Hollywood Cult Held In Slaying

Gov. To Try 2nd Term

FORT WORTH (UPI)— Gov. Preston Smith, confident he will serve a second term, said Tuesday he may run for a third term when the time comes.

Smith said after a luncheon honoring Tarrant County's eight-man delegation to the legislature his decision on a third term probably would depend on the condition of some state programs at the time.

"Whether or not I run for a third term will not be dependent on what somebody else does or does not do," Smith said.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who recently announced he would run for reelection rather than seek other political office, and House Speaker Gus Mutscher were present.

Among the programs Smith said he was concerned about were programs to move some Texas industry into smaller cities, traffic safety programs and a comprehensive health plan.

Senseless Killings Committed While Under Hypnotic Control

Songstress Kidnaped At Knifepoint

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Cynthia Ann Birdsong, 29, a member of the soul singing group "The Supremes," was held for more than one hour at knife-point by a barefoot kidnaper Tuesday night before she jumped from a speeding car on the Long Beach Freeway.

Police said Miss Birdsong suffered multiple lacerations from her jump and minor knife slashes inflicted by her kidnaper. She was treated at Long Beach Memorial Hospital and released early today.

Police said the kidnaper, wearing a brown leather jacket, was hiding in a bedroom of the singer's Hollywood home when she returned in the evening.

Two friends, Charles Hewlett, 25, and Howard Meak, 25, had gone to the home earlier and were waiting for Miss Birdsong. They apparently were unaware of the intruder in the bedroom.

Theman put a large knife to her neck when she entered the bedroom and holding the knife under her chin he forced her to bind the two other men with their ties.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A weird hippie band called "The Manson Family" burst into the Sharon Tate estate and brutally killed five persons because the home was a "symbol of rejection to the cult's leader, a member of the family has told police.

Susan Denise Atkins, jailed as a suspect in the murders, said in a statement released by her court-appointed attorney that members of the cult were held in almost hypnotic control by their leader, Charles Manson, 34.

"We belong to him, not ourselves," the attractive, 21-year-old girl said at her arraignment on a murder charge Tuesday.

She said, a slight, fierce-eyed musician called "Jesus" by his followers was "a very beautiful man."

A Los Angeles policeman, who insisted his name be withheld, said the group is under suspicion for at least four more murders in addition to the Tate case and the slayings of a middle-aged couple.

Investigating Slayings
He said investigations are being pursued into 11 senseless slayings in the Los Angeles area since the beginning of this year.

Miss Atkins said through her lawyer she went to the Tate home under an insane, almost hypnotic spell from Manson. "I was told to go, and I went."

She said Manson had visited the Benedict Canyon estate leased by the actress when Doris Day's son, Terry Melcher, lived there.

Manson had reportedly gone to the home to ask Melcher for help in making a record. Melcher rejected the request.

Miss Atkins said Manson became convinced the house was a "symbol of rejection" and ordered the murders of its occupants, not caring who lived there at the time.

She said Leno LaBianca, a wealthy market owner, and his wife, Rosemary, were murdered a day later because their home was selected by Manson "at random." She told her attorney he had other houses selected as well.

Miss Atkins Arraigned
Miss Atkins was arraigned on charges of slaying Gary Hinman, 34, whose body was found in his Topanga Canyon home in July. He had been stabbed to death.

Included in the series of "senseless" unsolved slayings this year in the Los Angeles area was that of Marina Habe, 17, daughter of screenwriter Hans Habe. She was found stabbed to death Jan. 1 in the Santa Monica Mountains after being abducted from the driveway of her mother's home.

The brutal stabbing deaths of two young women and a man since the Habe slaying also remain unsolved.

A county grand jury was presented evidence expected to result in indictment of four or five more persons in addition to the three already arrested in connection with the Tate case and the LaBianca deaths.

Ten persons were in custody in jails across the country.

Big 4 Resume Mid-East Talks

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)— After a five-month recess, the Big Four powers resumed their talks on the Middle East with a call for renewed efforts to find a negotiated end to Arab-Israeli hostilities.

The ambassadors of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France agreed in a four-hour session Tuesday that a peaceful and accepted settlement must be achieved "with all possible speed."

While admitting the Middle East situation is "increasingly serious and urgent," the envoys said it nevertheless "should not be permitted to jeopardize international peace and security."

Santas Should Stick With Reindeer

MT. WASHINGTON, N.H. (UPI)—The wreckage of a plane carrying two men who had planned to parachute into shopping centers as Santa Claus was found Tuesday on the side of a 6,288-foot mountain. Both men and their pilot were dead.

Two Coast Guard helicopters managed to land nine rescue workers on the mountain, the tallest peak in the Northeast, just before dark to retrieve the bodies in litters.

The plane, a single-engine Cessna 172 went down Saturday on a flight from Portland, Maine, to Burlington, Vt.

The plane was about 25 feet from a cliff on Oak Gulf on the Boot Spur. The nose was pointing up, indicating Kenneth Ward Jr., 26, of Augusta, the pilot and a University of Maine student, was trying to gain altitude when the plane slammed into the mountain.

WOULD RAISE EXEMPTION TO $700

Senate Rejects One Tax Plan Accepts Another

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate today rejected 72 to 33, a Republican plan to increase the income tax personal exemption to $750 over a three year period, then turned to a Democratic plan to raise it to $800 in two years.

Approval of the Democratic plan was considered likely.

The Nixon administration had expressed strong opposition to any tax cut by raising the personal exemption, which has been at $600 since 1948.

The Democratic plan is sponsored by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn. It would raise the exemption to $700 in 1970 and to $800 in 1971.

The Republican plan, sponsored by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., called for a boost in the exemption to $650 in 1970, $700 in 1971 and $750 in 1972.

Percy originally proposed an $800 exemption extending over four years, but just before today's vote he modified his proposal to accommodate the objections of conservatives and of the administration.

As originally drafted, Percy's amendment would have offered a 1% larger tax cut when fully effective than the competing Gore proposal.

As changed an instant before the Senate vote started, the proposal would have cost $9.6 billion a year in its long-run effect instead of $12.8 billion as first presented.

Nonetheless, that was more than Gore's tax cut—averaging about 10 per cent for every taxpayer—which would cost $8.8 billion.

In a letter to Senate Republican Leader Hugh D. Scott, Pa., President Nixon said he intended to sign a tax ### reform bill "but it must be equitably constructed and it must be fiscally responsible."

He said Gore's plan was neither, hinting at a possible veto if it got through Congress. Both would grant $9 billion worth of tax cuts by reducing tax rates.

Captured Helicopter Crewmen Hobble To Freedom In Korea

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) —The United States won the release of three Army helicopter crewmen from 108 days in North Korean captivity today by apologizing for their "criminal" intrusion into the Communist nation.

License Tags To Go On Sale Mid-December

Jack Back, assessor-collector for Gray County, reported today that notices from the State Department of Motor vehicles indicate that license tags for 1970 will be in the mail within the next few days and will go on sale around mid-December.

Special personalized license plates may be purchased by making application with the Texas Highway Commission, Motor Vehicle Division in Austin.

Back added that application for personalized tags are also available in the tax office. A $10 levy over the set license fee is required of those ordering special tags.

The tags are then mailed to the local tax office where the license fee is collected.

The tax office official added that about 35 such tags are issued each year in Gray County.

MAIL EARLY Postal Services Crowded

Postal officials today issued a request to Christmas mailers to send gift items and holiday mail early.

The volume of packages and special handling mail is increasing daily, and in order to avoid delay, the department urges early mailing. Several overseas deadlines have been passed already so that delivery in time for Christmas can't be assured. Air mail parcels may be sent until Dec. 13 for delivery by Christmas.

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love. Send your gift parcels early enough to insure delivery before Christmas, not after," Postmaster R.W. McPhillips advised today.

Such disappointments can be avoided if Christmas mailers will observe and follow the mailing schedule set up by the postal department.

Gift parcels destined for distant states should have been mailed by Dec. 1. Air mail would now be the only assured (See POSTAL, Page 2)

Pampa Youth In Hospital After Stabbing

A 15-year-old Pampa High School student, Carter Young, 118 N. Albert, was listed in satisfactory condition in Highland General Hospital where he was taken shortly after 12 noon following a stabbing at the high school.

