Girl Succumbs To Car Injuries

Tina Renee Skidmore, 6, 1225 E. Foster, died at 7:05 last night at Highland General Hospital from injuries received 50 minutes earlier when she was struck by a car in front of her home.

A witness told investigating officers the child had been playing in a yard across from her home when she saw her grandmother enter the driveway. She started across the street and ran in the path of a car driven by Mrs. Charlotte Claunch Hall, 29, 1300 E. Foster.

Another witness, driving east on Foster at the time of the accident, told officers he observed Mrs. Hall leave her driveway and come west and that she was traveling at a slow speed when she passed him. He said he saw the child dart out into the street in his rearview mirror.

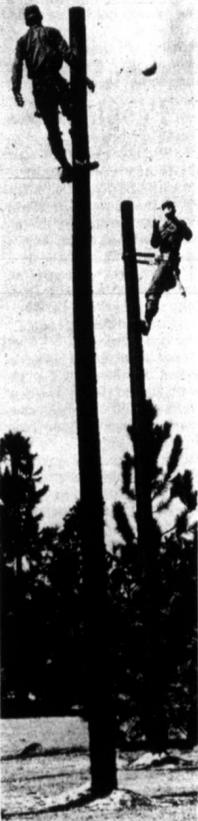

Suffering apparent head, back and rib injuries, the victim was taken to Highland General Hospital by Metropolitan Ambulance, according to the police report.

The daughter of Mrs. Beverly Joye Collier, Tina Renee was living with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skidmore at the time of the mishap.

Funeral services are set for 4 p. m. Thursday in Carmichael-Whalley Colonial Chapel with the Rev. Ralph Palmer, pastor, First Christian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Memory Gardens.

Other survivors include her grandmother, Mrs. Joyce Swinford, Pampa; great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N.H. Evans, Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. O.O. Skidmore, Dove Creek, Colo.; aunts, Mrs. Celia Selman and Sherry Skidmore; uncles, Frank Skidmore and Gary Swinney.

CATCHING UP on their homework, these two soldiers practice for post-Army careers as telephone linemen by getting accustomed to high level activity. They are part of the Army's Project Transition, which is designed to ease the return to civilian life for men and women finishing their tours of duty.

Sept. Oil Allowable 100 Per Cent

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission extended today the statewide 100 per cent oil allowable through September in response to record demands from major buyers for more crude oil.

It will be the sixth consecutive month of all-out production.

Exceptions again will be the East Texas field, which will operate under an 86 per cent allowable and Kelly-Snyder in West Texas, which will operate under a 76 per cent allowable.

Also, the Tom O'Connor Field in South Texas was set at 70 per cent.

Written nominations for September totaled 3,751,417 barrels a day, an increase of 50,113 from August, which was the previous record for crude oil nominations.

Texas' estimated crude oil production is 3,550,000 barrels a day.

Four of the 15 major purchasers asked for more oil in September than August. 10 wanted the same amount and one requested less oil than last month.

Commission chairman Byron Tunnell said as of Aug. 4 Texas' crude oil stocks totaled 96.9 million barrels, a decrease of 7.7 million a year ago.

"I don't know that we're making any progress convincing some people in Washington that there is an energy crisis in America," Tunnell said.

Nominations by major purchasers for September, in barrels per day, with changes in parentheses:

- Amoco 320,000
- Atlantic Richfield 170,000
- Chevron 69,500
- Cities Service 110,000
- Continental 38,100
- Crown Central 24,753 (minus 5,935)
- Diamond Shamrock 34,000 (plus 2,000)
- Gulf 214,000
- Humble 671,000 (plus 21,000)
- Mobil 335,000 (plus 10,000)
- Phillips 115,000
- Shell 290,000 (plus 20,000)
- Sun 221,800
- Texasco 228,000
- Union of California 105,000

Wallace To Undergo Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief surgeon who will operate on George C. Wallace today says the aim is to attempt to reduce a potentially dangerous abscess caused by a "dirty bullet" that spread bacteria through the body of the Alabama governor.

The surgeon, Dr. George A. Hallenbeck, said in a telephone interview that there is no reason for believing that Wallace might be suffering from a spreading infection.

But, he added, the fist-sized "sleeping abscess" in the right side of the governor's abdominal cavity might cause fever, infection or other trouble later. That, Hallenbeck said, is the reason for today's 50-minute operation.

McGovern Pledges To End 'Controls'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, claiming greater confidence than ever that he can beat President Nixon, has pledged to end wage-price controls within 90 days after taking office.

With little advance fanfare, the Democratic nominee declared he would order a return to a free market upon ending the Vietnam war and reducing military spending.

In comments to a group of Illinois labor leaders Tuesday night, McGovern said: "When the war is ended and waste is stopped, we can end wage and price controls, and I think that can be done within 90 days of the

20-Day London Dock Walkout Called Off

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of Britain's 42,000 longshoremen called off the 20-day-old dock strike today. But militant stevedores charged a sellout, raising the possibility that they would not heed the back-to-work order in the major ports.

Unofficial sources said the dock workers' delegates voted 53-30 to accept the settlement worked out by a joint union-management committee.

But when the decision was announced outside the headquarters of the Transport Workers' Union, one longshoreman charged into the conference room and hurled a metal ashtray at Jack Joos, head of the TWU and the chief union negotiator. It missed.

Then the militants turned on the police security cordon around the building, and fights broke out.

Some pickets tried to chase the dispersing delegates. Mounted police were called in to separate the combatants.

inauguration. And I'm committed to that goal."

McGovern's economic pledge capped a day of campaigning Tuesday in Ohio and Illinois in which he asserted that Nixon himself was at least indirectly involved in an attempt to spy on Democratic National Committee headquarters in Washington.

McGovern planned to court the farm vote today after reaping a new round of labor endorsements Tuesday.

As he addressed a cheering group of United Auto Workers near General Motors' Lordstown, Ohio, plant the 1.4-million-member union announced it had voted overwhelmingly to endorse the South Dakotan.

At the same time, the International Ladies Garment Workers, with 450,000 members, tendered its support by way of a unanimous executive-board decision.

On the minus side, the 380,000-member Indiana AFL-CIO declared it would follow the lead of national federation President George Meany and remain neutral.

And McGovern's much-awaited meeting with Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, whom McGovern forces helped oust from the Democratic National Convention last month, was called off for another week. The senator said Daley had called him at Lordstown to ask a postponement for "urgent personal reasons."

McGovern's revised schedule called for a visit to a small family farm near Springfield today, then an address to perhaps more than 15,000 persons at the Illinois State Fair, followed by a conference with state party and Farmers Union leaders.

PEACE IS THE SIGNAL from a South Vietnamese soldier wounded in the Quang Tri fighting, and apparently he'll have some for some time.

Kissinger Believed To Ask President Thieu To Resign

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger arrived in Saigon tonight and Le Duc Tho, his North Vietnamese adversary in secret peace talks, flew to Hanoi amid widespread speculation about a new move to end the war.

There was no official confirmation of the new peace move, and Tho contended there was no basis for it.

Some diplomats here and in Paris surmised that Kissinger, perhaps with a negotiating lure from Tho, wants to persuade South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu to agree to a compromise formula towards meeting the enemy's demands that Thieu step down.

Meanwhile, others suggested that Kissinger and Tho would report a deadlock in their secret Paris sessions, with Kissinger intending to reassure an uneasy Thieu that President Nixon will not let him down.

A Hanoi spokesman in Paris gave no further detail Tuesday in saying Tho, a Politburo member, would depart for the North Vietnamese capital today. At the White House, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler made this separate bare-bones announcement.

Kissinger, who met Tho in Paris Monday, will confer with Thieu and others in Saigon until late Friday. He will report back to Nixon before the Republican National Convention opens in Miami Beach next Monday.

Ziegler said Kissinger's two days in Saigon will include "a general review of all aspects of the Vietnam problem, including the negotiations in Paris."

He cautioned against speculating about a breakthrough in the Paris talks. He said the trip had been under consideration for several weeks.

Meanwhile, sources in Saigon disclosed today that Nixon has ordered another round of U.S. troop withdrawals beginning after Sept. 1, when the level is expected to be down to 39,000 men. This does not include another 100,000 Americans fighting the war from air bases in Guam and Thailand and from ships off the Vietnamese coast.

There seems little doubt that Nixon would like to have a Vietnam peace deal before the November election, but the White House is keeping the specific aim of Kissinger's journey a tight secret.

Public statements by Thieu since the new round of Kissinger-Thieu sessions began a month ago have been interpreted here as showing concern by the Saigon leader that Nixon may ease the terms he set forth May 8.

Nixon said then that the bombing of North Vietnam will continue until Hanoi agrees to an Indochina cease-fire and release of U.S. prisoners, whereupon U.S. forces would pull out of South Vietnam within four months.

Hanoi has denounced Nixon's offer publicly and demanded a political settlement that would oust Thieu.

Planes Strike Targets Deep In North Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes made their deepest and heaviest strikes in North Vietnam in a week Tuesday, renewed their attack on the northwest rail line to China and shot down one of three MIG21s that tried to intercept them, the U.S. Command announced today.

It was the 159th MIG reported down by U.S. crews in the war and the 48th this year.

The U.S. Command said Air Force, Navy and Marine fighter-bombers flew more than 290 strikes against targets in North Vietnam. U.S. pilots had been averaging less than 200 a day in the north since Aug. 8 because of heavy clouds, but the weather improved Tuesday.

Air Force F4 Phantom pilots made several direct hits with laser bombs on the 75-foot Phu Tho railroad bridge 45 miles northwest of Hanoi, the Air Force said. The bridge had been attacked before but had been repaired.

Other planes attacked the Viet Tri thermal power plant 30 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Capt. Fred W. Sheffler, 29, of Akron, Ohio, and Capt. Mark A. Massen, 25, of Downey, Calif., flying an Air Force Phantom jet, were credited with downing the MIG21 about 25 miles northwest of Hanoi. They hit it with a missile.

North Vietnam claimed that five U.S. jets were shot down during daylight raids Tuesday and two more during midnight strikes. The only losses announced by the U.S. Command were an F4 Phantom shot down Sunday in the northern half of the demilitarized zone and a helicopter gunship downed Tuesday below the DMZ, south of Quang Tri City.

The two phantom crewmen are listed as missing. One American aboard the AH1 Cobra gunship was reported killed and one wounded.

The U.S. Command also reported that 175 Americans have now been listed as missing in aircraft losses in the 4½ months since the Communists launched their offensive in South Vietnam, and nearly half of the missing men have been lost over North Vietnam.

Another 72 Americans have been killed and 55 have been wounded in aircraft crashes during this period, the Command said.

According to the U.S. Command's records, 126 planes and 68 helicopters have been lost in the war since March 30, when the North Vietnamese offensive started.

The Command said 76 of the planes have been lost over North Vietnam, and 82 of their crewmen are missing. North Vietnam has announced the names of 21 who have been captured.

