot of non-irrigation people begin yelling about water running down the road ditches and heading for the playa lake beds.

The Water Conservation District has a prohibition rule against waste of water pumped from the underground formation. The rule states, "The flowing or producing of wells from an underground water reservoir when the water produced therefrom is not used for a beneficial purpose is prohibited." Another rule of the District states, "Any person producing or using underground water shall use every possible precaution, in accordance with the most approved methods, to stop and prevent waste of such water."

TESTS SOIL SAMPLES
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Noted space biologist Wolf Vishniac, professor of biology at the University of Rochester, has greater confidence in instruments that will test Martian soil samples for signs of life during the Viking unmanned landing scheduled for 1976 as the result of six weeks of trial runs in Antarctica.

Vishniac and UR graduate student Stanley E. Mainzer returned recently from their camp in one of Antarctica's dry valleys where they studied soil bacteria and tested the Viking instruments. Material on the instruments "exceeds what we expected," Vishniac says. The instruments functioned under conditions that were "quite rugged."

Is now the time to refinance loans?

Capital for expansion, more money from your equity, debt consolidation, smaller payments—these are important reasons for adjusting your loan structure. It's sound business to analyze credit obligations at least once each year to make sure borrowed money is being used to full advantage. Let's talk it over. Should you decide to rearrange your debts, we would be glad to make a Land Bank refinancing proposal.

"Quality education is the key to our children's future."

"It is unfortunate, that the prospects for better education for our children should be placed within the emotional cloud of the bussing issue. I am opposed to massive, forced bussing for the purpose of reaching an arbitrary and artificial balance of the races. The differences in learning ability are primarily formed in the home, not in the school.

"I do not believe that bussing can materially improve the quality of education for any child in Texas. If I did believe that, I perhaps could support bussing. The types of school bussing that have been ordered in some cities pose an egregious threat to our schools. It is an economic Pandora's Box.

"My position, then, favors expenditures that promote equal education within our existing public schools rather than leaving inferior schools as they are and sending children to them from better schools. I will be the first to concede that every school in Texas is not equal insofar as quality of instruction is concerned.

It is our resources— money, teachers, and curricula—that must be shifted and given equal division if we are to have an equitable educational system for all our children."

Woman Of The Year

Frances Cree

At Home

AT HOME—No matter how busy she may be, Frances finds time to go places and relax at home with her husband, and her crippled dog, Toulouse Latrec Creedair, nicknamed "Trec."

AT WORK—The Junior Service League's annual speech and hearing clinic is one of Frances' special interests, as well as the Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center, which she serves as a board member.

MOTORCYCLING—An outdoor person, Frances loves to ride her motorcycle in the mountains around Red River.

AUDITORIUM—Frances seems small as she stands beside the new M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium, but her part in making this dream come true was far from minor. She is a member of the auditorium operations advisory committee and chairman of the dedication committee.

OUTDOORS—Preferring to be outdoors, Frances finds a great deal of pleasure in working with plants and flowers.

SKIING—Frances prepares her equipment for snow skiing, a hobby she enjoys as much as possible during the winter season.

COOKING—With three sons to feed, Frances had to be a good cook, and, fortunately she likes it. The boys are all away from home, now, but she still enjoys cooking and entertaining informally. (See Related Story On Page 6)

Woman Of Year Tea To Honor Mrs. Cree

Mrs. George Cree, 1912 Charles, has been selected by members of the six Beta Sigma Phi chapters in Pampa as "Woman of the Year," and will be honored at a tea at 2 p.m. today at the Fellowship Hall of the First Christian Church.

"Women are increasingly making important contributions in community life, business, government, social welfare, research and education," Mrs. Jerry G. Davis, BSP City Council president stated. "The title of Woman of the Year is presented to the Pampa woman who has made an outstanding contribution in service to the community during the past year. She is chosen for outstanding qualities in her service to church, community and family, and for giving unselfishly of her time and talents in all phases of community activities."

Mrs. Cree's community service activities during the past year include serving on the boards of Highland General Hospital Auxiliary; Amarillo Speech and Hearing Center; Pampa Altrusa Club; Pampa United Fund; trustees of the First United Methodist Church of Pampa; Pampa Fine Arts Association; and the Amarillo Symphony Guild.

In addition, she is a member of the M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium operations advisory committee; and is chairman of the auditorium dedication committee.

She is a sustaining member of the Junior Service League; a charter member of the Highland General Hospital Auxiliary; a life member of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers; and is a charter member of Delta Delta Delta Alumnae Association and the City Panhellenic Council.

In the past she has served as president of the Pampa PTA City Council, Twentieth Century Allegro, Delta Delta Delta Alumnae Association of Pampa, Gray County Tuberculosis Association, and Beta Gamma Kappa, now disbanded.

She has served as chairman of the Pampa High School Career Clinic in 1970 and 1971; and was organizational chairman, and chairman for the first two years, of the Junior Service League, Speech, and Hearing Clinic.

When the Pampa Community Hotel campaign was underway, she was chairman of a woman's team. She has served on the M. K. Brown Auditorium committee, as secretary to the Council of Clubs, as a member of the Pampa Community Concert Association board, and as secretary of Holy Soul's Home and School Association.

She worked on the Community Center drive, and for many years, with the Mother's March of Dimes. In May 1967, she was chairman of the Pampa Fine Arts Association Home Art Tour.

She has been a sponsor for Miss Oil Progress Week, and, in 1968, appeared as Daisy Mae in the Beta Sigma Phi Red Stocking Revue.

Although her community service is broad and varied, she still finds time for relaxation and hobbies. She holds a private pilot's license, and her hobbies include snow skiing, swimming, sailing, water skiing, golf, motorcycle riding in the mountains around Red River, N. M., and bridge. She likes, also, to travel, cook and entertain informally.

Born in Groesbeck, Tex., she was graduated from Highland Park High School, Dallas, and from the Hockaday School Junior College, Dallas. She received her bachelor of arts degree from the University of Texas, Austin, attending summer sessions at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, and the University of Mexico at Mexico City.

She was married Nov. 6, 1943, to George Benson Cree Jr., and the couple has three sons.

George Benson Cree III, 25 years old, is serving with the Navy aboard the USS Epperson, with Pearl Harbor as its home port.

Richard Eugene Cree and Harold Adair Cree, both 22, are twins. Richard, a graduate of SMU, is working in Portland, Ore.; and Harold is attending Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, Ariz.

A resident of Pampa since October 1946, she is a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Cree was selected by a secret ballot of members of all six Beta Sigma Phi chapters in Pampa, from a list presented by a nominating committee. Club members are not eligible for the award.

Today's tea will be the cooperative effort of representatives of the six chapters. Members of the Woman of the Year committee include Mrs. Tommy Jochets of Phi Epsilon Beta, invitations; Mrs. Gary B. Clark of Rho Eta, scrapbook and guest book; Mrs. Larry Daniels of Upsilon, publicity and charm; Mrs. Charles Zlomke and Mrs.

Buddy Lamberson, both of Xi Beta Chi, flowers; Mrs. Charlie Snider of Xi Theta Iota, program; and Mrs. Richard A. Wilson of Preceptor Chi, table decorations.

First Woman of the Year was Mrs. Bob Campbell, selected in 1945. Others chosen during the years were Mrs. Carl Wright, 1946; Mrs. Hulan Laycock, 1948; Mrs. James Massa, 1949; Mrs. Arthur Teed, 1950; Mrs. Dick Hughes, 1951; Mrs. Rufe Jordan, 1952; Mrs. H. H. Hicks, 1953; Mrs. Jack Foster, 1954; Mrs. Raymond Harrah, 1955; Mrs. A. D. Hills, 1956; Mrs. Harvey Nensiel, 1957; Mrs. Inez Carter, 1958; Mrs. Ray McKernan, 1959; Mrs. J. T. Cornutt, 1960; Mrs. Frank Shotwell, 1961; Mrs. Gene Fatheree, 1962; Mrs. Thelma Bray, 1963; Mrs. D. V. Burton, 1964; Mrs. Georgia Mack, 1965; Mrs. M. McDaniel, 1966; Mrs. Marian Jameson, 1967; Mrs. Forrest Hills, 1968; Mrs. W. M. Ledbetter, 1969; Mrs. Richard Stowers, 1970; and Mrs. Geraldine Shultz, 1971.

The bride-elect is a senior at Guymon High School. The prospective bridegroom, a 1971 graduate of Miami High School, is employed in Guymon. The couple plans to marry June 4.

Altrusa Club Holds Auction

Altrusa Auctioneer Katherine Sullins auctioned off items ranging from miniatures, painted by Altrusans, to antique snuff jars at a recent auction held by the club.

The auction, a project of the Vocational Services Committee, with Mrs. Lora Dunn, chairman, was held to raise money to purchase a beauty kit for a local high school girl to enter beauty school.

April is recognized by Altrusa International as Founders Fund Vocational Aid month better known to Altrusans as FFVA. FFVA awards in the amount of $50 to $350 are given to women for training or re-training needed to become employable; upgrading training that will enable a woman to move from a low-level to a higher level skill job; purchase of equipment required for self-employment; personal rehabilitation necessary to be accepted for employment. Applicants must have plans to enter the labor market or advance to a new occupation or job within one year.

Each local Altrusa Club's Vocational Services Committee screens and chooses the applicants to recommend to the Altrusa International Foundation's FFVA Awards Committee. A club may sponsor awardees to the extent of $700 each year, but the top award to any one woman is $350.

Recommendations are based on proven need, and the applicant's potential for following through. Pampa Altrusa Club has two FFVA awardees taking vocational nurses training at the present time.

IT'S REALLY been a Woman's World for me this week! Today's edition especially features the women and their activities, with the tabloid, "It's A Woman's World," the picture page and articles about the Woman of the Year, the district PTA meeting, and the district meeting of the Home Demonstration Clubs!

CONGRATULATIONS to Fannie Cree! There is a "story behind the story" in this year's naming of the Woman of the Year. Very careful arrangements were made by the Beta Sigma Phi girls to insure that Fannie would be at home when they came to break the news. Careful arrangements had been made with our staff photographer, John Ehling, and me to "get the news as it happens."

"John," I said, "let's get a candid picture of Mrs. Cree when she first hears the news." "I thought it would be great to record her first reaction!"

John, Linda Daniels and Alma Lamberson went to the Cree residence; Linda and Alma rang the doorbell as John stood back to get a good view of the presentation, camera poised. The door opened. John went into action—the flash bulb went off, but the camera failed—it didn't "click". All three stood facing a very startled Myrtle Mae Perkins, Fannie's maid. As soon as Myrtle recovered from the shock, they all went inside to wait. Fannie had gone somewhere on an errand and would be back soon.

Somehow, they failed to hear Fannie arrive. When the door started to open, John dashed past the door to get a good vantage point, the result being Fannie stood staring bewilderedly at this strange young man in her house, who stood grinning foolishly back at her.

That did it for the candid shot! But we know she's thrilled and honored to be picked from all the women in Pampa to be the top one for the year! Even though we never did get to record her first reaction on film. NOT LONG AGO I told about the town of Houghton, Mich., sending snowballs each year to San Marcos so the college students could have a snowball fight. At that time, I gave you some "average" statistics on Houghton's snowfall each year.

I have a school-days friend living in Houghton, who, bless her, doesn't worry about getting her Christmas letter of the family's activities out on time. In fact, during the Yuletide season, she doesn't even try. Instead, she writes a "Merry Christmas" and "Happy Easter" letter, which arrives sometime in April.

Tacked onto this year's letter, which I received last week, was the real, honest-to-goodness statistics for this year: "Snowfall to date—267.7 inches; snow on the ground—30 inches." The statistics were dated March 31, 1972. That means there is a lot more winter left in that part of the country!

THE ANIMAL POPULATION at the Kadingo residence seems to have its ups and downs lately. Thomasina our old, nearly-blind, spade cat, has been missing for three weeks. Tuesday, Tweety, our about-to-be-a-mother-again-cat, became a no-longer-about-to-be-a-mother-again-cat. She presented us with four beautiful kittens, two yellow, one somewhat-yellow-but-almost-white, and one gray. Our best, comma quite-uneducated guess is three boys and one girl. The boy over the kittens was greatly limped by the demise of Blossom, one of our ducks. I don't quite know what to expect next, nor does our dog, Turk, who is eaten up with jealousy over the invasion of his domain by assorted creatures.

ATTENTION you kids who are gung-ho for the mind-expanding drugs. I read an article recently that a team of radiologists from the University of Southern California, using a special X-ray procedure, have diagnosed a number of young drug abusers as victims of "stroke."

Damage to the brain's blood vessels results in paralysis, inability to speak and often death.

Come on, kids. It's great to be alive, at any age, but especially when you're young!

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Kit Autry, 715 N. Somerville, will be honored with an open house from 2 until 4 p.m. today at their home in observance of their golden wedding anniversary. Hosts will be their children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Autry, and Miss June Autry; and their grandchildren, Miss Jan Autry; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Burton. The couple was married April 19, 1921, at Margaret, Tex. Residents of Pampa since 1932. Mr. Autry worked for Cabot Corporation until his retirement in 1962.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Price, 1024 S. Banks, Pampa, announce the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte Kay, to Jeff Brown of Perryton, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Brown of Hanover Park, Ill. A June 10th wedding is planned in the First Baptist Church of Pampa. The bride-elect, a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School, received her pre-nursing courses at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. She is attending Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing. The prospective bridegroom, a 1969 graduate of Elgin, Illinois High School, attended Hardin-Simmons University where he played basketball for 1-2 years. He is presently employed by Halliburton Company in Perryton.

Salad Supper Held By Class

SKELLYTOWN (Spl.)—The T.E.L. Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met in the Fellowship Hall for a salad supper.

The invocation was given by Mrs. J.C. Jarvis. After supper Mrs. Virgie McGee gave devotional, "True Happiness," taken from Proverbs.

The class voted to change the meeting date for their suppers from 6:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Members each received names from their class prospect list for class visitation. The meeting closed with a prayer by Mrs. Clarence Kaiser.

Members attending were Mmes. M.L. Mills, class teacher, Adolph Novotny, J.C. Jarvis, Oscar Gould, Clarence Kaiser, Virgie McGee, Wall Shair, Bill Price, Eddie Pansell and Lon Trask.

Your Horoscope

SUNDAY, APRIL 16

Your birthday today: Reorganization comes spontaneously as you adapt to the happenings and opportunity of the coming year. Technical skills evolve. Social activity of all sorts proceeds with relatively little stress and with satisfying emotional impact. Today's natives seem bitten by the "bug" of perennial curiosity, often in particular directions.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Charity includes patience; remember that business must wait for tomorrow. Search for basic facts is favored today.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Resolve your riddles this Sunday; solitary prayer brings answers. Accept people as they are. Leave money matters rest.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Select a few open matters and attend to them, rather than scatter your attention. Very few are going your direction now anyhow.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Once you realize nothing moves except thru your efforts, a modest success comes naturally.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Brief trips liven an otherwise dull day. Use the chance for a bit of self-observation, good questions on what you really want in life.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Some unexpected quirk of circumstances is likely; have alternative plans in mind for the day's activities.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Sunday here means time to care for the older members of your family. You may not have a really objective view for the moment.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Some financial disappointment or lapse is revealed. You have much to think about, and clear space for planning.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Dramatizing your point of view serves little purpose—if you are correct, it will prevail anyway. Be practical.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Cater to your own needs when planning this Sunday's action. Your friends may have more energy, so let them go on at their own pace.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Have at hand enough of your own materials and work to fill in the time left open by the deeds and miscalculations of others.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Be on the alert to keep the story intelligible and free of over-statement. Domestic conditions tend to become complex.

District Home Demonstration Meeting To Be Held In Pampa

MRS. CHARLES WARMINSKI
...district HD director

Mrs. Charles Warminski is completing the second year as district director and as a member of state board of directors of the THDA. She served as State THDA 4-H chairman in 1967-1968. She has been a home demonstration club member for 27 years.

Her first club was the Bell Home Demonstration Club south of Pampa. She served as President of the club and as chairman of the Gray County Council before moving to White Deer in Carson County.

She has also served as THDA chairman and county council chairman, in Carson County. Mrs. Warminski has been an active 4-H leader on a local and state basis. She received the Texas 4-H Volunteer Adult Leader award in 1964 from the Texas Youth Development Foundation. She was named the Texas Homemaker of the year in 1959. She has been active in developing the Carson County program of work and has served three years as a board member of the Panhandle Economic Program.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warminski live on an irrigation farm 2 miles south of White Deer. They have five children: Norman, a horticulture extension agent in Wichita, Kans.; Vivan, former Hansford County home demonstration agent, doing graduate work at Texas Tech University; Stephen and Randall, students at Texas Tech; and Joanna, a sixth grade student in White Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Warminski are members of the Sacred Heart Church in White Deer where Mrs. Warminski is a member of the church council and is serving as bookkeeper and treasurer.

MRS. A. E. HODGES
...state president

Attending the meeting, also, will be Mrs. A. E. Hodges of Hereford, state president. A native of Amarillo, Mrs. Hodges has served in all the offices of the North Hereford HD Club during the past 20 years and all the offices of the Deaf Smith HD Council.

She served as county THDA chairman for two years, and as District I director for two years. Her state offices include being treasurer and vice president.

Completing her second year as state president, she has served as advisor to the 12 district directors and six state committee chairmen. She represented the state executive board at 15 district meetings throughout the state, and at the Safety Conference in East Lansing, Mich.

She attended national meetings in Puerto Rico, Virginia and Texas, serving as general chairman for the 1971 national meeting in Dallas.

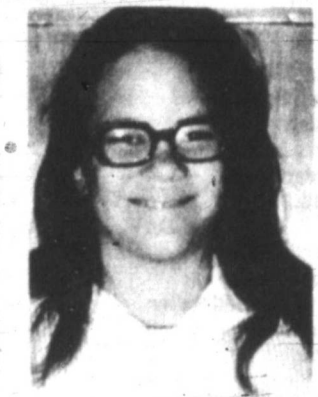

She has presided at one state meeting and is making plans for the 1972 meeting, to be held in September in Houston.

Mrs. Bill Hardy of Rotan, state vice president and public relations chairman, will represent the state board at the meeting. She has served as District III director for two terms, as well as being state treasurer. She is a candidate for state president.

Also to be recognized at the district meeting will be top winners of this area in 4-H Club competition. They are Kelly Dougal of Lefors who won the junior meat division of the county food show; Elaine Webb of Lefors, senior winner in the bread-cereal division; Melinda Spearman of Pampa, senior winner of the county dress revue and one of the top five winners in the district dress revue; Stephanie Eastham, of Pampa, county bake show queen and Better Baking Queen at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo; and Bobbie Skaggs of Pampa, junior winner in the bread-cereal division of the county food show.

