Mighty M Band Contest March At Lubbock

Muleshoe High Schools marching band will be among more than 30 marching bands performing during the opening "Parade of Bands" helping kickoff the 54th Annual Panhandle South Plains Fair in Lubbock at 10 a.m. Monday, September 27.

Jim Harvey, band director, and his marching students will be competing for top honors in Class AAA. Muleshoe was first place winner last year in the AAA marching contest, this year, the MHS band will be competing with Seminole and Portales, N.M. for top prize.

First four winners will receive cash prizes of $100, $75, $50, and $25, respectively, in each of five classes. Band members will also receive free admission to the fair.

The fair, which continues through October 2, will feature Tennessee Ernie Ford, top attraction at Fair Park Coliseum five years ago during the first three days. An all-star Mexican variety show will take the coliseum spotlight Thursday, September 30, and country-western singer Merle Haggard and his wife, Bonnie Owens, and the Strangers, will perform Friday and Saturday, October 1 and 2.

Area Hog Quarantine Not Effective Here

Jerry Gleason, DVM, said there is no present outbreak of hog cholera in this immediate area, despite a hog quarantine placed several days ago in Lubbock, Hockley and a portion of Lamb Counties.

The local veterinarian said he did not think that presently the quarantine would affect hogs in Bailey or Parmer Counties and both counties have been fortunate to have no outbreak of the disease.

He added that persons buying hogs should not make purchases in the quarantined areas until the quarantine has been lifted.

Quarantines for hog cholera have been placed on portions of Lubbock, Hockley and Lamb counties by federal and state animal health agencies, according to Dr. Gilbert R. Hollis, area swine specialist.

The quarantines were enacted because of two confirmed outbreaks of hog cholera, one each in Lubbock and Hockley counties. The action is part of a stepped-up campaign to wipe out this costly swine disease, Hollis adds. The quarantine will be removed when the threat of disease spread has been eliminated.

The area in Lubbock County is bounded by a line extending from the northeast corner of the Lubbock County line, west along the county line to the intersection of Highway 87, then south along highway 87 to the Most advocates of a better ecology concentrate their activities on outdoor environmental improvement and neglect to stress the importance of creating a more comfortable, beautiful and living atmosphere in the home, community, area, state and nation, according to Muleshoe Mayor Irvin St. Clair.

He said the Texas senate and house passed a Concurrent Resolution, which was signed by Governor Smith and designated July, August and September the early fall as "Keep Texas Home and Farms Beautiful Months", a program to urge the continuing need for beautification and improvement, both inside and out.

"This campaign serves two purposes," St. Clair stated, referring to the recently formed Muleshoe Community Improvement Board, which was formed to have a massive year-round clean up campaign for this area. "One is to promote home and area improvement for better living, the other to help the Bland said that eligible to enter the contest are eight to 13 year old boys from this area. Boys who are seven years of age and will be eight by January 16, 1972 are eligible to enter and boys who are presently 13 years of age and not 14 years old by January 16, 1972, are also eligible for the contest.

"Many people would rather 'improve than move' in order to preserve their close relationship in their chosen neighborhood and home town area," he added.

"Better ecology should start in the home, the school, the city, the county, and as voting citizens of the state and the nation, regardless of political affiliation, all concerned citizens should contribute especially now, and continue year-round efforts to assist local taxpayers citizens to keep homes beautiful, safe and more attractive to further community progress and growth for their own benefit, investments and to protect business and employees," stated an interested citizen.

Gordon (Corky) Green, who was named chairman of the local clean-up, fix-up and repair campaign, urges each and every citizen to make a concentrated effort to clean up his property, and if necessary, help clean-up the property next door.

This, said Green, will not only help present citizens, may help be an inducement for new industry when they would see a

Three Recent Accident Victims Recuperating

Fifteen-year-old Terry Phipps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Phipps, is in Lubbock Methodist Hospital following surgery on his left leg. Terry broke his leg in a motorcycle accident around 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, said his grandmother, Mrs. W.R. Underdown.

Mrs. Underdown said Terry and several other boys were jumping ditches on their motorcycles in the northeast part of town, when he spilled, breaking both bones below the knee in his left leg. Some of the parents watching the boys took Terry to West Plains Memorial Hospital in Muleshoe where he received emergency treatment before being transferred to Lubbock for bone surgery.

His grandmother said he is in some pain, but recuperating satisfactorily.

Monday, Bunk Mayberry of Muleshoe was injured when the horse he was riding slipped and fell on his leg, breaking a bone in Mayberry's leg. He was taken to West Plains Memorial Hospital where the leg was placed in a cast.

