Threat of Coal Strike Left Up to Krug

More Limited Use of Veto Is Being Sought

Truman Will Not Discuss New Decree

WASHINGTON — President Truman left the threat of another nationwide soft coal strike squarely up to Secretary of Interior Krug today.

Mr. Truman declined to discuss John L. Lewis' ultimatum for a reopening of the United Mine Workers' contract at his news conference.

The President likewise declined to comment on questions as to his plans on continued wage controls, telling reporters to read his speech of Oct. 14 lifting price ceilings from meat.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug expressed doubt that the mine will open on November 1—as John L. Lewis has intimated—unless a conference on new wage demands begins in Washington on that date.

In emphatic terms, Lewis has set a November 1 deadline for reopening negotiations, declaring that otherwise the government's contract with his United Mine Workers union will be "void." By tradition, that See COAL STRIKE, Page 4

County Veterans Express Interest In New Program

Nearly 40 Gray county veterans have indicated their interest in a new program of vocational training following meetings in Pampa and McLean the past two nights.

The program is designed to benefit those veterans who are unable to take advantage of other phases of the GI Bill of Rights and is sponsored by the state department of vocational education and the veterans administration through county school boards.

Under the vocational program, divided into three classes, trades and industries, distributive education and agriculture—the veteran works at his chosen profession and earns in a free course of study, for which instructors will be selected.

The veteran receives a subsistence allowance of $65 per month if he is single and $80 monthly if he is married. However, his salary plus the government allotment cannot exceed $200 per month.

Under the agricultural program, a veteran, to be eligible for the program, must own, lease or rent his own farm from which his entire income is derived. He receives 42 hours a month of group instruction, which includes trips to classroom work under a trained agricultural expert. In addition, he must work at least 23 hours per week on his farm.

To enroll in the farm program, a veteran should obtain a copy of form 1850 from the administration and return it together with a photostatic copy of his discharge and a copy of his marriage certificate, if he is married.

The trades and industries division takes in all fields of work applying to use of the hands but not overlapping into the distributive education division.

To be eligible for training in the trades and industries division, a veteran must work at least 18 hours a week at his trade and must attend twelve hours of classes each week.

The instruction setup under the distributive education plan is practically the same.

Veterans who wish to learn full details of any of the programs may do so by contacting the county superintendent's office in the court house.

Forms for application are also available there.

Classes will begin here as soon as all veterans have the opportunity to enroll.

Results of Rat Proofing Checked

Thirty-six Pampa business houses have been rat proofed and eradicated since the city typhus control program went into effect August 15. James H. Harris, district supervisor of typhus control division of the state health department, announced yesterday after having made an inspection of the buildings completed.

Harris said that all local merchants, with the exception of one, have extended full cooperation and have seen the wisdom in this typhus control program.

"The state requires that this work be done as a typhus precaution in the interests of residents of all Texas cities, where typhus is a threat due to the presence of typhus infected rats," Harris explained.

"In a survey made by the U. S. State health department in the vicinity 28 out of 34 rats tested were carriers of typhus virus," Harris stated.

Harris urged all local residents who know of the presence of rats in any building in the county, to contact the health department at the city hall. "It is imperative to the general health of residents of the community that all rats be eradicated from all city business buildings be completely rat proofed," he said.

In the process of rat proofing, under the present setup, the owner of the property stands the expense of materials and labor. Supervision of all work done is handled by the typhus control division of the State Health department.

Wallace Has Lonely Time at Texas Airport Reception

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A. Wallace had a lonely time in Texas.

There was one man at the airport to greet the former secretary of commerce—a stout Dallas attorney who once was a state democratic commissioner.

En route to Los Angeles to open a seven-state political speaking campaign for "progressive democrats," Wallace greeted from the plane and in the dark shadow of a wing newspaperman pined him with questions.

He stunk his hands in the pockets of his dark trousers and rocked on his heels.

Would he be a candidate for President in '48?

"No comment," said Wallace.

Former Employee Of State Faces 15 Indictments

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Travis county grand jury today returned 15 indictments against J. M. Del Curto, former employee of the state department of agriculture, charging theft from the state of Texas on 11 counts and forgery on four counts.

Bond was set at $500 on each indictment by Judge Roy C. Archer in 126th district court.

Theft charges dated from Dec. 31, 1942, to Aug. 1, 1944, and ranged from $130 to $145.10 each. Forgeries were charged on promissory notes and assignments of state warrants in amounts ranging from $49 to $140.80 each.

The indictments follow a state auditor's report, made July 11 to Gov. Coke Stevenson in which it was stated that "apparently illegal" payments of salaries had been found in an audit of the state agriculture department.

The report named Del Curto, former head of the division of horticultural inspection and quarantine, as supervisor of the employees or former employees "to whom apparently illegal payments of salaries" were made.

Theft charges totaled $1,550.10 and forgery charges covered $235.70. The grand jury cited the following dates and amounts in its theft charges: April 3, 1944, $130.40; Nov. 30, 1943, $140.80; June 1, 1944, $130.40; Dec. 31, 1942, $150; Feb. 27, 1943, $145.10; Dec. 31, 1943, $140.80; Dec. 31, 1943, $140.80; Jan. 30, 1943, $145.10; Aug. 1, 1941, $140.80; April 15, 1943, $45.10; and August 31, 1943, $140.80.

Indictments on charges of forgery alleged the use of three signatures on promissory notes and assignments of state warrants; those of B. B. Badger (twice), Roy D. McIntosh and A. J. Cernosek. Dates and amounts were given as Nov. 24, 1943, $64.30; March 16, 1944, $81.60; Dec. 10, 1943, $140.80 and Jan. 14, 1943, $49.

Asked if he had any comment on the grand jury's indictments, Del Curto replied from his home here that he had "none whatsoever."

Del Curto resigned his position with the state department of agriculture in 1944 to join the U. S. foreign and economic administration, stationed in Mexico City. Prior to his resignation he had been an employee of the department for 26 years.

He returned to Austin several months ago.

Mexicans Paying Big Prices for U.S. Autos

By the Associated Press
Mexicans are paying fantastic prices for new American automobiles but they're probably getting all they want, a survey of Texas ports of entry reveals.

An estimated 12,000 new cars have been imported into Mexico legally since the first of the year. An equal number has been smuggled, officials estimate.

New cars have been known to bring as much as $5,000 (U. S. money), and the average is about twice the U. S. price.

By far the largest number of cars have moved through Laredo, Dept. Collector of Customs S. W. Trout of Laredo, in charge of headquarters of the 23rd customs district, said records of his office showed that approximately 10,200 automobiles and trucks had moved into Mexico through that port legally.

He would not estimate the number smuggled, but he said it was high.

Customs officials at El Paso estimate that 210 new cars moved there since March 12, when the first car movement was recorded.

W. J. Harmon, supervisor of the EEL Paso customs, agency, said about 2,000 cars had been smuggled into Mexico since the first of the year. He said 10,000 had been smuggled since the beginning of the war.

El Paso reported that a 1941 Buick truck recently sold for $5,000 in Mexico, and that new cars have been known to bring as much as $6,000. A 1945 Buick station wagon recently brought $5,000.

About 150 new and used passenger cars have been exported through Reynosa, Chief U. S. Customs Collector C. W. Williams said at Hidalgo, Texas.

Unofficial reports from Monterrey are that in most cases cars sold in Mexico bring twice their U. S. value. A $3,000 car sells for $4,000.

"A heavy movement of new tires also has been reported at all border points. Many arrests have been made on attempted smuggling of tires. One person at El Paso is known to have smuggled $90,000 in tires.

A rigid inspection on the U. S. side has reduced car smuggling. At one point, officials were involved. Despite the increased vigilance, smuggling continues.