STEPHANIE EASTHAM, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Eastham of Pampa, was 1971 Gray County 4-H Bake Show Queen and went on to become 1971 4-H Better Baking Queen at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. She was senior winner in the Fruit-Vegetable Division of the 1971-'72 Gray County 4-H Food Show. Stephanie entered her Broccoli Casserole for a "Candlelight Dinner for Two" in the District Food Show. President of the Top O' Texas 4-H Club, she is a Junior Leader, and 1971 Gray County Gold Star Girl. Some of her other projects include clothing, rifle, leadership, and electricity.

ELAINE WEBB, president of the Lefors 4-H Club, was senior winner in the bread-cereal division of the 1971-'72 Gray County 4-H Food Show. Elaine prepared Cheesy Onion Burger Buns for an "After-the Ballgame Supper." She is the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Webb of Mobeetie. A Jr. leader, she has been a 4-H member for 5 years. Some of her other projects include clothing, horse, home improvement, consumer education, money management, and child care.

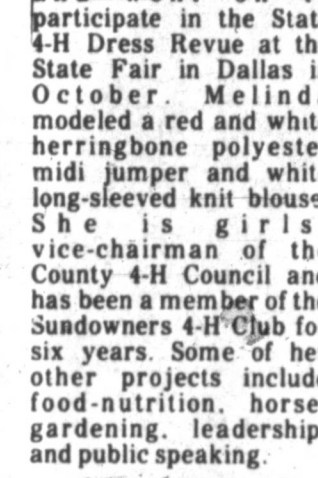

BOBBIE SKAGGS, first-year member of the Top O' Texas 4-H Club, is the Junior Winner in the Bread-Cereal Division in the 1971-'72 Gray County 4-H Food Show. Bobbie participated in the District Food Show April 8 with her "Pigs in a Blanket" for a Mother's Day Breakfast. Bobbie is the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Skaggs of Pampa. She also won grand champion with her steer in the 1972 Gray County Livestock Show and carried a swine project this year.

MELINDA SPEARMAN, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Spearman of Pampa, was senior winner in the 1971 Gray County 4-H Dress Revue, and went on to participate in the State 4-H Dress Revue at the State Fair in Dallas in October. Melinda modeled a red and white herringbone polyester midi jumper and white long-sleeved knit blouse. She is girls vice-chairman of the County 4-H Council and has been a member of the Sundowners 4-H Club for six years. Some of her other projects include food-nutrition, horse, gardening, leadership, and public speaking.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Casebier, 2232 N. Dwight, announced the engagement of their daughter, Valerie Jean Moran, to Eugene Nelson Gray of Lubbock, son of Mrs. A. L. Patrick of Dallas, and grandson of Mrs. Eugene L. Yeargain, 818 N. West, Pampa. The wedding is planned for May 20, in the Lubbock View Christian Church. The bride-elect was graduated from Sanford-Fritch High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society. She was graduated from Frank Phillips Junior College, Borger, with an associate arts degree in medical technology. She is presently a senior student at Texas Tech University, Lubbock. The prospective bridegroom attended Pampa High School and was graduated from Dallas High School. A veteran of Viet Nam, he is a junior student at Texas Tech, majoring in chemistry.

Belles Win Rights Suit

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Seven women employed by Southern Bell Telephone Co. in management positions have been awarded a total of more than $100,000 in an out-of-court settlement of a sex discrimination suit, State Rep. Gwen Cherry, D-Miami, said Wednesday.

Mrs. Cherry, an attorney who represented the so-called Southern Belles, said the settlement was concluded Tuesday before U.S. District Court Judge Joe Eaton of Miami.

"This is an incentive for other women who have been denied equal employment opportunities to press charges against their employers," she said.

The women, most of whom have worked for the telephone company for many years, charged they were victims of sex discrimination in pay and promotions, said Mrs. Cherry's law partner.

"They did the same work as men, but they didn't receive equal pay," he said.

A company spokesman, denying that the firm practiced sex discrimination, said the settlement was "part of our continuing affirmative action program."

Day or Night Prints

The new, extra-wide pants are front-pleated and high-waisted. They'll be worn day or night. With a sweater vest, schoolboy beret and a knitted tie it's a daytime outfit. To make it do for the evening, shed all the layers and just wear a cotton plaid halter on top.

FROM LEFT TO RIGHT, JOY ENLOE & GARLAND QUARLES

Levine's 52nd Anniversary, now being celebrated in Pampa is also a personal milestone for Joy Enloe, who marks 32 years of employment with Levines in 1972. According to store manager Garland Quarles, "Joy knows more about Levines past history than anyone in the store, yet she is one of the first to be enthused about what's new and different!" Joy came to Levines in 1940, as a bookkeeper, during her tenure she has worked in the same department. Joy has been recognized by Levines management in Dallas with a 25 Year Service Pin.

The 17th annual conference of the 19th district of Texas Parents and Teachers will be held Monday and Tuesday at Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

"We Can Through Action" is the theme of the meeting, which will be led by Mrs. Ben F. Malone of Borger, district president. Registration will be held from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m. Monday at the junior high school, and from 8:30-9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

District board members from Pampa are Mrs. C.L. Farmer, Pampa representative; Mrs. Mack Courtney, first vice president; Mrs. Paul Howard, historian; Jack Nichols, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Tom Dunn, corresponding secretary. Dr. James Malone is host superintendent.

Mrs. W.F. Abney of Woodsboro, safety chairman, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be the keynote speaker for the afternoon session of the general assembly. The title of her address will be "Whose Fault Is It?"

Local PTA presidents and district board members have been mailed credential cards for unit delegates. Each PTA unit in the district is allowed one delegate for each 50 members, or fraction thereof, plus the president or alternate.

In 1862, Napoleon III declared war against Juarez in Mexico. In 1906, the Pacific cable was completed between the United States and China. In 1943, in World War II, Allied planes attacked the armament works at Pilsen, Czechoslovakia. In 1945, U.S. troops entered Nuremberg, Germany.

Horoscope

MONDAY, April 17

Your birthday today: This is a year of challenge. You must achieve more fluent expression of your talents. Material gains are not the main problem this year, but require added effort.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: The easiest and worst thing to do today is look for trouble. Keep a straight face, assume all will be well, and work things out.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Slow but sure should be your motto. Budget revisions involve what you do for others, may require discussion.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Caution in any travel is essential. Emotional experience you share helps confirm a good relationship. No pranks, please.

Cancer [June 21-July 21]: Time for a wild goose chase—consider the probabilities, check your resources and progress along established lines before looking for magic.

Leo [July 22-Aug. 22]: Meeting people more than half-way is in your best interest today. Tact and patience with friends and loved ones is essential.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Impulse stirs with rare power. Try to guide yourself and protect close relationships from the effects of abrupt, rash actions.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: The near-at-hand you can cope with by gentle care; the distant situation isn't seen clear enough for decision.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Siskering, about money with those you love, should be avoided at nearly all costs. Get a second opinion on any financial advice.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Cooperative attitudes may keep you free from complications. Think up a good surprise for your evening at home.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Present your ideas to people who have the most authority you can get to. Disregard touchy friends; get to the facts.

Aquarius [Jan. 20 - Feb. 18]: Almost any forthright expression of feeling is likely to be misinterpreted. You can't get away with any games at work today.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Easy does it. There's no point in putting somebody on the spot for an error in judgment. Avoid haste handling tools and appliances.

Culture Club Has Meeting

Civic Culture Club met in the home of Mrs. Chester Williams, with Mrs. A. B. Cross presiding.

She convention plans were discussed. Next meeting will be April 25, with Mrs. Carl Smith, 226 N. Wells.

Mrs. Ralph Palmer presented the program on her experiences when she and her husband were missionaries in Japan. She told the women of meeting the people of the small communities and learning of their customs in dress, bathing, and food preparation. She told of the Japanese people's ideas of the Western World, which they received from American movies shown in Japan.

Members and guests present were Mmes. Irvin Cole, A. B. Cross, A. D. Hills, A. C. Huchin, George Neef, Emmett Osborne, J. J. Rance, D. A. Rife, H. W. Waters, Carl Patchin, Emmet Gee, T. G. Green, I. S. Marline and Ralph Palmer.

If we would guide by the light of reason, we must let our minds be bold.—Louis D. Brandeis, former U.S. Supreme Court justice.

Swim Lessons
The Center has scheduled some more swim classes for May to accommodate parents who were wanting beginners and polywogs classes. A beginner is a child 6 years of age or older who is attending school at the present time. A polywog is a child 4-6 years of age not yet in school and who measures 33 inches tall to the chin.

The summer swim lesson program has been set-up and the schedule will start appearing very soon. Enrollment date for all the summer lessons will be on May 11 at 2:00 p.m. No registrations will be accepted until that date and then thereafter until all the classes are full.

All classes from May 1-12 will meet on Monday thru Friday for two weeks or 10 meeting dates. Parents should note this for this is a change from our regular schedule. The May 15-June 1 classes will meet the last two days during the morning. Beginners will meet at 9:00 a.m. and polywogs at 10:00 and 10:30 a.m. on May 31 and June 1.

All classes in April and May will be taught by our resident W.S.I. Ruth Carter and also Gail Thomas. Lessons are free to Center members or $4. to non-members. Center memberships are always available.

Calico Capers Square Dance

The Center has an adult dance activity that meets each week. This is the Calico Capers square dance held on Saturday nights. They meet from 8-11 p.m. and dance to an out-of-town caller.

The Capers are always open for membership and invite all interested persons to come out on Saturday night so they can meet you and give you full details about their club. Ocie Stewart is current club president. The Capers are at present finishing lessons for beginners and will hold their graduation dance on Tuesday night, April 25.

Judo Lessons

There has been a change in meeting time for judo due to the school schedule of our instructor. Judo will meet only on Thursday nights from 7-8:30. No meeting on Monday because our instructor, Paul Moot, must attend night school.

Judo enrollment is still open to boys 8 years of age or older and girls who are 12 years of age or older. Parents, both male and female, are invited to participate with the children. Each participant should be a Center member which is $5. for 6 months or $8. per year. In addition a mat fee of 50 cents per month is charged. If you are interested, please attend the Thursday (only weekly meeting) so that full details can be given you by the instructor.

Dolphin Swim Team

Boys and girls who are interested in competitive swimming, please draw your attention to this column. The Youth Center is the home of the Dolphins. This is a swim club for boys and girls who know how to swim and like to race. Swimmers from 6-18 are invited to participate. The club is A.A.U. sanctioned and they attend several weekend meets during the school year.

Swimmers are needed in all age groups to complete relay teams so that we can have relay representation at all meets. All interested swimmers are urged to contact coach Nell Carter at 665-8771 or come out for practice. The only requirement is that you be a member of the Youth Center. Workout time is 6-7:00 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Red Cross News

By Libby Shotwell
Southwestern Public Service employees completed a Multi-media First Aid Course with 47 employees completing the course. Scott Langford, MM FAI with Max Comer, FAI Trainer from Amarillo taught the class.

The Red Cross Board met Tuesday morning with 15 persons attending the meeting. Mrs. Don George presided and reports from the standing committees were given. A coffee for the RC Hospital Volunteers was to be held at Mrs. Lee Harrah's home 2101 Duncan at 9:30 Saturday morning, April 15. Ray Fisher announced a class in Standard First Aid would be taught for Kewanee employees beginning April 18, 20, 27 and May 1, from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. at the North Fire Station.

Jack Chisum, WSI for Gray Co. reported a class for Boy Scouts would begin soon at the Pampa Youth Center. Announcement was made that enrollment in the Summer Swim program would begin May 11 and 12 in the Red Cross office from 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. The board voted to purchase a Multi-media film so that classes for the community could be held.

Mrs. Hugh Burdette, chairman of the arrangement committee for the Annual meeting urged all persons interested in Red Cross work to make their reservations through the Red Cross office. The Annual meeting will be held May 1 at the First United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall at 7 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. James L. Moody, Volunteers will be guest speakers.

William M. Ledbetter has held another Multi-media First Aid Class for Skelly Oil Co. with following receiving their certificates: John H. Anderson, Irvin A. Brown, Charles C. Cross, David Dickerson, Ken Elliott, Joe Clint Grady, J. D. Herd, J. R. Lawrence Jr., William J. Ludlum, Charles D. McCloud, Sr., William F. Moreland, Melvin Norris, B. C. Putnam, and Raymond W. Shannon.

There will be a Water Safety Clinic April 22 at West Texas University Pool, Canyon, Texas, with all Water Safety Instructors invited to attend the clinic from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. A noon luncheon will be held for the WSI Trainers in this area. All instructors that plan to attend this important meeting should call the Red Cross office and arrangements will be made for them.

William Ledbetter First Aid Instructor for Multi Media has completed another class this week. Bob Eastman and Roscoe Mounds from Celanese were invited to take the course with the Skelly Oil Co. employees who completed the course. Wallace Benefield, G. Earl Black, Paul Boissenot, Orville Bradley Jr., S. O. Dunham, Alford E. Elwess, James M. Meekins, Joe L. Rochelle, Creed Smith, Calvyn Taylor, Lewis C. Yager, and Darrell Yeager.

Youth Movements? Take Year 1212...

By DON OAKLEY

One of the most familiar events in history, yet one of the least known, is the Children's Crusade, which took place during eight months in the year 1212.

Nearly 100,000 children marched through Europe in an attempt to reach Jerusalem, armed only with a pure faith whose power they believed would convert the Moslem infidels and liberate the Holy City.

Most histories of the Crusades give scant mention to this amazing phenomenon, which went almost unrecorded by contemporary chroniclers. Yet so deep a mark did it leave on men's minds, so strong a hold does it still exercise over our imaginations after more than 800 years, that we inevitably call any movement of youth a "Children's Crusade."

Until recently, however, no book about the real Children's Crusade remained in print. William Morrow & Co., New York, has just republished one of the best, a history written by a 19th-century New England clergyman, George Zabriske Gray.

Impressed by the fact that no exhaustive treatment of the subject had ever been undertaken, Gray set out to collect and narrate such details of that story as have been saved from oblivion...with regret that they are so few.

The few known details are these: In the spring of 1212, a French shepherd boy known only as Stephen of Cloyes began preaching in the town of Saint-Denis. His message quickly spread throughout Europe, and that summer three separate armies of children, each numbering about 30,000 boys and girls, with adult hangers-on, began marching.

One, led by Stephen, proceeded through France to the Mediterranean, which the children were confident would open a path for them, even as the Red Sea had parted for Moses.

A second crusade led by a boy named Nicholas left Cologne, Germany, and crossed the Alps into Italy. For some reason, the German children had divided into a third army under an unknown leader.

"These boys shame us," said Pope Innocent III, who had been trying unsuccessfully to whip up adult enthusiasm for a Fifth Crusade.

At Marseilles, two local merchants offered the French children free passage to the Holy Land. Perhaps 5,000 embarked on seven ships. Their fate was not known for 18 years, when a priest who had accompanied them returned with word that two ships had gone down at sea; the rest of the children had been delivered into slavery in Egypt.

The sea did not part for the German children, either. Some remained in Italy. The others, disillusioned, began retracing their weary steps. Along the routes of all three armies, thousands perished from hunger and disease and accidents, were forced into prostitution or crime, or simply dropped out to be lost to history.

Gray estimates that at least a third of the 100,000 children never saw their homes again.

In an introduction to the reissue of Gray's history, Thomas Powers, author of "Diana: The Making of a Terrorist," draws a parallel between the Children's Crusade and youthful involvement in civil rights sit-ins, anti-war movements and political campaigns of the last decade.

Both the old and the recent events were in the name of ideals which adults are more inclined to preach than to practice, he writes. In both cases, the young set off with an unshakable faith in the righteousness of their cause and a conviction that the strength of their commitment was enough to overcome all difficulties.

But there is really no comparison. The original child crusaders were literally children; their average age was only about 12. The Children's Crusade remains a unique and inexpressibly tragic event which the world, thankfully, has witnessed but once.

Case For Long Term In Office

By BRUCE BOSSAT WASHINGTON (NEA)

A thoughtful ex-bureaucrat, anonymous here, suggests that frustrated, alienated Americans may pay a very high price if, in their anger and impatience, they make a habit of casting out presidents, governors and the like after short service.

He was not making the argument to urge the reelection of President Nixon to a second term. But he was contending, in a general way, that four years is too short a time to achieve significant change in government policies.

Let's take a couple of examples—welfare reform and the sharing of federal tax revenues with the states and cities.

The evidence is strong that on both of these issues there is a broad consensus of national support. In the 1968 campaign, Republicans and Democrats alike called for welfare change, with full confidence that nearly everybody, including most welfare recipients, wanted it. When seen as a means of easing state-local tax burdens, revenue-sharing clearly has wide appeal, too.

President Nixon first proposed sweeping welfare reform legislation in August 1969. It is nearly three years since then, and we still do not have it. He advocated his own version of revenue-sharing more than a year ago, and we don't have that, either.

You can offer up a basket of reasons these things are taking so long: insufficient pressure from the White House, divided government (with the Democrats holding Congress), roadblocks imposed by powerful individual lawmakers in key positions. The point my ex-bureaucrat would make is that these difficulties are today commonplace and must be dealt with as part of the grinding legislative process.

The man argues that, in the best of circumstances, this process is inherently slow. A new administration needs years to get its own people placed and established, to open proper lines of contact with the continuing bureaucracy, to develop understanding, and finally to shape major changes and try to push them through.

In today's evident national mood, wherein impatience seems to have been elevated to a way of life, the increasing tendency of American voters is not to wait this slow process out. They toss governors, onto the scrap heap like last year's automobile tires. And we hear much these days about what might be a developing vogue of one-term presidents—though no trend has set in yet.

If that should in fact become a habit, my source contends that we would then have created a serious discontinuity between the political process and the policy-making process.

In other words, should voters impatient of the policy process work out their anger by throwing the incumbents to the winds, then they are breaking the thread of developing change. The next incumbent must start the learning task all over again, try to pick up and mend the thread, and long, long afterward, maybe bring about the change the voters' consensus had approved years before. Says the ex-bureaucrat:

"I wonder if the voters have any idea how high the price can be for interrupting this process of change."

Pipsqueak Pocketbooks

"The United States should no longer pay the lion's share of the U.N. expenses, and not a cent more than our proportionate share, if that. It seems to me that...the United States should cut off all foreign aid to those nations which voted in opposition to our position. When you hit these pipsqueak nations in the pocketbook, that is one thing they understand." —Rep. Sam Devine (R.-Ohio)

Mao, Hitler, Mussolini

"In the long run, the vote in the United Nations marks the end of that body as one which can command respect of those who truly seek a world at peace. To admit Mao Tse-tung and the Peking leadership into the United Nations is as great an act of cynicism as to have permitted Hitler and Mussolini to join the League of Nations at the very moment when they were taking the world to war." —Rep. Philip Crane (R.-Ill.)