Arnold Alcorn reported Friday morning that Mrs. Alcorn's grandson, Scott Singer, has regained consciousness at St. Luke's Hospital in Denver and was in a wheelchair Thursday night.

Scott, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Singer of Gunnison, Col. was one of the 39 football players and coaches hospitalized following a bus accident near Salida last Saturday in which nine persons lost their lives.

He is a member of a junior varsity football team which was enroute to another town to a ballgame when brakes on the bus failed on a steep hill, forcing the bus to careen downhill. Near the bottom of the hill, the driver swerved across a parking lot to miss oncoming traffic and the bus overturned.

On the bus were 47 persons, including coaches and the driver. Nine persons, including players and a coach were reported dead at the crash site or died shortly after the accident.

FINAL YARD OF THE MONTH FOR 1971--Mr. and Mrs. Delma McCarty stand behind the sign designating their yard as 'Yard of the Month' for September, the last time the award will be given this year. Local Residents Visit In England

"St. Paul's Cathedral in England must be one of the most impressive sights in the world," said Buddy Hicks after he and Mrs. Hicks recently returned from a visit in England with their son, Major Jerry Hicks and his family.

Major Hicks is stationed at Lakenheath Air Force Base, approximately 80 miles from England. He was transferred to England after Wheelus Air Force Base in Libya where he had been stationed was forced to close.

The major and his wife took Mr. and Mrs. Hicks on tours around the English countryside and Hicks said of England, "I think the countryside is the most beautiful I have ever seen anywhere. The land is rolling and trees are beautiful, in many places trees along the highways overlap the highway and form a natural arch.

Post Office Plans Fast Mail Service

Postmaster Spencer Beavers, announcing a new mail service program recently set up by Washington headquarters of the U. S. Postal Service, has identified local areas which are to receive overnight delivery of first-class mail originating within the Amarillo area.

Beavers said eight areas contiguous to Lubbock will benefit from the next-day deliveries under the new mail service goal.

These areas, Beavers said, include the following sectional centers: Amarillo, Childress, Clovis, New Mexico; Liberal, Kansas; Lubbock, Roswell, New Mexico; Tucuman, New Mexico and Wichita Falls.

Postmaster General Blount recently unveiled the Postal Service's new goal of overnight delivery of local area first-class mail deposited by 5 p.m. "The Postmaster General has pointed out that this program will affect more than half of all first-class letter mail sent in the United States," Postmaster Beavers said. "So customers of every post office in the country will be benefiting from the new service goal."

Substantially more than half of the 52 billion pieces of first-class mail handled annually are for delivery in the city where deposited or in near-by communities.

The areas outlined Friday by Beavers were those within which next-day delivery will be provided for ZIP coded first-class mail deposited by 4 p.m. on weekdays.

The Postal Service set October 31 as the deadline for achieving the 95 percent goal.

The areas which next-day delivery can be provided include a total of 308 post offices, the most distant of which are more than 200 miles from the Lubbock Sectional Center facility.

Recommendations Approved By County

On March 18 of this year, a community meeting was held in the district courtroom at the Bailey County courthouse, to publicly discuss the possibility of a Community Action Program in Bailey County, and to hear citizens of the area concerning the federally-funded program. At the meeting, which was well attended, the citizens expressed that they were against any federally-subsidized Community Action Program. But, the same citizens who rejected the federal program, indicated there was a need for some type program to aid needy persons and it should be worked out on a local level.

Following the meeting in March, at which time the Community Action Program was asked to cease operations in the county, a committee of five persons was named to determine what could be done in terms of a coordinated community effort. Rudolph L. Guerrero, counselor for the Hispanic American Ministries of the Presbyterian Church, was asked to conduct a survey to provide preliminary information to the committee, including the advantages and merits of a community program for Bailey County.

According to the report compiled by Guerrero, a number of persons were interviewed, including governmental officials, school administrators, ministers and business owners and managers, as well as a number of private individuals.

The counselor-surveyor submitted a lengthy report to Bailey County Judge Glen Williams, concerning his interviews with the individuals and his recommendations.

14-6 FINAL TALLY For Seconds-Mules Stomp Mustangs

It was cold, dreary, wet and windy, but spirits of hardy football fans failed to be dampened as the Muleshoe Mules took the second game of the year in a fumble-filled contest.

Muleshoe fans watched with glee as the Mules tallied up a final score of 14-6 in the 48-degree wet evening, and Olton

Mustangs saw the final scoreboard Friday night in Muleshoe, and wondered where the sunshine went.

