ROOSEVELT ASKS MAJOR OCKER IS PHYSICALLY QUALIFIED FOR FLYING

Medical Captain Says Major Ocker Is Physically Qualified For Flying

Twinkles
Scientists now say that the height of the forehead bears little relation to intelligence as you will no longer have any curiosity about the mental capacity of bald headed men.

We have long read that Broadway is a place where everybody wears a mask, but we didn't appreciate the figure of speech until Mr. Pecora began to make snatches at the Bigwigs.

"Hello, sucker" used to be a popular salutation but we have seen so much truth in it lately that we Americans now regard these as fighting words.

People use to say that a rowdy man was just a fool. Now we call him an adult adolescent.

Now that the Home-makers convention is over, we can begin our metabolic holiday. Translated, that means periodically leaving off most of what you have been eating and taking up something entirely different.

Brevitorials

Musings of the moment. Maybe spring really is approaching, or maybe we're getting old; anyway, we have an urge to go fishing. Raised on the sand, we went that road north to the Canadian. We're tired of dust storms and hankering for an honest-to-godness sandstorm. Eddie Cantor says the public is tired of gas and friction toward "stagnations." Considering what a situation this country has drifted into, we're inclined to doubt Eddie's second assumption. Today's antonyms, for ignorance: Foreknowledge, prescience, presentation, prerecognition, prognostication.

EXPERTS say that 7,500,000 children are seriously undernourished—victims of a depression brought about by stupidity in which they themselves, did not contribute. The key to the solution of this child problem is "milk." In fact, the nation needs a general campaign to promote and make possible the drinking of milk by children. If all the milk produced were distributed equally among every one, each of us would get little over a quart a day in one way or another. City people use as milk or cream about one-third of the milk produced. Cheese and butter raise the average of milk products consumed, but the average person eats only four-fifths of an ounce of butter a day and of cheese less than one-fifth of an ounce. Yet consumption of foods has been increasing steadily. Vast quantities of butter and cheese have been put in storage for want of a market and these surpluses tend to depress prices of milk and milk products in the dairying states.

RESTRICTED opportunities for youngsters reaching the age of citizenship need the earnest attention of the nation. "A planned society" would not be worthy of the name without a program for equalizing the opportunities for every child to have an education and later employment. To reactionaries this would be impracticable but these who know the meaning of cooperation, know that something can be done.

A GOOD example is the cooperative plan at West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon. Ninety girls are living at Randall hall in comfort at a cost of only $13 per month, for room, board, heat, lights, water, and telephone. Each girl works about one hour a day. It is necessary, of course, to exercise care in the choice of girls accepted but the experiment is beyond doubt a success. American youth is resourceful and willing to work. Far from meriting sympathy, those who are living cooperatively are deserving of commendation for their resourcefulness and ability.

Carbon Plant in Wheeler Opposed

AGED DOCTOR IS CARRIED TO WITNESS BOX

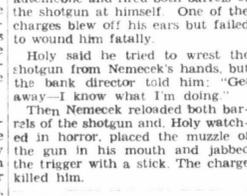

PHYSICIAN TAKES OATH WHILE SEATED IN OWN CHAIR

CRIMINAL COURTS BUILDING. Chicago, March 2 (AP)—As he reached the stage in her story of the operating table murder mystery where she was to tell how she found her daughter-in-law, Rieta, dead, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop choked with emotion and she was unable momentarily to continue. "You saw her face, Doctor, and what did you note?" asked Defense Attorney W. W. Smith in a tense, dramatic voice. "I noted a—peculiar color." "And what did that color indicate to you?" Dr. Wynekoop struggled to answer. The muscles on her thin neck quivered. Her thin, colored lips were tightly closed as though they refused to obey her will to speak. With a gasp she tossed back her head, her eyes quivering with tears. "Death," she whispered hoarsely. And not a person stirred. Pale and trembling, Dr. Wynekoop was carried to the stand by three bailiffs. The chair was removed from the witness box, and the one upon which Dr. Alice had been sitting, with the defendant in it, was substituted. "I won't be able to stand to be sworn," Dr. Alice nervously told a court attaché. "What will I do?" She was told she could take the oath while seated.

Bank Director Shoots Nephew, Kills Himself

WEST, March 2 (AP)—Mystified investigators groped for a motive today to explain why Rudolph Nemecek shot and wounded his nephew, Johnnie Nemecek, and then deliberately committed suicide. Rudolph Nemecek, 53-year-old director of the West National bank, walked into the Nemecek brothers' market here late yesterday, shot his nephew, 30, in the back of the neck with a shotgun and then tried to turn the gun on himself. By bystanders disarmed him. Holy fled from the store, obtained another shotgun and drove to the home of Joe Holy, half a mile east of West. At a coroner's inquest, Holy testified that Nemecek sat down on the running board of an automobile and fired both barrels of the shotgun at himself. One of the charges blew off his ears but failed to wound him fatally. Holy said he tried to wrest the shotgun from Nemecek's hands, but the bank director told him: "Get away—I know what I'm doing." Then Nemecek reloaded both barrels of the shotgun and Holy watched in horror, placed the muzzle of the gun in his mouth and jabbed the trigger with a stick. The charge killed him.

PAMPANS OBSERVE INDEPENDENCE DAY AS LONE STAR FLAG FLIES

The lone star flag that signalizes Texas holidays in Pampa was raised by Dr. V. E. Brunow today, the 98th anniversary of the state's independence. It has been for many years the only Texas flag raised regularly on Texas holidays in the city. Servants of Mrs. Brunow's ancestors fought in the Texas revolution. School children honored the day with special chapel programs, while other citizens were reminded only by the flag that this day 98 years ago saw 58 Texans in the little town of Washington-on-the-Brazos sign the document that created the Republic of Texas.

