Transactions Tax Defended By Minister

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—The people's ray on Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's transactions tax—the most opinion-provoking matter on the floor metchant's stormy month in office—hit a lull today.

Representatives who for days had heard a stream of witnesses condemn and applaud the old age pension payment plan from the floor of the House, decided to call off the forum and discuss what they had heard until Monday.

No definite comment was forthcoming from members of the House revenue and taxation committee. They just patiently listened to one and all.

Communists, Townsendites, and old age pension advocates had the floor late yesterday. One would praise Gov. O'Daniel and urge passage of the tax—even up to providing $200 monthly—while another would flay the proposal as unfair.

The Rev. H. W. Moore of Austin, inter-denominational evangelist, aroused the committee with his charge: "I don't believe you legislators know the difference between a sales tax and a transactions tax. If you'll just keep quiet and let me talk I'll teach you something. The sales tax is on the poor folks; the transactions tax will hit everybody. I'm willing to pay something, but I want these oil and sulphur men to help me."

"Politics is keeping you men from doing something about these things," Rep. Reese Turner of Cameron interrupted to roar.

"I want you to know we are here to honestly represent the people. My own father draws a pension, and I understand problems of the old people. But I don't think it is becoming a minister to make the unadulterated charge of playing politics."

Applause came from the gallery and the committee quickly voted to dismiss the minister from the room.

Loyalists Evacuate Children From City

BERGAIN, France, Feb. 17 (AP)—The Spanish government started the evacuation of children from Madrid today under a rain of shells from insurgent guns.

Government reports said six persons were killed and 30 wounded yesterday in bombardments, inflicted daily on the city since Premier Juan Negrin installed his cabinet there Feb. 12.

One hundred children were sent into Albacete province, southeast of Madrid.

There have been several attempts to evacuate the capital during critical moments of the war but its population remains about the peacetime level of 1,000,000, with troops coming in to replace civilian residents who have reluctantly left their homes.

Large scale reorganization of both Government and insurgent lines continued on the Madrid-Valencia front.

While insurgent forces were moving down from the conquered province of Catalonia, the Government leaders were returning from the north to resume their commands in the central zone.

Gen. Jose Miaja, supreme commander of the Government's land, sea, and air forces, visited Cartagena for his first inspection of the naval base since the sea forces were put under his command.

The commission office in Amarillo, as the total number to be sent from this county on the April 1 enrollment is contingent on the number of applications. Mrs. Baines urged that all Gray county boys desiring to enlist in the corps make immediate application.

While the boys will not be called before April 1, the quota allowed will be based on the report for this month on the number of applicants. The report is to be mailed by March 1.

Youth Steals Cars To Pay His Way Through College

DALLAS, Feb. 17 (AP)—Charges were prepared today against an Oklahoma youth who admitted stealing automobiles to pay his way through college.

The youth was arrested on the Cameron college campus at Lawton, Okla., Wednesday. Police Lieut. Virgil Dietz said he admitted stealing eight cars, six of them in Dallas and two in Port Arthur.

The youth's activities were brought to light after the arrest in Port Arthur of Oswald Andrew Theriot, when two automobiles stolen in Dallas were found in his possession. Theriot was brought here and charged in three complaints in justice court yesterday.

Police said the Oklahoma student signed a statement and told them "I just got into the wrong bunch of fellows."

BUCKLER DOG LOST HERE LAST SUMMER LOOKED LIKE THIS ONE

Remember the dog hunt last summer when scores of Pampanians took to the alleys and vacant lots to look for a dog that belonged to Mrs. Carlotta Buckler of San Francisco, Calif., a sister-in-law of C. P. Buckler? You will recall that Mrs. Buckler offered a nice reward for the dog's recovery, and hired an airplane to look for it. It was captured after she left. Will the dog look exactly like the picture of the dog shown above. Far from being that of Mary's little lamb, the streamlined head above belongs to the B-dington terrier, Ch. Lady Rowena of Westmeads, judged best of breed at Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show in New York.

Credit School Attended By 71 'Students'

A total of 71 enrolled in the credit school at the high school last night. That number was only three less than the total number of persons who attended the Amarillo credit school, an Amarilloan present announced.

Robert A. Ross, credit manager of Neiman-Marcus, Dallas, and president of the Retail Merchants' association of Texas, also vice-president of the national association, discussed "Credit as a Business Force."

Mr. Ross defended installment buying and quoted the Brookings Institution, fact-finding organization, as the authority for his assertion that installment buying was not a cause of the depression.

"Students" represented many Pampan businesses. Every seat in the class-room was taken. More enrollees are expected next Thursday night when Bert Curry will be in charge of the meeting. The subject to be studied and discussed will be "Obtaining Applications for Accounts." March 2, Travis C. Lively will conduct the lesson and discussion on the subject. Interviewing the Applicant." T. P. Smalling will be in charge on March 9 when the subject will be "Accepting and Declining the Applications."

The course will continue for 11 weeks. The school is sponsored by the Pampan Credit Grantors association. Price of the course is $4 and this includes the cost of the text book that is required. Certificates of graduation will be awarded those completing final examinations and attending 75 per cent of the class periods.

W. V. Jarratt was in charge of the lesson review and discussion last night. He called on several business men present for their opinions on various phases of credit. Three men from Amarillo were present.

The R. R. Seeks Sheetrock For Tots' S. S. Rooms

By THE ROVING REPORTER.
The Roving Reporter is out today working for a church. He received a letter yesterday he can't ignore—and neither can you. You simply can't ignore it when you learn it's for children who go to Sunday school.

A woman who signed herself "A Beginner's Teacher" wrote that "our church is not finished on the inside, and surely there is someone in or around Pampan who has sheetrock or wall-board on their hands after remodeling. We need some badly to finish walls and ceiling of our smaller children's rooms. If the edges are broken they can be trimmed and used."

"Also if anyone has a wool or linoleum rug that is good, even if it's faded, I shall be glad to get it. If there are persons who will donate these articles to the church we will call at their homes, if they will leave their names and addresses with you."

The woman who gave her name did not want it or the name of the church used, but it is a smaller church in South Pampan of the same denomination as a large church on the north side of the tracks, to which hundreds of well-to-do residents belong.

Come on now, let the R. R. know about these spare pieces of sheetrock and wall-board. You'll be glad if you help this church.