On South Vietnam's central coast, an ammunition dump blew up at the provincial headquarters compound in Cam Ranh City, and the headquarters building was destroyed, field reports said. But the building was empty, and no casualties were reported.

Registration For Students Tomorrow

Enrollment for students of the Pampa Independent School District, elementary, junior high and senior high, will be Thursday.

Mrs. Marge Penn, school nurse, has announced all students must bring a complete immunization record with them, since, according to state law, a student may not attend school without the required immunizations.

Elementary students will report to their respective schools at 8:30 a.m.

Junior high school students will report to their school auditoriums at 8:30 a.m.

High school students will report to the auditorium as follows: 9 a.m., seniors; 10:30 a.m., juniors; and 1 p.m., sophomores.

Criticism Of Policy Draws Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said today the continued U.S. bombing of North Vietnam will insure that American prisoners of war will not be released.

Clark who recently returned from a two-week trip to North Vietnam said: "My impression is the chances of their releasing American pilots while there is American bombing is nil except as a symbolic thing."

He added that North Vietnamese leaders with whom he spoke appeared surprised when asked if they would release the prisoners after the war is ended. Their surprise seemed to say what reason would they have for keeping them, Clark said.

Appearing before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee exploring the problem of war refugees throughout Indochina, Clark also described destruction of dikes and sluices, schools, hospitals and civilian areas.

He also displayed a small grenade-like fragmentation bomb given him by the mayor of Hanoi which Clark said was a totally antipersonnel weapon that would do little damage to structures.

"I know of no justification in law or morality for that kind of weapon," Clark said. "They have one purpose: to kill people."

He conceded he is not a military man but said the damage to dikes and sluices which he witnessed in his tour of North Vietnam seemed "to indicate that the bombing was deliberate."

He added that he never saw anti-aircraft or SAM missile emplacements on the dikes. Nor were they used to store fuel and war materiel, he said.

Clark's criticism of U.S. war policy during his North Vietnam tour drew strong criticism from top officials and former officials in the Nixon administration and the President's campaign organization.

Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern became involved in the dispute when Republicans recalled McGovern's past praise of Clark. McGovern fired back that President Nixon was steering his campaign onto "the low road" through his lieutenants' attacks on Clark, who was attorney general during the Johnson administration.

The latest clash came Tuesday when Clark and Rita Hauser, who is co-chairman of the Citizens Committee for the Re-election of President Nixon, engaged in a vigorous argument at an American Bar Association meeting in San Francisco.

She challenged his assertions that he found American prisoners well-treated in Hanoi and claimed there are "reams of evidence" showing mistreatment.

Clark said he was not surprised that his comments in North Vietnam were broadcast over Radio Hanoi because he knew his remarks were being taped. But he said he declined to speak specifically for Radio Hanoi broadcasts.

'Kidnaped' Boy Located

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — A 3-year-old boy, believed kidnaped from his Belen home since Aug. 7, was located by FBI agents in an abandoned shack near Farwell, Tex., Tuesday.

FBI special agent-in-charge Wes Whaley of Albuquerque said he, another FBI agent and a New Mexico state policeman arrested Jose R. Baca, 51, near the shack.

Whaley said Baca, a transient, was arrested on a federal warrant issued late Tuesday. It charges him with interstate flight to avoid prosecution on a state charge of kidnaping.

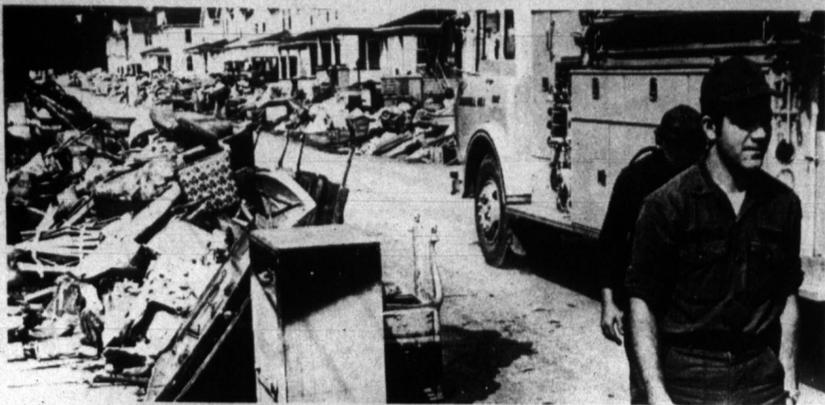

Whaley said 3-year-old Sammy Herman Valjeas appeared to be in "pretty fair condition" and showed no visible signs of physical abuse.

YOUTHFUL INGENUITY — The American ingenuity has often been noted over the years, but not too many people realize it also extends to the youth of the country. Donnie Davis, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, 1233 Williston, was enjoying his ride during a warm summer day when he encountered difficulties. Not discouraged, he grabbed a wrench and began to make repairs. Soon he was off riding again—youthful ingenuity coming through. (Photos by John Ebling)

ABA Proposes States Provide 'No-Fault' Automobile Insurance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The American Bar Association has proposed that all states provide "no-fault" automobile insurance — and that the federal government stay out.

The plan approved late Tuesday by the policy-setting House of Delegates would guarantee all injured drivers, passengers and pedestrians recovery of up to $2,000 in medical payments and lost wages without suing.

However, under a last-minute change, they would be free to sue for "pain and suffering." This provision weakened the "no-fault" proposal, although most of the accident suits that now clog the courts would become unnecessary.

The special ABA committee in charge of "no-fault" insurance had recommended that general damage suits be limited. If the injured person's medical and job losses were less than $500 he could recover only a matching amount by going to court.

The Massachusetts "no-fault" law, first in the nation, is even tougher in blocking "pain and suffering" suits. There can be none unless medical expenses exceeded $500.

Last week, the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws proposed a model law that would eliminate most suits for general damages and would provide lifetime compensation for lost wages up to $200 a week as well as unlimited medical payments.

The 315-member House also approved an amendment opposing any federal law on auto insurance.

SCLC Leader Blasts Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — "Sam Houston and his descendants would want us to believe that all is well in Texas, but we know that there is the disease of racism, poverty, injustice, bigotry and segregation right here in Dallas," the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy declared Tuesday night.

He delivered his fiery indictment in advance of today's formal opening of the 15th annual convention of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, a civil rights group which he heads as president.

Abernathy went to a Fair Park bandshell near the downtown district for a surprise appearance after meeting Angela Davis, the former professor cleared of kidnaping and murder charges in California, as she arrived by plane. She will speak at an SCLC dinner tonight.

Speaking to a crowd of about 3,000 people, and what was billed as an SCLC "culture Night" and Gospel Show, Abernathy leveled his charges against the convention's host city and added:

"But thanks be to God, we are physicians. We are doctors. We have come to prescribe a prescription. We're going to give Dallas a dose of medicine. And we're going to set Dallas straight."

State Retired Teachers Complain To Legislators About Low Benefits

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Retired public school teachers told a special Senate committee Tuesday of working for years at low pay and then being reduced to what they described as a poverty scale of living after retiring.

The Committee on Teacher Retirement listened to witnesses all day.

Their main complaint was that teachers who retired before the Legislature in 1969 and 1971 changed the retirement law are getting much less money to live on.

"Many are getting benefits below poverty level—$1,200 a year, some even less," said

Mrs. H. Hubert Walters of the Port Arthur Retired Teachers Association. "It seems to me the situation should be reversed so that aging teachers could live with dignity, if not grace."

Prior to 1969, the formula for figuring retired teacher benefits was based on the teacher's highest 10-year average of pay. The 1969 Legislature changed it to the best 5-year average and also raised the percentage factor. The 1971 Legislature retained the 5-year average and raised the percentage factor again.

"We feel we did not get a fair deal," said Paul Harper, a former teacher and principal at Mount Pleasant who retired in 1968.

He estimated that 75 per cent of Texas' retired teachers quit work before the new law was enacted.

A. H. Breazeale of Lampasas said he knew of a teacher who retired with 29 years' service seven years ago and gets $189 a month in pension benefits, but a teacher who retired last year with 19 years' service gets $245 a month.

Breazeale, Mrs. Walters and others said the same formula should be used to compute pensions for all retired teachers.

Dr. I. I. Nelson, a retired Austin teacher, recommended that retirement benefits be linked directly to changes in the cost-of-living. He also suggested that top priority should be given those receiving the smallest benefits and that any change in the system be "actuarially sound beyond any reasonable doubt."

The committee hearing could turn out to be of almost immediate help to Mary Lou Harbor, another retired Mount Pleasant teacher.

"Why are some teacher retirement checks so skinny and some so fat?" Miss Harbour asked, adding that despite 30 years as a teacher her retirement checks last year totaled only $134.22 a month.

"A deficit in my balance is unavoidable," she said.

Leonard Prewitt of the Teacher Retirement System said there could be some mistake, that a teacher with 30 years' service should get credit for $6.50 for each year, or a monthly check of $196.

"Unless there are some special circumstances in your case, we may have made a mistake," said Prewitt, a committee member. "Come by and see us."

"I'll come by," said Miss Harbour, smiling broadly as the retired teachers on all sides of her applauded.

Galveston Bay Is Facing Grave Pollution Problem

HOUSTON (AP) — Unless Houston stops its policy of encouraging a boomtown-like growth, Galveston Bay will die, a report by an environmental group says.

"In not too many years, it (the bay) will be clogged with silt and heavy with nutrients," the 18-month study by the Conservation Foundation says.

"The marine life will suffocate, and what remains will be a stinking cesspool, issuing its putrefaction into the Gulf of Mexico."

The foundation, a non-profit organization here which studies environmental and educational problems, previewed the findings of its 150-page study of Galveston Bay in its monthly newsletter Tuesday. The complete report will be released soon.

The report says the people of Houston must make some hard choices about growth. "There are limits to the rate of growth that the natural system can sustain."

Pollution control has been all talk and little action around Galveston Bay, the foundation said.

"What the people of Texas are getting in Galveston Bay is the form of pollution control, but not the substance."

Texas has had strong water pollution laws on the books for years, the report said, but the Texas Water Quality Board has not made polluters live up to them. It estimated that 44 per cent of the discharge along the Houston Ship Channel, which flows into the bay, are "apparently in clear violation of permit specification," yet the state agency rarely goes to court.

The problem has been compounded, the foundation said, because the federal government has in the past relied on the state to enforce pollution laws. It was not until a pollution enforcement conference in 1971 that the federal government made a real effort to correct pollution problems in the bay, it said.

The report attributed federal inertia to "timidity...in pursuing pollution controls which threaten major economic dislocations and political repercussions."

While the federal-state goals growing out of the 1971 enforcement conference have enormous implications, the foundation said, the state may again be "going along with the form of the federal program, but short-circuiting its implementation."

Fischer Now Only 4 1/2 Points Away From World Chess Championship

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer was only four points away from the world chess championship today after a draw in the 14th game with defending champion Boris Spassky.

