Doubled up, trainees watch miner N. Caisley, center, shovel coal onto a conveyor at Britain's new mine training school at Ashington, England. With 13 weeks of classroom study under their lamp helmets, the teen-agers, mostly sons of miners, go down into the pits to study mining and mine supervision first hand. The government sponsored the school to assure a supply of skilled miners.

Many Call It Madness, Some Call It Art

A bit puzzled? Well, so is Adolphe Landru, French worker at left. He doesn't know whether that sculpture is a bird, an eye, a wheel, or what. It's one of the many modern paintings and sculpture pieces on display at the 16th art exhibition of the Society of Independent Artists in Paris. Another head-scratcher in the show is the surrealist figure called "Musician," right.

Tipster Responsible for Capture Marijuana Ring

DALLAS—(AP)—A tipster supplied Narcotic Bureau's Dallas office, officers with details they needed to seize $22,400 worth of marijuana here and break up a narcotics ring operating in Dallas and San Antonio.

Two Dallas men were arrested here yesterday and San Antonio police arrested a third man last Friday.

Federal narcotics agents and Dallas police seized the drug at a bus station here when a man tried to claim a suitcase containing the marijuana. The tipster had told officers a man would try to claim the bag. He even supplied the claim check number.

Buccaneer Days Go Air-Minded

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—Corpus Christi's annual celebration of the old roving sea Buccaneer Days had a decidedly air-minded flavor this year.

The final big event last night of the three-day celebration was the crowning of Miss Kathryn Grandstaff of Robstown as sweetheart of the student Naval aviators. She was crowned by Adm. J. M. Reeves, chief of Naval Air Training, during a formal ball.

During the day 80 Navy planes produced an air show for more than 50,000 spectators.

Apparently engaged in a major operation from the amount of marijuana involved.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

THE STORY: Mr. and Mrs. Roberts take in problems along with lodgers when they do their part to relieve the wartime housing shortage in Great Falls, Mont. Their problem is Roger, who invites unexpected guests to dinner and smokes up the Roberts' car. But there are other guests, and other dilemmas.

XVIII

I RETURNED home one late afternoon to find an eager, husky young Air Transport Command pilot waiting to see me. He was just back in this country from flying Lend-Lease over the Hump and he had been advised at the Field that Sonny was to be transferred. (It often happened that new applicants for our rooms would come to see us before the present incumbents had heard they were to be moved.) He wanted the Vickers' room for the bride he was about to marry.

Jean had wanted to get married before Rollo went overseas, but her parents insisted upon their waiting until she was 21. She had that birthday the same day he flew his 45th mission—his age plus hers. "Get it?" he said. It seemed to him like an omen of good luck, and now as soon as he cleared at the Field, he'd get leave and they'd be married.

I looked at his war-weary uniform, wings over the pocket, two rows of campaign ribbons heavily dotted with stars and oak leaf clusters, the brilliant red, white, and blue shield on his sleeve; at his thatch of blond hair, the premature lines around his eyes; the tense, nervous way he used his lips; and I thought there wasn't much sacrifice a civilian could make that such a boy hadn't earned and didn't deserve. I tried him on what I should expect of him and his wife. (Why I wasted breath on such futurity I don't know for I never anticipated what a new guest would do and what a new guest was never in the system of what had happened.)

42—showed clearly all the way through the letter).

"Now do be a good boy, dear," she wrote, "and forgive me. It's going to seem awfully strange keeping house with another man and using all of the things we collected for our home, but I know you'd want me to be sensible and not throw them away just because of a little change in plans. I'll always love you, dear," she wrote. "It isn't that I love you less, only that I love Herbert more." She ended with: "How fortunate we are to have found out before it was too late."

ROLLO read the letter three times before he crushed it in his trembling hands. He walked back and forth across the kitchen floor a few turns. Then he dropped limply onto a chair. "I think it wouldn't hurt so much," he said, rubbing his throat, "if I could cry."

Rollo stuck his head in the door to ask if he could—no, to tell me he would—stay home for dinner. Since he had been commissioned, he ate a good many meals at the Officers' Club.

"Not tonight, Roger," I said. "Rollo's in trouble. I want him to stay."

"What's up?"

"His girl is marrying someone else."

"She loves me," Rollo said, hanging onto that comfort.

"Yeah, I know," Roger laughed. "Like a sister."

Rollo looked as though he'd had his face slapped. He bolted upstairs to his room and I ran after him. "Rollo! Rollo!" I called. "Rollo, don't give up yet. Maybe she isn't married after all. Maybe her parents wouldn't let her. If she'll just wait a little while, she'll see how foolish it is to give up a man she knows for one who has had only time to fascinate her. He's too old for her. Call her. Call her long distance, now. Talk to her. Make her promise to wait a while. If she'll wait, you stay home tonight."

Rollo put in his call, but it was Jean's mother who talked to him. Fearfully she told him that Jean had eloped the day before.

Solons Are Laden, Deadline in Sight

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Legislature took several strides toward final adjournment last week, but it would need seven-league boots to get there on time May 10.

Top accomplishment of the week was final House passage of the Ginner-Aikin school bills. The Senate must concur in House amendments and that could take weeks.

The finance issue was still in mid-air. A House amendment to the foundation school fund bill gives priority to money demands for rural roads over the school, and one of the big unanswered questions was how much the G-A program will cost.

The major appropriations bills and many one-purpose money measures still are tied up in the Senate Finance Committee. The House Appropriations Committee sent the 50 million dollar departmental bill to the calendar for action, but the college fund bill remained in committee.

Economy forces still were trying to figure out some way to finance state services during the next two years without a new tax bill. The House Revenue and Taxation Committee suggested 120 days for a general session. Gloomier forecasts had it around June 15.

On May 11 lawmakers' pay drops from $10 to $5 a day. That, plus hot weather, often needles legislators into calling it a job.

Major developments last week in essence:

Gov. Jester signed the basic science and chiropractor bills, the Citrus Commission bill, and another prison reform measure making it a crime to escape from the penitentiary.

Both branches finished work on a Constitutional Amendment. It would provide for annual sessions of the legislature and annual pay for lawmakers if adopted by the people in an election Sept. 24.

Bills changing the names of state eleemosynary institutions to state hospitals went to the Governor's desk.

Action was furious in the House, which:

Passed and sent to the Senate a bill creating a youth development council, overhauling the handling of juvenile delinquents.

Passed and sent to the Senate a bill putting the state hospitals under direction of a separate board, instead of the Board of Control.

Adopted a proposed Constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax as a voting requirement.

Passed and sent to the Senate a bill putting the state hospitals under direction of a separate board, instead of the Board of Control.

