One More Year in Pampa

On September 1, 1964, the Pev, Russell C, West, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, will retire from the full-time Pastoral Ministery. He will then move on to some other community in America from which he will follow some of his life-long interests.

It was in 1939 that Rev. West, with his wife and four children, moved to Pampa from Roanoke, Virginia. For twelve years he served as pastor of the Pampa Church of the Brethren. Six of these years, under the sponsorship of the Pampa Ministerial Alliance, he taught a State-accredited Bible Course in the Pampa High School, In 1951 he took up a five-year pastorate in Colorado. Following this he spent five years in a Nation-wide Preaching Mission for his denomination. Having completed this he was called back to become pastor of the Pampa congregation in late 1960.

Rev. Russell G. West Church of the Brethren

On Sunday morning at eleven o'clock at the Church of the Brethren, 600 North Frost Street, he will preach on the subject:

sillier a song is, the more popular it becomes. If you want to become the world's leading song writer, don't begin with an old-fashioned country ballad that tells a story; a heart warming song that will cause folk to stop and think, nor an old-time sacred song that will draw men closer to their Master. Just dash off a little ditty, with no rhyme nor reason; wih a half-dozen nonsensical repeats that would brand you as an idiot if used in your every day conversation; wrap it up in a little two-chord melody ranging all the way from high C, to low G, and you've got