Golden Gate Fair To Open Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17 (AP)—Gaily garbed San Franciscans, who have been celebrating all week in celebration of the opening tomorrow of the $50,000,000 Golden Gate International exposition, reached the climax today of their pre-opening festival.

An illuminated parade tonight is the final event of the city's wild week festival. After the parade, the crowds will go to vantage points to see the first complete illumination of Treasure Island, exposition site.

A quarter-million persons are expected the first day of a 288-day run. Exposition officials say the 400-acre island in the bay has every attraction anyone could hope to find. There are beautiful buildings and courts, flowers, and pools. There are educational exhibits and there are others designed only for amusement.

Two men were injured seriously yesterday when an elevator dropped them 70 feet down the shaft of a 182-foot high ski jump.

Pampa Qualifies For 25 Per Cent Insurance Credit

Pampa was one of the four cities in Texas qualifying for a 25 per cent fire insurance credit, effective March 1, in a list announced today by Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall.

The 25 per cent rating is the highest standard and means that Pampan property owners save $17,000 a year on fire insurance rates.

Other cities in the top bracket were Laredo, McAllen, and Plainview. Paris was rated at 20 per cent and Marshall at 10, in the list of six cities, released by the state official today.

Illinois Biggest Threat To Texas Oil, Says Sadler

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—Two year extension of Texas' oil proration laws to avert a pictured chaotic condition, got a shove to the House floor last night from its oil, gas and mining committee.

Overriding pleas for a permanent conservation law from several speakers, the committee adopted an amendment which Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler said was necessary as an "axe" to hold over the heads of other states.

Commissioner Sadler bluntly urged the two-year extension, rather than a permanent law, charging that the present law will expire Sept. 1. The amendment voted to the House floor would extend its life to Sept. 1, 1941.

Oral Jones of Wichita Falls, president of the Texas Bankers' Association, pleaded for the permanent law.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Retail trade, Dun & Bradstreet asserted today, "was the only major business division to score a definite gain during the past week."

Babson Says U. S. Treasury Best Guarantee Of Peace

What About Dollar?

ST. PETERSBURG, Florida, Feb. 17.—Since 1933, nearly every economist, including myself, has predicted that we would have plenty of dollars in the United States. Yet, after six years of the wildest spending spree on record, the American dollar is today the strongest currency on earth.

Furthermore, few economists are now worrying about it. Can it be that they are all mistaken? Will our dollar continue to sound? Or have certain factors intervened to save us temporarily? I strongly feel that the latter is true. I am also positive that only a spiritual revival can save us from eventual trouble. Here, however, are eight reasons why our dollar is still good, despite our mammoth spending programs:

1. DEBT NO GREATER THAN IN 1929: Total debt in the United States is no greater today than in 1929. There has been a $30,000,000,000 gain in federal debt, but private debt has been cut an almost equal amount. Private debt, however, is a lesser evil. Private debt is a lien on definite companies, a mortgage on definite homes, a load on the backs of definite individuals. Private debt is paid off or settled because it is an individual's responsibility; public debt is seldom paid off for it is everybody's—and, therefore, nobody's responsibility.

2. SCARCITY OF PRIVATE INVESTMENTS: The drastic slashing of private debt is one major reason why United States bond prices have held up in the face of our wild spending orgy. The money formerly invested in private loans must be put to work somewhere else. Much of it has gone into government bonds. Compare our life insurance companies portfolios today with 1929. The percentage of funds invested in U. S. "Government" has increased over ten times. Naturally, this scarcity of private securities has helped to push up prices of public bonds.

3. PUBLIC BONDS TAX-EXEMPT: Since 1929, taxes have been pushed sky-high in the wealthy brackets. But government bonds are free from normal tax and certain short-term treasury notes are even exempt from sur-taxes. Hence, the big investor can get as good a return on a 1 per cent treasury note as on a 3 per cent top-grade corporate bond. One of the best ways to curb public spending is to make it tax-exempt. Without it, public borrowing would become difficult. If politicians cannot easily borrow money, they will have to spend less money because they cannot push taxes much higher!

4. CONTROL OF BANK INVESTMENTS: The biggest prop for public credit so far has been the new federal control of bank investing since 1933. Banks have been encouraged to buy governments. They have taken the lion's share of the $30,000,000,000 of new bonds. A banker's only obligation is to pay dollars. He does not have to worry about how much food and clothing the dollars he pays out will buy compared with the dollars which were deposited. As government bonds are now exchangeable into paper dollars, one can easily see why bankers buy these bonds.

5. DESTROYING CONFIDENCE IN BUSINESS: Investor's confidence in private bonds and stocks have been undermined by attacks on business by politicians; by burdensome taxes; by the fostering of labor troubles. Such actions have forced huge sums of timid capital into savings banks, trust funds, annuities—and, from there into government bonds. High prices have created the impression that United States Governments are the safest investment on earth. Yet, their ultimate value will depend on the ability of business to make money in order to pay taxes.

6. INCREASE IN RAW MATERIAL SUPPLIES: Another reason that the buying power of our dollar has not declined is because there are huge surpluses of nearly all raw materials. Since 1933, our output of copper, cotton, wheat, etc., has increased spectacularly. At the same time there have been feverish efforts by other countries to boost their production. For instance, the amount of foreign cotton grown has jumped 60 per cent since 1933.

7. ALL NATIONS HAVE ABANDONED GOLD: If all nations had been solidly on gold when the United States abandoned it in 1933, I believe the effects here would have been far more inflationary. However, the entire world drifted away from gold together. The government of every major nation is today spending far more money than it takes in. Our fiscal policies have been unsound but the policies of most other nations have been even less sound. Actually, there is more gold behind the American dollar today than there is behind the pound, the franc, the yen, the lira or the mark.

8. UNSETTLED FOREIGN CONDITIONS: When all is said and done, the United States and Canada are the soundest countries in the world. The amount of investment or billions of dollars of foreign "fear" money has been sent across the Atlantic—creating the biggest credit reserves in our history. Indentures of loans of one European country to another are now substituting a "dollar clause" in the place of the old "gold clause." (Such as in a recent Dutch loan to a French railroad). This means the world recognizes that the dollar is the strongest of all currencies. It may also mean a lack of faith in gold!

Despite eight years of dangerous policies, the United States and Canada ARE STILL the strongest nations financially. In a world where government credit generally is rotten, our credit is 100 per cent acceptable. Moreover, this precious asset can be maintained if reckless spending is stopped now!

