RAF Assaults Channel Area And Nazi Bases

HULL TONGUE-LASHES GERMAN, ITALY, JAPAN

Vital German Naval Base, Kiel, Bombed

British Step Up Aerial Offensive Against Germans

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The channel area resounded today with a furious British counter-offensive and great columns of smoke rose in the clear, bleak air above the Nazi-held French coast from areas set aflame by British bombs.

Nazi shipping was attacked with in sight of watchers on the English shore—a German convoy was heavily bombed by RAF squadrons and it appeared that at least one vessel had been hit—and English coastal batteries bombarded a covey of eight German torpedo boats which maneuvered along the French shore.

Across the Dover strait, British pilots went into heavy action against a new long range gun brought up by the Nazis alongside their sixth battery near Cap Gris Nez.

All this—a visual evidence to the people of coastal England of the heightening tempo of the British counter-attack—followed assaults in which the RAF had winged afar over Nazi territory, spreading bombs inland in Germany and over hundreds of miles of the Nazi front.

One of the most important objectives thus attacked, in raids of last night and early this morning, was the vital German naval base at Kiel, where shipbuilding yards were declared to have been left in flames.

Fires were set off, too, in the air ministry reported, in the docks at the ports of Bremen and Cuxhaven; Hamburg again was "heavily bombed."

The aerial bombardment of Kiel—one of the high spots in raids extended from the Baltic to the channel coast of France and inland to the German industrial Ruhr district—was declared by the ministry to have lasted nearly two hours and "widespread damage to docks, warehouses, and shipping as well as claimed."

Boulogne, among the other Nazi-held ports, was also being over-bombarded by smoke this afternoon as was Cap Gris Nez, site of heavy German artillery. Bombed, too, as they had been so often before, the ministry said, were the Dutch harbors of Amsterdam and Den Helder—the latter an old Dutch naval base—and the Belgian ports of Ostend and Antwerp.

FDR Divides And Rules, Says Willkie

By WILLIAM B. ARDREY

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Republican Presidential Nominee Wendell L. Willkie charged tonight the doctrine of the New Deal was "divided and ruled."

"Our doctrine is the doctrine of unite and serve," he said in an address at a rally at Jamaica High school, Long Island.

Asserting that there had been formed in recent years "groups with special hatreds—racial, religious and political hatreds," Willkie accused the New Deal of undertaking to "govern America by playing off each of these groups against the other."

"It has encouraged labor to fight capital and encouraged capital to attack labor," the candidate said. "It has even encouraged labor to fight labor."

"It has created the farm problem as a separate problem, if the farmers were somewhere on an island by themselves."

"It has kept in Washington, on our payroll, men who do not believe in our form of government—Communists and pseudo-Communists and neo-Communists and their dupes."

"It has divided our youth from us by preaching the doctrine that America can no longer grow."

"That," said Willkie, was "the issue between the New Deal and the cause I represent."

Najera To Washington

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26 (AP)—A government spokesman said tonight Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexican ambassador to the United States, would take a plane to Washington tomorrow, carrying with him the results of a three-weeks' survey of Mexican-American relations with President Cardenas.

Political Schism Develops In CIO

(By The Associated Press)

The Roosevelt administration struck back Saturday at John L. Lewis' denunciation of the New Deal and support of Wendell Willkie while evidence piled up that a deep political schism had developed in the CIO itself.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said Lewis "let us go down the lonely road." Many CIO leaders, Early declared, had "repudiated" Lewis' stand in messages to President Roosevelt.

Secretary of State Hull said that Lewis was "100 per cent wrong in his efforts to prejudice the American people by the baseless charge that President Roosevelt is seeking to get this nation into war."

Otherwise, the day brought such developments as these: President Roosevelt decided definitely to make a political address in Boston next Wednesday in addition to one Monday night at New York.

Willkie, who expressed pleasure Friday night at receiving Lewis' support.

The Lewis expression brought comment, too, from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The CIO, he said, was "torn with dissension, divided politically because its leaders seek to compel it to support a political party." The AFL, he added, "has evolved and followed a non-partisan political policy."

Some officials of the United Mine Workers, foundation stone of the CIO organization, disagreed with Lewis. Hugh V. Brown, president of district 7, a Hazleton, Pa., unit and one of the big UMW locals, said the district membership would "go down the alley battling" for Roosevelt.

On the other hand, Ray Edmondson, Illinois district president of the UMW, made public a resolution by 16 UMW officials pledging support of Lewis and a "vigorous campaign" against a third term for President Roosevelt.

API Advisory Board Will Meet Monday

Members of the advisory board of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will meet at 6:30 o'clock Monday night in the basement of the Schneider hotel. Jack Berry of Amarillo will show motion pictures, taken on a recent Alaska trip, at that hour.

Following the dinner, at 7 o'clock, members will discuss plans for the annual meeting and election of officers in December.

C. M. Davis, coordinator of vocational courses, will be a guest at the meeting. He will discuss briefly the organization of classes in oilfield practices this winter.

Edson Building $5,000 Residence

L. E. Edson took out a permit for a $5,000 residence in the Williston Heights addition last week as permits totaled $6,300. Ray Orr was named contractor on the Edson residence. Other permits were for repairs.

Total permits for the year to date amount to $623,301, not including nearly $30,000 in moving permits.

Famed Play To Be Dramatized

The lives of two German immigrants, Mart and Irma Gunther, from their arrival in Mapleton, Ohio, to the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, forms the theme of "The American Way," which is to be presented at 8 p. m. Wednesday night at Holy Souls school.

It will be a dramatization, presented by Mrs. W. L. Berge of Pampa, graduate of the Cox School of Dramatics, Dallas.

Girl Scouts will open the program with the singing of "God Bless America," in which the audience will join, and the dramatization will conclude with "The Star Spangled Banner."

Admission will be 50 cents. The program is sponsored by the women of Holy Souls Parish church, and proceeds go to the parish charity fund.

City Budget Set At $260,813.52

Cost of running the city during the coming year will be $260,813.52, according to the annual budget submitted to the city commission. A hearing on the budget has been called for 2:30 p. m. November 12 in the city commission room in the city hall.

The budget has been filed with the city secretary and is now open to public inspection.

Out of the $260,813.52, which covers the expenditures for all departments, $81,840 goes toward paying bonded indebtedness.

Warships Shell Italians

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 26 (AP)—British warships, joining forces with the RAF, struck new destructive blows at Italian offensive preparations along the Egyptian coast yesterday, a British communique reported tonight.

Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's concentrations near Sidi Barrani, 240 miles from Alexandria, were shelled and bombed heavily, they said.

Bratton And Buckler Now On Draft Board

W. A. Bratton, former Pampa mayor, and C. P. Buckler, school board member, were sworn in Saturday as new members of the Gray County Selective Service board.

The board is now composed of John F. Sturgeon, chairman, Bratton, and Buckler. One of the new members succeeds District Judge W. R. Ewing, who resigned October 17.

Judge Ewing desired to serve on the board but as such a duty would have interfered with his holding court in Gray, Wheeler, Roberts, and Lipscomb counties, withdrew from such service.

Owens Resigns
The other new member of the board succeeds Dr. Adrian Owens, himself a selectee, No. 156, Resignation of Dr. Owens was in conformity with a war department ruling that those persons in the registration range of 21 to 36 years could not serve on local boards.

This is a change in the regulations, for it had the rule heretofore that the age of members was not a factor, the only stipulation being

Children To Benefit From Kiwanis Revue

Fund Raised For Underprivileged Kiddies Of Pampa

(By The Associated Press)

Underprivileged children of Pampa, cared for by the Pampa Kiwanis club, will be the beneficiaries when you buy tickets to the Kiwanis "Top O' Texas Revue" to be staged in the High school auditorium on the nights of Nov. 6 and 7.

Dr. Calvin Jones and R. B. Allen, general show chairman, and George Berlin, head of the club's ticket committee, said that tickets were selling fast Saturday when more than 50 members of the civic club assisting in the sale.

Mr. Berlin also announced that beginning Monday several high school organizations would launch a general ticket-selling campaign. All reserved seats tickets are on sale at Cretney's drug store. General admission tickets are on sale for 25 and 50 cents. These may be exchanged at Cretney's for reserved seats on either night at a charge of 25 cents each.

Rehearsal of the entire cast is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the city hall auditorium.

Producer Ken Bennett and Tex DeWeese, Kiwanis club president who will be master of ceremonies for the show, were to confer this afternoon on various details of the revue.

Kenneth Carmen, high school dramatics instructor, present at the last rehearsal, expressed the opinion that the "Top O' Texas Revue" will eclipse anything of its type ever attempted in Pampa.

"What makes this show," Mr. Carmen said, "is that it is so different from what one expects when he goes to a home-talent production. The music is excellent and the stage settings and lighting effects are unique. It is easily the best thing Ken Bennett ever has done. There is a fine cast and the principals and chorus carry their roles superbly."

Patterned along the lines of Olsen and Johnson's popular "Hello, Popolin," now current "laying them in the aisles" on Broadway, the "Top O' Texas Revue" will have its share of spontaneous comedy scenes as well as a music score with eleven new songs which will be heard for the first time anywhere in public when the curtain goes up on Wednesday night, Nov. 6.

Slung stars of the revue will be Alvin Adams and Willa Dean Ellis. Featured dancers will be Frankie Lou Keen, June Marie Amick, Vivian Earsom, and Mona Nichols. A chorus of 40 voices and a 16-piece orchestra will form the musical background for the five acts.

Borger Airplanes Will Visit Here

Eight or 10 airplanes from Borger will visit the Pampa airport Sunday afternoon about 3:45 o'clock while on a "Hi Neighbor" tour of the Panhandle.

The visitors will be welcomed by members of the aviation committee of the Board of City Development and pilots of the Wing-Over club.

Frank W. Phillips is chairman of the tour.

Greeks Clash With Italian-Ruled Troops

(By The Associated Press)

With France under the Axis belt, the Rome radio last night (Saturday) broadcast a report of a clash between Greek troops and Italian-ruled Albanians—an event, some believed a prelude to wider action against pro-British Greece.

Six Greek soldiers were said to have been captured and two Albanians killed and three wounded in a fight between Koriza and Porto Edda inside Albanian territory.

Italy previously suspended air service to Greece until Nov. 4 under circumstances suggesting increased pressure on that country, and the Greek fleet was ready to hold day and night maneuvers from Oct. 28 to Jan. 1 near Salonika.

France bowed (Saturday) to the will of Adolf Hitler in his desire to fit the conquered nation in his own way into the Nazi scheme for "a new European order."

Marshal Philippe Petain, chief of state of France, and his vice premier, Pierre Laval, met the French cabinet at Vichy and reported on their conversations with Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop.

Then came a brief announcement: The cabinet had approved the Petain-Laval decision. Hitler and Petain would collaborate in restoring peace to Europe. What kind of peace and the manner of its restoration were not made clear.

British reaction was not immediately forthcoming, but officials of the "free" French government in London repudiated any agreement between Hitler and the aged Petain, terming "any association, direct or indirect, between France and her mortal enemy" a "sacrilege."

Easier in the day, informed circles in London had disclosed that King George had messengered Petain, extending courage and sympathy to the French people, and expressing the conviction of an ultimate British victory. Vichy dispatches did not mention the communication.

President Roosevelt also had sent a communication to the French government, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, revealed. That message went across seas Thursday while Hitler was seeing Hitler somewhere in occupied France.

Cafeteria Fund Now Sufficient

Whoa there, folks, whoa! The school system will not need any more money for the ward school cafeteria fund.

Contributions received up to last night will be enough to buy lunches for 150 children for the rest of this school term, according to Bill Heskew, chief de gare of the 40 and 8 of the American Legion, which sponsored the drive.

"Pampa people and business firms were generous as usual," said Mr. Heskew. "Once they learned the plight of these children they came through magnificently."

People who have pledged donations which have not yet been turned over to Principal Aaron Meek of Baker school are urged to do so as soon as possible. The amount pledged to date is large enough to pay the cafeteria bill, but not too large. So all pledges will be needed.