Friday was the first time in a number of years for the Mules to come out best when they met the Mustangs.

Ending the first quarter with a 0-0 deadlock, the Mules were riding on a number of fumble-recoveries from Olton and the sixth fumble of the evening for Olton, with 4:52 on the scoreboard clock in the second, set up the first Mule touchdown for the night.

Following a fumble recovery on the slick grass at their own 13 yard line, the Mules moved in about three plays to the two where quarterback Donnie Wheat plunged into the end zone on a quarterback sneak with 4:52 on the clock in the second. Don Heathington got a big rush, but tipped the football over the goal post bar to make it a 7-0 game.

Olton failed to move the ball and the Mules took over again on their own 48-yard line before the end of the second and moved it in eight plays to the shadow of the goal posts again. A 15-yard penalty failed toampen the drive after Wheat hit Tommy Clements with a 23 yard pass for only one attempt by the Mules during the evening. Clements went out on the five yard line and Bobby Hayes made it to the three, with 40 seconds to halftime on the clock.

On the next play, Donnie Wheat handed off to brother David Wheat, who scampered around the right side and into the end zone to make it a 13-0 game. Heathington looped a high ball into the air with his toe and right between the goalposts for a 14-0 game at halftime.

MAD SCRAMBLE--Scrambling on a rain-slick field, the Mules and Mustangs found moving rough in the first half of the Friday night game in Muleshoe. A steady drizzle during the first half and a 15-20 mile per hour wind hampered efforts by both teams. The Mules, who generally prove to be steady ground gainers, were held back due to uncertain footing on the field.

Sorghum Primary Swine Feed

LUBBOCK -- In the Southwest and certain Corn Belt "fringe" areas sorghum grain is the primary feed grain for swine diets, but little research has been conducted using sorghum grain as a primary energy source for early weaned pigs.

Texas Tech animal science faculty have undertaken research to determine additives and the processing methods necessary to produce the best results using grain sorghum for the young pigs.

Dr. A. Max Lennon is the principal investigator for the project. Working with him are Prof. Leland F. Tribble and Keith D. Lind.

"Early weaning, at three weeks, is becoming more and more common in the swine industry," Prof. Lennon said, "and excellent performance can be achieved with early weaned pigs when milk is used as the major source of protein."

The increasing price of dried skim milk, however, restricts its use as a diet ingredient, he said, and there is a "real need for a lower cost source of protein that will produce fast and efficient gains with young pigs."

The researchers propose to base the young pig diet on fortified grain sorghum-soybean meal.

In general, Lennon said, the performance of early weaned pigs fed soy protein is inferior to the performance of pigs fed milk as the major source of protein, and diets based on soybean protein supplemented with enzymes have produced inconsistent results.

"It has been shown, however, that alkali-treatment of soybean protein prior to feeding it to early-weaned pigs results in increased gains and efficiency," he explained. "Various additives -- dried whey or yeast -- have further improved significantly the performance of young pigs fed corn-soybean meal diets."

-- Thomas Jefferson

There are indications, Lennon said, whey, yeast and alfalfa protein concentrate will improve the amino acid and vitamin profiles for the young pig as well as improve the digestibility of other nutrients in the diet.

"There is a good possibility that one or more of these products can economically be included in a sorghum grain-soy diet for early weaned pigs.

The diets under consideration will be formulated for early weaned pigs fed from three to nine weeks of age, Lennon said. Weight gains and feed efficiency data will be recorded during the feeding trial. Then subsequent performance up to slaughter will be recorded.

Foremost McKesson Foundation is supporting the research.

Dear Fellow Texans:

I have just finished talking to Congressman Bob Price regarding the enclosed letter. It looks as though some members of the Democrat-controlled legislature are after Bob's hide and in the process are perfectly willing to carve up the Texas Panhandle to accomplish their goal.

When I asked Bob what I could do to help, he urged me to call on our mutual friends and conservatives in Texas and get the word out on what is happening. Bob is the senior member of the Texas Republican Delegation in the House of Representatives and has worked long and hard to promote responsible government and to decentralize federal power. He is too valuable a public servant to lose.

You can get some idea of the type of vendetta that is being waged against Bob by taking a look at the reprints of one of Wes Izard's columns in the Amarillo Globe News, an AP article in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, and a redistricting plan proposed by State Representative Delwin L. Jones in Austin, that splits up the Panhandle. (Editor's Note: on file at The Journal's office upon request.)

We need to raise all the money we possibly can in a hurry to help Bob meet this new challenge. This money will be applied to the radio, television, and news letter expenses Bob will have to bear if he is going to build a following among the many new voters in the counties the Texas Legislature will give him in their redistricting plan.