Chairmen Named In Campaign for Girl Scout Funds

Chairmen of the various committees which will work on the campaign for funds for Pampa Girl Scouts were announced today by Bob Morris, general chairman of the Junior chamber of commerce-sponsored drive.

Part of these chairmen have already begun active work on the advance donations campaign, which opens Monday, while the remainder will meet tonight to discuss plans for the general drive, which starts Nov. 4.

The beginning of the advance donations campaign, under D. L. Parker's committee, will coincide with the beginning of National Girl Scout week.

Present plans call for a goal of $6,500 in the drive but Morris said his workers do not plan to stop at exactly that point because the funds are needed by the local scouts for operating expenses next year.

Chairmen named in addition to Parker were:

F. E. Shryock, industrial; Beryl Hamilton, business; Mrs. Bill Money, residential; Lloyd Griffith, special groups; Noel Dalton, office management; Scott Rafferty and Martha Thomas, public relations, and Mrs. Quentin Williams, speakers.

Mrs. Williams was scheduled to speak to members of the Lions club today concerning the drive.

Committee chairmen who will meet with Morris at the Girl Scout office at 7:30 tonight are Mrs. Money, Shryock, Hamilton, Griffith and Dalton.

Reporter's Question Described as 'Absurd'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today described as absurd a reporter's question as to whether Attorney General Tom Clark may be replaced by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.).

Wheeler was listed to see Mr. Truman after the President's news conference.

Mr. Truman also described as absurd a question as to whether Associated Justice Robert H. Jackson was resigning from the supreme court.

Both reports, he said, were too absurd for comment.

Decrease Seen for Cotton Acreage In United States

LUBBOCK—(AP)—Rep. Steve Pace of Georgia said today that a downward revision of cotton acreage in the United States is inevitable.

Pace, chairman of a congressional committee which came here to hear producers and processors' views on the cotton situation, said increasing yields and general world conditions will force the decrease.

"The cut, he said in an interview before opening of the hearing, may have to be around 20,000,000 acres from the present 27,000,000, although only some 18,000,000 acres were harvested last year.

"This, he conceded, probably would affect West Texas more directly than any other cotton producing area.

Pace believes that outstanding points developed so far by the subcommittee of the house agricultural committee in hearings which started last week at Memphis, Tenn., are that the secretary of agriculture should have more discretionary power over allotments and that farmers operating under a provision allowing 40 percent of their tillable land in cotton probably will be forced to take the lion's share of any cuts.

The committee has found, however, that farmers and others interested want to preserve the control and support price program. Pace said, adding that only one man has expressed opposition to the program.

It was expected that the committee would encounter protests here on the allotment plan, with local sentiment favoring the plan. This view is shared by Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, committee member, who with Reps. George Mahon and Gene Worley feels that the acre plan discriminates against Texas.

Declarations of witnesses were here from all parts of this area. W. L. Staley, dean of agriculture at Texas Tech college, was to be the first witness.

City Cracking Down on Violators

Cracking down on traffic violators who are continually ignored summonses to appear before municipal courts, officials of the city government started today to send out notices to those delinquents for their five day after receipt of their letter it was learned here today.

City Manager Garland Franks said police officials have been checking the files for the past few days for delinquent summonses of whom they have several violations against them.

So today letters to every person who has one or more summonses filed in the municipal court against him, are being sent through the mail.

"The fact that they may have lost the original ticket, which is a summons in itself, will not be excused," the city manager said, "because the duplicates are on file in the municipal court."

After receipt of the letter the delinquent will have five days to appear in municipal court and will not be penalized. Should they fail to appear within the five days, warrants for their arrest will be made out by the municipal judge and carried through by the city police department. If the city has to resort to the warrants the penalty will be a double fine on each count of the original violation.

Franks added that all of the letters will not be mailed today, but that the city expects to have the last notices in the mails before the end of the week.

IN THE DOG HOUSE

OMAHA, Neb.—(AP)—A dog, evicted from his kennel at the rear of a downtown building by a man who left home after a family quarrel, howled four days long.

Police came in response to complaints and found the man asleep in the doghouse. "I whistled, the dog came out and I moved in," the intruder told the officers.

Police put the dog back in the kennel and took the man to jail for a night's lodging.

Election Bets Are Illegal in Truman's State

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman declined today to say definitely whether he will make any campaign speeches and also whether he will make a newsman's suggestion for a bet on the outcome of the Nov. 5 elections.

Election bets, the President explained, are illegal in Missouri, where he voted.

Governing a wide assortment of topics in response to fast-paced questions at a news conference, the President also said:

"On the possibility of formally ordering an end to wage controls before November 1, his recent speech on the meat situation speaks for itself.

"He said then that lifting of wage ceilings would be accelerated as price controls were removed.

"The threatened coal crisis at this point is entirely in the hands of Secretary of the Interior Krug.

"Any end to price ceilings on cotton textiles is up to Price Administrator Paul Porter and Agricultural Secretary Anderson.

"He hopes some way can be found to take care of 18 Estonians who 'called a small boat to Miami and who have been ordered deported from this country. A temporary stay of deportation was issued today by Attorney General Clark. Legislation probably would be required to permit the United States to take in political refugees from other lands, the President said.

"Rumor that Clark is resigning and will be replaced by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) were described by Mr. Truman as too absurd for comment. The same goes for rumors about resignations of Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson of the supreme court, and in the same category is an army and navy journal report that Secretary Forrestal is leaving the navy department, he added.

"The President has no intention of calling congress into special session.

Very Little of OPA Will Remain For January Congressional Action

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress may kill OPA in January, some high administration officials predicted today.

But they added that by then only a slim list of very scarce, badly needed items in the rationing list will remain under OPA.

As if to emphasize this forecast, OPA snatched its price tags from cosmetics and a long list of non-food products today in a quick follow-up to last midnight's sweeping food and beverage decontrol.

Together the two actions swept overboard another big segment of wage control because the government applies its pay curbs only when higher price ceilings are involved.

Statisticians said that in the case of food and restaurant industries alone, some 1,500,000 workers were cut loose from wage control.

On the food list, only sugar, syrups and rice remain under OPA.

Frankly acknowledging that there is widespread belief in the government that congress will come back primed to knock out OPA quickly and finally, one ranking official said privately the policy between now and January is to get the most price ceilings rapidly but in orderly sequence.

This official said the view is that it would be to President Truman's political advantage to trim the control list to the bone, then let congress take the responsibility if it wants to go the rest of the way.

Housewives and their husbands meanwhile watched retail costs at groceries, restaurants and liquor stores, as OPA officials predicted the cost of living and drinking would certainly go up, at least temporarily, as a result of the bread to beer retreat from ceilings.

Besides cosmetics, with soap excluded today's new decontrol list ranged from hot water bottles and other drug sundries to assorted lumber and paper items.

The lumber items are the few needed neither in home building nor for pulp paper.

More Limited Use of Veto Is Being Sought

NEW YORK—(P)—The United States lined up with Russia today in opposition to small nation demands for abandoning the big-five veto in the United Nations security council.

However, the American delegation to the U.N. assembly meeting, which President Truman opened here yesterday, is reported planning to work for a more limited use of the veto than Russia favors and this may bring a Soviet-American clash.

Mr. Truman disclosed the main lines of American policy on the veto issue in his speech. In it he also pledged that the United States "to the full limit of its strength" would continue to work for a "just and lasting peace" and urged that the United Nations get on with the tasks of controlling atomic energy, suppressing mass destruction weapons and otherwise creating the conditions of peace.

The veto issue appeared certain to kick up a prolonged argument in the assembly's general debate, beginning today after U.N. Secretary Trygve Lie reports to the 51-nation body on the progress of the peace organization to date. Two full-dress sessions were scheduled at 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Cuba, Australia and the Philippines also had indicated for ending the voting system by which any one of the big-five powers—America, Russia, France, Britain and China—can block action in the Security Council.