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 2 (AP)—Captain Walter S. Jensen of the school of aviation medicine of Randolph Field, testified today at the court martial of Major William C. Ocker, noted army pilot, that he saw no reason for removal of Major Ocker from flying status because of physical disabilities.

Ocker, above, is before a court-martial at Fort Sam Houston, charged with criticizing and applying an "epithet" to his superior officer, Lieut. Col. H. A. Clagett, Kelly field commandant. The trial promises to rival that of Gen. William Mitchell, punished for criticizing his superiors.

COMPARISONS NOT PALATABLE

Talk in Japan rings with assertions that the navy of that country will soon be stronger than Uncle Sam's—if we do not join the ship-building race.

All of which emphasizes the way in which the relations between this nation and Japan have drifted into the danger zone. Not in years has the prospect of war been discussed so openly. Not since the Washington conference has the navy building race been carried on in such grim earnest.

The ordinary American, who finds it hard to think of a good reason why he should send his boy halfway around the world to die fighting a nation which lies on the other side of the Pacific, is apt to grow a trifle nervous as he contemplates the situation.

Yet it may be that the horizon is not quite as dark as it seems. All this talk of war, ominous as it sounds, at least brings the problem out into the open and forces it on our attention. We at least are getting plenty of warning that there is trouble ahead.

We are not likely to repeat Europe's tragic mistake of 1914—when, as Newton D. Baker once remarked, the world went to war in a fit of absent-mindedness.

Our task right now is to survey the situation thoroughly, to know the worst, and to lay our plans accordingly.

That such plans must include maintenance of an adequate fleet goes without saying. But that cannot be the only item on the program.

The difficulties between the two nations must be examined carefully, and peaceful ways of settling them must be sought.

We are being warned in plenty of time. It ought not to be impossible for us to profit by the warning.

"ROBERT E. LEE," by Robert W. Winston (Morrow, New York). Judge Robert W. Winston's "Robert E. Lee" might appropriately have been sub-titled "the biography of a gentleman."

For that is what he shows Lee to have been, first of all. His career as a soldier, an engineer and a man of affairs was based on breeding, it would seem. The Lee history goes back through Cavalier Virginia to Cavalier England; one of his ancestors risked everything in support of the deposed Charles.

But when the young Robert was growing up, his branch of the family had been impoverished by the erratic financial deals of his father, who was always risking a sure thing to obtain something vastly larger and more impressive, and falling. It may have been the example of his father that kept Robert's nose to the grindstone, and taught him to go slowly. At any rate, he did work amazingly hard, and he seems usually to have thought a thing out before he went on with it.

Judge Winston gives a fascinating picture of the life in Virginia early in the past century. He shows us, too, how deeply rooted in that life young Robert Lee was, and how throughout his life the aristocratic principle was active. It and a sense of personal integrity sustained him when as a young army engineer he was sent to St. Louis to corral the Mississippi, and was attacked for his slowness.

They sustained him in Mexico and in the southwest, when he felt his duties properly lay at home. And in the first year of the civil war when Jefferson Davis kept him in Richmond in a secondary position, a modest faith in himself, is to be discerned in the background.

The entire story, down to the last years as head of Washington college, is to be found in Judge Winston's book. At times the biography is a trifle diffuse, and its author is unashamedly a Lee partisan. But it is a book that can be read by any American with profit, and by most with pleasure.

NEW PATTERNS IN SEX TEACHING, by Frances Bruce Strain, Appleton's, $2.

Parents, teachers and social workers will be specially interested in the forthcoming volume, New Patterns in Sex Teaching by Frances Bruce Strain, noted lecturer and Associate Director of the Cincinnati Social Hygiene Society. This book constitutes a thoroughly modern and complete guide to the sex education of children from infancy to adolescence. Treating sex as a primary human impulse, it describes in sane, clear, non-technical language a practical technique of sex instruction. Especially notable is the fact that the author takes into account the varying levels of sex curiosity and comprehension of the child, with the result that the parent comes to understand not only what should be explained but how to impart the information intelligently. Perhaps the most original feature of the book is the insertion in the text of a hundred accurate and usable answers to the questions most commonly asked by children about pregnancy, birth, fertilization, and mating. Considered as a whole, New Patterns in Sex Teaching is outstanding in its field.

AFTER YEAR IN OFFICE, ROOSEVELT IS STILL GREAT 'KIDDER'

PRESIDENT HAS NOT LOST HIS CHEERY SMILE

PERSONAL HABITS OF ROOSEVELT ARE DISCLOSED

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
 WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP)—One year ago today Franklin D. Roosevelt, happy and confident, started from his Hyde Park, New York, home to assume the presidency and in that carefree way of his beckoned to the accompanying newspaper men to follow along on his history-making trail.

At the end of the first year the same smile wreathes the presidential face and perhaps even more confidence pervades his conduct. If there has been any change, he is even more informal than ever. He has looked tired at times during the momentous days of this busy year, but his good health and his high spirits are the talk of those who come in close contact with him.

Mr. Roosevelt mixes work and fun. A few minutes after quitting his desk he can be heard laughing and frolicking in the nearby swimming pool in a "ducking" contest with Gus Gennerich, his bodyguard. He is a great "kiddier" and his secretaries, Louis Howe, Marvin H. McIntyre, "Steve" Early, and Miss Margaret Le Hand, are always on guard for a presidential joshing.