Sincerely,
(s) Billy B. Davis

Dear Editor:

Editor's Note: Reprint of letter to: Billy B. Davis

Pampa, Texas 79065
for interest of our readers:

As a result of the 1970 Census, I will have to add about 10 to 12 new counties encompassing 75,000 new people to bring the 18th Congressional District up to the 466,000 average population level required by law. While I am looking forward to representing more Texans, I am frankly quite appalled by the fact that the State Legislature is actively considering various redistricting plans that would carve up the 18th Congressional District and leave the Texas Panhandle without a unified voice in Congress.

If any of these proposals are successful, the advancement of the two party system in our state will be dealt a crippling blow. The West Texas area would be represented by only two Congressmen at the national level rather than the present three. Texas conservatives would lose a conservative voice

ASSOED!!!--Hanging on for dear life is a member of the Muleshoe Eighth grade 'B' team as he attempts to slow down a young Indian from Morton who is trying to get to the endzone and the T.D. The game ended in a stand-off, 0-0, for the first time to have a scoreless game in Muleshoe in some time. The 'A' team Mules lost to the 'A' Indians 16-8 after leading 2-0 at the end of the first half in the second game.

Library News

by Anne Camp

Two workshops for librarians in the Lubbock area will be conducted during the last week in September by Charles Baker, field consultant of the Texas State Library's Field Services Division.

Area librarians are invited to attend the most convenient session.

Topics for each of the day-long sessions will include criteria and programs under the federally-funded Library Services and Construction Act. In addition, plans for systems to be developed under the Texas Library Systems Act will be discussed.

The first session will be held on September 24 at 9:30 a.m. at the Lubbock City-County Library in Lubbock.

The second session will be held on September 27 at 9:30 a.m. at the Midland County Public Library in Midland.

Seven Accidents Investigated During August

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated seven accidents on rural highways in Bailey County during the month of August, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and 12 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1971 shows a total of 36 accidents resulting in no persons killed and 28 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for August, 1971, shows a total of 581 accidents resulting in 25 persons killed and 400 persons injured. This was 17 more accidents, 13 less fatalities, and 76 more injured than during July.

The traffic deaths for the month of August, 1971, occurred in the following counties: Wise, five; Gray and Potter, three each; Garza, Hale and Carson, two each; Baylor, Crosby, Montague, Parker, Briscoe, Castro, Randall, and Roberts, one each.

SPAG Receives Crime Control Extra Funds

South Plains Association of Governments of Lubbock announced they will continue operation of their regional law enforcement training program with a grant approved by Governor Preston Smith.

The award, $32,326, comes from Criminal Justice Council, a body which oversees state-wide law enforcement planning and administers funds from the U.S. Department of Justice for crime control projects in Texas.

A local in-kind contribution of $48,000 by the participating cities will match the CJC grant. Counties served by SPAG are Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, King, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Terry and Yoakum.

This is the third year of CJC funding of law enforcement training for South Plains police agencies.

In the coming year it is expected that 50 officers will be trained in two 240-hour basic classes. Seven one-week advanced courses will be offered.

The South Plains academy is approved by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

The award was among 39 action grant applications and one for a planning grant considered by the Criminal Justice Council at its monthly meeting. Applications were for a total of $2,705,274.

England, said Hicks, and it was his thought not as safe as driving in the U.S. He added that because of the many farms, all small, with no section lines, and narrow highways, traffic flow was cut down. There are no section lines such as define the farms in this part of the country, continued Hicks, and trees outline the separate farms where they visited. From the air, Hicks said the country looked like a jig-saw puzzle.

In the immediate area where they visited, principal crops were sugar beets and barley. One of the oldest places they visited while in England was at Bury, where they visited the ruins of an old stone and mortar church, named Bury St. Edmund's Abbey.

In London, the Hicks saw Westminster Abbey, Hampton Courts, the Tower of London and Hicks said that Big Ben was not the world-famed clock, but the chiming of the clock.

Enthused about their "once-in-a-lifetime" visit, Hicks concluded, "We saw so much and were so impressed, there would be no way in the world to tell about all we saw during the three weeks we were there."

HOUSE PAINTING SOLVED

Cheltenham, England--Realizing that his house needed painting, Reg Gilroy invited art students to paint scenes on the outside walls. The neighbors are complaining not of the scenes but the people who flock to see the house. Gilroy says the scenes stay.

The world is so filled with propaganda that people often doubt the most authentic information.