Without referring specifically to their proposals, Mr. Truman upheld in his assembly address "the rule of unanimous accord" among the big five, but said that it imposes on them a "special obligation" to agree on major issues rather than to block agreement.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), a member of the American delegation, told newsmen the United States would continue to favor a "discriminate use" of the veto power but would oppose its use in inconsequential matters. Russia is known to oppose any change in the voting system, also has indicated a desire that it be broadened where possible, rather than curtailed.

In summing up the problems before the present assembly meeting, the President declared that "the difficulty is that it is easier to get people to agree upon peace as an ideal than to agree upon principles of law and justice or to agree to subject their own acts to the collective judgment of the world."

Various delegates echoed this view. The ideals and principles and machinery were laid down in the charter written at San Francisco 15 months ago. The agency was organized at London last winter. Here in New York it is beginning the long-time job of trying to make organized peace work.

Sidelights On U. N. Meet

NEW YORK—(AP)—Food may speak a universal language. But delegates to the U.N. general assembly don't.

Jack Lasher, headwaiter in the delegates' dining room, has assembled a staff of waiters who can say bean soup or caviar in about 24 languages, but the waiter knows at least three languages.

There was rapt attention during President Truman's address—except once.

A marine decided to move a magazine rack with a coffee tray on top. The tray slipped, banged loudly against a chair. The marine disappeared into a men's room.

First delegate to arrive was Rep. Sol Bloom (D-NY), chairman of the house foreign relations committee. He explained: "I've got 7,000,000 constituents and they're all calling on me for tickets. I thought I'd be better off out here."

Bulgarian Action Blackens Chances

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bulgaria's swift compliance with the demands of many of the problems now confronting the United Nations general assembly in New York.

The state department bluntly accused Russia yesterday of forcing the Sofia government to suppress an American protest against its failure to provide guarantees for a free Bulgarian election next Sunday.

The department charged that Col. Gen. Semyon Blagovestov, member of the three-power allied control commission, had issued flat instructions to block publication of the protest in the Bulgarian press.

Hence this government promptly put on its "shortwave" radio, "The Voice of America"—message to the Bulgarian people informing them in their own language both of the protest and Russian-imposed censorship.

Ex-President of Mexico Plans to Turn Farmer

URUAPAN, Mex.—(AP)—General Lazaro Cardenas, ex-president of Mexico, said today he has no plans for re-entering the public life of Mexico.

"My plans have always been the same," he added. "I will dedicate myself to working the land."

Cardenas' statement contradicted persistent reports that he would join the government of President-elect Miguel Aleman as secretary of agriculture or administrator of oil properties expropriated during his term of office.

 GAYLE had known almost from the instant Mrs. Evans began her story what she was going to do. Well, then, the thing to do was do it. She'd have to tell Bart. All right, she would tell him—the minute he came home. Oh, but he wasn't coming home. He was staying in town all night.

She looked at the clock. It was almost six. She turned to the telephone and called him at his club. "This is Gayle," she said, carefully controlling her voice. "Something has come up. You'll have to come home tonight."

"What is it? Can't it wait until tomorrow?"

"No, it can't wait, and I can't talk about it over the telephone. You'll have to come home. Be here before nine."

"But, good gosh, Gayle, you're bawling up everything for me. I've got a date. It can't be that important."

Suddenly her voice shook with rage. "You'll come home or when you do you won't find either Kent or me here."

"Gayle!" he cried, frightened. "Gayle, what's the matter?" But the phone had gone dead.

eyes closed, and she grew so white that Bart hurried to her side and touched her shoulder. "Gayle," he whispered, frightened. "Gayle."

His touch seemed to sweep her dizziness aside. Her eyes opened and she drew away from him. "Take your hand off me," she commanded furiously. "Take it off."

He stared at her blankly in his confusion and fear. "What's the matter?" he asked. "Are you—sick, Gayle?"

"No." Then she pointed to a chair. "Sit down. I want to talk to you."

He sat down and waited, his forehead furrowed in a frown, his eyes clouded and wondering.

Gayle had dressed this moment. She had been afraid she would weep, but waves of anger swept over her and gave her all the strength and control she needed. "I know about Holly Steele," she said.

"Holly?" He barely breathed the word.

"Yes, Holly. Don't bother to lie. Don't even try to lie. You've already lied enough for a dozen lifetimes."

"Gayle, please—" His hand went out to her in pleading.

"Please," she repeated, her voice quivering with contempt. "Don't 'please' me. I didn't tell you to come home because I intended to discuss this with you. I thought first I'd just take Kent and go, but then I decided to play fair until the bitter end—more than fair. I'd tell you what I knew and what I was going to do. I've told you what I know. Now I'll tell you what I'm going to do. I'm going to get a divorce right away."

Unbelieving, he stared at her and asked wonderingly, "You'll go to Reno? You'll never do that, Gayle."

"Go to Reno? Of course I shan't go to Reno. What would I go there for? I'll get a divorce right here in Westchester County."

HE walked the length of the room twice before he spoke, and slowly all the implications of what she threatened became clear to him. He knew that only adultery was grounds for divorce in New York State. The newspapers! What the newspapers would print! He had to stop her. Some way he had to stop her.

"You can't, Gayle," he said; "you can't do this to me. You couldn't be that cruel—not you, Gayle."

"Oh, don't be so everlastingly childish," she cried, infuriated by his lack of understanding. "I'm not being cruel. I don't care anything about being cruel. I'm not looking for revenge. Can't you understand that? I'm not a child. I just want one thing—and that is to be cut as clean from you as I can be, and the cleanest cut I can get is a divorce. I want my own name. I want to wash you out of my life and my memory. If you get hurt in the process, no one is going to care. You just get this into your thick, fat head once and for all: you don't matter."

"I don't matter?" His head came up then, came up high, and his black eyes glittered. "I don't matter? The heck you say!"

He stood rigidly still, and the congestion of blood in his face made it look bloated and purple. Then slowly he advanced on her, his body bent forward, his eyes fixed on her eyes, his big hands opening and closing. Her fingers pressed hard against her lips to hold back the scream of terror that formed in her throat. She could not move or speak.

But he did not touch her. "I'll get you for this," he said, sounding almost as if someone were gripping his throat with iron fingers. "I'll get you if it's the last thing I ever do. You wait. You'll be sorry. You'll be sorry."

Then, without warning, he whirled and rushed out of the house, slamming the door behind him.

(To Be Continued)

SHE was in the living room when he arrived. She heard his car stop, heard the door slam, the house door open; and each sound in turn seemed to crash and echo within her. Her nerves grew so numb that she felt as if she would scream, but she gripped her hands tight and waited.

"Gayle!" Bart called from the hall. "Gayle! Where are you?"

She rushed into the living room. "Oh, here you are. What is it, Gayle? What's wrong?"

She forced herself to look at him, and for one instant he seemed more dear to her than he had ever been—and then the instant passed. She swayed in her chair. Her

Five Stolen Bicycles Recovered by Police

City police last night recovered five bicycles stolen at various places during the past several days. Three of the two-wheeled vehicles still remain at the police station while the other two have been returned to their rightful owners.

According to Louie Allen, chief of the Pampa police force, many of the bicycles are taken and ridden for a few blocks and then abandoned in some alley or curb. None of the five bicycles recovered by police have been damaged.

Unlike some cities, Pampa bicycle owners are not required by ordinance to be registered or licensed, thus making identification of stolen bicycles somewhat harder for local authorities.

Very Wet Lands Delay Harvesting

AUSTIN (AP)—Wet land continued to delay harvesting of several Texas crops last week, the United States department of agriculture reported today.

Conditions nevertheless were more favorable for field work than in the previous week as fields began to dry.

Light frosts slowed growth in scattered northern and western counties, but losses from all causes were light.