Pampa police Lt. John Thomas said a witness told him the young youth was stabbed four or five times in the back. Thomas said a 16-year-old boy was being questioned by police about the incident.

Thomas said he was told the stabbing took place on the east end of the steps at the high school. Young was rushed to the hospital by ambulance and just before 1 p.m. was being given emergency treatment.

Texan Linked With Slayings Spends 24th Birthday Jailed

MCKINNEY, Tex. (UPI) — Charles D. Watson spent his 24th birthday in jail Tuesday, separated by time from the state track record and football accomplishments of his high school days.

Watson was arrested Sunday as one of three suspects in the bizarre murder case of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons in Los Angeles.

He and the others were accused of being members of a hippie cult that killed everyone inside the actress' home because it was a "symbol of rejection" to their leader. The group was under suspicion of at least six other murders in the Los Angeles area since the beginning of the year.

Watson was shaved and his hair was short when he gave up to Sheriff Tom Montgomery, his second cousin, in McKinney, near his hometown of Copesville. But in a photograph distributed by police he had long, scraggly hair and the beginning of a beard.

His attorney, Bill Boyd, said it might be "days, even weeks" before it is decided whether to extradite Watson to California to stand trial.

Montgomery, who said Watson surrendered and to "just let it go at that," was shocked by the allegations.

"You know, when I knew him in high school he was one of the nicest boys you would ever meet," Montgomery said. "I never considered him a hippie type."

Friends in his hometown and nearby Farmersville, where Watson went to high school, described him as "a good boy, not the sort to be in trouble."

Watson, youngest of three children, never made a grade below B at Farmersville High School. He was all-district in football in 1962 and 1963 and still holds the record in high hurdles for Class A high schools in Texas.

He attended North Texas State University from September, 1964, until the spring of 1967. He was still classified as a sophomore, with most of his grades C's in a business management major.

His only previous trouble with the law was in 1965 when he was arrested on suspicion of stealing typewriters. The Collin County grand jury dropped the case.

Dell James, who played football with Watson in high school, said: "If he didn't know or care to meet you, he wouldn't talk to you. But he got along with everybody anyway."

Fort Worth To Retain Texas Beauty Pageant For Two Years

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The president of the Miss Texas Corp. Tuesday made public a telegram authorizing Fort Worth to present the Miss Texas Pageant for the next two years.

Don Magness interpreted the telegram from the Miss America Pageant Inc. as a rebuke to the Lubbock Jaycees and other groups that accused Magness of rigging the contest.

After reading the telegram to a news conference, Magness said, "In other words the Miss America Pageant has asked us to discontinue taking this garbage from Lubbock. And we're going to put a stop to it."

Alleged Misconduct
The Lubbock group also charged winners do not always receive the scholarships and prizes they win, and alleged misconduct on the part of Barry Hall, a former chaperone to Miss Texas and an associate of Magness.

Others pulling out of the Miss Texas Pageant include Marshall, Gatesville, El Paso and Baylor University, Plainview, Gladewater, Nacogdoches, Corsicana, Hurst, Euless and Bedford are considering withdrawing their participation.

In spite of Magness' telegram, John Kunsak of the Miss Dallas Corp. said Dallas is still waiting for Miss America officials' response to a proposal that next year's Miss Texas pageant be held in Dallas.

"We still intend to ask to make our presentation," said Kunsak. "If they say they have confidence in the current Miss Texas Pageant we will abide by their decision."

FCC Chief Evaluates Month As TV Critic

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dea Burch, President Nixon's choice to head the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), has just about broken even with the television industry in his first month on the job. That's the way he feels it should be.

Burch, whose weathered face looks older than his 41 years, met the press officially Tuesday for the first time since he took office Oct. 31. He offered some controversial views on keeping obscene movies off television plus some thoughts on license renewal sure to please the industry.

"I have the feeling the industry will praise me one day and pillory me the next," he said, "and that's probably the way it should be."

Burch was criticized for personally calling the three network presidents to ask for

Market Leaders Determined To Stop Stagnating

THE HAGUE (UPI)—Leaders of the six Common Market nations came away from their summit meeting today determined to shake off years of stagnation with new unification ventures and committed to early talks on making Britain a member.

Diplomats of the Common Market agreed Tuesday night to open talks within six months on admitting Britain, Denmark, Sweden and Ireland, leading toward the first expansion since the economic alliance was formed in 1958.

President Georges Pompidou made two concessions at the two-day meeting. For one, he dropped France's opposition to British membership.

Second, he agreed to open talks on new proposals on political, monetary, nuclear and technological cooperation aimed at unifying member nations.

A closing session communique also called for establishment of a European reserve fund from which Common Market members could borrow in times of balance of payments difficulties.

Strike Action Posted Against Railroad

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Four shopcraft unions today postponed strike action against the nation's railroads after government mediators reported the two sides close to an agreement that would head off a possible nationwide rail shutdown.

Bargaining talks on a new contract went two-and-one-half hours past the midnight EST Tuesday deadline—the hour when the unions would have been free to strike—and then recessed until 3 p.m. EST today to give the negotiators and mediators time to sleep after about 40 hours of almost continuous sessions at the Labor Department.

Assistant Labor Secretary William J. Usery Jr., the top government mediator, told newsmen shortly after midnight that the union negotiators had agreed to postpone any strike action as long as bargaining continued and progress was being made.

Unemployment By-Product Of Inflation Control

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — A member of the Federal Reserve Board said today inflation cannot be controlled without the "unfortunate and unwelcomed by-product" of rising unemployment.

The Fed official, Andrew F. Brimmer, called for new programs to cushion the blow of unemployment, possibly making the federal government the "employer of first instance" for the young and for racial minorities unable to find jobs elsewhere.

But, in a speech prepared for a business seminar in Pittsburgh, Brimmer argued that the government should not retreat in the fight against inflation because of rising joblessness.

"Rather than pretend that it (increased unemployment) can be avoided, we should get on with the modifications in public policies that will be necessary to insure that the burden of restoring price stability does not fall excessively on those least able to bear it," Brimmer said.

Interest Increased On Savings Bonds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon signed legislation today to increase the interest rate on U.S. savings bonds to 5 per cent, retroactive to last June 1.

It is the first time the rate has been above 4.25 per cent on such government bonds since the Liberty Bond Act of 1918.

Affected by today's action are the rates on Series E and Series H savings bonds—not other long term government issues.

Nixon proposed the increase to discourage people from turning in the bonds for purchases of other securities—most of which pay higher rates. Savings bond redemptions have been running greater than sales for some time.

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

THURSDAY, DEC. 4
Your birthday Thursday: The year ahead is unsettled. It is very promising for long range probabilities but short on immediate improvements in income. You will have to revise your plans and directions several times to take advantage of opportunities to expand your position or gain experience. Thursday's natives are noted for being willing to take a risk.

ARIES (March 21-April 20): The early check with important people on Thursday's plans, the better. A great deal can be done through teamwork.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Make sure all concerned know what you are striving for. Much of what is done Thursday will be lasting results.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): The first order of business Thursday is to decide on what is to do and who is going to do it. Find some time for personal matters.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Get your facts and figures straight, and file any pending reports.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Make sure that you work toward personal goals or on something that is compatible with them. Contacts with influential people come more easily, so get busy.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Enjoy the calm of a well-started day. Find out what is to be accomplished. Ask for whatever you need. Keep notes or records of everything.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You have a chance to get several issues straight or, at least, to avert confusion. Finally, whatever has been started rather than set up new or experimental activities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Neglected or delayed work can easily be resumed and made current.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Early meetings offer certain advantages, particularly further introductions. Include some essential steps toward your own personal hopes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): The most helpful people want no particular notice or special reward. Seek technical and professional counsel, but consider it before using it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): New contacts made early in the day turn out to be very stimulating and rewarding. If you are not happy with your work figure out what to do about it.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Make sure your partners are ready, then do something to improve joint fortunes. Move as a group toward a fresh goal. If you are working alone make preparations for a larger move Friday.

