Lewis' Strikes Blamed for Bad Coal Production Record

Nearly Four Million Idle Across Nation

(By The Associated Press)

Nearly 4,000,000 persons are idle across the country with indications that coal and steel shortages will send this figure soaring.

Only slightly more than a million of the idle are jobless because of strikes, however. The bulk of the others are drawing unemployment compensation, looking for work or are regarded as "permanent unemployables."

A spot 48-state survey by the Associated Press indicated that employment was generally high the past week, but that the picture probably will change swiftly.

Many smaller firms, running out of steel or coal, have scheduled big cutbacks, some effective during the coming week. More railroad workers will join the jobless ranks at midnight Tuesday when passenger service is cut on some coal burning roads in compliance with an Interstate Commerce Commission order. The automobile industry has announced drastic curtailments for next month. Steel fabricating plants are nearing the end of the line.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer has estimated that if the steel strike runs to Dec. 1, it will force 5,000,000 workers into idleness and "seriously damage the nation's economy."

But even this gloomy estimate falls far short of actual unemployment during the last depression. A peak of around 14,000,000 unemployed was reached during 1932.

The survey indicated, however, that the nation is on the threshold of setting a new postwar record for strike idleness. The peak was reached in late January, 1946, when 1,600,000 were idled by strikes, including 700,000 steel.

CC Officials Inspect Work On New Road

WASHINGTON — (AP) — U. S. soft coal production is running 125,000,000 tons behind the 1948 pace, the National Coal Association reported. To no one's surprise, the association blamed most of the loss on "John L. Lewis' strikes."

The production slump was disclosed as indications grew that the White House is aiming at a settlement of the 22-day-old steel strike before it hopes to do much about ending the coal shutdown.

Talks between Cyrus S. Ching, conciliation chief and U. S. Steel Corporation leaders in New York City were in recess for the weekend, but will resume tomorrow. Ching said the dispute seemed no closer to settlement after three days of talks.

U. S. Steel, the key producer and usually the pattern fixer for the industry, stood pat against pensions and insurance without employe contribution. CIO President Philip Murray, who also heads the more than 500,000 steelworkers out on strike since October 1, has been just as firm against employe contributions.

Murray has demanded that the steel companies contribute 10 cents an hour per man toward old age and welfare benefits.

The coal strike was rapidly interlocking with the normal lives of the country. The Interstate Commerce Commission Friday ordered coal-fueled railroads with less than 25 days coal supply to slash their passenger train operations by one-fourth.

The National Coal Association reported that production from January 1 to October 8 this year was 341,833,000 tons. John D. Battle, executive vice president of the NCA, said Lewis' strikes were responsible for most of the 125 million ton drop below last year's production, although he conceded that a part of the decrease was attributable to market conditions.

Negotiations between Lewis' miners and Southern coal operators toward a new contract were kept alive at least until next Tuesday. The sessions recessed for the weekend on a surprisingly bright note.

But Northern and Western operators, representing about two-thirds of the national production, stormed out of sessions at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., breaking off talks with Lewis indefinitely. Lewis himself left the meetings two days before.

Nationalist Army Moves

HONG KONG — (AP) — Chinese press dispatches last night indicated Gen. Pai Chung-wei has moved his Nationalist army headquarters within 100 miles of the Indochina border to escape a Communist onslaught.

Previous headquarters for Pai's 300,000-man army, was at Kweilin, 250 miles northwest of Red-captured Canton.

Latest reports said headquarters had moved 220 miles southwest to Yungning (Nanning).

Nationalist reports from Chungking, provisional capital, said spearheads of Red Gen. Lin Piao's army group were "dispersed" near Tungan, 90 miles northeast of Kweilin.

Pushing northwest out of Canton, Gen. Chen Keng's Communist forces were said to be moving fast northwest from Canton within about 150 miles of Kweilin.

Press Flays Judge

MOSCOW — (AP) — The Moscow press called the sentences given the 11 U. S. Communist leaders "monstrous."

REDS CLAIM ARREST OF TERRORISTS

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist-controlled government announced last night it had crushed a large band of "desperate spies and terrorists" who sought to assassinate certain government officials.

The official account declared the group was in league with the intelligence service of a foreign power, which it did not name, and had carried out a bombing in the center of Prague last August.

The arrested band was reported to consist of a small town of 40 miles west of Prague.

It was the second Czechoslovak announcement within twenty-four hours reporting the cracking of spy rings.

Friday the government announced the arrest of one employee of the American Embassy here and the expulsion of another on charges that they directed operations for espionage, terrorism and the smuggling of political refugees.

These announcements came after three weeks of extensive police roundups which had thrown thousands of Czechoslovak citizens into jail or forced labor camps and purged hundreds of "political untrustworthies" from their jobs.

Other developments were:

1. A secret treason trial ended at Prague's Pankrac Prison with the sentencing of one defendant to life imprisonment and 36 others to lesser terms.
2. Roman Catholic sources reported dozens more priests arrested in the government's campaign to break resistance to its new church control law, which goes into effect Nov. 1.

The official press agency's account of the latest spy-terrorist ring did not disclose just how many persons were involved. But it described them as desperate men, including some dispossessed former factory owners whose properties had been confiscated by the government for nationalization.

Two Killed as Five Prisoners Break From Jail at Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — Five prisoners escaped Saturday morning in a daring break from the fifth-floor jail of the Maricopa County Courthouse in the heart of downtown Phoenix. Two were killed in the building by a heart-piercing night watchman. Two others surrendered to officers. A fifth, a federal prisoner — escaped through a window.

Thomas H. Stowe, 40, the night watchman, was the hero of the early morning battle. Stowe's left arm is practically useless. His neck is twisted. Both injuries were the result of being dragged by a horse when a youth.

He fired but two shots. County Atty. Warren McCarthy said the early morning battle, Stowe's left arm is practically useless. His neck is twisted. Both injuries were the result of being dragged by a horse when a youth.

They took an elevator to the second floor and broke a glass door.

Tom Stowe was sitting in the basement next to an elevator. He heard the crash of breaking glass and took the elevator to the first floor. When he opened the door, he said, the prisoners jumped him. One of them hit him on the head.

Deputy Sheriff O. Z. Alford was shot in the mouth during the battle.

Allies Move To Cut Costs In War Prisons

BERLIN — (AP) — Ponderous Allied machinery is moving to cut down the cost of keeping Rudolf Hess and six other high Nazi war criminals in prison.

On the seven Nazis occupy Spanish Prison which was built for 570 convicts. A prison staff of 452 is employed and bankrupt West Berlin pays 450,000 marks ($107,100) a year to foot the bill.

The United States treasury pays a huge bill of $50,000 a year for American military personnel at the prison. Britain, France and Soviet Russia also pay large sums for the four-power guard.

A week ago Ernst Reuter, mayor of West Berlin, formally raised a question of easing the city's burden.

The three Western commandants look preliminary action by asking their officers at Spandau in the British sector to recommend economies. The officers suggested the only one cell block be maintained in operating condition instead of the entire prison.

Others imprisoned are: Walter Funk, Reichsbank president (life); Adm. Eric Raeder (life); Albert Speer, munitions minister (20 years); Baldur von Schirach, youth leader (20 years); Konstantin von Neurath, former foreign minister (15 years); Adm. Karl Doenitz (10 years).

Stevedores Due Back on Jobs Today

HONOLULU — (AP) — Hawaii's 7000 union stevedores are due to go back to work today or tomorrow, ending a strike that is now 175 days old.

The last remaining minor issue which has delayed a back-to-work order was due to be settled late yesterday at Mahukona, on the island of Hawaii. Only 23 non-stevedoring employees of the Habala Sugar Co. are involved there.

The Union Strike Committee sent a message to President Harry Truman regarding the strike which was due to be settled late yesterday at Mahukona, on the island of Hawaii. Only 23 non-stevedoring employees of the Habala Sugar Co. are involved there.

Agreement on the major wage issue over which the strike was called May 1 was reached Oct. 6, but settlements at the five outer island ports, where union members have duties other than ship loading, caused a delay in ending the strike.

Final language of the outport settlements was being drafted by full union and employer negotiating committees.

The main settlement called for a raise of 10 cents an hour now to $1.54, and an additional seven cents next March 1. The union had sought a 32-cent raise.

Subsequent piecemeal agreements for non-stevedore work called for 8-cent raises.

The Territory of Hawaii continued yesterday to operate dock facilities which it seized Aug. 11 under a special law that put the territorial government into the stevedoring business. The law provided, however, that the facilities could be returned immediately upon formal notice that the strike was over.

The elder Brown, a retired Rock Island railroad man, died at 12:30 p. m. Friday in a Dalhart hospital following an illness of several months. He was 71.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Harry McTrayer, assisted by the Rev. R. W. Campbell, pastor and former pastor of the church.

The body will lie in state at the Brown home until an hour before services.

Burial, under the direction of the Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home, will be in Memorial Park Cemetery in Dalhart.

Supreme Court Justice to Speak Before Bar Meeting

Judge Meade F. Griffin, associate justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, will be one of the principal speakers Thursday at a Pampa Bar Association meeting. Associate Justice Ralph Hicks Harvey will deliver the other main address.

The Pampa Bar Association will serve as host Thursday night at a Panhandle Bar Association meeting at the Country Club. About 150 lawyers and their wives from the Panhandle area are expected to attend. Curtis Douglas is president of the local group.

Judge Griffin, now of Plainview, received his BA degree in 1915 from the University of Texas. Two years later he was awarded his law degree.

After graduating from the First Officers' Training Camp, Leon Springs, Texas, in 1917, he was assigned to Camp Travis where he was promoted from captain of infantry to major in World War I.

U.N. Agrees With Charge Against Russian Satellites

NEW YORK — (AP) — The United Nations Assembly agreed yesterday with Western accusations that three Russian satellites in Eastern Europe are suppressing human rights and freedoms.

The assembly vote was 47 to 5. Over bitter Russian objections, the assembly chose to ask the international court for a ruling whether Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary must comply with peace treaties in settling the question.

The Cominform bloc had fought to keep the charges out of the United Nations ever since the questions first were raised after trials of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty in Budapest and religious leaders in Bulgaria early this year.

But it lost after a last-minute attack by the Soviet Ukraine foreign minister, Dmitri Z. Manuilov. He said that human rights violations were to be looked for in the Latin American countries, in Australia, in the countries that threaten the atom bomb war, and in the countries that have lynch law and Jim Crow."

He said human rights violations are violated every day in the United States.

The secretary-general's office is expected to dispatch the assembly's decision to the international court at The Hague over the question.

WHITE, DEER — (Special) — La Donna O'Neal daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. O'Neal of the Bell Community was elected last week as the 1949 football queen of White Deer High School. The election was by secret balloting of the football squad after nomination by the members of the "W" Club.

Favorites were Bonnie Swinford and Ruth Smith, who will serve as attendants to the queen at the coronation on Nov. 11 at the home of White Deer and Canadian.

Miss O'Neal, a Senior, is a member of the Doe Club, the band, the National Honor Society, and has lettered in both volleyball and basketball.

Neighbors Gather Funds For Storm-Stricken Family

ABILENE — (AP) — Neighbors, and dozens who never knew them, were opening their hearts and pocketbooks to the A. H. Person family.

Mrs. Person, an Abilene school teacher, was killed when a tornado wrecked her home Thursday night. Her daughter, Mina La Dell, 31, was critically hurt, and her blind husband and son, 14, were less seriously injured.

The Abilene Reporter-News' Person Disaster Fund had grown to $151 a few hours after it was announced Saturday.

Mayor Haskin Smart and three of the four city commissioners in addition turned over their monthly checks, totaling $30, to the fund. The fourth commissioner is out of town.

Meanwhile, neighbors Friday started a fund at the scene of the debris, set it on a chair and painted a crude sign, "donations accepted here." Saturday morning the mop bucket fund had $454.

Hospital attendants said the girl's condition was somewhat improved but still critical. She had been pinned beneath storm debris for more than an hour Thursday night, while her mother was mired in the mud under her. Mrs. Person died of suffocation.

The boy was released from the hospital, but the father remained for treatment.

Funeral for Mrs. Person is scheduled here this afternoon.

DENFELD MAY LOSE JOB AS TOP OFFICER

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The flaming feud in the armed forces over the grand strategy for war may result in firing Admiral Louis E. Denfeld as the top officer of the Navy.