Gas Industry Of Britain Changes Hand

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's billion dollar gas industry passes into the hands of the government today, socialism's international May Day holiday.

It is the seventh major industry nationalized by the Labor Party since it came to power in 1945. The others were coal, electricity, inland transport, cable and wireless, airways and the Bank of England.

When dusk falls today, lamplighters as usual will pedal furiously down British streets on their bicycles, lighting the gas lamps. However, they will draw their pay henceforth from the state instead of from a gas company.

The government will add 150,000 employees to its payroll. It will take over 1,046 enterprises owned by 771 private companies and 275 municipalities and valued at $1,060,000,000.

The immediate change is largely administrative. A gas council will take over supervision. It will be responsible to the minister of fuel and power. Twelve gas boards scattered through the land will handle regional administrative problems.

The industry has been able to meet consumer demands, so the government is assuming no problem of major expansion.

The industry produces 44,500,000,000 cubic feet of gas annually by carbonizing coal.

The companies have been in sound financial condition and no boost in gas rates is expected after the government takes over. The average family pays about $12 a quarter for gas. This is higher than in the United States, but many British families are dependent on gas for their heating.

The treasury announced that gas stockholders will get government bonds of a value equal to their holdings in the companies.

Sailor Finds 'Splash Day' Valuable Clip

GALVESTON—(AP)—A sailor ducked himself into the Gulf and came up with a plastic chip worth $250 at the annual "Splash Day" here.

W. T. Bullock, seaman first class from the USS Markab of the Land Reserve Fleet at Orange, found the plastic chip cube yesterday. It was one of 500 dropped into the water by three B-25's from Barksdale, La. Total value of the cubes was $15,000.

Officials estimated 50,000 visitors were in Galveston to open the summer season. Approximately 45,000 Galveston people swelled the opening throng to 95,000.

Among the festivities was an air show put on by a B-36 from Fort Worth and jet planes from Williams Field, Ariz.

Marine reserves staged a landing at 2 p. m. and provided a beach head for the landing of King Neptune, in the person of entertainer Henry Busse.

There was a fireworks display last night.

Prize Added to Kitty for Infant

GALVESTON—(AP)—There is $400 more in the kitty for the Joe Demmer infant expected in July.

Demmer, of Austin, won the $400 as prize money by taking first place in the five-mile Splash Day Gulf swimming race here yesterday.

Demmer, former University of Texas athlete, swam the distance in an hour and 20 minutes to finish 10 minutes ahead of Bob Gettry, Pasadena, Texas. Fred Gass of Riverside, Calif., U. S. Air Forces swimming champion, finished third.

After the race Demmer said, "my wife is going to have a baby in July. This money is certainly going to help."

There were 12 contestants. Gettry won $250 and Gass took $100 for third place.

There are eight doors in the Navy's super giant transport Constitution, plus 13 emergency exits.

Thousands of Children Left Horribly Mutilated by War

WAR VICTIM—"Now I don't feel like a worm," says Stanislaw Kutis, whose war-shattered legs were amputated too high for him ever to wear artificial ones. The Foster Parents' Plan gave him an engine-powered wheelchair so he doesn't have to crawl, worm-like, along the ground any more. Here he talks with another amputee who has two artificial legs.

By S. BURTON HEATH

NEW YORK—(NEA)—In the old Savoia palace, once a residence of Italian royalty, are 30 children who lost arms or legs or both during the war. Because they also are blind, they cannot use artificial limbs, since their lack of sight would be too great a handicap in the operation of mechanical hands, arms and legs.

In many instances, in the wartime rush to do something for everybody, their maimed limbs were sawed off without leaving the customary flaps of flesh to allow for growth. Now growing bones poke through the skin, and new operations are needed to take off surplus bone.

These are one small group out of the thousands of European children mutilated by the war. There are known to be at least 12,000 in Italy, 7000 in Belgium, probably many more in Poland and large numbers in most other countries.

The Savoia colony is one of several maintained by Foster Parents' Plan for War Children. The youngsters are supported by $15 a month contributions from individuals and groups in the United States. But medical and surgical care, artificial limbs, glass eyes, crutches and the like are extra, from a special fund that can never begin to catch up with the pressing need.

One of the Plan's handicaps is that so many of the mutilations are so horrible that they can't be pictured.

There is Hein, a little Dutch lad who suffered phosphorus burns so bad that he couldn't close his eyelids and had to sleep with them open. His face was like melted puddles of brown flesh. Incidentally, he had lost part of one hand. When Mrs. Edna Blue, international chairman of the plan, or any other stranger, came in, he used to hang his head and cover his face.

But on her last visit Hein walked right up, kissed Mrs. Blue "Hello," took off his glasses and showed his new eyelids that will blink.

Near Wroclaw, in Poland, is a colony of 85 mutilated children, of whom only eight yet have artificial limbs. But all but one had foster parents—to finance existence, and write occasional letters and exchange pictures—when Mrs. Blue was there.

"One seven-year-old whispered in the ear of Sophie, our Polish representative. She told me: 'All the other children have got foster parents except him. He says, will you please get him one.' I gave him a big kiss and told him I'd see that he got a foster parent right away. Tears rolled down his cheeks. He ran into my arms with a kind of violence of affection, and hugged and kissed me, saying 'Mama, Mama.'"

At this same camp is Stanislaw Kutis, whose legs were amputated so high that he could never wear artificial legs. He got about nimbly on hands that have become tremendous through such use. By fitting a motorcycle engine and front wheel onto a sort of wheelchair, he has been given a vehicle in which he can travel now. It took $200 of the none too plentiful funds, but it inspired Stanislaw to say: "Now I don't feel like a worm."

For plastic surgery, ordinarily two children go in together so they can give each other comfort and company during the ordeal. One such pair was made up of Jules Bovey, 10, struck by shell fragments during the Battle of the Bulge, and Maria Michaels, nine, mutilated when the Nazis hit her Belgian home with a V-2.

Somebody pinned Jules' face together with a safety pin, and it stayed that way for days until he got where other treatment was available. By then the face was hideously disfigured. What happened to Maria is suggested by the fact that when they dug her out of the ruins, her mother took one look at her and fled, screaming. Every time Maria opened her mouth for any purpose, somebody had to close the jaw back for her.

Each has had one operation. Jules will have another, as soon as the weather gets warm enough. Maria probably will need at least three more.

The Foster Parents' Plan has 1200 youngsters under its care, and there are many times that number—particularly in China,

Youthful Chic Marks Style Designed for Petite Figure

By EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Moms hesitating to break the piggy bank for their Mother's Day finery can avert this crisis, thanks to smart dresses designed to fit fuller figures and slimmer budgets.

