GAIL, BORDEN COUNTY, TEXAS 79730

WED., JUNE 20, 1973

10 CENTS 4 PAGES

Serving the Counties of Borden, Dawson, Garza, Howard, Lynn & Scurry

The residents of Gail are often asked, "How do you keep from being bored in this small community". Boredom is not a problem in Borden County. Everyone participates in community activities and some of the most interesting people of the world stop by to visit and entertain us with their true stories. Two such couples set aside one day for Borden Co. out of a six weeks vacation. They are Mr. and Mrs. A.P. Hollingan, Roberts, Texas and Mr.

gan, Roberts, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Millerborg, Harlington, Texas. Mrs. Mary Jane) Hollingan came to Borden County with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Hays. In 1909, her sister Mrs. (Ruth) Millerborg was born on the J.N. York Ranch in 1910., where their parents worked for 8 years. Mary Jane attended school "Some where near the York Ranch, in a little old Wooden house on top of a hill". During this 8 years their house burned and their sister Gertrude, age 3 months, lost her life in the fire. She is buried in a little cemetery containing 6 graves on the York Ranch.

The Hays family drove to Arah west of Snyder, in a wagon to attend the Union Church services, where Mr Hays was noted for his singing. They spent the week-ends with the Will Seabourns. They moved from Borden County to Haskell County. Mrs. Henry Hays, passed away 3 years ago at the age of 86. She had 11 children, born in Texas, New Mexico and California. She had made 5 trips from Texas to California in a covered wagon. The trip took 30 days each way, and the family spent 3 months in California as seasonal workers

The Millerborg's and Hollingan's left their home in South Texas 5 weeks ago and toured Texas and Oklahoma. They attended the Wedding of a Neice in Laugatan, Oklahoma.

The ladies very tactfully avoided telling their age, but said Mr. Hollingah was 83 yrs and Mr. Millerborg was 75 yrs. old. All are retired, Mrs. Millerborg who does all the driving, operated a nursing home for 20 years before retiring.

Although they were equipped with Volkswagon Camper and a trailer camper with all conveniences, they preferred to cook in a dutch oven and sleep out under the stars. The night they spent in Borden County, five clouds, with wind, rain and hail came up until finally, they retired to the comforts of the campers. "We done about every thing," said Mrs. Hollingan. She said when their camper broke down, a crippled man in Memphis, Texas repaired it. He did not have the correct parts so he wired it up with what we call a "hot seat" she said. The two ladies demonstrated, the starting procedure--Mrs. Hollingan would jump out and reach under the camper and yell "ready". Mrs. Millerborg would step on the gas as Mrs. Hollingan touched two wires together. The engine would start up with a purrrrr. While in Borden County they visited the Museum, Court House and the York Ranch. (While at the York ranch Mrs. Millerborg told Barbara York that they had purchased their Volkswagon bus after their car had broken down on them during their trip.

Jetta Turner of Johnson City

Jetta Turner, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Turner, Johnson City, and granddaughter of Doris Rudd, of Gail, Qualified for the National finals in the cutting contest at the Hollatesville Champion High School Rodeo.

The National finals are held in Utah, in July. The top 4 high school finalists for each event--from every state are qualified to go to the national finals.

There were 40 entries in the Cutting Contest at Hollatesville. Jetta, Riding Voca Joe placed fourth in the first go around and first in the second go around. She placed fourth in the finals. Since only High School students are eligible, the fifth place winner will go to the nationals in her place. Jetta was the only elementary girl to qualify--she was congratulated by Mr. Harris, Judge and Mr. La Mond, President of the Cutting Horse Association in Hollatesville, on her ability to qualify--Competing against High School Seniors. They gave her a special invitation for each year until she is old enough for the National finals.

Out of 400 entries, Jetta and her sister Tonja 9, were among the youngest contestants. Both girls entered the cutting, breakaway roping and clover leaf barrels and made a good showing in all three events.

Tanja entered the cutting on "Scotman" owned by her great-grandfather, Martin Taylor and trained by the late Billy Holley. This was Tanja's first cutting contest and probably (due to age) Scotman's last.

Organization

The Parents of Borden County 4-H members met at the arena on June 12th, 1973 and organized the Adult Leaders Association of Borden County.