The quarantine area for Hockley and Lamb Counties is bounded by a line from Smyer, north along Farm Road 168 to the intersection of Farm Road 54, then west along Farm Road 54 to the intersection of Farm Road 303. From there, south along Farm Road 303 to the intersection of State Highway 116, then east along State Highway 116 to Smyer.

The specialist explains that no swine in the quarantined areas can be moved without health certification from an accredited state or federal veterinarian. Any producer within the area who wants to take hogs to slaughter, may call the Ramada Inn at 763-9343, and ask for any member of the Hog Cholera team. The producer can then obtain farm inspection and a certificate for movement.

"All swine farms within the federally-quarantined areas will be inspected by the state animal health officials for signs of sickness," Hollis says, "and this inspection will be completed as quickly as possible."

Swine producers within the quarantined areas who wish to exhibit at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair may do so as long as the hogs are accompanied by a certificate of inspection. After the fair, these hogs must be taken directly home and isolated for 30 days.

The specialist urges any producer who has sickness in swine to notify a veterinarian, county agent or animal health officials. Hollis will also receive reports at 763-9451.

He added that industrial prospects look at everything in a city, not just one or two plant sites, and judge the outlook of the town or city on how much civic pride shown by its citizens. Green, Mayor St. Clair, city officials and local interested groups encourage the clean-up of yards, alleys and homes, not only in the city but all through the Muleshoe area, highways and throughout the county.

en to the committee of five Bailey County persons who had been named by Judge Williams, and following a study and check by the committee, recommendations were presented to the Bailey County Commissioners Court on Monday, September 13. Serving on the temporary committee are Horace Hutton, Rev. J.B. Fowler, Paul Pesca, R.L. Scott and Mrs. Charles Lewis.

Ten items of immediate need were found by the committee of five persons following the study. They included emergency food; emergency medical services; clothing; vocational training; legal aid; advice and representations for the needy; recreational and creative services for aged; helps for migrant laborers; emergency vehicle repair; emergency lodging and emergency jobs.

The committee noted that the list included two types of needs. One is for immediate, emergency help and a need for a program which will attack the real causes of poverty. They said such a program could equip persons to help themselves and a properly administered program will not set welfare in motion, but will do the opposite.

Mighty M Marching Band, concluded with a patriotic song, and a brilliantly burning fireworks display of the American flag, accompanied by Kerry Moore reciting the pledge of allegiance, the rain began to end. Performing in a steady drizzle, which had marked the field since the game began, the three twirlers for the band did a flaming baton routine in the cold, damp air.

Taking the field after halftime, Olton received the ball and famed passer Steve Stockdale began his well-known passing. However, the strong arm of Stockdale almost went for naught as most of his passes were incomplete during the evening.

Late in the third, Olton put their only tally on the scoreboard as Marlos May rambled over from the 10 with 51 seconds on the clock in the third and put six on the scoreboard. A pass attempt into the endzone for extra points failed to jell and the score was 14-6.

Punts, fumbles and penalties marked the scoreless fourth quarter with Olton again threatening in Mule territory late in the game until the Mules recovered an Olton fumble in their own territory with 18 seconds on the clock.

Next Friday, the Mules travel to Friona to meet the Chiefs for the third game of the year.

HEALTH THOUGHTS

A patient recently complained of a tightness in the chest . . . a feeling of fullness. This same patient has also been a chronic indigestion sufferer . . . complaining of heartburn, gas, bloated feeling and a bad taste.

When she appeared a few days ago complaining of a tightness in the chest with a worried expression on her face, she found that the tightness was caused by an accumulation of gas in the stomach which was surrounding organs into a smaller than normal space. Thus causing them to feel contracted.

This is a frequent complaint because so many fried foods and heavy foods are consumed.

The same sufferer from indigestion may also complain of this tightness around the heart and be fearful of heart trouble. But the answer is usually the same.

The indigestion is usually caused by an inability of the glands of the stomach to secrete enough digestive fluid to meet the food intake. Consequently even the normal amount of food cannot be comfortably digested which brings about such symptoms as heretofore mentioned.

The Chiropractor is trained to find the cause which is pressure of the life-carrying nerves to the stomach, and to remove that same cause.

Club Reporters: Do You Have A Feature Story?

Has your club performed an unusual service, staged a dramatically successful benefit or developed a project that filled a civic need? Organization reporters should ask themselves if there is an activity other clubs and other communities would want to learn about. If the answer is a strong yes, there may be a story for the Journals.

The feature story needs the same WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE, WHY and HOW of a news release. The HOW of this kind of publicity has great importance.