In forecasting that, a high official in the Pentagon told a reporter yesterday that other heads may be chopped off, too, but no wholesale purge is in sight.

"Don't say this will be a reprisal," he said. "It won't be. It will be an effort to get somebody on the team who will work with the team."

Denfeld, chief of naval operations and the Navy's representative on the policy-making strategy-planning joint chiefs of staff.

There was some guessing that Vice Admiral Forrest Sherman, commanding the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean, might replace Denfeld. Fellow officers say Sherman is strong for unification.

Ironically, Denfeld has had a reputation for favoring unification, too. In the hearings on defense policies by the House Armed Services Committee he emphasized that he is for it. But he (See NAVY, Page 9)

Sharp Cuts In Spending Program Set

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Economy advocates planned Saturday to use President Truman's call for higher taxes as an opening wedge in a drive for sharp cuts by Congress in the federal government's spending program.

As part of this plan, they are expected to develop testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee will not take up the tax show that it will require steep increases in individual and business tax rates to take care of a heavy deficit which may develop in the year beginning next July 1.

The technique is to attempt to shock the public into demanding spending cuts.

Mr. Truman made clear last Thursday he regards a tax boost as a necessity in halting deficit spending, which he deplored.

Although the Senate Finance Committee will not take up tax question unless or until the House acts, Chairman George A. Brown told a reporter before he left Washington for the Congressional vacation he thinks it would be a good idea to have the issue aired.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), a Finance Committee member who has been talking out for a long time, told (See SHARP, Page 9)

Mercury Drops Over State

(By The Associated Press)

The season's first cold spell, and a brief abatement by drenching showers, moved into South Texas Saturday night leaving the rest of the state cloudy with mild temperatures.

Sunday's outlook was for generally cool temperatures but little, if any, freezing weather. Weathermen predicted the wide-reaching cloud layers and winds gradually shifting to the south would keep temperatures from dropping too low.

Heavy rainfall covered most of East and South Central Texas yesterday. Palacios, in Matagorda County, got a thumping 8.6-inch downpour. Alice received 2.2 inches.

At Cleburne Station the rainfall was measured at 4.82 inches, and more falling. Valley Junction had 4.5 inches for the 24 hours ending Saturday morning. San Antonio reported 3.71, Bryan 3.25, Waco 2.48, Pierce 2.40, Palestine 2.03, Lufkin 1.16, Mexia 1.85, and Austin .60.

Late Saturday rain was reported in Lufkin, El Paso, Big Spring, Laredo, Midland, and Alice.

Early Saturday, Dalhart reported a new seasonal low temperature with 25 degrees. It was 33 in Pampa, 34 in Amarillo and Clarendon, 42 at Childress and 46 at Lubbock.

Texas Is Safer Place in Which To Work, Live

GALVESTON — (AP) — Texas is a safer place in which to work and live because of the efforts of a quiet group of scientists in a busy laboratory at the University of Texas Medical Branch here.

The industrial hygiene research laboratory, the only one of its kind in Texas, serves industries and their employes by protecting the workers from dangerous dusts and gases.

Threat of these chemical wastes should not be ignored, says Jack Neal, preventive medicine professor who heads the laboratory.

"Back in the old days when they didn't make much more than washing powder or soda, protecting the worker wasn't so important. In today's industries, it is imperative," Prof. Neal declared.

The laboratory's work falls into three phases — detecting gas and dust in the plant, finding ways of removing these threats, and finally treating workers already injured.

Company officials call in the experts as they would a private consultant. The technicians carry special equipment to the plant and make tests. The findings are then brought back to the lab and tried out on rabbits, guinea pigs, rats and mice.

These animals are put under the same conditions of dusts and gases as an employe working 40 hours a week. The animals are then killed and examined for injury. The scientists seek to know if a worker will be safe even if he works 40 hours a week for 20 years under plant conditions.

After laboratory tests, a report is sent to the company along with the recommendations of the state men. These reports are confidential. A final test is always made by the laboratory after the safety equipment has been installed.

Texas Woman Is Authority On Nation's New Farm Bill

By TEX EASLEY
SPECIAL WASHINGTON SERVICE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Texas woman is one of the authorities on the farm bill pushed through Congress in its closing days of this year's session.

She is Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo, executive officer of the House Agriculture Committee.

She has the privilege of sitting in the House during debate on farm legislation, and goes there armed with facts and figures. It's her job to have them ready when a congressman on the committee is called upon suddenly to back up a statement about the need or effect of some law.

Since 1933 Mrs. Clark has been accumulating a knowledge of farm and ranch problems. Her fresh outlook, twinkling blue eyes and brown hair belie her age; she has a recently married son employed with the Hawaiian Airlines in Honolulu.

Born in Iowa, Mrs. Clark went to Texas "as soon as I was old enough to show good judgment," to use her own words.

She was working as purchasing agent for the Panhandle Lumber Co. in its general offices at Amarillo, when she got a chance to come to Washington in 1933. Her boss at the time, John E. Hill, was a good friend of the then Panhandle Congressman Marvin Jones. When Jones became chairman of the House Agriculture Committee he offered Mrs. Clark a position on the staff.

From 1933 to 1949 the friendly Texas woman stayed with the Agriculture Committee. Then the veteran Representative Jones was appointed to the U. S. Court of Claims, where he is now chief justice.

Mrs. Clark then was employed by Judge Jones' successor, Rep. Gene Worley of Shamrock. She went back to the Agriculture Committee staff at the beginning of this year, to become its executive officer.

It was during her years on the committee when it was headed by Judge Jones that Congress enacted most of the basic farm legislation in effect today — dealing with the Production and Marketing Administration, the Soil Conservation Service, crop insurance, Farm Security Administration, Farm Credit Administration and Commodity Credit Corporation.

Free Cattle Plague City

NEW DELHI, India — (AP) — Municipal authorities are unhappy about the cost of feeding the hundreds of stray cattle rounded up in this capital city.

The cattle are a menace to traffic and to kitchen gardens planted under the government's grow-more-food campaign. Some of the animals are sacred cows left to roam at will. There also are huge bulls dedicated to various temples by their owners.

Finally there are the cows let loose by their owners to graze on any grass they can find.

The municipal committee must feed unclaimed cattle for two weeks before auctioning them off or freeing them outside the city limits. Those liberated usually come back to Delhi, however. A committee member estimates there are 2,000,000 head of cattle roaming wild in India.

Dogs Get Ulcers From Frustration

CHICAGO — (AP) — Frustration is causing stomach ulcers in dogs at the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

If this can happen to a dog, maybe it can happen to a man. This is one of the ideas behind some new ulcer experiments.

The frustrated dogs are conditioned to expect food every time a bell rings. The bell rings every two hours. Now and then the ring brings food, but mostly only expectation, disappointment, and finally ulcers or their beginnings. These ulcer signs can be seen through pouches, which are peep holes into the dog's stomach.

Rotating Floodlight Said a Power Saver

Rome — (AP) — A new type of floodlight to illuminate railway yards has been tested in one of Rome's main railway stations. The floodlight rotates at high speed and gives even illumination while saving, its inventor claims, nearly 90 percent of power used in floodlights now in use.

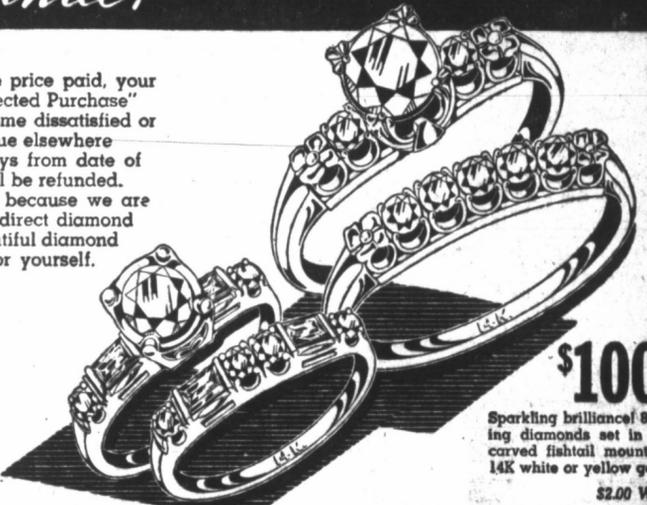

The new system was invented by Guglielmo Riccomagno, who devoted years of study to improve illumination systems in open spaces.

Quarterhorse to Be Defined at Meeting

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — The quarterhorse, for years a favorite mount of cowboys, is going to get a verbal going over at a meeting here Oct. 28-29.

Purpose is to get breeders, judges and inspectors of quarterhorses together to crystallize their ideas of what constitutes a good quarterhorse.

It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude. —Emerson

Pampa Rests This Week for Amarillo

The Pampa Harvesters closed out their nonconference football season here Friday night by knocking the Lamesa Golden Tornados out of the ranks of the unbeaten with a rousing 32-13 victory. It was the first loss for the boys from district 3-AA, and the fifth win in seven starts for the Pampans.

Outstanding for the Harvesters was the play of Tommy Allison, rugged Senior end, who was consistently in the Gold's backfield, busting up plays, knocking over passers and nearly blocking punts. When he wasn't pestering them defensively, he was in their hair offensively, trotting 61 yards on a pass play to score the third Pampa touchdown as the first half ended.

It was the final game for the Harvesters before the start of the conference season. They draw a weekend of rest this week before the important encounter with the Golden Sandies of Amarillo at Harvesters Park on the afternoon of Nov. 5. The Sandies were mauled by the Lubbock Westerners in their new stadium Friday night to the tune of 47 to 7.

The Harvesters played their usual scrappy game Friday, but included in the play were a lot of costly mistakes. Penalties and fumbles contributed to hold the scoring as low as it was. The cold night, the first of the season, undoubtedly had something to do with the play.

The Tornados were never in the game the first half. But they came roaring in for the second half with a passing attack that cut a four-touchdown Pampa lead in half and carried them down to the Pampa 5 before they were stopped by an interception.

Pampa drew first blood in the first two minutes of the game. Lamesa won the toss and returned Dick Cook, Jim Hayes, and James Holt all had a hand in the recovery. Carl Kennedy hit tackle for 3. Hayes went over guard for 6. Kennedy added 3 more for a first down on the Lamesa 10. Hayes went 8 yards around left end on a pitchout from Carroll Smith to score. DeWey Cudney converted and the Harvesters led 7-0.

After an exchange of punts late in the period Pampa took over on their own 46. The first play was an incomplete pass. Hayes then took that pitchout to the left and went 44 yards before being caught from behind and a 13-yard down. Hayes then added 2 more for a first down on the 1. On the next play he hurled the center of the line for the score. Cudney's kick failed and Pampa led 13-0.

The only scoring in the second period was confined to the final second of play. Lamesa had penetrated as deep as the Pampa 12 midway through the quarter, but Allison smothered a couple of passing attempts to halt the attack.

The Harvesters gained possession of the ball on their own 48 with 28 seconds left to play in the half. On the first play Hayes hit center for no gain. Smith attempted a pass but was smeared for a stop. Time was called to start the clock with 3 seconds left. Then Smith faded back and threw a long pass to Allison, who caught it on the Lamesa 35 and hugged it all the way down the sideline to score. He had to successfully dodge a tackler on the 10 with a neat job of faking to reach the double stripe. Cudney again failed to convert and the Harvesters led 19-0 at halftime.

To start the second half the Harvesters received and Smith ran the ball back 65 yards before being dragged down from behind by Dick Echols on the Lamesa 26. On the first play Cooper was stopped cold, but a rousing penalty immediately brought the action back to the Lamesa 11. Smith then faked a pass, tucked the ball under his arm, and scampered over left tackle to score. Cudney converted and the Green and Gold held a 26-0 lead. Then the visitors took to the air. Bobby Hawkins whose brother, the Texas Tech Raider, started to unlimber his pitching arm. He hit Echols from the 50 and the little speedster spun and danced all the way to paydirt, though hit several times by futile Pampa tackles. The try for point failed and Pampa led 28-0.

After an exchange of punts the Lamesans took possession on their own 13 late in the third period. Again Hawkins started pitching and they moved upfield to the Pampa 43. There, on the second play in the fourth period, Ronald Chapman skirted left end and went all the way. Hawkins converted and the Harvesters lead was trimmed to 28-13.