He is a careful reader of the newspapers, particularly those of his home state and New York City. Mr. Roosevelt invariably lingers in bed to eat breakfast, skim through the morning papers and chat with his immediate associates. Secretary Morgenthau, Postmaster General Farley, Lewis Douglas, director of the budget, Secretary Hull, and his secretaries are among the most frequent of the early morning callers in the White House proper.

The president gets to his desk in the executive office for official business about 11 o'clock. He may begin his engagements for the day at that time but he never keeps to schedule except when he has to catch a train or make a speech.

Lunches at Desk. Once in his office he goes right on through until 6 or 7 o'clock, invariably eating lunch from a tray on the desk, which he shares with whoever is the luncheon guest of the day.

Formal dinners are less frequent than usual. He doesn't like them. He doesn't like formal dress and it takes a lot of insistence sometimes by Mrs. Roosevelt to win this point. Nights vary at the White House. There are occasional motion picture shows, as in the days of Presidents Coolidge and Hoover. There are almost always house guests, usually friends of the family.

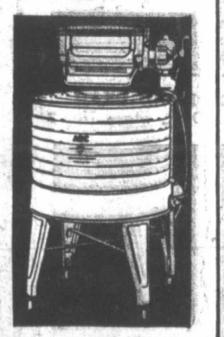

Business sometimes is resumed at night conferences. He retires between 11 and 12 o'clock and usually reads before turning out the light. Mr. Roosevelt doesn't worry about speeches—doesn't seem to worry about anything—but he will put off writing a speech until the last possible moment. His addresses are rarely longer than 20 minutes and he has established a record in the brevity of his messages to congress—also a record in the number he has sent.

CITY-WIDE SUMMER PLAY PROGRAM IS PLAN OF CLUB COUNCIL

WOULD OCCUPY VACATION TIME OF YOUNGSTERS

COMMITTEES NAMED TO ELABORATE PLANS

SUMMER recreation for Pampa youngsters will be conducted in a supervised program if plans started by women's clubs yesterday morning are carried out. The program was discussed at a council of clubs meeting at the city hall.

The aim is to provide a play and sports schedule to start with the closing of schools and occupy children through vacation season. Two committees were appointed to present phases of the program to the city commission.

Mmes. C. A. Clark, Siler Faulkner, and J. W. Garman were named to discuss a swimming program for the summer, and the other committee, Mmes. Earl O'Keefe, E. Hooks, and Arthur Swanson, is to outline plans for playgrounds in various sections of the city.

District Chairman Speaks. Mrs. W. R. Ewing, chairman of the community service division of the department of public welfare in seventh district federated women's clubs, spoke on the need of a planned recreation program for community betterment.

Reports were heard of work of the recently organized county child welfare board, which was started at the urging of the council. Its career has been launched with plans for several projects under way, after its handling of emergency cases that faced the body at its very beginning.

Announcement was made by a Garden club representative that her organization will sponsor a tree planting program in the city, with a tree planting project for children as one feature.

The meeting was the regular March session of the council, with Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, chairman, presiding.

FLOWERS LEND SPRING AIR TO PARTY SETTING

Queen of Clubs Is Entertained By Mrs. Wilson

A vase of magnificent poppies sent by friends from California was most admired of the flowers that made a springtime setting for a Queen of Clubs party yesterday afternoon. Mrs. H. C. Wilson was hostess at her home.

Narcissus and sweet peas added their color to the rooms. The tallest and score pades were decorated with sketches of friendly animals conversing on various topics.

Mrs. R. S. Lawrence scored high for club members in the games, and Mrs. M. C. Overton high for guests. Mrs. Mack Graham received high cut, and Mrs. J. H. Kelley consolation. Chicken salad, cake, and coffee were served later by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. O. H. Booth.

Club guests were Mmes. Frank Perry, C. T. Hunkapillar, H. C. Charles, George Taylor, Roy Wright, and Overton. Members present were Mmes. A. M. Martini, I. B. Hughey, Raymond Harrah, A. B. Goldston, H. D. Keys, Howard Buckingham, E. M. Conley, Kelley, Graham, and Lawrence.

SONGS ARE SELECTED TO PLEASE EVERY HEARER

NOT only operatic arias which display the brilliance and beauty of her voice, but simple tunes loved by everyone will be included on the program of Helen Fouts Cahoon, co-raturata soprano, at the city club rooms here Saturday evening.

Mrs. Cahoon, one of the most prominent musicians of the south-west, will appear in concert sponsored by the Junior Treble Clef club. This group of girls, organized for only a few months, is undertaking the concert as its first major effort to bring good music to Pampa.

Tickets are on sale by members this week. On the ticket committee are Misses Dorothy Dodd, Frances Finley, Dorothy Harr's, and Doris Price, but other members also have tickets for sale.

Mrs. Cahoon's appearance here will follow concerts in Amarillo and Lubbock. She is known for her concert work and teaching, and has sung with Metropolitan opera company. She heads the voice department at Texas Christian university, Fort Worth, and teaches in Chicago in the summers. Her pupils are appearing in the radio, concert, and operatic world now.

Perhaps no Texas musician is better known in this section, and girls of the sponsoring club report much interest in her concert here.

STUDY CLUB AND YOUNGEST SET ARE ENTERTAINED AT McLEAN

M'LEAN, Mar. 2.—Assisted by Mrs. Mary Slinger and Mrs. Evan Sitter, Miss Pearl Simmons entertained the Sigma Gamma club Monday evening at the Sitter home. Guests were seated at tables covered with dainty green and white covers and green napkins. Center pieces were green fern sprays in miniature vases. A lovely refreshment plate was served before the program was rendered.