County Agent Tommy Haegelin spoke about 4-H and the 4-H Program.

Janice Browne told of her experiences and trips and the advantages of 4-H and the honors to be earned.

Officers for the Adult Leaders Association were elected, with Helen Jo Patterson being elected President, Pat Murphy Vice-President, Betty Stroup Secretary and Wanda Smity Reporter.

Raising money for the 4-H Center in Brownwood was discussed. Many money making projects were discussed including the raffle of a saddle, a music night, a play day, dances, and concession stands for Tuesday nights.

The 4-H Leadership Camp at Levelland was discussed. Eight Borden County 4-H members will be going to the Camp. Janice Browne will go as a Teen Leader, County Agent Tommy Haegelin and Helen Jo Patterson will also attend.

The Borden County Junior Rodeo to be held the 28th, 29th and 30th of June was discussed at the June 12th meeting. Glenn Swann, Whiz Creighton, Melissa Ludecke and Melisa Taylor met at the County Agent's office, Thursday afternoon to send out the entry blanks for the rodeo. Snooks Ogden and Dorothy Browne will help with the books at the rodeo.

Special help with roping was discussed at the meeting. Mr. Haegelin said that Don Cox had offered to furnish the calves and help with teaching roping if he could get as many as ten 4-Hers interested in roping. Claudia Swann, Janice Browne, Eurdist Rinehart, Travis Rinehart, Ty Springer, Tommy Patterson, Perry Smith, Cinda Beaver, Matt Farmer, Ross Preston, Max Jones and Cole Herring expressed an interest in roping. This would be on a different night from the Arena--Playnight.

The officers of the Adult Leaders association met Thursday morning to discuss plans and projects for making money for Borden County's goal of $1200 for the State 4-H Center in Brownwood.

It was decided to have an amateur music night as one of the money-making projects. Whiz Creighton was appointed to head the committee to be in charge of the program.

Other projects discussed were a boot raffle, concession stands at the playnights and a Playday with the date to be set at a later time.

Plans were made for some fix-up, clean-up work to be done around the arena prior to rodeo time.

Raffle tickets on the $100.00 handmade boots are available now from any 4-H Club parent or members. The boots will be given away the last night of the Borden County Junior Rodeo, June 30.

Devilish flavor

Dry mustard, vinegar and Worcestershire sauce are good to add, along with mayonnaise, when you are deviling eggs.

Chinch Bug

Two varieties of St. Augustinegrass have been found to be resistant to chinch bugs by researchers with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The two varieties are Floratam, a new grass now being propagated by Texas sod growers that is also resistant to St. Augustine Decline (SAD) virus, and an experimental grass that also shows good resistance to SAD. Chinch bugs are one of the most serious pests to St. Augustinegrass, and population has grown alarmingly in recent years.

The Rush Is On

Each year, during the late part of June, something strange happens to all the people of Borden County. You see the men dashing around, always hauling something, calves, bulls, steers, feed, feed troughs, water troughs, just anything so they can be busy hauling something.

The women are rushing around, going to places, talking about entry blanks, mailing lists, entry fees, western clothes and things like that.

Then one day you see the men get in their cars, they head for Gail, then stop and hand the man at the gate some money, and then they go to work feeding stock, penning animals, plowing the arena, checking speaker systems and going through entry blanks.

The women hurry about their kitchens, preparing food, it looks like supper, but they very carefully tuck it in a paper bag and put it in the pick-up. Then they hook on the trailer, load the horses, do the chores, and stop to pick up the children at the house. They head for town, stop at the gate and pay everyone's way in, take the food to the concession stand, unload the horses and they are very proud of their children as they ride in the Grand Entry bedecked in the prettiest of western wear. Then the mothers head for the concession stand, sell food and drinks and stop to provide money for the children to eat, (after all, there had been no time to eat at home.)

This goes on for three days, and then finally, you hear a sigh of relief. It is over. The people of Borden County have put on another successful Borden County Junior Rodeo. They are pleased at the money made, because it will be used for the Livestock Show in the Spring. They do not care if it seems a little strange that they would pay their way into the rodeo and take food just so they could spend a night working hard and buying supper, they have accomplished the purpose, the young people of Borden County will have their stock show and it will be done over again next year.