Designed to eliminate those fitting-room "extras" which so often rob a dress of its budget-price attractions are fashions in half sizes for women who are less than five feet, five inches tall. Nation-wide surveys show that 72 percent of all American women can be classified as these "petites" with waisting and shoulder width not generally suspected. Therefore, half-size dresses are designed to accommodate this vast majority. The half-size dress obliges with a shorter hemline, a shorter and fuller waist, more room for shoulders.

There is nothing about the half-size dress, however, that robs it of its style distinction or youthful appeal. The half-size even takes smart "sun back" styling which is usually confined to miss sizes. Here's an example of the kind of styling which dresses

Mom in as snappy a country-city convertible as her daughter. A sun-back top of brown and white polka-dotted crepe is combined with a white polka-dotted shantung which makes the skirt and the cover-up jacket. When the jacket buttons up, all that is disclosed of the sun-back top's dual nature is a neckline bow of the brown and white polka dots. Spring's popular redingote style is treated to the season's most youthful-looking print: navy and white polka-dotted sheer. Posed over a navy blue taffeta sheath, softened at the neckline with a large taffeta bow, the skirt of the redingote flares with finely pleated insets.

IN HOLLYWOOD

BY ERKINE

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Esther Williams' reputation as a wholesome American girl is unsoiled.

But for a while the censors were worried.

It started when M-G-M submitted to the Johnston office the lyrics of a new song, "Baby, It's Cold Outside," all about a fellow trying to persuade a girl to remain in his apartment because of the temperature outside.

The censors read the lyrics and ruled that Ricardo Montalban could not sing them to Esther for a scene in the movie, "Neptune's Daughter." In fact, the censors said the lyrics could never be sung on the screen.

But Esther, Ricardo and the studio put their heads together and decided to rehearse the number as it would be done in the picture and then invite the censors out for a look.

The song was rehearsed on the theory that if Esther and Ricardo remained on their feet and kept moving, the censors might approve the song.

The theory was right.

Three censors from the Johnston office came to an M-G-M sound stage one day and Esther and Ricardo did the "Baby, It's Cold Outside" number as it would be filmed, if approved by the Johnston office.

CHANGED THEIR MINDS

The censors went into a huddle, then one said:

"We've decided it's okay if you film it exactly as you have rehearsed. Esther always has represented the wholesome American girl and has never been involved in a bedroom situation. Because of this, and the way you have staged it, we give it our approval."

That night Esther told her husband, Ben Gage, what had happened.

"Gosh," said Ben, "those censors are going to get a terrible shock when they hear we're going to have a baby."

M-G-M may get a surprise when it hears what an important role Esther is playing behind the scenes at Ben's local television show, "Rumpus Room."

The studio has an iron-clad rule about its stars appearing on TV. But there's nothing in the books about movie stars helping to stage video shows. And that's just what Esther is doing.

She's the most glamorous prop lady in television and is almost as busy behind the TV camera as Ben is in front of it.

M-G-M's anti-video rule stopped Ben from having Esther as a guest on his first show but he did ask the studio for approval to sing a song to the "portrait" of Esther he carries in his wallet. The camera would move in for a close-up of the portrait.

The studio thought it over and decided:

No Esther on television. No even as a wallet portrait.

Paper Containers Ease Serving Chores

SCHOOL, church, or community get-togethers are a treasured American custom, but frequently pose problems in connection with preparation of food in quantity and service. Food that can be made and served in paper containers, completely sanitary and low in cost, means that the dinner committee members will enjoy the functions too. This menu is easy to handle—baked beans, frankfurters, tossed salad, rolls, coffee, and a gelatine dessert made and served in attractive paper cups. Here is the recipe for:

- ### Peach Cream Dessert
- | | |
|--------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 No. 2 1/2 can cling peaches | 1/4 cup lemon juice |
| 4 cups syrup from peaches | 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatine | 1 tall can evaporated milk, icy cold |
| 1/2 cup sugar | 1 cup chocolate cookie crumbs |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt | |

Drain peaches; reserve 10 peach slices or two halves to be sliced for garnish. Dice remaining peaches. Soften gelatine in 1/4 cup syrup; place over boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; add sugar and salt and stir until dissolved. Mix in lemon juice and rind; chill until the mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Whip chilled evaporated milk until stiff; beat in gelatine mixture; fold in diced peaches. Turn whipped mixture into 6-ounce paper containers. Sprinkle with cookie crumbs. Chill until firm. Garnish with peach slices. YIELD: 10 servings.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The cotton-picking bride has a choice of gowns which range from quietly-styled pique to picture-book organdies.

The pique wedding gown will make up in chic what it lacks in frills. Not to be outdone by the traditional do-do of the sheer wedding dress, a pique gown may trail wondrous train and demand a bouquet of roses and an illusion veil.

Restrained treatment is used to give the full-skirted and trailing gown of Filcol's design (left) its unusual distinction. White organdy appliques are inset into the skirt and into the off-shouldered collar which softens the severity of a simply-styled, long-sleeved bodice.

Where frills are demanded, cloud-like organdy is ready to oblige. As breath-taking as billowing lace, marquisette or net, formally-styled organdy gowns are designed to make the bride a vision in white who can carpet a chapel or church aisle with an impressive train. One of Murray Hamburger's design (right) combines plain organdy which makes a full skirt bounce and a sweeping train with eyeleted embroidery used for lace details. The petal-scaled embroidery makes a collar, an apron front, and ruffles angled from collar to founce.

Picture Appears Brighter for Leo as Carpet-Session Clears

NEW YORK —(AP)— Things brightened for Leo Durocher today as the suspended manager of the New York Giants prepared to leave for Cincinnati and a session with Commissioner A. E. Chandler.

The trigger-tempered Giant boss is scheduled to appear before the commissioner tomorrow morning and explain what happened after that game at the Polo Grounds last Thursday.

A vociferous Brooklyn fan — 22-year-old Fred Boyesen — contended Leo came up behind him, poked him and knocked him down. Leo says he did no such thing.

Durocher's chances for continued employment took on a lighter hue when a source close to Chandler said yesterday that the commissioner was just being cautious when he slapped an indefinite suspension on "The Lip."

This spokesman said the commissioner feared some sort of vandalism might break out in the Harlem district if he didn't do something quickly. So he put Durocher in muff.

Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, who has announced he will back his manager all the way, said he had affidavits from 100 fans who were eye-witnesses and who substantiate Durocher's version of the incident.

One of the affidavits is signed by George Cronk, a railroad fireman who insists he was behind Boyesen and it was he, not Durocher, who kicked and tripped over the fan. "It was accidental," added Cronk.

Durocher stayed in the seclusion of his mid-town apartment yesterday, listening to a radio account of his Giants' double defeat at the hands of the Braves in Boston.