Corry To Campaign

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—W. N. Corry of Keller, Tarrant county, runner-up to J. E. McDonald for the Democratic nomination as state commissioner of agriculture, said through a spokesman here today he would conduct a "write-in" campaign for that office. Corry was endorsed by Democrats at Waco for the post after McDonald had announced his support of Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential nominee.

FDR Sends Message To French Chief

Secretary Lists Axis' Efforts To Rule For Force

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The United States' deep concern over the German-French negotiations was evidenced today by disclosure that President Roosevelt had sent a message to Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, chief of the French state.

The communication was delivered to Gaston Henry-Haye, the French ambassador, last Thursday by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state. The fact of its dispatch was a closely-held secret until today.

Secretary Hull, in disclosing that Mr. Roosevelt had communicated with the 84-year-old World War hero who now heads the Vichy government, declined to reveal the nature of the message. No reply, he said, had been received.

Although lacking official confirmation, it was reported that the President's message had been timed—and perhaps contained an appeal—designed to influence Petain against signing any "collaboration" pact with Germany which would imperil France's future as a free nation and possibly bring about a clash between French and American interests, especially in the western hemisphere.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Secretary Hull described the rulers of Germany, Italy and Japan tonight as "wound-be conquerors" engaged in a relentless attempt to reduce mankind to a master-and-slave relationship among nations and individuals, maintained by brute force.

Speaking before the National Press club over a nation-wide radio hook-up (NBC), the secretary of state listed efforts by these nations "to take by force what they say they need or want" as he reviewed what he called "the whirlwind developments of one of the saddest and most crucial decades in the history of mankind—that of the nineteen-thirties."

"The rulers of these nations," the secretary continued, "have repudiated and violated in every essential respect the long-accepted principles of peaceful and orderly international relations."

"Merciless armed attack; unrestrained terrorism through slaughter of non-combatant men, women and children; deceit, fraud and guile; forced labor; confiscation of property; imposed starvation and deprivations of every sort—all these are weapons constantly used by the conquerors for the invasion and subjugation of other nations."

These same nations, Hull declared—presumably in reference to Germany's reported efforts to secure the French fleet and Japan's warship building program—have as an objective "the securing of control of the high seas, peaceful nations who threaten peaceful nations with the direst consequences if those nations do not remain acquiescent, while the conquerors are seizing the other continents and most of the seven seas of the earth."

"We are in the presence not of local or regional wars, but of an organized and determined movement for steadily expanding conquest. Against this drive for power no nation and no region is secure save as its inhabitants create for themselves means of defense so formidable that even the would-be-conquerors will not dare to raise against them the hand of attack."

Huge British Liner Sinking, Claim Nazis

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The Empress of Britain, majestic Canadian flag-ship liner which carried King George VI and Queen Elizabeth home to Britain after the North American trip in 1939, was reported in informed German quarters to have been bombed and left in a sinking condition north of Ireland today.

German combat planes attacked the liner in the waters which Germany has proclaimed as the scene of total blockade, these sources asserted. By forenoon, it was stated, the crew had abandoned the ship and she was foundering.

(The British admiralty declined comment.) The German high command made no mention of the Empress of Britain.

"They threaten peaceful nations with the direst consequences if those nations do not remain acquiescent, while the conquerors are seizing the other continents and most of the seven seas of the earth."

"We are in the presence not of local or regional wars, but of an organized and determined movement for steadily expanding conquest. Against this drive for power no nation and no region is secure save as its inhabitants create for themselves means of defense so formidable that even the would-be-conquerors will not dare to raise against them the hand of attack."

Eggs And Tomatoes Thrown On Windows Of Willkie Club

Willkie headquarters in Pampa suffered an egg and tomato barrage sometime early Saturday morning or late Friday night.

When Miss Janice Purviance, employed at the local Gray County Democratic club, Willkie club, 110 E. Foster, arrived for work at the place at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, she discovered that eggs and tomatoes had been hurled against the club's windows.

No damage was done to the windows or to any other part of the front, and the mess was soon cleaned up.

Panhandle Fails To Produce Full Allowable In September

Panhandle producers failed to take their full allowable during the month of September according to figures just released by the Texas Railroad Commission. The monthly allowable was 2,549,986 barrels but production was only 2,472,103 barrels or 122,883 barrels under allowable in the Panhandle field, not including Moore county and the Osborne pool.

Allowable for the entire district was 2,586,376 barrels while production was 2,458,394 barrels or 127,982 barrels less than the allowable.

Leathers Family Of Clarendon Given New Car At World's Fair

WORLD'S FAIR, N. Y., Oct. 26—“Ticked pink” over meeting two of their country's most famous men within 24 hours, the D. E. Leathers, National Typical American family, garnered honors and awards here today and returned every compliment promptly in their native Texas drawl.

They arrived at LaGuardia airport at 1:45 p. m. direct from Washington, where they met President Roosevelt this morning. Yesterday in Dearborn, they met Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor company.

“The President's mighty fine,” Mr. Leathers reported, “mighty fine.”

He added that the President told them he'd look them up if he got down their way. He also asked the Leatherses, National Typical American family, gathered honors and awards here today and returned every compliment promptly in their native Texas drawl.

Margaret Jean, 16-year-old daughter of the family, excitedly confessed that she'd been so nervous in the white house that she forgot to give the President a present they had for him. She ran back and left it with a secretary. It was an example of native Texas handicraft—a miniature sombrero made in leather.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia provided a motorcycle escort to speed the Leathers family from the airport to the Ford building at the fair. There Harvey D. Gibson, chairman of the fair's board, and Fred L. Black, director of the Ford pavilion, headed the welcoming. There, too, the family received their first big present that goes with their honor—a 1941 harbor grey super deluxe Fordor sedan. Director Black presented the car on behalf of Henry Ford.

“It's a beauty!” the typical father said as he accepted the car. “It's a beauty—and it's my eighth Ford!”

“Now all we need is a trailer—so we could take everybody home with us to Texas,” Mrs. Leathers said.

The national title-holders are proud Texas Panhandle natives. They live in a FHA-mortgaged house on a 200-acre stock farm which they own in Clarendon, Donley county. They won the title, West Texas, Typical American family, and also a week's expense-free vacation at the Forty-Fair, last May, in a contest sponsored by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Forty-seven local title-holders, similarly chosen in newspaper-sponsored contests, spent prize vacations at the fair, living in FHA houses on the fairgrounds.

From then, the Leathers family was selected last week as the most representative of the nation. The national judges were a board representing seven New York newspapers.

As guest of honor at a typical American luncheon—the bill of fare for which the Texas family chose—the typical father tossed off a quip or two on being presented by Ford Building Director Black to the luncheon guests, especially two of the national judges.

“Of course we're 100 per cent for the judges.”

“Then Margaret Jean rose and said, ‘Ditto.’”

LEADERS IN EVANGELISTIC MEETING

Revival Begins Today At First Christian Church

The Rev. Spencer P. Austin of Duncan, Oklahoma, will begin his preaching at the 7:30 service Sunday evening at the First Christian church. Mr. Austin is widely known for the clarity and persuasiveness of his message. He is a young man of unusual depth and ability in the pulpit, according to those who have heard him.

His sermon subjects for the first week of the meeting are as follows:

Sunday, “America Needs a Revival”; Monday, “The Indestructible Word”; Tuesday, “The God-Planned Life”; Wednesday, “The God-Planned Church”; Thursday, “The Glory of the Church”; Friday, “How Much Are We in the Church?”

The Rev. Austin will also lead the morning services at 10:30 o'clock, using for his theme the first week “The Lord's Prayer.” These services are especially designed for personal workers, but are open to all who care to come.

John E. Hutchinson of Ft. Worth arrived in Pampa Friday evening and feels that the music situation for the meeting will be exceptionally fine. Mr. Hutchinson has a wide background of experience and will bring to Pampa an outstanding musical leadership.

The local pastor, the Rev. B. A. Norris, predicts the revival will draw large crowds and that the work done will be permanent and beneficial to the entire community. All people of the community are invited.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (AP)—The sharpest wheat price change in weeks today sent quotations tumbling almost three cents a bushel from opening highs to the lowest general level since mid-October. Heavy selling broke out after an initial price uptick of about 1/2 cent and, except for occasional recoveries, values continued to recede, closing near the day's lows and 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents below yesterday's finish. December wheat fell from the opening high of 87 to a low of 84 1/2 and closed at 84 1/2. May closed at 83 1/2-85.

Selling was attributed to uneasiness regarding the recent sharp upturn and eagerness to take profits.

Corn closed 1 to 2 cents lower, December 60 1/2, May 61 1/2; oats 1/2 down; soybeans 1/2, lower; rye 1 1/4-1 1/2 down; and land 2-5 lower.

Cattle were closed at or near the day's lows while lamb also was depressed by the action of wheat.

Fleet Block To Dictators, FDR Writes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—President Roosevelt told the American fleet tonight on the eve of the 19th annual Navy day that it was “a deterrent to those nations who would plant the heel of dictatorship across this hemisphere.”

“I pray,” he said in a letter to Secretary Knox, “that it will continue to emphasize, by its strength, our determination to remain a free people, marching steadily along the open road that holds peace of the spirit as well as a full and worthy material life.”

The chief executive's letter was published along with an exchange of greeting between the army and navy on the eve of a Navy day observance which is to be restricted “in the interests of national security.”

Progress toward realization of the ultimate goal of a two-ocean navy was disclosed, meanwhile, by an official communication showing that six new fighting ships were added to the fleet last month, four others were launched and keels of four more laid.

With the start of work on the 45,000-ton battleship New Jersey, six new dreadnaughts are on the way, and two others have been launched and are nearing completion.

Mr. Knox, Assistant Secretary Lewis Compton, and Admiral Harold R. Stark are to speak tomorrow

School Board To Meet Tomorrow

The Pampa school board will meet in regular session Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the city commission room. The meeting will be devoted to the purchase of material for the new school building.

Material to be bought by the board Monday included flooring, lockers, insulating material and materials and partitions for the toilets.

The board met twice last week and opened bids and examined material but was unable to make purchases.

on a world-wide radio broadcast, but there will be no general visit of ships of the fleet or shore stations. Vessels assigned to training reservists will receive visitors and drills and demonstrations are scheduled at many cities.

A 3-day observance of the occasion coinciding with the birthday anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt was opened today with a ceremony at the monument here to John Paul Jones, “Father of the American Navy,” where wreathes were placed by patriotic organizations.

A Political Announcement

By Henry Shoffit

I am taking this method of announcing to the voters of Precinct 1 of Gray County that I am running for Constable on a write-in ticket. Owing to false rumors that some of my enemies circulated a few days before the July Primary, I was defeated by a small majority as you all know. I invite the voters of this precinct, and Gray County to investigate these false stories from any angle you care to, and furthermore investigate my character record any place I have ever lived. I am not ashamed of any part of it. In fact, I am proud of it. And on these merits and that fact that several good citizens have complimented my work as a peace officer and have expressed themselves openly as to LeFors and community being a better place to live now than when I took office four years ago. I am asking the voters of Precinct 1 to write in Henry Shoffit's name for Constable on Nov. 5. Thanks.

You expect BIG things from FORD!

THE Ford Rouge Plant is world-famous for doing big things in a big way. Now it's producing the biggest Ford car ever built!

The 1941 Ford has an entirely new body—longer and wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Seating width has been increased as much as seven inches! Larger windshield and windows provide as much as 33% more glass area.

After you see the beauty and size of this big car, feel its faster acceleration and soft new ride—a ride produced by new, slower-action springs, improved shock absorbers, and a newly designed stabilizer that eases steering and helps maintain balance on curves or in cross winds.

How is it done? How can such a big, comfortable car have eight cylinders and this costly construction at low price?

The answer goes back to the Ford way of doing business—to the fact that Ford has built millions more cars than any one else and is satisfied with a smaller profit per car.

Get the full story from any Ford dealer. See how little it costs to trade in your present car. A 1941 Ford means a good deal!