STRONG CREDIT BEST DEFENSE

Let me remind those who urge continued spending and who shout against the necessity of arming against the dictators of Europe, of a famous conversation between an eminent Japanese and Theodore Roosevelt. The Japanese said: "No nation would dare to attack you. They would be attacking the strongest military machine in the world—the United States Treasury."

This statement is just as true now as 30 years ago. We can provide ourselves with far more protection against attack by stopping political raids on our own Treasury than by building naval stations on Guam Island, 6,000 miles out in the Pacific Ocean!

Three Pampans On Honor Roll At W. T. S. C.

CANYON, Feb. 17.—Fifty-two students, of whom half a dozen made straight "A" cards, are on the honor roll announced by D. A. Shirley, registrar of West Texas State College, for the fall semester.

Those with perfect grades are Georgia Belyev of Lockney, Martha Orr of Tulla, and Dorothy Pierce of Nowlin, freshmen; Frank Kelley of Panhandle, a sophomore; and Carolyn Dixon of Booker and T. S. Stevenson of Canyon, seniors. Kelly and Stevenson carried six subjects.

Those with the equivalent of five A's and one B were Margaret Dixon of Booker, Royce Jones of Higgins, Bess Kirven Leforge of Amarillo, and Lucille Morris of Gray, Oklahoma.

Four A's and one B were made by Henry Baker of Childress, Ruby Lee Baker of Dalhart, Ruth Eileen Boyd of Oklahoma, Texas, Mary Byerly of Phoenix, Ariz., Horace Gordon of Mobeetie, Carolyn Greenway of Hamlin, Leota Lightfoot of Kirkland, LAWRENCE McBEE of PAMPA, Orline Molloy of Flaska, Robert Cain of Canyon, Allen Patman of Clarendon, Frances Phillips of Hale Center, Martha Ritchie of Ft. Worth, Mogie Ruth of Amarillo, Lois Sax-Texico, N. M., Clara Gillham of yon, and Elsie Thompson of Canadian.

The equivalent of four A's and two B's was made by Edith Berry of Texico, N. M., Clara Gillham of Clarendon, and Nanette Padgett of Panhandle.

The following made either three A's and two B's or four A's and one C:

Luther Archer of Canyon, Margaret Britten of Groom, GWENDOLYNE COUTS OF PAMPA, Margaret Deal of Amarillo, Catherine Devin of Tulla, Billie Lee Fletcher of Canyon, Margaret Garner of O'Donnell, Neil Green of Canyon, Donald Hawkins of Panhandle, Eleanor Hudspeth of Hereford, Mary Nell Jennings of Canyon, Roy Lee Jones of Spearman, Ala Ketchersid of Crowell, Ruth Klein of Amarillo, Clevel Laman of Mobeetie, Juanita Langston of Canyon, Frances Somerville of Wellington, Mary Stringfellow of Canyon, Betty Stubbs of Plainview, ALTA MARIE TERRELL OF PAMPA, Garland Turner of Donie, and Mary Jane Turrentine of Claude.

Britain Supports Plan To End War

PARIS, Feb. 17. (AP)—President Manuel Azana of Government Spain won strong support today for his efforts to end the Spanish civil war, with Britain reported acting as his agent in peace negotiations with the insurgent generalissimo, Francisco Franco.

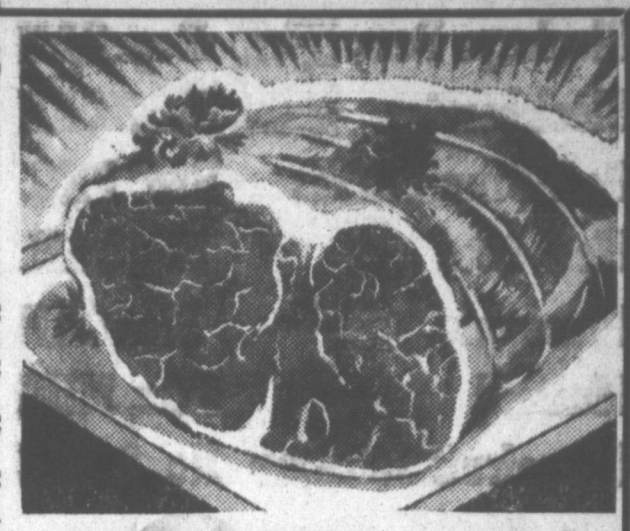

The provincial government of Catalonia, latest to fall to the insurgents, as well as many leaders of the central Madrid government, was understood to be backing the president.

Azana, after two days of conferences with the Madrid foreign minister, Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, at the Spanish embassy in Paris, appeared still convinced that further resistance to the insurgents was futile and peace should be made on the best possible terms.

British agents, diplomatic quarters said, were negotiating for Azana both at insurgent headquarters at Bugos and through Jose Marie Quiroga de Leon, insurgent representative in Paris.

Aliens, Better And Worse

An interesting contrast in aliens came forward in Chicago the other day. In federal court, 78 aliens became citizens. Men and women from many lands, they cast their lot in with the country of their adoption, like a marriage, "for better or for worse." The ceremonial was impressive and solemn.

These one-time aliens were happy to become Americans, the country was glad to have them, for often these new citizens have a love for the American system that has been good to them far greater than that of some native Americans who take everything for granted. These new citizens are keenly aware of their privilege in becoming Americans, but equally keenly aware of their obligations.

On the same day, two other aliens came before another Chicago court charged with petty offenses. Testimony developed that both had been in this country 25 years, and that neither had ever gone beyond application for first papers. For 25 years they had accepted the privileges of American life, but never seen fit to accept their responsibility for a share in maintaining it.

Probably it would be un-American to demand that all aliens immediately take out citizenship papers, or to force this demand by law. But certainly it is a subject on which every alien ought to think carefully in these days of exaggerated nationalism.

Getting Citified

An odd little thing happened the other day which, meaning nothing in itself, has a big thought behind it. A schoolteacher in Chicago showed a stalk of wheat to 206 seventh and eighth-grade pupils. Fifty-four named it correctly; 109 hadn't the faintest idea what it was; 27 said oats; eight said rye; five allowed it might be barley; one said corn, one bearded wheat, and the last one, an eighth-grade Boy Scout, thought it was a corn cob.