He declined any further comment on the case. Also in seclusion was Boyesen, the Puerto Rico-born fan who says Durocher put him in the hospital. Boyesen was released from the hospital after an overnight stay. Doctors said they could find no internal injuries or bruises.

U.N. Concerned
NEW YORK —(AP)— The snow-balling Durocher affair now has gained the attention of the United Nations. Unofficially, of course.

The trials of dashing Leo, manager of the New York Giants and once again under suspension, was a subject of speculation by several delegates in the corridors at Lake Success.

Dr. Herbert V. Evtatt, president of the United Nations General Assembly and Australian minister of Home Affairs, observed facetiously that the case might involve a fundamental question of human rights, under the U. N. Charter, but that further investigation was necessary.

Fifth Setback in Last Six Tries for Local Baseballers

The Lubbock Hubbers handed the Pampa Oilers their fifth setback in six tries here yesterday afternoon, drilling Oiler pitching for 17 hits and 15 runs while holding the Oilers to 7 bingles and 4 runs.

A fine job of relief hurling by Bill Grafton, who relieved Don Hensiek in the third inning, was the feature of the game. He hurled the final seven innings, giving up only five hits and three runs, one Mike Feduniak's seventh home run of the year. Nelson Davis and Mike Dooley also hit round trippers for the Hubbers.

The Hubbers scored four times in the second frame. Dooley drew a walk and sped to second on Fowler's hit. Dunabettia drew a base on balls. After Mills doubled, the Oilers came back with two runs in the sixth on three hits. Feduniak opened by hitting the first pitch from Grafton over the leftfield fence. After Harper had kicked to left, Bass doubled to center. Ridgeway bounced out, but Dooley's Fowler's sharp single through the box scoring Bass with the final Oiler tally of the day.

A leadoff home run by Davis, followed by Prince's single and another home run by Dooley gave the Hubbers an 8-4 lead in the seventh.

Bass was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth, and Parker, his replacement, was battered for five more runs and six hits in the ninth. Prince and Dooley led off with hits. Fowler doubled, sending both runners home, but was immediately tossed out trying to steal third. Dunabettia followed with a single. Mills drew a pass, and both runners came in to score when Peacock led Grafton's single through him to the fence. McCullum singled Grafton home with the fifth run of the inning and the final one of the game.

Up on Technique Before Painting

OBERT SCHARFF
NEA Services
Knowledge of painting and materials is of value to the homeowner going to do some himself or have it done. There are inferior market which give very results. Cheap in costs, these paints do up well over a long average weather condition, but if it is a reputable manufacturer's behind it.

Step in painting is to surface so the paint is smooth, and evenly take hold in the proper. When the old paint is good condition, one new is sufficient, but if it is checked or has peeled it is necessary to re-prepare old paint entirely. Re-prepare by scraping, with liquid paint gasoline blow torch is a good way to use it.

Wood surfaces, remove the second coat should be of lac or aluminum primer the flow of resin. Then, after the surface is brushed out, dry for several days before painting. The final coat should be glossy of brush marks or brush firmly, but not load it moderately, so the brush is firmly, a 45-degree angle surface being painted, brush hand occasionally or hand and arm muscles to equalize the wear on it.

Painting should be done in a room about 80 degrees or warmer. All surfaces coated must be a to- to equalize the wear on it.

Soap and Water Give Bright Look

One of the easiest of the recommended ways to clean wooden furniture is to use soap and water. This treatment removes grime not affected by regular dusting and polishing, and virtually all wood responds with a brighter look if washed properly.

It is important to use a very mild soap and to work quickly so that water is not absorbed by the wood or its glued joints.

Because speed is important, it is convenient to use two galvanized steel pails for holding water. Then dip a soft cloth into the suds and wash a small area of the furniture at a time. Rinse the spot with a cloth wrung out of the clear water. Rub the spot dry with a soft cloth. Repeat this process, starting just within the old cleaning area each time, until the entire piece is washed, rinsed and dried.

After all the furniture is washed and allowed to dry completely, apply furniture polish or wax according to the manufacturer's instructions.

Easy Way to Spring House Clean Offered

Spring cleaning needn't be a tiresome or time-consuming chore, according to home economists, who have proved that the key to easier household cleaning lies in the proper selection of equipment and in a systematic work schedule.

The best way to begin, they say, is to assemble all cleaning aids in one spot, ready for immediate use. These should include soft cloths, brushes, brooms, galvanized steel pails, mops, dustpans, sponges, charcoal sponges, waxes, polishes, bleaches and old newspapers.

Their second recommendation is to use modern equipment. They favor the practice of scrubbing floors by hand, for example, when such cleaning can be done so easily with a long handled mop and a galvanized steel mop wringer pail.

Modern vacuum cleaners and their attachments are recommended for the same reason. Vacuum cleaners are especially convenient for dusting venetian blinds, books and other hard-to-get-at places. Most modern equipment saves time as well as labor.

After all necessary articles are assembled, homemakers are advised to plan work routines. To allow time for other duties and to avoid over-fatigue, it is suggested that house cleaning be done during the morning hours only.

A practical cleaning schedule has been prepared, certain chores on it may be assigned to teen-age children and to fathers.

Patterned Rugs Varied, Modern

Patterned carpets and rugs are enjoying a field day this year. Designs run the gamut from the charming Eighteenth Century floral to small repeat patterns of elegant primeness. There is a host of modern leaf and abstract scroll designs in tone-on-tone carpets which give added practicality in addition to fulfilling a desire for a monotone floor covering.

All the patterned carpets are as modern as next year's hat. The design areas are uncluttered. Designs are free flowing and magnificent to give the much desired third dimensional effect.

Yard Floodlight Good Protection

One of the convenience features included in plans for new homes is an exterior outlet located under the eaves on a corner of the house to provide for a floor lamp that will simply light the yard.

Don't deny your family the protection and safety of yard lighting when it's so easy and inexpensive to add it to most older homes.

Have a weatherproof outlet installed on a corner of the house. Place a 100-watt hard-glass projector floodlight in the socket and control it from both the garage and house, if possible.

Hester Could Cut Prison Term Third

CLEBURNE — (AP) — Arthur Clayton Hester, convicted of murdering Dr. John Lord, could serve his prison sentence of 50 years in a third of that time.

Hester was convicted last Saturday for the March 8 bludgeoning slaying of Dr. Lord, his benefactor who was dean of the Graduate School at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. He accepted sentence almost immediately.

After the trial Judge Penn Jackson said Hester, 38, would be eligible for parole after service 18 years and 8 months. "Good behavior could reduce the maximum sentence materially," Judge Jackson said.

L. J. Arthur West, USNR (MC) of Washington, D. C., graduate of Southern California and Howard University, was the first Negro medic selected and commissioned during peacetime.