The interesting program on George Washington was heard. Miss Ida Belle Newman discussed his life; Miss Katherine Simmons described the works of Washington; Miss Lillian Abbott brought out some forgotten facts of his life; Miss Elizabeth Kennedy read some of Washington's love letters; and Miss Winifred Howard closed the program with a discussion of "Our Heritage from Washington."

Those enjoying the lovely affairs were Misses Elizabeth Kennedy, Lillian Abbott, Nona Cousins, Jewel Cousins, Clara Anderson, Sarah Ellen Foster, a new member, Katharine Simmons, Joseline Vanney, Idabel Newman, Winifred Howard, Eunice Stratton, Elizabeth Wilkerson, the hostess, and Mesdames Slinger and Sitter.

Younger Set Has Party. Mabel Back entertained the very young set with a lovely party Saturday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Back. Various games were enjoyed. The most fun provoking affair of the evening was when each young couple was given some animal "pop-cuts," two tooth picks, and two marshmallows and told to see what kind of an animal they could make. Kid McCoy Jr. and Shirley Johnson were successful in making a kangaroo so nimble he would bow to the audience or sit down to rest.

Partners for refreshments were found by matching jig-saws of Henry, cartoons in the Saturday Evening Post. Those present were Dorothy Sitter, Jesse Mae Lynch, Thelma Joe Gray, Marquette Payne, Leta Mae Phillips, Shirley Johnson, Mollie Turman, Wanda Estes, Irene Penland, Ruth Ayer, Velma Mann, Billie Jena Biggers, Ermadell Floyd, Mabel Back, Billy Cooke, Joe Billie Bogan, Clyde Carpenter, Jamsie Everett, R. L. Floyd, Kid Jr. McCoy, Jack Bogan, S. J. Ayer, Vesterie Smith, Ernie Back, Frank Wharton, Spencer Sitter, Jeff Coffey, J. C. Williams.

Miss Irene Caldwell of Dalhart is now associated with her brother in the Caldwell Bakery.

Mrs. Tucker's Recipe of the Week

MAYONNAISE. Break an egg into a bowl; add a lump of Mrs. Tucker's Shortening the size of an egg, and beat vigorously and swiftly—about 30 turns of the egg-beater—until thoroughly mixed. Add a lump of Mrs. Tucker's at a time until 2 cups have been used, beating thoroughly each time. Add seasoning after Mayonnaise is made. Mix well 1/2 tsp. salt; 2 tsp. sugar; 1 tsp. mustard; and a generous pinch of paprika or red pepper. Add 2 Tbsp. lemon juice or vinegar; and stir until salt and sugar are dissolved; then pour into Mayonnaise and beat well.

If you like a sweet Salad Dressing, use one-half seasoning given above; or add any amount or kind of seasoning you prefer. Mrs. Tucker's Shortening creates so easily, and this makes such an inexpensive Salad Dressing.

MRS. H. A. IVY, 115 W. Pecan St., Sherman, Tex. Write for Mrs. Tucker's Shortening. NOW for next week's contest.

CARNERA LANDS ONLY TWO CLEAN BLOWS BUT KEEPS CHAMPIONSHIP TITLE

OGRE OF ITALY JEERED OFTEN FOR ROUGHING

LOUGHRAN NEVER GOES DOWN IN STRANGE BATTLE

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla., March 2. (AP)—Due exclusively to his superior poundage and power, the combination of which proved entirely too much for even the lion-hearted challenge of Tommy Loughran, to offset in 15 wearying rounds, Primo Carnera retains possession of the world heavyweight boxing championship today and turns his thoughts to the completion of negotiations to meet his next American rival, Max Baer.

The title was just about all that the mountainous man from Italy had to show for his ponderous legs last night in clubbing back the attempt of Loughran to match his mere 184 pounds of beef and brawn.

The champion, in his second title defense since he knocked out Jack Sharkey last summer, won decisively enough. He gained the unanimous vote of the three officials and a margin in 10 of the 15 rounds, but he was unable to land a single punch with sufficient power to dislodge Loughran from his feet.

Carnera simply clubbed Loughran, by a slow, cumbersome process, into such a state of weariness that after holding his own with a dazzling exhibition for the first ten rounds, Philadelphia Tommy lasted the closing five rounds mainly on raw courage and a display of boxing skill that never deserted him.

"I had the fight won—I'm sure of that—until Carnera stepped on my foot and bruised it in the eleventh round," said Loughran in his dressing room. "That slowed me up considerably in the latter stages. I think officials gave their decision fairly but I also think I should have had more credit for landing the cleaner blows. I was never hurt and I would like another chance against Carnera."

Carnera's performance against the most skillful boxer he has ever faced, convinced ring siders that they were right in the first place when they declared the big man cannot punch. The champion's budgeon-like blows chopped down Loughran's resistance finally, but he landed no more than two clean punches on his elusive target in the whole 15 rounds. One was in the

Stover Dies After Pneumonia Attack

B. H. Stover, 59, died suddenly at his home, 817 West Francis avenue, this morning. Death resulted from a stroke following a severe attack of pneumonia. Mr. Stover was manager of the Independent Lumber company. The body lies at rest at the Stephenson Mortuary. Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Mr. Stover is survived by his wife, teacher at Horace Mann school, two daughters, Mrs. E. E. Leonard and Miss Hermina Stover of Pampa, and two sons, O. D. Stover of Pampa and H. M. Stover of Elk City.

ELBOW CRUSHED

Willard Casey is in Pampa hospital with a badly crushed elbow and other injuries received this morning when a bit fell on him. He was taken to the hospital in a Stephenson Mortuary ambulance. Mr. Casey is employed by the Phillips Petroleum company and was at work on a well when the accident happened.