The Stranger

BY: MARIE RAGAN
There's a dark and secret side,
To every bright and happy face.
I know there is a yearning,
In every heart that's found its place.
And as I walk a pathway
Through a garden wild and free,
I feel the presence of a stranger,
Living in the soul of me!

It is not I who's longing for,
A place I've never seen.
Nor is it I who vainly seeks
The forever formless dream.
It's not my soul that wildly rides
Upon the raging wind,
Moving ever onward toward the next eluding bend!

And it's not I who's thinking of,
Someone I'll never know.
Nor is it I who hears his voice,
Each time the Spring winds blow!
And It's not I who's yearning for,
A distant, secret place,
Where I can know his loving arms,
And see his nameless face!

You know that I could never trade,
This life I have with you,
For all the restless yearnings,
Of a heart that's never true!
For my heart's not the restless
one,
That beats inside of me,
But belongs to the stranger,
That you will never see!

The American Magnesium settling ponds, to be located on the Muleshoe ranch north of Gail will cover approximately 116 acres. One of the ponds will cover 28 acres alone. The salt water will be pumped 22 miles from the plant to these five ponds.

After the pond is built, the ground is tested for density to guard against collapse and leakage. The pond is then lined with plastic (PVC), which is state regulation. This plastic liner is to prevent salt water from seeping into the ground. Helping with laying the liner was Bob Bavousett and Gaylon

Boyd of Snyder. They are employed by Staff Industries in Michigan. The dirt work is being done by Burn Construction of Los Crusis, New Mex. Ted Young, Gary Roberts, Tom Neff, and Sammy Crawford were overseeing the construction at the sight.

The purpose of these ponds is for evaporation, condensing and settling of salt water to be used in the Magnesium plant. The water is piped from one pond into another until it has been condensed in five different ponds.

FHA Workshop

On June 13-15, Donelle Jones, Jo Ann Martin, Debby Herring, Bobbie Briggs, and their advisor, Mrs. Shirley Kountz, attended an FHA Officers Leadership Workshop. The workshop was held on the Texas Tech campus and was directed by the Tech Home Economics Department. Room and board were made available to officers and advisors.

After they arrived and were settled in their dorm rooms, Mrs. Kountz, Bobbie, and Jo Ann went to a meeting for session leaders. Following the meeting, the group toured certain parts of the campus.

On Thursday, three sessions were available for FHA officers and advisors, Parliamentary Procedure, Implementing Encounter, Hero - FHA, Skill Games in Communication, Programs and Projects, Group Dynamics for Meetings, Leadership Principles for all Occasions, and Understanding Self and Others were the topics presented. Mrs. Kountz, Bobbie, and Jo Ann directed two afternoon sessions on Implementing Encounter, while Donelle and Debby attended other sessions.

That evening everyone was free for a night on the town. The girls from Borden County saw John Wayne in "Cahill, U. S. Marshall."

The final session was conducted on Friday. It was followed by a group meeting as a finale. A panel presented the highlights of the topics which were part of the sessions. Brian Hall, Texas FFA President for Area I, spoke on leadership to conclude the workshop.

Bobbie, Jo Ann, Donelle, and Debbie wish to express their appreciation to Mrs. Kountz for sponsoring them, Mr. Van Kountz for providing transportation to Lubbock, and Mrs. Ralph Martin for taking them to the South Plains Mall and bringing them home.

4H Program

Young people and their adult program leaders in Borden County are literally "building for tomorrow" as they attempt to make a dream become a reality.

These young people and their program leaders believe that Texas 4-H members need a permanent home where many educational programs and activities can be conducted throughout the year. Many other states operate year-round centers for 4-H.

Thus, youth and leaders of Borden County are joining with others from throughout Texas to help bring about a 4-H Center for Texas. "Put it all together with a 4-H Center" is the theme selected for the current 4-H Center campaign.

Borden County young people some time ago assisted in the first phase of the campaign to raise funds for a State 4-H Center.

The enthusiasm of the young people and their adult leaders apparently motivated other business and industry groups around the state to join in the project. This spirit of cooperation is again needed as local citizens move to complete the building fund program. A 78-acre site overlooking scenic Lake Brownwood has been selected, and architects have drawn the plans for the proposed Center.