Get the facts and you'll get a FORD!

The Great Ford Rouge Plant provides the finest manufacturing facilities in the world. Here the genius and experience of Henry Ford, plus the efficiency of Ford engineers, produce quality cars in huge volume to sell at a low price with small profit—so that when you buy a Ford, you get value far above the price you pay!

Seven Days A Week

A lot of people seem to have just discovered words like "democracy," "service," and "good citizenship." They are all in favor of the ideas, but they haven't had much experience in translating these ideas into action.

On the other hand, there are some people who have had and it is to their leadership that we can look with special interest today. The Seven Service Days of Girl Scout Week have come round to be observed in Pampa again just in time to remind us that practical democratic service and good citizenship are an old story to this largest, non-political, non-sectarian girl's organization.

Everybody seems to agree that this sort of training for resourcefulness and personal responsibility is what all our young people need. Some of us are just waking up to the fact that if our young people haven't had that training, it is our fault, not theirs.

Behind The News

By BRUCE CATTON, The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The U. S. navy is rushing the job of setting up an "air Gibraltar" at Puerto Rico, and expects to have its vast air base there ready for use next June, a whole year ahead of schedule.

The job is a big one, involving the filling-in of hundreds of acres of swamp at Isla Grande, near San Juan, and the dredging of an adjacent bay. Engineers had originally figured they could fill in the swamp with what they took out of the bottom of the bay, but when they got down to it they found out they couldn't—wrong kind of dirt, or something.

In spite of all of this, the job is way ahead of time. Right now the navy can keep only about a dozen planes at Isla Grande. Next year at this time it'll have more than 200 there.

CONTROL OF NEWSPAPERS BY ADVERTISERS

Edward J. Flynn, Democratic National Chairman, has slandered newspapers as is the habit of irresponsible, unprincipled people. Because the newspaper will not suppress news that is uncomplimentary to the Administration and will not permit the Administration to dictate what is news, he libelously infers that the newspapers are under the actual dictatorship of the policies of financial interests and their big advertisers.

It would be just as manly, just as honorable, just as fair, to accuse the majority of politicians of committing murder, or rape, or robbery, without giving evidence, as it is for the Democratic National Chairman to make this inferential question against publishers.

The question insinuating that newspapers are controlled by advertisers might be true in a very few cases, but those newspapers that are controlled by financial interests or advertisers are not the newspapers that survive. The readers are the boss of what the publishers print and, if the publishers do not print what the readers want, then the readers will start some other paper or get their news from some handbill or from radio or by personal mail, or by paid advertisements.

The statement just shows the ends and the unprincipled, unethical, immoral method of selling; class hatred and innuendo, that the Administration will go in to order to fool the voters.

Of course, every item appears in a newspaper is a question of opinion as to whether it is more useful and important to its readers than another; and, because the publisher, who is only an agent for his readers, makes a different selection than the politicians, whose judgment is prejudiced on the face of it, is certainly no reason for the head of the Democratic party to repeat the old, hackneyed claim that the newspapers are controlled by advertisers.

REAL HUMANITARIANISM As we hear so much nowadays about the great humanitarianism of people seeking public office, the question of what real humanitarianism and philanthropy in the long run is, becomes important.

Here is a masterpiece from this book: "The best forms of philanthropy, the best social institutions, are those which, while acting in accordance with the Providential plan, as revealed to us by the social harmonies—I mean the plan of progressive equality—shall cause to descend among all ranks of society, and especially the lowest ranks, knowledge, discretion, morality, and foresight."

"The tradition of the third arm in the presidency must be set aside and President Roosevelt re-elected."—Earl Browder, leader of the Communist party in the United States, who now is serving a sentence in a federal penitentiary for passport fraud.

Denver people rubbed their eyes and wondered if they were seeing correctly when they read in the Sunday Denver Post about President Roosevelt dedicating the "Franklin D. Roosevelt High School" at Hyde Park, N. Y. This school was built in part with PWA funds. Here in Denver, we have been told that the new school for crippled children cannot be called the "Charles Boettcher school" because it is against the law for a public building, financed in part with PWA money, to bear the name of any living person, and Charles Boettcher is very much alive.

SOME BITTER PILLS FOR THE DICTATORS

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26.—This was a little number called "Star Interviews Reporter," with Claudette Colbert asking the questions and me squirming in the witness chair.

It seemed like a good idea because she had just finished playing the role of a newspaperwoman in "Arise My Love." But we didn't get very far. Miss Colbert asked whether I'd ever wanted to be an actor, and I said no—not since, at the age of six, I lost by pants in a Sunday school cantata. She asked what I'd do if I were an actor and gossip-columnists kept prodding me with inquiries and false rumors about my private life. I said I'd tell 'em to go to hell.

That got us to talking about Hollywood's opinion of the movie correspondents, and I began taking notes. As a screen actress, Miss Colbert has been very much in print for 10 years; and now, the No. 1 feminine box-office star, she has lots of opinions about press and periodicals.

She believes Hollywood in general feels that correspondents, as a group, are antagonistic toward picture people. Too many writers picture scene chips on their shoulders, and there are too many bored and cynical debunkers. And, of course, too many scandal peddlers.

SEPARATION OR EMERGENCY CALL? She personally hasn't had very many unpleasant experiences, although her husband, Dr. Joel Pressman, argues philosophy of any kind is deadly. "He thinks it either makes one into an ordinary, uninteresting person," she said, "or into a personality that the public doesn't like."

Since all ethical medical men dislike publicity, Dr. Pressman is in an especially tough spot because he's constantly being mentioned in local papers—and usually in connection with divorce or separation rumors. His wife explained: "It's as simple as this—we'll go out to dinner, maybe at Chasen's. We'll be sitting there, talking about anything in the world when an emergency call comes for the doctor. Somebody across the room will say, 'Don't look now, but Colbert and Pressman have had a fight and he's walking out on her.' And the next morning it's all over town."

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

You will enjoy this entertaining story from the publicity department of William Jewell College, Liberty, Missouri: "At last Bonnie Lee Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Rose of Pampa, has been seen on a horse at William Jewell college, Liberty, Mo. When Bonnie first came to college much was heard about her love for horses and her superb horsemanship, and because she was from Texas everyone believed it. However, no one could coax her into a public exhibition until the annual homecoming celebration drew near. Then Bonnie could stand it no longer. She consented to don her cowgirl garb and to mount a horse to lead the big parade before the football game with Missouri Valley college. The day before homecoming Bonnie practiced by taking a long ride in the country away from everyone, and where she could think of Texas. By Saturday morning she was once again at her beautiful best and did a wonderful job as marshal of the parade. William Jewell college is well satisfied. On Friday Bonnie proved that horsemanship is not her only accomplishment. She tried out for cheer-leader and was chosen as one of the two girls to work with the three cheer leaders. She began her duties at the Saturday afternoon game. Another Pampa student, Jimmy Moseley, is also getting into the swing of college life. He appeared in a comedy sketch which was presented last week at a regular chapel program."

Pampa is glad that William Jewell "discovered that Bonnie is a superb horse-woman because everybody in Pampa knows that she is. We have seen her easily ride fractious horses that almost came under the bronk class."

SMOKE SCREEN

CHAPTER 11 "Impressing" The Public By Samuel B. Pettengill

One of the stealthiest means by which our bureaucracy marches on is by radio propaganda, as in Germany, February 15, 1939, the National Resources Committee, Frederic Delano, chairman, reported that whenever the general public becomes sufficiently impressed with the threatened shortage of petroleum products and the possible rise in prices for motor fuel, then the complex problem of regulating the oil and gas industry is likely to be transferred to the federal government.

A bill was written in the Department of the Interior to give Secretary Ickes control over petroleum production. The way the public was to be "impressed" with the need for the bill becomes clear from the script of various radio broadcasts written by the "chief script writer, radio section" of the Interior Department.

"As a sample, in one of the scripts it is plain that the whole intent was to promote fear over the loss of petroleum resources, and in so doing discredit the industry itself. The direction for the music is 'up wildly and fade' while the sound direction reads, 'suggest utter confusion and hysteria of population.' Then come in the following utterances one after the other: 'Doctor: I'm a doctor. I must get there at once. A woman is dying!' 'Attendant: Sorry, Doc. We haven't a drop of gasoline in the station.' 'Sound: Fire Siren. 'Firmen: (Shouting): It's the school house! And we can't move our fire engines! 'Truckdriver: (Through Filter): Listen, boss, I'm carryin' perishable goods—fruits and vegetables—on this truck. How am I gonna get them there before they spoil? 'Ticket Agent: The Twentieth Century Limited can't leave this station, Madam. You'll have to get to New York by stage coach. 'Farmer: (Surprised): Well! I will be doggone. I can't use my tractor. I can't plow my farm! 'Husband: (Ordering wife): Get the children. We'll leave the house and find a restaurant where they cook with a coal stove! 'Dispatcher: (Droning, via radio): All airplanes are grounded. All airplanes are grounded. 'Boss: You men needn't report to work tomorrow. This plant's shutting down. Can't run our machines without oil. 'Sound: Telegraph key. In and under. 'Telegrapher: SOS, SOS, Steamer America calling. Stopped in mid-ocean. One thousand aboard. Send the help at once. 'Admiral: (Dictating): To the Navy Department... Fleet unable to leave port for Pacific coast as ordered. (Radio) Guns useless without oil. Awaiting further word on... In another broadcast the god-like Narrator says, "I'm speaking for the Department of the Interior... It wouldn't let me say anything that wasn't so." (Imagine) "You've a Congress that represents you? What have you got a Congress for?" That these broadcasts are dishonest effects were all designed to scare people, ignorant that the known petroleum reserves are now greater than at any time in our history. European countries know this technique but it is a new thing in America.

Not only was this an effort to dominate the determination of public policy, and to set up a bureaucratic legislature in defiance of the Constitution which provides that all legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Loudest predictions of a dramatic military denouement as a result of Axis strategic moves in France and Spain come from Italy, not Germany. They picture for Italian home consumption something big about to happen to help Italy get on with her slow-motion war in Egypt and the eastern Mediterranean.

It will have to be something very big to get any place. There would be no short-war connotations in a siege of Gibraltar, an Axis lunge via the Dardanelles on a 2,000-mile march to the east or Axis acquisition of French or Spanish air and submarine operating bases. All imply long-war readjustments, and it is wanting hopes of a quick victory over Britain that is troubling Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini, particularly Mussolini.

Unless the new Axis technique in France and Spain—when disclosed—holds out hope to the Italian people of early escape from Britain's chokehold sea blockade, the effect on Italian public morale might become serious this winter. Italy is the weak spot in Axis armor by every indication.

Italian morale has had more rich substance on which to feed recently. Highly seasoned tales of Italian naval victories that would be of minor consequence even if true cannot conceal the slow progress of the Italian drive in Egypt. It has been "consolidating" at Sidi Barrani for weeks.

Only yesterday, the Rome radio announced that a new Italian offensive in Egypt was imminent, that Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's army in North Africa was "now ready and fully prepared to deal a final blow to the British in Egypt." But at about the same time, the Italian high command reported that Italian positions east of Sidi Barrani had been shelled by British warships.

The odds have shifted in Britain's favor since the push to Sidi Barrani began weeks ago. Graziani was credited with some 260,000 men against Britain's probable 150,000 when he signalled his troops forward. Even Rome admits that both British forces ashore in Egypt and the British fleet in the eastern Mediterranean have been recruited.

The Axis fostered talk of a siege of Gibraltar always has seemed primarily designed as a diversion. That "the rock" can be taken quickly is not conceivable to anybody who has studied its natural strength. United States (and nowhere else) "but it is also an apparent violation of criminal law enacted by Congress to protect itself and the people against such pressure. (United States Code Title 18, Section 201 enacted July 11, 1919).