Harvesting was delayed in the corn, peanut, rice and in northern and northwestern cotton counties.

Sweet potato digging was active in most districts, and fairly good yields were reported. Sweet potato weevils caused some loss in a limited area in East Texas.

Most wheat was seeded on the high plains, with some progress made during the week, and the crop was making good growth, the USDA reported.

Progress was slow in commercial vegetable areas, especially in cultivating and planting operations.

Fair to excellent grazing was provided over most of the state as range and pasture grass made good development, and lambs and light calves moved into plains counties to graze "luxuriant" wheat pastures.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE AP Staff Writer

Carl Hertzog of El Paso is living proof of the saying, that if you build the best rat trap, the world will beat a path to your door.

The wiry, sharp-featured but pleasant young Texan is inspiration to those who live far from the center of their chosen professions and feel they'll never be recognized.

Carl Hertzog lives and works about 100 miles from America's book publishing stronghold as one can see and still be in the United States.

Put his books, printed in his own shop, are collector's items and many a New Yorker looks to El Paso for the best in the publishing field.

Hertzog, a commercial printer who makes a good living out of his shop, has no illusions of grandeur. He says his success is due to "a hell of a lot of work" and admits candidly it costs him money.

"I'd make an extra $10,000 this year if I quit trying to print such perfect books," he said.

In addition to perfection of type setting, his success is due to imagination, plain common sense, and a theory that a book should not be pretty, but appropriate, and worth talking about.

For example, when he published a volume written and illustrated by Tom Lea about ravines, he figured the binding should be the green, herringbone cloth actually worn by ravines. He had a hard time getting money, but the man who developed the fabric finally got it for him.

Another, the story of "Charles Schreiner," general merchandise, was about an old country store. Hertzog got some brown wrapping paper, saw the colors of binding and cover and paper blended, used an old type, and made the book remind readers of an old country store.

Still another was "a stove-up cowboy's story" by J. E. McCauley. He used a plain, vitorous typography "just like McCauley," appropriate name and cover.

"A grizzly from the Coral sea" was printed on heavy rag paper and bound with genuine parchment "relestrip on special Buckram cover decorated with the stars of the story.

Most of his books are limited editions. Few have made money. All are collector's items. There's a story in that, too. Hertzog's common sense.

"I visited a collector once who had about 12,000 rare books," he said. "I noticed that every book he showed me had some sort of a story about it that he could tell. Not about the book, but how he found the book, how it was printed, or something.

"So now, every time I print a book, I take notes on all the trouble I had getting material, or copy, or type. I save all the letters involving its publication, including sometimes caustic comments from the authors.

"When the book is published, there's usually a good story about it. When the collector buys the book, I also give him something to talk about. He buys conversation, as well as a good book."

PAMPA, TEXAS

Toastmasters Present Rotary Club Program

Members of the Pampa Toastmasters club yesterday staged a condensed meeting of their club as the program for the regular noonday meeting of the Pampa Rotary club held in the Palm room, City hall.

The Toastmasters put on several one minute talks and also held a panel discussion on "Does U. S. Intervention in European Affairs Lead this Nation to War or Keep the World at Peace?"

The discussion was under the direction of Toastmaster J. L. Swindle who asked several of the guests and members of the Rotary to express their views on the subject. Others appearing on the program were Hugh Peoples speaking on "How to Handle a Lemon," and Dr. N. L. Nichol speaking on the differences between a civic club and a service club. The program was in charge of H. P. Doster and W. H. Kelly, both members of the Toastmasters club.

The club singing was in charge of Virgil Mott and Rotary President Irving Cole presided at the meeting.

Savage

has been active in public life. He is president of the Pampa Community Concert association and a member of the board of directors of the Rotary club.

A graduate of the West Texas demonstration high school, Savage received his B. S. degree from West Texas State in 1934 and his master's degree from that school in 1941. His father is head of the department of education at the college.

At Austin, Savage will be administrative head of the musical program of the Interscholastic league. The program is set up on a competitive basis, similar to the sports program, and governs all interschool music activities.

Slow Growth FOR STRENGTH

IN A WORLD gone slightly "hay-wire," this is no time to start cutting down the sturdy oaks of experience, wisdom, understanding, courage and constancy of purpose.

Medical and Scientific men and women have spent many long years building strength into the structures safeguarding health services.

Education and qualification of Physicians is closely checked; stringent examinations must be passed before a Doctor is allowed to serve the public.

Hospitals are supervised, and graded according to services they are equipped to render. Every new medical idea, every new drug, every new appliance is tested for public protection, by various groups within the American Medical Association.

VOLUNTARY Plans for pre-paying Medical and Hospital costs have the approval of Medical and Hospital Associations, after years of careful testing. These plans are NOW available to some 100,000-000 workers all over America. Ask your Doctor.

Coal Strike

would mean a strike, since the miners follow a "no contract, no work" policy.

"I don't see how I can be there November 1," Krug told newsmen last night in Boulder City, Nev.

"But I don't think they will walk out. After all, the time and place of the meeting have been set."

Krug did not specify either the time or place "set"—one of the major points in dispute—and presumably referred only to the fact that he has offered to meet Lewis either at Tule Lake, Calif., on November 1 or in Washington after November 6 when his western inspection tour is due to end.

While Lewis himself remained silent, William Blizard, president of the United Mine Workers District 17 assailed what he termed the government's one-sided interpretation of the existing contract as "a plot by unscrupulous members of the democratic party to destroy our union."

"The miners should vote like they strike," Blizard told a reported at Charleston, W. Va.

"The government's entire effort—has been aimed at rendering our contract ineffective after making it with us."

Simultaneously, the National Coal association—commenting for the first time on the new crisis brewing in their mines—declared the strike threat constitutes "a challenge to the government's authority."

"It will be interesting to see what steps the government takes to protect the people from a coal shortage now that the government occupies the place of mine manager," the association declared in a statement.

Some officials believed that President Truman, faced with a deadlock between his secretary of interior and Lewis, might deal with the matter at his 9:30 a. m. CST news conference today.

Coal stocks today are much the same as when Lewis' miners struck for 59 days six months ago—something over a month's supply.

But the potential demand for coal, with the full winter ahead, is much greater now than it was last April and May. At that time, the government had to place strict distribution controls over soft coal stores. Presumably such controls will be even more essential this winter if a settlement is not reached.

Estimates based on a recent statement by Dan H. Wheeler, deputy solid fuels administrator, indicate that the October 1 soft coal stockpile was about 59,000,000 tons, or about a 40-day supply.

Hattie Webber and Sheikh Assad Al Faghi, alternates to the general assembly had been listed as "advisers." Since advisers had no place at the luncheon table, they had to eat their luncheon with the general public downstairs.

Despite extensive planning, the departure of delegates from the assembly hall developed some embarrassing situations.

Many delegates had left their hats and coats in the official cars that brought them to the Pushing Meadow site. When they came out, the departure sequence got twisted and other delegates rode off with their garb.

PIN-WORMS LICKED AT LAST!

People don't talk about Pin-Worms—but more than you'd suspect have this ugly infection with its embarrassing rectal itch. However, it is no longer necessary to suffer.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a real treatment has been established. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the small, easy-to-take Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. They act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So watch out for warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself. Look & delay. Ask your Druggist for P-WAYNE P-W and follow the directions. It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Gray County's Oldest Paper Sells; Publisher Retires to 80-Acre Farm

T. A. LANDERS
 McLEAN — T. A. Landers, owner and publisher of The McLean News for 25 years, today announced sale of Gray county's oldest newspaper to Lester Campbell of Memphis and Albert Cooper and Arval Montgomery of Shamrock. Campbell, who has been editor of The Memphis Democrat, one of Texas' outstanding weeklies, has moved to McLean and will assume control on November 1.