A whole generation of rural Americans would never have made that last mistake. In fact, most recent population estimates fix the farm population of the country at 91,800,900 in 1935. That is a large number of people, but since the population of the whole country is now estimated at around 130,000,000, it is easy to see how the man of the soil has been thrust back from a majority to a minority position.

The traditional American president has had a log-cabin background. Who will be the first president born in a glistening clinic and reared on the 14th floor of a big-city apartment house?

The Nation's Press

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

The personally conducted defense of Secretary of Labor Perkins against the proceedings to impeach her introduced only one new element in the case, and that a very dubious one. The House Judiciary committee considering the Thomas impeachment resolution listened to her behind closed doors. Secrecy in such matters is undesirable under any circumstances but it is doubly so when, as in this instance, it is one-sided secrecy. Mme. Perkins' own prepared defense of her conduct in the Bridges deportation case and other Labor Department activities was a part of the star-chamber proceedings, and the only part which was made public as given. Mimeographed copies of the statement which she read to the committee were distributed profusely by her to the press, but no transcript of her subsequent question and answer testimony was made available. The effect of this was to give publicity to one side of the case—Mme. Perkins' side—but not to the other.

Chairman Sumners (D.) Tex., of the committee, says it is the "usual thing" to hold executive sessions in such cases. In this his recollection seems to be at fault. It was chairman of the same committee when in January, 1932, it held similar hearings on the effort of Congressman Patman (D.) Tex., to impeach then Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. These hearings were very public indeed and, as the newspaper files show, every facility was afforded for airing the charges against the Republican cabinet member, which, incidentally, failed of their purpose.

Regardless of precedent, however, even an elementary perception of the public importance of the Perkins case should have dictated public sessions. Rumors have been current in Washington that it was at the White House's suggestion that the Democratic majority of the committee decided on a closed hearing, over the opposition of the Republican members. Whether this is the fact or not it is a fact that Secretary Perkins is a close friend and protégé of Mrs. Roosevelt. It is a fact that the Dies committee, sponsor of some of the more serious charges against Mrs. Perkins, is personally obnoxious to the President. It is a fact that the administration has consistently defended the Perkins regime in the Department of Labor.

In her own interest, the Secretary can't afford to contribute to the suspicion that television faces in her case are being withheld.

VESTED INTEREST OF POLITICIANS

Orval W. Adams, President of the American Bankers Association, has pointed out in his address to the bankers how governments gradually encroach on the rights of its citizens. He says: "All types of government at all times have shown the same disposition to extend their functions at the expense of the lives, property and liberty of their subjects. Democracies are no exception to this rule. Politicians tend to make office holding a vested interest. Political party organizations are built up by the common practice of subsidizing their members out of the public treasury when in power. It is to their advantage to have more revenue to spend—to create more jobs with which to reward party workers, to be able to place more and more people on the public payroll, and to have so many citizens financially dependent on their public policies that they may successfully keep themselves in office. Once a party is powerful enough, by such methods, to crush its rivals and modify constitutional restrictions on the extension of its power, it will transform the Republic into a dictatorship.

"But suppose now that the Congress ceases to operate as a check on government spending, suppose that politicians further perfect the trick of corrupting the public with its own money, and with a mistaken philosophy of an 'economy of abundance' under government management, lead one-third of the population to permit this political despoliation of the national wealth in the expectation that people will get something for nothing out of the public treasury. What happens then? Historians and the wisest political thinkers of all time have told us again and again that that is precisely the manner in which all preceding democracies have destroyed themselves.

"The age-long struggle for human freedom is a precious and hard won inheritance, a sacred trust committed to our generation by the noblest spirits of the past. Few will maintain that we have kept this treasure untarnished by folly and greed. But surely the basic principle of political liberty, the principle of the consent of the governed, is not to be abandoned without consideration of its alternative. Give up the attempt to secure such assent to public policy and you lose the sense of the worth and dignity of human life; men and women become the helpless pawns of the state and government becomes the master of men, not the servant. Consideration and respect for individuals and minorities is lost; the people become the slaves of demagogues turned tyrants. We hear much today of the evils of 'capitalistic exploitation.' Where such evils exist all right-minded men will welcome their removal by wise and just legislation. But we should see that the cure is not worse than the disease. It is the plain lesson of history that unrestricted government is and always has been the worst exploiter on earth. If we are to retain any vestige of the consent of the governed, we must, like our fathers, be guardian against any effort to extend and multiply the powers of government. This vigilance is the price of our liberty."

There never was a time in our history that the danger of our doing just exactly as Mr. Adams has outlined above, as there is at the present time. For a quarter of a century, and especially during the last eight years, has the government been gradually encroaching on the rights of man. The result is less and less free enterprise and fewer and fewer jobs and a rapid receding from a recognition of rights of the individual that was gained through centuries of struggle.

It is no time to prattle about whether a man is a Democrat or a Republican. Both parties have been guilty of rapidly encroaching on the rights of the individual. It is now high time that every citizen use of his time and energy to arouse the people as to the inevitable consequences, if we continue to permit the government, through the politicians, to encroach upon the inalienable liberty of the individual.

Behind The News Of The Day

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Part of Washington's present entanglement over entangling alliances is due, observers here believe, to a misunderstanding of terms.

No one recently has taken the trouble to explain fully the difference between a policy of "isolation" and a policy of avoiding "entangling alliances." There was a time when some of the leaders of the country, notably John Adams, preferred complete isolation. Lamenting the insistence of hardy American mariners on trading with all nations, he said: "If all intercourse between Europe and America could be cut off forever, if every ship we have were burnt, and the keel of another never to be laid, we might still be the happiest people on earth, and in fifty years, the most powerful."

AN ALLIANCE EVEN THEN But even in those years the country was forced to abandon any such idea of isolation and engage in a hard and fast entangling alliance. To obtain aid from France, this country pledged itself pointily with France that neither would end the war against England without giving the other six months notice. It was a commitment that Yankee leaders entered into ruefully and finally violated by signing a peace treaty without full knowledge of France, although there were no bitter feelings about it at the time.

That was just about the last "entangling alliance" this country has made. But it has been anything but isolationist. Some of our commercial treaties date back a hundred years and more. We have treaties of sanitation, armament, copyrights, commerce and culture.