This Act of Congress provides that "no part of the money appropriated by any act shall, in the absence of express authorization by Congress, be used, directly or indirectly, to pay for personal service, advertisement, telegram, telephone, letter, printed or written matter, or other device, intended or designated to influence in any manner a member of Congress, to favor or oppose, by vote or otherwise, any legislation or appropriation" with fine and jail penalties for violation. This act has been cited repeatedly in recent years on the floor of Congress, and as there has been no "express authorization" to my knowledge by which bureaucrats in the government departments may engage in radio broadcasts to propagandize Congress, it seems clear that if the Department of Justice would act, we might reduce the federal payroll by sending certain officials and their underlings to jail. But I do not indulge in that as a hope. It is merely a thought.

TEX'S TOPICS

By DeWeese

THERE probably never has been a period in American history when "The American Way" had a deeper meaning than it has today. Pampans probably never will have a better opportunity to have the thought brought more forcefully home to them than when Mrs. W. L. Benge, graduate of a Dallas dramatic school, dramatizes the Hart and Kaufman vehicle in the Holy Souls school auditorium on the night of Oct. 30.

It should be made clear that this is not to be a book review but a mighty fine dramatic interpretation of the play made famous on the stage by Frederic March and Florence Eldredge last year. It is the story of an immigrant family and what America means to that family. The locale for the drama is Mapleton, Ohio, but it could just as well be any family in any small town in the country. Mrs. W. H. Davis, Pampa, heard "The American Way" dramatized in Oklahoma City last year and recommends it as superb entertainment. The dramatic quality of the play is such that it is well worth the worth of Holy Souls parish council.

THEY'VE been putting some pictures of the skipper of this space at various spots around town to call attention to a daily radio broadcast. We stopped in one place the other night, and on the way out made reference to the funny-looking man in the picture which was posted near the cash register. "Oh, yes," said the man behind the counter as he looked us straight in the eye and missed the point entirely, "that's the guy who broadcasts the news here in Pampa." Then he flooded us with this: "I've never seen him, I guess he doesn't get around much." Which was not a form of flattery for the photographer who made that picture.

Have you ever done any detective work? It's fun—try to run down the names of the people who have been "giving you the works" on the telephone in an anonymous sort of way. Right now we believe we have the clues so assembled that we'll be able to crack the case wide open before another week is gone. Got your tickets for the Kiwanis club's Top O' Texas Revue on Nov. 6 and 7? It's a whale of a good show for a whale of a good cause. Incidentally, all members of the cast are urged to attend rehearsal at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the City Hall auditorium.

WE GOT some significant news out of Germany yesterday, but it is confidential and we can't publish it. If it were to be put in print and Hitler found out about it, no doubt the American newspaper correspondent who sent the information would be thrown in the jug. We can't understand why American newspapers cannot publish this information but we got it on a confidential basis and there's nothing we can do about it now. It begins to look as if Hitler has some kind of a plan to break up American press associations. One thing is certain, however—from here on out we're not going to believe too much of what is sent out of Germany.

Frankie Lou Keehn, featured dancer in the Kiwanis club "Top O' Texas Revue," cracked a rib the other night, but her face gets red if you ask her how it happened. Incidentally, it will not keep her from dancing in the show. Radley's Johnny Wells will be cast as Composer Bach in that hilarious "Mr. Meindelssohn" scene in the revue. Photos of some of the show's principals will reach the prints this week. Some of the town's liveliest levelers will appear in the "Lookin' Through the Window" scene, according to a report last night from Bunny Behrman who tells you that the show definitely will have eye-appeal.

THERE were more clouds over Pampa Saturday afternoon than we have seen in a month of Sundays. "Newspaper reporters are depicted in films and current literature as debauched young men goading their flagging brains into moody action by the stimulus of alcohol," says a Santa Monica, Calif., newspaperman. "But the fact is a drunken reporter is about as much use to a newspaper as celluloid pants to a fireman."

I guess I'm gonna have to miss that eclipse of the moon, Samson—I'm facing the wrong way.

Special to the NEWS: WHITE DEER, Oct. 26—Mrs. B. R. Weeks, White Deer, was elected president of the Carson county unit of the Texas State Teachers association at a meeting of the faculty of the Groom, Panhandle, Skellytown, and White Deer schools, here Wednesday afternoon.

Dalton Ford, Groom, was elected vice-president; Glenn F. Davis, White Deer, second vice-president; Miss Esther Plank, White Deer, secretary; and Mrs. K. A. Sorenson, Skellytown, treasurer.

Chester Strickland, Skellytown, J. M. Knowles, Panhandle, and Henry Young, Groom, were named delegates to the District House of Delegates, which will meet during the educational conference at Canyon in March. Wendell Cain, White Deer, was chosen as alternate.

Mr. Davis and Herbert Campbell, delegates to the State House of Delegates, which will meet at the state teachers convention in Ft. Worth, Nov. 22, were instructed by the body to vote for W. B. Irwin, superintendent at Lubbock, for president of the Texas State Teachers association, and to vote for the two amendments to the constitution which will be presented at that time. These amendments involved an increase in the percentage of membership dues to be returned to the district, and the election of state officers by voting in local units.

A committee composed of Superintendents George A. Heath, White Deer, Kellus Turner, Panhandle, and Dalton Ford, Groom, was appointed by the president to secure a speaker for an educational meeting to be held later in the year and Dr. Troxal, of Colorado State College of Education was suggested.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served through the courtesy of the White Deer school board.

Tech Homecoming To Open Nov. 15

Special To The NEWS: LUBBOCK, Oct. 26—A bonfire and pep rally Friday evening, Nov. 15, opens Texas Tech homecoming activities, Wendell Watson, alumni secretary, announced this week. The pep rally will be broadcast over radio station KFYO in Lubbock.

Social and other campus organizations will entertain visiting alumni from 8 to 9 o'clock Saturday morning. At 9 a. m. social registration and a reception for visitors will be held in one of the men's residence halls.

Campus clubs will enter floats in a homecoming parade, scheduled for 10:30 a. m. A lunch in the Aggie Grove on Tech campus will precede the Tech-Wake Forest game. Campus organizations have also been allotted the time between the game and the homecoming dances. An all-college dance at Tech gym and a dance for alumni and ex-students at a Lubbock hotel will take place Saturday evening.

Santa Fe Income Up Nearly Half Million

Paris Man Declines Re-Election After 40 Years As Demo Secretary

By W. N. FUREY
Written for The Associated Press
"Forty years is enough for one man," said A. W. Neville, veteran editor of The Paris News, when he declined re-election recently as secretary of the Lamar county Democratic committee.

Editor Neville, brevetted "judge" by friends 30 years ago while serving as recorder of the corporation court of Paris, was chosen secretary of the committee in 1900, and has tabulated the returns of all primary elections since that form of nominating candidates for public office began. The committee has had eight chairmen in the 40 years, including W. F. Moore, now chief justice of the supreme court of Texas and Tom L. Beauchamp, presiding judge of the Texas court of criminal appeals.

The ex-secretary says the work of a county committee is different now from what it was when he began. There was no primary election law in Texas then, the Terrell law not becoming effective until 1906. Before that time each county committee set the date for the primary elections as well as that for the county conventions which elected delegates to the state conventions and instructed them how to vote on state candidates for Democratic nomination. The consequence was that primary elections were held as early as April and as late as August, dependent on the decision of the county committee.

The county committee also prescribed the test for voting, which was support of the ticket from President down, as a rule, and set up such other regulations as it decided were for the good of the party. The ballots were printed by a commercial printer who collected a small fee from each candidate, and were carried about the streets by candidates and their supporters who endeavored to persuade undecided voters to cast a ballot for the candidate offering the tickets. If successful, the ticket was marked then and there and the candidate or worker accompanied the voter to the polling place and saw the ticket deposited. There was no poll tax list, and the judges could require voters, if unacquainted with their ages and residence, to make affidavit to their right to vote.

Until about 30 years ago the chairman of the county executive committee was elected by the county convention, as were the members, and the chairman named the secretary. The committeemen thereafter were elected by the voters in each precinct and the body named the secretary.

The vote in the Democratic primary on July 27 in Lamar county was almost 12,000, or about three times the vote when Secretary Neville began his work. Also the ticket was many times larger, because until the Terrell law was enacted, state candidates were not on the county election tickets.

One incident during the early years of his incumbency is recalled by Judge Neville as showing the informality of proceedings before the

A challenge to Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth in the mass automobile market is this new low-priced car, announced today by Nash Motors along with two other series of 1941 models. This low-priced Nash is a big car (194 inches long—seats nearly five feet wide), and is reported to travel 25 to 30 miles on a gallon of fuel. Left is a close-up of the attractive front. The body is of the torpedo type, and steel body and chassis are a single welded unit. The car has coil springs on all wheels, a feature never before seen in the low-priced market.

Nash Motors, one of the old-line fine car makers, today threw its hat into the low-priced automobile market ring when it announced its new low-priced, high economy car to compete in the small-car field. Melear Motor Co., 408 W. Foster street, is local agent for the Nash in Pampa.

Pictures of the car, released for the first time today, substantiated Nash's prior-announcement claim that this newest, low-priced auto would be a big automobile, and a review of features and construction principles confirm advance reports that it would be a "completely new kind of automobile."

Two other series of cars, both equipped with aeroverpowered twin-ignition, valve-in-head power plants, also were announced. They are the 1941 Nash Ambassador Eights and Sixes, and will be marketed in the medium-price fields.

The new low-priced Nash was planned more than three years ago, not long after the merger of Nash Motors with Kelvinator corporation to form Nash-Kelvinator corporation, according to George W. Mason, president. He said that engineers have been working on the car for over three years, and that features and construction principles were subjected to long-term road tests.

Prices of the new low-priced Nash were not announced, but Mason made known that they would be set in time for the New York automobile show which opens in October. First models will be in dealers' showrooms around the country late in September, it was said.

The low-priced Nash Ambassador 600 will be offered in four-door sedans with either streamlined backs, or torpedo deck backs; a coupe brougham which will seat six persons, and a three-passenger business coupe.

state took over the management of primaries. A candidate for an office in one of the county precincts told the chairman, Jere S. Crook, after the unofficial returns were made public, that he feared there had been a miscount—that only three votes had been reported for him whereas eight men had told him they had voted for him in one voting place.

Chairman Crook told the candidate he would look into the matter and named a sub-committee of three to recount the votes in that box. Only three votes were found to have been cast for this candidate, but he is not sure who the three were. The candidate said he was satisfied but that never again would he have faith in any man's election promises or statements.

When a committee could do such a thing there was no necessity for a contest, nor was there ever one in Lamar county until after the Terrell law became effective, and none of those changed the result of the returns canvassed by the committee.

Judge Neville says he has never scratched a ticket in a general election. He is a Virginian by birth and came to Paris when 15 years old.

GLITTERING MUSICAL

Superb casting highlights "Down Argentine Way," musical extravaganza in Technicolor currently at the LaNora theater. Top roles in the 20th Century-

MYSTERY AT REX

Warners melodrama, "Private Detective," teams Dick Foran and Jane Wyman, above. Returning to the type of role she portrayed in "Torchy Steps with Dynamite." Miss Wyman uses all her ingenuity to prevent her boy friend, Foran, from arresting the wrong man in the picture's puzzling murder mystery. At the Rex Wednesday and Thursday.

Early Lottery Ordered By FDR To Ease Uncertainty

PRESIDENT IGNORES ADVISERS' WARNINGS OF POLITICAL DANGER

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—President Roosevelt okayed Oct. 29 as draft lottery day despite fears of Democratic leaders.

The politicians said it was bad medicine to hold the drawing just one week before election. They feared it might anger voters. They were apprehensive of its effect on the political decision in many congressional districts and in some close states.

But, I am reliably informed, the President saw the matter from quite a different angle. It had come to his notice that many men of the draft age were hesitating about taking new jobs or starting little businesses on their own or doing other things of importance in their lives because they did not know how soon or how late they would be drawn in the draft or definitely placed in a deferred category.

It seemed to the President a good thing to relieve as many anxieties as possible and to do it as soon as possible. That's why Oct. 29 was given his O. K.