Here's How To Clean Up That Rusty Old Flatiron
By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Jeanette wanted to know how to improve the looks of an old flatiron. I washed my iron with a soap-and-water solution. When dry, I used a wire brush to remove the rust. A whisk broom and dry cloth removed the dust created by the brushing. I painted my iron with an anti-rust paint in wrought-iron black (flat black could be used) for a more "natural" appearance. I have had no recurrence of the rust. — MRS. R. S.

DEAR POLLY — Tell Jeanette to put black shoe polish on her old iron, take a cloth and rub it hard while the polish is still damp and the iron will look original. I do not think one should ever paint old cast iron. — MILDRED

DEAR GIRLS — After the rust is removed, stove black could be used on the iron, just as our ancestors put it on their wood-burning stoves. — POLLY

POLLY'S PROBLEM
DEAR POLLY — I would like to know if it is possible to remove printing from Christmas cards. I have some with the wrong name printed on them and would like to make use of these cards if I can. — MRS. E. H.

DEAR POLLY — I make wind chimes out of old keys. Take pieces of string or twine about six inches long and tie them through the holes in the keys. Fasten these strings to a piece of wood or even a twig and put a string on top for hanging it. Paint the keys any desired color and they make pretty tinkling sounds. — ELAINE

DEAR POLLY — Our family recently went on an outing and took along a picnic lunch. After finishing the fried chicken, we discovered we had forgotten the wet washcloth we usually carry along in a plastic bag. Paper napkins are not sufficient to do this job. We were far from water, so my father suggested rubbing an ice cube from our ice chest between our hands and drying them with our napkins. It did the trick and there were no more greasy hands to soil clothes and car. — K. H.

Lunar Landings Inspire Designer To Create Moon Gem Collection

NEW YORK (NEA) — Roger Lucas, a young Canadian sculptor and jewelry designer, has brought a new excitement into the world of jewelry.

"Sculptures should be worn as well as seen," he said. And so he created 200 sculpted jewels inspired by the lunar surface and the ocean floor.

A collection of tiny gold sea urchins marches across the tops of rings and gold sea flowers cascade from the wrist to the hand.

The moon landing stirred the love of adventure in Lucas, an adventurer himself (he is a racing car driver and has made one unsuccessful attempt to sail around the world alone and is planning a second try imminently). He felt "compelled to translate the astronauts' landing into his world of jewels."

Roger Lucas

Roger has created golden bracelets with the craggy textures of the lunar surface, rings resembling the astronauts' helmets studded with jewels and rings that have symbolic moon spheres resting on them.

Geometric themes are also in the collections, translated into squares and cubes of gold and diamonds.

"These are the rings I design when I'm alone," Lucas said. "They require much concentration."

The designs in his groups are often quite startling. Some rings slip over the middle finger and span the adjacent fingers with a balancing bar that rests in the palm of the hand—like elegant brass knuckles.

Another series of rings slips over two fingers with delicate flowers in gold sprinkled with gems.

Canadian designer, Roger Lucas' ultimate concern with shape, form and surface reflects an outstanding purity of line in the contemporary jewels shown (left). The three spheres, the tri-cube and the skyscraper are all done in gold and diamonds. Three-finger ring (top right) is worn on the middle finger. The two spheres, one of pave diamonds, one of polished gold rest on curved planes of gold and diamonds. Three-finger ring (lower right) inspired by space and seascape is in 18-karat gold.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Now please don't get me wrong, I am not knocking my bride, I am only telling you this so you can make a fair judgment. Before Mary (not her real name) and I were married we stayed together in plenty of motels over weekends and like that. She seemed to be satisfied with me, but right after we got married, Mary decided that my snoring drove her nuts and she couldn't sleep in the same room with me. So now I have to go sleep on the couch in the other room. This is not like I pictured married life.

We can't afford a two-bedroom apartment as yet, but Mary says that is the next step. Maybe I'm wrong, but if my snoring didn't drive her nuts before we were married, how come it drives her nuts now?

SLEEPING ALONE

DEAR SLEEPING: Maybe your snoring did "drive her nuts" before you were married, but not quite "nuts" enough for her to send you to separate sleeping quarters. Lovers seem able to tolerate far more than married folks.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and just got out of prison. I pulled my time but none of my so-called friends will have anything to do with me. I've thought of moving to a new town, but they say that running away is not the answer.

What should I do, Abby? I trust you, and will look for your answer.

NO SAINT

DEAR "NO SAINT": I don't know who "they" are, but "they" could be wrong. In order to start life over with a clean slate, perhaps it would be better to go to new surroundings where you are not known. "Old friends" are frequently the worst for one who has pulled his time. I vote for a move, and new friends. And good luck.

DEAR ABBY: Why are people so mean? My daughter is in a home for unwed mothers. The baby is due soon and everybody knows where she is, and who got her pregnant.

So why is it that everywhere I go, friends and relatives have to ask, "How is she? When is the baby due? Is she going to keep the baby?"

Abby, I have nearly cracked up over this, and am under psychiatric care right now. I am told to put it "out" of my mind. How can I when people keep reminding me?

I am sure the daughters of these people are no better than mine. It's just that mine got caught.

It hurts enough knowing I will never be able to hold my first grandchild, and I can't sleep at night for wondering who will get it and raise it.

Please say something to help me. Or tell everybody else to keep their big mouths shut! Sign me...

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Avoid all those who have been so cruel and tasteless as to mention your daughter's present situation. If someone brings up the subject, cut him or her off in mid-sentence saying you don't care to discuss it. And if necessary, walk away.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NAMELESS, PLEASE": No, I do not know why, but my mail indicates that when a girl hippie needs money, she will write to her father, and when a boy hippie needs money, he will write to his Mother. Interesting?

4-H Youths Enter County Food Show

Gray County's recent 4-H Food Show at the Agricultural Building had 17 girls and one boy entered to have their food and nutrition projects judged by home demonstration agents.

One of the five purposes of the food show is to develop skills in preparing foods, planning and serving meals and in selecting and using cooking equipment, according to Jesse Hoermann, and Jeni D. Finch, assistant Gray County agents.

Other purposes are for the youths to understand preparation and combination of wholesome foods and selection of an adequate diet. They learn to recognize signs of good health to remember food needs of different age groups, to select food wisely and study food costs, and learn the interrelationship of science, food preparation and nutrition," Hoermann said.

Mrs. N.A. Briden and Mrs. A. P. Coombs, home demonstration club members, judged record books. Miss Vivian Warminski, Hanford County home demonstration agent, and Mrs. Charles Warminski, Carson County adult leader, judged food displays.

Four girls representing Gray County in the District Food Show April 11, 1970, will be Brenda Winters, senior meat group; Elaine Webb, junior, bread and cereal group, and Susie Williams, junior meat group.

Other contestants entering in the Senior Division were Doris Carlton, red ribbon, bread and cereal; Cindy Youngblood, blue ribbon, fruit and vegetable; Lisa Friend, blue ribbon, milk. Senior Meat Group entries were Martha Carlton and Brenda Winters, blue ribbons; Ted Atwood, Stephanie Eastman and Delia Holman, red ribbons.

About 25 guests attended the award program which was directed by Regina Atwood, Ted Atwood, Mary Holman, Delia Holman, Miss Finch and Hoermann.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Collecting seashells is one of man's oldest pastimes and, The World Almanac notes, Roman Emperor Caligula was one of the first major collectors. In A.D. 40, he marched to the English Channel with a large invasion force. Intimidated by the rough waters, however, he ordered his troops to gather shells along the French coast instead, then returned to Rome with his shells, declaring them to be "the spoils of the conquered ocean."

Foreign News Commentary

In Italy, it seems, everybody has been talking but nobody has been listening. The result is continuing chaos on both the political and industrial fronts. The Christian Democrats rule the country by virtue of a weak minority government which is not expected to stay in power beyond spring. The Christian Democrats, Italy's largest political party, are split into half a dozen factions.

So are the Socialists who participated with the Christian Democrats in Italy's latest experiment with center-left governments until the fall of the coalition last July. The Socialists now officially are split into two parties.