Fischer led the match 8 1/2-5 1/2 after blunders by both players produced the draw Tuesday in a four-hour game of 40 moves.

The American challenger and the Russian meet again Thursday in their 15th game.

Then Spassky will be playing the white chessmen, giving him the advantage of the first move, but his chances of overtaking Fischer appear slimmer by the minute. The Yugoslav grandmaster, Svetozar Gligoric, said at the end of Tuesday's game "Fischer is simply the better player."

Rev. Carroll B. Ray, area Baptist missionary, will officiate, and burial will be in Memory Gardens.

Born Dec. 20, 1900, at Emerson, Ark., he moved to Pampa in 1927 from Smackover, Ark. He worked for H.W. Waddell in 1922, in Arkansas, as a tank builder. In Pampa, he worked for Atlas Tank Company until his retirement in 1965. He was married to Inez Keyes of Pampa in 1932 at Purcell, Okla.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Nancy Lee Bird of Pampa; two brothers, T.T. Sumner of Minden, La., and C.E. Sumner of Lamesa; and three grandchildren.

JESS POOL

Jess Pool, 94, a longtime resident of Clarendon, died at 1:40 a.m. today in Highland General Hospital.

Mr. Pool and his wife, Minnie, had resided with a daughter, Miss Ila Pool, 1610 Charles St. in Pampa, since November of 1971.

He is survived by his wife, another daughter, Mrs. Carl Willingham of Lubbock; a son, W.N. Pool, Lelia Lake, five grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Mr. Pool was born Aug. 10, 1878, in Cummings, Ga. He moved to Clarendon in 1941 where he was engaged in real estate and equitable loan business until his retirement.

Funeral services under direction of the Murphy Funeral Home will be at 3 p.m. Thursday in First United Methodist Church, Clarendon, with the Rev. Weldon Rives, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Lloyd Hamilton, pastor of First United Methodist Church, Pampa. Burial will be in the Clarendon Cemetery.

MRS. ROSA BOWMAN

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Cheyenne, Okla., for Mrs. Rosa Viola Bowman, 84, of Cheyenne, who died Tuesday at Sayre, Okla.

Born in Greenwood County, Kans., March 15, 1888, she moved to Oklahoma in a covered wagon with her husband, Wikkie Collins McKean. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Surviving are three sons, Ralph McKean of Durham, Okla., Wayne McKean of Pampa and Dale McKean of Carlsbad, N.M.; two daughters, Mrs. Ellen Worley of Susanville, Calif., and Mrs. Robert Burns of Pampa; 18 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

Old Mobeetie Project Given Warm Support

Plans to restore Old Mobeetie are progressing rapidly, according to members of Old Mobeetie Association.

Countless calls have been received from interested parties offering aid to the project.

Offers include things from donation of articles to building motels, with E. H. Patton of Pampa offering a truck to haul lumber.

In addition, a movie company has indicated they are interested in producing a movie on the project.

The restoration of Old Mobeetie would not only bring life to an old town with an unsurpassed history but would also help every neighboring town on Highway 152, association members said.

Different agencies of the U.S. government have offered financial help. One representative said it looks as if all that is needed is for residents of Mobeetie to either accept or reject the idea.

Committee members of the Old Mobeetie Association are L. E. Bonds, Lester Hathaway, Aaron Laverly, Bob Mickey, A. L. Estes, Melvin May and Orphus Tate.

Bonds originated the idea of restoring the old frontier town and has worked to form the association for the project.

Congressman Bob Price has sent a telegram to Bonds supporting the project.

Text of the telegram is:

"I applaud your efforts to interest the citizens of the Panhandle in the restoration of Old Mobeetie, Tex., and pledge my assistance in this project."

"I am confident of your success. There are a number of antiques of this period around my ranch which I will be happy to donate for use in this restoration. I would urge other Panhandle residents to join in donating relics of the era to make this restoration authentic in every detail.

"Best wishes to you and the members of the Old Mobeetie, Tex., Association."

Plans got underway a couple of weeks ago when a public announcement of the project was made at Old Mobeetie about 30 miles east of Pampa.

Worry Clinic

By-George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

There are 3 types of females who eagerly join the Women's Lib movement. One group can easily be diverted with wedding rings! Another consists of sexually frustrated wives. But the 3rd group is composed of die-hards!

CASE U-563: Jim, White conducts what might be called a radio version of this "Worry Clinic" on station KMOX at St. Louis.

"Dr. Crane," he telephoned, "could you stay an extra night during your all-day psychology clinic at our dental society?"

"For we conduct an audience-participation discussion hour, beginning at 8 o'clock."

"I'd talk about some practical psychology problems with you for the first 10 minutes; then we'd let our listeners telephone their questions to you."

"You could then answer them over KMOX."

Unfortunately, I was scheduled for a lecture trip to Florida the following day, so couldn't spend that extra night in St. Louis.

"Then how about another plan?" Jim suggested.

"Could we contact you by a long distance telephone hookup?"

"You and I could thus have our little 10-minute preliminary discussion for the benefit of our radio audience."

"Then as their queries came in via phone, you'd be hooked into the same circuit so you could hear them and give your replies over KMOX."

That is a method that I have often employed with similar Human Relations radio clinics from San Francisco to Boston.

It works just about as well as if I am in the radio studio in person.

For on radio, the audience can't see the speakers, anyway, so they get the same stimulating discussion as if the guest speaker were in their city in person.

The listeners covered a wide range of cases, all of which have previously been dissected thoroughly in this newspaper "Worry Clinic."

About half the questions telephoned to KMOX came from men and the rest from women.

Their queries involved:

Are modern American men becoming more effeminate and women-dominated?

What should a young mother do if she hasn't enough milk to nurse her baby?

Why do modern young men relish letting their hair and beards grow long?

Why do so many teen-age marriages end in divorce within 5 years?

How can a love-smitten young person know if her romance is merely sexual infatuation or true love?

Is Women's Lib merely a fad or will it last?

To that question, I replied that most of the zealous members of Women's Lib simply demonstrate the famous "sour grapes" behavior.

Judge Lifts Injunction Against Trans-Alaska Oil Pipeline Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge George La Hart Jr., Tuesday lifted his two-year-old injunction against construction of an oil pipeline across Alaska.

After two days of hearings, Hart ruled from the bench, rejecting all of the legal attacks pressed against the controversial project by lawyers representing environment groups and Alaska fishermen.

Dennis Flannery, an environmental lawyer, said these groups will quickly appeal Hart's decision to the federal appeals court and Hart himself said it was virtually certain that "the final decision rests with the Supreme Court of the United States."

Construction of the proposed 800-mile-long pipeline has been legally blocked ever since Hart issued an injunction in April 1970 because the Interior Department, whose permission was required, had not prepared a study of expected environmental impacts.

In today's ruling, Hart concluded that the final impact statement published last March 20 by the department fulfills the legal requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act and federal guidelines.

Hart further ruled that the granting of pipeline right-of-way across federal land and the issuance of special land-use permits, as proposed by the secretary of the Interior last May, are authorized by existing laws.

Rep. Cates Asks Politicians To Hear Views On Insurance

State Rep. Phil Cates of Lefors said yesterday, "The people of my district, as indeed the people of the entire state of Texas, deserve to be heard on the current insurance problems in Texas."

Cates was responding to the possibility of a special session threatened by the governor to deal with Texas insurance problems. "Far too long have our folks in small towns and rural areas cried out against the cancerous growth of insurance rates and not been heard by the state officials in Austin," Cates said. "This is only one example of the many areas of need where the people of Texas have been neglected. If the Governor does call a special session on this subject before November, it is my sincere hope the politicians will be responsive to the needs of our taxpayers."

Cates is the Democratic nominee for re-election from the 66th Legislative District composed of Childress, Floyd, Motley, Hall, Briscoe, Gray, Wheeler, Armstrong, Collingsworth, and Donley Counties.

It Happens On L.A. Freeways

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Money, livestock, false teeth, bath tubs, wigs and even the kitchen sink — you can find them all on the Los Angeles freeways.

Take money. An armored truck once dumped 8,000 nickels, dimes and quarters on the Ventura Freeway.

Or livestock. Practically every highway patrolman has ridden herd on stray cattle or horses in the freeway traffic.

Wigs occasionally blow off motorists' heads onto the roads and clothing, piggy banks, furniture, boats, beer, sponges and virtually everything else that's ever been carried in or on a vehicle has wound up amid the traffic.

It took men from the California Highway Patrol and the state Division of Highways two hours to gather the money in the 1968 Ventura coin spill, dodging traffic with pockets bulging, picking up coins one by one.

The recovery of $800 in checks and money orders on the San Diego Freeway this year took considerably longer. It wasn't really the money that mattered, but two sound tapes, without which a segment of the CBS TV series, "Gunsmoke," would have been lost. A 30-hour search ended when maintenance men found the tapes, worth $30,000. Each of the finders got a $500 check.

Highway patrolmen have developed special techniques to handle obstructions on the freeways. They call for a "break in traffic" when fast legs and a quick hand will not suffice.

A second unit upstream flashes its lights and begins weaving back and forth across the freeway to slow motorists. The pickup man waits for the break, then darts out to haul, push, shove, yank, or hoist the offending item to the shoulder. From there it is up to the Division of Highways to clear.

It costs the state about $4.5 million a year for the Division of Highways to keep the freeways clean. "That's a lot of money just to pick up other people's junk," said a division official.

Not all of it is junk. Motorists have seen unscathed refrigerators, sofas and other valuable things in the lanes.

Valuable items usually are claimed immediately, but those that are not are held by police pending a claim. Ultimately they are auctioned off in Sacramento.

There are dangerous aspects to freeway litter beyond the traffic hazard element. Some litter is dropped intentionally and maliciously.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

THURSDAY, AUG. 17
Your birthday today: Conversion of past resources and new know-how into fresh prosperity is characteristic of your experience. Relationships hold steady. New contacts are mostly business, career rather than sentimental. Today's natives at their most venturesome are cautious, with a streak of last-minute luck to help them.
Aries [March 21-April 19]: Today promises to be busy and demanding. You fare better with a close rein on your temper, care with tools and vehicles.
Taurus [April 20-May 20]: A pause to explain things a second time should be worthwhile. What you had thought trifling turns out important.
Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Frustration leads people around you into contrary moods, perhaps conflict. Realize that some of the reasons are not visible.
Cancer [June 21-July 22]: The unexpected is again at hand. Follow where intuition leads. Neglected features of your work are a potential source of difficulty.
Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Your energy into upgrading your work is better than your money plunged into speculative enterprises or purchase of unusual size.
Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]:

Come to terms on a disputed agreement. Be aware that your comments may grate on others as sharp, overly specific criticism.
Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Progress is made in personal plans not yet ready for general publication. You soon see matters in a different perspective.
Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Conflict may develop over how best to use resources. Your natural reluctance to act on a guess comes in handy. Check your notes.
Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: All due care and courtesy should be your concern—you can get away with nothing hasty. Differences of opinion are normal.
Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Strange people's schemes run completely counter to your own plans. Your work is the subject of comment, some of it adverse.
Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Devote your time and money to already effective ventures, rather than the new ventures of friends. Efforts to correct them fail.
Pisces [Feb. 18 - March 20]: Patience and diligence will eventually tip the balance in your favor. A personal project may have to be postponed further.