Still not to be denied, the Lamesans took control on their own 32 after a Pampa punt and started to march to the end zone. They marched all the way down to the Pampa 7 before Leon Taylor, Pampa center, intercepted a Chapman pass on his own goal line and returned it to the Pampa 34. Then the Harvesters started a drive. Wilson took a pitchout and went to the Lamesa 46. A penalty and a six yard rush by Dale Richardson made it first down on the Lamesa 35. Smith hit John Nolan with an aerial to the Lamesa 11 for another first down. Wilson then scooted around right end on a pitchout to score. Cudney again failed to convert and the final scores stood at 32-13.

The Harvesters completely bottled up the running attack of the speedy Lamesa team, holding them to a net of 6 yards rushing. But the visitors connected on 19 of 40 aerials for 256 yards. They also had more first downs than Pampa, 19-14.

Field Goal in Final 10 Seconds Means Victory

AUSTIN — (AP) — James (Froggie) Williams grabbed a spinning-tumbling 17-15 victory for Rice over Texas by booting a perfect field goal in the last 10 seconds here Saturday.

Williams, a 6-foot, 197-pound senior from Waco, calmly kicked the three-pointer from a very difficult angle as 60,000 screaming fans watched him disrupt Texas' hopes for victory.

The scrimmage line was down 10, but the ball was placed down on the 15, about 15 yards in from the side line, for the decisive attempt. Quarterback Tobin Rote held for Williams.

In gaining its second Southwest Conference victory against no defeats, Rice did it the hard way — just like it did against Southern Methodist last week. Only more so.

Manhandled by Texas so viciously that they made only 18 yards and one first down in the first half, Rice did not start clicking until midway of the third period.

At that time they were trailing dimly, 15 to 0, and Texas enthusiasts thought maybe they had a cinch.

A short kick out by Bobby Coy Lee of Texas gave Rice the ball on Texas 17, and substitute quarterback Vernon Glass promptly flipped a touchdown pass to back Billy Burkhalter, who marched 78 yards in the final minutes to put the ball in position for the winning field goal.

Oklahoma Buries Nebraska, 48-0

LINCOLN, Neb. — (AP) — Oklahoma turned a big break into a late first period touchdown Saturday, then buried Nebraska under the football scoring barrage that netted a 48 to 0 victory.

The win left Oklahoma undefeated in the Big Seven with two conference wins.

An Oklahoma fumble had given Nebraska the ball on the visitors' yard line. The crowd was crying for a score as Bill Mueller plunged into the line.

He was hit by a horde of Oklahomans. Up into the air hopped Mrs. Bob Archer, the wife of the Nebraska coach. There was Ed Lisak to grab it for Oklahoma and run 68 yards to the Nebraska 23.

Lindell Pearson swept end to the three on the third play. Then he punned center for the game's first touchdown and a 7 to 0 quarter lead.

Oklahoma scored twice in the second quarter and twice in each quarter of the last half.

Walkerless Mustangs Upset Kentucky, 20-7

LEFORS PIRATES RALLY TO DEFEAT TULIA 20-12

LEFORS (Special) — The Lefors Pirates had to put on a strong last period rally here Friday night to gain a 20-12 victory in what was expected to be a breather game with the Tulia Hornets.

On the second play after the kickoff Joe Rice intercepted a Tulia pass on the Tulia 28. Todd picked up 13. A penalty backed the Bucs up five yards. From there Combs went over on an end sweep. Doom added the point to make the final score 20-12.

Next Friday night the Lefors Pirates will meet the Clarendon gridders in Clarendon, Thursday, Oct. 27, the Junior High Bandits will play the Clarendon Junior High at Lefors. Last Tuesday night the Bandits defeated the Wheeler Junior High 34 to 7 at Wheeler.

Army Marches Over Columbia

WEST POINT, N. Y. — (AP) — Army scored sweet revenge by rolling over Columbia 63 to 6 Saturday in a mighty show of football offense that included four touchdowns passes by Arnold Galiffa.

The victory brought to 16 Army's games without defeat.

Two scoring plays stood out in the wild assortment. In the first period Galiffa, with Army on its own 17-yard line, threw a long pass that Jim Cain gathered in down on the Methodist six-yard line.

Penalties hurt Kentucky badly. One, for off-side, called back a 68-yard touchdown run by Emery Clark and another halted a deep Wildcat swing deep into Methodist territory.

Southern Methodist had the edge in the statistics, romping 206 yards on the ground and 125 in the air to 98 rushing and 175 throwing by Kentucky.

Dalhart Tops Phillips 39-20

DALHART (Special) — The Dalhart Wolves proved superior here Friday night in the Class A thriller of the weekend, as they downed the Phillips Blackhawks, 39 to 20 before a capacity crowd. Bill Cessman, hard-charging back, led the Wolves attack with two touchdowns and adding two extra points.

Phillips was never really in the contest, trailing 7-0 at the first period, behind two touchdowns at halftime and behind by three at the start of the fourth period.

The victory moved the Wolves into the lead in District 1-A.

Kentucky Coach Blames Officials

DALLAS — (AP) — Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Kentucky charged Saturday that the officials lost the game for his team to Southern Methodist University.

"The officials cost us the game. I'd rather have that referee on my team than any of my players," the Kentucky mentor snapped after his Wildcats, seventh-ranking team in the nation, took a 20-7 licking from SMU.

Two of the Kentucky players — Harry Ulnski, center and Lloyd McDermott, tackle, echoed the coach's sentiments.

Statistics showed Kentucky was penalized 51 yards and SMU 55 in the game. An officials penalty cost the Wildcats a touchdown early in the first period when Emery Clark had run 68 yards for an apparent score. A 15-yard penalty for illegal use of the hands also stopped what looked like a touchdown drive in the second period.

Officials for the game were Ray McCulloch of Texas Christian University, referee; Buck Brown of Louisiana State, umpire; W. C. Mills of West Virginia, head linesman, and John J. Durkin of St. Edwards, field judge.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Messer—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Who is the only player to ever lead his league in home runs his first four seasons in the majors?

WELL, THE NON-CONFERENCE SEASON IS OVER for the Harvesters and now it is for blood from here on in. They get a week's rest before they tangle with the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm that was cut down to a dull sandpile by the Lubbock Westerners Friday night. There was probably more interest evidenced in that game than in the Pampa-Lamesa game by the citizens of Pampa.

A certain Amarillo sports columnist disagreed with a statement I made earlier concerning the pleasure the Pampa fans got out of seeing Amarillo defeated. He felt certain that Pampa fans would be behind his Golden Sandies when they played out of district competition. I am sorry he couldn't have been present at the Pampa-Lamesa game to hear the cheers of the crowd when the score from Amarillo was announced. Maybe he could ask assistant coach John Whinnery how the Pampa fans felt about the Sandies' defeat. Whinnery was on hand for the Lamesa game trying to pick up a few things about the Pampa club that would be useful for the Nov. 5 battle. John probably didn't learn too much. He was heard to cuss out the limited number of plays used by the Pampa team. The limited attack doesn't make for a good scout report. But he found out one thing: Pampa is vulnerable through the air. But in two weeks time they won't be. After Friday night's display of pass defense you can come out to Harvester workouts any afternoon and you will more than likely see them working on pass defense and tackling.

Alley Agates

By The TIMBER TIPPER

Down and down the alley goes the ball; and what is left? Why the 7-10 split, of course. So goes the game of bowling.

A lot of high scores were registered this past week. Lee May hit a 247; Bob McCarty had a 220; Eddie hung up a 227 and several more were in the 220s. I can't understand why the old timer continues to bowl in the 170s.

A group of young people from the Miami school visited the alleys last Wednesday night. Enjoyed having them around and hope that they will come back. There are a lot of them who will make good bowlers.

Stanley Brake deserves a vote of thanks for helping to instruct the Junior Boys League yesterday morning. Twenty-two boys were present for the lessons. The league will start bowling on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. Next Saturday morning at 9:30 the Junior Girls will meet at the Pampa Bowl for lessons and organization.

Wonder if Mary and Marie at the Country Club are able to walk after their bowling spree. Both of them are very good new bowlers.

Someone ask Buck Donnell what he bowled last Monday—then duck!

What two young men had a bowling marathon last Wednesday night? They bowled 48 games and were still going—but not strong. There are several 8- to 10-year-olds who are going good with the little bowling balls that John Hutchens ordered for the Pampa Bowl. Some of them are nearly ready to challenge their parents.

This afternoon the Tom Rose traveling team plays host to the Banner team of Amarillo at 2:30. The locals have been treated rather roughly the past three weeks on their home alleys. Come on down this afternoon and watch them.

Undeclared Schoolboy His Thinned

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

Five undefeated, unified teams fell Friday night as Schoolboy football hit a series of upsetting bumps.

Highland Park (Dallas), Lamesa, Yaleta, Marshall and Galena Park tumbled from the ranks of perfect teams in the City Conference and Class AA.

Wichita Falls beat Highland Park, 14-7; Pampa pounded Lamesa, 32-13; Berger clipped Yaleta, 20-7; South Park of Beaumont upset Marshall, 13-7, and Galveston swamped Galena Park, 32-16.

Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Henderson, Grand Prairie, Fort Arthur and Corsicana were the only unbeaten, unified teams remaining. Jurg Reagen of Houston and Baylor town are unbeaten, but tied.

Lubbock powered its way to a 47-7 victory over Amarillo, long the Panhandle toughie, and into consideration for the state playoff.

Henderson eased over Tyler, 37-0; Grand Prairie blanked Mineral Wells, 18-0; Fort Arthur and Corsicana were idle. Baytown walloped Texas City, 39-2 and Reagan tossed out Brownsville, 14-12.

Biggest upsets were those of Marshall and Yaleta. Both had been figured to win by a handy margin.

In top games Friday night, Austin downed Temple, 18-13; Texarkana beat Gladewater, 21-7; Brackenridge (San Antonio) whipped Alamo Heights (San Antonio), 45-0, and Harlingen downed McKinney, 19-14.

Panthers Win On First Downs From Wheeler

WHEELER.—(Special)—The Wheeler Mustangs and the Panthers battled to a 20-20 tie here Friday night in a hard fought game. The penetrations were tied, but the Panthers won on first downs 16-8. Panhandle fought back to score twice in the final period in order to gain the tie. Those last two touchdowns also gave them the lead in first downs.

The Mustangs scored as soon as the game started with J. T. Johnson running the kickoff back 88 yards, the first of two brilliant runs by the Panthers' star. Johnson missed the extra point.

The Panthers took the kickoff and marched back down to score with Light going over from the five, and then adding the extra point.

In the second period Pendleton went 25 yards and D. Johnson converted to give the Mustangs a 13-7 lead. Later in the same period J. T. Johnson returned a punt 65 yards to score, but the play was nullified by a roughing penalty.

In the third quarter the Mustangs took over on their own 5, and J. T. Johnson again broke loose for a 95-yard run behind beautiful interference to score. D. Johnson converted and the Mustangs led 20-7.

Panhandle's two touchdowns in the final period came on short runs after long marches. Howard scored from the 3 and Light went over from the 10. Light went over for the extra point on Howard's tally, but the all-important extra point after the last touchdown was missed to knot the game at 20-20.

Santa Clara's famed "Glacier Priest," Rev. Bernard Hubbard, S.J., presented the 1932 football team with a Kodiak bear skin for the first Bronco victory over California.

That is about it for this week, except for this true event. The 6-9 was made with the first ball and then the second ball converted the rest of the balls for the spare. For proof, see John Hutchens.

Tech Grinds Out 27 to 7 Victory

LUBBOCK.—(AP)—Texas Tech ground out a 27-7 victory over Arizona before 9,000 fans, Saturday.

Starting slowly, the Red Raiders gained momentum to score the first touchdown 10 seconds before the first half ended. Fullback Bud Conley smashed over from the eight. Quarterback Ernest Hawkins set up the scoring play by running an intercepted pass back 50 yards.

Sixteen plays netted Arizona 85 yards and a touchdown after they received the next kickoff.

Tech scored twice in the final quarter to sew up its second Border engagement.

While he pivoted and faked for the entertainment of reporters, more than 200 guests gathered in Susquehanna University's huge dining room to honor one of the sporting world's three active living octogenarians, Baseball's Connie Mack and Clark Griffith are the others.

Gen. Lawrence Whiting of Chicago, captain of Stagg's 1912 University of Chicago team, was among those who heard the quiet spoken coach declare that his only regret after 60 years of "helping to build men" was that he couldn't do it all over again.