Even the Italian Communists, whose party is the largest outside Communist bloc nations, are split between the parliamentarians aligned with Moscow and other groups labeled as "Guevaras," "Pro-Chinese" and "Maoist."

War Toll Extolled By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said today that 300,000 South Vietnamese civilians have been killed in the last four years, the majority of them by American and South Vietnamese military forces.

Kennedy told reporters that the Senate refugee subcommittee, which he heads, "recently learned that between the years 1965 and the present there have been more than 1 million civilian casualties in Vietnam."

"Of that number, 300,000 have been killed," he added. Kennedy said "some of the casualties have been stimulated by the Viet Cong but the majority of civilian injuries and deaths have been stimulated by ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) and U.S. forces."

Asked whether he meant that American and South Vietnamese troops caused the civilian casualties, Kennedy replied yes.

Asked to comment on the alleged Song My massacre last year, Kennedy said he was "deeply disturbed."

"This incident dramatizes most unfortunately, but in a significant way, the extent of the toll among civilians," he said.

Father Free After Chaining Daughter

FORT WORTH (UPI)—County Judge J. D. Duvall did not dispute a charge that Darryl Louis Saichek, 32, chained his daughter to the wall, but still dismissed a charge of aggravated assault against Saichek.

Duvall said what Saichek did was "poor judgment" but: "The girl was not hurt. Doctors did not find a mark on her. Many of his (Saichek's) neighbors say he is a good man and a good parent."

Saichek's 12-year-old daughter is now in a foster home. Duvall said Saichek got custody of the daughter after a divorce. He said Saichek was paying adequate support for her.

"If he went to jail, the state would have to support her," Duvall said.

Duvall said Saichek told him he chained the girl to the wall of his mobile home because he had to leave for 30 minutes and was afraid she would run away. He had had previous difficulties with the girl.

New Guidelines Necessary To Keep Sex From Home TV Tubes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Dean Burch of the Federal Communications Commission said Tuesday he believes his agency must set up guidelines to keep the new movies that deal openly with sex off home television screens. "If a station wanted to show 'I Am Curious (Yellow),' we couldn't do anything about it right now," Burch told his first news conference since taking office.

Humphrey Spends Day At Texas Ranch Home Of Former Boss

DALLAS (UPI)—Former vice-president Hubert H. Humphrey spent a "mostly social" afternoon with his one-time boss at the LBJ Ranch Monday, and then flew to Dallas where he told a news conference that alleged atrocities in South Vietnam have brought shock to America.

Humphrey, in town for two speeches in two days to the United Jewish Appeal, urged President Nixon to appoint a special commission to look into the alleged My Lai massacre. "This commission should be called in the light of the seriousness of these allegations and the shock they've brought to the American people."

Urged Protection
Humphrey also urged for protection of the rights of those charged in connection with the slaying of Vietnamese citizens. "Those soldiers being charged should not be tried by television or the press," he said. "They should be judged only by a methodical, systematic look at the facts."

and have some guidelines. I personally feel the FCC has got to take some sort of step insofar as movies are concerned," he said. Burch said he thought the strict definitions of what is obscene set down by the Supreme Court for books, movies and art was "an entirely different standard to something that comes into the home."

"We've always understood that free speech is a modified right," he explained. "You can't shout fire in a crowded theater. Because a person can't use four letter words on radio isn't a violation of free speech."

"I think you've got to come to the conclusion that it's a different problem when you're dealing with material that is coming into the home."

Movies have always been prime fare on television, but lately broadcasters have turned more and more to producing their own pictures because of a new wave of frankness in the theater films.

As for those films, Burch said "anytime anyone wants to practice a little voyeurism, he can do it all day by going to the movies."

Burch, father of three young children, said the films became objectionable when shown on television where a 5-year-old might see them.

Hollywood In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actors are an insecure breed. No matter how popular they become, unemployment is just around the corner.

When a star is riding the crest of movie fame he disdains a television series. When he is out of work a weekly video show is safe harbor.

One actor who has buffeted around the world making movies wherever possible over the past 15 years is John Saxon. Some films were good, others horrendous. His roles were usually villains.

Today he is safely ensconced in "The Bold Ones," NBC-TV's new three-part series. Saxon is one of the bold young doctors.

Settles Down to Series
Ask him why he settled down to a series, and he answers: "The big reason for working in a series is that I like to act four or five days a week. A series gives me that opportunity. If you wait around doing one or two movies a year, your craft erodes pretty slim."

"When I wasn't working in movies, I played guest roles on television, usually heaves or character roles.

"Now, in this series, I'm in the leading-man category and viewers can identify with me. As the season goes along I'll be able to make more contributions and have something to say about the role."

Saxon is a dark-eyed, black-haired man, intense and determined.

His chances of becoming, say, another Paul Newman or Steve McQueen are remote. Therefore instead of relying on the force of appearance, he must depend on his own personality and does, compensate by acting his heart out in every scene.

This determination is reflected in his performances. He is believable as the brilliant young doctor.

Wants to be More
Still, Saxon wants to be more than a journeyman actor. "I've listened to actors who want to leave their series," he said, amused. "But the temptations to leave a successful show should be weighed judiciously."

Story content, of "The Bold Ones" is another reason Saxon gives for his satisfaction with a regularly scheduled show.

"Our segments deal with the new technology of medicine," he said, "and it has far-reaching consequences. Is the brave new world going to work? Or are we going to ruin our environment?"

The subject matter deals with frontiers of medicine and the concepts of a changing morality.

WASHINGTON—Rep. Alford K. Lowenstein, D-N.Y., who opposed a resolution supporting President Nixon's Southeast Asia policy, giving his view of the resolution's meaning: "It can mean all things to all men."

New Emphasis To Be Placed On Special Education

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The first draft of a new state plan shifting the emphasis of special education will be presented at a series of regional meetings beginning Thursday, the Texas Education Agency announced today.

The new plan, designed to shift the special education emphasis from the child's disability to his needs as a student, will go into effect Sept. 1, 1970, and will be fully implemented by 1975.

Officials will unveil the plan at the 20 regional meetings, then conduct public hearings on it and present a finalized plan to go to the State Board of Education Feb. 7 in El Paso.

"We have developed this plan to meet the requirements of the comprehensive special education bill passed by the 61st legislature, and to implement them as fast as possible," said Dr. Robert Montgomery, assistant commissioner for special education and special schools.

"Up to now, special education has focused on the disability of the child, on his physical, mental or emotional handicaps. Now specialists in this area will look at children with a quite different approach. They will concentrate on the learning needs of each student."

Television In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

Advance Notice: An announcement from the Smothers Brothers office says their Feb. 16 NBC-TV special "will be produced on two levels. On one, television will be explored as a medium, illustrating visually its history and technical uses. And, on another, the brothers will bring the biting political satire which have made them... spokesmen of the inequities in our society."

The Sporting Life: The long-awaited contest between pro football's two top teams this season, the Los Angeles Rams and Minnesota Vikings, will be broadcast Sunday on CBS-TV (but blacked out in Los Angeles, where it is played)... the decade's top athletic events will be reprinted in a 90-minute "Wide World of Sports" broadcast on ABC-TV Dec. 27... Don Drysdale, former Los Angeles Dodger pitching great, appears in NBC-TV's "Then Came Bronson" Dec. 17 as a major league scout who has to pass judgment on a bigheaded but insecure young player.

The Headliners: Robert Culp and Diana Rigg will appear Jan. 23 in an hour NBC-TV drama special, "Married Alive," about a Canadian who, maintaining he was an amnesia victim, returns to England to claim his place as the long-lost husband of a wealthy woman... Uta Hagen and Martin Balsam star Feb. 10 in a 90-minute "CBS Playhouse" drama entitled "The Day Before Sunday"—about the two worlds, public and private, of a bachelor girl over 40... Elizabeth Taylor will headline an hour NBC-TV dramatic special next season.

The Ratings: NBC-TV's "All-Specials" night of several weeks back fared as follows in the national statistics: "Hey, Hey, Hey—It's Fat Albert," Bill Cosby's cartoon half-hour based on characters from his monologues, finished a strong Carson's prime-time comedy hour, which ranked only 27th... The Supremes and The Temptations—it finished 80th... And lowest of all was "Norman Rockwell's America," an hour in which Dick Smothers, Jonathan Winters and Michele Lee did songs and comedy sketches based on the famous artist's illustrations—it came in 77th.