 We have a new rule at our house. Everybody has to take a turn being Nobody.
 We have lived through years of Nobody wearing my last pair of pantyhose without permission. We have endured Nobody leaving the freezer door open. We have experienced too many times Nobody's losing a spoon down the garbage disposal. Nobody has been the culprit when the change set aside for the newspaper boy has disappeared from the vase on the mantle.
 Nobody is who leaves the garage doors open and the backyard lights on.
 Nobody constantly leaves the crackers open so they get soggy and Nobody turns the thermostat up in the winter-time and the air-conditioning too high in the summertime.
 Nobody leaves shoes for the dog to chew. Nobody leaves the shower running. Nobody drops banana peels in the family room. Nobody walks over a freshly polished floor.
 We've always known that Nobody does these things. The only problem has been in deciding exactly who Nobody might happen to be. Then we came up with our solution. Everybody takes a turn being Nobody.
 Our teen-age daughter volunteered to be Nobody for the month of June. She is blamed when the lawn chairs are left in the rain, when the sprinklers are left on overnight. We have decided that, in the end, it will all even out for everybody.

 During July, when our youngest son is Nobody, he will be at fault for bicycles in the driveway, those sprinklers, overturned trash.
 There are other dividends besides a calmer household. For example, whenever somebody asks, "Who can have an ice cream cone?" we'll answer, "Nobody!"

When your partner has made a game-forcing bid, your jump to game shows that the only thing extra you have to show is a good trump holding. You are making a slam try but warning your partner that he cannot expect anything extra from you in the high card department.

North's hand is just about ideal for this jump to game and it also makes things mighty easy for South to go to the grand slam.

South knew that there might be some little play to the grand slam contract when he bid it and when dummy hit the table he gave the hand considerable study before starting on his plan of campaign.

It was obvious that he had 13 easy tricks against a 2-2 trump break and that he would have to find the best play if trumps failed to behave nicely.

Therefore, after winning the club he played his ace of spades and continued with a spade to dummy's king. East showed out and South had to play on carefully.

It appeared that he would not be able to handle a 5-1 diamond break so he decided to play on dummy's ace and king of diamonds and hope for the best.

When both opponents followed it was all over but the shouting. He ruffed a third diamond high; led a trump to dummy's jack; ruffed a fourth diamond with his last trump; cashed the top hearts to discard a club from dummy. Took the ace of clubs; ruffed his other club and made the last trick with the jack of diamonds.

Robins-Woodington Vows Are Repeated In Odessa

PAMPA, TEXAS 66th YEAR PAMPA DAILY NEWS WEDNESDAY, AUG. 18, 1972

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Charles Woodington

Miss Kathryn Gayle Robins became the bride of Ben Charles Woodington at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 29, at Crescent Park Baptist Church, Odessa. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robins of Odessa, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Woodington, 700 E. Francis, Pampa.

THE CEREMONY
The couple was married before an archway, entwined with greenery and featuring two white doves in flight on each side. Wedding bells hung from the center of the archway, which was decorated with crystal votive cups holding orange candles. Flanking the archway were basket arrangements of gladioli, stock, carnations and baby's breath and seven-branched candelabra with orange tapers.

Rev. Robert L. Bratcher officiated for the single-ring service. Mrs. Leoadore I. Randall was organist, and Mrs. Jimmy Gable sang "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," "Twelfth of Never" and "We've Only Just Begun."

The chancel rail was decorated with greenery and crystal votive cups holding orange candles.

THE BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an apricot chiffon gown, styled with an empire waistline, Victorian neckline, long full sleeves and a floor-length skirt. She wore a matching lace picture hat and carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and greenery, highlighted with white satin streamers.

She wore a diamond pendant and earrings given to her by her parents. For something old, she wore a dinner ring, and something borrowed was a birthstone ring belonging to an aunt of the bridegroom. She placed a six-pence in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Ray Potts of Lubbock served as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Becky Isabel of Lubbock, Miss Julie Cooper of Alpine and Miss Judy Johnson of Odessa.

All wore identical floral gowns in graduating shades of orange to light apricot, over orange. Their headpieces were of apricot carnations with ribbon streamers, and they carried nosegays of white carnations, blushed with orange and accented with orange satin ribbon.

MOTHERS
The bride's mother wore a lime-green, A-line, long-sleeved dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pink chiffon dress designed with a ruffled skirt and long sleeves, and matching accessories. Both wore corsages of japhette orchids.

RECEPTION
For the reception in the church's Fellowship Hall, the serving table was covered with a white lace cloth, and centered with five-branched silver candelabra with orange tapers, and entwined with greenery and carnations. Encircling the arrangement were the bride's bouquet and those of her attendants.

The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with peti-fours topped with tiny doves, wedding bells, wedding rings and white orange flowers.

Mrs. Robert L. Mims and Miss Peggy Prewitt presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Tony Mims and Miss Molly Hardin presided at the silver coffee service. Guests were registered by Mrs. Robert L. Smith. Others in the houseparty were Mmes. A.J. Isabel, M.A. Roquemore and Coy Vanderburg.

Chocolate cake was served from the bridegroom's table covered with an ecru cutwork cloth over orange satin. Rice bags were distributed by Miss Jeanett Mims and Miss Janna Mims, both cousins of the bride. For the wedding trip, the bride wore a brown floor-length dress. Her corsage was an orange glamelia.

The couple will be at home at 1000 E. 36th, Odessa.

AFFILIATIONS
The bride, a graduate of Odessa High School, attended Odessa Commercial College. She is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Allen Military Academy, Bryan, attended Levelland Junior College, West Texas State University at Canyon and Sul Ross University, where he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is employed by

White House Lumber Company, Odessa.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS
Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Buck Worley of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Goettsche and Deanna, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goettsche, all of Higgins; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson and Jackie and Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Goettsche and Gerald, all of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Tom McMillans of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Butler of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Potts of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. M.D. Parker of Stephenville; and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Goettsche of Canyon.

PRE-NUPRIAL COURTESIES
The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Woodington, parents of the bridegroom.

The first woman to serve in Canada's Parliament was Agnes Campbell Macphail, who was elected to the House of Commons in 1921 as a representative of the United Farmers of Ontario.

DEAR ABBY: Norm and I bought a little home in the suburbs, and last spring we planted a vegetable garden. We thought with the prices of everything going so high, it would save us money.

When our tomato plants got about half a foot high, Norm started singing to them! He'd take a sixpack of beer and a chair outside and plunk himself down right in the middle of the tomato plants and start to sing. The more beer he drank the louder he sang. (It's a wonder the neighbors didn't call the police).

Norm claims it's a scientific fact that plants that get music produce more than plants that don't. Is there any truth to this?

NORM'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: My agriculture experts say Yes! But a word of caution. Better buy your tomatoes. No matter how expensive they get, it's cheaper than drying out Norm.

DEAR ABBY: My problem may not seem important to some people, but it is a threat to my marriage.

Howard and I have been married for two years. We were happy at first, living in a small apartment.

I am an average housekeeper and must do all my housecleaning and laundry on Saturdays because I work during the week.

Howard wants me to work as we have no children and the money helps a lot, but lately he has become demanding about my housekeeping.

We have terrible fights about it almost every night. Abby, I just can't help it. When I get home after work I have all I can do to get supper, and I am just too tired to start doing housework! And we both leave for work at 7:30 a. m. and I certainly can't do anything in the morning.

I love Howard and don't want to lose him, but he has threatened to walk out if I don't improve my housekeeping. Please help me.

DESPERATE IN THE BRONX

DEAR DES: You have the following options:

1. Insist that Howard pitch in and help you. He lives there, too.
2. Straighten up after yourself in the morning and you'll have less of a mess at night. Tidy up the place after dinner if it kills you.
3. Quit your job, become a full-time housekeeper, and live on Howard's salary.
4. Hire some help and tighten your belts.
5. Continue as you are and risk a walkout.

DEAR ABBY: Now that the women are becoming so aggressive even to the point of asking strange men to dance with them, new problems have developed.

I have taken my wife to a club where couples dance, and have had strange women approach me with, "Care to dance?"

Not knowing what else to do, I get up and dance. Later my wife gives me "what for" for leaving her to sit alone while I dance with a woman I've never seen before. But what else can I do? I hate to hurt a strange woman's feelings.

DANCING WITH TEARS IN MY EYES

DEAR DANCING: You can screw up the courage to say, "Thank you, but I'd rather not leave my lady alone." And don't worry about hurting a strange woman's feelings. Women who ask men to dance have pretty tough hides.

Cessation Of Hostilities

That dreadful, nasty headache which has bothered the world for a decade now gives evidence of letting up. The signs are right, say the experts. For the pain to go away. Mr. Kissinger returned to the bargaining table, secretly. The picture has changed dramatically since peace talks were broken off May 4. On that date, the North Vietnamese offensive was grinding southward with awesome power. Today, the steamroller not only is bogged down but the South Vietnamese have taken on muscle that it didn't know it had. A new feeling seems to have come to the south. Gone is the assumption that the invasion would demoralize the South Vietnamese army and that provincial capitals would fall like ripe fruit into Communist hands. On May 4, the North Vietnamese could be confident that their armies in South Vietnam would be resupplied through arms pipelines reaching back to the Soviet Union, East Europe and Communist China. Today, Haiphong and other North Vietnamese ports are blocked by mines. Transportation facilities and supply depots throughout North Vietnam are being wracked continually by bombs. On May 4, Hanoi could assume as it had in the past that the influence of Moscow and Peking would restrain efforts by the United States of America

Republicans will never be able to top the Democratic platform for conservatism. Take revenue sharing, for instance. The Democratic plank reads: "The Constitution does not confer authority upon the federal government, directly or indirectly, to assume the debts of the several states, contracted for local internal improvements, or other state purposes, nor would such assumption be just or expedient." At another point, the Democratic platform asserts, "Congress has no power to charter a national bank; that we believe such an institution one of deadly hostility to the best interest of the country, dangerous to our republican institutions and the liberties of the people and calculated to place the business of the country within the control of a concentrated money power, and above the laws and the will of the people." That, of course, was the Democrat platform of 1840, not