Diagnosis by Long Distance Phone

Diagnosis of cardiac conditions and epilepsy is now possible by telephone as a result of a new device developed by the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field, Tex. The school created a new small-size electroencephalograph, a machine which measures heart and brain waves, which is a great improvement over old-type devices. It can pick up faint waves and transmit them over a telephone while the subject is in motion. Here, wave signals are transmitted over the phone to a doctor who can make a diagnosis from them.

Texas Returns to 'Normal' Weather After Tornadoes

By The Associated Press
Skies were clearing over all of Texas today. Nowhere were there rains, high winds or anything indicating other than a made-to-order early-summer day in Texas.

The return to "normal" weather marked the end of a series of tornadoes, cloudbursts, hailstorms and floods. The U.S. Weather Bureau, sharing the relief of the Texan on the street, said it was the first time in weeks that Mother Nature wasn't acting up.

Bonham in North Texas counted four dead in a twister which struck near there about 7 p.m. Saturday. The storm injured seven and smashed many homes.

Bodies of three of the Bonham dead were not discovered until Sunday. A neighbor noticed that the Bryant Wade home—in rugged, wooded country near Bonham—had been blown away. He investigated and found the bodies of Wade, 50, his wife Myrtle, 54, and their grandson, Malcolm Wayne, 8.

The other Bonham victim was J. E. Miller, 49, of Bonham. When the storm struck he and his wife ran for a neighbor's storm cellar. Miller said he couldn't make it and told his wife to go on. He took refuge in a ditch. After the storm she found her husband, apparently the victim of a heart attack, dead.

The injured in the Bonham tornado included seven members of the J. C. Owens family, whose farm home was demolished. They were Mrs. Owens; Joyce and Loyce, 4-year-old twins; Rose Mary, 8; Shirley, 13; Ruby, 7, and Rebecca, 2.

There still was high water in extreme South Texas, where Lower Rio Grande Valley farmers were protesting that their crops could have been saved had upper floodways been opened.

One irrigation district near Harlingen, authorized a protest charging that its pumping plant had been covered with water nearly a week because the Hackney Lake and Mission Floodway were not allowed to take water sooner. The district contended the International Boundary and Water Commission should have opened upper floodways sooner.

There was no exact estimate of damage to the lush croplands. But several hundred acres of cotton and tomatoes were ready for picking. A piglet who made an aerial survey said about a third of the lower riverbank farms were flooded.

But the swollen Rio Grande was dropping, and the Weather Bureau said "a continued moderate fall" was expected. During that week Rio Grande floodwaters had claimed a dozen lives.

This morning there were some low clouds and fog along the Gulf Coast but the sun was rapidly dissipating them. Temperatures were fairly cool, especially in the Panhandle, where they were in the upper 40's.

The forecast was for partly cloudy weather and little temperature change throughout Texas through tomorrow.

More Action Is Expected In Congress
By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — It's just beginning to get good in Congress now. Meaning, there'll be a little more action.

Congress has passed the half-way mark in this year's session, with four months gone and maybe two or three left to go.

Nothing much has happened. It's been mostly talk, argument and jockeying.

The first few months of any session always drag.

This is because those months are always used in getting the big bills ready for debate and a vote.

They're pretty much taken up with long committee hearings on the bills.

About the only action completed by Congress — meaning House and Senate together — was passage of the new rent control law.

True, both houses okayed continuing the Marshall Plan another year. But neither house has yet voted the money for it.

This week the House expects to vote on a new labor bill. But we won't have a new labor law until the Senate also votes, which won't be for some time.

Meanwhile, this week the Senate expects to vote $300,000,000 to help states do a better job in educating their children. That won't become law, either, unless the House also approves, some time later.

President Truman's civil rights program is still up in the clouds. And it may get blocked out of this session.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — It takes a lot of figuring to keep the female figure in bounds.

And that watchdog of the womanly bulge, the Corset and Brassiere Association of America, has come up with a few well-rounded statistics.

It has found that no one shape seems to satisfy the girls for long. The only thing about the feminine contour that has remained unchanged since Cleopatra's day is the shoulder. (Ed's Note: It is as cold as ever.)

Researchers of the CBAA have discovered the American woman of today is no longer the wasp-waisted strabean of yore. She's more bilious than willow.

Put in terms of a mathematical formula, the average woman is now 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 135 pounds. She has a 35 1/2 inch bust, 29-inch waist and 38-inch hips.

At least these are the typical measurements of the women who buy foundation garments. And 85 percent of those over 15 years of age do.

The farmer's daughter is shorter and wider at the beam than her city sister. And the rich girl has a scrawnier chassis than the working lass.

One survey showed that only about one out of 13 women has the classic measurement—a "perfect 36."

Perhaps this helps explain the Corset and Brassiere Association's contention that 55,000,000 American women figure they have a figure problem—and do something about it.

Some 300 American firms, employing more than 17,000 persons, each year turn out 100,000,000 brassieres, 5,000,000 "faisies" or bust pads, and 41,000,000 girdles and corsets.

Today the industry's best customer is the best-dressed girl in the world—the American working girl. She buys four brassieres and two girdles a year.

Murder Charge Is Set Against Yank
STUTTGART, Germany — (AP) — The judge advocate section of the American Military Post at Stuttgart said today a charge of premeditated murder is being prepared against recruit Russell Jones, 22, of Fall River, Mass., for the killing of three Germans.

Military Police headquarters said the soldier ran amok yesterday and killed a German motor pool guard, a German girl and a German passerby.

British See Attack As 'Not Deliberate'
SINGAPORE — (AP) — A high British Naval authority said here today he is convinced the Chinese Communist attack on the British sloop Amethyst April 22 was not deliberate.

The informant told a news conference he believes the attack was caused by lack of discipline among Communists lining the banks of the Yangtze River, or by excitement among the troops.

Tribute Paid to Mussolini in Spain

Romania Asks Britain To Close Consulates
BUCHAREST — (AP) — Romania today asked Britain to close both consulates and maintain in Romania outside this capital city. These were indications similar requests soon might be made to Italy and Turkey, the only other non-Soviet bloc powers with provincial consulates in Romania.

Texan Says State Can Grow Only As Natural Resources Develop

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas can grow and prosper only as its natural resources are developed, Rep. Benisen (D-Tex.) said in a radio discussion of the proposed Rio Grande gravity canal.

Benisen, of McAllen, said the gravity canal irrigation project, to cost $126,552,000, has been approved by the Bureau of Reclamation. It must be okayed by valley residents before it goes to the President and finally to Congress for approval.

Benisen was speaking last night over the weekly transcribed Texas Forum of the Air. It is conducted by Rep. Wright Patman of Texas.