SHOW WHY
A study of the figures shows why this factor probably weighed heavily with the chief executive. Some 17,000,000 men between the ages of 21 and 36 registered on Oct. 16 last. It is not contemplated that all of these men will get questionnaires at once.

The local draft boards could not handle this vast number in a short space of time. And the army does not need such a great number of the draftees that it is necessary quickly to get the case histories of 17,000,000 men.

On the quotas assigned to the states and subdivided in the counties in the states, it is therefore highly probable that for this present year only 1,700,000 men will get questionnaires. At one blow that eliminates from consideration this year 90 per cent of the men who have registered.

CALL 5 PER CENT THIS YEAR
Of the 1,700,000 men who will get questionnaires, it is estimated that 800,000 will be placed in class one—the class that can be considered for immediate drafting into the army for one year's training.

The remaining 900,000 will be placed in class two for occupational reasons, or class three because they are men with dependents, or class four because of physical defects or other cogent reasons.

In other words, by holding the lottery now, the government will give a total of 95 per cent of the men registered the assurance, as early as possible, that they will not be called for service this year.

Boys Town Program To Be Heard On KPDN
Another in the series of Sunday afternoon radio broadcasts from Boys Town, Neb., will be carried over Radio Station KPDN from 2:15 to 2:45 o'clock this afternoon.

The program, on which Father Edward J. Flanagan, Boys Town founder, will talk, will be carried as a relay through WLW, the National Station.

Boy residents of Boys Town also will be heard on the program as well as musical selections from the Boys Town choir.

TECHNICOLOR MUSICAL FEATURES DON AMECHE, BETTY GRABLE, AND MIRANDA

Coonskin and 'Mum Season' Noted in Paramount Picture; Joe E. Brown Featured in 'Hallowe'en Prevue'; Hugo Classic Stars Laughton, O'Hara

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON
Romance, laughter, and songs—a welcome relief from the "heavy" type of drama comes wrapped up for Pampa theater-goers this week in a gill-edged entertainment labeled "Down Argentine Way."

It's in Technicolor, with Don Ameche, Betty Grable, Carmen Miranda, and Charlotte Greenwood, heading the cast of the 94-minute 20th-Century-Fox picture.

Loaded with applause-provoking singing and dancing. At the LaNora, today, tomorrow and Tuesday.

Chester Morris has a dual role in Paramount's 74-minute yarn, released to coincide with the annual open season for coonskin coats and chrysanthemums, "The Quarterback," says the Film Daily. Cast as twin brothers Morris essays the role of scholar and tough grifter.

The Misses Virginia Dale and Lillian Collier attractively decorate the picture. On the LaNora screen, Wednesday and Thursday.

Victor Hugo's classic comes to the Crown to open the week in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," featuring Charles Laughton and Maureen O'Hara.

Joe E. Brown is featured in Columbia's 69-minute comedy, "So You Won't Talk," with Joe in the dual role of the absent-minded book reviewer who is fired from his job on a newspaper, and then seeks to fulfill his ambition to write a novel—and that of a gangster who is released from Alcatraz and returns to capture his place as head of a mob.

It's the Halloween prelude at the LaNora on Thursday night. The famous Steptoeop character "Tugboat Annie," returns in Warner's "Tugboat Annie Sails Again," with Marjorie Rameau, Alan Hale, Jane Wyman, and Roland Reagan as the principals in the cast. World premiere was held in three Theatres October 18, just a week ago. At the LaNora Friday and Saturday.

"Gangs of Chicago," Republic "Crime does not Pay" drama, opens the week at the Rex, portrays events that show the legal profession strangled in corruption. Lloyd Nolan is cast as a lawyer, mouthpiece of a mob.

9,738 Car Plates Delivered Here

Employees of the Texas Highway department delivered 9,738 motor vehicle plates for 1941 to the office of the Gray county tax assessor collector Friday.

Instead of following the policy announced last year of reproducing the colors of the University of Texas, orange and white, on the passenger automobile plates, the new passenger tags are orange on black.

For 1940, the colors were those of Texas Christian university, purple and white.

Commercial tags reverse the color or arrangement of passenger, being black on orange.

Divisions of the plates, and number series of each:

Passenger, 1,500, 428-401 to 495-900; commercial, 1,300, 331-001 to 382-303; farm truck, 450, 147-151 to 147-601; trailer, 425, 33-271 to 33-695; dealers, 35, 7172 to 7206; motorcycle, 25, 2244 to 2268; side car, 3, 99 to 101.

Upsets Drop Mighty Teams Off Undeclared Roster

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Football took a terrific drubbing today as Fordham, Texas, Mississippi, Columbia, Southern California and Penn dropped off the unbeaten list, and upsets were the rule all along the line.

Still undefeated and untied when the firing was over for the day were Cornell, Navy, Georgetown, Boston College, Penn State and Lafayette in the East; Michigan, Notre Dame, Minnesota, Northwestern and Detroit in the Midwest; The Texas Aggies in the Southwest; Tennessee and Clemson in the South; and Stanford in the Far West.

All-America Tom Harmon paced Michigan to a decisive 14-0 victory over Penn, scoring one touchdown on a 19-yard sprint and passing to End Frutig for the other. A crowd of 60,000 saw Penn's ace, Frank Reagan, checked all the way.

Fordham bowed to St. Mary's of California, 9-6, on Joe Aguirre's fourth period field goal; Mississippi surrendered to Arkansas' great fourth quarter surge, 21-20; Texas, with Jack Crain unable to get going, fell before Rice, 13-0; Columbia was topped by Syracuse, 3-0, when Leland (Buck) Morris drop-kicked a field goal in the last 40 seconds.

Cornell spotted Ohio State a touchdown and then came back to rout the Buckeyes, 21-7, before a record Ithaca crowd of 34,500. Lou Bufalino scored twice in the last quarter to salt the decision away and run Cornell's unbeaten streak to 16 games.

A crowd of 63,186, biggest at Champagne in 11 years, looked on as Notre Dame, boasting its finest team in years, rolled over Illinois 26-0 with Steve Juzwik counting twice.

Navy, Georgetown, Boston College, Lafayette and Penn State, the other unbeaten Eastern outfits, won decisively. Georgetown ran its unbeaten streak to 21 games with a 26-0 rout of New York university. Navy hammered Yale into submission, 21-0. Lafayette knocked over hapless Army, 19-0; Penn State ran up an 18-0 count on Temple, and Boston College spilled St. Anselm's, 55-0.

Dartmouth surprised with a 7-5 decision over Harvard and Brown's 9-6 victory over Holy Cross also was cause for eyebrow-lifting. Princeton handed Rutgers its first defeat, 28-13 and Wesleyan defeated Amherst, in an upset, 14-6, in the first game of the Little Three series.

Minnesota turned loose all its power and trampled Iowa, 34-6, before 63,000 as George Franck scored four touchdowns.

Northwestern, with Bill De Corry on the sidelines because of an ankle sprain, had to come from behind to stop Indiana, 20-7. Wisconsin pulled a surprise by beating Purdue, 14-13, in a lively duel that saw all four touchdowns scored in the final quarter.

Michigan State and Santa Clara played to a scoreless draw but Texas Tech outpointed Marquette, 20-13.

Form held fast in the Big Six where Nebraska was too powerful for Missouri and won, 20-7; Oklahoma subdued Iowa State, 20-7, and Kansas State tripped Kansas, 20-0.

The Texas Aggies needed to call on every resource to command to turn back Baylor's Bears, 14-7, and remain unbeaten through their 16th consecutive game. Texas Christian dropped a surprise 7-0 decision to Tulsa.

Tennessee had to shake Bill Nowling and Bust Warren loose for two long runs to defeat Florida, 14-0. Georgia Tech came a cropper against Auburn's fine team, 16-7, in another Southeastern conference fray.

All Rodney's 45-yard touchdown run after a blocked kick and the ensuing extra point gave Tulane a 14-13 decision over North Carolina.

Duke's Southern conference hopefuls walloped Wake Forest, 23-0, but upsets were general in that sector otherwise. Richmond topped Virginia Military, 9-7, and Virginia Tech trounced Washington and Lee, 21-0. Furman ran up a 40-7 count on Davidson. William and Mary surprised with a 13-5 decision over non-conference Virginia.

Stanford's amazing Indians pushed over two touchdowns in the final quarter and walloped Southern California, 21-7, to remain the lone undefeated team in the Far West. It was Southern California's first defeat although the Trojans had been tied twice.

Washington had to come from behind to nip fighting California, 7-6; Oregon State gave U. C. L. A. another beating, 7-0; and Oregon surprised by holding Washington State to a 6-6 draw.

Utah threw the Rocky mountain Big Seven into an uproar with a 35-14 defeat of Denver. Colorado romped over Wyoming 62-0.

McLean Beats LeFors 47-14

Special To The NEWS

MCLEAN, Oct. 26 — Uncovering their offense in the second half, the McLean Tigers on Friday night defeated the LeFors Pirates 47 to 14 here to keep their record for the season unblemished.

Both teams played sensational ball during the first half with the score tied 14 to 14 when the half ended. McLean opened up in the second half as the Pirates faded.

Lee, fleet Tiger back, roamed the gridiron for four touchdowns with Cook, Isom and Back bagging one each. Braxton's educated toe kicked five out of seven points after touchdowns.

Barbard and Twigg each scored for LeFors in the first half and Twigg added two points from placement to put the game on an even footing in the first half. The two and Ammons played outstanding ball for the Pirates but they were never able to break loose in the last half. Oldham and Jones played bang-up games in the LeFors line.

McLean's blocking, especially in the second half, was outstanding. The defensive play of Dyer and Paul Bond, ends, Combs, tackle, and Roth, guard, was sensational.

The Tigers have rung up 97 points in their last two conference games with LeFors the only team to score on them.

Housewives and Mothers Advised To Learn How Social Security Operates

By Mrs. Ellen S. Woodward

Member Social Security Board

Housewives and mothers of America have a vital interest in the federal social security program—particularly in the old-age and survivors insurance part of this program. This new form of insurance is an important factor in the lives of the women who form the center of American family life.

Consequently they should familiarize themselves with the family protection which results from their husbands' participation in this insurance system. The wife of a worker covered by old-age and survivors insurance can take definite steps to see that her family has all the protection to which it is entitled, and she should learn what these are.

Age 60 Group

There are three groups of women who have special interests in social security. First is the wife whose husband is approaching the age of 65. Let us take the case of a wife of 60 who has a husband 62 years old. Through the years they have been relatively successful.

He has worked for a company that has paid him a good wage, and his salary from 1937 until the present time has averaged $225 a month. That salary of $225 a month may be expected to continue until 1943, when the husband reaches the age of 65. At that age he expects to retire.

When this man retires in 1943, a Government check for about $40 will be paid to him each month. When the wife reaches 65 two years later, an additional check equal to half the amount of the husband's benefit will be paid to the wife. And that will bring the family benefit of this aged couple up to $58.63 a month.

How much this aged couple will eventually receive depends of course on how long they live, for those payments will go right on until they die. But if each of them lives until 1955 their social security income will have totaled more than $8,000. If they both live to be 85, the total

White Deer Bucks Strangle Rangers At Perryton 27-0

Special To The NEWS

WHITE DEER, Oct. 26 — The White Deer Bucks, coached by B. E. McCullum, showed lots of spirit and power in swamping the Perryton Rangers 27-0 Friday night at Perryton. The Bucks scored in the second quarter on a 28-yard sprint by "Jake" Weaver, twice in the third, and once in the fourth.

The first quarter ended scoreless with neither team seriously threatening, but early in the second quarter Jimmie Russell intercepted a forward pass on the 50-yard line, and "Jake" Weaver scored a few minutes later. The second Buck touchdown was set up when Wayne Tomlin, center, intercepted a Perryton pass and scampered to the 11-yard line. Later in the third quarter Jimmie Russell stole another Perryton aerial attempt, and ran 55 yards down the side line to score. He also intercepted another pass in the same period and carried the ball to the three-yard line, but White Deer was off side on the play and the ball was returned to Perryton. The last score was made by Russell on a 53-yard run which started as a straight line plunge and developed into a touchdown play.

