Leroy Maxwell, RA Leader of Trinity Baptist Church, spoke to the Brotherhood of the Church Monday evening on the work being done with boys.

Sunday evening, February 8, worship service at Trinity Baptist Church was an all musical program furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Flanagan of Slaton, together with musical groups from the Muleshoe Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sarguine of Boulder, Colo. arrived Wednesday to visit Mrs. Sarguine's parents, the Mervin Wiltedings, and her sisters and their families, the Robert Hootens and the Calvin Embrys. They will help Mervin Wilteding and his sister, Mrs. D.B. Head, celebrate their birthdays Sunday.

Mrs. Cecil Cole went February 3 by train to Flagstaff, Arizona where she was met by her sister, Mrs. R.W. Chadborn. The two of them then went by car to Coolidge to visit a cousin, Mrs. B.D. Burns and her mother, Mrs. Kathryn Harvey. Mrs. Harvey had suffered a stroke. Mrs. Cole was expected home the last of the week.

Muleshoe Church of Christ continues to sponsor a free medical clinic for underprivileged children at the Church each Wednesday from 12:00 noon to 1:30 p.m. Anyone needing medical attention and unable to pay for it, will be given an examination, vaccines and the medicines necessary. Dr. B.E. Sanderlin and Dr. Charles Pummill are giving of their time and training to render this service to underprivileged children. To date 55 or 56 families have received this assistance, Royce Clay, minister of the Church, said.

The children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Embry will honor them on their Golden Wedding Sunday from 2:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. at a reception in YL Methodist Church. The family requests no gifts, please.

Visiting in the L.O. Norwood home Thursday from Clovis were Rev. and Mrs. James Tidenberg and family. Muleshoe visitors included the Wayne Hardage family and the Bill Johnson family.

Following a 6:30 p.m. dinner, the men played '42' while the women asked Mrs. Tidenberg questions about their mission work in Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wofford, Wheeler, were guests in the home of his sister, Mrs. E.H. Kennedy last weekend.

The Bailey County Ministerial Alliance met last week and began preliminary preparation for Holy Week, which will be held during the last week of March.

Easter Seal Campaign Begins Soon

The 1970 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Bailey County on Monday, February 23, according to Jimmie Crawford, who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the county.

Mr. Crawford said that Easter Seal Appeal letters would begin arriving at homes in the county about March 1. As Easter Seal Representative, he is the local contact to request rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing program and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults.

Last year 20,378 handicapped people received help from the Texas Society, Crawford explained. But the costs of providing expert professional care are rising, and more money than ever will be needed, he said. Funds help support 20 centers in Texas, where crippled children and adults are treated, regardless of their ability to pay. Walkers, wheelchairs and related services are provided to those who cannot provide for themselves.

'Amazing' Describes Junior High Youth

"Amazing," "fantastic" and "unusual" are some of the words being used around Muleshoe Junior High School to describe the progress of a youth in that school.

On February 2, Efrén Sarmiento was enrolled in school by his father, Malaques Torres. Students enroll in school all the time, so what's the big deal?

Well—Efrén was fifteen and had just arrived from Chihuahua, Mexico, with a very limited vocabulary of English words. He understood a few English words, and spoke only a few, not enough to communicate with his teachers and classmates.

One of his teachers estimated an English vocabulary of 100-150 words at the very most, less than the average preschooler. In less than two weeks, his English vocabulary has increased to more than 500 words through an intensive training period by Mrs. Benny (Georgia) Pena and Brian Maconi, who work several hours a day with Efrén. The are assisted by Elizabeth Watson, curriculum director and Burell Block, MHS Spanish teacher. Mrs. Pena and Maconi spend many hours preparing his special studies. They record tapes daily with words, phrases and sentences for Efrén to hear and mimic. As he hears the words and phrases, he repeats, repeats and repeats until it is in his mind, along with comprehension of what the word or phrase means.

Along with the tapes, book written to teach English as a foreign language are utilized. The books were compiled by the Foreign Languages Department of Texas Technological University, Lubbock.

When asked "why do you work so hard to learn English?" the youth replied, "I want to learn quickly because I want to understand what my teachers and other people are saying."

When Efrén moved to Texas to join his father at his place of employment on the Kenneth Nesbitt farm, he left his mother and five younger brothers and sisters in Chihuahua. He said his sisters and brothers are 12, 10, nine, six, and one year of age. For the past six years his father has worked for Nesbitt, and during that time has attempted to bring his family to the United States to join him. His family will join him as soon as visas can be issued. He hopes to bring the other members of his family to Texas this year.

Efrén said the four older children attend school in Chihuahua, where public or (Federal) school can be attended through grade six. Following the sixth grade, students who desire and can afford further education are sent to preparatory schools or universities and colleges. For most students, school ends after the sixth grade although Efrén had two years of preparatory school before coming to the Muleshoe area.

He had a grade rating which showed him to be a consistent 'B' student and has the equivalent of at least an eighth grade education when he moved to Muleshoe. In Muleshoe Junior High School, he does not attend all classes. Presently, he spends three periods a day studying with Mrs. Pena and Maconi and is in chorus, has math and physical education. Maconi said Efrén enjoyed math and seemed to be mathematically inclined. At the present time, Maconi said the youth would not benefit from English or history classes. "However," added the teacher, "if his present rate of progress continues, he should be speaking fluent English by the end of the school year."