The Shows & NBC-TV's "Letters to Laugh-In," a daytime offshoot of the night-time series, has been canceled after a short run... Composer-conductor-pianist Aaron Copland, on Dec. 28, will present "Illustrative excerpts" from four of his motion picture scores when he narrates and conducts CBS-TV's young people's concert with the New York Philharmonic. Title of the hour is "Music For the Movies," and Copland will "show the purpose and meaning of background scores for motion pictures."

Draft Lottery Makes Young David Eligible

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The draft lottery has made an accurate forecaster of David Eisenhower.

President Nixon's son-in-law said last week he was tired of school and "might just decide" to enlist in the armed forces.

Monday's lottery probably made his decision much easier because David's birthday, March 31, appeared in 30th place on the list. Any number in the first hundred is considered extremely vulnerable to a draft call.

Young Eisenhower, now 21, is a senior at Amherst College and holds a student deferment. But it expires when he graduates in June, making him liable to the draft in the last half of the year if his local draft board exhausts its supply of those in the first 29 numbers. But David has been expecting to go into uniform one way or another.

"Military service is a tradition in my family," he said.

He said his grandfather, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, had suggested he go into the Navy. President Nixon is a Navy veteran. And David's father, now ambassador to Belgium, is a retired Army colonel.

Something Smells Bad in Bayport

BAYPORT, Tex. (UPI)—Nauseating fumes carried along on a lazy, west wind had the residents of Bayside Terrace and Shore Acres choking and clutching their stomachs Monday.

The fumes, which hung in a cloudy over the bayside communities south of La Porte, prompted more than four dozen calls to the Harris County Air and Water Pollution Control Office, said Dr. Walter A. Quedeaux, county director.

More Students Arrested In Near Riots On Texas Campus

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Police arrested another University of Texas student today, bringing to 14 the number of youths jailed on felony charges growing out of a near riot in the university campus Nov. 10.

State and city police officers Monday began rounding up the youths who were named last week in secret indictments by the Travis County grand jury. James Emmett Sondergoth, 21-year-old senior from Dallas, was arrested shortly after 8 a.m.

Authorities said they were looking for at least eight others accused of slashing tires of trucks used by police during a disturbance at the UT Chuck Wagon cafeteria.

Eight Students

Including Sondergoth, eight of the youths arrested so far have been students. The others taken into custody include Robert Thomas Connell, 20, Fort Worth; William Paul Meacham; 23, Havertown, Pa.; Gregory Scott Miller, 19, Houston; Alan Charles Pogue, 23, Corpus Christi; David Alfred Pratt, 28, Dallas; John Wilson Scott, 28, El Paso; and James Clifton Sparks, 20, Austin.

Nonstudents arrested include Albert Andrew Cambio, 17; John Willis McGee, 20; Robert Bruce Rankin, 18; Peter Salazar Rodriguez Jr., 25; and Paul Gilbert Spencer, 24.

Randolph T. Carley, 19-year-old former student, was the first arrested Monday. He was taken into custody when district attorney Bob Smith recognized him at a court hearing on a charge of marijuana possession. Six of the youths arrested in the roundup were charged with misdemeanor offenses at the time of the disturbance.

Prison Terms

The felony charges stemming from the tire slashings could mean prison terms of 2 to 20 years if the youths are convicted. Earlier public indictments were for misdemeanor offenses including aggravated assault and assault on a police officer. Court officials have not specified the number of youths named in the six sealed indictments, but indicated each indictment charges more than one person with offenses.

More than 80 state, city and campus police clashed with several hundred youths on the UT campus Nov. 10 after a crowd of about 60 demonstrators forced their way into the cafeteria and police tried to remove them.

Giant Waves Smash Lowlying Homes In Hawaiian Sunset Beach Area

HONOLULU (UPI) — Giant waves as high as 50 feet struck the Hawaiian Islands today, destroying homes and forcing the evacuation of hundreds. Two persons were missing and a dozen injured.

The worst hit area was Sunset Beach about 25 miles north of here on Oahu, the major island in the chain. Waves smashed lowlying homes and shops, destroying at least 34 houses.

Five hundred persons were evacuated from shore areas to emergency Red Cross centers set up in schools, a convalescent home and a Girl Scout camp. Police patrolled the evacuated areas to prevent looting.

The surf battered homes and shops along the north shores of several islands in the chain. The weather bureau forecast a "high surf" warning for the entire state.

The two missing persons included a sailor lost in the waters off Oahu. The injured included three young children and a couple hurt when their home collapsed.

The main highway circling Oahu was flooded at several points and closed at spots.

Capitol Newspapers Ready For Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Employees of The Washington Post and Washington Daily News were prepared to vote early Tuesday on a possible agreement averting a strike.

Representatives of the newspapers, the American Newspaper Guild and federal mediators were still negotiating shortly before midnight.

The employees—editorial, advertising and clerical workers—began gathering to vote on a possible agreement as early as 7 p.m., indicating an agreement was imminent. They had been working without a contract since the old one expired at midnight Sunday.

Bedridden Patients Die In Fire-Gutted Nursing Home

NOTRE DAME DU LAC, Que. (UPI)—More than 50 elderly bedridden patients were killed early today when fire raced through an old wood frame nursing home. Twenty others were injured.

Most of them were trapped in their beds and didn't have a chance," a provincial police spokesman said. "It's going to be some time before we can get the bodies out of there."

Two other buildings in addition to the nursing home, the Repas du Vieillard, were destroyed in the blaze.

The injured were taken to a nearby hospital in this small papermill community of 4,000 about 50 miles south of Riviere du Loup on the south shore of the St. Lawrence River.

The town is about 250 miles northeast of Montreal.

Most of the dead were trapped on the upper two levels of the three-story structure and died before the town's 30-man volunteer fire-fighting force could be mustered.

The flames from the old rest home spread quickly to engulf two nearby buildings, a residence and a general store. They were razed by the time the nearest regular fire-fighting force arrived from Cabano, Que., six miles away.

Among the few known survivors were Artemis Tardif, the owner of the rest home, which police said was "about 80 to 85 years old." Tardif lived in one of a series of apartments on the first floor of the building.

The upper two floors were reserved for the elderly patients, who were cared for by "one or two doctors and a couple of nuns," police said.

Provincial police from nearby communities were called in to help the town's 10-man police force begin their search for victims among the smouldering ruins.

Texas Soldier Doesn't Care For Draft Plan

SAIGON (UPI) — Sgt. Ben Mungia, 20, of Rosenberg, Tex., listened to news of the draft lottery Monday and then said that not only did he not like the lottery, but he did not like the draft either.

"The whole idea stinks, really," he said. "I just don't believe in the draft. It should be voluntary. A person shouldn't be put under the strain of having to worry about the draft."

The Girls Playing The Field In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (NEA) — At a time when women are writing books about pro football and even trying to wiggle into football press boxes, it is not surprising that female representation has finally reached the playing field itself.

Browns yet, they will be content just being on the same field. "We hope to get some recognition by playing our games during halftimes of NFL games," says Syd Freedman, a Cleveland theatrical agent who formed the team. "I think football fans are sick and tired of watching marching bands and it's time for something different in halftime shows. And what's better than watching some beautiful women playing football?"

Freedman is so intent upon selling the idea of women playing football, he is waging a one-man campaign to form the first women's professional league. Besides his team in Cleveland, he has formed teams in Pittsburgh and Toronto and is planning one for Detroit. To add a little authenticity, he has hired Marion Motley to coach his Cleveland team and, he says, several other pro stars are waiting — impatiently — to coach the others.

"My goal is to have the first all-women's professional football league," he says. "When the team in Detroit is finally organized, we'll be ready. We've played several exhibitions already this season and we drew 7,000 fans up in Toronto and another 6,000 in Pittsburgh. All we need is some national exposure and we can double, even triple, those figures."