"Guess He Followed You All the Way Home!"

VIEWPOINT

JESSE HELMS

"Non-Partisan Education"

There was an obscure little item tucked away on an inside page a few days ago taking note of the organization of what the news item described as "a non-profit, non-partisan educational council" whose purpose, the item added, will be to "refute rightwing propaganda" around the country.

It happens every election year. The public had better beware. If history runs true to form, this so-called "non-partisan" outfit will be, roughly speaking, just about as non-partisan as the Democratic or Republican national committees.

Oh, it'll be "educational" all right. The public will be taught that two plus two equals seven, and that any citizen who objects to forced busing is a racist, and that public concern about communism and socialism is merely the result of fascist propaganda.

The trouble with an organization like this is its insidiousness. Generally speaking, the news media swallow its pronouncements—not to mention its distorted definitions and evaluations—as pure gospel.

There was precisely such a self-proclaimed "non-profit, non-partisan educational council" back in 1964, financed behind the scenes by the Democratic National Committee which devoted its "non-partisan" efforts primarily to destroying Barry Goldwater's candidacy for the Presidency. The financing scheme was not exposed until after the election when it was learned that the Democratic National Committee had put up much of the money. Before the campaign was over, a vast percentage of the American people had been persuaded that Senator Goldwater intended to drop an atomic bomb on tiny blond girls picking daisies and, further, that Mr. Goldwater—if elected President—would spend all four years in the White House tearing up Social Security cards.

So the Senator got clobbered, and the American people got four years of Lyndon Johnson and his no-win war in Vietnam, his so-called "War on Poverty," that never did get around to helping the poor people of the country, and a sense of public despair that has not even yet been lifted from the American psychology.

The Senator was constantly labeled throughout the campaign as a "reactionary," as an "ultraconservative"—and even, on one occasion, as a "psychopath." Now that's real "non-partisan education" for you! All this because the Senator had said that if America was going to fight communism in Vietnam, we ought to fight to win; plus some frank notions held by the Senator that forced integration would not work, and that Social Security perhaps ought to be revamped so as to make it more equitable and fair.

We mention the character assassination of Barry Goldwater because it is a classic illustration of how public awareness can be manipulated by disguised political groups pretending to be "non-partisan."

Goldwater was constantly described as a "negative" man, as one who was "against everything" and never "for" anything. Well, he was indeed "against" a lot of things—which automatically made him "for" exactly the opposite. He was against a long, drawn-out no-win war in Vietnam. He was against the kind of welfare program that encourages people not to work. He was against forced integration. But he was for fighting to win if we were to fight at all; he was for freedom-of-choice; he was for the kind of welfare programs that concentrate on helping the truly needy and the truly worthy.

But the American people were sold the bill of goods that he was a "negative man." It never occurred to millions of Americans that the most positive aspects of human development are often stated in the negative. The Ten Commandments, for example, consist largely of warnings to mankind that "Thou shalt not..." The Bill of Rights devotes itself almost entirely to what the federal government shall not do. If these are "negative" declarations, America could do with a great deal more negativism. There are a lot of things being done to the American people, and by them, that are a serious disservice to the country.

So, a word of caution: Take note of "non-partisan" organizations that piously proclaim that they are "educating" the public. Ask yourself: Who's behind these organizations? And what do the news media really mean when they declare that a man is "negative," that he's "always against everything," and that he's "ultraconservative"? You might just discover that the targets of such attacks are men who are against the same things you're against—and for the things you're for.—The American Way Features Ideals are like stars. You will not succeed in touching them with your hands; but, like the seafaring man, you choose them as your guides, and, following them, you will reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz, German-American statesman.

Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWEESE Editor of The News

SCHOOL HOUSE Kitty has been bombarded during the past week by curious persons hoping to learn what was meant by the report she gave us last week on the sub-rosa leak as to why balloting in the recent school board election turned out the way it did.

As far as this column is concerned, the status is still quo and instead of not touching it with a 20-foot pole—length of the pole is now extended to 30 feet.

As stated last Sunday—we gave no credence to the report. School House Kitty has gone into hiding and the cloud still hovers.

All we can say is that those doing the digging will have to go a lot deeper into the underground. Only time will tell if it turns out to be true or false.

NEXT SUNDAY will mark one of the most exciting milestones in Pampa's civic history.

That's the day the new $1.2 million M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium will be dedicated and opened to the public.

Pampans are expected to pack the 1,530-seat auditorium to overflowing and thousands of visitors will tour the spacious new structure in the afternoon hours following the dedicatory ceremonies.

The auditorium also will be open for visitors from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday, April 24.

As Chamber of Commerce president Roy Sparkman puts it, Sunday and Monday of next week will be "Red Letter Days in the modern history of Pampa."

Sunday, of course, will be occupied with the dedication and visitors' tours.

Then on Monday, the following day, the Chamber of Commerce will hold its April membership meeting in the great banquet hall.

All chamber members and their wives, along with the general public are invited to join in the celebration of the fine facility by attending the first function to be held in the dining area.

THE AUDITORIUM will be a beehive of activity this week with the final touches falling into place and the cleanup crew getting everything in spic and span shape for dedication day.

The construction superintendent tells us the work will run right through Saturday night, April 22, with possibly a few extra licks on Sunday forenoon prior to the start of the dedication program at 2:30 p.m.

GIVING A second thought to the chamber meeting on Monday, April 24, it is appropriate that the speaker at the luncheon will be William Jarrell Smith.

Mr. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the M.K. Brown Foundation, and Mr. Brown were longtime associates and friends.

The topic of his luncheon address will, of course, relate to Mr. Brown and his activities from pioneer days right down to his modern day philanthropies which included making Pampa's new civic auditorium possible.

Mr. Smith also will appear and speak on "Reflections" at the Sunday dedication following the dedicatory address of Frank H. Wardlaw, director of the University of Texas Press at Austin, another longtime friend of the late Mr. Brown.

TO THOSE not familiar with the story of how the city auditorium becomes a reality for Pampa, may it be stated here just briefly that the structure built in his memory and to be opened next Sunday long had been a dream of Mr. Brown before his untimely death following an automobile accident Sept. 10, 1964.

The auditorium dedication next Sunday will be the posthumous realization of that dream. Mr. Brown was always thinking of Pampa and what he could contribute to make it a better place in which to live.

The M.K. Brown Foundation was founded to carry out his wishes, which included an auditorium for Pampa that would become a showplace in the Texas Panhandle.

The initial $800,000 contribution for building the structure was made in cash by the Foundation along with provisions to pay off the additional $400,000 of the $1.2 million total cost by retiring city bonds with revenue from the M.K. Brown Estate during the next 15 years.

His dream has come true. The new auditorium will stand as a monument to the memory of a man who loved Pampa and Pampans.

BY THE way, have you mailed your entry in the City's contest to name the auditorium dining hall?

The deadline is 5 p.m. Tuesday. Send your entry to the Auditorium Contest Editor, The News, Box 2198, Pampa.

City Commission members will go over the entries and pick the winner on Wednesday. The winner, who will receive a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, will be announced Thursday.

Only one name may be submitted by each person. In event two persons submit the same winning name, the earliest entry will win the $50 Savings Bond.

So, hurry—there's still time.

INCIDENTALLY, the City Hall Cat reports City Manager Mack Wofford is about to come down with a mild case of auditoriumitis.

In the first place he is swamped daily with all the minute details that accompany completion of the building and plans for dedication day.

According to the Cat, nobody—not nobody—has any idea about how many "little" things bob up every day—things with which the city manager must cope. Questions to be answered. This to be solved. That to be solved, and so on ad infinitum.

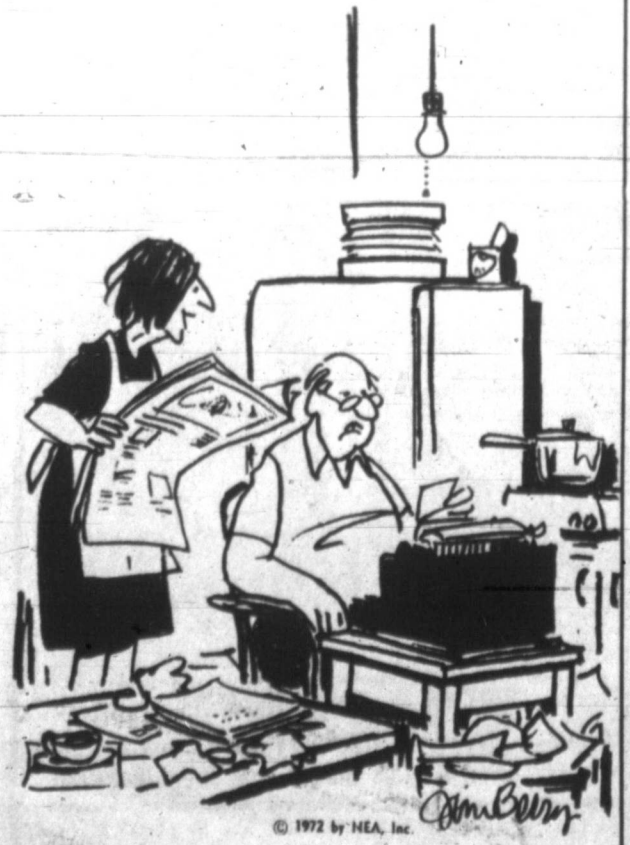

It's all because the auditorium does not have a manager yet and will not have one until the beginning of the next fiscal year, come Oct. 1.

The city manager and his staff at City Hall are going to be the managers for the next five months. If you think that's no big deal, Wofford can change your mind in a few minutes.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I've just had an idea! Have you noticed how publishers have put out books by all the different presidential candidates?"

Radio And Television

NEW YORK (AP) — David Steinberg flies to Hollywood today to start intense preparation for becoming a television star—who is anyone with his own series. David is one of four young performers tapped by CBS to head up some summer replacement series.

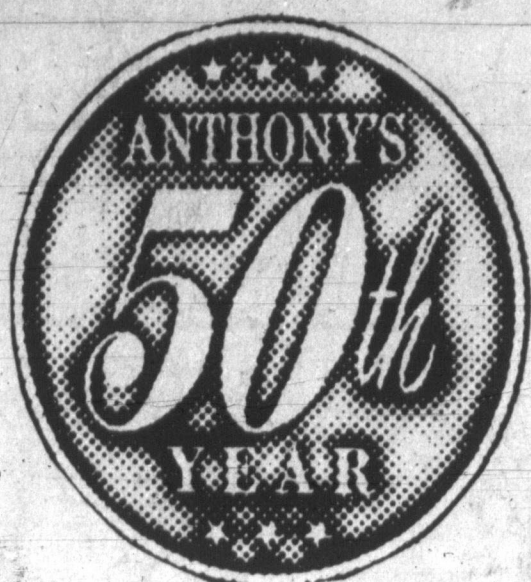

Odds against moving a summer replacement show to the network's winter prime-time schedule are long indeed. But Glen Campbell made it and so did Sonny and Cher. David, who has been prominent as a guest comedian and traveler on the talk-show circuit for several years, has a general idea of what he wants to do with his five programs.

"I'm inclined to believe that the television audience is greatly underrated," he said. "There is no other way to explain the fact that last year's hit will be next year's program. I believe that people—the audience—are just waiting for something interesting to happen and will jump at it. That's what comedy is, anyway: surprise."

Steinberg, who studied at the Hebrew Theological Seminary in Chicago and has a master's degree in English literature from the University of Chicago, is a quietly satiric raconteur who started his professional career with five years as a member of the "Second City" company. He has acted in Broadway shows and is a hit in the nightclubs and the concert circuit.

X-Ray Department At Highland Offers Round-The-Clock Service

EDITORS NOTE—This is the fourth in a series of weekly articles, prepared by the public relations department of Highland General Hospital, to acquaint the public with hospital officials, employees, department procedures and the many services offered to the people of Gray County.

By JUDITH KITTO

The diagnostic departments of any hospital are essential in order to insure proper treatment of its patients. One of these departments is Radiology. Under the direction of Highland General Hospital's Radiologist, Dr. F. A. Elston, is a staff of competent, experienced X-ray technicians who are members of the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists.

Head of the X-ray Department is Dick Kastein who has been with Highland General Hospital for 17 years. Other technicians are Chuck Tanner and Bob Steger who have both been with the hospital more than 10 years. Their job as technicians is to take the actual X-ray series of the patient, and to develop them satisfactorily so that Dr. Elston can interpret them.

Dr. Elston's findings are dictated to the Medical Records Department where they are typed and recorded on the patient's chart for doctors to use in treatment of the patient. More than 8000 series of X-rays were taken at Highland General last year. One technician is always on call giving the people of Pampa 24 hours of service from this department. Assisting the technicians is just as if the patient was taking the test there. Results can then be immediately relayed back to Highland General.

Miss Jeane Leigh. Miss Leigh brings the patients to X-ray and prepares them for the tests. Also working in the X-ray Department is Miss Pam McClelland, an Industrial Cooperative Training Student from Pampa High School. Miss McClelland's job is to help with the patients and to develop the X-ray film. Each day women from the Hospital Auxiliary help in transferring patients to and from the X-ray Department.

The Electrocardiogram (EKG) test is also given by the X-ray technicians. This is a test that records electric currents produced by the heart to determine if there is any heart damage. In case of damage to the heart an EKG can determine its location. If there is an emergency the EKG can be transmitted by a telephone hook-up which records the EKG directly on a cardiograph machine in the heart specialist's office in Amarillo.

All EKGs and X-rays are kept either in their original form or on microfilm and filed in the department according to the patient's name and also any unusual cases so they will be easily accessible for the doctors use.

Lunar Buggy Will Cover More Area This Time

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—It cost millions to build the lunar buggy scheduled to explore the moon on Apollo 16, but a man who helped to develop it says the price doesn't begin to compare with its advantages.

And besides, says Frank J. Musil of Huntsville, Ala., it costs plenty to build a regular earth bound car.

He said one of the major automobile manufacturers in Detroit recently reported that it cost $400 million to develop a new model. "And that's not counting the engine," he said.

Musil, the Boeing Co. program manager for the lunar rover, said the total contract for the vehicle amounted to about $38 million, including $30-$32 million for designing and developing it.

"In terms of actual hardware sitting there, it's not all that much," Musil said, noting there are no plans to return any lunar rovers to earth.

"It probably amounts to $100,000 or so, but it served its purpose," he said. "It covered more than 10 times the area covered by any previous walking missions."

The rover was first used on Apollo 15. Plans call for it to make both the Apollo 16 and 17 flights.

Joining Musil in praising the lunar rover at a recent technical convention here was astronaut David R. Scott, commander of Apollo 15.

He said the only change he could recommend was redesigning the seatbelts, which has been done. "I can't think of a better way to do it," he said of the little buggy.

Scott said man may benefit from concepts developed for the lunar rover, such as the vehicle's hand control "stick" that incorporates all features of driving, including turning and stopping.

He predicted the public will continue to support the space program because people are beginning to learn there are valuable returns from it.

"Technology is what keeps this country going," he said. "It's our best product."

Musil said the lunar rover was not the only type of transportation considered for the moon. Pogo sticks and back pack rockets were among possibilities discussed, he said, adding:

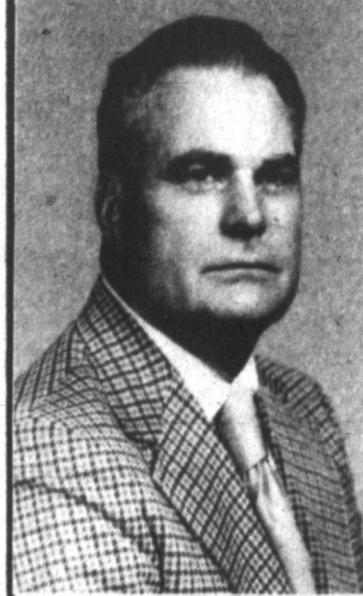

"But it just turned out that the good old American automobile was the best way to do it." Musil and Scott discussed the rover at a meeting sponsored by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

General Dynamics Gets Contract For Building Fighter Prototype

FORT WORTH (AP)—Fort Worth's General Dynamics plant was one of two aircraft companies picked Thursday to build prototypes of a new lightweight fighter plane.

The Department of Defense made the announcement through Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., of Fort Worth.

Also awarded a big contract was Northrop Corp. of Hawthorne, Calif.

General Dynamics received a $37.9 million contract while the award to Northrop involved $39.1 million.

Each firm will design and build two prototype aircraft which the Air Force will use to determine the feasibility of developing a small, lightweight, low-cost fighter plane. The first flight tests are scheduled to begin in the next 18 to 26 months.

Three other firms bidding for the fighter contract were Boeing, Ling-Temco-Vought, and Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

As the avionics contractor for the B1, Boeing of Seattle, Wash., received a $82.5 million award to provide the electronics and navigation equipment for the new swing-wing bomber now under development by the North American Rockwell Corp.

Losing bidders on the B1 contract were General Dynamics, Hughes Aircraft Co., IBM Corp., and North American Rockwell Autonotics.

"On the basis of that competition, it is expected the Air Force will award one of the Texas Tech U. Starts Project For Handicapped

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—A project aimed at minimizing problems presented by various architectural barriers to handicapped persons has been launched at Texas Tech University.

Targets are such things as a simple flight of stairs, a narrow doorway or an inconveniently located telephone which present little problem to most persons but which may become complete and absolute barriers to those who must contend with them in wheelchairs, on crutches or without the ability to see.

The project in the area of architectural barriers has been begun by Tech's chapter of Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity and the university's Institute for Development of Family Resources.

"This project is an attempt by our fraternity and the research institute to make the university community aware of the physical obstacles that the handicapped encounter," said Ray Alverson, chairman of Alpha Phi Omega's Architectural Barriers Committee.

He explained that the project is currently in the task force stage.

companies a long-term, production contract to build many hundreds of the planes.

Wright said. The important thing about Thursday's action, Wright said, is that it keeps General Dynamics in business.

"We're in the ball game in a period when a lot of aircraft companies are falling by the wayside," he said.

"This is strictly a prototype program for testing some new technology applied in a simple way in a very lightweight, highly maneuverable air-to-air superiority fighter," said Lyman C. Josephs, Convair Aerospace Division vice president and lightweight fighter program director.

"The objective is to see whether this kind of technology is really useful in the operational arena," he said in a Fort Worth press conference.

It is considered unlikely that the air force would order planes from both companies.