Fifteen year old Efrén said he plans to stay in the United States and likes Muleshoe and especially likes school. He has formed a deep, apparent attachment to his two special teachers, Mrs. Pena and Brian Maconi, evidenced by his 'sponge-like' mind and adaptability to his new atmosphere. He has learned quickly and well, and commented that he did not realize he was learning so quickly, simply took it as a matter of course. Expressing surprise that there was perhaps anything unusual about his alertness, the youth remains polite, quite and soft-spoken as he goes about the job of learning the English language, which two weeks ago was a foreign language to him.

His constant companion, Pedro Flores, another eighth grader who was assigned to him as a translator during his

NOW, PRONOUNCE 'THIR-TY'—Efrén Sarmiento, center, watches closely as instructor Brian Maconi enunciates the word 'thir-ty' during a session at Muleshoe Junior High School. Mrs. Benny (Georgia) Pena, left, is assisting in teaching the mysterious foreign language, English, to the youth from Chihuahua, Mexico.

One of the years major events, especially for hundreds of county youngsters, comes up this week. The Bailey County Junior Livestock Show will be held at the High School Bus Barn February 19-20.

The activities have been actually going on all year, with the Future Farmers of America and the 4-H members feeding and caring for their animals. Last week, cleaning, currying and combing the cattle and sheep occupied the minds and hands of many active youngsters.

Chairman of the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show Association Eugene Black issued a reminder that all boys and girls who plan to enter the show should see their agriculture teacher or the county agent by Tuesday, February 17 at 4 p.m. At this time they should register their animal and pay the registration fee.

Black said the sponsors estimated that approximately 40-45 heifer and steer calves will be entered along with 250-275 swine and 45 sheep. This will make it the largest show in the history of the annual presentation.

Three Way and Bula will also be entering animals in the various categories for the two day show.

Each exhibitor is limited to three hogs, which may be barrows, gilts or any combination of the same. Each exhibitor may also show three lambs which maybe ewes or wethers or any combination of the same and two beef animals which may be steers, heifers, or any combination of the same, according to Black.

The lambs will be judged Thursday, February 19, at 7:30 p.m. Berkshire Gilts will be judged beginning at 2:15 on Friday, February 20 and hogs will be judged following the gilt show. Heifer judging will climax the show.

The Muleshoe Area United Fund budgeted $3,700 for the show this year and the funds will be used for prizes.

Officials of the United Fund noted that the livestock show serves to challenge the interests and abilities of the 300 boys and girls in the county who are active in 4-H Clubs and the FFA and FHA chapters in the Muleshoe area. More than 130 youngsters entered the 1969 show and exhibited animals which they had fed and cared for from four to twelve months.

The officials said the Bailey County Agent and Vocational Agriculture teachers cooperate with the show by properly supervising the boys and girls who undertake to feed and show hogs, lambs and beef calves for the show which is held annually one week prior to the Lubbock Fat Stock Show.

Black commented, "This competition provides construc-

Textbook Committee Evaluates Books

The local textbook Committee of the Muleshoe Schools is evaluating new textbooks that are on the State adopted list. These books will be used in the schools during the academic year 1970-1971.

The duty of the textbook committee is to examine all books on the multiple list adopted by the State Board of Education, to select the textbooks from the list for use in the local system, and to recommend its selections to the Muleshoe Board of Trustees for ratification.

New Books will be adopted in the following areas: elementary math, grades 1-3; supplemental readers, grades 7-8; American history, grade 8; American History, literature, grades 9-10; biology, physics, Spanish I and II, drama, business arithmetic, distributive education, industrial arts and dictionaries in high school.

Any interested person is invited to examine these new texts, if he wishes. Sample books are on display in the Curriculum Office in the Junior High building and in each principal's office in his respective building. The Committee will make recommendations on February 25.

Local committee members are Mary B. Obenhaus, Edith Henderson and Bill Taylor from Mary DeShazo; Milton Oyler, Estelle Fox, Ruby Lambert from Richland Hills; F.D. Rogers, and La Vonne McKillip Junior High; James Jennings, Ruby Lee Kerr, Eric Smith, Burell Block, and Tom Jinks, High School; and Elizabeth Watson, Neal Dillman, and Bryan Brady.

Church Of Christ At Lazbuddie Sets Revival

G.W. Mimms, minister of the Lazbuddie Church of Christ, has announced a revival to be held at the church next week.

The revival begins Monday, February 16 and will conclude with Sunday services on February 22. Services will be held at 9 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily. John M. Davis, minister of the Ridgewood Church of Christ, Beaumont for the past 10 years will be guest evangelist. Mimms said Davis has done extensive evangelistic work for the past several years in the United States, Mexico, Guatemala, Puerto Rico and North Ireland. The Lazbuddie minister said he would like to invite everyone in the area to attend any or all of the services.

City Discusses Paving Program

In a special city council meeting Thursday morning, the green light was given for the proposed paving program which will begin immediately.

The paving program was passed several months ago, and the city discussed the paving units which will open the extensive city paving project.

A two block paving program will be first on the agenda. It will include two blocks behind Muleshoe Junior High School on West Avenue F, from West Third Street to West Fifth Street.