L. B. Autry made a business trip to Amarillo today.

First round when he caught Loughran backing away and bounced him into the ropes with a right to the face. The other was a straight right to the head that also drove Loughran into the ropes in the final round.

Carnera was repeatedly warned by the referee, as well as jeered by the crowd for his tactics. Exasperated as he missed his own swings or was jabbed off balance, the Italian roughed and mauled Tommy, held with one hand and clubbed with the other, or grabbed and spun the challenger around like a sack of potatoes.

Loughran, on the Associated Press score sheet, was credited with the third, fourth, sixth and tenth rounds, with the seventh even and the remaining ten given to the champion. Tommy's best all-round work was done in the fourth and sixth although his best single punch, a hard right to Carnera's head, was delivered in the fifth. This blow jarred the champion and threw him nearly off balance but he whipped back with both hands to give Loughran a mauling the rest of the round. At other times, the challenger made his big foe miss rhythmically and once Primo himself half way across the ring from the force of a misspent charge.

REGION'S CAGE TOURNAMENT WILL START TODAY

LAMESA AND HEDLEY WILL PLAY THIS AFTERNOON

The regional basketball tournament in Canyon was to get under way at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon with the Amarillo Sandies meeting Cecwell. The Hedley Owls were then scheduled to meet the Lamesa Tornados, one of the outstanding teams in the state.

Tonight at 7 o'clock the winning teams from this afternoon will play. The losers will then meet and the team with the low score will go home. Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the teams that have lost one game each will play and one of them will be out of the race. The finalists will meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow night for the title.

Crowell is the unknown team in the tournament. The Wildcats have won their district four consecutive years and two of the players on the team have played all those years. Lamesa is the tournament favorite but there is such a thing as a team getting "hot" and being unbeatable. Hedley can "get in that condition" and Amarillo is always dangerous. Many Pampa fans plan to attend some of the games.

CLINGMAN TO GRAPPLE HERE MONDAY NIGHT

OPPONENT TO BE KEN GASTON, TOLEDO 'WILDCAT'

The wrestling show to be staged at the Pla-Mor auditorium Monday night will have two matches of headline caliber, although one will be called a semi-final. Sailor O's Clingman, pride of the Panhandle, will return to the mat. His opponent will be Ken Gaston, Toledo, Ohio, wildcat. Lou Koderick, Cincinnati strong man, who gave big Pat Garrison such a tussle last week that he will never forget it, will meet a boy of his own weight in Charlie Heard of San Antonio. Heard will be unable to match strength with Koderick, but what he lacks in that department he will make up in speed and skill. The two wrestled to a 30-minute draw in Amarillo last night in a wonderful battle.

Gas on is a fast, clever mauler with plenty of experience. He is a master of no particular hold but uses everything in the game. He is a newcomer to the Panhandle but has a long record in the north. He has been here long enough to become acclimated. He wrestled in Lubbock and Amarillo the last two weeks.

Clingman is becoming better and better. He has not lost a match since returning to the Panhandle a few months ago. Such famous maulers as Yagui Joe, Joe Kcepky, Doc Mueller, and a host of others have fallen before his cyclonic drive for a crack at the world championship. Gaston has hopes of sending Clingman from his throne. The card will open with Harry Dowler (Andy Gump) meeting Joe Bauer of Germany in a time limit affair.

CWA Quota Cut to Total of 505 Men

The Gray county CWA quota was reduced by another 15 per cent, effective this morning, which cut the total to 505 men. The number on the list was reduced by 105 last week. Work on the various projects was not stopped this morning. A check on all cases was made during the week and the local office had the names of those to be cut from the list ready yesterday. Those least in need of the work are being taken from the roll first. Work was speeded this week, when an additional number of trucks were used. All projects were shut down Friday and Saturday of last week and the time was made up this week.

MANAGERS OF FUR STORES SHOW IMPROVEMENT IN CITY AND TERRITORIAL BUSINESS

BUSINESS conditions in Pampa are on a decided improvement if the experience of the Furr Food Stores is typical, according to J. E. Simmons and Alvin Bell, local managers for this firm of grocery retailers. Furr Food Stores have two complete and modern food stores in Pampa—No. 1 located at 214 West Foster and No. 2 at 109 South Cuyler. Since the first of the year, especially, sales have been very gratifying in both stores, the management states. George Briggs made a business trip to Amarillo today. Judge E. F. Ritchey of Miami was here yesterday.

V. F. W. Head Asks Veterans to Urge Passage of Bill

Commander H. A. Neath of the Pampa post of Veterans of Foreign Wars has issued a request that former service men write letters to Senator Tom Connally and Congressman Marvin Jones in behalf of veterans' welfare legislation. "All veterans and the public in general are strongly in favor of restoring to tubercular veterans the hospitalization of which they were deprived by the economy act of last March," Commander Neath said. "I believe that the majority of citizens of this community also favor a restoration of pensions and compensation to sick and disabled veterans, and that they do not believe the defenders of this country's need during the world war and the Spanish-American war should be reduced to starvation, or to public charity for their bare necessities of life."