McGovern People Have Lot To Learn

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) —Having picked Sargent Shriver for his new running mate, Sen. George McGovern turns with relief to the direct business of campaigning. Yet, what follows may prove no more comforting to him than did the Eagleton affair and other early summer happenings. First-off, a political candidacy is like a political party: nothing that happens to it can be wholly wiped away and forgotten. There is an unbreakable continuity. Everything McGovern does from here on will be seen and judged against the backdrop of the "mess" he waded into after winning nomination in early July. Secondly, there is another kind of continuity. He has a new vice-presidential nominee, but it's the same McGovern and the same staff. And a key question will be whether, in the three months from now until election day, they behave in the same disjointed way they did in July—and even June. Admittedly, the dumping of Thomas Eagleton was a traumatic and time-consuming thing for McGovern and his aides. Nevertheless, it may be a confession of serious limitation to say that trying period as one aide did, that "everything just came to a halt." It has a familiar ring. Only a short time ago, the McGovern people were saying about the same thing to explain why they had no time to weigh vice-presidential prospects more carefully in Miami Beach. Then, the plea was that they had been totally distracted by the anti-McGovern challenge to the senator's California delegates. Before Miami Beach, McGovern's men were saying they got caught short on the California challenge in the June Credentials Committee hearings because they had been concentrating on the June 20 New York primary and other delegate-chasing field endeavors. The disconcerting continuity suggested by these developments is a confessed inability to handle more than one big problem at a time. Single-mindedness can be useful—and necessary. It can also be crippling. Election campaigns are inevitably multifaceted affairs. They afford no comfort to any candidate who imagines he can win the presidency by traveling a single great route, like mounting a massive registration drive or dazzling the voters with superb media effort. Nobody should have to stress again the common judgment that a fall campaigner needs everybody he can get—not just the dedicated ideologues and the limited support he used to win the nomination. You become nominee by beating your party rivals. You need to embrace most of them to gain the presidency. McGovern and some of his top advisers know this. So far, however, they are having difficulty practicing the many-sided politics of accommodation. The rejections he got from Hubert Humphrey, Edmund Muskie and others before choosing Shriver underscore his trouble. Some of McGovern's young ideologues don't seem to understand. They talk as if a few springtime bursts from their rocket engines should take their man all the way to the moon. They talk as if it were unfair, or maybe some flaw in the system, to demand of McGovern and his managers that they choose a vice-president carefully and plan and execute a complex fall campaign with broad-ranging intelligence. To get anywhere this fall, the McGovern people will have to shake off their precinct caucus mentality and take on the whole world at once.

Continuing Immigration Becoming Trojan Horse

By PAUL HARVEY
"Give me your tired, your poor. Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free..." For generations Lady Liberty has stood in New York's harbor welcoming outsiders in. And because most all Americans originally came from elsewhere, any suggestion that we should close the immigration door sounded un-American. But it's better, now. Continuing immigration is a Trojan horse. Immigration just from Asia to the United States has multiplied three times in two decades. And that's just the ones who were caught. The number of first-and second-generation Cubans now in the United States has multiplied four times in 10 years. Michigan's Rep. Jack H. McDonald's examination of our Immigration and Naturalization Service indicates that there are at least 2 million and probably 6 million illegal aliens in the United States sending $2 billion a year out of the United States. New Jersey's Rep. Peter W. Rodino, Jr., of the House immigration subcommittee, says the flood of illegal aliens is aggravating our unemployment situation and helping to depress wages. These are largely responsible for the fact that our nation has more workers working than ever in history—but still has almost 6 per cent unemployment! In any period of recession, the weight of these outsiders would be unbearable. Most members of Congress are so intimidated by organized ethnic minorities that they dare not talk publicly as many do privately. Arkansas' Sen. John L. McClellan is an exception. He says, "I don't think we ought to let this country get flooded with immigrants; we've enough unemployment and welfare overload as it is." The problem is not ours alone. Australia used to advertise for immigrants but now says don't come unless you have a job first. Now Canada, Canada, as a developing and sparsely settled country, historically welcomed immigrants—even solicited them. Now, increasingly industrialized and automated, and with unemployment comparable to our own (approximately 6 per cent), Canada is considering locking outsiders out. With ancient trade barriers crumbling, with East and West getting together around half-a-dozen conference tables and exploring mutual interests; with them and us scheduled now to explore space together, the world's "tired, poor, huddled masses" may now benefit most if they stay put while we stay strong. Certainly none should be admitted to the United States unless he has a job first.

H. L. Hunt Writes

WHO ARE THE VESTED INTERESTS
We have thought that the Presidency of the United States was not "for sale" and in that respect, the people have been led to consider the "vested interests" as a probable danger. Who the vested interests are has been deliberately confused by some and unthinkingly propagated by others. The good working people and those who provide the jobs which creatively build this country and our outstanding standard of living all have a "vested interest" in keeping our Republic strong and healthy. Business has been made a whipping boy and branded, falsely, as "vested interests" which are against the people. It may be that we have overlooked the real danger. What pro-communists can do and their know-how, which exceeds that of the non-communists, should be evaluated and understood. In 1933 in the United States, the Fabian Socialists began to succeed in claiming credit for social reform. They became masters of propaganda, misleading business management with the adroit but false line that: "You must not show much love of country; if you do it will disturb stockholders, alienate labor and lose customers." Although this is well proven not to be true, too many in business management still adhere to these false philosophies. It may be that the pro-communists are far more dangerous than the results of the profit-motive system in being the "vested interests." The pro-communists are far more adroit in propagandizing their philosophy, which is so false that it should be a liability wherever used. Every man has a right to his opinion, but no man has a right to be wrong in his facts.—Bernard Baruch, American statesman and adviser to presidents. It takes a person who is wide awake to make his dream come true.—Roger Babson, American statistician.

Quick Quiz

- Q—How many basic college degrees are there?
A—Four: associate, bachelor, master, doctor.
- Q—Who first said "One swallow does not make a spring"?
A—The remark is attributed to Aristotle.
- Q—What is amber?
A—Fossil resin of extinct trees.
- Q—How did the halibut get that name?
A—It comes from the word "holly" because it once was special food on Christian holy days.
- Q—What did the largest lobster on record weigh?
A—35 pounds. Few grow to more than a small fraction of this, however—fishing too heavy.

Question Box

QUESTION: I want to know why the paper continues to rap the public school system without saying what they mean by private school. If you mean parochial schools, they are just that—narrow in scope and vision. If you mean private in general, there is no law against going to a private school. All schools, including parochial, should stick to reading, writing and arithmetic during school hours. Sunday school is the best place to learn about God and the least biased as one has many to choose from.

ANSWER: We usually refer to the state school system as the tax-supported schools. By "private schools," we mean those schools that are not tax-supported or otherwise financially connected to the government. Thus, the term "private schools" refers both to parochial schools and to private schools that compete in the marketplace of schooling.

The questioner makes assertions that seem contradictory. She blames parochial schools on a claim that they are "narrow in scope and vision," and then declares all schools should stick to three subjects—reading, writing and arithmetic. Some persons would consider such a curriculum narrow, parochial, and lacking in vision. Some parents would wish their children to learn something about geography, history, Latin, Greek, Spanish, German, zoology, botany, geology, astronomy, forensics, manual skills, gymnastics, or even theology. So who is narrow and parochial?

The assertion "there is no law against going to a private school" fails to encompass the prevalent facts. Does the questioner know that the government fire department has higher requirements for private school buildings than for tax-supported school buildings? Does she know that government planning commissions typically restrict establishment of private schools more than tax-supported schools are restricted? Does she know that the parent who sends his children to a private or parochial school must also pay the tax as though he were sending them to a tax-supported school?

The questioner has rightly said "there is no law against going to a private school." Indeed, there is not one law but there are many laws against it. True, they fall short of being a straight-out prohibition, but for millions of schoolchildren they have the same effect.

And who is to say that a child should have the classroom opportunity to learn about God on the first day of the week, but not on the other six? That is what the state says characteristically, but where did the state get that authority?

We see that we have asked more questions than we answered, but at any rate the questioner helped us clarify the term "private schools."

Inside Washington

Jesse Jackson's Politics

WASHINGTON—The strange ways of the Rev. Jesse Jackson, the young black leader who has become the stormy petrel of Illinois Democratic politics, were demonstrated two weeks ago in a private telephone call he placed to a key supporter of Dan Walker, Democrat nominee for governor of Illinois.

This was Jackson's story: The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) had dispatched an investigating team to Chicago and were flinging unjust accusations at him. But the IRS agents offered to leave him alone if he endorsed Republican Gov. Richard Ogilvie's campaign for reelection. So, it was implied, don't be surprised if Jesse Jackson winds up supporting Ogilvie.

The story has spread quickly through Democratic and black circles in Chicago, and such is the tendency of Democrats to believe the worst about Federal investigative agencies under President Nixon that Jackson's story is accepted as the truth. But IRS officials firmly deny offering any such scandalous deal and their denials have some basis.

Although the IRS is prohibited by law from revealing individual cases, two separate sources in the Justice Department with a record for reliability told us there is no special investigative team in Chicago and there is absolutely no active tax investigation of Jackson in progress or any case against him pending. The IRS is probing a former close associate of Jackson in Chicago, but Jackson's relations with this man are now distant.

When we asked Jackson whether the IRS requested him to endorse Ogilvie, he replied: "That's nothing but character assassination." As to whether the IRS is investigating him, he told us: "I'm sure they are."

Jackson said he had not yet decided who to support for governor but had "far more contact" with Republican Ogilvie than Democrat Walker. Moreover, he described himself as "far more inclined" to Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy than to his Democratic opponent, Rep. Roman Pucinski. And, of course, Jackson opposes the reelection in Cook County (Chicago) of State's Atty. Edward Hanrahan, a law-and-order Democrat.

That means that Jackson, seated as a delegate at the Democratic national convention while Mayor Richard J. Daley was tossed out, is supporting only Sen. George McGovern for President among major candidates on the Democratic ticket in Chicago. Even there relations are strained, with McGovern's managers weary of Jackson's constant demands for campaign funds.

A footnote: Although he trails Walker badly, Ogilvie is not anxious for Jackson's endorsement. The governor's political lieutenants once cultivated Jackson as a way to break into the black vote but now feel he probably is a greater liability than an asset in Illinois.

A CONGRESSIONAL DEFECTOR

The mushrooming defection of Jewish Democratic voters in New York has now reached the halls of Congress—specifically Rep. Bert Podell of Brooklyn.

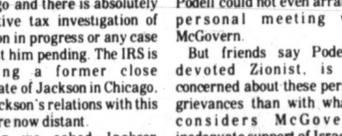

At a recent reception held here by Ambassador Yitzhak Rabin of Israel, Podell stated flatly he planned to vote for President Nixon. Another New York Democratic Congressman, Rep. James Scheuer of the Bronx, was standing nearby and advised Podell to be more careful about what he said. Podell replied that he did not care who heard him.

Podell was considerably more discreet when we questioned him about the conversation at the Israeli embassy. Podell told us he had merely said many of his Democratic constituents in Brooklyn were defecting to Mr. Nixon, adding that he planned to vote for McGovern. But several eyewitnesses agree that Podell clearly affirmed his intentions to vote for the Republican President.

During the June Democratic primary, Podell was outraged over campaign literature showing his reform opponent and McGovern photographed together and by McGovern palm cards passed out endorsing Podell's opponent. Podell could not even arrange a personal meeting with McGovern.