Other programs first on the agenda include West Avenue D along the north side of the proposed city park; one block at the crossing by the Corral Restaurant and one block by James Crane Tire Company.

As soon as more survey work is completed additional units will be released for paving.

LET ME SEE NOW—Deputy Sheriff Ken Petree, seated, paints a money box. Actually, he is checking for fingerprints of the burglar, or burglars, who broke into Mary DeShazo Elementary School Tuesday night. DeShazo school Principal Bill Taylor, right, is an interested observer in Petree's investigation.

A happy spirit is the greatest, possession that comes to man, regardless of his wealth or lack of it.

Sound plans are essential in the accomplishment of any program, whether national or individual.

The St. Clairs did a good job of advertising Muleshoe while there. A new country Club building was dedicated while they were there, replacing one that had burned, and they were invited to attend the cornerstone laying.

St. Clair placed a Muleshoe Mule in the cornerstone, causing much conversation concerning our town with people from all parts of the country.

Rev. D.C. DuBose. He gave the welcome and introduced the program. The Pledge of Allegiance was given by the children, after which they sang "Eensy Weensy Spider", "This Old Man" and "Jesus Loves Me" in both Spanish and English. Mrs. Washington showed slides of the children at school and of their Christmas party.

 first week of school, has all but faded into the background as Efen is learning "on his own" the intricacies of another language.

In a conversation with his father's employer, Kenneth Nesbitt, Nesbitt added that he felt the youth's father perhaps did not realize the great potential of his eldest son. But, with the strong sense of responsibility by the father toward his family and the community where he lives, Nesbitt said the father wants his family to have the best education possible.

Nesbitt added that the father, Torres, has a deep sense of community pride and they often discuss community affairs. He said Torres apparently does not have a lot of formal education, but has a tremendous amount of common knowledge or "horse sense."

With no immediate plans for the future except to learn English "as fast as he can" Efen plans to continue his education in Muleshoe and wants to go through high school. After school, he helps his father on the farm and said, he likes farming--"a little."

Working as though he were fighting against time, Efen continues to spend long hours learning his new adopted language.

Mrs. Jennings Speaks On Federation Valentine Banquet Recalls Weddings

Muleshoe Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Sena Stevens on the Plainview Highway February 12 for a salad luncheon. Mrs. Wayne Williams was co-hostess with Mrs. Stevens. A Valentine motif was used. Invocation was given by Mrs. D.C. DuBose. Following the luncheon Mrs. Pauline Benefield led the club collect. Mrs. George Johnson, program director, introduced Mrs. O.N. Jennings, who spoke on Club Federation. Mrs. Jennings told the women Lady Bird Johnson was an honorary member of Federation, and that Lyndon Johnson's name is on the list of names in the Golden Book. She said the object of federation is to unite the women's clubs throughout the world for the purpose of mutual benefit and for the promotion of their common interest in education, philanthropy, public welfare, moral values, civic and fine arts. Membership in General Federation shall consist of Womens Clubs whose work and purpose are germane to the objects of the general federation. A very interesting question and answer session followed and the women were told there are 11,000,000 members in the national federation. The National Club was organized in 1890 and chartered in 1901. Texas Clubs were federated in 1897. The Texas Federated Clubs will hold their state meeting this year at Convention Hall in San Antonio June 7-12. Present for the luncheon and meeting were Mrs. J.G. Arnn, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs.

Trinity Hosts Rally

More than 200 young people and sponsors attended a Llano Altos Baptist Association Youth Rally Monday evening at Trinity Baptist Church.

The program was a religious folk musical presented by youth from the Bula Baptist Church and Three Way Baptist Church, "A New Kind of Dream".

It was the eighth presentation made by this group and drew its audience from Farwell, Bula, Three Way, First Baptist, and Trinity Baptist of Muleshoe, Lazbuddie, Friona and other area towns.

After the program, refreshments were served by the host church.

Revelations Study Continued

Mrs. C.A. Black was hostess to Joyce Hill Circle of United Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon in the parlor of the Church. She served cream puffs filled with strawberries and whipped cream, using Valentine decorations.

The prayer Circle was led by Mrs. Black, the president. Others attending were Mrs. Keith Taylor, Mrs. Jack Rennels, Mrs. Reagan Cox and Mrs. Marcia Gragg.

Mrs. Gragg presented the program on the 10th chapter of Revelations. She also reviewed the first nine chapters of the Book.

A Time of Sharing followed. The next meeting will be February 25 in the home of Mrs. James Cox.

A meeting of Circle members will be held later, in the month of March, to prepare for general meeting of WSCS April 7.

Mrs. Johnie Prater, a volunteer, kept the children in the Nursery.

A letter of appreciation to the Circle from Joyce Hill, the namesake of the Circle and a missionary, was read.

IT WAS LIKE THIS....Reflecting the enjoyment of the evening at the Valentine Banquet held Wednesday evening at United Methodist Church are the couples pictured, most of them dressed in their wedding clothes. Left to r, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Black, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooten, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Allison (he is in army uniform and almost hidden), Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Allison (please note them lapels), and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rennels.

the J.E. McVickers; and the wedding dress of "Grandmother Millen" worn at her own wedding in 1909 and since worn by a number of her granddaughters, including the Millen sisters, Linda, Rose Lee, Zona and Sharon.