Collect the most dramatic facts, organize them well and bring them to the society reporter. The greater number of people the story is likely to interest, the better the chance of attracting the reporter's interest.

Don't be afraid to suggest feature ideas. The editor may decide to play it up differently than you suggest. He knows his readers. Be grateful that the club's activity will enjoy this special publicity boost.

Newspapers will sometimes support worthy organization projects in the form of an editorial in addition to features. If any organization is engaged in a project that will benefit the civic-social, educational, recreational or spiritual life of the whole community, the president, reporter, member or other interested party may submit the project's merits. If it is in line with the newspaper policy and when there is space for it, the news article or feature will be appreciated by both the paper and its readers as a special newsworthy project.

Senior football players Rand Baker, Ricky Black, Tommy Clements, Ricky Faver, Don Heathington, Gary Lackey, Mark Long, Larry Shafer, Julian Vela and Donnie Wheat are enthusiastic about this year's season. People just don't realize the work that has gone into making our team. There are two battles at a football game; the team plays to win on the field, but the spectators also have a job to do. It makes a difference when you look up in the stands and see people who really care. This may sound silly, but a football team is nothing unless the town backing it. Tommy's school activities include FTA, sports, and Journalism. When not concentrating on creating Olton's quarterback or fouling Canyon's basketball players, Tommy enjoys the quiet and simple life of motorcycles. One word can describe Tommy, dedication; and Tommy's comment provides this, "I have never been around such a group that works so hard for something they believe in. People just don't realize the work that has gone into making our team. There are two battles at a football game; the team plays to win on the field, but the spectators also have a job to do. Three years of work have been spent for this season. Most of my teammates and I are seniors; this will be our last chance to play high school football. We intend to make the most of it."

Prison Rodeo

Plans Include

New Attractions

HUNTSVILLE -- Based on the long and colorful history of the annual Texas Prison Rodeo, the 40th annual event to be featured each Sunday in October promises to be filled with plenty of action, plus the best in entertainment as special guest stars join tough convict cowboys in this fast-moving two-hour show.

Held in the prison's $1 million stadium in Huntsville, the show begins at 2 p.m., following a pre-show special by inmates at 1 p.m.

Guest stars for this year's Prison Rodeo series include Dottie West and the Heartaches on October 3; Connie Smith and Rex Stoney on October 10; Charlie Walker on October 17; The Waylon Jennings Show on October 24, and the Potter Waggoner Show on October 31.

Also included in this year's rodeo series will be the popular chuckwagon races and the thrilling chariot races which will be highlighted each Sunday.

According to Hook Crawford, arena director for the rodeo, he will have a big choice of cowboy riders since more than 200 ropedists have applied for a place on the program.

And this year, for the first time, the Texas Prison Rodeo will open without either a former or defending champion in the saddle, which means that the competition will be greater than ever," Crawford said.

In addition to the bronc riding and bull riding events, the Texas Prison Rodeo offers its own brand of the Mad Scramble, Calf Tussle, Wild Horse Race and the Hard Horse event, which pits 25 convict cowboys against one bull with a money sack tied to its horns.

Jim Batten, rodeo supervisor, says that there are plenty of good seats available for all performances, and block tickets may be obtained by writing Texas Prison Rodeo, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas enclosing check or money order. There is no reduction in the price of children's tickets. Net proceed finance the rehabilitation programs for more than 15,000 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Legal Notice

LEGAL NOTICE
BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SENATE BILL 249, Section 1, (a) This Act shall apply to every county in this State. In all the counties, each owner of any livestock mentioned in Chapter 1 of Title 121 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925 shall within six months after this Act takes effect, have his mark and brand for such stock recorded in the county clerk of the county. These owners shall record the marks and brands whether the brands and marks have been previously recorded or not.

FACTS CONCERNING RE-RECORDING OF BRANDS IN TEXAS.
All brands and marks on Texas livestock must be rerecorded with County Clerks after August 30, 1971, according to a new law passed during the last session of the Texas Legislature. Producers will be given a six-month period (August 30, 1971 through February 29, 1972) in which to register these brands and marks and the location on the animal which they are currently using, after which time any unrecorded brand will be available for use on a "first-come" basis.

The law further states that all such brands and marks must be rerecorded every 10 years. Each County Clerk records for his given county only, so many producers may need to record their brands in additional counties if their operations are extensive.

The owner shall have the right during this six-month period to file the mark and brand now recorded in his name. In the event it cannot be determined from the records who first recorded the brand and mark in the county, then the person who has been using such mark and brand the longest shall have the right to have the brand and mark recorded in his name.