Stagg started his coaching career at Springfield (Mass.) College in 1880, moved to Chicago two years later and stayed 41 years and then to the College of the Pacific. He came to Susquehanna in 1946.

Will he ever retire? "As long as I'm useful I'll continue to coach football," he declared.

MINNESOTA IS UPSET VICTIM

Arkansas Tops Vandy

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Fullback Geno Mazzanti raced 77 yards to the Vanderbilt 10-yard stripe to set up a touchdown which gave Arkansas the intersectional football game.

Defensive fullback Louis Schaufele, who seldom before has carried the ball for Arkansas, plunged the two yards for the touchdown.

A blocked placement kick after Vanderbilt got a touchdown in the third quarter was the final margin of victory.

Arkansas outplayed Vanderbilt in the first half, but the Commodores came back strong in the final two periods. Each team racked up 14 first downs, the total yards gained was the same for both, 276.

Arkansas outmarched Vanderbilt, gaining 262 yards to 161 for the Southeastern Conference team. Vanderbilt gained 115 yards by air to 14 for Arkansas.

An off-side penalty called on a touchdown pass from Jamie Wade to Buck Curtis, cost Vanderbilt a score in the second period.

The Arkansas touchdown came quickly in the second quarter on Mazzanti's long run and Schaufele's two-yard plunge. Duval Thornton's kick was good.

Vanderbilt scored on an 81-yard march in the third period. It started when Carl Copp intercepted Don Logue's pass on the Vanderbilt 19. Ten plays later, left halfback Nelson Burton, Memphis Sophomore, took a pitchout from Jamie Wade and ran 23 yards for Vanderbilt's score. Left end Billy Hix blocked Cannon Mayes kick, leaving the score Arkansas 7, Vanderbilt 6.

Pampa Sportsmen to Meet Tuesday Night

The regular meeting of the Pampa Sportsman's Club will be held Tuesday night, Oct. 25, in the courthouse. Meeting time is 8 o'clock.

It is an important meeting as plans for the annual crowd shoot to be held next month will be discussed. Pictures will also be shown and committee reports will be given.

Who's Excited

HOUSTON.—(AP)—An absent-minded football fan has come forward to take his place beside the well-known absent-minded professor.

According to the police department, he is Neil T. Masterson, Jr., Houston investment broker.

In his rush to get on a train for Austin to attend the Rice-Texas football game, Masterson parked his car near the Southern Pacific depot, and in his haste left the motor running and the key in the ignition switch.

Patrolman J. H. Robbins discovered Masterson's apparent oversight, and reported it to Detective Foy Melton of the Auto Theft Division.

Melton took the vehicle to the police station where he announced it will be available to Masterson when he returns from Austin.

A football fan himself, Melton observed, "Aw, this sort of thing happens every year during football season."

Irish Battle Clarendon To Scoreless Deadlock

Shamrock — (Special)

The Shamrock Irishmen and the Clarendon Bronchos battled to a scoreless tie before 1600 fans at Denver Field here Friday night in a district 2A conference tilt.

The Bronchos managed two 30-yard-line penetrations to nose for the Irishmen, while the home team edged the visitors 3-8 in first downs and piled up 309 yards rushing to the Bronchos' 119.

Early in the first quarter, Guy Tatum, Clarendon right tackle, broke through the Irish defense, blocked Don Lea's punt and recovered for the Bronchos on the Irish 8-yard line.

A lightning Shamrock defense, by Gene Hamill, Irish left guard, stopped the touchdown threat and the Irish took over on downs in the shadow of their own goal posts.

The visitors threatened again in the second quarter with a sustained drive from their own 21 to the Irish 9-yard-line, featured by quarterback Johnny Carlisle's 27-yard pass completion to right end Jack Trussell just inside the Shamrock 10.

Again a stiffening Irish defense halted the drive short of paydirt. Midway of the final quarter, Don Lea, Irish fullback, brought the crowd to its feet with a brilliant 48-yard scamper from his own 14 to the Bronchos' 38. Several plays later the drive was stopped by the Clarendon stalwarts just short of their 20-yard line.

Gene Hamill, Doyle Brown and Billy York were powers in the Irish forward wall, while Gene White, 237-pound center, and

This One's Changing a Lot of Minds

MOST people have a habit of setting their sights on cars of a certain "price level"—and making a choice on the basis of what they can afford to buy.

Then, on the scene, came this stunning beauty—and in a few short weeks turned a whale of a lot of decisions in a brand-new direction.

Why not—folks figured—get really fresh style lines and that stout bumper-guard grille that can take any normal impact yet won't "lock horns" with ears ahead?

Why not get good, substantial roadweight and a lot more interior room when they come in a car that's shorter in bumper-to-bumper length for easier parking, garaging and handling in traffic?

And why, the shrewd shoppers asked, take anything less than this straight-eight thriller when it wears a price tag that any new-car buyer can reach, and actually costs less than many sixes?

Truth is, this spanking-new Buick SPECIAL turns a searching light on every car in its price range—on many above and below too—and looks the better for it every day.

Better in its advanced styling and amazing interior roominess and traffic-handly size.

And certainly far better in the lift and life of its valve-in-head Fireball power—the leaping steadiness of its buoyant Buick ride—the silken luxury of Dynaflow Drive, optional here at modest extra cost.

So why not set your sights on this beauty of a buy and let the facts of hardpan shopping comparison open your eyes to a new opportunity?

Your Buick dealer will gladly let you sample its sparkling action on the road—and give you 409 Cities the Size of Pampa!

Evidence of how tax money is siphoned off from Washington for the betterment of special interest groups was brought out in a recent Associated Press dispatch and again in the new compromise farm bill approved by a Senate-House conference committee Tuesday.

Last year, according to an AP story printed in The Pampa News this Sept. 20, the government spent 225 million dollars to support potato prices.

In this day and time of governmental open-handedness with billions, such a sum seems paltry. But here's what that 225 million-dollar "patty" sum means: It means nickels and dimes taken from the pockets of all tax-paying citizens—not just potato growers, but all citizens.

Then those nickels and dimes are collected in Washington, where a considerable portion of them stay to pay for administrative labor costs, then the remainder is given to potato growers.

Thus all the population is contributing to the support and propagation of a limited class.

What that means, also, is that every time a housewife goes to the grocery for a sack of potatoes, she is paying twice for each and every potato in that sack.

It's all a vicious — a very vicious — circle: the more potatoes that are grown, the more the government buys off the market and the more it pays the potato farmers and the more the consumer pays in both taxes and prices.

Now, that 225 million dollars, compared with the 45 billions that have been appropriated so far this year, is indeed a paltry sum — except when it is compared with something closer to home.

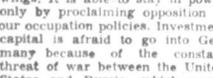

The operating budget for the City of Pampa is somewhere close to $500,000. That is not only for operating the physical plant of the city, but also for helping pay off its bonded indebtedness and for providing services to the public.

That 225 million dollars would pay for the operation of 409 cities the size of Pampa.

Four hundred and nine cities the size of Pampa could be operated for one entire year on the money that was given to potato farmers in 1948.

The broken-down American taxpayer is being asked, nevertheless, to underwrite the investment and profits of American billionaire corporations which Acheson wants to go into foreign fields. Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1949)

NEW YORK — President Truman's $50,000 tax-free raise in pay, thinly disguised as an expense allowance, is a plain fraud.

He already had an expense allowance of $40,000 for which he was to receive the same sort of account that the Treasury requires of citizens, and beyond that he was to receive an appropriation of $1,300,000 for the expenses of his office, including "entertainment."

The Trumans are not lavish entertainers and such parties as they have given have not been extravagant nor expensive. That could be to their credit, for, after all, the people pay for these official shows. If this fact reflected economy and a saving to the citizen the people might applaud the Trumans for lightening the load only to the extent of a few dollars. That would be in the frugal tradition of Calvin Coolidge.

But, while the Trumans are as stingy as Coolidge, the $50,000 grab, amounting to a tax-exempt gift of $200,000 wrong from the people's pay envelope in four years, is a dramatic violation of the spirit of Mr. Coolidge, who was no more extravagant with government money than with his own.

An item under a Washington dateline says that for the second year in succession the "formal social season" of the White House has been cancelled ostensibly because the White House is still torn apart. That, of course, is a pretext. There are plenty of other things that the Trumans could do to conduct the "formal social season," but if Mr. Truman isn't entertaining he won't be needing the $50,000 this year.

Even if he were entertaining to the full extent of the "formal social season" he would not have to take the strap off that bundle of graft, because he still could charge it to the big appropriation. There is not the slightest evidence, however, that he has any intention of knocking down the whole $200,000, as a jackpot for his future and for his heirs. As to his daughter's financial future, Mr. Truman is now being delivered from care and responsibility by Democratic organizations along the route of her travels as a singer. Miss Truman's voice is by no means the best in the concert trade, but the Democrats turn out loyally, as a compliment, to the president's daughter, the head of the party. Her income will be about $100,000 this year.

Under Roosevelt, with his regal pose, Congress and the people came to regard inquisitiveness concerning the personal expenses of the president as lese majeste. Although this is an elective public office in a republic, a prejudice was soon established which seemed to put any citizen in the wrong who had the audacity to ask how Roosevelt was spending. His widow wrote after his death that he spent more than he received while he was president, but that plainly was not true because his fortune increased over the years and his enormous public statement ever was made of his financial affairs.

During his three terms-plus, he had many millions under his hand by authority of Congress which he never accounted for to the public. Even if it is granted that he did not take any of it for himself or slip any of it to relatives the fact remains that he explained away in general terms why no company auditor would approve. Indeed, no government auditor would approve a $5 item in an expense statement of a minor employee that was couched in the delectable language of some of Roosevelt's "reports" to Congress on the expenditure of emergency funds.

Recalling that he latched many of his relatives onto the payroll in the great and illustrious practice of unblinking nepotism in the history of the presidency, I would not concede without proof that he did refrain from throwing lumps of money to members of his family. His idolators will reject that as a high-minded edict of scorn, but when a man has shown himself to be a confidence man both Democrats, have tacked on to the administration's new Displaced Persons Bill an amendment granting the exiles all the privileges of displaced persons and it appears likely that the new bill will have to pass carrying this amendment or else there will be no new displaced persons act.

Also, a petition is circulating around the Senate to ask the President to stop the dismantling completely and at once. It is being signed by many Democrats, even New Dealers. A military officer, just returned from Germany, is helping to collect senatorial signatures — an unusual spectacle, indeed.

While the State Department says "How terrible that Russia should have the bomb!" Senator Hickenlooper points to more leaks that have aided our rival and the American Activities Committee prepares to reveal the identity of "Scientist X" who spied for the Russians. I can testify that months before the atomic bomb was revealed FBI men were assigned, to the peril of their lives, to organize back atomic information from Russian spies, whose freedom to spy sprang from White House favoritism.

In one thing only Russia is expected to be behind us in 1951, the date set by military staffs for the "big blow." That one thing is oil. So, to be logical (?) Dean Acheson sends oil-drilling machinery to Russia!

Russia will move on oil first. We may deduce that Russia would as Roosevelt did in the case of Elliott's "loans," he forfeits the presumption of honesty under temptation. The presumption, therefore, runs to the contrary.

In July, 1942, Congress passed an act providing an "emergency fund" of $25,000,000 "for the President."

This act said: "The President may authorize expenditure of sums from this appropriation for objects of a confidential nature and the certificate of the expending agency as to the amount and that it is deemed inadvisable to specify the nature thereof shall be deemed a sufficient voucher." Later this appropriation apparently was raised to $50,000,000.

Now that the world is in a fix and not even the British Court can afford to spend money on entertainment in the old manner nor, under rationing, even to scuffle with little chips of bacon, olives and peanut butter for appetizers, there is no excuse for the pretense that the President of the United States needs a special $50,000 allowance subject to no accounting. Moreover, he isn't even pretending to entertain and, still further, if and when he does spend more money on social expenses, there is ample provision in other appropriations.

This $50,000 a year, or $200,000 for the four years, immune from the taxes that the rest of us have to pay on our incomes, is a raw, outrageous, defiant graft and should be repealed. It can be repealed without embarrassment under the Constitution for the very reason that it is disguised as an expense allowance. The Constitution says the President's pay shall not be reduced during a term of office, but the Democratic Truman Congress outsmarted him by the pretext that this was an expense allowance. We can raise or lower the President's expense allowance at will. And even if we do decide to let it stand we can still add a provision that he shall prove how he spent it just as any other citizen would have to do.