Wright said he is confident that General Dynamics "will acquit itself well in this competition. They've built some fine planes in the past and I'll put my bet on them winning it."

Josephs said the fact the amount of General Dynamics contract is lower than that awarded Northrop is of no real significance.

"We were asked to structure a contract price within a certain scope of work, and the Air Force did not give us very much specific instructions as to how much work they really wanted," he said.

"Each contractor structured his own program and ours came out a little less than Northrop's," Josephs said.

Josephs said one major objective of the program is to make as inexpensive a plane as possible, "to reverse the trend in what's been happening to weapons systems in the last 15 years."

General Dynamics officials would reveal few specifics about the plane's design and capabilities, saying some additional data probably will be released in a few months as it is de-classified.

However, Josephs did say the plane is "an air superiority day fighter."

"It is for the purpose of engaging the enemy in air-to-air combat in conditions when you can see the enemy visually," he said.

He said he considers the plane "a relatively simple airplane."

"However, it does embody advanced technology of the types that haven't been tried before. If they are successful—and we believe they will be—it will make a quantum jump in the effectiveness of air-to-air combat fighters," Josephs said.

The General Dynamics plane will be a single engine, single pilot, supersonic jet, which Josephs said will be "a modern advanced technology version of some of the class of air superiority fighters that the U.S. Air Force and the U.S. Navy had in the early and middle 1950's."

By CLAY LIVELY
Pampa High School won the district 3-4A track meet Saturday on a windy (what else?) track at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo. It marks the first district championship for Pampa track and field since 1959. Pampa scored a total of 113 1-2 points to 94 for runner-up Berger. Other team totals were: Palo Duro, 82; Caprock, 74; Amarillo, 68; Tascosa, 61 1-2.

Two new district records were set at Saturday's meet. Willie Johnson of Berger broke his own year-old mark of 50.5 in the 440-yard dash with a time of 49.5. Elroy Williams of Palo Duro went 6'6" in the high jump to break the old mark of 6'5" set by him last year. Pampa's 440-yard relay team (Chuck Reeves, Garvin McCarrell, Rick McGuire and Richard McCampbell) came within two-tenths of the old mark while winning the event in their season best time of 42.0. Reeves pulled a muscle in his left thigh while warming up for the morning preliminaries, and was scratched from the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Toward the end of his lead-off leg in the relay he appeared to injure it again, but he was still successful in gaining the lead, which Pampa never relinquished. Pampa's mile relay team, made up of Mike Reddell, Terry Riddle, Dennis Stowers and Bobby Owen, was beaten for only the second time this year by Amarillo. Wardell Gilbreath led-off for the Sandies and established a lead that Pampa could not overcome. Amarillo won in 3:25.3 and Pampa came in second with 3:26.3. The Harvesters will get to run them again at the regional meet. Reddell and McCampbell both won their individual specialties. Reddell captured the 880 with a time of 2:01.2 and

Hawks To Face Rangers

By The Associated Press
"I've never seen two clubs more the same than the Black Hawks and us," New York Coach Emile Francis said of his Rangers and the Chicago squad they'll face starting Sunday in the National Hockey League playoffs. "Both play good positional hockey and strong defense," Francis said. "That's why we had such a close series last year. We've got to expect the same type series this year." The Rangers are itching to get back at the Chicago Hawks for last year, when Chicago won the semifinal series in the full seven games, one of them a triple-overtime affair. Sunday night's game is the first in this year's Stanley Cup semifinals for the Black Hawks, who swept past Pittsburgh in four straight games, and the Rangers, who knocked out the defending champion Montreal Canadiens in six. The Boston Bruins will be in the other semifinal but they won't know their opponent until the end of Sunday afternoon's seventh and deciding quarter-final clash at Minnesota between the St. Louis Blues and the North Stars. "With 15,000 fans screaming for you instead of against you, it has to be worth something," said Coach Jack Gordon, whose North Stars have won all three of their games at home—just as the Blues have done. But despite that trend in this series, St. Louis Coach Al Arbour says the home-ice advantage won't mean too much. "In a seventh game anything can happen," Arbour insists. "We've actually played well enough to win twice up in Minnesota and it's about time for the law of averages to catch up."

McCampbell won the 100 with a 9.7 mark. Owen finished second in the 440. Freddie Wilbon placed second in the high jump with a 6'2" effort. The first two places in both individual events and the relays advance to the regional meet to be held next week-end in Lubbock. Results: 440 relay - 1. Pampa, 42.0; 2. Dave Hill Holds Lead At Monsanto Open

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Chain-smoking Dave Hill clipped three strokes off par with a 68 and stretched his lead to a whopping five strokes Saturday in the third round of the $150,000 Monsanto Open Golf Tournament.

Hill's margin was the largest for three rounds for any tournament on the pro tour this season and his total of 200-13 under par on the 6,679-yard Pensacola Country Club course was the lowest 54-hole score of the season.

Big Chris Blocker was a distant second at 205 after forging a 67 in the hot and humid weather. Bob Smith, who had been second for the first two rounds, slipped back to third with a 70-206. Ray Floyd, a former PGA champ, and young Jerry Heard, looking for his second victory of the season, followed at 207. Floyd had a 68 and Heard a 69. Jim Colbert, Al Geiberger, Dan Sikes and Tommy Aaron followed at 208, eight strokes back of Hill who has led all the way in this chase for a $30,000 first prize.

Utah Stars Hit Pacers

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Jimmie Jones scored 25 points, and Zelo Beatty added 23. Although playing with sore knees, to give Utah a 106-100 victory over Indiana Saturday in the opening game of their American Basketball Association Western Division playoff final.

Beatty, who had used crutches earlier in the week because he was ailing with arthritis, contributed 19 points in the second half. Willie Wise added 23 for the Stars, who will try to make it two in a row over the Pacers in Monday night's game here. George McClinnis scored 31 for Indiana, and Roger Brown added 28.

Utah lead 82-81 at the third-period mark. Indiana went ahead 86-84 on a three-pointer by Rick Mount. Utah took the lead for good at 99-97 with 4:41 left on a 20-footer by Red Robbins. Stars' coach LaDell Andersen replaced Wise with 6-foot-9 Ira Harge, and Utah controlled the boards in the final minutes. Indiana narrowed the Stars lead to 100-94 with three minutes left, but two free throws by Beatty, field goals by Wise and Jones and a dunk by Harge put the Stars out of reach.

Baseball and the Strike

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK—(NEA)—The baseball players' strike, in the end, will have little effect on the fan. As the clouds gather around the double play at second base and the heat of the pennant race warms in August, the fan will forget the passions of the spring strike. The fan has a memory fuse as short as his temper. "What have you done for us lately?" is all he asks, all he's ever asked. "The only thing that will be relevant to the fan," said Tom Seaver, the Mets' star pitcher and player representative, "is how his team is doing and how the individual players are doing." For now, though, there seems to be a souring. The fan stares into his glass of beer and bemoans his knickered heroes. He still cannot accept the realism that they are actually mortal men who play this kid's game, and play it for profit. They play it, not only because—like that fan—they love it, but also to provide a security for their families and a livelihood today. Yet heroes are expected to be cut from a wholly different cloth. They may look like the rest of us, but they must act and perform like demigods. "Baseball heroes," wrote Tristram Coffin, in "The Old

SET PACING RECORD

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Bye Bye Byrd, a versatile pacer, set a world record for the mile on a half-mile track on Aug. 28, 1959 at Roosevelt Raceway. He was timed in 1:47 4/5 with Clint Hodgins driving. The mark was tied on the same track by Adios Butler on June 30, 1961.

DETROIT (AP) — Ed Brinkman hit a two-run homer in the second inning, and Bill Freehan singled in a run in the seventh to give the Detroit Tigers a 3-2 opening-day victory over the Boston Red Sox Saturday.

Little League Try-outs Set

Little League try-outs for the 1972 season are slated to get underway this week. All interested boys aged 9-12 are urged to attend the sessions which will be held at 5:30 at the Optimist Park. To be eligible for Little League, a boy must be nine years old before Aug. 1, 1972, or must not reach his 13th birthday before August 1. The try-outs will be held on April 18, 19, 20 and 21. Boys aged nine and eleven will attend April 18 and 20. Those who are 10 and 12 should report on April 19 and 21. Boys must attend both scheduled try-outs to be eligible. Those boys who participated on a Little League team last year do not have to try-out. All others, including those who played on a farm team last year, must attend the sessions. The National League teams will be composed of boys living east of Russell St., up to 23rd and Perryton Parkway. Boys west of this area will be placed on American League teams. All boys in the National League section should report to the south park. Boys in the American League area go to the north park.

NHL Players Threaten Strike

TORONTO (AP) — Undoubtedly taking its cue from major league baseball, the National Hockey League Players' Association Friday notified club owners that unless playoff bonuses are increased and the pension plan improved during negotiations next June, the players will be prepared to strike. Alan Eagleson of Toronto, executive director of the NHLPA, said the payments must be retroactive to include this year's playoffs. "The pensions are more important," he told a press conference Friday. "They affect more teams and more players and a strike is the only weapon the players have if they don't feel they are getting an acceptable portion of the profits." Eagleson referred to a United States report, produced this year, which found the average NHL profit per team was $2.1 million on the hockey operation alone. However, in Montreal, NHL President Clarence Campbell said the league had an agreement with the players' group that they wouldn't strike.

Phillies 4, Cubs 2

CHICAGO (AP) — Jose Cardenal's three-base error allowed two Philadelphia runs to score in the top of the ninth inning, and the Phillies whipped the Chicago Cubs 4-2 in the opening game of the 1972 baseball season Saturday.

A's 4, Twins 3

OAKLAND (AP) — Joe Rudi, racing home on Gene Tenace's 11th-inning grounder, slammed into Minnesota catcher George Mitterwald, jarring the ball loose and scoring the winning run as the Oakland A's edged the Twins 4-3 in their season opener Saturday.

Royals 2, Chi 1

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bob Oliver's dramatic two-out homer tied the game in the ninth inning and then rookie John Mayberry won it with a two-out single in the 11th as the Kansas City Royals edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in their baseball opener Saturday.

Dodgers 3, Reds 1

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Sutton and Jim Brewer held the Cincinnati Reds to three hits Saturday as the Los Angeles Dodgers opened the late-starting 1972 National League baseball season with a 3-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Brewers 5, Cleve 1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dave May and Ron Theobald drilled home runs, and Bill Parsons and Ken Sanders teamed for a seven-hitter Saturday as the Milwaukee Brewers defeated the Cleveland Indians 5-1 in both team's opener Saturday.

Expos 3, Cards 2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jose Cruz' two-base error set up Mike Jorgenson's third run batted in, a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning, that carried the Montreal Expos to a 3-2 opening-game victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday.

It's Still the Only National Pastime in Town

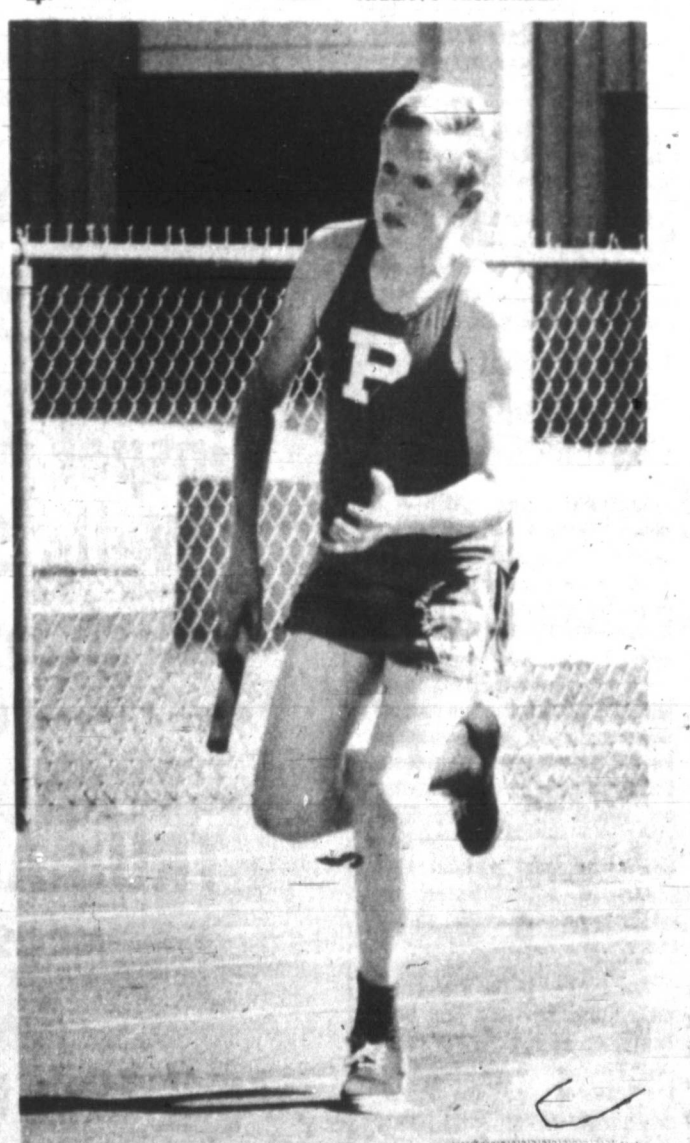

TOM SEAVER demonstrates one reason why he says that "playing baseball isn't as easy as it looks."

Ball Game." "strutting and fretting upon an artificial stage, find their personalities being crammed into basic stereotypes that the world seems never to have been without." So Willie Mays and Tom Seaver are contemporary America's summertime version of Hercules and Achilles. Of course, our psyche permits us not to look upon these mortal men as mercenaries. We give little thought to the fact that a man from Hackensack and another from Caracas play for the Chicago Cubs, and a man from Punxsutawney, Pa., and another from Muskegon are with Baltimore. And so we are shocked and numbed by such mundane matters as money—for them. And besides, what money! We hear of $100,000 a year salaries, $200,000 a year salaries. And we feel an encroaching cynicism: Are these romantic heroes Hessians? No, they are simple men, trained in the ways of a capitalistic society. The system tells us that we can earn as much as our expertness and as much as the laws of supply and demand dictate. Yet under the reserve clause (in which an owner determines a player's baseball life) and under the monopolistic power that makes contract "haggling" a ritual and "nothing more," the professional baseball player lives outside the system. The point is not that players often make a great deal of money in comparison to your local butcher but that they aren't accorded all the rights they might earn in a free market.

For example, major league clubs' gate receipts have increased to 80 times what they were in 1883 but the average players' salary has increased only seven times in the same period (according to Dr. Harold Seymour, author of "Baseball: The Golden Age"). "And," said Tom Seaver, "not all of the players make over $100,000 a year. Many make $20,000 and less. And they have great expenses—like living in three different places: a spring training home, their club's hometown and their off-season home." "Yet the players' strike had more to do with ethics and reason than just money matters. We feel we've been taken advantage of by the owners. When Charley Finley can tell Vida Blue that he has to sign for what Finley wants him to, or not play at all, well, that's grossly unfair." "It's true," said Seaver, "that we get up in the morning and look forward to going to work. A steelworker probably doesn't. But our job is not all that easy. Follow me around in the hot days of August." Seaver mirrors something Ed Walsh, a long-ago great pitcher, said. Walsh once worked in coal fields. "This being regarded as a star pitcher is a harder job than being a coal miner," he said. There have been a handful of strikes and threatened strikes in baseball history, dating all the way back to 1890. The owners even termed the players "in-grates" and "anarchists." The faithful fans were appalled at the players' rapacity. (Even so divine a hero as Walter Johnson was, during a contract dispute, vilified in this headline: "Almighty Dollar Johnson's Ideal.") However, the fans still come. It is not so easy to live a humdrum life and have no hero to cheer, no bum to boo. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Pearson, Allison Are Top Starters

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — David Pearson and Bobby Allison, two of stock car racing's top money professionals, are the front row starters for Sunday's Rebel 400 spring classic.

But a gallery that may exceed 50,000 likely will devote some attention to the seventh row in the 36-car lineup—the one to be occupied by Jackie Oliver and Buck Baker.

Seldom have two more disparate drivers been matched side-by-side in a big race. Their cars, Chevrolets, to be sure are an almost identical light blue. Oliver's machine bears the number 90, Baker's is No. 92.

There, however, the similarity ends.

Oliver, a 29-year-old from Walton-on-the-Thames, England, is making only his third start in stock sedan racing. He's from the "sporty car" set that is a world away from most of the drivers who run the big ovals of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing.

Baker, 53, is the dean of NASCAR's active-driver list, and many say he is one of the top five pilots ever to wear a racing uniform. He is the only three-time winner of the Southern 500 at Darlington, and is the only driver in Sunday's field who took part in the first race at the egg-shaped speedway 23 years ago.

Robbins Enters Winston 500

TALLADEGA, Ala.—Country music singing sensation Marty Robbins will be looking for new world's to conquer when he makes his first appearance at Alabama International Motor Speedway as a competitor in the $151,730 Winston 500, Sunday, May 7.

Robbins, named as Country Music's Man of the Decade recently, will be behind the wheel of a new Dodge Charger when the NASCAR Grand National battle unfolds over the mammoth 2.66-mile trioval. Robbins was here as the Honorary Starter last year.

Robbins, one of the popular personalities in the recording field, competes in NASCAR's Winston Cup Grand National Series when his busy show business give him time.

His entry in the upcoming Winston 500 will mark his second major race this season. He qualified 22nd fastest in the January Miller High Life 500 at Ontario, Calif., and finished eighth in the 51-car field.

He was named Rookie of the Southern 500 at Darlington last year after scoring an impressive seventh-place finish.

The Winston chase is the third richest race of the current season and the starting field is open to the 50 fastest qualifiers, making it the second biggest lineup in the sport.

Qualifying trials for the rich 500-miler begin Wednesday, May 3, and continue through Saturday, May 6. A ten-lap consolation race is set for Saturday afternoon and Sunday's second annual Winston 500 will get the starting flag at 1:00 p.m. competitor on the Formula 1 international circuit for three years, and was co-winner of the Daytona 24-hour race with Pedro Rodriguez last year. He paced second-day qualifying Friday with a lap speed of 143.554 miles per hour.

Baker loafed around at 142.287 m.p.h. to become second fastest.

Baker admits his car is slower than those of front-row sitters Pearson in a Mercury and Allison in a Chevrolet. Pearson won the pole position at 148.200 m.p.h. and Allison got the other front-row berth at 147.773.

The last 12 positions in the lineup for Sunday's 1 p.m. start were to be filled in time trials Saturday.

Tennis Ends District Play

The Pampa tennis team traveled to the final district meet in Borger Friday but failed to win any total points.