Every such treaty has been a step away from "isolation," but has this type of arrangement led toward "entangling alliances," of the kind Washington cautioned against? In his Chautauqua speech during 1936, President Roosevelt explained the administration viewpoint: "We are not isolationist except insofar as we seek to isolate ourselves completely from war."

FRENCH ALLIANCE DIED After the World War an honest-to-goodness entangling alliance was written into the Versailles Treaty by creation of the League of Nations. One of the collateral treaties President Wilson signed committed us to help France defend the Rhine against Germany. It was designed to be only a temporary treaty, to protect France until the League of Nations could begin to function. But the Senate would have

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17.—Short takes: Simple truth about the shelving of the Hedy Lamarr picture is that it looked pretty bad as far as they'd gone, and Metro couldn't take a chance with its overpublicized glamorist on her first film for her home studio. "I Take This Woman" was started without a finished script and the thread of the story was misled by the large crew of writers who struggled with it. Other troubles came with a change of directors. Love scenes between Miss Lamarr and Walter Pidgeon, directed by Josef von Sternberg, were a lot more torrid than later met by bossed by Frank Borzage, between Miss Lamarr and Co-star Spencer Tracy.

Speaking of troubles and directorial changes, the Dead End kids are probably the only players who ever seemed a director off a picture. E. A. The verse on this one's favorite valentine received this year read like this: "Roses are Red, Violets are Blue, Spinach is Lousy, and so are You." Mrs. Micker Conley, Pampa's No. 1 Irisher, is going to be the subject of a write-up in the Shamrock Texan's St. Patrick's Day edition. Mrs. Conley's birthday is on St. Patrick's day. The "pupils" in Robert A. Ross' Credit school in the high school on Thursday night were accusing Mrs. Kathleen Burns of Roney's of being teacher pet because she sits on the front seat. How's Your Health?

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

The far-sightedness which comes to most of mankind with advancing years is called scientifically presbyopia, which translated literally means "the old man's sight." This comes on about the age of 40 and slowly increases to a maximum about the age of 70. The gradual decline in the power of accommodation of the eye is due to a loss of elasticity of the lens. As the man grows older, the lens becomes rigid and flat. Thus reading becomes increasingly difficult, and it is necessary to have convex eyeglasses in order to do close work. The older individual can follow a golf ball or a horse race perhaps better than he could before, but has a hard time seeing objects that are close to him. Gradually the person begins holding his newspaper farther away and holding his head backwards.

At night the difficulty is increased because of poor illumination. Unless something is done, the eyes feel weary after reading, and headaches soon follow. When a specialist in conditions affecting the eye is consulted, he is likely to prescribe the wearing of convex glasses for all work that is done close to the eye, including particularly the reading of small print. It is important also for the person who fits the eyes with glasses to know the nature of the occupation of the person concerned. For example, the distance of 13 inches is correct for reading, writing and sewing, but a piano player might require the best vision at a distance of 20 to 35 inches at which point he reads music.

Many people may require one pair of glasses for doing their work and another pair for reading. It is also important that each of the eyes be fitted according to its condition, because frequently the two eyes differ in construction and effectiveness. Since there may be such trouble as astigmatism as well as the difficulty with the lens, the person who fits the eyeglasses must take account of such difficulties as well. Furthermore, this condition, once begun, increases so that stronger glasses may eventually be required.

Spectacles are one of the greatest contributions to the comfort and usefulness of mankind, but the correct fitting in accordance with the individual concerned is of as much importance as the lenses themselves.

THIRD PRIZE ESSAY

Editor's Note: The following is the third prize article in the senior group as to "What is a Reasonable Profit?"

What is a Reasonable Profit? The profit that the entrepreneur or capitalist should get for his services to society is a broad, vital, and complicated question. The breadth of the question is limited only by the bounds of human industry. It is a vital question because on its right solution hinges the success or failure of the nation. It is a complicated question because of the vast variety of services that people are willing to pay for, or would be willing to pay for if safe means of obtaining them of the service were made known. The answer is further complicated when we consider the fickleness of society's desires along certain lines due to the fact that modern society is a slave to rapidly changing styles and conventions. The three most important factors to be considered in the correct solution of this question are Capital, Labor, and Government.

Capital is entirely of a material nature. It may be classified under three headings: money, land, and equipment. It may be either owned by the entrepreneur or rented, borrowed or hired, for his project. Labor designates the application of human energy to the enterprise, and beyond the entrepreneur's own personal output must be hired. Government here refers to the great army of agents hired by the voters of the country, or appointed by those so elected, to perform some necessary and some unnecessary public duties. In this particular case the only necessary duty of Government is to see that good faith and fair-play prevail in the conduct of Capital and Labor.

Democratic Government such as we are supposed to have, should not be bought, hired or owned by any individual, or organization of individuals, short of the entire body politic. The very fact that Government has and does, with sometimes big and sometimes little money, sell out to both Capital and Labor makes it impossible for honest competition and the natural law of supply and demand to function normally, throwing industry into chaos; and making honest profits very uncertain if not impossible. Society as a whole is still willing to pay for desired services, especially if there is no other fair way of obtaining them. Although there is a growing feeling that the few who work and save the most should freely help provide for the many who work and save the least. Naturally society buys its services from the lowest bidders. Keen honorable, but otherwise unrestricted competition tends to reduce the costs of commodities and give society better services for less money. It is this wholesome natural competition that has developed and made obtainable to modern society all the comforts and services that it enjoys today. And it is this same competition that will improve those we now enjoy and develop new and better services.

It is only just that the winning competitors should be well rewarded. It is not only just but it is essential to further improvement and advancement. If some cheerleaders apply more intelligence and energy to their problems and cut the costs of certain commodities or services far below those of their competitors a higher rate of profit should be their reward. So there is no set figure for a reasonable profit. It does and should vary with the risk of the enterprise, and also with the varying degree of capability among venturers. LOUIS ROBINSON.

Demo Senators Anxious About Party Harmony

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. (AP)—Worried about the 1940 possibility of a split in their ranks, several Democratic Senators said today they hoped President Roosevelt would bid for party peace when he returns next month from his Caribbean cruise.

Although not suggesting any specific course, Senator Brown, Democrat of Michigan, explained middle-of-the-road Democratic Senators had expressed a wish for harmony. "I believe conditions are ripe for an attempt to get the somewhat divergent factions of the party together and solidify the party for the 1940 battle," Brown said. One anti-administration Democrat declared any successful harmony move would have to be initiated by the White House.