It should be noted that it is illegal to brand livestock without first properly recording the brand with the County Clerk in the county in which the livestock are held.

When the brand or brands are recorded, the location on the animal on which the brand is to be applied must be dition on the animal, it must be so recorded and each additional location for the brand on the animal shall constitute a separate recording of that brand. There is no limit to the number of brands and/or marks which may be recorded in a signed, if the brand is to be applied to more than one location by a person as long as requirements of this law governing the recording and rerecording of livestock brands are met. Minors may have marks or brands separate from that of the father or guardian which must be recorded or rerecorded as provided by the new law.

After the expiration of six months from the taking effect of this Act, (February 29, 1972) all records of marks and brands now in existence in the county shall no longer have any force or effect. And after the expiration of six months, only the records made after this Act takes effect shall be examined or considered in recording marks and brands in the county.

All brands and marks registered under the provisions of this Act shall be registered every 10 years in the manner prescribed in Section 1 of the Act.

Cancer Conquest Becomes Goal Of Legislators

The rapid conquest of cancer is the goal of legislation which has been introduced by Congressman Bob Price.

The Texas Representative called "disheartening" the estimates that one of every four Americans living today will someday develop cancer in one form or another.

"This tragic state of affairs can be remedied only if the American people, speaking through their elected officials, commit the resources of the Nation in sufficient amount to conquer cancer," Price said. The Price bill would establish a cancer-cure program within the National Institutes of Health. The director of the program would be given authority to establish, operate, and maintain

'72 Cotton Program Under Discussion

The National Cotton Advisory Committee meeting in Washington September 15 and 16 is to discuss three major aspects of the 1972 cotton program, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., a recently appointed member of the Advisory Committee.

The principal topics under discussion Johnson said are (1) the level of the 1972 cotton loan, (2) the size of the 1972 base acreage allotment and (3) set-aside provisions, including both the amount of acreage required to be set aside and the permissible uses of such acreage. Secretary Clifford Hardin of September 3, along with W.A. Fulford of Brownfield and six others in the Texas cotton industry. The committee has no decision-making powers, but is called in "to advise the Secretary and other officials on matters such as domestic and export requirements, and production adjustment and stabilization programs." Appointments are for the period ending April 28, 1973.

Under the terms of the Agriculture Act of 1970 the loan for 1972 is to be set at 90 percent of the previous two-year average world market price, except that the Secretary may adjust the loan level as he deems necessary to "keep U.S. cotton competitive and to retain an adequate share of the world market for such cotton."

World cotton prices for the past two years have been such that, if the Secretary uses the same formula he used in 1971, the loan for 1972 would come to about 21 cents per pound, basis middling-inch, 3.5 to 4.3 micronaire, net weight. Whether this same formula is to be used, or whether the Secretary is to exercise his option to "adjust" the loan level, will be thoroughly discussed in the Advisory Committee. The 1972 loan must be announced on or before November 1 of this year.

There is a widely held belief in the U.S. cotton industry that additional cotton production will be needed in 1972, and some are urging USDA to raise the 1972 base allotment next year as an inducement to increased acreage. "This too will be discussed," Johnson said, "but in preliminary talks USDA officials indicate they may not be so inclined."

Under the "open-end" planting provisions of current law, USDA feels an increase in the paying base acreage would secure increased plantings only on the less efficient farms which in 1971 planted only the minimum acreage required to qualify for full price support payments. Farmers who overplanted allotments in 1971, USDA reasons, would probably plant about the same acreage in 1972 whether the paying base is raised or not. Thus increased plantings would not be in proportion to increased cost of the program. Whether this view will hold remains to be seen, Johnson noted.

Set-aside requirements is another problem. Current projections say there will be an oversupply of feed grains and wheat at the end of this year, which brings about a need for production is no less puzzling than how to increase cotton acreage. The set-aside approach embodied in the present farm program makes production control a far less exact science

Danger Shown In Pesticide 'Empty' Holders

AMARILLO. . . Is an empty pesticide container really empty? Don't believe it, says Bill Clymer, Extension area entomologist at Amarillo. There are always a few grains of powder or a little liquid on the sides of a container that can be just as dangerous as a full one. Proper disposal is the answer to prevention of damage to crops and perhaps injury or death to livestock and humans. Clymer offers some suggestions on disposing of used containers safely.

Glass should be wrapped in newspapers and then broken. Plastic and metal containers should be punctured and crushed, and then buried at least 18 inches deep in an area isolated from crops, livestock or people. The site should not be in an area where the chemical might leach down into underground water supplies.