Debbie Fletcher defeated D. Weilder two out of three matches with scores of 6-3, 3-6 and 7-5.

She then lost to Donna Beavers, who was seeded number one, by two identical scores of 6-0.

In other team action: Tom Watson was defeated by J. Berryhill 6-0 and 6-3.

Jim Daniel lost to P. Beck 6-1 and 6-2.

R. Kelley and M. Jennings lost to Upchurch and Ralph 6-1 and 6-4.

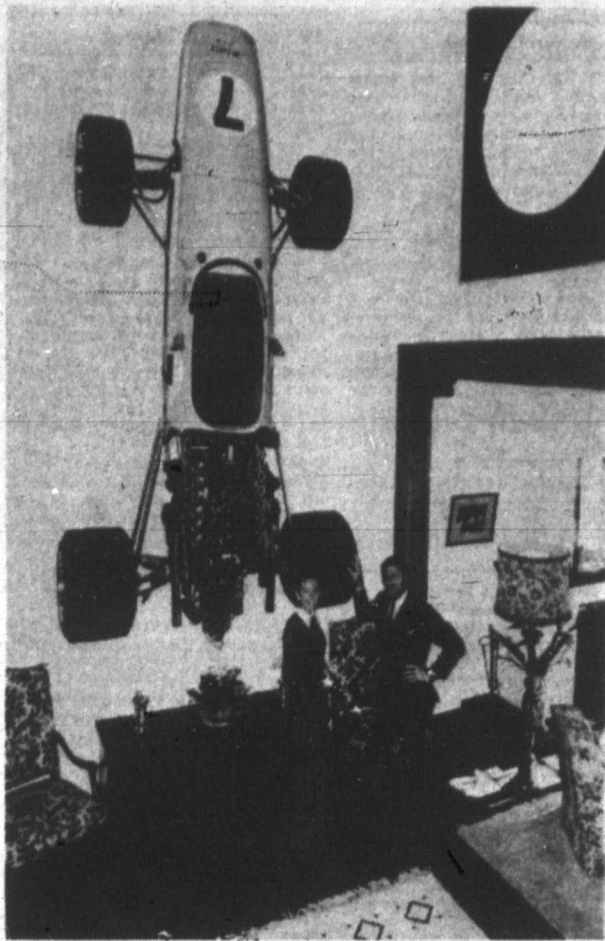

Frank Henderson was defeated by B. Roberts 6-2, 4-6 and 6-7.

J. Wells and S. Wilson lost to Callaway and Williams 6-3 and 6-4.

M. Barton was beaten by C. Alverado 6-1 and 6-0.

P. Fallon lost to M. Marteniz 6-3 and 6-4.

Debbie Marchak lost to T. Gerkin 6-0 and 6-1.

Booker Gains First Place For District Golf Meet

LEFORS—Booker took the first place finish in the District 2-B golf tournament Friday at Greenbelt Lake, with six teams entered.

With a total score of 347 strokes for the team, Booker beat out Follett with 358 for second and Lefors with 368 for third.

This is the first time Lefors had taken a golf team to district play.

Lefors team members are Ricky Timmons, senior; Larry Gilbreath, senior; Steve Timmons, junior; Bill Bates, junior; and Dwight Keith, sophomore. The team is coached by Weldon Bates.

Medalist winner with the low individual score was Steve Becker of Follett with 72 strokes. Second was Craig Stable, also of Follett.

Booker and Follett will compete in regional play Wednesday and Thursday in Lubbock.

WILD AND WOOLLY The highest scoring NBA championship series playoff game occurred in 1967, when Philadelphia beat San Francisco, 141-135.

Harvesters Down Dons To End Losing Streak

Pampa High's baseball team broke its six-game losing streak Friday afternoon in Optimist Park. The Harvesters downed the Palo Duro Dons 4-1 to even their season mark at 8-8.

Senior Larry Knutson provided most of the heroics in the game, hitting a home run in the fifth inning to give the Harvesters a 1-0 lead.

In the sixth he lined the second pitch thrown by Fred Bryant into right field and drove in three runs to ice the game.

Jeff Hogan performed well on the mound for the Harvesters; striking out seven, walking only one and scattering nine hits. The win gives Hogan a 3-4 record for the year.

Hogan, a returning all-district performer, had a 1.18 ERA going into the game. By allowing only one run in the game Friday, Hogan lowered it and will remain one of the leaders in the district in that category.

Marsh Gamblin, Mike Edgar, Al Ferguson and A.J. Brewer all aided the Harvester cause with base hits.

Pampa will play the Amarillo Sandies next Tuesday in Amarillo. The Harvesters will be seeking their second district win in that meeting. Their record in league play now stands at 1-3.

Summer Bowling Tour Sees 13 Tournaments

AKRON, Ohio—A 13-city summer tournament tour, which stretches from coast to coast, awaits members of the Professional Bowlers Association (PBA) starting in June.

Four of the 13 tournaments carry prize funds of $50,000 or more, and prize money comes up just short of $600,000, according to PBA National Tournament Director Harry Golden, who made the announcement from the PBA's Akron headquarters.

The $55,000 Columbia 300 Open, a new tournament on the tour, will be held at Cranston, R. I., August 4-7. It's the richest stop on the summer tour and will carry a first prize of $8,000.

A novel event, the $50,000 Japan Starlines Open, will be held at Mel's Bowl in Redwood City, Cal., near San Francisco from June 17-20. The tournament is co-sponsored by T. Horike of Tokyo, Japan, who also sponsors the PBA's annual Gold Cup Invitational in Tokyo during the break between the PBA's summer and fall tours.

The $50,000 Bellows-Valvair Open at Painesville, O., near Cleveland, will be held September 8-11, making the ninth tournament sponsored by the Akron company in three years, and the $50,000 Winston-Salem Open, sponsored by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., will be held at Brunswick, Wonderbowl, in Anaheim, Cal., July 7-10. The makers of Winston and Salem cigarettes also sponsored the $80,000 Winston-Salem Classic last February.

With the exception of the $37,500 Bay City (Mich.) Open in mid-August, all of the other cities are regular PBA tourney hosts. The Bay City tourney is being held for the first time.

Fields will range from a minimum of 112 players to as many as 160, depending on the size of the bowling center.

PBA Executive Director Joe Antonera said he expects to announce possibly seven more tournaments for this fall, bringing the 1972 total to 34 or 35 with total prize money approaching $2,000,000.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH. D., M. D.

Arthur sutters from stage fright! But so did Biblical Moses. Study the technique below in order to stop your hands from shaking. And use the 2-option method to get an audience engaged in more animated discussion.

CASE T-554: Arthur F., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I am to lead the meeting next Sunday night of our church Young People's Society.

"But I blush and get such stage fright when I try to speak in public that my hands shake till I can't even read my notes.

"I'd like to avoid this job next Sunday but I have given my word.

"So how can I gain more poise and also produce more active discussion on the part of the crowd?"

are holding your speech notes or sheet music, firmly grip the paper with BOTH hands and gently pull in opposite directions.

Then the tremor of one hand will almost entirely neutralize the quiver of the other.

So you will at least LOOK calm, though you may still be jittery.

And if you tend to stutter, just bite down on one side of your tongue with your jaw teeth; then try to speak.

You will NOT stutter, for this breaks the habitual "Stutter Triangle."

Remember, the usual type of stuttering is functional and due to some earlier humiliating emotional experience while:

away at school than are college men? If so, why?"

"Are men or women more likely to urge the use of liquor while on a date?"

"Is it easier to talk out your problems with your mother or with your father? And why?"

Send for my booklet "Public Platform Psychology," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mellet, Indiana 47658, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

TIMID MOSES

Even Moses in the Bible is described as a victim of such stage fright that he stuttered.

So he tried to "beg off" from his mission to Pharaoh's court.

But God told Moses to go ahead, anyway, although God granted him permission to take along his talkative brother, Aaron, as his "mouthpiece."

"And the anger of the Lord was kindled against Moses" (Exodus, Chapter 4).

For God aims to help His earthly partners when they are doing His work!

But you shy, inexperienced speakers can take heart from the fact that all public performers are keyed up and nervous (even the professionals).

To avoid having your hands shake so obviously when you

WTSU Foreign Student Body Holds Annual Spring Potluck

The International Students Association at the West Texas State University held its annual Spring "Potluck Dinner" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Smith in Amarillo.

The Dinner, which is a regular Spring affair sponsored by the association, was attended by guests from Amarillo, Canyon and surrounding area.

Guests from Pampa included Mrs. James T. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Morgan, Mrs. Richard Igan, Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Massa.

Foods from several different countries were the main attraction of the evening. They included such exotic items as curried shrimp from India, Ukoy—a bean sprout hors d'oeuvre from the Philippines, lirty rice from Hongkong, Mexican corn bread, and an "American pie" baked in the shape of a map of the U.S.A.

The new officers of the ISA for the school year 1972-73 were introduced at the dinner. They are Masood Akhtar Jabbar of Pakistan, president, Mao Hsiang-kuen of Taiwan, vice president; Carla Schuster of Tullia, Texas, secretary.

The International Students' Association, formerly known as the WTSU Foreign Students' Association, changed its name when the membership was increased to allow for a mixture of American and foreign students.

The current project of the ISA is to find summer employment for some of the WTSU foreign students who need jobs when the Spring semester ends in May.

Civic Auditorium Dedication Details Are Worked Out

Final program details for next Sunday's dedication of the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium were worked out Friday at a meeting of the Dedication Committee in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

It was announced that directors of the Pampa Community Concert Association and Fine Arts Association will serve as tour guides to take visitors through the auditorium following the dedicatory program.

Members of the Top O' Texans Club will act as greeters and serve as ushers for the dedication ceremonies.

Local Kiwanians Entertained By School Choir

Downtown Kiwanians were entertained at their Friday luncheon by the Travis Elementary School Choir under the direction of Mrs. Wathena Watts.

The group sang "Close to You," "Jean," "Put a Little Love in Your Heart," "Dry Bones," and concluded the program with "Americans Are We."

The program was introduced by Dan Johnson, school principal.

There are about 130 licensed greyhound tracks in operation in Britain.

Connally Hints He Will Participate In 'Confused' Texas Political Scene

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Treasury Secretary John Connally strongly hinted today he will return to Texas before the primary election May 6 to participate in what he termed the "confused" political scene.

While sidestepping direct questions on political matters, Connally said: "I may well be back here (Texas) before the primary."

And then, smiling broadly, he added: "I may have something to say at that time."

The former Texas governor returned today to the campus of a university he helped establish to join in a tribute to the late

Houston Harte, pioneer West Texas newspaperman and a founder of the Houston-Harte Newspaper Group. Harte died in San Angelo March 13 at the age of 79.

Talking with newsmen at the rambling, palatial home of university President Lloyd Vincent, Connally, accompanied by his wife, Nellie, said he was in no position to discuss the civics of the present Texas political situation.

"Frankly, I have very definite ideas about it but I'm in a little difficult position. I'm here to dedicate a building honoring Houston Harte," he said.

Noting that he would leave here to attend another function honoring Texas Supreme Court Justice Robert W. Calvert in Fort Worth tonight, Connally said: "I don't want to mix politics in Texas with these two events."

However, he did say in response to a question that the Democratic gubernatorial race "is very confused, the people are confused."

He attributed the trauma in state politics to the Sharpstown State Bank scandals and their effect on state government.

"I think the atmosphere in Texas is bad... I don't know if I can do anything about it, but if I can I will," the secretary said.

Dear Abby |

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with a son and daughter. My son is being married in a few months and my daughter has not been included in the wedding party. Naturally, she is very hurt and so am I.

I spoke to my son about it, and he said it's up to the bride's family to decide on all that, so he is staying out of it. The bride's sister will be her maid of honor, and the other girls in the wedding party are all friends and relatives of the bride.

My daughter is tall, attractive, single, and 23. When she realized that she wasn't going to be in the wedding party she was so humiliated that she made plans to be out of town.

Now, do you want a good laugh? When my son said his girl wanted a fancy wedding but her people couldn't afford it, I offered to pay for it. So now I am footing the bill for a wedding and reception for 150 guests!

Had I known things would turn out this way I never would have offered to pay for it. I think I will just tell my son that now he can pay for it. And I will also leave town.

I would like your advice, Abby. HURT MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: It is difficult to believe that the bride and her family are not aware that they have hurt your daughter by excluding her from the wedding party. But it's possible. Leave your son out of it, but ask the bride to please reconsider and include your daughter. But don't feel that BECAUSE you offered to foot the bill they are obligated to include her. And for you to now refuse to foot the bill for that reason, would be wrong.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter has been dating a very fine young man for nearly a year. They are talking marriage, and we couldn't be happier because we are fond of him.

But lately I have noticed that when they are in public, he doesn't pay much attention to her. He seems more interested in impressing those around. [He dances with all the old grandmothers at weddings, etc.] But when he and my daughter are alone he couldn't be nicer to her.

Since my daughter has never complained, should I bring this to her attention? I wouldn't want her to be hurt later on. JERSEY MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Skip it. She may regard "dancing with all the old grandmothers at weddings" a thoughtful gesture. [I do.]

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say something in your column about letter writing? Some people seem to think that they cannot send a letter to a friend or relative unless it is LONG, so they put off writing until they have more time.

I don't know about others, but to me, a SHORT letter now is a lot more appreciated than a long letter later. Thank you. SHORTY

DEAR SHORTY: And thank YOU! I agree. Most long letters are so long, the recipients put off READING them until they have more time.

CONFIDENTIAL to D.D.W.: There IS a solution for every problem. Sometimes the solution is to accept that which cannot be changed. In other words, if you pick a lemon, make a lemonade.

It's A

Woman's

World

NO LONGER is the woman's place limited to just the home and its immediate surroundings . . . today's woman, as wife and mother, finds she is companion and cook, chauffeur and maid, doctor and counselor, dietician and buyer, as well as an expert of money management, and quite as important, of time management

TODAY'S WOMAN is active in every field of the professions, business, politics . . . busy in community affairs, church work and charities. Many women are managing a full time job in addition to their house work. Others, who do not work professionally, are donating many, many hours of time in community projects, auxiliary work, church activities, improvement of self, and help for others.

THIS SECTION is dedicated to today's woman, who is such a vital personality in every phase of our society. In the following pages you'll meet many of these ladies and see what a wonderful job they are doing in their varied activities.

Parent-Teachers Associations were organized for each elementary school to promote the welfare of children, to raise standards of home life, to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth, and to bring into closer relationship the home and the school.

CITY COUNCIL

Pampa's PTA City Council was organized April 12, 1930, for the coordination of activities, cooperation on city-wide projects, and the dissemination of information.

It is composed of two representatives and the president from each school unit. It meets at 10 a.m. the first Tuesday of each month at Carver Center.

Highlight of the year's activities will be the installation of officers and a luncheon in the Spring.

Its projects include helping with the free immunization clinics to help school children meet the new state law; and the Blue Star Home project for the safety of school children.

Officers are Mrs. C.L. Farmer, president; Mrs. Tommy Hill, vice president; Mrs. Floyd Baxter, secretary; Mrs. Richard Bichal, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Walker, publicity.

Each school principal serves on the council's executive committee.

TRAVIS PTA

Projects of the William B. Travis unit included air conditioning the school, a two-year project completed this year.

Highlights of the year were a school carnival held in October; and a chili supper, held in March.

The unit has 123 members.

Officers are Mrs. Dale Roth, president; Mrs. David Hutto, vice president; Mrs. Win Cates, secretary; Mrs. Jim Terry, treasurer; and Mrs. Gabe Crossman, publicity.

LAMAR PTA

Lamar PTA was organized Sept. 21, 1953, and has 182 members.

Its projects this year include the Blue Star Homes; and buying new furniture for the teachers' lounge.

Highlights of the year include "Fund Night," during which parents presented their version of "Hee Haw"; Father's Night, which included a program on drug abuse; and a teacher appreciation program at which each teacher was presented a vase and a homemade cake.

Officers are Mrs. Tom Dunn, president; Mrs. Robert Walker, vice president, and President-elect; Mrs. Robert Benyshek, secretary; Mrs. Jim Cunningham, treasurer.

MANN PTA

Horace Mann PTA was organized in 1929. Its projects include a school carnival to raise money for the school children's need; buying tumbling mats for PE classes; buying and installing flood lights for the science environmental lab; purchasing a water cooler; and buying mats for the choir risers.

Major activities included an open house in November; the school carnival in October; and performances by the band and choir for Fathers' Night in March.

Officers are Mrs. Floyd Baxter, president; Mrs. Ray Robertson, vice president; Mrs. Earl Whitson, secretary; Mrs. Roger Hedrick, treasurer; and Mrs. Joe D. Miller, publicity.

AUSTIN PTA

Stephen F. Austin PTA, organized in 1957, presents to the school at the end of each year something that will be of benefit to the school.

Its activities this year include a back-to-school night for parents; a patriotic program under the direction of Mrs. J.E. Gunn; a band concert, directed by Darrell Garrison; and a tea honoring mothers of pre-school children.

Officers are Mrs. Johnny Quarles, president; Mrs. Jim Stallings, vice president; Mrs. Richard Van Kluyne, secretary and president-elect; Mrs. Jerry Bond, treasurer; and Mrs. Joe Coufal, publicity.

BAKER PTA

The B.M. Baker PTA organized in 1927, has 184 members.

Its projects include preparing Christmas sacks for each student; providing outside lights; obtaining a school name sign; and purchasing audio-visual equipment for the classrooms.

Highlights of the year's activities include a teachers' appreciation banquet in March; and crowning of the school king and queen during the school carnival, held in November.

Officers are Mrs. Willie J. Cook, president; Mrs. Lee Brown, vice president; Mrs. Cecil Baggerman, secretary and president-elect; Mrs. Bert Atwood, treasurer; Mrs. Don Knutson, publicity; Mrs. Shelby Cogdell, historian; Mrs. Vivian Craig, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Jimmie Morse and Mrs. Charles Spangler, city council representatives.

WILSON PTA

Woodrow Wilson PTA, organized in 1929, has 109 members.

Major projects for the year were to purchase 12 overhead projector screens and three SRA math kits for third, fourth and fifth grades.

A divan for the teachers' lounge was the teacher appreciation gift, and for three days during Texas Education week, refreshments were provided for teachers.

Special events include a Fund Night in October; a fall workshop in Wheeler, with five members attending; and the Spring conference in Pampa, with five members to attend.

Members assisted with the tuberculosis tests for first graders and helped with the free immunization clinics. Two members received study course certificates, and the Blue Star Home program was carried out.

Officers are Mrs. Melvin Davis, president; Mrs. Jesse Dykes, vice president; Mrs. Bobby Wilson, secretary; Mrs. Clint Stewart, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Harris, historian; Mrs. Don Stafford, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Tommy Hill, city council representative. Mrs. Jerry Thompson is president-elect.