Asking his name be withheld, he suggested the President might go far toward healing party wounds if he would have a series of heart-to-heart talks with Senators who have opposed some of his measures but who desire party peace. The chief executive has talked several times recently with Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Mont., who led the successful fight against the administration's court reorganization bill in 1937. Wheeler was one of the few opponents of that measure who voted for the full $875,000,000 WPA appropriation recently requested by Mr. Roosevelt.

President To Board Destroyer Saturday

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 17. (AP)—President Roosevelt traveled south today to watch the greatest peacetime concentration of American naval power that the eastern defenses of the fleet's lifeline—the Panama canal.

The chief executive left Washington on a special train shortly before last midnight. At the station to bid him goodbye were Secretary McGrath, Joseph B. Keenan, who resigned yesterday as assistant to the attorney general, and Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Mr. Roosevelt will board the destroyer Warrington in the shallow waters off Key West Saturday afternoon and then transfer at sea to the cruiser Houston, for a 10-day journey in the Caribbean.

On the maneuver results may hinge decisions whether to build a supplemental canal across Nicaragua or additional Panama locks for diversion of ships if existing locks should be destroyed by war. The President already has proposed increase of army forces in the Canal Zone, and the House has approved this step.

Four Pampa Fighters Win Fort Worth Bouts

Hornback And Hubert Lose By Knockouts

By HARRY HOARE
(Pampa News Sports Editor)
FORT WORTH, Feb. 17—Four Pampa Golden Gloves boxers remained on top of the heap tonight as boxing fans awaited the second set of the state championship tournament here.

Out of the eight winners in The Pampa News tournament who came here with Trainer Cliff Chambers, four lost their first night fights, three won, and one drew a bye.

Only Frankie Bills, the Shamrock bantamweight, failed to get into the wars last night. He was the lucky bye winner of the Pampa delegation. He will get his first taste of the "39" tourney when he meets Truett Townley, of Wichita Falls, tonight.

Competition here this year is the toughest in its three-year history, according to directors of the big boxing spectacle.

Shamrock Benny Moore, the flyweight, lost on a decision to Warren Branson, Fort Worth, in the opening bout of the tournament. Branson's height and reach were too much for Benny who was unable to get inside and take a poke at his adversary.

Vaughn Eliminated
Dewey Vaughn, the Canyon heavyweight, was eliminated when he lost a hairline decision to Bob Owens, the Amarillo freighter. Owens' 30-pound weight advantage overtook Vaughn in the last round after he had staged a great battle and led most of the first two rounds.

Steve Thomas, Canyon light heavyweight, put Pampa into the win column by a smashing victory over Fletcher Walker, of Wichita Falls. Thomas rocked Walker all over the ring to take a clean decision.

Robertson Wins
Bob Robertson, the LeFors soldier boy home on furlough from Fort Laramie at Cheyenne, Wyo., gave Pampa another win with a sensational win over C. Stringfellow, another soldier from Fort Russell. Robertson staged a two-listed lightning-like attack and chased Stringfellow all over the place for the victory.

Denver Hubert, the Pampa lightweight, got into mighty fast company in his very first appearance. His opponent was none other than Morris Corona, Galveston, the 1938 state finalist—and this is a big state. Hubert lost on a technical knockout in the second round after putting up a great battle. The Pampa boxer violently opposed action of the referee in stopping the bout, declaring he wasn't even hurt, but the referee won.

Earl Brown, Adrian, the boxer who caused Borger Curley Penland to withdraw his fighters from the Pampa tournament, won last night by a knockout over Franklin Miller, of Gatesville, in the second round.

Penland's Squawks Denied
Penland was on hand to protest Brown's entry to both the A. A. U. and the Golden Gloves authority, but both overruled the Borger barber's squawks. Penland had claimed Brown was overweight in the Pampa tournament. The claim, A. A. U. and Golden Gloves officials stated, was without foundation. Brown weighed in at both Amarillo and Pampa and was underweight both times.

Joe Hornback, the flashy Canadian middleweight, got the biggest hand of the night despite the fact that he lost by a second round knockout to Alfred Gurule, of Galveston. But, Gurule got in a one-two in the second that did the job.

Sen. Wheeler Sends Young Infielder To Sens' Trainer

By EDDY GILMORE
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Something new in big league baseball developed today—the Washington Senators have a real scout for them, Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont.).

The protégé of long, lean Senator Wheeler is one Mike Green, 18, an infielder from Ashland, Mont., who hit .481 last year. He's just showed up for work.

"Green," asked Trainer Mike Martin, "your name isn't on my list. Who sent you?"
"Senator Wheeler," Green replied. "Are you looking for a government job?"
Green said he wasn't.
"My, my," said Martin, "this is the first time in 40 years of baseball that I ever heard that one."
Young Green—according to the folks back home—played a wangle of a game with Sheridan last year, making but one error and hitting the pitchers everywhere.

Thoroughbred Sale Turns Out Many Winners

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 17 (AP)—On a November morning back in 1937, in the quaint little paddock of Pimlico's historic "Old Hilltop" racetrack on the outskirts of Baltimore, a privileged crowd stood watching the dispersal sale of the C. V. Whitney thoroughbreds.

A lot of money changed hands that memorable morning. Fifteen horses went under the auction hammer for $119,600. The results of that speculation have just come to hand, and the official figures show that in 1938 those horses won $216,165 for their new owners.

that did not go to the post. The big prize was Dauber, which went on to become seventh leading money getter of the year. His winnings amounted to $74,175. He cost $29,000, top price of the sale.
Dauber, purchased by William Dupont Jr. of Wilmington, Del., achieved his greatest success when he won the Preakness, worth $51,875.
Dupont later sold him to E. E. Fogelson, Texas oil magnate, for a reported price of $40,000.

Townsend B. Martin, Long Island sportsman, bought Cravat. The colt, at $10,600 purchase, accounted for $35,125.
Other horses in the bargain sale were:
Handcuff, The Chief, Tatterdemalion and Roustabout.
The turf world is waiting to see Sky Raider, now a yearling. This Irish little colt is a son of Man of War. He will be due for baptism under fire in 1940.