But friends say Podell, a devoted Zionist, is less concerned about these personal grievances than with what he considers McGovern's inadequate support of Israel.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

German victories in the 1936 Berlin Olympics were expected to promote Nazi nationalistic and racial concepts. The World Almanac notes, however, that Hitler's "Aryan supremacy" theory was dealt a severe blow as 110,000 people watched Jesse Owens capture 4 gold medals, and as 9 other Negroes of the American track team won 4 more gold, 3 silver and 2 bronze medals.

Let us live as people who are prepared to die, and die as people who are prepared to live.—James Stewart

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Who Benefits From Food Price Hike?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's grocery bill is higher than ever this presidential-election year and the debate over who gets what share of the pie—and the blame—from rising food prices is heating up.

Candidates are farmers, middlemen and retailers, all of whom say they are caught in an economic crunch.

Some typical breakdowns of food prices:
A pound of choice beef cost an average of $1.14 the last time government shoppers checked the nation's food stores. Ranchers took 78 cents of that and the men who slaughter, ship, wrap and sell the meat the other 36 cents.

On lettuce the split was 22 cents a head for retailers and processors, 10 cents for farmers. Of the 25 cents for a loaf of bread, 4 cents went to farmers.

Altogether, marketers get an average 60 cents of every food dollar. The place to study the question of rising food prices, says Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz, "is in the processing and distribution system between the farmer's gate and the consumer's table."

What about farmers? There are more dollars to go around now than ever before, and farmers are getting two cents more of the food dollar than they did a year ago.

Retailers say they're not profiting from the rising food prices. Of criticism to this effect, economist S. Kent Christensen of The National Association of Food Chains said, "We think we're getting the brunt of this and we don't deserve it."

The reason: Retailer-profit margin, expressed as a percentage of sales, has dwindled to what Christensen now estimates at no more than sevenths of 1 per cent. Agriculture Department figures confirm the steep decline from a margin of 1.3 per cent in 1964.

Still, Safeway Stores, which now claims to be the nation's largest food seller, recently reported record profits. The Price Commission has ordered four regional food chains to reduce prices to make up for what the commission considered excess profits.

Where supermarkets are concerned, the political and economic crunch on food prices came as they were already locked in what Christensen called "one of the most intense competitive struggles that we've seen in years and years and years."

The struggle was precipitated by the appearance across the nation of regional food chains undercutting the national giants.

Farmers, meanwhile, have been caught up in the same spiraling living costs that affect everyone else.

Farmers spend 5 per cent more to live now than they did a year ago. The money they received increased 13 per cent in the same time. But the latest jump came after a 20-year period in which the prices farmers received increased 6 per cent.

The biggest cost increase in the farm-to-market journey has not been on either end, but in the middle.

Labor costs involved after food leaves the farm jumped 42 per cent over the last decade, until they ate up 29 cents of every dollar spent on food, according to Department of Agriculture figures.

Fueling the price rises have been shoppers with more money to spend. Agriculture Department figures show Americans spend 16 cents of every dollar they earn for food. In 1960 they spent 20 cents.

Another sign of plenty of money to spend is shopper response to price trends. As food prices have steadily risen, so has individual food consumption, at least until this year, when it is expected to show a slight drop.

Demand for beef, for example, remained strong even in the face of soaring prices.

Whatever the reason for food price increases, economists hold out hope for the debate over blame quieting down somewhat.

The 4½ per cent food prices were expected to rise this year, compared to 2½ last year, has already been reached. Now government economists expect the situation to level out for the rest of the year. Initial figures support their expectations.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Set Sept. 3-4 In Panhandle

The only rodeo of its kind in the nation will be held in the Texas Panhandle over the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 3 and 4.

It will be the 28th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, where approximately 10,000 persons are expected for the two performances. More than 150 boys will be riding calves, steers, brahma bulls and bucking broncs. Older boys will compete on professional rodeo stock with judging under R.C.A. rules. All of the 375 boys who make their home at the Ranch will have some part in the rodeo, either as contestants or working in the many behind-the-scenes activities.

Both performances of the rodeo will begin at 2:30 on Sunday and Monday afternoons with music provided by the Boys Ranch band. An added attraction will be big bar-be-que sandwiches that will be prepared and sold by the boys for only $1. The rodeo is also a traditional homecoming for the more than 2,500 boys who have lived at the Ranch since it was founded by Cal Farley in 1939.

Reserve box seat tickets for $2.50 are available at the Boys Ranch office, 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo, or can be obtained by writing to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas, 79105. General admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Inmate Files $1 Billion Suit

AUSTIN (AP) — A prison inmate has filed a $1 billion lawsuit against the state, claiming, among other things, that the parole board passed over him to free many others who had committed more serious crimes.

Bryant Bowles Jr., who filed the suit in federal district court, is serving a life term on a 1958 murder conviction.

He seeks $500 million in actual damages and $500 million in punitive damages for being refused parole.

Nixon, McGovern May Get Equal Share Of Young Voters

EDITOR'S NOTE—There are some 25 million of them—voters who will be casting ballots in a presidential election for the first time. They make up the largest increment to the electorate since women won the vote. Following is the first of three articles describing how Republicans and Democrats view the New Voter, and the possible impact on the November elections.

By TERRY RYAN
Associated Press Writer
McGovern needs them, Nixon wants them and both sides are making ready to woo them with armies of canvassers, millions of dollars, rock concerts, posters and buttons.

The target of all this activity is the new voter, the 11 million 18-to-20-year-olds eligible to vote in federal elections because of the 26th Amendment lowering the legal age and the 14 million 21-to-24-year-olds who were not old enough to cast ballots in the 1968 presidential elections.

At the Committee for the Re-election of the President, there is an upbeat optimism about these new voters. Instead of the rear guard hold-our-own attitude of a few months back, campaign aides now predict President Nixon will split at least even on the youth vote. To many people that would be a surprise, for Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, has mobilized a large and visible force of youthful workers and was credited by the polls with being far ahead among the new voters.

"We will beat them in an area that McGovern has made a key element of his campaign," said Ken Rietz, youth coordinator at the Re-elect Committee. "We have been saying all along that young people are not against the President, and now we will prove it."

The best available figures indicate about 50 per cent of the eligible new voters are now registered, slightly less in the 18-to-20 group and slightly more in the 21-to-24 group. Among those attending college, a minority representing only about 20 per cent of the total youth vote, about 65 per cent are registered.

A recent Gallup Poll gave McGovern a significant edge over Nixon among the new voters now registered, 57 per cent to 41 per cent. But among those not registered, Gallup reported that 46 per cent favored the President and 43 per cent supported McGovern.

Nixon campaigners constantly cite this finding as evidence of the President's strength among the unregistered young as they plan registration and get-out-the-vote drives to deny McGovern the youth vote.

Associated Press bureaus around the country recently interviewed young people, asking them whom they supported and why. They found young Nixon voters in the cities and suburbs, in the factories and on the farms. Among the reasons most often cited for supporting Nixon were his experience, his handling of foreign affairs and a distrust for what some saw as McGovern's vacillation on the war and welfare. They seldom expressed sentiments or mentioned issues different from Nixon supporters in other age brackets.

The war and the economy are major issues with young people, issues that cut both ways. Some of those interviewed praised Nixon for winding down the war. Others criticized him for not ending it completely. Some said he had done everything possible to limit inflation and cut unemployment, but others said they viewed him as too dedicated to big business.

Nixon campaign staffers, in Washington and across the country, are convinced they need only lay out the President's record to win the support of young voters.

"We are not going to argue the emotion of the war," said Pat Logan, youth director for the Re-elect Committee in Pennsylvania. "We are going to say that it is ending and that the draft is ending. We will also point out that there are more young people, more women, and more blacks in government jobs than ever before."

The response to this approach, the selling of the President's record, has been sufficiently favorable to surprise some people connected with the Nixon re-election effort. "I'm not saying it's overwhelming, but there is none of the hostility that some people expected," said Dan Lungren, director of special projects at the Republican National Committee.

The Nixon campaign's young voter effort differs in several ways from that at McGovern headquarters. To the Republicans, anyone under 30 is a young voter. The McGovern forces generally cut it off at 25.

While the Democrats plan some massive, nonselective registration efforts, the Republicans will emphasize selective door-to-door canvassing in areas highly

WILBUR'S BILL
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Any aspirations Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., might have for the presidency or vice presidency apparently won't jeopardize his House seat.

A special Arkansas law, approved this year especially for Mills, provides that any Arkansan who seeks the presidency or vice presidency also shall be eligible to seek any office in Arkansas.

The legislation whisked through the Arkansas General Assembly under the fanciful appellation, "Wilbur's Bill."

likely to yield Nixon voters. The McGovern forces are cooperating with nonpartisan registration efforts to the extent of supplying volunteers. The Republicans frankly distrust such drives as enemy ploys.

Young Voters for the President, a Re-elect Committee operation headed by Rietz, has a staff of 32 in Washington and 70 field people. The McGovern young voter program, more decentralized, has four people in Washington and 40 state coordinators.

While the Nixon youth effort appears better financed, the McGovern people possess a vote-gathering machine that has proven itself in the primaries. The new voter programs of the Re-elect Committee and Republican National Committee have yet to undergo a significant field test.

Young Voters for the President has set up organizations in 37 states and recruited 125,000 volunteers, said Rietz. The goal, he added, is to have organizations in every state two weeks before the election and field 500,000 volunteers for the final push.

Why all the effort? Lungren did not hesitate an instant before answering: "There are 25 million new voters out there and you can't ignore them."

PAMPA, TEXAS 66th YEAR TUESDAY AUG. 15, 1972

McIntire Wins Junior Tourney

Wiley McIntire won the Pampa Country Club Junior Tournament yesterday with a low gross score of 78. Wiley is in Odessa today to compete in the West Texas Jr. PGA Tournament.

He qualified for the tourney by winning an event on the West Texas junior tour held this summer. There were 45 such tours and Wiley placed high in every one he entered.

Keith Enloe garnered first low net in the 14-15 year-old group with a 66. He defeated Scott White in sudden death to take first after Scott also shot 66.

Mike and Mark Coulter tied for third and fourth with 67's.

In the 12-13 age group Curt Beck took first low net with a 34

Kerry Dawson took second with a 51 and Randy Lamberson gained third with a 52.

Jeff Coulter shot six holes in 20 strokes to place first in the 10-11 age class. Scott Barrett shot a 25 to take second and Jack Redus came in third with a 29.

John Peoples played three holes in 23 strokes to win the nine-year-old group. Mike Lamberson was one stroke back for second place. Penny Summers was in third place at 25.

Diane Arthur won the girl's 10-13 age group with a 21 for three holes. Janet Keagy got second with a 22 and Nancy Gates took third with a 23.

Sox Haze Reporters After Beating Rangers

The Boston Red Sox pulled the curtain down on the Texas Rangers but it was nothing like the act they played in the dressing room afterwards.