Invocation was given by Rev. J. Waid Griffin. Dinner music was furnished by Mrs. Sam Damron and Mrs. Gilbert Lamb, playing two-piano duets. They also played again following the meal. Mistress of Ceremony was Mrs. Jack Rennels, who, denying any talent for telling jokes added much to the merriment of the evening with her clever repartee and managed to elicit many secrets from the audience. Welcome was given by WSCS President Mrs. Robert Hooten and the response given by her husband.

A program of folk music was furnished by "The Free Entertainment", a group of Muleshoe High School students and their leader, Brian Maconi, guitarist and vocalist. The students are Leland Ferris, guitarist and vocalist, and singers Steve Woodard, Waid Griffin, Jesse Clemmons, Betty Harbin, Ann Douglass, Rebecca Phelps and Dana Damron. They sang "Aquarius", "Leavin' On A Jet Plane", "Homeward Bound", "All My Trials", "Go Tell It On The Mountain", and "Don't It Make Ya Wanna Go Home".

Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Evins were the couple longest married, 55 years. Mrs. Gilbert Lamb was the newest married. Only Jack Rennels admitted to having carried his bride across the threshold and the Byron Gwyns were the only couple present who had eloped. The Owen Powells had known each other the longest before marriage, 42 years, (they were schoolmates together.)

Much wondering and wrong-guessing took place when wedding pictures and pictures of the year-of-marriage were projected on a screen. This was followed by showing a film of the wedding reception of Oscar and "Doll" Allison. Several of the couples present were dressed in their wedding clothes, some time-faded and other plainly telling the era (Army uniform). Even the hair styles of their wedding year were worn by some. The evening was closed with a meditation by Mrs. Keith Taylor, using Eph. 5: 21-33. Visitors recognized were Mr. and Mrs. D.B. Head, Mr. and Mrs. John Bickel and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Powell from YL United Methodist Church, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Surquigne of Boulder, Colo. and Cieta Williams. Mrs. Byron Gwyn was chairman of program arrangements; decorations were by Esther and Dorcas Circles; desserts by Wesleyan Service Guild; table setting by Mary-Martha Circle, drinks and bread by Progress Circle, and invitations by Joyce Hill Circle.

Mrs. Billy Williams Conservation Homemaker Of Year

Mrs. Billy Williams

Mrs. Billy Williams has been named Conservation Home-maker of the Year for Bailey County by Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation Service, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and by the Fort Worth Press.

One of the requirements made of the winner of the award is that she write a very complete account of the ways in which she practices conservation, for herself and for her family. Entrants are judged on (1) Leadership and Community Life, (2) Health and Recreation, (3) Home Management, (4) Clothing, (5) Food (6) Farm and Ranch Conservation.

The family record written by Mrs. Williams has been entered for district competition.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are parents of "four wonderful children": Peggy, 19, is a freshman at Texas Tech University majoring in business; David Wayne, 17, is a junior at MHS and Billy Don, 16, is a freshman. Terry Frank, five, will be six in time to start to school next fall.

Joyce Scarborough moved to Mulshoe with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scarborough, in 1935 when she was only two years old. The Scarbroughs were a "cow, chickens and garden" family and "Mother made most of our clothes".

Mrs. Williams said, "This early training is reflected in the home management practices of the homemaker who is now Mrs. Billy Williams. Miss Joyce Scarborough and Billy Franklin Williams were married September 17, 1949.

They lived the next three years in the Earth and Oton communities where Williams worked at farming. The following nine years he was employed at Johnson-Pool Hardware Company.

They then rented 320 acres from Myron Pool II on the halves and continued to live in town. Williams drove a motor scooter out to the farm.

In July, 1962 the family moved into a converted army barracks, Mrs. Williams said one could stand at the back door and see out the living room windows at the other end of the house.

In June, 1963 they bought 40 acres from their landlord and 34 acres was planted to hay and six acres in Midland Bermuda grass.

At the present time they rent 500 acres of land from Pool, 250 is planted to alfalfa, 80 in Midland Bermuda, 40 acres in side oats grama and 130 acres of native pasture.

LEADERSHIP AND COMMUNITY LIFE
Mrs. Williams says she has always enjoyed helping with vacation Bible School and Christmas programs at Assembly of God Church.

"When Peggy was old enough to be a Brownie Scout I went to a meeting and learned there was a need for leaders, so I became one", Mrs. Williams said. She told of making a Christmas tree of tumbleweeds sprayed and decorated with handmade ornaments for their Christmas party that year.

HOME MANAGEMENT
"It's not all fun, there is a serious side of farming," said the Homemaker of the Year. "We borrow from FHA for both farm and household expenses". A budget is required but the Williams only borrow enough to last until the hay season, then they use the income from hay to pay current expenses and repay the loan". Unless it is absolutely necessary, we do not make any major purchases until we have repaid our loan, and we shop around to try to get the most from our money.