The canal program plan is to take water from the Rio Grande below Falcon Dam, now under construction under terms of the U. S. and Mexican water treaty.

The government is putting up $54,765,000 for the system. Farmers irrigating new land would pay $21,245,000 of the remainder and farmers operating old irrigated farms would furnish the other $50,544,000.

Benisen, a member of the House Public Lands Committee, said, "The project certainly deserves the serious consideration of the valley farmers."

"The Lower Rio Grande Valley is one of the richest garden spots in the world with water, but the present supply is none too certain. The uncertain, erratic flow of the Rio Grande makes pumping costly and hazardous."

Building Hits Record Low For This Year

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas construction awards plummeted to the lowest weekly total of the year, $8,634,253, last week.

The 10-million-dollar drop from the previous week also made the April total the lowest for any month this year, $75,347,46. This compared with $81,828,078 for April of last year. The Texas Contractor, building trade journal, reported.

Non-residential lettings for the week accounted for $4,590,063; residential, $3,705,278; and engineering, $1,989,890.

In the residential class, 216 homes costing less than $7,000 each were put under contract. The accumulative building contracts total for 1949 now stands at $316,128,114.

Portland cement is named for Portland, England.

The Summary Is Quite Impressive

Writing in Nation's Business, Emerson F. Schmidt says in the November election Norman Thomas and the Socialist Party mustered a little more than 100,000 votes.

Mr. Schmidt then lists ten developments which, in his opinion, have brought a strong tinge of socialism into the American government and our American life.

1. The income tax. This device is obviously a powerful lever of income. Its logical end, Mr. Schmidt thinks, is the final equalization of all incomes.

2. Social security. We have some of it now. If current proposals are adopted, we will have it on an enormously costly, cradle-to-the-grave basis.

3. Federal variable grants-in-aid. Normally, these grants are based in part on per capita income within a given state.

4. Food allotment. A measure now in Congress would give stamps to low-income people which they could obtain free food.

5. Rental control. Mr. Schmidt characterizes this as a "device for transferring income from people who supply housing to people who don't."

6. Public housing. This is a very direct example of subsidizing one income group with money provided by a higher income group.

People of China Becoming Pawns of Soviet Russia

By JOHN FISHER. Nationalist Army disasters forebode that Stalin's vanguard Communists soon will overrun the most important parts of China.

It is natural reaction for Californians alarmed by the Communist Party of the United States to wonder why the United States foreign policy in the Far East.

Even those smug exponents of the unrealistic theory that Chinese Communists were a different breed of hellicats are no longer so sure of their hunches.

With full control in their grasp, Mao Tse-tung's followers are planning to show their true colors. A brief description of how Communists operate is in a letter from an American doctor in the Northern China where Stalin's puppets have ruled for months.

The letter states: "After the Communists captured Shansi, Fenchow and other centers, they tended to be lenient. This is the liberation period."

By R. C. BOYLES. Chapter on Education From the Book "Facing the Facts" by Manly Hall called "Facing the Facts".

A reader loaned me a book by Manly Hall called "Facing the Facts". This book was published in 1932. I told her I would be interested in reading the chapter on education.

"These remarks are not intended as a depreciation to education. On the other hand, our purpose is to clarify the subject by showing the difference between learning and schooling."

"The majority of our American youth receive a grammar school education, a considerable portion complete high school, and a few are fortunate enough to attend college and universities."

"According to our analysis, modern education is lacking or at least is deficient in four essentials: human, well-being; Name, vision, idealism, practically, and ethics."

"The author certainly errs when he holds that education should not teach what to think. If there be no principles to reason from there can be no constructive thinking."

WASHINGTON - President Truman has pricked a political hornet's nest on Capitol Hill with his nomination of John Carson to a Republican vacancy on the Federal Trade Commission.

Nobody was more astounded than Representative "Tad" Walter of Pennsylvania, a Truman adviser and chairman of the House Democratic caucus.

Mr. Carson's only claim to Republicanism, according to his critics, is that he was once secretary to the late Senator James Ford's erstwhile partner, however.

Mr. Carson usually trailed along with such rebels as the late George W. Johnson of California and "Old Bob" La Follette of Wisconsin, who hair-shirted both Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

Needle - Mr. Carson used to "needle" Senator Couzens in anti-Coolidge and anti-Hoover demonstrations, including the investigation of Andrew W. Mellon's income tax payments.

PLAY - There is no question of Mr. Carson's sincerity or ability, nevertheless conservative Democrats and Republicans oppose his confirmation.

WHO? - House and Senate Democratic leaders gasped when the White House envelope was opened and it popped the name of Carson.

SMALL-BORE - Republican Leader Kenneth Wherry is also surprised. However, one must not jump to the conclusion that the average family does not need sickness insurance to take care of the heavy financial burden which may result in case of serious illness.

KING'S COMMENTS

By DR. WILLFORD I. KING. Nationally Recognized Economist, Economics Professor Emeritus, New York University.

THE STATE OF THE NATION'S health has suddenly become a matter of serious concern to President Truman. Just how grave is the emergency which confronts us?

First, let us consider four diseases very commonly afflicting children—namely, measles, diphtheria, whooping cough, and scarlet fever. Comparable data are quoted from the last five-year period, namely, 1931-35 and 1944-48.

What changes took place in the child death rates resulting from these maladies during the thirteen years separating these periods? Here are the answers. Both measles and diphtheria declined 73%. Whooping cough fell 77%.

Now let us see what has happened to the average length of time that a child lives. The typical baby born in 1900 could expect to survive for 51 years. Her granddaughter, born in 1946, could look forward to 70 years of life.

But President Truman paid no attention to his top political aide's protégé, and did not even notify Mr. McGrath in advance of the Carson nomination.

ENDEARED - Despite young and handsome Scott Lucas's likability, there is basis and justice to Speaker Rayburn's indictment. The Democrats made a strategic blunder when they promoted a lovable and astute Alben W. Barkley from the Senate to the vice presidency.

Tech to Install University Head

LUBBOCK - (P) - Installation of Dr. D. M. Wiggins as fifth president of Texas Tech University has been set for Tuesday, May 10.

The inaugural address will be given by Dr. Doak S. Campbell, president of Florida State University, Charles Thompson of Colorado City, Tex., chairman of the college board of trustees.

Dr. Wiggins was dean of students at Hardin-Simmons University from 1925 to 1935, when he went to Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso.

Washington.....by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON - (NEA) - Concerted Congressional efforts to cut by 10 percent the $380,000,000 Marshall Plan authorizations for the next 15 months are underway.

The House Appropriations Committee is holding executive sessions, which is something of a shame. This fight out to be out in the open, as the Congressional Reorganization Act intended all appropriation hearings to be.