We have seen this power grow, in our time.

At the same time, the propagandists in America have centered their attack upon private profits, upon the profit system, and upon competition. To accomplish their purposes, they have tried to drive wedges between employers and employees. They have created so-called "labor unions" which have jeopardized our productivity. They have created antagonistic attitudes toward management. They have lashed many workers with unthinking people to believe that profits are immoral.

ONE CRISIS TO GO

So well have these attackers laid their plans, it is my firm belief that the army of federal bureaucrats who are just plain apathetic. Yet it is important to know how voters feel in order to tailor next year's legislation and the 1950 and 1952 election campaigns.

In other words, I think that we are just now one national crisis from the socialist state, from governmental management and operation of American industry, unless the present psychology changed in the meantime. How shall we get back to sanity? We must have a rebirth of appreciation for the things that make up our American heritage. Renewed belief in this heritage, better understanding of how it works, and energetic citizenship will be required. We must have a new American crusade for America!

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

In the town of Enterprise, Alabama, there stands a monument to the Boll Weevil, one of the most prosperous farming sections in the South, these people claim that the Boll Weevil is their success secret and erected a memorial in his honor.

They claim that the boll weevil, before the first World War Enterprise depended largely on cotton as an industry. They grew lots of the "white gold" and business was good.

Then came the boll weevil. He ate up profits faster than farmers could make them. The section around Enterprise was especially hard hit. The old boll weevil practically gave the farmers a new lease on life. Fighting him only added to the expense. Farms began to be foreclosed. Then the farmers got together and decided to do something constructive about the situation.

The land was ideally suited to peanuts, and they decided to concentrate on peanuts instead of cotton. The changeover brought new prosperity to Enterprise. The peanut paid off more than cotton ever had. New industries came into being to process the peanuts and the peanut oil. Today Enterprise is one of the "centers" of the peanut industry. The boll weevil forced them into a prosperous business they would never have considered otherwise. So don't be discouraged about that personal trouble of yours. It may be a blessing in disguise and someday you may erect a monument to it—if you look at it constructively.

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON President, University of Pennsylvania

WANTED: A CRUSADE FOR AMERICA

There are enemies of our American heritage. Some men have been working for generations to destroy the productive ability that America has built. Communism hates freedom of opportunity, hates competition, hates private management, hates the idea of private investment in tools. Propagandists of this sort started working hard in our country right after World War I, and they were bent on the destruction of these things, one way or another.

Expertly directed, these propagandists did not start out by telling people they should be Communists, nor did they tell people to overthrow the government of the U. S. But they did begin, very shrewdly, to lay a foundation that they hoped would bring things within a generation to the point where the public would favor the overthrow of our way of life. They have desperately succeeded. The threat is serious.

EXPERTS TESTIFY

Another American, President Eisenhower of Columbia University, wrote last June: "I firmly believe that the army of persons who resist our way of life are more numerous and more powerful than we are realizing. They are organized and they are working to bring about the destruction of our way of life."

Woodrow Wilson declared out of his great democratic soul; "The history of liberty is the history of the limitation of governmental power, not the increase of it. When we resist the process of death, because the concentration of power is always what precedes the destruction of human liberties."

Flowers For Adolph

When you meet the old acquaintance whom you haven't seen for years, you regard the fond reunion with a few disturbing fears. For you haven't seen the fellow since those good old college days, and he's likely got a family to brag about and praise. Sure enough, he's quick to talk of home and for attention bids, with a sheaf of well-worn snapshots of the wife and all the kids.

This is one of good old Nellie—you remember her in school, and you wonder if his little Nell perhaps has wed a fool. And right here's a shot of Junior while he's playing in the yard, and, old chum, he's like his daddy — why the kid is just a card. Now you prob'ly won't believe it, but our twins so cute, and just lamp their older sister who is certainly a beauty.

Then you try to change the subject but he won't give up the stage, and you wish he'd shut his blabbing mouth and try to act his age. Then the awful thought occurs to you that you're as old as he, and if he would give you half a chance, you'd take the floor with glass. So you wait with patience 'til your friend of yesteryear is through, 'cause you know you've got a lot of snapshots in your blifflod too.

The Doctor Says

By Edwin P. Jordan, MD

Written for NEA

Many people write to say that they are nervous and high strung and have a great many different kind of pains, aches, or other symptoms. Naturally, they are anxious to know what is at fault and what can be done about it.

It is not easy to discuss this question. No medical text book contains a chapter called "being nervous and high strung." What people mean when they say this is not quite clear and probably they do mean a number of different things. Judging from letters they usually complain of getting excited easily and upset whenever they are frightened, angered or have any other strong emotion.

Quite likely there is a more different reaction to emotions. Sometimes there may be a family tendency to be easily disturbed. While doctors win a chapter called "being nervous and high strung." The Nation's Press

WAITING FOR THE AMBULANCE

(Chicago Daily Tribune)

Officials of the British socialist health service in Lancashire admit that hospital waiting lists have grown so long since nationalization that patients die off months before the ambulance comes around to fetch them. When a hospital with an 18 month waiting list finally got a few empty beds, it sent out ambulances for three applicants, only to find that all were long since dead.

The facts should be considered by those Americans who welcomed Mr. Truman's proposed system of "free" government health care. The offer of something for nothing may exercise a compelling attraction, but its benefits are exaggerated if the citizen dies before he can cash in his claim.

Even in periods of greatest crowding it is almost unknown under America's system of private medical care for a patient to be denied hospitalization when the need for it is urgent. Political medicine would soon change that as it has in England. In the thought of something free has brought droves of new patients into hospitals and doctors' offices who never before considered themselves in need of treatment.

Some of these people are animated by the firm determination to have their "rights" and get what is coming to them, even though they are not immediately in need of attention. Others are malingers who prefer a nice rest at state expense to working. Those who happen to be in Britain's nationalized industries or in the socialist bureaucracy know that it is no very difficult task to get a certificate from the state employed physician, excusing them from work. The incentive to play hooky is widespread, and state medicine encourages it.

The consequence is that hospital beds will frequently be utilized by persons who have no great need for such accommodations, while others who are in desperate need of immediate attention are not admitted to hospitals because the beds have been preoccupied. An American citizen would be foolish, indeed, to take such risks with his health and life.

Those who complain of nervousness and excessive response to emotion can hardly ever be helped very much by anything which can be done for them in a medical or surgical way. Perhaps the only advice which can be given is for them to learn to live with themselves and to ignore so far as possible the unpleasant symptoms which they blame on a "highly-strung nervous system."

Those who complain of nervousness and excessive response to

Policyholder Refunds Reach $600 Million

American owners of participating life insurance policies in the legal reserve companies will receive this year approximately 900 million dollars in policy dividends from the companies, the Institute of Life Insurance estimates.

During the eight years ended Dec. 31, 1948, they received in policy dividends $5,775,000,000. This is the period which parallels that covered by the National Service Life Insurance policy dividends, aggregating $2,800,000,000. The companies' policy dividends, of course, apply on a larger total of insurance in force.

NSLI dividends will go to some 16 million veterans during the first half of next year in one lump payment covering accumulation of dividends over the eight years. The life company dividends which have been paid out annually over the eight years, have gone to several times that number of policyholders. Due to overlapping ownership the exact number of those owning participating policies is not known.

While the dividends are premium refunds in both cases, there is a material difference in the make-up of the dividends on the two kinds of insurance," the institute said.

"The company dividends are in effect premium refunds paid according to the actual experience in mortality, expenses of operation and investment earnings. These dividends are based on premiums that cover typical standard risks; they take into consideration all expenses of operation, the company's actual mortality experience and its net earnings from investments.

"On the other hand, NSLI dividends are premium refunds based on premiums which, although actually covering well above average risks, are figured on mortality tables applicable to average risks. Moreover, NSLI has not been called upon to meet war-caused and service-connected death claims since these, under the law, are paid out of the general revenues of the government.

"While the mortality savings has been the principal source of NSLI dividends, interest earnings have also been a factor. NSLI enjoys the benefit of government guarantee of 2 percent on the funds it has available for investment — a substantially higher rate than prevails on government securities generally.

"Expenses of operation do not enter into premium or dividend calculation of NSLI since the government pays these from general revenue."

Of the total dividends paid by the legal reserve companies in these past eight years, one and three-quarters billion dollars have been used to pay renewal premiums.

Another $371,000,000 was used to purchase paid-up additional life insurance — and this, based on the average premium, represents approximately a billion dollars of additional protection thus purchased on the paid-up basis, with no more premiums to pay.

Some $82,000,000 of the dividends were paid in cash to the policyholders; and $816,000,000 of the total was left with the insurance companies to earn interest for the policyholders until called upon.

Totally Deaf Motorist Not Deaf to Safe Driving

DEAF LEAD THE DEAF: Leonard Lau tests his wife's field of vision at Iowa State College. He's deaf and she's hard of hearing, so both must rely largely on vision for driving.

By EDWARD H. HOFFMAN
AMES, Iowa.—(NEA)—Pleasant, 43-year-old Leonard Lau probably is one of the nation's safest drivers, although he's been stone deaf since infancy.

The industrial arts instructor just completed the driver training course at Iowa State College in Ames. Now he hopes to become an instructor in driver training for other deaf persons.

During classroom lectures, Lau copied the legible and full notes made by a student who sat next to him. When he had a question to ask, he wrote it on the blackboard.

Tom Hannum, psychology instructor under whom Lau took most of his driver training work, knows a little sign language and "talked" to Lau with his hands. Hannum says his deaf pupil easily mastered correct driving procedure and now is a fully-qualified driver.

Dr. A. R. Lauer, professor of psychology and head of the Iowa State driver training program, has this to say:

"Deaf persons can become equally as good drivers as those with full hearing capacities. The deaf are often better drivers because of their handicap. They are apt to stay more alert at the wheel and to use their other senses to more than compensate for their lack of hearing.

Lau uses mainly his eyes to make up for his loss of hearing. He watches the road more carefully, of course, and makes a lot of use of rear-view mirrors on both the inside and outside of the car.

Verdict of Suicide Returned in Death

AUSTIN —(AP)—Justice of the Peace Travis Blakeslee said Edward Graydon Grounds, 19, jumped to death from the 27-story Administration Building of the University of Texas.

Blakeslee Monday returned a verdict of death "due to injuries sustained in a voluntary fall."

Grounds, a student from Dallas, plunged from the tower Saturday.

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By BUD ANDERSON

Almost everyone feels better when a local boy makes good. On the oil page today is a story on Duane Hogsett, a Pampa boy, who has finished college work in chemical engineering and is now about to finish a Junior Engineers Training Course.

Cities Service—Duane's father, Frank Hogsett, has worked for the company in its Pampa gasoline plant the past ten years—provided the incentive for Duane to make the educational project through its Doherty Scholarship and then let him take part in its Junior Engineers Training School.

Such plans will supply greatly multiplied opportunities for Duane and more high-caliber men in the oil industry.

Duane, by the way, is the first scholarship holder to be admitted to the company's engineer training school.

Another Anadarko deep test looks as though it might soon become merely a statistic.

Gulf is running back up the hole on their 11,000-foot Harbaugh located in Ochiltree County. This is the fourth dry hole for Gulf in the Anadarko. So far, they have been forced to plug two wells in Hansford County, the Gamersfelder and the Camp and one in Ochiltree County, their Stump.

Sinclair, on the other hand, had batted 100 percent until they began drilling on their Lips 3 and 4. All their wells have been in Roberts County.

For quite some time, the word has been that oil should be found a bit south of the Gulf wells.

No one can say this with any authority, however, but Sinclair is drilling south, and they have two producers.

The oil industry has contributed a great deal to the American public through fuels for their automobiles and heaters. Also it has given employment to thousands.

One contribution few people think of, however, are its taxes. Last year one group of operators in just one state paid 61.2 percent of all the business and property taxes. These were Texas operators and their total contribution to Texas was $11,676,043.

There are a few more interesting facts and figures such as this included in a story appearing on this page today.

Oil Progress Week, as a week of celebration, is over now and all the bunting and posters are down for another year.

But oil progress will keep going right along.

Any industry that is to continue its existence must be ever on the lookout for newer, better and more economical methods. The oil industry could be a prime example to anyone of progress and healthy development. A great deal of this healthy development is based on a willingness to try something new, and the hope the new method will be better. It's always a gamble, but the oil industry is used to such and the resulting well-being of the industry is tribute to its spirit.