Freedman's players come from all walks of life: housewives, secretaries, coeds. They play men's rules and, according to Freedman, the tackling is hardly ladylike. The stars of his Cleveland team are a quarterback who is the mother of four boys and a halfback, who Freedman says, "has the best pair of legs in town."

"Our girls are paid very well. When we make road trips, they not only get their regular salary but we put them up in the best hotels and give them meals money and expenses — just like the pros. If you're going to try to put something over like this you've got to go big league. And we've been drawing so well we didn't have to pinch pennies, luckily."

Nevertheless, Freedman feels the success of the league depends ultimately on its receiving national exposure. "On two occasions, we were scheduled to play during halftimes of NFL games that were televised nationally, but both times the plans fell through. The bands just didn't want us stealing their show. But we're going to make it one of these days and when we do, we'll have the whole country talking. Can you imagine any guy leaving his TV set at halftime when he knows a bunch of pretty little things are coming out to knock heads?"

"Another thing is the women who hate football because they can't pry their husbands away from the TV. Do you know how many of these same women would join their husbands at halftime to watch other women go at it? We'd probably draw a larger audience than the game itself. And TV football widows will be a thing of the past."

Bruins, Trojans Are Best In Pacific-8

Three basketball polls, out this week, have college cage fans in a quandry. UCLA is picked to repeat in two of them while South Carolina is rated No. 1 in another and the Bruins are picked third. Taking them poll by poll with UPI going first its UCLA, South Carolina, Kentucky, Purdue, New Mexico St., Colorado, North Carolina, Davidson, Southern California and Duquesne in the top 10.

You Don't Say... By RON CROSS

Eibby is a good outside shooter and top ball handler who averaged 19.9 points a game as a freshman. Rounding out the Bruins are 6'7 Curtis Rowe, 6'8 Sidney Ciks and 6'9 Steve Patterson. Row broke all of Alcindor's freshman records two years ago and with the "Big Gun" gone he will now have a chance to show what he can really do. The Bruins had close calls during the Alcindor-Area but don't forget they had two championships before Alcindor's advent. And then there is also Wooden who says, "It will feel good again to try to win games instead of playing to keep from getting beaten."

But the sophomore crop is so good that only Layton figures to be a starter. East of the first year men is Phil Westphal, a 6'4 guard with great moves and shooting ability. He led the freshmen in assists and averaged better than 18 points per game. The other two sophomores are 6'6 forward Joe Mackey and 6'8 Ron Riley. Mackey led the freshmen in scoring with a 20 point average and Riley was a 15.8 point per game man and averaged 18 rebounds per contest.

Sixth Time Out Cost Seminoles Victory, 69-68

By United Press International
The reason for Oregon State's 69-68 loss to Florida State Tuesday night can be found in the rule book, right there under Rule Five, Section Six: "Time outs in excess of the allotted number (five per team) are granted at the expense of a technical foul."
With two seconds remaining and the score tied, 68-68, Oregon State grabbed the rebound of a missed Florida State free throw and asked for its sixth time out.

Phillies Strong Enough To Upset League In '70

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Things have changed since the World Series. They're not the same at all. Sandy Koufax is walking around with a full grown, rich-looking moustache. Joe Brown, Pittsburgh's general manager, is sporting a close-cropped, carefully cultivated gray beard reminiscent of the one Ernest Hemingway made his trademark.

SPORTS PARADE

It's not impossible, and one of the reasons it isn't is Frank Lucchesi, the Phillies' bright, blunt 42-year-old new field boss who waited 18 years for a chance to manage in the majors. When he finally got it, he had the foresight to bring along with him a couple of classy kids by the names of Larry Bowa and Denny Doyle who formed the keystone combine for the Eugene, Ore. club which Lucchesi steered to a PCL pennant by 12 games this year. Lucchesi, who pronounces his name "Loo-kay-see" with the accent exactly where it ought to be, on the second syllable, has jet black curly hair, a noticeable resemblance to the movies' Peter Falk, a way with him suggesting nobody so much as Edward G. Robinson and a cigar frequently stuck between the second and third fingers of his right hand.

Pampa Seeks 12th Title In Top O' Texas Meet

Pampa will open defense of its 11 titles in the Top O' Texas basketball tournament Thursday against Woodward, Okla., a team that has yet to win in this annual event. The Harvesters sport a glossy 25-0 record in the tournament while the Oklahomans are 0-4 in two years of tournament play. The two will play the second game of the day, beginning at approximately 5:45 p.m. Dumas, another team with a long victory record in the tournament, and Burkburnett will get their 12th annual event underway at 4 p.m. Dumas has posted a 6-12 record in the tournament while Burkburnett has won four of its six games here. Dumas, 3-0 this season, and Burkburnett, 0-1, have met one time previously and Burkburnett, who didn't participate here last year, won, 44-37. That was in the second round of the 1966 tournament. Canyon and Enid will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Wichita Falls and Elk City, Okla. will close out first round action at 9 p.m. Canyon is 4-4 in Top O' Texas play while Enid is 2-1, Wichita Falls is 2-2 and Elk City is 3-7. Of the teams playing here this year four others besides Pampa have reached the finals. Wichita Falls lost 60-48 to Pampa in 1955; Dumas was a 47-40 victim in 1961; Elk City lost, 79-36 in 1967 and Enid was nosed out last year by Pampa, 46-43. A Pampa victory Thursday would put them in a 7:30 p.m. game Friday against the Dumas-Burkburnett winner and a loss would pit them against the loser of the same game at 4 p.m. Friday.

Coaches Say Game To Be Close

(UPI)—There will be a national championship on the line and a President in the stands and there will be national television cameras peering over most every shoulder. College football's "dream game" will be reeled off Saturday in the Arkansas Ozarks before 43,000 fans, including the nation's No. 1 fan, President Nixon, who warned the bench in college. But the coaches who had to prepare their teams for the unbeaten Universities of Texas and Arkansas feel the game will be decided by the same things that would decide it if were played before nobody else but a few friends, relations and cheerleaders.

Mix Hangs Up Jersey

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—All American Football League offensive tackle Ron Mix, the only surviving member of the original Los Angeles Chargers, is calling it quits at the end of this season. Mix, who has been an all AFL performer since the league began in 1960 and is regarded as one of the top offensive tackles in all of pro football, wants to go into public service, either as a candidate for public office or in an appointive position.

Jumps To 14-Point Lead

Cincinnati jumped to a 14-point lead in the first eight minutes and then coasted to a 99-64 victory over MacMurray College (Ill.). Cedarville finally thwared a freeze by Marion (Ind.) for a 59-36 triumph and Washington romped past Idaho, 105-58. Thirteenth-ranked Marquette, the only member of the top 20 in action Tuesday night, had little trouble with Northern Michigan, 96-60. In the Sunshine Classic at Jacksonville, Fla., Jacksonville University's towering team — led by 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore with 31 points, 7-foot Pembroke Burrows with 18 points and 6-foot-5 Rex Morgan with 22 points — thrashed Morehead (Ky.) State, 117-63, in the championship game and Florida won the consolation game over East Tennessee, 68-49.

IT'S A RUNAWAY

Knicks Continue Misery For Other Teams

By United Press International
The New York Knicks have yet to prove they are one of the great teams in National Basketball Association history — they haven't even won a league title yet — but they are showing night after night that they are one of the most explosive.

This strong, aggressive and talent-in-depth team did it again Tuesday when it virtually blew the Seattle SuperSonics off the Madison Square court in the third period and breezed to a 129-109 victory. The victory was the Knicks' 24th in 26 games this season. Bob Rule's shooting and Tom Meschery's all-court play enabled the SuperSonics to leave the court at halftime trailing by only 57-53. But the SuperSonics never had a chance in the third period as the Knicks outscored them, 45-17, with key bursts of 13-3 and 20-7. The Knicks led, 90-68 at the end of the third period and loafed the rest of the way. Willis Reed was 5-for-5, Walt Frazier, 4-5, Dick Barnett, 2-4, points for the Royals, who lost their 14th game in 24 starts. Bob Dandridge scored 26 points and Lew Alcindor and John McGlochin had 24 each as the Milwaukee Bucks defeated the Philadelphia 76ers, 123-114. Dick Van Arsdale scored 38 points to lead the Phoenix Suns over the Chicago Bulls, 121-110, and the San Francisco Warriors also used a 45-point third period to top the Detroit Pistons, 116-109 with Nate Thurmond getting 38 points and 23 rebounds in the contest.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
A Watchful Newspaper
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Make-Work Not Needed

What to do if the war in Vietnam concludes hurriedly? If the few million men in service scattered over the globe are brought back home and the defense plants closed and looking for jobs?