Lions Club Has 2 New Members

Lamar Jones and Bob McCoy were introduced as new members of the Lions club at yesterday's luncheon. The club had an informal program in which solos were sung by Jack Dunn, Harry Kelley, and John P. Sturgeon. Mr. Sturgeon led group singing. Members discussed the April district convention at Colorado, Texas, and authorized President Clyde Pathners to appoint a committee to consider whom the club shall support for district governor. It is likely that the club will make its bid for the 1935 district convention. Mrs. W. H. Price of Roxana was a Pampa shopper yesterday afternoon. John Kramer of Skellytown was a visitor here last night.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General topic: Jesus' Testimony Concerning Himself.
 Scripture Lesson: Matt. 11:2-6, 16-19, 25-30.
 2. Now when John heard in the prison the works of the Christ, the sent by his disciples.
 3. And said unto him, Art thou he that cometh, or look we for another?
 4. And Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and tell John the things which ye hear and see.
 5. The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have good things preached to them.
 6. And blessed is he, whosoever shall find no occasion of stumbling in me.
 7. But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the market places, who call unto their fellows.
 8. And say, we piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not mourn.
 9. For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a demon.
 10. The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a gluttonous man and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners! And wisdom is justified by her works.
 11. At that season Jesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes.
 12. Yea, Father, for so it was well-pleasing in thy sight.
 13. All things have been delivered unto me of my Father; and no one knoweth the Son, save the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him.
 14. Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.
 15. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls.
 16. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.
 Golden text: Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

50 YEARS A MARTYR TO CONSTIPATION

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Welcome Relief

Read this splendid letter from Mrs. Haynes:

"For 50 years I have been a martyr to constipation. Have tried every remedy under the sun.

"One day I read an account of some one who had been relieved by ALL-BRAN, but I thought 'What was the use of me trying anything more when all else had failed?'

"A while after, I read it again. That time I thought I would try it. It would do no harm anyway.

"I began with a small dish of your ALL-BRAN for breakfast, and wonderful to say, I never need to take any physic at all now. How I wish other poor sufferers from constipation could be persuaded to try it."

"Mrs. Sarah Haynes, 138 Cedarwood Terrace, Rochester, N. Y.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. Also iron for the blood.

"This 'bulk' in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. It's so much safer than taking patent medicines! Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Severe cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get this delicious ready-to-eat cereal from your grocer. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

declared that he was the greatest man that had arisen on earth, up to his day, and asserted that he was the Elijah whose coming had been foretold in almost the last words of Old Testament (Mal. 4:5).

John and Jesus in Contrast vs. 18, 19

"For John came neither eating nor drinking," John was an ascetic. He lived on locusts and wild honey, wilderness fare. He would not think of attending a feast. "The Son of man came eating and drinking." He was no weird prophet coming forth from the wilderness in hermit's garb, but a homely man, affable, approachable, sociable in his manner of life, kindly with his kind. We may say, indeed, that among the great religious teachers and leaders a marked feature of Jesus is his geniality. Prof. Robert Law, "And they say, 'Behold, a gluttonous man and winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners!' The religious leaders of the Jews were no better pleased with Christ's joyousness than with John's sternness. Both John and Jesus condemned their sins, and that was enough to turn the scribes and Pharisees against him."

Christ's Invitation and Promise vs. 28

"Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Dr. Burrell calls this "the kindest word ever spoken." There is no saving, even among those of Christ himself, that makes a wider appeal; for the appeal is as wide as the human race.—Rev. W. Edward Chadwick, D. D. "This is perhaps the greatest word of the Evangel. It is majestic set to music for the soothing of overburdened and fevered lives."—Rev. J. Stuart Holden. "Six hundred and forty-two times the word 'come' occurs in the Holy Scriptures; but the most precious of all the verses in which it occurs is this."—Rev. Edgar DeWitt Jones, D. D. "It takes more than this word can do for us to give us rest. God will procure for us the luxuries and elegancies of life; but it will not procure rest for the soul."—Bishop Samuel Nichols. "Jesus Christ is the only personality in the history of mankind who could ever have made a statement like that and have been taken seriously."—Rev. Louis Albert Banks, D. D.

Palestine Oil Gusher Excites East Texas Area

PALESTINE, March 2 (AP)—Exact production of the day-old Texas Seaboard-Tidewater No. 1 Edens wildcat well was expected to be determined today in a 12-hour test to be run by owners.

An estimated flow of 125 barrels an hour and gas at the rate of five million cubic feet daily was predicted of the gusher when it blew in yesterday. Excitement accompanied the spray of oil from the well. Crowds gathered and royalty trading on acreage both near and far from the well, predicted center of a new East Texas field, was brisk. Most of the nearby acreage was held by the Texas Seaboard and Tidewater companies. They recently sold parts of the leases and royalty of their 17,000-acre block to the Amurda, Standford, and Darby companies.

The relatively small number of land owners in the field assured orderly development of the latest field. Production on the gusher came from woodbine sand topped at 4,077 feet. At 4,088 feet, drillers stopped, still in sand. Heavy gas encountered at that level caused them to get casing five feet in the sand at 4,082 feet. Casing off of much gas prevented the well from coming in Wednesday when it was washed. After drillers had run the swab seven times, the well cleaned itself and "kicked off." Gravity of the oil was reported at 29.5 degrees, but later reports had it as high as 35 degrees. "The oil was heavy, black crude—typical fault-line field oil.

Earl Thomas of Denworth transacted business here yesterday.

Roosevelt Has Better Health Than Year Ago

WASHINGTON, March 2. (AP)—Because Franklin D. Roosevelt can keep smiling, he has come through his first year healthier than when he first became president, the White House physician says.

Dr. R. T. McIntire, pronouncing Mr. Roosevelt in "fine shape," said today:

"As a matter of fact, it has been a healthy year for the whole White House family. Even the Roosevelt grandchildren have had scarcely any ailments.

"There is no question in my mind that President Roosevelt is better today, in a general physical way, than he was when I first saw him in March of last year," Dr. McIntire added.

"He has gone through the year in fine shape. The reason, for it, I think, and the best thing about it, is his general attitude on life—a cheerful, optimistic outlook, never expecting trouble."

"Scandals" Stage Show Is Brought Here By Theater

For those who prefer their theatrical entertainment done to a crisp brown, there is a pleasing stage treat promised at the La Nora theater, today and Saturday.