The subcommittee handling Economic Cooperation Administration funds consists of Democrats J. Vaughn Gary of Virginia, chairman; Christopher C. McGrath of New York; Sidney R. Yates of Illinois; Republicans John Taber of New York and Richard E. Wigglesworth of Massachusetts.

There is one element in Congress which seems to believe that everything else should be cut so as to leave plenty for military preparedness. Chairman Clarence Cannon of the House Appropriations Committee and Cl Vinson of the Armed Services Committee have recently sounded off on this tune.

"RECOVERY, NOT RELIEF". In the argument over cutting ECA's authorized $5,580,000,000 by 10 percent, Marshall Plan Administrator Paul Hoffman takes the position that this is a recovery program—not a relief program.

Union to Vote On Agreement

DUMAS - (P) - Terms of tentative agreement between Phillips Chemical Plant and International Oil Workers (IOW) are to be submitted to members for approval.

The tentative agreement is night averted a strike at plant here.

Fred Schmitt, union representative, said his contract will be published about May 10, when it is expected to be signed.

The union took a strike Friday, but the result was held. The issues were housing, sick leave and retirement.

The Phillips Petroleum Company at Dumas and its operational engineers reached a tentative agreement Saturday night on new contract.

Israel and Arab Troops in Clash

TEL AVIV, Israel - (P) - Israeli troops battled Arabs in short but sharp encounter last night between Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

Strems blacked out the city. The reason for the black-out was not made clear. The firing heard was of mortars and small arms.

Jewish sources said the skirmish began when some Arabs fused to get out of a straits position under terms of the armistice agreement with Transjordan.

Gracie Say

By GRACIE ALLEN. Well, the heady fragrance mothballs has replaced the at over Los Angeles. The fam Metropolitan Opera Company New York has arrived there, everyone is getting out their bibs and tuckers for the occasion.

Even George, who hasn't worn his dress suit since the time he put it on under four suits of clothes trying to snuff out the fire in the St. Francis Hotel, is excited about the opera.

Now that Hollywood and opera are meeting socially this time, I'm sure it's just a question of time before we see Gary Cooper and Betty Grable in "Tristan and Isolde".

"Faust" and "The Sign of the Cross". And if audience like the following season we'll have "Tristan and Isolde Meet Faust", "Faust Visits Mrs. Potts", "Faust Visits Mrs. Potts Again."

What do all these figures indicate? Assuredly, they show that health progress under the existing system of treatment has been amazing. However, one must not jump to the conclusion that the average family does not need sickness insurance to take care of the heavy financial burden which may result in case of serious illness.

But this does not mean that the Government must go into the insurance business. Sound private insurance companies are always seeking new policyholders. Blue Cross and similar cooperative insurance concerns are expanding rapidly.

Why, then, do our political leaders feel Government entry into the sickness insurance field to be so impetuous?

The obvious answer seems to be that such extension of Government activity will furnish many lucrative jobs for loyal party henchmen and will give more power to the bureaucrats. It appears therefore, that what the politicians are really worrying about is their own political health—not the physical health of the public at large!

New Lines of Attack on TB Bug Outlined

By FRANK CAREY
Science Reporter

DETROIT—(AP)—New lines of attack on the tuberculosis bug—the No. 1 disease killer of Americans between the ages of 15 and 34—were outlined today.

Research aimed at greater control of the germ was described at the opening of the 48th annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association—the organization you support with purchases of "Christmas" seals.

Projects outlined include: 1—A search for chemicals that might further weaken the armor of the tissue barriers in which the tuberculosis patient. This would make it easier for drugs like streptomycin to reach the bug and do their stuff.

2—A checkup on the hereditary characteristics of the tuberculosis germ to determine why it is that certain strains resist drugs, particularly streptomycin, even though they predominate over strains that can be cured by drugs.

3—An attempt to determine constitutional factors responsible for resistance and susceptibility to tuberculosis infection. Rabbits of known resistance to the disease will be bred for these studies.

The association opened its four-day deliberations on this key-note:

During the 45 years of the association's existence, tuberculosis has dropped from No. 1 to No. 7 among the disease-causers of death in the United States but—

"There is still much work to be done," declared a statement by

This student tries to catch up on his neglected studies on the sidewalk campus of the College of the City of New York, while fellow students parade in the background. An estimated 1500 CCNY students picketed the college in protest against two faculty members whom they accused of racial bias. In an earlier melee, 25 students, some of them co-eds, were arrested for disorderly conduct.

Scouters and Friends of Scouting Donate Services

Dr. Herbert L. Mantz of Kansas City, Mo., president of NTA, "as we realize when the list of causes of death in different age groups places tuberculosis first among disease killers of young people between 15 and 34."

Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls Area Council had the tables turned on them yesterday by 23 men. Instead of the Scouts doing the good turn, it was done for them. Twenty-six union carpenters, employed by the Stocker Construction Company of Phillips, and seven adult Scouters donated a day's labor Saturday and shingled most of the new dining hall at Camp Ki-O-Wah.

India Happy Over Republic—A Few Princes Regretful

By LEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

India is happy over the historic agreement which permits her to become a republic and still remain a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations—without acknowledging the sovereignty of the King-Emperor.

However, there are a few who are bound to be regretful. Outstanding among them are the hundreds of princes who have lost their thrones since India was granted independence and now see the evening of the last tie with the imperial "glories" of the past.

Since India gained her freedom the native principalities and their rulers have come under control of the workers and a fish fry Saturday night after the men had completed the shingling. Pampa Scouters who donated their services were George Thompson, Robert Lewis, Paul Rice, Myles Morgan, Vern Berggras and H. D. McWaters. Nobel Trueblood, Canadian, also attended the shingle party.

Carpenters working at Ki-O-Wah were Harvey Vance, George Brunson, Carl Parkhurst, Jack Stanton, A. W. Lacy, Mike Kee, Ben Branum, L. C. Halliburton, M. E. Binkley, J. H. Binkley, J. E. Hance, Kenneth Farris, Irwin Hopkins, Harvey Edmond, Frank Kirks, W. D. Shelton, Marvin Maxwell, David Alexander, George Hollingsworth, Tom Davis, J. D. Ratliff, Clarence Casey, Ed Gault, Mike Crouch, H. R. Gohman and John T. Gohman.

of the New Delhi government. It is well that these princes should go, for they have no place in this age.

The story of the princes forms one of the striking pages of history. The pomp and splendor surrounding them had to be seen to be believed.

Many of the rulers had the power of life and death over their subjects. They paid homage to only one person—the King-Emperor.

Back in 1918 I was for a fortnight the guest of the late Maharajah of Gwalior. We were chatting one day about the relationship between the princes and the British government, and he emphasized the importance of the position of the King-Emperor in the minds of the rulers. They looked more the sovereign than to his government.