IT'S A HIT! The NEW Firestone CHAMPION TIRE

Because IT'S THE ONLY TIRE MADE WITH THE NEW SAFETY-LOCK CORD BODY and GEAR-GRIP TREAD

CAR OWNERS everywhere are acclaiming the extra blowout protection and non-skid safety of the new Firestone Champion Tire. And automobile manufacturers, knowing its outstanding performance, have adopted it for their new 1939 models. On every hand you hear, "It's the most effective tire we have ever had on wet pavement and in mud and snow!" It's the hit of 1939!

The Firestone Champion Tire is a completely new achievement in safety engineering and the result of a new and revolutionary means of locking greater safety into the cord body of a tire. This is accomplished first, by the use of a new type of tire cord called "Safety-Lock," in which the cotton fibers are more compactly interwoven to give greater strength. And then the fibers in each individual cord, the cords in each ply and the plies themselves are all securely locked together by a new and advanced Firestone process of Gum-Dipping, which provides amazingly greater strength—and greater strength means greater safety.

The new Safety-Lock cord construction gives the added strength that makes possible the use of the new thicker, tougher, deeper Firestone Gear-Grip Tread, which provides remarkably longer non-skid mileage. This sensational new tread is called "Gear-Grip" because of its unique design which has more than three thousand sharp-edged angles that grip the road with a sure-footed hold to protect against skidding and to assure a safe stop.

Come in today and equip your car with a set of new Firestone Champion Tires, the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

Behind 14-15 at the half, the Owls were paced in the second half by Carswell, who scored four field goals and three free throws.

SERIAL STORY

WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

Copyright, 1939, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday Susie balks at going through with her beauty program. But Jeff convinces her she must try.

CHAPTER XII

JEFF felt helpless. Knowing that Susie's reaction was that of any well-bred girl, he could think of no convincing arguments. He started at the beginning again. "You must have had some reason for answering Mr. Harker's ad," he suggested.

"Yes," Susie twisted her cotton-gloved hands. Dick—to be the kind of a girl Dick admired—to get away from the drab nothingness of her life—it had seemed worth any sacrifice.

"The reason still remains," he went on, noticing the change in her defiant attitude. "Oh, yes," she answered forlornly.

"Then give it a try. A little publicity won't hurt you. The movie stars lie awake nights trying to think up ways to attract attention. Let Mr. Harker tell an interested, feminine public why you didn't eat drag of superfluous pounds, let him tell the kind of shampoo that brought out the gold in your hair—"

"Gold in my hair—," she looked up disgustedly. "Let him publish your picture now—and later. Listen to the envious gasp when they see Suzanne—"

"Suzanne—?" Susie started indignantly. "Yep. That's what the Chief said. 'Susie it is, when we finish with her she'll be Suzanne.' And he'll do it, Susie. That is, he'll do it if you'll help, if you'll cooperate and not be difficult."

"I'm not difficult. I'm nice inside."

"That's the girl," Jeff mentally patted himself on the back. Handling women was his wizard positively a wizard. Parking the car in the company's garage, he ushered Susie through the store to an elevator. A buzz followed them, subdued laughter brought the purplish flush to Susie's round face.

After four years the old wound had still not healed. What had she let herself in for? Oh, to be out of it—to be back at the waffle irons. She set her teeth and mentally prepared a speech of courteous withdrawal for Mr. Harker. She'd bet her best hat, a thing she did not own, that Mr. Harker was one of those wolves they had been talking about, not like a sheep on the outside, cold and crafty underneath.

At the door of his office, with the switchboard girl staring round-eyed, after her, Susie almost turned and bolted. She did half turn and Jeff's big arm shot out to stop her. In that split second before she faced about a voice came to Susie. It was her own voice. "I'd give my hope of heaven, I'd give the rest of my life—"

She dropped her head in shame. It was a humble, disciplined Susie who walked into Mr. Harker's office. Rising, he came around the desk, holding out his hand.

Jeff said, "This is Susie Lambert, Mr. Harker." He knew from the Chief's controlled expression that he hadn't expected anything quite so bad as Susie. And Susie was at her very worst, brows drawn, eyes defiant, desperately afraid that she was about to meet unkind laughter again.

Mr. Harker shook her hand and led her to a chair close to his desk. Jeff, his mission accomplished, went to the outer office and Mr. Harker followed him. "She's pretty bad," he said thoughtfully. Then he brightened. "But that's what I wanted."

Jeff said, "Be a little snug with her, Chief. She bolted once, said she wouldn't be a guinea pig."

John Harker's eyes lighted with a laugh. "That's good—well, I was afraid she didn't have spirit. Anything else I should know?"

"Edna likes her, she sees possibilities. Susie has a nice sense of humor, she's repressed and inhibited—I'll take a lot of doing." Jeff felt very proud to have the Chief ask his advice. But that was like the Chief. The sweetest man a guy ever worked for.

MR. HARKER went back to Susie. He met her hurrying toward the door and pretended not to notice her. Exercise would help her awkwardness. If not, dancing lessons would turn the trick. When it was all said and done, what about her nose? Her feet weren't so bad, it was the shoes. But her nose—, Susie felt twisted and torn and summeled.

"You want us to try, don't you, Susie?" "Oh, yes. It's been so—awful." What had been so awful she left to his imagination and he nodded understandingly.

"Perhaps we can't make a ravishing beauty of you; to tell the truth, there are very few ravishing beauties in the world. But you can have charm, Susie, you can attract without startling beauty, we can help you make the most of yourself."

"Can you?" she inquired, leaning toward him wistfully.

"Yes indeed we can," Harker assured. Then, remembering the guinea pig complex, he added, "You'll have to understand that our criticism is no more personal than your doctor's would be if he said you had a bad appendix or if your French teacher complained of your accent in trying to help you. See what I mean?"

"I think so." After a hesitation she said, "The picture in the paper, Mr. Harker—I don't like it. People don't seem to realize that all girls are the same inside—they'll laugh at me—"

MR. HARKER nodded sympathetically. "No picture shall be published unless you are willing. I have a photographer—the tops in his line. We have in mind a picture that will suggest your bad points without emphasizing them. Will you let him try? You shall see the proofs and decide."

He was so kind that Susie's defense went down in disorder. She found herself agreeing to everything, submitting willingly. And with the first hard moment over things began to happen, Susie was photographed from every angle.