HOUSTON PTA

Sam Houston PTA activities include a Christmas program by the school choir; a family night, with room visitation, in October; Fathers' Night in April; and a program by the school band.

The unit has 83 members. Officers are Mrs. Charles Ritthaler, president; Mrs. Wallace Bruce, vice president; Mrs. Eddie Duenkel, secretary; Mrs. Sam Condo, treasurer; and Mrs. Jim Greene, publicity. Mrs. Greg Warden is president-elect.

Fashion Tip

Back Interest

The popularity of blackless dresses has created a new fad. It's jewelry to go with it. And they look like necklaces worn backwards, which is just what they are. A pendant or chain dangling down the back instead of the front.

Spring Simplicity

Simplicity for spring is a sophisticated, rather than innocent, look. Movie-star toppers wrapped around the waist, pleated flowing pants, blackless dresses and cashmere sweaters will be part of the basics.

The edible Pacific oyster is sometimes over a foot long!

"Natural" Cultivating Is Studied

Gardening is not of interest to women alone. The Pampa Organic Gardening Club, organized in 1970, is composed of both men and women.

Its purpose is to study and learn ways to garden with nature, the natural way, without poisons, and so improve the soil and have beautiful gardens.

The club has 21 members and meets the third Tuesday of each month in members' homes.

Its major project this year was assisting the Pampa Garden Club to place the series, "People and Their Environment" in the public schools.

Highlight of the year's activities was visiting the Amarillo Organic Gardening Club.

Officers are H.H. Boynton, president; Dr. W.L. Campbell, vice president; and Bob Wright, secretary treasurer.

Classes first began at the University of Northern Colorado on Oct. 6, 1890.

Convention Is Planned

Purpose of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League is to develop Christian fellowship and cooperation among all women of the congregation; to foster spiritual development; and to increase vision and service in the missionary and educational tasks of the church.

The women visit the sick, assist the needy and give special courtesy to newcomers. Their main project this year is assistance to Genesis House.

"Declare His Glory on All Frontiers" will be the theme for the Texas district LWML convention in Amarillo July 12-13, with approximately 450 women expected to attend. The Pampa group is working on publicity for the event.

Officers are Mrs. Carol Heinritz, president; Mrs. Donna Rodgers, vice president; Mrs. Frankie Hildenbrand, secretary; Mrs. Cassie Richter, treasurer; Mrs. Sue Clark, publicity; and Mrs. Angie Walker, Christian growth.

Jaycee-Ettes Work, Travel

Organized in March 1961, the Pampa Jaycee-Ettes aid the Jaycees in their activities, help to promote an understanding of Jayceism and fellowship among Jaycee wives, and serve the community through several welfare projects.

During the 1971-72, with Mrs. Milton Saltzman as president, the Jaycee-Ettes participated in approximately 60 projects, including assisting the Jaycees with their light bulb sale, Junior Champ contest, Community Fair, Labor Day Rest Stop, Punt, Pass and Kick program, model legislature, spaghetti suppers and the children's Christmas shopping tour.

Other Jaycee-Ette projects included sponsoring a disaster course, a milk carton drive for Boys' Ranch, aid to Viet Nam, assisting with the Multiple Sclerosis drive and the Mother's March of Dimes, serving at the Senior Citizen's Center, preparing a Thanksgiving basket for the Panhandle Orphanage.

The group also sponsored a girl at Girlstown, sang Christmas carols at the Rest Home, sent gifts to patients at a Wichita Falls hospital, held special holiday parties for children, assisted the Girl Scouts, and held a bazaar, bake sales, picnic and auction.

The Pampa Jaycee-Ettes initiated a "GALS" program, designed to coordinate a closer relationship among members while developing a new Jaycee-Ette.

They logged over 17,500 miles during the year attending conventions and other meetings.

The group meets the last Thursday of each month in the Reddi Room of Southwestern Public Service company.

Mrs. Milton Saltzman, immediate past president, has recently been elected Area 1A vice president, and Mrs. Dan Stanley serves as a state director.

Officers for 1971-72 are Mrs. Philip Kimbley, president; Mrs. Dan Stanley, secretary and Mrs. Don Williamson, treasurer.

PLWA Is Social Club

The Pampa Lawyers' Wives Association is a social group designed to promote sociability among wives of bar association members. The club has 20 members.

Organized in 1961, it has four meetings each year. Highlights of this year's activities include a fall coffee, a Christmas holiday dinner, a spring luncheon and a summer barbecue. For Valentine's Day, Mrs. J.B. Maguire and Mrs. William Carlton entertained members and their husbands at a dinner party in the Maguire home.

Officers are Mrs. David E. Holt, president; Mrs. Arthur J. Holland, vice president; Mrs. John W. Warner, secretary; Mrs. James Jeffrey, treasurer; Mrs. Homer D. Johnson, publicity; Mrs. Arthur M. Teed, telephone; and Mrs. J.B. Maguire, social chairman.

Patriotism Is Focus Of DAR Activities

Las Pampas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, organized in 1965 and chartered in 1966, centers its activities around patriotism.

Its stated purpose is to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence; to promote institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge; to cherish, maintain and extend the institutions of American freedom; to foster true patriotism and love of country; and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty.

DAR projects in Pampa during 1971-72 include working with the public school curriculum coordinator in stressing Constitution Week and American History Month in the Pampa schools. As part of this project, the chapter sponsored an American History essay contest in the fifth and sixth grades of each elementary school and promoted map displays and history displays by school children in Pampa businesses. The Coin Club assisted with the displays, also.

Another important project was the sponsoring of six area high school senior girls as DAR Good Citizens, with selection made on the basis of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Aid was given, also, to the American Indians to two DAR-supported schools, the Kate Duncan Smith School at Grant, Ala., and the

El Progreso Encourages Habits Of Reading, Study

The mutual improvement of its members and to encourage the habit of reading and study is the purpose of El Progreso Club, organized Jan. 23, 1923, and chartered as a Federated Women's Club Feb. 5, 1923.

Theme of the year is "Woman: A New Image," with the course of study, entitled, "Let's Be Different."

Club projects include contribution to the Penny Art Fund, the Musical Penny Fund, a Latin American scholarship, the Lola B. Mundy Fund, the United Fund and the Mental Health Association.

One of the highlights of the year was a trip to a Pampa-area ranch, 20 miles north of Pampa, covering about 56 sections. The program, given by Mrs. J.G. Morrison, entitled, "Let's Beef It Up," included a story and demonstration of a working Texas ranch. Mrs. Morrison served a typical ranch meal to the members and gave a tour of the ranch.

The club, which has 22 members, meets the second and fourth Tuesdays in

MRS. DONALDSON ...Medical Auxiliary

Mrs. Joe R. Donaldson heads the 19-member Gray County Medical Auxiliary, which was organized in 1956.

Other officers are Mrs. W.R. Whitsell, secretary; and Mrs. Carl Lang, treasurer. Mrs. Whitsell is the president-elect.

The Auxiliary was organized to bring together the Pampa and McLean doctors' wives to assist their husbands in any way possible and to help the communities with paramedical projects and policies.

Activities center around two projects, the presentation of a scholarship for a graduating high school senior and support of the Junior Volunteer Program at Highland General Hospital.

Red Cross Services Varied, Far-Reaching

The Gray County chapter of the American Red Cross, with offices in Pampa, was chartered Feb. 5, 1918.

As the National organization has broadened its scope since the days of Clara Barton, so has the Gray County chapter. It serves not only as a liaison between the military and the home, but promotes the organization through public relations, sponsors the Youth Red Cross program and provides far-reaching services in the area of safety, disaster, nursing, and hospital volunteers.

Vital to the community are the Red Cross courses. In the field of swimming, it offers classes from beginners' through swimmers, plus junior and senior life-saving and water safety instructor classes.

In the field of first aid, standard, advanced and instructor courses are taught, as well as the new multi-media course, taught by film and used chiefly by industries.

In the area of the home, mother and baby care courses are taught for couples expecting their first child, and home nursing classes on the care of the sick.

The board of directors meets at 7 a.m. the second Tuesday of each month in the Coronado Inn, to direct the

ESA's Program Has Five Points

Epsilon Sigma Alpha International has a five-point purpose to unite young women throughout the world; to promote their cultural and intellectual development; to give aid to handicapped persons; to develop each member's leadership abilities; to give members experience in seeking excellence and reaching high goals.

Internationally, the organization is over 50 years old.

Pampa's Kappa Alpha chapter, organized 12 years ago, assists with the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon, organizes and carries out the door-to-door fund-raising campaign for muscular dystrophy, gives monthly birthday parties for members of the Eastridge Home; gives holiday parties for Pampa's Satellite School for Exceptional Children; aids Genesis House; and helps support a statewide birth defects center.

Highlight of each year's activities is the muscular dystrophy benefit dance, this year netting over $1,000 for the MDA.

The sorority's officers are Mrs. Ray Wooldridge, president; Mrs. Horace Henley, vice president; Mrs. Joel Plunk, secretary; Mrs. Milton Jones, treasurer;

Quotes Quotable

By Associated Press

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"The women's role (in a movie) is either secondary to the male lead or a very glib character. You feel the characters don't care about themselves; how can you care about them?"—Actress Trish Van Devere, in an interview.

"I tried to hide my husband in a laundry box, but it was too small. They marched him down the street, beating him all the way. We couldn't speak for weeks after it happened. It will never die in our minds and we shall never forgive."—Zofia Glowacka, 69, one of the widows of Skloby, Poland, where Nazis killed all the men in the hamlet 32 years ago.

"Retirement has one meaning to me. You sink into your bed at the end of the day, exhausted, and hope that the phone doesn't ring until morning."—Dr. Helen Brooke Taussig, 73, retired staff physician at Johns Hopkins Hospital, where she still is active as professor emeritus of pediatrics.

"Mama couldn't believe she'd sent me to a modeling school and now I'm out climbing poles."—Rachel Douglas, 19, who became a telephone installer in what started out as a joke.

"Winning means some kind of approval of the Establishment which means people will more readily accept me, may be less frightened of me and other people who speak out."—Jane Fonda, after winning the best actress Academy Award.

20th Century Club Has Study Program

Twentieth Century Club, organized and chartered in 1928, works for the mutual improvement of its members in literature, art, science and the vital interests of the day.

Club projects include a scholarship for a Pampa senior; contributing to the Opportunity Plan at West Texas State University; contributing to the mental health campaign; contributing to the hospital at Wichita Falls; sponsoring a program for the Senior Citizens' Center; observance of Americanism Day, Federation Day and Texas Day.

The club cooperates in civic affairs and drives; with the United Fund, the polio drive, Heart Fund, Community Concert drive, Cancer campaign; and assists with the Youth Center and Girl Scouts.

Highlights of the year's activities include a rummage sale and style show, with proceeds going to the scholarship fund; the president's coffee; a guest day tea; a museum trip; and a Spring luncheon.

Programs for the year have included parliamentary law, literature, talents accomplishments of members, and interpretation of "Jesus Christ, Super

"Think" Is Club Motto

"Think" is the motto of Twentieth Century Allegro Club, organized April 19, 1949, and chartered as a Federated woman's club that same year. In 1960, after a vote by members, the club withdrew from the Federation.

A study club, Allegro's topic this year was "Learning to Understand," covering many areas of current problems and interests.

In the past, program topics have been "The American Home," "Foreign Panorama," "Democracy in Action," "A Better America," "Our American Heritage," "New Great Women in History," and "The Extras of Life."

Club projects include assisting a worthy high school student financially each month during the school year; monetary aid to the Suicide Prevention—Crisis program; and serving as hostess group to the Senior Center meeting.

The annual president's coffee was a highlight of the year, as well as a husbands' night social; a guest-day tea; and the annual Spring luncheon and installation of officers.

The 17-member club meets the first and third Tuesdays in members' homes. There are two associate members.

MAKE-UP MIXING

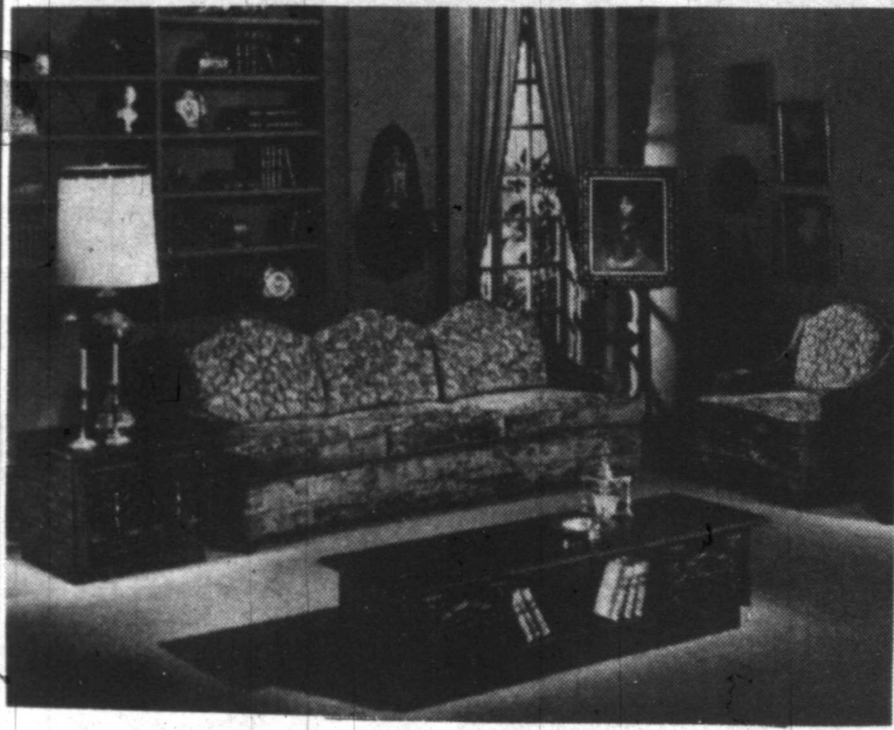

There was a time when women bought their make-up and applied it as is. But we've entered a new cosmetics era—one of experimentation based on imagination. A lip gloss makes a great cheek tint—or vice versa. A charcoal gray or brown eye-shadow can be used for contouring—just use cotton swab to apply it.

Ideals Inspired By Girl Scouting

Girl Scouts of the USA was formed on March 12, 1912. Juliette Gordon Low was the founder of Girl Scouting, which began in Savannah, Ga.

Quivira Girl Scout Council was formed in 1960 and includes 10 counties in the Texas panhandle.

Quivira Council membership includes some 1700 girls and 300 adult members.

Purpose of Girl Scouting is to inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism, and service that they may become happy and resourceful citizens.

Yearly projects include a Senior-planned Brownie Revel, Junior Camporee, Cadette-planned Cadette Conference, annual calendar and cookie sale, Day Camp, and Established Camp.

Highlights of the past year include the use of Camp Cibola as the council's established camp for the first time; the 60th anniversary celebration of Girl Scouting with an International Festival at Borger's Aluminum Dome March 12; the council's most successful cookie sale which paid for the filtering of the pool at Camp Cibola.

Gretchen Skelly attended a national opportunity in Vermont, entitled "Green Mountains and Far Meadows."

Annette DiCosimo and Cathy Collinsworth visited an international center, Our Cabana, in Mexico during the summer.

A Borger troop was presented an ecology award by Parent's Magazine.

Officers of the council include Don Thompson of Borger, president; Mrs. Jim Wheeler of Borger, first vice president; Mrs. J.B.

Maguire of Pampa, second vice-president; Mrs. Maynard Johnson of Pampa, secretary; and Paul Keim of Pampa, treasurer.

Service to all communities in the Quivira Council jurisdiction has taken many forms and been performed by all ages of girls in Girl Scouting. Senior Troop 2 of Pampa provided summer volunteers for the Amarillo Center for Human Development Satellite School in Pampa. One on-going Brownie service project is the donation of books for use by children confined in Highland General Hospital. Gifts and baskets and remembrances have been donated to people throughout the council in hospitals, nursing homes, Girlstown, and orphanages.

The council has a professional staff of three, who give training to volunteers, and provide many other services. They are Miss Celia Folwer of Pampa, executive director; Mrs. T.M. Whitely of Pampa, field advisor; and Mrs. Jack Duke of Borger, field advisor.

Tops Clubs Help Take Pounds Off

MRS. WHITE
...Tops co-leader

As doctors warn of the dangers of being over-weight and as people become more conscious of nutrition, a number of clubs have organized to help people slim down and still eat healthy meals.

MRS. ELKINS
...Tops leader

Among these groups are the Tops Club. Two of the Tops Clubs in this area are chapter TX-41 of Pampa and the Skellytown Tops Club.

Purpose of the clubs is to join together to encourage and help each other to "take off pounds sensibly and keep off pounds sensibly." Each member's doctor sets her "ideal weight," which is the goal for which she strives.

CHAPTER TX 41

Organized June 21, 1963, the Pampa group meets at 7 p.m. each Monday in the annex of the Lutheran Church.

Club projects include contests to help members lose weight and sending the chapter's queen for the year and the groups' leader to International Recognition Day.

Highlights of this year have been crowning Mrs. Louis White queen for the year and attending the IRD at Denver, Colo.

The club has 28 members.

Officers are Mrs. O.B. Elkins, leader; Mrs. Louis White, co-leader; Mrs. George Hamlin, secretary; Mrs. Neil Fulton, treasurer; Miss Christine Moore, publicity; Mrs. Tom Stump, weight recorder; Mrs. Rusty Williams, assistant weight recorder; and Mrs. Fred Malone, corresponding secretary.

SKELLYTOWN TOPS

The Skellytown group meets in the library at 6:30 p.m. each Tuesday. It has 17 members.

Officers are Mrs. Sadie Lane, leader; Mrs. Juanita Porter, co-leader; Mrs. Irene McCoy, secretary; Mrs. Gladys Simmons, treasurer; Mrs. Odell Hassler, weight recorder; and Mrs. Fannie Coleman, publicity.

The only three pandas born in captivity were in China.

Hereford Auxiliary Promotes Hospitality

The Texas Hereford Breeders' Auxiliary, chartered in Feb. 1970, was organized a year earlier to promote Hereford cattle, encourage the Junior Hereford Breeders' Association and to promote hospitality.

The main state-wide project is the sponsoring of the Texas Hereford queen. It holds its annual meeting during the Southwestern Fat Stock Show. Mrs. Clyde Magee of McLean is immediate past president. New Officers are Mrs. Nolan Henson Jr. of Happy, president; Mrs. Weldon Davis of Coleman, vice president; Mrs. Jack Ebeling of Round Mountain secretary; and Mrs. Jack Morris of Wichita Falls, publicity.