Paper and other combustible materials can be burned, but make sure the fumes and smoke cannot damage plants or animals. Clymer reminds. Sanitary landfills used by many cities and towns can be a good disposal spot, but a producer should check with the proper authorities before dumping the containers.

The question of using empty 55-gallon barrels always arises. Most people do not want to throw away containers that can be used for feed storage or as feed bunks. But the practice can be extremely dangerous, especially if the chemical had an arsenic base.

"You can burn them or wash them or anything else, but enough arsenic may still remain in the barrels to kill almost any animal," Clymer warns. Any chemical kept over the winter should be sealed in an air-tight and water tight container, and stored away from feed supplies in a barn.

When a producer is disposing of left-over pesticides, he should be careful where he dumps the material, Clymer adds. A common practice in both aerial and ground spraying is to dump excess chemicals in draws or small grass areas. This can be extremely hazardous because cattle are often kept in these areas for short periods of time before working or shipment. They graze this grass that can have high amounts of dangerous pesticides, which may cause sickness or death to the animal.

than was the case under previous programs when there were stiff penalties for planting above assigned allotments.

USDA fears that if, for example, they raise the percentage of base allotments required as set-aside for feed grains, too many producers would drop out of the program, bringing about increased feed grain plantings instead of the reverse. This could be overcome in two ways. Price support payments to cooperating growers could be increased to discourage "drop-outs," or a mandatory set-aside could be set at a lower level with producers given the opportunity for additional voluntary set-aside, with appropriate compensation. At the moment, the first solution appears most likely.

On cotton, if this year's 20 percent set-aside requirement is lowered to encourage additional cotton production, farmers might well plant the newly available acreage to feed grains or wheat instead of cotton. Another possibility that will be talked, if USDA in fact does feel the need for measures to encourage additional 1972 cotton production, would be to increase the cotton set-aside requirement to the 28 percent legal maximum, then permit planting of cotton and cotton only on the affected acreage.

Following the National Cotton Advisory Committee meetings it is understood USDA will call a meeting or meetings of State ASCS Committee Chairmen before finalizing decisions.

Following the National Cotton Advisory Committee meetings it is understood USDA will call a meeting or meetings of State ASCS Committee Chairmen before finalizing decisions.

On cotton, if this year's 20 percent set-aside requirement is lowered to encourage additional cotton production, farmers might well plant the newly available acreage to feed grains or wheat instead of cotton. Another possibility that will be talked, if USDA in fact does feel the need for measures to encourage additional 1972 cotton production, would be to increase the cotton set-aside requirement to the 28 percent legal maximum, then permit planting of cotton and cotton only on the affected acreage.

Following the National Cotton Advisory Committee meetings it is understood USDA will call a meeting or meetings of State ASCS Committee Chairmen before finalizing decisions.

Doctor in Doubt

"I did my best." So said a doctor not long ago when a disgruntled patient sued him for malpractice. It seems that the patient had been suffering for eight years from a surgical wound that would not heal. Now, demanding damages, he told the court:

"I realize that the doctor did his best. The trouble is, his best was not good enough. After all these years, he must have realized his own limitations. What he should have done was to send me to a specialist."

The court agreed, and the doctor was held liable. The court said that when a doctor hast or ought to have serious doubts about his ability to handle a case, he has the legal duty to send the patient to someone who is better qualified.

A similar duty rests on other practitioners of the healing arts. Take this case: A drugless healer, treating a man who had severe abdominal pains, gave him a vigorous massage and a strong laxative. Result: the man died from a ruptured appendix. In due course, his widow sued the healer for malpractice.

At the trial, he insisted that he had used the best treatment according to his own school of thought. Nevertheless, the court ordered him to pay damages. With plain signs of possible appendicitis, said the court, he should have turned the case over to a regular doctor.

Of course, the mere fact that a treatment is unsuccessful does not mean the doctor was at fault. In another case a boy's broken leg, set by the family doctor, healed with some permanent stiffness. The family, claiming damages, blamed the doctor for not calling in a specialist.

But the doctor explained: "This was not an unusual case. I have often handled similar fractures, and there was no special reason for me to expect trouble with this one."

The court decided this was a legitimate defense, and dismissed the case. Noting that medicine is not an exact science, the judge said no one would dare to be a doctor if he had to guarantee perfect results every time.

REJECTS GOLD RISE
The Administration has rejected the suggestion of a small upward change in the gold price. Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, the managing director of the International Monetary Fund, made the suggestion. The official price of gold has been $35 dollars an ounce since 1934.