Campbell, editor-manager, will be assisted by his wife. Cooper who will be publisher, and Montgomery operate The Shamrock Texan and are associated in the ownership of The Times at Wheeler.

Rounding out a quarter of a century of newspaper service, Mr. Landers will retire to his 80-acre Wheeler county farm which has long been his hobby. A lifetime of stamp collecting led him several years ago to turn to collecting plants and his one-of-a-kind nursery and farm is a botanical showplace, unique in West Texas.

The retiring publisher has held more than his share of public offices and honors in his home town. He has been mayor, president of the chamber of commerce and Lions club, police judge, deacon and Sunday school superintendent of the Baptist church, and a member of scores of important civic and community committees. He is now serving as justice of the peace. Mr. Landers is a past president of the Panhandle Press association.

McLean's new editor was reared at Wellington where he was graduated from high school. He attended Oklahoma A. & M. college one year, the University of Oklahoma one year, and was graduated from the University of Texas in 1939 with a bachelor of journalism degree. He began work on The Memphis Democrat immediately, serving as editor until February, 1942, with exception of a few months he was with the Galveston News in 1941.

Campbell entered the U. S. navy as store-keeper, third class, in 1942 and served in the Pacific at Iwo Jima, Philippines and China, being discharged as lieutenant (jg) in November, 1945. He turned to the editor's desk at Memphis, moving to McLean this week.

Campbell said he will enlarge the McLean publication. Work of remodeling the office and adding to the office supply department will get underway shortly. He contemplates remodeling the building and installing new machinery as materials and equipment become available.

Vegetable Crops In Slower Growth
 AUSTIN — (AP) — Slow progress for growing crops and planting operations during the first half of October was noted today in the United States department of agriculture's Oct. 22 truck crop report.

Field work was seriously delayed, especially the planting for later season harvest. Development of some tender vegetables was delayed by a sharp drop in temperature, but present temperatures were declared favorable for germination of seed of hardy type vegetables.

A crop-by-crop report:

Snap beans—No significant supply of Texas beans expected until the early part of November, and better growing weather needed.

Cabbage—A very limited acreage for early season harvest, progress only fair.

Carrots—Most early carrots expected to come from the Rio Grande Valley. Wet fields causing delay.

Onions—Seedbed plants making good growth in all irrigated districts. Early than usual transplanting is probable.

Potatoes—Heavy rain delayed completion of planting.

Techniques—Crop development has not measured up to earlier expectations, but a fairly good crop is expected if frosts hold off.

Circuit Champion Still Committed To Cotton Bowl

DALLAS — (AP) — Don't look for Texas in the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl or any bowl except the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 if it wins the Southwest Conference championship and finishes the season undefeated—which it is favored to do.

Reports which persist that Texas will, if it goes through unbeaten, ask the conference for permission to play at Pasadena were the kind that caused the conference to reaffirm its close relations with the Cotton Bowl. Dr. Gayle Scott of Texas Christian university, president of the conference, said today in indicating the conference would not grant such permission.

In a statement responding to a question from the Associated Press, Dr. Scott declared:

"The conference at its regular meeting May 8, 1942, passed the following motion: 'That the conference commit its champion to the Cotton Bowl game; if that team does not accept the Cotton Bowl game, it shall not be permitted to play any other championship game.'"

"At the regular meeting of the conference Dec. 3, 1945, the following motion was passed: 'That there is no change in the relation of the conference to the Cotton Bowl Athletic association. The conference is committed to the support of the Cotton Bowl game.'"

There are two things in the world I want above everything else—peace in the world and unity at home.

2 Tilts Share Spotlight in Grid Circuit

By HAROLD V. RALIFF AP Sports Editor

The Texas schoolboy football race skips into the stretch this week with important conference games in 13 of the 16 districts and with four of the 10 undefeated, untied teams swapping touchdowns.

Top battle of the week is that between Galveston and Orange at Orange. From this game will come the prohibitive favorite for the district 14 championship.

Ranking next in importance will be Austin's tussle with Brackenridge at San Antonio. The game between these unbeaten, untied powers will be the first round in the District 15 title hunt. Austin's Maroons also may lose their top rating in the state.

The next round in the championship campaign in this district will be between the Austin-Brackenridge winner and Thomas Jefferson, the team that pitched Corps Christi to the sidelines last week just when the Braves were working in the glory of second ranking.

Another outstanding game will be Wichita Falls vs. Highland Park at El Paso. Wichita Falls has come forward like the wind in recent weeks and the test with Highland Park, which has twice been defeated but still looked very good, will show if Wichita Falls is worthy of its No. 3 rating.

Besides Austin, Brackenridge, Orange and Galveston, unbeaten and untied teams are Borger, Pecos, North Side (Ft. Worth), Graham, Sherman and Marshall. Teams that are unbeaten but tied are Sweetwater, Wichita Falls, Laredo, Jefferson, San Antonio, Lufkin, Houston, and Pasadena.

The week's schedule by districts: 1—Friday: Borger at Lubbock conference.

2—Friday: Amarillo at Vernon, Electra at Graham conference, Plainville at Childress.

3—Friday: North Side (Ft. Worth) at Big Spring, Odessa at San Angelo conference, Sweetwater at Lamesa, Midland at Abilene conference.

4—Friday: Phoenix, Ariz., at El Paso high, Austin (El Paso) at Roswell, N. M., Bowie (El Paso) at Club Ariz., Las Cruces, N. M., at Ysleta.

5—Friday: Sulphur Springs at Paris.

6—Thursday: Banham at Denton; Friday: Wichita Falls at Highland Park (Dallas), Gainesville at McKinney.

7—Thursday: Sherman at Arlington Heights (Ft. Worth); Friday: Pech (Fort Worth) vs. Poly (Ft. Worth) conference.

8—Friday: Adamson (Dallas) vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) conference; Saturday: Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs. Forest (Dallas) conference.

9—Friday: Brackenridge at Rancier conference, Mineral Wells at Brownwood conference, Cisco at Weatherford conference.

10—Friday: Bains at Cleburne conference.

11—Friday: Longview at Kilgore conference, Glendwater at Texarkana conference, Henderson at Tyler conference.

12—Friday: Nacogdoches at Jacksonville conference, Bryan at Palestine conference, Lufkin at Conroe conference.

13—Thursday: Lamar (Houston) vs. Sam Houston (Houston) conference; Friday: Jeff Davis (Houston) vs. Austin (Houston) conference; Saturday: San Jacinto (Houston) vs. Midway (Houston) conference.

14—Friday: Beaumont vs. South Park (Beaumont) conference, Galveston at Orange conference, Port Arthur at Goose Creek conference.

15—Thursday: Reagan (Houston) vs. Jefferson (San Antonio); Friday: Laredo at San Antonio Tech conference, Kerrville at Corpus Christi conference; Saturday: Austin at Brackenridge (San Antonio) conference.

16—Friday: Harlingen at McAllen conference; Saturday: Benito at Weslaco, Brownsville at Robstown conference, Kingsville at Edinburg conference.

NEW BUILDING PLANNED FOR DAMAGED STRUCTURE

New and better buildings will be erected at the site of the recent fire on West Foster. It was learned today from Irvin Cole, who was sole owner of the building at the time of the blaze several weeks ago.

Cole, who is also a wheat farmer in this vicinity, said he had sold two of the lots and that H. H. Stull is the purchaser. Cole said Mr. Stull plans to erect a building for a feed store and a hatchery at that site. The Gray County Feed store was badly damaged in the fire and the hatchery which operated there was destroyed.

Cole's Automotive service, located on the east end of the lots, will be enlarged with the construction of a new building. Cole said. The business is operated by his sons.

All of the construction will be of brick, with concrete roofs, Cole said, and the cost would approximate $20,000. This includes the building equipment which will be housed in the structures.