The motor scooter Williams had used in town for getting to work was used for a while to drive out to the farm, but he found it impractical because he could not haul supplies, so traded it for a pickup.
"We all worked hard to make it a paying proposition. I picked out the children after school so they could help with the watering", Mrs. Williams explained. Two years ago they purchased a 1964 Opel for the children to drive to school and were pleased to learn it could be operated on seven gallons of gas a week, including trips on weekends. It was a big timesaver for Mrs. Williams. The Opel was later traded for a pickup so the boys could haul supplies on the way home from school, thus saving trips to town.
No one appreciated having a telephone more than the Williams family. They waited several years, along with other families south and west of town, before a phone was installed and even then had to deposit $50.00. They feel it pays for itself in trips saved to town to order butane, gas and other farm items.
The first garden was planted near an irrigation well and some distance from the house, a real inconvenience when Terry Frank was a baby. They are now planning a new garden near the house, which will provide all their fresh vegetables in season, plus canned foods.
Mrs. Williams shops for clothing bargains during the sales, as well as sewing for her family. She buys sheets, pillow cases, towels and other linens during the January white sales. "It is a good time to replace mattress pads, pillows and bedspreads", she said. She also hunts for bargains at the Fourth of July sales for future gifts.
"I use my paper as a shopping guide", the thrifty homemaker said, explaining that she also buys in quantity.
Having been carefully taught conservation measures in her childhood, it comes naturally to her now. Mrs. Williams believes. She practices many things that make small savings that add up to large ones. Instead of purchasing toothpaste, she mixes salt and soda in spice jars with shaker tops and says she likes the clean taste it leaves in the mouth.
She covers her ironing board with worn sheets and used them, too, to polish mirrors and windows. She made distowels from flour sacks and enjoys embroidering or painting them. She uses scraps left from sewing to make quilt tops (like Mother) and this is done while she watches television with the family. The tops are sometimes lined with old blankets. If filled with cotton she takes them to her mother's home to be tacked in frames.
Peggy earned enough as a DE student to buy her school lunches and some of her clothes. She was given a $400 scholarship by Bailey County Electric Cooperative and works in the cafeteria at Texas Tech.

CLOTHING
Mrs. Williams sorts clothing from the closets twice yearly and discard outgrown or unusable clothing. Some is given to relatives with younger children, some taken to the Church for distribution and some goes to the shop for grease rags.
In the summer the boys wear clothes not good enough for school wear, and she patches knees and elbows where necessary. Mismatched socks are placed in a special drawer to be worn with rubber boots.
Some of the boy's clothing is purchased before school starts but for coats and sweaters they wait for the January sales. Mrs. Williams used to make the boys' shirts and pajamas, and for herself and Peggy. She always buys the material on sale. She has also made sport coats for the younger boys. She finds that many times a saving can be made even if the material is not on sale.
"I always remove usable snaps, buttons and zippers before discarding a garment and use them again (particularly on Western shirts)".
Mrs. Williams has a washer but no dryer. If there are many bad days consecutively, she goes to town to dry her clothes. A dryer fund is growing - each time she does a load of laundry she puts 25¢ in a bank just as she would do at the laundry, looking toward the time there will be enough for a dryer.

Soaking clothes with detergent rather than a packaged pre-soak product is cheaper, she finds. She also finds ironing easier as she takes the clothes off the line, and the best time to sort garments for needed repairs, or buttons.
Using the automatic cleaners and pressing the garments herself, she drops a load off and goes about errands, then picks them up on her way out.
In order to have time for sewing for Peggy during the holidays, she did the sewing and Peggy the housework, another example of cooperation which motivates this family more to come. . . .
FOOD
This top homemaker feeds her family well, with meat every meal or meat substitute. She cans enough vegetables to feed them through the "no garden" season.
Desserts are not regularly served, but Mrs. Williams finds it easy to make a cobbler or open fruit if sweets are wanted. "To help Billy on his diet, I try to broil or bake most of his meat and serve vegetables that are low in calories often".
In making a shopping list, Mrs. Williams recalls being taught the practice of listing any item when the last can is opened, rather than waiting until the last can is almost gone, another way she saves rush trips to town.

The Williams family raises beans, peas, squash, okra, cucumbers, green onions, radishes, lettuce, tomatoes and canteloupes.
Mrs. Williams' mother and other relatives give them fruits of several kinds each year. Wild plums are gathered for jellies and jams.
Before the canning season starts, inventory is made of the jars remaining on the shelves. Each year Mrs. Williams plans to can 100 quarts and 50 pints of beans, 50 quarts and 25 pints of peas, 100 quarts of whole tomatoes, 36 jars of pickles and relishes, 24 quarts of peaches and 12 pints of cherries and blackberries. . . .
"The rest goes into jams and jellies". . . .
The Williams do not own their home, so any major improvements have to be done with the consent of the landlord. They were given to make any changes inside the house they wished, if they would provide the labor.
Mrs. Williams drew plan after plan, and with the help of her father who built the cabinets, they worked from March to mid-July remodeling the inside of the barracks type building.
While they were still living in town, Mrs. Williams realized she "could not possibly buy curtains for the entire house, so went to work. I got some cotton material at 29¢ per yard and made draperies for the living room, which are still in use although they are wearing thin". She bought material for kitchen curtains and made them for $3.00.
Moving in with newly painted walls, the children's bedroom furniture looked terrible, so I decided to antique it." The story of how it got done is longer than that, what with sandstorms and rain clouds and other unexpected happenings.