On a good example of this is the research department of the Phillips Petroleum Co. It takes a good imagination to see any connection between this miraculous maze and the drilling-to-earth operations of the rig. But, strangely enough, there is.

Constant testing and improving is underway in this laboratory in an attempt to make better use of the oil and gas, guided by the driller. It is but one example of the oil industry's progress.

More Than Oil Out of Snyder

SNYDER, Texas—(AP)—A song-writing team proved that something besides oil could come out of Snyder.

The trio—Dickie Watson, Leon Guinn of the Scurry County Times and Grete Lewis—went to Houston to hear the premiere of their song, "Love in the Lilacs," last night.

Guinn said they had turned down $10,000 for outright sale of the song.

Completions High As 20 Gassers Filed

Sherman County bounced into the lead last week as operators completed 20 gas wells for a total deliverability of 73,826 MCF. Total increased potential for oil last week was 600 barrels from 12 new oil wells. Operators completed three oil wells in Gray County, and nine in Hutchinson County. Three wells were plugged last week. Carson reported one and Hutchinson filed two.

DIANE HOGSETT of Pampa is the first student in Cities Service's educational program to receive also the company's Junior Engineer Training. Hogsett finished his college work the first part of this year with a degree in chemical engineering and is now about to complete his work in the Junior Engineer Training program. In the background is the vast East Chicago Refinery, his first assignment under the training plan.

Petroleum Industry's Progress A Boon to Texas Institutions

Progress and development of the petroleum industry in Texas has meant literally millions of additional dollars for the state's educational and governmental institutions.

The heaviest end of the tax lead for local and state government and education in Texas is being carried by a single industry—the petroleum producers and processors, according to studies made by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

During the 1948 fiscal year, the Texas petroleum industry paid $111,676,043 to Texas' state government. This made up 61.2 percent of all the business and property taxes.

Local taxes (ad valorem) paid by the oil and gas industry add up to another tremendous figure. A survey by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association indicates that the petroleum industry paid about $15 million ad valorem taxes last year to the many independent school districts of the state. This is but one of the various types of independent taxing districts which depend on petroleum for their principal revenue.

Operators Stake 15 New Locations

Ector Cow Business Gives Way to Oil

By MAX B. SKELTON

ODESSA — (AP) — Oil and 23 years have caused Odessa to all but forget its once vital cattle industry.

The small 1926 town of 800 people now is the capital of an oil empire of its own — Ector County. It is the supply and service center on one of the nation's largest petroleum reservoirs — the vast Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico.

Ector County's economy and way of thinking have changed practically completely from cattle to oil.

Last year Ector ranked second among Texas oil production counties. Its output of 63,453,970 barrels was exceeded only slightly by the Gregg County, heart of the fabulous East Texas oil field.

As of last January, Ector's 23-year-old production total was 394,385,987 barrels.

Its producing wells had mushroomed to 3,586. Odessa had grown to over 40,000, with some enthusiastic citizens claiming 50,000.

The county's approximately 25 sprawling cattle ranches, with few exceptions have not been broken up. But the cattle industry, in money terms, actually is nothing more than a minor sideline.

In the cow country days of 1926, Ector's tax valuations totaled only $2,314,319. By 1936 the figure had climbed to $8,981,480, by 1946 to $28,552,130. There were 170 oil wells in 1935, 3,949 in 1946.

Veteran County Tax Assessor Collector Robert J. Bates places 1949's valuations at $47,065,165, more than twenty times the 1926 cattle country total.

Cowboy booted Bates, looking back on history, puts the county's situation this way: "The cow business headquarters for the Permian Basin's more than 325 oil fields with neighbor Midland, 20 miles to the east. The two towns are approximately halfway between Fort Worth and El Paso, Midland, still the cattle center it was 24 years ago, has found little oil in its own backyard, but it houses the Basin's administrative offices of nearly 258 oil companies, operators and affiliates.

Odessa has about 180 oil and supply and service houses as well as production departments for half a dozen major firms that headquarter at Midland.

Last year the supply and service firms did an estimated business of $91,000,000, exclusive of pipelines. Ten years ago there had been 56 firms with a $7,000,000 annual business.

Ector's oil is fed into pipelines that run to the east, west, and north to points as far away as Chicago. There are a few West Texas refineries but their growth and number are hindered by the area's water supply problems.

There are only two Ector schools outside Odessa and the entire county operates as the Ector Independent School District.

School Superintendent W. A. Miller places the district's property valuation at $12,000,000, probably twelve times or more the value when oil was discovered. Projects costing in excess of $1,000,000, including a field house and swimming pool, are under construction.

Enrollment this year jumped about 1,000, some 400, Miller says, above the average oil-boom increase. Current enrollment totals 7,872, compared to 338 in 1935-36. Fourteen years ago the faculty totaled 30. Today there are 327 classroom teachers, 11 administrators and 435 employees.

Miller admits Ector has been "a pioneer in the field of teacher salaries."

Bachelor Degree minimums range from $3000 to $3900, Master Degree holders from $3950 to $4950.

The faculty, Miller says, has been somewhat "handpicked" so as to match a "cosmopolitan student body."

Oil field and office workers have brought families to Odessa from all sections of the United States, from England, Mexico, and the oil producing areas of South America and the Middle East.

"We now have a cosmopolitan student body and a cosmopolitan faculty," Miller said. "We made it a point to seek outstanding teachers from every section of the country."

As records of Odessa High's football team reflect, recreation has not been overlooked.

The system has 29 coaches, seven gymnasiums. Football and other major sports are taught from the fourth grade up.

The "first crop" of youngsters who began playing football in the fourth grade became eligible for Head Coach Joe Coleman's varsity next fall.

Fight Looms Over More Nominations

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman's recess appointment of three federal judges opposed by senators forecasts a new fight in the next session of Congress.

Mr. Truman proved again he doesn't give up easily when he named Carroll O. Switzer as judge for the southern district of Iowa, succeeding Judge Charles A. Dewey, retired.

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) had called the nomination of Switzer a "personal affront" to him. By raising a "personally obnoxious" objection, a senator usually can bring about Senate rejection of an appointee.

The Senate Judiciary Committee didn't act on Switzer's nomination in the last session. When Mr. Truman sends the appointment up again, as he must, Gillette will have an opportunity to voice his objections.

Mr. Truman also gave recess appointments to M. Neil Andrews as judge of the northern district of Georgia and Willis W. Ritter, to be judge for Utah.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) has opposed the choice of Andrews, who was named to succeed the senator's brother, Judge Robert L. Russell. The Senate already has confirmed Judge Russell's appointment to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Ritter's appointment is being opposed by Senator Watkins (R-Utah).

Jann Ethridge to Give Recital at Brethren Church

This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, Miss Jann Ethridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Ethridge, will be presented in a voice recital at the Church of the Brethren.

For the past two summers Miss Ethridge has been studying under Mrs. Inez Lunsford Silberg of Oklahoma City University, where she was presented in recital in July. Mrs. Silberg will be present for the recital today.

Assisting at the piano will be Mrs. H. A. Yoder, who will accompany the vocal numbers, and will also play "Scherzo" by Griffes. Miss Ethridge has also been a piano pupil of Mrs. Yoder for several years.

Her program will include both classic and modern numbers, among which will be the well known favorites, "Indian Love Call" and "The Lord's Prayer." The talented young singer is a Senior in Pampa High School this year. Throughout the years she has taken an active part in the musical affairs of the schools and the city, and last year she was one of the soloists in the "Messiah" chorus. Louise Burt, G. W. Thompson Wed in Amarillo

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Burt, Sr., in Amarillo, was the scene of the wedding of their only daughter, Miss Neva Louise Burt, and George Weldon Thompson of Pampa. The simple, home ceremony was read by the Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor of the San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Thompson is the son of Mrs. Cyrena Thompson of Crowell.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Lee Wimp of Fort Worth as matron of honor, and Carvel Thompson of Dimmitt attended his brother as best man.

Recorded music formed a background for the ceremony. "Because" preceded the exchange of vows, and "I Love You Truly" was played softly during the ceremony.

Miss Burt descended the stairway on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, and took her place beside the bridegroom at an improved altar before a large double window in the living room. Tall baskets of white chrysanthemums flanked the altar.

THE BRIDE WORE A NECKLACE of blue wool sharkskin. Most of the pockets were piped in navy velvet, and the jacket fastened with navy velvet covered buttons. With it she wore navy shoes and a white cap sleeved blouse with lace inserts. On her head she wore a tiara of white pearlized orange blossoms holding her shoulder length veil of illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of tallisman rose buds with long white streamers atop a white Bible.

On her head she wore a cameo necklace which her father had brought from Italy as a gift to his mother many years ago. For something borrowed, the bride wore the tiara belonging to Mrs. O. A. Hutchins, a close friend.

Mrs. Wimp was dressed in beige with maroon accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Burt, mother of the bride, accessories. Her corsage was of yellow baby mums.

Mrs. Thompson attended the public schools in Plainview and also attended business college there. Mr. Thompson was graduated from Texas Technological College, Lubbock, where he majored in Engineering. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, and of Sigma Chi. She is secretary to the publisher of the Pampa Daily News, and he is a consulting engineer in Pampa.

The couple will live in a new home which they have bought at 709 Doucette, Pampa.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. Mrs. W. R. McLeod of Pampa, aunt of the bride, had-

Kalka-King Rites Read Amid Rainbow Colors

MARRIED RECENTLY were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy King, pictured at left. Mrs. King is the former Miss Evelyn Kalka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kalka of White Deer. She was married in a gown of white tissue faille worn over hoops. Attendants were gowned in rainbow hues, and the same colors were carried out in flowers decorating the home.

JOAN STROUP

Miss Mary Ellen Hawkins was elected president of the Sub Deb Club at a meeting Tuesday in the home of Miss Dorothy Dixon. She succeeds Miss Joan Stroup, who has held the office of president for the past term.

Other officers elected to fill Sub Deb posts are: Joan Bennett, vice president; Ann Sidwell, secretary; Zula Brown, treasurer; and Betty Howard, reporter and historian.

In electing Miss Hawkins, who is a Junior student, the club members followed a precedent of electing an under classman, as they feel that most Seniors have too many other activities to handle the club presidency. The new president has been a Sub Deb three years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hawkins, 918 Reed, Miss Stroup, a Senior, has been in the club four years. She is the daughter of Mrs. Jessye Stroup, 722 N. Frost.

During the past season, the Sub Debs have conducted a cancer drive in addition to their regular club activities. They gave a dance after the first football game of the fall season, and also gave a dance following the game Friday night.

Autumn Flowers Form Setting for Groninger-McBrayer Wedding Rites

Miss Patricia Ruth Groninger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Groninger of Pampa, and Bobblye Wayne McBrayer, son of Mrs. Alvera McBrayer and the late J. W. McBrayer, were married Monday, October 3, at 6:30 p. m., in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. E. Douglas Carver performed the single-ring ceremony.

Bouquets of autumn flowers decorated the church. Mrs. Douglas Carver, pianist, played the traditional wedding music, and also accompanied Margaret Humphries as she sang "Because" and "Always."

Miss Billie Jean Groninger, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Walter Burleson was bridesmaid. Glenn Hess of White Deer was best man. Ethelridge Ross of Skellytown and Ray B. Hodges of White Deer served as ushers. Miss Betty Mosley assisted at the bride's book.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Ed Harmon of Skellytown, the bride wore a white satin, ballerina length dress with dainty lace trim. Her fingertip veil was of gold trimmed lace and was held in place by a halo of glazed orange blossoms. She carried a gold Bible, a gift from the girls of the YWA. Topping the Bible was a bridal bouquet of red roses. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, and borrowed.

Miss Groninger, the maid of honor, wore a dress of brown slipper satin and carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid wore a green slipper satin dress, and she, also, carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Candelighters were Carolyn Groninger and Carolyn Carver, who wore dresses of brown and green satin with matching corsages of bronze and yellow roses.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Groninger chose a black crepe dress with pink accessories, and wore a corsage of red roses. Mrs. McBrayer, the bridegroom's mother, wore a brown crepe dress with pink accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held for the relatives and friends in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Silyman. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with dahlias and other fall flowers arranged by Mrs. C. A. Jones.

Mrs. Walter Burleson presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. C. E. Powell served the wedding cake. Immediately following the reception the couple left for a honeymoon at Colorado Springs and points in Kansas and Oklahoma. They also attended the state fair in Dallas.