After beating the Rangers 3-0 on John Curtis' three-hitter Tuesday night, Tommy Harper helped play a joke on reporters. Reggie Smith, who hit two home runs, wouldn't talk to anybody. And Manager Eddie Kasko was extremely short of patience.

The Red Sox, who've reportedly had internal problems of late with players sparring verbally, appeared to level some of their frustrations at visitors after Tuesday night's game in Arlington, Tex.

Harper sat on Smith's stool while a Texas broadcaster mistakenly congratulated him on his two-homer night. The rest of the Red Sox laughed at the broadcaster's blunder.

Then, when Smith finally appeared at his locker, he refused to answer questions. Staring blankly while he was questioned, the Red Sox outfielder soon strode away to shave.

Kasko, when later facing the same reporters, kept his comments short and sweet. Said one writer: "He was surly. It seemed like he wished that we'd just go away as soon as possible."

Things were relatively tame around the rest of baseball's American League as the Minnesota Twins nipped the Detroit Tigers 7-6 in 13 innings; the Cleveland Indians beat the California Angels 4-3 in 10 innings; the Kansas City Royals turned back the New York Yankees 7-6 and the Chicago White Sox trimmed the Milwaukee Brewers 2-1.

National league results: Cincinnati 3, Philadelphia 0; Montreal 3, Houston 2 in 10 innings; New York 5, Atlanta 0; San Diego 7, St. Louis 1; Los Angeles 8, Pittsburgh 6 and San Francisco 7, Chicago 5.

The fourth-place Red Sox moved within four games of the front-running Baltimore Orioles in the tight American League East race. The Orioles were idle Tuesday night.

Jim Nettles and Rod Carew each singled in a run as Minnesota rallied to beat Detroit in the 13th inning. The burst broke a 5-5 tie and offset a run in the Tigers' half of the frame on Gates Brown's homer.

The second-place Tigers dropped 1 1/2 games behind the Orioles and maintained a half-game lead on the Yankees, who are in third place.

Cleveland, another team in that wild pennant chase, won with a two-run rally in the bottom of the 10th. Frank Duffy's bases-loaded single with two out capped the outburst.

California had taken a 3-2 lead in the top of the 10th on Bob Oliver's third RBI of the game before the fifth-place Indians came back to win and move within eight games of Baltimore.

Lou Piniella's run-scoring single capped a three-run rally in the bottom of the ninth that pulled Kansas City past New York. Steve Hovley's two-run single tied the score before Piniella came through.

The rally wiped out a 6-4 Yankee advantage taken in the top of the ninth on Bobby Murcer's two-run triple.

"We came back pretty good," said New York Manager Ralph Houk. "We just couldn't hold them in the ninth. That was a rough one. That shows how important Sparky Lyle is to us."

The White Sox scored the winning runs in the fourth inning on a home run by Mike Andrews and a run-scoring single by Rick Reichardt to beat Milwaukee and close to within one game of idle, first-place Oakland in the American league West.

"Every now and then I do something," said Andrews. "I hope that this is the start of something. I've hit the ball well the last week or so before tonight—but I haven't been getting any hits."

St. Louis Advances

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis has advanced to the finals of the North American Soccer League.

St. Louis, beating Rochester 2-0 got its first goal at the 47-minute mark on an unassisted effort by John Sewell. Gene Geimer scored the second goal with an assist by Pat McBride.

"Don't Count Us Out" -- Cowboy's Tom Landry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don't count the Dallas Cowboys out of the Super Bowl just because they've lost starting quarterback Roger Staubach with a shoulder separation and traded powerful running back Duane Thomas to San Diego.

"Most people will write us off," Landry said Tuesday.

The Cowboy coach was quick to point out, however, that Craig Morton, the first-string quarterback before yielding the job to Staubach last season, was capable of directing the club, and running back Calvin Hill, National Football League offensive Rookie of the Year in 1969, was regaining his old form after being slowed by a knee injury last season.

Meanwhile, backfield coach Dan Reeves was reactivated to back up Morton, and Staubach was optimistic while recuperating in Baylor Hospital in Dallas.

"I'll be okay," said Staubach, who underwent surgery Sunday after being injured Saturday night in an exhibition game against Los Angeles.

"I'll come back stronger than ever."

Harvesters To Draw Equipment

With the 1972 football season just around the corner, the Pampa Harvesters begin today what Pampa fans hope will be a long and successful campaign when they report to the football fieldhouse to get their shoes issued.

The Harvester squad is to be there at 6 p.m. and the Shockers are to report at 6:30. The Shockers will also be measured for their other equipment this evening.

At 6:30 p.m. Friday the Harvesters are scheduled to take their required physical examinations. The Shockers will have their physicals at 7:30 the same day.

Elsewhere, in the NFL, Miami wide receiver Karl Noonan, who also suffered a shoulder separation last Saturday in an exhibition against Green Bay, underwent surgery Tuesday. He will be sidelined 8-12 weeks.

The Dolphins lost defensive end Bob Heinz for at least two months with fractured vertebra. He also was hurt in the Green Bay game.

The Dolphins also announced they had traded defensive tackle Frank Cornish to Buffalo for a draft choice and the negotiating rights to center-tackle Howard Kindig if Kindig decides to come out of retirement.

Rookie wide receiver Jerome Barkum, the New York Jets' No. 1 draft choice from Jackson State, ended his holdout and signed his 1972 contract.

Offensive tackle Don Yochum, the Philadelphia Eagles' No. 2 draft pick from Syracuse University who had agreed to terms Monday, left the club Tuesday and signed with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League.

"Everything seemed to be in order," said Pete Retzlaff, Eagles' general manager. "We sent him to Graduate-Hospital to take his physical while I prepared the contract. He never came back."

OLYMPIC FEATS 1932

(One of a series on extraordinary happenings in each of the 16 modern Olympic Games.)

LOS ANGELES, 1932—The appealing heroine of the Los Angeles Games was the slim, 17-year-old Mildred Didrickson, who competed in three events, broke the world and Olympic records in each event and yet wound up with only two gold medals and a silver.

She set a world record of 143 feet 4 inches with her first throw in the javelin and another in the final of the 80-meter hurdle with 11.7 seconds.

In the high-jump she shared a new world record of 5 feet 5 inches with Miss Jean Shiley (USA) but, in a jump-off with Miss Shiley, although she again cleared the same height, she was placed second. The judges by then had ruled her style was illegal.

Later as Mrs. Mildred Babe Zaharias, she became perhaps the greatest woman golfer ever.

One of the most amusing stories—or tragic, if you prefer—was fate that befell some of the Brazilian Olympic team. Their Olympic Committee had selected 69 competitors for the Games but, unfortunately the government of the country just did not have the money to sponsor the team.

The government, however, did offer a ship and 50,000 bags of coffee. The coffee could be sold en route. This would have been fine—only there was a glut of coffee at that time.

Sales were negligible and when the ship arrived at Los Angeles, only 24 members of the team were able to land. The others had to put to sea again in the hope that someone, somewhere wanted coffee. But it was all in vain.

Longhorns Have A Paucity Of Backs

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas football coach Darrell Royal might advertise this way—Wanted: Swift, elusive backs to run behind pro-type line. Senior quarterback Alan Lowry must master a crash course on the Wishbone-T offense in less than a month after playing defensive halfback for two years.

The other three backs started only part-time last year, and one—fullback Dennis Ladd—has had recurring knee problems. Ladd and halfbacks Don Burris and Tom Landry picked up a total of 436 yards last season, or less than half the yardage piled up by the departed Jim Bertelsen, who ran the way

Royal likes his backs to run. There was a tipoff to Texas' lack of quality backs in the Longhorn's own pressbook, which listed eight top returnees, and none was an offensive back. The offensive line and, to an extent, the defense is another story. The central figure is all-America tackle Jerry Sisemore, agile and awesome at 6 feet 4 inches and 262 pounds.

PRO CHARTS

by MURRAY OLDERMAN
National Conference: Eastern Division
11—PHILADELPHIA EAGLES

Ed Khayat

PROSPECTUS — Ed Khayat made them cut their hair when he took over during last season, and, marvelous, they didn't lose their strength. In fact, Eagles started winning. They featured a tough defense and that's still got to carry them this year. Long downtrodden franchise has chance to climb if they can uncover some all-pros on offense.

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK—Until young John Reeves gets chance to find out what pro game's all about, Pete Liske has to handle the ball.—Rating—B.

RUNNING BACKS—If Bo Nance can control his weight and carry-ball as he did early in career with Patriots, a lot of thunder will be added to attack. Return to form by Tom Woodeschick unlikely since he's past 30 and injury-bugged. Spryest holdover is Lee Bouggess.—Rating—B.

WIDE RECEIVERS—Harold Jackson, Ben Hawkins are the hare types you like in these slots, and they both have the speed to outrun anybody. But Hawkins has always been erratic. Gary Ballman may come back outside as spot helper.—Rating—B.

TIGHT END—Original idea was to shift tall (6-8) Harold Carmichael from wide receiver corps, but acquisition of Pete Lammons from Jets changes plans. Pete's not much for catching, but he blocks with best.—Rating—B.

LINE—Not at all impressive. Mainly because there's been so much transient personnel in recent years they've never been able to find a cohesive unit. Search is still on. You can start with Wade Key at one tackle and Mike Evans at center.—Rating—C.

DEFENSE

LINERACKERS—Could afford to trade glass-eating Tim Rossavich because Steve Zabel made fine switch to middle post. Puts Adrian Young back in his regular job on right side, with Ron Porter still incumbent on left. Not too much behind them.—Rating—B.

SECONDARY—Blend of old-timers on the corners, snappy youngbloods at the safeties. Bill Bradley and Leroy Keyes in the latter roles are the glamor boys of the defense, pass snatchers par excellence. Nate Ramsey and Al Nelson are the corners.—Rating—B.

KICKING—Got sensational results from Tom Dempsey on field goals late in season. Still retain Happy Feller for insurance. Tom McNeill was merely conference punting leader.—Rating—A.

SPECIAL TEAMS—like Kelley, spare linebacker, is spiritual leader of all units, keeps 'em hustling. Not much in way of kick-returning threats.—Rating—B.

PREDICTION

Third in Division. And could even move up a notch if young Reeves flashes as new quarterback.

Hayes After Hudson's Record

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — As anyone knows who's watched Bob Hayes race after a long touchdown pass, the Dallas Cowboys' split end usually catches what he chases. At present, Hayes is engaged in a race with a ghost—the leg end of Green Bay's Don Hutson and his all-time National Football League record of 99 career touchdowns.

"I'll keep fighting until I get it," says Hayes. "To me, if I could get that record, it's like Willie Mays and Hank Aaron chasing Babe Ruth's home run record. That's the way it feels to me." Hayes is well on his way. In seven seasons, he has caught 67 touchdowns passes, an average of 9.6 per year. At that rate, he should surpass Hutson's mark early in 1975; that is, if teammate Lance Alworth doesn't break it first.