FILMS OF OKLAHOMA, TEXAS GAME HERE

An eight-minute film of the Texas-Oklahoma football game will be shown at the LaNora theatre with the regular program Friday and Saturday.

Wayne Wallace, manager of the Pampa theatres, said his firm planned to obtain several more of the films in the future.

SERVICE TEAMS WILL PLAY IN NEW BOWL

TEMPLE — (AP) — The Heart of Texas Bowl game, a new post-season football feature, will be played here Dec. 21 at the local chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, sponsors, said yesterday. The chapter said it planned to match two top service teams of the nation.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

From first through twenty-fifth, we aren't quite able to see many good reasons for the manner in which Harold Raliff, Associated Press sports editor, ranks the state's schoolboy football teams, with the possible exception of rating Austin first and Odessa second.

We agree with those two, but Harold puts Wichita Falls third and Sweetwater fourth, while this writer thinks Sweetwater belongs in third place—and so on up the line. Here's Harold's ratings:

1. Austin.
 2. Odessa.
 3. Wichita Falls.
 4. Sweetwater.
 5. Jefferson (San Antonio).
 6. Brackenridge (San Antonio).
 7. Marshall.
 8. Sherman.
 9. Galveston.
 10. Orange.
- (11) Borger; (12) Amarillo; (13) Waco; (14) Laredo; (15) Gainesville; (16) Graham; (17) Highland Park (Dallas); (18) Lamar (Houston); (19) Corpus Christi; (20) North Side (Fort Worth); (21) Sunset (Dallas); (22) Lufkin; (23) Paschal (Fort Worth); (24) Waxahachie; (25) Jeff Davis (Houston).

We do not agree in quite a few places, so here's ours:

1. Austin.
 2. Odessa.
 3. Sweetwater.
 4. Wichita Falls.
 5. Marshall.
 6. Jefferson (San Antonio).
 7. Sherman.
 8. Brackenridge (San Antonio).
 9. Galveston.
 10. Borger.
- (11) Orange; (12) North Side (Ft. Worth); (13) Amarillo; (14) Graham; (15) Waco; (16) Lamar (Houston); (17) Highland Park (Dallas); (18) Corpus Christi; (19) Sunset (Dallas); (20) Laredo; (21) Lufkin; (22) Paschal (Fort Worth); (23) Gainesville; (24) Jeff Davis (Houston); (25) Waxahachie.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) —

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

First Flight, who looked like the best of the two-year-olds in winning the Belmont Futurity, won't be nominated for the Kentucky Derby—likely will save a lot of dough for future book bettors.

Val Wagner, Princeton's football "find" who completed nine of eleven passes against Rutgers, played on the 1944 "informal" team which had only three games. He got some good protection from Dan Williams, who has averaged 54 minutes a game at tackle this year.

Duke's publicity angle of the Army game is "we're outclassed" and Wallace Wade is said to hope his team will hold the Cadets to five or six touchdowns. That probably means Col. Wade figures he has a good chance.

But he wasn't there to see what Army did to Duke last time. Leo Houck, veteran Penn State boxing coach, will stage a series of boxing clinics this fall, using his college fighters to demonstrate.

NATURAL CONCLUSION

Dumb Dan Morgan says that Jack Britton and Ted Kid Lewis fought each other 22 times and never shook hands.

Probably by the last time they were so old that their hands shook anyway.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Before Oklahoma U. played Texas in the Cotton Bowl, Tackle Wade Walker said he always had wanted to see a real big crowd. But when the Sooners ran on the field, Walker was so intent on the game he forgot to look at the 50,567 fans.

The Dodgers have grabbed the best strikeout battery in the Piedmont league from their Newport News, Va., farm—Pitcher Wayne Johnson, who whiffed over 300, and Catcher Gil Hodges, who was named all-league player in that position although he had been an infielder before the war.

Playing cards made from cellulose nitrate sheets are being manufactured—they will outlast 50 decks of ordinary cards.

Veterans of the Panhandle FREE BARBECUE

Frying Pan Ranch headquarters, 1 mile North of Highway 66, on Western Avenue, Amarillo.

Saturday, October 26, 1946. 1:00 p. m.

Dear Fellow Veteran:

I am running for Congress in your District. You will find my name listed as a Republican candidate. This is because the Republican party is the veterans' party. Of all the veterans running for Congress in the United States this year, 70 per cent are running as Republicans. With the nation-wide tidal wave against the New Deal radicals who have been spoiling the very roots of our democracy while we were away fighting to preserve them, the veterans of World War II are bound to have a strong, sensible, conservative bloc in the next Congress.

I'd like to get together with you and talk about what you think is best for the future of the country, regardless of politics. John Snider who has been running the best barbecues in the Panhandle for many years, has offered to run this barbecue to help me in my campaign against the Communists and radicals in Washington.

There will be no formal speeches. Your discharge button is your only card of admittance. Come on out to the Frying Pan Ranch, one of the oldest ranches near Amarillo, and talk things over.

Very sincerely yours,

Conference Games Make Up District 3-A Grid Chart; Irish Lead Loop

Conference battles—four of them—dominate the picture completely in District 3-A football circuit this week with the games involving the league-leading Shamrock Irishmen and Wellington Skyrocks holding the spotlight.

Shamrock, which lost a 6-0 season opener to Class AA Children in its only setback, is riding along on a string of five straight wins. The Irish entertain Lakeview's lowly Eagles this week.

Lakeview won its initial victory Friday, a surprising 13-6 victory over Lovelland and the Hall county players are reported to be in high spirits.

Wellington, which has dropped two of six games this year, plays host to the district's most unpredictable team—the McLean Tigers—in a top-notch contest. A McLean win would send the Tigers into a tie for second.

Wheeler's Mustangs, jubilant over a victory over Memphis last week, is host to Cleburne in a game that could send Wheeler into fourth place.

Lufkin goes to Memphis in the other conference (nonrating).

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—see they pale and are colorless?
Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.
To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and fever of that sour food taste.
Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By FRANK BRUTTO

ROME—A Stalwart blackshirts who once lifted daggers in salute to their duce would have writhed at a final, ironic dirge for fascism—school children singing "America the Beautiful" in the very halls where the former dictator once stomped and shouted the glories of war.

The song came from a wing of the vast and rich marble halls of the Foro Mussolini (now the Foro Italia) where the former duce's staunchest neophytes once gathered for indoctrination, and where, figuratively at least, school bells now summon three-score English-speaking children assembled from many parts of the world to the overseas school of Rome.

In a cheerful kindergarten a score of children, daubed with paints, squash clay and fit dominoes. A low-haired, blue-eyed American toddlerfully rolls clay snakes with a killed lad from Scotland. More serious business is underway in the higher grades. The idea for it came when five mothers, most of them UNRRA wives, began to wonder where they could send their children, recently arrived from the United States and England, to school. They were headed by Mrs. Sylvia Hortwitz, one of the founders of the downtown community school of New York city.

Their work, soon aided by a dozen other parents, still might have foundered had it not been for the U. S. army which suddenly realized that arrivals of officers' and enlisted men's families had placed a similar problem in its lap.

Col. Charles L. Dasher, Allied area commander, made available the wing in Mussolini forum, whose luxurious buildings, swimming pools and tennis courts have been a U. S. army rest center since the liberation of Rome.

At the first general assembly, one teacher told the children a story about her nephew with whom she had climbed to the top of a Swiss mountain. There the lad gathered some snails. When they left the crest, she noticed that he was empty-handed and asked, "where are your snails?" "Oh," he said, "I just brought them together so that they could be friends."

The Arabian camel's hump may contain 60 pounds of pure fat.