All eleven of the White Deer Bucks played good, hard football. In the line the play of Charles Noel and Melvin Gores was good, and the defensive play of Wayne Tomlin, center, was outstanding. A. C. Hourigan continued to spark the White Deer attack with his excellent kicking. His first two conversion attempts after touchdowns were good, the third wide, and the fourth, although blocked, he carried over for the point. Jimmie Russell in the backfield continued his hard driving and excellent line backing.

For Perryton, Lilly, the left half, played outstanding ball. He did some nice passing, and was extremely hard to stop on ground plays.

Overstreet Rites Held At White Deer

Special To The NEWS

WHITE DEER, Oct. 26 — Final tribute was paid to Mrs. J. B. Overstreet here Friday afternoon at the Baptist church, with Rev. Hermon Coo, pastor, Rev. J. E. Stephens, pastor of the Methodist church, and Rev. Hubert Travis, pastor of the Presbyterian church, conducting the services.

Mrs. Overstreet died Wednesday afternoon in a Pampa hospital from complications resulting from a fall several weeks ago.

Missouri Hamm was born in Marion county, Texas, in 1870, and was married to J. B. Overstreet in Kaufman county, Texas, 53 years ago. They later moved to Oklahoma, where they lived for sixteen years, before coming to White Deer in 1908. Mr. Overstreet died on Jan. 7, 1940.

Mrs. Overstreet was a charter member of the local Baptist church and a member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

She is survived by four sons, Jesse of Loco, Okla., Rufus, of Hereford, Emmett, of Amarillo, and Charles, of White Deer; and four daughters, Mrs. Dwight Upham of Pampa, Mrs. Artie Morrow, Mrs. Bob Banks, and Mrs. Geneva Schmidt, all of White Deer.

Funeral services were held at the home of W. W. Evans, Leslie Sheppard and Joe Sheppard of Panhandle, and Albert Matheson and F. E. Evans of White Deer.

Funeral girls were Dolores Bishop, Irma Ray Smith, Pauline Darnell, Evelyn Gray, Martha Jo Freeman, Fern Lane, Anna Lou Anderson, Max Helen Pickens, Jean Beth Culbertson, and Alma Ruth Edwards.

Burial was in the White Deer cemetery.

Young Wives

The three groups of women who have a special interest in social security are the young wives with small children. Let's take the case of a wife who has three children—Tommy, who is 7 years old, Sally, who is 4, and little Robert, who is only one year old. Her husband is receiving wages of $190 a month. This is his fourth year of coverage under the social security act. Suppose that tomorrow this husband, and the father of the family, is killed by an automobile.

He has bought a little private insurance, enough to take care of immediate expenses. But certainly not enough to give any permanent security to a young widow with three small children. The result of old-age and survivors insurance payments in this case is to hold the family together.

This widow is entitled to a monthly check, and each child is entitled to a monthly check until the age of 18. Checks in the amount of $70.72 a month will begin to go out to that family next month. And through the next 17 years while the children are growing up, the federal government will pay to that family more than $14,900 in insurance payments. If at the age of 65 the widow is still unmarried, monthly checks will begin again for her. These may bring the total through the years to 15, 18, or 20 thousand dollars or more, depending upon how long she lives.

These three groups of women—the woman approaching old age, planning for the retirement of her husband; the woman in middle age, whose children are now starting lives of their own; the mother with

Shamrock Swamps Lakeview 33 To 0

Special To The NEWS

SHAMROCK, Oct. 26 — The Shamrock Irish football team maintained its undefeated record in conference play here Friday night by trouncing the Lakeview Eagles 33 to 0.

It was the Irish from the opening whistle to the final gun. The Eagles were placed in a delectable receive but were forced to kick from their own twenty after three line plays had netted one yard. Shamrock took the ball on its own forty five and an end sweep by Galbreath followed by a lateral pass to Rives placed it on the Lakeview twenty. On the next play Sewell shot off tackle to score standing up.

The Irishmen ran two more touchdowns and kicked one goal to make the score twenty to nothing in the first quarter.

The Irish reserves then took over and pushed over two more touchdowns, one in the second period and one in the third, Ewton, a substitute end dropped a point after touchdown in the third period.

For the Lakeview Eagles, Mark Williams, captain and quarterback, was the only player that could gain against the heavier Irishmen. He made several yards thru the line and chalked up Lakeview's sole first down of the game.

New Mexicans Beat Wayland 18 To 7

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 26 (AP)— Coach Stu Clark's New Mexico Normal University Cowboys chalked up their second win of the season here today, trouncing the Wayland College Jackrabbits of Plainview, Tex., 18-7.

The game played on a neutral field was a feature of the New Mexico Educational Association convention.

The Cowboys got their first touchdown in the opening moment of play, when they recovered a fumble by Melroy Denby. Wayland scored on the eight yard line and scored on a pass from Halfback George Clark to Quarterback Madison.

Later in the same period, O. Robinson, sub halfback, plunged four yards for the second Normal score. Wayland's score came in the second quarter, on a short pass to Leot Tate, who completed another pass for the extra point.

Texans Build Up Influence In Congress Through Seniority

By L. T. EASLEY
Associated Press Staff
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The influence of Texans in congress was built up through the seniority of many of its members, whose years of service on committees elevated them to chairmanships. This was the route Representative Sam Rayburn followed to the speakership of the house, as did Vice President John Garner before him.

That Texas should retain that influence so long as the democrats are in the majority, is seen in the fact that vacancies in the state's delegation are almost invariably filled by men young enough to go through the waiting period and reach the top in their mental and physical prime.

For example, Representative Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City entered the house at 27 three years ago to succeed the late James P. Buchanan, who was chairman of the appropriations committee. Johnson was named to the naval affairs committee and since has risen from sixteenth to seventh place among democrats on it. Representative Lindley Beekworth of Gilmer was elected to congress at 25, in 1938. The man scheduled to succeed Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the house agriculture committee, is Eugene Worley of Shamrock, 31. Few Texans in recent years have been elected to congress for the first time when past 40.

Recently a thief slipped into the office of Representative Poage of Waco in the new house office building and stole from a desk his wife's purse, which contained among other things $80. Mrs. Poage had been alone in the office writing and stepped into an adjoining room for just a moment. The purse was later found on another floor of the building, only the money missing.

This verse, dedicated to Captain

Elliott Roosevelt, was inserted in the Congressional Record by Representative Harter (R-NY):
"I am a dashing captain in the good old U.S.A.
For Papa is the president and always has his way,
He thinks his sons are just too good to carry gun and pack;
To march and train and drill with the boys from down across the track.
So while those boobs are slaving hard for just one buck a day,
I'll cock my feet upon a desk and draw a captain's pay."

Representative Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls was among the leaders in a block of southern democrats who forced the Ranspock civil service bill back into conference, primarily because it contained an amendment to eliminate the attaching of picture to civil-service job applications.

"If this amendment is adopted, there is no way of knowing whether the prospective employee is black or white," Gossett told the house. "If this amendment becomes law, employees must be chosen with no idea of their appearance or physical characteristics."

Terminating the amendment a "sop to the negro voters," Gossett recalled the experience of a friend who had charge of an office here, and who sent to the civil service commission for a stenographer. All three of the eligibles sent by the commission were negroes.

"I think that most, if not all, of us are sincerely in favor of a merit system," concluded Gossett, "but when I observe some of the things that are being done under the guise of merit and when I read this report (bill as agreed upon by conferees of both the house and senate) I am inclined to exclaim: 'o merit, the many things that are committed in thy name.'" tion to adapt its activities to emergencies and expedients. We have been giving the Girl Scout program and purposing very careful study in light of these times and our conclusion is that Girl Scouting is definitely not a fair-weather movement—that its principles and activities are as good and as helpful in stormy times as they are when the sailing is smooth," Mrs. Culberson explained.

"Increased emphasis upon community service is timely, of course," she added, "and is even given extra emphasis in the 1940-41 plans for activities. A nation-wide chain of service bureaus to act as centers for volunteer work which Girl Scouts may do has been established."

In Pampa the service bureau desires to provide volunteer aid to various local welfare and community organizations. But this plan, Mrs. Culberson explained, is new to Girl Scouting only in its mechanics. Girl Scouts have been doing useful odd jobs for community welfare since they were first organized twenty-eight years ago.

"Because there is increased need for serious, disciplined, dependable volunteer help, we have merely developed the facilities providing it," Mrs. Culberson said. "The girls need outlets for their desire to help, and here, again, we find that the things they know how to do, developed through their Scouting experience, makes them resourceful, energetic volunteers who make a good job of the services they undertake."

"In fact, I believe that we all could take a leaf out of the Girl Scout book," Mrs. Culberson said, "and begin building stability, democracy, and good citizenship right where they begin—in ourselves and in our homes."

Al Smith Says He Was 4 Years Ahead

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—Alfred E. Smith declared tonight that when he took his famous "walk" in 1936 he was "about four years ahead of the parade."

"My advice was ignored then," he added, "and look at the mess we're in today."

The former New York governor spoke in the civic opera house in his second speech in behalf of Republican Presidential Nominee Wendell L. Willkie. The talk, sponsored by the "no third term Democrats of Illinois," was broadcast by the Mutual Broadcasting system.

"Four years ago I stood upon this platform and at that time I had all of the New Deal I could take," Smith said.

Texas Congressman To Help Draw First Numbers For Draft

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Draft Director Clarence A. Dykstra, announcing that four cabinet members and a congressman would draw the first numbers in next Tuesday's historic "conscription lottery," assured the nation today that there was "no possibility of favoritism" in the process.

"In this momentous operation of the law of chance," Dykstra said in a statement "representatives of all walks of life will receive identical privileges."

The drawing, to determine the order in which 800,000 men will be called for a year's military training by next June 15, is to be held in the "Interdepartmental Auditorium" between the capitol and the White House.

As officials rushed preparations for its conduct, word went out to local selective service boards that all registrations cards must be given a serial number and the list of numbers posted publicly before the drawing starts.

President Roosevelt will open Tuesday's ceremony with a brief address, and Secretary of War Stimson will draw the first of the 8,500 blue capsules containing the serial numbers from the gold fish bowl used for the same purpose during the World War.

Stimson will be followed, Dykstra said, by Navy Secretary Knox, Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, Attorney General Jackson and Representative Paul Kilday, Texas Democrat, in that order.

Senator Clark For President Roosevelt

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26 (AP)—Senator Bennett Champ Clark (D-Mo.), who voted as a delegate at the Chicago convention against the renomination of President Roosevelt, broke his campaign silence tonight to announce his support of the President for a third term.

"I am a life-long Democrat," Clark declared in a prepared address, "but if I believed that the election of any other candidate promised greater safety and well-being for the nation as a whole, I would unhesitatingly leave my party, and my seat in the United States senate and give him my whole-hearted support."

He said an examination of Wendell Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee, and his campaign "leads me to this conclusion."
Saying he had all his life opposed "a third term for any president," Clark continued, "No matter what may be the views of anyone upon the third term we are now faced with the hard practical question of supporting the Democratic nominee or the alternate of supporting Mr. Willkie."

"In all candor, the closest scrutiny of Mr. Willkie and his completely uncontrolled, erratic and disingenuous approach to the issues of the day convinces me that he is not fit to be president of this great country."

continued at increased speed. London had seven daylight air raids alarms and an eighth shortly after midnight with an untold number of casualties and considerable property damage to private homes and apartments.

The war considerable activity in the channel area. Within sight of watchers on the English shore RAF squadrons bombed a German convoy and English coastal batteries shelled a small fleet of German torpedo boats manuevering along the French coast.

British pilots also resumed their attack on the German long-range guns near Cap Gris Nez.

The Germans, intensifying the war at sea, claimed to have hit the 42,348-ton liner Empress of Britain with aerial bombs off North Ireland and to have left her sinking. The ship was used on the return trip of King George and Queen Elizabeth from North America in the summer of 1939.