A bookcase made for her by Mrs. Williams' father was sanded and finished. She antiqued white a "hope chest" from girlhood days.
An application has recently been approved for a home of their own and the Williams are looking forward to this.
A pressure pump has been installed near the site of a new garden which will make harvesting the garden and working it easier.
The front lawn is planted to grass but there are no shrubs, a decision reached because of the rattlesnakes. Mrs. Williams said they have killed at least two each year and sometimes more. They keep a snake-bite kit handy. They also tore down the first little barn they built on the land since it is no longer being used and would possibly harbor snakes.
A new shop building was built last year just east of the house and the "We" is correct - the boys and Williams did the actual construction and Mrs. Williams provided moral support and refreshments. They have installed welding equipment to save on repair costs and trips to town, plus time.
All poisonous products are kept locked up in a barn away from the house. They are properly labeled so there can be no mistake as to the contents. FARM AND RANCH CONSERVATION

Stressing many times how the entire family supports the effort to make the farming effort successful, Mrs. Williams tells how the boys work after school and of how Peggy helped in the house when she was home. Only in the peak times of summer is any extra labor hired.
Starting with the 320 acres worked on the half, they now have 40 acres in native pasture and a 75 acre cotton allotment.
The first project was to repair the fence around the pasture and build some new.
An old barn from another farm of the landlord was torn down, the lumber cleaned, and rebuilt. They purchased a cow and calf.
The first year their cotton crop blew out and was replanted. They watered their hay crop every four hours to prevent losing it from blowing.
Their only income that year was a little from the cotton and the food from the garden. They butchered their calf.
Eighty acres was planted to Bermuda grass.
The second year the Williams purchased a swather and baler to save the cost of hiring it done. It was difficult to operate these while at the same time keeping the water going night and day.
"The next three years I would just like to forget, but I can't", said the courageous homemaker. They were hailed out and it was too late to replant; the next year there was too much rain and the hay rotted in the field, the cotton rotted and died and it was too late to replant. They straightened their shoulders, planted a cover crop of rye and oats and got it up to a good stand, then planted the hay. The next year the cotton was again hailed out, three times straight the cotton was lost.

The creditors agreed to let them pay the interest only and carry them. The bankers did the same but said they could not continue to finance the farming operations. They then applied for FHA loan to purchase 60 cows and two bulls. From this venture they learned the cost of applying the water and fertilizer left no profit, so the cattle were sold.
Soil tests were made to see what crops and fertilizer were best. The land was plowed up and alfalfa planted, each year they add a few acres. Williams spends a great part of the time in winter hauling cotton burrs and applying them to bare spots, hills and turn-rows to prevent blowing. He also hauled caliche where it was needed.
After another three years they were able to pull out of debt.
The natural gas line which was laid through that area was a real boon to them, they feel, in spite of having to pay $750 per well. It cuts their fuel bill by three-fourths.
Williams has experimented with peanuts but ended by having to harvest them by hand. They also tried pumpkins one year but the cost of labor was prohibitive.
40 acres of side oats grama have been sown for growing seed. They have found it best to use chemical weed killer rather than have it hoed. Grass and alfalfa are the only crops on the rented land.
In 1963 the Williams bought 40 acres of land from their landlord and put in 15 acres of hay. In 1967 they planted 19 more acres, 20 joints of mainline

History, Vitally Important To Muleshoe Students

by Coach Schroeder

In the last two outings against Canyon and Tulia, the boys played very good in both games. We lost the game to Canyon by 12 points, however, we were not disappointed in the way we played. Canyon is the quickest and fastest team we played. This speed along with their ability to hit from the outside has been the secret to their success all year. Canyon presently leads the district with an eight to zero record.

Although the score in the Tulia game was a little one-sided, the game was much closer than this. In the fourth quarter we were able to score fourteen points in a row to open up a twenty point lead. The scoring was very even in this game with four boys, Lionel Patterson, Jim Putman, Dennis Beene, and Jesse Clemmons all moving in double figures. They were followed closely by Jerry Putman with 9 points.

I am extremely happy with the ways the boys have played. Not only have they played well in the games, but our practices have also been very good. The secret to success in games is how well you play in practice. These boys have made the practice sessions enjoyable with the hustle and attitude they have exhibited.

Our district record now is four wins and five losses. In the final game with Hereford, the boys will be playing for a five and five record. Win or lose, these boys have nothing to be ashamed of. At the beginning of the season, we were picked to finish in the cellar, so its easy to see what an outstanding job these young men have done.

Coach Moore

The Mulettes ended their season this past Tuesday with a 12 win 13 loss record. In the past several games, the free throw line has proven to be the Mulettes' downfall. Inconsistent play and poor passing have been disastrous for the team in the past several games, too. Of all the looking back and glancing forward, a coach has to look to next year and so does the returning players. Seniors will be missed. I want to wish the Seniors the best always and assure them they will be missed.

'Pages Of Time' Studied Locally

by Coach Didway

The world history classes of Muleshoe High have several specific topics that must be understood before the students can fully comprehend the reasons for the study of the past. Political, economical, geographical, social, and religious activities are the foundations of civilizations of the past, as well as the present. These are the things in which man's life is dominated, and a development in one usually affects the other.

Each chapter in our text is designed to show the significance that each phase of history has on the other. The student's study of the past is aided by maps, lecture notes, chapter reviews, objective and essay tests. It is with these aids that a student develops knowledge, attitudes, and working skills toward the interpretation of the past.