Take Off Ugly Fat Will. This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off unsightly weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from your druggist, four ounces of Liquid Barcol Concentrate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

He Has Found Something Better Than $100,000

Gave Up His Role As 'Dr. T. Q.' to Become Rev. James McClain

By CHARLES W. PAYNE
NEA Staff Correspondent

EVANSTON, Ill. (NEA)—Because he found something better than $100,000 a year, the Rev. James W. McClain, who once was Dr. T. Q., is studying for the Episcopal priesthood.

His role as a rapid-fire question-and-answer man, dispensing good cheer, candy boxes, and silver dollars, brought him radio fame and $2000 a week. He gave it up in 1944 for three years of intensive religious training and a possible starting salary of $30 or $40 and recently donned his clerical collar when he was ordained a deacon of the church in services at St. Mark's Episcopal church in Louisville, Ky., his home town.

Thus qualified for the reading of the offices and other clerical duties except the celebration of the mass, he is now in his third and last year at Seabury-Western Theological Seminary in Evanston, and is serving as assistant to the rector of St. Augustine's church in nearby Wilmette. Next June he will be ready for canonical examination by the bishop and possible ordination to priesthood.

This smiling, friendly man of the cloth makes no bones about his reasons for changing from music to radio and then to the church.

"It's simply a matter of vocation," Jimmy McClain says. "It's what a person feels God intends for him to do. You arrive at it by prayer and communion with God. A person who doesn't pray obviously would not arrive at it. It's unmistakable if the prayer and communion are real. It makes no difference whether the vocation or call is for one to be a doctor, a lawyer, a preacher or a shoemaker."

He believes that much unhappiness is caused by men resisting or never feeling their intended vocation.

Dismissing the thought that a sincere clergyman derives great satisfaction in doing for others, he feels "it goes beyond that. It's not what you can do for others, but what you can do for God. Had it been a matter of bringing enjoyment and happiness to others, rationalizing I easily could have persuaded myself that in radio the world was my parish, that here I was bringing pleasure to millions. Certainly I could have given more to charity."

"I don't care much for the radio, seldom listen to it, but there are thousands of people who practically live by it. I have had fans tell me with tears in their eyes how much they enjoyed the Dr. I.Q. programs. But that was not what God intended me to do."

He chose the Episcopal clergy because it was either that or the Roman Catholic priesthood. Being married and the father of two children Jimmy McClain made an obvious choice. Besides, he considers the Episcopal church as the historic Catholic church for the United States. He was raised a Christian Scientist. No holier-than-thou is Jimmy McClain. Asked to pose on a surplus Army motorcycle parked by the curb, he laughed it off with "I'd better not. I had to sell my motorcycle because my friends thought it was not dignified. I wish I had it now. I can't see anything undignified about it."

The "lionizing" of his radio days is what he misses least. He thinks his happiest days in radio were spent at his typewriter before the success of Dr. I.Q.

At Southern Methodist University in Texas, where Jimmy McClain studied for two years on a musical scholarship, they believe the world lost a great baritone when he went into radio. He had studied music eight years in all; his father was at one time president of the Conservatory of Music in Louisville.

He left Southern Methodist in 1933, married a Texas girl, and got his first radio job reading commercials at $10 a week. He was a writer, producer, actor, program director, and in radio promotion before he became Dr. I.Q.

When he went off the air and into the church, he had in mind rural mission work in the western section of his native Kentucky. That's still what he wants to do.

"I was ordained (as a deacon) on the feast of St. Francis. I should like to emulate him as much as possible," he says simply.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET STOCKS
 NEW YORK, Oct. 23—The stock market moved downhill in low gear today, with a mid-session lull of selling followed by a recovery to around 2 points lower. Half-hearted rallies among individual issues achieved minor success. Turnover totaled around 300,000 shares.
 Good news, of which there was plenty, received scant attention as apprehension grew over the implications contained in the latest move of John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers chief, toward resumption of contract negotiations. The possibility of another coal strike, and resultant danger of a new crippling of industrial production, effectively braked market support, according to most brokers.

 OPA decontrol of all foods except sugar and rice barely flicked the surface of the market, although some sugar shares responded to the news with moderate gains.
 Virtually ignored, too, were a stream of favorable earnings reports, dividend declarations, postponement of a threatened Western Union strike, and partial settlement of the shipping tie-up.
 Among the losers were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Goodyear, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse, General Electric, John-Manville, Kennecott, Great Northern Preferred, American Telephone, U. S. Gypsum, International Nickel, J. I. Case, and Chesapeake & Ohio.
 Cotton near the close was up around $5 a bale at the outside.

Duties of State Health Service Explained Here

AUSTIN—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, was recently asked to give the duties of the Texas State Department of Health in contrast with those of the general practitioner of medicine.
 He stated, "The Health Department is charged with protecting the public health. This it does by education of the people as to how they may secure protection against disease such as vaccination against smallpox and typhoid fever and immunization against diphtheria; by investigation of sources of outbreaks of disease; by quarantine and isolation of those ill with communicable disease; by advocating the production and use of safe milk and to prevent threatened outbreaks of communicable diseases.
 "People will become ill and accidents will happen. The cure of sickness and the repair of accidents comes within the scope of the duties of the practitioner of medicine and surgery. The general practitioner of medicine is also engaged in preventive medicine when he advises mothers to have their children protected against diphtheria and smallpox or the family as a whole immunized against typhoid fever before planning travel, such as cross country trips.

 The general practitioner and the health department alike believe that it is better to remain healthy than it is to get well after becoming ill, but the department is engaged in the control and prevention of disease as it affects the general population of a community or state. The field of treatment and cure of those ill belongs solely to the general practitioner of medicine.

A BEEF BY MR. LA GUARDIA

Lifting of price controls on meat "will lead to the complete breakdown of democratic government and a throwback of all social progress of the last quarter of a century," said Fiorello H. La Guardia in a recent speech. Perhaps the former New York mayor was making a political speech, but with Mr. La Guardia it's hard to tell. He was elected to Congress as a Republican and later as a Socialist. He was an ardent New Dealer throughout the Roosevelt administration. What he is at the moment is a matter of speculation. But it's clear that this oratorical occasion found him in an anti-Truman mood.

"The President is dangerous," said Mr. La Guardia. Then he explained the dire prediction quoted above by saying, "We now have free enterprise at its worst. . . From now on any group bent on getting all its demands will stop producing and stop working. Business can do this easier than agriculture, and labor can do it easier than either."

We fail to share Mr. La Guardia's feeling that the decontrol of meat was the crisis that plunged the country toward catastrophe. It certainly didn't introduce the use of a no-work or no-production weapon to enforce demands. That weapon has been employed by management and labor on many occasions. And more often than not in the past year it has been employed in protest against price or wage ceilings.

The result is a familiar story. First the "wage line" bulged, then was broken in dozens of places. Government contentions that wages could be raised freely while prices stayed fixed had to be revised in the face of reality. The end of price control over meat was simply more of the same.

Mr. La Guardia didn't say when, if ever, he thought controls should have been lifted. We may assume that he did favor decontrol at a time when supply and demand were in balance at OPA prices. But it must have been obvious to him that such an ideal circumstance wasn't going to come about.

Put the blame where you will—on a group of willful congressmen, on profit-hungry packers and stock raisers, on the difficulty of effective price control without rationing and wage control, or whatever—OPA meat ceiling were, in practice, a fiction. Yet Mr. La Guardia would have had Mr. Truman perpetuate the fiction in the face of all its attendant dangers and inconveniences.

What has happened now in the meat industry is a return to competitive capitalism instead of what amounted to monopoly capitalism, with a reluctant industry joined in a government-sponsored cartel. It is this competitive capitalism that Mr. La Guardia calls "free enterprise at its worst."