If county 4-H members and adult leaders or committee members assisting with the Center project contact you within the next several weeks, you'll have an opportunity to help them realize their building fund goal. The educational facility will serve other youth as well as 4-H, and will help mold our leaders of tomorrow.

Cure Progress

Members of the Texas Medical Association heard some encouraging words at a Dallas meeting: Great progress has been made toward the control of cancer as scientists are looking down several avenues which eventually may lead to its control.

Those words were especially significant since they came from Dr. R. Lee Clark, president of the M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute of Houston one of the nation's leading institutions for the treatment and research of cancer.

"As a scientist, the end (to a search for cancer control) looks close, after looking years and years for it," Dr. Clark said.

But avoid raising false hopes, the good tidings must be kept within the context of the occasion, a speech of one doctor made to other doctors. Dr. Clark warned that "as for the patient, it may seem long. The cure isn't going to be tomorrow."

For the time being, the best course for the public is to take steps for early detection, a course which Dr. Clark said has been neglected by too many people. For example, the pap smear test has been known since 1931, yet only 30 per cent of women 25 years old or older get this annual test for cancer.

It is heartening to know that science is making great strides in cancer research, and the hope is that this leading killer will be eradicated some day.

But we, the public, should not sit back and wait for science to bring us a cure. It is the duty of each of us to use what science has already provided, and take steps to have cancer checks made periodically for early detection of the disease.

Pollution

In its continuing effort to control air pollution, the State Health Department's Air Pollution Control Services has gone into the trailer business.

The trailers actually are portable air monitoring stations, which will monitor all major air pollutants in the urban areas of the state.

The first of the stations, designed to detect dangerous pollution buildups, went into operation in April at an elementary school in Jacinto City near the Houston Ship Channel.

Super sophisticated instruments in the movable trailer-like station measure about a dozen different pollutants continuously and automatically. The station teletypes instant pollution readings to the State Health Department's Air Pollution Control Services headquarters in Austin during periods of air stagnation.

WAF 25th Anniversary

Webb AFB, TX. --The women in the Air Force (WAF) celebrated their 25th anniversary on June 12, and also their last.

According to Colonel Billie M. Bobbitt, director of Women in the Air Force, "Since women have always been an integral part of the Air Force, we think it's time to stop celebrating a separate anniversary."

At Webb the observance is scheduled for June 19, and will feature a luncheon and reception at the Officers Open Mess.

Johnson Grass

Studies by a Texas A&M University graduate student show that a chemical called glyphosate may be effective for controlling Johnsongrass, one of the stubbornest field pests in Texas agriculture. The new chemical is strictly experimental and is aimed at fallow fields. In tests it outperformed terbacil, asulox, dalapon, and DSMA plus MH.

Bronc Riding

A cowboy who boasted he-- "had never been thrown" demanded a horse that "had never been rode." But, that surely would be a big order to fill because of the keen rivalry between the bronc-buster and the outlaw bucking horses of the rodeo.

This event is an example of swashbuckling rodeo action. It is one of the most popular events of the arena for fast action. When a top rider connects with a top bucking horse, something is bound to happen -and it happens in ten seconds. Either the rider keeps his perch or the horse becomes victor in a ten-second game.

How wild and wooly your rodeo action becomes depends largely on the rodeo stock and this is especially true in the saddle bronc riding event.

All the advantages of this contest lie with the horse because any of the following offenses disqualifies the rider: losing stirrup, coasting with feet against horse's shoulder, being bucked off, changing hands on the rein, wrapping rein around the hand, pulling leather, failing to spur horse in shoulders first two out of three jumps, and not being ready to ride when called or hitting the horse with hands or hat.

The judges draw mounts for the riders daily and it is a toss-up whether the rider will get one of the top buckers. He must ride the horse that is drawn for him.

Contestants must use saddles selected and furnished by the management. The horse will be saddled and cinched under the direction of the arena director. If saddles are not cinched tight enough and come off, the rider will be given another chance on the same horse.

Riding must be accomplished with a plain halter and one rein, no knots or wraps around the hand. No tape is allowed on the rein or stirrups. Riders must leave starting place with both feet in stirrups and he must spur the horse out of the chute.