The British admiralty declined comment.
The British air ministry announced the usual RAF flights over Germany and German-occupied territory took place with bombs dropping on the naval base at Kiel, on Bremen and Cuxhaven and the channel invasion bases.

Various industrial centers likewise were attacked. The ministry said, in the Mediterranean area Italy was reported to have suspended air service to Greece until November 4, and many believe some action against the Greeks was imminent.

The official Rome radio also announced that the long expected Italian offensive in Egypt was about to begin.

British Following Presidential Race

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The British are following the United States presidential race with a more avid interest than they have paid to any political campaign outside the British Isles in many years.

The national press carries stories day and night, illustrated with photographs of vigorous electioneering incidents far removed from the sedate English trend.

As a whole, the newspapers have taken no sides. They have told their readers that both President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie are committed to a continuation of aid for Britain.

will be the national lottery to be held in Washington Tuesday.

Pellets containing numbers are to be drawn from a fish bowl. From the numbers drawn, a master list will be compiled and order numbers assigned.

Thus, should 214 be the first number drawn it would mean that all 214s in the United States would be in class 1, the next number in class 2, and so on.

Order numbers will be assigned for the various registration numbers.

Questionnaires are to be mailed by local boards to registrants who have five days in which to fill them in and return the documents.

However, the questionnaires will not be sent out until the order numbers are received.

Counties will be given 21 days from the time their quota is assigned in which to see if the number of men required cannot be obtained by volunteer enlistments.

This information was obtained by Chairman Sturgeon following a trip to Austin last week.

Wounded AP Writer Strapped Self To Horse To Report Russo-Jap War

Against all the excitement and romance of men and events of the past hundred years, a story unique in the whole panoramic history of headlines reached the public today through the covers of a strikingly illustrated book.

The title of the work is AP—The Story of News and in dramatic sweep it recounts for the first time the actual, first-hand experiences of a procession of reporters from the beginning of news gathering to the rise of the present-day Associated Press as the world's oldest and largest news association, of which The Pampa News is a member.

The author is Oliver Gramling, a newspaperman since he obtained his first job as a $5-a-week reporter at the age of 15. He was assisted by William A. Kinney, now of the Washington staff of The Associated Press. The illustrations are by Henry C. Barrow, whose editorial page cartoons appear daily in scores of papers over the country.

The story begins with the origin of systematic news gathering in Boston in 1811. Ominous events were shaping the destiny of the War of 1812 was, in the offing, yet the people had no way of obtaining fresh news. Neither the telegraph, the wireless nor the telephone had been invented and public information traveled only by word of mouth.

The tavern or the coffee house, rather than the so-called newspapers of the day, was the best place to find out what was going on, and Boston was the trading center of the New World.

Into this setting appeared a young Bostonian, Samuel Toppliff, who went into the harbor by rowboat to obtain news from the incoming schooners. He gathered what information he could wheedle from the merchantmen of the world and recorded it in a news book, Boston's famed Exchange Coffee House, where merchants and patrons came to read.

This enterprise marked the real beginning of news gathering and of Toppliff's efforts came the newspaper practice of obtaining and printing daily news.

The first phase of AP—The Story of News deals with these pioneering efforts, the battles between competing news men, and the eventual founding of the first news-gathering association—The Associated Press—in 1848. From that meager beginning the practice of gathering news grew until the AP, as it is familiarly known today, spends $11,000,000 annually to obtain the intelligence of the world for the newspaper it serves. It is from this source that The News receives the bulk of the world news which it publishes for its thousands of readers.

AP—The Story of News, however, is more than a recital of the evolution of one news organization. Great names in newspaper history fill the pages of the book, which is primarily concerned with recounting the first-hand experiences of reporters on the scene of world events from the War of 1812 to the present day.

The book tells of the high-collared reporters who covered the Civil War; of Lawrence Grogg who wrote the story of Lincoln's assassination; of Mark Kellogg who trotted to death beside Custer; of the men who covered the famous Johnstown flood; of Kiriloff who strapped himself on a horse after being shot in the lung and rode across the strewn battlefields to report the Russo-Japanese war; of the men who covered the first World War and of those now on assignment in the war-torn areas of Europe and the Far East.

AP—The Story of News also relates the development of communications systems by which the news is sped, as well as the perfection of the "modern miracle" of newspaper science by which a mechanism called Wirephoto speeds news pictures across continents within minutes after they are snapped to be printed side by side with the stories they illustrate.

The book, now available in stores throughout the country, was published by Farrar & Rhinehart. It contains 508 pages and 32 full page illustrations. Advance reviews have termed it "the outstanding non-fiction travelogue by word of mouth."

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 26 (AP)—The acrid residence-divorce battle of Guy L. Waggoner, 57-year-old sportsman, and his 32-year-old sixth wife, Virginia Green Waggoner of Fort Worth, went over today to a new week of court hearings.

Still unsettled was the question of who divorces whom, and where.

Halloween Dance Entertains Sub Deb Club Members And Guests

Just Between Us Girls

By Johannie Davis

Halloween is approaching but no matter how well the kids do this year, the stockings won't seem much when compared with Europe—Charlie Guy.

Buggy Ride

Two local young women, Miss Cleora Stanard and Miss Winifred Wiseman, created quite a sensation last Sunday afternoon when they arrived at an afternoon tea dressed in gay ninety costumes and riding in a buggy driven by L. F. Ward, whose hobby seems to be collecting such contrivances.

American Album

Which reminds us that "Brigham Young" effects in bonnets and forehead curls are new. Also straight from the American album are adaptations of the hairdos that Betty Ross, Dolly Madison, Anne Rutledge, and Lillian Russell wore.

Hats

A woman wears a hat for show. The decoration's red and gold. Man, simple chap, wears hat as cap To keep himself from catching cold.

No New Skill

This week many Pampanians heard Mrs. F. E. Leech review the delightful book, "Mrs. Miniver," by Jan Struther. From this fiction success of England preceding the war we find: "In ordinary times the majority of grown-up people never try to acquire any new skill at all, either mental or physical, which is why they are apt to seem, and feel, so old."

A Talented Youngster

is three and one-half-year-old Charlotte Ann Call, who appeared recently in her first floor-length dress, to give a clever reading, "Envy."

Club Rooms

Pampa club women are proudly pointing to the newly decorated city club room with its freshly painted walls and new ceiling.

Those who raise flowers find that if they pick them lavishly, the plants will continue to bear many flowers; if they save them carefully and do not allow them to be touched, they will go to seed and wither and die. Flowers are not the only pleasures that are doubled and trebled if they are shared. Many of the greatest joys of life will shrivel away if we try jealously to keep every bit for ourselves.

Trophy Awarded

Queen of the autumn flower, the chrysanthemum, was proudly displayed in many varieties at the annual garden chrysanthemum show where Mrs. J. B. White was awarded the Gertrude Fisher trophy for the best specimen. This trophy was named for Mrs. E. B. Fisher of Corpus Christi a former Pampanian, who was active in the local club.

Air Raids

Londoners' reaction to the air raids is described by Caroline Haslett of England, international vice-president of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs: "We all troop down to our shelters when the siren goes. I take a file of papers down with me and find it gives an opportunity to catch up with some one's reading work. We no longer have newspaper placards in the streets, because this would be an unnecessary waste of paper, but our ingenious newspaper sellers chalk up headlines on boards."

Family Repartee

"Woman is strange," my father said. "Man has much the sounder head," "Yes," said mother, whose wit was keen. "Sound as a nut is what you mean."

Girl Scout Week

October, the busiest month of the year for Girl Scouts, includes the observance of National Girl Scout Week, October 27-November 2. For the first time Pampa will have a Girl Scout director, Miss Sallie Cahill, to assist in outlining activities of this week.

Only this week we were reminded of the similarity between ancient history and the Bible. From the very slight wear and tear upon the average family Bible, the surprise is great that it doesn't look brand new.

Horace Mann P-TA To Sponsor Feast, Fun, Frolic Night

Horace Mann school's annual feast, fun, and frolic night, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, will be held at the school Tuesday night. Ghosts, witches, and skeletons are to roam the halls and bright pumpkin faces and black cats will appear around corners and under chairs.

Good food and fun for everyone is to be the theme of this event, according to those who are in charge of arrangements. Entertainment will include a negro minstrel with jokes and songs by colored folks, spook shows, dancers in colorful costumes from Kathryn Vincent Steele's school. Shows, both silent and talkies, fish ponds, with numerous surprises, fortune telling by experts, and many other attractions will be among the features of the evening.

Highlighting the entertainment will be the crowning of the school's king and queen, who are chosen and voted on by the students.

Serving will begin promptly at 6 o'clock in the dining room which will be in the auditorium. Girl Scouts are to serve pop corn balls and ice cream. Also candy and drinks will be sold.

Mrs. Hunkapillar Speaks At City Council P-TA

Pampa City Council of Parent-Teacher associations met Thursday at the high school for a short business meeting and a talk on "What a City Council Should Do" by Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar.

She emphasized the importance of meeting in such a council once each month to let each unit contribute their best plans and accomplishments so that others may also make use of them. We feel that Pampa City Council should bring one outstanding speaker or educator to Pampa each year so that all the parents of the school district might be benefited by hearing him, Mrs. Hunkapillar added.

Supt. L. L. Stone stressed the importance of National Education Week, November 10-16, and asked all parents to take an active part in the celebration this year which he plans to carry to all schools, churches, and civic clubs in the city.

Mrs. McKenzie Reviews Book At Home Progress Club

Special To The NEWS
MIAMI, Oct. 26—"My Days of Strength," an autobiography by Annie Walter Fearn, M. D., was reviewed before the Home Progress club, Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. K. McKenzie. The scene of most of the book is China. It gives a particular insight into the superstitions, cures and customs of that country. When a very young woman, the author went to China to stay a year and stayed over 40. She established her own hospital in Shanghai.

While not a missionary, she played a definite part as an ambassador of mercy in the unenlightened bounds of that great city.

Mrs. Ross Cowan was hostess and had as her guests, in addition to the club, Mmes. Lawrence Maddox, Alfred Cowan, Willis Clark, and W. D. Allen.

Colorful Event Given At Hotel After Ball Game

Among the events of the week-end given to entertain the younger set was a Halloween nickelodeon dance honoring Sub Deb club members and guests at the Schneider hotel Friday evening following the Pampa and Plainview football game.

A Halloween color note was stressed in decorating the ballroom, and masks were presented to each guest.

Sponsors for the evening were Mrs. Violet McAfee, Mrs. Wade Thomasson, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Culberson, and Mrs. Bruton.

Registering were Zada Watkins, Carolyn Darnell, Carl Hills, Dorothy Mescher, Leon Holmes, Jerry Smith, Glen Sartor, Clinton Stone, Betty Jean Myers, Glen Roberts, Bill Ward, Bobby Burns, Max McAfee, Frances Shier, Howard Willingham, Ada Arthur, Harold Nicholson, Hoyt Rice, Dorothy Micklins, Jack Baker, Betty Lea Thomasson, Mary Gurley, Flint Berlin, Jerry Smith, Edwin Vollmert, Jack Johnson, Kenneth Lard, Calvin Skaggs, John McCoy, Ray Redman, Joe Cargile, Betty Jane Sperry.

All Club Women Offered Tickets To Convention

Special To The NEWS
PLAINVIEW, Oct. 26—A trip to Austin for $5 the round trip will be available to every federated clubwoman of the seventh district, whether or not she is to be a delegate.

Clubwomen of Plainview, interested in promoting the election of Mrs. J. W. Walker as president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, first made arrangements for buses to carry all the voting delegates from the approximately 200 clubs in the district.

So widespread has been the enthusiasm, numerous requests from non-voting clubwomen have been pouring in to the chamber of commerce office for permission to take advantage of the special bus rates.

The result is the arrangement with Joe Bowman of Lubbock, president of the South Plains, New Mexico and Oklahoma Counties, Inc., for a sufficient number of buses to transport every clubwoman in the district to Austin the second week of November. Reservations must be made by Nov. 4, however, with Pete Smith of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce.