Maps help the student understand the significance geography has on a civilization. Students have learned that all ancient civilizations, (Egypt, India, Mesopotamia, India, and China) had their beginnings along river valleys. These river valleys allowed the people to become farmers rather than nomads.

Though lectures and chapter reviews students learn about different ways of life and how they developed. These methods help students compare today's world problems with relevant problems of the past. The interdependence of nations is necessary before the major problems of war, disease, hunger, crime, and despotism can be conquered.

Objective and essay tests help students to sharpen their ability to separate fact from opinion, analyze problems, gather and evaluate evidence, arrive at a conclusion, and discuss vital current issues. These tests help the students to learn to communicate to others their own personal views on world situations.

It is through these developments of skills and knowledge that students acquire an understanding of the past. The student learns that he owes a debt to other people for their contributions to civilization, and as a civilized person he must seek a peaceful settlement of differences; and as an American he must seek to protect and preserve our democracy.

by Coach Schroeder
The state of Texas is one of the richest states in lore and history of any state in the Union. Texans should be proud of their heritage and should know how this great state was developed. The cultural elements in our society are not neglected in our study as our Texas History carries with it the traditions of many European countries. The study of Texas History begins with the coming of the European to the Texas area. The first Europeans who came to Texas were the Spaniards. Texas was later occupied by France and by Mexico. All told, there were six different flags to fly over the state of Texas.

The study of Texas History continues through the Civil War period up to the current political scene and the society in which we live in today. Texans should be proud of their state and what it represents. It is our objective that the student, through the study of Texas History, will become a better citizen in our community and an outstanding leader of tomorrow.

by Coach Morgan

Why study American Government? This is a question often asked by senior students either to themselves or aloud, sometimes too loudly. In today's seemingly troubled times the answer simply can not be, "Because American Government is necessary to meet senior graduation requirements." We can best answer this question by explaining what we will study in American Government.

Throughout the school year we will study such things as the nature of our governmental system, its principles, organizations, powers, and functions. We will try to develop respect and understanding of the laws set forth in the Constitution of the United States, for what is government if it is not the constitution. Knowledge of our governmental system is our best defense for this great country against all opposing forces.

Muleshoe High School students need to develop this knowledge and integrity if they are going to participate in an intelligent manner in the governmental process. Students of today will be responsible for a good or bad American government of the future.

Juniors Plan Car Caravan To Hereford

The Junior Class held its regular meeting Thursday, February 12, in the cafeteria. Some of the Junior boys volunteered to take cars to the basketball game at Hereford, Friday, to help support the team. Committees were appointed to bring food and drinks to sell at the annual Muleshoe Livestock Show. The meeting was then closed and we continued drinking cokes.

DECA CONTESTANTS AND SPONSORS--Two sponsors and nine Distributive Education students made a trip to Odessa last weekend for regional DECA competition. In the contest, first place winners, who will go on to state competition included Chester Clay Beavers and Merced Puente. First runner-up Daniel Beversdorf will also make the state trip to Houston.

Hello, Neighbor

by Kathy Seymore

The theory known as "continental drift" had been called pure nonsense by the scientists for many years. They were unable to be convinced that the earth's land masses began splitting up and drifting apart. Yet one glance at the globe showed the continents to fit together like a giant jigsaw puzzle.

During the past few years discoveries have turned skeptics into believers. Scientists have not only found the mechanism that causes the earth's movement, but explanations to many of the earth's problem's as well. What causes earthquakes? How are mountain ranges formed?

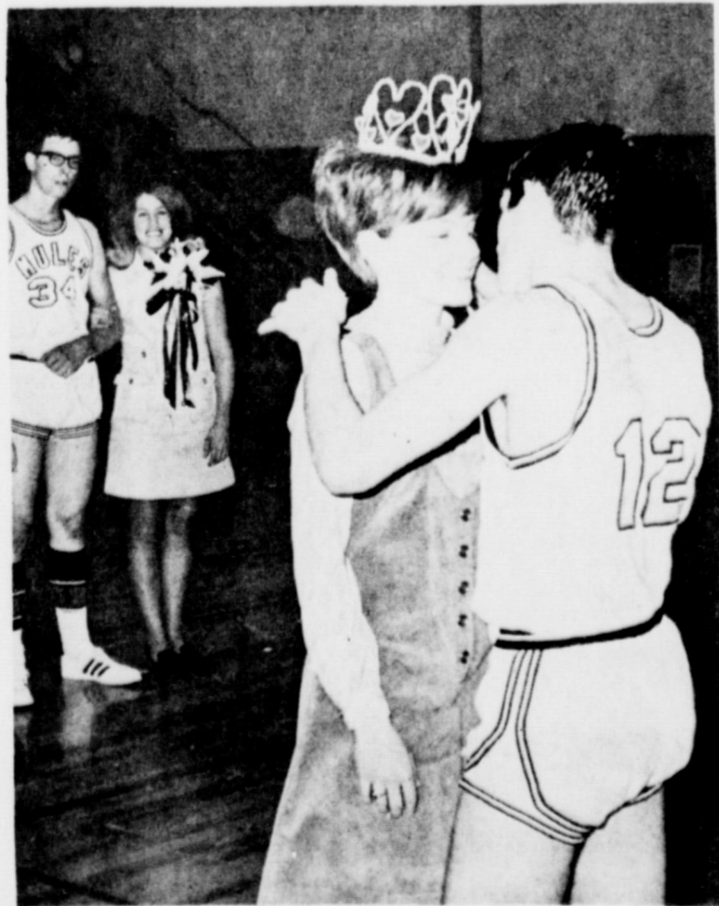

In proving this, scientists have matched geological strata of South America with West Africa in the area where the continents might have been joined. Fossils of plants and animals are identical even though they are separated by thousands of miles. Fossilized bones of a hippopotamus like reptile called Lystrasaurus has been discovered in Antarctica's Ross Ice shell when it had been thought that the animal only lived in prehistoric South Africa and Asia.