"Scandals of 1934" (World's Fair Edition), and comes to Pampa, with its original cast.

Presented in its entirety, the act has such distinctive features as Sally Ryan and her fans, Phil Phillips, master of ceremonies, the California band, Louise Douglas in an Argentine rumba, and a chorus of beauties.

Latest song hits, clever and breezy comedy and smart dance routine are outstanding offerings in the "Scandals." And Dorothy Frost, former Fanchon-Marco artist, lends a touch of the aesthetic with her dainty toe presentations.

The "Scandals" is a 50-minute show, and will offer not only pleasing entertainment novelties, but a strikingly different type of show for theatergoers of this city.

"Scandals of 1934" will be presented on the La Nora stage today and Saturday at approximately 7:15, 7:45 and 9:15 in connection with the screen attraction "Mandalay" with Kay Francis and Ricardo Cortez.

There will be a special midnight Ramble stage show Saturday night at 11:30 in connection with a change in screen feature to "Fashion of 1934."

Sugar beet shipments from Utah in 1933 were 10 per cent higher than those of 1932.

STANDARD FOOD MARKET'S CREED
OUR REPUTATION
A REWARD AND A RESPONSIBILITY!

It isn't hard, when business is good, to build a reputation for QUALITY and FAIR DEALING. Anyone can live in a house of brick when bricks are not dear. But the temptation to "let down temporarily" under stress is a big one—though it's THEN the consumer needs protection the most.

STANDARD FOOD MARKETS have always believed that people are loyal to those men and institutions who choose to remember in a crisis that protecting one's good name is a PUBLIC OBLIGATION—a RESPONSIBILITY that must not be taken lightly.

Purely as a matter of sound business we have always acted on this theory. We have reasons today, more than ever before, to believe it a practical, workable theory.

Our policy of not cutting quality has continued unbroken through this depression. It will continue unbroken as long as our name is our own.

STANDARD FOOD MARKETS ARE NOT A CHAIN ORGANIZATION in the strictest sense of the phrase. WE DO NOT SEND OUR MONEY A HUNDRED OR A THOUSAND MILES AWAY, BUT KEEP IT AT HOME—IN GRAY COUNTY. Our family of employees are "hometown boys" and we are always willing and glad to cooperate in all civic matters for the benefit of the community.

Sincerely yours,
J. J. Brown

MME. STAVISKY IS ARRESTED AFTER CHECK STUBS ARE FOUND

PAPERS MIGHT REVEAL NAMES OF ASSOCIATES

WIDOW KNOWS PEOPLE WHO BEFRIENDED HUSBAND

By JOHN EVANS
Associated Press Foreign Staff
PARIS, March 2 (AP)—Mme. Arlette Stavisky, beautiful widow of the man who caused the notorious "Stavisky scandal" which brought in its wake the overthrow of two governments, was arrested today by the secret service.

The arrest followed the recovery by the secret service of check stubs giving the names of many recipients of "bearer" checks from the master swindler.

The police long have sought these stubs in their efforts to identify those who had received millions of dollars from Stavisky and who, likewise, had cashed millions of dollars worth of checks which he made out to himself.

The police said they had recovered the stubs from "a personality." The "personality" was not named.

They revealed for the first time that Mrs. Stavisky, on the day after her husband either committed suicide or was killed in a lonely villa at Chamonix, gave the stubs to a friend. From the hands of the friend they reached the mysterious "personality." The stubs were delivered to former Premier Albert Sarraut shortly after last midnight by M. Bony, one of the chief inspectors of the secret service who was suspended recently for alleged laxity in the Stavisky case.

Sarraut and the president minister of justice, Henry Cheron, agreed that Bony should be permitted to resume duty for a few hours and sent important officials to his house where, in the presence of the "personality" that Bony had induced to deliver them, they were examined until 2 a. m.

When Mme. Stavisky was told January 8 that her husband, surrounded by secret police had killed himself at Chamonix, she said she knew the name of men in high places who were friendly to her husband. She promised at that time she would tell who "even cabinet ministers," had visited their home.

The beautiful woman's past almost caused a duel and created a wild scene in the chamber of deputies Jan. 18 when Deputy Philippe Henrot charged that the then minister of foreign affairs, Joseph Paul-Boncour, and the minister of education, Anatole de Monzie, had visited her.

Paul-Boncour admitted he had visited her in a hospital before she was married and, as a lawyer, had aided at that time in quashing charges against her. But he asserted the visit had been purely a legal matter at the request of her father, an old friend of his family.

A distinction claimed for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Devane of Fairbanks, Alaska, was that he was born when the thermometer registered 66 below zero, the coldest day in 30 years.

BLOND GODDESS

A New Serial by HERBERT JENSEN

Chapter 46 TEMPLE DRUMS

Scanning the sky she saw that yesterday's occasional cloud patches had disappeared. It would be a clear day—a day without rain.

She made a gesture about her shoulders, as if to draw an invisible scarf about flesh that was suddenly chill.

The sun rose in a sudden upheaval of purple, gold and crimson. A jaguar snarled in the moat. Janice left the roof and retired to the sumptuous room that was hers—hers until the rain stopped for a day.

A remote thumping, vibrating some chord in the recesses of her mind, came to her. For a moment she lay relaxed starting at the V-arched ceiling. Soon she was conscious that about her silent figures were moving.

She propped herself upon an elbow and watched them. They were the servants—women garbed in the ankle-length robes square-cut and embroidered at the neck.

The thumping continued. Suddenly she realized it was the flat sound of the temple drum sounding out its dread summons from the pyramid top.