The buses will be first class, comfortable in every way, and will travel straight through to Austin where they will be available throughout the convention for transporting the delegates and other clubwomen of this district to and from the Federation headquarters and the Driskill hotel, where the Seventh district women are making reservations.

Plainview clubwomen are urging all who can go by bus rather than automobile, because the trip will be "safer, less expensive, will help designate the district as one lively unit and create the proper spirit of pep and enthusiasm."

A hostess on each bus will be responsible to the bus driver and represent the passengers. She will carry a list of all the passengers, points where they join the bus, instructions in detail as to the plans for the district women after arrival on Austin, Seventh district badges to be worn at the convention and other information.

Here is the schedule of departure,

Miss Wischkaemper And Clifford Bednorz Wed At White Deer

Special To The NEWS
WHITE DEER, Oct. 26—Miss Erlene Wischkaemper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wischkaemper of Shamrock, became the bride of Clifford Bednorz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bednorz of White Deer, in a beautiful ceremony Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church in White Deer.

Miss Helen Urbanczyk was maid of honor and Miss Angeline Urbanczyk, bridesmaid. Leonard Bednorz, brother of the bridegroom, who is on leave from the U. S. navy, served as best man, and Chester Bednorz was the bridesmaid's attendant. Vincent Urbanczyk ushered. Little Vivien Brake was flower girl and her sister, Joyce, was train-bearer.

Following the marriage ceremony, after a short instruction by Father DeBruyn, the couple received holy communion and special blessing during nuptial mass said by Father DeBruyn.

The bride wore a white satin gown with sweetheart neckline beaded with pearls, and veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of small white roses and blue chrysanthemums. Her train was carried by little Joyce Brake, who wore a pink dotted swiss frock.

Miss Helen Urbanczyk wore a blue silk net dress and carried a bouquet of large white chrysanthemums, and Miss Angeline Urbanczyk wore a similar costume and carried pink chrysanthemums.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Dinner was served at 5 o'clock, and afterward the party went to Panhandle for a dance with music by the Rhythm Crowners.

The couple plan to live in White Deer, where Mr. Bednorz is employed at the Cargray plant.

Guests attending the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wischkaemper and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wischkaemper and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wischkaemper and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wischkaemper and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herschell, all of Shamrock; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brake and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Flaherty and family, and Misses Dorothy and Elizabeth Bednorz, of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wheatley, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Minter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Grundy, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weatherall, Mr. and Mrs. N. V. Anney, Mrs. T. R. Swinford, Mrs. C. E. Taylor, and Mrs. Mark Michael, of the Cargray plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huddleston, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Haiduk, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Haiduk and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Haiduk and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Haiduk and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Urbanczyk and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bednorz, and John Bednorz, all of White Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haiduk, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haiduk and family, and Mr. and Mrs. George Rohm and family, of Panhandle.

Officers Installed At Alathean Class Luncheon In Church

Alathean Sunday school class of First Baptist church held a foot-steps luncheon and installation of officers in the dining room of the church recently.

Decorating the table was an ocean scene flanked with tall white tapers. White chrysanthemums were used on the remaining tables and plate favors were blue and pink shoes filled with mints. The place cards were vari-colored shoes inside which the programs were printed as follows:

"Stepping Up the Scale," group singing by the class; "Footprints in the Sands of Time," Mrs. P. O. Gaut; "Footsteps of Jesus," a solo, Mrs. J. T. Engle; "In His Steps," installation service conducted by Paul Briggs, who used the ship as a mode of travel for the class and scriptures Matthew 4:19 and John 8:12.

In the ocean a merchant ship was placed representing the president, Mrs. Leonard Olson. An ocean liner and convoys were the membership vice-president, Mrs. E. G. Kirby, and her group captains, Mmes. L. H. Simpson, R. Cartright, R. E. Thomas, and G. H. Johnson; helpers, Mmes. R. Richardson, W. M. Elliott, Tandy Bruce, and H. Hergshelmer; the oil tanker was the stewardship vice-president, Mrs. P. O. Gaut; a coast guard cutter represented the class ministries vice-president, Mrs. Howard Lockhart; a small yacht was used for the fellowship vice-president, Mrs. W. C. Gillmore.

"Every ship must have a log book and radio transmitting set, therefore, the secretary, Mrs. L. L. Allen, keeps the log book and broadcasts the news. Also the ship has to have a helm to be guided by, who is Mrs.

Mrs. Kelley Gives Demonstration At Bell HD Meeting

"Always hang a chicken to be killed by using a clothes hanger, bending the ends to hook the chicken's feet," Mrs. Julia E. Kelley told members of the Bell Home Demonstration club in a meeting this week at the home of Mrs. Melvin Whitechurch.

"Cross the chicken's wings in the back, put its feet in the hanger and hang on the clothes line or some suitable height," continued Mrs. Kelley. "This is done to keep the chicken from flopping and bruising itself and getting in the dirt. Then hold the chicken's head and with a knife cut the jugular vein right next to its head. After all, it is a more merciful death than wringing or cutting the head off by using the axe. The meat will have a better flavor, too."

Mrs. Kelley made several attractive dishes using chicken as the base, chicken mousse, chicken soufflé, and chicken salad which were served buffet style with iced tea to the group.

During the business session with Mrs. Jess Morris, president, presiding, the following officers were elected for 1941:

President, Mrs. C. M. McKnight; vice-president, Mrs. Roland Dauer; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Conner O'Neal; reporter, Mrs. H. H. Keahey; assistant reporter, Mrs. Jess Morris; council representative, Mrs. Ernest McKnight; and council alternate, Mrs. Melvin Whitechurch.

Plans were made for a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Morris on November 1.

Attending were Mrs. Laddie Kotara and son, Jerry, of White Deer, visitors; Mmes. Vern Wyatt of Skellytown, T. S. Skibinski, Conner O'Neal and daughter, Peggy, C. McKnight, Roland Dauer, H. H. Keahey, and Jess Morris, members.

Three Delegates To Attend Convention

Special To The NEWS
CANADIAN, Oct. 26—Mrs. W. C. Isaacs, Mrs. John H. Jones, and Mrs. Ferman Williams plan to leave Monday for Waco to attend the annual Texas convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Isaacs has been treasurer of the local organization for more than 30 years; Mrs. Jones is secretary, and Mrs. Williams is president, succeeding last year to the vacancy left by the death of Mrs. J. F. Johnson who had filled that office for more than 30 years.

GOOD LIGHTING DOES THIS TO DARNING

Why is darning so much harder than reading? Because the color of the darning cotton and material is usually about the same . . . the materials are often dark and absorb much of the light . . . and threads and needles are small.

Better lighting reduces the handicap of poor color contrast between the darning cotton and the goods. More light compensates for the dark material, and also serves to "magnify" the size of the needle and thread.

SERIAL STORY

NEW YORK JUNGLE

BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

YESTERDAY, Sidney follows Nella to the swimming pool, arrives in time to see Lesencoff...

MARTA REVEALS A SECRET CHAPTER XVII

AFTER the doctor's second visit, everyone in the house knew that Nella Langdon was a victim of psychic dumbness...

People afflicted with psychic dumbness or blindness became so, he explained, because they had heard or seen sights so terrible that their nervous systems refused to recognize them and relate them...

"What can Nella have seen?" Marta asked Sidney when they were alone together in the library, later in the day...

"God knows," Sidney replied. "To guess is to accuse, and I am not prepared to do that. Neither, I believe, is Plozman."

"Aren't there drugs that may be used to free her?"

"Yes, but they are not always successful and cannot be employed without the consent of relatives. I imagine Hugh, as the nearest relative, might not wish them tried."

Abruptly Sidney switched the subject. "Barkes said he saw a shadow against your curtain at 6 o'clock last night, Marta. Have you an idea who made it?"

A QUICK flush burned Marta's face. She turned from him, and stared out the window at the dripping trees, green now from their long drenching...

me all you know," he said gently. Marta faced him, eyes despairing. "It was Adam's own shadow the chauffeur saw," she said simply...

A quick frown darkened Sidney's face. Langdon's conduct remained inexplicable to him.

"Don't judge him too harshly, Sidney," Marta said in a low tone. "You were in California when he came back from his hunt in India last year, after he'd had that terrible brush with a tiger..."

"So he continued to use the drug?" Sidney guessed. "Yes," Marta admitted. "When he got back we decided to fight the fear as well as the drug—together. He and Hugh and I came down here and we saw him through."

"You dear girl!" Sidney's eyes were moist. "HE thought himself safe, Sidney. We believed it, too. He decided he must prove himself by going on another hunt and though we tried to dissuade him, he felt that he had to go."

"That took courage," Sidney commented. "Adam was fine, when he was himself," Marta went on. "He contracted fever in the jungle and lay for weeks at Patricia Bridges' cousin's farm. The doctor gave him morphine."

"So the fight had to be fought all over again," Sidney mused. "It did," Marta admitted. "He wrote me in despair. I decided that if I showed my faith it would help, so I—"

"Greater faith hath no man," Sidney breathed. "I should have been justified, but for one of those slips of fate. An inconsequential bit of unfounded gossip, based on someone seeing me with Boris several times."

"You mean when a report of your engagement to Lesencoff got into the newspaper?" I saw that, Marta.

"How Adam got the paper in Capetown, I don't know, but no doubt all papers are available there. Unfortunately he saw the announcement and did not receive my letter."

"Then he took that for your answer to his call for help?" Sidney said. "He did. He simply gave up and when he believed that Pat cared for him, he admitted, but he did not love her."

"Adam had a bad nervous inheritance. Such people should keep away from drugs."

"I couldn't tell Captain Plozman of Adam's weakness," Marta said. "It would have put him in such a bad light."

"I understand, dear. Nevertheless Plozman must be told. An autopsy will reveal that Adam used morphine. For your own sake, frankness is wise. Plozman is a natural gentleman. He will not cause you a moment of unnecessary distress."

"There is no such thing as a private life in my profession," Marta burst out. "Tell Plozman what you think he should know, but ask him to protect Adam's character as much as possible."

Mrs. Byers Hostess At Meeting Of BWMS In Miami This Week

Special To The NEWS MIAMI, Oct. 26—"God's Unchanging Plan of Stewardship" was discussed at the Royal Service meeting of B. W. M. S. this week in the home of Mrs. W. M. Byers...

Mary Lou Dunn circle had charge of the program. Mrs. F. A. Talley, circle chairman leader, gave a devotional on "What Your Money Represents."

During the business session presided over by Mrs. R. B. Haynes, the new president, reports and plans of committees for the ensuing year were submitted. Messdames Ramsay, Talley, Newman, Locke, and Haynes reported on the Mission Institute which they attended in Perryton last week.

Mrs. E. Sides was appointed missions chairman to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Cornelson. The president called an executive board meeting for Saturday afternoon.

Members-Guests Of Club Entertained At Bridge Recently

Special To The NEWS MIAMI, Oct. 26—Five tables of bridge were played Thursday afternoon when Mrs. S. W. Corbin was hostess to her club and a number of guests.

Mrs. Ellis Locke held high score for guests; Mrs. S. J. Montgomery, for members; and Mrs. D. I. Barnett, second high for all. A profusion of autumn flowers, dahlias and marigolds predominating, brightened the rooms. Halloween colors were carried out in the decorations, the harvest centerpiece on the table, and the salad course served by the hostess.

Guests were Meses Wiley Reynolds of Pampa, and Ellis Locke, Holt Barber, J. P. Osborne, Jr., Wayne Robinson, Dan Graham, George Mason, Miles O'Loughlin, and Arthur Corse.

Espanieta Clemmons Elected President Of Epworth League

Special To The NEWS LEFORS, Oct. 26—Epworth League of the Methodist church met recently and organized for the coming year of 1940-41.

In the business session the following officers were elected: President, Espanieta Clemmons; vice-president, R. A. Springer; secretary, Betty Jean Johnson; song leader, Mickey Sue Johnson; and pianist,