Highlight of the auxiliary activities in this area was the style show and brunch presented during the Top O' Texas Stock Show.

Fashions were furnished by Behrman's Fashion Center. Pampa and models were area ranchers' wives, and daughters. Modeling were Mrs. J. P. Callihan of Conway; Mrs. Rufe Jordan of Pampa; Mrs. Joe Magee and Mrs. Jakey Hess, both of McLean; Mrs. Bill Breeding and Miss Laurel Maddox, both of Miami; Miss Janet Smith, Mrs. Vernie Sloan, Mrs. Jake Osborn and Mrs. Wylie Reynolds, all of Pampa. Narrator was Mrs. Glenna Lee Miller of Pampa.

On hand for the event was Miss Kellie Box and her mother from Carrizo Springs. Miss Box is Miss Texas Hereford Queen

St. Patrick's Day decorations were used on the tables with arrangements of white tulips. In charge of the decorations were Mrs.

MRS. MAGEE
...Past President

Frank Robinson and Mrs. Paul Dauer, both of Panhandle.

Planning the brunch and style show were Mrs. Clyde Magee of McLean, Mrs. Jake Osborn of Pampa, Mrs. E. H. Brainard II of Spearman, Mrs. Frank Robinson of Panhandle and Mrs. Wayne Maddox of Miami.

Musical Programs Presented

MRS. FAGAN
...Music teachers

Mutual involvement and promotion of the advancement and appreciation of musical culture is the purpose of the Pampa Music Teachers Association, organized in 1952, and chartered Nov. 7, 1958.

Club projects include a program featuring performances by members; and a program featuring high school instrumental and choral students who made Division I at the UIL contests.

Highlight of the year was a film, "The Life of Van Cliburn," shown to members, students and parents, followed by Dr. George Unberson, chairman of the West Texas State University music department, who spoke on "Making Music a Family Affair."

Officers are Mrs. Lois Fagan, acting president; Mrs. Harris Brinson, secretary; and Mrs. Eddie Milligan, treasurer.

B&PW Club Theme- "Action-Be Involved"

"Action-Be Involved" was the theme of Business and Professional Women's Clubs for 1971-72. The Pampa club joined with others throughout the nation for an equal rights bill. Pampa's club was organized April 23, 1929, to elevate the standards for women in business and in the professions; to promote the interests of business and professional women; to bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women of the United States; and to extend opportunities to business and professional women through education, along the lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

Among the clubs activities this year was the awarding of a scholarship to a high school senior; observing National Business Week in October; hosting the District Nine Conference in October; and giving assistance to Girlstown at Borger.

Each month during the school year, Pampa's B&PW Club gives recognition to an outstanding girl student from the Vocational Office Education program, naming her "girl of the month."

This year's programs have been on personal development, civic participation, world affairs, membership, legislation, finance and public relations.

Social event of the year was attending the musical, "Texas" in the Palo Duro Amphitheater at Canyon, traveling by chartered bus. Thirty-six members participated.

Fund-raising projects have included a concession at the Jaycee Fair, and a sale of advertising for the club bulletin, printed and distributed each month. The club has 46 members

EDITOR—Mrs. O. Ray Hudson, 1308 N. Russell, is editor of the newly-published Highland General Hotline newspaper, a house organ being printed monthly by the Employees Association. and meets at 7:30 p.m. the second and fourth Tuesdays in the City Club Room, City Hall.

Officers are Mrs. Lois Teel, president; Mrs. Geraldine Grogan, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Sewell, secretary; Mrs. Noel Thompson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lora Dunn, treasurer; and Mrs. Ruby Cunningham, publicity.

Informed Electorate Aim Of Republicans

Today's woman is taking an increasing interest in politics, as shown by the many political groups for women being formed. Active in Pampa is the Top O' Texas Republican Women's Club.

The objects of this organization are to promote an informed electorate through political education; to increase the effectiveness of women in the cause of good government through active political participation; to facilitate cooperation among women's Republican Clubs; to foster loyalty to the Republican Party and to promote its ideals; and to work for the election of the Republican Party's nominees.

Club projects include "get-out-the-vote" drives, urging voter registration, acquainting the public with candidates and issues in various elections, money-raising for candidates, and contributions to the Young Republicans organization for a nation-wide drug alert program.

ANIMAL PINS

Animal pins that once were so popular in plastic are now finely sculptured in vermeil, a gold wash on silver for a less costumeey look.

Bake sales and garage sales were held during the year, and teas and coffees were held for candidates. Members attended state and national Republican conventions and sponsored various educational programs. A coffee was held in March at which the four candidates for the school board spoke and answered questions on various issues.

Organized in April 1968, the club meets at 9:45 a.m., the fourth Thursday of each month.

Officers are Mrs. Scott Nisbet, president; Mrs. John McKnerney, vice president; Mrs. Walter Colwell, secretary; and Mrs. Vernon Stuckey, treasurer.

Altrusa's Projects Benefit Community

The Senior Citizens Center and the annual career clinic at Pampa High School are two of the outstanding, on-going projects of the Altrusa Club of Pampa, chartered Oct. 11, 1952.

Its purpose is to cultivate friendly relationships, promote mutual understanding and foster the solidarity of women who are actively engaged in business and the professions; to encourage high ethical standards of business and professional conduct; to give vocational information and to be of service to women already engaged in or entering business or professional fields; to encourage participation in community and public affairs on a non-partisan basis; to do any and all things conducive to the service, betterment and ultimate welfare of women in business and the professions; to promote educational cultural training and improvement; to be informed on international affairs and to promote mutual understanding between peoples of all nations.

Highlights of the 1971-72 activities included sponsoring two FFVA awardees. This vocational fund helps to assist women who need to learn a profession or skill in order to support herself and her family. The two awardees are preparing to become vocational nurses.

This year, Altrusa Club added the Suicide Prevention and Drug Alert program to its list of projects, making a cash contribution to the newly-organized program.

MISS MASON
...president-elect

MRS. JAMESON
...Altrusa president

The club donated items to Genesis House and held a linen shower for Genesis House.

Theme for the year is "Turn Concern Into Action" and club members have been challenged to give more of their time to specific needs of the community.

Other on-going projects include honoring a high school girl each month, naming her Altrusa Girl of the Month; presenting an Altrusa scholarship and an Altrua-Inez Carter scholarship; an international dinner honoring foreign-born women of the area; the Voice of Altrusa, a weekly broadcast at 11:35 a.m. each Saturday on KPDN radio; assisting with Youth Center activities; a Founder's Fund; a Grants-In-Aid program for adult women who wish to further their education; assisting with the Welfare Index; and helping a girl through beauty school.

Officers are Mrs. D.B. Jameson, president; Miss Evelyn Mason, vice president; Mrs. Glydene Shelton, recording secretary; Mrs. Georgia Johnson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Irene Cox, treasurer; and Mmes. Frances Cree, Katherine Sullins and Geneva Tidwell, directors. Miss Mason is president-elect.

FAR EAST FACES

Make a Far East face with shiny red, pointed lips and bright eyes. You won't convince anyone who has the real thing but it's fun and topical. To make pointed lips, from each point above curve on upper lip draw down to center. Then draw down from point to outer edge. Pick a strong red color and use a thin brush for control.

League Sponsors Various Projects

To foster interest among its members in social, economic, educational, cultural and volunteer service to the community is the purpose of the Junior Service League of Pampa, Inc.

Among the many League projects is the annual free Speech and Hearing Clinic for pre-school children, designed to discover problems in these areas before the children enter school. This year, the clinic will include vision testing.

"Fine Arts in the Classroom," a project inaugurated this year offers elementary students the opportunity to learn about the work and style of great artists and to obtain art instruction in various media.

The Junior Service League operates the "Golden Eagle," a used merchandise store, which offers good used clothing at a moderate price for those unable to pay the regular prices and helps finance the work of the League.

Other projects are carried out in the field of speech and hearing, and the League operates the Community Day Nursery for Negro children.

MRS. BOND
...Service League

Highlight of League activities is its annual Charity Ball, held in November, with the proceeds going toward its projects.

The group meets the third Tuesday of each month at the Pampa Country Club. It was organized in 1962.

Officers are Mrs. Jerry Bond, president; Mrs. Bill Dunn, vice president; Mrs. William T. Fraser, secretary; Mrs. H.C. Moore, recording secretary; and Mrs. Robert Cotter, treasurer.

PENWOMEN—Mrs. Otis Nace of Pampa is past president and currently, a director, of the Panhandle Penwomen, organized in the 1920's to provide an association in which women writers may share problems of writing and selling, discuss markets and hear experienced writers speak. The club has between 60 and 70 members from four area states. Six all-day meetings a year are held in Amarillo.

Church Women Serve Willingly

The Women of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church was organized in the 1930s with the purpose of "helping us, as the church, to be instruments for God's work by serving willingly, with hands and heart, using our special talents to the glory of God."

Highlight of the year was the annual fall luncheon for members and prospective members. Upcoming events include a play-reading in May of "Paris Is Out," with Mary Ann Smith of Dallas as the reviewer. The women will assist the Episcopal Young Churchmen with their Midwinter Conference, to be held in Pampa in December 1972.

The group's projects include maintenance of the church kitchen and nursery; sponsoring a "Quiet Day" which is open to all women of the diocese and women of other Pampa churches; and service projects for the church and the community.

Ties can be the smashing finishing touch for a shirt worn with skirt or slacks—and a tie tack or clip is the perfect piece of jewelry to accent the tie.

MRS. KELLEY
...Episcopal women

Women of St. Matthew's, which meets in the Parish Hall, at 10:15 a.m. the first Wednesday of each month has between 40 and 50 members.

Officers are Mrs. Frank W. Kelley, president; Mrs. A. S. Bonner, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Jerry P. Whitten, secretary; and Mrs. John R. Reeve, Jr., treasurer.

Aid Given By Women

Organized 56 years ago, in 1916, and chartered in 1949, the Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 1163, centers most of its activities around aid to Moosehaven, Florida, a retirement settlement for the elderly, and Mooseheart, Ill., a home and school for children.

Members sell candy at Christmas to raise money for Moosehaven and Mooseheart and assist with the hearing aid program and collect clothing for both places.

Highlight of this year's activities includes attending the state convention, the Chapter Rally Day in March and the Academy of Friendship Party in April.

Mrs. Wanda Hunt is incoming senior regent. Present officers for 1971-72 are Mrs. Nancy Davis, senior regent; Mrs. Hunt, junior regent; Mrs. Clarice Moore, recorder; Mrs. Lorene Garrison, treasurer; Mrs. Myra Jane Roth, chaplain; and Mrs. Velma Henderson, publicity.

Sisterhood Backs Higher Education

Chapter CS, PEO Sisterhood, was organized and chartered May 21, 1952, as a philanthropic and educational organization interested in bringing to women increased opportunities for higher education.

The sisterhood has three major projects. The PEO Educational Fund is a revolving loan fund, established in 1907, to lend money to young women needing it for education beyond high school.

The group helps support Cottey Junior College for Women, a fully-accredited liberal arts college at Nevada, Mo.

The International Peace Scholarship Program, established in 1949, provides scholarships for foreign students to pursue graduate study in the United States.

Highlights of the year include a guest-day tea in May; serving at the Senior Center in April; a dormitory shower for a scholarship recipient; and a Coke party for college seniors to hear a field representative tell about Cottey College.

MRS. SPENCER
...PEO Sisterhood

The club has 32 members and meets the second and fourth Tuesdays in members' homes.

Officers are Mrs. Myron Spencer, president; Mrs. O. W. Lafferty, vice president; Mrs. W. W. Bailey, secretary; Mrs. W. R. Harden, treasurer; and Mrs. Bruce Riehart, publicity.

A Statement of Fashion:

The fashion life of a suit is mostly determined by two things: the fabric and the style. Now from all indications, the knit suit will be in for years. Only the style and pattern you buy it in can shorten its life.

Well, if you buy a suit from Brown-Freeman, you'll never have to worry about that.

At Brown-Freeman, we don't go in for fads, extremes or experiments. We make sure that the clothes we sell aren't only in fashion this year, but just as much in fashion next year...you can shop with confidence here!

Auxiliary Promotes Friendship

The DMF Auxiliary, Cities Service gas division, organized in 1953, promotes fellowship among the employes' wives.

Chief club project is collecting and giving canned goods to the Panhandle orphanage at Christmas.

Highlights of the year's activities include a family ice cream party, a Christmas banquet, and a coffee honoring new members and those moving away. The club has 51 members.

Officers are Mrs. David Budd, president; Mrs. Delores Keck, vice president; Mrs. Harold Brington, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Judy Becker, dispatch reporter.

HISTORIAN-Marquetta Wampler, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Wampler, 2116 Anne, is historian for the junior division of the Oklahoma Dance Masters Association, of which she has been a member for two years. She was honored recently by being asked to teach a ballet class for the ODMA members, who are all dancing teachers. A student of Madeline Graves of Pampa for three years, she studies ballet, tap and jazz. She is a student at Robert E. Lee Junior High and a member of the Ballet of the Golden Spread, a non-profit company of area ballet students.

Sorority Council

The Pampa Panhellenic Council, organized in 1963, is composed of representatives of member clubs to promote interfraternity friendship and collaboration; to disseminate authentic information which will react favorably for the cause of Greekdom; to inform those interested about Greekdom; and to keep in touch with colleges and their clubs.

Highlight of the year's activities is the Panhellenic tea, held each Spring, for graduating senior girls who are interested in information about rush week and sororities at their selected colleges.

Officers are Mrs. Homer D. Johnson, president; Mrs. Harris Brinson, vice president; Mrs. Don Huffaker, secretary; Mrs. Richard Stowers, treasurer; Miss Harriet Henderson, publicity; and Mrs. Fred Neslage, delegate-at-large.

The American Business Women's Association was organized and chartered in 1961 to help women in business advance through education, increased competence, and upgrading of professional skills and business attitudes.

Club projects include giving scholarships and keeping abreast of all current issues.

Highlights of this year's activities was the "bosses' night" banquet, at which the boss of the year is named; and the "Hand of Friendship" teas, held twice a year to introduce prospective members to the purpose and activities of the association.

The group meets at 6:30 p.m. the second Tuesday of each month at Furr's Cafeteria. It has 37 active members and 13 inactive members.

Officers are Mrs. Marilee Elledge, president; Mrs. Bernice Nickols, vice president; Mrs. Helen Graham, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Cora McNair, recording secretary; Mrs. Betty King, treasurer; and Mrs. Kathleen Dulaney, publicity chairman.

Civic Pride Encouraged

The Pampa Garden Club was organized and chartered in 1956, to encourage improvement of the home and grounds and to promote civic pride in the appearance of Pampa.

The club participates in the city clean-up campaign each Spring; provides judges for the city's "most beautiful yard" contest; and promotes city beautification.

Major project of the year was presenting 130 volumes of the series, "People and Their Environment" to Pampa schools. The project was climaxed by a guest-day tea, attended by 150 people, honoring Pampa teachers, at which the volumes were presented.

LINE OFFICERS CLUB

The Line Officers Club was organized two years ago for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with other line officers in our section and with grand officers.

Officers of this group are Mrs. Ethel Stubblefield, Pampa, president; Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, Pampa, vice president; Mrs. June Close, Shamrock, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lillian Fowler, Borger, chaplain.

Its activities include presenting fruit baskets and scrapbooks to grand officers at schools of instruction.

Garden Groups Beautify

District 1, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., is composed of 83 clubs in the Pamhandle. High Plains and Permian Basin, covering an area of 59 counties, with 1,723 members.

Theme for this administration is "Go-Grow-Glow," with the ultimate goal of preserving and beautifying this part of the state.

This organization is placing emphasis on youth communication by sponsoring speech and poster contests, with cash awards for the winners; by giving a scholarship each year to a Texas Tech student majoring in horticulture or floraculture. This year's scholarship recipient was Dennis Woolard of Andres.

The district is contributing, also, the sum of $200 to the summer program of the Student Conservation Association at the Sanford recreation area. And the district organization is giving a cash award to the best environmental improvement project in the district.

Mrs. James F. Malone of Pampa is district director, and Mrs. Joe B. Curtis of Pampa is district treasurer.

DD Club Is Educational

Miss Knoxine Russell is president of the Pampa Desk and Derrick Club, chartered in October, 1955, which meets at 7 p.m. the fourth Monday of each month at the Coronado Inn.

Purpose of the club is to promote among the women employed in the petroleum and allied industries, through informative and educational programs, a clearer understanding of the industry they serve, that enlightenment gained thereby may increase their interest and enlarge their scope of service.

Since Desk and Derrick is an educational organization, members take field trips to various points of interest in the industry, and attend seminars and regional meetings, to learn more about the industry in general, outside of their immediate jobs.

Highlight of the year's activities is Industry Appreciation Night, at which men and women of the oil industry are honored.

Other officers are Mrs. Betty Allam, vice president; Mrs. June Chamberlain, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Fife, treasurer; and Mrs. Allam, publicity.

Kappa Kappa Iota Is Teachers' Sorority

MRS. POOLE
...Gamma Conclave

Kappa Kappa Iota is a national social organization for women teachers. Purpose of the sorority is to promote good fellowship and fraternal cooperation among teachers, to strive for the elevation and dignity of the teaching profession, and to oppose all forces detrimental to the education system of the United States of America.

Pampa and the area has several chapters, called conclaves.

GAMMA CONCLAVE

The Gamma Conclave was organized and chartered in Pampa in 1950, and meets on the fourth Monday of each month at the City Club Room, City Hall.

Highlight of the conclave's activities this year was the organization of a new group at Lefors, and a visit of the state president, Mrs. Hazel Standlee of Lubbock.

This year's projects have included assistance to Girlstown at Borger and scholarships for teachers. Officers are Mrs. James Poole, president; Mrs. John Tatum, vice president; Mrs. Jim Goff, secretary; Mrs. Leroy Morris, treasurer; Mrs. B.G. Gordon, publicity; Mrs. W.K. Mackie, lady of bounty; Mrs. E.V. Ward, outer guard; Mrs. G.M. Walls Sr., Mrs. J.E. Gunn and Mrs. Herbert Coker, chroniclers.

BETA CHI CONCLAVE

The Beta Chi Conclave of Lefors was chartered March 13, in ceremonies in the Lovett Library, Pampa. It meets at 7 p.m. the fourth Monday of each month in the Lefors High School library.

MIX AND MATCH

Layers upon layers upon layers—that's the fashion trend for spring and fall. Slacks and sweaters, with jacket over; cardigans with sleeves rolled up, with a long-sleeved shirt or pullover underneath; skirt, shirt, sweater, one on top of the other. Layers give you lots of looks with fewer clothes—all you have to do is mix and match—and mix and match some more.