Mention of such a possibility stimulates resurgence of the frequently-voiced scare questions. We don't have full employment now, how would we ever find jobs for that many more? Over-population will be worse. Won't many of those men be marrying and having children, and those with families increase them? With so much poverty now, how will we ever feed them all?

Thinking men, not yet hypnotized by the idea that someone else, probably government, must do the providing, have a reply. All the problems of the world are not solved. And as long as men have needs and wants, there are jobs to do -- performing improvements and creating new solutions -- to supply those needs.

President Nixon's calling for the country to "unite for peace," did not indicate that any return of all troops are imminent, yet some commentators remarked that neither did it close the door on the possibility of an early announcement of large-scale withdrawal.

One of our readers has suggested that if history is to repeat itself, men may very well start digging, ditches that is. A little better than 100 years ago, a Frenchman with a dream and small financing set an army of diggers at work on the Suez canal. To do the grueling pick and shovel work, the Egyptian government every few months had to send in another 25,000 "felahin" to replace losses from exhaustion and disease. But Ferdinand de Lesseps' canal look shape. Our reader sent us a magazine illustration of the huge work gang, men who stood waist-deep in water and scooped up mud with their bare hands to squeeze it dry against their chests before depositing it on the banks. Half-way through the project machines took over.

Thirty years ago a similar digging scene was exhibited in a Los Angeles paper. It was reported that "nearly 4,000 men are working with picks, shovels and wheelbarrows, hand-digging an immense open cut... the sight resembles nothing so much as some huge ant hill from which the top has just been kicked."

The workers were doing excavation for a $6.3 million municipal storm drain. And why was the vast army of diggers resorting to such an ancient method of labor? Works Progress Administration Director Connolly gave the answer: "We could do it by machinery with a handful of men and do it much faster and at less expense, but it is being done to give these men work. They were on the dole."

Make-work projects, whether in an individual business or community endeavor, rarely provide valid economic answers. Using antiquated processes and tools is a case of knowing better but not doing better and does not lead to true progress.

We are doubtful that there will be any repetition of the same kind of pick-and-shovel projects as in the old WPA days. Present-day make-work projects are likely to be more sophisticated.

When the men return -- and we pray it will be soon -- we hope they will be permitted to address themselves to unsolved problems in a free-market approach which will unleash the creative minds and willing energy of men.

Fulbright Does A 'Switch'

Sen. J. William Fulbright, the leftist apologist who keeps getting elected from Arkansas because he votes against civil rights, has written an article for Look magazine. He said the President yields far more power in foreign policy than authorized by the Constitution. He says the United States already has gone "a long way toward becoming an elective dictatorship," and that if the present trend continues "the future can hold nothing for us except endless foreign exertions, chronic warfare, burgeoning expense, and the militarization of American life."

We welcome the senator and former Rhodes scholar to the ranks of people who long have questioned the trend toward totalitarianism in this once free land.

But it remains for some of the people with long memories to recall that Mr. Fulbright not long ago was singing a different tune. The Chicago Tribune jogs our memories with this comment: "This is a strange posture for a man who, as recently as 1963, wrote a paper for the radical Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions upholding virtually unrestricted presidential power in foreign policy."

Members of Congress, he explained, are too susceptible to local and regional pressures and to waves of fear and emotion that sometimes sweep over public opinion to be effective in foreign policy. Public opinion must be educated and led to bolster a wise and effective foreign policy, and "this is preeminently a task of presidential power, because the presidential office is the only one under our constitutional system that constitutes a forum for moral and political leadership on a national scale."

H. L. Hunt Writes

LOOKING FOR ANSWERS
So many complex problems face the concerned citizen interested in public affairs that it is sometimes difficult to acquire the background from which to appraise events. My own efforts to understand through the years have led me into many interesting studies and discoveries.

One which interests me as much as most is the problem of helping the people of an emerging nation achieve self-government, which is so much better for them and for the world than any dictators, no matter how benign. I prepared in 1959 a constitution which I hoped would help the peoples of the nations which were expected to emerge in the 1960s.

The constitution has been translated into many languages, which is another story in itself. Since inflation is one of the deadliest perils, next to communism, to be faced by new nations, my book ALPACA REVISITED discusses this problem and the Keynesian theories which ruin currency. It is to be found on pages 78-83 in the soft-cover edition.

It has been stated that a European chief of state caused plans for succession to leadership in his nation to be drawn up after studying this plan for Alpaca, the mythical emerging nation.

This is a period when the former silent majority is beginning to speak up. My book, WHY NOT SPEAK?, would be helpful to concerned citizens who do not realize their power and influence when used to speak out for freedom. It offers tips on speaking for truth and freedom and includes some of the great speeches of our time as examples.

FABIANS FIGHT FREEDOM
WASHINGTON -- There is a huge blank-check sleeper in the multi-million dollar anti-poverty authorization bill the House is finally expected to act on next week.

Unless this gaping loophole is plugged, the scandal-riddled anti-poverty program would have a virtual sky-is-the-limit claim on the U. S. Treasury.

This amazing backstage situation is due to the peculiar funding provision. The legislation would continue the anti-poverty program for two more years. For the first year, an expenditure of $2.3 billion is specified. The second year is where the undisclosed sleeper comes in.

No amount is listed. The provision merely states "such sums as are necessary."

In effect, that's a blank check on the Treasury. If this provision should become law (highly unlikely), the widely assailed Office of Economic Opportunity, which administers the anti-poverty program, would be free to tap the Treasury for billions.

Rep. William Scherle, R-Iowa, who has been vigorously battling to sweepingly overhaul the anti-poverty program, will spearhead the fight against the extraordinary funding section -- which he denounces as a "gross abdication of congressional responsibility." He will offer an amendment to eliminate the blank-check language.

The sleeper was included in a proposal by Rep. Augustus Hawkins, D-Calif. It was written into the bill by the Democratic majority of the House Education and Labor Committee on a straight party vote -- 20 Democrats; 12 Republicans.

DEMOCRATS (33): Anderson, Bayh, Burdick, Cranston, Ellender, Fulbright, Gravel, Harris, Hart, Hollings, Hughes, Inouye, Jackson, Long, Magnuson, McGee, McGovern, McIntyre, Metcalf, Mondale, Montoya, Moss, Muskie, Nelson, Pastore, Proxmire, Randolph, Ribicoff, Symington, Tydings, William (N.J.) Yarborough and Young (Ohio).

The Doctor Says

Search Continues For Safer Pill

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT

In 1949, fleeing the engulfing tide of materialism and sophistication in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, a group of them migrated to the Arkansas Ozarks.

Each family bought 150 acres of rocky soil at $6 an acre. With horse-drawn equipment and bare hands, they cleared the land and developed productive farms.

In 1966, out of step with the mores, morals and laws of the United States, a tiny band of Amish pilgrims left our country to seek "freedom" in the primitive jungles of Central America.

Eight of them took their families to the virgin interior of western British Honduras. They bought 3,640 acres in the foothills of the Mya Mountains near the Belize River.

On this acreage they now raise cattle and truck crops. The climate is warm and wet, excellent for some breeds of beef cattle.

They are growing such tropical-adaptive foods as yams, citrus fruits, beans and corn. All they want of pineapples, mangoes, bananas, coconuts

Overpopulation of overdeveloped countries will motivate an increasing tide of emigration to the underpopulated Latin-American frontier, but it is sad to see American pilgrims leaving America seeking, of all things, religious liberty.

Question Box

We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.

QUESTION -- Why are our meats packed full of water and for what purpose but to cheat and swindle? Some of the meat has so much water that you can hardly have any fried meat without it popping and splattering on the stove. If the farmer were to pump that much water in his hogs, there would be a law against watered hogs at once. We the people should stay away from such meat for say three or more months at a time. And then vote for new law makers. If they don't do what should be done, then we should get someone who can.