The women were preparing a costume. For a brief instant of panic she thought of screaming, of fighting, of making as great a difficulty as she could—anything to delay the inevitable procession that she realized was not scheduled for today.

But reason told her that she must conserve her strength. Some remote opportunity might occur that would give Billy and her a chance for living, or at worst a chance not to die on that horrible altar stone that to Janice seemed an animate thing crouched in the shadow of the priest's house awaiting the slanting rays of the morning sun.

She struggled, and succeeded in retaining her poise.

She allowed the women to dress her, passive under their ministrations. A sleeveless robe, such as the one she wore yesterday, but more sheer material, more lovely as to embroidery, was put upon her. Jeweled sandals were slid upon her feet.

Her minted-gold hair—that the demands of her profession had kept long—was combed in a vivid cascade down her back. A jeweled circlet was placed over the crown of her head, a band that served as a base for a multitude of brilliant feathers.

Food was brought to her, a veritable cornucopia of abundance, but she did not touch it. Her throat was dry, her eyes felt hot and tired. Her heart seemed a pulsing machine that hurt as it throbbled.

The thudding of the temple drum continued. She was scarcely conscious that she was led out into the open. She was scarcely conscious that she was led out into the open. She noted curiously as she passed through the small door cut in the other wall that the jaguars were no longer there.

People were hurrying across the great open central plaza toward the pyramid. She saw a procession of priests and guards approaching from the eastern end of the plaza. Her own column of women was augmented by male guards.

Ahead she saw a curious cage of wood upheld upon the shoulders of half a hundred men clad only in loin cloths. Above the murmur of the crowd she heard the snarl of the jaguars imprisoned within the huge cage.

The beasts, evidently, were to be part of the ceremony.

Desperately she shaded her eyes against the new sun whose rays were beginning to pierce the sky over the eastern jungle. Where was Billy Langton? Could it be that he had been down away with—that he had not been held to participate in this ghastly rite?

She saw him, finally, heading the approaching procession. It was little wonder that she had not been able to pick him out of the column. It was his limp that betrayed him to her.

He was stripped to loin cloth and sandals. Some garment—a skin of some sort—was hung from his shoulders. His head-dress of feathers was like her own but fuller and more elaborate.

The two columns joined one another on either side of the cage of jaguars. She saw the deep lines on Langton's face—his blond beard could not hide those engravings of suffering. His eyes were shadowed with pain and despair.

He flashed toward her a brief smile, a smile of encouragement she thought, but pious in its impotence. She returned his smile; and thought she saw his eyes mist with a film of tears.

A jaguar screamed and threw its sinewy weight against the wooden bars. Instinctively she shrank away. The bars gave slightly, but held. She noted in that instant that the gate to the cage was held by tied thongs.

It seemed a flimsy prison for such ferocity. She turned her attention to a litter, upheld by four men, that was approaching from the base of the pyramid.

Reclining upon it was the figure of the high priest. She had not seen him since she had been brought to the city. His face was pale—if a shade lighter than the usual mahogany color could be called pallor.

His lips were grim under the beaked nose. Only his eyes lived. They examined the grouped cavalcades impassively; his glance bearing upon Langton and the girl caused his eyes to gleam in fanatic approval at what they observed.

He raised his hand.

As if the signal had been awaited the flat thud of the drums increased its tempo. The columns stirred into action. A murmur, like that of spreading fire in a sun-dried savannah, arose in the steamy air.

The thongs about the pyramid and the centric cliffs were anticipating their performance. The stage was set—the drama ready to be played. The prologue was done with; now the ceremony of the sacrifice was about to begin.

Janice thought of the bravery of Horatio Greene in a similar situation not long before. Would she be equal to the ordeal, she wondered? Would Billy?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
901 N. Frost Street.
"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 4.

The Golden Text is: "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (I Corinthians 3:11).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ, the Lord" (Luke 2:11).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus was the son of a virgin. He was appointed to speak God's word and to appear to mortals in such a form of humanity as they could understand as well as perceive. Mary's conception of him was spiritual, for only purity could reflect Truth and Love, which were plainly incarnate in the good and pure Christ Jesus" (page 332).

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
800 Block, West Francis.
Dear people, in Luke 13:24 we are told to strive to enter in at the straight gate. Are we striving? How hard are we striving? Then in Matthew 7:21 we are told that "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of my father which is in heaven."

So, dear people, are we doing the will of the father in heaven when we fail to attend Sunday school and all regular services of the church? Will your petty excuses stand at the blazing bar of God in that great judgment day?

ONLY THE CENTER LEAVES FOR Luckies

1 Luckies do not use the top leaves . . . because top leaves are underdeveloped . . . they are not ripe . . . They would give a harsh smoke.

2 Luckies use only the center leaves of the finest tobacco plants . . . because the center leaves are the mildest, tenderest, smoothest.

3 Luckies do not use the bottom leaves, because bottom leaves are inferior in quality. They grow close to the ground, and are tough, coarse and always sandy.

This picture tells better than words the merit of your Lucky Strike. Luckies use only the center leaves. Not the top leaves, because those are underdeveloped — not ripe. Not the bottom leaves, because those are inferior in quality—they grow close to the ground and are tough, coarse and always sandy. The center leaves are the mildest leaves, the finest in quality. These center leaves are cut into long, even strands and are fully packed into each and every Lucky—giving you a cigarette that is always round, firm, completely filled—no loose ends. Is it any wonder that Luckies are so truly mild and smooth? And in addition, you know, "It's toasted"—for throat protection, for finer taste.

Lucky Strike presents the Metropolitan Opera Company
Saturday at 1:50 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over Red and Blue Networks of NBC, Lucky Strike will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor."