Alworth has 83, but at age 32—almost three years Hayes' senior—he has begun to fight the calendar. Hayes won't be 30 until December.

Double Deuce, a nickname derived from his jersey number, 22, remembers his first touchdown catch. "It was in 1965 against the New York Giants, on a quick screen from (Don) Meredith. The cornerback was Spider Lockhart," he says.

"Speed has been a Hayes trademark through the years, and rightly so. At age 11, he was timed in 9.9 for the 100-yard dash. Naturally, a speed pattern is among his favorite pass routes.

"I like to run a 'streak,' or 'takeoff' and get that defensive cat head-up. Then run inside him. "Another one is off play action, down the middle. It's the one I caught in the College All-Star game. If I've caught 67 (TD) passes, I bet 40 have come off that."

Hayes may be even more dangerous this season. The Cowboys have designed some inside routes for him. In the past, he's not been much of a threat in this area.

Long or deep, outside or inside, Hayes doesn't care. Each touchdown catch brings him closer to Hutson's record.

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY
Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Tread Wear Expectancy	Tread Wear Allowance
40,000 miles.....	Prorated on Miles Driven
45 month.....	$13.00

36 month.....	6.00
33 month.....	5.00

WORLD OF WORK

Answers to Employment Questions by Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson Making Some Sense of Wage-Hour Law

H. P. Des Moines, Iowa, writes: Please explain in plain language what the Federal Wage and Hour Law is.

Dear H. P.: The Fair Labor Standards Act, also known as Federal Wage and Hour Law, requires the payment of at least $1.60 an hour and overtime of at least time and one-half the employee's regular rate for 40 hours of work in a workweek to all employees covered by its provisions. These basic requirements apply to employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or who produce goods for such commerce and to employees in certain enterprises which are so engaged. This law also requires equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex, prohibits oppressive child labor and requires an employer to maintain the necessary records to show he is complying with the law. However, there are some exceptions from these requirements for employees of certain establishments and in certain occupations. The Act is administered by the Department's Wage and Hour Division.

L. T. of Chicago, Ill., asks: Is a person given time off from his job when he has to go through the induction and examination process?

Dear L. T.: The Veterans Reemployment Rights Law guarantees a leave of absence for these purposes. When a person reports back to work he is entitled to the seniority, status, rate of pay and the vacation he would have had if he had not been absent. Time lost cannot be charged as vacation time.

D. S. of Boston, Mass., writes: What is the difference between a serious and nonserious violation of workplace standards issued under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970?

Dear D. S.: Nonserious violations are those not likely to result in death or serious physical harm. Where there is substantial probability of such results, the violation is classified as serious.

H. G. of Salt Lake City, Utah, writes: Where there is a job safety or health standard dealing with a particular workplace hazard, what responsibility does an employer have under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970?

Dear H. G.: He must comply with the "general duty" provision of the Act that requires him to furnish a workplace free from recognized hazards. Recognized hazards are those accepted as common knowledge in a particular business, industry or occupation.

P. F. St. Louis, Mo., writes: I read recently that productivity in the economy rose 3.6 per cent in 1971. What definition of productivity is used to compute this measure?

Dear P. F.: The measure of productivity you refer to is output per man-hour. This measure reflects the savings in man-hours to produce current levels of output. It relates output to labor input, but does not represent the unique contribution of labor to production. Rather, it reflects, in addition to labor effort and skill, changes in technology, increased capital investment per worker, managerial skill and better flow and layout of materials.

Pampa Youths On Honor Roll

Two Pampa students have been named to the spring semester honor roll of the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences at the University of Texas at Austin.

Among the 394 students on the roll were Joe Don Nestiel, 2217 Duncan, summa cum laude, and Mimi Ormand Miller, 1615 Grape, cum laude.

To be listed on the honor roll, a student must earn at least 52 grade points during the semester, passing all courses (A equals four points).

Aluminum first was isolated by the Danish chemist Hans Christian Orstedt in 1825.

Purcell To Begin 3-Week Swing in 13th District

Panhandle Congressman Graham Purcell will begin three weeks in the 13th District with the "Wheatheart of the Nation" celebration Saturday morning in Perryton.

Congressman Purcell, his wife Nancy, and several of their children will ride in the colorful parade. The Purcell family will join the "Wheatheart Celebration" at the noon bar-b-que.

The Texas congressman will be honored Saturday evening at a Purcell rally in Cadillac at the Vic Mon Motel patio area. The rally is being sponsored by the "Canadian Citizens for Purcell" committee.

family will return to their home in Canyon Saturday night.

A Bar-b-que honoring Graham Purcell will be held Tuesday, Aug. 22, in Panhandle.

Jim Williams of Panhandle is heading up the arrangements.

The bar-b-que will be catered by the Pampa Shrine Club. Tickets will be $3 a plate. In Panhandle, Judge Clarence Williams is one of several people selling tickets. W. J. Stubbfield is heading up the ticket drive in White Deer as is Ruth Osborne in Pampa and Ralph Britten in Groom. Judge Williams said it is expected people from a four or five county area will attend and emphasize everyone in the Panhandle area was invited.

Entry into Space Age

The United States formally entered the Space Age on Jan. 31, 1958, when the first successful U.S. earth satellite, Explorer 1, was launched from Cape Canaveral (now Cape Kennedy).

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER 14 ON THE BALLOT (HJR 57)
General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article VII, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding a Section 6b, to read as follows: "Section 6b. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 6, Article VII, Constitution of the State of Texas, any county, acting through its commissioners court, may reduce the county permanent school fund to the amount of the reduction to the independent and common school districts of the county on a per scholastic basis to be used solely for the purpose of reducing bonded indebtedness of those districts or for making permanent improvements. The commissioners court shall, however, retain a sufficient amount of the surplus of the county permanent school fund to pay ad valorem taxes on school lands or royalty interests owned at the time of its distribution. Nothing in this Section affects financial aid to any school district by the state."

Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to allow a county to reduce its county permanent school fund and distribute the money to independent and common school districts on a per scholastic basis."

NUMBER 10 ON THE BALLOT (HJR 68)
General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article XVII, Section 1, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows: "Section 1. The Legislature, at any regular session, or at any special session when the matter is included within the purposes for which the session is convened, may propose amendments revising the Constitution, to be voted upon by the qualified electors for statewide offices and propositions, as defined in the Constitution and statutes of this State. The date of the elections shall be specified by the Legislature. The proposal for submission must be approved by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, entered by yearly in the journals. "A brief explanatory statement of the nature of a proposed amendment, together with the date of the election and the wording of the proposition, shall appear on the ballot, shall be published twice in each newspaper in the State which meets requirements set by the Legislature for the publication of official notices of officers and departments of the state government. The explanatory statement shall be prepared by the Secretary of State and shall be approved by the Attorney General. The Secretary of State shall send a true and correct copy of the proposed amendment or amendments to each county clerk who shall post the same in a public place in the courthouse at least 30 days prior to the election on said amendment. The first notice shall be published not more than 60 days nor less than 50 days before the date of the election. The explanatory statement shall be published on the same day in the succeeding week. The Legislature shall fix the standards for the rate of charge for the publication, which may not be higher than the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch.

"The election shall be held in accordance with procedures prescribed by the Legislature, and the election shall be held in each county shall make returns to the Secretary of State of the number of legal votes cast at the election for and against each amendment. If it appears from the returns that a majority of the votes cast has been cast in favor of an amendment, it shall become a part of this Constitution, and proclamation thereof shall be made by the Governor.

"The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment revising provisions of the Constitution relating to proposing amendments to the state constitution and the time and method of publishing notice of proposed amendments."

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER 4 ON THE BALLOT (HJR 61)
General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article XVII, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding a Section 2 to read as follows:

"Section 2. (a) When the legislature convenes in regular session in January, 1973, it shall provide by concurrent resolution or the establishment of a constitutional revision commission. The legislature shall appropriate money to provide an adequate staff, office space, equipment, and supplies for the commission.

(b) The commission shall study the need for constitutional change and shall report its recommendations to the members of the legislature not later than November 1, 1973.

(c) The members of the 63rd Legislature shall be convened as a constitutional convention at noon on the second Tuesday in January, 1974. The lieutenant governor shall preside until a chairman of the convention is elected. The convention shall elect other officers it deems necessary, adopt temporary and permanent rules, and publish a journal of its proceedings. A person elected to fill a vacancy in the 63rd Legislature before dissolution of the convention becomes a member of the convention on the second Tuesday in January, 1974.

(d) Members of the convention shall receive compensation, mileage, per diem as determined by a five member committee, to be composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and Chief Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals. This shall not be held in conflict with Article XVI, Section 33 of the Texas Constitution. The convention may provide for the expenses of its members and for the employment of a staff for the convention, and for these purposes may by resolution appropriate money from the general revenue fund of the state treasury. Warrants shall be drawn pursuant to vouchers signed by the chairman or by a person authorized by him in writing to sign them.

(e) The convention, by resolution adopted on the vote of at least two-thirds of its members, may submit for a vote of the qualified electors of this state a new constitution which may contain alternative articles or sections, or may submit revisions of the existing constitution which may contain alternative articles or sections. Each resolution shall specify the date of the election, the method of the ballots, and the method of publishing the proposals to be voted on. To be adopted, each proposal must receive the favorable vote of the majority of those voting on the proposal. The conduct of the election, the canvassing of its returns, and the reporting of the returns shall be provided for elections under Section 1 of this article.

(f) The convention may be dissolved by resolution adopted on the vote of at least two-thirds of its members; but it is automatically dissolved at 11:59 p.m. on May 31, 1974, unless its duration is extended for a period not to exceed 60 days by resolution adopted on the vote of at least two-thirds of its members.

(g) The Bill of Rights of the present Texas Constitution shall be retained in full."

Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment providing for a constitutional revision commission which precedes the convening of the members of the 63rd Legislature as a constitutional convention in January, 1974, for the purpose of submitting proposals for a new constitution or revisions of the existing state constitution."

SUNFLOWER SEEDS

ROCK ISLAND, III. (AP) — Sunflowers are being grown commercially in Western Illinois as a potential cash crop valued for the seeds which are rich in oil.

Growers in Illinois and Iowa were offered contracts by the Victoria Feed Co., Davenport, Iowa, to grow sunflowers through their farm marketing associations.

Sunflowers are an important crop in Russia and other European countries, said Dr. H.B. "Pete" Petty, University of Illinois extension entomologist.

MUNICIPAL BAGMEN
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Grand Rapids has its garbage problems in a bag.

The City Commission has voted to start a new system to require all residents to put their garbage in special plastic bags, which will be specially marked and sold only through the city.

The scheme is expected to raise $310,000 toward the cost of the city's garbage collection. Voters already have turned down a plan to charge each household $2 a month for garbage collection.

A COOL-OFF is where you find it, and this one is Jamaica Bay in the New York metropolitan area.