"Let me put it this way," said his highness. "The princes are five shillings in the pound for the government and fifteen shillings in the pound for his majesty."

And don't let anybody tell you that the British government didn't cultivate this reverence for the crown among the princes. This respect for royalty helped the government mightily in handling the frequently temperamental rulers.

So you see the new agreement, under which India doesn't recognize the sovereignty of the King-Emperor, is a tough reminder of bygone days for the maharajahs, some of whom haven't an elephant left to ride upon.

New 'Brain Detector' at Work

Diagnosis of cardiac conditions and epilepsy is now possible by telephone as a result of a new device developed by the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field, Tex. The school created a new small-size electroencephalograph, a machine which measures heart and brain waves, which is a great improvement over old-type devices. It can pick up faint waves and transmit them over a telephone while the subject is in motion. Here, a patient exercises on a stationary bike with the new device hung around his neck.

The Laffertys can't tell whether it's a baby raccoon, muskrat, dog, or what. But nonetheless, Smokee's mothers, feeds and fusses over it like one of her own.

Take two noted strip teasers, garnish scantly and cook up routines for them in the same night club. Let their slow burn over you gets top billing summer until it boils over - and you've got the makings of a fine rububar. And here it is. Stripper's Georgia Southern, left, and Joann Collier battle it out on the sidewalk in front of the New York night spot where they were featured. They started their scruff-and-screach scrap in the club, but the manager gave them the heave-ho.

Mexico Proposes Inter-Ocean 'Ship Railway'

This sketch shows how the Mexican government's plan to build a giant "railway for ships" from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific would work. At the terminal points of Puerto Mexico and Salina Cruz, ships would be floated into huge floating dry docks and run 182 miles across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec on as many as 24 rails. Ship in "cradle" on rails is seen in middle of sketch. Electric motors would push dry docks along at 18 miles an hour. The proposed $300,000,000 "railway" could save 1800 miles over Panama Canal route. Map inset shows Isthmus of Tehuantepec route.

BLOCKADE

ade if the Western powers would give up their counter-blockade and set a date acceptable to the Soviet for a big four meeting on Germany.

The Western powers want to be sure the Russians haven't got a gimmick hidden away with which they might try to prevent formation of a Western German state.

PARIS — (AP) — French Foreign Minister Schuman said today that it "seems more and more probable" that a four-power foreign ministers' conference on Germany will be held this spring.

He predicted the date will be determined later this week during four-power conversations at New York.

(This was the first indication that France and Britain might join directly in the talks which have been held in New York between Dr. Philip Jessup, U. S. ambassador at large, and Jakob Malik, Soviet deputy foreign minister.)

Schuman told a news conference he was "optimistic enough" that a four-power foreign ministers' meeting would be held.

POLL TAX

having said this in 1924:

"The exclusion of a majority of our freemen from the right of representation is merely arbitrary, and a usurpation of the minority over the majority."

Elmer W. Henderson, director of the American Council on Human Rights, told the committee "the poll tax laws in the Southern states were enacted for the express purpose of disfranchising Negro citizens" but "the effect has been to disfranchise millions of whites as well."

"It is manifestly unjust to the nation as a whole," he said, "that a privileged class should compose the electorate in some states and their representatives presume to speak for all of the people."

TORNADOES

McLeod, and Anita True, 7, Tulsa, killed near Meeker.

In Texas Bryant Wade, 80, his wife Myrtle, and their eight-year-old grandson, Malcolm, were killed when their home was demolished. They lived about four and one-half miles northeast of Telephone, a small town near the Oklahoma border.

Another Texan, J. E. Miller, 49, died as he crouched in a ditch to escape the twister. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

The Texas tornado caused damage estimated at about $50,000. The estimate was made by Bob Cantrell, editor of the Bonham Daily Favorite, who said about 15 houses and a number of farm buildings were destroyed or damaged. Homes were hit in the vicinity of Edinburg and Lamasco, both near Bonham.

In Oklahoma, the main group of tornadoes moved from southwest to northeast across the center of the state for about 100 miles.

The twisters hit in or near these towns: Norman, La Bonte area, Agawam, Marlow, Shawnee Lake, Hollywood, Meeker, Antlers, McLeod, Sterling, U'Lea, Dale, Bennington, Spenceville, Wayne and a small community southwest of Norman.

Most of the Norman injured were on the North Campus, about three miles from the university proper. Thirty-six of 47 National Guardsmen, practicing marksmanship on the campus range, suffered injuries.

The storm demolished a university hangar and a National Guard headquarters building.

Tornadoes in Kansas hit Oakley and near Garden City.

About 150 men turned out in Dublin for an anti-Communist meeting protesting the imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mandzys and Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac of Yugoslavia.

Social Democratic demonstrations in Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Brussels and Vienna swamped the Communists.

London had fist fights in Trafalgar Square when a dozen persons carrying Red flags tried to violate a government ban on political parades.

Both Jews and Arabs marched in Tel Aviv, Israel. Most of them belonged to the Socialist parties.

In Calcutta a bomb was thrown at police who broke up a Communist attempt to parade.

President Juan D. Peron of Argentina led government-approved celebrations in Buenos Aires, Lima, Peru and Caracas, Venezuela, under military rule, had no demonstrations. In Chile a labor union held mass meetings to denounce the "suppression" of labor in some other South American countries.

Britons Train at 'Pit University'

Instructor J. Raisback (at blackboard) teaches volunteer student miners haulage methods at Britain's new mine training school at Ashington, England. With coal and apprentice miners in short supply, the government sponsored the school to educate teen-agers, mostly miners' sons, for supervisory and other jobs in the nationalized industry. After 13 weeks of classroom, the young men head for the pits for "lab" work.

For Years They've Been Telling

Judy Garland She 'Sings Too Loud'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — For most of her life, people have been telling Judy Garland she will lose her voice if she doesn't stop singing so loudly. Today she is still going strong — and as loud as ever.

In one of her rare moments of talking about herself for print, Judy reflected on her voice:

"Sometimes it's so loud it surprises me. But that's the way I've always sung. I've never strained my voice, possibly because I use the right muscles in my throat.

"When I was a kid in vaudeville people would say I'd lose my voice before I got much older. That alarmed my mother, so she sent me to a vocal coach.

"The first lesson had me trying to blow off a piece of paper pasted on my forehead. 'Breathe on that way. She never practices between pictures and doesn't sing in the bathtub.

And though she has danced with Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly on the screen, she has never had a dancing lesson.

"I think a lot of young talent is dried up by too many lessons," she opined on the "Amie Get Your Gum" set. "If you've got it, it usually comes out anyway."