Remembering that such an arrangement has provided ample supplies at reasonable prices before, we cannot feel, with Mr. La Guardia, that all is lost. There will be high meat prices until empty coolers are filled and unprecedented demand is past its peak. But it seems as sensible to suppose that competitive marketing will bring prices down when a bountiful supply is flowing normally as it does to announce that the profiteers have inherited the country and intend to bleed it white.

The control of business is simply being returned to business. To see in this the shadow of doom indicates a total and fearful absence of faith in the American economic system and in the general integrity of the millions who participate in its operation.

In Hollywood

By ESKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, NEA—Jack Benny, the Waitegan flash, is celebrating 35 years in show business and 15 years in radio.

"I started early—at the age of 2," Jack said.

"I'm only kidding," Jack said. "I wish I were 37—oh, well, I guess I can wait."

"Like Al Jolson, Jack is about to have a movie film about his life. 'The Life of Jack Benny.' Only this one will be different. It will be a burlesque film biography. It starts out with Jack going to Warner Bros. studio to get Errol Flynn to play Jack Benny. But the studio wants Humphrey Bogart to play the part.

"But I'm handsome," protests Benny, and from then on it's the story of his efforts to line up a suitable film for Benny and a supporting cast. The film never does get around to telling Jack's life story.

SUCCESS SECRETS

"What's the secret of staying on top 35 years?" we asked.

"Make good enemies—like Fred Allen—and don't do anything to break it up," he said. "Get Ingrid Bergman, Barbara Stanwyck and Claudette Colbert for leading ladies in your movies. If you can't get them, get the popcorn concession at the theaters playing their pictures."

Seriously, Jack had some good rules for young entertainers to follow.

"Get humility into your character as a comedian. Have sympathetic appeal to the public.

"Spend 20 years, in vaudeville or night clubs, learning the trade.

"Surround yourself with human characters. Get good writers but also work with them. Keep your style up with modern trends. Drop things before the audience tells you to. Don't depend on jokes—it's the situations that people remember."

Brian Aherne rates as one of the most forward-looking of the Hollywood stars. He's personally supervising construction of an air strip on his ranch 30 miles from Palm Springs. He plans to commute to Hollywood.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

A musical composer, Daniele Amfitheatrof's sense of humor is almost as famous as the music he writes for the screen. He has a 14-year-old son who wants to be a lawyer.

"Respond to the boy's wish to see 'A Song to Remember.' When he returned home, Amfitheatrof asked him what he liked best.

"Oh, the declamations," he replied.

"When I tell that story to musicians," says Amfitheatrof, "they are horrified. 'What will people think?' 'That's the son of a . . .'"

"Maybe he will make a good lawyer," I tell them.

Churchill's Admiration For Roosevelt

An Associated Press dispatch quotes Winston Churchill as telling the House of Commons that in respect to "the favorable influence exerted on the fortunes of mankind," Franklin D. Roosevelt ranks above Washington and Lincoln among the Presidents of the United States.

And why should not Churchill think Roosevelt was greater than Washington and Lincoln? Washington did not impoverish the people of the United States in order to support the British Empire. Neither did Lincoln.

Of course Roosevelt was a great man for England. That country should appreciate him. It was Roosevelt who was a party in leading the Americans into the European and Asiatic wars. If Churchill and the rest of the English people did not appreciate Roosevelt's entangling alliance with them, they would be most ungrateful.

Churchill does not seem to care whether, under Roosevelt, we repudiated our governmental contracts, whether we passed one discriminatory law after another, whether food and shelter are becoming increasingly harder to get in the United States, so long as the American people can be persuaded into giving England a loan, which is in reality a gift, that is helping impoverish the American people.

Roosevelt may rank above Washington and Lincoln in the eyes of Churchill, but he will go down in history as the same kind of demagogue as the Gracchi brothers in ancient Rome.

"Primary Tyranny"

Very few people realize the grassroots of our trouble as does Rose Wilder Lane. She realizes that tax-supported schools is the primary tyranny.

In reviewing John W. Scoville's book "Labor Monopolies—OR 'Freedom,'" which she highly recommends, she makes this observation:

"Mr. Scoville, oddly, does not see that compulsory State schooling is the primary tyranny. Inference he praises it. Doesn't he know that it was the first objective of the socialist reaction against liberty? Its first advocates were the socialists who defeated the 'American' French revolutionists in 1793. Compulsory State schooling is the first demand in Marx's Communist Manifesto of 1848. Bismarck adopted it directly from Marx. Americans copied it directly from Bismarck's Germany. But when the French socialists first said: 'The child belongs to the State,' the 'American' same' stated the true revolutionary line: 'The child belongs to his parents.'"

Private colleges today work under a handicap. Invariably, they have to work with material coming from public schools and thus miseducated from a moral standpoint, having been taught by example that might makes right and that the majority need not respect the rights of the minority.

So private schools have a very difficult job to take this material and try to have the pupils unlearn the collectivistic ideas taught in public schools. Most of them just let the students continue to slumber in their erroneous beliefs. The result is that the private schools have much less influence than they would have if the pupils had not been indoctrinated with collectivism in the tax-supported schools.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Recent indications that the United States was preparing to conduct friendly relations with the United States in distributing relief and rehabilitation supplies when UNRRA ends now has been followed with a definite refusal to lend money where it may be used against us.

However, the United States will overlay its hand if it values the effect of loan restrictions for more than they are worth. Hitler's bankrupt Germany, which many felt would "never be able to finance a long war" dashed forever and a day the idea that orderly financing is always necessary with a totalitarian sphere. Probably no area in the world could do quite so well, if completely isolated from world commerce, as that which the Russians now control.

As a matter of fact, reports from Washington that the new policy, first enunciated in the case of Czechoslovakia, might apply to a proposed $1,000,000,000 loan for Russia probably were received in Moscow with a shrug. They have been in a far from desiring attitude.

Word traveled back and forth between Washington and Moscow through unofficial channels a long time ago that the United States might arrange a rehabilitation loan and that the Russians might use $6,000,000,000 principally to buy equipment in the U. S. That would have been nice for American industry when the shortages are over and might have resulted in some side deals regarding commerce in the Russian sphere, where the Moscow game of freeze-out has been bothering those who look ahead to the time when America will be exporting again, and who feel that trade barriers contribute to international enmity.

The Russians finally wrote a letter inquiring what the terms of such a loan might be if they did ask for it. It boiled down to an initial deal of $1,000,000,000. The letter got shunted aside for many weeks while the state department was absorbing wartime agencies which dealt with such matters, but finally came to light and the Russians were told in effect, "well, we'd like to talk about free traffic on the Danube at the same time. The Russians said 'you know how we feel about that. Why don't we talk about the interest rate.'"

It became apparent that the Russians were willing but not so ready as to barter any part of their foreign policy. Instead they made a deal with Sweden to cover some of their more immediate needs. Presumably, too, Russia will see that her satellites have the machinery and materials with which to work as long as they are producing mostly for her.

The Russians could be regretting the weapon they handed Byrnes at Paris when they questioned America's motives in aiding the small countries. He has made good political use of it. But Russia could also consider a temporary loss of face worthwhile if its end result is to drive the satellites more firmly into her economic arms.

BOSTS—Federal financiers look for even greater increases in the debt burden. As a general rule, consumer credit averages ten percent of the national annual income, which is estimated at $160,000,000,000 for 1946. That would add up to a total consumer debt of approximately $16,000,000,000, as against the present figure of about $8,000,000,000.

That kind of marketing would exert great pressure on the economic structure, and possibly start another round of OPA-less price and wage boosts at a time when continued prosperity "Labor Monopolies—OR 'Freedom,'" which she highly recommends, she makes this observation:

"Mr. Scoville, oddly, does not see that compulsory State schooling is the primary tyranny. Inference he praises it. The issue is not the decisiveness of strategic air weapons. That was demonstrated for all time in this last war. The real issue is control. — Gen. Carl Spaatz, AAF commander.