MISS LANTZ
...Beta Chi Conclave

Club projects include setting up the organization and compiling a yearbook for the 1972-73 year.

Officers are Miss Norma Lantz, president; Mrs. R.V. Bull, vice president; Mrs. Loyd McKnight, secretary; Mrs. Howard Archer, treasurer; Miss Ardelle Briggs, publicity; and Mrs. Murray Stroud, historian. Mrs. Bull is president-elect.

The Petroleum Engineer's Wives Society was organized in the Spring of 1962 to promote acquaintances and to stimulate social fellowship among the members and their families.

Highlight of the year's social activities is a husbands' night, held on Valentine's Day. The society has 38 members from Pampa and Borger.

Mrs. J.C. Beyer of Pampa is the president-elect and will head the group's 1972-73 activities.

Present officers are Mrs. Don DeGeer of Borger, president; Mrs. Beyer of Pampa, first vice president; Mrs. Virgil Lumpkin of Borger, second vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Wilson of Borger, secretary; Mrs. J.C. Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Beyer and Mrs. Wilson, publicity.

Club Helps College Plan

The Antique Show and Sale, with proceeds going to Opportunity Plan, Inc., at West Texas State College, Canyon, was the highlight of the year's activities of Twentieth Century Cotillion, organized and chartered in 1953.

The club netted $1,700 this year for Opportunity Plan, a program of financial assistance to deserving college students. The antique show is an annual event.

Other club projects include assisting with the senior citizens' program, the

Fashion Tips

Look '40s

You can achieve the look of the '40s with bold appliques made at home. With iron-on fabrics you can make your own fruit clusters of grapes or apples. First find the design, by thumbing through magazines or posters, then trace it and cut it out. Then all you have to do is iron it on your favorite outfit.

Macrame Hair

Stephen Ball from the organic hair-care center in Mill Valley, Calif., came up with totally new hair styles: macrame hair. He fixes a series of knots, such as figure-eight knots, and then weaves feathers, ribbons or fabric into the design for the final touch.

LC Auxiliary Gives Help To Carriers

Organized and chartered in 1940, the Letter Carrier's Auxiliary, No. 1286, meets at 7:30 p.m. the first Thursday of the month for the purpose of helping to improve conditions for the letter carriers, to write letters to Congressmen and to get together with other post office branches and auxiliaries.

Major project of the Pampa group is assistance to Genesis House each month. The auxiliary gave a Christmas box to the Old People's Home in Panhandle and presented Christmas gifts to the girls at Genesis House.

Other projects include two dinners, one in November and one in March, for the letter carriers and their wives.

Officers are Mrs. Minnie Emmons, president; Mrs. Linda Whitmarsh, vice president; Mrs. Fred Hagerman, secretary; and Mrs. Alene George, treasurer.

Forum Club Presents Scholarship

Mrs. McHenry Lane is president of Twentieth Century Forum Club, which was organized Sept. 24, 1929, and chartered as Federated Women's Club in 1931.

Its objective is the mutual improvement of its members in literature, art, science and the vital interests of the day.

Club projects include a $300 scholarship for a high school senior; contributing to the Lola B. Monday Fund; helping with the Senior Citizens' Center; and a "Christmas Dollars" project.

Highlight of the year's activities include a couples dinner party, a guest-day tea, an installation luncheon and a Christmas program.

The group held a rummage sale to raise money for its scholarship.

The club, which meets the second and fourth Tuesdays in members' homes, has 18 active and four honorary members.

Other officers are Mrs. Holt Barber, vice president; Mrs. David Holt, secretary; Mrs. Robert Cotter, treasurer; and Mrs. Rodney Defever, publicity. Mrs. William G. Cornman is president-elect.

Home Demonstration Clubs Interested In Home, Family

MISS WAINSCOTT
...county HD agent

Gray County has nine Home Demonstration clubs. The six clubs in Pampa are Bluebonnet, Goodwill, Merten, Progressive, Top O' Texas and Worthwhile. The High Plains Club, east of Pampa, covers the Hoover and Laketon communities. There are clubs at Lefors and Alanreed.

Objective of the organization is to bring homemakers together, under the guidance of the home demonstration agent, who are interested in promoting the welfare of the family, home, and community. Any homemaker in the county or community is eligible for membership.

Each club is a member of the County Home Demonstration Council, elected by the home demonstration clubs of the county. Each club sends their club president and a council delegate to council meetings held eight times a year.

The district and state organizations, called the Texas Home Demonstration Association, has an annual district meeting each Spring. The 1972 meeting will be held in Pampa, April 20, at the First Baptist Church. Delegates from 22 panhandle counties will be present. The State THDA meeting is held in different cities over the state, this year being held jointly with the National meeting at Dallas.

The plan of work for the Gray County HD clubs is planned annually. The 1972-73 program has just been completed.

The Gray County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, will give programs to the clubs during 1972-73 on "Basic Nutrition," "Know Yourself and Your Food Habits," "Using Hamburger," "Convenience Foods vs. Home-Prepared," and "Interfacings in Clothing."

She will give training meetings or arrange for them on "Understanding Health Services," "Preventing Communicable Diseases," "Making Belts and Trimmings," "Decisions Regarding Choice of Foods," "Using Fruit in Our Diet," "Cabbage: Buying, Use, and Storage."

Workshops that are open to the public will be held in July on tailoring men's slacks and a Tailoring Workshop will be held in March. A home study course on the pre-school child will be conducted in January.

MRS. COOMBES
...THDA chairman

Miss Patricia Henderson is assistand HD agent, working mainly with Gray County 4-H clubs.

GRAY COUNTY-THDA

The Gray County unit of the Texas Home Demonstration Council is the connecting link between the state association and the county clubs.

Its purpose is to promote THDA programs, training meetings and district meetings, with the extension service of A&M college as its source of information.

Highlight of the year will be the district meeting, to be held in Pampa April 20. Another meeting will be the state meeting, slated for Sept. 12-14.

Mrs. A.P. Coombes of Pampa is chairman of the Gray County unit, and Mrs. Charles Warminski of White Deer is a district director.

GOODWILL CLUB

The Goodwill Club, organized in 1954, has 12 members. Its projects include financial aid to Genesis House at Christmas; serving at the Senior Center once a year; and donating gifts at Christmas to Eastridge Home.

Highlight of the year was entertaining the Bluebonnet Club with a Thanksgiving dinner, climaxed with a book review by Mrs. James Malone.

Officers are Mrs. Sidney Jackson, president; Mrs. Laura Kilgore, vice president; Mrs. Vickie Moore, secretary; and Mrs. June Rowan, treasurer. Mrs. Mary Johnson is president-elect.

LEFORS CLUB

The Lefors Club, re-organized in 1970, assists the Lefors 4-H club and has held programs on insurance, taxes, health, safety, fire prevention. It sponsors jointly with the 4-H club a party for senior citizens each year.

The LHDC and Lefors 4-H Club arranged for a program on drug abuse at Lefors public school, attended by 280 persons.

Highlight of the year was a program, "A Day With A Blender," presented by Mrs. Mildred Prince of Pampa, with the homemaking Officers are Mrs. Kent Dougal, president; Mrs. John Hollenshead, vice president; Mrs. V.C. Cobb, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Clark Webb, publicity; and Mrs. Weldon Holley, council delegate.

GRAY COUNTY COUNCIL

The Gray County HD Council was organized in 1919 to be a means of communications between clubs, between clubs and the county agent, and between clubs and various groups and individuals interested in the objectives of the extension service and to serve as an advisory committee.

Projects include entertaining senior citizens each year; holding a Christmas party at the Pampa Nursing Center; and hosting the district meeting, to be held in Pampa April 20.

Highlights of the year were a sewing workshop and a Christmas party for all members.

Officers are Mrs. N.A. Briden, president; Mrs. Jack Benton, vice president; Mrs. A.P. Coombes, secretary; Mrs. Marvin Rowan, treasurer; Mrs. Noah Cude, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Ray Robertson, THDA representative. Mrs. Benton is president-elect.

The object of Phi Sigma Alpha is to unite congenially in fellowship and friendship those women accepted for membership; to promote the personal development of such members; to enjoy interesting social activities; to reaffirm the individual's rights, privileges and responsibilities as a citizen; and to foster association with each other in the pursuit of these purposes in a definite, concerted manner.

Highlight of the activities of Pampa's Texas Delta Alpha Chapter was its study, "Man's Highest Quest," which was a study of various world religions. Talks and discussions were presented by members and guests.

Other outstanding activities included a dinner-theater party; a Founder's Day program; a tour of the White Deer Land Museum; a Christmas party; a program on Christmas ideas; a book review; a yoga demonstration; a program on styles and make-up; and the annual tea.

The chapter's major service project this year was giving assistance to the Pampa High School student. Its primary fund-raising activity was a rummage sale, held in the Fall.

Pampa's chapter was organized Oct. 31, 1968, and chartered Feb. 36, 1969. It meets the first and third Thursday of each month in members' homes. Texas Delta Alpha chapter has 10 members.

Auxiliary Serves Veterans

MRS. SEWELL ...Auxiliary president

Service to veterans is the chief concern of the American Legion Auxiliary, which was organized here in September 1930, and chartered Jan. 19, 1931.

Pampa's Unit 334 carries out its purpose with the setting and removal of flags on the graves of veterans on Memorial Day and Veteran's Day; assisting with the needs of veterans and their families when in distress; and working with all other organizations locally.

Projects of the 29-member auxiliary include selling of veteran-made poppies on the Saturday preceding Memorial day, with part of the proceeds going to the disabled veterans in the VA hospitals and the rest toward financing auxiliary activities.

Officers of the auxiliary, which meets at 6:30 p.m. the third Thursday of each month, are Mrs. Ruth Sewell, president; Mrs. Molly Butts, vice president; Mrs. Estelle Wheeler, secretary; Mrs. Gladys Turner, treasurer; Mrs. Libby Shotwell, publicity; and Mrs. Lee Harrah, chaplain.

Girls Like Horseback Competition

MRS. MORRISS ...heads riding club

To promote horsemanship, friendship and fellowship between girls and to have something to do on horseback is the purpose of the Leather 'n Lace Riding Club, which was formed in October of 1961.

Their activities include participating in parades, rodeos and in taking part in playdays of the United Sheriffs' Posse and Riding Clubs, of which the Pampa group is a member.

Highlight of the year is a trophy playday in October for anyone who would like to participate in games of competition on horseback. Another event is a dance, held later in the club year.

Projects include playdays, trailrides, bake sales to finance their activities, and special events that include members' families and friends.

The organization is headed by Judy Morriss, president; Roberta Watson, vice president; Ruth Camp, secretary; Gwen Caughey, treasurer; Jo Wallace, publicity; and Betty Bentley, parade marshal.

More racing and sports cars have been built in Britain than in any other country.

Association Sponsors Concerts

Pampa's Community Concert Association, organized in 1942, brings nationally-known and internationally known artists in the field of music to Pampa in four or five different concerts each year.

Purpose of the organization is to present the world's finest artists on our stage; to present memberships within a modest budget, where parents can offer their children the opportunity to grow up with great music.

"The non-profit basis of our series makes this one of the most spectacular entertainment bargains available anywhere," stated Mrs. Raymond Harrah, association president. "All money collected as dues is spent on the attractions of the coming season and local presentation expenses."

Other officers are Joe Cree, vice president; Mrs. Gene Green, secretary; Mrs. Tex DeWeese, treasurer; Tex DeWeese, publicity; and Mrs. Hugh Burdett; corresponding secretary.

Cultural Interests Developed

Varietas Study Club was organized and chartered in 1927 to develop the cultural interests of its members in literature, art and science; to provide information of matters of current interest; to provide a program for participation in community improvement and service.

Its major projects include keeping books and magazines on the library shelf at Highland General Hospital; sending Christmas gifts to the Wichita Falls State Hospital; entertaining senior citizens; a community improvement program; and assisting the garden clubs with park beautification.

Highlights of the year's activities include a friendship tea, a guest party, a Federation Day coffee; a Christmas program and party; and a Spring luncheon. The club has 20 members.

Officers are Mrs. L. B. Penick, president; Mrs. Aubrey Sprawls, vice president; Mrs. J. E. Gibson, Jr., secretary; Mrs. W.H. Burden, treasurer; and Mrs. Otis Nace, publicity. Mrs. N. B. Ellis is president-elect.

CHAIRMAN—Miss Anna Pierce is chairman of women's work for the First Presbyterian Church. She is in the process of formulating a plan whereby the women of the church can be most effective in helping the modern church meet the needs of people today.

Men in White
White linen jackets, a perennial favorite, are back again for men. Besides the linen, there's a new trend in menswear for suits. Traditional lines are matched with not-so-traditional fabrics. The casual suit will be made of corduroy, denim and knit fabrics.

Rainbow Girls Teaches Traits of Womanhood

MISS HARWOOD
...worthy advisor

The Order of the Rainbow for Girls is an international organization, sponsored by the Masons and the Eastern Star for girls between the ages of 12 and 20, who have high moral standards.

The ritualistic teachings of love, religion, nature, immortality, fidelity, patriotism and service are stressed as symbols of true womanhood.

Club projects this year included collecting nylon hose for stuffing toys to be sent to the Crippled Children's Hospital, and collecting clothing and miscellaneous items to be sent to Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Other activities include hosting a joint meeting of this district and preparing and serving food for the Top of Texas Hilltop Association.

They performed a drill for Masonic Family Night and helped serve for the evening banquet at the OES District School of Instruction.

They attend church as a group once a year and have slumber parties, ice cream socials, picnics and outings.

The chapter, which has 50 members, was organized April 6, 1922, and chartered in 1928. It meets the second and fourth Tuesdays.

Highlight of the year will be attending the Grand Assembly of Texas, to be held in Houston in June. The girls plan to travel by chartered bus.

Officers are Marsha Harwood, worthy advisor; Becky Gooch, worthy associate advisor; Tamara Rainbolt, secretary; Kelly Rainbolt, treasurer; Tinker

Lighten Eyebrows

You can lighten eyebrows that seem too dark for your hair color without bleaching them. Simply apply make-up base on the brows, going against the hairs, then smooth and you have a lighter look.

Babying Hair

Mild baby shampoo is essential for the girl who washes her hair every day. It cleans but doesn't dry the hair, so the hair keeps its healthy shine.

St. Vincents Altar Society

A membership drive and the sale of Christmas candles were the highlights of the activities of the Altar Society of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

Organized in January of 1927, its purpose is to provide and repair the furnishings of the altars of the church; to foster piety and religious decorum in its members; to promote the social welfare of the members with legitimate entertainment and amusement; to support any movement of the church and reasonable suggestions by the pastor. The group has 100 members.

President is Mrs. Jack E. Hilton. Other officers are Mrs. Mary Ann Eberkamp, vice president; Mrs. Kathryn Nelson, secretary; Mrs. Helen Sharp, treasurer; Mrs. Thusa Kretzmeier, spiritual development chairman; and Mrs. Eleanor McNamara, properties.

Spray and Curl

For a quickie set, electric rollers are life-savers. But they can dry the hair. To prevent any drying, use spray-on creme rinse before setting. The rinse will help the curl hold and prevent the hair from becoming dry and brittle.

Council Unifies Efforts

Pampa Council of Clubs, organized in 1933, meets at 9:30 a.m. the first Thursday from September through May in the City Hall club rooms. Ten clubs are represented in this organization.

Its purpose is the unification of efforts toward the promotion of the intellectual, artistic, civic and moral interest of the City of Pampa. Special efforts are made to provide programs of interest to Pampans during that period when most clubs are active.

This year's programs have included a Welfare Index panel, explaining the work of this group; and discussion on Planned Parenthood; Red Cross cancer activities; and United Fund projects. Each club is represented by the president and a representative, but any interested individual is invited to be included in Council meetings.

Officers are Mrs. C.C. Rhoades, president; Mrs. Ruby Crocker, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Sewell, secretary; Mrs. Virginia McDonald, treasurer; Mrs. Georgia Mack, publicity; Mrs. Libby Shotwell, house chairman. The council has approximately 30 members.

Country Cottons

Country cottons, in old-fashioned prints, are perfect for sophisticated city entertaining. Pinafores or low-plunging garden dresses are easy to make and the fabric is inexpensive.

Object Is Developing Interests

To develop members in the appreciation and enjoyment of any subject of interest and importance in past and present is the object of Twentieth Century Culture Club, organized in 1931.

Its projects include entertaining senior citizens, donating books to the library, donating to the program for the M.K. Brown Auditorium dedicatory service, and donating to the Papago Indians at Christmas.

Highlight of the year's activities was the guest-tea. The 18-member club meets the second and fourth Tuesdays in homes of members.

Officers are Mrs. L.J. Zachry, president; Mrs. M.K. Griffith, vice president; Mrs. J.R. Donaldson, secretary; Mrs. Myron Marx Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Ross Buzzard, publicity; and Mrs. Dan Cameron, parliamentarian. Mrs. Griffith is president-elect.

BATTLE JACKETS

Tiny battle jackets from France are made of the soft and thin leather. These jackets will be coming on strong this spring to go with the high waisted pleated pants.

La Cultura Furthers Education

La Cultura Study Club was organized in 1965 to improve members' education through reading and study, to bring about an awareness of community, state and national affairs and to promote social fellowship.

Club projects include purchasing a flag for the new M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium with contributions from members and financing a campership for a Girl Scout to attend summer camp.

Highlights of the year's activities include a Christmas dinner party; a guest-day coffee; a style show and luncheon, in which each member modeled something she had made for herself; and several excellent guest speakers.

The club meets the second and fourth Tuesdays in members homes. There are 14 members.

Officers are Mrs. Lee Foxworthy, president; Mrs. Carl Adcock, vice president; Mrs. James Johnson, secretary; Mrs. David Damron, treasurer; and Mrs. Max Lovell, publicity. Mrs. Walter Colwell is president-elect.

Opti-Mrs. Club Aids Optimists

An auxiliary of the Optimist Club, the Opti-Mrs. Club meets the first Tuesday of the month in the Optimist building.

The club assists the Optimists with their boys' work projects, gives a scholarship to a graduating senior girl each year, and assists with civic projects for the betterment of the community.

Highlights of the year's activities include sponsoring the Babe Ruth queen contest, serving for the Senior Citizen's Center, assisting with a Christmas party for Optimist members and their families, and assisting with the 18th birthday banquet of the Optimist Club.

Officers are Mrs. George Massie, president; Mrs. Cliff Scott, vice president; Mrs. W.C. Epperson, secretary; and Mrs. John McGuire, treasurer. The club has 18 members.