More clues came from the ocean depths as marine geologists completed charting a 47,000-mile-long chain of under sea mountains and ridges. Strangely enough, the water temperature near the ridges is higher than the temperature elsewhere in the ocean. Although the oceans are billions of years old, measurement of the depth of the accumulated sediment indicates that the sea floor is only a few million years old; the sediment deposit should be much thicker.

By using their new found evidence scientists believe that the present continents once made up two supercontinents. One is called Gondwanaland; it consists of the Indian subcontinent, Africa, South America, Australia and Antarctica. The other is Laurasia; it is the

Evangelist: "I believe that unless America has a moral and spiritual awakening we are heading for a revolution on one hand or a dictatorship on the other."

THE QUEEN RECEIVES A KISS--Basketball Homecoming Queen Debra Hays prepares for the traditional kiss as she is crowned by Homecoming King Dennis Beene.

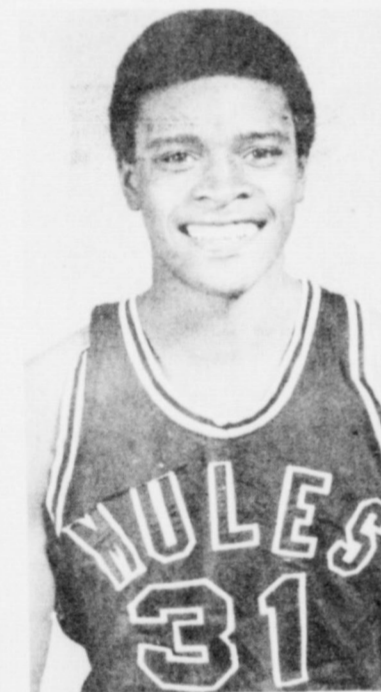

Ann Douglass

Mulette Player Of The Week

Coach Moore
Ann Douglass, senior forward, has earned recognition as player of the week. Ann scored twenty points against Canyon and twenty-one points against Tulia. Ann has been a starting forward since her sophomore year. Last year she was second team all district. Congratulations!

STAY ON YOUR OWN SIDE NOW!--Debra Hays, Mulette forward, keeps a Tulia Hornette away from the roundball during Tuesday nights homecoming game in Muleshoe.

Jesse Clemmons

Mule Player Of The Week

by John Woodard
This weeks player of the week is Senior Guard Jesse Clemmons. Jesse has played basketball all through school. This year he is an occasional starter for the varsity. Last week Jesse played an exceptional game against Tulia. He scored in double figures and although he did not get a great many rebounds, he got the ones we needed. Jesse was a constant threat to the man bringing the ball down court. Besides scoring Jesse has helped the team by giving it depth. Many times he has been called upon when another teammate was unable to play. During these times Jesse has proven a most valuable player.

Chuck Roming Senior Choice For Handsome

by Betty Harbin

The Senior Class of Muleshoe High School met Tuesday, the 10th of February, for its regular bi-monthly business meeting and coke party.

The Seniors elected a candidate for the Thespian beauty pageant to replace Bill Bruns, who withdrew from competition. Chucky Roming was decided to be a likely choice to vie for honors as most handsome young man in M.H.S.

After some discussion, the class of '70 officially decided to wait until after the purchase of the senior gift to make its donation to the Stegall Opportunity Plan.

All members of the class have already begun to anticipate the many plans involved in graduation activities.

DECA Goes To Odessa

by Jan Creamer

The club left for Odessa, Friday, February 6 at about 1:30 day, February 6 at about 1:30. We arrived in Odessa at our motel about 5:30. We freshened up and got ready to leave. We ate at Manuel's Mexican Food. From there we went to a function (dance) at the Odessa Junior College S.U.B. (Student Union Building). We had a very enjoyable time at the dance.

We arrived back at the motel and everyone said their good nights. . .but. . .that didn't mean everyone went to sleep. The usual mischief went on, but everyone got a little sleep. The next morning we went to contest. Everyone went their separate ways to compete against their schools. Lunch was furnished for us at the college, although lunch were added in our registration fee. The trip was short but everyone had a very enjoyable time. Chester Clay got in the top ten in Public Speaking and Merced Puente got in the top ten in Window Display and Daniel Beversdorf won first runner-up in Job Interview. All in all we're very proud of our Muleshoe Chapter.

We hear that women's skirts are to be shorter but you will have to wait to see.

It is with great pleasure that the editors selected Coach Schroeder as teacher of the week because he is not only a teacher but a determined coach.

Coach Schroeder, his wife Janet and two children, Stacy five years and Todd, four months live here in Muleshoe at 613 East Austin. His main interest of course, is sports.