WHAT would we do without a little comedy now and then. Ida Adams told this one on her act, so I dare to repeat it: Ida was waiting for her son-in-law to drop by and pick her up the other night, and she saw the car drive up and stop... Looking down at a new pair of dress shoes as she climbed in, she said "My, aren't you all dressed up tonight." Her eyes still traveling over an apparently new suit, she admiringly looked him in the face a perfect stranger... He was startled, and so was Ida, who slowly backed out... she says she doesn't think either said a word... And in the car behind sat a young man (son-in-law) grinning, ear to ear.

GRAND STYLE—B&PW Club is coming out again with performance, a la grande... annual district conference will be held next Saturday night... My spies tell me the members are planning an outstanding evening, what with an eminent speaker to be here... these ambitious gals, moreover, had prepared 150 individual nut cups through this enduring fad, ceramics... they were prepared under the able direction of Bertha Chisum... this may sound small—but those cups had to be molded, baked, painted individually.

Cattle Numbers Up Over Prewar

ROME — (AP) — Italy's cattle population now exceeds that of prewar years. Figures released by the Central Statistics Office show there were 7,923,000 head of cattle and oxen at the end of 1948, compared with 7,667,000 ten years ago. Pigs total 800,000 more than the 1938 figures, while sheep equal the pre-war level. Goats now number 2,174,000 head compared with 1,828,000 in 1938. Only horses have not reached the prewar level, numbering 720,000 against 791,000 in 1938. The Agriculture Ministry program aims at 8,000,000 head of cattle before the end of 1950. The Ministry expects to raise the number of pigs to 3,700,000 and to obtain better meat production through selective breeding.

BLAST SAVES MINER

KALGOORNE, West Australia — (AP) — A gold miner here was unscathed. There was an explosion 70 feet away. His mates rushed in expecting to find him shattered. He was merely dazed. The explosion had lifted him bodily, and the flying rocks had passed under him. He was, however, severely peppered by small bits, which had forced pieces of dungaree and flannel beneath his skin. Blood poisoning resulted but he recovered.

Recipe Combines Two Fall Favorites

Here's a new way to combine two favorite foods of fall—sweet potatoes and apples. The result is a delicious supper casserole which is especially good with roast pork or ham.

Sweet potatoes and yams are usually cooked with the skins on and then peeled later. This makes it practical to cook them in advance and set aside to put together with the rest of the ingredients later.

Cook the sweet potatoes in boiling salted water until just tender. Drain and cool. Peel and combine according to the following recipe:

Sweet Potato and Apple Casserole
6 medium-sized sweet potatoes, cooked and peeled
2 tart apples, thinly sliced
1-2 cup water
1-3 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter
Slice cooked sweet potatoes cross-wise in 1/4 inch circles. Cook sliced apples in water for 5 minutes. Drain, reserving juice. Grease a porcelain enameled baking pan thoroughly. Arrange in it alternate layers of the sweet potatoes and apples. Sprinkle with brown sugar and add the reserved apple juice. Dot with butter. Bake in 350 degrees oven for 30 minutes.

Delicate Disk Collects Dust

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A new gadget will tell how much the air is contaminated in atomic energy work. It was invented at the University of California atomic laboratory here.

Jets of air are shot at a revolving glass disc. It is so sensitive it will collect ash in the air from a burning building five miles away. It also records dust stirred up when someone goes near it and changes in the weather which change the amount of dust in the air.

Navy Continues on Plans for World's Biggest Radio Station

WASHINGTON — Contractors' bids will be opened in Seattle, Washington, next month for the construction of a million-dollar transmitter building, central part of a new Naval radio station designed to be the most powerful in the world.

The Naval radio transmitting station, being built at Jim Creek, Snohomish County, Wash., will develop more than 1,000,000 watts to provide effective all-weather Naval communications throughout the Pacific area, according to the Office of Public Information.

Land at the site is being cleared, roads constructed, the creek channel diverted, and substation and transmission lines erected under smaller contracts.

Jim Creek was selected as the site for the station because natural contours of its valley, formed by 2,000-foot mountains, permit the suspension of antenna spans from one mountain top to another with the construction of relatively short, 200-foot towers, which can be built to withstand high winds and the weight of ice accumulation on the antennae.

The antenna spans, or catenaries, will vary from slightly more than a mile to about one mile and three-quarters in length. Vertical 900-foot downleads will be suspended from the midpoint of each span.

The transmitter building, which will be a modified T-shaped structure, will be built of reinforced concrete and will be completely functional. Its construction involving an elaborate grounding system and the use of copper shielding because of the intensive field of radio energy to be developed, will require from 15 to 18 months. The rear rectangle part of the building will house the station's two dual helix rooms.

Because the site is isolated from populated areas, the project also provides for the construction of married officers' and enlisted men's quarters and a recreation building, in addition to supplemental shop and facilities buildings.

The powerful new station, which will send out strong, very low frequency radio waves, is needed to provide a positive means of communication with ships and planes particularly in North Pacific areas where the propagation of high frequency radio waves is extremely erratic and unreliable as a result of the effects of magnetic storms and other difficulties. Experience has shown that the most reliable transmission in certain areas is by means of very low frequency with unusually high power.

National Guard Members Get Pay Increase

National Guardsmen have been given a pay increase in a bill signed into law by President Truman recently, Capt. Wm. J. Ragsdale, commander of the local Guard unit, announced.

The new scale ranges from $2.50 for each armory drill period attended to $39.88, based on the customary rate of one full day's Army pay.

Recruits will receive $2.50 per drill period during their first four months of service. For four months to two years, the pay will be $2.67 per drill.

Considerable rates of pay for men with less than two year's service, privates will get $2.75; privates first class, $3.19; sergeants first class, $5.64; and master sergeants, $6.62.

Officer pay ranges from $7.13 for second lieutenants, $8.31 for first lieutenants, and $10.45 for captains to $30.88 for major generals.

The increases this time were given primarily to the various officer ranks, since they had been left out in previous pay bills. In fact, some of the higher ranks had not had their pay increased since before the late war, Ragsdale said.

The local unit, Battery A, 474th FA Battalion, meets each Monday evening in the Armory at Recreation Park.

Hardin-Simmons Enrollment Shows Decrease This Year

ABILENE — (Special) — Fall registration at Hardin-Simmons University has shown a decrease of more than 100 students as compared to the same period last year, A. B. Lee, registrar, has announced. Enrollment this year stands at 1824 students while records show that 1927 students were registered last year.

A small portion of the decrease can be attributed to veteran students who have completed their college work but the majority of the decrease is caused by the new public school program which calls for a twelve year attendance in place of 11, Lee asserts. There are now only 484 Freshmen students as compared to 594 last year.

Growers Offer Less Than Approved Wage

HARLINGEN — (AP) — Lower Rio Grande Valley farmers are still making application for Mexican workers, but they are specifying wages of 30 and 25 cents an hour.
These applications disregard a U.S. government statement that no brace orders would be recommended for wages under 40 cents an hour.
A Texas Employment Commission officer said only a few applications were received Friday, and only 10 of those specified 40 cents an hour.
The Executive Committee of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association held a conference Friday. It said members would meet again Tuesday to decide the association's policy on Mexican labor.

Nehru Tells Bankers of Indian Needs

NEW YORK — (AP) — American bankers and industrialists assume that India's Prime Minister Nehru didn't come to New York just to see the tall buildings.
Several have talked to him about his needs: food for his famine-plagued people, and capital and technicians to develop Indian irrigation and hydroelectric power.
The money must come from private investors, Nehru told them. In his words: "It is essential in the long run for the United States to furnish these industrial bases for power, machinery and other things needed to produce heavy industry in India."
Nehru outlined this fairly frankly to members of the National Foreign Trade Council and the Far East-American Council of Commerce and Industry.
India's attitude toward foreign investors will not follow rigid, unchanging rules, but Nehru pledges to bargain with Americans individually and he promises profitable concessions, no discrimination against foreign investors, and "reasonable assurances of safety." But he says that his government must keep control over exchange and trade.

Cigars for the men, candy for the ladies and bubblegum for the kids will be given away all day Monday at the opening of the new office of Duncan, Duncan, Duncan and Arndt at 109 W. Kingsmill.
Official hours are set from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
So far as size is concerned, the building itself isn't large. But the number of businesses and the diversity of their activities is just as large or larger than any other in town.

Duncan Insurance Agency handles any type policy from fire and theft to life and hospitalization. This portion is headed by Kirk and Ray Duncan.
A ranch property in town, livestock or a bushel of beans can be bought or sold by the Duncan Real Estate and Cattle Agency through Wade Duncan and Jim Arndt.
Then there is the Duncan Lease and Royalty Co. which is run by all the Duncans and Arndt.
Wade Duncan is manager of the J. N. Duncan Estate which involves sales and rentals of property of the estate.
And, it's all in one building. Kirk summed the situation up pretty well when he said "... we specialize in everything."

The companies had their beginning back in 1920 when Ivey Duncan, a young lawyer, decided to sell fire insurance as a sideline. The company he established was the first insurance company in the town and, though expanded considerably, is still in operation.
When Ivey's sons, Ray and Kirk, received their discharges from the service in 1946, they took over the insurance business and have expanded it to include the full range of policies.

The other companies are relatively new. Wade Duncan became manager of the J. N. Duncan Estate in 1940 when his mother and father died. He was living on a ranch 32 miles east of Pampa in Wheeler County at that time. In 1946, he decided to sell the ranch and move to Pampa. Here, he established the real estate and cattle business.
This business and the lease and royalty agency more or less grew out of the Duncan estate.
According to Wade Duncan, no one knows just how Jim Arndt got his name on the tail end of the Duncan lineup. Wade said when the companies moved from the Duncan Building in 1948, Arndt just moved with them and Duncan and Arndt at 109 W. Kingsmill.

The Duncan heirs moved to the Texas Panhandle in 1902 from Duncan, Okla. Wade said he didn't think the town was named in honor of any of his family. The town name as his family.
There were seven sons and daughters and today there are around 20 Duncans and close relatives. Nearly all are connected in one way or another with the Duncan agencies.

Like Wade said, the Duncans were here when the town started, and they are going to be here from now on.
Mrs. Martha McGrew, of the museum staff, said that, although officials aren't against such brevity, they didn't consider the museum a proper place to wear play clothing. But on one occasion the spare skirts weren't needed. Girl guides at the museum entrance halted six teenage girls. Children under 12 are permitted to enter wearing brief apparel.
One girl, Mrs. McGrew said,

Loopholes In The Law

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

By WILL WILSON
District Attorney, Dallas County

Joe Doakes was charged with robbery with a pistol. A jury found him guilty, and his sentence was fixed at fifteen years in the penitentiary.
The indictment of Doakes read, in part, as follows: "... that one Joe Doakes, by assault and by violence, with a firearm, robbed one John Smith of one ten-cent piece. ... However, when John Smith took the stand during the trial, he testified that he actually had been robbed of two nickels instead of one dime. The jury saw no difference and promptly convicted Doakes.

The case was reversed by a higher court. Its ruling was that the proof did not meet the allegation against Doakes - simply because of the difference between two five-cent pieces and one ten-cent piece. The higher court ruled that Doakes was entitled to a new trial.

The State Bar favors revision of Texas' criminal statutes in such a way as to eliminate technicalities that result in delay and additional expenditures from public funds.

Dog Scalps Bring Bounty

SYDNEY, Australia — (AP) — When a dingy (wild-dog) hunter went to Kalgoolie, West Australia, to collect his scalp bounties last month he got a check worth about $1,500 dollars. Not a bad return for a fortnight's work.
The hunter was Clarence Carlisle, who brought in scalps of 200 dogs and 18 foxes, and beaks of eight eagles. These creatures are pests in Australia, with prices on their heads in many parts of the country.

Drive Discussed For Kiwanians

Dr. Douglas Nelson, local pastor, and Mrs. K. E. Thornton, Girl Scout executive here, Friday discussed the current Scout fund drive with members of the Pampa Kiwanis Club.

The speakers were introduced by Kiwanian Joe Wells, a member of the Boys and Girls Committee and active in Scouting.
Dr. Nelson, as principal speaker, said "our children are going to be taught something, whether we want it or not." He said by investing money in the girls' organization we give them "the skills and character training" they must have.
Putting money into Scouting, he said, "is our way of getting what we want in the form of the things we want to teach" the girls.