At first furiously conscious of herself, she gradually accepted the impersonal treatment. With the departure of the cameraman other people were called in consultation. A physical director not connected with the store, a blunt, forceful man with a Scandinavian accent; Miss Fleming, head of the Beauty Salon, a middle-aged woman with skin like a girl.

Susie looked dazedly at Mr. Harker, at Miss Fleming who was making notes about her many faults, at Clifford Kane who, as manager of her campaign, must know every step of the way. They kept talking together as if she weren't there. Exercise would help her awkwardness. If not, dancing lessons would turn the trick. When it was all said and done, what about her nose? Her feet weren't so bad, it was the shoes. But her nose—, Susie felt twisted and torn and summeled.

WTSC To Start Remote Control Radio Station

CANYON, Feb. 17.—Through the courtesy of radio station KGNC of Amarillo, a remote control studio at West Texas State College will be formally opened on Monday, February 20.

On each Monday, a program tentatively designated as the "Campus Parade" will be broadcast from the college studio for half an hour. The regular time will be 8 to 8:30 p. m.

Dr. J. A. Hill has appointed Dr. Baxter M. Geeting, acting head of the department of speech, as chairman of the college radio committee, with the other members to be Miss E. Hinkle, in charge of college news broadcasts and publicity.

KGNC engineers will come to the college this week to make necessary installations in the auditorium of the Education building, where broadcasts will be made from the stage. Programs will offer a variety of entertainment and information, including the campus newscast, selected music, dramatic sketches, and plays, short talks by faculty members, and interviews.

At the coming formal opening, much of the program will be given to short talks by college executives, ex-students, and staff members of KGNC.

Dr. Hill accepted the offer of expanded radio facilities with enthusiasm when O. L. Taylor, manager of KGNC, proposed the college studio. Aside from the public entertainment to be provided and the opportunity for the college to present its many-sided activities, the broadcasts will be used to train students in radio drama, script writing, newscasting, and studio management.

Reservations Now Open For Wheeler Teachers Banquet

SHAMROCK, Feb. 17.—The annual banquet for the Wheeler county school teachers and trustees will be held on the night of Wednesday, Feb. 22, in the gymnasium at Wheeler, it is announced by Anthony Hunt, Kellerville principal, who is secretary of the Wheeler County Teachers' Association.

All trustees and teachers and their wives or husbands are invited to attend the banquet and reservations should be in the hands of the secretary not later than Feb. 18. This is necessary in order that the committee may know how many plates to have prepared. It is suggested that teachers in each school pay their fees to the principal or superintendent and let him mail them all in at one time.

Delegates to the district teachers' association will be elected at the banquet. Since this is the only county-wide meeting that will be held this year, it is especially urged that all teachers and trustees make their plans to attend.

An attendance of more than three hundred persons is confidently expected, Mr. Hunt said.

O'Brien Playing Basketball With Gridiron Mates

FORT WORTH, Feb. 17 (AP)—It's a far cry from fall's glittering gridiron spectacles to the hum-drum of basketball barnstorming in the tank towns—but for Davey O'Brien there's one thing in favor of the hard-boards.

Davey's making money out of it and that's more than can be said for last season's football jousts when he got all the glory that all-American distinction as Texas Christian University's mighty passer afforded—but without any of the cash that rolled in at the gate.

You'll find Davey these winter nights making up and down the basketball court playing on "another team." He makes five to eight bucks a game. That, too, is a far cry from what he was reportedly offered to turn pro footballer, which is another story.

The team is known as O'Brien's All-American All-Stars with Davey hidden most of the time by four masters of the football field—Kil Aldrich, who was all-American at center; I. B. Hale, who made quite a few teams at tackle, and Pat Clifford, halfback, and Russell Hensch, end.

But the game is built around Little Davey, who does all sorts of stunts with a basketball like climbing on the shoulders of Hale and Aldrich and looping the ball through the basket and being the center of a flying wedge.

San Carlos Handicap Entries Awaited

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17 (AP)—With turf experts expecting to pick a favorite for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap on the outcome of tomorrow's San Carlos handicap, entries for the $10,000 mile and one sixteenth event were awaited today at Santa Anita Park.

The condition of C. S. Howard's Sealicut, declared out of the San Carlos because of lameness in his left ankle, remained a problem. The stable hoped the swelling in the ankle would subside and give the erstwhile big handicap favorite a chance to try a gallop in a decisive test of his injury, but could promise nothing until later.

A number of outstanding threats in the $100,000 race were nominated for the San Carlos, with Ligaroti, owned by Bing Crosby and Lin Howard, assigned top weight of 122 pounds.

Heavily at 119. Specify and Sor-teo, at 118 pounds, were the leading high-weighted nominees.

Since the Norman conquest in 1066, there have been 29 monarchs, four of them women, in England. On 16 occasions, the throne passed from father to eldest surviving son.

Crystal Ball Swami Kind To 'Old Diz' By BREW MIDDLETON. NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Just to save you the trouble of keeping step with developments during the next two months we hoodwinked old Swami river into conjuring a few forecasts out of the crystal ball.

Even big Ed Dudley, the tall Philadelphia who calls Georgia his second home, said the near-gale winds didn't help him reel off that neat opening round, sub-par 70, for a two-stroke lead going into the second 18-hole stretch of the 72-hole battle for top money of $2,000.

Carey Takes County Title CHILDRESS, February 17—The Carey Cardinals who have occupied the basketball throne in the Texas Panhandle for the past three years, won their second straight decision from the Tell Tigers in the Childress county play-off and were awarded the 1939 championship cup. The score was 30-27 and the game was played on the Tell floor.

The Cards are playing the district 4 tournament in Childress Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to defend their district title.

The Carey five beat Tell 47-43 in the playoff opener at Carey Monday night. The playoff became necessary when the Cardinals won the county round robin, then the Tigers staged an upset in the county tournament at Kirkland and beat Carey in the finals.

In the game at Tell Tuesday night, the Cards held the lead all the way, except for two brief periods. Each time the Tigers moved within striking distance, the Cards pulled away.

R. T. Spinks, Tell center, was again the standout as he scored 12 points. Seth McFathers, pee-wee forward for Carey, led his team with 11 points.

The box score: CAREY—S. McFathers f 5 1 11, Cheyning f 1 0 2, Jones f 2 0 4, Middleton c 2 1 5, Murray f 1 2 4, A. McFathers g 2 0 0, Totals 13 4 30.