ANSWER: We have not encountered water-filled meat such as described by Mr. K. It is true that certain meats which are cured and smoked

Is It Possible We Really Can Get Away From It All?

Is it possible for any of us really to "get away from it all"?

In 1966 a small band of American Pilgrims tried. Let's see how they made out.

Amishmen do not believe in much of what we consider modern and civilized and necessary, such as electricity, automobiles and ornamented attire.

In 1949, fleeing the engulfing tide of materialism and sophistication in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, a group of them migrated to the Arkansas Ozarks.

Each family bought 150 acres of rocky soil at $6 an acre. With horse-drawn equipment and bare hands, they cleared the land and developed productive farms.

Then when the state decreed that they must send their children to public schools, which they considered worldly and incompatible with a religious life, they decided it was time to move on.

In 1966, out of step with the mores, morals and laws of the United States, a tiny band of Amish pilgrims left our country to seek "freedom" in the primitive jungles of Central America.

'Self-Discipline' Would Be An Excellent Starting Place

It seems strange that almost at the same moment that the House of Representatives approved another pay increase for federal employees President Nixon told leaders of business and labor they must display wage-price restraints.

The danger of inflation is real. The cure requires some unpleasant medicine, patience on the part of all, and self-discipline by government, business and labor.

Federal employees are deviled by inflation as much as anyone else but a look at recent history is necessary to reach a true evaluation.

In June, 1968, President Johnson signed an executive order which provided a 5 per cent pay raise for civilian employees. The last portion of that hike became effective July 1 of this year.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—As a night club singer, Warde Donovan is one among many, but in matrimony he is unique. He has become a man of wedlock distinction by virtue of being the oldest, established, current husband of Phyllis Diller, the glamorous star of stage, screen, radio, television and lantern slides.

These two love birds are appearing separately together at the Shoreham Hotel here, and this gave me the opportunity to ask Donovan the question that reporters used to ask Joe DiMaggio when he was married to Marilyn Monroe.

"What is it like being married to America's leading sex symbol?" I inquired.

Had Tears In His Eyes
Donovan, a handsome devil with long grey hair and a brown moustache, had tears in his limpid blue eyes as he replied.

"I know you aren't going to believe this," he said, "but it wasn't her fabulous face and gorgeous body that primarily attracted me to Phyllis."

"I believe it," I assured him. "Beneath that sensual surface Phyllis is a sweet, shy, impressionable girl who is tired of her sexpot image and just wants to be accepted for her own self. These are the qualities I found appealing," Donovan continued.

"I believe it," I said. "Does it bother you knowing that your wife drives other men wild?"

"Of course it does. When we got out in public, men claw and shove to get close enough to touch her and other women look daggers at her. But that is something I have learned to live with."

"Do you get a thrill out of going to chichi places with the reigning sex goddess?"

"Not in the least. Our idea of a good time is spending a quiet evening in our apartment reading aloud to each other from the collected works of Dame Edith Sitwell."

"A few years ago," I said, "your wife posed in the nude for a Playboy photographer but the picture was never published. Do you know why the magazine suppressed it?"

"The publisher feared that the sight of Phyllis Diller's bare body would galvanize uncontrollable passions among the magazine's subscribers. He didn't want to be responsible for the consequences."

"Isn't there some way her sex appeal would be diminished?"

"I'm afraid not," Donovan replied sadly. "She looks sexier in a maxicoat than she does in a miniskirt."

"I believe it," I said.

Longview School Too Slow About Intergrating

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A school integration plan for Longview, Tex., is workable but too slow, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled Monday.

"This system is operating under a plan approved by the district court which appears to be realistic and workable that is to be implemented over a period of five years. This is inadequate," the appeals court said.

The court remanded the case to the district court with orders to see to it the school district integrates completely by the fall term of next year.

The order was part of an en banc decision affecting 16 Southern school districts.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the course of the recent steep market slide, TOP Inc. says, various technical indexes have become oversold, suggesting that any sudden news developments or firming tendency at the 800 level would bring on a quick rally. A more durable rally, however, would probably require several weeks of preliminary stability, the firms adds.

Stocks acquire or retrieve strength only on the downside because only in this way do they lose weak holders on balance, Gold's Position observes. A rising stock, on the other hand, attracts a preponderance of impulsive buyers which, in turn, prompts strong holders to supply stock. Therefore, stocks closing on a strong note may actually be weakening themselves by attracting undependable buyers, while a "weak close" may actually be "indicative of the sort of downside exhaustion in the fact of general alarm which calls for selective accumulation."

On past performance, it is a "pretty dependable assumption" the market will start a long-term rally well before the bottom of any economic recession is reached, Spear & Staff Inc. says. The fact that the market showed an advance in October compared with declines in eight of nine economic indicators cited by the Commerce Department may indicate the pattern which will emerge in the months ahead, the firm says.

Brutality Charges Increase Against Lackland Air Force Base Sergeants

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Air Force recruit Roark Mallory testified Monday in the court-martial of Sgt. Ronald E. Wood that Wood handcuffed him to another recruit, and that when the recruit became sick, Wood told him to "vomit on Mallory."

Wood is one of three sergeants at Lackland Air Force Base accused of brutality by 14 recruits.

The other sergeants, Raymond T. Lucy Jr., 28, of Lawrenceville, Va., and Mnauel W. S. Clark, 34, of Oberlin, Ohio, will be tried later.

Wood's attorney, James Gillespie, told the court martial before testimony began Monday that the prosecution's witnesses "would themselves raise reasonable doubt to the charges. The government will fail to meet the burden of proof beyond a reasonable doubt."

Let Him Have It
Mallory testified that Wood, 29, of Indianapolis, Ind., handcuffed him to Larry Joe Gilbert last Aug. 1.

He testified that Gilbert became sick and began to vomit. "Sgt. Wood told him the next time he vomited to do it on Mallory," Mallory testified. "He turned my way and let me have it."

In cross-examination, Mallory told the court he was being discharged because of emotional problems not connected with the Air Force. He said he had once tried to commit suicide, but that the attempt had nothing to do with any alleged maltreatment.

Only A Suggestion
Gillespie then read from the record of a pre-trial investigation that Mallory did not say Wood ordered the recruit to vomit on Mallory. The pre-trial record showed Mallory as saying Wood "suggested" Gilbert vomit on the recruit.

Highest Military Honor Given To Three Who Gave Lives

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today presented the Medal of Honor to the families of two Army sergeants and a Marine officer who gave their lives on behalf of comrades in Vietnam fighting.

The nation's highest military honor was conferred in a private ceremony at the Executive Office Building near the White House.

Summoned to accept the medals were the relatives of Sgt. I.C. Eugene Ashley Jr., Wilmington, N.C.; S.Sgt. Clifford Chester Sims, whose widow lives at Fayetteville, N.C., and whose parents live in Port St. Joe, Fla.; and of Marine 2nd Lt. Terrence C. Graves, Grotton, N.Y.

Ashley was serving with the 5th Special forces group in February, 1968, when he led five assaults against North Vietnamese army forces attacking his camp and was wounded by enemy machinegun fire. As his buddies carried him away an artillery round landed nearby and killed him.

Sims was leading Company D of an infantry group in the 101st Airborne Division near Hue in February, 1968, when it came under heavy fire. The squad was approaching a Viet Cong bunker when Sims heard the sound of an enemy booby trap being triggered. He jumped on it just as it exploded, his body absorbing the impact of the blast, saving the lives of his comrades.

Graves, son of a former Navy officer, was killed on Feb. 16, 1968, while on a long range reconnaissance mission. When his eight-man patrol ambushed seven enemy soldiers and was subsequently attacked by a larger force, Graves moved through the fire-swept area and called in air support and artillery fire. After tending the wounded, he and another Marine launched an assault against surviving Communist soldiers. Later he was wounded as his patrol came under heavy attack a second time, but he refused medical attention as he directed incoming rescue aircraft. The helicopter in which he was rescued was hit by intensive ground fire and crashed shortly after liftoff killing all aboard.