'It's Been a Happy 50 Years,' Say Local Couple Celebrating Anniversary

"It's been a happy 50 years — just wish it could be 50 more," Mrs. N. A. Cobb said in thinking back over the years that she and her husband, have been man and wife.

It all started back in Benton, Ark., Oct. 15, 1899, when Miss Emma Elizabeth Hile said "I Do" to N. A. Cobb. At that time he was working in a log camp and owned a farm in Arkansas. The missus, born in Evansville, Pa., had lived in Arkansas since she was five. Her father, a preacher for the Church of Christ, had been transferred there. Cobb was born in McNairy County, Tenn.

The Cobbs had three children while living in Arkansas — Vera Mae, who is now Mrs. L. O. Cox, Amarillo; Elsie Clara, now Mrs. J. J. Schmidt, Pampa; and C. R. (Bug) Cobb, also of Pampa. After 10 years of married life in Arkansas, the Cobbs decided they would look for greener fields. They came to Pampa in 1910 and spent their first night here at the Old Schneider Hotel. Cobb said the only brick building in town at that time was the First National Bank. When the Cobbs wanted to purchase groceries, they went to White Deer — for the "one-horse town" of Pampa then lacked quite a few things, including grocery stores.

When they first arrived in the Panhandle they purchased a farm near Kingsmill and spent the next 30 years of their married life together there. In 1939 they moved to Pampa and bought a home at 1104 N. Christine. Since then they have devoted much of their time to their yard each summer and always kept it filled with many colorful flowers. The Cobbs have a pictorial account of the early days in the Panhandle. One shows them in their Marshalltown back and fine team of horses in 1914. A few years later they got their first automobile. It was one of the very first cars in the Panhandle and was equipped with curtains and all.

Another interesting photograph that has been well preserved by the Cobbs is of the first school west of Kingsmill. Lumber was hauled from White Deer across the wide open spaces for the construction of the shabby little one-room school James Canady was the first principal.

"We're just sorry we didn't come to Pampa before we did," Cobb said. "We like living here better than any other place we've ever lived."

Cobb still has his mustache cup that his wife bought him 49 Christmases ago. Back in the days of Cobb's early manhood, mustaches were just about as popular for men as are "new look" dresses for women today.

The half-century married Cobbs have just about as many grandchildren as they formerly had brothers and sisters. Mrs. Cobb comes from a family of 10 children and Cobb from a family of seven children.

Grandchildren now include: Mrs. Wilma Jean Gillmore, Pampa; Richard Cox, Amarillo; Ricky Smith, Sally Mae Cobb and

SOMETHING OLD—SOMETHING NEW—The N. A. Cobbs have been married 50 years. The picture at top is of the Cobbs as they looked Oct. 15, 1899, at Benton, Ark., when they were first united. Mrs. Cobb's fashionable wedding dress was cream wool trimmed with beads and a brocade yoke. A cream sash completed the costume. Her hat was made to sit on top of her head, though it wasn't very different from the things worn today by women. The lower photo shows the couple as they appeared at a reception last week, honoring their Golden Anniversary.

Special music was presented by Miss Mary Jo Coffman, pianist. Recordings furnished further background. For entertainment, the Cobbs, with a projector, showed their collection of early-day pictures.

SALE BRINGS ACTION WHITTMUND, Germany — (AP) — The mayor of this East Frisian town asked the state for money to build an urgently needed new school but was refused. Promptly he offered the tax office building, owned by the town, for sale. The state gave him the money he had wanted.

Individual cakes, topped with golden icing and white wedding bolis, were served. A more up-to-date bride and groom decorated the center cake plate, around which were the 50th year wedding decorations.

Mmes. Schmidt, Cox and C. R. Cobb poured from the silver tea service and Mrs. Harvey Gillmore presided at the register. Besides those mentioned, the house party included Mrs. C. D. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Massa, Miss Sally Mae Cobb, Schmidt and C. R. Cobb.

The reception honored the couple from 3 to 7 p. m., Saturday, Oct. 15, in the Cobb home. Nearly 100 persons called during that time and signed the guest register.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Jenny's marriage to Tod Duncan has been unhappy because of Liz Conover. Liz still loves Tod. Tod married Jenny and now Liz is after Tod again. At first they were mutual enemies. The arrival of twins, Dale and Philip, and a mutual dislike for the arrival of twins, Dale and Philip, ended when Liz gets Tod a job with her father's firm. Tod, a former All-American football player, becomes a topic of gossip. Liz says she must see Liz when they work for the same official. Liz says she must see Liz when they work for the same official. Liz says she must see Liz when they work for the same official.

"I DO feel sorry for Tod!" It was Liz's voice, husky and low. "I really do. Because it's my fault he married Jenny to begin with."

"Has he made up his mind to ask her for a divorce?" someone else said. Liz's answer was not direct, but it might as well have been. "He certainly can't go on for the rest of his life like this!" she said.

There was a short silence. Jenny's knees were trembling, and the dimly lit nursery spun around her. "Don't you suppose she knows he's not in love with her?" "Of course!" Liz exclaimed.

"She knew very well he wasn't in love with her when he married her, but she was always crazy about him."

"I suppose now that he's really making money she'll be hard to get rid of."

"He'll have to pay her off naturally. She never did have anything before she married him. You know where she came from. grew up down there in the ratty end of town. Her family didn't amount to anything."

Jenny couldn't bear any more. She brushed past Rick, out into the hall and tied down the back stairs, her whole body hot and trembling. Rick caught up with her at the foot of the stairs. "For heaven's sake Jenny, don't let a couple of cats upset you."

"Oh Rick, I don't know what to do or what to think."

One thing was certain. She couldn't face that barrage of smug, cynical faces.

"Why don't we go for a ride," Rick said. She turned to look at him, saw the compassion in his eyes. He was the only real friend she had in the world. She nodded.

EVERYTHING added up. She had been pretty stupid all along. Something had cautioned her, even before she had married him. Her heart had told her that her own love wouldn't be enough. But she hadn't listened to any of those inner warnings. Tod didn't love her, never had.

Rick said anxiously at last, "Jenny darling, just because Liz Conover says a thing, is no sign it's the gospel truth."

"I know what the truth is, Rick," Jenny replied dully. "Things are not right, and never have been, between Tod and me. And it's just like she said, it—it can't go on."

"Oh Jenny, come on now," Rick protested. "I'd like to go back. Tod'll wonder where we disappeared to."

"You could at least have stuck around to say goodby to your guests. It looked a bit odd the way you and Rick disappeared."

Jenny whirled and faced him

Arch Walter Chisum, after his arrest by the Highway Patrol Friday, pleaded guilty in County Court yesterday to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $50 and costs by Judge Bruce Parker. Chisum was driving with an expired driver's license, but no charges were filed on that violation, since the license would be suspended for six months automatically.

Betting Said Aid To Mining

PERTH, Australia — (AP) — When a new policeman goes to Collie he learns one thing: Never arrest a man for betting. Collie is a thriving coal-mining town of 5,000 people, 120 miles south of Perth.

Collie claims the best record of any mining town in Australia, some say in the world. There is little crime, few drunks, a high rate of production and virtually no absenteeism. Many say Collie has this happy record because the betting laws are not enforced.

Says Mayor John P. Gillespie, who also is inspector of mines: "The betting freedom has done no harm to the town, and moral standards are higher than in most towns." Each Saturday about a dozen bookmakers set up their radio receivers and full betting gear in Throssell Street. About 1,000 men sit on boxes in the street and listen to the races, or stand in hotel bars and have an occasional flutter with the books.

'Playbacks' Help To Teach English

AUSTIN — Foreign students at the University of Texas are being helped to bring their blurred English into focus by speech courses designed specially for them.

With the greatest recorded number of new foreign students at the university this fall, many know only textbook English and find themselves unable either to speak to classmates or to understand lectures.

Dropping courses to concentrate on English or the universal language of mathematics is the typical practice of the bewildered foreign student. But those who enroll in the special courses for foreign students often find all their difficulties gone after a semester or two of intensive class work.

"The foreign students have a very high motivation to learn English. They are alert pupils and are eager to attend voluntary lab sessions," said Mrs. Eva Garcia Currie, instructor in the Speech Department.

Students' accents in the small classes may range from Turkish to Chinese and from Latin-American to Lithuanian. For special faults of pronunciation—the Chinese trouble with "l's" and "r's" and the Hungarians substituting "v" for "w"—students are taught to speak before a mirror and to use a tongue depressor to force out a difficult English sound.

Charts of the vocal organs, posters displaying letter combinations, and records are used by Mrs. Currie to drill the students in correct English pronunciation. "Before" and "after" recordings let the student hear his speech improvement.

Court Grants Two Divorces

Two divorces on charges of cruelty were granted Friday in 31st District Court by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

Decrees were granted to: Martha Noel from G. G. Noel. They were married in January, 1949 and separated in September, 1949.

Lola Fagan from Lester Dea Fagan. They were married in March, 1928 and separated in August, 1949. The mother was granted custody of one minor child but asked no support judgment from the court.

The court also granted removal of legal disabilities by age of Gerald Hamilton, granted one adoption and approved one change of name in another adoption.

WELCOME TO OUR OPENING FOLKS

We've been waiting a long time for this ... we're proud of our new building, and I know you're going to be proud of it to ... we've got about $30,000 dollars worth of new furniture, and I especially want you to see my new desk ... I especially like it cause you can lock it up ... we've also got 7 telephones and I call it a work of art ... I can talk over the phone to anybody in here without having to get out of my chair ... and that aint all ... I have a busser ... or buzzer ... if you call this office and want to talk to me, your voice is first relayed to the secretary, then she buzzes me ... all I have to do is pick up the phone and start talking ... then we've got a lot of nice chairs to set in ... even a divan ... when you come in now you won't have to stand up or set on the floor ... we've also got a little room that we was going to use for conferences, but since Kirk has got to bringing his baby down we call it the nursery ... so if your up town shopping and want to leave the baby for an hour or so just bring it in ... there's plenty of baby sitters in this office.

... We done lots of arguing and held a lot of board meetings trying to decide on what to give away on our opening ... I suggested that we give the men a drag off of a good 15 cent cigar, but they argued me down ... were going to give away a whole cigar to the men, and its costing more than a nickel ... the kids will get a chew of bubble gum, and when I say kids that doesn't mean a 30 or 40 year old kid - for the ladies, we've gone to something extra expensive ... we've made a deal with Spence who runs the Crystal Palace, to cook us up some fresh candy mints ... we'll give these away in those sanitary glasstex sacks.
... So come on in folks and look it over ... I just hope my health holds out long enough to where I can be present all day long.

J. Wade Duncan

WE'VE MOVED BACK FOLKS

—Were in the same old location with the same old crew, but a brand new office with new furniture—and were ready for business—in fact County Road hasn't got the last desk in before we made our first deal —we sold Mrs. Warren Hesse a beautiful little home. Old Warren ought to be proud of us—he won't have to pay rent no more—and was I glad to see that commission—but it won't do me no good—I must all morning in the Doctors office—I think it's my relaxation time—everything has hit me on the knee with his hammer, my leg tried to fly off—I'm a nervous wreck if you ever saw one.

—but seriously folks we're tickled to death with our new building, and we think the people that had a hand in building it done a fine job—building costs are pretty high alright, but they're not any higher accordingly to any thing else—you've got to make a lot of money nowadays to live—I'd rather see it like it is though, than to see bread selling for a nickel and not having the nickel to buy it with.

—and before I forget it, look through the paper and read our full page advertisement—we're having our grand opening tomorrow and would like for you to come in and see this nice little office—you might get some ideas on what to build.

—Congratulations to Judge and Mrs. Vin—they've been married 20 years they—have a long time for one woman to put up with a man of the judges character—Judge told me that he had to kick his pistol to ever put over—in case you don't know it, Mrs. Vin is one of the best cooks that ever put a apron on—especially when it comes to trying out—may more happy years to you Judge and Mrs. Vin—just hope me and mamma can have a celebration someday like you're having today.

—we've just had a listing of a 47 acre tract that is located in Wheeler County, Texas—has a long time for one woman to put up with a man of the judges character—Judge told me that he had to kick his pistol to ever put over—in case you don't know it, Mrs. Vin is one of the best cooks that ever put a apron on—especially when it comes to trying out—may more happy years to you Judge and Mrs. Vin—just hope me and mamma can have a celebration someday like you're having today.
